

PVRCHAS PILGRIMES.

FN FIVE BOOKES.

The first, Contayning the Voyages and Peregrinations made by ancient Kings, Patriarkes, Apostles, Philosophers, and others, to and thorow the remoter parts of the knowne World:

Enquiries also of Languages and Religions, especially of the moderne diversified Protessions of

The fecond, A Description of all the Circum-Nauigations of the GLOBE.

The third, Nauigations and Voyages of English-men, alongst the Coasts of Africa, to the Cape of Good Hope, and from thence to the Red Sea, the Abaffine, Arabian, Perlian, Indian, Shoares, Continents, and Ilands.

The fourth, English Voyages beyond the East Indies, to the Ilands of Japan, China, Cauchine bina, the Philippine with others, and the Indian Nauigations further prosecuted: Their inst Commerce, nobly vindicated against Turkely Treacherie s victorioully defended against Portugal Hotillitie; glorioully admanced against Moorish and Ethnike Perside; hopefully recouring from Datch Malignitie, justly maintayned against grown and mistions Calomnie.

The fifth, Nauigations, Voyages, Traffiques, Discoueries, of the English Nation in the Easterne parts of the World : continuing the English-Indian occurrents. and contayning the English Affaires with the Great Samorine, in the Persian 1. Contayining the English Affaires With the Great Sumprime, in the Perand Atabian Gulfes, and nother places of the Continent, and Liands of and beyond the Indies: the Powerful Attempts, and Dutch Disafters, discress Cas-fights with both; and many other remarkable RELATIONS.

The First Part.

Unus Deus, Una Veritas.

CENTRAL SANCE COM

LONDON

Printed by William Stansby for Henrie Fetherstone, and are to be fold at his shop in Pauls Church-yard at the figne of the Rose.

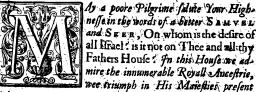

HIGH AND EX

and C BLL E NoT constille

PRINCE TO STREET

PRINCE-OF VV A L E S.

a Mew Pallage mero la Calerbricano. En England on here professed, see Respining to Hom neffein the words of a better S a M V B L 1. Sam. 9. 20. and SEER, On whom is the defire of all lifrael : is it not on Thee and all thy Fathers House of In this House we admire the innumerable Royall Ancestrie, light, wee praise God and pray for the two hopefull Columnes, that they may be Pillars of Stabilitie and Strength in the 1.Kin.7.211 Lords House, firmer then SALOMONS IACMIN and Apoc. 3.124 BOAZ.

SIR, having out of a Chaos of confused intelligences framed this Historicall World, by a New way of Eye-enidence; Your Princely pietie, innate clemency, and the Time it selfe. (festivall both in the ordinarie season and extraordinarie preparation) emboldned my obtrusion on Your Highnesse. The Magnificence of Your Princely Court hath entertayned Men of many

many Nations, yea bath admitted (in Parkes and Places fitting) Bealts, Fowles, Plants of remoter Regions: and now much more, in a World of acclamations to Your toyfull designes, a world of Pilgrimes seemed sutable; each of which presents one or other Countrey; and all, the rarities and varieties of all. Here also Your Highnesse may refresh Your wearinesse from State-affaires (if any of these Lines may at any time be umbitions of fuch lustre) in seeing at leisure and pleasure Your English Inheritance dispersed thorow the World, whereof these Twentie Bookes are the Enidence and Records: the English Martialist enery where following armes, whiles his Countrey is bleffed at home with BEATIPACIFICI; the Merchant coasting more Shoares and Flands for commerce, then his Progenitors bane beard off, or bimselfe can number; the Mariner making other Seas a Ferry, and the wideft Ocean a Strait, to his discouering attempts, wherein wee toy to see Your Highnesse to succeed Your Heroike Brother, in making the furthest Indies by New Passage neerer to Great Britaine. Englands out of England are here presented, yea Royall Scotland, Ireland, and Princely VV ales, multiplying new Scepters to His Maiestic and Hu Heires in a New World. In all, the glorie of His Maieslies bappy Raigne, and thereby of the English Name and Nation, by a poore Zelote of both, is truly and amply related, beyond the coniectures of the passed Ages, to the admiration of the present, and amusing (if not amazing) of the future. In which so long a Worke bumbly craueth pardon for other errors, for this presumption.

Your Highnesse

most humbly

denoted

SAMVEL PVRCHAS.

To the Reader

DOME is faid to beerhe Science of things Diame. The profit to and humane. Dinine things are either minimal of the this worke. pernaturall': thefe fuch ; as the materal maintaches 1.Cor.2.14. not, nor can know, because they are spiratedly (with a fpir 2.Tim.; 15. rituall Eye) descerned ; called miferine so saturizon, the proper subject of Theologie, and not the nexuliar argument of this Worke; which notwirthfranding beeing the labour of a professed Divine, doch not abhorre from the same; but occasionally easery where by Annotations, and in some parts protestedly by special Discourses, infinuateth both the Hastorie and Mystery of Godlineste, the right vse of History, and all other Learning. 1 Naturall things are the more proper Obiect, namely the ordinary Workes of God in the Creatures, preserving and, disposing by Providence that which his Goodnesse and Power had created, and dispersed in the divers parts of the World, as so many members of this great Bodie. Such is the History of Men in their diverlifted hewes and colours, quantities and proportions; of Beafts, Fiftes, Powles, Trees, Shrubs, Herbs, Minerals, Seas, Lands, Meteors, Heauens, Starres, with their naturall affections; in which many both of the Antient and Moderne haue done worthily; but if neerneffe of the Obiect deceive me not, this furmountern them all in two Privileges, the veritie and varietie, especially of things in this kind remotest and rarest.

. It is true, that as every member of the bodie hath somewhat eminent, whereby it is serviceable to the whole; so every Region excelleth all others in some peculiar Raricie, which may be termed extraordinary respectively, though otherwise most common and ordinary in its owne place. So Our England in the natural temper, accidentall want of Wolues, artificiall Rings of Bels, Sheepe not at all or feldome drinking, Landsand Waters turning Wood in some parts to Stone, Wonders of the Secos the Pekeand other parts, doth not degenerate from nature, out hath a peculiar nature, al- Wonders of Fredund Harrimost miraculous to other Countries, as the naturall Wonders of their Regions are for Description to vs : fo also Irelands want of venome in Creatures, fulneffe of it, and barbarouf- on of Britala.c. neffe in many of her wilder Natives, after follong traying in Civilitie, and fo ancient Renowme for Sanctitie : and so each part is to other part in some or other part, and particular respect admirable.

What a World of Trauellers have by their owne eyes observed in this kinde, is here (for the most part in their owne words transcribed or translated) deliuered, not by one professing Methodically to deliuer the Historie of Nature according to rules of Art, nor Philosophically to discusse and dispute; but as in way of Discourse, by each Traueller relating what in that kind he hath feene. And as David prepared materials for Salomons Temple; or (if that be too arrogant) as Alex. furnished Ariotle with Huntsmen and Observers of Creatures, to acquaint him with their diversified kinds and natures; or (if that also seeme too ambitious) as Sense by Induction of particulars yeeldeth the premisses to Reasons Syllogisticall arguing; or if we shall be yet more homely, as Pioners are employed by Enginers, and Labourers serne Masons, and Bricklayers, and these the best Surueyers and Architects; so here Purchas and one and the fame name might both father and further the whole.

As for Master Hakluyts many yeeres Collections, and what stocke I received from him in written Papers, in the Table of Authours you shall find : whom I will thus farre honour, that though it be but Materials, and that many Bookes have not one Chapter in that kind) yet that stocke encouraged me to vse my endeuours in and for the reft. I was therein a Labourer also, both to get them (not without hard conditions) and to forme and frame those Materials to their due place and order in this Ædifice, the whole Artifice (fuch as it is) being mine owne. Traduce mee not, nor let any impute to boasting what I have said of my sole working (I know there is a va [oli) but I am compelled to doe it to present an Obiection of my promifed European supply to my Pilgrimage. I confesse, I was too forward to promise, because others have beene so backward to affist : which I have in former Editions signified, but to blind Eyes and deafe Eares. Whose Librarie, whose Purse hath been eopened to me, let his mouth be opened against me also: Europe otherwise could not, nor now vpon any price (it is too late) can be Purchased. I would not be misconstrued to vngratitude. Many haue applauded my endeuours, but probitas laudatur & aiget. If I had not fined in great part vpon Exhibition of charitable friends, and on extraordinary labours of Lecturing (as the terme is) the Pilgrime had beene a more agreeing name to me, then Purchas. Yet let my name be for euer forgotten, if I remember not his. which the Aduerfaries haue (feeking to steale him from vs after his death) by their calumnie made more memorable; I meane, my decessed Patron Doctor King, late Lord Bishop of London, to whose bountie under God, I willingly ascribe my life, delinered from a fickly Habitation, and confequently (as also by opportunities of a London Benefice) what soeuer additions in my later Editions of my Pilgrimage; these present Pilgrimes also with their peregrinations. Yet such is ordinarily the greatnesse of the Epha, and smalnesse of the Shekel, in London Cures (especially within the wals) that wee are inabled thereby to disablings for workes of that kinde, whiles we must preach in season and out of season, (Ifay not out of reason) that wee may line.

One wing that Reuerend and bountifull hand gaue in hope that some bleffed hand would adde the other, to fitme for an European flight, wherein not finding his hopes seconded, he promised to right me himselfe (these were his syllables) but death righted him, and I am forced to wrong the World. I speake not to accuse any, for of whom, to whom can I complaine, but to plaine and excuse my selfe, and withall to dedicate my thankefulnesse with the continuance of this Monument to that worthy Name.

But to returne to our Philosopher; I also haue beene an Athenian with these Athenians, one delighting to tell, the others to beare some new thing. I have therefore either wholly omitted or passed dry foot things neere and common; Far fetched and deare bought are the Lettice Sutable to our lips. Common and ordinarie plants I remit to the Herbarists. European Rarities (except in the remoter Regions both from our habitation and knowledge, as Island, Norway, Sueden, Constantinople, the Mediterranean Ilands, &c.) to the Historians peculiar to each Countrey therein. My Genius delights rather in by-wayes then high-wayes, and hath therein by Tracts and Trastates of Trauellers made Causies and High-wayes, euery where disposing these Pilgrime-Guides, that men without feare may trauell to and ouer the most vincouth Countries of the World: and there be shewed with others Eyes, the Ratities of Nature, and of such things also as are not against Nature, but either aboue it, as MiraTO THE READER.

cles, or befide the ordinarie course of it, in the extraordinary Wonders, which Gods Providence hath therein effected according to his good and just pleasure. And thus much for the workes of God.

Things bemane, are such as Men are, or have, or have done or suffered in the World. Heretherefore the various Nations, Perfons, Shapes, Colours, Habits, Rites, Religions, Complexions, Conditions, Politike and Occonomike Customes, Languages, Letters, Arts, Merchandifes, Wares, and other remarkeable Varieties of Men and humane Affaires are by Eye-witnesses related more amply and cetainly then any Collector ever hath done, or perhaps without these helpes could doe. And thus we have shewed the scope of the Author, and profitable vie of the Worke: which could not but be voluminous, having a World for the subject, and a World of Witneffes for the Euidence : and yet (except where the Author or Worke it felfe permitted not) these vast Volumes are contracted, and Epitomised, that the nicer Reader might not be cloyed. Here also both Elephants may swimme in deepe voluminous Seas, and fuch as want either luft or leifure, may fingle out, as in a Library of Bookes, what Author or Voyage shall best fit to his profit or pleasure. I might adde that such a Worke may seeme necessarie to these times, wherein not many Scholers are so studious of Geographie, and of Naturall and Vniuersall knowledge in the diversified varieties which the various Seas and Lands in the World produce. feeming as exceptions to Generall Rules , which Ariffetle the best Scholer in Natures Schoole and her principall Secretarie could not fo punctually and individually fee in the Ocean, the Remoter Lands and New Worlds, none of which he euer faw, nor till this last Age were knowne. And for the most part, those which are studious know not either to get, or to read the Authors of this kinde, of which fo few fpeake

As for Gentlemen, Trauell is accounted an excellent Ornament to them: and therefore many of them comming to their Lands fooner then to their Wits, adventure themselues to see the Fashions of other Countries, where their soules and bodies find temptations to a twofold Whoredom, whence they fee the World as Adams had knowledgeof good and enill, with the loffe or leffening of their eftate in this English (and perhaps also in the heauenly Paradile) & bring home a few smattering termes, flattering garbes, Apilh crings, foppilh fancies, foolish guises and disguises, the vanities of Neighbour Nations (I name not Naples) without furthering of their knowledge of God, the World, or themselves. I speake not against Travell, so vsefull to vsefull men, I honour the industrious of the liberall and ingenuous in arts, bloud, education: and to preuent exorbitancies of the other, which cannot travell farre, or are in danger to trauell from God and themselves, at no great charge I offer a World of Trauellers to their domestike entertainment, easie to be spared from their Smoke, Cup, or Butter-flie vanities and superfluities, and sit mutually to entertaine them in a better Schoole to better purposes. And for the price, as I cannot set it, so I must acknowlege the aduenturous courage of the Stationer Master Henry Fetherstone (like Hercules helping Atlas) folong to bear e this my heavy World at fuch expenses.

NOw for the Mathon D, I confesse, I could not be therein exact: first because The Method I had such a consused Chaos of printed and written Bookes, which could not and order of the William South Chaos of printed and written Bookes, which could not and order of the written by the white Works. easily be ordered: partly because this Method by way of Voyages often repeates the fame Countries and (though I have often pruned repetitions) yet, fometimes admitted for more full testimonie) the same things, by divers of our Authors travelling the same parts, observed, in which my Method brings in ordinarily the Authours whole Voyage there, where that part or Countrey, in which and for which we entertaine him, principally occasioneth his memorie; and partly because in this long space of imprinting (from August 1621.) many things have comne to my hand by diligent enquiry, which were not enrolled, nor in possession to be mustered in their due file and ranke; yea, divers things have beene done fince our other passages of like nature were printed off: And thus divers Dutch quarrels are related, which yet fince the Impression of that part have beene composed. Yet are we not altogether without Order.

The first Pa

First, we have divided the World in our Method into the Old and New, alloting to each his owne To at, the first Ten Books to the former, the later to the other. But the Workegrowing more voluminous then was expected, we are forced to cut each of them assigned in the midst, the lignres in the top and Alphabets in the bottome, and some marginal references and annotations intimating but two Tomes, which only the quantitie hath made Foure. Againet in the Elder World, that is, Assigned the Elder World, that is, Assigned the Elder World, that is, Assigned the Assi

The Secon

In the Second Pars you have first Africa in Two Bookes (the East India ships but touched on the Coasts) the Sixth Booke handling the Northerne parts, what Goene of Africa is not termed Echiopia, and the Seventh the Bibliopian part. The Eighth Booke enters into the Continent of Asia in the first Chapters relating the History of the Frank's all Asia since als the Western Christians) in the Host Land Warsin the later, some Pilgrimages thicher and the parts advoyning with divers Turkish Observations. The Ninsb proceedes the thorow the mayne Land of Asia into Persia, Arabia, Badia, taking large view of those and other Asian Regions, returning by Africa with later and larger intelligence of the Easteine, Westerne and Northerne shores thereof; New view of the Turkish Dominion and Seraglio, as also of the Maldine Ilands: which and the whole Tomb Booke came later to hand, and therefore is rather a Supply to all, then any well ordered part of the Worke, being therefore printed after the rest.

Now for the New World, we begin it at China, which the Ancients knew not, and take all the East and North parts of Asia from the Caspian Sea, the Artican Regions, all America and Terra Australia, comprehending all in that New Title. The First of those Bookes beginning our Third Part, deliuereth especially the Authors of Tartaria in the succession of about three hundred yeeres, wherein the Second succeedeth, adding also Jupan, Corea and China, with the first Discoueries of the Northerneand Caspian Seas by the English. This Arctoan Region contaying Rusia, Nous Zembla, the Samoyeds, Siberia, Island, Frisland, Norway, with the Neighbour Regions, Cherry 1land, Greenland, Groenland, &c. the Third Booke relateth; continued in the Fourth with further Discoueries intended for a North or North-west Passage. The Fifth Booke giveth generall Relations of America, in her Mexican or Northerly, and Peruan or Southerly Moyties (with what we could find of the South Continent) their Antiquities and state before, and since the Spanish Conquest. The Sixth (which begins the Fourth Part) containeth English Voyages to America, the Great Bay especially and the Southerne Moytic to the Magellan Straits; which in the Scuenth Booke are more amplified, and further enlarged with the Creatures, and Countries within Land, the Peruan Antiquities related by one of the Inca Linage, the Spanish Conquest, and other occurrents of the Peruan America, and Terra Australis. The Eighth Booke comes homeward thorow the Mexican America and Florida vnto Canada, relating the French Acts and English beginnings in those parts, touching in the way homeward at the Azores. Virginia is the Argument of the Ninth Booke, in the succeffion and successe thereof from the Plantation 1606. to 1624. whereto Summers Ilands are added. The English Plantations in New England and New-foundland follow in the Tenth, with divers Fleets set forth by Queene Elizabeth of famous memory, with whose bleffing continued and confirmed by His Maiestie, wee commit you to God. and give you leave to rest at home in peace, wnder the shadow of your owne Vine and Fig-tree, which God for his Christs fake continue and confirme to vs and our

You have here a long Preface to a long Work, and yet you have a longer touching the vtilitie thereof in the first Paragraphs of Salomons Ophir. It had not beene postfible forme in London distractions to have accomplished so great a Designe, but for the opportunities of His Maiesties Colledge at Chelsie, where these source last Summers I haue retired my felfe (without Pulpit Non-refidence) to this Worke: which as it one way furthered, so another way it occasioned many Errata, by my absence from the Presse, as in the Bodie of the Worke, so especially in the Titles ouer each page; halfe of which I thinke, are mine owne, the other fuch as pleafed the Corrector, needing correction enough, and sometimes not giving sufficient direction to the Reader; whom I intreat to accept of his Day and Night, Summer and Winter together, pardoning the one for the others fake. A Table had beene necessary, if Time and affiltance to a wearie hand had permitted; I adde, if some had not committed contrary to promife. It is time to make an end of Prefacing. The Authors follow; fuch as have no letter annexed are Mines fuch as have H. added, I borrowed from Master Haklusts papers, and such as have H. and P. pertaine to both, beeing otherwise printed or in my possession written, wherein yet I made vse of some labour of his. Let the name and glory be to any other, so as about all and in all it bee to God the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ (who hath enabled my weake bodie beyond hopes; to so great a Worke) and the profit to Thee Reader, whom in the Lord, I bid farewell.

TO THE READER.

A Note touching the Dutch.

He necessitie of a Historie is, as of a sworne Witnesse, to say the truth, all the truth (in inst discretion) and nothing but the truth. This I have indevoured in the whole Worke. But, veritae odium parit. Some perhaps will blame me for relating some Truths, specially the Dutch Zelots, in that I have related such abuses of some of that Nation in the East Indies and Greenland to the English there, as if I fought like an unferfertable and warharitable Tale-bearer to saife discord betwixt Neighbours. I answere drag no Nation is in this World to pure, but hath both officious members, and leste bad members allo as Dileafes thereof, which to impute to the whole, were as if auton fronte kill frinnelle for a felon in his Thumbe, or Corne in his Toe:or as if he should therfore find fault with his own body because it hath not only a head, heart and hands, but excrements allo, ca fundament, and other parts for euacuation; with a Palace for houses of Office, with a Cirie for common Sewers, with the World which hath Deuils and I Whin it I question not, but that the English haue also such, and such wee have occasionally noted, Fugitives, Apostataes, Theeues, Murtherers, &c. which yet are not Netionall faults, but person all, except the Nation doth instifice such vniustice, as Triffed Rape of Helena, and the Beniamites those Beafts of Gibeah, either by impunitie of defence. Nor needed wee good Lawes, but for bad Subjects. If the Dutch have such also, in the History of both I must mention both, and yet protest before God (to whom I shall answere it with the burning of bodie and foule, not these Bookes alone, if I bee perfidious) that I am not guiltie to my selfe of hatred to that Nation, yea in these Discourses I have honoured it with and before others, following them round about the World to that purpose. And for this cause I have omitted some odious Greenland Relations, have altered and reprinted some more offensive generall speeches disgorged by the passionate loosers, with Titles on the tops of pages, intended to Offenders, but in fuch vnwarie termes as might by ill willers be extended to the whole Nation : yea, I had purposed to omit many things printed alreadie, !rather leaving a xa'oua, then causing a Chaos, but that fince the fore hath broken out by that terrible Tragedie at Amboyna. I could have wished that such things had never beene told in Gath, nor published in the freets of Askalon, left any enemie of our State and Religion should reioyce. But seeing the necessities of the English East Indian Societie have forced such a publication, my sparing purpose had beene in vaine to conceale the Shilling where the Pound was, made manifest. I might also have been accounted partiall against mine owne Nation. This I have done; I for the most part, doe but publish others Relations, (and Lofers perhaps will speake the most) and by Annotations dispersed intimate that these are personall faults of that East Indie Company, or some Commanders there, not of the whole Nation; and if any Marginall Notes with Dutch Epithetes seeme to speake more, yet are they but directions to the Reader to shew what in that page or place is handled without further intent; fo with my Prayers for Peace on both fides I commend both to the God of Peace.

TO THE READER.

AMEN.

THE CONTENTS OF THE CHAPTERS AND PARAGRAPHS

IN THE FIRST BOOKE OF THE FIRST PART OF PURCHAS HIS

PLLGRIMS.

CHAP. I.

Large Treatife of King Salomons Nauie sent from Eziongeber to Ophir: Wherein besides the Typicall Mysteries briefly unuailed, and many Morall speculations observed ; the Voyage is largely discussed ont of Dinine, Ecclesiasticall and Humane Testimo. nies: Intended as an historicall Preface to the Hi-Stories following.

D. I. The Allegoricall and Anagogicall fense or application of Salomons Ophinan Nauiga-

d. 2. The Tropologicall wfe of the Story; and of Discoueries and negotiations by Sea. pag.4.

2. 3. The Tropologicall or Morall vie enlarged and amplified; and a view taken of Mans diuersified Dominion in Microcosmicall, Cosmopoliticall, and that Spirituall or Heavenly right, over himselfe and all things, which the Christian bath in and by Christ.

2. 4. The Christian and Philosopher comparedin that challenge to be rich, free, a King ; that this hinders not but furthers Politicall Subjection : and of the happie combination of wisdome and rey-

Q. s. Of the propriety which Infidels have in their lands and goods: of propriety in the Sea, and of Salomons propriety of the Sea and Shoare at Ezion Geber.

$. 6. The commendations of Nauigation , as an Art worthie the care of the most Worthie; the Necesitie, Commoditie, Dignitie thereof.pag. 17. 2. 8. Of Ezion Geber, Eloth, and the Red Sea: that of Edom is received that name, and ner him: Mans Spirituall Filgrimage in and from communicated it to the Indian Ocean, by the the World. Phoenician Nauigations frequent in those times censured; whether the Compas was knowne to the old World; that the remote parts were lately inhabited, the new World but newly, and a great part thereof not yet.

0. 9. Ioctans pofternie feated in the East paris of Alia, amongst them, Ophir in India vltra Gangem, where Chryle was of old, and now ushe Kingdome of Pegu, and the Regions adioy-

Q. 10. Of the Gold, Silver, Gemmes, luorie, Almag trees, Apes and Peacockes, which Salomons Fleet brought from Ophir, with diners other profitable observations inserted. pag. 35.

d. 11. Probable coniectures of the courfe taken in the Ophirian Voyage, and accounts given of the three yeeres time front there : also of the course taken in like Voyages by the Romans : and the diuers Ports whereso the Spices and riches of India haue in diners Ages beene brought, and thence dispersed to the severall parts of Europe. pag.39.

1. 12. of Tharfis or Tharfhilh, whether it be the same with Ophir , and both, some indefinite remoter Countrie; whether it be the Sea, or Tarteffus, or any place in Spaine. Of the ancient Naaltie in Salomon, as likewise in our dayes pag. to. uigations about Africa, and of the Phoenician Antiquities.

CHAP. II.

Mans life a Pilgrimage. The Peregrinations of Christ, and the first Encompassing the habitable or then inhabited World by the hely Apostles and first Planters of the Gospell.

2. 1. Man by sinne becomne a Worldly Pilgrime; Christs Filgrimage in the Flesh to reco-

2. 2. How Apostles' differed from Bishops: their preaching the Gospell to all Nations. pag. 50. & 3. Of Ophir, diners opinions weighed and | & 3. The Peregrination of S. Peter. pag. 51.

thew, Iude, Matthias: and of counterfeit Writings in the Apostles names.

d. 6. Of Saint Paul: Of Apostolical Asistants : some doubts discussed.

8. 7. of America, whether it were then peo-Q. 8. The glorie of Apostolical Conquests: the hopes of enlarging the Church in this last Age, by knowledge of Arts and Languages through the benefit of Printing and Nauigation. pag.61. CHAP, III.

Of divers other principall Voyages , and Peregrinations mentioned in holy Scripture. Of the trauels and dispersions of the Iewes; and of Nationall transmigrations.

CHAP. IIII. Fabulous Antiquities of the Peregrinations and Nauigations of Bucchus, Ofiris, Hercules, the Argonauts, Cadmus, the Græcian Nautete Troy, Menelaus, Vlyffes, Æneas, and others. pag. 68. CHAP. V.

A briefe recitall of the famous expeditions mentioned in ancient Histories, of the Affyrians, Egyptians, Scythians, Ethiopians, Persians, and others.

CHAP. VI. The travels of the antient Philosophers and learned men briefly mentioned.

Снар. VII. Phoenician Voyages, and especially that of Hanno, & Carthaginian Captaine. CHAP. VIII.

Iambulus his Nauigation to Arabia, and Ethiopia, and thence to a strange Iland, from whence be farled to Palimbothrain India.

CHAP. IX. Great Alexanders Life, Acts, Peregrinations and Conquests briefly related.

CHAP. X The travels of Musaus, Thebaus, and others mentioned by Saint Ambrose; of others also mentioned in the Ecclesiasticall Histories of Eusebius, Ruffinus, Socrates, and Sozomen.

CHAP. XI. A briefe and generall consideration of Eud. 1. Of Europe compared with the other parts of the World. Q. 2. The names of Europe.

3. The Quantitie and Bounds. pag. 92. The Qualitie and Excellencies. ibid.

Of the Languages of Europe. pag.93. | bets.

CHAP. XII.

Enquiries of Languages by Edw. Brerewood, lately professor of Astronomie in Gresham Col-

CHAP. XIII. Master Brerewoods Enquiries of the Religions professed in the World: of Christians, Mahumetans, Tewes, and Idolaters; with other Philosophical speculations, and divers Annotations added.

CHAP. XIIII. Relations of divers Travellers, touching the diuersities of Christian Rites and Tenents in divers parts of the World.

d. 1. Tecla Maria an Abaffine, his answeres to questions touching the Religion of the Abassines

d. 2. Relations of the Iacobites and Armenians, written by Leonard Bishop of Sidon, Pope Gregorie the 13. his Nuncio to the Easterne

d. 3. Of Simon Sulaka a Papall Easterne Patriarke .. monest the Chaldwans : and of divers others thither fent. Of Abdefu, Aatalla, Donha his Successors.

d. 4. Of the Cophti, their Synode at Cairo, the lefuites being the Popes Agents, and of Stephen Colinzas mellage to the Georgians, and two lesuites sent to the Maronites.

Errores ex libris Maronitarum excerpti 1580 funt autem huiusmodi.

0. 5. Of the condition of life in which the Greeks now line, and of their Rites of Fasts, Feasts, and other observations, gathered out of the booke of Christopheros Angelos, a Greekish Monke and Priest. pag. 154.

CHAP. XV. Collections out of Peter Stroza, Secretarie to Pope Paul the Fifth, his Treatife of the Opinions of the Chaldwans, touching the Patriarke of Babylon, and the Nestorians in Asia. pag. 163.

From the Patriarchall Chamber, Prayers and Bleßings be giuen to you. pag. 164. CHAP. XVI.

A briefe Survey of the Ecclefiasticall Politic ancient and moderne, or of the feuerall Patriarchs, Archbishops and Bishops Sees thorow the Christian world: also of the Iesuites Colledges and numbers, and of other Monasticall Orders. pag. 166. CHAP. XVII.

A Discourse of the diversitie of Letters vsed by diners Nations of the world : the Antiquitie, manifold vie and varietie thereof : with exemplanie descriptions of very many frange AlphaThe Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the second Booke of the First part of Purchas his PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I. F the improvement of Nanigation in later Times . and the meaner whereby the world in her old Age hash been more then ener disconered.

d. 1. Of Magneticall and Astronomicall Instruments, first applied to Nauigation.

0. 2. Of Henrie, third fonne to Iohn the first King of Portugall by an English woman, the Prince of later Discoueries : and of the belps both against the Moores, and in their Discoueries which the Portugals have received of our Na-

Q. 3. Of King Iohn the fecond his Disconeries, and advancement of the Art of Naniga-

d. a. Of the conjectures touching a new World by Christopher Colon or Columbus, and his manifold difficulties therein.

2. 5. Columbus bis first Voyage, and impronement therein of the Mariners Art. pag. 10. 0. 6. The Popes Bull made to Castile, touching the New World. pag. 13. Animaduersions on the said Bull of Pope Alexander.

pag. 18. $. 7. Of the Portugals discontent and compromise with the Spaniard, and their first Discoweries of the East Indies.

Q. 8. Of Gamas Acts at Calicut, and his re-

pag. 28. d. 9. The second Fleet sent to the East Indies : Their disconerie of Brasil , and other

d. 10. Albuquerques explaits, and the first knowledge of the Molucca's. Pag. 32.

CHAP. II. of Fernandus Magalianes : The occasion of his Voyage, and the particulars of the same, with the compassing of the World by the ship called San Victoria; gathered out of Antonio Pigafetta, an Italian of Vicenza, who was one in the faid Circum-Nauigation, as also from diners other Authors.

CHAP. III. The Second Circum-Nauigation of the Earth: Or the renowmed voyage of Sir Francis Drake, the first Generall which ener sayled about the whole Globe, begun in the yeare of our Lord 1577. now reniewed and corrected.

CHAP. IIII.

The third Circum-Nauigation of the Globe: Or the admirable and proferous voyage of Mafter Thomas Candill of Triffley in the Countie of Suffolke Efquire, into the South Sea, and from thence round about the circumference of the whole Earth, begun in the yeere of our Lord 1586, and finished 1588. Written by Master Francis Pretty lately of Ey in Suffolke, a Gentleman employed in the fame action, published by Master Hakloyt, and now corrected and abbreuiated. pag. 57.

A Letter of Mafter Thomas Candilla to the Right Honorable the Lord Hunsdon, Lord Chamberlaine, one of her Maiesties most Honorable Priuit Counsell, touching the successe of his Voyage about the World.

CHAP. V. The Voyage of Oliver Noort round about the Globe, being the fourth Circum-Nauigation of the same, extracted out of the Latine Diarie. pag. 71. Of Sebald de Wert his voyage to the South Sea, and miferie in the Streights nine Moneths. wherein William Adums Englishman was chiefe pag.78.

CHAP. VI. The voyage of George Spilbergen, Generall of a Dutch Fleet of fixe ships, which passed by the Magellane Streights , and South Sea , wato the East Indies, and thence (having encompassed the whole Circumference of the Earth) home : gathered out of the Latine lournall, being the fift Circum-Nanigation.

A discourse of the present state of the Molucco's, annexed to the former lournall, extracted out of Apollonius Schot of Middleborough. p.36.

A briefe description of the Forts, Souldiers, and Militarie pronision, as also of their Trade and Shipping in the East Indies, under the service of the Generall States of the united Provinces, and his Excellencie, as it was in July, 1616. extracted out of the Author of the lournall.

CHAP. VII. The fixth Circum-Nauigation , by William Cornelison Schouten of Horne : Who Southwards from the Streights of Magellan in Terra Del-fuogo, found and discouered a new passage through the great South Sea, and that way fayled round about the World : Describing what Ilands, beretofore published by Master R. Hackluyt, and | Countries, People, and strange adventures he found pag.46. in his faid paffage. The

GRAP. I. False first English Voyagesy's the East In-Indian Companie. pag. 100 Dr Y an Of Sighelmus, Mendeuile, Steuens, Firch, and diversother English men, their Indian Foyaget ibid. . D. Z. The Forage of Mafter Beniamin Wood into the Sall Indies and the miferable difastraus

2.34 The trauniles of John Mildenhall tota the Indias and in the Countries of Perlia, and of the Grian Mogul (where he is reported afterwards to bine died of porson) wenten by him. lelfe in two Letters following. H. pag.114. The fecond Letter of John Mildenhall to Ma-

Good Tother cof. H.

A CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF TH

fler Richard Staper, written from Casbin in Persia, she third day of October, 1606. H. ibid. D. 4. The Voyage of Captaine John Dauis, to October, 1605. abbreniated. H. P.

the Easterne India, Pilotina Durch Ship; written by himselfe. H. .... Al . . . . . . b pag. 116. 2.5. William Adams bu Verage by the Ma-gellan Streighti to lapon, written in two Letters by himselfe, as followeth. H.

A Letter of William Adams to his wife from Iapan. 6. 6. The third Foyage of John Dauis with Sir Edward Michelborne Knight , into the East . Indies, in the Tigre, a ship of two bundred and fortie Tunnes , with a Pinnaffe called the Tigres whale which though in time it be later then the firft of the Eafl Indian Societie , yet because it mas not fet forth by them, bere placed. H. pag 132.

CHAP. II. A principle ge for fifteene yeeres granted by her Matestie to certaine Adventurers, for the discoueric of the Trade for the East Indies, the one and thirtieth of December, 1600. H.

CHAP. III. The first. Verage made to East India by Master James Lancaster, now Knight, for the Merchants of London, Anno 1600. With foure tall Ships, and Susan, & the Guest a Victualler. H. p. 147.

O. I. The preparateon to this Voyage, and briefe whereof is here delinered. H. what befell them in the way till they departed from Saldania.

. d. 2. Their departure from Saldania and proceeding in their voyage to Achen in Sumatra, trading in those parts : in which Voyage were emwith their trading at Saint Maries, Antongill, ployed three flips, viz. the Dragon , the Hector, ther occurrents. . 0. 3. Their entereainement and trade at Adies before the of ablifhment of the Eoft chen, and Queene Eltanbeth her Letter to that 1018:452.

0. 4. Portugall wiles discouered, a Prize tax ken neere Malacca.

D. S. Their Prefent to and from the King : his Letters to Queene Elizabeth : Their departure for Priaman and Bantam, and fetting a Trade there. ....

Q. 6. Their departure for England, and occurrents in the way.

CHAP. IIII. A. Discourse of Iaua, and of the first English

Factorie there, with divers Indian, English, and Dutch occurrents, written by Master Edmund Scot, contagning a Historie of things done from the elementh of Februarie, 1602. till the fixt of pag. 164.

1. I. The description of Java major, with the manners and fashions of the people, both lauans and Chynxfles, which doe there inhabit. ibid.

D. 2. A true and briefe discourse of many dangers by fire, and other perfidious treacheries of the lauans.

0. 3. Differences betwixt the Hollanders (stiling themselves English) the Javans, and other things remarkable.

4. Treacherous underminings, with other eccurrents.

0. 5. Generall Middletons arrivall, the ficknesse and death of many. Quarrels twixt Ours and the Hollanders , begun by Captaine Severson , 4 Dutch man, and the King of Bantams circumcision, and pompous triumphs.

0. 6. Further quarrels betwixt the English and Dutch, with other accidents. pag. 183. CHAP. V.

The second Voyage set forth by the Companie into the East Indies, Sir Henrie Middleton being Generall: wherein were employed foure thips; the Red Dragon, Admirall; the Hector, Vice-Ad-(towit) the Dragon, the Hector, the Ascension mirall; the Ascension with the Susan : written by Thomas Clayborne in a larger Discourse, 4 pag. 185. CHAP. VI.

A lournall of the third Voyage to the East India, fet out by the Companie of the Merchants, Nicubar : the firange plant of Sombrero, and o- | and the Confent, and in them the number of three hundred and ten persons, or thereabouts: writ- | and therefore omitted. ten by William Keeling chiefe Commander thereof. H.

d. I. Their disasters and putting backe for Sierra Leona, and what happened till they departed from Saldania.

O. 2. Their departure from Saldania, and what happened after till the shippes parted com-

$. 3. Infructions learned at Delifa of the Moores and Gusarates touching the Monsons, and while they rode there. Their comming to Priaman and Bantam.

Q. 4. Their Voyage to Banda, Observations by the way, Actions there. CHAP. VII.

Captaine William Hawkins his Relations, of the occurrents which happened in the time of his refidence in India, in the Countie of the Great Mogoll, and of his departure from thence; written to the Companie. H. P. pag.206.

d. 1. His barbarous v fage at Surat by Mocrebchan: The Portugals and Issuites treacheries againft him. ibid.

d. 2. His lourney to the Mogoll at Agra, and entertainment at Court.

d. 3. The Mogols inconstancy, and Captaine Hawkins departure with Sir Henrie Middleton to the Red Sea : Thence to Bantam, and after for England.

Q. 4. A briefe Discourse of the strength, wealth and government, with some Customes of the Great Mogoll: which I have both feene, and gathered by his chiefe Officers, and Onerfeers of all his estate.

CHAP. VIII.

The Voyage of Master David Middleton in the Consent, a ship of an hundred and sifteene tunnes, which fet forth from Tilburie Hope, on the twelfth of March, 16c6. H. CHAP. IX.

A briefe Narration of the fourth Voyage to the East Indies, with the two good ships, the Afcention being Admirall, and the Vnion Vice-Admirall, under the command of Alexander Sharpey Generall, and Richard Rowles Lieutenant Generall, with the Discouerie of the Red Sca in the Ascension. H. pag.228.

Q. I. Relations of the faid Voyage, written by Thomas Iones.

d. 2. The report of William Nicols a Mariner the Ascension which travelled from Bramport by land to Masuliputan, written from his mouth at Bantam by Henry Moris, the twelfth of September, 1612. The former and greater part is the same in substance with that of Thomas Iones, taine Extracts thereof. H.

). 3. The unhappie Voyage of the Vice-admirall, the Vnion outward bound, till fire arrived at Priaman, reported by a Letter which Master Samuel Bradshaw fent frem Priaman, by Humfrey Bidulphe, the elementh day of March, 1609. written by the fand Henrie Moris at Bantam, the fourteenth of September, 1610.

d. 4. The Voyage of Master Ioseph Salbanke through India, Persia, part of Turkie, the Persian Gulfe, and Arabia, 1609. Written unto Sir Thomas Smith. pag.235.

CHAP. X.

The Voyage of Master David Midleton to Iaua, and Banda, extracted out of a Letter written by himselfe to the Companie, this being the fifth Voyage (et forth by them. H. D. I. Their affaires at Bantam, Botun, Ben-

Q. 2. Occurrents at Banda; Consessing with the Dutch : Trade at Puloway, and many perils. Q. 3. His departure for Bantam, escape from the Hollanders, and returne home. pag. 245. CHAP. XI.

The fixth Voyage, fet forth by the East Indian Companie in three ships; the Trades Increase, of one thousand Tunnes, and in her the Generall Sir Henrie Middleton, Admirall ; the Pepper-corne of two hundred and fiftie, Vice-admirall, the Captaine Nicholas Dounton : and the Darling of ninetie. The Barke Samuel followed as a Victualler, of burthen one hundred and eightie : written by Sir H. Middleton, H.

d. 1. The proceeding of his Voyage till hee came to Moha in the Red Sea.

d. 2. Turkish treacherie at Moha and Aden with the English.

2. 3. Sir Henrie Middleton, and foure and thirtie others, fent to the Basha at Zenan. De-Scription of the Countrie, and occurrents till their returne.

d. 4. Indian shipping at Moha; Sir Henrie Middletons escape from the Turkes, and enforcing fatisfaction.

0. 5. Their departure from Surat, and what happened there with the Cambayans and Portu-

Q. 6. His going to Dabul, or thence to the Red Sea, and enforced trade with the Guzerates. p.271, CHAP. XII.

Nicholas Dounton Captaine of the Peppercorne, a ship of two hundred and fifty tunnes, and Lieutenant in the fixth Voyage to the East Indies, fet forth by the faid Companie, his Iournall, or cerpag.274. Q. I. Their

and Moha, and the trecherous dealing of both | Cape Merchant ) translated out of Dutch. Hee pag.280.

6. 3. Their departure from Moha to Affab, and after that, higher into the Red Sea, thence to the Socatora, and after to Surat. pag.292.

3. 4. Olany proud affronts of the Portugals. Difgufts from the Indians. pag.294.

. 6. 5. Their departure to Dabul, Socatora, the Red Sea, and Acts there. pag.302.

departure to Sumatra. pag.308. turne. CHAP. XIII.

The senenth Voyage; made in the Globe into Anthonie Hippon, observed and written by Na- Samuel Castelton of London, and Captaine thaniel Marten , Chaiters Mate in the faid George Bathurft as Lieutenant: written by Iohn

CHAP. XIIII.

Extracts of Peter Williamson Floris his 3. 2. Of Abbadel Curia, Arabia Felix, Aden | Journall, for the seuenth Voyage, (in which he went arrived in England, 1615. and died two moneths after in London.

Q. I. The Voyage to Paleacatte, Petapoli, Masulipatan, Bantam, Patania, and Siam. ibid.

Q. 2. Relations of strange occurents in Pegu, Siam , Ioor , Patane , and the Kingdomes adia-

Q. 3. Their Voyage to Masulipatan ; acci-Q. 6. Their barter with the Indian Ships, and dents during their long stay there, and their re-pag.325. CHAP. XV.

A lournall of a Voyage made by the Pearle to East India, set out under the command of Captain | the East India, wherein went as Captaine, Master pag. 314. Tatton, Master. Pag.328.

The Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the fourth Booke of the First part of Purchas his PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I. He eighth Voyage fet forth by the East Inthree Ships, the Cloue, the Hector, and the panie. Thomas , under the command of Captaine Iohn Saris : His Course and Acts to and in the Red Sca, Iaua, Moluccas, and Iapan (by the Inhabitante called Neffoon, where also he first began randos Letter to His Maiestie. and (sled an English Trade and Factorie) with

4. 1. Their fayling about Africa, visiting diners tranks thereof, and comming to Socatora. ib. 4. 2. Occurrents at Socatora, and in the Red Sea, with ainers Esserne Letters, and the Great

Turkes Patent and Seale. d. 3. Their Adventures with Sir Henry Middleton, with other obfernations of thefe parts, and arrivall at Bantam.

pag-348. 1. 4. The Voyage of Captaine Saris in the Cloue, to the He of Japan, what befell in the way, Obsernations of the Dutch and Spaniards in the Moluccas.

d. s. Further observations touching the Molucca Hands, and their proceeding on their Voyage pag. 361.

d. 6. Their arrivall at Firando: the Habite, Rites, and Customes of the Iaponians. pag. 366.

2. 7. Captaine Saris his lourney to the Court of the Iaponian Emperour, and observations there, and by the way. His Letter to the King, dian Societie, wherein were employed and Iaponian Priviledges to the English Com-

1. 8. Accidents after his returne to Firando, the setting of a Factorie there, departure for Bantam , and thence for England. King of Fipag.378.

1. 9. Intelligence concerning Yedzo, delineother remarkable Rarities, collected out of his own red in the Citie of Edoo in Iapan, by a Iapanner who had beene there in ice. CHAP. II.

Observations of the said Captaine Iohn Saris, of occurrents which happened in the East Indies during his abode at Bantam from October 1605. till October 1609. As likewife touching the Marts and Merchandifes of those parts; observed by his owne experience, or relation of others, extracted out of his larger Booke, and here added as an Appendix to his former greater Voyage; and may ferue as a continuation of Master Scots premised Relations. To which are added certaine Observatiens of the faid Authour , touching the Townes and Merchandise of principall Trade in these parts of the World.

Certaine Rules for the choice of fundry Drugs. as also from whence they may bee had, as fol-

Of all the chiefe and principall Towns for Irade

of the first Part.

in these parts, with their severall names and situa- | ties, Buildings, adveyned and intermixed: Princes tions, and allowhat commodities they doe affoord, and not Subject : Agra and Echebars Sepulchre deforiwhat is there defired. pag. 390. | bed.

A note of requestable Commodities vendible in Iapan, together with their prices there current, being Maffes, and Canderines , each Canderine contayning the to of a Maffe : viz. pag. 394.

A memoriall of such merchandize as are to bee bought in lapan, and the prices as they are there worth.

CHAP. III. Relation of Master Richard Cockes Cape Merchant, Of what past in the Generals absence going to the Emperours Court. Whereunto are added divers Letters of his and others, for the bester knowledge of Inponian offsires, and later Occurrents in those parts. ibíd. b. 1. The Kings care, unreadinesse of ours, Iaponian superstitions, strange tempest. ibid. D. 2. Lies of or on the Deuil, and oproares about fire. Deceit of Nangafack. Sufpicions, Feafts, Spanish occurrents. pag.399.

0. 3. A Grange Comedie acted by Kings and Nobles: Preuentions for Night-cries and fires; Returne of the Generall from Court. pag-403.

The Copie of a Letter fent by the Emperour of lapan, unto the King of Holland, by the ship called the Red Lion, with Arrowes, which arrived in the Texel, the two and twentieth of July, 1610. And divers Letters written from the English in Iapan to their friends in England. pag. 406.

Firando in Iapan, the tenth of December,

A piece of another letter of M. Cockes. p.410. CHAP. IIII.

Observations of William Finch, Merchant, taken out of his large lournall. pag-414' 5. 1. Remembrances touching Sierra Leona, in August 1507, the Bay , Countrey , Inhabitants, Rites, Fruits and Commodities. 2. Of Saint Augustine and Socotora, like observations, with other notes taken out of his lournall. d. 3. Occurrents in India touching the English, Dutch, Portugals, and the Mogols dealing with the English. 0. 4. His lourney to Agra : Observations by the way, and there; and of the Decan warres of. there.

V. S. Defeription of Fetipore, Byana; the weythither; of the Nill or Indico, and of divers Mogoll affaires, Cities, and Caffes. pag. 428.

3. 6. Deferition of Labor, and of the Kings heafethere : how the Mogolls entred India : Of di- chen. ners frong holds, strange heasts, and Plants; fond Q. 2. Trade at Tecoo and Passiman : their fager fittions : Of the Wayes, Thecues, Out-lawes, Ci- going to Bantam, and thence home.

Of divers wayes in the Mogols Kingdome to and from Lahor and Agra, and places of note in Lands lying Easterly from Lahor with their pag-437-

CHAP. V. The ninth Voyege of the Indian Companie to the East Indies, in the lames, whereof was Captaine, Mafter Edmund Marlowe of Bristoil, and the Master, John Dany, which wrote this lour-

CHAP. VI. A Ruter, or briefe direction for readie fayling into the East India, digested into a plaine methode by Master John Dauis of Lime house, upon experience of his five voyages thither, and home a-

D. I. Nauticall observation of places between the Lizard and Saint Augustine, in the Ile of Saint Laurence.

Q. 2. A note for finding out of the River of Saint Augustine in Saint Laurence, of divers [mall Iles in the way thence to Achen, and of many Ports and passages in and about Sumatra. Q. 3. The way from Bantam to the Straight of Palimbon, v pon the East-side of Sumatra, of Banca, Bintam, Straights of Sincapura, and Sunda, with other places.

Certaine principall Notes, gathered by mine owne experience, in my three voyages into these parts: wherein the true courfe, and distances, with shoulds and rocks is showed : and on which side you may leave them : as bereafter followeth.

Certaine Notes from Bantam Roade to the Lands of the Maluccaes, with the courfe and distances : as hereafter followeth. pag. 454.

Notes of Botun. Pag-455. CHAP. VII.

A lournal of the tenth Voyage to the East India. with two (hips , tha Dragon , and the Hoffander (accompanied with the lames and Salomon, but thefe for other voyages) and in them three hundred and eightie persons , or thereabout : Written by Mafter Thomas Belt, chiefe Commander there-

$. 1. Obferactions in their way to Surat. ibid. ). 2. Their Alls with the Mogols Subiells, and fights against the Portuguis : fetling a Fattorie, and departure to Achen. pag-458.

Captaine Best bis entertainement at Apag.462.

pag 464;

CHAP. VIII.

Certaine observations written by others employed in the same voyage, Master Copland Minister, Robert Boner Mafter, Nicholas Withington Mer-

Q. 1. Remembrances taken out of a Tractate written by Mafter Patrike Copland, Minister in the former voyage. King of Achens letter to His Msteffie; and notes of N. Salmons Journall. ibid.

d. 2. Notes taken out of Master Robert Boners lournall, who was then Master in the Draon. H. pag.479. d. 3. Extracts of a Tractate, written by Nicholas Withington, which was left in the Mogols Countrey by Captaine Best, a Factor, his adventures and trauels therein.

CHAP. IX.

The eleuenth V oyage to the East India in the Salomon, begun in the yeere of our Lord 1611. after the accompt of the Church of England, and ended in the yeere 1613. Written by Ralph Wilson, one of the Mates in the faid ship. H. pag.486. CHAP. X.

A lournall of all principall matters passed in the twelfth Voyage to the East India, observed by mee Walter Payton, in the good (hip the Expedition: the Captaine whereof was M. Christopher Newport, being fet out, Anno 1612. Written by Walter Payton. H.

$. 1. Their comming to Saint Augustine, Mohelia, and divers parts of Arabia. ibid. 0. 2. Their comming on the Persian Coast: the

trescherie of the Baluches. Q. 3. Their comming to Divulginde landing the Embastadour, (eeking Trade, and croffed by the flanderous Portugals, going to Sumatra and Bantam; and returne. pag.495.

CHAP. XI. Extracts of the Iournall of Captaine Nicholas Downton, who was employed chiefe Commander in the fecond Voyage fet forth for the toyned Stockes in the Fast Indies , by the Governour , Deputie , and Committees of that Societie. Wherein is related their bappy successe against the Vice-Roy, and all the Indian Sea forces of the Portugals, by force and cunning attempting their destruction. pag. 500.

Portugals, and the Nabob and vs.

Q. 2. The Portugals Forces, Acts, Attempts, Fight with the English, and disgracefull Re-

3. Portugall supplyes, Fire boates frustrated, seeke peace and refused, their departure : En terview of the Nabob and Generall: departure of the English.

CHAP. XII.

Relations of Master Elkington and Master Dodsworth, touching the former voyage. p.514. Q. I. Collections taken out of the Journall of Thomas Elkington, Succession to Captaine Nicholas Downton in the voyage aforefaid, written by bimfelfe.

0. 2. A Briefe of Memorialls observed and written by Master Edward Dodsworth, Merchant in the former voyage, which returned in the

The examination of Domingo Francisco, taken in Swally Roade, aboord the Gift. Februarie 20. pag.518.

CHAP, XIII. A lournall of the lourney of Richard Steel, and Iohn Crowther, from Azmere in India, the place of the Great Mogols residence, to Spahan the Revall Seat of the King of Persia, in the affaires of the East Indian Societie. Anno 1615. 1616. pag.519.

CHAP. XIIII. Memorials of a voyage, wherein were employed three ships, the Samaritan, Thomas and Thomafine, 1614. written by Iohn Milward Merchant, who went in the Thomas. Pag.5 24.

CHAP. XV. The second voyage of Captaine Walter Peyton into the East Indies, in the Expedition, which was fet forth by the East India Companie, together with the Dragon, Lion, and Peppercorne, in Ianuarie 1614. gathered out of his large lournall. pag. 528.

0. 1. Occurrents at Soldania, Mohelia, Socotora, Surat, with divers other Intelligences. ibid. Q. 2. Prizestaken, Factorie at Callicut, Ob. fernations of diners places of Sumatra : the English ships miscarrie. Dutch Abuses, Factories in India.

1. 3. A briefe Declaration of the Ports , Cities, and Townes, inhabited and traded unto by the Portugall, betwixt the Cape of Good Hope and Iapan, as I could learne by diligent enquirie. pag.534. CHAP. XVI.

Observations collected out of the Iournall of Sir Thomas Roe, Knight, Lord Embassadour from His Maieflie of Great Britaine, to the Great Mogol: Of matters occurring worthy memorie in the i. 1. Their comming to Soldania, Socatora, way, and in the Mogols Court. His Customes, Ci-Swally: Difagreements betweene the Mogoll and ties, Countries, Subjects, and other Indian af-

3. 1. Occurrents and observations, in , and touching the voyage to Surat. ). 2. His tourney to the Court, and entertaine-

ment there, and customes thereof. 2. 3. Occurrents happening in lune, luly, August 1616. and divers paffages of freech and action, pag. 509. | whence the Nature, Arts, and disposition of the King and his Subjects may be observed.

d. 4. The Kings birth day, and manner of the obsernation , with other accidents in Septempag. 550.

0. 5. The broiles about Abdala Chan, and Chan Channa; Sultan Caroones ambition, his policies to subnert his elder brother : fight with a Portugall Carricke : diftafte about the Prince . Perfian Embaffage, Presents and entertainment. pag. 552.

A. G. The Princes brauerie; the Perfian Ambaffadours behausour, the manner and effects of Drinking , of the King and his Nobles , the Kings remone, his super-exceeding pompe, wealth, magnificence therein : Portugall fray : relations of Sultan Corforoone : Perlian newes.

d. 7. Sir Thomas Roes following the Court in this Progresse, description of the Kings Lescar, and some places which they passed : the Kings superstition, drinke, and dealing about the Prefent. pag. 561. 6. 8. The New-yeeres Fcaft : Supresons of the ryat.

pag-546. | English: Trade of Dabui , diftafte of the Perfian, English men of warre in the Indian Sew. p.28.565.

9. 9. Afaph Chan fecketh to further es for hope of gaine, fo also Normahai : Ottoffer Steeles arrival: Danger to the publike, by private trane: Stirres about a Fort.

D. 10. The Map and description of the fenerall Kingdomes and Proumers Subject to the Great Mogoll Sha Selim Gehangier, with the principall Cities and Rivers, the foituation and borders, and extent in length and breadth. Letters of the Alogo!! to His Mateflie, and of S. T. Roe to diners his bomorable friends in England.

CHAP. XVII. A Letter of Master Thomas Corvat , which travelled by Land from Jerufalera to the Court of the Great Mogoll, pristen to Master L. Whitaker. Towhich are added pieces of two other. Day . 592. Certaine observations nritten by Thomas-Co-

The Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the fift Booke of the First part of Purchas his PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I. Emorialls taken out of the Iournall of Roger Hawes, touching the proceedings of the Factorie at Cranganor under the Great Samorine.

CHAP. II. Notes taken out of the Journall of Alexander Childe, from England to Surat, and thence to Iasques in Persia, and of the fight by the way with the Portugals, in which Generall Ioseph was flaine. pag.606.

The Voyage to lafques.

CHAP. III. A Letter of Master Thomas Spurway Merchant, touching the wrongs done at Banda to the English by the Hollanders. Written in a Letter to the Companie. pag.608.

CHAP. III. Relations and Remembrances, taken out of a large Iournall of a Voyage, fet forth by the East Indian Societie, wherein were employed, the lames, the Anne, the New-yeeres Gift, the Bull, o the Bee; written by John Hatch, Master of the Bee, and after in the New yeeres Gift; and lastly, came home in the lames. pag.618.

CHAP. V. Moha, in the Red Sea, for fetling an English Trade | Ships taken by the Dutch. Consultation and press, was in those parts: Anno Dom. 1518. extracted out of at Toco, and departure thence.

Mafter Edward Heynes his Journall, written thereof. The Copies of diucrs Firmans. pag.622. CHAP. VI.

Briefe Notes of two Voyages of Mafter Martin Pring into the East Indies; the first with Captaine Nicholas Downton, Generall of foure flups, in which he went Master in the New yeeres Gift Adpag.629.

GHAP. VII. The second Voyage of Captaine Pring into the East Indies. Or a Relation of the fifth Foyage for the loynt Stock, fet forth by the Honorable and Worlhipfull of the East Indic Societie : consisting of fine Thips, viz. the Iames Royall, of burthen a thousand Tunnes, Rowland Coytmore Offaster : the Anne Royall, nine hundred Tunnes; Andrew Shilling Mafter : the Gift , eight hundred Tunnes ; Nathaniel Salmon Mafter : the Bull foure hundred Tuns; Robert Adams Master : the Bee, one hundred and fiftie Tunnes; Iohn Hatch Master. All under the gouernment of Martin Pring. b. 1. Occurrents in the way, at Surat, Bantam, and lacatra.

Q. 2. Dutch wrongs , and the fights between Sir Thomas Dale and them.

d. 3. Their departure for Coromandell : ve-The Voyage of the Anne Royall from Surat to | currents there : Sir Thomas Dales death. Engl 11

2.4 No

d. S. The Voyage from Bantam to Patania, and thence to lapan, with his returne to lacatra: let by it felfe for the wfe of Mariners. pag. 645. Their returne. pag.653

CHAP. VIII.

William Hores discourse of his voyage in the Dragon and Expedition, from Surat to Achen, fion. Teco and Bantam; and of the surprising the Dragon, Beare, Expedition, &c. in a Letter to the Companie. pag.656.

CHAP. IX.

The Journall of Master Nathaniel Courthop, his voyage from Bantam to the Ilands of Banda, being chiefe Commander of the two fhips, the Swan, Admirall; Master Dauis, Master : and the Defence Vice-Admirail: Master Hinchley, Master : together with his residence in Banda, and occurrents there; contagning the differences in those parts betwixt the English and Hollanders contracted.

o. 1. English kindneffes to the Dutch : the furrender of Poolaroone to His Maiestie, and the fortifying there by the English : Dutch hostilitie, their taking the Swan, Salomon, and Attendance, and keeping the Defence betrayed by Fugitiues, ibid.

d. 2. The manner of taking the Salomon and Attendance, in diners Letters described, Dutch abusive denices by lyes to delude and dif-bearten our men : divers Extracts of Letters of M. Courthop, with other occurrents. pag. 667.

0. 3. Other Acts of the Hollanders in divers places of the Indies : Encouragements from Sir Thomas Dale, Master Iordan and others, and various events in those parts till his death. pag 675. Sir Thomas Dales Letter. ibid.

The Presidents Letters.

pag 676.

CHAP. X. The continuation of the former Iour nall by Master Robert Hayes, contayning the death of Captaine Courthop, succession of Robert Hayes, surrender of Lantore to His Maiestie, newes of the peace, and the East India trade, taken out of a Booke translated after the peace Lantore and Poolaroone leized by the Dutch.

CHAP. XI. A Letter written to the East India Companie in England, from their Factors.

CHAP. XII.

The Hollanders declaration of the affaires of the East Indies : faithfully translated according to the Dutch Copie, printed at Amsterdam, 1622. written in answere to the former reports, touching wrongs done to the English. And an answere written by

d. I. A true Relation of that which paffed in the Ilands of Banda, in the East Indies , in the yeere of our Lord God 1621. And before printed at Amsterdam, 1622.

1. 2. An answere to the Hollanders declaration concerning the occurrents of the East India, contracted formhat briefer then in the former Impref-

d. 2. Relations and Depolitions touching the Hollanders brutish and cruell vsage of the English. pag.693.

CHAP. XIII. A pithy Description of the chiefe Ilands of Banda and Moluccas, by Captaine Humphrey Fitz-Herbert, in a Letter to the Companie. pag.697.

CHAP. XIIII. Three severall Sarrenders of certaine of the Banda Ilands made to the Kings Maiestie of England, faithfully translated out of Malahan into English with a voyage also annexed of Sir Henrie Middle-

The Contents of the Surrender of the Ilands of Pooloway, and Poolaroone, in Banda, to His Maiefie. The Surrender of Rollinging and Wayre to bis

Pag. 702. Translation of the Surrender of Lantore, Cont.

in the paper N.D. The voyage of Mafter Henrie Middleton to the Moluccas, (having fent Captaine Colthrust in the Ascension to Banda) with Letters of the Kings of those parts to his Maieflie.

The King of Tarnatas Letter to the King. p.704. The King of Tydores Letter to the Kings Maieflie of Englandpag.705.

The King of Bantam to the King of England. CHAP. XV.

The Dutch Nauigations to the East Indies, out of their owne lournals and other Histories. pag. 706. The games which the Hollanders had gotten by out of the Dutch, perfinading to a West India

The Relation of the Priest of Poolaroone, touching the beginnings and occasions of quarrels betwixt the Dutch and Bandaneses , written in the Malayan language with his ownehand, in a very faire Arabick letter.

A discourse of those warres by the Author. ibid. CHAP. XVI.

Extracts of a lournall of a voyage to Surat and to lasques in the Persian Gulfe, fet forth by the East certaine Mariners lately published; with Depositions India Societie of Merchants: wherein were imployed foure new thips; the London, of eight bundred Tunnes, and therin Andrew Shilling chiefe Commander of the whole Fleet; William Baffin Mafter; she Hart, of five hundred Tunnes, Richard Bliche Master; the Roe Bucke, of three bundred, Richard Swan Master; the Eagle, of two bundred and eightie, Christopher Browne Maiter. Written by Richard Swan.

Relation of the fight of foure English /hips with foure Portugall Ships , two Galliats, and ten Frigass in the Gulfe of Perlia, in the moneths of December and lanuarie, 1620.

Part of a Letter written from Maiter Robert Smith to his brother Henrie Smith, relating of a rare attempt and exploit of a small English Pinnaste, in taking a Portugall ship. Giles Hobbs his tranaile from Musco to Spahun, writtening Letter by himfelfe to the East

Indian Companie. CHAP. XVII.

A discourse of Trade from England unto the East Indies: Answering to divers objections which are usually made against the same. Written by T. pag.732.

The Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the fixt Booke of the First part of Purchas his PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I. Bleruations of Africa, taken out of John Leo his nine Bookes, translated by Master Pory, and the most remarkable whings hither transcribed.

d. 1. Collections out of the first Booke of Ichn Leo, touching the People, Tribes, Languages, Seafons, Vertues, Vices, and other more generall considerations of Africa.

Q. 2. Collections of things most remarkable in Iohn Leo bis fecond Booke of the Historic of A-

d. 2. Collections of things most remarkable in Iohn Leo his third Booke of the Historie of Apag.781.

d. 4. The most remarkable things of John Leo, in his fourth Booke of the Historie of Afripag.819.

Q. 5. The most remarkable things in Iohn Leo his fifth Booke of the Historie of Africa, and a description of the Kingdomes of Bugia and Tupag.815.

fixt Booke of the Historie of Africa. pag. 82 z.

d. 7. Extracts taken out of lohn Lco his fewenth Booke of the Historie of Africa, wherein hee intreateth of the Land of Negros, and of the Confines of Egypt.

Q. 8. Notes of principall things in Iohn Lea his eight Booke of the Historie of Africa. pag. 831. Q. 9. Principall occurrents in Iohn Leo his ninth Booke of the Historie of Africa. pag. 844. CHAP. II.

Collections of things most remarkable in the Hiflorie of Barbarie, written by Ro. C. pag. 851. Q. 1. How the Kingdome of Barbarie came to Muley Hamer Xarif, the late deceased King, and and the Turke.

the course of his government; of his somes and their behaviour . Shecks mifgouernment and imprisonment : Hamets death.

0. 2. Muley Sidan proclaimeth himfelf king in Fez. Muley Boferes in Moruecos. Muley Naffar would have done the like in Taradant, but is hindred. The death of Nassar. Warre betweene Sidan and Boferes. Sheck fet free. Fokers employed. The battell. Sidans flight. Fewds and robberies.

d. 3. Muley Sheck proclaimeth himself king in Fez. Sidan goeth to Tafilet , from thence into Sus. Peace concluded betweene Muley Boferes, and Muley Sidan. Abdela Shecks sonne escapeth. Sir Anthonie Sherleys Embassage, Bountie

d. 4. Muley Abdela goeth in per fon against Muley Boferes; drivesh him out of Moruecos; Putteth to death Basha Sidar . and other Noblemen; Sidan expeller b him, and killer b three thoufand Fezans perfidionfly ; requited by Abdela. Shracies treacherie uniuftly punished. Sidans 0. 6. Collections taken out of John Leo bis flight. Many Englishmen imployed in these wars,

0. 5. Muley Hamet Bosonne commeth a. gainst Abdela, and causeth him flie to his Father, Boferes like to beetaken, flieth to Salie. Muley Sidan commeth against Muley Hamet Bosonne; who flyeth, and is por oned by old Azus. Muley Sheck fendeshinto Spaine. Some observations of their Policie, and Trade to Gago. pag.868.

The Policie of Barbarie. pag.870. The trading of the Moores into Guinec and Gago for gold Ore, or sandie Gold. pag.8724 CHAP. III.

The African possessions of the King of Spaine, 0. 1. The of Airica, and of the Great Turkes.

CHAP. HIT. The Rescription of the Citie of Alger, written by Nicholas Nicholay, and how it came into the pofsession of Barbarossa, and also of Malta and Tri- aduentures.

CHAP, V. A large Voyage in a Tournallor briefe Repertory of all occurrents, hapning in the fleet of Ships fent out by the King his most excellent Maiestie, as well against the Pirats of Algiers, as others; the whole body of the Fleet consisting of eighteene faile. Sixe of his Maieflies fhips, ten Merchants fhips, two Pinnaces. Vnder the command of Sir Robert Manfel Knight, Vice-Admirall of England, and Admirall of that Fiest: and a Counsellof Warre appointed by his Maiefile.Written by one employed in that Voyage, formerly published, and here contracted.

pag.881. The names of the Captaines, Ships, their burdens, number of men, and Ordnance in his Maiesties fixe Ships.

In the Merchants (bips. pag.882.

CHAP. VI. The Relation of the Iacob, a ship of Brisholl, of one there.

b. t. The Dominions and Fortresses which the bundred and twenty Tunner, which was about the end King of Spaine bath open the iles and maine Lands of October 1621. taken by the Turkish Pirats of Argier : and within fine diges after , foure English youths did valiantly our come thirteene of the faid Turkes, where they fold nine of the Turkes for Gallie-flaues : with mention of some other like English

GHAP. VII. The wonderfull recovery of the Exchange of Briflow, from the Turkish Pirats of Argier, published by John Rawlins, bere abbreniated. pag.889.

CHAP. VIII.

Relations of Africa, taken out of George Sandys his larger discourse observed in his lourney, begunne Ann. 1610. Lib.2

d. I. His Voyage from Rhodes to Alexandria, observations there, of Egypt in general, and of Ni-

3. 2. His iourney to Cairo, the shings remarkeable there, and by the way.

3. 2. The Pyramides viewed, Sphynx and other Antiquities. Iourney from Cairo to Ga-

2. 4. Arrivall at Malta, and observations pag.905.

The Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the feuenth Booke of the First part of Purchas his PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I. True Relation of Master Richard Iobsons Voyage, employed by Sir William Saint -Iohn, Knight, and others; for the Discouery of Gambra, in the Sion, a shippe of two hundred tunnes, Admirall; and the Saint Iohn of fiftie, Vice-Admirall. In which they puffed nine bundred and fixtie miles up the River into the Continent. Exracted est of his large Iournall.

A description and historicall declaration of the golden Kingdome of Guinea, otherwise called the golden Coast of Mynn, lying in a part of Africa, shewing their beliefe , opinions, traffiquing, bartering, and manner of beech , together with the feituation of the Countrie, Townes, Cottages, and Houses of the same with their Persons and Properties, Hauens and Rivers, as they are now found out and difconered: all perfectly viewed and curiously discourred, and arritten by one that hath oftentimes beene there. Transaced out of Dutch, conferred also with the Laune Edition, and contracted, H.P.

4. 1. What course the fhips hold which feekaso goe to the Gold Coast of Guinea. Of Cape Verde, and the course from thence.

d. 2. How they marrie each with other, and what goods their Fathers gine with their Children; their House-keeping together; the womans lying in; education of their Children : Their proportions, industry, and conditions.

1. 3. Of their Apparell, Customes within doores, manner of diet, Merchandising, the vie of Dache; Wares carried thisher.

4. 4. What Cushome the Merchants pay to their Kings. Their Measures, Weights, Scales, Markets: Alfo their Sabbath , Fetiffos , and Superstiti-

2. 5. Of their boufes, townes, countrey wayes, warres, armes, fiste of their Kings, judgements, lawes, inflice, thefts , promifes , oathes , and other

d. 6. Of their Summer and Winter; And of their manner of Tilling and Sowing the Land; Their Corne , Rents , Raines ; Beafts and bunting : pag. 926. | Fowles, Trees, and Fruits .

Q. 7. Of their Gentlemen , and bom they are of the first part.

litations, Mournings, Funerals: and of their Gold.

d. 8. The passage from the golden Coast tothe Kingdome of Benni, or Rio de Benni, and Rio Floreado: The Citie, Court, Gentry, Apparell: al/o other places adioyning described.

CHAP. III.

The strange adventures of Andrew Battell of Leigh in Effex, fent by the Portugals prisoner to Angola, who lived there, and in the adionning Regions, neere eighteene yeeres. pag.970.

D. 1. Andrew Battell, his Voyage to the River of Place, who being taken on the Coast of Brafil, was sent to Angola.

d. 2. His trading on the Coaft, offer to escape, imprisonment, exile; escape, and new imprisonment: his fending to Elambo, and Bahia Das Vaccas; Many Grange occurrents.

Q. 3. Discouery of the Gagas ; Their Warres, Man-eating : Onerrunning Countries : His Trade with them, betraying, escape to them, and living with them, with many strange aduentures. And alfo the Rites and manner of life observed by the lagges or Gagas, which no Christian could ever know well but this Author.

d. A. His returne to the Portugals : innafions of diners Countries, abuse, sught from them, and lining in the Woods divers moneths : His strange Boate, and comming to Loango.

$. 5. Of the Province of Engoy, and other Regions of Loango, with the Customes there observed by the King and people.

d. 6. Of the Provinces of Bongo, Calongo, Mayombe, Manikefocke, Motimbas: of the Apemonster Pongo, their hunting, Idolatries, and divers other observations.

0. 7. Of the Zebra and Hippopotamus: The Portugals Warres in the fe parts . The Fifthing Graine, and other things remarkable. pag. 983.

CHAP. IIII.

A report of the Kingdome of Congo, a Region of Affrica, gathered by Philippo Pigafetta, out of the Discourses of Master Edward Lopes 4 Portugall, translated out of Italian into English, by Master Abraham Hartwell, and here abbreuiated. pag 986.

d. 1. The ionrney by Sea from Lisbone to the Kingdome of Congo : Of the Ayre, Winds, Raines, Temperature thereof.

2. of the circuit of the Kingdome of Con-made: Their Dancings, Sports, Diseases, Cures, Vi. | of dimers bordering Nations, and remarkeable rarities therein.

6. 2. Of Angola, the Warres betweene Congo and Angola: their manner of warfare. The prefent Kingdome of Congo bounded. Of Banba, one of the fix Prouinces of Congo, and the Creatures

d. 4. Of the fine other Proninces of Congo, to wit, Sogno, Sundi, Pango, Batta, and Pem-

b. c. Of the situation of the Royall Citie of the Kingdome of Congo: of their first connersion and Warre, thence arising betwixt the Kings two pag.1006.

d. 6. The death of the King Don Alfonso, and the succession of Don Piedro. How the Iland of S. Thomas was first inhabited, and of the Bishoppe that was fent thither : The Kings linage extinct ? Innation of the lagges: Their (auage conditi-

D. 7. Of the Court of the King of Congo. Of the apparell of that people before they became Chriftians and after. Of the Kings Table, and manner of his Court.

d. 8. Of the Countries that are beyond the Kingdomes of Congo, towards the Cape of Good-Hope: of the River Nilus, and of Sofala, Monomotapa, the Amazones, Saint Laurence, and other Æthiopian Countries. pag.1021.

CHAP. V.

The Voyage of Sir Francis Aluarez, a Portugal Prieft, made unto the Court of Prete Ianni, the great Christian Emperour of Ethiopia. pag. 1026.

Q. I. Matthew the Ambaffadour of Prete Ianni, is conducted by the Portugals voto the Hauen of Maczua in the Red Sea, and what hanned to

Q. 2. Of the manner and situation of the Monasteries, and of their boly Rites, Times, Places, and Things : And first of this of Saint Micha-

Q. 3. Of the Husbandry of this Country, and how they preferae themselves from wilde beasts, and of the Renenues of the Monasterie. Their departure. strange Rivers, Mountaines, Apes: Barnagassoes entertainment. Barua. Polygamie, Marriages, Diworces, Baptisme, and Circumcision. Their Branding, and Burying

0. 4. Of the scituation of Barua, the chiefe Towns of the Kingdome of Barnagasso, and of their Houses, and of the wilde Beasts, and Fowles. Of his Dominion and Government; of their two go, and of the borders and confines thereof; As also Winters, Churches, Church-yards, and Priess marri-

the harme which they doe, and how wee made a Procession, and the Locusts died. The incredible hurts done by them. Of Tigremahon, Marabon, and nuch. The rare Buildings and Fillars at Caxupag.1046.

d. 6. Departure from Saint Michael, to a place called Bacinete: Their visiting Tigremahon. of diners Monasteries and other places in the way which they paffed.

4. 7. Departure from Corcora, the pleafant Countrey which wee paffed through, and of another Forrest : bow the Tygres fet upon vs. Dofarlo, the Moores of Dobas : Ancona, Angore; Salt, and Iron money. Other Monasteries and Chur-

6. 8. Of the flately buildings of the Charches which are in the Countries of Abugana, which to the Queene of Adea. Apprehension of the King Lulibella made, and of his Tombe in the Church of Golgota. Angoteraz bis entertaine-

0. 9. Of the exceeding buge Mountaine, whereuponthe Sonne of Prete lanni are kept, where wee were almost stoned to death: The greatnesse, guard, manner of fending , punishments : Of the Pretes

Q. 10. Of the end of the Kingdome of Angote, and of the beginning of the Kingdome of Amara, and of divers Lakes , the Church Machan Celacen; Endowments of Churches : of Abraham. Strange trenches and gates in the entrance to Xoa : and what happened before the Prete called for them.

O. 11. How the Embassadour and wee were called for by the commandement of Prete Ianni, and of the order which wee found, and of the State and Ottaiestie of Prete Ianni. His conference, allowance, remoue. The Embaffalours Audi-

pag. 1070. 4. 12. Of the Questions moved to the Ambassadour , by the appointment of Prete Ianni, at feuerall times by interlocutors, and lastly, in presence wherein many points of their Religion are ope-

3. 13. Of the Progresse of Prete Ianni. Their Wrefling, Baptifme, Maffe paffage: of the dangerous Straits comming to Saint Georges Church.

ages : Their departure to Timei, and qualitie of that | with they received him: Divers Messages : Their pag. 1041. twelfth Bapti me of the Abunas Circumcifion 2. 5. Of theinsinite number of Locusts, and of Orders, Consecration of the Church and Translation of Nahu. Divers Questions and Discour-

d. 15. A Discourse of Peter Couillan : of of Charuma, the Queene of Sheba, and the Eu- the Pretes gifts and prefents, and the Portugals quarrels, and their licence to depart out of the Countrey.

Q. 16. Of the time and day when their Lent beginneth in the Countrey of Prete Ianni; and strange abstinences, and other bodily exercises. with other their holies. Of the Troglodites, and Go-

0. 17. Don Lewis de Meneses Letters : King Emanuels death : Their Rites of mourning , Fatigar and Xoa. Mafudi his many mischiefes and death in battell.

0. 18. Death of Queene Helena. Tributes of Goiame, and other Proninces. Succours ginen two Betuderes and Tigremahon : their fentence, and the excention. Expedition of the Negus to Adea. Strange Oxen. The Pretes Tent-court, and manner thereof; Flaces, Courts, and courses of Iuflice, with other parts thereof described. His Treasu-

2.19. Pilgrimage to Icrusalem. Of the Countries which border on Prester John, Moores, Gentiles, Amazones, Cafates, Damute, Goiame, Bagamidri, Nubia. of Salomons officers.

pag.IIIo. 2. 20. The Frier Ambaffadours Signiories. Their departure and arrivall at Ormuz, & after at Goa; et Lisbon. Eri. fe Notes of Ethiopia. p. 1113.

A Copie of the Letter which Prete lanni writ to Don Diego Lopez de Sequiera, which was delinered to Lopez Vaz of Saint Paul, his facceffor in the gouernment of the Indies.

The Letters of Dauid, the mightie Emperour of Æthiopia, vnto Emanuel King of Portugall, de. Written in the yeere 1521. as alfo to King Iohn and Pope Clement.

CHAP. VI. A Rutter of Don John of Castro, of the Voyage which the Portugals made from India to Zoez, Dedicated to the most Iliustrious Prince, the Infant Don Luis, and bere abbreuiated : fbewing the flate of Socatora, and the parts on both sides the red Sea, as they were aboue eightie yeeres fince, with the Harbors, Ilands, Depths, Shelues, & other things pertaining to Assay other Questions. The Pretes preparations in the Historic of the Sea, Land, and People The original pag. 1081. of which is reported to have beene bought by Sir Wal-2. 14. How the Prete came to the Church of ter Raleigh, at lixtie pounds, and by him cassed to be Machan Celacem, and of the Procession where- | done into English out of the Portugall. pag. 1122.

of the first Part.

pag.1122. to the red Sea, as farre at Mazua. d. 2. Relations of Ethiopia sub Ægypto, and Prester John : of Nilus , and the Abadine Customes and Neighbours. The cause and meanes of the decay of that great Empire never fince recovered. Of Marate and Suaquen.

Q. 3. Mountaines of Sand on the Coasts of Dradate, Doroo, Fuxaa, Arequea, Farate, Quilfit, and Igidid.

Q. 4. A description of the Coast, that is contaimed from the Port of Igidid vnto Comol, Rafelnaxef, Xuarif, Gadenauhi, Xermeelquiman, den. Gualibo, Tuna, Alcocer, and Toro. pag. 1135.

d. S. A Description of the Nooke or Bay beyoud Toro, and how by it is understood the Gulfe Elaniticus. Of Socz, and of thew returne homewards. Of the Badois, and of their customes, and why this See is called Red. CHAP. VII.

A briefe Relation of the Embassage which the Patriarch Don Iohn Bermudez brought from the Emperour of Ethiopia, vulgarly called Presbyter John , to the most Christian and zealous of the Faith of Christ, Don John, the third of this Name, King of Portugall : Dedicated to the most High and Mightie King of Portugall, Don Sebastian of most blessed hope, the first of this Name. In the which bee reciteth alfo the death of Don Chriftopher of Gama : and the successes which happened to the Portugals that went in his Companie. H. d. I. Don John Bermudez elected Patriarch of the Presbyter, and fent to Rome : His returne into Ethiopia: Arrivall at Maczua; the death of | twelve daies fince, H.

d. I. The failing from Goa to Socatora, and in- the Negus, entertainment of him and Christopher of Gama, with the Portugall Forces by the Oncene Regent.

0. 2. Don Christopher and the Portugals Warre on the King of Zeila, and having in two Battels premailed, in the third are onerthrowne. A new Captaine appointed. Don Christophers resolution and death. Mountaine of the lewes. pag. 1152.

Q. 3. Comming of Gradeus the young Negus, his resecting the Patriarch and Pope : their reconciliation and battaile with the Moores, in which Gorania was flaine, and after him the King of A-

4. 4. Disgusts betwirt the Negus, and the Portugals : Arias Diz his trecherie. Battell betwixt the Abaffines and Portugals. Their exile; Arias bis death.

9. 5. The comming of another Patriarch. The Calide killed. Of the Gallas and other Provinces. subject and bordering on the Negus, and rarities there observed. The escape and returne of the Aupag.1165.

CHAP. VIII. Late changes of State and Religion in Ethiopia, with other remarkeable Observations. pag. 1174. d. 1. Relations of John Nunnez (or Nonius) Baretus fent for Patriarch of Ethiopia, and Andrea Oniedo bis Successor.

Q. 2. Description of the Countries, and the feuerall Regions, Religions, and Abaffine Opini-An Armenian his report of Suffinus, the Emperour of the Abaxins, by vs vulgarly called Prefer Iohn, who came from the faid Emperours Court

A 2

The

The Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the eight Booke of the First part of Purchas his PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I. He Historicef the first Expedition to Icrufalem, by Godfrey of Bullen, Robert of veeres. Normandie, and other Christian Princes: written by Robert, whom some call the Englishman, a Monke of Saint Remigius, which was present both at the Councell of Claremont, and in the faid Expedition : translated and abbreuia-

CHAP. II. The Acts of the Pilgrimes in their Expedition to Icrusalem, before and after the taking thereof. extracted out of Fulcherius Carnotenfis, which went thither with Robert, Earle of Normanpag. 1201.

CHAP. III. A Supplement of the Holy Land Storie, gleaned out of the large Historic of William Archbifhop of Tyrus. CHAP. IIII.

The Continuation of the Icrusalem Expedition and other Additions, gathered out of Matthew Paris, chiefty relating the Acts of English Pilgrimes in that Employment.

2. 1. Templers beginning and degeneration. Huge flaughters of Christians. Saladines taking Icrusa-Iem and the Holy Land.

Q. 2. The Emperour and two Kings take the Croffe. King Richard the First bis Expedition, bis Noble Explaits in Sicil, Cyprus, and the Holy Land. His imprisonment : and the great miseries which happened to England, generally by that Expedition.

2. 3. Profecution of the Holy Land warres : English Nobles croffed : Richard Earle of Cornwall his Acts there: William de longa Spata. and other English men. King or Saint Lewis of France his doings and Sufferings : Prince Edward.

CHAP. V. Pilgrimage to Ierusalem, written in very old

English Rime. CHAP. VI.

The Churches Peregrination by this H. Land way, and warre into mysticall Babylon: or a Mysterie of Papall iniquitie renealed , how the Papall Monarchie in and ouer Christendome, was aduanced in that Age and the following, and principally by this Expedition into the H. Land. pag. 1245.

cie, abusing the zeale of Christendome in these warres : and of Satans loofing after one thousands

Q. 2. Of the foure meanes which Popes have to get monies . Of the two first, their Temporalties and Collations of Benefices. pag. 1254.

Q. 3. Of Dispensations. Q. 4. Of Indulgences.

pag.1256. pag. 1261.

Q. s. Superstition advanced in and by the Holy Land Expeditions, and the Christians Christianitie in those parts worse then in other. Diners Sects of Christians in the East. CHAP. OVII.

Monuments of Antiquitie, taken out of ancient Records, to teftifie she quondam commerce betwixt our Kings and their Subjects, and those Ea-Sterne Princes. Pag. 1271.

CHAR. VIII. A Relation of a lourney begun, Anno Dom. 1610. written by Master George Sandys, and here contracted.

o. I. His sourney from Venice to Constantinople, and obsernations by the way. 2. Constantinople described, the Turkes Seraglio, Pera; the Turkish Empire and Gouernment : Some observations of the Turkish Religi-

0. 3. The Muftie , Cadileschiers , Diuans : Manners and attire of the Turkes. The Sultan described, and bis Customes and Court. The Cu-Romes of the Greekes. Sir Tho. Glouer. p. 1293.

2. 4. The Holy Land described, the Countrie, Cities, Inhabitants, holy Places, and memorable rarities of Ierusalem.

d. 5. Visiting of Emaus and Bethlehem, and other places : Alfoother observations of the Ierofolymitan Holies.

Q. 6. His returne. Observations of memorable places by the way. Of Mount, Carmel, Acon, Sidon, Tyrus; of Facardin, Emer of Sidon bis Greatneffe. pag. 1327. CHAP. IX.

Part of a Letter of Master William Biddulph from Aleppo. Part of another Letter of Master William Biddulph, from Ierusalem.

pag.1343.

CHAP. X.

The iourney of Edward Barton Esquire, her ). 1. The Historie of the Normans, and their | Maiesties Ambassadour with the Grand Signior, proceedings. Of Vrban and Boamunds poli- otherwise called the Great Turke, in Constantinople, Sultan Mahumet Chan. Written by Sir | warres against the Turke : his subtile stratagems, Thomas Glouer then Secretarie to the Ambaffadour, and since employed in that Honourable Fun-Bion by his Maieftie, to Sultan Achmet. Two Letters are also inserted, written from Agria, by the (aid Ambastadour Barton.

A Letter written by Master Edward Barton Ambassadour, to Master Sanderson; inscribed Al Molto Mag. Sig. Gio. Sanderson, &c. p. 1358 Part of another Letter written likewise by the faid Ambaffadour from Agria, to Master Sandy the English Confull at Aleppo. Снаг. ХІ.

The Travels and Adventures of Captaine Iohn Smith, in divers parts of the World, begun about oag.1361. the yeere 1596.

on the Sea coafts of Europe, Africa, and Afia: | Breidenbach, Baumgarten, Bellonius, and Chri-His entertainment and exploits in the Emperours Stopher Furer of Haimendorf.

valerous combats, applause, aduancement, bo-

Extracts of Captaine Smiths Transyluanian Acts, out of Fr. Fer. bis florie.

1. 2. Diuers valiant English men in thu battell. Captaine Smith taken , fold , fent into Turkie, and oner the Black Sea to Tartaria. His admirable escape and other trauels in divers parts of Christendome.

CHAP. XII. The death of Sultan Ofman, and the fetting up of Mustafa his Vncle, according to the Relation presented to His Maiestie.

CHÁP. XIII. Mount Sinai, Oreb, and the adiopning parts D. I. His tranels therow France, Italie, and of Arabia, described out of the source lournals of pag.1376.

The Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the ninth Booke of the First part of Purchas his PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I. Briefe Compendium of the Historie of Sir Anthonie Sherleys trauels into Persia: And employed thence Ambassadour to the Christian Princes ; penned by himselfe, and recommended to his brother Sir Robert Sherley, fince that fent on like Ambassage by the King of Per-Q. I. The Causes of his going to Perlia, and firange accidents in the way. d. 2. Of Abas King of Persia, bis Person, vertues, perils, escapes, aduancement, gouernment, and conquests. Q. 2. The Kings triumphant entrie into Casbin, entertainment of the Authour and his companie. Other remarkable observations of the Kines instice, bountie, treatie of warre, and Mustaphas embastage.

2. 4. The Kings condescending to Sir Anthonies motion, employing and furnishing him in Ambassage to Christian Princes. Two Friers. p. 14:4.

CHAP. II. Sir Anthonie Sherley his Voyage over the Caspian Sea and thorow Russia : taken out of W. Parry his discourse of the whole voyage of Sir Anthonie, in which he accompanied him ; published 1601. pag. 1407.

CHAP. III. Two voyages of Master Iohn Newberie, One, into the Holy Land, The other to Balfara, Ormus, Persia, and backe thorow Turkie.

CHAP. IIII. Observations of Master Iohn Cartwright in his voyage from Aleppo to Hispaan, and backe againe: published by himselfe, and here contra-

d. 1. of Euphrates, Orpha, Caraemit, the Curdi, Armenians, Bithlis, Van, and Arra-

¿. 2. Of Araxis, Chiulfal, Sumachia, Derbent, Sechieres, Aras, Tauris, Soltania, Casbin, Argouil, and Gilan.

0. 3. Of Cassan and Hispaan, Of the Perfian King and government. Of Sir Anthonic

Q. 4. The returne of the Authour by the way of Persia, Susiana, Chaldza, Assyria, and Ara-Pag.1434. CHAP. V.

The Peregrination of Beniamin, the Conne of Ionas, a lew, written in Hebrew, translated into Latin by B. Arias Montanus, discouering both the state of the Iewes, and of the World, about foure hundred and fixtie yeeres fince. Q. I. Of the lewes and their Synagogues, Schooles, or Vniversities, and other his observations in Europe.

$. 2. The estate of the lewes, and relations of

¿. 3. of Melopotamia, Molul, Bagdat; the Calipha; the numbers, Synagogues, and Priuiledges of the lewes in it, and the places adioy-

4. 4. Strangereports, if true, of the Aliman Iewes. of Persia, and David Elroi. of the Nisbor Iewes, and some places of India. p.1453

d. 5. Of India, Ethiopia, Egypt, his returne into Europe : Sicilia, Germanie, Prussia, Russia, France. pag. 1458.

CHAP. VI. A Relation of a Voyage to the Easterne India. Observed by Edward Terry, Master of Aris and Student of Christ-Church in Oxford. p. 1464.

Q. 1. Things remarkable observed in bis Voyage to the Indies. Sea fight with the Portugals.

d. 2. Description of the Mogols Empire, and the most remarkable things of Nature and Art

0. 3. Of the people of Indostan, their stature, | dia. colour, habit, dyet, women, language, learning, arts, riding, games, markets, armes, valour, Mahumerane Mesquits, burials, opinions, and rites. of Religion. Asi. pag.1473.

Q. 4. Of the Gentiles Sects, Opinions, Rites; Priests, and other observations of Religion and State in those parts. pag. 1478.

Sultan Achmet Chan, Sonne unto the Sultan Mehemet Chan most inuincible, his Letter to King lames. H. pag.1482.

CHAP. VII.

The travels of Lewis Barthema or Vertoman anto Bgype, Syria, Arabia, Persia, and India, heretofore published in English by R. Eden, and here corrected according to Ramusios Copie, and contracted.

Q. I. His travell thorow the Defart of Medina and Mecha, and their profane holies.

d. z. Two Vnicornes. His paffage by the Red Sea to Aden. Imprisonment and counterfeiting himselfe mad. Escape and visiting other parts of Arabia, Zeila, Cambaia. pag. 1489.

CHAP. VIII.

Collections of Asia, especially of Arabia, gathered out of an Arabike booke of Geographie, written by a Nubian, foure hundred and fenentie veeres agot, and translated into Latin by Gabriel Sionita. and Iohannes Hefronita, Maronites of Mount Libamis, the one Professor, and both Interpreters the World in the higher parts of Asia, Syria, | to the French King, of the Arabike and Syriake pag.1495.

CHAP. IX. Collections of diners Mahumetan Authors in their Arabicke Bookes , by the faid Maronites, Gabriel and Iohn, touching the most remarkeable things in the East, especially of the Molleman superstitions and rites, and the places of chiefe pag. 1499.

CHAP. X. Don Duart de Meneses the Vice-roy, his tractate of the Portugall Indies , containing the Lawes, Customes, Renenues, Expenses, and other matters remarkable therein : here abbreuiated.

Q. I. A Register or Collection of the Vies, Lawes, and Customes of the Canarins, or Inhabitants of this Iland of Goa, and of the Towns thereunto belonging.

d. 2. A Copie of the Order that the Vice-roy of the Estate of India shall hold in matters of Inflice, as also of the other Magistrates, in the pag. 1467. divers places holden by the Portugals in In-

> 2. The Receipt of the Revenues of the State of India : as also the Expences publike there-

> The inclosing of all the Rent of the Estate of In-

A Copie of all the ordinarie expences that are made in the Citie of Goa , at His Maiesties charges.

Officers belonging to Inflice. pag.1524. Officers belonging to the Citie of Goa; her Fortresses and Pases, or Ports. pag.1525. The Galleon of the Trafficke and Voyage of Ceilaon, bath she Officers and Men as follow-

Parishes within the Citie of Goa. pag.1528. Parishes that are in this Iland of Goa. Officers belonging to the H. Inquisition. p.1531. Expences made with the Fortreffes of Sofala, Mosambique, and Sena. Ordinatie expences that are made in the For-treffe of Ormus. pag.1532. CHAP. XI.

A Letter from Don Garcia Silua Figueroa Ambassadour from Philip the third King of Spaine to the Persian ; written at Spahan , or Hispahan , Anno 1619. to the Marque for Bedmar, touching matters of Perfia. pag.1533.

CHAP. XII.

Collections out of the Voyage and Historie of Friar Ioão dos Sanctos his Æthiopia Orientalis. & Varia Historia , and out of other Portugals, for the better knowledge of Africa and the Christianitie therein.

d. I. The Authors Voyage and Acts in thole parts; Sea accidents, Moorish fooleries, English Ships : Of Sofala, the Fort; the Fruits and Plants of those parts.

1. 2. Of Quiteue King of that Countrey, with the strange customes observed in those parts, in Court, Citie, and Coun-

d. 3. Of the River Cuama, and the adiacent Countrey; the Beafts, Fowles, Fishes of those parts : the Hills of Lupata; of the Mongas, Rufumba, Sena, Tete, Massapa, and of the Kingdome of Manamotapa; Alfo of Ophir, and of the Golden Mines of Fu-

Q. 4. Of the Manamopata his customes and of his Vallalls; and of the adjoyning Kingdomes, (wherein other Authours have exred) of Mosambique, Quiloa, Mombaza, Melinde. Magadoxo: of the Mombos and Zimbas, cruelties. Of Quilimane, the Ilands on the Coaft; the Macuas, and other African observad. s. The lesuites gleanings in Africa to

Christian Religion, gathered out of their owne writings. D. 6. Relations of the Christianitie of Africa, and especially of Barbarie, and Algier; written by I. B. Gramaye.

CHAP. XIII.

Larger observations of Master Richard Iobfon , touching the River Gambra, with the pcople, merchandile, and creatures of those parts. then in his Iournall is contayned, gathered out of his larger Notes.

D. I. Of the River Gambra, the raines, and land flouds, the cause and time of their contagion : the Beafts, Fish, and Fowle of the River ; of the Portugals, Mandingos, and Fulbies there

2. 2. Of their Marybucks, and religion: Merchandize; Fidlers, Instruments, Trades, Husbandrie, with a further Historie of the Creatures in tho (e parts. pag. 1572.

CHAP. XIIII.

A Letter contayning the admirable escape and glorious victorie of Nicholas Roberts Master, Tristram Steuens his Mate, and Robert Sucksbich Boat fon of a ship of Douer . 14ken by Algier Pyrates: which three men being carried as flaues by eleuen Turkes in the fame ship, partly killed, and partly sold them all, and returned free and fafe home into Engpag.1577.

CHAP. XV. The Grand Signiors Seraglio: written by Master Robert Withers. d. 1. Description of the place, partitions, and manifold conveniences. ibid.

d. 2. Of the Dinan Dayes, Indges , Session, Indicature, Dyet, Accounts. pag.1583. d. 3. Of Ambassadours entertainment and audience.

Q. 4. Of the perfons which line in the Serraglio: and first of the Women and Virgins, their manner of life there. pag.1586.

D. S. Of the Agiamoglans, how taken, distributed and employed.

$. 6. The choise Agiamoglans, seuere discipline and education in foure Subordinate Schooles, and their after-advancements. p. 1592.

Q. 7. Of inferior persons, as Buffons, Mutes, Musicians; of white Eunuchs, and of the grand Officers of the Serraglio.

d. 8. Of blacke Eunuchs and Black-Moore Girles and Women & Of Phylitians, and of the Kings Children. pag. 1 5973

4. 9. Provisions of Victuals, Cookes, Kitchins, Dyet of the King, Queene, and others, and of their manner of Seruice. pag. 1599. b. 10. Apparell, Bedding, Sickneffe, Hofbitalls. Inheritance; Kings expences, Recreations, receiving Petitions, Stables; Ramazan

Solemnities. d. 11. The old Serraglio, and Womens lives therein: Of their marriages and children, Plane-felling Witnesses. d. 12. Of their religion , opinions , per-Sons, times, places, and rites facred. pag. 1607.

A Letter fent by Sultan Ofman the late murdered Emperour, to His Maiestie, by Hu-

A Letter written by Halil Balhaw, chiefe Vizir and Generall in the Persian Expedition, at his returne, in Aprill, 1618 to Sir Paul Pindar, Ambaffador for His Maieflie.

CHAP. XVI.

Sundrie the personall Voyages performed by Iohn Sanderson of London Merchant, begun in October, 1 584. ended in October, 1602. i. I. His first Voyage to Constantinople, and thence to Cairo, and to Tripoli. ibid.

Q. 2. His second Voyage to Constantinople, with other his Trauels. pag. 1618.
Q. 3. The third Voyage of Master John

Sanderson to Constantinople. pag. 1622.

4. 4. A Discourse of the most notable things of the famous Cirie Constantinople:

both in ancient and late time.

Q. 5. The Pilgrimage of Iohn Sanderson from Constantinople, to the Holy Land, and so to Tripolic in Syria, because the Courteenth day of May, 1601. ended the fourteenth august, with divers Certificates and Letters.

pag. 1629.

CHAP. XVII.

A Report of the Voyage of Master Henrie Timberley from Cairo in Egypt, to Ierusalem, in sifiie dayes, 1601. pag. 1642.

CHAP. XVIII.

Two Letters of Maiter Iohn Nuberic, relating bit third and last Yoyage into the Eastern parts of the World: with three other Letters from Master Eldred, &c. concerning the same affaires; found amongit the Papers of Master William Hareborne, Her Maiestein Master William Hareborne and Constantinople, communicated to mee by Master Iohn Sanderfon.

Letters of Master Iohn Eldred and William Shales. pag. 1644.

In Balfara the two and twentieth of Ianna-ric, 1583. pag. 1645. Commands of the G. S. to the Cadilesquire of gypt. ibid.

To the Beglerbie of Cairo. ibid.

To the Cadilesquire of Egypt. pag. 1646.

CHAP. XIX.

The Voyage of Francois Pyrard de Laual, to the East Indies (an English man being Pilot) and especially his observations of the Maldiues, where being ship-wrasked hee lined since yearer, Translated out of French, and abbresisted.

tea. pag. 1646.

§ 2. Description of the Maldiues, their thirteene Cantons, twelse thouland lles, Seachanges, strange Currents, Monsons, Maine Inlest, black boyling Sea, Heate, Seasons, einilisie, and haire ceremonios spesses.

d. 3. Their Cocos and other fruits and food, their Trades and trading, creatures profitable and hursfull. Of Male the principal! Iland. Their Houses, Candou, Languages, Apparell.

Q. 4. Rites of Meate and Drinke, Bathing, Supersitions observations: Diseases, Education of children. Fishing, Fashions, Luits.

§. 5. Their government described. The Ludges, Officers, Gentrie, Communaltie. The King his Palace, Guard, Nobilitie, Rober, Attire, Astendance, Exercises, Riches; Jaine by the Bengalans.

 6. A larger discourse of their religion, manifold ceremonies and absurd opinions. The Authors departure and returne. pag. 1667.

Th

of the first part.

The Contents of the Chapters and Paragraphs in the tenth Booke of the first part of Purchas his.

PILGRIMS.

CHAP. I.

Riefe Collections of Voyages, chiefly of Spaniards and Portugals, taken out of Antonia Galuanos Book of the Disconcries of the Pag. 1671.

CHAP. II.

The famme of a Letter, of Nicholas Trigautius a lefuire, touching his Voyage to India; and of the flate of Conflictantie in China and Iapan. A Letter also of Captaine R. Cocke, and Relations of Mafter Roberts wracke on the Coast of China in the Vnicorne.

Extracts out of Trigautius bis Martyrologe, or fue Bookes of Christian Triumphs among the Iaponians, beforementioned.

A Letter concerning later Occurrents in Iapon

A note of the Vnicornes company in China.

A note of the Vnicornes company in China.

A note of the Vnicornes company in China.

CHAP. III.

Letter touching Iapon with the Gouernment, Affaires and later Occurrents there; written to mee by Masser Arthur Hatch Minister, lately returned themee. pag. 1606.

CHAP. IIII.

Extracts of Master Casar Frederike his eighteeneyeeres Indian Observations. pag.1702.

CHAP. V.

Gasparo Balbi his Voyage to Pegu, and observations there, gathered out of his owne Italian Rela-

CHAP. VI.

The Fogage of Matter Ralph Flitch, is Merchant of London to Ormus, and fo to Gozinthe East India, to Cambaia, Ganges, Bengala; to Bacola, and Chonderi, to Pegu, to Iamahay in the Kingdome of Sian, and backet to Pegu, and from theme to Malacca, Zeilan, Cochin, and all the Cooft of the East India: begun in the yeere of our Lord 1, 53.

makended 1991.

GHAP. VII.
Indian Objernations gathered out of the Letters of Nicholas Pimenta, Visiter of the Ieluites in India, and of many others of that Societie, written from duers Indian Regions; principally relating the Countries and accidents of the Coast of Coromanidel, and of Pegu. pag. 1744.

CHAP. VIII.

Iohn Huighen van Linschoten bis Voyage to Goa, and observations of the East Indies, abbreuiated. Of the Towne and Iland of Goa, shiefe Citie of

pag. 1751.

CHAP. IX.

Relation of Ormuz, and of the late taking thereof by the English and Persians.

pag. 1785:

h. I. A Relation of the Kings of Ormuz, and of the foundation of the Citie of Ormuz, taken out of a Chronicle which a King of the same Kingdome composed, silled Pacaturunxa, written in Arabicke. H. ibid?

d. 2. Relation of Ormuz businesse by Master W. Pinder. pag. 1787.

§ 3. Part of a Letter written to Sir John Woflenholme by T. Wilson Chyrurgion; containing many particulars of the Ormus warre, and easile thereof; at also of the most most admirable taking of agreat Portugall Ship well manned, by a smill English kinness.

8. 4. Relation of the late Ormuz but reffe, gathered out of the lowrad of Maiter Edward Monoxethe Agent of the East Indian Merchants trading in Perlia. pag. 1702.

A Certificate from the Portugals, of their kind Vsage, wherein was performed more then was promifed them. p. 1803.

The Vice-Admirall-his fecond Letter. ibid. A certificate made by fundric Portugals, but the Treasure, twelst or belonging to the King and his Vizeer of Ormus, which were fecretly conaged out of the Cafile of Ormus by the Perfans.

A Better written from Ruy Frera Dandrada, and fent aboord the Ionas, by one of his Captaines, named Alfonfo Borgea, at our first arrivall neare the Castle of Keshme.

Another Cretificate of the kinds of large of the Another Certificate of the kinde vsage of the Portugals.

A third Certificate.

ibid.

CHAP. X.

A briefe memorial of the trauels of the Right benorable

The Contents of the tenth Booke

honorable Sir Robert Sherley Knight, Count and other parts of the East. Knight of the Sacred Empire, now Ambassadour from the Perlian King to His Maiestie and other Christian Kings.

CHAP. XI. The Epitaphs on the Tombe of Iacob Almanfor the Saracenicall Emperour, under whofe reigne Spaine was subdued to the Moores, written by Mahomet Algazeli a learned Arabian, and grauen in the foure flones of his sumptuous Monupag. 1809.

CHAP. XII. Master Thomas Corvates Trauels to, and Obsernations in Constantinople, and other places in the way thither, and his lourney thence to Aleppo, Damasco and Ierusalem. pag. 1811.

Mafier Corvates Oration. Purus, putus Coriatus, Quinteffence of Coryat. pag.1817. Master Coryats Constantinopolitan Obseruations abridged. pag.1820. CHAP. XIII.

Relations of the Trauels of W. Lithgow Scot in Candie, Greece, the Holy Land, Egypt, and 1624.

pag.1831. CHAP. XIIII. Later Intelligence out of Turkie, touching the resignation of Mustapha, and the advancing of Amurath a yonger brother of the lately murthered Ofman; with other later occurrents. p. 1848.

CHAP. XV. Briefe Extracts of a Iournall of Arnold Brown his Indian Voyage, Tayling diners times and courses in fine yeeres face to Bantam, Patanie, Iapana the Manillas, Macau, and the coast of China, withother Indian Ports. pag. 1851.

CHAP. XVI. The Dutch late proceedings at Amboyna in cruell torturing and executing of diners English men; with other their like Acts to the Natiues in Banda; published lately by the English-East-Indian Societie ; here much abbreuiated: p.1853. CHAP. XVII.

A true Description of the Bay Todos los Santos in Brasil, and taking the Towne Saluador by the Admirall Master Iacob Wilkins, Pag. 1859.

Maps and Peeces cut in Brasse or VVood in the former ten Bookes.

| R Neas his navigation. p. 71.  | Germanie 1  | 0.1244  |
|--|---|---|
| Africa. p.768 Alexanders expedition. p.85  | Guinea  | p.1558  |
| Alexanders expedition. p.85  | Hungarie  | p.1355  |
| Alphabets and hieroglyphicals cut  | Faponian Charter  | •   |
| in many pieces , Lib.i. cap.17.  | Man of lanan .  | P•357   |
| Map of Asia p. 1188  | Italie .  | P.413   |
| Asia minor p. 1192   | 11 A 11 1 C 1   | p. 1235   |
| Barbary, Egypt, and Cartbage 817   | Great Missel day 19   | 1,592   |
| Candie and Mediter Hands 184   | Kingdom of Man  |   |
| Candie and Mediter. Ilands 1384  | Kingdome of Ivtorocco   | 9.7 6 8  |
| Ceilan Insula p.712Cyprus p.1221   | Ring of Wloyelas Letter   | P-337   |
| Life and Columns of Columns  | S. Pauls Percgrination  | P.57  |
| Historicall Columne at Constanti-  | l'aradise   | .1436   |
| nople p.1285   | Israelites Peregrination in th  | e De=   |
| East Indian writing & Seales 343,  | farts Da4   | 40  |
|  | P. 24   | , 1570  |
| East Indian writing & seales 343,  | 1 01 1111   | 51370D-732  |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East In-  | Roman Empire  | P•732   |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East In-  | Roman Empire  | P·732P· 74   |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India. p.579 Flands of the East Indies p.700   | Roman Empire Sicilia P Spaine P   | P·732P·74V·1220   |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India. p.579 Flands of the East Indies p.700   | Roman Empire Sicilia. P Spaine. P   | P·732P·74P·1220P·1231   |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  P.579  Flands of the East Indies p.700  Hondius his Map of East In-  | Roman Empire Sicilia p Spaine p Terra Santia p  | P.732P.74D.1220P.1231   |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  P.579  Flands of the East Indies p.700  Hondius his Map of East India.  P.732  | Roman Empire Sicilia P Spaine P Terra Santta P Tranfyluania p   | P·732P·74D·1220p.1231J·1204D·1363   |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  Figure 1.579  Flands of the East Indies p.700  Hondius his Map of East India.  From p.732  Egypt p.831   | Roman Empire Sicilia P Spaine P Terra Santla P Tranfyluania P Great Turkes Seale and  | P·732P·74D·1220p·1231J·1204D·1363Pa-                                    |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  P.579 Flands of the East Indies p.700 Hondius his Map of East India.  P.732 Egypt p.831 Egyptian. Pyramides and Colos-   | Roman Empire Sicilia P Spaine P Terra Santla P Transyluania F Great Turkes Seale and tent   | P·732P·74D·1220p·1231·1204D·1363Pa-                                     |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  P.579  Flands of the East Indies p.700  Hondius his Map of East India.  P.732  Egypt p.831  Egyptian. Pyramides and Coloffus p.908, 900  | Roman Empire Sicilia P Spaine P Terra Sancta P Transyluania F Great Turkes Seale and tent Turkilly Empire   | P.732P.74D.1220P.1231J.1204D.1363Pa-D.344J.1288                 |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  P.579 Flands of the East Indies p.700 Hondius his Map of East India.  P.732 Egypt p.831 Egyptian. Pyramides and Coloffus p.908,909 Egyptian Hieroglyphicks p.911                                     | Roman Empire Roman Empire Sicilia P Spaine P Terra Sancta P Transyluania F Great Turkes Seale and tent Turkish Empire P Turkish Woman pictur.                             | P-732P-74D-1220p-1231-1204D-1363Pa-D-344-1288J-1298         |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  P.579 Flands of the East Indies p.700 Hondius his Map of East India.  P.732 Egypt p.831 Egyptian. Pyramides and Coloffus p.908,909 Egyptian Hieroglyphicks p.911                                     | Roman Empire Sicilia P Spaine P Transanta P Translyluania P Great Turkes Seale and tent Turkish Empire P Turkish Empire P Turkish Woman pictur. P Map of the World        | P.732P.74P.1220p.1231.1204p.1363ParP.344.1288.1298p. 65 |
| Sir Tho. Roes Map of East India.  Fig. 79  Flands of the East Indies P.700  Hondius his Map of East India.  From P.732 Egypt Egyptian. Pyramides and Coloffus From P.908, 909 Egyptian Hieroglyphicks Europe The Kingdome of Fez P.781 | Roman Empire Sicilia. P Spaine. P Terra Sancta. P Transyluania. F Great Turkes Seale. and tent Turkish Empire P Turkish Woman pictur. P. Map of the World Christian World | P-732P-74D-1220p-1231-1204D-1363Pa-D-344-1288J-1298         |

A Table of the other Cuts and Maps you shall finde after the Contents of the second Part,

THE VOYAGES AND PEREGRINATIONS MADE BY ANTIENT KINGS

PATRIARKES, APOSTLES, PHILOSO-

PHERS, AND OTHERS, TO AND

THOROW THE REMOTER PARTS of the knowne World:

Enquiries also of Languages and Religions, especially of the moderne diversified Professions of Christianitis.

THE FIRST BOOKE.

Снар. І.

A large Treatise of King SALOMONS Nauie sens from Eziongeber to Ophir: Wherein, besides the Typicall Mysteries briesty onuailed, and many Morall Speculations observed; the voyage is largely discussed out of Dinine, Ecclesiasticall and Humane Tellimonies: Intended as an historicall Presace to she Histories following.

Ntending to present the World to the World in the most certaine view, I thought a world of Authors stitler for that purpose, then any One Author writing of the World: whose discourse might haply become even, facile, methodicall, and contracted to a more compendious forme; but could not anotat be disspending (if may so peake) in the matter, and to suspending the Readers sudgement for the authoritie. Oculatus tellis vaus practical auritis decem. I had Plant rather bearethe means of Vlytse his followers relating his wanderings, then wander from the certaintie with tho-

Office my Pilgrimage of the former Nature, for Juck is better like that courfe) in open. Theatre prefented a Shew of Discouries on an English Stage, whorein the World is both the Spectacle and Spectator; the Actors are the Authors themsclines, each present

Terent.

ting his owne actions and passions in that kind, kindly (in generous and genuine History) acting their acts; not affectedly straining, or scenic-all-ly playing their part; the Arts indeed of the Poet, Maker, or Composer, aiming at delight more then truth (Populo vt placerent, quas fecifiet Fabulas) feeking to please the vulgar with fabulous wonders, and wonder-feole fables.

Andfor a Prologue, behold Salomons Ophitian Nauigation, that Worthy of Men, being most worthy to bee Our Choragus, whose syme is in this long Worke to fetch from Ophir Materialls for the Temples structure, and to edifie Christs Church, with more full and enident knowledge of Gods Workes in the World , both of Creati- 10 on and Providence, then any one Naturall or Humane Historian, yea (ablit inuidia verbo) then all hitherto in this (perhaps in any) course have done. I compare not with Aristotle, Plinic, and others in philosophicall and learned speculation of Reason, but in eudent demonstration of Sense, and herein (not to vs Lord, not to vs, but to thy Name be given the glory) it exceedesh not modesty to speake thus much in behalfe of this cloud of witnesses which we bring, testifying what they have feen, that these exceed the former in certainty ( relating what they have feene) and in fulneffe (by advantage of New Worlds found in, and be fides the World knowne to them) no leffe then they are exceeded in Antiquitie and learning.

Pres. 10.1.

Gen : 4.2.

For mee, I say with Agur, surely I am more foolish then any man, and have not the understanding of a man in mee; Alas Master (I may proclaime to each Reader) all is borrowed : I neuer translied out of this Kingdome (ingenuously I confesse, it is the totall Summe of all my Trauell readings ) the Centre of the Worlds good things, and Heart of her happinelle; and yet ( yea thereby ) have, as thou feelt, conceived ( where Dinahs gadding gained onely loffe ) and travelled of a Gad, a Troup of Travellers; So faid Leah, A troup commeth, and shee called his name Gad. And seeing we have stumbled on that Word,

A CONTRACTOR OF THE PROPERTY O

let it be ominous, so others read it Fæliciter, Bagad, being by the Hebrewes resolved into *See M Sellen * Ba Mazal tob, that is, Good fortune commeth. I am not Leah, I take no such authority 30 Sprig. I.De D. on mee, bus when shee hath lest bearing ( when bester leisures , quicker wits , sounder health, profounder learning, and all abler meanes looke on) let not Iacobs Bed, for the propagation and edification of the Church, be enused to Zilpah, Leahs mayd; And let this my Service in conceiving and nursing up this Gad be accepted of all Iacobs Friends. And that it might bee accepted, I have begun (Dimidium fasti qui bene cepit habet) with the most acceptable Voyages mentioned in the Old and New Testaments; the one a Type of the other; those of Solomon to Ophir, and of the Aposiles about the World. Salomon was first in time, and shall bee first bere; the first in all things which vsually are accounted first, Royaltie, Sanctitie, Wisdome, Wealth, Magnificence, Munificence, 49 Polisie, Exploits, Renowme: Salomon in all his glory, is prouerbialt, and He first in these by the first and greatest of testimonies; the particulars of Salomons voyage are recorded in the first, best, and more then humane Histories ; Yeathe things recorded, are first indeed, before other things, yea before and greater then themselves, and that which the First and Last hath faid, is true of them all in typicall relation, A greater then Salomon is here. Les Salomon shen, as elsewhere, fo bere also have the preeminence; les Salomons name as the Character of peace and happinejje, boad holy, happy, and peaceable Successe to this Work; and let Thy Name, O thou Greater then Salomon, grant protection, assistance, of some part of Salomons wisdome and prosperity to our Ophician voiage, that we may buy of thee Gold tried in the fire to make vs rich in grace, fo toprepare vs to Aprezi 10,11, that holy lerufalem, descending out of Heauen from God, having the Glory of God; a Citie of pure Gold like vnto cleere glaffe, where the Lord God Almighty and the Lambeare the Temple, and the Glory of God doth! ghten it, and the Lambe is the light thereof. Bethou, O Christ, inthis our Nauigation both Load starre and Sunne, for direction of our course, and knowledge of our true height and latitude: Let our Sayles hoiled up in thy Name, be filled with inspiration of thy Spirit, and aspiration of thy fauour, still they arrive in the Fair-hauens of humane Plessure and Profit, thy Churches service and 60 edifying, Divine acceptance and glory. Amen, O Amen.

O S. lomon the holy Scriptures 1 are thus recorded, 1. Kings 9.26,27,28 And King Solomon mate a Name of Ships in Fzion Geber, which is beside Eloch, on the strate of the Red Sea in the Land of Elona. A d Hisam fent mabe N in cous fermants, Shipmen that had knowledge of the Sea with the fermants of Solomon. And they came to Ophir and fet from thence Gold 420, Talents, and brought n to King Solomon. And Cap. 10. 11. The Name alfo of Hiram , that brought Gold from Oppin brought in from Ophic great plenty of Almug trees and precious Sones ; 12. And the King made of the Almus trees, Pillars for the boule of the Lord of for the Kings Houle. Harss also and Plateries for Singers : there came no such Almng Trees, nor were seene vinto this day. 17. Now the weight of Gold that came to Solomon in one yeere was 666. Talents of Gold. Ty. Befides that be had of the Merchant-men, and of the trafficke of the Spice-Merchants, and of all the Kings of Arabia, and of the Gonernours of the Countrey V. 21. And all King Solomons drinking Vessells were of Gold, and all the Vessells of the House f the Forrest of Lebanon were of pure Gold : none were of Silver , it was nothing accounted of in the 10 dayes of Solomon. For the Kings Ships (the cause is added, 2. Chro. 9.21.) mens to Tarshill with the fernants of Hiram : every three yeeres once toame the Ships of Tarshish , bringing Gold and Silver; Inory, and Apes, and Peacockes. 22. And King Solomon paffed all the Kings of the Earth in Riches and Wisdome. 26. And hee reigned over all the Kings, from the Riner, even unto the Land of the Philiftines, and to the border of Egypt. 27. And the King made Silver in Ierufalem as Stones, and Cedar ::: Trees made bee as the Sycomore Trees, that are in the Low Plaines in abundance.

ò. I.

The Allegoricall and Anagogical fense or application of Solomon Ophirian Nanigation.

His is an extract of Solemons Story, fo much as concernes our prefent purpose, the authoritie whereof is Sacred, a Dinine, infallible, inuiolable, and vindenyable veritie; the fitter ground for many high and worthy confequences hereafter to be delivered. I shall here leaue to the Divinitie Schooles, in more leisurely contemplation to behold the Allegorical fense (shall I fay, or application !) wherein Solomon Gemes to fignific Christ, his Whitak.deferig. Nauy the Church, (long before lively represented in that first of Ships, the Ark of Noah) which in 9.5. the Sea of this variable World feekes for the golden Treasures of Wildome and Knowledge, with Hicron. Ep. 84. (that plentifull riches) the rich plentie of good Workes. The Servants of Hiram, the Doctors auxilide doc. 30 cholen out of the Gentiles, with the learned Christian Iewes ( the fernants of Solomon ) imployed Christia. 4.40.

ioyntly in this Ophirian Difcouery, thence bring the rich materialls (as the Ifractites the Agyp- Bajilbom.14 de tion poyles for the Tabernacle, fo these ) for building and adorning the Temple ( the true sense of legend lib. Gen-Scripture ) after long absence by a troublesome Naugation ( in the search of Authors Dinine, Ec- in originals) clesiasticall and Humane, an Ocean of toyle) from their homes. For the naturall man, that abides 1,60,214. at home in himselfe, and hath not travelled from his owne Wisdome and Selfe-conceit, knowes not 1.7.3.16.

the things of God, nor the great Mysteries of Godlinesse; he must leave the Land, his Earthly Weldome (Terrag, urbefg, recedant) and lanch into the deepe, there having his tayles filled with the winde, the illumination of that Spirit, which leads into all truth; the Scriptures being their Card, the faithful heart the Load-stone, Christ himselfe the Load-starre and Sunne of Truth, as before is intimated. 40 Thus shall the Temple, and Church of Godbe edified, enriched, adorned, after wee haue arrived at Ophir, and have leene our owne weakneffe, and taken paines in myning Gods Treafures, and vndermining our owne hearts, fearthing and trying our owne and Gods wayes; casting off, and purging from vs all superfluous Earth, and detaining the Gold and richer Mettall, which wee may earry and present, as the Talents gained by our Talents, in the best improvement of Gods graces, when wee shall returne to our Solomon , the Judge of quicke and dead, after our Nauigation and earthly Piletimage ended. But alas how many make Ibipuracke of Faub by the way, and either are split on the Ruckes of enormous crying Sinnes, or finke in the smaller innumerable fands of habituall Lufts, covered with the shallowes (meere shadowes) of civill Righteoushesse. Or if you had rather adioone to the Allegory, the Anagogicall fente and vie; this History 50 will appeare also a Mystery and Type of Eternitie. Euery Christian man is a thip, a weake velfell, in this Nauie of Solomon, and dwelling in a mortall body, is within leffe then foure inches, then one inch of death. From Ierusalem the Word and Law of our Solomon first proceeded, by preaching of Solomons and Hirams lequatits, the Pattors and Elect veffells to carry his Name, gathered out of lewes and Gentules, which guide thefe Ships through a ftormy Sea, beginning at the Red Sea, Christs bloudy Crosse, which yeelded Water and Bloud, till they arrive at Opbir, the communion of Saints in the holy Catholike Church. Thisher by the water of Baptisme first, and by the waters of Repentance, drawn out of our hearts and eyes in manifold Morrifications after; (the feare of God beginning this Wisdome, the windy lutts of concupifcence, and vnftable waves of the world in vaine affailing ) they attaine in the certaintie of Faith and affurance : where feeking Col .:

60 for Knowledge as for Silner, and scarching for her as for hidden Treasures, they doe as it were labour in the Mynes for Gold, which they further purifie by experimentall practife and studie of good Workes: yet not in fuch perfection, but that to this foundation, Gold, Silver, precious Stones, 1.603.12. some Almug trees are added for the Temples Pillars, oftentimes also of our owne, Hay and Sinbble, as worle and more combustible matter toyned; the luory, being a dead Bone may ferue for a ler. 52.

Вз

Ap. 21.24,

1.Reg. 10.8. ADDC-21.13.

#par.3.12 & 6.15.11.

Pf.16.

A9. 21. 22. £.3.1.15.

fecular Throne and worldly vie; but here death is dead; the Aper and Peacocker lively expresse Hypocrificand worldly pompe, which in the best of Soints viually leane some mother in their voyage for Heaven. In the returne to Solomon, thefe hall be burnt (as those were by Nebuzaradan ) but be him falfe ball bee faned ; and the former admitted by that Prince of Peace, the Heavenly Solomon to the building of that Temple in the new Ierufalem , for charitie neuer falleth away. This is that holy Citie figured by that of Palestina, where all is brought to Selomon, that God may breall in all, as the Alpha which fet them forth, fo the Omega, who hath made all things for himselfe, for whose will and glories sake, all things are and were created : And the Kings of the Earth bring their glory and honour vnto this Citie. Not that hee needs any thing, but that wee need the same, who in feeing bins ac bee is, doe all partake of his glory. Happy are thy men (may more truly be faid of this Solamons feruants happy are thefe thy feruants which may fland in thy presence and heare thy wisdome: which may enjoy eremitie, signified by Gold, which alone of mettalls neither fire, nor ruft, nor age confinmeth ( and this Citie is pure Gold) and that Inheritance of the Saints in light, figured by Silver, the most lightsome and delightsome of mettalls to the eye. As for precious Stones, the foundations of the Wall of the Citie are garnifhed with all manner of them. And touching the Almuggim Trees, whereof Solomon made Pillars for the Temple and Pialteries, euery Tree which here beareth good fruit, and euery one that ouercommeth, will this Solomon there make a Pillar in the Temple of bis God, and hee fball goe no more onta And they fall ferue him Day and Night in his Temple, and bee that fitteth on the Throneshall dwell among them. Their have alto the Harps of God, And they fing the Song of Moses, and the Song of the Lamb, nay these are the Psalteries and Harpes, which filled with all fulnesse of God, alway refound praises & thanks vnto the King of Saints, and with entriasting harmony in that Angellical Quire, are tuned with Allelwiah, and To Dewm, and Holy, boly, boly, in fulneffe of ioy at his right hand, and pleatures for euermore. Thus in divers respects are they both the Citie, and Temple. and Kings and Priefts, and Instruments, and all there, and none of these : For I fam no Temple therein, faith that Seer, for the Lord God Almightie, and the Lambe are the Temple of it. Even God bimselfe shall bee with them, and God shall bee all in all : and as hee is incomprehensible, so Eye bath not feene, nor eare bath beard, nor can the beart of man conceine what God hath prepared for them that lone him : Cali calorum Domino, terram dedit Filige Hominem. And vnmeet is it for me to attempt

Not so the Tropologie of Morall vse, not so the History, for our learning wherein the same is 30 written. And although the History in Nature should precede, yet because wee intend the Tropological lenfe or application of this History, as a kind of Preface or preamble to the many Hiftories ensuing, wee have here given it the first place.

The Tropologicali vse of the Story; and of the lawfulnesse of Disconeries and Negotiation by Sea.

Erein therefore Solomon may become a wife guide voto vs , and first by his example teach ve the la wfulneffe of Natigation to remote Regions. His particular Dominion is Palestina, his subject Provinces added, extend not beyond Egyps and the River Enphrases, as is before delivered. But God which had enlarged Solomons heart with Wifdome, did not enlarge it to iniuftice by an overlarge confeience : and hee which renounced the price of a Dog and aWhore in his offerings, would not permit the Temple, which santifieth the offerings, to beebuilt and adorned with robbery and spoyle. It remaines then that Solomon had a right, not extraordinary as the Ifraelites to spoyle the Egyptians, by Dinine especiall Precept; but fuch a right wherein Hiram was interested also. The Ebrewes might both at Gods command, who queft, 3, in Ex- is Lord of all, and in Equitie demand wages of the Egyptians for lo long and tedious feruice; which so had not Divine Precept and power interposed, the same tyranny which had imposed the one, would have denied the other. But what had the Ophirians wronged Solamon, of whom and whose Countrey they had not heard, that thus by a numerous and itrong Fleet hee should enter on their Coasts : We must not thinke godly Solomon to be Alexanders predecessions, whom the Poet calls Terrarum fasale malum & fidus iniquum Gensibue: whom the Pirat accused as the greater, finding no other difference betwixt them, but a smal Ship and a great Fleet. Remota institia, quid funt regna faith Augustine, nist magna latrocinia, quia & ipsa latrocinia quid sunt, nist parua regna? And before him Cyprian, "Homicidium cum admittunt funguls, crimen est, virtus vocasus edin publice veritur. Im-punitatem acquirit seuitse magnitude. Surely Solomons tight was hisbeing a Man, which as a wise & a mightie King of Men, hee might the better exercise and execute. For howsoener God hath giuen to enery man & to enery Nation, a kind of proprietie in their peculiar polleffions; yet there is an universall tenure in the Vniverse, by the Lawes of God and Nature, still remaining to each man as hee is a Man, and xaquemaine, as the common or Royall right of the King or State is neither confounded nor taken away by the prinate proprietie of the Subject.

Philo de vita Mol.Lt. Aug. ministerium prabuerunt. Tho. 1.2 q. 104.

* Aug.de Ciu. CIP Er.ad A4.17. 26.

CHAP. I.S. 2. Merchandifing & Sea trade proved by Gods Law, Nature, Nations,

True it is that God, which bath made of one blond all Nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times appointed, hath also determined the bounds of their babitation. But not fo straitly of Negotiation. In Habitation proprietie is requifite, that every man may fit under his own: Uine, and under his owne Fig. tree, and drunke the waters out of his owne Cisterne and running waters out of his owne Well, and that they bee onely his owne, and not the strangers with him. But Prou. 5.15,17. hee that hath made all Nations of one bloud, would ftill they should bee as fellow members one of another; (a shadow of which was in the Law, permitting to eat in the neighbours Vineyard, Dist. 23. but not to carry forth; ) and that there should still remaine mutuall Necessitie, the Mother of mutuall Commerce, that one should not bee bungry, and another drunken, but the superfluitie of one To Countrey, should supply the necessities of another, in exchange for such things, which are here also necessary, and there abound; that thus the whole World might bee as one Body of mankind, the Vag. Nations as so many members, the superabundance in each, concocted, distributed, retained or expelled by merchandifing (as by the Naturall bodily Offices and Faculties in nourifhment) whereby not without mutuall gaine One may releeue others Wants. Non omnia poffirmus omnes 4 may bee faid of Arts; Nec vero terra forre omnes omnia possunt, may bee added of Regions, each E7.27. 23. Countrey having her owne, both Artificiall and Naturall Commodities, whereby to much themfelues with enriching of others. Thus in old times, Tirm chief Scaple of the worlds Merchandile, and confequently chiefe Store-houle of the worlds Treasures; ( fee the same elegantly & particu-Lirly discipliered by the holy Ghost ) as it received from all parts, so when her wares went forth #5.27.33;

20 out of the Seas, thee filled many people, and did enrich the Kings of the Earth, with the multitude of her riches and merchandise. And because no one National Law could prescribe in that wherin all are interessed. God himself is the Law giver, and hath written by the stile of Nature this Law in the hearts of men, called in regard of the efficient, the Law of Nature, in respect of the object, the Law of Nations, whereto all Men, Nations, Commonwealths, Kingdomes and Kings are fubicet. And as he hath written this

Equity in mans heart by Nature, so hath he therfore encompassed the Earth with the Sea, adding to many inlets, bayes, hauens and other naturall inducements and opportunities to inuite men to this mutuall commerce. Therefore hath he also diversified the Windes , which in their shifting quarrels conspire to humaine trafficke. Therefore bath hee divided the Earth with fo many 30 Rivers, and made the shoares conspicuous by Capes and promontories; yea, hath admitted the Sunne and Sarres in their direction and affiftance voto this Generall Councell, wherein Nature Vag. en. within vs and without vs, by euerlasting Canons hath decreed Communitie of Trade the world Suntauton of thorow. And thus hath she taught them who had no other instructor, with dislike and disdaine uata nulla nato admire at luch immanity & inhumanity, Qued genus bec hominum, quene bune sam barbara was - tura. Cic. rem, Permittit patria? hospitio prohibemur arena! yea whereas by Nature the Earth was common

Mother, and in equall community to be enjoyed of all hers. Nam proprie telluris herum Natura nec illu

Nec me , nec quenquam statut : and howsoever this case is since altered in this element, left the idle should fine on the sweate of others browes : yet the other and nobler elements 40 fill remaine in greatest part in their original communitie, and cannot so fully bee appropria- Anienus. ted to privare possession, since the supposed Golden age is vanished, and this Iron (or golden in another sence) hath succeeded. Yea, then also the house, wife, children, and such things as are Omnia resum wasted or growne worse in the vie, as meate, drinke, apparell, were appropriate and private chat- "fur pastu erant tels to the possesser, how some rthings immoueable continued the freehold of every man in the common tenure of common humanity, as still in the life of Brafilians and other Sauages in the following relations is to be feene. By humaine conf and dinine difpensation the Earth was dinided among the Sonnes of Nonha

Communemque prius cen lumina solis & aura. Caut su bumum longo signanit limite meffor.

Thus some things became publike, that is, proper to the Kingdome, State, or Nation: other Ov. Met. 16: 50 things private, as each mans possession, and that also in differing degrees, as the Commons, and Champaine Countries with vs in their differing tenure from grounds incloied, doe manifeltly enough argue. But fince that divition of Languages and Lands; the Poet still proclaimes Natures right, Quid probibetis aquas? v sus communis aquarum est. Nec folem proprium Naturanec Aera fecit, Nectenues undas. In publica munera veni. and another: -Cunctis undamque auramque patentem.

These fo farre as they have not by possession of other men before, or otherwise by their own Virg. 2n. 1. Nature cannot be appropriated, are Natures Commons, which both Free-holders as Men, and 60 Coppie-holders, as other living creatures, Bealts, Fishes, Fowles, and creeping things according to their feuerall kinds do communicate in lf any quarrell this poeticall Proofe; I antwere that they were Natures Secretaries in the cases of Reason, and the Common Law of Humanitie, which basing not the Law, were a Law to themselses, and in like cases therefore produced as good evidence Rom. 1.

and exchange of richer treasures for their temporall. Hie which brought the Northerne people being then Pagans, into the Roman Empire, to make them Lords of it and Subjects to him, can of Merchants allured with Gold, make, or at least fend with them. Preachers of his Sonne, And if the Denill hath fent the Moores with damnable Mahametisme in their merchandizing quite thorow the East, to peruert io many Nations with thraldome of their flates and persons, out of the frying panne of Paguin Rites, into the fire of Mahumetrie : Shall not God be good to I frael, and gracious to the ends of the earth, to long fince 20 gigen in inheritance to his Sonne?

ð. III.

The Tropologicall or Morall vicenlarged and amplified; and a view taken of Mans diversified Dominion in Microcosmicall, Cosmopoliticall. and that (piritual or heavenly right, over himselfe and all things, which the Christian bath in and by Christ.

Enerall Rules have exceptions. Salomon was just and wife, well knowing the difference of Exion-Geber and Ophir, and that difference of Dominion which God (that made Man after his Image) hath given vs over the Creatures, divertified both in the Subject and obiect. E Calo descende wall grade gradrer , was written in Adam by Creation, in Salemon by Reuelation, before Nature fuggetted that fentence to Chilo, or the Delphian Deuill (the Ape of Divinitie) had caused it to be written in Golden Letters on the Frontispice ot that Temple. To know a mans felfe aright is annexed to the knowledge of God (m whom wee line, moone, and are, of whom and for whom are all things) not his effence, but his expressed Image thereof in his workes, of which, Man is in this World the principall; what hee hath received, what he hath loft, what he retaineth by Nature, and what he recouereth, and more then recouereth by grace, in and of that duine refemblance. In the first state all men had a naturall right in Man in his fall common over the creatures. But the Deuill (the greatest Incloser) by sinne inclosed these Commons of Humanitie, and altered their tenure from Fee Simple, to meere Villenage : yet io (God in iustice remembring mercie) that some ruines remaine since the fall, not only in the faculties and substance of bodie and toule, but in the personall rights also over torpid, vegetative, and all vnreafonable creatures, continued to him by that Charter of Reason, which in so well ordered furniture, and fo well furnished order as the name xoques and mundus import, could not but have beene 50 confounded, if both the immortall and spirituall part in himselfe, should not have exercised dominion as some kind over the mortall and bodily; and if in the greater World, the reasonable should not have disposed of the vnreasonable. As for the conformitie of mans will and actions to God and right, wing of that right ouer the creature, to the fole glory of the Creator (to whom man is i boildinate, as the creature to him) this was by the cracke of our earthen Vessell in Mans Fall loft, and as a more subtile and spiritual liquor, ranne out. Yet still remaine in this desupernaturall, nwarall gifes. Suberna:urall we call those gifts which DOM: ALE DOE obtained but by Gods free gift, and called Na ur l'schofe which remaine tion, which being by naturall diligence quickned, give lively expressions of God; and where six to and in decayed nature.

Fou e kinds of rigir i.ddaan mon.

Hence ariseth to a man a threefold tenure, more and more excellent then any which Lutleton hath related: a Microcosmicall in reipe & of our selues; a Cosmopoliticall in regard of the World; a Catholike, Spirituall, and Heavenly in relation to Christ the Head, his Bodie the Church, and that euerlaiting inheritance; besides that (which is the last and least of all) in reference to Political faced Image some obtcure lineaments, and some embers raked up in the ashes of Mans contump-pernaturall worke recouereth, are more then recouered, internally and inchoatiuely in the flate of grace, externally also and eternally in that perfection of glorie.

CHAP.I.S. 2. Mans Microcosmicall state or tenure examined.

See tov Micro-

Law and Societie. The first original of all dominion and right is GoD, who is Lord of all, whole I mage as is faid is imprinted on and in Man, as otherwise so in this Lordinip or right, which he hath first in and on himfelte Microcofmically in the members of his bodie, as the Regions of this Selfe-kingdome; where the continual Court of Conscience, the large surifdiction of Re afon (without which a man is, as suspended from the power of himselfe, termed impos sui, besides bim(elfe, as in drunkennelle and madnelle) the freedom of the Will (which is no longer will, then willing and cannot be constrained) the Naturall, and Untall actions wrought within vs, (and yet without vs, without our owne knowledge or direction, and much leffe lubit & to the correction of others) the Animall alfo in externall and internall fenfes, which cannot but exercise their faculties vpon their due obiects: thefe all proclaime that the pooreft Slaue is Lord by divine grant, euen fince the fall, of no lesse then this little-World; yea, while he obeyeth others, he commands himfelfe to that obedience, in which felfe-commands is the true exercise of vertue or vice. This Inheritance and Dominion is fo naturall that it cannot be alienated, without confifcation of the whole to the eternall giver of whom he holds it. For even in and by his eternall Law, is this made the rule of all righteousnesse, to doe as we would be done to, to love our Neighbours as our selnes; and if there were no power in and of our felues, there could neither be vertue nor vice in louing or hating our Neighbour : if no freedome of will and affections, no reward with God or man; if no government of mansfelfe referred, Martyrs of all men were the most monstrous, which for abering God rather then man, are the most honoured and admired. Once; subjection to God is abso-20 lure; to Princesas they are called Gods, and yet die likemen, with referuation; for conscience of Gods Commandement, where his reuealed will to the contrary frees not; and yet even then we must by faffering doe the will of Saperiours, thereby to shew our fidelitie in keeping Gods Promfo, though with loffe, of our Wils where we love, and our lives where wee feare; thewing that we loue & feare him most of all, which yet were neither loue, nor feare, nor vertue, without Pro. 16.34. this liberty of wil and power in our felues. He that ruleth his owne mind is better then hee that wenneth a Citie. This is the greatest conquest, the greatest possession to be master of thy selfe. Nor is this power absolute to our selues over our selues : Wee are not our owne, wee are Gods who hath created vs; our Parents which have procreated vs, our Countries which fuftayneth vs, our Kings which maintayneth vs; our Neighbours in common humanity : to neglect a 30 Mans fame or life, (much more prodigally to reiect them) is to robbe all these of their due in vs. But in Christians it were a deeper Sacriledge : they we not their owne, they are bought with a 7.23.

price (the greatest of prices, the bloud of God) they are gained by conquest, Christ ha- Lu.11. uing bound the strong man and spoiled bis goods ; they are given by the Father for the Sonnes Plaz. Inheritance , and in Baptilme haue by mutuall Conemant , giuen ouer themselues to his fer- Christian liuice. The freedome which Christ hath purchased for vs, doth yeeld Libertie , not Licen- berty. tion nelle; frees not from duties, to doe what wee luft, but makes vs have a lust to doe our ducies; sweetly inclining the Wil, and renewing the Minde to esteeme the Service of God, and of men for his take, the greatest freedome. Hee then that is Christs, is a new Crea-40 ture, to which, bondage or freedome and other worldly respects, are meere respects and cir- Gal. s. cumstances. For hee that is bond, is the Lords freeman, and hee that is free, is the Lords Ser- The Pope demant. It is the Deuils Sophistry, as to separate what hee hath joyned, so to confound what nies his baphee hath distinguished; and it is observable, that the Pope and the Anabaptist, which are tismall name, brethren in this Iniquity, have first denied their Baptisme, the Seale of their Christianitie, the other is re-

For these many rights doe not subject vs to many Masters, but subordinate our subjection in the baptices. beautie of order. Euen in Politicall or Civill right One may be Lord of the Fee; another of the Soile; a third of the way by ingresse, egresse, regresse; a fourth, hath right in the same ground, in time of Faire or Market; the whole Vicinity in Commoning " times; and others other wayes: "As is the vie And it in proprietie of strictest Nature, there may bee such communitie of subordinate rights Lemu, &c. 50 without tumultuous croffing or permicious confusion, how much more in things more spirituall, selues compleate; and (in whatsoeuer state) sapientem seips contentum effe, not dependant Sen Ejift, 9.

(where he is properly a man) of other men of the World : not contracting him intra cutems Juam (to vie Senecass words) in this Microsofmical happinelle, but needing the Cosmopoliti- Advisendum call helpe ad viuendum, not ad beate viuendum; to live at least, how loever to live well, a found multis rebogin heart and good confeience are tofficient; to the other food and raiment are necessary, to this ex est, ad bene vete nascentia bona: the belt societie is of vertuous thoughts which make men, as Scipio faid, nunquam uendum onte nascentia bond: the beth societie is of vertuous thoughts which make mensas acipto the mosaic of the minus sties of an amenia of the mosaic of the minus of the mosaic 60 company of Vices ) are the most horrid and desolate Wildernesse. No exile can deprine a resolution man of this Citte, no Prilon of this Societie, no Pillage of these Riches, no bondage of this Libertie. In this sence Socrates said he was requestoring all places his Countrie, all men his Countrimen; in this, Bias, when he had loft all by fortune of warre, carried all his away with him: in this, and more easily communicable? In which respect, the Philosophers, held themselves of them-

all whose Rights, are subject to the Right Royall, and Sourreigne.

Tertal.

Ich.S.

cece vinuat. M4.4.

z.Th.f.s.

Zeno, maruelled at nothing neither in Nature, whose depths cannot be searched, nor in Fortune, Laert, in Zen. whose possibilitie of most licentious effects must be the glasse to view our owne fortune, and to make that light by long premeditation, which others doe by long fuffering: in this, Senesa, Cαlo tegitur qui non habet vrnam; in this, another Seneca teacherh, Cum Orientem Occidentemá, Instraueris animo, cum tot animalsa, tantam copiam rerum quas Natura beatissime fundit, ast exerts; emittere hanc Dei voce in omniz mea funt; in this, Diogenes when Pirats exposed him to fale, profesfed his art was to rale men, and had them fell him to Xeniades, for he needed a Mafter from whom when his friends would have redeemed him, he retuted, faying, Lions were Masters, and not feruants of them which fed them; in this, the Stoicks called their poorest Wifeman, rich, free, a King, in this sense Socrates with whom we began, said if his fortune would not sute and fort to 10

him, he would make himtelfe (utable to his fortune. So long as life lasteth and humanitie continueth, they are vinuerfall possessor of the Vniuerfe. in which kind, Ariftotle ha. h left more memorable Monuments of Contemplation, then Alexander of Conquest: Natures commons, the Sun, Stars, Heauens, Aire, are common, at least to their mindes in vitmost of miseries, and with internall plentie they supply all externall defects. In this Miscrocosmicall and Cosmopoliticall Wealth, contifted all the Philosophers effate and revenue, which they called Vertue and Moralitie : which made them Mailers of themfelues , and thereby of the World, the just Circle of the Centre of Humanitie, for which it was created. Thefe things (me thinkes) I fee not without pittle, nor can refemble Them more fitly then to Horfes of excellent courage; but hood-winked fo, that fome little transparence of light makes them 20 more importunate to others michietes, and their owne precipice (whence Philosophers have been called Patriarchs of Heretikes) or elie like Mil-horfes to compaffe with this Worlds Wheele the immoueable Centre of Natures corruption, to which they are fubiect, no leffe then others which worke at a Querne, and stand still at their Hand-mill, by a larger circumference alway; mooning , promonendo nibil , proceeding in true freedome nothing at all. If the Some make you free, you fall be free indeed Thete, to make the noblest comparison may seeme starres, children of the night, which in their Moralitie gaue rayes of light that to the World made them eminent Teriul de Pat. Ornaments, and may make many of vs ashamed, which in the Daies Sun-shine of the Gospell lone faith of the and line da kneffe, and like Owles, Bats, and wild Brafts, hide our felues studiously from the Sun, Pollo opher. flie abroad and prey in the darke, falbioning our selves to this World, have our cogitations and 30 convertations darkened. CHRIST is nevertheleffe to all that bane eyes to fee, the Sunne of Righteonfnesse, by whome wee are by Regeneration translated from the power of darkneffe , and made the children of the day; that wee may know what wee worflop , and whom we baue believed, not so much talking as walking, even in this bodily prison, these liberties of the Gospell, being truly (though yet in the imperfect grouth of infancie) restored to our selues, to the World, yea to a more glorious state, whereof Nature could not so much as dreame; that wheras Man had loft both the former by fuggestion of Eurll , Deuil-Angels, Christ hath exalted farre aboue all Heauens vilible, to supply their Thrones of Dominion, which those rebellious Thrones and Dominions loft. The euidence whereof we have by Farth and Hope, our Head already hauing taken Liuerie and Seifin, and from thence liuing in vs , actuating and mooning vs by his 40

Euen theie first fruits are I weet and folid; I hane learned (faith our Apostle) in what soener flate Ph. 4. 11,12,13. I am, therewith to be content. And I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound, enerie where and in all things, I am instructed both to be full and to be hungrie, and to abound and have need. I am. en it. Miffe. able to all things through Christ strengthning me. This was the true riches not in the Chift, but in eft ars ifta, Re. the heart, which therefore neither men nor Deuils could take a way. And fee his Degrees in this gina artium, Schoole; first qualio, I haue learned this Discipline, not in the Schoole of Nature but of Grace, for quoil ex verbis Paulinis apparet we are all taught of God : secondly, Siga this Science, I know : w ereas the wifelt of Philosophers professed to know but this one thing that beeknew nothing: thirdly unwinas, and without all con-1,Cir.2,14. trouerfie this is a great mysterie of godlineffe, in which the naturall man is not initiated, hee knowes 50 not the things of God, nor can know them, for they are fooluftneffe to him; but the unclion of the Spirit only enters men in these mysteries (which the word fignifieth) after which followes in due order, Harra is x 60. I am able to all things, to doe, to fuffer all things, (and therefore Lord of himfelie and of the World) but is 19 is dweener; 14 zero in Christ enabling; without me faith Christ, see can doe nothing; and not I, lath Paul but the grace of God in me : whereas those Phi-

Spirit, preparing vs in this fight of militant grace to that light of triumphant glorie.

Lofophers having no flocke, but their owne, were poore Pedlers, not Royall Merchants, which would feeme to flie but wanted wings, yea life.

Lut.22. 2 Car 6.10. 1.Cor.9.4.

Ich.is.

is often poore in fecular fente which makes many rich, as having nothing, even then when he poffeffelb 60 all things. Am I not free? baue we not power? faith Paul, Who when he was free from all, made bim-Derfe 19. selfe the fernant of all that he might game the more; not (as they) running quali in incertum, and figh-$. Cor. 9.26,27. ting quali aerem verberans, but in this freedome and rule of the Spirit, beating downe and Subduing the bodie of flesh and mortifying his earthly members, not feeking his owne but the good of others:

And as for this CHRISTIAN Selfe and World, and Heaven-interest, it troubles not, intermedles not, disturbes not Earthly possessions and powers, for the greatest is a sermant of all, and hee

As I please hill men in all theory's (lewfull, for of other things he faith, if I found please wen, I found & 1014.33; ast be the fermant of (brist) not feeking theme owns profts, was of many , that they may bee funed. The Galatto. contempt of viches and greatnesse is the most compendious way to bee sich and great (the conrempt I meane, which proceeds from content, not that of the vnthankfull prodigall, nor of the desperate begger) and he can neuer be poore that hath Christ, himselfe, and all things in present possession, God and Heaven in reversion. This, this is that which litts vp his thoughts, and so file them with the fulness of Gad, that he negle cus their bafer and truly interior matters; and, that Epbe/3. which others are vitiously, hee is (and it is his vertue to bee) couetous, voluptuous, ambitious, but the obiects are righteoufsese, toy in the Holy Ghost, and the Kingdome of Heaven.

This whole Globe of Earth and Waters, feemes great to them that are little, but to thoughts truly great and like to God, it holds its true place, price, quantitie, that is, the lowest, baselt, lealt. Quid es potest videri magnum in rebus bumanis, cui avernstas omnis, totiusque Mundi nota sit magnitude? faid the Orator. Hoc est panttum, quod inter vot gentes ferro & igni dividitur. O qu'am rediculi funt morealisms termini? fail Seneca. Serpo was alimened of the Roman Empires point of som Sein this point: and another (bec est materia gloria nostra, bic tumultuatur bumanum genus, &c.) is Plinte. ashamed of this stirre for earth by foolish man , not considering quota terrarum parte gauceat, vel cum ad mensuram anaritie sue propagamerit, quam tandem portionem eius defunctiu obtineat. Horum agrorum possessione te effers, qui nulls pars sunt terra? laid Socrates to Alcibiades bragging ot his lands, which yet in an vomerfall Map hee could not thew : whereas the Vinuerfe it felle is not 20 large enough to bee the Mappe of the Christians inheritance, whose are the world, and life, and r.Co.5.22.

death, and things present and things to come, all are theirs; the third Heaven and Paradise of Heb.2. God their Patrimonie; the Angels their Gard (are they not all ministring fours fent forth for their Sakes that are beires of Saluation?) the Douils, the World, Sinne, Death and Hell their triumph; Paul, Apollo, Cephas, all the Worthies, Elders, Senators & Patres Conferiptiof the celefiall lerufallem, those first-borne, whose names are written in Heauen, their Kindred, Brechren, fellow Citi. zens, fellow members; Christ himselfe their head, their life; and God their portion, their excee- Apoc. 21. ding great reward, their owne God amongst them, in a tenure like himfelfe, eternall and unif eakably gloriou. The degrees of this Scala Coli, are mentioned by Paul, b All are yours, and you Christs and b 1 cor3. Christ Gods, and this the descent of our right, God, Christ, all things; God gaue all to his Sonne, 15,39,20,4, 11 30 his Sonne with all to vs. Chrift with his bodie is the Centre, and God the Circumference of this mysticall Corporation. Rowze vp then thy thoughts, O my Soule, let these worldly Pismires toile about their Hils, and busie Bees about their Hine; and let them in Courts and Suits, where Forum elitibus mugit in . c Opping fanum, contest about the fhadow of the Affe Shadowes; obscure & darke shadowes are Time of Eternitie, Motion of immutabilitie, Earth, of Heaven; and in a vaine frew or shadow walks be, disquieting bimselse in vaine, that heaps up riches and knowes not who shall gather them. All that I see is mine, laid the Philosopher: Foolofopher! that I ice not is mine, things feen are temporall, things not feen are eternall; my faith is the euidence of things not feene, my hope were not hope if feene, and my Charitie Rom. 3. mind the things abone, & out of fight, where (briff my low(to I gnative alide him) fits a the right cal 3.1, 40 band of the God of love, which is love. And yet if I afted thadowes, this Sunne yeelds to farre to my yet weaker and groffer bodily affects, and whiles it thus shines on my soule, by grace it makes the shadowes as mooning indices of time attend my bodie, this being the prerogative of Christian godlineffe, to have the promises of this life, and that which is to come. Sure if I were in the flarrie Heagoaintige, to name the promises of the life and the life and the state of the this small Globe, whence uen, with mortall eyes I could not thence in such distance be able to see this small Globe, whence D. Deein a I fee fo small the greatest starres, whence the light of the World and King of starres (so much 34.5. neerer in place, greater d in quantitie, more viuble in qualitie) feeemes as little, as the head d The Sun is that viewes it. And should this Earth which cannot there be seene, so Eclipse my lower Moon- if Arthach like borrowed beames by interpolition, that all should be shadow in a double night and twofold rightly measudarknesse! No, No, I will get up thither, even farce above my selfe, force above all Heavens, times: the (fay not in thine beart, who Shall afcend into Heanen? that is to bring Christ from abone) and thence greatest stars, 50 with a spirituall and heavenly eye looke on earth, and not here and hence with a carnall and sen- about 100. fuall eye looke on Heauen (this makes the heauenly bodies little, the great light of Heauen eclip- greater then fed, not in it selfe, but to me by every interposed Moone, and the Heaven of Heavens wholy, invifible) fo shall it not anuoy my fenfe; fo shall not my fenfe of earth annoy my reason; fo shall not my reason perplexe my faith, but I shall vseit as not vsing, as not abusing it, to helpe and not to hinder my present Pilgrimage.

And thinke not that we speake impossibilities : of every Christian it is faid, conresuscitation 1. Corn. consedere fecit in calestibus in Christo lesu; and we are evinguros, planted together into the similande Eibel 2.60 of his resurrection by Baptilme, both inregard of the imputation and infution. If this high My- Rom.6.5. 60 fterie be hid, yet, as when thou half viewed the Sunne, it makes thee vncapeable of feeing the earth, either at that time or for a space afterwards : so the soule that often by deuout contemplation is accustomed to view this Sunne, neither can then equally, nor cares much to fixehis eyes on earthly delights after, but having drunke of these heavenly waters, is not very thirlbe of these muddie Springs, and of troubled Ale after such generous Wines. These things are indeed effected by degrees, nor can we at once leape from the Cradle to the Saddle, and I suspect the forward Herculean hands that can so foone with new-borne gripes strangleold Sespents : yet is not the Christian alway a Dwarfe, but still grower up in grace, and is ever growing into him which sthe head, CHRIST, Heisthe Alpha and Omega, heeis Lord of all as the Son and Heire, of Man, the World and Heauen; and he with all this right is given vnto vs, inhabiting, purifying, quickning Mansheart by faith; whence he also is Microcosmically Matter of himselfe, Cosmopolisically of the World, in Catholike Christianitie heire of Heaven; All, of, in, by and fon Christ, to whom be glory for euer. Amen.

§. IIII.

The Christian and Philosopher compared in that challenge to be rich, free; a King that this hinders not but furthers Politicall Subjection: and of the happy combination of wildome and royaltie in SALOMON, as likewise in our dayes.

L L Arts are but the supply of Natures defects, to patch up her ragged and worne rents, to couer rather then to cure or recouer Mans fall; euen that King of Arts, the 20 Politicall Art of Kings, is not heire by whole blond; but the gift of God, begotten fine. the fall, and abundantly argues our vnrulinesse otherwise, which must have Lords and Lawes to rule vs. By like fauour of God, least mans dissolution should bring a desolation came in Politicall tenure and Civill state and Right amongst men. The lest possession in this, which wee call our proper, as being no part of our felues, and a small part of the smallest part of the Vniverse: greater is the Vniverie it telfe, and the greatest right thereto is that which is most vniverfall, whereof the foule is only capable; greater then the greater World is this Little , for whom that was made, yea, for whom the Word, the maker of both was made flesh; and as in it felfe, so also was maney, you make it administ eith to winne the whole world and loofe our owne foules: greatest of all and Greatnesse it felie is God, the los of the Christians mheritance and the portion of his cap, to whom the Father hath ginen the Soune, and with birm all things. These things may concurre and 30 did in Salomon, without confusion; that the three last may also be separated from the first, and that substift without the least knowledge of these last, is a true conclusion. And how many have much in Politicall and Civill possession, which are had and held of the things they have and hold, as the price of their freedom, not fo much as dreaming of any other tenure but propriety laughing Sende benefilt at the Philosopher, and raging at the Christian's farther challenge, which yet diffurbes not (as not c. adreges po a worldly tenure) Propriety but that politive ficut erat in principio, (in the finit of mans incorrupted nature) is now comparatively more certaine, more ample by faith, and shall be in facula faculorums a superlative of fullest happinesse. Euen still propriette in flricteft sence , is the Subiects state minium, Lett.

and that with many subdivisions' and diversifications; a higher and vniversall right appertaineth 40 misses, asses in each mans proprietie to the King, as Lord of all. That naked Cynike, that neither had house nor dish, not only compared himselfe with Alexander, (in emulation of his great Titles, proclayming I am Diogenes the Dogge) but even great Alexander, had he not beene Alexander, professed hee would wish to bee Diogenes. Neither feare nor desire could any whit dazzle him in that Royall lustre, but beeing questioned by Alexander, if hee feared him not, asked if hee were good or bad; beeing answered, good; and who (faith he) is afraid of good! being bid den aske, hee desired no-thing butthe restitution of the Sunne which his interpositionshad Epiftle, and in taken from him; infinuating a greater riches in Natures inheritance, then in the greatest Kings the end of this beneficence; and in his owne mind, then in the Others spatious Empire. Plus eras qued bencheence; and in my owne many special many special special dere. Nor had Greece alone such bie nollst accipere. (faith Seneca) quam quod slee poffer dere. Nor had Greece alone such bie nollst accipere. spirits : Calanus in India was more admired of Alexander, then the King of him. Corpora, faith he in his Epistle to Alexander, transferes de loco ad locum, animas non coges facere, quod nolunt, non magis quam faxa, & ligna vocem emittere. I speake not, as approouing these men in all their speeches and actions: but if they could doe so much in that twilight of Nature, how much more may Chritians aspire vnto, on whom, as is said before, the Sun of righteoufreffe is rifen? These indeed are Children of the day, which know how to bonom the King, in that feare of God, which is the beaming of wifdome; which the Cynikes, Cymnofophilis and Storkes, not having attained, dreamed in their night, and did those things rather as men talking and walking in their nanger.

Annus sports sleepe, then as men truly knowing what they faid and did. Like these Ophyrians were write of fe inducet dini- which possessed much Gold, but Salomon alone knew how to bestow it on the Temple, which fantliffeth the Gold. And yet how farre did thefe Philosophers Dreames exceed the feeming wa-

P[al,16;

ad fingules do-Pè THY Xewpré. See Laert.in vit.Dieg. & Amb. Ep.7. where you mayread Cala-

Синधа сиріг Crafus, Die e-Eum maxime diantys frai qui mmime diustys indizet. num fermo, erc. num ferms, one king and watchfull cares of Crassu and Crassus (which rather in troubled, fenerous, phrenzie, or Opium fleepes were more fatally perplexed) efterming Vertue the trueft treafure; and Rubes tather to confift in needing listle, then holding much, and a contented mind to bee a futer Coffer, then the bottomleffe Bags of infatiate Auarice; and Natures commons of the Heatiens and Elements to Omnia eius funt be greater possessions, then a few handfuls of inclosed dust; more admiring the Physicians skill, non occupations then the Drugguits shop full of simples, or the Apothecaries of medicines; more loying in, more fed acimo: & enjoying (as the members of the body) the publike then the private wealth, more the contempla- univer (alitas ittion, whereby the minde reasonably vieth all things, even thole of others, without further cares, it, non bee singuthen that proprietse whereby the fenfe diftinguisheth the owner, and addes to this little owne, the Tutter has info great cares of getting keeping, spending, and no leffe feares of loofing, yea (in many a Tantalus) qued intue tur: of vine as if he were the Gaoler rather then Owner of that wealth which hee lades with Irons Vid. Lip, Ma. and strangles in his Iron Chest, for no other fault, but calling such a Mizer, Matter. Quibus hoc for- nud. ad Stoic. 2nd itrangles in his from Cherr, for no other ratie, but calling their 2 Miles Atlantic and Phills, diff. 11.

The Christian, bow both Free and a King. CHAP.I.S.4.

10 dibus emit ve fulgeat? vigilat in pluma; Nec intelligit miser speciosa este sibs supplices, or possible i ma- (ea. gis quam possidere dinitias. The wile man is like I fac in whom Abrahams feede is called, whom he Cro. Ep. ad Domakes his heire : but thefe which are called rich, are fometimes like I mael, thrust out of all; at a thinkpa. the best, like the Sonnes of the Concubines, to whom Abraham gaue gifts and fent them away: the Gen. 25.6. Minde, as that which alone is immortall, hath state of perpetuity and inheritance, the Sentein her Cic Paral 5. propriety is capable onely of gifts and moneables. From this glimple of reaton did those Philosophers the sonnes of Nature (how much more dies this should we the Sons of the free women?) attribute libertie and a Kingdome to their Wile man, Saint Theme lage-Paul more fully, lusto non eft lex polita. Saint Ambrefe laden with the spoiles of these Egyptiens, ly, lainedly, Paul more fully, I uste non est lex posita. Saint en more je taaen with the position of the will, get dly. First therewith adornes the Christian Tabernacle. He is a tree man faith he, which doth what he will, gar the state 20 b and lives as he pleafeth, nor can be forced to any thing: now the wife man wils that which is biffing exercise: good, hates the cuill not for teare but for love, obeieth the commandement; feekes not to pleafe autonempias the vacertaine vulgar, but his minde hangs evenly in the ballance poized with the shockle of the This Research fanctuary; not forced by Law, bur he is last to bimfelfe, and hath the fame written not in tables of separa alloflone, but in fulfne tables of the heart, 3 not fearing the Law, because his debts are acquitted, and can not therefore be arrested; not feruant to any, yet making himselfe the fernant of all, for their good, whose fernance to God deft not proceed the second of the se whose service to God doth not consume but consummate his libertie, for Gods service is perfect Exel Bases servi freedome; to whom when all things are lawfull, yet nothing is lawfull that is not expedient, that a car is fense edifies not; who abides tounded and grounded on Christ the rocke, and therefore feares not the Iwel- Tai or at aling manes, nor raging windes, fluctuates not with every blast of dollrine: is not puffed with prof- vayxasaresw, 30 perity, deiected with aduerfity, but like lofeph (which bought those that bought him, euen all the taid of a good land of Egipt besides, for Pharas, after himself had bin fold for a slave) abides himself in whatsoever man, and his changes of fate and flate. He hath subordinated his will to Gods will, and if hee will haue him affections as doe or fuffer any thing, possesse or loose either himselfe or ought he hath, it shall be his will also. Virgil of Ange This made lob abide bimsfelfe, when he was staken, and as it were thunderstricken out of all at flue, Villerque once: yea, by a facred antiperistais he ga hered his spirits together and not onely not blasphemed, pulsi das me a but bleffed; then and theretore bleffed God, who is no leffe good in taking then in giving, who viamque affebath loved us and given bimselfe for us, before he takes ought from vs, yea therefore takes this that Gat O impo he might give that (both himfelte and our felte) to vs. He that loofeth bis life findes it, and hee that E & Speaker he might give that (both himlelfe and our lelte) to vs. He that too jets bis tife jinaes u, and nee that denut bim felfe and his some will, pure of the chains of his bondage, the flavery to innumerable the following the first party of the chains of his bondage, the flavery to innumerable the following the following the first party of the following that the following the followi 40 tyrants, impious lufts, and is thus a free man indeede, freed from the divell, the world, himselfe, see e. breathing the free ayre of heaven in the lowest and darkest dungeon, yea in the closest of prisons Subduct fe cu-(his owne body) closely by contemplation converes himselfe forth to fetch often walkes in the sodie in quate-Paradife of God. Once, he lones Chrift, hee lines Chrift, and therefore cannot be compelled by netar & calo Paradife of God. Once, he lone: Chritt, hee lines Chritt, and therefore cannot be compelled and mattered by Himfelfe, longs to be more and more impelled by reficient. Sen. that Spirit (which sweetly forceth into the desired hauen) and to be drawne by the Father that he Gale 2.2.20. may be enabled to follow the Sonne, with whom he is vnable to hold pace; and fearing because Iob. 6. he loues, thus defires helpe, that (be it by ftripes, or threates, or other tentations) his feete may cant.r. be made more fure, more fwift. He feares God, and therefore feares nothing. And whereas hee Bern in Cantai that committeeth same is the fersion of same, he is thus not onely fet free by Christ, but more high trakes of vime 50 ly dignified and made a King and Priest to God. He daily facrificeth praires, prailes, good workes, qualiter conque his owne liming body in reasonable service, not the bodies of dead and vireasonable beatts; hath al- miniaut tirresway the doore of the heavenly pallace, the eare of the heavenly King open to his interceffions, do, or . rabe He is also a King ouer himselfe (a little world, a great conqueit) ouer Fortune the magnified Lady quedammedo in of the greater V. orld (which he frames to his owne manners; and if he cannot hend it to his will, voluntariam; knowes how to bend his will to it) over the Diuell, the God of the World; over Death, which hee trabe, torgentem makes (as Sapores did the Roman tyrant Vaterian, and Tamerlane the Tarkilo Basazeth) his foot- vereddas curstoole, or stirrop to mount up to a higher and better life, and like Danid cuts off the head of this rentem, &c. Gyant (which hath defied all the armie of Mankinde) with his owne (word : hee is (a King) ouer Pro.16 32the world, which he neither loues (for his beart and treasure is in heaven) nor feares(for what can fir the method 60 it doe at the worst, but further his heavenly happinesse) nor fashions himselfe to it, but it to him- co.c.par. 5. felfe, vling it as not vling it, not fetting bis beart on it, for the faltion of this world paffeth away, as a 1.00.731. Scene, where he but acts a while his part; and a strange Country thorow which he travelleth to Pros. his true home; where his King is gone before to prepare a place for him, and leaving the earnest 106.14.

of his spirit with vs, hath taken our earnest, our fielh, there to take possession, to make intercession

Esh 1.vit. Pro.14.17. Li, f. Manudutt. THE BAGINSÍAS เราเล่า เมื่อล่าบin Zoureenum porestas nulli

on in the presence of God for vs. Our Head is there already which cannot so sarre degenerate as to neglect his body, the reall and living parts of Himfelfe, the fulneffe of him that fils all m all things: Thu Kingdome is not meate and drinke, pompe and splendor, and much leffe intruding into the fecrets, obtruding on the feepters of their four raignes, but righteoufneffe, peace, and iof in the holy Gbeff, which the Philosophers knew not, and what souer they have challenged (as a Ratione Reger) yet in comparison or true Christians, they were but as Kings in a Play(as Platarch said of the TENDATE Later. Stoickes) which talked, stalked, walked on their Stage, and acted that part which in deede and in spirituall right is our reall part and inheritance. And if a Kingdome be a power subject to none, then enery true Christian is a King (not in Anabaptisticall phrense to cast off all yoakes of loyalty, to caft out all States and Royaltie, and like their John of Leyden to make himselfe a licentious Mo- 10 narch, pressed downe meane while with so many enuies, vices, miseries, but) in this, that pettore magno, Spemque metumque domat, victo sublimior omni, Exemptus fatus in that he obeieth his soueraigne not to much of his flauish feare, as because he loues him, and loues that God which hath giuen him foueraignty, and therefore as to the living image of God yeeldes obedience to him, not gradgingly or of necessitie but cheerefully, and with a willing heart, making his superiours will to be his owne (because it is Gods) will. And if he commands that which he findes countermanded by the highest Law, he rebels not, reuiles not, Rexest qui posuis meins, Et dirimala pesteris, currique suo libens Fato, nec queritur mori. Thus is this man spiritually a King and Infra se videt commis, beholds all things beneath him, by fuffering, ouercomming; by obeying, ruling, himselfe if not others. In this sence Christ saith of the Church of Smyrna, I know thy powerty, but then art rich : and of the Landiceans which esteemed themselves rich, encreased with goods, and needing nothing, that they were wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked. Siluerand Goldhaue I none, faid that rich Apostle, whose pretended successours, out of a will to be rich, bane fallen into tentation, and a fnare, and many foolish and noisome lusts: For the lone of movey is the roote of all enill, which while these court after, they have erred from the faith : and instead of Apostolical, have proued Apostaticall, with Babylomeall mysteries confounding things spirituall and externall, enclofing all the commons of the Church and the Spirit, to the onely vie of the Vatican; and then with the spoile of all Christians This spiritual man must indge all, and be indged of none, vsurping the rights of, and right ouer Kings, not confidering the diserticy of thefe tenures.

Senec .

Tim.6.

where he cannot be willing to doe, he will yet be willing to fuffer the will of his fourraigne, Oc-

But yet (to returne to our Salomon; if a man by this Christian wisdome becomes free, rich, a King ; good and wife what stall a King of men be (with addition of this wisdome) but heroicall, and if not more then aman, set king.

A worthy of men, and neerest to God? This course is the stall and if not more then aman, set a worthy of men, and neerest to God? This appeares in David and Salomon, two learned, no lesse them. potent Kings, the one gaining greatnesse at home, the other difersing those raies beyond their owne Orbe, to remotest Ophir. This we fee in Philip and Alexander, in Calar and Augustus. Learning is the best sewell in a Kings Crowne, and Christian wisdome like the vertical cross voon it; which both in Bookes (by King Alphonfus called his faithfullest Counsellours) and in their bosomes, speakes that without feare or flattery, which feruants cannot or devenot; makes them to fee with their owne eyes, and not enely by experience of others; yea with the eyes of the Worthies of former times, and to converse with the Auncients of all ages : and fearching into the cauces of things to penetrate scasonably into affaires 40 Shich fuddenly affault others. But especially in Marine disconcries, we are not so much indebted to the power as the learning of Kings, and both together make a bleffed match, and have produced to the world the best knowledge of it selfe. Salomon is example, who in the writings of Moles, being instructed of Ophyr, attempts the discourty. How little knowledge had the Greekes of Alia till Alexander emploied both Attitotle with great costs, and Himselfe also in discovery of the Lands and Seas, besides Nearchus and other his Captaines, ? Iulius and Augustus opened the first lights in manner to the Romans. de une monte de la constant de la co bow sever called great? bow little are most of them all? But what neede I forrame examples? How little in comparison hash our Nation (the Oceans darling, bugged continually in her besome) discoursed and 50 made use of (yea they were the prey of the Easterlings and Lumbards, scarcely knowing their neighbour Seas ) before the late eruption of captined learning in the former age, and more especially in the glorious Sumbine of Queene Elizabeth, and (after that Sunfet, Sol occubuit nox nulla fequuta eff) in the succeeding, that I say not in Ophytian regions, exceeding times of King lames! I dare not presume to Beake of his Maiesties learning which requires a more learned pen, and where to speake the truth would seeme flattery; nor yet of that learned Queene, who sometime brake in peeces the artiese pictures made to represent her (for Apelles is onely fit to paint Alexander, Homer to fing Achilles, and Virgil bis Auguttus. ) Thus a more learned witnesse bath said, and I mill recite: that to the last yeare of her life duely and daily shee observed her set houres for reading; that this part of the Island never had 45. yeares of better times, and yet not through the calmenelle of the leason , but through the wile- 60 dome of her regiment: the truth of religion established, the constant peace and security, the good administration of justice, the temperate vie of the prerogative not slacked nor much strained, the flourishing state of learning, the convenient state of wealth and meanes both of Cowne and Subiect, the habit of obedience, and moderation of discontents, notwithstanding the differences of Religion, ber single bife, Romes alarmet, and the neighbour Countries on sire. Hence that selectly of the State, of Religion, and of secular of Navigation, now in thressorreperse continuance, growns, almost out of expelled the the cradle and fu adding cloathes, to the present ripenesse amongs us. That our Virgin-mother, in her pre- Evitaines with paration to the Crowne by the Crosse and in happy exploits, another David; in eare of inst Indges and In- their learning, fice Icholaphat, in reformation H zekiah, in restoring the Law that was loft Ioliah, in peace, plenty, The Danes (itface lenotaphat, in reformation to Lentan, in continuous we want to the face of the face o pinesse then bis fleasing her Name without Salomons imputation of falling to Idolatry, to surving her per Christia Secons fon, and to become her heire and successour in them all : dying in a good age (as is faid of David) full drowned all of daies, riches, and honour. Inthese times Britaine bath recovered her eyes and spirits, and bath dis- learned men, 10 concred the Westerne Babylon and ber labyrinthian mazes and gyres of Super Sisson, first of all Europa. bocks, ichools, concret the Westerne Barylin and her inspirations makes and gives of paperfittion, just of an Europe.

Sir E Rarow Advanc. of Learn./.1.

An Kingdomer's ending material order cassing of that yeaks, which governed causifed by struction of sits, with a Barbarians sinte all parts of the Roman Empire had brought in as a mysh, whereby that Romish miltery K. Miftch in Of iniquitie might worke vneshied) had put on the neckes and veiled bearts of our forefathers, which by himselfe wines the light of learning was now espeed and exiled: and this freedome maintained mangre all the gates and there was not forces of Rome and Hell. Yea, be that commanded Honour thy Mother, made her (exe bonorable, and one Priest canfed that a Woman had the bonour over that Silera, that Abimelech, that Holofernes; the fword of could vindera woman prenailed, not by close advantages but in the light of the Sun, in the worlds amphitheatre, all Secure, and Europe looking on and wondring (yea the most, still giddie with that cup, enterposing against her.) This till the con-Christian Amazon overthrem those Romish both gladiatores & sicariosand (asthey write of the Rhino - quest this mist ceros) toffed those Buls (which had thought to have pushed her by their bornes of deprination and instaft- continued in 20 on, and the close fights of treason and insurrection, out of England and Ireland) to the administration of Print then bemen, the ion of Angels, and acknowledgement in all of the [word of the Lord and of Gedeon, the pow- ing a wonder er of the highest perfected in her weakenesse. And (which more fits our Nanigation treatise) this vi- that knew his rago (not loofing ber owne virgin-zone) by her Generall first loofed the virgin zone of the earth, and Grammer. Allike another Sunne twice encircled the Globe, Learning had edged ber fword then, but the succession of fredietist ap. As this our Dibota, like Achilles in the Poets, bath a Panoplie, awhole armor of learned desife; and like Paris, An. 1067 Apollo in the mids of the Muses, so have we seene him in the learned disputations of both Universities; Clerici adeolit. such an Apollo whose Oracle discovered the Dinels Master peece and Papall monster peece of powder carebant wicetreasen, and brought it to poulder, by the light of bis wisedome presenting those infernall lightnings and terissistent effet sulfurous hellish thunders: whose learned writings as the arrowes of Pythius have given the deepest and quigram, did-Juliwous bellejb thunders: who je tearned writings as toe arrower of tyclicus came pinen toe neeper and ciffic, most fatall wounds to this mystic mysticall Python: who fe birth hath made birm a great King, who fe "Sit F. Drake" great learning hath purchased another Kingdome, and made the Schooles to admire him in Distinitie; was the fift the Tribunall in Law, the Senate and Counsell table as the table of Counsaile and Map of humaine tusse. Genetall that dome: whose armes! but blessed are we that his learning and wisedome keepe vi from their drery noise and swamabout the difmall experiments; that we in the tragedies of so many Nations are spectators, that the God of peace Globe, candish that have the God of peace the next. bath with the Gofpell of peace ginen vi a Salomon, truest tipe of the Prince of peace, whose daies are In the questidaies of peace at home, whose treaties propound wayes of peace abroad, whose sun-like raies have bined not on of Anichist by bare disconeries, but by rich negotiations to this our Salomons Ophic in what part of the world somer in his Maichies the quarelsome wits of men bane placed it. If you looke neere band, Scotland is added, and Ireland now Monit Pizface at last made English, dispersing feares by English Cities, and plantations: If you looke further, with "In the Megols 40 those which seeke for Ophir in the trest Indies, there may you see English Plantations and Colonies in Seas were the Virginia and other parts of both those supposed Peru's, the Northerne and Southerne America : if to So-flage of this fals on the South of Afrike, or to the East of Asia, there also have the English sleetes passed, traded (and war) as I had if you thinke nothing compleate without armes) surpassed, the most advantagious assaults: that even the by relation of of you tome notation complement returns a service of the Neptunian affaires to the Moores have a protect. Sit The Return Indians (which yields com nouly in martiall, alway in Neptunian affaires to the Moores) have a protect. Saltaon there, three Moores to a Portugall, three Portugals to an Englishman: whose happy times have exceeded Salo none and H rams discoueries; even where no writing bath mentioned any name of Noalis Sonnes, where none of Noalis Sons ener yet inhabited, where the Sun it selfe seemes affraid of uncouth Seas, borrid lands, and marine monsters, hiding himselse divers moneths in the yeare together, and but peeping when he doth appeare, as it were fearfully trying and compassing about with obliquer beames, there have the beams of our 50 Brittish Sunne descried, and exhaled profits from those portentuous Dragons of the b King lames Sea (loe these the happiest warres against the beasts by Sea and Land, not like Nimrols hunting of his Newland. men) and sughe new a discoveries, notwithstanding the Oceans armies of icie llands affronting, till the filling. Sea is selfe (fearing totall subsection) but he embaied is selfe and locked up all passages by unknowne lands. din the North-And (not to mention the New Wales there discovered) England hath her Virginia, Bermuda, west discovery New England; Scotland, a New Daughter of her owne Name; yea, Iteland by the care of the prefent by Hudlen, But. Deputie is now multiplying also in America, and his Maiestio hath sowne the seedes of New Kingdomes Bas.

Let not the sewerer fort consure me of presumption, if I this embelish my rudor lines with these glori- See Best veyom names, wherein I communicating in the publike benefit, at once testifie my feare of God the Anthony, age. 60 with mine beneur to thefe two great lights of heaven to our Britaine. World, as allors, autors, instruments, mortali images of the immortall. He alone it is qui tempus ab zuo ire whet, and makes our King a te ender of the faith by which eternitic flowes from time well husbanded, to refemble herein alfo, thoulify it manins da concta moueri. In this tranquilitiene may employ our mouftly in painfull and gainfull labours. I also in this peace, under I fracts Salomon, can from the shore behold with safety, with delight, & in this glasse let others see, the dangerous Naugations and Ophyrian expeditions of our Countrie men, or view their warlike fights in the waterie plaine as from a fortified tower (fo the Mogols did the bat tell of the English and Portugals) not only free from perill but entoying some the gaines of their paines, others the sweeze contemplations of their laborious actions, all of vs the fruites of our labours and negotiations at hime and abroad, which grow from that Iacobaran tree : whose blossomes are inscribed Beati pacifici. This Worke is the fruite of that Peace, and my Song may be, Deus nobis hac otia fecit, that I may write with Inke at leisure, and (under the shadow of this tree) you read with pleasure, what these Pilgrimes have written with bacard, if not with blond in remote Seas and Lands.

Plast 44. vilt.

I flatter not the present, I denote to future posterity, this monument of praise to the Almighty, who hath given vi this Salomon, if not in all dimensions, (neuer was there, or fhall be such) yet berein like, 10 that wee enwy under his wings (in the combustions of neighbour Countries) this our peace, plenty, learning, instice, religion, the land, the sea voyages to Ophir, the world, new worlds, and (if wee have new bearts) the communiton of Saints, guard of Angels, saluation of Christ, and God himselfe the portion of our Cup, and lot of our inheritance. Bl-ffed are the people that be in fuch a cafe, yea bleffed are the people that have the Lord for their God, This is the day that the Lord hath made, let vs reiovce and be glad in it. And if our times geelde some exceptions also, and the Traducer impute it to flattery that I bring not cuils on the stage: I say that bleffed and loyall Shem and Iapheth bid from them. felues of others that which curfed Cham and Canaan quarrelled : Salomons times yeelded grienances, and we line on earth, not in heaven; there is the perfection of wildome, holinesse, happinesse, whereof Salomons times were a compleate type : we base the truth in part, but all fulneffe is in him, in whom dwelleth all 20 the fulnelle of the Godhead bodily, which to expelt here were Epicurisme and state-Puritanisme. Quis me constituit vel judicem vel indicem! Malecontent, l am no Lord of times, nor Prince of Princes (they are both Gods peculiar) I indeuour to keepe me in the offices of my caking, to choose the good part, and in conscience towards God to acknowledge Gods workes in all, and specially in those of whom be bath said, Yee are Gods : To be an accuser is the Dinels office, and they which be enill themselnes will onely see enill in others.

ð. V.

Of the proprietie which Infidels have in their Lands and Goods: of proprietie in the Sea, and of Salomons proprietie of the Sea and Shoare as Ezion Geber.

Hus have wee discoursed of the prerogative of Gods peculiar, the right which the true Children of the Church have in Christ and by him in all things; but what shall we fay of propriety of propriety of Insidels? Christs Kingdomeis not of this world, and properly when you have been presented in the propriety of the present of the fay of propriety? of propriety of Infidels ? Christs Kingdome is not of this world, and pro-

Tit. I vit. I Tim.4. 2 Cor.7.

1 Tim. 6. P/4.62. Mat.6. Lut.12.

Ind.Ep.

2 Pd.10

perly neither gues nor takes away worldly preprieties, civill and politicall interests; but addes to his subiects in these things a more fanctined vie, all things being pure to the pure, me. pure to the impure; for they are faultified by the word and praier, which Infidels know not. In that interior court of conscience (which in the wicked is defiled) the just have before God a juster vie, ving the world se not abusing it, not being bigb minded, nor trusting in uncertaine riches: not festing then heart on them, though they increase, nor looking their hearts with them in their decrease or tolle : not laying up to themselves treasures on earth where rust and most and theese have power : not finging a requiem foule take thine case, thou hast laid up treasure for many yeares, when this fooles soule it telfe is the worst thing it hath, and may be turned this night out of that secure body and secured state. But in the outward civill Court, and before Men, the Gospell alters not, removes not the land marke of the law, but as well bids Gine to Cefar that which is Cafars, as to Ged that which 50 is Gods. And therefore the rights of men by the royall or common lawes established (all derived from that of Nature, and confequently from God, who is Natura naturans, the creator of Nature) are in conscience of Gods commandement to be permitted to them. Neither without Gods speciall command might the Ifraelites spoile (as they did) the Egyptians, or invade the Camannies. It is Saint Indes note of filthy Sodomites, fleepers, ignorans, beasts, difeiples of Cham, Balaam, and Core, rockes, clouds wis bout water, corrupt trees twife dead, raging water, wandring flarres, to despile government: naturall bruit beafts (laith Saint Peter prophelying of hispretended fucceffors) pots and blots, wels without water, clouds carried about with a tempest, to whom the blacke darkeneffe is reserved for ever : promising to others liberty, and are themselves the servants of corruption (in this lence reference : promying to store; success, some and success and success for the Golpell, then the ferunts of ferunts.) Neither could the Dwell deufe agreeter fandall to the Golpell, then that it should rob Kings of their supremacy and preheminence, subjects of their lands and state, as if to convert to Christ were to evert out of their possessions, and subvert states : which is the cause of fo few lewer converted, and fo perverse convertions in America, as I have elsewhere shewed. The Gospell is not a sword to take away earth, but to destroy hell, and addes the Keyes of the Kingdome of beauen, not a hammer to breake in preces the doores of earthly Kingdomes : and least of all making instead of Keyes, Picklockes (the note of a theefe, even though he should enter at the doore and lawfully succeede lawfull Bishops) which open and thut all at pleature; against which there is but one word of force, and that is, force it selfe and power which their faction cannot ouerthrow, the Romift confeience being Leibian and leaden, or Iron and running compatie and variation, as the Needle of that See hath touched it to observe the Pope as the magnetical Pole, which Philosophers fay is not that of heaven but of the earth, God hath made vs men, his Sonne hath called vs to be Christians, and this opinion doth turne men into Beasts, yea Christian men into wilde Braits without all propriety, or anything proper to humanity, which with the rights 10 thereof extends to Intidels.

Thefe hold no: Christ, nor hold of him, as isynt beires : yet are they not without all right, yea pricey. of him also they hold in another tenure, not as sonnes, but as servants (and the fernant abideth not 1.h.8.;5.36. in the bonse for euer, but the Sonne abideth euer: but if the Sonne make them free they are free indecide?) These hold, in a tenure of willenage not in state of spirituall inheritance, which yet warrants a wit title for the time, contra omnes gentes, against all men (as servants vie their Masters goods) but being called by death to give accompt to their Lord, are dispossed of all and themselves also for euer: whereas the children here feeme in wardhop, and to receive fome thort allowance in the nonage of this life, but in the day of death (the birth day of true and eternall life) as at full age, enter into full possession of heaven and earth for ever. That tenure yet of godlesse men (which are methous hope,

20 milbeut Chrift, mithout God in the world) is a tenure from God, though as is faid in a kin ie of villenage; and wattants against all men, as holden of and at the will of the Lord (brift, by whom and for Cel 1.16.17.1 whom all things were created, and hee is before all things, and in him all things consist. And hee is the Head of the Body the Church. This tenure in capite is the Churches toynture; that of humane nature, Einz, from him whole all things are inrecreationis, remaines to forreiners, which are francers from the City Common-wealth of Ifrael, and from the priviledges of the Holy Citie the New Ierufalem. For atter the Image of God, by this Image of the inmifible God were all Men created; which though it bee in part by finne defaced, yet through the mercy of God in part remaineth in the world of men, which still recaine an immortall reasonable spirit indued with viderstanding, will, and memory (refembling the vnity and Trinity) animating and ruling (how imperfectly focuer) the organicall 30 body, and with it the inferiour creatures : which dominion ouer the creatures is by God him-felie reckoned to the mage of God; infected with finne, and infefted with a curfe; but Godesen Gonase & 30 in the fentencing that indgement remembring mercy, added sbornes, and ibitles, and forrow, and 17,18 19. freate, but tooke not away the vie; yea he renewed the bleffing to all the Sonnes of Noah, and colarged their commission, indenting in mans heart this naturall right, and in the Beaits this naturall are and subjection, by Natures owne hand writing.

Hee that then bleffed them with, Replenifb the earth, did confound their Babel building, and Governo. featter them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth, to put it in execution, and hat hmide of one blond all Nations of men (as is faid before) to dwell on all the face of the carth, and bath determined the times and bounds of their habitation. Thus hee that gave Canaan to the Ifraeliter is fail Danier 19. mined the times and bounds of their habitation. I has nee that gave cannot be the specific to any section of the proper fense though differing manner) to have given the versor the children of Lot for a post southern the latest stated of the Zone anymous which has believed in 1. Confession, the land of the Emins, and the land of the Zamzanmins which hee lettroyed be Gergino fore them : as he did that of the Horims to the children of Efau, that as the former generations Dana entered by the Law of Nature, as first finders, so these by the law of Warre, as confounders of letting it. the former, and founders of a recond state and succession, both guided by the hand of dising pra-nidence. Salemon gase Hirans twenty Cities in recompense of Cedars, and First-nees and management of Cedars and First-nees and management of the communication of the salemont of the salemo Gold: and innumerable are the compacts and contracts mentioned in Hillories, whereby the Col 1000 rule of Countries and States haue beene made ouer to new Masters, or to the old in a new tenure, respectively as lofeph bought all Egypt, their lands and persons to Pharaoh. But in all these workes of Me , quantity a God is a coworker; the most bigh ruleth in the Kingdomes of Men, and gives bit to whom some one of well meters. God is a coworker; the maje trigh ruleth in the Kingaomer of when, anagmeto is to wormyoning one for the form of one of the service of the se

Plates power is acknowledged by the Lord of power to be given from above, and to that Ro. 100 cm. man fournighty (how visual foener their conquest was) her submitted himselfe in his birth (oc- remains for calioned at Bethlebem by the decree and taxation of Augustus) in his life by paiment of tribute, Garand and in his death by a Roman both kinde and fentence. Per mereges regeant is his Proclamation, Mell desective whether by dimne immediate vocation as in CMofes, or mixed with Les, or mere, or fice boile, or inheritance, accompanied water or with proclimation of the control of t choile, or inheritance, or conqueit of warre, or exchange, or gift, or cellion, or mariage, or purchalesor titles begun in vniult torce, or fraud at first, yet afterward acknowledged by these whom times the it concerned, and appround by time, which in temporall things proferibeth, and preferibeth; by our histories this King of Kings doe Kings reigne, and the powers that he are ordained of USA, to winco entering for foolermift be fabried, even for conscience fake, or proper Desmy, Whospener therefore restrict, the constitution of the fabries and the standard of USA. this King of Kings doe Kings reigne, and the powers that be are ordained of God, to which enc. traces Som. the power, resistant the ordenance of God, and they that resist shall receive to themselves dam- Angential et.

This was written when all Kings were Idolaters and Infidele, nor hal the World many Ages dee after eyer heard, that Infidelitie, Herefie, or Idoiatry werecaute, fufficient for rebellion in Sub- E m. 15.

iccts 1 Pat. 13.

* Hence came ih: Law ers leevold S.T. Smith common w. lih. 1 2.0,10. on ha died

See this questimore I reely in baiting P. La c. t.Read nilo a spanifb ede Indu, He with many arfureth this pretended power of the Pose. Ca clan alfo 2. 2,9.65,4.8. T.Aq. :. 2.9.10.

tet:m:ela. in which he proueth the Popes gift, &c.could not giue just ritler, the Indies, and confor the ritles as yniuft, I King. 2.35. Viel, vbi fup.Bar bari Gan weri domini & pub-Lice to prinatim.

Ius autem gentium ot auad in mullius bonis eft, occupanti cedat. d S.ferebelt. 1 Chro. 18.13. 2 Cro.21. Rom. 5.0607 Gen 4. Gen. 10.

ACL 4 32.34. Lub.12.14. * Thou (ka't not Realerthis forme borderers are reported to hold first put into the deca-Hen.8, They fure are borde-

logue by King rers, that is, thecues in diwill t keit out of the decalogu

icets or invation of Neighbours, as in the many examples of the Ifraelitift and Iewish Kings, which neither inuaded others for Infidelitie, nor were at home deprived for Herefie, though all the neighbours were Infidells, and most of those Kings Idolaters. To viher Religion by the Sword is fearly approved amongit Mahametans, which permit men liberty of foule, though not of body: but to turns all the World into Timars, and Knights or Souldiers fees, is more intolerable. It was barbarous Latine to turne fides into feedum, the title of all free lands of Subjects holden in fide in * t-uff of performing rents, feruices, and other conditions annexed to the first Donation by the imperior Lord : but this more barbarous Diminitie, to dipossesse Barbarians of their Inheria tance, and by their want of Faith to increase our fees of Inheritance, as if all the world were holden of the Pope in Catholike fee, obtruded on vs for Catholike Faith: Christ came not to deftroy the Law but to fulfill it; and therefore did not difanull by the Gofpel, that naturall Comallo a spanijo diunefra Vi- mandement of Alleageance and Obedience to Princes, the Honor due to the Parents of our Coun-Borison his Re- trey. Neitner doth Religion make a Father or Mother, but Nature; and it is faid, Honow thy Falett de pot. Est ther and Mother, without annexion of qualitie good or bad. Nor could Ionathan deny filiall obfernance, or loyall fubication to Saul with fuch excuse; nor could the Keyes that came later expell Scepters, which were of more ancient foundation; nor heavenly Keyes open or flut earthly Doores : nor can Infidelitie which concerneth Dinine Law, yea in matters supernaturall, take away that right which Positive or Naturall Law hath given; nor exclude from just title on Earth. which fome hold pana, rather then peccatum, in such as have not heard : nor can a pretended Vicar challenge juttly, what his Lord neuer claimed, what hee also disclaimed : nor did hee fend 20 Soulders but Preachers, to convert the World to the Faith truly Catholike, and therein flewed artivition himselte a true Salomon, a Prince of Peace, figured by this our Salomon who sent Ships of Merchan-India 3. O fee- dile and not of Warre to Ophir. And as for any High Priests Bull (whole roaring might conjure the foirits of Princes, within the circle of Pontificall centure) those dayes knew no such brutists dialect, yea wile and just Salomon was fo farre from fearing or defiring the Bulls of Abiathar that hee put him out of the High Priests place for intermedling with the Crowne-succession, and fet Zadok in his roome. And for Ophir, long before inhabited (as appeareth, Gen. 10.) he did not for the discouery thereof, then new, challenge iurisdiction or Sourraigntie, as Lord of that Sea or Region by him discovered (no more then the Ophirians had beene Lords of Ifrael, if they had then discouered it ) but left things as hee found them , the Countrey appropriate to the Inhabitants, 30 the Sea open to fuch as would and could in like manner aduenture. Otherwise it was with him and his right in Exion Geber, on the Sheare of the Red Sea in the land of Edom. For this was reculiar (both the shoare and sea adjoyning ) vnto Salomon, chiefe Lord of Edom : which David had before conquered, and so it continued vader the Kings of Inda till the euill dayes of Ieboram the ionne of good leboshaphat, who made like vie of this Hauen, but with volike effect.

> True it is that if Man had continued in his first integritie, Mount of Taum had never proved fuch quarrelling Pronounes, to make warre more then Grammaticall, in fetting all the Parts of Speech together by the eares. But finne entring into the world, yea as an inuading tyrant ruling, it was necessary that proprietie should prevent rapine of the idler and mightier, and incourage the industry of the just laborer, which for the freat of his browes might earne and eate his owne bread, 40 Thus had Cain and Abel their proper goods, he the fruits of the earth, this of his cattell, the proper Obiects of their labour. And when the whole earth was filled with crueltie, God clenfed the confusion of those Fence-breakers by a generall deluge. After the Floud, Noahs Posteritie had the earth divided among it them. And in that renouation of the world, in the Golden Age of the Church, when they had all things common; the reason was, as many as were possessions of lands sold them and brought the price : fo that they had a just proprietie of those their owne possessions, and conferred the same to others, and after it was fold the money was their own and remained in their owne power. Hee that refused to disude the inheritance to brethren, would not diffolue and diffipate it to strangers, and abolish one of the precepts of the Decalogue; for stealing in properest fense cannot bee, if there be no proprietie. Wickedly therefore doe the Anabaptists in generall, 50 the Papifts for their owne aduantage ; the one by confusion, the other by combustions, deprivations, and depravations of estates, remone the Land-marke. Nor doe others well to take away all Sea-markes and right of Marine proprietie.

The contrary weeke in Salomons Ezion Geber. Thorow other Seas hee failed by wninerfall and naturall right, in this as his owne proprietie, he builded his Fleet, prepared, victualled, manned his Nauie, and altogether vied the Sea and Shoares, and Port, as is his proper and just Inheritance.

VI.

VI.

The commendations of Nauigation, as an Art worthy the care of the most Worthy; the Necesitie, Commoditie, Dignitie thereof.

An that hath the Earth for his Mother, Nurfe, and Graue, cannot find any fitter obie& in this World, to bufie and exercise his heavenly and better parts then in the knowledge of this Earthly Globe, except in his God, and that his heavenly good and Inheritance; vnto both which this is also subordinate, to the one as a Booke fet forth by himselfe, and written of his Wisdome, Goodnesse, Power and Mercy; to the other as a way and paffage, in which Man himselte is a Pilgrim. Now, though I might borrow much from Ptolemey, Strabo, and others in Geographies prayle, yet will I rather fixe my selfe on Salomon and his

If Wee should respect persons, and be mooued by authoritie, wee have in this Ophirian Nauigation, the patterne of two most worthy Kings, as two witnesses beyond exception, Iemes and Gentules conspiring; wee aue Reuerend Antiquitie of Time, Sanctitie of Social leagues, Holinelle of facred Delignes, Greatnesse of highest Maiesty, Magnificence of brightest Splendour, Munificence of rareft Bountie, Wildome of sultest Temper, Proussions of maturest Prudences all these in this Expedition of Salomon proclayming, that there is no way by Land alone to the top, of humane Felicity (wherin Salomon also was a type of a Greater)but as God hath combined the Sea and Land into one Globe, to their joynt combination and mutuall affiltance is necessary to Secular happinesse and glory. The Sea couereth one halfe of this Patrimony of Man, whereof God fet him in possession when he taid, replenshthe earth and subdue it, and bane dominion over Gm.q.22 the fish of the Sea, and over the fowle of the Aire, and over every living thing that mooneth upon the Eirth. And when the Sea had, as it were, rebelled against rebellious Man, so that all in whose no setbrils was the breath of life, and all that was in the dry Land died, yet then did it all that time indure the yoke of Man, in that first of ships the Arke of Noab; and soone after the Goad also, 30 when God renewed the former Couenant, and imposed the feare and dread of Man vpon euerie Gen.g.z. beast of the Earth, and upon enery foule of the Aire, upon all that mooneth upon the Earth, and upon all the fifbes of the Sea. Thus thould Man at once loofe halfe his Inheritance, if the Art of Nauigation did not inable him to manage this vntamed Beaft, and with the Bridle of the Winds, and Saddle of his Shipping to make him serviceable. Now for the services of the Sea, they are innumerable; it is the great Purueyor of the Worlds Commodities to our vie, Conueyor of the Excesse of Rivers , Vniter by Vid.D.Amb. Trainque of al Nations; it prefents the eye with divertified Colours and Motions, and is as it were Hexaem 1.34.55 with rich Brooches, adorned with various Ilanus; it is an open field for Merchandize in Peace, a pitched Field for the most dreadfull fights of Warre; yeelds divertitie of Fish and Fowle for diet, Materials for Wealth, Medicine for Health, Simples for Medicines , Pearles and other Iewels for Ornament, Amber and Ambergrife for delight, the wonders of the Lord in the Deepe for instruction, variety of Creatures for vie, multiplicity of Natures for Contemplation, diversity of accidents for admiration, compendiousnesse to the way, to full bodies healthfull enacuation, to the thirsty earth fertile moy flure, to diffant friends pleafant meeting, to weary persons delightfull refreshing; to itudious and religious minds (a Map of Knowledge, Mystery of Temperance, Exercise of Continence, Schoole of Prayer, Meditation, Denotion, and Sobrietie : refuge to the diffreffed, Portage to the Merchant, paffage to the Traveller, Cultomes to the Prince, Springs, Lakes, Rivers, to the Earth; it hath on it Tempests and Calmes to chastife the Sinnes, to exercise the faith of Sea-men; manifold affections in it felfe, to affect and flupifie the fubtileft Philosopher : fuflaineth moueable Fortreffes for the Souldier, mayntayneth (as in our Hand) a Wall of defence so and waterie Garrison to guard the State; entertaines the Sunne with vapours, the Moone with obsequiousnelle, the Starres also with a naturall Looking-glasse, the Skie with Clouds, the Aire with temperatenesse, the Soyle with supplemesse, the Rivers with Tydes, the Hils with moyflure, the Valleyes with fertilitie; contayneth most divertified matter for Meteors, most multi-forme shapes, most various, numerous kindes, most immente, difformed, deformed, vatormed

Monsters: Once (for why should I longer detayne you?) the Sea yeelds Action to the bodie, Meditation to the Minde, the World to the World , all parts thereof to each part, by this Art of Neither thould we alone loofe this halfe of Natures dowrie, without the benefit of this Art, 60 but even the Earth it selfe would be vinkowne to the Earth; here immured by high impassable Mountaynes, there inaccessible by barren way-lesse Deferts; here divided and rent in funder with violent Rivers, there ingirt with a strait siege of Sea; heere possessed with wild demouring beasts, there inhabited with wilder man-deuouring men; here couered with huge Worlds of Wood, there buried in huger spacious Lakes; here looting it felfe in the mids of it felfe, by showres of

This is effefuch as know

the Sunnes

2.6bren.8.

Mynes and Treasures in sterill Wildernesses, which cannot bee fed but from those fertile Soyles, which there are planted, & as it were removed hither by helpe of Navigation. Yea, wheras otherwife we reape but the fruits of one Land, or the little little part thereof which we call our owne lands, hereby wee are inriched with the commodities of all Lands, the whole Globe is epitomiled, and yeel san Abridgement and Summarie of it selfe in each Countrie, to each man. Nor should we alone loofe the full moytie of our Demesses by Sea, and a great part of that other moytie the Land, but the Heamensallo would thew vs fewer flarres, nor should we grow familiar with the Sunnes perambulation, to ouertake him, to dilapoint him of shadow, to runne beyond him, to imitate his daily journey, and make all the World an Iland, to beguile this Time-measurer in 10 exact reckonings of Time, by adding " or loofing a day to the Sunnes account. Nor could wee know the various Climates, with their differing leasons, and diversified affects and effects of the faile about the Heauens and Elements. Nor could we measure the Earths true Dimensions and Longitudes, nor know many creatures both vegetable and sensitive therein (which are our Chattels) nor her high prized Minerals and Gemmes; nor yet could weeknow and vie the varietie of Fowle, or (like interiour Gods) dispose of the winds in the Ayre, bringing constant effects, out of their varietie, and observe their Seasons to flie with them about the World, had we not these Sayle wings of shipping; whereby we out-runne the wildest beasts, out-swimme the swiftest fish, out-flie the lighteft Fowles, out-ftretch the fierceft Windes, out-fet the ftrongeft Currents, out-paffe most spacious Seas, and tame all Nature to the nature of Man, and make him capable of his Natu- 20

> What shal I say of other men? The holiest, the wifest, the Greatest of Men, of Kings, of Kings of Kings (Salomons example speaks all this) hereby honour God, hereby have made themselves to all Posterities honorable. Wil you have al commendations at once? Salomon the Epitome of al human worth and excellence, promiled by Prophesie before his birth, named by speciall appointment of God when he was borne, founder of (that Miracle of Earth, and myfticall Mirrour of Heauen) the Temple; glorious in his other Erections, Customes, Tributes, Riches, Gouernment, and in (that Soule of happinesse) the happy endowments of the Soule in Visions, Wisdome and Holineffe, in his Fame exceeding Fame it felfe, his Renowme attracting all the Kings of the Earth to feeke bis presence, in his Writings elected a Secretary of God to record wisdome to falnation, to all 30 Ages and places of the World, in these things passing others, yea surpassing himsefe (even bere may we say, as before is said, is a greater then Salomon) typing the Great Creatour and Saviour of the World; This first, and most eminent of men, is Ly the first, and best of Stories, set forth as the first Founder of Long and Farre Nauigations, and Discoueries. As for Noahs Arke, it was intended rather to couer and secure from that tempestuous Deluge, and to recouer that handful, the Seed of a New World, from the common destruction, then to discouer New Worlds, or to make Voyages into any parts of the old : though if we should yeeld This the beginning of Nauigation (as indeed it was, though not of Discouery) wee have hereof a greater then Salomon, God himselfe the Institutor and Author, Christs Crosse typed in the matter, Mans Baptisme in the speciall, and Saluation in the generall scope and event. But for Heathens, lofephus hath 40 shewed that Salomon was ancienter then their Gods, not their Nauigations alone; and that Carthage was conceived many yeares after Salomons death: and for Greece, Plato hath recorded that Egyptian testimony, that they in all things were children, which yet doted with age, when the Romanes were in the vigor of their youth. The Tyrians indeed were supposed Authours of this Art, but neither could they make this Voyage, but paffing over Land through the Countries of others, there to build a Nauie, (as in this case they did with Salomen) nor is there record or likelihood of any farre Nauigation of theirs till this, yea, it is likely, that heere and hence beganne the greatnesse and supereminent lustre of their Name; the Art which they exercised at, and neere home before, being thus brought out of the Nest, and by Salomons wisedome taught such remote

> Thus the Author, and thus Antiquity commends Nauigation : and no leffe the ends which mooued Salomon thereto, which were to get Gold, Silver, Iuc. y, precious Wood and Stones, and other Rarities, which gaue fuch luftre to his State, tewel to his Magnificence, glory to his Name. Ornament to the Temple, splendour to Religion, Materials to the exercise of his Bodie and Minde, that I mention not the Cultomes increased, others by the Kings example, adventuring the Seas, and Merchandise quickened. This also he makes the fit Obie & of his Royall thoughts and vnmitchable wildome; not trufting others care, be went himselfe to Ezion-Geber, to make prouificns for his Nauie; yea, and not leaning to his fole Wisdome, Power, and Successe, entred into league with Hiram, and employed his Ships and Mariners, as he, which hath proclaimed to the World, va Sols, and effecmed two better then one, and to have better wages for their labour, and a 60 sbree-fold coard not eafily broken. Hee was not like Behemoth, to trust that hee could draw up lordan into his mouth, much leffe to make a Monopoly of the Ocean, as if the whole East had been created for Ezion-geber: but amidits his incomparable Delignes framed of Greatnesse, clothed with Wealth, enlived with Wildome, attended with Successe and Glory, dildaines not, yea, feekes affiftants, and admits a Heathen Kings Society in this, in the Temples Negotiation; inferring that they neither mind the good of the true Temple, or the Catholike Church, which will not endure Christian comparenes in the Voyage to Ophir, which impound the World in a corner, and entile a corner to the World.

And as he fought not to prejudice Egypt, or any of his Neighbours, if out of their owne Ports they intended to teek the World abroad, no more did he prooue injurious to the Ophirians, with whom he dealt, evther in their Wealth, hindred, by prohibiting all others to trade with them; or (among his many cares of building) by erecting Forts against their wils, as Prisons of their Libertie, and Fetters of their Captiuity.

For if to doe as we would be done to, be the Law and Prophets, this Prophet of the Law would not feeke his owne profit, by inuading the publike of whole Nations remote and to him innocent, and force vpon them to vnwelcome knowledge of God and his people Ifrael, that through their iniuries his Name might be blafbemed amongst the Heathen: but as he might vie his owne right Rom ... where were no people, fo in places inhabited, not to negled the fecurity of his own, nor to viurpe the Sourreigney of the Natives, or prevent and intervert the Rights of common humanity. God that would not (as before is intimated) the price of a Dogge or aWhore, not the Patrociny of alle, would not by publike Latrociny have his Temple adorned, nor fuffer his House to bee built with blond, nor the boly Citie with iniquity. Righteonfresse and Peace kiffe each other in Gods Kingdome, Aba. and acts of Warre though iuft, excluded Danid from the honour of building the Lords Houle. It

20 followes then that Salomon was in this Ophyrian bufineffe, a man of peace, and thereofan example to all following Discourrers, according to that Christian Rule, as much as is possible to have Range As SALOMONS Instice, so his Wifdome and Prudence is exemplary, which though in him supereminent, yet found (as is alreadie observed) no meanes at home to maintaine the glory of Salomon, no meanes by Land correspondent to such Magnificence and Munificence, but addresseth himselfe by Sea and long Voyages to feek it : nor doth he esteeme others eyes enough, nor others affiliance too much, but furueyes his Nauie himfelfe, & is glad of Hirams helpe! Nay, this was not only the jubiect of his wifedome, but the furtherer and Purueyor, by new experiments in Minerals, Gems, Beaits, Fowles, Fishes, Setpents, Wormes, Trees, Fruits, Gums, Plants, 20 Men; Climates, Winds, Seafons, Seas, Lands, Soyles, Rivers, Fountaynes, Heavens, and Stars; and a World of the Worlds Varieties; of all which how foeuer he had received the mayne flocke and a world of the world's various and the free ally employ his Talent, and thriftily improoue that Reuenue, labouring to be more wife, and trancling in Wisdome and Knowledge, and Equitic; and " gave his heart to fearch and find out wisdome by all things that are done under the Hea- * Ecc. 13.16. men, God humbling him with this fore tranell, although be excelled in misdome, all that were before him. in lerufalem. Thus Homers Vlyffer in the Schooles of divers Nations & Navigations is trained to that peerleffe wildom, & thus Ariftotle the chiefeft of Natures Schollers, trauelled with Alexanders Purse and Experience to sumish himselse, and succeeding Ages with Naturall Science and Wisdome. And our Age which God hath bleffed beyond many former, produced as Twinnes Natigation and Learning, which had beene buried together in the same Graue with the Roman Greatnesse, and now are as it were rayled agains from the dead. Hence it is that barbarous Empires have never growne to fuch glory, though of more Giantlike stature, and larger Land-extension, because Learning had not fitted them for Sea attempts, nor wildome furnished them with Nauigation. Thus the Perfian, the Mogoll, the Aboffice, the Chinois, the Tartarian, the Turke, are called GREAT, but their greatine ffe is like Polyphemiu with one eye, they fee at home like purblind men neere to them, not farre off with those eyes of Heauen, and lights of the World, the Learned knowledge, whereof is requifite to Nauigation. The Chinois at home, is hereby stronger, and so is the Twike: but the other are braued by every pett Pirat on their owne shores : the rest like Offriches spread faire plumes, but are watte to rayle themselues from the Land : yea, their Lands alio (as hath happened eo the ataffine ) and Sea-50 townes taken from them to the downfall of their estate. One Salomon left greater testimonies of greatnesse, by this his wisdome and helpe of Nauigation, then many of the later Ottomans, which possessed all Salomons Territories, and perhaps a hundred times so much added. But as God gives huge strength and vast bodies to beasts, yet makes Man by art and reason secure from them, if not wholy their Masters, to to the good of Christendome, hath hee denied Learning to those Barbarians, and skill or care of remote Nauigations, which how otherwise they might infest the World, appeares by their Christian Slaues and unchristian Pirats, whereof they make vie against vs, and whereby their Mediterranean is guarded. But on the Arabian, the Portugals before, the English fince have put a bridle into the mouth of the Ottoman Horle, and shewed how Acon hift. Intil 60 easie it is to intercept his Maritime incomes, and if not to smother him (as the Floridans serve the 3615. Whale by stopping the two holes, whereby he breath's) yet to impouerish him by diverting the riches of the Perfian and Arabian Gulphes.

And hereby is evident that as we have observed in Salomons Infice, and it flome, so Fortinde it felfe here is exercised, hence increased : nor did Alexander thinke it enough to have overcome men, but would also encounter the vnknowne Ocean. Salomons riches made him eminent and fecure, his Nauigations rich. But befides the necessary exercise of Fortitude in the Mariner expoted and opposing himselfe to Step-dame Elements, to Shelues and Rockes from the Earth. Whirle-pooles, Currents, Billowes and Bellowes of the Sea, Tempelts, Huricanos, Tufons, Water-spours, and dreadfull Meteors from the Aire : by Sea-fights is the fafest defence of our owne (as the Oracle instructed the Gracians by Wooden-castles, to fortific against that World of men in Xerxes his Armie) and fureft offence to the Enemy. What reputation of courage, what increase of State, did the Portugals hereby attaine in Africa and Afria? cooping vp the Natines. within heir floures, possessing themselves of divers petty Kingdomes, enriching themselves with the richelt Trade in the World, and that maugre the force of the Moores, of the Egyptian and Turkib Sultani? The Sea was the Work-houle, and Naugation the Anuile, whereon the 10 fortitude of a Woman, wrought the lafetie of her Subiects, and hammered the terrours of that enemy, which was called, Omnium atatum & totius orbis ampl fimi Imperis Monarcha. Nor need I name the Belgian Vnited Provinces, whole Free effate like another Venus arose out of the Sea, and hath forced Mars to woe this Ladies loue and amitie, when force could not rauish her; which feemes fince not only to contemne that force, to neglect this love, but almost wantonly in many of hers, remembers to forget herfelfe in some respects to her quendam best friends, by whose helpe this Neptunian Amazon was secured at home, by whose ayde and example, that I adde not their Name, her Fortune and Fortitude hath attempted both East and West, yea, hath taken away the name of East and West out of the World, and three times compassed the Compasse. Thus hath a little remnant of Land by Sea-assistance, swelled to this present greatnesse, and 20 filled the remotest Indies with her Martiall and Mercuriall Delignes. Now for Temperance, Salomon himselfe stumbled and fell at that stone; neither are Sea-men viually on Land the most temperate: Visites had not heard of Cree or the Strengs, had hee not aduentured the Sea. Yet let this be a commendation of the Marine art, how ever the Mariner be to blame. It is the excellency of the thing that makes it a firong temptation; firong and fweet wines are commended, though weake braines and distempered heads bee justly blamed for their intemperance; in the good gifts of God, beautie, wealth, and honor (as the wormes breede in boft fruits) are the lists of the luft of the flesh, the lust of the eyes and pride of life, which are not of the Father but of the world. Nor was Heauen to blame for the fall of Angels, or Paradife for that of Men, nor the Sea if her riches make mens mindes sea-sicke, wavering, inconstant, distempered, 30 and like the Sea, subject to tempestuous temptations. Yea, if you looke neerer, you shall see, as men blame and feare death for the last farall paines, which yet are not properly of death (which is not in possession till paine and sente be quite disposlessed) but of the remainders of life; so deale they with Nauigation in this cate, whereas the Sea holds them in good temper, and is a correction house to the most dissolute; but the Land makes them torget the Sea and temperance togethers Salomons vxoriousnelle and idolarries were Land beatts, not Sea-fishes: nor could his Apes and Peacecks, the vainest of his Sea wares, teach him that vanitie. The wonders of the Lord in the Deepe teach many, no doubt, deepest Diumitie and profoundest Temperance, though some froth swims on the top of the Sea, and beates on every shore where the winde drives it, carried about with euery blatt of tentation, to the death of more in the wrongly-accused voyage of the East Indies by Bacchus and Venus, then Neptune and Mars, and all fuch other supposed Deities, and perhaps (I will not speake Dutch) that fewry Sea-deutll too. Calum non animum mutant qui trans mare current. They carry their vices with them, which because the Sea, a Schoole of sobrietic and temperance, permits not to practife, breake out on them aland in greater furie. And as Outedo tels of Lice, hat they leave men a litle part the Agores, as they faile to the West Indies, and die and vanish by degrees, nor trouble them in the countrie, but at their returns about the same height (as if they had waited all that while for them) breede afreft; to is it with vices, which being pra-Once, Earth is pedomenant as in our complexions, so in our conditions.

Now for the vertues called Theologicall, Fanh, Hope, and Charitie, the Sca is a great Temple not to contemplace their theory, but really to practife them. Fanh hath her greatest eclipse by interpolition of Earth, as we fee in the Moone; but at Sea, Calum undig, & undig, ponius, no. Earth is feene, only the Heauen (the walls of our fathers Palace) and the inconstant Thisting Elements, which contantly put vs in minde of our Pilgrimage, and how neere in a thin ship, and thinner, weaker, tenderer body we dwell to death, teaching vs daily to number our dayes, and apply our bearts to wifeaome. And what can more lively traine vs in Hope then Sea-navigation, where the life we live is hope, where as Danids former deliverance confirmed him against the vaciroumcifed Philistine, so daily deliuerances from death in so few inches distance by windes and wanes, which like the Beare and the Lion alway allault vs, may the better traine vs to the fight with Go lian himselfe, and as I hauefaid (by death escaping death) to cut off Goliabs head with his owne fword. But the chiefest of these is Charitie, and the chiefest charitie is that which is most commone nor is there any more common then this of Naugation, where one man is not good to another

Salumon and Hiram together, and both with Ophir; the West with the East, and the remotest: parts of the world are toyned in one band of humanitie; and why not also of Christianitie? Sidon and Sion, less and Gentile, Christian and Ethnice, as in this typicall florie? that as there is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptisme, one Body; one Spirit, one Inheritance, one God and Father, to there may thus be one Church truly Catholike, One Paster and one Sheepfold ? And this also wee hope thall one day be the true Ophrian Nauigation, when Ophir shall come into Ierusalem, as Ierusalem then went vnto Ophir. Meane while, weetee a harmonie in this Sea-trade, and as it were the concent of other Creatures to this confent of the Reafonable, united by Nanigation, howfocuer by Rices, Languages, Cultoines and Countries separated. Heanen conspires with the inferior Ele-10 ments, and yeelds, as it were, a Sea Card in the Sun and Stars. The Elements which every where elfe are at open warres; herein agree in iwecteft fymphonie; the Earth yeeding Shores, Capes, Bayes and Ports, as neits; the Aire windes as wings to thefe artificiall Sea towles (fo effected at their first light by the Americans, and by the Negros I and the Sea admitting strange Children into her Familie, and becomming a Nurfe against her Nature, to the Earths generation. What shall I fay more? Omne tulit punteum qui musem viile dulei. To the many profitable effects of Nauigation, many pleasures may be added both of Reason in speculation, and of Sense in more then fenfuall delight. Salomon in his Ophrain voyage furnished himselfe with Gold and Silver, and other folid commodities: with Almuggan trees also, yea with Apes and Peacocks, the one for the mulicall delights of the Temple, the other domerticall and naturall. But I am plunged in an O-20 cean, when I goe about the Oceans praise, which goes about all things: I shall sooner drowne my felie in these Deepes, then measure the true depth of the Seas commendations, or Nauigate thorow the commodities of Nauigation by commerce abroad by his owne, or by Cuftomes at home by others employments. The Text it telfe is a Sea, and needes a better Steeretman to intruct in their Points of Salamans Compelle, which faith more for Nauigation then I can, who yet to thew of Ezion Geber, Eloth, and the Red Sea: that of Edom is received that name, and communicated it to the Indian Ocean, by the Phoenician Nanigations frequent in those times to India.

CHAP.I.S.7. Concent and confent of Elements to Nauigation, Eziongeber where. 21

). VII.

my lose and honour of that Noble Science have adventured to lay this, to pay this as Cuffome for the whole Worke, wherein are returned to many returnes from Sea. And now it is hightime we come to the History it felfe, and historicall or litterall fenfe; the first in our intention, how focuer last in execution.

Nd King Salomon made a Nanie of Ships in Ezion Geber, which is beside Eloth, on the 1.Reg. 9.16, boare of the Red Sea in the Land of Edom, &c.

This is the first and best testimonie of a holy Nauie. Noab had by Divine Wisdome and Precept built a Ship, which preferred the remainders of the Old, and beginnings of the New World , a figure of that Baptifme which now faueth vsby she refurrettion of lefts Christ. I.Pettics. The Temple, a later and liuelier figure of Heauen and Saluation it felfe, must bee furnished with due materialls by a whole Fieet of Ships, which shall not saue alone from dangers, but crowne with fulnefle of ioy and glory; this typically then renewed by Salomon for new supplies every Trinitie of yeares; but there the Eternall Trinitie shall at once bee the Temple, the Sunne, the excee- Apac 21.22,230 ding great remard, and all in all for ever. No passage was found for Ifrael out of Egypt to the Wil- Gen 15.1. derivile (a type of the life by Faith) nor for abundance of the Temples riches the shadow of glo- 1.Cor.15. ry, but by the Red Sea; fo meritorious as the blood of our Redeemer , which , by bloody fweat, whippings, and a thorny Crowne, welled Springs of the water of life out of all parts of his body; 50 out of his hands and feet weelded the foure Rivers which watered the Paradile of God; out of his pierced fide and heart flowed a fea, a Red Sea of water and bloud to faue, to enrich vs, to purchase our Iustification by Grace, and beginnings of Sanctification growing vinto perfect Glory. But as all taire things are farre from easie poffeision, fo is it with Heatien, and all her mysteries , fo is it with vs in this Voyage of Salomon, to know where this Ezion-geber was, from whence he fet fayle, and to come to that Ophir, where he made his Voyage: touching both which, things other wife enough difficult are made the harder by thole mysts, which disagreeing opinions haue raifed in our way. The Text grueth three mirkes to know the first, that it was beside Elosh, on the Chare of the Red Sea, and in the Land of Edom. This third marke of Ezson geber is delineated by Moses, Deut. 2.8. and before in Num. 33. 35. made the two and thirtieth Station of the Is-60 raelites remouing, or march in the Wilderneile. And heerein our Maps of that Chapiter, were in the former Bibles much to blame, which are in that and other respects much amended, in the Map of the Holy Land added to the last Translation. Now that it was on the shoare of the Red Sea, and not on the Mediterranean, this Text prometh : and the conceite of Goropius in this kinde I. Garag Brean, that denieth Idnaes to extend to the Red Sen, and suggest that this Fleet was let forth from the Hillpanichs.

man, but to many Nations as fo many perfons hold commerce and intercourte or amitic withall ;

dunsan Mediterranean shoare, it is as many other disputations of his, more full of industry then wit, of wit then learning, of learning then indgement. Strange are his conceptions, and strong his disceptations, but having weake foundations (grounded commonly on names and wordes buried 16/2-Aniq.1.9. under fucce fion of rubbilhes) they proue in the end (as lofeph Scaliger ipeaketh) but Dollange, more wordy then worthy guides, which doe but verba dare. Againe, that lofephus placeth Effongeber at Berenice, is either a marginall note of tome nounce Geographer crept into the Text, or elle an old error; for Berenice is on the Egyptian shore, Esiongeber on the Arabian. losephus placeth it neere Elana : and in the Text Eleth is fet a guide to Eftongeber. Now Eleth being written in the holy tongue אלהן and אלה was by transmigration shifted and removed to divers pronunciations, a thing vivail in Ebrew names, both of places and perfons. Hee that feeth how 10 John or lames are transported in such valike founds from the Originall, in Greeke, Latine, French, Dutch, Spanish, Italian, English, and other languages, in all so volike and divertified, would scarcely acknowledge them brothers, or to have any kindred either to the mother tongue, or in thole many lifter languages; and to is it commonly with other names.

Str.1.16.

Strabo calls it Aina, Tofephus Einari, the Latins Elana, and the Gulfe or Bay neere to it is termed Elimiticia. Or this place how it lieth, and how the Ancients were deceived, you have the Relations of Don lohn Di Castro, from his owne eyes and learned judgement, supposed to bee 45 66.8.4.13. the same which is now called El Tor, or Toro. Yea the Red Sea is likeliest to have received that name from Edom, as the Pamphilian, Ionian, Tyrrhene, British, and other Seas are ordinarily fo See lige. 6.in named of the Principall shoares they wash. Castro hath better examined the rednesse then any 20 man, and compared the Moderne and Ancient opinions with his owne eyes. And for a Booketraueller, I muit needs applaud Maiter Fuller, Our Country-man, who in the last Chapiter of the rourt Book of his Mifcellanes Sacra, hath muftered the testimonies of the Ancients together, Ge. 25. 25, 30. and attribeth the name of Red-fea to Edom, of whom Idames tooke name, and of him and it, this Sea. For Ptolemey's Idumea is farre short or the Ancient, which contained also Nabathea and their G. 17 12 gla Citie Petra, whence Arabia Petrea receiurd the name; Efaus Sword, (of which his Father had propheted) conquering to both Seas.

Pollide Origini-

This Edim or Efas was that Erysbras, which the Grecians mention to have given name to that Sea, by translating Edom into Erythras or Erythrass, as Cephas into Petrus. Poftellus had flumbled Sea, by training Lawrence Fully and leatnedly hath opened, as other things also pertaining 30 on this Note, which Fully more fully and leatnedly hath opened, as other things also pertaining 30 to our purpose. That there is a rednesse in some parts of that Sea, by reason of the cleerenesse of the water, and abundance of a kind of red Corrall, branching it felfe on the transparant bottoms, Caftro hath made cuident, but that in a small part of that Sea; the like whereof happneth in other Seas of cleerest waters, which show white from lands, greene from weeds, particoloured with pleafant diverfified hue, as Pineda citeth the testimony of Ferandez observed neere to Carthagena in America, euery Stone, Shell, or whatsoeuer else was in the bottom, in those liquid waves voyagel.4-c.t. yeelding to pleafant and various a tincture, as his many Nauigations had no where elfe observed; an! Captaine Saris in this Sea, called anciently Erythran ( which name, besides the Arabike and Persian Gultes, contained the Indian Ocean, so named as it seemeth, from the frequent Nauigations out of Eloth and Efion Geber in Edom vnto India ) was one night almost terrified with a glare 40 yeelding light to discerne Letters, suspected to bee some breach, and proued nothing but Cuttle Fish in the bottome.

Phot.Bib. Co'.1322.0 feq. Mela de fitu orbis 3.7. P.in. 1.6.c.23. thinketh this hed Sea to be fo named of Suph and Ery. threum in one focculation. But those ted Herbs are his creatures : for neither he ci-

But to returne to our Red Sea, Agatharchides in Photius his Bibliotheca, faith it is not called Red of the colour, but in is Swas drawers of fome man which there ruled. The Scriptures call it Siph, Suph, or Souph, translated algosum, caricosum, iuncosum, (to which accordeth Martialli Verse; Strain Steph, Supph, or Supph, transactor agojum, carreojum, un un un un accordent reartinus vetre; Pinda derth Quoqud Eyibra a niger innent Indus in alga) it liemes of the abundance of Rufhes and Weeds Salonali,4.6.10. there growing. The Moores, Turkes, and Traders thereof in later times call it the Sea of Mecca: Mela mentioneth the colour, and the King Erphras there reigning; Plinie addes for the name, The Sunnes repercussion from the Sand and Land; Strabo cites the same out of Eratosibenes, with a tale of Ctefias of a Fountaine emptying his red-okerie waters thereinto, and the Relation of 50 growing there- Boxus a Perstan, that Erythrus a Perstan planted a Perstan Colonie in an Iland thereof. Ouranius in Stephanus tells of the red adiopning Mountaines : the Poetshaue their Perfeut, and others their other conceits and deceits, which I leaue to their Authors, as also Pinedau later device. The nature of that Sea is better delivered in the voyages of Castro, Midleton, Saris, Donnton, Hainers, and others in these our Nauigations. But for Eloth and Estongeber, Master Fuller is of opinion that Salomon in his great Wisdome, wanting fit Mariners, sent to Hiram for Tyrians and Phanicians, and that a large Colonie was fent by Hiram to inhabit those parts, then subject to King Salomon, neither he citeth, nor can I by which meanes Solomon and Hiram enter into societie for the Indian traffick by that Sea of find any au- Edom, lo to get the riches of the East in possession. This Colonie numerous and strong he placeth thenike Auat Estimates the Arsmal, or fittell place of building Ships, and at Estimbthe fittest Port, Mart, and thorfor them. Staple for the Indian merchandife. Thus hee, and very probably : adding that the Hebrew Elath in Photoschath in the lingular, and Aloib in the plurall number, was by the Phonicians turned into Ailaib, whose fingular is Aila, and plurall Ailan: thence the Greekes Aila, Ailana, Eilane, Elana, and the Latins Elana, and by innersion Lana. This Phancian Colonie hee observeth to have beene of most name of all other the Inhabitants thereof. For the Iewift yoke was foone shaken off by the Edomites themselves, after leboshaphats death, leboram rebelling against God, and the Edomites against 2. Chron. 21.8. him. After that Azariah recovered Elash and bails it. It continued not long, but Rezin King of Sy. 2 Re .: 4.22. him. After that 122 arian recovered cime and come is a commission to long, and are the level from Elaste, and the Syrians came to Elaste, and 2 kg. 16.6.

1h: Eding of dwelt there to this day. Thus the lewes which were the Lords, and received the Customes, were Prixange hath expelled; but the Idumean Native; and Phanicians, which might bee viefull to the conquerours Idume: & Strict remained, the Tyrians being Syrophanicians, and speaking the Syrian language, and by their mer- vinerant &c. chanding fo profitable to their Kings.

This Elash was after called Albu Pagus, by Strabo called the chiefe Mart of the Nabataans, Manuscript M. Faller a. 10 whence the Indian and Arabian Merchandite was carried to Petra, thence to Rhimeculura in great. Phanicia neere Egypt , and thence dispersed to other places. Thus in the times before the Ptolemeys. But in Salomons time, and whiles the lewes ruled there, they were brought to lerufalem Sir. 16. and to Tyres ; and after that to Myos Hormes and Berenice , Egyptian Ports on the other fide of the Red Sea, to be thence convayed to Alexandria. Afrianu in his time mentioneth the Gar. Afriani Periplus rison at Albun Pagus and Custome there taken, the transporting of wares thence to Petra, notwith standing the Egyptian flourishing. Saint Ierom also placeth Aslat In extremis finibus Palestine adjoyning to the Wildernesse and the Red Sea : Unde ex Agypto in Indian & inde ad Agyptum nauigatur. Sedet autem ibi legio Romana cognomento Decima; Et olim quidem Ailat à veteribis dicebatur,nunc vero appellatur Aila.

20 Ptolemer placeth Phanicum oppidum, not far from Elana; the Ile Astarte is a Phanician memorial Hewhich will allo; Plinie mentioneth Gens Tyra, and Herodotus the Syrians on the Red Sea flioare; that I purfue fee more of no other Antiquities. Thele Tyrians it feemeth firit began the failing of the Indian Seas, and Habi- thefe failing of tation on the Arabian (hoares, inftructed by the Wisdome, and procured by the Friendship of Saread M. Faller, lomon with Hiram: which they continued under many State-changes, till the Mahumetan times, the Staple of thole Indian Merchandifes being altered after the Iemil times, with the chiefe Monarchies, Affrian, Babilonian, Persian, Ptoleman, Roman. And this is the onely Phoenix-neast Mystery of the made of sweet Spices, in Nature falle (for God made all Fowles at first, and after brought to, and Phonix. out of the Arke, in both fexes, male and female) but true in this Alegory, the Phanicians of all the Nations known, being the only skilful Mariners in the Arabian and Indian feas, and from the one, 30 by the other, bringing the Spices and Riches of the East into the West, that skill being ever communicated not by Generation , but by Industry ; which made Tyru (as Ezekiel delcribeth it ) Ett. 27. 28 the Phoenix indeed of all Cities of Trade in the World, Master Fuller learnedly addeth the Fables Original of of Bacchus and Hercules their Indian Expeditions, to this of Salomon and Hiram, Hercules being the tables of adored of the one, and lebona of the other, which name by Heathens was percerted to hisages Bacchus and and locanos names of Bacchus in Helychius; which agreeth to Plutarchs conceit, that the lewes Hercules. worthipped Bacchus on their Sabbaths, and deriveth the name Sabbatum from outders, and outd. * Take away esos, a name of Bacchus, as his Priests were termed ouccol. Now for that Gulte in which the Graye ier-Strabe placeth Elana, and calls it therefore Elaniticus, and another towardes Egypt, I referre you it is euidente to Castros following relations, which better knew those parts then Strabe could; Gaza by Stra- Punt Spape (14 ac bo and Plinies reckoning seemeth to bee about one hundred and fiftie of our miles or more from One makes it thence. Salomon went in Progresse to take care of this his Ophirian Fleet from Iernfalem to Eft. 157. & a halie, on-geber, almost as farre as from London to Torke.

Asion Geber in Saint Ieroms interpretation signifieth ligna viri, aut lignationes viri, aut dolationes Hieron. Epis. ad hominis, Evanuouspees; whence fome gather that much Timber grew there victual for building Fabiol. of Ships: perhaps, and I rather beleeue, for the Timbers brought thither as to an arfenall or floreyard for that purpose. For as Woods agree not with Moses his Wildernesse, so I find little mention of Wood in all the Arabike shoare; at lest, later times have knowne none there. And Soliman the Great Turke, A. 1538. is faid to have brought the materialls of the great Fleet which hee built at Suer in the Red Sea , to inuade Dium and expell the Portugalis out of India, from remote Regions, Materiam ex longinquis colligi sussit ( Damianus à Goes is our Author ) illamq, sampa Re In inelimabili ad mare rubrum vebi curanit. Comite Venetiane, who with other Venetians were forced to that service out of their Ships at Alexandria to goe to Cairo and Sues, more particular- Ram To.s. ly rela eth that Suer is in a Defert place where no Heard of any fort groweth, where the Armas See in 1.8.2.13 de for India was made, and all the Timbers, Ironworkes, Tackling, Munitions were brought from of these De-Satalia and Constantinople by Sca to Alexandria, and thence carried on the Nile by Zerme (Boats, fersandoi or Rafts) to Carro, and thence on Camells to Sues. This Voyage is eightie miles, in which is nei-Southais in ther habitation, nor water, nor any thing for life; they carry Nilus water on Camells when the Pampida and Carouansgoe thither. In the Pagans times, it was a great Citie and full of Cifernes, and had another (some a trench from Nilus which filled all their Cisternes, destroyed by the Mahumetans, so that now say in ciskie go they fetch their water fixe miles off from brackish Wells. There the Turke built a Fleet of leven-tie fix Veffells of all forts, &c.

Don John de Castro Speakes of this Fleet of Salomon, and fayth, the Timber whereof it was made was brought from Libanon and Antilibanon (to little figne faw hee, or heard of any Trees or Woodsin these parts) and faith, that from Toroall the Coast is West, and without any Port 10 which a Manufcript of but Sues, and that therefore Cleopatras Fleet was brought by Land from Nilm, to Sues over the Ifthmos. This is in 29. degrees 45. minutes, Supposed Arfinos of the Ancients, Some fav, Cinitas Heroum ; and faid to be the Turkes Ar Conale for his Armada, for those Seas, the Materials being brought from Caramania : which at Castros being there, confished of one and forty great Gallies and nine great Ships. It feemeth by Sir Henry Middletons Story following, that their strength in those Seas is weake in later times. As that whole Wildernesse yeelded nothing for mans life. but their food was Manna from Heauen, and their apparell was by heauenly power preferued, fo here Salomons wisdome is freely giuen, and his Materials for an Ophirson Fleet, and Temple Structure must be not naturally there growing. His Mariners also must be borrowed, to shew that 50 the inst line by faith, and in matters of grace, wee bane nothing which wee have not received, not growing out of the naturall powers of free will, but framed out of the will freed by divine grace, agreeing to which Mystery nothing of the Temple was framed in Moriab, nor the noyse of a Hammer once heard; the Tabernacle before built also of Egyptian spoyles; and I frael inheria ted Cities which they builded not, and Vineyards planted by them; and laftly, Christ himfelfe was crucified without the gate, that neither Iew nor Ierufalem may challenge either Monopoly or Merit, but all may bee afcribed to meere mercie and free grace, Non nobis domine, not so us Lord, not to Us but to thy Name be given the glary.

A. VIII.

CHAP.I.S.8. Peru why and whence so named. It was not Ophir.

d. VIII.

of Ophic, diners opinions weighed and consured; whether the Compasse was knowne to the old World; that the remote parts were lately inhabited, the New Worldbut newly, and a great part thereof not yet.

His Golden Countrey is like Gold, hard to find and much quarrelled, and needes a wife

Nyner to bring it out of the Labyrinths of darknefle, and to try and purifie the Myners themselves and their reports. And here our best Asbesians seeme Owles indeed, which dizled with Salomons fplendour hide themselues affarre off, and teeke for Easterne Ophir in Peru, and the West Indies. Such conceits have transported Postellus, Goropius Becanus, Arias Montanus, Uatablus; Posseninus, Genebrard, Marinus Brixianus, Sa, Engubinus, Anenarius, Garcia, Noble Morney, and many others by their authority. Their reason is spelled out of the Letters of Ophir and Peru, to neere of Kinne. Arias Montanus in his Phaleg is both large and little in this point, faying, both much and nothing; for from the Scriptures ftiling the Ophirian Gold פררים Para 14 Main, he gathereth that it was brought from the two Perues, one of which he maketh new Spain, and the other that which now iscalled Pern; or the Northerne and Southerne moyties of Ame-20 rica; and that those parts were commonly traded in ancient times. He maketh the rowe of hils which runne from Panama, to the Magellau Straits to be Mount Sephir: for fo it is faid Gen. 10, Gen. to. 24, Speaking of loktans Sonnes, the brother of Peleg or Phaleg; And loktan begat Almodad, and 28,29,50 Sheleph, and Hazarmaneth, and Ierah And Hadoram, and Uzal and Diklah, and Obal and Abimael and Sheba. And Ophir and Hauilah and lobab: all these were the sonnes of loktan. And their dwelling was from Melha, as thou goest unto Sephar, a Mount of the East; or as Tremelline, ad montes If learned Montanue had viewed his owne Map only, hee should have seene his Ophir in the .Welt, and not in the Eaft : and if it be faid Salomons fleet went by the Eaft to the Westerne parts of the World, as the Philippine and Moluccan thippes of the Spaniards vie to doe, yet Moles 30 speakes of the dwelling and habitations (not of Journeyings and Nauigations) which God after the Babylonian conspiracy had alloted to the generations of men; their dwelling must then bee Thregard of Mofes when he wrote this in the Defert, or of the fcattering from Babylon, whereof hewrote. But these parts of America, are more then halfe the Globe distant from those places Eastward, and much neerer by the West. Againe, the name Pern or Piru is a vaine foundation, for divers places (fee Ortelius his Thefaurus Sepharuam. Geograph. I have like or the fame names, neyther is any part of America by the Inhabitants called 2.Reg. 17. is a Pern, but this name was accidentally by the Spaniards ascribed to those beginnings of their Dif- name as like, Pern, but this name was accidentally by the Spaniaras attribute to those beginnings of the Incas found by Pizarro. and true, adcoueries on the South Sea, and continued to that great Kingdome of the Incas found by Pizarro. ding but a Sa-Garcila fo de la Vega of the Incabloud Royall by his mother, fonne to one of the Spanish Conquego rors, borne and brought vp at Cozeo, chiefe City of Peru, fayth that they had no generall name im a name of a prors, borne and brought vp at Cozeo, there city to 2 m, september of the World; noracknowledge the place libbuard prellation of Perus: but the first Discouerers setting on a fisherman in a River, asked him of the Countrey, and he amazed and not vinders hading them, answered Berus, and annon added Pelus when Allies and the Countrey, and he amazed and not vinders had been a described by the Allifriant.

as if he should say, my name (if you aske me thereof) is Bern, and I was fishing in the River, Pe- his story Tan. In being the common name of a River. The Spaniards, as if he had answered directly, corrupted 2.1.7.6.13. a name of both those words, which they vnderstood not, and called the Region Pern, a name which the Natiues had neuer heard. The like they did in another Province, where asking a Natiue what was the name of the Countrey, he answered, Teltetan, Teltetan, that is, I understand Loper de Comai you not, which they corruptly called Incatan and Tucatan, as if the Indian had affirmed that to be ra Ginbifle. 52 the name of the Region. The like calual names he observeth of other American places.

The Lefuite Blas Valera, in his Hiftery of Perwaffirmeth the fame, that Perw is not the pro- Elas Valbift. per name but accidentall, which the Natives know not. Acofta acknowledgeth it vnknowne to Acoft bill Lt. the Naturals, and an occasioned name from a small River, which Vega faith was called so first by cap.13. those Spaniards, which there tooke the fisherman. Thus the name which they would make as old as Salomon, began but Anno 1515. at the most, and that which is extended to New Spaine, and Peru, was knowne in neither, nor in any place elie of the World.

Thirdly, I answere that Peru was not inhabited, nor yet New Spaine, one thousand yeares after Salomons time; of which I shall speake more anon, and in my following Discourse of the Apostolicall percerinations.

Fourthly, neither could so long a Voyage then have beene performed in three yeeres, beeing farre more then to have compassed the Globe, which hath cost Drake and others three yeares worke : where their worke was not in Mynes but in quicke fights.

Fiftly, this could not then be done without the Compaffe. Pineda may conceit himlelfe that those times knew it, but the Phenicians have in no Story left any such memoriall; nor others of Lem de Occultis Full. Mifceld. 4.6 19. Ec.1,10.

10'e b cont. Ap.

Bookes: Salemm had all knowledge no-

rall, Politike and fauing which God

gaue him fo

large a heart. Burrhe Sea

ledge of the lomen, who compaffe the

Gold of Ophir,

miles ipace.

Perhans the

Whale-con-

wifdom, and to them, yet these were Salomons Sea men. Leuinu Lemniu, and Master Faller would have vs beleeue that the Ancients had the Compasse within the compasse of their art, by reason of the Phamiciaus Marine skill and experience, which we fay might be as much as it was, by the Starres, the Monions, the Soundings, and Shores. Another reason is, the Learning and skill of those times, Whereof Salomon faith, Is there any thing whereof it may be faid, this is new! it hath beene alreadie of old time which was before vs. It might therefore be knowne in those times, and by barbarous inuations be after loft, and by better times restored: I answer that the times were learned before and after Salomon, but when that learning should by Barbarian incursions be lost, I know not. The Egyptian, Affrian, Chaldain inua ions might rather increase and disperse, then eclipse and abohih learning, being then more learned then the Greekes, who borrowed their very Letters from 10 the Phanicians. The Persian times are knowne, and the Greeke Learning then grew to the highest pitch, when their Empire succeeded, and in loue of Learning exceeded the other. Hippocrates, Socrates, Plato, Xenophon, Aristotle, and before them Pythagorus and other Philosophers flourifhed before the Persian ru.nes, and trauelled into the East for that Learning, which they brought into Greece and Italie.

The Romanes borrowed their Arts from the Greekes, neither doe we read of Learning enaporated in Barbarian flames, till the Deluges of those Sauages in the Romane Empire, which yet continued both Empire and Learning in the East, till the West had in good measure recovered it felfe out of those Mysts, and the Barbarous Saracens had growne louers of Learning, and our Teachers. And yet, had there beene fuch Batbarians which had rooted that skill out of the 26 pastern. See Voff. dehilt. World (which is valikely, that Marine skill beeing the best meanes to encrease their Empire, greeu m foure to enrich their Coffers, to doe them other fertices in Warre and Peace, the ancient Conquerors ving Fleets also to their purposes) yet some of the Bookes and Monuments of all Ages, from Salomons time being left to that of the Romans, as appeareth by lofephus fo well acquainted in erflare to Mo. the Tyrian Libraries, and other Authors of divers Nations, and by the fragments which are comne to our hands, and by whole Bookes of Voyages in the Indian and Mediteranean Seas, as this Booke will declare; it cannot be but some mention of the act, if no description of the Art, would haue remained to Posteritie.

Now for Salomon, testimony, it consuteth those which make him the author and first founder of the Loudstone (which to M. Fuller and others seemeth probable) if nothing were then new; it may aiwell be alleaged for many Generations befor, that they also made sinpact Eson-geber, to goe to Ophir for like Rarities ; and against all new Inventions in any Age: which sense is alha bbounds, & ha hoomeds, X fo contradicted by Salomon in the fame Chapter, Verfe 16. Where hee faith, that bee had mora to had some... wisdome then all they that had beene before him in lerusalem: and 1. Reg. 3.12. There was none like bewhit was left fore thee, nor after thee shall arise any like unto thee. This was then a new thing under the Sunne, for 1000 Bestiff this his wildome, which brands vs for Fooles, if wee make him contradict himselfe and divine then he, or any borne of wo-The Scripture would goe one mile with them and shew the vanitie both of men and other creatures, and they post and force it two, applying what Salomon spake of kindes, to individual lacts men. Neither and euents; which might aswell enforce Plates great yeere, and a personal revolution of each 49 was the knowman withall his conceits, words and acts. The Magnete is no new thing, but this vie of the Compaff: ne-Magnete was newly knownetwo thousand years after Salomons death. The Argument to mee ceffarie to Safeemeth a merrie one, rather then ferious, and I will answere it accordingly with aiest. The Isfuite Pineds (which out of Lemniss citeth these Arguments to proue that the Compasse is ancould and did cient) is no new thing as a Man; but as a person, as a lesuite (a new order which beganne 1540.) as an Author which conceiteth that that great fish which tooke vp Ionas carried him in three dayes quite thorow the Mediterranean, and round about the African valt * Circumference (flatim * Aboue 13000 atg, degluttur Ionas, renertitur cœtus velocitate increaibili ad mare Indicum & Sinum Arabicum., per Mediterraneum & Gaditanum fretum, immani totius Africa circuitu, these are his owne words) thefe a e new things under the Sunne, and this a new interpretation , which himfelfe prefaceth 50 ftellation took with Pape! nouam of inauduam exponendi rationem! These particulars are new, and yet that text whale into his is true. I wil not adde (that were too ferious and feuere) that all lefuitifine is new, and their Expo Whate into its Charior, some sictions of Scriptures, Councels, Fathers for the Roman Monarchie, are all new, New-gay-nothings, Vanitie of vanities and vexation of spirit; yet to lye (the genus general simum of Ieiliticall tenents, as they are lefuites; CHRISTIANS is a name too old for them) is as old as the old

But left I be ouer-bold with our Author, and may feeme to palle from a new argument to an old quarrell, and from leasting to ierking; I contayne my selfe, lest any Veterator take mee for a Nouelift; and with reverence and thankes for his better paines, crave pardon for this ioco ferium. and come to his third Argument out of Plantm, where in speech of sayling, hee bath these 60

Planti Mercat.

Hue seenndus ventus nur e est, cape modo versoriam, Hic Fauonius ferenus est, isthic A.fer imbricus.

Here Lemnius, Giraldus de Nauigas, and Calcagninus with others mentioned by him, doe interprete Verforia of the Compaffe: whom Pineda beleeueth not, and yet faith, hee hath quod nostro Acosta reddere possimus requirenti aliquod idoneum ex antiquitate huins acicula testimomium: notwithstanding , hee coniectureth it to bee some pole to thrust the Vessell (if any Inffrument) and acknowledgeth that the Oares and Rudder might bee Versoria, in regard of turning the ship, and lastly concludeth it to be spoken without respect to any Nautike Instrument, interpreting Cape Ver foriam to returne; and that Plantus his actor did point to the Heavens, not to any Instrument, when he said, buc fecundus ventus est, bic Fauonius, &c. which seemeth to bee the Poets true fenfe.

Pineda addes, that we ought not to doubt but that Salamon knew this of the Loadstone aswel as other Stones and Herbs. I answer we have a better Loadstone and Leadstone for one then for the other; the Scripture speaking of him more as a Herbarist, then as a Lapidarie and Mariner. He alleageth, that the attractive facultie would reveale that Polare. I answere, that experience hath produced many Ages to testifie the contrarie; which knew the one, not the other. His Argument from the store of Load-stones in those Easterne parts, concludes nothing for the skill, any more then that the naked artleffe Indians in Hispaniola were better Gold-smiths then the Europeans, because they had more Gold. His last Argument is least, from the Divine Provis dence which would not permit men fo many Ages to be ignorant hereof. For heere we come to an, O altitudo! O the depth of the riches both of the wildome and knowledge of God , bow unsearchable 20 are bis indgements, and bis wayes past finding out? For who hath knowne the minde of the Lord, or R.m.11.33,34. who bath beene bis Connseller?

I like much better that which Pineda addes of the Ancients abilitie to fayle without kenne of the shoare, without Magneticall helpe, which Strabo, Arianns and Plinie acknowledge: and Aratus faith, that the Phanicians followed the Load-starre (not the Load-stone) which Tully citeth also out of him.

Arrianne mentioneth the helpe of the Monions (as now they terme them) or feafons of the meas cognition Windes, observing a constant course in the Indian Ocean, which with experience of the adillam parafrequented Coast, might easily teach Hippalus a compendious passage thorow the Mayne, or lam Chrosuram. at least further from kenne of Land. Whereupon Plone hauing related the former courfe, addes Que faust un-30 Secuta etus propiorem eur sum tuttorem á. e.c. Compendia inuenit Mercator, Lib. 6. cap. 23. They es mellora also observed the flying of certain Birds which they caried with them. But al these could nothing Phanices in alhelpe to a Perman Voyage from the Red Sea, where the knowne Starres were laid alleepe in taus et al. Telbys lap; where neither Birds carried with them, could inffruct to any neere shoare, nor any Certior of Cyaco Birds in the mayne Ocean were to be feene; where the Montons and Seasons of the winde are faratamen falfo diversified; where without the Compasse all things are out of compasse, and nothing but mi- contibus equor, racle or chance (which neuer produce Arts) could fase or ferue them. I have Jooken of the Co. Arat.

Load-flone in another place to which I referre the Reader, leaft that makes mee wander and fine of the flowner which dischards all funds beginning of the drowne, which directeth and faueth others.

Laftly, Pern could not be Ophir, if wee conceine that SALOMON brought thence Inerie; The fixth rez-40 and Peacockes. For Peacockes they read Parrots, and for Inorie they are forced to take it vpby fon. the way in some place of Africa or India, which distraction must needs prolong the Voyage, which without fuch lets could not (as before is observed) in three yeares bee performed. As for fuch (Affe for fuch, I might have faid) which thinke fo huge and vaft a tract of Land as that New World, might bee now emptie of Elephants which then it had (for it is confessed by all Classike Authors, that America neuer law Elephant) as England is ridde of Wolves, wherewith it hath sometimes abounded; Why should not other kinds of Creatures bee veterly destroyed aswell as these, being more hurtfull to the Inhabitants! I meane, Tigres, Leopards, and other rauenous beafts whereof America hath more then a good many. And if they should destroy Elephants for their Iuorie, what piece of Iuorie was ever found in Perm or all America, before 50 our mencame there: If Salomons men had destroyed all, it were inhumane to intercert after-ages. The hunting of Wolues in the North of Scotland at this day, and the huntings vied by many Nations, Tartars, Cafres, &c. eafily tell vs how England was cleered of Wolues; Armies, or Multitules in a large Ring, encircling the beafts, & with Fire, Waters, Dogs, Armes, &c. bringing all into a narrow Compasse, and there killing them. But in the New World that would have required another World to have done it. I adde that no Elephant could come into Pers but by Miracle, the cold and high Hilles enery way encompassing, beeing impassable to that Creature , as wee shall see in our Spanish entrance with Horses. Yea , I averre further , that an Elephant could not line in Peru, but by Miracle. For the Hilles are cold in extre-mitie, and the Valleyes, till the Incas made artificiall Rivers were without water, it never 60 rayning there, whereas the Elephant delights in places very hote and very moiff. But I deserueblame to fight with Elephants in America, which is with leffe then a shadow, and to lay fiege to Castles in the Aire.

These arguments have no lesse force against Columbus and Vatablus their Ophir in Hist aniels: A second on a which from the Red Sca makes a farther fetch with like or greater improbabilities. This errour on for Hills.

then the old.

was more fortunate then learned. For out of a right rule that the World is round, and that there-Colon a happier fore men might layle to the East by the West, Columbus first, and presently after him Sir Scha-Discouerer of fian Cabot made their Discoueries, and stumbled on a New World by the way, whereof they the new World had not dreamed.

Cubots Voyage was to feeke Cathay or China. Columbus his intent was for the East Indies, and finding much Gold in Hipaniela, without examining other difficulties, and fallly suppofing himselfe to have attayned the East Indies, he called that Iland Opher; which conceit Francis Third opinion tor Sorb.la.

Now for Sofala or Cefala, many arguments are alleaged by Ortelius (who here placeth Salomons Ophir) and others. And indeed the abundance of Gold, and the excellencie thereof, as like- 10 wife of Silver, there taken out of the Mynes; Peacocks, or Parrots, whether you choose to interprete ; Elephants, Apes, (Monkeyes and Baboones) excellent Woods for fuch vies as the Almuggim Trees were applied; all thefe, together with the easie Nauigation from the Red Sea thither along it the African shoare; and lattly the name it selfe may seeme to plead for a Sofalan

See infl.g.c.ta Opbira, or Sophira (as lofephus cals it) in this place. Ioaon dos Santos lived eight yeares in those parts, and alleageth many things to this purpole. He faith that neere to Maffapa, is a great high Hill called Fara, in the Kingdome of Monomotapa, to which hee will not fuffer the Portuguis to passe lest the rich Mynes should cause their too potent Neighbour-hood. On the top of that Hill are old ruinous wals of lime and ftone. Barrius faith, their are also vnknowne Letters over the gate: the people ignorant of fuch workes, fay they were built by Deuils, thinking them im- 20 possible to men, judging others by themselves. They are five hundred and ten miles from Sofala, in one and twentie degrees of Southerly latitude. He coniectureth it to bee Prolemeys Agy-T. Layer ap Ra. fimba, the buildings being still called Simbaons. Thomas Lopez addes, that the Moores affirmed, that their Bookes and ancient Writings contayned, that King Salamon fetched his Gold in his three yeares Voyage from thence.

At that time 1502. there were warres, but formerly the Moores of Mecca and Zidem, vied to carrie two Millions of Mitigals (which are about eight stillings a piece) yeerely from thence. But to returne to Santos, hee alleageth a Tradition of the Natives, that these Mynes and Buildings belonged to the Queene of Saba, and that othersascribe them to Salomon, making this Fa-Infra Iom 1. ra or Afara to be Opbir, See the place, and his pleading of this point, wherein I could be per-30 $1549. fwaded to be of his minde, if that Mofes did not place Opbir Eastward, Gen. 10.30. Who (it is likely) gaue name to this golden Region.

There are that feeke for Tarfhifh at Carthage, and some I have knowne which place Ophir neere A fourth and fith opinions, Gambra. Of this minde was Captaine lobson, which travelled up that River, nine hundred and fixtie miles, and heard fuch golden reports of the In-land Countreyes, as this Worke will from him deliuer to you, And indeed I doe easily perswade my felfe, that the richest Mynes of Gold in the World are in Africa; especially in the heart of the Land from the Line to the Tropike of Capricorne. (See our Relations out of Bermudez, Jobson, Battelland others) and I cannot but wonder, that so many have tent so many, and spent so much in remoter Voyages to the East and Weit, and neglected Africa in the midit; which perhaps might prooue as much richeras 40 neerer, then both the Indies. But Retlum eft index fui of oblique: if wee flew Ophir to bee in the East Indies, it cannot be in America or Africa, volleffe we be of Acoftas opinion, who howfoeuer he thinketh that Salomons Gold, &c. came from the East Indies, yet coniectureth that Ophir and 10f. Acoft. 1.14. Thar fis lignifie no certayne Regions, but are taken in a generall fenfe, as the word India is with vs, applied to all remoter Countreyes. Ophir might be any of the former, remote farre from the

But I can tell that India received his name from the River Indus, still called Sinde, (which hath also foiled all our Geographers hitherto, making it to passe thorow Cambaya, which Sir Thomas Roes Voyage will confute, that it is leffe maruell if Ophir trouble vs so much) and because the Countreves beyond India, were fo meanly knowne by their true names, and Indus came from fo 50 remote Regions, they continued and extended that name to them : and (as even now you heard) Colon by miliprifion called America, India, not dreaming of a Westerne, but supposing that by the West, he had arrived in the Eastern India. Now, why Ophir should be so dilated, I see no such rea-Asoft opinion. fon. Tarfbifb we shall better examine after. And for others opinions of Ophir to be an Iland in Other opinios the Red Sea called Vrphe, or Ormus in the Perfian, they are not worth examining : beeing not able to yeeld Gold, and the other Commodities which Salamon fought.

The truth of Ophir mult as from a deepe Myne bee drawne out of Mofes, Gen. 10. Wherein although wee cannot approve the opinion of those which conceine Moses in that Chapter, to have let downe the just number of Languages and Nations, as if there were seventie two of each, and neither more nor fewer; yet it must needs be granted, and the Text plainly auerreth, These 66 are the Families of the sonnes of Noah after their generations, in their Nations, and by these were the Gen. 10.31-32. Nations divided in the Earth after the Flond : and particularly of the Sonnes of Shem (here queltion ned ) These are the sonnes of Shem, after their families, after their tongues, in their lands, after their Nations. So that wee gather that the first originalls of Nations are there mentioned, such especially as concerned his Eccletiafticall flory, or was necessary for the Church to take knowledge of For neither were they all differing Nations and Languages which hee mentioneth, nor areall Nations or Languages there mentioned. For eleven of them are the fons of Canaan, which all peopled that little region, which I frael after by lofbuas conduct poffessed: al which also spakeone language, or elfe Abraham & the Patriarks must have learned many tongues in their frequent peram-bulations; which some thinke the same which the Ifraelites spake, & sudge it enident in the Hiitory of the first Spies, and of Rababs entertaining of the later Spies; and that it is called by the Prophet, The language of Canaan, Ef. 19.18, and carried thence into Egypt before by the Patriarks, to whom lofepb ipake first by an Interpreter, but in revealing himfelte, hee with bis owne month 10 (that is, in their tongue) pake unto them, when the Interpreter and all others were excluded.

And in the whole ftory of the Old Testamene, no difference of language is notified in all the commerce and cohabitations of all forts of both Nations. * Prifeian faith, Lingua Pomorum Chal- * Prifeile. dae vel Hebraa similis : and Saint lerom, Paniquasi Phani, quorum lingua Hebraa magna exparte Hie on ad tei fi confinite off. Saint Angustine often faith as much; and divers wordes of the language confirme it.

As for a Shahaleth, and Shaleth, or fome difference of Dialect (which were fee with we almost in 104. Aug de As for a Shiboleth, and Sholeth, or some difference of Dialect ( which wee see with vs almost in verb. Dum. 125 enery Shire) wee make not that a difference of, but in the Language. And so it seemeth it was cont. Li. P. Li.3. in the first Ages, before Conquest and Commerce brought in so many new wordes to the Punter Dec. D. 16.6. language. The Punite Scene in Plantus his Panelus, by * Scaliger, M., Selden and others is found a Ge Ber. Ad ete kind of Hebrew, atter all those ages and changes. I will not herein contend with M. Fuller and Antegal 2 c.2. 20 others which haue written contrary. But either they were the same, or not much differing : beometicedit.

and (which I principally aymeat) all these eleven Nations had the same language at left in the Emend. Temp. Patriarkes times, and not vnlike the Hebrew, which was fo little altered, after fuch altera- SeldendeD S. tions of time and place. Now because that Countrey was given to Abrahams posteritie, Moses is more exact in bounding the places, & intimating the peoples, then in all loktons posterity (which it seemeth peopled und education one hundred times fo much Countrey) as not pertaining to Ifraels Inheritance, and not much to. in Egop bad their neighborhood or knowledge. And if Salomon imployed aboue eight fcore thousands in con- no meanes o tinuall workes so many yeeres for the Temple, how many shall we thinke imployed themselues learn tonguess in that Babylonian structure, which occasioned that diversifying of languages; and which is there-30 fore likely to have happened long after Pelegs birth, by which time the world could not likely be so peopled ! Neither may wee deny more then ordinary multiplication in those first Ages after the Floud : though we grant a good space after Pelegs birth , for how else could such a multitude haue affembled fo foone to fuch a purpole! Weetee the like admirable increase of the Ifrae lites in Egypt, in delpite of bloudy butchery and flauery, which yet asked aboue two hundred yeeres, from seuentie persons. And can any man thinke that where a World was multiplied, that the Fathers had no more Sonnes then are there mentioned ! especially seeing of Semiline, Gen. I I.it islaid they begat other fonnes : and of them are expressed fine generations, of the other but ewo or three, and most of them omitted, except such as most concerned Ifrael in neighbourhood or other affaires. How could lockton yeeld thirteene Nations then, when Peler gives name ac to none, till of Abraham, fix generations after, some were derived ! I suppose therefore that Mo. fer there names not all Nations, as writing not a Story of the World, but those principally which by vicinitie or Inheritance, or future commerce (as this Ophir and his brethren) it behooved the 1/4raelites to take notice of; especially Him, who was to alter Mojes his Tabernacle into so glorious a Temple, and to bee so lively a figure of a greater then Mofes and Salomor both. Nor is it likely but that there was a greater confusion of languages, then into so many as can bee gathered in the tenth of Genesis; or that all there mentioned differed in tongue from each other; for to Shema Cham, and I apheth should never have vnderstood each other, nor their posteritie. It is probable therefore, that God multiplying the World in fo short a space ( which, as I said, I rather thinke to have hapned some good while after Pelegs birth, then at that very time) almost to a miracle, most men of most families were there, and their languages also miraculously multiplied; ( The 50 lewish tradition is that it hapned a little before Pelegs death, as Genebrard observeth out of them) but being a confpiracy against God, many others were not there and retained their ancient

Ebrew; especially the pious and religious Patriarkes. Such perhaps was Peleg himselfe, then a man of yeeres, and therefore his name given him of that diuntion in others. For if any thinke that Pelegs name intimates the building of Babel at his birth, we fee that Abraham, Sarah, and Iacob had their names changed in their riper yeeres. This division of languages caused that dispersion, Therefore is the name of it called Babel (or Confulion ) because the Lord did there confound the language of all the Earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad upon the face of all the Earth. Yet cannot we say that presently this was 60 wholly executed, but even then fo many as spake one language, dwelt together in one Region: Other Persons and Families in other Regions, which then were thinly planted, and in processe of time more fully peopled, and Colonies also derived to people remoter Regions. For although Man, (that is Mankind) hath a right to all the Earth, yet heere there was a very great part of the Earth unpeopled in Mofes time, yea to these dayes of Ours. And if we marke all the Heads The Spies has of Families mentioned by Mofes, wee shall see none, which at that time had inhabited to farre as this our Britaine: but how much neerer the Regions were to the Arkes resting, and Babels contufion, to much fooner were they peopled. Sure it is that fome Ages after, the best and most frequent Habitations, and neereit those parts were but meanly peopled, as appeareth by Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, Lot, Laban, and their children wandring and remooning from place to place with their great Flockes and Herds, as if Grounds and Pattures had then even in the Regions of Syria and Gangan beene of Imall value. Compare Abrahams time with Iofina, and you shall see a great difference, more Cities and Villages feeming then builded, then before were Families of note, and that in foure hundred veeres space. Ammon, Moab, Illimael, all the Families of the sonnes of Keturah, and that of Edom, with innumerable other were not in rerum natura, neither the language 10

( which it feemes by mixture with others was altered ) nor the Nation. Yea how poore a thing was our Britains in Cafars time, either for the numbers or civilitie? How thinly is all the Northerne America, from thirtie degrees vpwards towardes the Pole inhabited (a world of Continent by no probabilitie, containing in the whole fo many people as fome one small Region in Asia or Europe. All Virginia, New-England, and New-foundland, cannot have (not with standing such commodious habitations and innumerable commodities ) fo many Inhabitants, fo farre as my industry can fearch, as this one Citie with the Suburbs containeth, though we adde all even to the Pole, and take one hundred miles within Land along it the Coast all the way; which easily argueth the later peopling thereof. Neither is there any America newly thing in all America which doth not indeed proclaime ita New World. For as in the Old World, 30 first there was simplicitie of Herdmen, Shepheards, and Husbandmen; and after that Trades, Merchandise, Riches, Cities, Kingdomes, more curious Rites Civill and Religious, and some Monuments of them (which those which had, esteemed others for the want therof Barbarians & Sa-

Picture ftory ftory 1.7.4.13.

mages, as a wilder kind of men ) and this Civilitie, Cities, Populations and Kingdomes began in Affria, Egypt, and other places neerer the first confusion, and after proceeded to Greece ( whom the Egyptians called children, as is before faid, for their later Civilitie, Arts, and Histories ) and thence to Italy, which was long twadled in Roman rusticitie, and later attained to politer Sciences; and thence into France (as wee now call it) and after that into Britaine, and later into Germany, all by Roman Conquetts and imparting Arts with their Armes : fo may wee judge of the New World, wherein two Empires were growne great, chill, rich, and potent, after their man- 30 ner as our Mexican and Inca stories will shew in due place. This their greatnesse produced stories of their Acts by Quippos, Pictures and other Monuments, which derived to posteritie the knowledge of former times and acts. By which we may gather that the Northerne America was first peopled, and that probably from the Easterne or Northerne parts of Asia; and communicated To.2.45.6.7. people to the Southerne parts, the Northerne Antiquities of Mexico, being ancienter then those Vegatis Inca of Peru. Those first flories also (fee them in the Picture-Booke, and in Vega and Acosta following ) how raw and infantly beginnings and proceedings doe they flew ! What barbarisme ! Yet neither containing memorialls of one thouland yeeres : So that allow fixe hundreth yeeres to meere breedings and barbarous infancy, with creeping in dispersions, as out of the cradic of A. merican humanity amongst them, till they were fuller of People and Townes, where one wit whetes another to new deuices, yet we scarcely come to the times of Christ and his Apostles. I may adde, that till about one thousand two hundred yeeres after Christ, neither of those Empires were worthy the names of pettie Kingdomes, and even then had scarcely crept out of the shell. Now for Ilands in the Seas betwixt Afia and them, as also along the North Sea, as they cal it.

on the Easterne shoare of America, in the North and South parts thereof also, these Relations will thew you Worlds of them not yet peopled. The Southerne Continent is yet but faluted on the Shoares and Ilands, of which we may no leffe coniecture much emptineffe. For the fulneffe of the Continent disburthens it felfe into Ilands ; and fulnesse of the first peopled parts, Asia, Africa, and Europe, made them feeke to root out one another by the Sword, or to polleffe vacant places by Sea or Land, which either chance or industry had found. But except Descalion and Pyrthe had 50 fowne flones to procreate Men, or Cadmu his fowne teeth had procreated Armics, or the Clouds had rained Peoples, as they are faid to doe Frogs, I know not how wife and learned men (by their leaves inconfiderately enough ) fill China and America with people in those dayes before Moles and Abraham, and find great commerce and knowledge of the New World, when the Old was but vefterday begun. So necessary to Humane and Divine knowledge is Geographic and History, the two Eges with which wee fee the World, without which our greatest Clerkes are not the wifest men, but in this part blind and not able to fee farre off. If any deride this as paradoxicall and new, I fay againe, that in America alone, to much as hath beene discouered , and whereof knowledge from ey-witnesses hath comme to my hand, partly in the Continent, partly in Hands, as much (and in great part as commodious for mans vie) as all Europe, is either wholly vnhabited, or fo thinly inhabited, that men roague rather then dwell there, and fo as it would feed and fustaine a hundreth, perhaps a thousand times as much people by due husbandry.

ò. IX.

ð. ÍΧ. I O C T A N s Posteritie feated in the East parts of Asia, among St them, Ophirin India vitra Gangem, where CHRY & E was of old, and now is the ... Kingdome of Pegu, and the Regions adiogning.

Fricafell to Chame part, with some adoyning Regions of Asia; Asiait selfe in greatest part to Shem, and Europe with Afia Minor, and the Northerne parts of Afiatol Part to Shem, and Carope with Alan Annor, and the Toutherne parts of Alan Montant hat lapheth. Their very names have left memorialls of them, as Arisa Montanus, lumins, le Browning

Broughton, and others have observed, to whole Commentaries I referre the Reader. Concent. ice my But for Istians innes, we find in and neere to India, the prints of all their names. Elmodad hatha Pilg. L. 1. left his name in the Hill Emodie, whence the Indian Rivers flow , and Comedie , the greatetha Hills of Asia, elfewhere called Tamas, and by divers names as it runneth thorow, divers Counted tries, from the one end of Afa to the other : also in the Themeota or Thetmonta in Sarmatia. Of Sheleph are the Mountaines Sariphi, whence Oxin Howeth, Seiloris a famous Lland in their dayes. Of Hazarmaneth, Sarmatia; of lerab, Aria and Arachofia; of Hadoram the Ort; Orta, Oxidirach: alio the Adraista, Andresti, Adresta: Ot Vzal, Muziris, Musopalle, Ozoana, Oxin, Vdia, or Odia: a Citie, and Udezza a Kingdome, in India; Anzacia, a Citie extra Imanm, and Auxacitis. Of Diblah, Delly, Dankalee, Tacola and Tagola; alio Dela, Dekaka, the Laos, Bacola, Bengala, and 30 (by convertion of D into R, not vinuluall) Rhacan and Arracan, Orixa; Dandagula and Dadala. Of Obal, the Bolita and Cabolita neere Paraponisus; of Abimael the Mount Imaus, and the Malli in India mentioned by Curtius. Now for Sheba and Hauilab; Cush had Seba and Hauilab, and his sonne Raamab had also Shea Gen. To.; ba; all mentioned in the fame Chapiter : and lokfban Abrabams fonne by Keturah, begat Sheba : Chulb ins two fonnes , were Authorsof the Sabeans in Arabia, fo famous for the Merchandile of Gen. 25. Myrrhe and Frankinsence; some diftinguish the Sabai in Arabia deferta ( whose posteritie robbed lob) from the richer Sabaans of Sheba in Arabia Falix, whence that rich Queene called of she; lob.1.15. South ( that Countrey is called Alieman, that is, the South, to this day ) came to wifit Salomon. 1. Res. 10. Abrahams Sheba had his habitation Eastward in the Northerly parts of Arabia deferta; as if his 30 kindred by the flesh, the sonnes of Ketwah and Hagar ( the carnall Ifraeliter, and such which insist. Gala, on Infiniteation by their owne Workes of the Law ) (hould never have to doe with Canaans fertilitie and felicitie, the type of Heauen, Righteonfueffe, Peace and leg in the Holy Ghoft ; but diftract Rem.14.17.

themselues in wandring errors, & a disconsolate milerable estate, as those Arabians do to this day Tokeans Sheba was Author of the Saba beyond Ganges; of Sabana, Sabana, Sobanas; and now Siam, Champa, Camboia, are famous in their parts.

Hamila of Chut is bee which planted that Countrey, at the entrance of Sufiana in Perfia, commended, Gen. 2. for the Gold. And of him also might Abila in Syria, and Aualites, a Bay and Port on the Red Sea, and the Analita popul, which thence removed into Ethiopia, and the Chaliber among the Tropbodyte bare names.

40 Lottons Hanila might give name to the Ile Sundina, the Gulfe Tanai, to Ana, Martanan, Cane lan alfo, and Cublan all Kingdomes lately subject to the King of Pegu. The Anares in the Northerne parts might bee a deduction from him, Chaberis also and the Avadies a Badrian Nation, by some called Sanady, and the Auchata, where Hipanis springeth; the Abi and Indian Abali, and Zeba; Abarmon alio in Scythia, and Isfual, a Kingdome in these daies. Of Iobab came the labadit, the lbi, or 'Ical' (an Indian Nation) the Sobi, and Sarmatian Ibiones ; lacubel alfo in the Kingdome of Pegu, the He lana, lamba, and in old times Barebe and Beginga.

Some impression of the name of Opbir is left in Opbar, a Sarmatian River, and the Opbarita, and Ortelities. in those names of the Hil Taurus, Paropamisus, Pharphariades, otherwise Pariades, Parthenasis, Para Geogr. in voge tao, Chaboras, Ofcobar, Pariedrus, Para; Choatra, Parthaus, Tapurins, Opurocarra, Bepyrrus, Parfue- Taurus. ens, Paryadres. I might adde the renowmed Indian Iland Taprobane, the Prafy, Hippuros, the Citie SC Paraca, Palibothra, Perimula, Doperura, Sobura, Cottobora, Sippara, Mapura, Caspira, Brachme, Brachmane, Opotura, Pharitras , and other names in Ptolomey , and the Pharafy in Curtius. Also the Hippari in Plinie, to omit Porus the great King of India, whom Alexander lubdued. And many places of principall note in India in these dayes have such a termination, as Fetipore, lounpore, Sina pore, Merepore, and the like, of more certaintie then the occasionall and yesterday name of Peru.

Thus have wee brought arguments of names, to find all lottans posterity in the way to India. or the Inland Indian Countries, where it is likely they full feated themselues, and afterwardes spread themselves both to the Northerne Sarmatians, and Sythians, and to the Sea Coast Southerly after the Floud, some feare whereof did not a little terrifie the first Ages. At this day Tippara, 60 Serepore on Ganges, Caplan, the place where they find the Rubics , Saphires, and Spinells, fixe dayes journey from Ana, Pegu it felfe, and the Bramas, which founded the New Citie, and which still people the Kingdomes of Prom, Melintay, Calam, Bacam, Miriam; and Pardabin, Purhola at the Spring, and Benpurhat the entrance of Ganges to the Sea; the Straits of Cingopura. with divers other places in thole Regions where wee place Opon, have fome foot-prints left of that name after fo many Ages. Their Brachmanes, Probar their chiefe God, Talipoies their Priests might be added for found. But words are windle, founding and not found, wordy not worthy arguments, except things agreeing make the truth enident. For accidentally names are the fame in diuers Countries, as it any man luft to obserue in a Geographicall Dictionary, hee shall

These are onely probabilities which are to be weighed with the words of Moses, And their dwelling was from Melha, as thou goeft onto Sephat, a Mount of the East; admontes Orientia ofque; Ptol 1.7. Teb.4. Tremelius reades it : lofephus interpreteth from Affris to a Rivet of India called Cophene. Sepher is, if ye receive Montanus, the Pernan Andes, the Mountaines of the West in the World's fitustion from Babylon, and the place where Mofes wrote; Ptoleme mentions Sipphers not farre from Emphrates: Postellus makes it Imans, Saint Hierom placeth it in India: Sepharuaim of the Affrians (which is perhaps Ptolomies Sipphara, is often mentioned, and confirmeth well that opinion ot losephur. From Mesa therefore which taketh his beginning East from those parts where Mofer wrote, being also part of that hill Tourns whereto we have found all lottons Sonnes neighbouring (afterwards called Mount Mafins, in Mefopotamia) to Sepbar, another part of that great Hee nameth hill Taurni, both Eastward, and thence also in processe of time to further Easterly Mountaines, Mela and Sethe remotest Easterne parts of Taurns, did lokeans Posterity spread and disperse themselves; one phrt as ortter the remotelt Eafterne parts of Taurus, did Infrans Polterity Ipread and disperse themselves; one knowne, & but of the most Easterly whereof we finde this questioned Ophre. Or it any like rather to finde them more Easterly, Plinie mentions the Masuand Mesa in India, and there also is Ptolomies Sathe entry of their further para and Soppara, agreeing with Sephar: Sarpedon also and Sariph are hils so called, parts of population, ad montes eriencis vique, as Tre-

2 Rez. 17.22. E/a) 36 &c.

It remaines then to fee whether the Commodities of those parts, and the Voyage thither be correspondent to the Scriptures description. For the Commodities, we will give both auncient, mellim tranmiddle, and moderne testimonies (with this difference, that the auncient and middle are not fo particular nor directly expressing and notifying places and things as the last ) the rather because this hath beene the stumbling stone to Ortelins, and others, to make them seeke for Ophir eliewhere. The Ophinian Voyage (it is probable) comprehended all the gulfe of Bengala from Zeilan to Sumatra, on both fides : but the Region of Ophir we make to beall from Ganges to Menan Tab Ale 11, and most properly the large Kingdome of Pegu, from whence it is likely in processe of time, the India ext. Gas. Southerly parts, even to Sumatra inclusively was peopled before Salomons time.

In India beyond Ganger, Ptolomie placeth both Argentea and Aurea Regio. Super Argenteam 30 autem rezionem, in qua multa dicamtur esse metalla non seguata, superiacet a Aurea Rezio, Besso prisis ap-propinquans, que & spsa metalla auri quam plurima babes. Arrianus in his Periplus, or Treatile of propinguest, que & opla metala aux a guemp par propinguest.

the failing about the Erythram Sea (which as is faid before contained the Indian) speaking of the failing about the Erythram Sea (which as is faid before contained the Indian) speaking of the Galdon Rection. neces Ganges and the rifing and falling thereof like Nilus, placeth xpuri, or the Golden Region, neere * เทาที่จะพระ to it, and addes the reports of golden Mines in thole parts. ลองหามี รูป รองหามูล เรากะ Golden Kegion, neere วุสเราะ ที่สามารถ เกิดเลือก เป็นสาร์ตหนาย เกิดเลือก เป็นสาร์ตหนาย เกิดเลือก เป็นสาร์ตหนาย เกิดเลือก เป็นสาร์ตหนาย เกิดเลือก เป็นสาร์ตหนาย เกิดเลือก เป็นสาร์ตหนาย เกิดเลือก relating the Tributes paid to the Persian Monarch, faith, The Indians at they are more in number then other men, fo their tribute is greater, 360. talents of Gold and then addeth the reports of Ants, not so bigge as Dogges, but bigger then Foxes, which cast vp antheaps full of golden lands. Arrianus cites Nearchus and Megaithenes (whom Strabo produceth alfo) for thele Ants, which I thinke rather to be an Embleme then a Story. For as Salomon fends the Sluggard to schoole to the Pifmre, to learne of that little creature great industry and providence, so Salomons and other

Pro.6. & 30.

Princes Mines could not be better expressed then in such an alegory; living in darkenesse, and as it were buried aliue, and bearing excelline burthens, yet baited with poore dist and wages. And Fab de reb. Met. thus Georgius Fabritius, Indi fuos Metallicos puppungs appellarunt, unde fabulis locus, &c. The like fable they had of monstrous Griffons, thereby expressing the miserable monstrosity of couetousnesse. Plinie hath (speaking of the Indian Nations) Fertilissimi funt auri Darde, Seta vero argenti. Sed omnium in India prope, non modo in boc tractu, potentiam claritatemque antecedent Prasi, amplisperhaps is now St. ab.1.15.

Plu. Alexand. omnes dues flipendiantur, &c. Thele Prafy placed neere Ganges, Plutareb cals Prafy, Curtius Pharasy, Diedorus Tabrasy, all which names they which know any thing in Ebrew, can tell how easily they may be derived from Ophir, passing the Greeke termination after other changes. And Palabothra, or Palimbothra is by Arrianns placed at the confluence of the Rivers * Erannoboa and Ganges, Strabo peakes of the failing vp Ganges to Palibothra against the streame, and faith that Ganges descends from the Mountaines and from the plaines takes an Eastward course; then paffing by Palibothra a very great Citie, enters the Sea with one channell, although it be the greatest of the Indian Rivers. Master Fitch our Country man spent five moneths in passing downe y Saub-(fina): Garger (the might have done it fooner) and mentions Serrepre, which (as Sambal? by the first owners tema (viluale) may feeme to be the lane by the fitta ion, trafficke, and last (yllable) and tels of the Gold Mines in the way. Diedorns Siculus, speaking of India faith, Nascitur mea ingens argents aurique vis, non parum quoque aru, ferrique & orichalci. Another Diodorns in his Geographicall Veiles faith of the Indians Gold-mining :

ma w be dissiffinaque Palibora: unde quidem isfam geniem Paliborro; vocane, imo vero trattum von-ner fum a Gange. Regi corum peditum fexcenta M. equitum triginta M. elephantorum nauem M. per

Τω, δ' οίμβε χευσοΐο μοθακλάδουσε χερίθλίω Yaupor ingrauman sazairorres paxis pers. and after zevenie Spidalo Daudenilu Traris Te piper, Deide Te Mejape G Az Cportates notaled ; Site d' supece Humbelo

CHAP.I.S.9.

Oproussos messeusis on layanda zoelus. Pomponius Mela mentions those Ants, More Grypherum keeping the Gold, cam Jumma per- Melalas. nicie attingentium, He, Solums, and Plinie mention Chryse and Argyre so plentifull of Mettals, Plini 6.21. that men reported the foyle was Gold and Silver : to hyperbolicall reports were raifed of Solincap. 54. their itore.

But as the ancients knew not these parts of India so well as later times, wee will produce la-To ter testimonies. And generally it is esteemed in the remotest East parts, that Gold by reason of the plenty hath not his true and naturall preæminence aboue Silver (which ordinanly is twelve See To.a.l.s.c.) to one) but lower by much, in some places more, in some lesse, as the following Relations will $.6.14.92. & better acquaint you. So Marco Polo laith that in the Province of Cardandan, they give one Cardandan aounce of Gold for fine of Silver : Gold being exceeding plentifull, which many brought tho- bout the head row the Defarts to change as aforefaid, the wayes being vnpaffible for others. I omit the gol- of Gangere den Monument he mentions in Mien. In Tholoman hee faith, is great quantity of Gold. The former place is somewhat Northerly, this Easterly from the necke of the Chersonessus. Nucle de Conti mentions Bels of Gold commonly fold in those parts, still in vie in Pega to put in mens yards. Odoarde Barbefa mentions store of Gold at Queda, and in the Kingdome of Pam, in this 20 Cherfoneffut. But I am too fuddenly flipt into later times: Long before thele, Saint Ifidore mentio- #d.l.14.131 neth Chryle and Argyre plentifull of Gold and Silver, and thote golden Mountaines ques adire propter Dracones & Grphas, & immensorum hominum monstra, impossibile est. Elum hatha long Elian de ani. discourse of those Griphons out of Crefine, keeping the Gold in valt Deferts; of which I no- malla.c.27. ted before, as of the Phenix and the Ants, that a Mysterie rather then Historie is intended. either thewing the barrennesse of Mifers producing no good fruites in the mids of golden abundance, but rather ready to deucure all which came in their clutches; or elfe intimating the difficulty to get Gold, and manifold dangers in respect of the neighbouring inhabitants, & of fa- Seethe Gloffe mine in those Delerts. Rabanus Maarus, and long after him Nicolas Lyra relate these Beafts pe: & Lyran. in rillous to fuch as feeke the Gold in :hefe parts. And indeede tor wilde Beafts, both Lizards, Ty- 1,7eg.9. 30 gres, and others, I thinke no places more infested then thole in and neere Pegu: for which cause the Country and people are forced to build their houses about ground, that they may goe up to them on Laiders. Barres tels of one Tygre which in Malaces feifed on a peece of wood to which three flaues were chained, and carried all away, leaping therewith ouer a high wall Seemy Pilgrialfo. Neither are the Tygres of other Countries comparable to these in these parts, being ano- Fitth Balbi-all ther kinde, called Thoes, or some other kinde, rather then true Tygres, of which are many in A- which have frike and America. But leaving the testimonies of auncient and midle times, wee will come written of to later daves. Landauco Barthema in his third Booke of India,c. 16. much extolleth Pogu for riches (he wrote dian de anjet fixe (core yeeres agoe) especially for Iewels, and he faith the King had a Million of Gold in reue. Berthema nue: and note that the Bramas Empire or Monarchy was not then begun. Barthema also mentions the Gold in Somatra. Barbofas teltimony is before. Cafar Fredericke which was at Pegu, neere Frederick. fixty yeeres fince in the Bramas reigne in Pegu, faith that the King had divers Magazines full of See 1. 10, Gold and Silver, every day increased without diminishing. He is Lord also of the Mines of Rubies, Saphires and Spinels. He mentions also Colosses, or prodigious and more then Gyantly statues of Gold and Silver, the foote as bigge as a mans body: innumerable Varelles or Idoll Temples couered with leafe Gold, with other things which I omit. Master Fitch, besides the Gold Fitch Mines at Patenamas he deicended the Ganges, relates the like golden stories of Pegu ( where hee was 1586, las Fredericke hath related, of houses of the King full of Gold, of guilded Idoll houses and flatues. The Merchandile in Pegu, faith he, is Gold, Silver, Rubies, Saphires, Spinels, Muske, ture of Braffe $0 &c. neither is their money of those mettals, but of a kinde of Braffe called Garfa, wherewith and Tim. Gold and Silver are bought, fomrtimes deerer, fometimes cheaper, no leffe then other wares. So Balbi began his also saith Fredericke, t. ying that every man may stampe that money at his pleasure, and therewith source y 2579-buy Gold and Silver, as aforesaid, Gasparo Balbi a Venetian Seweller was there a little before Fresh, he same to Paand relateth likewife of the statues, Magazens of Gold, Silver, Ganza, Lewels, Cloathes, Muske, &c. staid ull 1586. vnder fenerall Treasurers, and concludeth, that this King, for Gold, Silver, and Iewels, is the richest in which space King in the world, except the King of Chme.

But the lefantes Letters have best opened thefe Mines of the King of Pegn, N. Pimenea writes; betwirt the Fernandus allo from Syriper 1599,16.Kal.Feb. of the flate of Fegurithat the Kings Father a Braman had fubiceted twelve Kingdomes to his scepter, viz. the Kingdome of Cauelan, whence come lephants ind

60 the best Rubies and Saphires: Ana, which hath Mines of Cyprian Braffe, Lead, and Silver : the the King of At Kingdome of Bacan which hath many Mines of Gold : the Kingdome of langoma, abounding was flaine, with Copper, Muske, Pepper, Silke, Gold, Silver, (all which are also had, faith he, in the rest of the Kingdomes of the Pegnan Empire) Cablan abounding with Gemmes, &c. Hee proceedes to relate the miserable ruine & destruction of that Kingdome, which then had latelyhappened, not yet recourred, as you may reade at large in him, and in my Pilgrimage. The former King of Pegu is reported to have cast 366. combalengas of Gold, each containing 180, pound weight, which none knowes what is become of them. This King had 67. Idoll-statues of Gold, adorned with all kinde of Gemmes. He killed 200. Eunuches lest they might disclose his treasures. Andrew Bo. nes, another lejune, relateth the miferable death of the King (in his Letters from Sirian in Pegu, March 28.1000.) flaine by the King of Tangu, to whom he had yeelded himselfe, who neglecting Silver, and things of smaller value, onely with Gold and Gemmes laded lixe or seven hundred Elephants, and as many Horses. The King of Arraean tooke his leauings, gleaning so much Silver as was valued at three Millions besides Ordnance 3300. Peeces.

P.F.1.5.c.3

34

Now for trade of Gold out of the adioyning parts, I could adde hither out of Fernand Mender. Pinto which trauelled from Timplan in Calaminhan (the Emperour whereof, he faith, hath feuen laminhan twixt and twenty Kingdomes subject to him) to Pegu, An. 1546, then possessed by the Braman Conquerour. Hee reporteth that the Bramans Monarchy had anciently contained thirteene Kingdomes; and that abundance of Gemmes, Gold, Siluer, and innumerable riches are in the Calaminban Empire; in which is no money of Gold, or Silver, but they trade by weight of Cates, Tadie, Maazes, and Conderins. Hee also reporteth that the Lake Chiama containeth in circuit fixty Iaons, each of which is three leagues, alongst which are many Mines of Silver, Copper, Tin, and Leade, which they carry in Cafilas of Elephants, and Badas (I thinke hee meaneth Rhinocerots)to the Kingdomes of Sornan, to wit, Stam, Passiloco, Sanady, Tangu, Prom, Calaminhano, 20 and returne therefore much Gold, and Diamonds, and Rubies. As for the Mines of Goldneere the Lake Pinator whence the River of Camboia runneth, yeelding yeerely two and twenty Mil-Pretgrin, F.M. lions of Gold, and a rocke of Diamants there also, I referreyou to the Author, which placeth them further then our limits.

The cause why Ortelius reiect. ed the opinion

But if we adde Sumatra (which the most thinke to be Taprobone, in which Ophirs name is euidently feene fill) we haue the tradition of the people, the Gold also (Bonferrus a Franciscan hath related that the Peguans are descended of Salemens feruants fent to these Mynes; but I knows not whether the Natives have any such tradition, perhaps it is the Friers coniecture) as appeareth by the following testimonies. And if wee adde the next Neighbour on the West, which now possesset the Easterne parts of Ganger, and the Kingdome of Bengala, I thinke wee shall vt- 36 terly take away Orteluu his scrupt: ( Sed have Cherfone from and dustern elim fulfe, neme veterum, qued friem auste dustern elim fulfe, neme veterum, qued friem auster est ) ned, nunc criam este, en recensiorism palam est .) Onely remember that in the Ophirian Voyage, we take not onely the Cherfonefin, but all the Countrey from Ganges, and thence to Sumaira, placing Pegw in the centre as the Ophir of Ophir, or Ophir in most proper fences annexing the reft, with all the Choremandell coaft also, as being subject to one and the fame trade and Naugation, all on the shoares of the gulfe of Bengala. Hike Master Deer similitude, which fers the feete of his Ophirian compaffe, one in Zoilan, the other in Samatra, the head I place in Pegu. This head is caput cane, the true Ophir, the other parts of the compasse, the parts cumpaffed and readed in, in this Ophirian Voyage. From Genger to Menes are discuss Cherfonfi, or rather llands, in regard of the Rusers which come from the Lake (biamsy; and from Bragada to 40 Menan is the Peguan Chersonesus, which perhaps is the true Chryse and Anrea (for that Malaccan Cherfonesses hath neuer beene renowned in latter times for any great quantity of Gold that I haue read or learnd, not yet altogether destitute, as we have shewed; but not sufficient for Salomens Ophir) from which as first peopled, the Inhabitants of Samatra might (as is said) be a

Whether it were fo or no, I dispute not, nor whether it or Zeilan be the true Taprobant; nor whether it were anciently an Iland, and fince separated by the Seas irruption: that it is well stored with Golden Mines needes no question, and therefore sie to be saluted by Salomons Nauis, then in their Ophirian Voyage, and by vs here in our Ophirian Discouery. Of Sumatra, Odsardo Barbofa witnesseth that there are many Gold Mines, vi for mole minere d'Oro: and speaking of Me- 50 nancabo one of the Kingdomes in the South part of that great Handfaith, & qui e il principal fonte dell'oro, Fe, there is the principall originall of the Gold of that Iland, as well of the Minerals, 28 of that which is gathered neere the brinkes of Rivers. He wrote An. 1516. 2nd was one of Magelans companions in his Voyage about the World. Long before him Nicola de Conté testified of Sumatra, that init is abundance of Gold. Andrew Thenet mentions the gold Mines: but wee haue later and better testimonies from our owne men. Captaine Danis was in that Iland, Anno See Inf. p.121. 1599. and mentions not onely the King of Achens flore, but the Mines of Gold and other commodities of that lland : and the Braffe Mines to be also rich in Gold; and (which maketh most to our purpose) a tradition of the Natiues that Salomons Ophirian voyage for Gold was to that Countrey. Sir lames Lancasters Voyage, and divers other English Voyages will ratifie Sumatras 63 Gold. But what neede we better testimony then the Letter of that King to our King, which this ftory yeeldeth to your byiew, and worth your reading. To that, and to Walter Paytons testimony of the Gold of Passaman in this lland I referre you. Likewise for the next adioyning parts on this fide, I will trouble you onely with two testimonics, one of Master Fireb, who travelling

downe the River Ganges, at Patenaw observed the golden Mines, where faith he, they digge deepe pits and wash the earth thence taken in great boles, and so finde the Gold : the other of Captaine Hawkins, who bare the name of the English Embassadour in the Mogols Court, and speaking of fixe fenerall treasuries of that King, relates the particulars of that one of Agra, which stands on lemni or Gemini, a River tributary to Ganger, where his Gold, Silver, and Iewels may feeme to Jufant & feel our poorer World, beyond credit. But I had rather point you to the place, then here trouble you with transcribing. And thus have we vied a threefold argument, one of names, a second of fituation, a third of the principall commodities returned, to proue that Ophir was in these parts, and have before shewed that it could be in none other alleanged. But Gold and Gemmes have to fuch a luftre, and Salomons other rarities were fo precious, that wee may I hope be pardoned to take longer view on them, both for our better knowledge in such things, and for better confirmation of the Ophirian Pegu, and the Regions adiacent.

Of the Gold, Silaer, Gemmes, Juory, Almug-trees, Apes and Peacockes, which SALONON'S Fleet brought from Ophir, with divers other profitable observations inferted.

Etals are our Mothers hidden treasures, by mens couetousnesse often occasions of her violent rauishments, and no better to her then a Viperous Issue, or as Wormes, or Colike passions in her entrals. In themselves, and in divine Ordinance, they are many wayes profitable for medicine against diseases, armour against enemies, ornaments for peace, engines for Warre, Instruments for daily labour, veenfils for daily food, and in moneyemploiment, they are All things. Of all Metals Gold hath preeminence, as likeft the Sun in purity of fubitance, glory of fplendour, powerfull attraction, longest endurance (in despite of Age and Fire) most operative influence, and of base Idolaters most adored. How it is found in Grains, Pip-30 pins, or Powder, this Booke elsewhere sheweth . And although Silver bee a durable metall, and "To.r., ii 9.c. iz. well induring both times and flames, yet herein is it short of Gold; and not with standing the co- $3,702.1.5.c.2 lour is more lightforme, and the found more delightforme, yet Gold hath in great proportion als see Browned way beene preferred. Iulium Pollux citeth Menander; and Hefythim, Polemarchus, which make de Nummiscao this proportion terifold, which the Romans allo observed in their agreement with the Etolians, 2. Pollux invothat if they paid in Gold, one peece should countervaile ten of Silver. The old Greeker and Per- ce Lalentum frans seeme to have observed the like rate. Pline mentions at the first coyning, the proportions of Hefrin XEVOGE fifteene; and neere that, to wit, fourteene and a halfe, is observed in the Contitutions of Arca- Line 1.58.91.1. drus and Honorius. Herodorus makes one Talent of Gold equall to thirteene of Silver. In Galbas 63. Hoto Thalia. time it was twelue and a halfe. But China and some parts of the East Indies, by reason of plenty 40 of Gold, and small store of Silver, have diversly vindervalued the Gold. The most generall, which Plate also approved, and in Plinies time was current, and is most vivall in these parts, is ordinarily twelve for one, as an ounce of Silver five shillings, of Gold three pounds.

The purest Gold, and which is as much as may be, purified from all other mixture, is called O. bryzum, a word procreated in the Mints, & not of Ophirian parentage (Obrizum quafi Ophirizum) and such are (as they say) the Darike coines and our Edward Nobles; not about the nintie fixth part being of other mixture. They fay (faith Master Brerewood) that it may be so farre refined that onely the three hundred eighty fourth part shall be of other mettall. The Greeke coines of Philip and Alexander admitted a fitteth part of Silver, the Romans forty eight, now observed in Hieron con-Tarkyh, Hungarian, Spanish, and Venetion coines: those of Rome, Luques, Millaine have alloy thirty too 22.14 028 50 two, French Crownes fixteene, Italian nine, &c. The Talmudiffs mention leven kindes of Gold, 16. or obserue seuen names by which Gold is named in Scripture : Saint leromalio intimateth the 16brag. 4 fame, and Pineda hath long discourses of them, which I omit. The Scripture ieemeth to ascribe 2 prerogative to the Gold of Ophir, before Salomons time, in lob, and in Davids daies, wherby it may feeme that the Voyage to Ophir for Gold was in vie long before Salomon, and fome thinke that a great part of Dands Gold confecrated to the Temple, was by his care fetched thonce. For aboue his other preparations, mentioned 1. Chron. 22. 14. which were a hundreth thouland . 6003550. 22 talents of Gold, and a thousand thousand talents of Silver, in the nine and twentieth chapter, halle a fleeci he out of his proper goods give th 3000, other talents of Gold, of the Gold of Ophir, and 7000, 122- aman; ayreo. lents of refined Silver: the Princes off-red also 5000, talents of Gold, and 10000, drams, and of talents and 60 Siluer 10000, talents, &c.

This is discretly fummed by discret Expositors differing in their computation of a Talent. Mar paysos cales in fter Dee and Mafter Berewood haucieemed to have given the best construction, derived from Mas & confiquence fer himselte, Exed. 38.25,26. which Rabbi Salemon and Lyra, had objerted before them; that a by atalone is Talent containerth $ 3000. Shekles, which is 375 li. a Talent of Silver, and a Talent of Gold, 6000 hake allowing twelvefold proportion, is 4500. li. According to which iust reckoning Salomons foure hundreth twenty Talents of Gold brought from Ophir, came to one million eight hundred ninety thousand pounds. Davids 3000. Talents of Geld of Ophir, 1. Chron. 29.4. aforesaid, was thirteene millions and five hundreth thouland in English money. His Silver then offered ( 7000. Talents) is two millions 625000.li. The offering of the Princes ( 5000. Talents of Gold) was two and twenty millions fine hundreth and feuen thousand & 500 pounds: and their ten thousand Talents of Silver came to three millions and feven hundred fiftie thousand pounds. Salomow had also given him by the Queene of Sheba 120. Talents, that is five hundreth and fortie thousand pounds. As much was fent him by Hiram. Now the whole Furniture of the Tabernacle was E. A. 38.24,25 twentie nine Talents of Gold, and 730. Suekles; in our money, one hundreth thirtie and one thousand, fine hundreth ninety and fine pounds; the filter was 100.talents, and 1775. shekles, that is, thirtie feuen thouland, feuen hundreth and twentie one pounds feuenteene shillings fix pence. Thus hath Mafter Brerewood caft vp theie fummes. Now for this Ophirian Gold, Salomon is faid. 2. Chron. 8. 18. to have had from Ophir foure hundred and fiftie talents, thirtie more then 1. Reg. 9. are mentioned, which thirtie Talents, it feemeth were fpent in wages or other char-

· Villal.To. 2.

home much more then

3.Chron.9.17.

and the pro-

ges, and came not to the Kings Coffers.

1. Chron. 22.14. which amount to foure hundreth and fiftie millions of English pounds; and the million of Silver talents to three hundreth feuentie five millions of pounds : fummes flupendi-. . Cirentite. Ous and prodigious beyond all that the Persian, Greeke, or Roman Empires euer faw at one time, 20 after greater and longer conquests then Danids; and such, as euen Salomons wealth had beene by much ouertopped by Danids; which agreeth not either to the Hiltory , or to the Mystery, that Heavens peace & glory should be surmounted by militant Faith and Grace. Alexander the richest Conquerour, left but eighteene millions and seuen hundreth and 50000. pound of money at his death : and in conquest of Darine, had gotten but thirtie two millions 750000.pound and Criss out of the conquest of Asia gathered but 125, millions, which yet is the greatest sum (except that of Sardonapalus mentioned by Crefias, an Author not much to bee credited) which any Ethnick flory mentioneth. Wee must therefore find another acceptation of the word there translated Talent, which is taken sometimes for a lumpe of mettall in forme of a Cake, or else that name Talent is sometimes taken for a small summe, as out of Pollux and Homer, M. Brere-woods paines have observed; who also having cast up the particulars, findeth that such summes could not have beene ipent on the Temple, had the Walls and Pauements beene of massie Silver, the Roofe and all the Linings of the Walls and the Furniture of folid Gold.

But a great formule remaineth about the 200000, talents of Gold, mentioned before out of Salomons yeerely reuenue (as some interpret, 2. Chron. 9. 13.) was fixe hundreth fixte fixe Explan.p.2.4.44 talents of Gold, besides his Customes, and the rich Presents of Gold and Silver sent him from the Silver brought Kings of Arabia and the Gouernours: that lackes but three pounds of three millions in our reckoning. Some would make up this great fumme of the Ophirian Gold, and Hirans, and the Queene of Shebse gifts, which all lacke but fix talents; as if it were not an Annuall, but Cafuall Revenue, which I cannot approue. Some interpret it of ordinary tributes leuied of his Subjects ; fome of the posteritie of the Chanaanites (a thing vnlikely) and some of forraine voyages, making him 1. Chro 9, 23,14 to fend euery yeere a Fleet, though none of those Fleets returned till the third yeere. Villalpan-*Villag. visi [ap. dws * makes it but one returne from Ophir, the first of foure hundreth and twenty Talents, the seraifeth the tri- cond, of foure hundreth and fiftie, the third, of fixe hundreth fixty fixe of Gold, befides Silver and other goods. And, as for Salomons entire Revenues, hee with great paines in the auditing. each Tribe, & raileth them higher then the Persians, then Alexanders, then those of the Roman Empire : arias much of His fing from his Cultomes, his Gifts and Prefents, Taxations, Tributes, prouisions of Corne, &c. ram(of whole That of the King of Tyrus he reckoneth a tribute, and out of Eupolemus alleageth that the Tyrians were tributaries. Wee may here also remember, that there is no mention of the summe of the dispute not, it Silver which they brought from Ophir, which is likely was farre more then the Gold, insomuch Casaam curfe, that it was reputed as Stones, and was of none account in the dayes of Salomon. To mee it feemeth that the fixe hundreth fixtie fixe Talents of Gold is spoken onely of formife of all Caraine Gold, partly by Ophirian and other merchandifing Trades, and partly by Presents; of which maan to ifrae! ) the two principall, Hiram, and the Queene of the Southare expressed : but it is added of others. make 1,60, ta. That all the Kings of the Earth fought the presence of Salomon , and brought enery man his Present, lets 26:54800. veffells of Silver, and veffells of Gold, and Raiment, Harneffe and Spices, Horfes and Mules, a rate yeare Roman ducats: by yeere. Grant then a Fleet yeerely let forth, which came not home till the third yeere one fucbefides Silver cending another (as in the Spanish Fleets to Peru, and ours to the Indies, of which is a yeerely returne, yet not of the same ) and these yeerely Presents, there could not be lesse then fix hundreth fixty fix Talents : befides perhaps, tenne or twelve times as muchin Silver, and all the Spices, gether about Horles, Mules, Cultomes of Merchants, Tributes of the Edomites, Moabites, and Valfalls, Taxes on his Ifraelitifb . Subjects, Revenues out of his Pastures and innumerable Cattell and husbandry of Crowne Lands (wee will not adde, with fome, Chimistry; that might have saved his Ophrian with faire pro. paines ) and all the riches left him by Inheritance from his Father. Now that the fix hundreth fix tie fix Talents is to be understood of Strangers, appeareth in that exception, Verf. 14. where none but forraine Incombes are mentioned. And hereby most lively is both the calling of the Gentiles figured, of which the 72. Pialme was by the Spirit of God purpofely indited in correspondence of this type, and the Christian Truth; as alforthe glory of the heavenly lerafalens, which artieth not out of the worker of righteenfneffe which we have done, but of free gitts, of which it is faid, They hall bring the glory and bonour of the Nations into it. Red. 21. where in vition that glorious Citie is repretented, and correspondent to Salomon type, The Citie w u of pure Gold, and the foundations and gates of precious ftones, but there is no mention at all of Silver.

Another question ariseth out of Danids 3000. Talents of Gold of Opbir, whether hee prafifed Whether Dd. the Ophrica Voyage alto : and some suppose that hee nad made seven voyages thither, which rec- wid sent Fleets koning 420. Talents a time, makes much about that fumme of three thousand Talents. For my to Open. part, Ithinke Danid a greater Warrior then Merchant, allowing the greatest tummes before questioned to be referued and confecrated out of the spoiles, as himselfe confesseth, In my trouble I have prepared for the bonfe of the Lord 100000. Talents of Gold, &c. and more plainly, 1. Chroni- D. Dec. cles 18.11. confidering also that it was long before his State could be fetled at home, and fitted abroad to attend fuch Nauigations; which likewise have neither ground in the Sacred Story ( for the Gold of Ophir is prouerbiall, viually in Scripture for fine and pure Gold ) nor agree with the type, Danid one way, Salomon another refembling Chrift, and their times the flate of the Church; likewije that Danid had much care of husbanding his estate to the best, thrift being the fewell of 1. Chron. :7. 24. Magmificence, as appeareth in the particular enumeration of the Officers for his Rents, Store-hous 26,27,28,29, fes Husbandmen in the Field, Vineyards, Olive-trees, Sycamores and Oyle, Herds in Sharon, and 30,31. in the Vallies, Camells, Affes, Flockes; it is no maruell if such industry acquired such substance in fuch continuance of time, and that hee faid I have of mine own proper goods of Gold and Silver which I have ginen to the house of my God, oner and abone all that I have prepared (to wit, in confecrated spoyles) for the half House three thousand Talents of Gold of Ophir, &c. This example of Danid Two remarksheweth that it is no impeachment, yea the true advancement of Honour for Princes to vie all frugall husbandry and meanes of thriuing at home; as that other of Salomon, to adde helpe of ficence, Huf-Discoutries and Trade abroad ( both in a Royall manner by their just Officers) that Magnificence bandry on may fland firme on both legs: the want whereof hath denied that wealth (not to speake of Land, and Napower) their many Ages to many Kings out of farre farte greater meanes (belides other incon- uigation by lea ueniences to themselves and their Subjects) which Danid, Salemen, and other Kings in the old 30 World had. Once thefe examples fo moved that good King lebofhaphat, that hee built Cities of 1. Chron. 17. 11.

fore at home, and had many Flockes, and made Ships also to goe to Tarthith, and they made 12 @ 20 352 the Ships in Ezion-Geber, the same Port where Salemen made his Nauall provisions ; but 36.37. soyning therein with Ahaziah King of Israel , who did very wickedly ( So much worse before God is an Abaziah then a Hiram, the one an honelt minded Gentile, the other a Schifmaticall Idolatious Ifraelite ) that the Lord broke the worker, and the Ships were not able to

We have beene very long in this metall Discourse : yet how much longer was Salomon in his three yeeres Voyage, and how much longer the most of men, which make their whole life a voyage to Ophir for Gold and Silver, thorow to many divertified Seas of Arts, force, frauds to get those metalls which procreated neerest Hell, carry these eager seekers thither altogether. That the Siluer was more by farre then the Gold, was before proued; but the quantitie is not expressed, as not agreeing with Salomons either Litterall Story, or Mysticall Glory. Some thinke that there was in D. Dec. euery voyage 24, times as much Silver as Gold; both because they conceive that Nature hath gimen to much more thereof in quantitie, as the qualitie and price is underualued; and because all Stories Ancient and Moderne magnific India for flore of Silver and to prodigious prodigality, to gine Solner in lerufalem as foncs, must have a deep fountain for such a flowing streame, besides those 1.King 2027. other Silver Hooks and Brooks mentioned in Salomons History. But we will leave these precious, fpecious obiects to take view of Gemmes,

And herein American Perm, and Sofala are beggarly in comparison of those parts of India. 50 where we have placed Ophir, as the former testimonies well weighed with whatsoeuer can be brought for the other, will eafily and superabundantly convince. In Northerne America are some Turkesses, in the Southerne are saide to bee ( which others question ) Emeralds, in both Pearles, but not comparable to the Orientall : these Bezars are twice so good; in Spices to make comparison hath no spice of knowledge. And first for the first point 37.64. of gemmes, Diamants, Pliny faith, Maximum in rebus bumanis non folum inter gemmas, precium babet Adams, unus modo in metallis reperius. Some haue conceited it to cull the Loadstones attraction , and to relift all force of Hammer , which experience hath found contrary. The Kingdomes of Narfinga, Biznagar, Oriffa, Majulipatan, and all the Countries on the Cheromandel Coalt, are the most famous for Rockes of Diamants, and now 60 alfo Soccodanna ( where they dive ' for them as for Pearles ) Decan , Delli, and Agra, Tarriam also in the Tract of Malacca, and lana. Here then is the Worlds Centre of Dia- 14-2.5 mants, both for the moit and beit. Garcias ab Horto writes, that he hath feene one of one Temagrata. hundreth and forcy Mangels (that is feuen hundreth Graines) another of one hundreth and Garciab Horts I.I.c. 47.

Exed.24,10. Od.Barbefa.

Linf 6.87.

ding. There are also many forts of Stones ( you reade Lischoten ) as well Precious Stones, as 150,518.519. 1.Rcg. 10.11. Terrifes or Bares are added, .. Cbr. 9.11 lof. 1.8. c.2.

Pineda de Reb.

twentie, and hath heard of one of two hundreth and fiftie, and a credible man told him that hee faw one as big as a small Hens Egge in Bisnager. This soyle is so diamantine, that where you haue digged and taken them now, in two yeeres space you may dig and find others. Neither is it poyfon, as fome affirm, but he hath knowne the whole stone, and the powder, taken without hurts

The Heauen-coloured Sapphire, with some obtaineth the second place, because of the likenesse Epiphen libel de thereof vnder the feet of the Almightie when hee ipake to Moses; of which are store in Zeilan, and the most true, hard & fine as Barbofa testineth. But M. Fitch and M. Fredericke have before told you of Mynes of them in Pegu; and thefe faith Garcias and Linfeboren, are efteemed the finelt, and are in great plenty. So is there allo of the Rubie, a stone of greater value, none in the world ex-Lingibus. 19,86 cceding that King in excellencie and varietie of Gems, as appeareth by generall voyce. Of Ru- 10

bies, the Carbunele is effeemed the beft, the Ballas next, the Spinell in the third place, of fiery colour : there are besides, White, Camation, halfe White, halte Red Rubies, others balfe Sapphires, balfe Rubies, and one thousand other forts, if wee beleeue Linsebeten. Garcias ascribeth this to the generation of the Ruby, which at first is whitish, and groweth wnto rednesse in processe of time: and because the Sapphire and Rubie grow in one Rocke, they are found sometimes such participles as is delivered, Sapphire-rubies, called Nilacands. The Granade and Hyacinth are also reckoned by forme amongst the Rubies, calling the yellowish Rubie the Hyacymb, and the blackish a Granade. These are plentifull in Cananor, Caleent and Cambaia (neerer Westward, and in the way to the Gulfe of Bengala) in Zeilan alfo, as Necolo di Conti and Andrea Corfali affirme ; Pimenta his teltimony of Caucian and Cabian, two gemme Kingdomes you had before. The Iaspar is found in 20 much plenty in Cambaia; Chryfolites, and Amaishs, there and in Zeilan and in Balagate (the Apennine of the Great indian Chersonesis)-where they have also the Alaquers or Quequi, which stayeth the iffue of bloud prefently. Pegu, Brama, Zeilan, yeeld the Cats-eyeand Agat, of which the Indians conceine the owner shall increase in wealth ; and Garcias saith , Hee hath tried that no fire can burne a linnen Cloth pressed to the eye of it. The Armenian Stones are found also in Balagate, the Loadstone in Zeilan, neere to which is the fishing for Pearles, but the best of the world are in the Persian Gulic neere Ormuz: the Alambie in Cambaia. The Bezar Stones are at Pales neere Malaca, and Cambaia, taken out of the maw of a Sheepe or Goat. The Berills are in Pegu and Zeilan. The Topaz is almost like a Diamant, and is digged out of the Earth in many places of India. There are White Sapphres and Rubies hardly knowne from Disa mants. In Cambaia allo is found plentic of the Stone Alambre. There are found in Zei. lan also the Topaz, lagong as and Marneha, whose names I can better give you then the vinderstan-though faid to bee in these parts , because some doubt of them , and in other parts are found better, wherewith the Venetians have made good gaine at Pegu in exchange for Rubies : those alio of Pers are suspected. For gemmes (wee now conclude) no part of the world but India, could fit Salomons turne; wherein, if Arons breftplate were so glorious in the Tabernacle, to how precious height will Salemens Temple eleuate our thoughts? and confe- 40 quently both manifest and magnifie the Indian-Ophirian Voyage, these being found either naturall in the Pegnan Ophir, or by trade there or in the way from Ophir by the Westerne parts of India, part of the Persian Gulfe, and the shores of Arabia and Athiopia. Of which, Arabia is faid to yeeld the Hemathite, Topaz, Sardonyke, Onyx, Molochite, Myrrhite, Corall, Andromade, Pineda de Reb. 1 ris Ethiopia, the Chryfolite, Chryfolamp, Heliotropa, Hyacinth, Hemathite, Chryfoprafe; the Perfian Salem 14. C.18.

Of Indian flore gulfe from Babylonia the Sagda, & Sardy, and the best Pearles: * Legypt in ordinary trade, the Galacof Jewells and tite, Emerald, and Agretilla: some of which you had before particularly mentioned in India, and their richnesse likely enough should there find most of the rest with many other vinknowne, if links were as much frequented with Philosophers from hence as Merchants. Wee are next to confider the Almug Trees, whereof were made Pillars for the House of the 30 Lord, and for the Kings Hanfe", Harper also and Psalteries for Singers : there came no such Almung Trees, nor were feene unto this day. Tofephu Interprets Pine Trees, but faith, they differed from the viuall, refembling the Timber of the Figge Tree to the eye, but that they were whiter and brighter. There is mention of Algum Trees in Lebanon, 2. Chron. 2. 8. which fome thinke to bee the same with the former, and the word onely altered by transposition of letters; others, that ten by M.Hall. that transposition incimates no lesse specificall difference in the wood then in the word, though hand, amongst otherwise having some likenesse to those of Lebanon, but of greater excellency. D. Dee hath wholepapets 1 had it, & haue written a laborious Treatife almost wholly of this Ophricas argument (the same yetre in which I was borne, A. 1577. of feuentie sheets of paper) how soeuer intituled, Of Famous and Rich Diferhere mise mach vice it, series of which I have a written Copie, and could willingly but for the length have published it; shaugh which may appeare in this, that he hath ten sheets of paper about the Almog tree, more profitable to the lealurely Scholler, then commodious to be inferted to 10 voluminous a Worke, as this telligencebe Library of ours. Hee there, 28 Commissioner for Salomons Timbers, like a learned, both Artengence of the chitect and Planter, hath summoned a lury of twelve forts of Trees (mentioned by divers Interpreters ) to examine or to bee examined rather, which of them were the Almugs here mentioned. I should bring you into a Wood to relate his labours in this kind; the kinds are, the Deale, Boxe, Cedar, Cyprefie, Ebonie, Ath, Iuniper, Larch, Oliue, Pine, Oke and Sandall Trees: all The Spanish which with their fenerall qualities and fitnesse for Royall and Sacred buildings hee examineth by Bible reads best testimonies, and concludeth nothing absolutely, but inclineth to Infephus, who either by Brastwood some Monuments in writing might have learned, or in some remainders to his time in Instruments Muticall, or other profane or facred memorialls, might probably bee thought to have feene thereof. I canly beleeue that thefe Pines or Thynes ( Thyina ) or whatloeuer other Trees, were Plin.Liz. 2.25 both odoriferous to the Sent, of beauteous afpect to the Eye, of fitteft temper to refract jounds to to the Eare, tmooth to the Touch, and of long continuance and firong fubstance for building, therein to bee feruiceable to all fenfes. Of which forts it is evident out of Ancient and Moderne Writers, and out of the following Relations, that India hath the best in the World.

The living Creatures remaine to our learth, Elephants, Apes, Peacockes; of which I need fay Of their Trees little, faying fo much in our following Histories , and having faid fo much already. Elephants and of Elelittle, faying to much in our following Hirtories, and natural taid to much aiready. Elephants of the come necret Men in vinderstanding, Apes in forme (Simia quam similis trapsission a bestia nobis ? Terry Las. 6, faid Enning ) and Peacocks for their beauty, as Parrots alio, Birds of Paradile, and many other 2. of their Indian Fowles might be defired. The greatest Elephants are tound in all this our Ophirian Tract, Apes as big as from Zeilm to Pegu; thois esteemed to have a naturall preeminence, and these had of late a Po- Grey-hounds liticall, the King of Pogu ftiling himselfe, The King of White Elephants, and keeping them Royal. ib. $3. See also ntican, the same 20 ly attended, his Subjects and Tributary Kings alio, it is Gafper Balby his report) kneeling to them. Leo, and many Once all India is plentifull of them, and therefore of Iuory; this Countrey alto neere Ganges is others in this ftored with the Abada or Rhinocerote, whole Horne is (in Bengala, by realon of certaine Hearbs worke. hee there feeds on ) a good Counter-poylon. Indian Affe-horne in these parts is also vied for Bucklers, and drinking Cups, and efteemed a great lewell, as Master Finch affirmeth, in-

For Peacocks or Parrats, translate which you will, heere are not onely so many of both, that Peacocks wild they file wild, as the following Relations flew, but for excellency beyond those of other parts : Parrots, Apes, as the Apes alfo are for their healty and strength. See Sir T. Ros, Master Finch, and others Jour- see 436 &c. nalls sor rather talke with our Indian Merchants, which vivally trade and travell those parts, 30 fom. of which in the Mogolis Countrey, carrying with them an English Grey-hound, one of the company thotat a great white thee Ape on a Tree, and wounded her, whereby thee with her Cub company inotal a great will be fell downe : they fet on the Grey hound, and this Ape before feeking shifts for her Cub, seeing These Apes the Grey-hound come, layd it atide and encountred the Grey-hound fo fiercely about the necke, are taled that hee dyed within a few houres, the company with their weapons comming in, and killing the Ape (as themselves related to mee ) and carrying away the young one. The Countrey people, in I know not what superitation forbeare to kill them, whereby they multiply exceedingly. Heere by the way may bee oblerued, that it appertaineth to Royall Magnificencie, and difagreeth not to humane Excellency, to procure rarities of living Creatures, and to keepe them as testimonies of our admiration of Gods various Workes, and exercise of the Minds Contemplation, the Bodies pleasure, with the right Humane ouer Sensitive Creatures : which Nature taught Alexander ; yea Motezuma and the Incas, in that wilder World ; and Divine Grace our Salomon, as these Scriptures manifest. The imitation of whose Wisdome hath whetted my Studies almost to curiofitie to give to the World a world of Rarities in that kind, as any occasion offered it selfe in these voluminous Voyages.

δ. XI.

Probable consectures of the Course taken in the Ophirian Voyage, and accounts given of the three yeeres time fent therein : alfo of the Courfe taken in like Voyages by the Romans : and the divers Ports whereto the Spices and riches of India have in divers Ages beene brought, and thence differ fed to the feuerall parts of EVROPE.

是Ee haue now undertaken a hard taske, where we tell not but spell a Voyage, and from nich men are realonable consectures grounded on other experiments, gather what is most likely ever needy & in this of Salomons. D. Dee hath written 23. sheets of paper in examining the greedy, to inmiles, the dayes, the way, the employments of the time, and mustering or Men and swallowed in 60 Ships employed in this feruice. I cannot prefume either of fo much learning in my Selfe, or fo Trade the much patience in the Reader. Yet I shall bee bold both to follow him, and to adde tome what for wer'ds Treafurther light. Plans were e that in his time this Voyage from Featle, Indian was made a war wire, and yet further light. Plm writes, that in his time this Voyage from Egypt to India was made energy yeer. is the Treates Enery yeer India confumed H-S' 500. (which lacobus Delachampiusin his notes fammeth to 1200000. ty of the Crownes ) of the Roman Empires Treasure yearely, yeelding merchandises therefore in returne seld at World.

Plat. 6.600.23

with Seres agree to Sama. Artim.1.8.

a bundreth times so much. Their course, hee faith, was from Alexandria twelve dayes by Nilus to Coptus, thence by Camells oner Land to Berenice two hundreth fiftse eight miles (tranelling most part by night by reason of the heate ) in twelve dayes more. From Berenice on the Red Sea, they begins of et forth at Midjammer, or about the beginning of Dogge-dayet, and in thrite dayes come to Occlis in Arabia, (or to Cansan or Muza, if they goe not to India, but for Arabian Frankincense and Odours ) and from Ocelis in fortie dayes they arrived at the first Indian Port Muzitis. Remember that in this Courfe they both tooke benefit of the Monfon , and went the neerelt way : for fo a little before hee mentioneth another Course by the to be chaul by Shoate, Secuta atas propierem cursum, &c. donec compendia inuent Mercator, Lucroque India admota est. Quippe omnibus annie nauigatur. Hee mentions the Voyage of Onesieritus 10 and Nearchus from India to Tigris , in the bottome of the Persian Gulfe, which helde them till the feuenth moneth. So much was Nauigation improved in Plinies time. Their Pepper they tooke in on the Malabar Coaft, and returned in December the same yeere. The names which then they gave to places were quite differing from the Antients; and the like Indian mutations have continued to our times.

The course to Taprobane had accidentally comne to their knowledge a little before, found in Alexanders time to bee an Iland by Onesicritie, mentioned by Megasthenes. The Antients dee med it another World. The Sea is fall of thoulds, the Northaftarre is not feene there, and they observed their course, by sending out Birds which they carry with them and followed their flight. But in the Empire of Clandius, Annius Plocanus having farmed the Cultomes 20 of the Red Sea, one of his Retainers or Free-men * fayling on the Arabian Coalt, was by a Northerne storme carried alongst the Carmanian shoare to Hippuros a Port therein, and was kindly vied by the King, who admiring his Roman Relations, fent foure Emballadoursbacke with him. Thefe related among to other things, that the fide of the Hand which lieth toward Indis, is 10000. furlongs , and that they had trade with the Seres. I will not recite Nearthus out of Arrianus nor Ptolemey and Marianus, which can little advantage vs in regard of the leffe knowledge of the former, and leffe certainty of the later paffing the ignorance of Transcribers, and about one thousand yeares darknesse. Yet herein is Ptolemey profitable, where his Longitudes and Lacitudes are falle, that by his order of position and successive setting downe of places some knowand commerce ledge may arise. But the length of the way is better knowne by later Writers.

John di Barros hath set downe the coasting distances, from the Bab or Mouth of the Red Sea to Cape Nigraes, the Southerly part of Our Pegnan Ophir, Whole Portugall leagues (allowing for each three English miles, and a fifth part of a mile ) come to 5769, and from that Cape to Singapura is 1008. miles more. From the Bab or Mouth of the Red Sea to the bottom, is by Comito Venetiano, in Ramusio reckoned 1441. miles, and in his returne 1514, the breadth in some places two hundreth, the way full of shoalds, so that it cannot bee failed neere the shoare but by day. So troublesome is this Sea, and so difficult to bee sayled, that Don lohn de Cafire (whose voyage followeth at large) spent no leffe then three moneths in the way from the Straits to Sues, from the nine and twentieth of lanuary, 1541, to the feuen and twentieth of April; and returning the eight and twentieth of April, arrived at the Bab the eighteenth of July; 40 So that here the way is to be weighed by the qualitie as well as the quantitie. Hieronimo da Santo Scopbano in Ramufio, fpent from Cofir to Aden fiftie dayes, almost three hundreth miles Southward from Sues, and therefore so much lesse way.

We must here note also that neither the ships, nor their furniture; the shipmen also nor their furniture of skill, could in Salomons dayes, be any way comparable to these later times : and that if three moneths were spent by the Portugall Nauie from Sues to the Bab, we may at least allow fomuch time to thefe Ophirians. For if thefe had more haite, the other had more skill and betterships. Neither may we thinke that they durst there faile but by day in Salomons fleete, and therefore were likely to make it longer. The leffe wessels andmany men, would require also oftner flaies for water and refreshing, besides the fementh dayes rest, which Salomons servants according 50 to the law, and especially in a Voyage for adorning the Temple, built in honor of the legall worfhip, must not breake. Being out of the Straits into the Ocean, they were neither willing nor able (as appeares by the mentioned Voyage of Onesicritus and Neurobus) to adventure the failing beyond ken of Land. And therefore also Ptolemie in his longitudes and latitudes, abates of Mariness and the Mariners reckonings one third part , because of the crooking in their coasting, as every Bay and point enforced them. And that compendious way mentioned by Plinie was then new in his time, when shipping and the Mariners art had beene by frequent experience much improved, and from the fwadling bands in Salomons time growne to some virility. So that except forced by diffreste of weather we cannot make the Ophirian course but within ken of floare all the way. Now then if it were the feuenth moneth, as we have read in Place, 62 before Alexanders fleet could arrive in Tigris from India, in which Arrianus reporteth that there were Phanician, Egyptian and Cyprian, belides his belt Gracian Mariners, they all being then his Subjects; we can allow no leffe to Salomons fleete before it could touch the necreft Indian Port, being no ieffe way. And howfocuer it may be obiected that triumphall denotions, and tempefts, and rights, and reparations of the Fleete, tooke vp much of Nearchar his time : I answere that this Ophirian fleet was neither warranted from enemies nor tempefts, & was likely also to spend time in reparations, and in prouisions, and in deuotions, specially that which was peculiar to them,

And although fingle for in the Arabite gulfe, and in the Ocean might even then make quicker way then this mentioned, yet in that of Cattre, of Nearchus, and this of Salomon, where care was to keepe a whole flace together for mutuall helpe and common lecurity, the greater body must medes have flower motion. Thus then allowing three moneths to the Red Sea, and fixe moneths from thence to India, we shall follow Comito Veneriano, who reckons the one 1514, miles from the 10 Straits to Suci inward, and thence outward to Din 2023. to which adde the coalting about to the Ormanian Brait, and comming to any Port in India, as namely Municipi, orany in the Malabar coaft, it could not much leffe then double the length of the way, and therefore the time. By this proportion we should spend the three yeeres in going and returning, if we adde that spaceous way from Marins to our neerest Port in Ophir: and io should both their labour and ours be vaine, and noth? fig fhould be done. Barres himielfe (to make this more euident) liath retkoned fhort of the way which SalomonoFleet must make in bouts and windings by the shoare, for which he makes no allowance. D. Der is sparing in this calculation, and yet makes it from Exion Geber to Cape Negraes 9155, miles; of which we deduct for the Arabike gulfe but 1514, and leave 7641. remaining. We therefore in regard of the manifold dangers and shelfes of that Gulfe, allow to 20 it eighty dayes, of which deducting eleuen Sabbaths, there remaine fixere nine, to which tone with another) we allow one and ewenty miles a day, for ewisternore, as much as can condefiledely in that Sea be allowed to a Fleet failing together. And this allowance is to large, that Caffre was eight y eight dayes (and that in the daies of better Nauigation) in the way which we allow to fixtie nine. Now in the Ocean, where they might make better vie of the Monion and Tides, as freed from the dangers which ettend the Oulte, wee will allow thirty two miles a day one with another (the Sabbaoths deducted) which by the yeeres end will bring vs to our Port at Pega, or some other the neerest to Cape Negraes, where we may harbour our Fleete. For to Cape Negraer it felfe (deducting the one and forty Sabbaths remaining of the yeere) 7641. miles are proportioned in each daies equilificating, in requisite and direct way, one and thirty miles and 47, 30 which being very far from any laft Port, must need make even & thirty miles the day to bring vs thicher, allowing nothing for New Moone, or any other work folematic or other occasional flay what focuer a nor for those bords, gibes and fetching turnes (which Marines) and specially coult-winders must make) and confequently much superfluore way, which alone (beides force of flormes) would make this chirty two to be above forty miles a day ordinary way, broken and whole one with another.

And if this seeme to any man a small thing, let him consider the weakenesse of Nauigation Thirry two then, both in skill and shipping the Phanclass before this time not acquainted with those In. miles aday also have Sees, but onely with the Mediterranean, as probably may be chought; their ving jets (Olive) loved for the control of the "Livoccations of Itay formenmes for watering and providions; sometimes by fould weather detail another; for ned formetimes for reparations of some of the Proce occasionally needing helps, that all the Fleet what that framay Reeperogether, fornetimes for trade by the way, fornetime s for healthfull disport, retreater the lacks must thay keepetogether, sometimes terrarately the way; sometimes and seatment of port, overall to obtain the standard of the Missing be allowed in obtained to the winds, which there keepes an other course, as out of the following Voyages yet. Specifications. thall fee. All which laid together, to will not feeme miterably and valualty done to have allows either to the ed the proportion before mentioned. If your ead the first Discoveries bon the coast of Africkel mouth of Ganby the Portugal, and fee how little they discourred in a whole Summer, when their skill was get or Aug, or not interious to these Phanicians, and experience more, you will thinke me I thereff if not prodie Port. gall in this allowance. Captaine Hawkins in the Heller (a ship mer the worth of thild, and which b Sec Latin ] Defore had beene twice at elle Indies) was from the first of Apr 4 1607. till August 24. 1808. ore Sand whole he could arrive at the Barre of Saratt in the neerest port of the Indet, almost seventeens moneties ageland paileds nection appear are not many in the interest of the second milites of Citid and Siteer, and for turther provilent of all maperees, luory, Apes and Peacocks; Sum. total. and third veere my help returned and with the blind below a click a collection Pottor Devallower aftie miles a day of regul Re way; that it vaco miles every foure weekes, D. Desteckon refting the Stobath, and forty miles a chay within the Galle or Red Sea the miles he computeth, ning. 60 efficie the support, and rorty mace a say writering to the model the sun like and twenty days our writering the support of the wind the wind the support before the support of the supp Mine Workes, to be pent in mind workes of deuter thankfulneffe, prayers and tettuall rejoycilly as much before their thipping for returne, the rest in their workes and purueying of commodicies 50 that for what I allow a yeere, to each of these he alloweth the space of eight moneths.

44.0338 1

or there abouts: the third yeere he bestoweth on their businesse, rest, and triumph at home, care of their family and flate preparations for the next returne, as trimming the ships (in their times the wormes which in those Seas breede in ships, and eate them, compell vs to sheath them) and other prouisions. He alloweth 4500, workemen for the mines, not all at once working, but in couries, some resting by turnes, others working, and then those succeeding to their workes whiles they agains rested (the workes and yeeldings whereof hee diligently examineth) three hundred for the Almug trees, for Elephants teeth twenty, for Apes and Peacockes ten : one hundred Officers : in all 5040. To this bufineffe he holdeth requifite fiftie tall fhips, to each fhip thirty Mariners, in all 1 500. which with the former number make vp 6540.men. Thus he and more then thus with much curiolitie of minerall and manall learning, which cannot here be expressed with- 10 out that libertie of long discourie, which neither the vulgar reader could understand, nor others perhaps (except some tew) finde leisure to reade. Otherwise I would haue inserted it.

I honour his great industry, but cannot conceive that that age yeelded such great ships to carrie io manie, nor that they could one day with another make fo much way, nor that Salomon would permit fo long a flay as a whole yeere, but rather prese new men. As for the Phoneian

Mariners, voon this occasion it is likely that they feeled their dwelling at or neere Exion Geber, as all antiquitie mentioning Phanicians in the Red Sea, leemeth to argue. And for the fernants of Salomons formants fent to Ophir Were not Salomen, they were the politeritie of the people that were left of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Himites, and lebusites, which were not of the children of Ifrael. Their children that were left after them in the land, whom the children of I frael also were not able otterly to destroy; opon those did 20 1keg.9.20,21,22 Salomon leuie a tribute of bond fernice unto this day. But of the children of Ifrael did Salomon make no bondmen. Thus the holy writ but a few verses before the mention of this Ophirian Nauie, Of these it is said 2 Chro. 2. 17. And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of I fract after the numbring wherewith David bis father had numbred them, and they were found an hundred and fiftie thousand and three thousand and sixe bundred. And bee set 70000 of them to be bearers of burthens, and 80000. to be hewers in the Mountaines, and 3600. oner feers to fet the people amorbe. If Salomon would not ease them by courses neerer home (for they were the Israelites which served by those courses, not these strangers) I cannot here ease them; and if he would not employ the Iiraelites in the neerer quarries and Forrefts, neither would he fend them to remoter Mines, a more dangerous and difficult worke. Now some of those hewers in the Mountaines were fittest for 30 this hewing and mining in the Mountains for Mettals, to which that place may also be intended and extended. Officers to Ophir and men of command he might have out of Itael, but for the Oare by Sea and Ore at land, these were likely to be the farmants of Salomon mentioned in the text; the rather because that name over after continued to them, as you may read oven after the return from the captinitie in Ezra 2.55. Nebem. 7.60. This hath beene omitted by others handling this argument, and therefore I am the fuller in it.

Dill Acres

Belisies, it is as likely (which others also observe, and before is mentioned, de agreeth to the 666. talents of Gold yeerely) that Salomon after the Temple buildings were ended, emploied Fleetes yearely to Ophir, one under another, that each should make their voiage in three years, but of them enery yeare one fould returne : which agrees not with D. Deer peculation of a years flay. Nei- 40 ther is it probable that in feuen or eight moneths fo much Gold and Silver could be gotten by fo vnexpert miners. Nor doth D. Dese unfider the Monfons of those Seas which are by fix moneths regulated, and not by eight. Nor may we thinke but that many of Salomons fervants fetled fome abode in the Countrie, to long (at left if we will permit courses, which I will not much quarrell amongit them) as Salomon vied the voiage; by whom the Iuorie, Apes, and Peacockes might be procured, and Gems also without any special allowance of men each third yeere to that purpole; except as the Fleet in comming or going might touch by the way at each good mart, for which Doctor Deer ime of eight moneths feemes alfo too hort. Yet if any approue, and luft to follow him, I have no Empire over opinions.

This Ophirian voiage which brought the riches of the Eaft to Lizion Geber, occasioneth a quere 50 of the voiages of Spices, and the manifold thiftings of the Marte Ports thereof in former times.

in a worke of voiages not write for confideration. The first mention of Merchants is of Ammadites and Midiavites, which travelled in a Caravantogether with Camels carrying facerie, & balme, and

FirMerchante and the divers Marts for Spi-

205.19

Su'da.

Mirrhe to Egype. These inhabited nor far from Enion Geber, or the shoares of the red Sea. Whither their Spicerie came out of the Southerne parts of Arabia, or further out of India brought into fome Arabian port, is not easie to determin. Their Balme they might have at Gilead by the way. though Arabia yeelds of that alfo, as the Myrrhe likewife; what Spicerie the first mentioned is, is not fo eatie to decide Labs mentioning the gold of Ophir , and other passages in that Booke may caufe coniecture of an Indian grade in his daies. But this is easily gathered out of Histories that the great Monarchs endeuoured to make them lettes Lords of India for the riches afgrefaid. Semeremes 60 is faid to haue invaded India, & to have beene repelled by Stairghates, which I can believe, though See Full Mifel, not fo prodigal of faith as to accept the report of three Millions of foot, and fine, hundred thousand horse in her asmy; no more then that the was the founder of Babylin. But both Ninne or Ainne (which her husband Name had made the feare of the Affrica Empire) itanding won Logar which floweth into Tigris; and Bubylen teat of the Chaldean Empire on Emphrater, Selencia also & Bagdet of later building not farre from thence, have in their times beene fitting feats to receive either by land or fea, or both, the Indian riches, thence to be dispersed to other Marts and thorow the world, The Perfiant were Lords of India, as both the Scripture & Herodotus affirme, & Alexander aduan - Effe. 8.9. ced the Macedonian Emp:rethither allo; whole Empire after his death being rent into foure parts, Herod. Thelia. Seleucin policifed Babylonia, and Ptolemeus Egypt, which by the red Sea made most advantage of Egyptions.

CHAP. I. S.II. Severall Ports of Indian Merchandise, changing with the Empires. 43

Selostris (whom lofephine esteemeth to be Shifhat, 2 Chro. 12. the King of Egypt which tooke 2- 10 Ant 9.18.64 way great part of their Ophirian treatures) is by Strabo reported the first which subdued Estion Strab. 1.16. To pis and Troglodytica : at the straits of Dira (where the red Sea is but fixthe finlings or feuen miles and a haife broad) left Monuments of his exploits, a pillar engrauen with hieroglyphikes : he pals fed theme into Arabia and thorow all Asia. His westerne expedition I omit (Lucan fingeth, Venit ad oc afum mundig, ex trema Sefostris but it is like that being in the time of Salomon and his er 2 chro. 35. mulous memie, that the glory of Salomons Ophirian arts had whetted him to this Afian and In- Heredi 4. dian expedition. Pliny mentions the Tyrians in this coast, and the port Danion whence Sefostris first of al thought to bring a Nauigable River to Delta of Nilus 62, miles. Neche long after (hee which lew King loftas) is faid to have fought to make a marriage betwire the Red Sea and Nilus (the caufe is euident, the Arabian, Ethiopian and Indian commerce to be loyned with the Me- Pille.c.29. diterranan) and to have fent Phanecians from that Sea vpon discoverie round about Africa; in Died. Sed. s. e. 3 20 Which rouge they spent two yeeres. Cambyfes conquered Egypt, and built Cambifes a Citie on the Pint. 6. 6.296 red Sex Drives the Person pursued Neebos project, thinking to perfect a trench from the River to the Sexbut was deterred by those which faid that Sex was higher then Experient and thersore would Promocious drown t. Yet did this proiect outline the Perfien Empire in Egypt, for Ptolemie made a trench 100, worker and in foot brad and 30. deepe, 37. miles and 400. paces, as far as the Bater fountaines, and then brake off ilis Trench.

rus a Geman ( which faw it in his way to Mount Sinai from Caire ) teftifieth. Copts way was found by King Ptolomie, and the Egyptian Exchequer thereby fo advanced, that Arthiesor Such ab in Adles time, a King nothing frugall, the prodigall Father of prodigious Clopatra (Strabo sites Furt, volage it out can Oration of Cicero) the royal revenues came to 12500 talents, which is of English coine in 1.8 c. 13. by M. keremoode reckoning two millions, three hundreth forty three thouland & leven hundreth Strab Lit. & fiftwoounds. And if that he, faith Strabe, which careiefly and negligently administred his Kingdome hd fo much revenue, what may we thinks of the prefent Roman governmen, the Indiagand Troplosticall Merchandifes being edded ? For whereas afore fearly 20. ships adnentured out of the Stres, now yery great fleets are fet forth to India and Ethiopia; whence precious Merchandifeatre lought to Egypt and thence transported to other places, with the benefit of double custome fr importation and exportation. But those precious wares have heavie imposts because of the Monpolies, enely Alexandria receiving and dispersing them. Thus Strato, who calleth Alexandria andria imperor uties of damuires the greatest Mart in the World, How gainful this trade was, and what code they held in this voiage in Plinies time, you have heard out of him alreadie.

Alexadria being orewhelmed with a Saracen Deluge, by Schifmaticall Chaliphae beganne at See Leok Sana laft to hol vo head againe, and whiles the Mamalutes Empire lafted, was the chiefe Mart for 414 the Spicesrought to Mecca, and thence carried to Alexandria, the Trade whereof was in the Venetians Ind, and enriched their Signiorie very much, till the Portugals in our Grandfathers dayes founthe way by Sea into the Indies, whereby both the Moores and Venetians were impouerished This Trade fet Henrie that Noble Prince of Portugall on worke to begin that which See inflat dir was so longefore it produced any fruit. Yea, this Indian Trade let Columbia, and after him Ca- 5.2. bot on work to find the way to the Indies by the Weil; which their industricus simplicatie God rewarded with a New World by them discourted. But to returne to our Romans, Rhammilio cites out of the Iman Law, the Customes for the Indian goods fet downe in the Reigne of Marcus and Comodus; viz. Curamon, Pepper long, and white, Clines, Caffen, Cancamo, Spikenard, Caffenard, fia, Frankinese, Xilocassia, Myrthes, Appension, Ginger, Malabathrum, Ammoniake, Galbanum, Lafer, Agoleum, Gumme Arabice, Cardamome, Carpefium, Silkes, Parthian and Babylonian Workes, Inorie, Eboniul forts of precious Stones, Pearles, Sardonix, Ceraunia, Hissinth, Emerald Diamond, Dibsenius. Saphire, Callie, Berill, Cilindre, Indian and Sarmatian Clother, Je which I have mentioned that Strat Lit. we may fee to I sade then, and now are much alike. Strabo and line (before this preatnesse of Alexandria, as it may feeme) extoll Dioferrial in the bottome cehe Enzine or Blacke Sea, where people of feventie Languages, or as Timofibenes 60 affirmed, threeundred feuerall Nations reforted; and afres that the Romans wied one hundred and thirtie Interpreters in their butineffes. In Planies time this Babylon was walle, I imagine that when the Perfix Empire possessed India and Afra minor this Distouries was the Staple of Indian Commodities : grought partly by the Perfian Gulfe as farre as Farre would permit, & the rest by Land, which is to ceat way. Or, as fome thinke, and not wintum taufe, those Seas being form fearing in inundation, the red Sea being found three cubits higher then the land of Egypt. Some (faith Finie ) fay the feare was, left Nilms should be corrupted by the Sea water. Yet by three waies did the then paffe to Arfinos built by Ptolemans Philadelphus, The Trench ftill continues, as Fare-

When the Seleucide succeeded in those parts, it is like that the Trade continued, though weaker, fill the Romans drew all to Alexandria: especially the Parthian Empire not permitting such Commerce to their Roman Enemies, as neither the Perfians after.

That Barbarous myst of so many Nations which ouercame the Roman Empire, busied this Bagdet.

b This caufed fo much wars to the Pertu-ga's from the

Moores, the fince from them to Ours and the Dutch

Ant. Galuano en

Ramuf.

Boghar. Aftracan.

Caffa.

Moba.

London.

Nonogrode.

Trapezond.

Lib.s.cap.vlt.

lib.12. Hexam.

Pined de reb.

Acofia de Nat.

News orb.l. 1.6-

13,14.

$252.20 ex

radio prin

ا يىلىسىد.

Trade in darknelle, till the Saracens grew to some height, and Bagdes was made the chiefe Seate of their Calipb, builded on Tigris, and commodious to attract the Trade of the East; and disperse it 10 to the West. A great part of this Trade after the declination of Bagder, the East beeinginfected with Mahumetan tollies, honoured also with colour of Religion , was conceyed by the Arabian Moores, and Mooresh Indians to Mecca (the finke of that Superstition) by the Red Set, Indians and Ziden being their Ports, and thence was much of it carried to Damajco, and there to Aleppe, which Trade hath continued to our dayes; and another part to Care, hereby flouris fhing, and thence to Alexandria as aforefaid : which is still vsed also, but much empared, and almost for laken by the European Nauigations b into India.

Whiles the Tartarian Empire flourished, these Indian Wares were carried much (as rou may reade in Pole) to Mangi or China; to Cathay, many alto carried to Boghar in Battria, and to Samarcand, and thence to other parts. Also in those troublesome times when the Tartars hid ouers 20 runne all, and when Bogbar was in efteeme for Trade, the Indian Merchandiles were shipped on Mamalukes and the Caspian Sea by Oxus, and thence convayed to Afracan, on the River Rba, or Volga, and so to the Turkes: and Nonogrode, and thence partly ouer-land, partly by water to Caffa, or Theodofia, whenthe Genowages fetched it (who then were of great power in thefe parts) and difperfed it in thriftian Pores; the Venetians and Genomages being Corriuals in this Trade, as in other things, anin those dayes very great. Much also passed to Trapezond, that Citieso flourishing that it becamen Empire, a Title too heavie for it, and the ruine both of Constantinople the Mother thus weakened, and of it felfe.

Ormuz was famous by this Trade, and Moba in the Red Sea, but both have their coule to A. toppe; of which our Travellers shall in due time tell you in the following Discourses. incaow 30 we fee London an Indian Mart, and Turkie it felfe from hence ferued with Pepper, and they Indian Commodities, as Master Mun Deputie of that Company in his following Tradite will Flus much of the Ports made famous by Indian Spicerie and Merchandize, Anaftafis Sinaita Anaflaf Sinaitai affrmeth, that Salamons Fleet made a returne every yeere, which of the fame Fleet cantor bee vnderstood. Pineda yeelds to this, but he makes vs more labour about Theris, to with, trows wee are returned from Ophir, he enforceth vs to a new Voyage, and to finde Thar fin Spities. Tolephus Acosta also hath made a scruple both of Ophr and Thorfis, and makes them to gnifie no particular fer place, but generall and remote, is India doth now with vs. fignific all thEafterne World in vulgar appellation. Yet doth he acknowledge the substance of that wee has spoken, 40 and professeth to agree with losephus, to that with him wee that have but a Gramme quarrell. We will adde a word of the Phanicians which here are expressed to have beene Soleons Marjners, and of their ancient Nauigation, and to shall we make an enti of our Oghrim Voage, which to some Readers will perhaps feeme much longer then three yeeres.

d. XII.

Of Tharfis on Tharshifh, whether it beeshe Same with Ophic, and bott some in . 50 definite remoter Countrey ; whether it be the 884, or Tatteffits, buny place in Spaine. of the ancient Nantgations about STORES ...

Africa, and of the Phienician Antiques Antiques Antiquities. Trainer, Pile in pil 16+12 : 5 . . . . . . .

Acoll de Nat. N. Orb.l.1.c.13.

return word Berth . . . . . . Earned Acoffa having alleaged Reafons fusicient for confusing that thinion of Property and the Confer on realizations for the Confer on realization for the Confer on reali to be Ophir, an upltart name, voknowne to the Natiues; and when neither luorie norfuch precious Gemmes could be brought , and whither Solomon Navie motherse times ignorant of the Load-stone, could not come to stand them ; at Easterine danks 63 beingfitter then the Well for Solomons purpoles the concludeth, Ego fane Opir & Ebattibos dunnes lacrie sapien nen cersum aliquem definitumed, locum sonare sufficor sed genera porins esse ancias bulene, storing, efficere and Hebrece, qued apud nes vulge ludiarum vecem. He out cheeth, that as Indiaisa name given to any remote, rich, and strange Region very much differing from outsias

HAP.I.S. 12. Ophir and the voyage to Ophir Opinions of Ophir and Tharshilh. 45

Mexico, Brafil, Malaca, &c. So likewile Ophir and Tharfis; and as for Tharfis, it fignifieth elor the maine Sea, or most remote and strange Regions. Thus he consectureth,

For Ophir we have before found it, the proper name of a man and of a Region denominated of himbur withal haue acknowledged the Ophirtan voyage to comprehend more then the Region of Ophir, including the other Indian Ports wherat they touched and traded in that voyage, especially the two llands now called Seilan and Sumstra, and all places on the Coast within the Gulfe of Bengala, which might fit their purpose. It is vivall now to call an Indian Voyage, not only to Jacatra, Bantam, or Banda, but thereto also they reckon their touching at Soldanha, on the maine of Afrike, or at the River of Saint Augu line in the great Hand of Sunt Laurence, and the Hands 10 of Compre, or Socatra, or wherefoeuer they arrive on the Ababor Mohan fhoare in the Red Sea, or in any Arabike Port, or in the Persian Gulie before they come to India: and there also Surat, Dial, Calicut, or wheretoeuer they touch belides on this fide or beyond that principal Port where they make their Voyage, as they terme it, that is, where they take in their chiefe ladings. Of winch, the following Relations will give you many inflances. So the Straits Voyages, intimate not the meere fayling to or thorow the Straits of Gibraltar, in vulgar appellation, but all Voyages within thole Straits whether to Venice, or Ligarne, or Zant, or Conftanftinople, or Scanderone, or Alexandria, or in one Voyage to visit many or all of these Ports, is yet called but a Stratts Voyage, We may yeeld thus much therefore to Aeofla, that Opher, was a proper Country (as India The bounds of alio is extending from Ganger to Menan, and betwitthe Lake Chiamar, and the Gulfe or Sea Ophir. O of Bengale; but as it happened, that Indiabeting the remotest knowne Region, gaue name in old times to all later Discourries beyond it, and in after times accidentally to the New World, which the first finders mistooke for Easterne India, is also the Voyage to Ophir, accidentally might give name to all those Remote parts, and comprehend all the farre Ports, which by occasion of the Voyage to Ophir they vilited, lying in the way thither, or somewhat wide or beyond. And as there is a Region truly and properly called India, even al that which extends from Indus (whence it is so named) to Ganger; which name by others ignorance of the proper names of Regions, was extended further both beyond Ganges, and to all remote Regions; io was there a true Ophir, named of Ophir the sonne of Ioktan, which occasioned other remote Countreyes to beare that appellation, at least in this Voyage thither.

But for Tharsis or Tarshift, or Tharshift; we see Acosta himselfe in his finall voshor, to make an aut of it, Aut immensum mare, aut regiones semotissimas & valde peregrina accips solere. So that his former Proposition admits now another, that either it is the maine Ocean (which I take to be the true fenie) or fome remote Region. Some are of opinion that the Voyage to Ophir, and that Ribera, Pineda, to Tharlis differed, because the Scripture faith, according to our Translation, For the King had at Go. to Inar it united, seems the Native of Hiram once in three years, came the Name of Tharship, 1.Reg.10 22. Sea a Name of Tharship, 2.Chom.9.21. bringing Gold and Silver, Inorie, and Apes and Peacockes.

Th. Kings Tremellias hath it. Nam classis Oceans pro rege cum classe Chirami eras: semel ternis annis veniebas ships wint to claffis ex Oceano afferens aurum, &c. The Vulgar, Latine and Septuagint, Namis Tharfis erat regi Tharfisfis &c. Salomoni in mari cum nausbus Chiram.

Saint lerome in many places examineth this Tharfush, as in Ef. 2. Melius est Tharfis vel mare came the first vel pelagus absoluie ponere, and alledgeth longs his flicing to Tharfis, who from loppe could not from The fifth. come to India by Sea.

ome to India by Sea,

Most of the late Writers agree with Tremellius, that Thurstis is the Ocean; and make that a Ribera in Ion 1.

Cornel, Cornel. difference betwirt Tharfush and Dr lam which fignifies the Sea, as the Red Sea, or Mediterranean, and withall those lesse collections of waters as the Dead Sea, the Sea of Galilee, and that Forering in Ef. 2. Brazen Veffell for the largeneffe, called a Sea, 2. King. 25. 16. whereas Tharflish is only the Maine En Saam P/ 47 or large Sea. R. Mose Hadarsan circuth foure fignifications, Tarsus a Citie of Cilicia, Carthage, Marin in area. India, and the Sea. This place cannot admit Tarfius not Carthage, beeing in another Sea, to Rec. 10. which Estangeber, on the Red Sea had not beene the Port to have failed from, but Joppe or Tyrus, Villaland in or some other Hauen in the Mediterranean. Now if any thinke them two Vovages from two Exercise 50 feuerall Ports, the Scripture is plaine, where it is faid, leboft aphat made flops of Thanfligh to oce to R Mof Had, in Ophir for Gold; but they went not, for the firps were broken at Estongeber. And left any might thinke Pits.

that they were called thips of Theoship, because the materials came from Culicia, it is more full. 2. Chron. 20. 3. And after this did leboft aphat King of Iudah, some himselfe with Abaziah King 1 Rep. 22,48. of Ifrael, who did very wickedly. And he joyned kimfelfe with him to make this to go to Tarfiffs, and they made the Ships in Estongeber. Then Eliever prophetied, &c. and the Ships were broken that they could not goe to Tarling. Note also that the vulgar translateth in one place Sea , in the other Some hence gatherit tobe a Region in India, as that Rabbi, and Ierome also doth in some fort P. A. de Orie A.

60 auerre, with Iofephin, and many late Writers. But because no tuch Region in India can be found, henceto many opinions. Posteliu placeth Ophir in the Golden Region where Malaca standeth, but makes Tharfis to extend further, even to the South Sea; or the Peruan Coast, to that Other and Perware discreed for a marriage with Tharfis. The Chaldee will have it Africa, and Ema. Chala. Parand. and Peru are discreed for a marriage with I partie. The consider will have them two Voyages, and not the Rib. in Jong.

1.Reg.10 22.

G (8.10.4.

* 10f.15.12.

same to Ophir and Thersis; Pinede and Goropius bring vsto Tartessus in Spaine. But I embrace the opinion of Cornelius Corneli, Villalpandus (and heerein Ribers also agreeth) which fay that ot Tarfulb the Sonne of Iaman, Cilicia tooke name at first, still continued to Tursin (where Saint Paul was borne, famous in old times by Straboes report for the Universitie and other Antiquities) and the Inhabitants therof, and the adjoyning Regions being famous at Sea, might cause that great Sea (as the Scripture cals * 1t, in comparison of the leffer Scas in Indea) to be called Tarforb, a name then early by the lewes derived to all great Seas, whether Mediterranean or Ocean.

Now that w. ich makes Interpreters to queftion some place in India, or elsewhere, is the phra e of going to and comming from Tarfujb, and bringing goods from thence, a kind of speech which to Pmeda seemeth ridiculous, if thereby be not meant some certaine place on Land. Wee 19 fee at this day the Hill Aila in Afrike, hath given name to that huge huge Ocean, extending euen to the New Worlds of the South and West. The Straits betwixt Spaine and Africe, give name with our Mariners to all the Midland Sea within and beyond them. Indus gaue name to India, and all the Ocean adjoyning; and the South Sea (the greatest of knowne Seas) is so termed, because Valques Balbon hift faw it lying to the South from him ; neither can the Westerne Scite, take away that name Del Sur to this day. Isit then any maruell, that Tarfhift the Celician Sea next adjoyning to Indea, should give name to all the deeper and larger parts of the Mediterranean, which they had occasion after to take notice of, and to other Seas from the Red Sea forward more wide and spacious. Pineda himselfe contesseth, that Tartessus which hee would have to be Thar fis, gaue name not only to Battea, but to all Spaine. And is it any more ridiculous or 28 abfurd to fay, the King had a Nauie of Thar hip at Sea, then that which our vulgar Mariners lay, the Straits fleet is now at Sea, or the Straits fleet is come from Sea, speaking of our Merchants ships, which keep company together in the Seas for teare of Alger Pirats. Do not they cal them Strate Merchandife? and fay, that such & such goods are brought out of the Straits, or caried to the Straits, that are fent thorow those Seas, and brought by those Seas to or from any Port therein: And as viuall a Phrase it is, which Pineds indgeth so absurde, that a Mariner being asked whither he goeth, should answere to Sea, or that Gold, Silver, Ivorie, Peacockes and Apes should be said to be brought from Sea: For our Mariners (which learne not their Idiome of Scholers) vie to fay, when all their money is spent, they will goe to Sea and got more; that they brought this or that from Sea, that shortly they are to goe to Sea, or have lately come from Sea, without naming any Port; that such 30 a man hath got all bu goods by Sea, great wealth bath comme to bim by Sea; hee hath had great luffe by Sea, and other like parales of Sea-men (for so also are they called, in opposition to Land-men, in regard of their Trade and course of life, though the habitation of both be on Land.) This then may be the fente: SALOMON had at Sea a Name at Tharfbifb, that is, ships built for long voyages at Sea : as we call men of Warre, or ships of Warre; which are built for that purpose, And how ea ie is the construction, Ichoshaphat made ships of Thurship to goe to Ophir, in these words, a Sea-nauie, or flip of the Sea to goe to Opbir; that is, not fuch Fisher-boates, as they saw in the Sea of Galilee, or fuch small Barkes as they vied in Palaitina to trade from Port to Port, but a Nauie Royall of strong ships able to brooke long Voyages in the Ocean.

Ionas I. Heron in long. P/-72.11. By fome vndiferent and vaine Cutters or Printers flatterie,or igfible of divine myfteries . in the torefront of a great Book c, proper to Chrift are applied to his Maiesties picture : Omnes gentes fernient ei, &c. which I mention to Rie from ca-See Tem.2.

ONE.19.

I also thinke that in regard of the length of those Voyages, in which they were two thirds 40 of the time at Sea (after our account) and three whole yeeres in each Voyage from their Landhome, in a kind of eminence, they were in these Voyages said to goe to Tharship or to Sea. And fo longs likewise minding to flie from that Land whither he was lent, was hurried in the strength of temptation, a quite contrarie way, whether that thip intended Tarfus in Cilicia, or whitherfocuer it went, he chusing rather a certaintie of flight then of fcite, or setling himselfe any where, norance insen- as Saint Ierome saith of him, Non ad cerum fugere cupiebat locum, sed mare ingredicus, quocunque pergere festinabat. Et magu bac connenit fugitius & timedo, non locum fuge otioie eligere, sed primam occasionem arripere nausgands. Likewise in that Psalme which mystically and fully is true of Christ in the calling of the Gemiles; typically and in part verified in Solomon (wickedly and Antichristianly since applied to the Pope in many passages of the last Councell of Lateran under In- 50 fome words of lus the Second, and Loo the Tenth) it is laid, The Kings of Tharfollo and of the Iles shall bring presents, the Kings of Sheba and Schafhall offer gifts; it is plaine by the Historie of Solomon in Scripture, and by toyning of Therbish and Sheba together, that no Tartessus, nor Angola, nor Peru, are intended; and that Maritime Kings are meant (Tremellius reades Reges Oceani accole) which ruled in Hands (which is also added) or Coasts and Ports neere the Sea (fire as Hirass then was, and all remote Maritime Provinces the Scripture cals Ilands) which yied also (as in those parts of the East Indies, almost all the Kings are at this day Merchants) trade by Sea, and perhaps enivyed the Title of the adioyning Seas (as his Maiestie is King of the British Ocean, and anovindicate both thet Pacificus his Predecessor added it to his Royall Title, Ego Edgarns Anglorum Basileus, " omvindicas continuing, Regum, Infularum, Oceanio, Britanniam ctroumiaentiu, cunilaruma, Nationum, que infra 60 earn includuntur, Imperator & Dominus. Such were the Kings of Tharfing, whose Customes from the Sea, and Trade by it, made them have their thips of Thar full, & wealth from Thar full : as in later dayes, the Kings of Aden, Ormus and Malacca; and ftill of Fariaque, Socatra, Calicut, Cochin, Zeilan, Achen, and many others included in the circuit of our Ophrian Voyage are; and mighe

therefore infly be called Kings of Tharshift: from all which no doubt either in the course of this Ophries Voyage and Trade, or otherwite tent by Speciall Meffengers, Solomon had presents, as in 1. Reg . 10.24.25. is expressed.

Pineda himitelie citeth out of Straboes third Booke of the Gaditans (which is Tartesfus, or with him Thar fluib) plerig, mare incolunt, panci domi defident: and in this respect Tyrus may by the Prophet be called filta Tharfir, daughter of the Sea, as feated in it, ruling on it, and hung of it. The Chaldee Paraphrate hath the Kings of Tharfis, and the Hands of the great Ocean Sea; which may bee valerstood of the Indian Sea: and not as Goropini and Pineda would vige vs, of Spaine. Pineda citeth Anaftafins Sinaita, that Tharfie is Hesperia Regionis Occidentalis; and Foreto rins & Engubinus to allift Goropius: whose authoritie shall so farre moone as their reason is

As for Goropius, his fifth, fixth and feuenth Bookes of his Hiffanica are principally fpent on That bilb the Sonne of Ianan, which he writes Tarfees, as fignifying in that which he makes the first of Languages (the Dutch Tongue mother of ours) one that dares aduenture the Seas, or one which tarties in the Seas: therefore also firnamed Atlas or Atlant, quafi Hat-lant, or Hate-land, Him he makes with his brother Elisathe peoplers of Spaine, and faith, that of his skill in Aftronomie and invention of the Sphere, he was fabled to beare the Heavens; and to have named his daughters with names of flarres; to have failed also to Opbir, so called as oner the wideft Sea, as Permofa peere there built; and other like collections hee hath very wittie, learned and 20 pleafant, not folid enough to conuince, nor so contemptible as very case to be confuted. Pineds hath written many theets of paper to honour his Spanish home with Salomons Voyages for the Temples fructure, wherein his error amoris and not amor erroris may plead his excuse, according to that of the Port, Nescro qua natale solum dulcedine cunttos Ducit, & immemores non sinit esse sus. I cannot but maruell, that two fo learned men are fo ftrongly carried by fo weake realons as the likenesse of words in Tharsis and Tartesses, when Geographers tell vs of, and themselves confelle, Tarfus in Cilicia, Tarfis in Syria, Tarfiss in Pannonia, and a River of that name in Treas, with I know not how many others; and belides, Tartessia being a Phenieran Colonie might of Thar-bish or the Ocean receive the name (whether we intend Gades or Cadic thereby, or the whole Berike Province as feared in, or on the Sea or Coalt, and living by Maritime Arts.

30 But of names of places wee haue before spoken how casuall and accidentall they are. Euen Tartarus the name of Hell is neere the former, & Strabe gheffeth that Homer called it fo of this Twieffor in the remotest Welt, which Hellish kindred of termes, me thinks , should not be very gratefull to Spanish eares. Etimologists may easily runne mad if they bee permitted libertie; Strable. neither is any argument found from the found of fyllables without other credible Witnesses. Therefore Pineda addeth the frequent Circumnatigation of Africa in those dayes; of which he Circumnatif citeth one out of Herodotas, of the Phancians long after this fent by Neco, which makes against him; for Herodorne both doubted of it, as a matter feeming to him incredible, that they should faile beyond the Sunner course, and therefore could not be frequent; for that Nauigation would have made both Tropikes familiar : he alfo faith in hunc modum Africa primum eft aguita: if that 40 were the first Voyage, Salomons were none, or at least his Title is falle, De frequents & celebri à

They wintered allo by the way, and flayed the growing and ripening of Corne, which argu-

mari Arabico in Hiftaniam nauigatione.

eth no people, at lest no Trade in those parts. His next teltimome is of Seraspes, who having defloured the Daughter of Zopyrse should therefore have beene crucified, but by his mothers intreatie Xerket pardoned him vpon condition of this African Circumnauigation; which argueth the rarenelle of the accempt; as did the fequellatio : for having failed out of the Straits, and coafted some parts of Afrike, hereturned (in despaire) and faid he could faile no further, his ship beeing detained that it could not goe forwards. As for Darini fending to Indus, it is not to this purpole. The fragments of Spanilb thips in the Arabike Gulfe is mentioned by Plinie, as a wonder in 50 Caim Cefare time; and that of Henno signeth not writithe Hiltorie which is extant of his Voy. Pin.L.s.69. age, and more credible and for Endoxin fleeing the tyrinny of Laubfrut, and comming to Gades by that Circumnauigation le was not for Trade, but at a dead lift, to faue his life. Another is faid by Antipater to have failed from Spathe to Lebiopta, which might be to the necrett Blackes before he came to that which now is called Guinnee.

And these are all which are brought for the frequents & celebri nanigatione, that of Neco and of Endown, and a Spanish wracke, being all that all Ages could yeeld voto Plinies time; and all alfolong seer Salomen and of thefe that of Eudowns which is the most likely is farre otherwise suab.l.z. told by Strabe, and at large refuted. As for the long tale of Semiramic out of Snidas, it was to India by the Indian Ocean (if it were at all) and not to Spaine. And out of Silius his Verle, Et celeto bre Oceans at & alternie est that Hiff al, to gather the Betike Natigations to India, round about Africa, or to Mexico & Peru, argueth the Author to be Heftalenfis; a Batike wit, rauished with I know not what beatike funcies : as that also that Salomons raigning from Seato Sea, must be from Pfal.72. the Red Sea to the Gaditan, as if from Elion geber to loppe, were not from Sea to Sea.

From hence he turneth to the Phancian Naugations, which to mention here is more to our steritie first in the old World, & Chams in this, storished in Arts and humaine Sciences. Iohnahr conquest cauled many of them, as Procopius and othersassirme, to see into remoter Regions, specially the Maritime parts of Africa. Commerce added Spane, and what society was fitting to that purpole of trade, Nauigation and riches, especially to the Phenkians, both before and after Carthage. Their comming in and thorow Spaine is acknowledged by Varre also (in Vninetfam Hifpaniam permenife) and they were the first discouerers of the Fortunate Hands in Straboer opinion, and before Homers age held the best places in Africk and Spaine, till the Romans dispossessed them. Carthage in Africa is knowned Phanicean Colonie to schoole boies, and Plinie faith, that all the 10 Betike coast was of Phanicean originall, or of the Pani, which in authors are often confounded with the former, of whom they proceeded, and as Saint lerom observeth, are called Pani quasi Phoni, fill in great part retaining that language; as is also the name Carthaginian , of whom Polybius teltifieth that they posteffed all Spaine, from the Strait to the Pyrengan hils. But he that will view a Map of the Tyrian greatnesseand the auncient Phanicean Nauigations, Trassques and Discoueries, let him read the 27.0f Exeliel, with some good commentarie; and from the best eui-dence it shall appeare that all the best parts and Ports in Asia, Afrike and Europe were then fami-Liar cothis Daughter of Thar bifb. The Batike by Strabo are reputed the most learned of the Spa-murds, ving Grammer, Poesie, Antiquities, and Lawes as they faid 6000, yeeres olds which agree-

Megastenes other where found fabulous, may make somewhat for them.

eth with their Phanician originall. To hunt the Legends of Bacebai, & Ofiris, I here purpose not, as 23 having little truth, and no mention at all of Spane: nor is that more credible of the Pheniceans belieged by Nabuchedonofor, and relieued from their Phanicean Colonies in Spaine, and his revenge vpon them therefore inuading the Spaniards. Aldrete a learned Spaniard reiects both, however

Yet I beleeue their commerce and Phanician originall, and great trafficke; their Mines also of Gold and Silver: but such as yeelded more to the Phanicians and Carthaginians then all the New World hath hitherto to the Spaniard, or many yeeres after Goropius his bitberto, added by Pineda, Gredat Indans apella. Yea still Pineda brings testimonies to proue it no lesse rich in Mines; which makes me not a little maruell at their wiledome to be at such cost to fetch so farre off that which thing states there (it would cause suffocation) so the Spaniards before Columbus his time were so poore and quiet accordingly; and that at that time there appeared so little monie or credit, that the Queene pawned her Iewels to borrow a small ssumme of 2000, Duckets, or little more;

and that fince, Spaine hath (except soone after the returne of the Indian Fleete) so little coine flirring but bale monies. Shall we thinke them milerable, mifer-like, rich-poore, or is ie that their Mines seeme wholly recollected in their mindes they being, if you beleeue Poneda, a Nati-

On opum tam contemtrix quam lucratrix, ingenio acute (bos quorimdam exterorum ineptissima sunidia sufficiosum & calidam vocat, faith lie) ad magnas res unto (boc fordida alsorum socradia superbiam & immorem.) I enuis not their happinesse to them io much chanted by this Spaniard, I wish that haue their Nauies of Thership yeerely bringing Gold and Siluer (as for Apes and Peacockes they neede not goe fo farre for them) fo they would doe as Salomes, line in peace with their neighbours and build the Temple at home: which had they done, much of this our paper Nauie of That logic had not beene, neither had their Gaditane Tartesfut become a pray to Her Nauie of Tarbifb, who in her dates was filia Tarfhift indeede, not Venus orta Mari, but Cui coniurati verere ad claffica venss, who defended her owne at home, by home inuading, by junting her enemies round about the World. Let vs leave the Spaniards magnifying the present tiches of their Mines, as that of Gnadalcanal, one of the best in the world by the Kings Treasurer reported in a Letter to our Author, with Salomons vertue and Ophirian magnificence. Amen.

they were fo contented therewith, that they diffurbed not the quiet of others; and that as they 40

they have so plentifull at home; and that as the throate which swalloweth all the meate and no- 30

CHAP. II.

Mans life a Pilgrimage. The Peregrinations of Christ, and the first Encompassing the habitable or then inhabited World by the holy Apostles and first planters of the Gospell.

Man by sinne become a Worldly Pilgrime; Christs Pilgrimage in the flesh to recouer him : Mans Spirituall Pilgrimage in and from the World.

OD which in the beginning had made the World, and endowed Man with the Naturall inheritance thereof, whom also hee made another, a living and little Natural inheritance thereof, whom ano nee made another, a numerator state world, year compendious Image of God & the World togate cherred in the *sfal.* a Gal.**

world, year compendious Image of God & the World togate cherred in the *sfal.* a Gal.**

nefte of time fem bus owne Some (by whom her had made the World and Mon) to be made a Main in the World, that he might make new and recreate the World and

Mar, now loft & vanishing to perdiction. Which faluation first accomplished in the infinit worth and worthinesse of his person and passion, He committed to faithfull witnesses, giving them charge to go binto all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature, that by those Ministerial b Marke 16.15 conduits (in the cooperation of his Spirit) his amiable and imitable Example might, as the loadstarre of Christians be proposed; his fauing vertue as heavenly influence infused; his all-covering and al-curing merits imputed to his beleeuing members by spirituall grace to prepare them to supercaleftiall Glory, whither Hee is before ascended as our Priest to make intercession, and as a King in humane fiesh to take possession for Vs, by him made Kings and Priests vnto God.

Thus have we one Author of the World, of Man, of Peregrinations by men in and about the World. The first He made by his omnipotent Word, he commanded and in fixe dayes this huge Fabrike was both made and furnished. The second is vouchfafed greater indulgence, in preparation premiled as of confultation, Let ve make Man; in the worke doing e, as of a Mafter-peece, c Gen. 1.26. 0 he formed, and builded; in the exemplar or prototype in our owne image, after our likeneffe: in his 217.22. bountifull portion, the Sea and earth with all their appurtenances, subjected to his regall possesfion', the heavens with their reall influence and royall furniture to his wife vn-erring con-

Thus at first; but the first became last, by setting the last first, and preferring the Creature to the Creator, and therefore is justly turned out of Paradife to wander, a Pilgrime cuer the world : 40 But therefore did his Creator (for medicines are of contraries) preferre this Creature to himfelfe. by infinitenesse of humilitie to make satisfaction for his vnspeakable pride; and hee which had before made Man after his image, makes himselfe after mans image, to recouer that which was loft. O tinari, oria! O amanda o admiranda dignatio! propicious, vnspeakeable, superadmirable bounty! The World he made that he might give it Man. Man he made fuch as might be capable of the world, and gave him now a double world, adding to the former greater, this leffer of Mans felfe. And when both thefe were loft, by wilfull Treason and voluntary actuall rebellion, that he might forgine the Traitor He gave the Prince, who to Himselfe forgave not the demerits of his feruant; nor was content to regiue the forfaited world of creatures, but added a world supercele- * Folly and fliall, where fallen regained Man might supply the foomes of fallen forlorne . Angels : yea Hee madnesse of Teltored loft Man to himlelfe in a furer and nobler possession : and for the complement of Bounty thick will fell Creature the Creature folds deleted in marriage deleted to he gave to this lost Creature the Creators selfe : dedu fe in merium, debit fe lin premium. In this crewite reket wnity giuen God hath obferued a Trinity of gining. Hee gaue his Sonne vnto vs, doth giue his by a higher wait y guen God hath ontenued a rivity or guings are grown to the first property of the Spirit into varietieuth Himselfe for vs to be an exceeding $\frac{q}{q}$ to the day of the Wildoms in dress of beautie in that glory where we $\frac{q}{q}$ fall fee him as he is, and $\frac{q}{q}$ odd foel be all in all viste w. Nor their owns this a fix dates worke, but he which made the world and man in fixe dates, vouchfield to be crabin finel who ensying made Man, indured to converfe with finners more then halfe fixthe yeeres; and not with a word man his Paracommanded this new creation to be made, but the Word was commanded & dix "male of gef- dic loft their fit mira & pertulu dura) God oner all bleffed forener was made obedient i to the death, even the death of owne Heaven 60 bleffedneffe. This was indeede the greatest of all peregrinations, when the word was made flesh and (leaving Principalipalities and Thrones to bee by Gods mercie recovered and repetitefied by Men whom they had made finfull, Christ reflorious, d ler 15.1. c miaj 18.5. f 1.lebn 3. g 1.Co.15. h Ber.de dilg.Den 1 Phila. k Gal.5.

ibe (roffe, and was made a curfe for vs, to redeeme vs from the Curfe, and to make vs heires of left those Thrones and dated 1607, and another of Francisco Tesada his Sonne, so farre extolling the Spanish (bee names divers) beyond those of Potoff, that whereas a quintall (that is 1600, ounces) of Potoff Ore, or 50 earth digged up, yeeldes but an ounce and halfe of pure Silver, most of the Spanift yeelde ten ounces of a quintall, some more to 15.30.60. Markes, each of eight ounces. It is fit in a long tractate, and as it were another Voyage to Opbir, to end with Mines : and fitter in Salomons Opbir, so end with honorable mention of our Salomon, who without any Hirams helpe, fent herieroants to Ophir and Pern too, and round about the vinuerie to repaire that Temple, and to defend the Faith, which a greater then Salomon had by her in England toitored from Babylonifo captilitie; which the greatest powers on earth sought in vaine to hinder, the failing surther by her seruants, raigning longer in her owne person, more glorious in her last daies, then Salomon, and leaving a peaceable Salomon to succeede her; yea to exceede, with addition of another Kingdome; (not a Rabebo-am, to loofe the greatest part of the former.) Him God defend to defand bis faith long among it vs, 60 order CHAP.

Apostles preached thorow all the World in proper sense. CHAP.2.S.3.

in a forthis heavenly Country, and his Fathers house) dwelt among st vs. The next remote pere-1 10.1 . grination was his afcention from the lower parts of the Earth (where also his life was a certaine vncertaine pilgrimage, farre m aboue all heauens, to leade captiuitie captine, and gine gifts to Men. m E h.4.8.9. And he gans some Apostles, and some Prophets, and some Euanoelists, and some Pastors and Teachers. By whom in the worke of the Ministery is effected a double remote Peregrination; one in vs. when we travel from our felues, that each man might fay to his corrupt corrupting fielh (as that traveller n Amb, de jæ. to his quondam Miltreffen, feeking after his returne to renew her diffolute acquaintance, and faying, when she faw him strange as it he knew her not, Ego sum? Tis I: At ego non sum ego, anfwered he, I am not I no w) I trauell in birth till . Christ be formed in me, and, I line o not but Christ * G:L5. lines in me, that I may P deny my felfe and take up my croffe and follow him. The other is when wee 10 put off our earthly tabernacle, and departing from this house of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, arrive in the faire bauens of Heaven, in the quire of Angels and triumphane societie of the Heavenly first borne. And thus is Mans whole life a Pilgrimage, either from God as Cains, or from himselfe as Abels, and all the Saints which confessed themselves Pilgrims on the earth, and P Mat.16.24. Heb.11.16. to feeke another Country, that is, a heavenly. Vnto this spirituall and celestiall peregrination. was subordinated that bodily, of those first Euangelists vnto all Nations thorow the World to plant the Church and fettle it on her foundation, which also in their I times was effected accora Mat.24.14. ding to the Prophesie and precept of our Saujour, whose peregrinations, if wee had all the particulars, were slone sufficient to yeelde a large Volumne of Voyages.

Christ indeede vouchfafed, euen in literall sense, to honour peregrinations in his owne person, 20 whose bleffed Mother soone after his conception trauelled from Nazareth in Galilee, into the hill Countries of Indea, to her Coulin Elizabeth, and after her returne is by Cafar: Edict brought back that in r an Inne at Betblehem, this Pilgrime might in a Pilgrimage bee borne , the f Governour of his people Ifrael, that is of spirituall Pilgrimes. And there from a remote place by Pilgrimes of the East is he visited; and how soone is his infancy forced to an Egyptian peregrination: how reftleffe and manifold were his after-peregrinations in Galilee, Samaria, the Wilderneffes and Cities of Indea in the Coasts of Tyre and Sidon, in Decapolis by Sea, by Land, going about all the Cities and Villages, teaching and preaching, and healing enery disease among the people, till the Heauens received him into a certaine reft. But my Pen is vnworthy to follow his foot-prints.

è. II.

How Apostles differed from Bishops: their preaching the Gofbell to all Nations.

How Bellemint contradicts himfelfe tou. ching the Pope Apostles. See Torti Torti p. 248.and how improperly Gregory is cal-

Mat.z.

325. edero e mioxo-

e Gal 2.6,7. g Col.1,6,33. h Mat.28. Is A postles as they differed from others in immediate vocation, to Euangelicall Minigeneration of the Euangelicall mysseries from the wabounded limits of their Missino vatoal the world: whereas other ordinary commissions and callings are (though of God,yet) by Men; nor have priviledge of vnerring illuminanits of their Mission vnto all the world: whereas other ordinary commissions and tion; and must take heede to the seuerall flockes our which the boly Ghost hash a set them over seers: whence also Episcopall Churches are called Cathedrall, and sees, from their sitting b or teaching (that being the preaching posture of the ancients both lewes and Christians) in their speciall

Well therefore did Saint Gregorie . Bishop of Rome hold the title Occumenicall incompetible led, our Apossle to a Bishop, and Antichristian : and as ill have his Successors in that See swelled over all Episcopall bankes into Titles, and universalitie Apostolicall.

The Apostles were not all in all places, and sometimes as in consideration of divine blessing vpon Pauls Ministery amongst the Gentiles, cas of Peters amongst the lewes, they did especially 50 employ themselues where they saw their labours most fruitfull, in which respect some settled their longer abode in certayne Cities, and some scarsly departed from Ierusalem, whiles others of c Greg E 238. them went f forth and preached enery where, and the Gospell was 8 in all the World (not vertually , but actually ) and was frunfull , and was preached unto enery creature wader Heaven, d Val. og med that is in Saint Matthewes phrase, to h all Nations, or to all forts of men. After which Embiffage accomplished, the Temple as CHRIST had prophessed, and all the Legall Ceremonies, which dyed in the death of our Saujour, received a more folemne then honourable Funerall, by the reuenging Romane; Divine Providence ordering that i The fall of the Iewes (hould bee the riches of the World, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Genetiles; and preventing the revolting of weaklings, which feeing those things to remaine, which 60 k sulp Seuer L2 the Prophets had built, and God had ordayned, might in a Iudaizing retire, embrace the shaidem Red. in dow for the bodie, and preferre the dazeling luftre of carnall shewes to the synceritie of faith pivitisa. . . and fpirituall truth : Nimirum id Domino & ordinante difositum vt legis serunus (laith Sulpaim) à libertate fidei atg, Ecclefia tolleretur.

And that this was accordingly in the Apostles daies effected, we have not onely generall te-Rimonies of the Ancients, but the particular Regions and peoples mentioned and acknowledged elfewhere by that generation, I which in the question of Antichrist hence raise a demonstration, 1 Rell de Rom. (no leffe fill ferues them, their Geefe are all Swans) that he is not yet comne, because the Gospel Pont 1.3.c.4. is not yet preached thorow the World, Neither doe we feeke aduantages of the word World, as it Leffus de Anis vied in opposition to the narrow limits of Indea, where the Church in her nonage tieb d.8. was impounded, and as it were fwadled in that cradle of her Infancy ( fo you even now read the fall " of the Iewes the riches of the World. ) Nor in a Roman challenge, wherein Rome pretends her felfe Head of the World, in the ftile of her quondam Emperours (fucceeded and exceeded therein by her Moderne Prelate) one of which decreed in the Edict aboue in- n Luko J. timated . That n all the World Should bee taxed ; which World was no more then the Ro- a workage man Empire, as fince also the petty Councells Papall are called Occumenicall (euen that maour the circ of Trent ) and the Church of Christ, in a strange Babylonian contradiction . Catholike- xxuevilis. Roman : Nor yet in a figurative Hyperbole , as that seemes spoken of the lewes at lern. falem of every . Nation under Heanen , which heard the Apostles in their feuerall Lan- o Adisaci guages, vetering the great things of God. But their found ? went ouer all the Earth , and their ? Romanals. words to the ends of the World, is true of the heauenly Bodies, and these heauenly Messengers ; Neither can any of the World bee shewed then inhabited, that is, no Nation of the World, whereof wee have not plaine History, or apparant probability, that the Gospel had there sounded before that generation of the Apolities passed. Whereof as wee have alleadged Divine both prophecie before, and testimonie after the fulfilling : so our Ecclesiasticall Authors are herein plentitull. Thus doth Saint Chrysoftome 4 interprete that prophecie of our Sauiour, Matthew 24. to haue beene fulfilled before the destruction of Ierusalem, and proues it by the fore-allea | ged places , Romans 10. 18. Colossians 1.6. and 23. So Theophilatt r after him. So Saint Hilarie ! Cum uninersis suerit cognitio Sacramenti coi- r Theoph, in lestis muella, tum Hierusalem occasus & finis incumbent : Then shall bee the end of lerusa- Mai 24.21. lem, when the knowledge of the heavenly Mysterie hath beene carried to all men. So f Hillin Mat. Tetullian t, Beda, Euthimius, Lyranus, Tostaius, Iansenius, Barradius, and others cited by the Re- Can.25. uerend and learned Bishop Downam, to whom I referre the Reader. And how else had they exe- t Terial dere-30 cuted their commission to all Nations, if this mission had not succeeded ! For if by succession of vid Down, de after Popes or Bilhops; then ought that gift of tongues to have continued or beene reftored, and Antich part 2. that of immediate renelation, whereby the glory of the Worlds convertion might be Gods pecu- ad Lefty, dem. 8; liar, and not diminished by the arts (not by the acts and labours alone) of Men. . Ad quid enim who also citeth necessarse lingue gentium nis ad connersionem gentium? And Genebrard accordingly affirmes Enfeb.Hiron. that whiles the Apostles lived, in thirtie yeeres space at most, the Gospell (which hee calls the

ð. III.

The peregrination of Saint PETER.

Irenain, Origen, Cyprean, and the Prophecie of E(ay. c. 66.

E fee the perfecution which began against Stephen proceeded to the dispersion of the Disciples a into the Regions of Indea and Samaria, and Phenice, Cyprus, and Antioch a Alli 8.1.0 (where they first heard the name Christians.) Peter also warned by vision, breakes the 11.19. partition wall, and preacheth to Genelius 5 and other Genius, vinto wnomioone arter to a minimum and and Barnabus receive larger commission. Saint Pater also (as Ecclesiaticall writers tessible). 4 discharged and dis partition wall, and preacheth to Cornelius band other Gentiles, vnto whom foone after b Alls 10-13. Pans and Darman, Syria, and the Regions advoying to Indea, preached the Gospell in Antiochia, 1.Penst. 50 and after in Rome (in both which places they conflitute and celebrate his Episcopall (haire) in e 10.7.45. Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Afia, Bitbynia, to whom is inscribed his former Epittle, that is, to the V.d. 10f. Scali dispersion of the Iemes, in those Regions, he being principally the Apostle of the Circumcisson. For Annothin Euste the lewer were divided into three forts, the Hebrewer (which were the inhabitants of Palestina) $124.0 Can. and the feattered francers, which were either Hellmills. Name of Palestina, or a france of Palestina, 1/4/165.278. and the feattered frangers, which were either Hellenifts, διαατρά Ελλήνων, Or e διαατρά Βαβυλών . the remainders of the Babylonish deportation which still continued in those parts, when others returned, and from thence were occasionally disperied afterwards. The Metropolis of these was e Scittom: Se-Babilon, of the former Alexandria. Of this fort were the Italian, Egyptian and Grecian Iemes, 1 Alli 6.9, which vied the Greeke tongue in their Synagogues, in which also they read the Scriptures trant- g Erron. ion. I. lated by the feuentie two Interpreters : year they were ignorant of the Hebrem , as Scaliger at an 45. 60 firmes e of lesephus and Phile, two of their most learned: they had a Synagogue at Ierusa 1.Persis. lem, (called f of the Alexandrians) of which were those Disputers against Stephen. Of the Bathose words bylonian dispersion were the lewes in Asia, to whom Saint Peter wrote that Epitle from Babylone (the church of And although Baronius 8 and our Rhemists out of divers Ancients labour to proove thy Ba- Eathlon falsated bjim in that place of Peter, to bee ment Rome, that some Scripture might teilifie his beeing jen) 18met us. dec. Faith of the Romans ) was disulged thorow the World, even all the most remote Nations and u Bern. de Penbarbarous. Hereof he citeth wieneffes (beildes the former) Clement Alexand. Inflin Martyr, tec. x Geneb.Chron 48.44.

totan fere Eu-

Toram fuftepia.

Ecclef. in verbo,

X Eaf, Chron. C

b 7.1.3 c 19.

y Iren ubi fus.

z Kuft : prefat.

ad Gandent.

Pontif. fach that Peter ortialitet conne

miniferium fa. Ecrdotale exhi.

nebrard An.St

Cletus, eo; Pe.

Pos fine coadiu.

An. cg Linus

cocoifeonus fuh. Petro d, ogolo exterioracura-

uit. An. 70.Cle-

tus coe, i, copus

fucceffie afier

Pope Leg.ads

Post Perun,

the ptnofe hereof out of

there at least (though little could thence be inferred a 25, yeares Epilcopality, and lesse, Aposto-Dellarm. deR.P. like fuccession, and seast of all an approbation of later novelties successively hatched in the last and worst ages) yea the current of the lesuites argue (not lay onely) that Rome is the mysticall and At pocalypticall Babylon, and cry out vpon vs for vnhonelt partiality, that there acknowledge it, i See this largely proued here in Peter difclaime it, not confidering what a hooke they fivallow with this baite: yet bein Confination d. cautie that Epittle of Saint Peters is delivered in litterall and not mysticall forme, like the Apo. calps, and because that opinion of Peters fine and twenty yeeres Bishopricke delinered by EnfekOsuph in P'at bius, is manifeltly repugnant to the Scriptures; and because that some of the Romanist's themdiu.zwit.Pet. felues d.ffer from the received opinion as incredible, as 1 Onuphrins and Genebrard, and Maria-1 Mar. Scot.an. 72. Babyloniam nus Scotus also alleadgeth out of Methodius that Peter preached at Babylon, to which hee also addeth Corintb and almothall Italie, and because the Ancients m received that concert of Papias, a we hart edica. man of no great judgement, as appeared by the Millenary fancie derived from his tradition: though I will not meddle with that controuerfie, whether Peter were euer at Rome, or no, the Es.1.2.ca.14. negatine whereof in whole bookes Velenus and Bernard have written, yet I cannot believe but n Virieus Velethat he wrote that of and in the Chaldea Babylonia. The rather because that was the Metropolis mus his booke of the Afian dispersion (as is faid) & that it wel agrees with the prime Apostle to execute his Apois extant with B.Fifberhis anfolicall mission to remote and many Nations, especially to the Circumcision (whose peculiar Afwer.printed at postle o he was) in all Countries where they were scattered, as appeares by his care of the Helle-Antwerpe 1522. nists and Alex andria their Mother Citie, where he placed, as Authors affirme, Saint Marke the n G d.s.6. first Bishop; and because Ecclesiasticall writers affirme that he preached obique fere terrarum, al- 20 p Nies, Cal. first Bishop; and because Eccientifican writers among the English Section of all the world ouer (top Nicephorus) brenter is toting Alic & Europe or is, omnibul que adec qui most all the world ouer (top Nicephorus) brenter is toting Alic & Europe or is, omnibul que adec qui 9 Metaphin 29. in dispersione erant Indau & Gracis &c. q Metaphrastes affirmeth that after the Church of Rome and many other, fet in order, Saint Peter went to Carthage in Africa. r Onuphrins acknowledging his Roman See, yet will have him a Non resident (if not an Apostle rather) not to abide there, s In Charapifeabut findes him in that five and twenty yeeres space at lerusalem, after that at Antioch, i-uen yeers pos fine condintogether, whence he came to Rome and reformed that Church, constituted Linus and Cletus his cores fues inflis Suffragans or Coadiutors; and trauelling thence thorow the most part of Europe, at his returns tuit perceringti. to Rome, was there crucified. one deinde per Thus in a larger sente of the word Bishop, might Peter bee stilled Bishop of Rome, as having care to oueriee that as a principall Church, not neglecting meane while his Apostleship, to which properly belonged the care of all Charches. And hence is that different reckoning of the Roman Buhops, t Hierom reckoning Peter the firth, Linus lecond, Cletus the third, Clemens the fourth, But Irenaus " nameth Linus the first Bishop, Clerus the second, &c. The like difference is in the See U Iren, 1.2.c.: 1. of Antioche twixt Hieromand 2 Enfebini, the one beginning with Enodius, the other with Peter, which shewetis their opinion that Peter preached in both places as an Apostle, not as Bishop in proper lense. So Ireneus 7, the two Apostles ( Peter and Paul ) having founded the Roman Church , committed the Billioply charge thereof to Linus and Rufinus 2, that Linus and Cletus were Bishops while Peter hued, that they might have the care of the Bishoply charges Episcopatus curam) and he might doe Apostolatus Officium, the dutie of the Apostleship : & * Epia Epiphahar 27 *So Damafain phanius,in Roma fuerunt primi Petrus & Paulus Apostols ydem ac Episcopi, deinde Linus, C. Peter 40 and Paul were both Apoilles and Bishops in Rome; and after other wordes of doubt touching Clemens his being Bishop in the times of Linus and Cleius, all of them living in the same times while Peter and Paul were Bishops, faith, proptera qued Apostoli fare ad alias terras ablegabantur propter Christi predicationem, non potuit autem urbs Roma effe fine Episcopo, That the Apostles went often into other Countries to preach Christ, in which meane while Rome could not bee without a'Bilhop. For the Apottolicall function enjoyned an vniuerfall; the Episcopall, a particular charge. berent. And Ge-And as the greater Office includes the leffe, as the Office of the Lord Chancellour, or Lord Cheefe Iustice, or any Councellor of State, containeth the authority of a Iustice of peace in each thire, faith of Linus with larger extention and intention of power, and a diocefan Bishop the Ministeriall function trus chareafco. in any pattorall charge in his Diocesse, which the Parson or Curate must yeelde to him being pre- 50 fent, and pleafed to tupply and execute : fo, and more then fo, the Apostolicall comprehends the tores afriuit. & Episcopall commission, as lesse: and the Apostles were in this respect Bishops wheresoeuer MarianusScotus they came, not by ordinary constitution, but by a higher and extraordinary function : to whom other Bishops are successours not in the Apostleship strictly taken, but as Bishop to Apofiles, as Inflices of peace in their limits to the higher Commissions either ordinary as of Itinerant Iuflices, or extraordinarie by speciall commission on speciall occasions constituted, in part, not in all their authoritie.

We shall launch into a Whirle-poole if we proceede to declare Peters Successors (as some call the Bilhops of Rome) the Fathers themselves disagreeing in their Catalogues. So farte off were they from making Papall succession an effentiall either Note of the Church, or ground and sule of Faith. But for their preaching the Goipell thorow the World, all Bishops are all Apostles succeffours, these in their limited, those in an valuerfall Commission; which either they performed, or not : if they did not, it was disobedience, as in Sauls expedition against Amalek : if they could not, it was impotence, and the command of preaching to all Nations, impleadeth defect in the Commander, who is the wifdome of God, and the power of God. His wildome appeared allo together with his power in giuing them tongues, and not onely healthfull conftitution of body, but miraculous transportation and power, Natures defects not hindring the effects of Grace, as appeareth in the story of Philip and the Eunuch, Alls 8. of Pauls surviving a stoning, John the scalding in Oyle, and others other difficulties, mentioned in pare, both in Dinine and Ecclefialticall History, Neither haue Miracles and tongues necessary to such a consersion, euer since happened, nor have we promife that they ever shall. Nor was it ever meeter that the New King should be proclaimed, then when when having led captinnie captine, be ascended on bigh, and tooke posses tion of his supercalestial throne : the Apostles herein doing that, for the heavenly Salomon with To frittual magnificence, which Nathan, Zadock and others had done for the typical Sadowan, by Danids appointment. The vniuerfall Ceremonies being the fame in the whole Church, and fuch as no generali Councell could determine, argue the vnitic of the spirit in the Apostolicali preaching, Thus as we have partly shewed in all, and particularly shewed in Peter for his part, we will declare of the reft.

ą. IIII.

Of Saint Andrew, Iohn, the two IACOBI, PHILIP and SIMON ZELOTES.

Ndrew the brother of Saint Peter, as a Dorotheus and Sophrenius b teffife preached a Doret Spenje to the Sephiens, Sogdiens, and Sece, and to the inner or Saunge Libropiens, was but b 4 p. Hieros. ried at Patre in Achaia, being crucified by Ageas Gouernour of the Edefens. Nice. Catal Grip Eccl. ried at Patre in Achata, being crucified by Ageat Gouernour of the Lucions of the Captains and Bubynia, and thence o Nichifi. Ec.l. to the Countrey of the Anthropophagi, or Man-eaters, and to the Wilderneffes of the Soythians, to both the Euxine Seas, and to the Southerne and Northerne Coasts, as also to Byzantium now called Constantinople, where hee ordained Stachys Bishop: after which, hee went thorow Thrace, Macedonia, Theffalia, and Achaia. That hee was fent to the Scythians, Baronius prooueth out of Origen, a and Enfebius; and out of Nazianzene his descent into Gracia and Epirm.

Aint lobe his bamiliment into Palemes, and Epiflles to the feuen Churches of Afia (which forsain draw December 1 cale leaving alumnus Ecclosus) are extant in his owner Writings, Ireneus E and 17014, cont. many other mention his labours at Ephefm, Prochorma (his supposed Disciple) hath written a Hi- Mar. many other mention his labours at Ephejm, Process mention in supposed Disciples Marie of his Afran Peregrination, his actions at Ephejm, his passions at Rome, whither hee was a process in fent, and in other places; but his authoritie is no better then of a Counterfeit, as Barenins i hath bifl. S. Joses, is alio branded him. Of this nature we find many counterfeit Golpels and Icumals, or Histories of Bibliothous. As the Apostles acts, censured by the Ancients, the Deuill then labouring to lowe his tares in the i Bacas, to.I. the Apottles acts, centured by the Ameters, the Deuts that accountenance with venerable authoApottolicall Hiltorie, which in after Ages, Antiquitie might countenance with venerable authok Metaphin s. Apottonican ratione, while the sacts in Phrygia and Hierapolis. That he preached in other Re- September 1. Se gions of the East, Baronss 1 affirmeth, especially to the Parthians, to whome his first Epistle 1 Relatex Ep. was interibed in ancient Copies: that hee converted the Baffora, is still holden by Tradition a- Isfairantsss.

Ames the brother of John was put to death by Herod to please the Jewes, m a wicked Gene. in All. 12 Ineration not pleasing God, and contrary to all men. It is reported of some, that before his death he trauelled as farre as Spaine, and there preached the Gofpel, at least to the dispersed Iewes. Baronius in his Martyrologe a produceth a Booke of suspected faith attributed to Isidore , testify- n Bar. Mari ing his preaching to the Nations of Spaine, and of the Westerne Regions; and the Bremiarie of Int. 25. 50 Toledo, in which are these Verses, Regens loannes dextra solus Asiam, Et leus frater positus Hispaniam, &c. the testimonies also of Beda, Turpinus and others. All the Churches in Spaine, hee faith, o hold the fame opinion. Yet is he vncertaine, and fo leaves his Reader, because of that o Annal, to 1. untimely timelinesse of his death. It is not likely that the Apostleship and office of preaching to 47.44 all Nations, and the name of the Sonne of Thunder was given to him by Him, which as eafly infufeth the vertue as imposeth the name, and foreknew the times and seasons of his life and death, p Duodecim but that the fequell was aniwerable. His hastie death argues his forward courage, as of him which stood in the forefront of the forfice conflict battle. That he preached to the disperied Tribes P hath many authors : that his bodie was Hieron, Dorables 60 brought from lesufalem to Spaine, the Romano Martyrologe, and the Popes Callistus and Innocen- Specific Mertime are cited by Baronins.

THe other lames called Alphai, and Oblicas, and Influs, and the brother of our Lord (either be- alled Alphai, and Oblicas, and Influs, and the brother of our Lord (either be-L caule he was the sonne of loseph by a former wite, according to Enfebrus, 9 or because his barns. Atalia

d Origin Gelig Eufeb biffil 2.64

r. Hier de feript. Ecclef. f lef. Antiq.l.

20.68. t Talmed. Bab. de Idel c.z. Hicroful. Sciabboth. c 14. • 50 Hierom.

22. huhona eun ceteris A. po!oiis u Eufb.bil.1 6.17. n mindee mode. y Mat.4 € 5. z P/.76. a F( . . . b Cl.Epenc. in 1.Tim 4. C Ec.1.7.

d Gal.1.19. e Ad.15. The other cels were raonly. f Ep. ber.78.

i Rom.Mart.

Mother was lifter to the Bleffed Virgin, as Saint Terome rather thinketh) was a man famous for Sanchitie and Denotion amongst the Jewes by the testimonie of Tofephus, white impiretti to lis cruell and vnioit morther, the terrible defolation which foone after befell that Nation. And the Talmud both of Ferusalem and Babylon , mention him as a worker of Mirkeles in the Name Hegesippus a man neere the Apostles times, faith of him, Suscept Ecclesiam Hierofolyma" 1 Apostolas frater Domini Iacobas tog romeno lustas &c. Of which wordes this seemes the least.

That whereas the Apostles by common consent in a just Arysocrate had generate the Church of but Eufeb i.z.c. Chrift, refiding at Irrifalem, vinil the time of their dispersion, to divers parts of the World, (which as Enfebras = cireth out of Apollonius, was the twelfth yeere after Chrifes Pation ) they 10 then betaking them to their feueralt Prouinces; jointly agreed to leave Iames the Tuft at Lexufal C: lem for the regiment of the Church both there, and as from other places of the World occasions were offered thorow the Vniverle. For as Ierufalem was farre & the famoulest of the Cities of x 16.1.5.614 the Eaft, norof Indeaalone, in other respects, as Plinie hath honoured it; fo in Religion, it was long carif. or by better estimonie called the y Holy Citie, and the Citie of the great King, whose Tabernacle z was in Salem and bis dwelling in Sion; not in the time of the Law, but of the Gospel also; the Law of the Lord went out of Sion, as a Efay had prophefied and the word of the Lord from Ierusalem. This was the Staple of Christian Merchandize , Emporium b fidei Christiana (lath Espencaus) the Mirt and Mother of the Christian Faith, which therefore alway needed some grave Father tobe the principall E:ctor in her Holy affaires: Hiernfalem was before her deftruction, the Cen- 20 ter of Christianitie, whence all the lines of Apostolicall Missions were diffused and thither agains reduced; the Ocean, whence all the Ecclefiatticke e ftreames of the Euangelical waters of life iffued, and whither they againe returned; Once, it was the Senate-boufe of Christian Courseis and Counfailes for all Provinces of Christianitie, the confluence of others , but specially of the Temph differious, which from all Countries comming to the Legal Fealts, might there freight themselues home with Festivall wares of Enangelicall commodities. Necessarie it was therefore that some Apostolical Senator and principall Apostle should there reside, with whom in all difficulties to confult, not so much as Bishop (in proper sense) of that Citie, as of the lewer, yea and as opportunitie lerued of other Nations thorow the whole World. This was that lames which wrote the Epitle bearing his name, whom Paul mentioneth to the Galatians, 4 and the Acts e ofien, especially in the fifteenth Chapter, where you fee him President of the first general Coun- Councell (if not the only in ftricteft fense termed Generall) of the Apollles, after their Protingciall dupersions assembled at Iconfalem. For in his sentence the Councell concludes; and if ther of the Reposities (as the Fathers concurre) had committed to him being an Aposite, the gouernment of lerufalem, to whom might the Prelidentship of Councels in that place appertaine, rather then World; aftern to this Apostolicall Bishop and Bishoply Apostle, to whom the Lord first committed his throne bled by Romas on earth, as Epiphanius f testifieth : As a Deputie or President residess in one Citie, though his government he not there confined, but extends to the whole Kingdome or Region, fo was it with this Apossles Bishoprike at Ierusalem, from that high Pinacle to ouerlee and prouide for the As the Pre- allairs of the Catholike and Vniverfall Church. From that high pinacle (in another lenfe alfo) was 40 fident of Twice he cast downe, stoned, and at last with a Fullers Club brained by the lewes, which were soone in a terrible defolation called to accounts for this and other Apottolicall and Propheticallibloud, yea of Prouince: the the high Prophet and Apostle of our saluation, which yet the Jewes attributed to this Martyrdome of lames, as lately and neerely preceding. His Succeffour was Someon his brother, in that See of Ierusalem, not Simon called the Cananite, one of the twelve, as Baronius h hath h Bar. p.325.to.1 alfo observed.

C Aint Philip is recorded to have preached in Afia Superior, and (as the Romane i Martyrologe Main. Diaith) almost all Scythia. Baronius k supposeth the testimonie of Isidore, and the Toletan Bre-1 Nicesh Lace miarie, that Philip converted the Galls, is fally written for Galatians, which yet, if Niceshorus 40. 6 4.8.6.30. Relations 1 be true, needs no fuch correction.

Simon was called Cananite, as Nicephorus faith, for his birth at Cana, whole marriage was there celebrated when Christ turned water into Wine, and for the feruour of his Zeale, hee was firnamed Zelotes. His preaching peregrinations he relateth thorow Egypt, Cyrene, Africa, Mauritania, and all Libya even to the Westerne Ocean, yea, to our Britaine Ilands. Hee preached last in Phrygia, and at Hierapolis was crucified.

Q. V.

of Saint THOMAS, BARTHOLOMEW, MATTHEW, IVDE, MATTHIAS: and of counterfeit Writings in the Apostles names.

Aint Thomas called Didymus, preached to the Parthians, as m Origen, and after him m Origin in Enfedius have written: Gregorie Nazianzene addeth the Indust: Chryfostome Gnd. 2007.

10 P Litth, he whited the blacke Ethiopann. Theodores 3 reciteth the Parthian Persons, o Nex. Dom. a Mad. E. and the Annual Language Language and the Annual Ethiopann. Aint Thomas called Diagnus, preacheo the Farman, a English Chryfosome Gin. 13.00.

n English have written: Gregorie Nazianzene addeth the Indians: Chryfosome Gin. 13.00.

n English a.c.t. P fatth, he whited the blacke Ethiopians. Theodoret 9 reciteth the Parthians, Persians, o Naz bom. ad Medes, Brachmans, Indians and the adjoying Nations: Nicephorus hath the fame, and Arian, addes the Hand Taprobane, which is now called (in the opinion of the molt) Samotra: in Hieroms p Chrysbon.de Catalogue is added out of Sophroning, the Germanes (of India) Hircans and Battrians, and his death 12.4% Catalogue is added out of Sophronius, the Germanes (of India) currents and Dawrings and its obtained of Throad at Calamina. On the Coalt of Choromandel, where the River Ganges is swallowed of the Sea called Gentles. the Gulfe of Bengale, are divers Christians from old times called S. Thomas Christians. Some of the r. Nicht. 640. Iefinits have added (Ibma alfo to the labors of S. Thomas. Of their Christians, both in Narfinga, and Iefnits have added (hims allo to the labors of S. I bomas. Of their Christians, both in Ivarjings, and (O'or derch. Crangenor on that Sea where Indus falleth, and in divers parts of the Indies you may read in Oforius Em. 1.5. · Maffau and others. His Feath day is celebrated at Malpur, (to they now call the Citie where the fifth and he lyes buried) not by the Christians alone, but the Ethnikes also of those parts. The Eunsch of he lyes buried) not by the Christians atone, out the Ethiopians in Prefer Johns Countries to a 48.8.

20 Candace a connected by Saint Phulp, is among it the Ethiopians in Prefer Johns Countries to x Der Synapian Countries to x noured for Plantation of the Gofpel in those parts of Africa; but by Dorothem & faid to have fine. preached in all the Ergibrean Coalt, and the Hand Toprobana, before afcribed to Saint Thomas, and in Arabia Falix.

C'Aint Bartholomen (faith Chryfeitome 7 ) palled into Armenia Maior, and inftructed the Ly- v clariftom de Deagnes; Sophronius 2 addes the Albanians, and the Indians termed Fortunate; Origen faith the 12. Apofter Bar. hither India; a Socrates, India next to Ethiopia. Enfebius b teftifieth, that Pantanus a Stoike z Soib op Hic-Philaiopher and Rector of the Schoole or Vniuetfitie at Alexandria, was ordained Preacher of the rondeferin Ec. Philatopher and Rector of the Schoole or vinuerinte at Alexandria, was organized Francis of the Social Soci 30 time many & zealous imitators of the Apolities: of whom was this Pantanus, which preached to c Inthetime the Indians, among it whom he is reported to have found the Gospel of S. Marthew, in the hands of of Muclius and fome Christians, which e had received the faith by S. Bartholomen , and left them the faid Gospel commodus. in Hebrew, referred till that time. Nicephorus 4 adjoyneth S. Bartholomew, to S. Philip in his Plan- d Nic. 12. 2.39. tations of the Golpel in Syria and Afia Superior, and after at Hierapolis, where he was crucified e Hier. chifup. with Philip, burdelinered, and yet againe at Vrhanopolis in Cilicia, died that ignominious death and glorious Mirryrdome. This . Hebrew Golpel of Saint Maithew, Saint Hierome, both faw and copied out. It was referred in the Library of Cafarea.

Aint Matthew travelled into Ethiopia, that namely which adhereth to India, as Socrates of Secratibility. 40 ) f writeth. Nucephorus 8 addech the Anthropophagi, and tels I know not what Legends, re- g Nic. 12. c.41iected alto by Baronnu. For fuch was the in sulgent providence of God, not to burthen the faith of the Caurch with voluminous Hiltories of Apostolical Acts thorow the whole World, which h Idea 21. fearly (as Saint lobe hath of our Lord) the h whole World could have contained. Visto the faith of all, not to the curiofitie of some, was written enough by those holy Penmen, the Secre- Counterfeirs taries of the Holy Ghot in holy Scripture. But the Deuill impiously provident, hence tooke fathered on occasion to burchen the Church with it many voworthy Legends, both presently after their Apostlas, &c. times forged in their names, and fince by V pstarts deuised and obtruded on the Credulous world, as Lines, (lies) of the Saints, Hiftories, yea, Mille-ftories, Hiffe-ftories, by the old Serpent hilled and buzzed amongit superfittious men (milling worthily the right, and deceived with 50 lyes , because they bad not received the lone of the truth; to make way to the succeeding miferie of Iniquitie; out of which Babylonian Mint, wee have lately that babbling and fabling i zam ch. Aediu, by Lazins his Midwifery borne after to many Ages, an Abortiue indeed, or Changeling, as the wiler i of themtelues confesse. Hee can tell you infleed of Saint Maithemes life, many Ethiopian Fables, and intercavne you in a (Fooles) Paradife fituate aboue the highest Mountains, wich luch delicacies, as thew that Adams children are full in love with the forbidden fruit, and will lote, or at least aduenture the true Paradite to find a falle. Inoper nos copia fecit. Their abundane labours and trauels which Came, Saw, Ouercame, each so large portions of the World, left them no leiture to write Annales (whence fame have found leifure to write Aniles, olde wives k tramani Tales) and makes the conversion of the World an object of our faith, rather in beleening the prediction and teilimony thereot in the Scripture, then of humane credit, where the Aportles and plane no 1 Co Martyrs of their golden Actions and Pattions , have found such Leaden & Legends and woodden herest, yea Martyrs of their golden Actions and Pathons, name forms their Leader - Description of D. Hacka, & workmen, Makers or Poets, rather then Hiltorians: which here once spoken may bee applied to 1 Act Contains the rest, of whose great workes so little is recorded.

Saint Angustine I complaines of fich Aperipha Scriptures amongst the Manichees, ancfere 1311 (200

John and Andrew produced by the Marcionites. S. Hierom m nameth five Apocrypha Bookes falfly attributed to Peter; his Acts, his Gofpel, his Pradication, his Apocaliple, his Indocment. Some also mention a Itinerarium Petri, which perhaps is the fame with Clements Recognitions, another counterfeit. In Pauls name was published a Goffel, Apocalypfe, his Renelations, his Afcent to Heanen (which the Gnoftiks vied, as faith Epiphanius ) his Acts, & third Epifles to the Corinthians, and to the Theffalonians, and one to the Landiceans. Iohn is made a Father of other Revelations and of the Virgins Departure. Saint Andrewes Gofpel, Saint Thomas his Gofpel and Apocalypfe. Saint Bartholomews Gofpel, Saint Matthews Booke of Christs Infancy, received by the Valentinians, are ron.an.44.te.1.

p Gelin deret. condemned by ? Gelafins. Neither did Matthias, Philip, and Thaddans want their Gofpels, here- 10 ticall births injurioufly laid at their doores; nor Barnabu also, nor Marke, no nor Iuda; the Traitor, which the Caians acknowledged, as Theodoret and Epiphanian have written, lettice futable to such polluted lips. Wee might adde the Atts (so inscribed) of Andrew, of Thomas, of Philip, of Paul and Theela lohns Circuit. Yea the Colledge Apostolicall was made to father like Bastards. as the Dollrine of the Apofles, the Lots of the Apofles, the Praife of the Apofles, besides other Alle of the Apostles, and the manglings of the truly Apostolicall Pages by Addition, or Substraction. What shall I fay! Our Bleffed Lord escaped not hereticall Impostures in his Name, as the Booke De magia ad Petrum & Paulum. And I thinke him rather prodigall then liberall, or just of his q Euftb.l. 1.5.13 faith which fubi cribes to that flory q of Abagarus. But it were endleffe no leffe then needleffe, to Marth. 13.

Sankran, et Ni-

after Ages, the Ennions mans super seminations to bewitch unstable soules, not contented with Gods dimensum and prouident allowance. If therefore of Saint Mathewes Athonian percerinations if of Saint Matthias in Ethiopia alfo ( for a great part of Afia , and the greatest of Africa were filed by that name) if of Indas Thaddens his preaching in Mesoposamia, Arabia, Idamea, and the Regions adjacent, we have so little recorded it is no great marvell. It may be sufficient to viderflanding Readers, that wee have out of the best Authors extant, named the most Countries of the then knowne world. And if every Region and People bee not mentioned, impute it to the want of History of their feuerall Acts, who fought rather to write Christs Passions in the hearts, then their owne Actions in the bookes, of Men; to produce deeds not wordes, and monuments of Divine, not their owne glory. Few places can be named in Afra or Africa, which wee have not 30 mentioned in their prerigination and preaching : and faire probabilitie is for those not mention ned by confequence of reason, which at left can prove nothing to the contrary; and more them probability is the Divine testimony before observed.

intangle our sclues in this diabolicall Maze and hereticall labyrinth of facred forgeries, in that and 20

è. VI.

Of Saint P A V L : of Apostolicall Afistants : some doubts discussed.

S for Saint Paul, the Doctor of the Gentiles, he flew like a fwift Fowle over the World: 40

a Gal. L.

Theat.Conner(.

gent. c Bed.& Ang. Script Niceph. Lz.c.20.

wee have his owne testimony of his Preaching in Arabia, his returne to Damasons, and journey after a three yeers to Iernfalem, thence to the Regions of Spria and Cilicia; yea that hee (not iprinkled, but ) filled Ierufalem to Illyricum with the Goffel; of his preaching in Italy and Rome, of his purpole for Spaine, which some b say hee fulfilled afterwards, adding thereto Portugall France, Britaine, the Orchades, the Ilands and Regions adioyning to the Sea, and his returne by Germany into Italy, e where hee fuffered Martyrdome, being by Nero beheaded. I force no mans credit, as neither to that of logeph of Arimathen his preaching to the Britons, nor Saint Denis his Convertion of the Galles, at least in all things written of them. But for the Acts of Paul, as the Apostle of the Gentiles, the Scripture is more ample then of any the rest, the greater parts of Saint Lukes History, being of Pauls Acts. What should wee adde the labours of Enangelists, Assistants, and Co-workemen with the Apottles in those first Plantations, sent by them in several missions to divers placer. Such were Bonabas, & Silus, Philip the Deacon, Siluanus, Timothee, Titus, and others : fome of which were after Deroitei Synon. Bishops (as is anciently beleeved) of particular Churches. Epenetus Saint Pauls disciple is said to Merman. Baron. haue beene Bishop of Carthage, Andronicus another of them in Pannonia, now called Hungary, Amplyat at Odiffa, Urbanus in Macedonia, lason at Tarsus, Trophimus at Arles, Crescens at Vienna, Aristobulus in Britaine, Africritus in Hyrcania, Hermes in Dalmatia, and others in other places, 2 Catalogue of whom in Mermannius his Theatre you may fee at leafure. Saint Marke disciple of Saint Peter having preached to Libya, Marmarica, Ammonica, Pentapolis, and Egypt ordained Bishops in the new planted Churches, Entropius another of Saint Peters disciples, is faid to have 60 preached in France : Mansuetus another of them, to some parts of Germany, as Symon of Cyrene, to other parts. But it were too tedious, to bring hither all that Authors have written of the feuenty disciples, and other Apostolical Assistants, who spent and were spent, consumed and confummated their course in and for the Gospel.

CHAP. 2.S. S. The Apolites preached onely in the old knowne World. Alexander.

HONDIVS his Map of Saint PAVLS Percorination.

But here some may say, that wee haue not named all Countries of the World, and of those named there is in Authors much varietie of report, in indicious Readers much feruple to credit. Ianfwere, that it were a farre harder taske to proue that any Countrey, not here mentioned, was neglected in this Ministry. Neither did the Geography of those times extend their suruey much further, then that we e have here in their Iournalls expressed : although it much extended it selfe beyond the truth. Belides, who can wonder that the Aposlles found not Pen-men, to record their Euangelicall conquests thorow the World, seeking to establish a Kingdome Spirituall and Internall, contemning the worlds glory, and of vaine-glorious worldlings contemned, when the great Conquerours, which fought to subdue the World by force, and plant Empires by Armes, haue left to obscure notice of their exploits, though dedicated to humane applause and admiration? Of the Egyptian Conqueror Sefostris, Lucan lings, Venit adoccasum mundig, extrema Sofostris,

50 Et Pharios currus regum fernicibus egit ! Ot Nabuchodonofor the Scripture witnesseth, that his greatnesse e reached to Heanen, and his Dominion to the end of the Earth ; Yet have they neither e Dan 442 Journalls nor Annalls of their great Acts left to pollerity, not to much as the names of their fubdued Provinces, not so much as wee hauehere produced of the Apostles. Nay, what is left to memory of the long-lived Affrian Monarchy, but thadowes, glimpfes, tables ! Who hath left in Regifter the names of the one hundred twenty feuen f Prounces, fubiect to the Perfian Monarchy f Efter $ 9. from India to Ethiopia? Nay, how little and how vincertaine is remaining of the Greeke Alexander his Expedition, although then undertaken, when Greece had arrived at the height of humane learning, and by him that was himfelte a famous Scholler of the most famous of Philosophers ? 60 Did not hee deplore & his owne vnhappineile in this kind, treading on the Tombe of Achilles? g tie, so drift And had not Curing and Arrianus long long after his death, written of him ( I quellen not the Port. certainty ) how little should wee have of Great Alexander ? Great in his Acts and Arts, greater in his Attempts, greatest in the vnbounded Ambition of Greatest Rencume to latest posterity; yet how much more is left of the Acts of Humble Apoliles , then of Ambitious Alexander? And now his Conquests are obliterated and forgotten, how are theirs written and in Bookes and Lines, but in the minds and lines of Men, fo great a part of the World still remaining the Volume of their Expeditions in their Christian profession ? And how much more did so, till the vnbeleefe and vnthankfulnesse of wicked men, proudked Dinine Infice to remove his golden Candleftick from fo many Nations thorow the World, which for contempt of Christian Truth, were againe abandoned to Ethnicke superstitions ? Thus had God deale with the lewes before; thus after with the Christians in Africa almost generally in a great part of Europe, and in a great great part of Alia by Mahumetan madneffe; in which what that Arabian Canker-worme had left, the Tartarian Caterpiller did almost veterly denoure. Thus in Marco Polo, in Rubruquim, in Odorscus and Mandinele, yee may read of Christian Nacions dif. Io perfed quite thorow Afia 1200. yeeres and more after Christ, ouerwhelmed with that Tartarian deluge, where the Name of Christians in the remotest parts is extinct, till Nauigation in the last Age reuiued it. And had not Nauigation and Peregrination opened a window, no Geographer had let vs know the names of Nations, which Christians of the West found, professing the same Christ in the vnknowne Regions of the East, at once seene to bee and to be Christian, Yea, how little of the remote North and East of Europe and Asia, or of the South of Africa, was knowne to Pline, Ptolomey, and other ancient Geographers, where their Chriffian light hath fhined to vs with the first notice of themselues :

pall entertainment in enery place where the Apostles preached : nor that enery Lord, Tribe, and 20 Family heard this Divine Meffage; nor that each Country was filled with the Gofpel, or any with an valuerfall profession in the first Plantations, or in their times. The name Pagania which fignifiing a Pefant or Ruitike, for this caufe was altered to a Panime or Ethnike, becaufe Religion could not, but in tract of time diffuse her bright beames and lines of light, from her Episcopall City Centre (that also not wholly Christian) to those ruder parts of her remoter circumterence. This I fay , that their found went into all the Earth , and their words unto the Ends of the World, in fome Countries and Nations more fully, in some more obscurely, in all by fame at left, if not by the Apoliles presence, as the Spirit permitted vtterance, that some of all might be converted.

Linferre not, that the Gospells lightning kindled an Euangelicall flame, and obtained Episco-

VII.

Of America, whether it were then peopled.

Nd if any more scrupulous doubt of the New World, and of many places where no foot print of Chistianity is extant, I answere, ' (besides what before in our Ophinian Tractate is spoken) not onely that time eates vp her owne Children, and that none can proue that Christ hath not beene there preached in former times, because these are thereof ignorant; ( for a deluge of opposing persecutions, another of ecclipsing superstitions and herefies, a third of warre and inuations, extinguishing both the Religion and People also hath suc- 40 ceeded, in some the most renowmed Churches of the World : and what then may time have done in vnknowne places?) But who can tell that America, and many parts of Alia, Afrike and Europe were then peopled with Men, the Subjects capable of this Preaching ! Nay, may wee not in probabilitie think the contrary how great a part of the World is yet without habitation? how great a part of the World is yet vnknowne ? All the South Continent is in manner fuch, and yet in reason * coniectured to bee very large, and as it were another New World; Alio Fernand de Quires faith hee hath discouered eight hundred leagues of shoore. Neither is it probable but that fo temperate parts are inhabited (which in part, io farre as is knowne on the Shoares and adiacent Hands, is apparant) nor is their likelihood of Christianity, where the Nations enery way adioyning are Ethnike, that I fay not Sauage on the parts of Affa and America: and both these and they feeme latelier peopled then the Apostles dayes. In the new Straits beyond the Magellane, the flupidity of the Fowles argued they knew not the face of Men, which they not at all dreaded. And many many Ilands not yet inhabited, this enfuing Discourse will manifest. Yea in large

Tracts of the Continent of Groenland, & other parts vnto New-found-land, it is found that eyther

there are no people, or they but for some time in the Summer, and for some purpose, as of hunting or fishing, not certaine and fetled dwellers : a name scarcely fitting to the people in Virginia and Florida. Euen in our old World it felf, how new are the eldeft Monuments & Antiquities, in al the North, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Lapland, the Samoyeds, Tartars, yea the Northermolt Ruffes, Lithuanians, Linonians, Poles; how new their Arts, their Acts, their Lawes, Gouernment, Civility and the Sunne, by necessitie inforced to harder Climates. Of Island our story will shew, it was but ye-

Fame ! Which therefore must needs as the World increased, bee evacuated from Countries neerer

Lang. & Acofta

* See Brore-

The Scythians and Sarmatians of the ancient are more Southerly; and well may we reject the fables of Hyperboreans, and I knowe not what denied Northerne Peoples and Monsters, the CHAP.2.$ 7. Conquerors the conquest of Religion. Americas peopling and progresses, 59

Creatures and Colonies of idle busie braines. These Northerne people, scarfely worthie the name of a People, did God vie when the finnes of the Roman Empire were full, to punish their pride by io bale infirmments, in Gottifb, Vandall, Hunnifb, Saxon, Franke, and other manes, in judgement remembring mercy to the chaftifed Children, and to the chaftifing Rod, not therefore cast into the fire, except to refine them, but by conquering Christian Nations, themfelues disposed by dinine hand to become a Christian Conquest, and to submit themselues to that God, to that Religion, whose looler Professors they ouercame with an ouerwhelming inundation. How unfearchable are thy wayes, O God, and thy inalgements paffing knowledge, which of Stones raisest children to Abraham, and bringeit Lions into the Sheep-fold in hope of prey and ipoyle,

10 where thy difcipline transformes them into Limbers' and perfecuting Sand turnes a Prophers The remotest Northerne and Southerne parts of America are yet thinly inhabited, and in great part not at all, as before is observed, whereas Mexicana, and Perusiana were abundantly peopled part not at an, as before in all, with the Hands adjacent. Two great Empires were there erected, at the Spaniards first arrivall, with the Hands adjacent. Two great Empires were there erected, at the Santard one in Mexico, the other of the Ingas in Cufco; but neither of them ancient. Nor let any was in Abraimpute this to their illiterate barbarouinesse. For they had meanes to preserve memoric of their harms time ne-acts by computation no leffe certaine then ours, though more troublefome: and thereby is the thing to popu-Mexican Epecha, or first beginning, then beginning to bee a People, the Deuill imitating the loss as in 13. Mexican Epochs, or heit beginning, then beginning to be a 1 opes, the comments of the final fractions in their Exedus towards the Countries which they after posselled, apparant to have final fractions in their Exedus towards the Countries which they after posselled, apparant to have find the first terms of the first beene aboue feuen hundred yeeres after Christ: as that of the lng at some hundreds later. For it kins the Masi-Doesne apour reurs minutes years fifth peopled from the North of Afra and Europe in her netter can be maining 20 is most likely that America was fifth peopled from the North of Afra and Europe in her netter can be maining and Northerne parts, whence by fecret inflinct, and hopefull allurements they were inticed to our of their and Northerne parts, whence by recter minor, and imperior antienteness they were interested on a of indifference never the Sunne, and from the Mexican to pair to the President Continent. Neither omenhines can probable reason be given of peopling America but from thence, as by the Discourses of Association and officially and the probable reason beginning to the probable reason beginning to the probable reason beginning to the probable reason to the probable reason beginning to the probable r till the Regions of the World neerer Now Arke, and of more commodious habitation were first in CN/o no of peopled, whence the East and South parts were soone after Noss time replenished : the colder the thecke or and worfe successively, and the extreme North by later compulsion and necessitie, the better the lague, beand worse successively, and the extreme vorte by later companion and necessary and there exceeding their suff proportion, they emptied themselves partlarge sign of the successive succes ly by returning into the South by Conquelts to ouer-runne civiller Nations, and partly were for-30 ced to feeke further , as vicinitie of Seas and Lands affoorded , till America was also peopled, w.re beore For (befides that those Northerne parts were as fertile in the wombe, as barren in the foyle, nu. most fausge, merous beyond due food) shole rough, cold mountainous habitations yeekled like conflictution of body and enquietnesse of mind strong and able to indure, bold and forward to aduenture greatest hopes till neerer propinquitie to the Sunne, Climates more temperate, richer Soyle, content of Elements and Aliments bred content to their mindes and more prosperous concent of Fortunes, which foftned their rigid dispositions, and by degrees disposed them to thinke on mechanicall and politike Arts, further to humanize their fociety, and to polish their cohabitation with Politie. This we see soone done in Egypt, and Babylonia presently after the Floud: but how long 40 before the Persians were civilized? how long after before the Macedonians, or Romans? yea, how long before there were Romans? Nature infused the first cares of necessary being, which being by the sertile habitation and industrious culture richly supplied, in the settled standing the Milke of humane wits yeelded the flower or creame of Arts for flourish and beautie, which volettled and discontented estates weary of the prefent, and prefing full forwards cannot produce; neither can a rolling flone gather moffe. And thus we finde the Germans now a civill Nation, which many ages after Christ were barbarous. Yea, where more feritie and lauage rudenesse then this our Britaine geelded not long before the birth of our Sauiour, for their painting, nakednesse, and other rude demeanours worle difficulties, fill preffing (where worte then the prefent could hardly befall ) and tollowing their

then the Virginians now, and like some more barbarous Americans? What hath America favouring of Antiquitie : what besides the former, not favouring of the Cradle, and later trans-Those memorials which they have of the Floud might passe with them by Tradition even from the Arke it seltethorow all their removes and transmigrations. And no leffe might be said of that Techniracocha mentioned by Acesta, (whom Vega observeth to have many things not in of that Tiefmiraceba mentioned by Acesta, (whom rega unitermental many similar than the state of the press. truly) like to Our Men, and preached amongst them many good lesions with little effect, and after the state of the sta ter many miracles among ft them was flaine; whole picture some of the Spaniards had seene, refembling those of our Saints. Vega tells another and more likely storie of Viracochus apparition cisage, 140-7 in that habite, which no doubt was the Deuill. The like is recorded by Levius, of a tradition as Levius bif New, mongst the Brafilians, that innumerable Moones before, there came a Mair or Stranger, clothed in $10.00 60 after the Christian manner, and bearded, which preached vnto them the knowledge of GoD. but none would beleeve him : after whom another came which delivered them a Sword, fince which time they have vied to flay and eate one another. Thefe things, as they may be true, fo may they be the New actions of the old Serpent ambitious of Deitie, or may by Tradition fit with them thorow all their habitations; or if any shall thinke it there happened (which I cannot believe) yet are they rather to interpret it of the Apostles (& so further confirmeth our opimon) then of any other, feeing no fuch men could there have accoffe, and their speach be winderstood, but by miraculous difpensation. As for the Rocke in Brafil called Etoca ( where, as Mather Kninet affirmeth, Saint Thomas preached ) converted out of Wood into Stone, the Fishes being his auditors, who feeth not a Frierly superiemination in the report : weereade in Theophraflu or Aristotle, or whosoeuer elle he Authour of that Booke De Mirabilion Ausentat. of a fertile defart II and found by the Carthaginians, abounding with Woods and Rivers navigable, and other bouncies of Nature, diffant many dayes failing from the African Continent : fome of the Carthaginians intended there to inhabite, but were repelled, and all men prohibited on paine of death, left the Soueraigne power and weale publike of Carthage might thence be endammaged. 16 This is by fome interpreted of the West-Indies, or some Ilands thereof; which if it be so, con-

P.Fil. 18.c.s. firmes our opinion that those parts were not then inhabited. Nor did any civilitie appeare in America to argue civill Progenitors, but that which was of later memorie. Plate's Atlantic wee have elsewhere shewed to be allegoricall, at least no historicall truth: nor any likelihood in other ancient Nauigations mentioned in Plutarch, Diodorse and others to point at these parts.

If the multitudes of people found there by the first Spaniards feeme to pleade for a longer had bitation then that we allow; let it be observed that a thousand and soure hundred yeeres (for the first Discouerie was 1492, after Christ ) might well fill a world with people, especially confide. ring their Polygamie, or many Women, their fimple Diet, and that which attended the fame. healthfull Constitution and long Life (in some places admirable) their easie course of life contented with a little, not fearing to exceed their meanes and maintenance by numerous iffue; where Nature yeelded home-ipunne or rather womb-spunne attire, and the Mother Earth with little importunitie or labour yeelded food sufficient ; where Plagues, Morraines, Famine, were scarse heard of ; where Couetous nesse the root of all euill had so little worke; Ambition scarsely knew to divertifie titles of honor; and warre (the inchanted circle of death, compendium of milery, Epitome of milchiefe, a Hell vpon Earth) had not Iron , Steele , Lead, not Engines, Stratagems. Ordnance, not any humane Arts of inhumanitie to fill those parts of the World with emptineffe, and there to erect Theaters of Defolation and Destruction. Nor did Nature yeeld many denouring Beafts, but referued all her fausgenesse to the Men. To let palle the peopling of the World before and after the Floud, in no great time, we fee 30 that in Egypt in the midst of heavy burthens, inhumane butcherie, and intolerable tyrannie, the 2 Gen. 46.37. b Ev.12.37. c Num.1.46.

e Diarrib. de

Europeor ing.

loj.Scalig. P.Metul Cof-mog.part.2.l.1.

cap.8. Acosta L. 1.

cap.21.0 LA.

A few Hories

left by the Rt-

nerof Place fo

fince theybauc

Dine them

only for their eniles, tofell to

Ifraelites were multiplied, in the space of two hundred and ten yeeres, from seventy a persons to aboue two millions, as may be gheffed, in that there were 600000. men, befides children, and besides the semales also as appeareth in the c second numbring by Moses, and a in the third by, him and Eleazar, when all those but Caleb and Iofbus were dead. Allowing therefore the male children not much lelle, as that third numbring euinceth , and the females in probabilitie as many as the males (the rather for that Pharashe cruell Edict touched not them) you cannot but find aboue 2000000. Now this their encrease was by naturall meanes though by singular prouidence, and therefore might as well happen in America, those impediments removed, and many other furtherances annexed, in libertie, plenty, and largenesse of Territorie, all elements confpi- 40 ring to multiplication. Neither can any thing but Divine providence (which none can denie in America, and had many more easie and visible meanes, fewer lets then in Egypt) be alledged for the one more then the other. This I may fay, that if any lift to examine the proportion, and fupe pole like providence, in that time of 1400. yeeres may follow a more numerous inundation of people, then ever America (perhaps the whole World) may probably be supposed at once to have numbred, although large deductions be allowed both for ordinary mortality and some more ditmal accidents. Neither is it likely that the first plantations were so few (if volutarily seeking. & not by accident forced to those habitations) as 70. persons twice told: nor that America at once or from one place received her first Colonies, as by the divers languages, statures, habits of menmay appeare, although time, custome, accident, be allowed no litle power in these things. This we 50 fee amongit our felues, where one Dutch or Tentonike . hath yeelded not onely a diffinction of higher and lower, but the English, Danish, Sweden, Norwegian, Islandish, Nordalbing, Frisan (besides the subdiversified dialects which each of these multiplieth) Languages, Peoples, Rites, so much also and mares differing, and the elder both tongues and customes (as in our Saxen) by Variation and succession after a few Centuries in manner extinguished. So vaine a thing is Man. Let me conclude this difuerot Plate 10 course of multiplication in America, by an American example of cattell transported out of Europe thither, especially Kine, which as they beare no more at a burthen then a woman, nor oftner, to are they shorter-lived vsually by two third parts : yet have they so increased there that one man the Bishop of Venez nela had aboue 16000. yea they have growne wilde, their numbers exceeding the care of owners, and every man at pleasure killing them for their hides. And one man, 60 the Deane of Conception, had of one Kow living 26. yeeres, in her life time the increase of 800. Sic cambis catalos similes - These Indians which respected in generation little else but sencreafe, fee 1.2. fuality, and in manner of life refembled brute beafts rather then civil (that I fay not Christian) Men, enjoying like priviledges of Nature in other things, might in this also.

J. VIII.

CHAP.2. 8. Apostolical Acts and Conquest compared with greatest Captaines.

è. VIII.

The glorie of Apostolicall Conquests : the hopes of enlarging the Church in thu last Age, by knowledge of Arts and Languages shrough the benefit of Printing and Nauigation.

Ec me conclude this Discourse of Apostolical Peregrinations with consideration, with collaudation, with admiration even to extalle and aftonillment, of Their (shall I lay or Gods") Exploits, and renowmed Acts. Little are the Acts of Great Alexander, Pom-peins Magnus; Fabius Maximus, and other Greats and Grandes of the World, who by Armes and Arts military, by Fire, Sword, Famine, Maffacres forced the bodies (the leaft part) of Men to a compulfue fibrection, shaken off with the first opportunitie. But how shall I ad orne your noble Conquetts, Yee Divine Apottolicall Worthies! who maleing in the flesh, not warring after the fle/h, without, yea, against the force of carnall meapons pulled downe strong bolds, cast downs imaginations, and enery high thing that exalted it selfe against the knowledge of God, and brought into captimitie enery thought to the obedience of Christ? Herein they vied not allitance of other Na- 2.660.10.3 4.5 tions by confederation, nor mustered multitudes in pressed and trained bands of their owne; nor received supportation by Subsidies, nor made invasion by force, nor obtained an vinwilling 20 conquest of Bodies (the shell wishout the kernel) nor entertayned close intelligence, nor wro. git by clofe Treasons, nor divided to themselves the Ipoiles; nor erected Fores, ettablished Garrifons, imposed taxations, transplanted inhabitants, depressed Nobles, shared new Provinces into Timari, tithed Children, planted Colonies; nor had their countels of Warre at home, or warlike cultomes abroad, Engines, Stratagems, Combats, Sieges, Skirmilhes, pitched Ffelds, Ships, Hories, Chariots, Tents, Trumpets, Munition, nor that worst Baggage of Armies, Crying, Speyl ng, Sacking, Wounding, Mayming, Killing with Multiformities of Cruelties, as it the nethermofts Hels had mustered and enaporated the most and worst of Her Fumes and Furies into Our world, which might therefore take, that they might destroy, the shapes of Men, by humane inhumanitie. But a few poore Fishermen, and Tent-makers overthrow the Worlds Witemen, in the most flouri-30 thing times of worldly learning, fubdue the Scepters of greatest Kings and Monarchs, ruine the gates of Hell , & undermine the deepneffe of Satan, tupplant the profoundeit, furtleft, mightieft of Satanical combinations with the whole World of Men against a handfull; and maugie their vnited Forces, preaching a Crucified God, and teaching the Croffe as the first Principle of Christian Learning, to overcome the edge of the Sword with fuffering it, to stop the mouthes of Lions with their flesh, to quench the violence of fire with their bloud; to torlike all Goods, good Name, Wife, Life, Childe, to deny themselves, to plucke out their right eyes, to cut off their right hands, to pray for their perfecutors, to recompence hatred with love, and ouercome euili with goodneffe, looking for no other reward then what the World can neither looke on, nor for, they inuade with innocence, and with Sauing ouercome, the World; and whiles it most relateth, perfecuteth, ouercommeth, incline it to willingnesse, calmenesse, subitetion; write their conquests not in the bloud of the Conquered but of the Conquerors; ered Trophees, not in O eliskes, Pyramides, Arches, by others industry, but in their owne Funerals, Crucifyings, Stonings, Martyrdomes; folemnize Triumphs not with their owne Armies, not with captized troupes, attending in greatest pompe the fublime Triumphall Charios, but by being led forth with out-cries, shoutes. clamours, to the baselt and most ignominious deaths. Those of whom the Worldwas not worthy, reputed vinworthy of the World; have the Panegrikes of their prayles, written not by the pens of Paralites or Poets, nor in the lines, (as is faid) but in the lines of men; the Christian World (as before is observed) remayning not written, but reall Annalls of the Apostles Acts, who being poore made many rich, and basing nothing possessed all things. The Solacismes b of Fish rmen citialued the Syllogimet of Philosophers, and where but a few of any Nation could be wonne, to 100 200 felfe themselves the Disciples of any Philosophicall Sect., though graced and admired by the b Tree Oracle World, yet the World becomes Christian in despite of the Worlds disgraces and persecutions nor could the immane-cruelties of fome, or superfine subtleties of other, subuert, nay they connerted ages, fexes, forts of men, euen women, euen children, euen women-children, out-brauing the greatell, the fiercest, the wilest of Satanicall instruments, by fusfering, conquering, and at once overcomming the Deuill, the World, Them selves. Enen so O Father, because it pleased thee. And be not angry Reader, if the passed, present unto my contemplation suture things; and if the confideration of dinine affiftance in Tongues, Renelations, Miracles immediately conterred 60 for the first Plantation of Christianitie, occasion myschoughts to a more serious survey contents hopes in the propagation and reformation thereof. In the first foundation of Mosaicall Rites, Exg. 1.6.0 God rayled Bezaleel, and Aboliah with others, by divine inftinct inabled to curious workman-men to the Gospel; the feed, the fatning of the Church was the Blood of her flame Martyrs; all thip, fitting that Occonomie of the Tabernacle, whiles that Iemsh Church was as it were rocked in the Craule, and God vouchiafed to dwell amongst those Tent-dwellers in a Tent. But after that State was fetled, and the Church flourished in the Reigne of Danid and Salomon, God did not againe infule Sciences by Miracle, or by miraculous disposition (as before the Egyptians were spoyled) prouded materials to that Worke; but furnished Salomons wisdome, with helpe of the t No Hirams, the one a cumning workman in Gold, Silner, Braffe, Iron, Stone, Timber, to grave any manner of grauing, and to find out enery deuise, the sonne of a Tyrian, by an Ifraelitish woman; the other his Matter, the King of Tirms, a man furnished with a Nauy of ships and store of Mariners, by whose meanes the Temple and Court might be prouided of necessaries from remotest Ophir, at well as the neerer Lebanon. I implore not, I importune not any vitwilling affent or fallower of my apprehention and application hereof to what I now propound in like differing states of the Carriftian Church. Omnia contingebant illis in figura. This was likewife founded, and as it were a - 10 Tabernacle built for Christ by the Apostles, men wholy enabled by immediate graces and gifts of Te rores austhe Spirit to fo dinine a Worke. A Tabernacle I call the Church, not only as being yet malitant, and therefore abiding in Tents, but in comparison and respectively to that externall spendour which followed long after the Apostles times , when Kings became her Nursing Fathers and Queenes ber Nurfing Mothers, fubiected their Crowne to the Croffe, thining in the highest top thereof. Albeit therefore in puritie of doctrine and manners the Apostolicall times had their ipirituall preeminence (as the Tabernacle also exceeded the Temple in the ordinary Cloud, Pillar of fire, Manna, Miracles, Syncerest worship by Mofer, and the like.) Yet when the World became Christian, and the Croffe became the Imperiall Bar per the Church, before perfecuted, now remined vnder Conftantine, Ionianus, Theodofius, and other Religious Monarchs, and Kings, ice- 20 med to renew the Golden revolutions and fetled returnes of Christian Danids and Salemons; and they which before had not a Smith in I frael, scarsly a Bishop or Temple to be seene, had Temples, Schooles, Bishops, Councels, whence Religion was propagated and established in the seuerall Real mes and Nations of Christianity; not now by Miracles as before by the Apostles, but by the Ministery of Bishops and Priests of ordinary calling and gifts; and hee himielte was now the greatest Miracle that beleeved not, the whole World beleeving and wondering at infidelitie as a And as the Temple and state of Religion declining was repaired and reformed by godly Kings.

62 Two Hirams Paralel of Tabernacle and Temple: Printing & Nauigation. LI B. I.

as loafh, Hezetiah, lofiah; and Zealous Priefts fuch as leboiada; and after the ruines thereof was rebuilded by Princes and Prietts, Zorobabel and Iofhua, Nebemiab and Ezra: fo hath God ftirred 30 vp good Kings & Paftors in the declining age of the Church, as Charles the Great, King Alfred and many others in Histories mentioned; & after the deportation therof into Mysticall Babylon, when thee feemed in her truelt members fled out of the Worlds eafier view into the Wilderneffe, hath God rayled up the Kings of England, Sweden, Denmarke, and other Christian Princes, States, and Potentates with Religious Bishops and Ministers to repaire the desolations of Sion, and restore Ierusalem with the Temple, if not to her first splendour, yet from her late Captiuity, where she had smal pleasure to fing the Lords fong in a strange land, & babble her holies in the vnknown Language of Babylon, As therefore the first Plantation of the Tabernacle was by miracle and immediate inflinct; the erection of the Temple, and focceeding reparations were by the art and humane industry of such Heroike spirits as God rayled vp and fanctified in enery age : so the Christian 40 Church planted by Apostles, hath beene since watered by faithfull Pastors, exalted by pious Emperours, depressed by Heretikes and Persecutors, captined by Popes, and in her dinersified changes and chances, rather expecteth extraordinary bleffing youn the ordinary helpes, functions, and graces, then meanes meerly extraordinary and miraculous. Among it all which helpes by humane industry, none (in my mind) have further prevailed then those two, the Arts of Arts, Printing and Nanigation, both in manner given at once to the World by divine goodnesse, this for supply of matter, that other of forme, to this Spirituall Reedification of Gods Sanctuary. And as Hirams Art improouing natural wit by diligent industry, succeeded the insused Sciences of Bezaleel and Abohab; to to that Apostolicall gift of Tongues, in the foundation of the Church bath succeeded for reformation thereof, the principall Tongues and Languages of Nations, Ebrem, Greeke, Latine, 50 Syriake, Arabike, and the rest, partly refined, partly renewed by humane industrie, through the benefit of Printing. For how were the learned and remoter Tongues buried and ynknowne in thefe parts, till that Art brought in plentie, facilitie and cheapneife of Bookes, whereby Languages became the Keyes, Bookes the Treaturies and Storehouses of Science; whiles by those men found accesse into these; and Printing yeelded admittance to both in plentie and varieties And thus was variabled that mystery of Iniquity in the age before vs , which had captized so many Ages in worle then Egypsian darkneffe, This my flery at first arose in a myst from the bettemleffe pit, in a time of barbarous ignorance, occasioned by irruption of Barbarians into all parts of Christendome, successively like wild Bores out of the Forrest, rocting up Gods Vineyard, and preparing a way to the Romish Foxes to froile the Umes, to corrupt and devoure the fruits thereof. The Goths, Vandals, Hunnes, Herules, Lombards, Saracens, in Spaine, Afrike and Italy: the Frankes, and after them the Saracens, Danes, and Normans in France, and the places adiovning; the Puts, Saxons and Angles, and after them the Danes, in their parts; the Anares, Saracens, Tartars, Tarkes in the East and South; with other deluges of Et hnikes hating learning, burning

CHAP. 2. S. & Learning revined by printing, by natigations help preacheth to the World, 63

Libraries, killing learned men, in these and other parts seconded with factions, treasons, and ciuill vaciuillcombustions of Christians amongst themselues, made easie way first, and strong confirmation after to the Papacy apprehending all opportunities to advance it lefte, first in spiritual things, after also in temporall.

But what illiterate ignorance little discerned, not muth withstood, renewed literature hath exposed to the view of all, and by reviued Arts hath discerned the Arts of that painted Iezabel; whole fouler wrinkles, her Iezabelicall, Iefanicall Paralites ftill labour with renewed and refined Arts also to playiter and fill up a fresh; but hereby whet the industry of others to improoue their Arts and industry on the otheride, in more eagre fearch and diligent inquisition to take 10 those wife in their craftine fe, and to let men see that the materials of this later Babilon in the West are turies of earth, which humane wits have baked into brickes, and with flime of Policy, have rayled co fo superadmirable a frame and itructure.

And left to great a bleifing procured by Printing, should rest and rust amongst our selues in this Westerne corner of the World, God hath added that other Art of Nauigation, as that other Hirams affiftance to Salomon, and of Nehemiah to Ezra, the Prince and Priest, learning and power combined. This Art was before obscure and rude, but by the industry of the Portugals lifted vp to higher attempts, with care of their Kings (employing Aftronomie to her better furniture) Nauigation enabled to new Discourries in Africa, and after that in all the East, whose example the Spaniard read the next following happily encountred a New World, and first of all men valofed the Virgin Zone of the Chapter, 20 Earth, encompating the whole Compatie of this vait Globe. And thus hath God given opportunitie by Nauigation into all parts, that in the Sun-fet and Evening of the World, the Sunne of righteousnelle might arise out of our West to illuminate the East, and fill both Hemispheres with his brightnes: that what the Apoftles, by extraordinary dispensation sent, by extraordinary providence protected & conducted into all parcs, by extraordinary gift of Tongues were able to preach to all forts of men; this latter Age following tholeglorious Fathers and Founders (though farre off, non passibus agnis) might attempt and in some forcattaine by helpes of these two Artes, c Pfind 22, Printing and Nauigation , that Christ may bee faluation c to the ends of the Earth, and all Nations Luce :. may ferue bim; that according to the Scripture innumerable numbers of all Nations and Kin- Apec.; 9. dreds, and peoples, and Tongues, may be clothed with the white robes of the Lambe. I am no Prophec, 30 nor sonne ot a Prophet, instructed in future revelations, but one with all others praying, thy King-holy Ierusalem descending out of Heaven from God, newly measured with a golden Read, to apply it to the reformation of the Church in the last times; which how locuer some haue interpreted only of her glorious and celethall estate, others have included the terrestriall also, after the calling of the lewes (wnich Saint Paul cals ife from the dead, as if it were the Resurrection of the World, and consequently in spiritual respects, a new Heaven and new Earth ) alleadging many Arguments, feening altogether to this purpose not improbable. And leaft of all , will I, lesse then the leaft of all, take vpon me the reducing of the leves into I know not what externall pompeand policie, and exalt them in iplendour about all other Nations and Monarchs (the very flumbling 40 ftone of their downfall; this dreame of a g'orious Mefin, prouoking them to crucifie the Lord of glory, whole Kingdome is not of this World, though prefigured by types, and painted in shadowes of Secular glorie) I meddle not with Secular States, but pray for the convertion and spirituall regeneration of all mon. And Nature it felfe preacheth thus daily : if the Sunne daily, that Forbu Bright rituall regeneration of all men. And Nature it telre preacheth thus daily in the bullet adily interest man germand, not the Sunne of righteon/ressonce, enlighten all the World. It is the Holy Ghoits resemblance. Gein deec. If the Fathers d of old did expect a further conversion of Nations by the Gospel; if the Sybil- Romalist. Bine Oracles promise as much; it the Papitts make this a demonstration that Antichrist is not yet d Pfelig.

dome come; neither dare I take upon me the reuelation of the Reuelation in that Prophese of the come, because the Gospel is not yet preached to all men, which they hope hereafter shall bee ef- Rom. 10. come, because the Golpel is not yet preached to all men, which may hape in Esay and Zacharie, & Aug. Ep 78. feeted; if the Prophecies of the glorious flate of the Church mentioned in Esay and Zacharie, & wid Profes fhadowed in Ezekiels Temple, and deltruction of Gog and Magog, renued in the Revelation, de lib. arbit. 50 feeme not yet to haue taken their full effect, but to promife tome better future effate, as euen syb.Or.Li. Ca. thole many Ancients also conceited, whose full sayle and forward gale carried them beyond the Beller Leffin, Truth into the Millenary Errour : if our Church prayeth torall lemes, Turkes, and Infidels , that Vid Acoft do they may be one sheep-fold under one Pastor: then I may also with the Streame bee carried into Procedud. fall.4 expectation of that dilating the Churches Pale, and a more Catholike enlarging of her bounds, e.a. & de temo. fpecially in those parts of the World, where though we grant the Gospel preached by the Apo- mail 1.6.17.18 Alles, yet little fruit in compartion followed in many Countries; nor any generall convertion of Colletton files, yet little fruit in comparison followed in many Countries; nor any general contention of Good Friday.

Nations, except of the Romane Empire with the adiopning Regions, and some few, scarse a few Except in the Prouncesannexed, hath hitherto happened. And how little to the reft of the World is all that quantum Ro-60 which is called Christendome, or that also which in any fetled flourshing estate of a Church hath men Empire & euer yet beene Christian ? Pardon therefore this Charitie extended to all men, to pray and hope the Countries for the remotelt of Nations no more remote from Christin Nature or promise, then our selues. nine, vie the And (to returne to our Nauigation) the prefent Nauigations, Miffions, Preachings, of Islantes Sweden, Police Mow year, Daret, Roffe, and other Northerne people moft of them lately added to the Church, & the Absofection the Dark, Something the Church with the Daret of the Daret of the Church with th the disperied lewes before Christs comming in the flesh. He came to bis owne, and bis owne received him not, which yet by their Scriptures, Synagogues, Rites, in their many many dispersions, had vinwitting prepared a way vinto him among it the Gentiles. Let none contemne this figure of the Temph Church (which yeelds 4 in most objections of Popery touching Visibility, Succession, Antiquity Vinueriality, Confent, Pontificall Priviledges, and most of their vulgar and popular flourishes, reall and experimentall resolutions, by paraleling the Iew and Romanist; this being inferiour in euidence, Superiour in arrogance) if herein also we see them like; and those later Phariles, compassing Sea and Landto make Professes, by preaching fome Christian verities amongst their felues crucifie as Hereticall, Spaine hath as is faid, in Nauigation best deserued (in leading the way to others, some of which haue e fince in the Art equalled, in attempts perhaps exceeded her) and gether with the beaft receive power as Kings, out of the ruines of the Romane Empire; of which it is propheted that the ten bornes shall bate the Whore, and shall make ber desolate and naked and shalleate ber flesh and burne ber with fire. For God bath put into their hearts to fulfill bis will, &c. God put in-

of their mother lexabel, the mother of fornications of the Earth; enable them to fee that Catholike-uing in the wombe) supplants the next preceding; that the now-Roman is but new-Roman, and therefore Catholike no more in time then place, no more in found apprehension of truth, then in round comprehension of the Vniuerse And that God which hath given them to chase the relikes of the Moores out of Europe, to chastife them in Afrik & Afra, to find that New World of America, with her two armes of Nauigation from Liftone and Smill yeerely, to embrace the whole Globe, and to have greater oportunities for so Catbolike a worke then yet is granted to any other Nation; put into their hearts with other Princes and Christian Nations to fulfill this his will against that Whore; which the Prophetie enforceth to beleeue shall bee done, and their King in our Fathers dayes gaue instance how easie. Iring not, found not an alarme, nor strike vp a march for warre, I fcribe, nor doe I tingle out that Nation to this purpose, but toyne them with others in my Prayers for the execution of that Prophesie, both to goe out of Babylon, and to goe against it in instreed or reformation, that it may bee no more funned at all; at least by making her naked of that protection which thence she receiveth, and redemanding their owne, may detayne the ouer-flowings of EVPHRATES that the may of the Kings of the East may bee prepared to exterminate

Babylen out of the World. And is it not better thus to pray for them that they may have an honorable part in that Prophefie, that Babyles may further fall by their falling from 40 them, then that they should fall with here or to reckon up the bloudy effects of their Inquificion in Europe, and their inhumanity in America, and number them amongst the Kings of the Earth, who fhall bewayle and lamens Romes ruines; or to those Ship-masters, Ship-companies, Saylers and Traders by Sea, and Merchants of the Earth meeping for ber defolations? Once, I lay not that they of all men have the most eminent oportunity to subvert Babylen by their Italian neighbourhood and Territories; I pray that they endeuour to convert the Easterne and Westerne Indians making that best vicof their Nauigations, giving them Gold refined and truly spirituall for their temporall. And though they now of all Nations seeme most enamoured of that Roman (therein truly Catholike, that is, common) Harlot, yet Hee which hath the heart of Kings in his band at the riners of water, can turne it, when and whither foener he will : can effect this also by 0- 50

thers, without, yea against them : can reward (as sometime hee did Nebuchadnezzar for his fernice done at Tyrne, with the land of Egype for the wages of his Armie, and the Ifraelites at their departure with Egyptian spoiles) can reward I say both those which at his command go out of, or when his Prouidence shall dispose, against this Babylon (which for captiuing the people of God is called determine not the particular way or inffruments of that defolation. I delight not in imprecati- 30 ons, nor to that Whore drunken with the bland of Saints and Martyrs with any bloudy reward of Roman is the Language of Babel, where men but babble, and the word (like Efan and Iacob firi-

Traditionary chaffe, become Apparitors and Harbengers of a future purity, which yet them- 100

l'apifis drawn from the cu. therity, &c.of the Church. to be with fairer fhew & lurer ground applyed to the by divine Providence hath beene bountifully rewarded in the East and West, both overshadowed Ler fb Church, winder her wings: is also one of the ten hornes (as the current of our Interpreters agree) which to-which yet apoe English and to their hearts to be thus truly Catheline, and able to differne the whoredoms and many witchcrafts Aprc. 17.13,16. .= p c.17.5. Explois of Syaine.

Apoc.17.6. Apoc.18.6.

my felfe: but God himselfe hath foretold denouring ber fleft and burning ber, and enioyned alfo, in nit, Regul Lacobi. the cup which five hath filled, fill to ber domble. Which how to ever it shall bee effected, I doe not pre-

From. 21.13

Ez.29.19.

Ex 27.6 49.12 Egypt, for filthineffe Sodom, & for the Staple of Spiritual Merchandite, is also refembled to Tyrm)

Magog. Apoc.10.8. & Ap. 9.00 c.

with the spoyles of the Spirituall Egyptians, with the Turks destruction (which litterally possesse Egypt ) with the riches of the Gentiles brought to the Church, befides their own and the Churches * So some in- liberty. And as lernfalem (to return to our similatude) being demolished by the Romans, the Church terprete Gog & became truely Catholike, not looking any more to walls of a Temple, to carnall Sacrifices, to the petty pinfold of one Nation, to one City, as the Mart & Mother of Chriftean Religion and difci- 60 pline how much had the Apostles to doe whiles lernfalem stood, to withhold " Christians from Iudaizing?) so is it to bee hoped and prayed, that this Mystical Babylon, which now by vsurpation challengeth to bee Miftresseand Mother of the Church, arriving at that prophecied irreconerable downeiall, Carbolike-Roman (vninerfall-particular) may no more bee heard, but true Ca-

Praier for more full Connerfion of the World. CHAP.2

tholicisme recouring her venerableand primary Antiquitie, may without distracted faction, in free and vnanimous content, extend her Demeines of Vniuerialitie as farre as the Earth hath Men, and the light of her truth may thine together with the Sun-beames, round about the habitable World : that as Salomon by Hirams Mariners fetched materialls, Gold, Gemmes, Almuggim

Trees, to the Temples structure, which by the other Hirams Art were brought and wrought into due forme fo the Heavenly Salomon, the LORD IESVs, may by this his gift of Nauigation supply those remote fieldes, white wnto the Harnest, with plentie of labourers, to bring into the prone. Societie of the True Church those rude Ethnikes, of them to frame pillars in the bonfe of God, veffells of fanttimony in the landwary finer then the Gold of Ophir, enlightned with ipiritual wildowse 10 and vinderstanding of holy things, richer then Rubies, and the most incomparable I wells at the these may by the art of Hiram, the son of an I frainish woman by a Tyrian father, that it by the Miniftery of Paffors & Doctors, learned in chuine & humane Literature be inftructed, babtifel, edif. ed and disciplined; that in the places where yet is no Christian, nay no Humane or Giard Reaps it may be faid unto them, yee are the Sonnes of the luning God; that there may be one Paffor and one theepfold, one Saluation, Redeemer and Aduocate, to Iew and Gentile, 12 5 V 5 CHRIST the light of the Gentiles and the glory of his people Ifrael : whom my Discourse having now obtained to embrace, shall here confine it selfe with a Nune Dimittie, and end with Amen, to that Ameh, in whom all the promifes of God are yea and Amen, Euen fo, Amen Lo R D I ES V s.

HONDIVS bis Map of the Christian World.

G 3

CHAP.

CHAP. III.

Of divers other principall Voyages, and Peregrinations mentioned in holy Scripture. Of the travells and difersions of the lewes; and of Nationall transmigrations.

Auing premiled the two former Tractates, as the two Eyes of Peregrinations most taire Face, I shall be as briefe in the following, as I have in them beene te- 10 dious and discursive. The first voyage of Mankind was out of Paradise into the curied parts of the Earth, thence with fweat and labour to get his lining, Cains restlesse wandrings, and yet still dwelling in the Land of Nod, that is of agitation and vexation, never being still (there is no peace faith my God, to the wicked ) and Hencels contrary walking with God, I need not mention. And I have already mentioned the first Ship and voyage by water, Neater Arke, and the first earthly Peregrination ofter to the Plaine of Shinar, where Babels building was with mutuall babbling or confusion of Languages confounded; which gave accasions to the dispersion of Mankind over the Earth, that is, to the planting and peopling of the World, of which I have given account somewhat largely before, in the first Booke of my Pilgrimage. Abram is called out of Vr of the Chaldees , and travells with 30 Lot to Haran firft , and after into Canado : thence Famine forced him into Egypt ; after hee fets forth for the recourry of Let in a Martiall Expedition again foure Kingspeturning by Melhi-fedet King of Salem. Abraham after many tent-wandrings comes to Gerar, and after I faces birth and bleffed hopes conceived of him , is fent on the most difficult iourney to Moriab : at Hebron he burieth his Wife and fellow Traueller : fends his feruant to Mesopotamia for Rebekah: and hauing fent his multiplied iffue by Ketwab vnto the East Countrey (as before Ihmaes) hee ended his earthly Pilgrimage. Ifac inherits the promifes, and yet travelleth of them by travelling, not founding Cities but dwelling in Tabernacles, as did lacob also, before and after his long service in Padan Aram, till at last hee descended into Egypt, whither God had fent Ioseph in a former Peregrination. These both died in Faith, and gave charge, the one for his dead body, the other for his 20 bones to travell to Canaan the type of their hopes. Out of Egypt God called his Sonne, now multiplied into an Armie as is before observed : which Israels peregrithe Wildernesse. Wee also after wee have escaped the bondage of hellish Pharas, and seene him

E/. 57-31. Babel.

vanq iilhed in the Red Sea of Christs bloud, whereinto wee are baptifed, must hue the life of Faith, before in Map. passing thorow the wildernesse of this World, having no more sustained the tips of zame, from our meere naturall powers, then there their plowing and husbandry yeelded their bodies: but as their food and raiment, were the effects of Gods grace, and not humane labour; fo not by the worker of righteoufnesse, which wee have done, but according to bis mercy bee faueth vs : and by his Word and Spirit as a pellar of cloud by day, and of fire by night travelleth with vs, till lolbus, the 40 true I E s v s (for Mofes brings not into Canaan, wer can the Law infifie ) fet vs in poffession of the heavenly Canaan, where Iericho is battered not by warlike Engines, but by the power of faith in the Word and Couenant of God; and the boufes which our workes builded not , and vineyards which our merits planted not, even the Thrones which Angells loft, are made ours for ever by free grace and meere mercy. This is that rest, into which none but Travellers can enter, and that by crowding to hard into that narrow gate, that they must leave themselves . behind; nor take pof-Matt. 16.24 feffion of, but by loffe of life it felfe, passing that lordan which floweth the way of all flesh into the Dead Sea, before they can live with God.

Nor need men thinke much to travell, where God himfelfe was a Myficall Traveller in the travelled to feeke loft Affes, and stumbled on an earthly Kingdome : Danid by keeping of Sheepe and following the Ewes with yong was initiated, and after by many many trauels trained to the Mysteries of Royalty, which with divertified travells hee exercised all his dayes. Ieroboams tra-

uels to Egypt taught him those caluish deuotions, which made Ifrael travell into many Affrian

Plantations; and Indah also was carried captive to Babylon, restored by a travell from thence to Ierusalem under Zorobabel, Ezra, and Nebemiah; a mystery of that mystie deportation of the Christian Church, by ignorance and superstition, and her reformation by Godly Princes and Paftors. Hirams Miffion, the Queene of Shebas Visitation, Ionabs Journey to Niniue, intimate the calling of the Gentiles, whose First-fruits were the Wifemen of the East, which came to farre a voy-

Tabernacle, til Salomon built him an House adorned by Ophirian Nauigations. Saul before this had 40 yet are not presently in Canaan after the passage of the Red Sea, but are Pilgrims fortie yeeres in Captinity.

Matt. 2. 1.Pet.5.

age to falute the New borne King of the lewes. The Deuill alfo is a Traueller, and continually compaffeth the Earth to and fro, and goeth about as eventing Lyon feeking whom to denoure; trauelling of mischiefe, and conceiuing lies. Such were the Affrian, Syrian, Persian, Babyloman, Egyptian, and other travels of the Churches Enemies; theirs alfo which in blind zeale comp fed Sea and Land to make Pharifaicall Profelites. In Mordecass time, uen Persian Provinces, euen from India to Ethiopia, long after the returne vnder Zorobabel, which mulciplied no doubt in Agestollowing accordingly. But why looke I for Trauellers and Voyages there, where the Church was tied to one place, Drut. 16.

CHAP.3. Icwes Trauells and dispersions. Hope of their connersion. you fee in the Booke of Effber the Iemift dispersions thorow all the one hundred and twenty fe- Eft. ols.

to travell thither three times a yeere, and therefore ordinarily not to bee farre from thence? The Babylonian and Alexandrian dispersions, after the Captimity we have already mentioned; whereby the World was strewed with lewes ( not to mention the Ifraelites ) as Apparitors to the Meffias, and preparers thereof to Christianitie in the Apostles preaching. Then indeed the lenes were fine, and preparers energy to Commission were more religiously affected. There dwelled at le-10 (alem lewes, denout men out of enery Nation under Heanen, which being of lewish Parentage, were by the place of their birth, Parthians, Medes, and Elamites, Mesopotamians, Cappadocians, of Ponsw and Afra, Phrygia and Pamphilea, Egypt, and of the parts of Libya about Grene, Strangers of Rome, lewes and Profetytes, Cretes and Arabians. This was after that imprecation of theirs, His blond bee on vis and on our children: fo did God Matt. 27.

feeke to ouercome their euill with his goodnesse : but when they which had before perfecuted the feruants, and crucified the Lord of glory himielfe, now refifted the holy Ghoft, being vicircum- 46.7.613, cifed in hearts and eares, and judged themselues vinworthy of eternall life; God let out his Vineyard to other Husbandmen, and the fall of the lewes became the riches of the World. Then came the wrath of God on them to the vimost, and they became a travelling Nation indeed, travelling 20 now about 1500. yeeres from being a Nation; and Mofes his prophecie was verified in their Destas.

Contering from one end of the World to the other. Eleven hundred thousand are said to have perished Joide Bellud. in Ierufalem alone (where Christ had been crucified) befides all other flinghters in all other parts 17.6.24. of Indea, in that fatall warre under Vefpasian and Titus: 97000. were fold to be diffracted flaues thorow the world, Galatinus laith 200000. thirty of them for one piece of Siluer, which had gi. Gal Arcan 14. uen thirty pieces for him which came to make them free. Yet had not the Land spreed out all ber 21. Inhabitants, but grew fo queasie and full of qualmes, that the remainders in Adrians time entertained Beneschab for their Meffias, who with 200000. Iemes in his Army, is faid to have rebelled and bred fuch combustions, that this Some of the Starre (fo his name foundeth) was after called Barchosba, the Sonne of Lying. It were producious , not hyperbolicall alone, to tell what the Jewes . See my Pil-

30 tell of their following flaughters: 700000.flaine in Egypt, and in Indea, fo many as passeth all mo. grima elicito defly to relate after them, Dien Nicem tells of fifty Cattles and nine hundred and eighty of Dien Adrica. theirbest Townes rased, 580000. slaine, besides innumerable multitudes which perished by famine, fire, diseases, and other Baggage of Inuading Campes. Aline Adrianue banished the lewes from Cyprue and ludes, erected a new City instead of Ieru-

Calem, called of his owne name Lia, and fet Images of Swine ouer the Gates as Porters to keepe Inwest diffueout the lewes, yea prohibited by Edict the lewes to looke toward it from any high place. Trains tions, before was infligated by their rebellion, to destroy many thousands of them in Egypt, Cyrene, and Iswesdispension M. Spotamia. And euer fince, those which are contrary to all men, haue found all men contrary to them ; and have lived (if fuch flavery and basenesse be a life) like Cain, wandring over the World. 40 branded with Shame and Scorne. Spaine, England, France, Germany, Poland, Italy, Turkie, all the Indier as farre as China haue had them Inhabitants ; haue had indeed , for many haue given them terrible expulsions, the rest vsing cruell and vnkind hospitalitie, so that they are strangers where they dwell, and Trauellers where they refide, still continuing in the throwes of trauell both of mifery and mischiefe. But I haue handled this matter more fully in my Pilgrimage, and both Beniamin Tudelensis a Trauelling lem, and other Trauellers in the following Relations, will give you strange trauells of theirs thorow Asia, Africa, and Europe; in all their dispersions to this day retaining their bloud, name, rites, as disposed by a higher and most mercifull prouidence, which in his time will shew mercy on them, to see him by theeye of Faith, whom by the hand of Cru. See my File A. in his time will new mercy on them, to technin by energy of a sample of the Church by a more generall 2.6.21 elty they had crucified, and all Ifrael shall be faned, and returne to the Church by a more generall Rem.t. 26. 50 Convertion then hath yet beene feene; and as their reaction bails proved the reconciling of the World, Rom 11.15.

so the receiving of them shall be life from the dead. All times are in Gods hand, but hee which hath promifed is able to performe: and perhaps if Rome the Spirituall Babylon bee captized and ruined, which hath obtruded fo long on them the monsters of Image worship, Transubstantiation, worshipping of so many Saints, with other seemings of refined Ethnicisme, and imposeth on Connerts the losse of all their substance; the way shall bee made more plaine for them : which wee hope is growing to some ripenesse in this Age, when about to many yeeres have pasted fince the calling of the Gentiles, as from Iacobs Family in Egypt, growing to the face and proportion of a People and Nation, vnto their destruction : and full out as many as were from Tofephs death in Egypt, to the destruction of the Temple under Ti-60 tm, and more then from Mofes his Exodus, to that other Exodus and extermination under Adrian. We are no Prophets, and must learne by event the certainty of Gods (hefore secret) con fells. Gal. 415. In meane while let vs pray, Hallowed be thy Name, thy Kingdome come, that this travelling Nation Line 1507 may one day trauell in both of Christ till be be formed in them, and with the prodigall Sonne, may travell from their wandrings, and at once returne to their Father and to themselnes, that we may all meet in the unity of Faith, and Gods will may bee done in Earth, as it is done in Heanen, there being but one Shepheard and one Sheepefold, Amer. As the Jewife Nation hath been litterally Travellers, fo the Christian Church is alway travelling spiritually to her home, and from her selfe; and the lewish deportation to Babylon, was a figure of the Antichtiftian Captinity in Romish and Popilla

Superstition, of which wee have taken occasion to speake more fully elsewhere *.

As at first the World was peopled by peregrination successively from Noabs Arke, and Babels Tower: io in the worldly vicifitude of all things, a world of peregrinations have happened in the World, and that of worlds of men together, in Nationall inuations, plantings, fupplantings, Co. lonies and new alterations of the face of the world in each part thereof. Thus the Ifraclites Sup-Deat 2,9,12,20 planted the Canaantes & dwelt in their rooms; as did the Moabites to the giantly Emins, the Edgmites to the Horims, the Ammonites to the Zamzummims, and other Nations to others. To re- 10 cite these were to recite all Stories in manner of the World : Lazius de Migrationibus Gentium, and others have in part vndertaken it. For even in Palestina alone how many successions have beene. of Canaanites, I fractites, A ffyrians (after called Samaritans ) and lewes together : Of those which the Romans placed or permitted, of Saracens, of Frankes, or Westerne Christians in so many millions as two hundred yeers space sent out of Christendome thither; of Drussans, Syrians, & a very Babylon of Nations ( none and all ) ever tince. This Britaine of ours, belides those which first gave it name (whose remainders still enjoy Wales) hath admitted Romane sprinklings and Colonies. and after that a generall deluge of Saxons, Inter, and Angles; tempests and stormes out of Denmarke and Norway, and lattly the Norman mixture and combination. Neither is there any Region of ancient Note, which hath not fuffained chance ond change in this kind. But wee mind not 20 fuch neers peregrinations, as these viually were, but longer Voyages and remoter Trauells. And fuch also we have already mentioned in Sefostris the Egyptian, in the Phanicians, in the Affrians, under Semiramis to India, belides Eudoxus and other privater persons; and such are the Fables or outworne Stories of Ethnike Antiquity, touching the Atlantines, Ofiris, Bacchus, Hercules, Perfem, Dedalm ; and those which retaine some more truth, though obscure enough, of the Arganants, Ulyffes, Menelaus, Enaus, Hanno, Himilco, Iambolus, and others ; some of which shall toltions of times low in the following Relations. That of Alexander is more renowmed, and first opened the East to the West, and to Europe gaue the Eyes of Geography and History, to take view of India and the Regions adiacent. And here is the first folid foot-print of History in this kind, though heere we seem also Trauellers have been as farre from the truth, as from their homes, and have too often trauel-30

Varro diffinguithed Relais,Fabulous, Obscure, and Historicall. led of Vanitie and Lies.

CHAP. IIII.

Fabulous Antiquities of the Peregrinations and Nauigations of BACCBVS-Osiris, Hercvies, the Argonauts, Cadmus, the Gracian Nauie 10 Troy, MENELAVS, VLYSSES, ÆNEAS and others.

T is not the fable or fallhood which wee feeke in fabulous Antiquities, but that truth which lieth buried vinder poeticall rubbish. For nothing but nothing can rife of nothing. Some truth therefore gaue occasion to those fables, as Thamars and Dinahs beautie occasioned their rauishment ; the Deuill (a Lier from the beginning) lusting to defloure that beautie, and then like Ammon adding a second force, in hatred turning her as much as he may out of the World. Hence the fables of Poets, Idolatries of Ethnikes, dotages of Rabbins, phrenties of Heretikes, phancies and Lylegends of Papifts : to all which, when Hiftories cannot make them good, Myfteries are fought to court their badnesse, and bald nakednesse; and were they never so bad before (like the shearing of a Friar, or vailing of a Nouice Nunne ) fuddenly they are heereby become errant honest persons, nay venerable and religious. And thus hath that Impostor, not only infinuated and procured admillion and credit to lies, but thence hath raised the very Faith of Infidels, which worthin they know not what; and obtruded I know not what Pias frandes, and religious Lies, forfooth, vpon unchristian and Anti-christian Christians; to whom because they received not the love of the trust to be fixed, God bath fent the efficacy of error, that they might beleene a lie. This is the Deuils triumph, and Mans madneffe; out of which confusion, if wee cannot try out the pure truth, yet those Diuine Relations and Reuelations premiled, will appeare more louely and admirable from thefe

I may here mention Saturnes Travells into Latium, being eiected Heaven: Iones fabled five en- 60 compiffings of the World; Apollos daily circuit; Mercuries frequent Meffages to all parts, who was also the Trauellers God, and had his Scatnes in High-wayes; Innos icalous wandrings; Bacchus and Hercules were renowmed by the Poets for their Peregrinations, perhaps (as before is observed ) no other but Salomon and Hrams Ophirtan Voyage. Baschus (they tell) was the sonne of Impiter and Proferpina, who being torne in pieces by the Titans, Impiter gaue his heart to Semele to drinke, and thereby conceived of this other Bacchin; whereupon icalous Inno transformed into the shape of Beroe Semeles nurse, perswaded her to defire Inpiters company in Maiesticall appearance, as hee accompanied Iuno, which was her defirmation; the babe taken out and fewed in Impiters thigh, and after put to Nysu to nurse, whereupon he was named Dyonifius. I should difirst you to tell the difagreeing tales of Poets touching his birth and life (for lies neuer agree) as alfo his Miracles, which euer make up the greatest part of a Legend. Tigres, Ounces and Panthers, with Pans, Nymphs, Sileni, Cobals, and Satyrs were his companions and attendants. Hee was drawne in a Chariothy Tigres, and held a Thyrfus in his hand for a Scepter (which was a Speare or Iauelin, adorned with the Leaues of Vines and Iuie) and marched thus madly both to 10 Indis in the East, and to Spains in the West, which of Pan was called Pania, whence Spania and Hispania have beene deriued. A learned Spaniard faith, that in the eight hundred and tenth yeere, before the building of Rome, Bacchus inuaded India, moithned it with bloud, filled it with fliugh. Orafit 1899. ters, polluted it with lufts, which before had beene subject to none, and lived content and quiet in it felfe. Some apply that of Noah to him, and make him the Inventer of Wine, Hony, and Sacrifices : fay alfo that hee reigned at Nyfa a Citie in Arabia ; some adde other Kingdomes, and that hee had Mercurin Trifmegiftus his Counsellor; and leaving Hercules his Agprian Lieutenant, Antam in Libia, Bufirie in Phanicia, conquered all the Eatt, built Nyfa, and erceted Pillars in the Easterne Ocean, as did Herceles on the Wetterne. His ftory is also confounded with that of Ofirst, this being the name which the Legyptians gave him, as Herodots affirmeth. And Diodoras Her. Euterges 20 relaceth his Epitaph in hierogliphicall Letters in these words , I am Olyris the King, which tra- Dod Sicht. nelled thorow all the world to the Indian Deferts. Onidalfo fingeth;

Tranells of

CHAP.4. Tranells of Bacchus, Thefeus, Hercules, the Argonauts.

Te memorant Gange, totog, Oriente subactis Primities magno seposuisse loui.

Cinnama tu primius captinag, thura dedisti Deg, triumphate vifeera tofta bone.

His journey they describe first thorow Ethiopia, and then Arabia, and so to Persia, Media, Snablis. Baltria, and India : after his returne, to Helleftont, Lidia, Phrygia, Thrace, Greece, and Whither tra- Eurip &c. uelling witts please. Wee shall lose out selues to follow him further; as they doe which with worst prophanesse celebrate his drunken Holies daily.

Thefem and Hercules lived in one time, of which Thefem is famous for his Acts in Crete, The- Thefem & Hell 30 bes, The fall, with the Amazons, and his descent into Hell, with other his Voyages and Nauga- cules. tions : But farre farre more famous is Hereules for his Travells, and for his twelne Labours, his Peregrination being another Labor added to each of them. The Nema an Lion, Lerna an Hydra, Phrygian Bore, Arcadian Hart, Angean Stable, Cretan Bull, Thracian Diomede, with his man-eating Horses, Celtike, Alexia, Alpine passage, Italian Tenths, Stymphalide Birds, Amazonian Belt, Atlantike Dragon, Balearian Geryon, Lybyan Antaus, Agyptian Busiris, Lydian service to Omphale, Theffalian Centaure, and Tartarean Cerberns, proclaime his trauells ouer and under the World; as his Pillars; to the end of the World, and his helping Atlas, that the World trauelled on him. Neither travelled hee by Land alone, but by water alio hee navigated with those famous Argo- The Agrantin mass, which make vs another Voyage to find them.

40 Hyginus hath registred their names: Iafon a Theffalian, Orpheus a Thracian, Afterion of Peline, Polyphemus of Larifa, Iphicias, Admetus, Eurytus & Echion, Ethalides, Caneus, Mopfus the Soothiayer, Hyam, Fab Pirithous, Menetius, Eurydamas, Amponitus, Eribotes, Ameleon, Eurytion, Ixition, Oileus, Clytius and Iphitus, Peleus and Telamon, Butes, Phaleres, Tiphys the Master of the Ship, Argus the Ship-maker, Philiafus, Hercules and Hylat his companion, Nauplius, Idmon, Caftor and Pollux, Lynceus (which could fee things hidden under ground, and in the darke) and Idas, Perichmenus, Amphidamus and Cepheus, Anceus, Lycurgi, Augaus, Afterion and Amphion, Emphemus ( which could runne dry foot on the water ) Ancaus Neptuni , Erginus , Meleager , Laocoon, Iphictus Thestiy, Iphitus Naubo Zete: and Calais ( fonnes of Aquilo with winged heads and feet , which chafed away the Harpres ) Focus and Priasus, Eurymedon, Palamonius, Altor, Therfanon, Hippalcinnos, Asclepius, 50 Atriach, Milens, Iolans, Deucalion, Philottetes, Cenens fonne of Coronis, Acafins, voluntary companion to lafon. These with their Countries and Parentage Hygynus hath recorded. Their Vov. age was to Colebos, but many of of them came not thither. Hylas was stollne by the Nymphs in Mafia, whom Hercules and Polyphemus feeking, were left behind. Tiphys died by the way, & Ancens fon of Neptune succeeded in his Masters place. I dmon was slain by a Bore; Bates threw himsele into the Sea, allured by the Syrens Musick. In their return alio Enribates was flain in Libya, Mopfus died in Africa of a Serpents byting.

Now for the Voyage of the Argonauis, they fay that Polias Iafons Vncle was commanded by Oracle to facrifice to Neptune, to which if any came with one shooe on, the other off, then his death should not bee faire off. Iason came thither, and wading thorow the River Euhenus, left 60 one of his shooes in the mire, which he stayed not to take out, for feare of comming late to the Holies. Pelsas feeing this, asked lafon what hee would doe, if hee had a prophecie that any man should kill him. I would fend him, faid hee, To fetch the Golden Fleece. This was the Fleece of the Ram (which fome fay was the name of a Ship having a Ram on the Beake, that had carried

Iphis or Tiphis died, and Idmon was flaine. Phonens the Son of Agener a Thrasian was blinded by Impiter for reuealing the gods secrets, and the Harpper let to take the meate from his mouth. The Argonauts confulting with him of their future luccesse, must first free him of this punishment, which Zeres and Calair did, chasing them to the Strophades. Phinens shewed them how to passe the Symplegades, following the way which a Doue fent forth of the Ship, shewed them. Thence they came to the Ile Die where the Birds balides that quils which killed men, whom by Phineus his precepts they feared away with tounds (fuch as the Curetes make) and vied thereto shields also and speares. Thus being entred the Enxine Sea to Dia, they found poore, naked, thip wracked, the Sons of Phrixus, Argus, Phrontides, Melas and Cylindrins, which travelling to their Grandfather Athamas there encountered that misfortune. Iafon entertained them, and they brought him to Colchos by the Ruer Thermodoon; 20 and comming neere Colches caused the thip to be hidden, and came to their Mother (balciope fifter of Medea", to wnom they related Iafons kindenesse, and the cause of his comming She brings Medea to lafon, who as foone as the faw him, knew that it was the fame whom in her dreame the had freme and joued, and promifeth him all furtherance.

Æeta had learned by Oracle that hee should so long reigne as the Fleece which Phrixus had confecrated, remained in Mare his Temple. He therfore imposeth on lafon to yoak the bras-footed firebreathing buls to the plow, and to low the Dragons teeth out of the Helmet, whence armed men should suddenly be produced and kill each other. This he did by Medeas helpe, and likewise call the Dragon into a fleepe which guarded the Fleece, and fo tooke it away. Leta hearing that Iafon and his Daughter Medea were gone, fent his fon Abfyrens in a ship with souldiers after him, who pursued him to Istria B in the Adriaticke Sea, where Alemoni compounded their quarrel 30 fo little to Abstras his liking, that following him to Moveruss Ile, Iafon flow him, and his followers builded therea Citie called of his name Abforie. Some tell of the Syrtes which the Argomants passing carried their ship on their shoulders twelve daies. But the varieties are inextricable and innumerable. After his returne, by Medeas helpe he made away his Vickle Pelias (to whom the had promifed to reftore his youth) and gave his Kingdome to Acastus his sonne, which had accompanied him to Colchor. The exile of Medea and the rest of the tale you may have amongst the Poets. Iam more then wearie with relating fo much. This voyage was to admired of Antiquitie that this Argo which Homer calleth manufaces, was not onely praised to the stars by the Poets, but placed amongft the flars by their Minerua, and the constellation famous to these times. The 40 Argonauts after this instituted the Olympian games. The Poets are full of such Chymeras, mixed lye-truths, bnot sparing any of their Gods or Heroes. I upiter having foline Europa transformed into a Bull, or as some say in a ship of that name, or having a bull in the Beke, Cadmus and Thasus her brethren were fent by Agener their father to feeke her. The Phenician Nauie is divided betwixt them. Thafus having long fought in vaine, returned not, but in the Agean Sea built a Citie of his name. Cadaus built Thebes, and after that! But what and why doe I while you in these vncertainties? Yet haue I touched a little of his storie who is famed the first inventer of the Gracian Letters, and of Historie. But we will turne your eyes to the most fabled of all Poeticall fables, and in a peece of an houre with a fwift pen will dispatch ten yeeres worke with 1000 ships. The Princes in the Troian fiege and their flips are thele: Agamemnon brought from Micene one hundred ships: Menclaus his brother from thence allo 60. Phanix of Argot 50. Achilles of Serros 60. Automedon his Chariot driver 10. Patroclus of Phibia 10. Aiax of Salamine 12. Tencer his brother as many, Viffes of Itbaca 12. Diemedes of Argos 30. Stevelus of Argos 25. Alax the Locrian 20. Nester the Pylian 90. Thrafymedes his brother 15. Antilochus fonne of Nester 20. Eurypylus of Orchomene 40, Macaon of Attica 20. Podalyrins his brother 9. Tlepelerus of Mycene 9. Idomeneus of Crete 40. Meriones from thence as many, Emmelus of Perrhebia 8. Philothetes of Melibaa 7. Peneleus of Baotsat 2. Pubus a Baotsan alio as many, and his brother Chronius 9. Arcefin lans 10. Prothener 8. Ladmenus of Arges 30. A Scalaphus 30. Schedus 30. and Epistrophus his brother 10. Elephenor, Calchodontis and Imenaretes (all likewife of Arges) 30. The sonne of Menans from Athens 50. Agapener from Arcada 60. Amphimachus of Elea 10. Eurychus of Argos 15. Ama- 60 . - cens of Mycena 19. Polifenes from Atolia 40, Meges the Duluchian 60. Thom 15. Podarces his rother 10. Prothous the Magnefian 40. Cycnus the Argine 12. Niveus from thence 16. Autiphus the Theffalian 20. Polyboetes the Argine 20. Leophites of Sicyon 19. You fee the particulars amount farre about the thousand viually named. The Voyage was too thort, and the Siege soo long for this

* Died Siculus addern the de-Inuerance of He one from killing o King L.:omeren and taking or Troy in their return for breaking his promise of Hories to Hercutes.La. Harpyes. Diod. maketh Medea and

Circe fifters,

daughtersof

Hecate. L.4.

g Timessfaith to Tanau and thence croffed the Ocean, and failed about by Cades into the Strauts Odys. u.

h Strab. l.1. fperking of the Poets Argonauts faith cum bifteria confent t, que dam ctiam offingit, morem Ceruan & com. nemė (uum. Cum billoria confentit quando Letam neminal & lafonem & Arzo &c. Grecian None againft Troy.

The Trauels of Menelaus, Vlysses, Dædalus, Æneas. CH AP. 4.

Menelaus having recovered bis eje-fore faire Helena, is faid to have beene eight yeeres wande- Travels of Me ring the world, and Ulyfer longer. Menetaus his errour was about Cyprus, Phanicia, Legyp, and wise. the neighbouring Ethiopians and Arabians (fo Strabo expoundeth Homers Erembos in his first Strabilio Booke, and in his insteenth, yet there addes also the Trogladites) he produceth some which place the Sadonsans in the Porfian Gulfe, I know not how juftly. Homers Veries, where Menelans relateth his travels to Telemachus are :

Ofis. F.

Kumper, Gotelunpre, & Argurffliete, amanibete Al Bioras S' ixeulus, & Zerevies & Epopleis, Kai AlCulus. Cipres, Phanicia, Egypt hauing pait,

Th'Ethiops, Sidons, Erembs, I went at laft. And Libya -Arifonient the Grammarian , and after him Enflathent, interpret it of failing round about Trauchofie. Africa, as is laid of Eudoxus and others before (chembions vo Quarte due Hi Tadique liffit. wiger the Indian ) a thing to mee altogether unprobable, and easier to be lailed by the Poet or his Commenters in an Inkie Sea with a quill Mait, then by the ruder Sea-men of those times. Menelans his errours we see continued more then eight yeares, yea are not yet ended, but breede new trauels in Grammarians braines. Tanta molis erat infame reducere fcortuns. Viffes returning from Troy, came to the Cicone, the Losophage, and after that to Polyphenous the Giant, with one eye in his forehead, thence to te Lolus, to the Leftrygone, to Luaria inf. mous by Circes charmes, to Auernus, to the Syrenes, to Scylla, Sicilia, Charybdus, to Lea, to the Pheaces, 20 and at laft to Ithuses. The like fables Grammer Choole boyes can tell you of Eness out of Virgil, and other Poets. Iam weary of trauelling in fuch a loofe fandy foile, where fo few footeprints and paths of truth are to be found. And for Anew his travels, I will prefent you them in another fashion as Hondins hath in his Map described them. I might adde Dadalus his flight from Athens, his fleight for Pasiphae in Crete, his acts in Sieilia, his arts every where in his travels. As for his and his lonne Icans his flying, the truth is found in taking away the first letter, except you flye to Mysteries. And this is the falue too ordinary in all the Poets tables, Per(ens, the Atlantines, and others, which I forbeare to relate.

HONDIVS his Map of the Nauigation of Eneas the Troian.

See of althefe in Phatius his Bibliotheca, He. led. & Achilles are extans.

O her fabulous Relations of Travellers we have, meerely fained, as that of Heliodorus his A. thiopike History, Achilles Tatius, Jamblichen, all in Loue-stories; Lucius Patrenfis his Metamorphofes ( whence Lucian had his Lucius, and thence Apuleins his Afinus) Antonius Diogenes his Thule, and other like, they are not fabulous Histories but Parables, Mysticall Fables and Poems in Historicall forme, as Viona and Arcadia; that I adde not more then a good many others amongst vs of worse note, which idle wits have made both Mothers and Daughters of Idlenesse, or fruitleff foolish butin: ffe without braine or heart.

I have more mind to give you a History, though even here wee cannot secure Quiequid Gracia 19 mendax Andet in Historia. Some things are vincertaine in the best, yet better a tattered truth

The Philosophers and Wisemen of Greece were Trauellers for knowledge (of which some travelled with knowledge also, and have left Geographicall Monuments ) Merchants for gaine, and mightic Potentates for Dominion and Glory. The Merchants had their reward in that which they fought, the other for better knowledge of times, deferue more leifurely view.

CHAP. V.

I briefe recitall of the famous expeditions mentioned in ancient Histories, of the Affyrians, Egyptians, Scythians, Ethiopians, Perlians, and others. S thefe last have bin told by Poets as fables, that is truths eeked and wrought vpon by their wits for greater delight, fo the flories of the first Affrian Monarchie and Egyptian Dynasties have little more folidity. Nime by the Greeke and Latine

P. Oro ( L. z.4.

ftories is renowned for his ambitious marches, and trauels thorow all Afa from the Red to the Euzine Sea, and thorow Scythia to the Ballrians. Hee conquered (faith Diodorus )the Armenians and their King Barchanes, Tharnus also King of 30 Media and all Asia from Tavais to Nilus, the Egyptians, Phanicians, Syrians, Cilicians, Pamphilia, Lycia. Caria, Physia, Milia, Lydia, Troas, Propontis, Bythinia, Cappadocia, the Barbarians vpom Ninize builded.

Pontus, Cadusians, Tapyrans, Hyrcans, Dranges, Derbici, Carmani, Coronei, Rhomni, Vorcani. Parthians, Persians, Susians, Caspians, and many others. Arians the Arabian King was his Collegue in armes in these expeditions. After which he built Ninus or Nizine, the wals one hundred foot high, broade enough for three Carts to paffe together on the tops, with 1500. Turrets 200. foote high, the fquares vnequall the two longer 150, furlongs, the two shorter 90. Hee made a second expedition against the Ballrians, and then maried Semiramia a Syrian, which he tooke from her husband Menon, who hanged him felre in foolish griefe.

Semitamis.

Scribeth Baby. lon to Nimred,

Semiramis succeeded, and exceeded his exploits: She innaded Ethiopia, and whereas (if you be - 40) leene Ctestas) Ninus had with him in his last expedition against Zoroastres the Baltrian 1700000. footmen and 200000 horsemen with 10600 hooked chariots: She hulded (as they say) Babylon, with a stopendious Garden in Chaona, and Pallace at Echarana, cut out highwaies in Persia, pasted thorow Egypt to Libra to the Oracle of Iupiter Ammon, lubic eted Ethiopia, and made three yeers provision to inuade Staurobates King of India, slew 300000. Beeves of their Hides to frame counterfeit Elephants, and with 3000000. (it is Cteffas alto which talethir) of Footmen, and 500000. Horsemen, and 2000. Ships, with Elephantine counterfeits carried on Camels, shee made that Indian inuation, where Staurobates encountered her with greater numbers, threatning to crucifie her. On Index was the Nauall fight, wherein the Indians had the worfe, and loft 1000. Ships, but in the Field the Affyrian Armie was ouerthrowne. Thus they proceed in the Affy- 50 rian Empire for 1300, yeeres together, and fay that at the warres of Troy, Theutamo the twontieth from Ninu relieved Prismus with 20000. Men, and 200. Chariots under the conduct of

Iof Scal. Note

Memnon. As for Sardanapalus the thirtieth and last of them, the truth is, as in the former, a certaine vicertainty. Eufebius reckoneth the time of Semiramis to have beene the fame with A+ braham, fo that Moles, whom lofephus, Clemens, Africanm, Tatianus, make to be 850, yeares before the Troian warre, is by his more probable reckoning made much later, yet, as hee faith, ancienter then the Greekish Antiquities, and their Gods also : being borne, as Scaliger calculaterit out of his Politions 394, yeeres before the destruction of Troy. Now what pettie Kinges the World had in the best peopled parts in Abrahams time, the fourth Chapter of Genesis sheweth, euen of those Regions; which tome therefore make but Vice-roys under the Affrian, very da- 60 ringly. Nine his numbers fauour of Nimreds Babel, which after Ages could make i wel with fuch vanities.It may be a question (I thinke the negative out of question) whether the World had then . fo many foules fo foone af er the Flood, as those Indian and Affrian Armies are faid to containe.

Vexetes the

The like-may bee faid of Vexores the Egyptian Kings Expedition, which conquered to

Chap. & Saloltils Pillari Berah. Tearcon. Cyrus. Xerxes. Rom. Emperors trauels. 73

Pouss, and Tonas the Segment, princip conquered him and about all Afel of fome lay before Nous. Vexore by Generard is supposed to bee Ofice, the first Pharas. And for Selastra wee Sofice. haue already in part acknowledged his greatnesse, and withall his latenesse in the time of Rehoboam the Sonne of Salomon. He is faid to hane had in his Atmy 600000. Footmen, and 24000. Died. fr. Lt. Horse, 8020. Chariots of Warre, in the Red Sea foure hundred Ships. Hee conquered beyond Ganges, the Medes, the Scythians vinto Tanais, and the rest of Asia. Into Europe he pisted as farre as Thrace, and left Pillars as Monuments for his victories, engrauen with the representation of a mans Prinities, if they were valiant; of a womans, if effeminate. Not long after was that Expedition of Zerab the Ethiopian with a million of men, ouer- Zerab the Not long after was that expectation of zeros the European which is minimum to throwne by King Ala; as that of the Queens of Shebs (fome thinks fine raigned ouer a. Chromosts Arabia and Albiopia ) to Salemon a little before. Tiglath Pilefer King of Affria tooke 2.Kin.16.6 17.

Damafens, and Shalmanefer carried away the tenne Tribes into Affria and Media, and placed Babilonians, Cutheans and others in their roomes. Senacherib foone after inuaded Indab, but Turbakab King of Ethiopia came out against him. This Turbakab is thought to bee Thearen. that Tearcon, which Strabo mentioneth, where hee denieth that India had beene inuaded Strab.Lis. by any but Bacchus and Hercules before Alexander, denying that of Semiramis, and alleadging Megastbones both to that purpose , and that Sefostris the Egyptian , and Tearcon Megasthemes his the Ethiopian pierced into Europe, yea that Nabucodonofor, or Nanocodrofor (more celebra- teffimony of ted by the (baldeaus then Hercules) came to the Straits or Hercules his Pillars; as did al- old Expediti-20 to Tearcon : also that Idantbyr su the Seythian pierced as farre as Egypt ; but none of them Nabuchadon lors went ( faith hee ) to India. Megafibenes acknowledgeth that Cyrus came neere the Indi- Idanibrijus. ans, in his Expedition against the Massagers, but not thither. As for Nabucodonofors Asian Cyrus, and Egyptian Expeditions, and his Dominion in manner ouer the World wee have divine te- Bana. 4 stimony in Daniells Tree and Golden Image; of Cyrus also, whose Conquests are knowne, and large Peregrinations from the West parts of Asia, where hee captimed Crafus and subdued his, with the adiopning Dominions, and all the Regions thence thorow Syria, Armenia, Media, Persia, to the Massagers and Septhians. His sonne Cambyses added Cambyses Agypt, and that foolish Expedition against the Libiopians. Darius with Soocoo. men Her. 47. inuaded the Septhins. Xerxes, as Herodotus hath recorded, inuaded Greece with 1700000.

30 Footmen, 80000. Horsemen , 20000. Chariot Men , one thousand two hundred and eight saile of Ships. Ctefiat (which vieth ellewhere to fay the most) hath but 800000 men besides Chariots , and one thousand Ships. As for other Seythian and Amazonian mustions, with others of other Nations, for their vocertaintie I omit them. The Greeks also had their many, both Expeditions and defensive Warres against the Persians before Alexanders time. Themistocles, Xenna phon, and many others of them are renowmed, tam marte quam Mercurio. And thus the Perfiam Empire hath brought vs to Alexander, which fucceeded it, of whose Expedition wee shall anon take speciall and more lessurely view.

As for the later Empires of Carthage and Rome, to tell of their Travellers and Travells would proue a History of their States, and all their famous Captaines, especially the Romans when they 40 began to spread their wings farre from their Italian nelt, and flowed out of Europe an Bankes into Africa and Afia. The Semios in the Carthaginian warres, Luculius in Africa, and after in the Mithridanke wat; Great Pompey in his European, Afian, and fatall African Voyages & Expeditions; Greater Iuliu, whose travels procreated a Monarchy ; Couetous Crassim, Cruell Antonius, Flourithing Augustus , Seely Claudius, Triumphant Vefpafian, Gentle Titus, Proud Domitian, Glorious Train, Witty Adrian, & in manner all the reft of their Emperors forced or forcing on their Frontiers, & whose very Imperial progresse in their own State, were great voyages & peregrinations;

Christian Confantine arose a bright Sunne to the World out of our North ; Apostata Iulian travel-50 led alfo and brought forth an incarnate Deuill, which after many peregrinations perifhed in the East, and left the Empire to Good Ionian. To fet downe the Emperours trauells would be to give you the Imperiall History from Iuliu, till the times that the World fell in trauell with Barbarian trauellers, Goths, Vandals, Hernles, Hunnes, Auares, Frances, Saxons, Lumbards, Saracens, which shared among stehem that vast Empire : especially the travell of the Imperial Seat from Rome to Conflantinople, giving the occasion both to a mysticall conception of Antichrist (which may feeme borne long after by Phocas midiwifery, and growing vp till Gregory the feuenth, when the Denill was loofed from the bottomleffe pit , and in Christian names restored in great part the Ethnike Gentilisme) and to those inundations of Barbarians and Barbarisme, which like a Smoake from the bottomleffe pit prepared the Papall way. Pipine, and especiall Charles the Great 60 were great Travellers alto, and vinwitting much furthered the growth of that Monfter, which after iwallowed up the Imperial Eagle, and left but the feathers and shadow remaining. The Danes and Normanes were vnwelcome Travellers , which perfected that, which others had begun : especiall the Normanes by their warres and greatnesse in Italy, growing out of the ruines of the Easterne Empire, and by that conspiracy of Vrban and Boamsoid, which seeking to fish in troubled waters deutjed the Expeditions of the Franks to the Hierofolymitan water, which fet the better knowledge whereof I haue here presented the Map thereof. Seuere Seuerus died at Torke, world in travell 200. yeers together, the Mahametans of the South and East and the Christians of the North and Welt making Palestina the stage of fury & slaughter After these the Tartar filled 40 the world with innumerable armies & mischiefes, especially all Asia & one halfe of Europe. But these are later things, and some of them follow in our Relations. For the Parthaus, and later Perhan Dynasty, and Saracenicall travells over, and both spirituall and temporall conquests thorow the world, and the Ottoman, Sophian, Mogall, and other branches from that root, I have bin a large relater in my Pilgrimage.

yea their Empires (as before 'is observed) was called by the ambitious title of the World : For sant t. . .

CHAP. VI.

The travells of the antient Philosophers and learned men briefly mentioned.

Leaft Trauch lers may be greateft Wri-Bers. Euen I which haue writte fo much of rranellers & trauells, neuer trauelled 2000 miles from

Ow let vs examine the Voyages of Philosophers and Learned men, into remote parts for Wildome and Learning. Diagenes Laertius maketh two kinds of Philosophy, the one lonke, the other Italike: this began from Pythagoras, the other from Thales, both which, with many of their Successors were great Trauellers. As for Thales, his Epistle to Pherecydes a Syrian (another trauelling Philosopher ) is yet extant in Laersins, in which he mentions his & Solons trauels, in thefe words:

For neither are I and Solon the Athenian fo foolsh and mad that when we have failed to Crete & pierced into Egypt, there to conferre with the Priests and Astronomers, we would not with like care faile to to. For Solon will come alfo if you thinke good. For thou being holden with liking of that place felfex, where I was dome passest into Ionia; neither are moved with defire of Strangers : but as I hope thou onely appliest 60 borne: berein shy felfe to writing. But wee which write nothing, " travell therew Greece and Alia.

mar a water.
Anne, which being blunt causeth sharpnesses or a Candlestick holding many Candles, without which it selfe is vascene in the darke; and as the Compatte is of little compatte and motion, yet teacheth to compatte the World; or as the Pole-flat is left moued of all, & most of all mouing & guiding the Traueller. Enuy not a marginall roome to him, who hath wed Volumes so spaceous to thee; in which, how little is the trauell of the greatest I raueller; or how could a great Traueller haue trauelled of so much.

CHAP.6. Solon and Crocfus. Travells of Philosophers. Basenesse of Flatterers.

Thus have you one testimony of two Grandees, Thales and Solon. This later, in his return from Egpr vilited Cyprus, and after went to Crassus, who adorning himtelfe in greatest glory & pompe, asked Solon it euer he had frene goodher spectacle : Yes, faid he, Cockes, Phelants, and Peacockes. Crafus being after by Cyrus lentenced to the fire, cried, O Solon, Solon, Solon, and being demanded the reason answered, That Solon had told him, that no man might be accounted happy before his death: wherein Cyrus reading the mutabilitie of his owne fortunes, gaue him his life and a competent estate. Thence Solon went into Cilicia, and built Solos:

To Crafiu isan Epittle also of Anacharsis, another travelling Philosopher, borne in Scythia, and brother to the Septhian King, making some mention of his Trauells in these words: I, O King of Lidians, came into Greece to learne their Manners, Studies, and Instructions; and need not 10 Gold, esteeming it enough to returne to the Scythians a better man, and more learned. Tet I willcome to thee to Sardis, much efteeming thy friendfit and familiaritie. Hee was Solous gieft at Athens, whither he came in the fortie feuenth Ohmpiad. Socrates the first bringer in of Ethikes or Morall Philosophy, was a Traueller also, and tollowed the warres by Land and Sea. Xenophon his Scholler, was both in Arts, and Armes, and Trauells famous, and hath left Monuments thereof written by himselfe, His Voyage to Delphos, and thence to Cyrus, and after his Persian journey to Agest-Law King of Sparta , and with him against the Thebans , and after that to Helia and Corinth, are recorded by Laerting. In his daies Ctefing a Traveller and Historian lived, which writ the Perfian, Affrian and Indian Stories, but often travells from truth. Aristippus was a Cyrenian by birth, by tiudies an Athenian, as were many others of his Coun-20 trymen, by base flattery a trencher-worme to Dionifius the Sicilian Tyrant. Prolemeus an A. thispian was his Scholler, and Antipater a Grenean. Epitemedes, Parabates, Hegelias, Anniceris were also Cyrenaites, holding voluptuous opinions , as also Theodoras and another Ariftippus, magnifying sentual pleasures. The Ecclesiastike Histories of Socrates and Sozomen, mention the trauells of Empedocles, which threw himfelfe into the Sicilian Crateres, and of Democritus Cous which spent eightie yeeres in travelling thorow divers Countries. Meropine also, and Merodorus Plato. are mentioned with others. But wee will come to men better knowne : Plato is famous both Lactelag. for Philosophy and Trauelling. Hee trauelled to Euclide at Megara, to Theodorus the Mathematician, into Italy to the Pythagoreans, Philolans and Eurytus, thence to Egypt to the Priests (and Euripidea with him Euripides alfo ) and intended to vifit the Perfian Magi, but was prohibited by the Affan 30 warres. Returning to Aibens hee fet vp the Academie. Thrice hee translled in warfare to Tamagra, to Cormib, to Delos. Thrice also hee fayled into Sicilia. First to fee it, at which time Dio-freed, Dionyfins writ to him not to reproach him. Plate answered , Hee had not so much leisure as to thinke on Dienysius. He failed thither to the younger Dienysius twice. His Disciples were Speulippus the Athenian, Xenocrates of Chalcedon, Aristotle the Stagirite, Dion of Syracufe, A. mylius of Heraclea, Timelaus of Cyzicus, Heraclides of Pentus, and others of other Countries, his Bioni Schoole yeelding a prettie Geographicall Map of Countries, Bien was borne neere Borifhenes, but added honor to his Country by his studies. He was fold for a Slaue, and bought by an Orator which made him his heire: he fold al & went to Athens. After his ftudies there, he lived at Rhodes. Landes. 40 Lacydes the chief of the New Academie, was a Cyrenean, Carneades was also of the same natio, Clita- Carneades. machus was a Carthagmian, & his true name was Afdrubal. He went to Athens, & there beame the milim the Tyrant displeased with his free speech, caused him to bee fold in Ligina ; but being scholler of Carneades & his fucceffor. Menippuswas a Phenician by birth, &lived a Cynik at Thebes. Aristotle was borne the first yeere of the 99. Olympiad : at feuenteene yeers he became Platoes Aristotle. Scholler, and so continued twentie yeeres. After that hee went to Maylene, and when Alexander was fifteene yeeres old to King Philip, in the second yeere of the 109. Olympiad, and having commended the care of young Alexander to his Coulin Callisthenes, in the second of the 111. re- Califfren turned to Athens, and taught in Lyceo thirteene yeeres, and then went to Chalcis and there died. Calisthenes trauelled with Alexander, till the Persian Conquest had made him twell beyond the measure of a man, and some Greeke Foolosophers (Philosophers I dare not call them; but among st 50 the Muses some haue alway beene Hedge-whores, and the learning of some in all Ages hath licked the trenchers, and fly-blowed the fores of great men ; with the basest of vices, Flattery, kisfing the hinder parts, fucking * the Emerodes, feeding on their excrements, themselves the ex- * So the Bancrements of Mankind : but whither hath passion transported mee ?) Agu an Arque, and Clea ber of Levu Sicilian, some adde Anaxarchus also, Et eaters urbum susrum Purgaments (Isith Curius) de Elevenite would needs open Heauen to Alexander, and preferre him to Hercules, Bacchus, Caftor and Pol- Securita. lux : Alexander flood behind the hangings, whiles Cles made a speech to perswade the Per- Plus Alex. fian Rites, and with them to deifie and incense their Kings. Which being gravely refuted by Callifthener (for to him especially was the speech directed, that they which went before others in learning, should in this innouation also ) that it was not for him and Cleo to make Gods, or for

60 the King honor to bee beholden to them for his Divinitie, which could not give a Kingdome on Earth to him, and much leffe Heaven: Alexander concealed his malice, till upon occasion of torturing some, which had conspired his death, he tortured also even to death Califfberes, giving him that recompence for laung his life, when having flaine Clysus in a drunken rage, hee would have added in a fullen and mad penance his owne death, and was by Callesthenes wifedome reclaimed. This was his preparation to the Indian Expedition.

Many other learned men followed Alexander, and writ his story, viz. Marsas, Pellans, Hecateus Abderita, Aristobulus, Clitarebus, Anaximenes, Onesieritus, Nearebus, Piolemaus Lagi after King of Egypt, Antipater another of Alexanders Captaines, and an Hiltorian, Ariflus, Afclepiades Vossius addes Archelaus, Strattu, Eamenes, Diodorns, whole stories wee have cited by Arrianus, Strabo, Plutarch, &c. But then the World travelled of Travellers of all forts, learned Zeno was a Cyprian, by birth of Phanician parentage, and at Athens began the Stoike Sect, whither hee came with Purple out of Phenicia to tell, and fuffered shipwracke in the Piraum, vpon 10 which occasion folicing himselfe with a booke, hee followed Crates. Cleambes was his successor,

& after him Spharus a Bofphoran, which travelled alfo to Alexandria to Ftolemens Philopater. Heraclites the Ephesian was a trauelling Philosopher, of whose acquaintance Darius Histaspis was ambitious and writ to him about it. But of all the Philosophers none were more famous, then the first founder of that name Pythagoras, either in trauells with, or for Science. He was borne at Sa-mos, thence passed to Lesbos, and there heard Pherecydes the Syrian. Returning to Samos , Poly-crates the famous Minion of Fortune, commended him to Amasis King of Egypt. Hee learned the Egyptian Mysteries and Language, and trauelled thence with Epimenedes into Crete, and after that into Italy to Croton, and there began the Italike Philosophy before mentioned. But who can tell his trauells ! Iamblichus his Scholler, faith that Pythogoras learned his Philosophy, partly 20 of the Orphics, partly of the Egyptian Priefts, partly of the Chaldees and Magi. Learned Plinte faith of him, that to learne Zoroaifres his Magia, Pythagorat manigenit, exilo veritit quam pergrinatione suscepta. Hee ( doe you beleeue it? ) had beene Æthalides the sonne of Mercury, and after that had beene Emphorbus in the warres of Troy, who being dead, his foule passed into Hermotinu, and travelled to Branchida to Apollo: Temple, after whose death a new transmigration befeil inm into Pyrrbus a Delian F fherman, and at last you have Pythagoras. It seemeth hee had beene also in India, where the Brachmanes or Bramenes to this day oblerue the Rites and Opinions which the Westerne World ascribe to Pythagora, as not eating of things which have had life, transmigration of soules, and the like. Hiftafpie, the Father of Daring the King , is reported to haut traulled into India and learned their Magice & Philophy, which the Magin Pershastice 30 professed. Philospranu hath written a long Legend of Apollonius Transus his Pilgrimage to the Brachmanes in India, to Bahlon, Egypt, and Arabia, to Nifa, to Taxilla, to Iarchus the principall Indian Brachmane, to his Agyptian and Athiopian Gymnosophists, &c. But incredulus edi. I reckon him an Holpitall beggar, with whom I will have nothing to doe. Pyrrho an Athenian Philosopher Scholler of Anaxarchus, is faid to have travelled both to the Persian Magi, and Indian Gymno sophists, and learned of them that hee could learne nothing, nay learned not so much. but doubted of that alfo. India alfo yeelded fome travelling Philosophers to the Gracians, of whom the most famous is that Calanus which followed Alexander to Pasargada, some say to Babylon, and there burned himielfe, an end futable to his feuere profession beyond the Stoikes austeritie. An Epistle of his is regultred at large by Saint Ambrofe. Archimedes also travelled into 40 Egypt and left famous Monuments of his Art in many parts of the World. But wee have beene too long in trauell of this argument. More are wee beholden to the trauells of Historians, such as Herodotus, Megasthenes, Diodorus Siculus, Strabo, Polybius, and many others which travelled into

Lacri.l.7. L. 1.8.

Italy, Egypt, Ethopia, Grecce, Afia, and divers parts of the World, that they might give the World vnto posteritie. Herein also they deserue mention, which then were counted fablers, as Pythias Massiliensis, whom Strabo and others resect: yet his reports of short nights, &c. are now knowne truths. Some have written of travelling and failing by the Coafts, as Arrianu his Cir-

2015 of Marcianus Heracleotes , published in Greeke by Danid Hoeschelins, rare lewells for knowledge of antient Geography, but not fo fitting our common Reader. The like wee may lay 50

Strab.lib.15. Cart.10. Fr.Elian. &c. Died Sic. 4.6.9 Sec Unffers of See o officio of the Red or Indian Sea, and of the Blacke or Enxine Sea; the companie & coithis.De hift.

Herod. 1.4.
Scyllar fent by of Seyllan Caryandensis, mentioned by Herodotus, Artemidorus the Ephesian, Dicearchus Messaus. servary tent by Islams, Conracanus. The Learned know where to read them : the Vulgar would not regard difcouer the them if they were here ; Time having denoured the very names by them mentioned, and not Gratiar Coally the Cities and Ports alone. Yet for a tafte wee will give you a Voyage of two of the Antients, before thatfar mous inuation. And first that of Hanne.

CHAP.7. Phænician Iland, Hanno & Himilco discouer the South & North parts. 77

CHAP. VII.

Phoenician Voyages, and especially that of Hanno, a Carthaginian Captaine.

Indows Sirulus reporteth of the Phanicians (of whole Nauigations in the Indian Disclass, and African Ocean, and Spanish Plantations we have spoken before ) that say- Superi, $ 11. ling to divers Marts, they planted many Colonies in Africa, and iomealio in ling to divers Marts, they planted many Colonies in expired, and to the Cocan, Gadina or Cathe West parts of Europe: that they failed also out of the Straits into the Ocean, div built bythe and built on the European Continent the Citie Gadra ( or Cadiz ) and therein Phanicians. erected a sumptuous Temple to Hercules, which to his dayes was holden in great reputation of Sanetitie, the Rites therein observed after the Phanician manner, wherein many famous Roman Commanders after their great exploits, have paid to this God their vowed many ramous namen Comming along it the Lybian shore in the Ocean, were many dayes carried Goodly flands. with tempests vnto an Hand very great and fertile, with pleasant Champaines and Mountaines, goodly Woods, Gardens, Houles, Fountaines, wholfome Ayre, feeming to be the dwelling rather of Gods then Men. The Tyrbeni (which were ftrong by Se2) would have fent a Colonie thither, but were forbidden by the Carthagimans, which feared left their Citizens allured by the Galumo Ouiced goodneffe of the Countrey should betake themselves thither : and besides, they would refer ue it and others ap-30 for a place of refuge, if any advertitie should happen to their Citie. Aristotle also in his Booke py it to the d.

A Sungarius duequerus hath some such thing of Carthagunan Merchan s, which failed from meritan Anilli. Spane mio the Westerne Ocean; but I thinke both may bee applied rather to some one of the Hands of the Canaries, or Cape Verd, or Saint Thomas, or to some part of the African Continent, Gerardi to ref. which they might thinke (not failing further) to be an Iland, or to some fiction, then to Ameria de bifur Grada ca. Aristotle in that Treatne mentioneth Hanno, which Voffins thinketh rather to be the worke Plin Lac. 67: of the vounger Arifoile, called Ponticus ( Laertius mentions eight Aristoiles) then of that great Oracle of learning and miracle of Nature. But of Hannos Periplus (as it was falfly termed) many Authorshaue made mention. Pline to speaketh of it, as if liee had failed about Africa, in these Worls, Et Havno, Carthaginis potentia storente, circumueltus à Gadibiu ad finem Arabia, nauigatio-30 nemear, proudit scripto ; ficut ad extera Europa noscenda missu eodem tempore Himilco. By which words it is apparant that Hanno and Himileo in those flourishing times of Carthage, were fent by publike decree vpon discoueries, Honiclo to the Coalts of France, Britaine, and other parts of Himiteo.

Europe ; Hanno S unthwards to coast around the African shores. The like testimony he hath in his fifth Booke, Fured Hannonis Carthaginiensum Ducu commentary, Punicu rebus florentiff. L.s.a.s. mis explorare ambitum Africe iufi : quem secuti plerique e nostris, ad alia quadam fabulosa, & orbes a & alia que multus ab eo conditas ibs prodidere, quarum nec mimoria vlla, nec vefligium extat. Whereby wee fee den fab. that Plinie doubted of the truth of Hannes relations : yea it was a Prouerbe, as Albeneus which Casaubon in his Notes vpon him, with Vossius also have observed; Siguid en modi Iuba refert, gaudest Lybicis libris Hannonis ac erroribus : as good a testimonie of Iuba and Hanno for 40 Hiltorians as Virgils of Baniss and Meniss for Poets. Yet, as I will not altogether cleare him, fo I Qui Barium thinke that ignorance of those places in those times made him seeme the more fabulous, as Marco "" nodil amet timine that ignorance of Grandfathers daies: which appeareth in that they make that a circumnauigation about Africk, which reached not one quarter of the way from the Pıllars of Herguies, to the Arabian Guife. Artemidorsu the Ephesian doth mention it, and Mela alio with So- 1. Salin c. 27. linus, Mela came neere the truth, which faith that Hanno failed a great part of the coaft, and retuned for want of prouison, not of Sea-roome. He, and Solmus and Plans have cited much out of Hanne Cattern him, which perhaps might receive a better interpretation then Antiquity could give, as appeareth nem, a, cumper by Ramufier annotations on that Vovage, and by helpe of a Portugall Pilot expert in thole coalts, Ocean office ex-comparing Hannes with the prefent Naugations. We will first give you the Text and then the iffer, maguam Commentarie. But first we will adde out of Galveno touching Humileo, that hee is faid to have pattern and cir-5c failed to Golded and Thule, within addlegrees of the Pole, where the day in June is two and femantial comments. twenty houres, and to have spent in that discovery two yeeres: I know not what good proofe mean deficifes he hath of that Relation, Pline whom he citeth, faith that the Northerne Ocean was failed for on the most part by the procurement of Augustus, to the Combrian Promontory, and the Scythian coast, and that from the East when Selencus and Antiochus reigned, the North Sea aboue the Caspian was filled, and called by their names Seleucida and Antiochida. But that he joyneth the Cafrian with the Ocean, makes it leffe credible, being contrary to later experience. No better credit hath PLL 1876 that report of Nepor touching Indians which had for trade failed out of India and comine about by the Northerne Ocean, and by tempest were brought into Germany, presented by the King of 60 the Seenians to Quentus Metellus Celer then proconfull of Gallia, which haply were of some Nation the Baitige Sea, by empet looking themselves, and not finding any which could vinderfiand ele languige, were by some smattering Grammarians or trusty travellers (which by daring nce woull aduenture on applause for skill in Geography) or elfe by the Giner ( which to got the mention of the Indian name would much commend his prefent) obtruded on the no

Communication

Io

I-fle ignorant Spectators, for Indians: a thing eatily faid, and not eafily disproued, where none had feene any Indian. But now to Hanno.

The Nauigation of HANNO a Carthaginian Captaine on the Coasts of Africa, without HERCVLES Pillers, which he dedicated, written in the Punick tongue in the Temple of Saturne, after translated into the Greeke, and now into the English, with briefe annotations.

He Carthaginians determined that Hanno should faile without Hereules Pillars, & thore build

1 Cities of the Liby-phinicians. He let faile with threescore Ships of fifthe Oares a peece, conducting with him agreat multitule of men and women, to the number of thirty thousand, with victuals and all other necessaries. We arrived at the Pillars, and passed them, and having failed without them two daies, we built the first Citie, calling it Thymiaterium. It had round about it very large Champaignes. After turning toward the Welt, we came to a promontorie of Africa, called Solvente, couered all over with woods. And having here built a Temple to Neptune, we failed halfe a day towards the East, till we arrived at a Fen, which is fituited not farre from the Sca, very full of great and long Canes: and there were in it feeding Elephants, &many other creatures. Then having gone about a daies faile beyond that Fenne we built Cities on the Sea coaft, calling 20 them by their proper names Musus, Caricia, Guta, Acra, Melitta and Arambis. Departing from thence we came to the great River Linus which descends from Africa: By it there were certaine men called Lixita, feeders of Cattell, tending their flockes; with whom wee continued follong, that they became verie familiar. Moreover vp in the Countrie above them the Negros inhabited, who will not traffique with any, and their Countrie is verie barbarous and full of wilde Beails, and environed with high Mountaines, from which as they fav, iffues the River Lixus, and round about the Mountains inhabit men of divers shapes, which have their abiding in Canes; they runne swifter then hories, as the Lixians report : from thence taking some Interpreters, we failed by a defart Countrie towards the South two daies. And then wee vered one day towards the East, where in the bottome of a Gulfe we found alike Iland, that was five furlongs in compasse, which we inhabited, naming it Cerne, and by the way that we had sailed we judged that that Iland was opposite to Carthage, for the Nauigation from Carthage to the Pillars, and from thence to Cerne feemed equall. Parting from thence, and failing by a great River called Crete, we arrived at a Lake, which had in it three Ilands greater then Cerne. From whence failing the space of a day, we came to the further part of the Lake : there we faw very high Mountaines which ouerlooked all the Lake: where were fauage people cloathed in heafts skins, who chafed vs away with stones, not luffering vs to land : failing from thence we came to another great and large streams full of Crocodiles, and River-horfes. From thence turning backe againe, wee returned to Cerne. Sailing then twelve daies Southerly, not going farre from the coaft, which was peopled with Negros, who upon light of vs fled away, and ipake lo, as the Lizita that were with vs understood 40 them not. The last day we arrived at a Mountaine full of great trees, the wood whereof was odoriferous and of various colours. Having now coasted two daies by this Mountaine, wee found a deepe and troublefome race of Sea; on the fide whereof towards the land was a plaine, where by night we saw fires kindled on every side, distant one from the other some more some lesse. Hauing watered here, we failed by the land flue daies, fo that we arrived in a great Bay, which our Interpreters laid, was called Hofferm his horne. In this there was a great Hand, and in the Hand a Lake, which seemed a Sea, and in this there was another Hand; where having landed, by day we faw nothing but woods, but in the night many fires were kindled, and we heard Plifes and the noise and found of Cimbals and Drummes, and besides infinite shows; so that wee were exceedingly afraid, and our Diviners commanded vs to abandon the Hand: then fwiftly failing 50 from thence, we paffed by a Countrie smelling of Spices : from which some fierie Rivers fall into the Sea, and the land is so hot that men are not able to goe in it; therefore being some what affrighted we fuddenly hoifed out our failes, and running along in the maine the space of foure daies, we faw by night the Country full of flames , and in the middeft an exceeding high fire. greater then all the rest, which seemed to reach voto the Starres: but wee faw this after in the day time, which was a very loftie Mountaine, called Seer synua that is, the Chariot of the Gods. But having failed three daies by fierie Rivers, we arrived in a Gulfe called Notuceras, that is, the South horne : in the inner part thereof there was a little Hand like vnto the first, which had a Lake in it, and in that there was another Hand full of Sauage men, but the women were more; they had their bodies all our hairie, and of our Interpreters they were called Gorgones: we purfued the 62 men but could take none, for they fled into precipices and defended themselves with stones; but we tooke three of the women, which did nothing but bite and feratch those that led them, and would not follow them. Therefore they killed them and flead them, and brought their skins to Carthage: and because victuals failed vs. we failed no further.

Discourse on the Voyages of Hanno and Iambulus. CHAP.8.

Tappeares that Hanns wildome for discourse in that infancie of Nauigation about 2000

Years fince, thought small Vessels street by which he might keepe neere the shoars, the edging Hanns at 1. all whereof cauled him to faile Eaft or Welt, as the Land trended. The Carthagniam being of Pha- as auncient as nician original from Tyrus, and Lybius habitation and Empire, called their Cities Lybiphanician: Philip he Faof which Thymiaterium feemes to the Portugal Pilot in Ramufo, to be Acamer in 32 and a halfe, the of desan of which I symiaterium teemes to the roringus. The Promontory Solvents feemeth Cape Canim thinkes him to where runner in a spaceous a fame to after unner him much Eastward, and the abundance of Riners be that Capcause the great Fenne mentioned; beyond which they built those Cities, the same, or neere to same which thole now in the Kingdome of Morocco, Azafi, Goz, Aman, Mogador, Teftbua, &c. After they palle was lent a-To the Cape Ger, and encounter the River Lixus, where the Poets fables place Hercules his Anians gat fl Agailte and the Hesperides Gardens. The Pilot thought it the River of Sus, which runnes into the Sea by Trogue (or at M: ffa in 29. degt. 30. min. Beyond that begins Mount Atlas the leffe, which runneth Eaft- his shadow luward quite thorow Barbary, and to which the Romans came, the fands prohibiting their approach fline) 122 Lusy thage. For as for the height, it is plaine that they neither yied compasse, nor observed degrees. that he was And for Ptolemeis degrees, they are almost enery where falle or vncertaine, rather from his con- excled for the jecture, then the Mariners calculation, and in transcribing made worse in so many barbarous and ming Lyons. 20 ignorant ages: his places are of more vie in flewing their bearing Eaft or Weft, North or South, short, or beyond, or wide, then for exact gradations. Thellands of Cape Verd in 13. are Hannes Hesperides (the Canaries or Fortunate Ilands he could not fee, creeping neere the shore) and for River Horses and Crocodiles, they are no ratities in Africke. From Cape Verd the race of the Sea might feeme terrible to their small Vessels, where the River of Saint Mary and Rio Grande in 15 degrees, hath troubled waters. Such fires as hee mentioneth are seene to this day of those which faile on the coast of Senega and Guinea, because the Negros eate little in the day time for heate, but at night have their fires without doores and there reiresh themselues : many of which a farre off present luch lights at Sea; the merry Negros Sec tolsas to fray away wilde Beafts and to expresse their mirth, making such musicke with shouts and cries. larger notes. 30 Sierra Leona is that chariot of the Gods in 8.degrees, the continual thunders and lightnings at Inf. L7. fome times of the yeere presenting such a fierie spectacle as Hanno reporteth: yet augmented for greater wonder, as also are his fiery Rivers, that whereas the world talked of a fiery Zone, not habitable through heate, he might lyea little to faue his credit from imputation of a greater lier, if he had reported the temperature neere the line. The like humour of inclining to vulgar fancies appeareth in his tales of the Gorgones. And for the monitrous womens hairy skins, they might be of the Biboones or Pongos of those parts, fome of which as Jobson and Battell our Countrimen which trauelled those parts will tell you, are greater then women & the Pongos nothing in manner differing from their shape. These were, as is probable within foure degrees of the line. The Iland is thought to be that of Fernando Poo : but my learned friend Master Hoelsin a German, which 40 is now preparing a learned treasury of Geographicall antiquities to the Presse, supposeth that hee passed not the Cape Tres puntas or that de Palmas.

CHAP. VIII.

I A MBV LV s his Nauigation to Arabia, and Æthiopia, and thence to a strange Iland , from whence hee failed to Palimbothra in India.

F Hannes Voyage and Relations feemed incredible, much more may that of lambulus, recorded by Diodorns. In what age hee lived is vincertaine, and as vincertaine what llind it was that hee is faid to come to. which may feeme to vncertaine what lland it was that hee is said to come to, which may feeme to D. Sic.lafome to be Zeilanor lana, Irather thinke Sumatra. That it is wholly rabulous I cannot thinke, but that all is true therein, I were worthy also to have my tongue flit, if I should affirme. Hee did mixe fables to the truth, to make his storie more plaufible, and imitating the Poets; and without annotations the truth may eafily be knowne from the fables of Platoes Republike and common women, and strange creatures, with other tales.

But, if you will, thus the storie lyerb. Tambulus was learned from his child-hood and after his Fathers death (who was a Merchant) 60 he exercifed also Merchandizing. Paffing through Arabia to buy Spices, he was taken by theeues, with the affociates of his journie: at first with one of his fellow flues, he was appointed to bee a lambalus twice Keeper of Cattle: but after tha', together with him hee was taken by certaine Ethiopians, tiken. and convayed beyond the maritime Libiopia. Seeing that they were firangers, they were taken for an expiation of that Country. The Libropians that inhabited those parts had a custome, which they had anciently received from the Oracle of their Gods, and observed it twenty Ages, that is fixe hundred yeeeres (for an Age is finished in thirtie yeeres.) They had a little vessell prepared able to endure the tempetts of the Sea, which two men might early steere. They put into fix months victuals for two mentbringing the men abourd, they commanded them to direct their veffell towards the South according to the antiwere of the Oracle: and told them that they should come to a goodly Iland and courteous people, that lived happily. And by that meanes, if they fafely arrived in the Iland their Countrey should beein peace and prosperity fixe hundred yeeres. But if, being terrified through the length of the Sea they should returne backe, they should bring, as impious and debauched persons, great miseries to all their Nation. They report that the Libiopians feasted divers dayes by the Sea-fide, and kept their holies, wishing them a lucky Voyage, and that the accustomed expiation were accomplished. After foure moneths sayle and Tembuli infula, many a florme, they were carried to an Iland of round forme, fine thousand furlongs in compasse.

When they drew neere to the Iland, some of the Inhabitants sent forth a Boat to meete them. Others running to them wondred at these new come strangers : and entertayned them very kindly and courteoutly: imparting to them fuch things as they had. The men of this Iland are not like to ours, either in their bodies or manners, yet all have the fame forme, but they exceed vs foure Cubits in stature. They wind their bones this way and that way as they please, a like sinewes. Their bodies are stronger and nimbler then ours. For if they haue taken any thing into their hands, no man can pull it out of their fingers. They have no haires. except on their head, eye-browes, eye-lids, and chinne: on the other parts of their bodies they are followed, that there doth not appeare the leaft downe. They are faire, comely, and have wel fhaped bodies, the holes of their eares are much wider then ours, also their tongue differs from vs.

Inhabitanta deferibed. a So docthe

Cloven tongurs. Liers Em-

For their tongue hath somewhat peculiar by Nature or Art. Nature hath given them a clouen tongue, which is divided in the bottome, to that it feemes double from the root. So they yie a divers speech : and doe not only speake with the voice of men, but imitate the singing of Birds. But that which feemes most notable, they speake at one time perfitly with two men, both anfwering and discourfing. For with one part of their tongue they freake to one, and with the Temperate other to the other. The aire is very cleere all the yeere long, as the Poet hath written, That the Peare doub ripen upon the Peare, and the Apple upon the Apple, and the Grape upon the Grape, and the fig vpon the fig. Also they say the day and night are alwayes equall. About noone, when the Sunne is ouer their heads it maketh no shadow. They live according to their kindreds and socie-

the avre make the earth of it owne accord wonderfull fertill, There grow many Reeds, bearing plentifull fruit like to a white Vetch; when they have gad infi deferiptio of Miz, or Indian Wheate. Egge. Afterwards of these beaten they make bread, of a wonderfull sweetnesse. There are also in that Iland great Springs of water, whereof fome flow forth very hot for the vie of Baths, and curing Diseases; and some are cold, very sweet and wholsome. They respect all kind of Learning, especially Altrologie. They wie Letters whereof they have eight and twentie, according to ties : which yet exceed not foure hundred. They dwell in Medowes, the earth bringing forth plentifully fruits freely without any tillage. For the goodnesse of the Iland and temperature of Their Letters, the value of fignification, yet but feuen Characters: each whereof is varied foure wayes. They line very long, namely one hundred and fifty yeeres, and for the most part without any sicknesse. chins forme of If any haue a Feuer or be licke in his bodie, they enforce him to dye according to their Law. They lines in write not by the fide, as we doe, but from the top in a straight line to the bottome. They have a cultome to hue to a certaine age, which being finished, they diversly of their owne accord kill Common wo- themselues. They have a double plant : vpon which whosoeuer lyeth downe is brought into a fweet sleepe and dyeth. The women marry not, but are common to all. In like manner the Males are brought vp, and common to all. They often take away the children from the Mothers.

mongif them, or factious affection, but they live peaceably without iarring. There are small creature in the Iland, whose bloud is of an admirable nature and vertue. Their bodies are round, and like to Tortoites, two streakes crossing one another on the middle of them: in the extremity of each of which is an eare and an eye : fo that they fee with foure eyes, and heare with fo many eares : they have but one belly wherein they convey that which they eate. They have many feet round about, wherewith they goe both wayes. The bloud of this beaft is affirmed to be of a wonderfus? efficacie. For any bodie cut with gashes, while it breathes, sprinkled with this bloud presently cleaues together. And in like manner, it a hand bee cut off, or any other member, whiles life lafts, the parts will bee loyned together, if it bee applied to the wound while it is fresh. Every Family nourisheth great Birds of a divers nature, wherewith they trie what their sonnes will be. For setting their children on these Fowles, if they be not affrighted while they are carried through the Aire, they bring them vp, but if they faint through serve or cowardlinesse, they cast them downe as vinworthy to line any longer, and vinprofitable for any exerciefe.

that they might not know them, whereby it commeth to paffe, that there is no ambition a-

The eldest of every Family, as King commands the rest, who all obey him. When hee is one hundred and fiftie yeeres old, they take away his life according to their Lawrand the eldeft next him takes the Principality. The Sea wherewith the Iland is enuironed is very temperfuous, and min takes to water, the water is fresh. The Beare and many starres which appeare to vs are not Sometrus of cantern great value, There are feuen Hands of the like greatness, like distance betweene, and of the the Country. same people and Lawes. Although the earth doth bring forth food of it owne accord abundantly for all, yet they vieit moderately. They delire plaine dishes, seeking only nourishment: they eate their flesh rosted and boiled: they reject the Cookes art, and all kind of sawces as vnprofitable. They reuerence the Gods, and that which containerh all things, and the Sunne, and the other heauenly Creatures. They take filhes and Birds of divers forts. There grow of their owne lo confruitfull Trees, Oliues, and Vines, from which they draw great plentie of Oile and Wine. The Hand produceth great Serpents, but harmelesse : whose flesh they eate, which is extraordinatie sweet. They make their clothes of foft and shining downe, taken out of the middeft of Canes: wherewith their Purple garments died with Sea Oysters are made. There are many kinds of creatures and fuch as will hardly be beleeved: they observe a certaine order of life, and eat but of one kind of meat in a day; for one day they eate fish, on another Birds, and then beafts; sometimes they feed only of oile. They are addicted to divers exercises: some serve, some fish, others exercise their Trades, others are bushed about other necessarie affaires. Some (except the old men) minister in common, or serue one another by turnes. On their Holies and Featt dayes they fing Hymnes in commendation of their Gods, and chiefly of the Sunne, to whom they 20 dedicate themselus and their Hand. They burie their dead on the shore, heaping fand wpon the carkaffe when the Sea flowes, that with the flowing and increasing of the water, the place may be made greater. They report that the Reeds from which they gather fruit, increase and decrease according to the Moone. The fweet and wholiome water retaines the heate of the Fountaines, valelle it be mingled with cold water or wine. Lambulus and he which came with him tarried in the Hand feuen yeeres, and at length were lambulutis forced to depart at their wils, as wicked persons, and accustomed to enill conditions. Therefore preparing their Boat and victualling it, they were compelled to depart. In foure monethes they came to a King of India, through landie and shallow places of the Sea. The other penshed in a tempest: Lambulus was driven into a certaine Village, and carried by the Inhabitants to the King 30 into the Citic Palibabba fare dilatat from the Sea. The King load Graciau, and greatly effecmed their Learning; hee gaue him many things, and first fent him sately into Persia, and then into Greece. Afterward lambulus writ thefe things, and many things concerning India before vnknowne to others.

CHAP.9. Iambulus bis reports of his Indian Trauels. Alexander.

CHAP. IX.

Great ALEXANDERS Life, Acts, Peregrinations and Conquests briefly related.

Ing Alexander, as they report, derived his Pedigree by the Father from Hercules. by the mother from Aucus; from the one descended his Father Philip, and from Alexanders Pothe other his Mother Olympia. Shee the first night of her Nuptials dreamed that digree, the faw Lightning enter into her Wombe , and thence a great flame presently kindled. Philipalfo not long after feemed in his sleepe to seale his wives belly.

the Seale engrauen with a Lion. By these Aristander the Diuinerforetoldthat thee was with childe, because a Seale vieth not to be fet on emptiothings: also that shee should bring forth a child, who should have the nature and spirit of a Lion. But when a while after Pbilip in the night faw through a cranie of the doore a Dragon lying by her, it abated his loue to 50 her, fearing Magicall Charmes, or the familiaritie of some Deitie. Notwithstanding Olympias counselled Alexander that he would assume a minde worthy of his father. Others fay, that shee faid Alexander would make her (by challenging to bee Impiters sonne) hatefull to Iuno. On the Hisbirth, Ides of August she was delivered of Alexander, who although he were of a goodly feature, yet he bowed his necke formewhat to the left fide, and a certaine whitenesse mixed with red beautified his face. Also such an odour issued both out of his mouth, and members, that his inner clothes His fregrancies did breath forth a wonderfull fragrant fauour. Which as it perhaps proceeded out of the temperature of his hot bodie, to furely he was by his naturall hot nesseguen to Wine and anger. While heavas young, he refrained him felfe from pleasures more then beseemed one of his yeeres, ma- His youthfull nifefting his couragious minde, who when his equals in yeeres asked, if he would willingly contend in the Olympian Games' willingly, faith he, if I were to contend with Kings. He greatly excelled in swiftnesse of foot. Hee alwayes meditated vpon some great and extraordinary thing, that he might purchase fame. Therefore the Persian Ambassadors not a little maruelled at the courage of the youngman : leeing he questioned no triviall, or childish thing of them, but the firma-

tion of Countries and dangers of passages, and power of the King of Persia. He didseeme to bee augry at his Fathers victories; What laid he, will my Father leaue for me to doe, if hee atchieue all noble exploits ? About those times. Philip bought Bucephaliu for thirtie three Talents a very fierce Horse; sto-

Buccylalus,

Hisans.

mackfull, vnmanaged, and abiding no Rider. Now when hee would fuffer none to backe him, Alexander was angry with them, who could not through feare or ignorance tame the Horfe, and offered himselfe to breake him. To whom his Father, if thou doft not, for thy boatling, what punishment wilt thou have? then he answered, I will pay for the Horse. Philip smiling set the price: He feeing him mooued with his shadow, turned his head to the Sunne; then letting goe his Cloke, laying hold with his hands upon his mane, mounted him, still blowing and trampling the fands under his feet. Letting goe thereines, and crying out aloud, hee spurred him and made him runne. Then holding in the reines hee eafily turned him. While the people shouted, his Father weeping for ioy, kiffed him when he alighted, (aying my Sonne, Macedonia cannot containe thee, thou must leeke a Kingdome competent. Afterward Philip noting the difposition of Alexander, that hee would rather bee induced to vertue by gentlenesse then rough dealing committed him to Aristotle to be instructed in the precepts of Philosophie. Wherein and in Physicke he so profited, that tometimes he helped his ficke triends. He learned Homers I.

liads of Aristotle: calling it the Souldiers Knap-facke, laying it with his Dagger alwayes vn-tialiacts.

When he was seuenteene yeeres old, his Father warring against the Bycantines, hee swayed 20 the Scepter of Macedon. And when the Megarians rebelled, he discomfitted them in battle, and expelling the Barbarians, called their Citie Alexandropolus. Hee first also broke through against the facred band of the Thebans. Wherefore the Macedonians called him King; and Philip

Not long after Philip being flaine, Alexander beeing twentie yeeres old beganne to reigne, the Barbarians revolting, many supposed that they were to bee appealed with clemencie and mildnesse. Then Alexander, we must not (faith he) maintayne our Dominions with gentlenesse, but force and magnanimitie, left if we feeme to abate of our loftle courage, we be fourned of othersa And garhering his troupes together, he repressed the mutinie of the Barbarians, chased away the King of the Triballi, ouerthrew the Thebans, facked the Citie; and levelled it to the ground. He 30 fold thirtie thousand of the Citizens: fixe thousand that remained kild themselves. In the meane Ishmus neete while, the Grecians hearing that the Persians would shortly inuade them, elected Alexander to be their Leader. Who affoone as hee came to Istbmos, where their Generall Parliament was affembled, went to Diogenes, whom hee found fitting in the Sunne. Then courteoully faluting him, he demanded if he wanted any thing ? But he answered only this, standaside out of the Sunne. Alexander ad miring the constancie of the man, departing faid, if I were not Alexander, I would be Diogenes. Thence he went to Delphos, to confult with the Oracle about his expedition. It was an unluckie day wherein it was not lawfull to give Oracles. Alexander notwithstanding, going in haste to the Temple, began almost by force to draw along the Priest of the Oracle with him. My Sonne, faid the Prieft, thou att viconquerable. Hee beeing joyfull at thefe 40 words faid, I have no need of any other Oracle. And returning to the Campe, where abode the Army of thirtie thouland foot-men, and five thousand horsemen, hee did not goe aboard the ship before he had distributed all his Chattels, Lands, and Lordships amongst his friends. He to Perdiess asking, what will you leave for your felfe? answered, only Hope.

His expedition against the Having tailed over the Hellespont, he went to Iliums. And then visited Achilles Sepulchre, and adorned his Statue with Garlands. Saying, O thou most happie, who hadd to faithfull a companion, lining; and dead, so great a Poet to renowme thee.

In the meane while, the Chieferaines of Darins, the King of Perfishaltening to passe over Grameum with a great power, Alex. met them at the banks of the same River: and getting the higher ground, as loone as he had marshalled his bands, joyned battle with the Barbarians. The 50 fight waxing not on both fides, Rhefaces & Spithridates, Darine his Captains, one with a Speare. the other with a Battle-axe, with a ful careere encountred Alexander, who was easie to be known by reason of his Target, and the Plume on his Helmet, beeing a great bush of white feathers. Anoyding nimbly the one, he strooke Rhefaces with his Speare and with his Sword made at the other, who without delay, tooke away his Helmet, with his Battle-axe to his haire, but while he lifted up his hand for another blow, he was strookethrough with a Lance by Circus. Alexander having vanquished the Commanders, put the rest to flight. In which flight twentie thousand of the Barbarians (two thousand Horsemen) were flaine. But Alexander lacked not about thir-dites fauerh His victorie.

> Haning gotten this victorie, he tooke the ftrong Citie Sardis, with other Townes, Miletus 60 and Halicarnaffus, Hauing determined to try the vpfhot with King Darius, if he would inyne battle with him, he tooke Phenicia and Cilicia. From thence marching to Pamphilia, he subdued the Pifidans and Phrygians. After taking Gordum, where had beene of old King Midae his Pallace, he ouercame the Paphlaganians, and Cappadacians. But King Darius relying on the number of his forces (for he had an Army of tixe hundred thouland) remooued his Campe from Sufis. His Diuners had flattered him in the dates pretation of a Dreame of the shining of Alexanders Armie, and Alexander ministring to him, who entring into Belsu his Temple, was taken out of his fight. He thought basely or him also for flaying to long in Culting. There was Alexander detained in great danger of his life, hauing waihed himfelfe no a cold River, and fallen into attidden fickneffe. When other Phylicans gauehim ouer, Philip an Acarnanian promifed to recover him in a flore space and although there came a Letter from Parmenio, watning him to take heed of Philips Treason, who was corrupted by King Daviss, yet he dranke vp the potion boldly, and with all deliused the Letter to Philip. He read it very heavily, but bad Alexander tobe of good cheere. 10 In the meane time, while the potion entred into his bowels, the King lay almost dead. But futh was the efficacie of the medicine, that he prefently recoursed his former health. Daviss approching, Alexander getting the higher ground, ordered his battle, and after a great Second bartle. Baughter put the Barbarums to flight : ten shouland were flame, and many more taken. Alex Alexands vi-

CHAP.9.

ander himselfe was wounded. Alexander got the Tent, Money, rich Stuffe, Chariot, and Bow of dury. Danu, all adorned with Gold. Moreover, Danie his Mother, Wife, and two Daughters Virgins were taken with the reft. To whom hee faid, compassionating their fortune, seeing them weeping and lamenting, that Darine was alive, and that they flouid have no hurt. And indeed (herein was Alexander King of himfelte) they fuffered no hardship or distinour, but lived vascene His temper of any, as it were in facred Cloysters, or Virginal Closets. Alexander did so retraine from them rance, 20 and all others, that he vied to fay in least, that the Perfirm Damfels were eye-fores. He was also very temperate in his diet, for betweene euery cup, hee accustomed to spend along time in dis-Having divided the poyles, his next Exploit was the dominion of the Sea, and overcomming comm.

Cyprus, he subdued all Phenicia, except Tyre, which hee besieged seuen morkthes with Mounts, Tyrus. Engines, and two hundred Gallies, and at length after divers skirmilhes tooke it by affault. But when he had added Gaza and Egypt to his Conquests, he resolved to visit the Temple of Jupiter Ammon. A very difficult lourney and dreadfull, by reason of the want of water, and store of Ammonioracle fands : yet his good fortune preuayled, showres making the fands firmer, and Crowes guiding him, he came thither without any harme; Whoreas Cambyfes his Armie had beene buried in the 30 fands. Entring the Temple he falured the chiefe of them, who answered, All baile, O Sonne of Impiter, which he received to toyfully, that ever after hee carried himselfe more haughtily. In E- builded, gype hee founded Alexandria a Greeke Colonie. After this the Ambaliadours of the King of Perfia came to him with Letters, proffering ten from Daniel. thousand Talente, and all Mejopstamia, and his Daughter in marriage, and Darius himfelle to become his friend and affociate, it he would ceafe from Warre; fuch conditions, that if I were Alexander, laid Parmenia, I would accept them: so would I said Alexander, if I were Parmenia. He bad them tell Darins, that he should receive all courtese of the Gracians, if he would come to them, The third bacif he would not, let him know that we, wil he, nill he, wil come to him speedily. Then going out tell with the of Egypt into Phenicia, he took all the Country between Emphrates, and the fecond time removed Perions, and 40 his Campe against Darius. And now the Armies came in fight each of other, wherein Darius had fecond with a Million of men. The battle was fought not at Arbela, but at Ganfanela. The Battrian Horsemen running upon the Macedonians prouoked Alex. to fight, who encouraged his men and prayingt o Ispiter that he would give him aide and victory, an Eagle is reported to have been shewed him by Aristander his Diviner flying aboue him over his head, and thence directing her flight against the Persans, which filled the Macedonians with hopes and cheerefull courage. Forcible was the imprelion, and Alexander pierced into the midit of the enemies Campe, where beholding Darius Alexanders well guarded in the midft of his troupes, he gaue a terrible affault and routed them, many beeing victoric. flaine. Darine was of a tall flature, comely face , Kingly countenance , and fate aloft in a Chariot courred with Gold, which Darins leaving, leaped vpon a barren mare, feeking to faue his life by flight. The dignitie of this victory altogether ouerthrew the Persian Empire, and made Babyon taken. 30 Alexander King of Afia. Then he tooke Babylon and Sufir, the royall Citie where he found for sufe. tie thousand Talents of filter, with royall houshold stuffe, and of Hermionike Purple kept one hundred and ninety yeeres still fresh to the value of fine thousand Talents. Now did Alexander aduance into Persia, whither Darius had fled. There he found as much siluer as before in Sufis, and afmuch royall furniture and goods as laded ten thousand yokes of Mules, and fine thouland Camels. Hee tarried foure moneths in his wintering Lodgings. And, as the report is, when he featted under the golden roofe of the Kings Hall, he faid, That he had obtained the fruit of his labours, feeing he io magnificently banqueted in the Palace of proud Xerxes. Perfereit but Thais an Athenian, a beautifull Strumpet, being prefent; enticed the King with her flatteries, den

60 and faid, I were the happiest woman of Greece, if I might in thu our mirth fire Xerxes Pallace, who femetime burnt my Athens, The King smiling, the Harlot fired the House. The King bewreched with wine and her allurements, the rest furthering the flame, suffered such a goodly building to be confirmed to alhes. Alexander was naturally munificent, and kept a kinde of flately magnificence in giuing : which he did illustrate with infinite testimonies of his bountie, lesse esteeming those that refused then these that craued. About this time Daries had now the third time gathered an Army. Alexa wer in eleven dayes passed with great Iournies 3 200, furlongs, conducting his Armie through rough places, that wanted water, to that the whole Armie well neere languithed with thirsts a certaine common Souldier brought a Helmer full of water to Alexander; who looking upon all of them panting for heate and thirft, gaue it him againe untouched : thinking it unfitting that he alone thould cherish himselfe, and the others faint : whose continencie the Souldiers admiring, resolved to vindergoe any trouble, as long as they followed such a Leader, Then after a few dayes, the Armie of King Darim beeing gathered together, did flee affoone as they came in fight of the Macedonians. The Persians being thus discomfitted, the Macedonians purfying them, found King Dariss in his Chariot Aricken through with many wounds, and al- 10 most dead, speaking some few things. But when Alexander came thither by chance , hee tooke very bitterly his ignoble death, and casting his coate vpon his carkaste, and adding the Royall Enfignes, he gave charge to carrie it honourably to his Mother. Beffus the Murtherer, Alexander caused to be tied to two trees brought by force together, which rent him in funder. Darius being ouerthrowne, he brought into his subjection Hyrcania, and all the Cities adioy. ning to the Caspian Sea. After going into Parthia, hee attired himselfe in a habit, being a meane betweene a Persian and a Mede, that he might accustome the Macedonians the more willingly to adore him.

Septhian expedition.

Philotas and Clitus flaine.

Pailing over the River Orexartes, which he thought to be Tanais, hee warred on the Southians. and chaled themone hundred furlongs. Thither Clitarebus , Polycritus , Oneficritus , Antigenes 30 and Hister lay, the Amazon came to him; which Chares, I Jangelus, Ptolemans, Americades, Phi-Ameroniantale lon, Philippus, Hecataus, Philippus Chalcidensis, and Duris the Samian, say was a deussed Fable: and this appeareth to be true by Alexander himselfe, who writing to Antipater an exact Relation of all things, mentions the Soythian Kings offer of his Daughter in marriage, but hath nothing at all of the Amazon. It is faid that Lyfimachus, when hee heard Onefieritus reading that Relation, fmiled and faid, Where was I thin? At length beholding the beautie and noble demeanour of Roxanes, Darisa his Daughter, hee married her, that fo he might perpetually tie the Barbarians to him; whom hee did also foreue-rence, that he did not but folemnely enter in to her. But when hee proceeded to bring the rift of Affa to his obedience, he cauled Philosos Parmenia his fonne a man of eminent place to be flaine.

Alfo a little while after being drunke, he ftrucke Chross through with a Lance, a man of a noble courage, which had freed him from Spitbridates Battle-axe : yet he presently repented, and fnatching the Lance out of Cliens his wound, would have turned it into himfelfe; but was reftrained by the standers by, and had died with griefe, but that Ariftander the Diviner, and the Pailosophers Callifthenes and Anaxarchus periwaded him to patience. Callifthenes was as ill repaid as Claus, which before we have mentioned.

After this, Alexander fets forth towards India; and there perceiting his Army by reason of the greatnesse of pillage to bee slow and dull, hee burned up the beggage of the Macedonian Campe. After which he became an inexorable and feuere penisher of faults, and a terrour to his owne. He kille! Menander, one of his greatest Familiars for neglecting his charge : And flue Orfodates ha- 40 uing rebelled with his owne hands. He carried Babylonians (or Chaldeans) with him, whom hee wfed in fuperflitious expiations.

Neere the River Oxus, Proxenus found a Fountayne of Oyle and fat liquor, refembling Oyle in colour and tafte, whereas that Region knoweth not Olives. This Alexander tooke as a druine Miracle in his fauour. The Dininers tooke it for a token of a difficult but glorious Warre, Hee tooke two strong Rockes in his way, which seemed impregnable. When the Macedonians refufed to palle thorow the River to lay fiege to Nyfa, he tooke his fhield and was readie to fwimme ouer himselfe. But their Embassage for peace traid bim. To Taxiles an ladian King, hee gauca thousand Talents of filuer.

After that he warred vpon Porus King of a great part of India (some thinks Rabanni to be his Succeffour, and those parts which the Reifboots now hold in the parts, which whiles they please, acknowledge the Mogell, to have been subject to him.) Hydaffer ranne betwixt both their Tenes, and Porus by his Elephants (futnished also with twentie thousand foot, and two thousand horse) hindered the passage of Alexander, who therefore raised continuall alarmes, noyles and tumults in his Tents, and got ouer the River with great difficultie, tooke the Indian Charets, and foure hundred of their Horsemen. In eight houres fight Porns lost the field and himselfe. Hee was foure Cubits and a handbreadth high, and sode vpon an Elephant, which fought valiantly for his Rider : and finding himselfe spent, kneeled downe gently to preuent his fall. Alexander asked his Captine Porus what he would have done if he had taken him: and Porus answerd that he would have done that which should have beseemed the Maiestie of either of them : because this sauoured of no barbarousnesse, he restored him to his Kingdome, adding a Region of a free State there Subdued, in which were fifteene Nations and 5000. Cities, besides Villages. In this battle with Porus, or soone after it Bucephalus died, being thirrie yeeres old : for whose death Alexander did to grieve, that he built a Citie vpon Hydaifes, calling it by his name, as another also to his

3 . 12

Dogge Peritae. The Souldiers now being wearie of the trouble of daily warre, when they vnderitood that he determined to goe to the mmost parts of India, refused to passe over Ganges. For they heard that Ganges was thirty two furlongs broad and a hundred fachome deepe, and the bankes concred with troupes of Horfember, Elephanes and Footmen; vis. 80000. Horfemen, 200000. Footmen, 8000. Charets, and 6000. Elephants trained to the warres, by the Gandaritan and Perftan Kings. Wherefore Alexander feeing his defires could not obtaine their wished end, kept himselfe very forrowfull in his Fent, and threatned that they should receive so recompenie for that they had done, whelle they would passe ouer Ganges: at length over-come by the entreaties and teares of his Souldiers, he defifted from his intended Journey. But longing to fee the Ocean, gathering (hips together he came thither by the Rivers. Where taking many Cities he was almost flaine by the Malli, valiant men of India. For when hee had lept meo the Citic from the wall (which he first ascended) he was oppressed with such a multitude of the Barbarisms, that valeffe the Masedonians had speedily succoured him being grieuously wounded with an Arrow and a blow with a Club vpon the necke, here he had in his rathnesse finished his dayes. But being freed from the perill of death, he ouerthrew Cities and many places, feuen monethes being fo ipent. At last lies came to the Ocean with his Armie. Then concemplating the thoares, and finishing his holies, he intreated the Gods that no man euer after should goe beyond his bounds: he alfo bad Nearchus tarrie about India, with a Nauy. He went on foor the Oribus. But he was fo diftreffed with the barrenneffe of the Countrey, heate and difeales, that of a 120000. 20 Footmen, and 1 5000. Horsemen, scarcely the fourth part hued. After fixtie dayes hee came to Gedrosia, where being honourably entertained by the Kings and Officers which had prepared against his comming, hee forgot all his passed troubles : so that he spent his time day and night

CHAP. 10. Alexanders Ambition frustrate; danger, escape, view of the Ocean.

HONDIVS his Map of Alexanders Expedition.

iα

in drinking, banqueting, finging and dal ance with women. After this Nearchin returning, prefencly he failed downe Euphrates : and palling ouer Arabia and Lybia, purposed no goe to Hersules Pillars by the Mediterranean Seas: But because his armie was very impatient; being conflic med by the tediousnesse of the way, having tent backe Newsbus to detend the Sea traffin thereturned into Persia. And hellowing his money among all his women for that was stbe Kings cuitome, as often as they entered Perfin) he celebrated the Nuptials of his companions at Safre He also maried Statyra the other daughter of Darent. Making then a coffly banquet to his companions, he had 9000. Guelts, and gaue enery one of them a golden cup. He opened the Sepulchre of Cyrus, whole Epitaph was this, Whofocuer thou art, and whence focuer thou bemmaft (for i know thou wilt come) I am Cytus which wan the Empire to the Persians. Ennie me northin little earth; which couers my body. Calarus alto here burned himfelfe, having taken familiar leave of all, and told the King he would shortly see him againe at Babylon. He also paid the debts of his souldiers; which came to 10000. talents, lacking onely 130. He found 30000. Persian youther which bee had given order to be trained and instructed of manly growth and comely presence, which gave plaulible testimonies of their admirable actiuity. This caused emulation to the Macedonians, which murmuring he chose his guard of the Persians. Whereupon the Macedonians being grieved went to him, intreating him not to reject them as vnptofitable; for they did confelle that they had beene ingratefull, and defired pardon. At length Alexander pittying their teares and habit, tent them away abundantly rewarded with gifts. He entertained others according to their dignity. But when he went toward Echatana of Media, he gaue himfelfe to plaies and spectacles, and about that time a feuer tooke away Ephestion, whose loffe hee tooke so to heart that nothing 20 could please him. Therefore to appeale his griefe, he went to warre as to a manhunting : And to raced out all the Nation of the Coffai, as it were offering them in facrifice to Epbefio his ghoft. Those things being finished, he was admonished by some of the Chaldeans, that hee should not come to Babylon. But he went notwithstanding, where he was againe troubled with many Diuiners, and not onely suspected all his servants but all his gods and deities. At length to recreate himfelfe he went a little into a bathe, where he began exceedingly to fweate : And being carried to bed, after a few daies the Feuer increasing, hee gaue directions to his Princes concerning the Empire, and died. But before his body was buried, it lay a great while in hot places. And feeing Empire, and died. Due better in 1850 it remained found and vincorrupted, by this all furpition of poilon was taken away. We will end this Relation of Alexander with Nearchus his Voyage by him let forth.

Alexanders returne, Mariage, Feasts, Guard, mourning, rage, death. L. B. I.

The Voyage of NEARCHVS and bu Fleet fet forth by ALEXANDER the Great, from the River Indus to the bottome of the Persian Gulfe.

TN this History of Voyages I thinke it not a misse to give fome accounts briefly of the Fleete which Alexander fet forth from Indus to the Persian Gulfe, commanded by Newschus, gathe- 40 red out of the eighth Booke of Arrianus, who had taken it out of Nearchus his owne difcourle thereof. I had the whole Relation at large by me translated, as those also of Arriansu his sailing about both the Erythran and Enxme Seas; but Time hath so altered the Names, ports and peoples, that I dare not give you them at large. This briefly was thus :

Alexander prouided his ships in Hydaspes (a River which runneth into Indus) and manned them with Phenicians, Cypriots, Agyptians, men beit skilled in Marine affaires. Hechofe also for Captains the Greek Handers of Jones and Helleffont, & divers others; among it the reit Nearchus which writ this Nauigation, of Cretan ancestry, an Amphipolitan by habitation, whom he made Generall of the Fleet, Atter things fet in order, he facrificed to the Gods of his Country and to fuch others as the Diviners prescribed, to Neptune, Oceanus, the Sea Nymphes, and to the River Hydaspes, 50 and to Acesines, which floweth thereinto. He instituted also musicall and gymnicall Games (prizes for maifteries) also, distributing the remainders of the facts fices to the Armie. A hundred and 20000. fouldiers followed Alexander, who himselfe wentwith the ships downe Hydaspes. He had 800. ships, some long, some of burthen. Being afraid to adventure to long a Sea Voyage, as from Indus to the Perfian Gulfe, left his glorious luftre of victory and Fortune hitherto attending him might fo be drowned; the Monfon feruing (the Etofia then ceafing which there blew in Summer) he committed the Fleet to Newehus, which put forth to Sea on the twentieth day of Boedromion, in the eleventh yeere of King Alexanders reigne.

Nearchus facrificed also before his departure, to Iupiter the Saufour, and likewise instituted Games; on that day of his departure he came to a great River called Stora, about 100 furlongs, 60 and staied there two daies. On the third day hee came to another River called Caumana thirty furlongs further, where the water began to be falt, and the tide afcended. Thence he failed twenty furlongs to Coreatis within the River. Moving thence they faw the white frothy furge at the mouth of the River, and in a ditch or channell made of five furlongs, he anchored his fleet

CHAP. 10. Iournall of Nearchus bu voyage from Indus to the Persian Gulfe. when the tyde came 150, furlongs, thence he came to the Ile Crecala, neere to the which are the Indian Arrbaber. Thence he removed; having mount Irus on the right fund, and the 11e Halne- 11e crea's. nes on the left, to a Port which he called Alexanders Port, before which is Bubarra a small liand. It Hallings, There he staid foure and twenty daies, and gathered Sea Mice and Oysters wonderfull great. The There he hald toute and twenty allows never the Ile Doma, where they were forced to got twen-winde cealing, he went fixtic furlongs never the Ile Doma, where they were forced to got twen-the Doma. ty furlongs within land for fresh water? Having passed 300. furlongs the next day, they came to Saraga. the Region Saranga, and fetched water eight furlongs within land. Departing thence hee came Sacalafic to Sacalafis, and patting two rockes fo neere that the thipsedged on them as they patted by, after Monatoboria. 300. furlongs he anchored in Morontoboris, a round, deepe and fafe harbour with a narrow en-10 (trance, called the Womens Port. The next day he left an Hand to Sea ward of him and yet to neere the shoare that the Sea seemed a Gut or narrow ditch, That day he sailed fixtie furlongs, On that shoate was a wood and shadie lland. The next day he failed thorow a narrow channell, the ebbe having left a great part dry, and having passed 120 for longs he came to the mouth of the Riuer Arabins, where is a great and late harbour. They fetched water fixele furlongs up the River in a Lake, Acthe harbour is an Hand full of Oifters and all fores of with. This River confluent End of india, Indie; the next Regions are peffessed by the Orne; their first anchoring on the Orite-shoare The Orite. was Pagali, having failed 200, furlongs neere a craggie rocke. The next day 300, furlongs to Bacana: and because the shoare was rockie, hee was forced to anchor farre from land. In this way three thips were loft in a ftorme, but the persons were faued being neere the shoare. He is led thence two hundred furlongs to Comman : and there went on shoare, and set up tents has is with

to refresh his people wearted with their along Naungation, and desiring to haue some rest. Here Oares and by to retrein his people weather with their angle was good for the Orice, ouerthrew them in a great + Was not this battell and flew 6000. The weatherbeaten thips being repaired, and ten daies provisions being age thinke you taken in, and thote failers which were weary of the Sea, being left with Leonnath, fome of his like to alle to company supplying their roomes : the Fleete proceeded 500, forlongs; and anchored at the River Person Wife. Thomeros. The Inhabitants dwelt in small cottages, and wondered at the Nauie as a strange Noueltie: they came to the shoare with lances of fix cubits sharpned and burned at the ends, easily chafed by those which were sent on shoare against them, which also tooke some, which had hard and tharpe nailes wherewith they killed fifth, and cut forter wood (for they had no vie of Iron) 30 the harder they cat with flones : their garments were beafts or fifnes skins. Here Newschus flaid fine dayes, and repaired his Natie. Proceeding three hundred furlongs he came to Malana, the vemost border of the Orite; who for the most part dwell vp within the land and vie Judien attire and ar nes, but differ in language and cultomes. Nearchus had failed now 1000 furlongs from Itday mouth to Arrhabius, and 1600, by the Orice. Now also their shadowesfell Southward, and ar noone they had no shadow. The Starres also differed in their height and appearance. After the Orne are the Gedroft, among it whom Alexander found more difficulty then in all the self of India. The Gedr Nearchus hauing failed 600, furlongs came to Bagifara, a connenient harbour : the Towne Pafira is fixtie furlongs up from the Sea. Next day he paffed by a high overhanging Rocke, which runneth farre into the Sea : and digging Wels had store of water, but brackish's failing other fix hun-40 dred furlongs hee came to Calime where Cornina lieth one hundred furlong rinto the Sea, an Hand whole Inhabitants fent Nearchus theepe, whole fielh tafted like Sea-fowles, they being fed with fishes, there being no graffe there. Next day they failed two hundred furlongs to Carbis , the towne (Ma was :hirty forlongs from Sea. Here were small Fisher-boates, but the Fishermen at figheof the Fleete ran away. He passed next a high and craggy Cape, reaching one hundred and fitty furlongs into the Sea, vinto Mojarna a fale harbout. There he tooke Hydracces a Gedrofian Pilot for Carmania. The way from hence to the Perfian guile is not fo cuill as the former.

Hauing failed 750. furlongs, he came to the Balomen shoare, and after 400 furlongs to Barna, a towne where were Gardens of Myrtle and divers flowers, culture of trees, and more civilitie of themen. 400. furtongs further he came to Dendrobofa, where they fish in small Boats, not rowing 50 like the Greekes, but like diggers beating the waters on both fides. After 800. furlongs he came to Cries a defert shore, and fluchundred furlangs from thence to the borders of the lebitophage The lobby or Fish-eaters. They inuaded the Towne to get Corne which now failed them; but found little, plagiexcept meale of rolled fifthes, of which they make Bread. Thence he went to Baria a rocke facred to the Sunne, thence to Talmena a good fort, 1000 furlongs from Bagia. Thence to Canafir a defert Citie 400 furlongs thence, 750, forlongs to Mount Canade' thence 800; furlongs to Tay; thence to Dagafra 300 furlongs, thence 1300, furlongs to the vermost confines of the lentin- Madners of the ophigi, in great want of prouision: Here was a Cape tunning farre into the Sea. The coast Listipophia of the lebibyophageis about 10000. furlongs, where all feede on fish, yet are there few fishermen, bur the Ebbe leaves the fish on thoare, forme habe nets which reach two furlongs, made of Palme-60 treeleaues. The fofter fish they eate raw : the greater and harder they roalf thehe Sunne, and then beate them into powder and make a kinde of bread thereof, some sprinkle the powder with wheate meale. Their Beafts have no other foode, for there is no graff .. There is flore of Crabs, Fifth abeafts Oyiters, and shel-nis; Salt alfoand Oyle produced by the folle it feller some fower a little Corne. Their houtes are made of Whales bones. The Whales casting much water into the aire, Whales,

All their fai-

* Edit Parif.

This Traffate

is in the Vatihands with feare: But after being hartned, the ships went neere together, and with great shouts and noise of Oares and sound of Trumpets feared the Whales, and made them finke into the deepe. The prodigious tales of the Ile Nofala facred to the Sunne, on which, if any went a-come to Padichorus he failed thence 800 furl, to the rock Maceta, of a daies failing, whence Cinamon 10 and Spices are carried to the Affriens. After 700. furl. he came to Neapotamus and 100. furl. further to the River Anenwithe Region is called Armonia, cultivated and fertiloexcept of Olives, Here they went ashoare desirous to rest from their labour, and there found a Gracian which told them that Alexanders Campe was not farre off, fine daies journey from the Sea, Here Nearchus repaired

How differs this from a Greenland While-voiage; shoare he should never be seene after, Newchas proved false by his owne experiment : as also another tale went thereof that a Nymph there dwelt, which lay with men that came thither, and af-The Carmani. ter turne d them into fishes. After he was come to Carmania, he anchored before a Cape where the Persian gulfe goeth inward Perfen gulfe: & then failed no longer to the West, but betwixt the West and North, for most Northerly, Being he cals it alto the red Sca. O: m:us.

of good Sca.

his Nauie, and meane while fent to the King, & after went himselfe, he and his by their changed weatherbeaten countenances and growne haire, being not knowne by those whom Alexander had Aking worthy fent to him. Some had made Alexander believe his Fleet was loft, which finding otherwise, hee wept for ioy, swearing by the Grecian Inpiter, and by the Lybian Ammon, that he more ioyed in those tidings then in the Empire of all Afia. After this hee instituted Musicall and Gymnicke Games, and pompe to Inpiter Sernator, to Hercules, to Apollo the chafer away of euill, and to Nep- 20 suns, with the other Sea-Gods. Especially Nearchin was eminent and glorious, the whole army casting flowers and garlands on him. Alexander after this would have fent another to bring the Fleet to Sufa, which Nearchus enuying to any other, intreated that the whole glory might be entire to himselfe, and was sent backe. After facrifice to Impiter the fauior, Nearebin exhibited a Gymnicke game (for trying of matteries, which we call prizes) and fet faile. He passed by a small Iland called Organs, and another leffe called Osracta, 300. furlongs from the place whence he fet forth, where were many Vines, Palmes, and Fruits. Here they faid was the Sepulcher of Erysbrus, or King Red, which gaue name to this red Sea. The lland was 800 furlongs long, of which having failed two hun-Legend of E. dred, he faw another Hand forty furlongs long facred to Neptune, and reported to be inacceffible, 20 17thrus drawne At their departing three thips flucke fait by reason of the Tide, which at the next floud were afloate againe. After forty furlongs failing hee anchored in another lland 300. furlongs from the Continent; thence to the lle Pylora, in which is Dodow a towne which hath nothing but fish and water. After 300 furlongs failing, he came to a Cape running farre into the Sta, thence 300, furlongs to the lle Caras facred to Mercury and Venus , whither dedicated Goates and Sheepe are yeerely fent which there grew wilde. Hitherto the Carmani extend about 3700 forlongs by the shoare. These find like the Parsians their neighbours. Thence Nearthus failed to the lie Caican-dros, forty furlongs, and thence to an inhabited Hand where Pearles are found, fifty f. Thence to Legends and fuperflicious-traditions. Beginning of the Per fians.

from Edom in the Arabicke

Gulfeto this

Perfian, fuch is the effect of Mount Ochne, and thence to Apostane, 450, f. and after 400. f. to a Bay celebrated with many Villages; thence 600. f. to the mouth of the River Orean: thence 800.f. to River Stracus. All this 40 course was on the Persian shoare, she luie for the most part and fenny. Thither Alexander had sent prouision of Corne, and they staied one and twenty daies to refresh themselves, and repaire their Nauje. Sailing thence 750. f. hecame to Hieratis by the River Heratemis, the next day to the River Padargus, where is a fertile place called Mefambria 2 peninfula: 200.furlongs to Tarmes to the great River, aboue whose entrance 200. furlongs are the Perfian Kings Palaces. In this way he law a Whale dead fifty cubits long, with Oilters growing on the skin, Dolphins also bigger then those in our Seas. He proceeded 200 furlongs to the River Rhogenic fifty furlongs to the Riuer Brizana: thence to Arofis the bigeft River in all his course, the end of the Persian borders. Beginning of that shoare containing 44 00. furlongs. There begin the Susians, and within land the Uzians, as the Mardi to the Parlians, and the Coffei to the Medes.

the Suffans. فعوشها فيرد

Eugbrates and

Having failed on the Sufau shoare 500, surlongs, he came to Cataderbia, a sishie Lake; neere which is the lle Margastana; then he passed sholds which fearfely admitted ships single, discerned by flakes or poles purposely fixed there, the mirie ground taking a man up to the waste. In fuch way we failed 500; furlongs. Thereafter in a night and day he failed 900. f. to the mouth of Euphrates, neere Diridotis a Village of the Babylonians, a Mart for the Spices of Arabia. From thence to Babylon, Nearchus faith, are 3300. f. Nearchus hearing that Alexander was going to Sufe, failed backe toward Paftigris, that failing vp the ffreame he might meete him, haung the Suffam on the left hand, and the Lake into which Tigris runneth 600.t. from the River it selfe, at Aginis a towne of the Suffers. Having failed 1 50.f. he staid till the returne of his Mellengers from the King. At last both armies were joined with incredible joy, and Alexander exhibited divers kinds 60 of game with facrifices, & much honour was done to Nearchus; Alexanderallo crowned him and Leonnatus with a crown of gold. Alexander fent others on the right hand to difcouer all the coalts of Arabia. And thus Europe must acknowledge Alexander the chiefe Eisterne discouerer, as the Romanarmes first opened to vs the West. We will adde a little out of Ecclesiastical writers.

The Travels of Mvs xvs, THEB xvs and others mentioned by Sains Ambrose*; of others also mentioned in the Ecclesiastical Hiflories of EVSEBIVS, RVFFINVS, So-ERATES and SOZOMEN.

can. Florentine. *29. 122 Usem Bishop of the Dolens related to the Authour of the Tractate De Moribus and Millan Li-Brachmanorum (iupposed to be Saint Ambroses) that hee intending to goe into braries auti-Brachmanring (juppofed to be Saine Ambrofer) that hee intending to goe into traites and the Region Service, buted to Saint Ambrofer that the Region Service, buted to Saint Make to fee the Brachmans, had trauelled thorought fourth not only leaues, but in which hee fault there were Treet (which brought fourth not only leaues, but in which hee fault there where the saint were the saint for the very fine wooll alfo, of which they make Garments called Series; and that there whether that was a memorable Pillar of itone thus inscribed; I Alexander came buberto; and that Father bee the hatting passed thorow many Countreyes, he came at last to Ariana neere the River Indus. and Author, or Pal-hatting piffed thorow many Countreyes, ne came at latt of arisan income the Brachmans. Ladius, 3c. by the intolerable heat was inforced to returne into Europe, not having feene the Brachmans. Cotten Trees He reported that he had heard of Thebans a certaine Scholer which went into India to fee and or Shrubs. conferre with Indian Philosophers called Brachmans and Gymnosophifts: but hee was there captis Series hereued. For shipping himselfe with certaine Merchants in the Red Sea, he first came to the Towne by is knowne 20 of the Adulites, or the Bay Adulicus, after that to the Promontory Aromata, and a Mart of the tobe far thore of the Adultes, or the Bay Adultes, after that to the Fromontory Aromana, and a mark of the of China, neero Troelodnes, and hence to places of the Affamiles, and many dayes after to Muzic the Mart of which Alexan-I rogioantes, and nettee to place the state on this fide Ganges, and having thayed a while there, he piffed over to the lle Taprobane. der neuer came This is gouerned by foure Princes, one of which is the chiefe, whom the others obey, and to Aremata. him are subsect a thousand Ilands, as he reported, of the Arabian and Persian Seas, and those which Mingris. they call Mammolus . The Hand hath fine Rivers very great, the temperature fuch that at the a Pelaps the fame time the same Trees produced blossomes and fruits some greene, some ripe. The men line Madians now. on Fruits, Rice and Milke, and the chiefe men eate Mutton and Goats fiesh on solemne dayes. He was taken as a Spie and kept fixe yeeres in Prison, but the Gouernour which had so vsed a Roman Citizen, was by the Emperors command flayed. He reporteth true and falle things blen-30 ded, and among to there of the Brachmans thus. They live naked in the Regions adioyning to nythings a the River Ganges; they have no beafts, tillage, vicof Iron, norany kinde of Instrument to doe fabler. any worke : they have an excellent Aircand temperate Climate. They alway worship God, of whom they protesses a diffinct knowledge, both of his Prouidence and Diuinity. They alwayes pray, but in their Prayer looke not to the East, but directly to Heauen. They eate (as the beafts) what they find on the ground, leaves, and herbes; they have the herbe Inula and the Tree Acanthus. The men liue on the further tide of Ganges, on the Ocean Coafts, the women on this fide, to whom their Husbands vie to haue recourse in July and August. For those moneths b feeme b This is not colder there, because the Sunne then comes neerer to vs , and when they have continued fortie the cause, but colder there, because the Sunne then comes never to vs, and which they have sunner and dayes with their wives, they returne home. When a woman hath had a child or two, her Huf- Winer differ 40 band forbeareth her altogether, And if in fine yeeres a woman hath no child, shee is divorced, in those places And thus their number is but small. The River is passed over with great difficultie by reason of neere the his the tyrannie of Ondonitus, which infesteth those places, and of a certaine beaft so great that hee of Balagare, hot the tyranne of Onamina, with missing the property of the Brachman time of palage is, for much by deucureth a whole Elephant This beath is not leens when the Brachman time of palage is, for much by the form of the property fortie foot : Ants as great as a mans span, Scorpions a Cubit long, &c. If this Scholler Thebans foule weather, be worthy credit. There are in the same Traslate added out of the Writers of Alexanders life many winter being freeches and discourses of the Brachmans, which I forbeare here to insert. They indeed are in many in the lame percent and assessment of their wits and facultie in Philo-points admirable, if some Greekes have not rather made experiment of their wits and facultie in Philo-the Sunne on [opbicall discourses, then delimered a true Historie; at least mixed truth and seeming together, at wee see one fide, and here in thu Boftop and his Thebeus. Those Gymnosophists (as Megalthenes also related) condemned Summet on So Calanus, which followed Alexander, whose Episies extant in a worke of Saint Ambrole lesse suspected, the other at which I have bere also inserted, out of Saint Ambrose his senenth Epiftle. to which leave here also inserted, out of Saint Ambrole bis senento Episite.

Callinus to Alexander. Thy friends persuade thee to lay hands and violence on an Indian hips is here

Philosopher; not so much as dreaming of our workes. For thou mailt remocue our bodies from alluded. place to place, but thou shalt not compell our minds to doe that which they are not willing, any Amb. ap l.s. ap. more then thou canst make Stones or Trees to speake. A great fire causeth burning smart to hung 7.dis. Frates. bodies, and worketh corruption : but we are about this, for we are burned abute. No King or Prince can extort from vs to doe what we have not determined : Nor are wee like the Philosophersof Greece, which have fludied words infleed of deeds, to get themfelues a name and repu e Enfeb de vit 60 tation. With vs things are companions to words, and words to the things, our deeds quicke and confidence.

speeches short, we have a blessed libertie in vertue. Eusebins e in the Life of Conflantine mentioneth an Indian Embassie sent to him with rich sadoisto Con-Enfebrus e in the Lite of Confrantine mentioners and smaller line to think the flattine, as be-Prefents of almost all kind of Genimes, and heafts differing from ours, with Pictures and Statues, foreto Augu-Whereby the Indians acknowledged him Emperour, and King of all vinto the remotelt Coast of fine.

the Ocean, that as the Britaines, in the furthest West obeyed him at first, so now at last the Indians in the extremelt East.

So .hift. Ecclef. Soz m.biff Es.

Socrates and Sozomene in their Ecclesiafficall Histories have related how in Conflantines dayes Christian Religion entred the Inner India, which (as some thinke) till that time had not liverd of Christ. Meropius a Philosopher of Tyre being defirous to fee India (prouoked by the Example of Metrodorni the Philotopher, which before that had travelled thorow that Region) failed thither with two boyes of his Kindred skillfull in the Greeke Tongue. When he had latisfied his desire, and was now readie to returne, the league betwixt the Indians and Roman Empire was broken, and the Philotopher with all his company were taken and flaine, the two youths excepted, which were prefented to the Indian King. The King tooke liking of them, and made one 10 of them ramed Aedefine his Cop-bearer, and Framentine (fo was the other named) his Secreta, 30 ty. Soone after the King dyed and gaue them liberty. The Queene feing the young King a child, defired their care and affiltance till he were growne to manhood. They yeelded and Framentius managed the government, who enquiring amongst the Roman Merchants which came thither, whether there were any Christians amongst them, gave them a place by themselves to serve God after the Cariffian manner, and in procelle of time builded a Church to pray in. Thefe Christians instructing some of the Indians in the mysteries of the faith, added them to their societie. When the King was come to mans effate, Framentias and Lefius deliner up their accounts, and defire leave to returne to their Councrey, the King and his mother earnefily (but in vaine) in-

Adefins went to Tyre to see his friends, Frimmensius went to Alexandria, and acquainted A-

S. Athanefius to India.

Therians con-

Palladius his Trauels. Sec.1.7.6.19.

* This was in-sended the beginning of our promited European Pilgrimage : but no man affifted the Pilgrime.

which forced him to leaue

ken of his intents to give

The fourth

this tifte

thereot.

thanafius, then newly Bishop with the premisses, and the hopes of Indian conversion, desiring him to lend a Bilhop and Clergie thither. Atbanafins contidering well the bufineffe, confecrateth Frumentius Bishop, saying he had no man ficter for that purpose, who thus honoured returneth and preacheth the faith to the Indians, builds many Churches, and by the grace of God worketh many Miracles, healing both bodies and foules of many. Ruffinns writeth, that hee heard thefe things of Adefine himselfe, who also at Tyre obtayned the dignity of Priesthood. The Iberians (now called Georgians) were a the same time converted by meanes of a Captive Christian woman, which by Miracles perswaded the King and people to receive the faith of Christ, which fent Emballadors to Constantine to enter into league, and to obtayn a Bilhop & Clergie, which the 30 fame Ruffinus reporteth, he heard of Bacurius a great man of that Nation. Before we leave Socrates, it is meet in this Argument of Trauels, to mention his report of Palladuss, a man of fo strong conflitution and admirable abilitie, that he in three dayes could ride from Constantinople to the Confines betwixt the Persian and Roman Empires , and returne thither agains to his Master Theodofins the Emperour in three other daies. Yea, he swiftly posted to all parts of the World to which he was fent, infomuch that one faid of him, This man by his swiftneffe makes the Romane Empire, at large at it is, to be very narrow. The Perfian King was amazed to heare these things re-

CHAP. XI.

A briefe and generall consideration of * Europe.

of Europe compared with the other parts of the World.

Hree parts of the World haue beene three times * visited by our more laborious then learned Mule: the Fourth for whose lake that triple-worke received to of-ten surus, lath seemed sorgotten. Jifa, Africa, and America, have first bin discovered to our Reader, not as enjoying the first and bett place. but offering their readie feruice and best attendance vnto Europe; the least in quantity, and their readic fertilice and pool after the things which for greatnesse and good nesses last in discourse, but greatest in those things which for greatnesse and good nesses the same than the same that deserve the most applause and admiration. Our method hath not observed that Feast-masters rule, at the beginning to set forth good Wine, and when men bane well drunke, then that which is worse; but we have kept the good Wine until now : following His example, who in the first Creation made 60 N'an last; in humane and reasonable defignes, allots the last execution, to the first intentions; in Religions Mysteries lends the Gospel after the Law, giues Heaven after Earth, and referues Himfelfe for the last feruice, to be our exceeding great reward; when God thall be all in all vnto his fatuants. Him I befeech that here also he will turne our water into Wine, that we may be able to give Feathwill entertainment vinto our Guetts, that as Europe excels the other parts of the World, fo my Mule may here exceed her wonted felfe, and prefent it vnto you in ornaments of Art, Industry and Syncerity, befitting fuch a Sobiect. Hard were our hap to fuffer shipwracke in the Hauen; to faile in the last Act would marre the Comædie; to be a stranger at home, and like the Lapwing to flie most and cry lowdest, being farthest from the Nott, were to travell of Lukers 17. 416 vanitie, and bring forth folly, or with the wilde Prodigall in the Gospell to be still travelling faurth & from himfelfe. We are now in mainer at home; when most remote , neuer out of European li- 2000, ac, mits, and therefore need not seare (as before) burning or frozen Zones, huge Oceans, new Conftellations, vnkoowne Lands, vnpafable Deferts, vnconth Monfters, Sausge beafts, more beaftby and monftrous men. We need not follow the out-worne foot-prints of rare vincercaine Tranellers, where Truth herselfe is suspicious in such forten disguised habit, nor need wee doubt to want guides, except the flore become a lore, and plentic troubleforne. Only we may feare in this taske frequent Cenfurers, not rigid Caraes, or leuerer sudicious Judges, bur capricious Nouices, which having comme to their Lands: toques then their with would think the World might condemne them of ill-tpene time, if they flouldner spend an indigested censure on the Bookish Travels of others, But I should be like them at I should feare them, shallow and emptie. How-

CHAPILES.2. Bounds of Europe and Etymologies of the name, with their reasons. 91

ð. I L

eyer, I have adventured on this European Stage : wherein we are first to consider the more generall

Occurrences, and after that the particular Regions. Of the former fort are the Names, Bounds;

The Names of Europe.

He Ancients have differed much, nor is the question yet agreed on, about the limits of Europe, some comprehending Africa under this division (making but two parts of the Var.de ling. World) others adding the same to Asia. Thus Varre divides the Vniverse into Hezuen and Earth, this into Afa and Europe, allowing to that the Southerne parts, to this the Northerne. So Siline fings of Afrike. Aut ingent Afia latue, aut pars tertia rerum. Lacan otherwife, Excellencies, Languages.

Lut ! 9.

- Si ventos Calamá, fequeris

Pars erit Europa, neg, enim plus littora Nili Quam Scythum Tanais primit à Gadibus absint.

This opinion is alleadged by Salust, Saint Augustine, Orofius, Paulinus, tollowed by Ifocrates Sal Bel Ive. and others. But the most attribute to Europe uniy a third , and that the least part in their par- Aug. C D.La.C.

nition of the elder World. no leffe contention hath beene about the Etymology of the Name, which Herodotus faith is Paul an culon winknowne, Others fetch from I know not what Europa, the daughter of Agenor, raunfhed by Ifoe in Pane yr. Impiter in forme of a Bull. The Truth should indeed be rauished by our Poets, if the Fable bee re- Het. 4. 40 ceiued; for the was transported from Phameia, a Region of Afia into Africa; others fay into Cy. Hom. Iliad & pres ; and if wee agree to others that it was into Creta, yet Konres del Loveas, vol kely it is a Michael Jespo fmall lland for a small stay (for shee was after that carried into Afrike) could give name to so great a part of the World. Nor have wee much more fatisfaction in Europu, the lonne of one Himerus King of some part (can you tell where!) of Europe. Europs raigned ouer the Sieyonians, Eufeb. Coron l.a. faith Paufanias : at that time when Abram wasborne, if wee follow Eufebin, and may bee the likelier Author of this name. Some ateribe it to the goodlinesse of the Enropean Tract, as being beautifull to the fight. Becanse deriues it from ver, " which ignifieth great or excellent, and bop, " Gerorigale. a multitude ; rather chasing a Dutch then Greeke Etymologie, that people inhabiting Europe son- ver.by tranner (as hee conceiues) then this. And in another booke noted by himselfe for a second Impression, spolition Eur, 50 he liketh better that it should be composed of E, i. marriage; ar excellent; hop, hope; alluding to Terus, that prophecie of Noah, that lapheth should dwell in the tents of Shem, whole politetity being divorced, the Church of the Gentiles in Imphets progenie should succeed in a more stable and everlatting marriage. Piolemey better thinkes it might bee called Celtica, almost every Region thereof being antiently either wholly or in part, peopled with the Celta: which Orteline, Panlus Merula, and others have shewed in the particulars. Some have called Europe Tyria, of that Tyriam maiden aforesaid rauished by a Bull ( a Bull-formed, or as others, a Bull signed ship ; after Palepharus, 2 man whole name was Bull; a Band of Souldiers fay others bearing a Bull in their Banner; the Mythologians can tell you more, if this bee not too much : ) Some have of Iaphet called it Iapetia. The Abasines and Easterne Inhabitants of Asia call the Europeans Franks, which name I suppose 60 was occasioned by their Expeditions and Conquetts in the Holy Land, and the Countries adioyning by the Westerne Forces, in the composition whereof the French were a principall ingredi- Secos this Le ent; that I mention not a French Councell to further it, and the Crowne of ferufalem falling to 11,23, 64 Godfrie of Bullen & his heires to reward it: whence it hapned that the Europeans then were, and time it is now on the Preffe. 10.2.10. Gca.15.1. ratum, daists fe suer fince are by the Saracens and Easterne Afians called Frankes; as perhappes for the same cause the Turkes call those of the Popish Faith, stilling those of the Greekift Religion Romans, of their chiefe Citie Constantinople, otherwile named New Rome.

ð. III.

The Quantitie, and Bounds.

the elder Geographers have written. At Wardboufe, and the North, then Ptolomey and day is reckened two moneths and feuen hourses in a day. Been He quantitie of Europe is much larger, especially towards the North, then Ptolemer and 10 day is reckoned two moneths and seven houres, in 71. degrees 30. minutes, whereas at the Hill Calpe, one of Hercelles Pillars, and at Cabe Mains in Morea (accounted the most Southerne parts in 36. degrees ) the day is but fourteene houres and an halfeat the longest. Much difference hath beene about the Easterne Confines. Plate, Aristotle, Herodottu, and others extend it to the River Phasis , or that Ifthmus betwixt the Euxine and Caffian Seas ; Dionyfins, Arrianus, Diedorns, Palybins, lernandes, adde nothing to the River Tanais: which Orselins paffeth over and takes in both Volca and all the Muscomites and Tartarian Hords, as farre as the River Ob. Ptohemey imagineth a line from Tenais Northwards ; which well agrees to the method of our Hiftory , as including the most part of the Ruffiau Empire. All the other parts are bounded and wished by the Sea, Palus Maoti, the Euxine, and Egean on the East inclining to the South; the 20 Mediterranean on the South, on the West and North the Ocean. Bertins numbers 2400. Italian miles in the latitude, and 3000. in the longitude.

IIII.

The Qualitie and Extellencies.

the World. For how many both Seas and Deferts take vp spacious Regions in Afia, Africa, and America? whereas in Europe neither watry Fens, nor vnstable Bogs, 30 nor Inland Seas, nor vnwholsome Ayres, nor wild Woods, with their wilder Sauage Inhabitants, not inow-courted Hills, nor fliffling Froits, nor long long Nights, nor craggy Rocks, nor barren Sands, nor any other effect of Angry Nature, where the feemes in fome, or other parts thereof the hardelt step-mother, can prohibite all habitation and humane focietie. In the most parts Nature hath shewed her selte a naturall and kind Mother; the prouidence of God, and industry of Man, as it were confpiring the European good. Which of the Sisters are comparable in a temperate aire : which in a forle fo generally fertile, fo diversified in Hills and Dales, so goodly Medowes, cheerefull Vineyards, rich Fields, fat Pastures, shadie Woods, delightfull Gardens, varietie of Creatures on it, of Metalls and Mineralls in it, of Plants and Fruits growing out of it ! Which fo watered with Fountaines, Brookes, Rivers, Bathes, Lakes out of her owne bowells tich (weet 40 Dewes and comfortable Showers from Heauen : fo frequent infinuations of the Sea, both for commerce with others, and proper Marine commodities! Which so peopled with resolute courages, able bodies, well qualified mindes? so fortified with Castles, edified with Townes, srowned with Cities! And if in some of these things Afia, Afrike, and America may seeme equal, or in any thing superiour, yet even therein also they are inferiour, by iust and equal inequalitie made Tributaries and Servants to Europe: the first captived by Alexander, the first and second by the Romans, the last and the most commodious places of the first, with all the Sea Trade, by Spanife and Portugall Discoueries and Conquests; first, second, last, All and more then they all, since and Itill made open and obnoxious to the English and Dutch, which have discovered new Northerne 50 Worlds, and in their thrice-worthy Marine Armes have fo often imbraced the inferious Globe. Asia yeerely fends vs her Spices, Silkes, Gemmes ; Africa her Gold and Iuory ; America receiveth feuerer Cultomers and Taxe-Masters, almost every where admitting Europaan Colonies.

If I speake of Arts and Inventions ( which are Mans properest goods, immortal Inheritance to our mortalitie) what have the rest of the world comparable ! First the Liberall Arts are most liberall to vs, having long fince for laken their Seminaries in Asia and Afrike, and here erected Colledges and Vniversities. And if one Athens in the East (the antient European glory ) now by Turkifb Barbarisme be infected, how many many Christian Athenses have wee in the West for it: As for Mechanicall Sciences, I could reckon our Ancestors inventions now lost, as that mallea- 60 ble Glasse in the dayes of Tiberias; that oleum vinnes found in olde Sepulchers still burning, after 1500. yeeres ; I could glory of Archimedes his ingenuous Engines ; but miferum est ist buc verbum & pessimum , habuife & non habere. I can tecite later inventions the Daughters of wonder. What eye doth not almost loose it selfe in beholding the many artificiall Mizes and Labyrinths in our Watches, the great heavenly Orbes and motions imitated in 60 small a modell ( What exces but European, have heard fo many Muticall Inventions for the Chamber, the Field, the Church! as for Bells, Europe alone beares the bel, and heares the Municall confort thereof in the Steeples diuerified, yea thence descending to Birds and Squirells ? Where hath the taste beene feasted with fuch varieties for delight, for health fare not Difbillations, the Arts also of Candying and Pieferusing meere European? It I should descend lower, who invented the Stirrop to ascend, the Saddle to ride the Horte? Who deuted to many kindes of motions by Clock-workes, besides Clockes and Dialls to measure Time, the measurer of all things ! Who invented wild Fires that scorne the waters force and violence? Who out of ragges to bring fuch varieties of Paper for Mans ma-To nifold vie? Who so many kinds of Mills! Who euer dream's of a perpetuall Motion by Art, of De quadratura circuli, or innumerable other Mathematicall, and Chymicall deuifes . And what hath Mars in the World eliewhere to parallel with our Ordnance, and all forts of Gunnes! or the Muses with our Printing Alas, China yeelds babes and bables in both compared with vs and ours: the rest of the World have them borrowed of vs or not at all. And for the Art Military, the exacteft Science, Discipline, Weapons, Stratagems, Engines, Resolution, Successe herein, haue honoured Europe with the Macedonian and Roman spoiles of the World : and even still the Turkih puissance is here seated; the English, Dutch, French, Italian, Spanish courages have not degenerated from those Ancestors, which tamed and shooke in pieces that Tamer and Terror of the World, the Roman Monarchy.

CHAP. 11. S. S. Europes Arts and Inventions. Religion, Civility, Languages.

But what speake I of Men, Arts, Armes ? Nature hath yeelded her felfe to European Industry. Who ener found out that Loadstone and Compasse, that findes out and compasset the World? Who ever tooke possession of the huge Ocean, and made procession round about the vast Earth? Who ever discovered new Constellations, faluted the Frozen Poles, subjected the Burning Zones ? And who elfe by the Art of Nauigation have feemed to imitate Him, which lases the beames of his Chambers in the Waters, and walketh on the wings of the Wind? And is this all? Is Pfico 43-Europe onely a fruitfull Field, a well watered Garden, a plealant Paracife in Nature? A continued Citie for habitation Queene of the World for power ? A Schoole of Arts Liberall, Shop of Mechanicall, Tents of Military, Arfenall of Weapons and Shipping ? And is thee but Nurfe to Nature, Miftreffe to Arts, Mother of resolute Courages and ingenious dispositions ! Nay these are 30 the leaft of Her praises, or His rather, who hath given Europe more then Eagles wings, and lifted her vp aboue the Starres. I speake it not in Poeticall fiction, or Hyperbolicall phrase, but Christian Sincerity. Europe is raught the way to scale Heauen, not by Mathematicall principles, but by Dinine veritie. I ESVS CHRIST is their way, their truth, their life; who hath long fince ginen a Bill of Diuorce to ingratefull Affa where hee was borne, and Africa the place of his flight and refuge, and is become almost wholly and onely European. For little doe wee find of this name in Affa, leffe in Africa, and nothing atall in America, but later European gleanings. Here are his Scriptures, Oratories, Sacraments, Ministers, Mysteries. Here that Mysticall Babylon, and that Patron of the Company pacie (if that bee any glory) which challengeth both the Bishopricke and Empire of the World; Section and here the victory over that Beaft (this indeed is glory) by Christian Reformation according and the the victory over that bear (this index of Europes indexinence, which hath made to the Scriptures. God himelete is our portion, and the les of Europes indexinence, which hath made Nature an indulgent Mother to her, hath bound the Heavens over her in the kindeft influence, hath trenched the Seas about her in most commodious affluence, hath furrowed in her delightfull, profitable confluence of Streames, hath tempered the Ayre about her, fructified the Soyle on her. enriched the Mines under her, diversified his Creatures to serve her, and multiplied Inhabitants to enjoy her; hath given them fo goodly composition of body, so good disposition of mind, so free condition of life, inhappy successe in affaires ; all-these annexed as attendants to that true happineffe in Religions truth, which brings ve to God againe, that hee may bee both Alpha and Omega in all our good. Euen in Civiliticalfo Europe is the youngest of the Three, but as Benia-50 min, the balt beloued, made heire to the Reft, exchanging the Priftine Barbarilme, and Inciunte tie (which Authors blame in our Ancestors) with Afia and Africa, for that Ciulitie of Mana ners, and Glory of Acts and Arcs, which they (as neeres the Arkes refting place ) fooner enioyed, by Mohamet an pestilence long fince become barbarous; the best of the one fitly called Barbaria. and the best Moniments of the other being but names , roines, carkaffes , and sepulchrall Moni-

ments of her quandam Excellencies.

of the Languages of Europe.

their Mother Tongues and Original Languages I will here out of Scaliger (out Euro-raping & ap. pan Mithridates ) relate. Of these he now reckons in Europe eleuen, seuen of smaller Meru'a. 0.2. 1.1. note, foure of greater, which yeeld many Dialects, keming differing languages out of s.s.

Enquiries of Languages by EDW. BREREWOOD, lasely profeffor of Astronomy in Gresham Colledge. 17, so Rece, as it was anciently knowne by the name of Hellan, was included be wirt) Of the ancient the Bay of Ambracia, with the River Inschibin, that fallersh into it on the Weit, largenelle of and the River Penense of the North, and the Sea on other parts. So that Acress, 3the Greeke and the River Penense of the North, and the Sea on other parts. So that Acress, 3the Greeke and The faller, were toward the Continent the troof Regions of Greece. But somethy yet, not the Countries onely contained within those limits, but also the Kung. Strabel 8.m. domes of Macaden, and Epines being the next adjoyning Provinces (Macaden long) within the domes of Macaden long of Williams. toward the North, Epirm toward the West ) had anciently the Grante tongue for their vula ) and a second gar language : for although it belonged originally to Heller alone, yet in time it became vulgars

Secondly, it was the language of all the Illes in the Leas Sea; of all those Ilands I fry, that are betwirt Greece and Afia, both of the many small ones, that lie betweene Candre and Negropout, named Cyclades (there are of them fittie three ) and of all aboue Negropout alio, as farre as: the Strait of Constantinople. Thirdly, of the Iles of Gandie, Scarpanto, Rhodes, and a part of Coprus and of all the small Hands along the Coast of Asia, from Candie to Syria.

Fourthly, not only of all the West part of Afia the lesse, (now called Anatolia, and corrup: ly Natolia) lying toward the Egean Sea, as being very thicke planted with Greeke Colonies : of Some Confel, ed Natolia) lying toward the Azgean Sea, as being very time printed with School Committee He'm.c.e. Philip which, tome one, Milein by name, is registred by Seneca, to have beene the Mother of fewentie Lay Horacim fue, by Plinie, of eightie Cities; But on the North fide also toward the Enzine Sea, as farre panegeric dong. (faith I Gerater) as Sinope, and on the South fide respecting Afrique, as fatte (faith Imcim) as the poff. med. Chelidonian Iles, which are over against the confines of Lyesa with Pamphylia. And yet although Lieur, in Dia. within thefe limits onely, Greeke was generally fpoken, on the Maritime Coaft of Afia, yet be- log de Amarib. yond them, on both the shoares Eistward, were many Greeke Cities (though not without non tong). ab 30 Batharous Cities among them. ) And specially I find the North coast of Afia, even as farre as Inita Trebizond, to have beene exceedingly well itored with them. But, it may bee further observed likewise out of Histories, that not onely all the Maritime part of Anatolia could understand and freake the Greeke tongue, but most of the Inland people also, both by reason of the great traffike, which those rich Countries had for the most part with Grecians, and for that on all fides the East onely excepted, they were inuironed with them. Yet neuerthelesse, it is worthy observing. that albeit the Greeke tongue prevailed fo farre in the Regions of Anatelia, as to bee in a manner generall, yet for all that it neuer became vulgar, nor extinguished the vulgar languages of those Countries. For it is not onely particularly observed of the Galatians, by Hierome, that beside the Hieron in Pra-Countries. For it is not oner particularly observed of suc Odlarians, by 1110 ome, that och och et m.l.a. con, a.

Greeke tongue, they had also their peculiar language like that of Trier: and of the Carians by pift ad Galai. 40 Strabe, that in their language were found many Greeke wordes, which doth manifeltly import it Strab.1.4. to have beene a feuerall tongue : but it is directly recorded by Strabo (out of Ephorus) that of "Lib.chiato long. fixteene severall Nations, inhabiting that Tract, only three were Grecians, and all the rest (whose post. med. & names are there registred) barbarous; and yet are not omitted the Cappadociaus, Galatians, Lydi-Pinal-6.2.2. ans, Maonians, Cataonians, no small Provinces of that Region. Euen as it is also observed by Plinie and others, that the twentie two languages, whereof Mabridates King of Pontm is remembred Plin. L. C. 24. to have beene foskilfull, as to speake them without an Interpreter, were the languages of so ma- Val. Max. 18.c. 1 ny Nations subject to himselfe, whose dominion yet wee know to have beene contained, for the Gell. 17 + 17. greatest part, within Anatolia. And although all these bee euident testimonies, that the Greeke tongue was not the vulgar or native language of those parts, yet, among all none is more effectual, then that remembrance in the second Chapter of the Acts, where divers of those Regions, as So Cappadocia, Pentus, Afia, Phrygia, and Pamphylia, are brought in for instances of differing All. 1.9.0 10. languages. Fiftly, Of the greatest part of the Maritime Coast of Thrace, not onely from Helleftone to By-Lantium (which was " that part of Conftantinople, in the East corner of the Citie, where the Ser- "Doula Itin. raile of the Great Tu ke now standeth ) but aboue it, all along to the out-lets of Danubins. And confiantinopolit. yet beyond them also; I find many Greeke Cities to have been planted along that Coalt (Seplan pag. 24. of Carranda is my Author, with fome others ) as farre as the Strait of Caffa, and specially in Tan- Softis Cariand. of Carranda's my Author, with some others ) as rarre as the Strait on Eagle, and period, in Period.

Fica. Yea, and beyond that Strait also Eastward, along all the Sea Coast of Circassia, and Men-latenand. de grelia, to the River of Phasis, and thence compassing to Trebitond, I find mention of ma- Reb. Getu. cs. ony scattered Greeke Cities : that is, ( to speake briefly ) in all the circumferences of the Sixtly, (from the East and North to turne toward the West) it was the language of all the Well and South Hands, that lie along the Coast of Greece, from Candie to Corfu, which also was one of them, and withall of that fertile Sicily, in which one Iland, I have observed in good Histo-them. These are the Greeke, Latin, Dutch, and Slaven', from whence by inflexion, trais Ction, mustation, and mixture, are derived many others. Thus the Slaven hath Daughters or Dialects, the Russian, Polonian, Bohemian, Illyrian, Dalmatian, and Windsh conques; some of these also not a little in chemielues divertified. They vie two forts of letters, the Rufiian depraved from the Greeks, with some barbarous additions; and the Dalmatian of Saint Hieroms invention, much valike the former. The Duich hath three principall Idiomes, Tentonifme, Saxonifme, and Danifme. The first containes both the High and Low Dutch; the second, the Nord-albing, Frisland and English Dialects; the third Danifb, Sweden, and the Norwegian, Mother of that of the Islanders. The Latin hath propagated the Italian, Spanish and French. The Greeke in so many Lands and Hands to farre diffant, ca mot but be much different.

The imaller languages yet Originall, without commerce and derivation from others are, the Epirotike or Albanian in the Mountaines of Epirus : Secondly the Cofaks or Tartarian : Thirdly, the Hungarian, which the Hunnes and Anares brought thither out of Afia : Fourthly, that of Firmemark, which yeelds also the Lappian: Fiftly the Irish, which is vied likewise of the Red-Shankes: Sixtly the Wellb or British (the same with that of the ancient Galles, as Mafter Camden hath proved ) spoken diversly in Wales, Cornwall, and little Britaine : Seventhly the Biscaine, the remainder of the old Spanish, in vie on both fides the Pyrenam Hills. These were all in Ecclesiaiticall affaires subjected to the Constantinopolitan and Roman Bishops, and vied fine forts of letters. the Greeke, Latin, and Gottifb, belides those two formerly mentioned. The Greeke principally polleffeth the South Eath, the Latin with her Daughters, the South; the Dutch, the North-well parts 20 of Europe; and the North-east, the Slauon.

And then have we given a tafte, of that which sometimes was intended, an European Feast: in which if I feeme to have broken promise, I have not done st alone ; and pouertie cleeres mee of periidie. If yet my rashnesse bee accused, in promising upon bopes of others assistance, les him that hath relieved those wants throw the sirst stanc at the Promiser. However, I will rather confessioned Action then stand Sute. Nor doe now beg helpes in that kind it is too late. My body is worne and old before and beyond my yeeres ; and o bane borne fo long two fuch burthens as a Pulpit and Preffe, that is, sleaven and Earth, would perhaps have tiredmy quarrelling Plaintiffe too, to have ascended the one (idque Londini) twice or thrice a weeke ordinarily, and descended the other with so frequent successions, and long continuations. Hercules and Atlas were both meary of one burthen : Pasience yet and pardon ! for I bane paid here a great part of my debt. I have given thee the Christian Sects, and Europes Ecclesiastike part, with her 30 other Secular parts also in great port bothin Maps and History presented, especially there where shee was left knowne : and if not fo fully as the formar in my Prigrimage, yet Poore men are welcome pay-maflers when they come with parts each weeke or moneth, or with day-labour-fet-offs; though they cannot at once discharge the whole debt. Indeed my Genius most leads mee to remotest and lest knowne things. that where few others can give intelligence, I may supply the Imelligencers place. Of veere and knowne things, Scribimus indocti doctique poemata patim. I bane ginen thee Arctoa Regio, the Polare of the World, World; and Antarctica, the Southerne Continent; and both Americas; besides Asia, Africa, and Europe knowne to the Antients. Tea I have given thee an Alia in Alia, and an Africa in Africa neuer nescit ! Who cannot dull and deafe thine cares with French, Dutch, Spanish, Italian affaires ! Neuber

Cap, vit.

knowne to the Ancients; as likewife I may affirme of the Northerne Parts of Europe. Cotters quis 40 arewe destribute of some intelligence and flaighter knowledge of Spaine, France, and Germany, Italy and other parts, which you will find bandled in one or other place of this Worke, as much as conserneth our Traneling purpose, As for Spaine, the Kings Title is a Sufficient Letture, which some thus expresso: P. By the Grace of God King of Castile, Lions, Arragon, both Sicills, Ierusalem, Portugall, Nauarre, Granada, Toledo, Valencia, Galicia, Maiorca and Minorca, Sinil, Sardinia, Corduba, Corfica, Murcia, Iaen, Algarbia, Algeria, Gibraltar, Canary Ilandi, East and West Indies, of the Ilands and Continent of the Ocean; Archdeke of Austria, Duke of Burgundy, Loraine, Brabant, Lunburg, Luxemburg, Geldres, Millaine, &c. Earle of Habspurg, Flanders, Tirol, Barcelona, Artois, Hannalt, Holand, Zeland, Namur, Zuphen, &c. Marqueffe of the Empire, Lord of Bifcay, Friezland, Mecklin, Vtreck, Ouer- 50 Ifell, Gruningen. Ruler in Afia and in Africa. This doth more fully present the present Spaine to your view, then to tell the Scituation, Mountaines and Rivers; of which enery Map and Traueller can informe you. France also is not to be now measured by the antient Geographical limits, but by the present Royall, so much being most properly France, as is comprehended in that most compact, best feated, well peopled, and goodlieft of Kingdomes. The parts you hall fee in the Dioceffe bereafter following. Germany in largeft sense by some is bounded by Rhene, Vistula, the Danow and the Ocean, is dissided into Kingdomes, Dukedomes, Counties, and Marquifates. The Kingdomes are Denmarke, Norway, Sweden, Boheme. The rest concerning Germany and other parts of Europe I teach not here; I point at rather these things, and therefore will returne to Our former discourse of languages, and therein produce a better Linguist and Artist then my felfe, Our learned Countryman, Master Brerewood in bis 69 Ashoriom Tranells and Industrions Enquiries of Languages and Rel gions.

San de Park

CHAP.

$17ab.1.6.jps

ries, aboue thirtie Greeke Colonies to have beene planted, and some of them goodly Cities, specially Agrigentum and Syracufa, which later Strate hatherecorded to have been one hundred and eighty furlongs, that is, of our miles two and twenty and a halfe in circuit.

Seventhly, not onely of all the Maritime Coalt of Itale, that lyeth on the Tribene Sea. from the River Garigliano, (Laris it was formerly called) to Lencoperra, the most Southerly point of Italie, for all that shoare being neere about two hundred and fortie miles, was inhabited with and di Greeke Colonies : And thence forward, of all that end of Italie, that lyeth towardts the Innian Sea, about the great Bayes of Squilacei and Taranio (which was to thicke let with great and goodly Cities of Graciane, that it gained the name of Magna Gracia) but, beyond that also, of a great part of Apulia, lying towards the Adrianique See, Neitrer did thele Maritime marts one- 10 ly, but as it feemeth the Inland people also rowards that end of Italie, speake the Greekstongue.

Gibrin Namif- For I have feene a few old Coynes of the Brutians, and more may bee feene in Goliziui haung Callipolis. Rocca Traft de lica lingua.

mit magua Gra- Greeke Inscriptions, wherein I observe they are named fortries, with an a, and twose, and not ca Tab 14.

Galat in delctip.

as the Romane Writers terme them, Bruty. And I have teene one piece also of Pandosia, an Inland Citie of those parts, with the like. Neither was the vulgar vie of the Greeke Tongue, vt-Ber. 15. de anti- terly extinct in some of those parts of Italie, till of late : for Galatem a learned man of that Countrey, hath left written, that when he was a Boy (and he hued about one hundred and twentie veeres agoe) they fpake Greeke in Callipollis, a City on the East shoare of the Bay of Taranto: But yet it continued in Eccletiafticall vie in some other parts of that Region of Italia much later. for Gabriel Barrius that but lived about forty yeeres fir ce, hath left recorded, that the Church of 20 Roffano (an Archiepiscopall Citie in the upper Calabria) retayned the Greeke Tongue and Ceremony till his time, and then became Latine. Nay, to descend yer a little neerer the present time, Angelsu Rocca that writ but about twentie yeeres agoe , hath observed, that hee found in fome parts of Calabria, and Apulia, some remaynders of the Greeke speech to bee still retayned. Eightly, and laftly, that shoare of France, that lyeth towards the Mediterraine Sea from Ro-

2 Strab l.4.xem b Strab. loce Plin.1.3:6.5.

danus to Italie, was postessed with Gracians, for * Massilia was a Colonie of the Phoceans, and from it many other Colonies were derived, and b placed along that shoare, as farre as Nicaa, in the beginning of Italie, which also was one of them. And yet beside all these forenamed, I could reckon up very many other dispersed Colonies of 30

Strab_L17.

haue read in any History, any Colonies of the Grecius to haue beene planted in Afrique, any where from the greater Syrtis Weltward, except one in [inta, a City of Numidia, placed there by Micipfa the Sonne of Masinissa, as is mentioned in Strabo : yet thence Eastward it is certaine forme were : for the great Cities of Greene and Alexandria, were both Greeke. And it is enident, not onely in . Strabo and Ptolemie, but in Mela, and other Latine Writers, that most of the Cities of that part carried Greeke names. And laftly , Saint Hierome hath directly recorded, that Lybia , which is properly that part of Afrique adioyning to Egypt , was full of Greeke Cities.

the Greekes both in Europe, and Afia, and some in Afrique, for although I remember not, that I

Ptol.tab.3.Afri. Melal. 1 c.8. Hieronin leco

These were the places, where the Greeke Tongue was natively and vulgarly spoken, either 40 originally, or by reason of Colonies. But yet for other causes, it became much more large and generall. One was the love of Philosophie, and the Liberall Arts written in a manner onely in Greeke. Another, the exceeding great Trade and Traffique of Grecians, in which, aboue all Nations, except perhaps the old Phanicians (to whom yet they feeme not to have beene inferiour) they imployed them felues, A third, beyond all thele because those great Princes, among whom all that Alexander the Great had conquered, was divided, were Gracians, which for many reafons, could not but exceedingly spread the Greeke l'ongue, in all those parts where they were Gouernours: among whom, even one alone, Selencus by name, is registred by Appear, to have founded in the East parts valer his government, at least fixty Cities, all of them carrying Greek names, or else named after his Father, his Wiues, or himselfe. And yet was there a fourth cause, 50 that in the aftertime greatly furthered this inlargement of the Greeke Tongue, namely the imployment of Greeiens in the government of the Provinces, after the Translation of the Imperiall Searce to Constantinople. For these causes I say, together with the mixture of Greeke Colonies, dispersed in many places (in which fruitfulnesse or Colonies, the Grecians farre passed the Romanes) the Greeke Tongue spread very farre, especially towards the East. In so much, that all the Orient (which yet must be understood with limitation, namely the Orientall part of the Roman Empire, or to speake in the Phrase of those times, the Diocesse of the Orient, which contained Syria, Palestine, Cilicia, and part of Mesopotamia and of Arabia) is said by Hierome, to have fpoken Greeke: which also Isabre, specially observeth, in Egypt, and Syria, to have beene the Dorigue Dialect. And this great glorie, the Greeke Tongue held in the Apoftles time, and long 60 after, in the Easterne parts, till by the inundation of the Saracens of Arabia, it came to ruine in those Prouinces, about tix hundred and forty yeeres after the birth of our Saujour, namely, in the time of the Emperor Heracline (the Arabian bringing in their language together with their CHAP. 12. Decay of the old Greeke, where and whence. How corrupted. victories, into all the Regions they subdued) euen as the Latine Tongue is supposed to have perished by the inundation and mixture of the Gother, and other barbarous Nations in the West. Ve at this day, the Greeke Tongue is very much decayed, not only as touching the largenesse, Of the decay-Band vulgarnesse of it, but also in the purenesse and elegancie of the Language. For as touch- ing of the aning the former. First, in Italie, France, and other places to the West, the natural Languages of cient Grece.

the Countries have viurped upon it. Secondly, in the skirts of Greece it felfe, namely in Epras, the prefent and that part of Macedon, that lyeth towards the Adriatique Sea, the Sclauenique Tongue hath vulgar Greche. extinguished it. Thirdly, in Anatolia, the Turkib Tongue hath for a great part suppressed it. Chap. And laftly, in the more Eastward, and South parts, as in that part of Cilicia, that is beyond the 10 River Piramus, in Syria, Palestine, Egypt and Lybia, the Arabian Tongue hath abolished it : Abolished it I say, namely, as touching any vulgar vie, for, as touching Ecclesis ficall vie, many Christians of those parts shill retayne it in their Lyturgier. Sothat, the parts in which the Greeke Tongue is spoken at this day, are (in few words) but thefe. First Greece it selfe (excepting Epirus, and the West part of Macedon.) Secondly, the Iles of the Agean Sea. Thirdly, Candie, and the Iles Eastward of Candie, along the Coaft of Afin to Cyprus (although in Cyprus , divers other Languages are spoken, beside the Greeke) and likewise the Iles Westward of Candia, along the Coalts of Greece, and Epirus, to Corfu. And lastly, a good part of Anatolia.

But as I faid, the Greeke Tongue, is not onely thus restrained, in comparison of the ancient extention that it had, but it is also much degenerated and impaired, as touching the purenelle of speech, being ouer-growne with barbaroulnesse: But yet not without some rellish of the ancient elegancie. Neither is it altogether fo much declined from the ancient Greeke, as the Italian is de- Bellon, obfituat. parted from the Latine, as Bellenions hath also observed, and by conferring of divers Epistles of Lines, Tweethe present Language, which you may find in Crusius his Turcogracia, with the ancient Tongue, gracil 3.0 5. may be put out of question which corruption yet, certainly hath not befallen that Language, through any inundation of barbarous people, as is supposed to have altered the Latine Tongue, for although I know Greece to have been ouer-runne and wasted, by the Gothes, yet I finde not in Histories, any remembrance of their habitation, or long continuance in Greece, and of their coalition into one people with the Gracians, without which, I conceine not, how the Tongue could be greatly altered by them. And yet certaine it is, that long before the Turkes came among them, 30 their Language was growne to the corruption wherein now it is, for that, in the Writings of Cedrenus, Nicetas, and some other late Greekes (although long before the Turkes invation) there is found, notwithstanding they were learned men, a strong rellish of this barbarous nesse: Infomuch that the learned Gracians themselves, acknowledge it to bee very ancient, and are veterly Gallet in Esil. ignorant, when it began in their Language: which is to me a certaine argument, that it had no ad Crusium Turviolent nor fudden beginning, by the mixture of other forreine Nations among them, but hath egacl 7.9.489 gotten into their Language, by the ordinarie change, which time and many common occasions that attend on time, are wont to bring to all Languages in the World, for which reason, the corruption of speech growing vpon them, by little and little, the change hath beene vnienfible.

Yet it cannot be denied (and 4 fome of the Gracians themselves confelle so much) that beside & Zygomaloi, in 40 many Romans words, which from the Translation of the Imperial Scat to Constantinople, began England Craft to creepe into their Language, as we may observe in divers Greeke Writers of good Antiquitie, Tateograf. fome Italian words also, and Slauonian, and Arabique, and Turkilh, and of other Nations, are gotten into their Language, by reason of the great Traffique and Commerce, which those people exercife with the Grecians. For which caule, as Belloning hath obsetted, it is more altered in the Bell, obser 1.1.2.3 Maritime parts, and fuch other places of forreigne concourfe, then in the inner Region. But yet, the greatest part of the corruption of that Language, hath beene bred at home, and proceeded from no other cause, then their owne negligence, or affectation. As first (for example) by mutilation of some words, pronouncing and writing No for undir, ra for ira &c. Secondly, by Videtral Trate compaction of fenerall words into one, as muche for mu dite, sacion for de m shou &c. Third- 244.24.24.

50 ly, by confusion of found, as making no difference in the pronouncing of three vowels, namely 391,398,399. 13, 1, u, and two Dipthongues of and of, all which five they pronounce by one Letter i, as oix . seixur, shon, Num, they pronounce icos, icon, fluhi, lips. Fourthly, by Translation of accents, from the tyllables to which in ancient pronouncing they belonged, to others. And all those foure kinds of corruption, are very common in their Language; for which reasons, and for some others, which may be observed in Crusius, Burrana, &c. the Greeke Tongue, is become much al- Burranin Cotered (even in the proper and native words of the Language) from what anciently it was. Yet ron. pretiga. neuertheleffe it is recorded by some, that have taken diligent observation of that Tongue, in the Geriach, apad feuerall parts of Greece, that there be yet in Morea, (Peloponefiu) betwixt Napols and Monem- Cruit 7.2 urcos. 60 bafia (Nauplia and Epidauriu, they were called) some fourteene Townes, the Inhabitan's whereof p.489.

are called Zacones (for Lacones ) that speake yet the ancient Greeke Tongue , but fatte out of Grammer Rule : yet, they understand those that speake Grammatically, but understand not the vulgar Greeke. As Bellonius like wife remembreth another place, neere Heraclea in Anaiolia, that Bellon obseru.L. yetretayneth the pure Greeke, for their vulgar Language. But the few places beeing excepted, 26.111.

e Bardonitz, in E .f. ad chitra, a u i l'um m l. de flat a Eccle. liar. 9. 47. f Vide Chitra. loc: citato, & Turcor at, Cruf. P. 127 3 115.

Of the ancient largeneffe of tongue in the time of the Reman Empire.

the Roman

Chap.3.

it is certaine, that the difference is become fo great, betwixt the prefent and the ancient Greeke that their Lyturgie, e which is yet read in the ancient Greeke Tongue, namely that of Bafil, on the Sabbaths and folemne dayes, and that of Chryfostome on common dayes, is not understood (or but little of it) by the vulgar people, as learned men that have beene in those parts, have related to f others, and to my felfe : which may be also more euidently prooued to be true by this, bea cause the skilfull in the learned Greeke cannot understand the vulgar.

Tieris: On the North the Rivers of Rhene and of Danubinu, and the Enxine Sea: On the West the Ocean: On the South the Cataratts of Nilus in the vemost border of Legyt, and in to Afrique the Mountaine Atlas. Which, beginning in the West, on the shoare of the Ocean, ouer toward the East and North, yet they kept little of what they wanne, but within those bounds mentioned, the Empire was firmely established. But heere, in our great lle of Britaine, the Piets wall was the limit of it, paffing by New-castle and Carleil from Timmouth on the East Sea, to g Spartian. in Hadriana et in Scuero.

Ard Fulu.l.2. Strab.l.1.

Dienyf.Hal.l.2. Antiq Rom. Vopiscin Aute

Eufch in Chro.

Dian.Lat.

fittle born num. benefit of which Romane freedome, they that would vie, could not with honeflie doe it, remaymane.

He ordinary bounds of the Romane Empire were, on the East part Emphrates, and sometimes against the Canarie Hands, runneth Eastward almost to Agypt, being in few places distant from the Mediterrane Sea, more then two hundred miles. Theie I fay, were the ordinary bounds of that Empire in the Continent : for although the Romanes passed these bounds sometimes, specially Solmar Frith on the Weit, being 5 first begun by the Emperour Adrian, and after finished or rather repaired, by Septimin Senerus. Tothis greatnesse of Dominion Rome at last arrived from her small beginnings. And small her 30 beginnings were indeed, confidering the huge Dominion to which shee attained. For first, the Circuit of the Citie wall, at the first building of it, by Romulus in Mount Palatine, could not bee fully one mile : for the Hill it felfe, as is observed by Andrea Fuluio, a Citizen and Antiquarie of Rome, bath no more in circuit : And, that Romulus bounded the Pomerium of the Citie (which extended some what beyond the wall) with the foot of that Hill in compasse Gellius hath left registred. Secondly, the Territorie and Liberties of Rome, as Strabo hath remembred, extended at the first, where it itretched fartheit scarce fix miles from the Citie. And thirdly, the first Inhabitants of Rome, as I find recorded in Dionysius of Halicarnassus, were not in number about 3 300. at the most. Yet, with Time, and fortunate successe, Rome so increased, that in Aurelianus his time, the circuit of the Citie wall, was fiftie miles, as Fopifess hath recorded: And the Dominion, grew to the largenesse aboue mentioned, contayning aboue 3000. miles in length, and about 1200. in breadth : and lastly the number of free Citizens, euen in the time of Marins, that is, long before forreigne Cities and Countries, began to be received into participation of that freedome, was found to be 463000. as Enfebius hath remembred : of free Citizens I fay (for they onely came into Cenfe) but if I should adde, their wives, and children, and servants, that is, generally all the Inhabitants, & a learned man hath efteemed them, and not without great likelihood mag.Rom.l.3,6.3 of truth, to have beene no leffe, then three or foure Millions. Beyond these bounds therefore of the Roman Empire ( to speake to the point in hand) the Roman tongue could not bee in any common vie, as neither, to speake of our Kings Dominions in Ireland, Scotland, nor Northumberland, as being no fubiects of the Roman Empire. And that with- 40 in these bounds itstretched farre and wide (in such manner as I will afterward declare) two principall causes there were. One was the multitude of Colonies, which partly to represe rebellion in the fubdued Prouines, partly to relift forreigne Inualions partly to reward the ancient Souldiers, partly to abate the redundance of the City, and relieue the poorer fort, were fent forth to inhabit in all the Prouinces of the Empire: Another was the Donation of Romanetreedome, or Communication of the right and benefit of Romane Citizens, to very many of the Prouinciall, both Cities and Regions. For first, all Italie obtained that freedome in the time of Sylla civil longe ante and Marins, at the compounding of the Italian Warre, as Appian hath recorded : All Italia I fay, as then it was called, and bounded, with the Rivers of Rubicon and Arnus, that is, the narrower part of Italie lying betwice the Adriatique and the Tyrrhene Seas. Secondly , Inline Ce- 10 far in like fort infranchifed the reft of Italie, that is the border part, named then Gallia Cifalpina, as is remembred by Dion. But not long after, the forreigne Provinces alfo, began to bee infran-Tacit.l.s. Hifto. chiled, France being indued with the liberty of Roman Citizens by Galba, as I find in Tacitus; Spain rist. Plin. 1.3 c.3. by Vespafian, asit is in Plinie. And at last, by Antonius Pius, all without exception, that were Direff.i. Tit de fubiect to the Empire of Rome, as appeareth by the testimonie of Vipian in the Digests. The ning ignorant of the Romane Tongue. These two as I have said, were the principall causes of inlarging that Language : yet other there were also of great importance, to further it. For first, concerning Ambassages, Suites, Appeales, or whatfoeuer other bufineffe of the Prouincials, or Forreignes, nothing was allowed to be handled, or spoken in the Senate at Rome, but in the Latine Tongue. Secondly, the Lawes whereby the Prou nees were gouerned, were all written in that Language, as beeing in all of Tu desciudica them, excepting onely Municipall Cities, the ordinary Roman Law. Thirdly, the i Prators of ta, Leg. Deneta the Provinces, were not allowed to deliver their Indgements faue in that Language; and wee reade in Dion Cassiu, of a principall man of Greece, that by Claudius was put from the order of Indges, for being ignorant of the Latine Tongue : and to the same effect in Valerius Maximus, Dient 57. Val. that the Romane Magistrates would not give audience to the Gracians, (less therefore I take it to Max Lica. the Barbarous Nations) laue in the Laime Tongue. Fourthly, the generall Schooles, erceted in fundry Cities of the Prouinces, whereof wee finde mention in Tacum, Hierome, and others (in which the Roman Tongue was the ordinary and allowed speech, as is vivall in Voiuerfities till Tacit 3 Anval. which the Romans had ge- Raficum. Tom. a this day) was no small furtherance to that Language. And, to conclude that the Romans had ge- Raficum. Tom. a nerally (at least in the after-times, when Rome was become a Monarchie, and in the flourish of the Empire) great care to inlarge their Tongue, together with their Dominion, is by Augustine Aug deci. Dei, in his Bookes de Cinit. Dei, specially remembred. It aid it was fo in after times, for certainly, 1.19.6.7. that the Romanes were not very anciently policifed with that humour of ipreading their Language, appeareth by Linie, in whom we find recorded, that it was granted the Cumanes, for a fa- Lindiff. Rol 40 wour, & at their Suit, that they might publikely vie the Roman Tongue, not fully one hundred and fortie yeeres before the beginning of the Emperours : And yet was Cuma but about one hundred miles diffant from Rome, and at that time the Romanes had conquered all Italie, Sicilie, Sardinia, and a great part of Spaine.

But yet in all the Provinces of the Empire, the Romane Tongue found not alike acceptance, and fucceife, but most inlarged and spread it selfe toward the North and West, and South bounds: for first, that in all the Regions of Pannonia, it was knowne, Velleuse is mine Author: Secondly, Villeila. 20 that it was spoken in France and Spaine, Strabo : Thirdly, that in Afrique, Apulciu : And it fee- Strab 13 & 4.

meth the Sermons of Coprum and Angustine, yet extant (of Anguilime it is manifelt) that they distinct with preached to the people in Latine. But in the East parts of the Empire, as in Greece, and Afia, and fo likewile in Afrique, from the greater Sprin Eastward, I cannot in my reading find that the Roman tongue euer grew into any commonvie. And the reason of it seemes to be, for that in those parts of the Empire it became moit frequent, where the most, and greatest Romane Colonies . were planted. And therefore ouer all lialy, it became in a manner vulgar, wherein I have obferued in Histories, and in Registers of ancient Inscriptions, to have beene planted by the Romanes at seuerall times aboue one hundred and fiftie Colonies: as in Afrique also necre fixtie (namely fiftie feuen) in Spaine nine and twentie, in France, as it stretched to Rhene twentie fixe, and so 30 in Myricum, and other North parts of the Empire, betweene the Adriatique Sea, and Danubius verie many. And yet I doubt not, but in all these parts, more there were, then any Historie or ancient Infcription that now remaynes hath remembred. And contrariwfie in those Countries, where fewest Colonies were planted, the Latine Tongue grew nothing fo common : as for example here in Britaine, there were but foure : 1 Torke, 1 Ebordeum. 2 Chefter, 3 Caeruske in Monmouit-Shire, and 4 Maldon in Effex (for London , although 2 Debuna. recorded for one by Onuphrius, was none, as is manifest by his owne k Author, in the place that 3 1/ce. himselfe alleadeeth) and therefore we find in the British Tongue which yet remaineth in Wales, Onupor in Imp. but little rellish (to account of) or relikes of the Latine. And , for this cause also partly the East Rom. Provinces of the Empire, favoured little or nothing of the Roman Tongue. For first in Afrique k Tacir J.: 4. ac beyond the greater Syria, I find neuer a Romane Colonie : for Onuphrius, that hath recorded In. Annal.

dicia Cyrenenfium for one, alleadging Vipian for Author, was deceived by some faultie Copie of Onuth Liam the Directes. For the corrected Copies have Zernensium, and for Indicia, is to be read In Dacia, as 1 vide Direct. is rightly observed (for in it the Citie of Zerne was) by Pancirellus Secondly in Egypt, there were so. Tit de centibut two : and to be briefe, Syria onely excepted, which had about twentie Romane Colonies, but bus leg for enoun most of them late planted, especially by Septimius Senerus, and his Sonne Boffianus, to strengthen Panciellad that fide of the Empire against the Parthians (and yet I finde not that in Syria, the Romane Inor Unintalis Tongue, euer obtained any vulgar vfe) the reft, had but verie few, in proportion to the largenelle 48.138.

Of which little estimation, and vie of the Roman Tongue, in the East parts, beside the want of Colonies fore-mentioned, and to omit their love to their owne Languages, which they held 50 to be more civill then the Romane, another great cause was the Greeke, which they had in farre greater account, both for Learning fake (infomuch that (seero confelleth, Graca (latth he) legnn- cherin Orat. tur in omnibus fere gentibus, Latina suis simibus, exiguis sane, continentur) and for Traffique, to both producting etc. which, the Gracians, about all Nations of the World were anciently given : to omit, both the excellencie of the Tongue it felfe, for found and copioninelle, and that it had forestalled the Romane in those parts. And certainly, in how little regard the Romane Tongue was had in respect of the Greeke in the Easterne Countries, may appeare by this, that all the learned men of those parts, whereof most lived in the fourish of the Romane Empire, have written in Greeke, and not in Latine: as Philo, lofephus, Ignatius, Instine Martyr, Clemens Alexandrinus, Origen, Eufebius, 60 Ashanasius, Basil, Gregorie Nyssene, and Nazzanzene, Cirillot Alexandria, and of lerusalem, Ep.

Phanius, Synetius, Prelemie Strabo, Porphyrie, and verie many others, to that of all the Writers that lived in Afra, or in Afraque, beyond the greater Syrtis, I thinke wee home not one Anthor in the Continuous. Latine Tongue and yet more evidently may it appears by another instance, that I finde in the Tongo and third Generall Councell held at Epbefus, where the Letters of the Buhop of Rome, having here Elling read by his Legates, in the Latine Tongue, it was requested by all the Bishops, that they might be translated into Greeke, to the end they might be understood. It is manifest therefore, that the Romane Tongue was neither vulgar, nor familiar in the East, when the learned men gathered out of all parts of the East understood it not.

That the Roman Fongue forreine Prouinces of the Roman Empire. Galat de Situ Viula de traden disciplin 🕁 11.19.2.7. trib.de ling. E:-

4 Merul. Cofm. part.2.1.2.c.8.

F the weake impression therefore of the Romane Language in the East, and large enter-tainment of it in the West, and other parts of the Empire, and of the causes of both, I have faid enough. But in what fort, and how farre it prevailed, namely, whether to farre, asto exthe vulgar lin- tinguish the ancient vulgar Languages of those parts, and it selfe, in stead of them, to become the guages, in the native and vulgar Tongue, as Galaseus hath pronounced touching the Panique, and Vines with 10 many others of the Gallique and Spanish, I am next to confider.

First therefore, it is certainly observed, that there are at this day , fourteene Mother Tongues in Europe (beside the Latine) which remaine, not onely not abolished, but little or nothing altered, or impaired by the Romanes. And those are the 1 Irifb, spoken in Ireland, and a good part of Scotland : the 2 Brittift, in Wales, Cornwaile, and Brittaine of France : the 3 Cantabrian neere the Ocean about the Pyrene, Hils, both in France and Spaine : the 4 Arabique, in the fteeagn ancipia of pie Mountaines of Granata, named Alpuxarrae : the 5 Finnique, in Finland, and Lapland: the 6 Dutch, in Germany, Belgia, Denmarke, Norway, and Suedia: the old 7 Canchian, (I take it to 3 Scal in Dia- be that, for in that part the Canche inhabited) in East Frisland, for m although to strangers they ipeake Duich, yet among themselves they vie a peculiar Language of their owne; the 8 Sla- 20 nonifb, in Polonia, Bohemia, Mosconia, Russia, and many other Regions (whereof I will after intreate in due place) although with notable difference of Dialect, as also the British and Dutch, 5 Stallocitate in the Countries mentioned have : the old 9 Illyrian, in the Ile of Veggia, on the East tide of m Ortelin tib. Iffria in the day of Libernia : the 10 Greeke, in Greece, and the llands about it, and part of Ma-Erif Oiental.

n Sealleccitate

n Sealleccitate n seather that in the greatest part of that Kingdome : the 13 lazygian, in the North fide of Hungaria betwixt Danubius and Tebifons, veterly differing from the Hungarian Language: And laitly, the 14 Tarturian, of the Precopenfes, betweene the Rivers of Tanan and Boryst benes, neere Meotie and the Euxine Sea, for, of the English, Italian, Spanish, and French, as being derivations, or rather degenerations, the first of the Dutch, and the other three of the Latine, seeing I now ipeake one- 30 ly of Originall or Mother Languages, I must be silent : And of all these tourteene it is certaine, except the Arabique, which is knowne to have entred fince, and perhaps the Hangarian, about which there is difference among Antiquaries, that they were in Europe in time of the Romane Empire, and fixe or feuen of them, within the Limits of the Empire.

And indeed, how hard a matter it is, veterly to abolish a vulgar Language, in a populous Countrey, where the Conquerers are in number farre inferiour to the Natiue Inhabitants, whatfocuer Art be practized to bring it about, may well appeare by the vaine attempt of our Norman Conquerour : who although hee compelled the English, to teach their young children in the Schooles nothing but French, and fet downe all the Lawes of the Land in French, and inforced all pleadings at the Law to be performed in that Language (which custome continued till 40 King Edward the Third his dayes: who difanulled it ) purpoting thereby to have conquered the Language together with the Land, and to have made all French: yet, the number of English farre exceeding the Normans, all was but labour loft, and obtained no further effect, then the mingling of a tew French words with the English. And even such also was the successe of the Frankes among the Gaules, of the Gothes among the Italians and Spaniards, and may be obscrued, to be thort in all fuch conquests, where the Conquerors (beeing yet in number farre inferiour) mingle themfelues with the Native Inhabitants. So that, in those Countries onely the mutation of Languages hath enfued upon Conquests, where either the ancient Inhabitants have beene destroyed or driven forth, as wee see in our Countrey to have followed of the Saxons, vi-Stories , against the Brittaines , orelie at leaft in fuch fort diminished, that in number they to remained inferiour, or but little superiour to the Conquerours, whose reputation and anthoritie might preu, ile more then a small excesse of multitude. But (that I digresse no further) because certaine Countries are specially alleaged, in which the Romane Tongue is supposed most to have prevailed, I will restraine my discouse to them alone.

And first, that both the Punique and Gallique Tongues, remained in the time of Alexander Senerus the Emperour (about two hundred and thirtie yeeres after our Saujours birth) appeareth by Vipian, who lived at that time, and was with the Emperour of principall reputation, teaching, that . Fidei commiffa might bee left, not onely in Latine, or Greeke, but in the Punique or Gallique, or any other vulgar Language. Till that time therefore, it feemeth euident, that the Romane Tongue had not Iwallowed up thefe vulgar Languages, and 62 it felfe become vulgar in stead of them, But to inist a little in either severally. First, touching Epiton, Septim. the Punique, Aurelius, Victor hath recorded of Septimius Senerus, that he was, Latinis hteris sufficienter instructiu, but Punica eloquentia promptior, quippe genitus apud Leptim pronintia Africa. Of which Emperors fifter also dwelling at Lepis (it is the Citie wee now call Tripole in Barbarie ) and comming to fee him, Spartian: shath left written, that flee fo badly spake the Latine tongue (vet was a Leptis a Roman Colony) that the Emperour blufhed at it. Secondly Spariton in Selong after that, Hierome hath recorded of his time, that the Africans had somewhat altered their weto piff med. language from the Phornicians : the language therefore then remained, for elfe how could hee a Antonia.in pronounce of the prefent difference : Thirdly, Augustine (tomewhat younger then Hierom, ron in Proem La though living at the same time ) writeth not onely, that b hee knew divers Nations in Afrike, Com Eislad that frake the Punike tongue, but also more particularly in another place, mentioning a Gast in fine. that spake the Punike tongue, but and more particularly in another prace, including to August de Ciu.

leze Fidei com. Acr. V Berin

knowne Punike prouerb, he would speake it (he said) in the Latine, because all his Auditors (for Dis. Lie. C. C. Hippo, where hee preached was a Roman Colony) vinderstood not the Punike tongue: And some cld. Serm. 25. To other a pallages could I alleadge out of Augnitme, for the direct confirmation of this point, if de web, April. these were not enident and effectuall enough. Lastly, Leo Africanus, a man of late time, and good d la Exposin reputation, affirmeth, that there remaine yet in Barbary, very many delicended of the old Inhabi- chart. Epift. a reputation, aministry, the African tongue, whereby it is apparent that it was neuer extinguished by Romanicitea tants, that speake the African tongue, whereby it is apparent that it was neuer extinguished by med.

Secondly, touching the antient Gallike tongue, that it also remained, and was not abolished L. I. descript. A. by the Romane in the time of Strabs, who flourished vnder Tiberine Cefars government, it ap- fine sapide by the Romane in the time of Strass, who nourinted vitate 1 Aquitani differed altogether in lanpeareth in the fourth Book of his Geography, writing that the Aquitani differed altogether in lanStrabla, in guage from the other Gaules, and they tomewhat among themselues. Nor after that in Tacnus priceip. his time, noting that the language of France, differed little from that of Brittaine. No, nor long Tain, in luie 20 after that in Alexander Seueru his time, for beside the authoritie of Ulpian before alleadged Agricola. out of the Digeftes, it is manifest by Lampridius also, who in the lite of the faid Alexander, re. Lungidin A. membreth of a Druide woman, that when hee was patting along, in his Expedition against the lexand Seutre Germaines through France, cried out after him in the Gallike tongue (what needed that obfernation of the Gallike tongue, if it were the Romane ?) Goe thy way, quoth shee, and looke not for the victory, and trust not thy Souldiers. And though Strabo bee alleadged by some, to Strab La leng. proue the vulgarneffe of the Latine tongue in France, yet is it manifest, that he speaketh not of antemed, all the Gaules, but of certaine onely, in the Province of Narbona, about Rhodanus, for which part of France there was speciall reason, both for the more ancient and ordinary converting of the Romanes, in that Region about all the reft; for of all the seuenteene Provinces of France, 30 that of Narbona was first reduced into the forme of a Prounce : And the Citie of Narbons it selfe, being a Mart Towne of exceeding traffike, in those dayes, was the c first for- e Vel. Patercal. raine Colonie that the Romanes planted out of Italy, Carthage onely excepted : And yet fur- Li. thermore as Pling hath recorded, many towns there were in that Province, infranchized, and in- Plinks, e.s. dued with the libertie and right of the Latines. And yet for all this , Strabe faith not , that the Roman tongue was the native or vulgar language in that part, but that for the more part they Thirdly, concerning the Spanish tongue : Howsoeuer Vines writ, that the languages of France and Spaine were veterly extinguished by the Romanes, and that the Latine was become f Ver- f Vid. Annot ad nacula Hiftania, as alfo Gallia & Italia; and & fome others of the fame Nation vaunt, that had August de ciu. not the barbarous Nations corrupted it, the Latine tongue would have been at this day, as Deiling. e. 7. not the barbarous Nations corrupted it, the Latine tongue would have beene at this day, as Id.ia, de tra-pure in Spaine, as it was in Rome it selfe in Tullies time: yet neuerthelesse manifest it is, that the dend Distip. Spanish tongue was never veterly suppressed by the Latine. For to omit that of Strabo, h that g Marin Sient there were divers languages in the parts of Spame, as also in 1 another place, that of the speech of de Reb. Hiffa. Aquitaine was liker the language of the Spaniards, then of the other Gaules : It is a common mich Soc.4. content of the best Historians and Antiquaries of Spaine, & that the Cantabrian tongue, which haralis peal. yet remaineth in the North part of Spaine (and bath no relish in a manner at all of the Roman) Id. (4) a principe. was either the ancient, or at least one of the ancient languages of Spaine. And although 1 Strabo i Marian de hath recorded, that the Romane tongue was spoken in Spaine, yet hee speaketh not indefinite- Reb. Hig. Li. s. 9 ly, but addeth a limitation, namely, about Batis. And that in that part of Spaine, the Romane Marin, Sicul. tongue so preuailed, the reason is easie to be assigned by that wee finde in Plmy. Namely, that in tongue so preuailed, the reason is easie to be assigned by that wee finde in Plmy. Namely, that in the total things to the state of the stat with the right and libertie of the Latines.

Lastly, to speake of the Pannonian tongue ( Pannonia contained Hungarie, Austria, Stiria, and Plin.3.c.1. Vell. Carinthia ) it is certaine that the Roman did not extinguish it : For hirlt, Paterculus ( who is Paterculus, the onely Author that I know alleadged for that purpole ) faith not, that it was become the larguage of the Countrey, for how could it, being but even then newly conquered by Tiberius Cafan? but onely that in the time of Angustus, by Tiberius his meanes the knowledge of the Romane tongue was spread in all Pannonia. And tecondly, Tacium after Tiberim his time hath recorded, Tacit de minb. that the Of in Germany might be knowne to be no Germanes, by the Pannonian tongue, which "a Libeod. paner. 60 little before in the same booke, he plainely acknowledged to be spoken euen then in Pannonia. amidic.

And as for these realons, it may well seeme that the Roman tongue became not the vulgar language in any of these parts of the Empire, which are yet specially instanced, for the large vulgarity of it : So have I other reasons to perswade mee, that it was not in those parts, nor in any other forraine Countries subicct to the Empire , either generally or perfectly spoken. Not generally ( Isay ) because it is hard to conceine, that any whole Countries, specially because so large as the mentioned are, should generally speake two languages, their Owne Natine and the Romane. Secondly, there was not any Law at all of the Romanes, to inforce the subdued Nations, either to vse vulgarly the Romane tongue, or not to vie their owne native languages ( and very extreame and vnreasonable had such Lords beene, as should compell men by Lawes, both to doe, and to speake onely what pleased them.) Neither do I fee any other necessitie, or any prouocation to bring them to it, except for iome speciall forts of men as Merchants, and Citizens, for their better traffick and trade, Lawyers for the knowledge and practile of the Romane Lawes, which earried force throughout the Empire (except priviledged places ) Schollers for learning, Souldiers, for their better converting with the Romane Legi- 10 ons, and with the Latines, Trauellers, Gentlemen, Officers, or such other, as might have occasion of affaires and dealing with the Romans, But it foundeth altogether vilike a truth, that the poore feattered people abroad in the Country, dwelling either in solitarie places, or in the small Towns and Villages, either generally spake it, or could possibly attaine vnto it. An example whereof, for the better euidence may at this day bee noted; in those parts of Greece, which are subject to the Dominions of the Turis and Venetians : for as Bellowisse hath observed, the people that dwell in the principall Townes and Cities, subject to the Turke, by reason of their trade, speake both the Greeke and Turkif tongues, as they also that are vouer the Venetians, both the Greeke and Italian, but the Countrey people vader both governments, speake onely Greeke. So likewife in Sardinia, as is recorded by others, the good Townes by reason of the Spanish Gouernment and Trade, 20 speake also the Spanish tongue, but the Countrey people the natural Sardinian language onely : And, the like by our owne experience wee know to bee true, in the Provinces subject to our Lingus Sordic. King, namely, both in wales and Ireland. It feemeth therefore that the Romane tongue was neuer generally spoken in any of the Roman Provinces forth of Italy.

Leo I. Africa.

Rocra de Dialeel. in Ling. Sardes. Porcacchil. dello

Bellow Obfer-

" Gelner. in

mat 1.5.4.

perfectly. First, because it seemes vnpossible for forraine Nations, specially for the rude and common people, to attaine the right pronouncing of it, who, as wee know doe ordinarily much mistake the true pronouncing of their native language: for which very cause, wee see the Chaldee tongue to have degenerated into the Sprinke among the Iewes, although they had converfed feventie yeeres together among the Chaldeans. And moreouer, by daily experience wee fee in many, 30 with what labour and difficulty, euen in the very Schooles, and in the most docible part of their Vide Augult in age, the right ! peaking of the Latine tongue is attained. And to conclude, it appearth by Augu-Exercit. Plaza. fine in fundry places, that the Roman tongue was vnperfect among the Africans (even in the Colonies) as pronuncing offum for es, floriet to florebit , deless for delor , and fuch like, infomuch that hee confesseth, hee was faine sometimes to vie words that were no Latine, to the end they 6.13. & Traft 7 might understand him.

And certainely much lesse can I perswade my selfe, that it was spoken abroad in the Prouinces

Of the beginlanguages.

He common opinion, which supposeth that these Nations in the flourish of the Romane Em-I pire, pake vulgarly and rightly the Latme tongue, is, that the mixture of the Northerne barbarous Nations among the ancient Inhabitants, was the cause of changing the Latine tonge 40 into the languages, which now they freake, the languages becomming mingled, as the Nations themselues were. Who, while they were inforced to attemper and frame their speech, one to the understanding of another, for elie they could not mutually expresse their mindes ( which is the end for which Nature hath given speech to men ) they degenerated both, and so came to this medly wherein now wee finde them.

Which opinion if it were true, the Isalian tongue, must of necessicie haue it beginning about the 480. yeere of our Sauiour : Becaule, at that time, the Barbarous Nations began first to inhabite Italy, under Odoacer, for although they had entred and wasted Italy long before, as first, the Gothes under Alariem, about the yeare 414: Then the Hunnes together with the Geshes, and the Heruli, and the Gepids, and other Northerne people vnder Attila, about An. 450. Then the Wan- 50 dales under Genserieus, crofting the Sea out of Afrike, about An. 456. (to omit some other inuafions of those barbarous Nations, because they prospered not ) yet none of these , setled themfelues to flay and inhabite Italy, till the Heruli, as I faid under Odoncer, about As. 480. or a little before entrea and poffeffed it neere hand twenty yeeres , Hee being ( proclaimed by the Romanes them felues ) King of Italy, about fixteene yeeres, and his people becomming inhabiters of the Countrey. But, they also, within twenty yeeres after their entrance, were in a manner rooted out of Italy, by Theodoricas King of Gother, who allotted them onely a part of Piemont about Turin to inhabite : for Theodoricas being by Zeno then Emperour, inuested with the title of King of Italy, and having our come Odoacer, iomewhat afore the yeare 500. ruled peaceably a long time, as King of Italy, and certaine others of the Gother Nation fucceeded after him in the fame gouern- 60 ment, the Gother in the meane space, growing into one with the Italians, for the space neere hand of fixtie yeeres together. And although after that, the Dominion of Italy was by Norfes 2. gaine recourred to the Empire in the time of Inflinian, and many of the Gothes expelled Italy, yet farre more of them remained, leady in that long time being growne well with their feed and po-fteritie. The Heruls therefore, with their affociates were the first, and the Gother the second of the barbarous Nations that inhabited Italy. The third and the last, were the Longbards, who comming into Italy about the yeere 570, and long time obtaining the Dominion and possession, in a manner of all Italy, namely aboue two hundred yeeres, and during the succession of twenty Kings or more, were neuer expelled forth of Italy, although at last their Dominion was fore broken by Pipin King of France, and after more defaced by his sonne Charles the Great, who first refirained and confined it to that part, which to this day, of them retaineth the name of Lombardy, and shortly after veterly extinguished it, carrying away their last King captine into France. Now although divers 'Antiquaries of Italy there bee, which referre the beginning of the Italian To tongue, and the change of the Latine into it, to their third Inhabitants of Iral, the Longbards, by illufficians realon of their long and perfect coalition into one with the Italian people : yet certainely, the Italian tongue was more antient then fo, for befides that there remaines yet to bee feene ( as 7 into defin No. men " worthy of credit report ) in the King of France his Library at Paris, an Instrument writ- bitta discressal. ten in the Italian tongue, in the time of Institution the first, which was before the comming of the 2.4.2.0 alf. Longbards into Italy : another cuidence more vulgar, to this effect, is to be found in Panlus Diacomue his Midellane Hiltory : where wee read that in the Emperour Manufatine his time, about the yeer 590. when the Langbards had indeed entred, and waited Gallsa Cifalpma, but had not inuaded par. 2. Commit. the Roman dition in Italy, that by the acclamation of the word Torna, Torna, (plaine Italian) Line 18. which a Roman Souldier spake to one of his fellowes afore; (whose beast had overturned his bur- Paul Diacon. 20 then) the whole Army (marching in the darke) began to try out, Terna, Terna, and fo fell to be. Mifective, been mutual.

C H A P. 12. When the Latine degenerated into Italian, French & Spanish.

But the French tongue, if that afore mentioned were the cause of it, began a little before, in the time of Valentinian the third, when in a manner all the Welt part of the Empire fell away ( and among the reft, our Countrey of England, being first forfaken of the Romans themselves, by reafon of grieuous warresat their owne doores, and not long after conquered and pofferfed by the Savent, whose posteritie (for the most part wee are ) namely , about the yeere 450: France being then subdued and peaceably possessed by the Franks and Burgundsons, Nations of Germany: the Burgundiens occupying the Eastward and outward parts of it, toward the River of Rhene, and the Franke all the inner Region. For although France before that had beene inuaded by the Wandall, 30 Snew, and Alast, and atter by the Golbes, who having obtained Aquitays for their Seat and Habitation, by the grant of the Emperour Honerim, expelled the former into Spaine, about Av. 410: yet notwithitaniing, till the Conquest made by the Franks and Burgundions, it was not generally, nor for any long time mir gled with strangers, which after that Conquest began to i pread ouer France, and to become native Inhabitants of the Countrey.

But of all, the Spanish tongue for this cause must necessarily bee most antient : for the Wandali and Alani, being expelled France, about the yeere 410, beganne then to inuade and to inhabite Spaine, which they held and possessed many yeeres, till the Garbes being expelled by the Franks and Burgundians, out of France into Spaine, expelled them out of Spaine into Afrike ( the Barbarous Nations thus like nailes driving out one another) and not onely them, but with them all the 40 remnants of the Roman Garrisons and government, and so becomming the entire Lords and quiet possessions of all the Countrey, from whom also the Kings of Spaine that now are be descended. Notwithilanding , euen they also within lesse then three hundred yeeres after , were driven by the Saracens of Afrike, into the Northerne and mountainous parts of Spaine, namely Afturia, Bifcay, and Guipufcoa, tillafter a long courie of time, by little and little they recoursed it out of their hands againe, which was at last fully accomplished by Ferdinand, not past one hundred and twenty yeeres agoe, there having passed in the meane time, from the Moores first entrance of Spaine at Gibraltar , till their last possession in Granada , about seuen hundred and feuenty yeeres. Whereby you may fee also, when the Roman tongue began to degenerate in Afrike (if that also, as is tippofed ipake vulgatly the Latine tongue, and if the mixture of barbarous prople were easily of the decay, and corruption of it) namely, about the yeere 430. for about that time, the Wandali and Alam, partly wearied with the Gottift warre in Spaine, and partly inuited by the Gouernour Bonifacius entied Afrike, vinder the leading of Genfericus, a part whereof for a time, they held quietly, for the Emperour Valentinianue gift : But shortly after, in the same Emperours time, when all the West Prouinces in a manner fell vtterly away from the Empire, they alfo tooke Carthage; and all the Prouince about it, from the Romans. And although the dominion of Afrike was regained by Belizarius to the Empire almost 100 yeeres after, in Iustinians time, yet in the time of the Emperour Leonius (almost 700. yeeres after our Sauiours birth) it was lost againe, being anew conquered, and possessed by the Sarracens of Arabia (and to this day remai-60 neth in their hands) bringing together with their victories, the language alfo, and religion (Mahumatanifme) into all that coaft of Afrike, even from Agypt to the Strait of Gibraliar, about

About which time also, namely during the government of Valentinian the third, Bulgaria, Seruia Boscina, Hungarie, Austria, Ssiria, Carmibia, Banaria and Snensa (that is, all the Northtained the name of Hungarie. Out of which discourse you may observe these two points. First, what the Countries were, in which those wandring and warring Nations after many transmigrations from place to place, fixed at last their finall relidence and habitation. Namely the Hunnes in Pannonia, the Wandales in Afrique, the East Gother and Langbards in Italie, the West Gother in Agnitaine and Spaine, which being both originally but one Nation, gained thele names of East and West Gother, from the polition of these Countries which they conquered and inhabited, the other barbarous Nations of obscurer names, being partly consumed with the warre, and partly passing into the more fa- 10 mous appellations. And Secondly, you may obserue, that the maine diffoliation of the Empire, especially in Europe and Afrique, tell in the time of Valentinian the third, about the yeere 400. being caused by the barbarous Nations of the North (as after did the like diffolution of the same Empire in Afia, by the Arabians in the time of Heraclius, about the yeere 640.) and together with the ruine of the Empire in the West by the inundation of the foresaid barbarous Nations, the Latine tong se in all the Countries where it was vulgarly spoken (if it were rightly spoken any where in the West) became corrupted.

Wherefore if the Spanish, French and Italian tongues, proceeded from this cause, as a great num? ber of learned men, supporte they did, you see what the antiquity of them is : But to deliuer plainly my opinion, having fearched as farre as I could, into the originals of those languages, and having 20 pondered what in my reading, and in my reason I found touching them, I am of another minde (as fome learned men also are) namely, that all those tongues are more ancient, and have not sprung from the corruption of the Latine tongue, by the inundation and mixture of barbarous people in these Provinces, but from the first vi pertect impression & receiving of it, in those forraine Countries. Which unperfectnelle notwithstanding of the Roman tongue in those parts, although it had, as I take it beginning from this cuill framing of forraine tongues, to the right pronouncing of the Latine, yet I withall eafily beleeve, and acknowledge that it was greatly increased, by the mixture and coalition of the barbarous Nations. So that me thinkes, I have observed three degrees of corruption in the Roman tongue, by the degeneration whereof, these languages are supposed to have received their beginning. The first of them was in Rome it selfe, where towards the 30 latter end of the Common-wealth, and after, in the time of the Empire, the infinite multitude of feruants (which exceedingly exceeded the number of free borne Citizens) together with the loget.adu. Gent. vnspeakeable confluence of strangers, from all Prouinces, did much impaire the purenesse of their language, and as Isidore hath observed, brought many barbarismes and solecismes into it. Intomuch, that Tertullian in his time, when as yet none of the barbarous Nations had by inuafion ciced. 1. de Oce touched Italie (for he lived vnder Septimin) Senerus government) chargeth the Romans to have renounced the language of their fathers. The Second step, was the vnperfect impression (that ! touched before) made of the Roman tongue abroad in the forraine Provinces among ftrangers, whole tongues could not perticitly frame to speake it aright. And certainly, if the Italians themfelues, as is remembred by Cicero, failed of the right and perfect Roman pronounciation, I fee not 40 how the tongues of strange Nations, such as the Ganles and Spaniards were, should exactly vtter it. And the Third, was that mixture of many barbarous people (to which others attribute the beginning of the languages in question) which made the Latine, that was before unperfect, yet more corrupt then they found it, both for words and for pronouncing : So that, Irather thinke the barbarous people to haue beene a cause of increasing the corruption, and of further alteration and departure of those languages from the Roman, then of beginning them. And me thinkes I haue very good reasons so to be perswaded, beside all the arguments aboue mentioned, which I produced, both for the remaining of the vulgar languages, and for the unperfect speaking of the Roman tongue in the Prouinces. First, because the Gothes, Wandales, Langbards, as also the Franks changes made in these West parts of the World, by those infinite swarmes of barbarous people,

I finde not one, that mentioneth the change of any of these languages to have beene caused by them: which me thinkes fome ancient writers among fo many learned, as those times, and those very Countries, abounded withall, and whose writings yet remaine, would certainly have recorded. But though we finde mention in fundry ancient writers, of changing these languages into the Roman (whom yet I understand of that unperfect change before touched) yet nothing is found of any recharging of those languages from the Roman into the state wherein now they are.

this point, without either found reason or good countenance of Antiquitie.

But it is become a queltion onely of some late fearchers of Antiquity, but of luch, as determine in 60 and Bargundians language was, by the confent of learned men, the Germane tongue, which hath 50

* Irenic. Eveg. Germ.41.0.31 La us.l.10.de Migration.Gent Gorop. Origin. Antwerp. 1.7. Gefner, in Mithridate. Rhen. n but imall affinitie or agreement with either the Italian, French or Spanish tongues. Secondly, belib ... Rer. Germ. cause among all the auncient writers (and they are many) which have written of the miserable Leonelau, in Pandelt.Turrie. 571.0 Aly multi.

Ifider Origin.

Tertul in Aro.

Ĺ,9.c.r.

Cap.6.

Objections. touching the and the beginning of the mentioned

Here reasons perhaps (toyned with the other abone alleadged, whereby I endeuoured to I proue that the Latine tongue perfectly ipoken, was never the vulgar language of the Raman Provinces) may persiwade you as they have done mee, that the barbarous Nations of the North, were not the first corrupters of the Latine tongue, in the Provinces subject to Rome, nor the beginners of the Isalian, French and Spanish tongues: yet some difficulties I finde (I conteste) in writers touching these points, which when I have resolved my opinion will appeare the

CHAP. 12.

One is out of *Platace*b in his Platonique questions, affirming that in his time all men in a man- Plata in quest. ner spake the Latine tongue.

Another before touched that Strabo recordeth the Roman tongue to have beene spoken in Spaine and France, and Apuleius in Africke, which also may appeare by fundry places in Augu-Spaine and France, and Apuleius in Africke, which also may appeare by undry spaces in Angalas Stub. 1.3.0 4. 10 fine, whose Sermons Iceme (as () priori also) to have bin made to the people in that Apul. Asia. Included.

A third, how it falleth if thele vulgar tongues of adulterate latin be fo ancient, that nothing is language. found writteninany of them of any great antiquity ?

A fourth, how in Rome and Latium, where the Latine tongue was out of question, native, the latine could fo degenerate, as at this day is found in the Italian tongue, except by fome forraine

To the first of these I answere, either, that as Dinines are wont to interpret many, generall propositions; Platarch is to be vn.leritood de generibus singulorum, not de singulis generum : So that the Latine tongue was ipoken almost in euery Nation, but not of euery one in any forraine Nati-20 on: Orelle, that they ipake the Latine indeede, but yet unperfectly and corropely, as their tongues would frame to veter it. To the second I answere: first, that Strabo speakets not generally of France or Spaine, bu: with limitation to certaine parts of both, the Prouince of Narbon in France, and the Tract about Batis in Spaine. Secondly, that although they speakeit, yet it followeth not, that they speake it perfeetly and aright (except perhaps in the Colonies) to that I will not deny but it might be spoken abroad in the Prouinces, yet I lay it was spoken corruptly, according as the peoples tongues would fashion to it, namely in such fort, that although the matter and body of the words, were for the most part Latine, yet the forme, and found of them varied from the right pronouncing: which speech not with standing was named Letin, partly for the reason now touched, and partly 30 because they learned it from the Romanes or Latines, as the Spaniar dicall their language Romanes; till this day, which yet we know to differ much from the right Roman Tongue : and as Nather - Nithode differs dm (Nephew to Charler the Great) in his Huborie of the diffention of the fonnes of Ludonicm Pyl.3. Pins called the French then vivill (whereof hee letteth downe examples) the Romane Tongue, which yet hath no more agreement with the Latine then the French hath that is now in vice. Antesia, in Iti-Thirdly, to the obiection of Cyprians and Augustines preaching in Latine, I answere that both areas Plantas a Hippe, whereof Angustine was Bithop, and Caribage, whereof (prian was Archbishop, were in Estate and Caa Hippo, whereot Angustine was Dunop, and Caronage, whereout press of Montal Colonies, conditing for the most part of the progenie of Romans, for which fort of Ciapina, see His. ties, there was speciall reason. Although neither in the Colonies themselues (as it seemeth) the Roman tongue was altogether vincotrupt, both for that I alleadged before out of Spartianus of Villam I. Ap-40 Seneral his lifter dwelling at Lepise, and for that which I remembred out of Assailine for Hippo, pient as Bel. where they fpake . Offern and Flories, and Dolus, for Os and Florebn and dolor (and yet were Paniss is fine. both Leptu and Hippo Roman Colonies:) And yet it appeareth further by Augustine, that in chadedector. their translations of the Scriptures, and in the Pfalmes lung in their Churches, they had thelecor-ruptions, where yet (as it is like) their most corrupt and vulgar Latine had not place. To the third I answere, that two reasons of it may be assigned : One, that learned men would one me. rather write, in the learned and grammaticall, then in the vulgar and provincial Latine. Another, that the workes of vulearned men would nardly continue till our times, feeing euen of the lear- "Hobad Definition" red ancient writings, but few of infinite, haue remained. Furthermore it is observed of the GirGeneval a civit maine tongue, by Tschulss and of the French by Genebrard, that it is very little about 400. yeeres, Seculit.

50 fince bookes began to be written in both thole languages, and yet it is out of all doubt, that the tongues are much ancienter. To the fourth I say, that there is no language, which of ordinary course is not subject to change, although there were no forraine occasion at all: which the very fancies of men, weary of old words (as of old things) is able enough to worke, which may be well proued by observations and inflances of former changes, in this very tongue (the Latine) whereof I now dispute. For Quin. Quintil.14 0. tilian recordeth, that the Veries of the Saliy which were fail to be composed by Numa could rate Acces. hardly be understood of their Priests, in the latter time of the Common-wealth, for the abioluteneffe of the speech. And Festus in his booke de verborum significatione, who lived in Angu- Latinelega, 60 fins Cefars time, hathleft in observation, that the Latine speech, which (laith he) is so named of Latium, was then in fuch manner changed, that fearly any part of it remained in knowledge. The Lawes also of the Roman Kings, and of the Decemani, (called the Lawes of the twelve Falu Vestanus. Tables) collected and published in their owne words by Fuluins Urfinus are no leffe eui. ad Anton ingu. dent tellimonies, if they be compared with the later Latine, of the great alteration of that delayh or e-Furtherlanguage.

d Traft.7. in lo

Furthermore, Polybem hash also recorded, that the articles of league, betwixt the people of Rome and of Carthage, made prefently after the expulsion of the Kings from Rome, could very hardly in his time be vinderstood, by reason of the old forsaken words, by any of the best skilled Antiquaries in Rome. In which time notwithstanding, they received very few strangers into their Citie, which mixture might cause such alteration, and the difference of time was but about three hundred and fifty veeres. And yet to adde one instance more, of a shorter revolution of time,

*vid.Paul.Me- and a cleerer enidence of the change, that the Roman tongue was subject to, and that, when no rad cofee. par. 2. forraine cause thereof can be alleadged : there remaineth at this day (as it is certainely recorded) 1.42.13. 5 Ed. in the Capitall at Rome, though much defaced by the iniury of time, a Pillar (they call it Co. 10 Tradat de Orig. lumnam roftratam, that is, decked with beakes of thips) dedicated to the memory of Duillins a Eng. Pulgars. Koman Confull, yoon a naude victory obtained against the Carthaginians, in the first Punicke warre, not paft one hundred and fifty yeeres before Cueroes time, when the Roman tongue afcended to the highest flourish of Elegancie, that ever it obtained: And thus the words of the Pillar are (those that may be read) as I finde them observed, with the later Latine vinder them. Exemet, Leciones, Macifratos. Castreis. Exfociont. Pucnandod. Cepet. Eng., Nauebos. Marid Exemit. Legiones. Magistraius, Cafris. Effugiunt. Pugnando. Cepit. Ing. Nauibus, Mari. Confol. Primos. Ornauct. Nauebons. Clafeu. Panicas. Sumas. Cartacinienfis. Dictatored. Alted. Conful, Primus, Ornauit, Nauibus, Claffes, Punicas, Summas, Carthaginienfis, Dictatore, Alto Socieis. Triresmos. Naucis. Captom. Numei. Naualed. Pradad. Poplo, &c. Socies. Triremes, Naues, Captum, Nummi, Nauals, Prada, Populo, &c.

Where you fee in many words, e. for i. e. for g. o. for u. and sometime for e. and d. superflucusly added to the end of many words. But (to let forraigne tongues passe) of the great alteration that time is wont to work in languages, our own tongue may afford vs examples euident enough: wherein fince the times neere after, and about the Conquelt, the change hath beene fo great, as I my telfe have feene some evidences made in the time of King Honry the first, whereof I was able to vinderstand but few words. To which purpose also, a certaine remembrance is to be found in Holimbeds Chronicle, in the end of the Conquerours raigne, in a Charter given by him to the Citie of London.

Of the ancient Languages of frique. Chap.7.

BVt if the discourse of these points of Antiquitie, in handling whereof I have declared, that 30 while the Roman Empire Mourished, it never abolished the vulgar languages, in France, or Spaine, or Afrique, how ideuer in Italie. It that discourse I say, moue in you perhaps a desire, to know what the ancient vulgar languages of those parts were: will also in that point, out of my, reading and fearch into Antiquitie, give you the best satisfaction that I can-

And first for Italie: Certaine it is, that many were the ancient tongues in the feuerall Prouinces of it, tongues I fay, not dislects, for they were many more. In Apulia, the Mesapian tongue: Inferio. v.t. prg. In Tufcanie and Vimbria, the Hetrufcan, both of them veterly perished : Yet in the booke of ancient Inscriptions, set forth by Gruter and Scaliger, there be some few Moniments registred of these languages, but not understood now of any man. In Calabria both the higher and lower, and fare along the miritime coast of the Tyrrhene Sea, the Greeke. In Latium (now Campagna di Roma) the Latine. In Lombardie, and Liguria , the old tongue of France whatfoeuer it was. Of which last three, the two former are veterly ceased to be vulgar : and the third, no where to be found in Itale, but to be fought for in some other Countrie. And although, beside these fine, wee finde mention, in ancient writings of the Sabine, the Ofcan, the Tufculan, and some other tongues in Italie, yet were they no other then differing dialects of some of the former languages, as by good observations, out of Varre, Festus, Servius, Paul. Diaconus, and others, might be easily Secondly, of France what the ancient tongue was, hath bin much disputed, and yet remaineth cipio Strab. L.4.

Caf.1.5.deBello tof med. Varre apHieren. in prefat. l.z. Comment etil.

fomewhat vncertaine: Some thinking it to have beene the Germaine, others the Greeke, and 50 cefarl 1.de Bel. fome the Walib tongue. But, if the meaning of these resoluers be, that one language, whatle Gallicin prin- focuer it were, was vulgar in all France, they are verie farre wide, Cafar and Strabo having both recorded, that there were divers languages spoken in the divers parts. But, to omit the speech of Aquitaine, which Strabo writeth to have had much affinitie with the Spariff : And, of that part (in Cafar called Belgia) that at the River of Rhene confined with Germanie, which for that neighbourhood, might partake much of the Germaine tongue: To omit those I say, the maine question is, about the language of the Celie, which as inhabiting the middle part of France, were least of all infect. with any forraine mixture. And certainely, that it was not the Greeke, appeareth out of Cejar, written to Q. Cicero, then belieged by the Gaules) in Greeke, left the Gaules should intercept his Letters. And secondly, no lesse enidently by Varro, written of the Maffilians that they spake three languages, the Roman, the Greeke, and the Gallique tongue : And thirdly, the remnants of that tongue, may ferue for instance, whereof many old words are found difperfed in ancient writers, that have no affinitie at all with the Greeke. The Greeke there. fore, was not the ancient native language of the Gaules; Norther was it the Germaine of or elle it had beene but an odde relation and reason of Cefars, that Arionistus a German Prince, had hued had beene but an odde relation and realon of Cejars, that arrows; in a vertical Prince, that must follong in Gallia, that the light the Galligue tongue: And that of Tacaus, that the Galligue tongue Galligue, Tacat, the Calling that the Calling to Company and the Calling that th proued the Gathnes tobe no Germaines: And that of Suesensus, that Calignacompelled many of gener Gamathe Gaules to learne the Germains conque. But Hostoman (of all that I have read) speaking nicht no straefiam. difficely, touching the original and composition of the French tong ie, divideth it as now it is Setting in Cali. fooken, equally into two parts, of which he supposeth the one (and I thinke it is rather the great galacter. fpoken, equally into two parts, of which ne supposent the one (and) change its retainer the great term of the part) so have originall from the Latine tongue and the other halfe, to be made up, by the term of the part) so have originally and the parts and the other halfe, to be made up, by the designations. German and Greeke, and Brutish or Walk words, each almost in equal measure. Of the ded. the Person Lat Cogon of the French words from the Greek, you may read Perionina, Postell, and others: Of those was lag 6. 3 to from the Germane, Tfchudus, Goropius, Ifacius, &c. Of the Wallb, Lhuid, Camden, &c. Which Greec P.R.L. from the Germann, I Jenaaus, Goropius, 1 Janus, etc. Of the marine language of the ancient Celle, ra- Ilétad abber. ther then either the Greeke or Dutch tongues : for of the Greeke words found in that language, the then either the Greeke or Dutch tongues : for of the Greeke words found in that language, the the then either the Greeke or Dutch tongues : for of the Greeke words found in that language, the the then either the Greeke words found in that language, the the theory is the theory of the Greeke words found in that language, the theory of the Greeke words found in that language, the theory of the Greeke words found in that language, the theory of the Greeke words found in that language, the theory of the Greeke words found in that language is the theory of the Greeke words found in that language is the theory of the Greeke words found in that language is the theory of the Greeke words found in that language is the theory of the Greeke words found in that language is the theory of the Greeke words found in that language is the theory of the Greeke words found in the Greeke words found in the Greeke words for th the neighbourhood of the Maffilians, and their Colonies, inhabiting the maritime coast of Pro- Graping ressince, together with the ready acceptance of that language in France (mentioned by Strabs) may eith. be the cause: As likewise of the Germaine words, the Franks and Burgundsons conquest, and pol- 1/ac. in Glossa be the cause: As likewise of the Germane words, the France and Europeanager conquert, and you followed the following the followi fo by Tacuns, written, that the speech of the Gaules, little dutered from that of the Brutaines. in Bertania. And thirdly, by Cefar recording, that it was the custome of the Gaules that were studious of the Site 44. 20 Druides discipline, often to pille ouer into Brittaine to be there introcted; wherefore feeing there Taurim also Draides discipline, often to pine out into Drainane to be contentioned by Cefar, it is apparent that Agricult. was no vie of bookes among them, as is in the lame place affirmed by Cefar, it is apparent that Agricult.

CHAP.12. Originall of French, Walth language of the Celtæ. Spanish, & c.

they spake the same language; Thirdly, the Spanish tongue as now it is, consisteth of the old Spanish, Latine, Gottish, and Arabique (as there is good reason it should, Spaine having beene folong, in the possessions of the Romans, Gothes, and Meores) of which, the Latine is the greatest part (next it the Arabique) and therefore they themselves call their language Rominee. And certainely I have teene an Epiffle written by a Spaniard, whereof every word was both good Latine and good Spanish, and an example of the like is to be seene in Merula. But the language of Valentia and Catalonia, an example of the like is to be feeled in Assault the French alto. Now the ancient and most ge-30 nerall language of Spaine, spoken over the Country before the Romaines conquest, seemeth to me out of queltion, to have beene the Cantabrian tongue, that namely which yet they speake in Bifcay, Gupuscoa, Nauarre, and Asturia, that is to lay, in the northerne and mountainous parts of Spaine, neere the Ocean, with which the Visconian tongue allo in Aquitaine, neere the Pyrene hils, hath as there is good reason (for out of those parts of Spaine the inhabitants of Gafcoigne came) much affinitie and agreement. And my reason for this opinion is, that in that part of Spaine, the people have ever continued without mixture of any fortaine Nation, as being neuer subdued by the Carthaginians, nor by the Moores, no, nor by the Romans (for all their long warring in Spaine before Augustus Calars time, and for the hillinesse, and barenesse, and vnpleafantnesse of the Countrie, having nothing in it, to invite strangers to dwell among 40 them, For which cause, the most ancient Nations and languages are for the most part preserved in such Countries: as by Thuesdides is specially observed, of the Ausques and Areadians, in Greece, aprinip. dwelling in barren foiles: O. which Nations the first, for their Antiquitie, vaunted of themfelues that they were during bone, and the recond, egginluss, as if they had beene bred immediately of the Earth, or borne betere the Moone. Another example whereof wee may fee in Spaine it felfe, for in the steepy Mountaines of Granata, named Alpaxarras, the progeny of the Moores yet retaine the Arabique tongue (for the Spariards call it Arauiga) which all the other remnants of the Moores in the plainer Region had vtterly forgotten and received the Caffilian ( till their late expulsion out of Spaine) for their vulgar language. The like whereof, is alio to be feene in the old Epirotike I peech and Nation, which yet continueth in the mountainous part of Epirus, be-50 ing (forthetongue) vtteily extinguished in all the Country belide. And ( to let fortaine in lances goe ) in the Britaines or Wellh-men in the hilly part of our owne Countrey. What the reafon thereof may bee I will not stand now curiously to enquire : whether that being inured to labour, to watching, to fundry diffemperatures of the aire, aid much other hardnesse (for otherwise their living will not bee gotten out of fuch barren ground ) they prove vpon occasion good and able Souldiers ! Or, that the craggy Rockes and Hills (like fortreffes of Natures owne erecting) are easily defended from fortsine Invaders ! Or that their unpleafant and fruitleffe foile, bath nothing to inuite flrangers to defire it ? Or that wanting riches, they want allo the ordinary companions of riches, that is proud and audacious hearts, to prouoke with their injuries other Nations to be reuenged on them, either by the conquett or detolation of their Countries ! But 60 whatheuer the caule may be, certainly in effect to it is, that the most ancie. Nations and Languiges, are for the most part to bee found in such empleasant and fruitlesse Regions: Infomuch that the Byfeagnes, who gave mee occa on of this digreffion, vaunt of themselves among the Spamiards, that they are the right Hidalgos, ( that is Gentlemen ) as fome also report of the Helibmen here in Brittaine to fay of themselves, which yet I that am their neighbour (to confelle 2 truth ) neutr heard them fay.

Lapyg.pag.98. lell. in Ling. Massin Gram. Syriac .. prop.
Init . Bioliand . de ration. Linguar. Schidler. in Lex Pentaelitto in voce אַרַת Galeoti de cap.de L'ug. Florin Spitom. Liu.l.51. Strab.li. citato. Palmes, wherewith that Countrey abounded : In-Lin.li.32. Plin. fomuch that in Monuments of Antiquitie, the 1.5.c.19. Appli. Palme Tree is observed for the Ensigne of Phani-I de Bel. Panicis cia: the fame Nation I fay, called themfelues, and in principio. by the Ifraelites their next neighbours, were called Curtius.1.4.6 I am able easily to proue. For first, the!fame wo-כנענים. Artas Mont. lib. man that in Mathew is named a Canaanite, is in Chanavi. c.8. roset in ac-ferip. Syrie ede made in Iofna, of the Kings of Canan, they are in Swie Nominib. the Septuagints translation named , Basinis & poi Matth 15.22. inne. 3. To put it out of question. All that Coaft, Mark 7.16.

Strab.l.16.non long, ante med. Ptotem. 1.20.4. After Diony A. Sidon Northward, is by Strabe, Plmy, Ptolomy and

Gen.10.19.

Iof -5-1.

Now lastly, touching the Punike tongue, as I am not of Galatem his opinion, that it was vtter-Galat. de fitu. 1y extinguished by the Romanes: So neither can I bee of the phantasie (for it is no better) that many other learned men are : namely , that it was the Arabite , that is to fay the fame language, that is vulgar in Afrike at this day. For it is well knowne to the skilfull in Histories, that Ling. Afric. & the Punker were of another off- prings (not of Arabian race) and that it is not yet a thousand yeeres, lince that tongue was by the Arabians, together with their victories brought into Afrike. Roccha de dia- And as certaine also it is, that the remnants of the Africans progeny, as * Leo Africanus hath recorded, hath a different language from the Arabike. But the Purile tongue seemeth to mee out of Poffell. de Ling. question, to have bin the Chanemiss or old Hebrem language, though I doubt not somewhat alte-12 in line Arab. red from the original pronuntiation, as is wont in tract of time to befall Colonies, planted among 10 ftrangers farre from home. For first Caribage it selfesthe Queene of the Cities of Afrike (and well might the be termed to, that contained in circuit 24 miles, as Florus in his abridgement of Linie hath recorded and by the vtter wall 260, furlongs (that is 45, miles ) as it is in Strabo: And held out in emulation with Rome, as is noted by Pling, 120. yeares, and to conclude (before the second Punike warre ) had in subjection all the Coast of the Mediterrane Sea, from the bottome of the greater Syrin in Afrike, to the River Ebro (Iberus ) in Spaine, which is about 2000. miles of length, that the same Carthage I lay , and divers other Cities of Afrike (of which Plany nameth Visca and Lepie, as being the principall) were Colonies of the Phanicians, and namely of the Trians, is not onely by Strabo, Mela, Linie, Plinie, Appian, and many other certaine Authors, acknowdot promifera. ledged, and by none denied, but also the very names of Pani and Punics, being but variations or 23 c.6. Salumuli mutilations of the name Phanicis import somuch, and lastly their language assureth it. For Hie-Lio Africa. rome writing that their language was growne somewhat different from the Phanician tongue, Descrip. Afr. doth manifeltly in these words imply, it had beene the same.

And what were the Phanicians but Chanaanites ? The Phanicians I fay, of whose exceeding merchandizing wee read to much in antient Histories, what were they but Chanaanites, whole very name * fignifieth Merchants ! for, the very fame Nation, that the Graciaus called Phaniciaus Strand. 17. (25/1918) and the Romans in imitation of that name Comuni,in the Greek fignifieth the Palme, for as tou-

Panes & Punices, for the exceeding store of good ching the deduction of the name Phanicia, either from אנס by Montanus, or from שנס by Postellus, tignifying the delicacy of the Inhabitants 30 by the first, and their observation or adoration of the fire, by the fecond, they are but late fprung fantalies, and have not any ground of reason at all: for as much, as in all the Hebrew writings of the Bible, Changanities. And that they were indeed no other, that Country is neuer termed by any name founding toward Phenicia, but in the Greeke onely. But in many old coynes that I have feene, I have noted the Palme Tree, as the speciall cognisance of Pha-nicia, (as I haue also the Oliue branch, and Conies Marke called a Syropanician. 2. Where mention is to be of Spaine: the Horse of Mauritania: the Elephant, or the spoile of the Elephant of Afrike : the Camellof Arabia : the Crocodile, or the Bird I'is, of 40 Egypt: and divers other specialties for other Counfrom Sidon to Azzah (that was Gaza) neere to tries: )And namely I have feene fundry old Coynes Gerar, is registred by " Moses, to have beene pofof the Emperour Vestatian, of seuerall deuices and leffed by the posteritie of Changan: Of which coast imagery, stamped for a memorial of his conquest of themore Northrene part about the promontory of ludea, and taking of lerufalem (for the Inscription is in enery of them, Judea capta) & in each of them. Carmel, or rather from the river Chorfein (Kifon the I especially observed a woman fitting in a sad and Iewes called it ) that neere the promontory of Carmournefull fashion, with hor backe to a Palme tree: mell, entreth the Sea to the Citie of Orthofia, aboue wherein, I make no doubt, but the defolate woman fignifieth Iudea, and the Palme, Phanicia, even as Mus. Deman. others, referred to Phanicia (although Strabeex. Phanicia's immediately toward the North, at the tend that name, along all the Maritime Coast of backe of Indea. Palestina also, to the confines of Egypt, as Dienysius Periegetes also doth, placing Joppa and Gaza, and Elath in Phanicia) which very tract to have been the feuerall possessions of Zidon, and Cheth, and Girgafhi, and Harki, and Aruada, and Chamathi, fix of the cleuen fonnes of Canaan ( the other five inhabiting more to the South in Palefina) they that are skilfull in the ancient Chorography of the Holy Land cannot be ignorant. Seeing therefore out of this part of the Land of Cunaan, (for in this part Tyrus was) the Carthaginians, and other Colonies of the Phanscians in Afrike Auguspolin- came, it is out of all doubt, that they were of the Chanantes progeny : and for fuch in very deed. cheat.apifad and no other, they reputed and professed themselves to be : for as Austine bath left recorded, who was borne and lived among them, the Countrey people of the Punikes, when they were asked touching themselve what they were, they would make answer that they were Channai, meaning, 60 25 Auftine himselfe doth interprete them Canaanstes.

Certain therfore it is, that the native Punike language was the Chanaanitish tongue : but that Tadded for explication this claufe ( or the old Hebrew, meaning by the old Hebrew, that which was vulgarly spoken among the lewes before the captuity ) you will perhaps suspect my credit, and bee offended, for I am not ignorant how superfliciously Diuines for the most part are affected toward the Hebren tongue yet when I had let down the Africans language to have been the Canamitif tongue, I thought good to adde for plaineffe fake ( or the old Hebrew ) because I take them indeed to bee the very fame language, and that Abraham and his posterity brought it not out of Chalden, but learned it in the Land of Chanaan. Neither is this opinion of mine, a meere piradox and fantalie, but I have * three or foure of the bolt skilled in the language and antiquities * Posel lib de of that Nation, that the later times could afford of the same minde : And certainly, by I faith Phane I.c.a. of that Nation, that the later times could another the lamb in the lamb that the names for Atha Mentit is called in direct termes, the language of Chanaan. And it is moreouer manifest, that the names tall Chanaan. of the places and Cities of Chanaan ( the old names I meane by which they were called Genetradia. before the Ifraelites dwelt in them, as is to be feene in the whole course of the Bookes of Mofes chrin an Diluto and of loft mab) were Hebrew names : touching which point, although I could produce other force - ## 131. Seeing. able reasons, such as might (except my fantalise delude mee ) vexe the best wit in the world ad fest india. able reatons, tuch as might (except my fairtain detact mey vice the detail and because I shall savae into haue in another place fitter occasion.

CH A P. 13. Punike, the same, or neere to Hebrew. Extent of Slauonian.

But to speake particularly of the Panike tongue, which hath brought vs into this discourse, and which I proued before to bee the Canaantifh language : it is not onely " in one place pronounced by Augustine (who knew it well no man better) to have neere affinitie with the Hebrew tongue, which also the * Punke wordes dispersed in the writings of Augustine, and others ( as many as come to my remembrance) proue to be true. But more effectually in another place, to agree with Aug la Jent, it in very many, yea almost in euery word. litter Petilians Which speech, feeing they could in no fort have 640-104from the Ifraelites, being not of Abrahams posteritie (both because no such transmigration of them is remembred in the holy Histories, and for that the Punke Colonies, are specially mentioned to have beene deduced from Tyre, which never came into the possession of the I fraelites ) but from the Canaanites, whose off-ipring they were : It followeth thereupon that the language of the Canaanites, was either the very fame, or exceeding neere the Hebrew. And certainly, touching the 30 difference that was betweene the Hebrew and the Punike, I make no doubt, but the great distance from their primitive habitation, and their convertation with strangers among whom they were planted, and together with both the length of time, which is wont to bring alteration to all the Languages in the World, were the causes of it. And although that Punike forech in Plantus , which is the onely continued speech of that language, that to my knowl Mut. in Page ledge remaineth extant in any Author , have no fuch great convenience with the Hebreit haft.6. tongue, yet I affore my felfe the faults and corruptions that have crept into it by many transcriptions, to have beene the cause of so great difference, by reason whereof it is much changed from what at first it was when Plante writ it , about one thousand eight hundred yeeres agoe : And foecially because in transcribing thereof there would bee so much the lesse care taken, as the language was lese understood by the Writers, and by the Readers, and so the escapes lese subject to observation and controlement. Many are the Nations that have for their vulgar Language, the Stauenilo Tongue In Europe, and some in Asia, Among which the principall in Europe are the Ofthelarge Stauenians themselves inhabiting Dalmatia and Libernia, the West Maccolonians, the nessessing Epirotes, the Bosinates, Seruians, Russians, Bulgarians, Moldanians, Podolians, Russians, Musco-Slauenish, Turnites, Bobemians, Polonians, Silesians. And in Asia the Circossians, Mangrelians, and Gazarites, languages. C.8. There I say are the principall, but they are not all : for Gefner and Roceha reckon up the names of fixtie Nations, that haueithe Slauonian tongue for their vulgar language. So, that it is knowne to Gefree in Mibe vulgarly ipoken over all the East parts of Europe (in more then a third part of the whole) even ibrid in Ling-50 to the vemost bounds of it the Rivers of Droyna and Tanau; Greece and Hungary, and Walachia Illyrica Bocche onely excepted. Indeed the Regions of Seraia, Bosina, Bulgaria, Rascin, Moldania, Russia and alcitin infines. Moscouia, namely all the Nations of the Eatterne parts, which celebrate their divine service after the Greeke Ceremony, and protesse Ecclesiasticall obedience to the Patriarch of Constantinople, writin a divers fort of Character from that of the Dalmatians, Croatians, Istrians, Polonians, Bobemians, Silesians and other Nations toward the West (both which forts of Characters are to bee feene in Postels Booke of the Otientall languages ) of which, this last is called the Dalmatian or Illyrian Character, and was of " Hieromes diviting, that other bearing for the most part much re- " Pale dela. femblance with the Greeke, is termed the Seruian Character, and was of & Cyrille muention : for Dalmet sector which cause, as Roccha hath remembred, they terme the language written in that Character in miblioth Wat-60 b Chiaritizea. But yet notwithflanding the difference of Characters in the writing of thele Na. empiric C 27 or Brechs. 15. tions, they ip-ake all of them (the difference of dialect excepted ) the fame language.

* As in the Punike tongue Salus three, Augustin. in expof. inchoat. epift. ad Roman. Heb. W. Edom, bloud. Enar. Pfalm. 136. Heb. D. Mamon, lucre, De 20 Sernam. Domain Mont. l. 2. c. 14. Heb. 1122. Bal. the Lord. Quaffin Iudic.cap.16. Heb. 502 . Samen, Heaven. Ibid. Heb. DIEW. Meffe, to annoint. Tract. 15.in loan. Heb how Alma, a Virgine. Hieronin c.7. Ifar. Heb. אנכמא. Gadir. a fence or wall. Plinie.l.4. E.12 77. and fome other that diligence might

But yet is not the Shuming tongue ( to answere your question ) for all this large extend, the sharp extend that large extend the Turbell Empire. For of the Turbell Dominion made forms the West was a few of the state of the sta vulgar language of the Turkille Empire. For of the Turks Dominion onely Epirus, the Well part of Macedon, Bosina, Seruia, Bulgaria, Rascia, and part of Thrace, and that hee hath in Dalmatia and Croacia (beside the Mengrelli in Asia ) speake vulgarly the Slanonian tongue. But no where for the more precise limitation, neither in Afia nor in Europe is that language spoken more Southward, then the North Parallel of forty degrees : some part of Epirus onely excepted : I meane it is not spoken as the vulgar language of any Nation more Southward. For else, being acceptable and vivill, as it is in the Great Turkes Serrail at Constantinople, and familiar with most of the Turkish Souldiers, by reason of their Garrisons and other great imployment in those parts toward the confines of Christian Princes, all which parts as before I said ( Hungarie and Walachis excepted ) speake that language : for these reasons I say, it is spoken by divers particular men in many places of the Turkish Dominion, and the lanizares and Of- 10 nicers for the most part can speake it, and many others also of the better fort, but yet the generall and vulgar language of his Dominion ( excepting those places afore mentioned ) it is not.

110 The Arabike, Syriake & Turkish languages where spoken. Brerewood, LIB.I.

But in Anatolia, although the old languages still remaine, being for the most part corrupt Greeke, as also in Armenia they have their peculiar language, yet is the Turkifb tongue very frequent & preuaileth in them both: which being originally none other then the Tartarian tongue, Michon At. de as Michonius, and others have observed, yet partaketh much, both of the Armenian & Perfian, by Sarmatica 15 reason of the Turkes long continuance in both those Regions, before they settled the Seat of their AMERICA MARKET DOMINION, and themselves among the Grecient, for which cause it is not without mixture of Greeke also, but chiefly and aboue all other of the Arabite, both by reason of their Religion writ- 23 ten in that language, and their training up in Schooles vnto it, as their learned tongue. And yet although the Tarkis bee well understood both in Natolia and Armenia, yet hath it neither extinguifhed the vulgar languages of those parts, neither obtained to it selfe (for ought I can by my reading find ) any peculiar Prouince at all, wherein it is become the fole native and vulgar languague, but is only a common scattered tongue, which appeareth to be so much the more euidently true, because the very Cities that haue been successiuely the Seats of the Ottaman Sultans; namely, lconium (now Cogna) in Lycaonia, then Prufa in Bitbynia; thirdly, Adrianople in Thrace; and laftly, Constantinople, are yet knowne to retaine their old native language, the Greeke tongue: Although the Turkith tongue also bee common in them all, as it is like wife in all other Greeke Cities But in the East part of Cilicia beyond the River Pyramus, as in all Syria also, and Mesoperamia and Palestina, and Arabia and Egypt, and thence Westward in all the long tract of Afrike, that extendeth from Agype to the Strait of Gibralter, I fay, in all that lieth betwixt the Mountaine Atlas, and the Mediterrane Sea ( now termed Barbary ) excepting Marocco, and here and * Policilia pen there some scattered remnants of the old Africans in the Inland parts, the Arabike tongue is be-Fit. Grammat. come the vulgar language, although somewhat corrupted and varied in dialect, as among so many seuerall Nations it is vnpoaible but it should bee. And 'although I bee farre from " their opinion, which write (too ouerlashingly) that the Arabian tongue is in vie in two third parts Picifical Rer. of the inhabited world, or in more, yet I finde that it extendeth very farre, and specially where the Religion of Mahamed is professed. For which cause ( ouer and besides the parts 40 * Bellon Obser- aboue mentioned, in which it is, as I said, become the native language) in all the Northerne part of the Turish Empire alfo, I meane that part that lyeth on the North fide of the Medi-Ofthe Syriak: terrane Sea, as likewife among the Mahumetan Tartars, it is thought not the Vulgar tougue, yet familiar with very many, both because all their Religion is written in that language, and for that " every boy that goeth to schoole is taught it, as in our Schooles they are taught Latine and Greeke : Infomuch, that all the Turkes write their owne language in Arabice Characters. So that you fee the common languages of the Turkifh Empire, to be the Slauomib, the Greeke, the Turkish, and Arabike tongues, feruing feuerally for the parts that I mentioned before.

He Spriace tongue is certainely . thought to have had beginning, in the time of the Cap-I tuitie of the lewes in Babylon, while they were mingled among the Chaldeans. In which long revolution of feuenty yeeres, the vulgar fore of the lewer forgot their owne language, and ratione MARTON began to speake the Chaldee: But yet pronouncing it amisse, and framing it somewhat to their al Biol. Reg Es- owne Countrey failtion, in notation of Points, Affixes, Consugations, and some other properties of their ancient speech , it became a mixt language of Hebrew and Chaldee : a great part tal Lexic. "To Chaldee for the substance of the wordes, but more Hebrew for the fashion, and so degenerating Gentrarille. much from both: The old and right Hebrew remaining after that time onely among the learned Chroneg and An. men, and being taught in Schooles, as among vs the learned tongues are accustomed to bee. And 3690. Bellarm. yet, after the time of our Sauiour, this language began much more to alter and to depart further, 60 La de verbo Det both from the Chaldee and Hebrew, as receiving much mixture of Greeke, some of Romane and c.4.0-15.00. Arabice wordes , as in the Talmud ( named of Jernsalem ) gathered by R. Joebanan , aratheria Die- bout three hundred yeeres after Christ, is apparent, being farre fuller of them, then more. Biblin. those parts of the Chaldes paraphrase on the holy Scriptures, which were made by

CHAP. 12. Chaldee paraphrase. Hebrew not Dulgarly Inderstood ofter Captivity. 1 11

R. Ionathan, a little before Christ, and by R. Aquila, whome they call Onkeles not

But yet certains it is, both for the great difference of the wordes themselues, which are in the Syrake tongue for the most part Chaldee, and for the diversitie of theole adherents of wordes, which they call prafixa, and faffixa, as also for the differing found of some vowels, and fundry other confiderations : Certaine it is I fay that the vulcarned lemes, whose vulgar fpeech the Syrate then was, could not understand their הפטרות & ברשות that is their lectures of Mofes and the Prophets, vied in their Synagogues in the Hebrem tongue. And that feemeth to haue beene the original reason, both of the publike speeches and declarations of 10 learned men to the people, viuall in their Synagogues on the Sabboaths, after the readings of the Law and of the Prophets, whereof in the o New Testament wee finde some mention, o Aff. 13.15. and also of the translation of Ionathan and Onkelos, and others made into their vulgar language, for that the difference betwixt the Hebrew and the Chaldee was fo great, that the tongue of the one Nation could not bee understood by the other. First, the tongues themselves, which yet remaine with vs may bee euident demonstrations, of which wee fee that one may bee skillfull in the Hebrew, and yet not understand the Chaldee, and therefore neither could they, whole speech the Chaldee then was ( although much degenerated ) vnderstand the Hebrew. Secondly, wee find that when P Exra, at the returne from the Capmitte, read the Booke of the p Nohem.ca.3. Law before the people, others were faine to interprete that which was read vnto them. And 2.78.9.

20 thirdly, the answere made to Rabliakeb, by the Officers of King Hezekyab may put it out of queftion, willing him q to speake vnto them in the Chaldee tongue, that the common people of q Reg. 1.2.42.18 Ierusalem (in whose hearing it was) might not vnderstand what was spoken. But yet it 0.26. might bee, that as at this day the Iemer vie to doe, fo also in Christs time of converting on the Earth, they might also read the Chaldee Targamin ( and certainely some + learned men af + 1 140 145 in Belfirme they did fo) toge ther with the Hebrew lectures of Mofes and the Prophets; for certaine larm. Con. 1. it is, that Ionathan Ben U ziel, had before the birth of our Sautour translated, not the Prophets 1.24.15 $.11. onely into Chaldee, for it is his Paraphrale that wee haue at this day on the Prophets, and the Language which wee now call the Syrake, was but the Iemilo Chaldee, although in the after times, by the mixture of Greeke, and many other forraine wordes it became namely, that fuch is the Tradition among the lewer, and which Galatine writeth, that 1.4.in diel os. for of that part of the Chaldee Paraphrase, which we thans, beside that of Onkelos, the beginning of Galatia de Arfor of that part of the Chaldee Paraphrane, which we found, the fetterh downe, differing one can Catholice haue in the Complateusle, and King Philips Bibles, both which hee fetterh downe, differing one Veritalizes. on the Bookes of Mofes, Onkelos is the Author; of that on Iolias, the Indees, the Booke of the Kings and of the Prophets, Ionathan. Of that on Rath, Hester, 10b, the Pfalmes, and the dee Targamen, either together with the He- serimara Prolebrew Text, or instead of it ) I may as well con- gom .. in Toma. Bookes of Salomon , R. Iofeph Cacus. brew Text, or initead or it ) I may as well comes, i.e. de inter-ceiue to bee true, as that the forraine ( Jewes, preint.) effue. dwelling in Alexandria and others parts of Egypt, in Asia also, and other Greeke Provinces a- gint. Prol. 5. broad, vied publikely in flead of the Hebrem, which now they understood not the Septua- Tertall in Apagints Greeke translation, as is euident in Tersullian : And of some others of them in the Con- logetico ca.19. stitutions of t luftiman. Which lewes for that very cause, are fundry times in the a Alts of t Novell. 146. the Apostles termed Endinger. For by that name, in the indgement of learned men, the natural u Afl.6.1.09. Gracians are not meant, which are alwayes named Extluses, not Extlused, But, the lewes dispersed Scaliz in Chron. among the Gentiles, that yied to read the Greeke Scriptures in their Synogogues.

And here shall be the period of my first Enquiry touching the Languages, and beginning of the MDCCXXXIV. And neterinal be the period in yim. Journal of the World, In discouring whereof you must be limited in fecond, concerning the forts of Religions abroad in the World. In discouring whereof you must be limited in the fecond fecond content to accept of Moderne Authors, because I am to intreste of Moderne Matters: And it manufactures. I hap to step awry where I fee no path , and can discerne but few steps afore mee, you must par- 5. 21. & Druf. don it. And yet this one thing I will promite you, that if either they that should direct mee, Presonior 1.5. missead mee not, or ( where my reason suspects that my guides wander, and I am missead) if my Annot ad All. circumspect obseruing, or diligent inquiring, may preserve mee from errour, I will not depart a Ap.6.1. haire from the way of Truth.

30 somewhat changed, from what in the times afore, and about our Saujours Incarnation it had beene ) but the Pentateuch alio : at least, if it bee true which Sixtus hath recorded, Riblioth Sartt. himselfe hath seene that translation of Iona- Syra eduto. from another in the first wordes. Which (name- 1 Vid. Salmeron. ly , touching the publike reading of the Chal- De Canonice.

L 2

CHAP.

tongues.(h.g. præfat.Gramat. Spic. Sixt. Senen. Biblioth. fancte.l.+ in voce. Thargum. Canin in prafat. Ar. Montan. de

CHAP. XIII.

Master BR BR EW OOD'S Enquiries of the Religions professed in the World: of Christians, Mahumetans, Iewes and Idolaters , with other Philosophicall speculations, and divers Annotations added.

LI Europe is possessed by Christians, except the vtmost corners of it, toward the East and the North, for the small company of Mahametans, inhabiting their 10 peculiar 'Villages about Wilnain Litunia, or the scattered remnants of Idolaters in the same Province, and in Samogitia are not worthy mentioning. But toward the North, Lappia, Scriefinia, Biarmia, Corelia, and the North part of Finmarke (all which together passe commonly vnder the name of Lapland, and make a Region about nine hundred miles in circuit) are inhabited by Idolaters : and toward the East, all the Region betwixt Tanais and Bornftbenes, along Maotis and the Euxine Sea (the true native Country of the ancient Gother) being more then twice as large as the former, and withall much better peopled, is inhabited by the Tartars, called Crimai or Pracopita, who are all Mahumetans, excepting onely a small remainder of Christians in some paris of Taurica.

But, in all the Turker Dominion that hee hath in Europe, incloied after a peninfular figure, betweene Danubins and the Sea, and containing in circuit about 2300. miles ( for Moldania, Walatrail de Lapepis chia, and Transiluania, I reckon not for the parts of his Dominion ) namely, from aboue Buda, on Danubius fide, and from Ragusa on the Sea Eastward, to the vtmost bounds of Europe, as also in Michon I.z de the Iles of the Agean Sea, Christians are mingled with Mahumetans. All which Dominion yet of the Turkes in Europe, though so much in circuit as I said, is neverthelesse (measured by Relation pa. 1.1. iquates ) no greater then Spaine, the Continent of it being no way answerable to the Circumference : both, because it runneth farre out in sharpe angles, toward the West and South, namely in Hungary and Morea, and is beside in Greece in many places extraordinarily indented with the Sea. And in his Dominion of the Turks in Europe, such is notwithstanding the mixture of Ma-* Roter Relat p. 2 bumetans with Christians, that the Christians * make two third parts at least of the Inhabitants : 30 La nei Relation. for the Turke, to that the Christians pay him his yeerely tribute (which is one fourth part of their del gran. Turco. increale, and a Saltanie for every poll) and speake nothing against the Religion and Scot of Mahu-Georgeniz, at Affilian Chi. met, permitteth them the liberty of their religion. And even in Greece it felie, although more diffo-Le de Tribatis. intestine discord, and longest groaned under the Tarks oppression) there remaine yet neuer thelesse * Chirre de flatu in * Conftantinople, the very Seat of the Turkift Empire, aboue twenty Churches of Christians, and in the Citie of Salonichi (Theffalonica) aboue thirty, whereas in the later this Mahumeteins haue but three, beside very many Churches abroad in the Prouince vinder suffragan Bishops, of whom the Metropolitan of Salonichi, hath no leffe then ten belonging to his Iuridiction, as there are Gerlach in enift. also recorded yet to remaine under the Metropolitans of Philippi, one hundred and fitty Churches: 40

But in Afrike, all the Regions in a manner, that Christian Religion had gained from Idolatry, can fix Carth.6. Mahumetanilime hath regained from Christianitie : Insomuch, that not onely the North part of Afrike, lying along the Mediterrane Sea, namely, betwixt it and the Mountaine Alla, even from Spaine to Agypt, where Christianitie sometime exceedingly flourished, as there wee reade Synodes of aboue two hundred Bishops to have been gathered, and a three hundred Catholiste Bishops to have been there expelled by Genfericus King of the Wandales: And in some one Province alone, b Zengitana by name (it is that wherein Carthage flood) to have beene one hundred lixty foure Bishops under one Metropolitan : Not onely that North part of Afrikel fay, is at this pre- 50 fent vetterly void of Christians, excepting a few Towns belonging to the King of Spaine (of which manine of A- first es Santos onely Septa and Tanger are Episcopall Cities: ) but even in all the vast Continent of Afrike, be-I as et sames of Grangs re- ing about thrice as large as Europe, there is not any Region entirely possessed by Christians, but the latinfly.c.12. Kingdome of Habisia,no, nor yet (which is more lamentable) any other where Christians are mingled, either with Mahumetans, but onely Agpt : or where with Idolaters, but the Kingdomes of & Conga and Angola: which two about one hundred twenty yeeres agoe, ann. 1491.) began first to receive Christianitie: All the rest of Afrike, being entirely governed and possessed by Christianity is Pagans or Mahumetans. To which, if I should adde those few places in Afrike afore mentioned, neere the Stratt of Gibraltar, which the Kings of Portugall and Caffile have conquered from the Moores, with the other few difperfed fortrelles, which the Portugalls hold in other places on the 60 Coast of Africe (altogether even betwixt Spaine and India are but eleven or twelve) I know not where to finde even among all the native Inhabitants of Afake, any Christians more. For, as for the large Region of Nubia , which had from the Apostles time (as is thought) profelled the Christian Faith , it hath againe aboue one hundred yeeres fince forfaken it, and embraced inflicad of its parely Mahameteinfine, and partly Idolatry, and that by the most mife-rable occasion that might benall, namely famous of the word of God through lacke of Ministers; for as Albanet hathreconted, at his bring in the King of Habafria his Court, there were Embai- Aluare, 149. fad surs out of Nabis, et intereste him for a fupoly of Mioniters, to inftruct their Nation, and repaire Cortifianitie gone to rifine among them : but were reiected. And potare the Christians of Experimenty those of the native Inhabitants, but verie few in reipret of that infinitenelle of people; where with Agept doth, and ever did abound, as being eftermed not to paffe " yooob; And, as couching the King Jome of Habafita, neither is it all Chris flians, bur great part of Gineiles, namely roward the Welt, and South bounds of it, and some popret Mibineran; toward the Eaft border: neither fo targe and spacious, as many mens relations Thomas III. de have mide it thought to be. For although I cannot affent to them, who affigne to that great Connel, gen. nex must be trought to the control of the control o this fparilly hmitterion of others, to be where) yet, neither ean I yeelde to them, who effeeme "Horat Malait greater, then the vale diminions of the Emperouse of Tarke or of Tartarie, &c. Or, to them, gur melditure that extend it from the one Tropsque to the other, and from the red Sea, almost to the West Oce. des singue mafan. For fifft, certaine it's (that I may speake a little of the limits of this Kingdome) that it at. | mi Signori. an. For mit, cereaine is (Haftward) neither within the straits of Babel mandel, nor without terand better for within those straits, along the Bay of Arabia, there is a continual ledge of Mountains, known intelligence Li 30 to be inhabited with Mores, betweet that Bay, and the dominion of Habafria: So that, onely 67 68 Abaffia one Port there is, along all that coaft (Ercece by name) where those Mountaines open to the Sea, is reduced now that at this present belongeth to it. Neither without thefe Straits doth it any where approach to a small cir. to the Ocean. All that coast, as farre as Wezanbigm, being well knowne to be inhabited with

CHARIL Christman of Egypt. Habaffia and other African Lands and Ilands. 112

And as touching the west limits of Habassa, I cannot finde by any certaine historie or relation Sommar deines (vaskilfull men may rumone what they will, and I know alto that the common Charts repre- ni Oriental ajud fent it orierwile) I cannot findel lay, that it ftretcheth beyond the River Nilm, fo farre commethit flortof the Welt Ocean. For it is knowne, that all the West banke of Nilms, from the Beter Relat $4. River of Zaire to the confines of Nubia, is possessed by the Anzieli, being an idolatrous and 13. Longe. o man-eating Nation, and libitect to a great Prince of their owne; thus then it is with the bredth do the

of the Empire of Habeffe, betwirt Estand West. And now to speake of the length of it, ly- 1 doe not think ing Northand South, neither doth it approach Northward on Natur fide, further then the South end of the Ille of Morse (Morse it felle a inhabited by Mahmerans, and the deadly enteries of many tenfine to the Kino of Habella in one on the Ses site further then above the board Seather Andrews in the Configuration of the Configuration the King of Habafia) nor on the Sea fide further then about the port of Snachem. And toward the (which yet are South, although the bounds of that Kingdome be not perfectly knowne, yet that it approach but halte three South, although the bounes or that Auguorne be not perfectly allowed in manifest, because the financial and eth nothing neere the circle of Capricorne, as both bin supposed, is most manifest, because the one of those great Kingdomes of Mornheminge, and Besometape, and fome others, are scituate betwirt Habassia foure. The Auand that circle. But, as neere as I am able to conjecture, having made the best search that I can, thors lloweth in the itineraries and relations, that are extant of those parts, the South limit of that Empire, too much as Ac palleth nonthe South parallell of fix or leven degrees at the most, where it confineth with Me- Pigefittalio, St paneer nonthe south parameter of the largenefie of that dominion, by comparing in theletimes, it with our knowne regions of Europe. It feemeth equall to Germany and France, and Spaine, and cept in milery. Italie laid together : Equall I say in dimension of ground, but nothing neere equall in habitation Beuer relatior multitude of people, which the diftemperature of that climate, and the dry battennelle of the ons of these ground, in many regions of it, will not allow. For which cause the torride parts of Afrique are by Parts are lines Pifo in Strabo resembled to a Libbards skinne, the distance of whose spots, represent the disper- death publishfednesse of habitations or townes in Afrique. But if I should absolutely fet downe the circuit of edby Gadigane, that whole dominion, I efterme the limitation of Pranfeita, nere about the truth, namely, that and out of hint that whole dominion, I effective the interaction of the state of the s closed with Mahumetans on the North, and East, and with Idolaters, on the West and South. cloied with Mahumetans on the North and East, and with nonzers, on the West and South.

Sirable.

Such then as I have declared, is the condition of Christian in the continent of Afrique: but the Presented Ref. Inhabitants of the lifes along the West coast of Afrique as namely Madera; the Canaries, the lifes congliac to of Cabo verde, and of S. Thomas, and fome other of lefte importance, are by the Portugals and Ca-A. Lians instruction, become Christian : but on the East side of Afrique, excepting onely " Zocosora, " Paw Vent.

there is no Christian Ille. Euen fuch is the state of Christians in the firme land, and the adiacent Isles of Afrique. And it Sectionals of is not much better in Afta, for excepting first the Empire of Ruffia (and yet of it, a great part is Olice, of Liolatrous, namely the region betweene the Rivers of Perhora and Ob, and some part of Permia) the Rufin Secondly, the regions of Circa flist and Mangrelia, lying along Martis and the Engine Sea, from Christianic, 60 Tanais East ward as farre as the River Phasis. Thirdly, the Province of Georgia, and four hly the Mountaine Lidanus in Spria (and yet the last of these is of the Turker Dominion) excepting these tew I fay, there is not any region in all Aff., where Christians live feuerall, without mixture, e:ther of Mahumetans or of Pagans, for although Variatin a man well experienced in some parts 1400 all it is to of the orient (as being Bishop of Acon and the Popes Legate in the East, at what time Palestina Historient of

Of the fundry parts of the Wirld inhabited by Christians Chap 10. M chow. de Sarmatial.z.c.2. Boem de Mo, ib gent.1.3.c.7. . Boter Relat. Par. 3.1.1. Ziegltr.m Schondia e.de Lap; enia.Da-

Sarmitia.c.s.

Ecclefior non Cornal hath ad Crus Turce of Albens, as many : Of Corintb one hundred, together with fundry fuffragan Bishops vnd er each cracia lorg. of them.

2 Mariin Polon. b Vict.1.1.de Perfecut. Van-Regni Congenf. 114

Since the Tartarian times Chaffimiria is necre extire pare out of والمراه and Syria were in the hands of Christians) hithlest registred, that the Christians of the Easterlie parts of Afia, exceeded in multitude the Christians of the Greeke and Latine Churches e vet in his time (for he writ almost foure hundred yeeres agoe) Christianitie began to decline, and fince his time, it hath proceeded infinitely to decay, in all those parts of affect first, by the inundation on of the Idolatrous Tartars, who subdued all those Regions, and after by the intertayning of Mahametanifine in many of them. The time was indeede, (and but about four hundred yeeres agoe) when the King of Tenduc, whom the hillories of those times name Presbyter lehannes a Chris ftian, but a Nellorian Prince, tuled farre and wide, in the North-east part of Asia: as having vnder his dominion, befide Tendue, (which was his owne native and peculiar Kingdome) all the neighbouring Prouinces, which were at that time for a great part, Christian : but after that his iq Empire was brought to ruine, and he subdued by Chingia rebell of his owne Dominion (and the first founder of the Tartarian Empire) which happened about the yeere gree the state of Chriftian Religion became in fhore time ftrangely altered in those parts, for I finde in Marcus Panius who lived within fiftie yeeres after Virriacm, and was a man of more experience in those parts. then he , as having fpent feuenteene veeres together in Tierterie , partly in the Emperours Court, and partly in trauailing over those Regions , about the Emperors affaires , that except the Prouince of Tendre , which as I laid was the Kingdome of Presbyter lobus relidence (for it was the Prince of that Kingdome, which is rightly and vivally, by the ancienter Historians named * Presbyter lobs, how foeuer the mistaking fantalies of ma- . * For Sealigers, imagination, thetic was the ny, haue transported it out of Min into Africke and by King of the Habes first, that inlarged his Do-errour bestowed it on the King of Habes State mission for farre, in the North-cast of Min ill errour bestowed it on the King of Habaffia) except that errour bestowed it on the King of Habrilla) except that he was diluen into Africh's the Tatar, hash Preuince of Tenduc I (ay, where 'Marcus Paulus cop- seither any foundation as all inhilitorie, not felfeth the greater part , to have professed the Christian probabilisie in reason. Namely these King in Religion at his being in Tartarie, the reft of the Inhabitants, being partly Mahumetens , and partly Idulaters ; of all afte from him, and there hold refidence in all the other Prouinces of those parts beside, that, hee. obferneth the Christians to bee but few, as namely in the Propper tobs of Afa, that her was a Noftori-Kingdomes of a Tanguib, of b Chinchintales, of Succuir, of c Caraiam, of Caffar , of c Carcham, of f Ergimult, of & Corgain, of Egrigas, and in the other Regions.

Paul Venet ..

Scrieger.de Exceedat. sempor L7.AM. not in comput. Etitop.

2 Utriac.Hi-Apr Orient c.78 Otho Phrifing: #(1.7 c.33.5 b L.I.c.45. c L.t.c.47. d L.t.c.43. e L.z.c.39. f L.1.c.18. g L.1.c.40. h L.1.c.61. I L. 1.6.62. k L.z.c61. 1 L.z.c.64.

of Tartorie mentioning no Christians at all. Two Cities those of the bild, was necessively say, onely I finde in him excepted, the one was a Cingiangifu acc. Scaliger himselfe in his later edition, in Mangs, (that is China) where hee noteth, that many hatbakesel his concelle.

Chriftians dwelt, and the other ! Quiefe, in which later yet, (although the greatest Citie in the world) he hath recorded to bee found but one Church of Christians. But these places excepted before mentioned. I can finde no certaine relation, neither in Paul Veneus, nor any other, of any Christians of the natine Inhabitants, in all the East of Asia, but idolatrie keepeth still her olde postession, and overspreadethall.

Afriche fhould fubdue the moft diffant parce

all the Regions betwirt belonging to other

Princes. Mereouer it is certainly knowne of an, whereas her of Habafia was , and ftill is alacobite, Belides, it hat a beene recordes from time to time , of the Christians of He-

But yet indeede, in the more Southerly parts of Afia (especially in those where Christianitie was first planted, and had taken deepest roote) as Natehn, Syria, Paleitine, Chalden, Offria, Mer 40 Sopotamia, Armenia, Media, Perfia, the North part of Arabia, and the South of India, Christians are not onely to be found, but in certaine of those Regions, as in Natolia, Armenia, Syria, Me-Sopotamia, Somewhat thicke mingled with Mahumetans : as they are also in the South of India not farre from the Promoniorie of Comoryn, in force regionable number, in the Kingdome of Com san, of Cranganor, and of Choromandel, but mingled with Idolaters. But yet, is not this mixture of Christians with them of other Religions , in any part of Afia, after the proportion of their mixture in Europe (where I observed the Christians to make the prevayling number) but they are farre inferiour to the multitude of the Mahametans, and of the Idolaters, among whom they are mingled, and yet touching their number, decrease every day, in all the parts aforesaid, India one-Iv excepted. Where fince the Portugals held Goa (which they have erected into an Archbisho- 10 pricke) and entertayned Malabar, and someother parts of India, what with commerce, and what with amitie, the number of Christians is greatly multiplied, in fundrie places of that Region, but yet not to, as to compare in any fort with the Mahametans, and much leffe with the Idolaters among whom they live.

Thus it is with Christians in the firme land of Afia: but in the Ilands about Afia, Christianitie is as yet but a tender plant; for although it hath made fome entrance into the Isles called Philippia mas, namely into thirty of them, for lo many onely of 11000 termed by that name, are subject to the King of Spain. Th. lef. de Conu. gans. l. z.c. 1. by the industry of the Caffelians, as also by the preaching of the Portugali, into Ormaz in the Bay of Porha, and into Ceilan in the Sea of India, and fome few other of the infinite multitude of Islands, disperied in that Eisterne Sea, yet hath it hitherto go found in all those places, rather some faire beginning, then any great proceeding. Onely in /aponio Christianity hath obtained (notwithstanding many hinderances and oppositions) more prosperous successe. Insomuch that many yeeres since, there were recorded to haue treene by estimation, about $ 200000. Christians in laponia.

. Plat de Bons. Stat Relig 1.2.

CHAP. 13. The Christians in America, and sheir poore Christianity. Brerewood. 115

HONDIVS his Map of the Christian World.

Laffly, in America, there be foure large regions, and shole of the most fruitfull and populous Ordat tudens AO part of it, possessed and governed by the Spaniards, that is, Nuena Espano, Castilla del Ore (other apella lefuites wife termed Nacho Reine) Peru, and part of Brafi, the first three, by the Cafilians, and the tourth, can open their by the Peringal, all which together, may by eltimation, make a Region as large as Europa. In mouths wide by the Peringal, all which together, may by elitimation, make a together and Europe. In in extelling, which, as also in the Islands, specially in the greater Islands of Hispanicla, Cuba, Iamaica, and Puther owne exerto-rice, he Christier Region is so largely spred, that one hath prelumed, to equall in a manner, points. the Christians of America, to those of the Latine Church in Europe : And another, hath left Thefers.veers reworded, that within a few yeeres after the entrancepf the Gofpell among them, there were no Christianishath leffe then feuen Millions, or as others reported foureteene Millions, that in the Sacrament of Baptilme had given their names to Chrift. But especially in the Kingdome of Mexico (or Numa Efpanna) Christian Religion obtained that plentifull and prosperous successe, that we finde recorded of fundry of the Preachers, emploied about the connection of that people, that they haptiled each inchescric. An. or nunery of the Frenchers, emphotoacota that in few yeeres: Infomuch that as is storied by Surius) 1519. Je is cope found among the records of Charles the fife, that fome old Prieft hath baptiled 700000. another 30000, and certaine others very great multitudes. But yet, what matter of Christians Videpil Petrs many of those profesives were, I am loath to remember, or report (and it may be by this time, they Guiden in Com. are better affected and instructed then they were) for certainly, Ouiedo, and Benzo, men that had sedant advitam long lived, and were well experienced in those parts, have left recorded, the first of Caba, that S. Frantiff ate there was fearce any one, or but very few, that willingly became Christians, and both Ouede of spinerare them, and Benze of the Christians of Nature Effanne, that they had nothing almost belonging to line Being are Christianitie, but onely the bare name of Christians, being forterly mindeleffe, and carelelle of Ouice Hifter. 60 Chirikian religion, that they remembred not any thing of the couerant and profession, they made Ind. Occident. in their baptilme : Onely they kept in minde, the name they received then, which very name 11744 in their baptilme: Onely they kept in minde, the name they received then, which very name Berning. Most. allo, they forgot foone after. But all the rest of America, except the regions after mentioned, Orbitaria, which compared to the parts postested by the Castinans and Portugals (to make estimation by the See Salace Maps that we have of thole regions for the North and West coasts of America, are not yet per- claustic fectly discouered) may be as fix to one, is possessed by Idolaters.

backward. See 1.5.6.2.00/ 10 6.2 Amand. Zirici

Olih parts of log thewest filed by Ma. buner-B.Cb.11 The Religious of he World brou ;ht to" generalikinds.

a Mathia Mi-

Auing declared the mapplitude of Chirifing titel lyvill proceed to their the flate of other Re-Ligions in the World, and with all, what parts of it, the Profesiours of those Religions doe feuerally inhabit; and laftly, what proportion they may have each to other, and all of them to Christians. To indeuour therefore your fatisfaction in this behalfe. There are foure forts or fects of R. ligion, observed in the fundrie Regions of the World. Namely, Idolatry, Mahumetanifme, Indusme, and Christianitie. Of Christians I haue alreadie spoken : now therefore will I relate four cheads or for your better contentment, of the other three; and first of Mahumetans.

Mahumetans then possesse in Europe, as I said before (having in that part but small mixture of Christians (all the Region betwixt Tanais and Beristbenes (Don and Nieper they are now called) being about a twentieth part of Europe: befide a some Villages in Lituania about Wilna, where the chou de Sarmat. wie of their Religion is by the King of Poland permitted them, for in Greece, Macedon, Thrace, Bulgaria, Rafeia, Sernia, Bofina, Epirus, the greatest part of Hungaria, and some part of Dalmatia (which may be together about one fourteenth part of Europe) although the gouernment be wholy the Turkes, yet Mahametans scarcely passe one third part of the Inhabitants.

b They reach the River of e.13.ashkawife 9.c.13. iur her then our Author hath rela-

But in Afrique, Mahumetanifme is ipread exceeding farre; for first to consider the maritime Coaft ilt poffeffeth all the shoare of the Atlantique Ocean, from Cape Blance b to the Strait of to and beyond Gibralter, being about 1100. miles. Secondly, on the shoare of the Mediterraine, all from that Strait to Egypt, about 2400 miles, excepting onely on the one Coast, and on the other, some seven Townes, in the possession of the Spaniards. Thirdly, on the East side of Afrike, all the Coast of the Bay of Arabia, even from Suzz to Cape Gardafu, about 1600. miles, excepting onely one Port (Eroce) being of the Dominion of the King of Habaffia. And thence (doubling that Cape) Sofala Santo I. Southward, all the shoare of the Ethiopique Sca, as farre as Mozambigne (that is ouer against the middest of Madagascar) about 1800. miles. And in all the Coasts of Africe hitherto mentioned, being altogether about 7000, miles (that is, by some excesse more then halfe the circumference of Afrike) he Profesiors of Mahumeds Religion , have both possession and dominion, together with the & Maritime parts, of the great He of Madagascar, and many other Hands along the Coast of Afrike.

c Paul Venet I. Linfchet Lt. c.3.

tcd.

And yet, even beyond Mozambique also as farre as to the Cape das Corrientes, it is under the Circle of Capricorne) although they have there no rule, yet they are found mingled with Idolaters. But yet neuercheleste, observed it is, that along the East shoare of Africe, namely from 3d Suachem to Mozambique (being towards 3000. miles of the mentioned Coast) Mahumetans posfeffe onely the Margent of the Land, on the Sea shoare, and have gotten but little footing in the Inland parts, except in the Kingdomes of Dangali and Adel, confining together, the first within and the second without the Strait of Babel Mandel, which yet are but small Provinces. And this also (to extenuate their number) is also true, that from the Kingdome of Adel, and Cape Guardafu, to Moz, ambique, there is found among the Mahametans, fome mixture of Idolaters, although the Dominion be onely in the Mahametaus hands.

But yet on the North and West parts of Afrike, it is farre otherwise , and farre worse : Mabumetavifme hauing ouer-fpreadul the maine Land of Afice, betweene the Mediterrane Sea. and the great River Alger and along the course of Milan, as farre as the He of Meter, which lieth alibabout the fame parallel with the River Niger, and is poff flet by Mahametani. And yet & beyond Niger alfo, it hath inuaded and obtained all the Kingdoms of the Nigriter that border on that River. So that all Barbarie and Biled-elgerid, and Libya deferte, and the Region of Negroes, are become of that Religion. Excepting firit some Maritime parts toward the Atlantique Sea, namely from Cape Blanco Southward, which are inhabited by Gentiler. Secondly, the Kingdome of Borno, and some part of Nubia : And thirdly, certaine scattered multitudes of the olde African Progenie, that still retaine their ancient Gentiffine, and are found in divers places heere and there in the Mountaines and wilder parts of Barbare, of Biled-elgerid, and of Libra. Thefe I fay, being excepted, all Africe belide, from the Mediterraine Sea, formewhat more Southward then the River Niger, is over spread with Mahumetans which (adding these before mentioned, 50 along the East Coast of Libiopia) may by estimation, take vp foure mine parts of Afrique.

And yet in Afia, Matumatifus is farther fored, being imbraced and maintained chiefly, by foure mightie Nations, namely, the Arabians, Perfians, Tarkes, and Tartars. . Arabia was inbuthis gremest deed the Neft, that bred and foftered that vncleane Bird, and had it beene the Cage allo, for over to enclose it, it had beene but too much space and libertie, for Arabia is in circuit above 4000miles, and except a small mixture of Christians in Etter, f a Port Towne toward the inmoft Angle of the Bay of Arabia; and Para (Krac now it is called) a mid-land Towne; and two Monasteries about the Hill of Smai, all is possessed with Mabametans. But from Arabia that his fonnes, See poylon hath in fuch fore difperfed it felfe through the veines of Afia, that neere the one halfe, is at this day corrupted by it. For although it hath not hitherto attained to the Nerth Coaft of A. 60. partly by Idolaters from Pechors to the East Ocean : nor yet to the East Coast , which from the most Northerly part of Tartary, to the most Southerly part of India & (except some few places in the Kingdome of Sien) Idolaters in like fort generally obtaine ; yet neuertheleffe , it is as I

e The Mogel as great a : ? : Prince 25 all Religions, melans : Yes

thele, permits and best Souldiers ace complaces of 18. g Batera Rel p.3.

faid, namely, that a very great part of Asia is infected with that petitlence. For first, all the Southerly Coaft of Afia, from the Bay of Arabia to the River Indus, is postelled by Mahumetans: and if we proceed further along that shoare, even beyond the River of Indus allo, the great Kingdomes of Cambaya and Bengala, for a great part of them, and about one fourth part of the Inhatants of Malabar, are observed to be Mahumerans. And secondly, to consider the Inland parts: all from the Westerly bounds of Afra, namely the River Tanais, with the Enxine, Agean, and Mediterrane Seas, as farre Eastward , as the Mountaine Imam (which is more then hille the length of Afia, is possessed by them : Except, firathe h Kirgeffi neere Imam, who are Idela- h Gasquin, defer. ters; and fecondly, the mixture of Christians among them, who yet have very small proportion Tasta in Kir-10 (for their multitude) to Mahametans, in any Prounce, of all the mentioned wast circuit, for how. Militam Handa. focuer Burchardus about 320. yeeres agoe, hath left recorded of those parts of Affa, that there were to be found in them thirtie Christians for one Mabametan, Defer, ter. fantt. pag. 2.c. 2.5 9. yet certainly, that in these present times the excesse of multitude is growne great on the Mahumetans fide in respect of Christians, the experience of many putreth out of question. And if we shall proceed yet further Eastward in the In-land parts of Afia, and passe in our speculation, i Paul Vene La byond the Mountaine Imam, euen there also sundry Prouinces are observed, as i Peim, Cotam, 6-41-43-43. Lop, where Mahumetans are the maine and fole Inhabitants, and many more, & Caffar, Car. & Iddi: 4.38.40 Lop, where Mahumetans are the maine and too timatorens, and many more, - aging a 47.62.63.64. cham, Chischneilus, Targonb, Ergonul, Cerguib, Tenduc, &c. where they are mingled among I. dolaters, which may for a great part, countermale those Regions of Afia, which Christians and 20 Idolaters take vpon this fide that Mountaine, So that, in my estimation, having about these points conferred Hiltorie with Geographie in the most circumspect and considerate manner that I was able, about nine parts of twentie of Asa are policifed by Mahumetans.

Thus then is Mabametanifme spread over the one halfe almost of the firme Land of Asia. And vet moreouer in the Ilands alio that are about Afia, that Religion hath found large entertain- 1Nical de conciyet moreout in the inaliance of the small I lies of Maliduna, namely those of them that Piezineile nder. are inhabited (for they are about 7000. in all, and most without habitation) are possessed with Barbot at Ka-Mahametans, but moreover, all the Ports of the Ile of Ceilan (except Colombo which the Ports - mal Vois de gals have, the Sea Coafts of Sumarra, the Port of Iana, with the Ile of Sunda, the Ports of Ban- Vaster, 315. gals have, the Sea Coarts of Sumaira, the Forton James, with the Lands of Maba-318,314.

Of the great spreading and inlargement of which Religion, if the causes were demanded of metan. me, I should make answere, that beside the Iustice of Almightie God, punishing by that violent Sec a perfecter and wicked Sect, the finnes of Christians (for we fee that by the Conquelts of the Arabians, and Relations) the and wicked Sect, the names of Charles and Wicked Sect, the antiflied, both in Afrike and Afra, and parciy in Europe) one cause I say, of the large spreading of their Religion, is the large spreading of their victories. For it hach euer beene the condition of the conquered, to follow for the most part the Religion = of the Conquerours. A second, their m Christian peremptorie restraint (euen on the paine of death) of all disputation touching their Religion, and Religion (to perempton returning the first function of the fludie of Philosophy, by flow the calling any point of it into question. A third, their supprellion of the studie of Philosophy, by power and taking any point of the groffender and variety of many parts of their Religion might be difficult wildows of the groffender and variety of many parts of their Religion might be difficult wildows of the groffender and the party in the groffender and for but it including the groffender and the groffender and for their party in the groffender and the groff red, which is inhibited to be taught in their Vniuerfities, and fo hath beene, about these foure Christ hath hundred yeeres, whereas till then, it greatly flourished among them, in Cordona, in Fez, in Ma. contractivities nunarea yerres, what a do ther Cities. And yet, as Bellonia and others write, the Timber fall conquered the recebs, in Bagded, and other Cities. And yet, as Bellonia and other write, the Timber fall conquered the recebs, in Bagded, and other Cities. And yet, as Bellonia and other Cities. And yet, as Bellonia and other fall of the Conquered the Conquered the Conquered the Confidence of th now againe, to those studies afresh. a A fourth cause may well be assigned, the sensual libertie And by this allowed by 1t, namely to haue many Wives, and the like promile of fenfual pleatures, to fucceed means, the after this life (to the Religious observers of it) in Paradile wherewith men for the greatest part, Gotis, Honnes as beeing of things wherewith their fense is affected, and whereof they have had certaine Vandais, experience, are more allured and perfusaded, then with promise of fighting delaying. Francis, Samera, fented only to their boots, and for which orefent and fentible pleasures must be the more time. fented only to their hopes, and for which prefent and tentible pleasures must in the meane time . D. mer. and o-

50 be forfaken. of Christians, haueyet beene conquered by their Religion: A grace denyed Saracenicall Conquests, because almost all the Nations which now are Mehametan, were before in partor wholly Christians, but rather in Faith then Workes: to which sigevations which now are maximum and more experience in partor whosy Christians, but rather in Faith then Workers townschained the Church, and Papall Superthion within, the one proteiling moralistic of Workers without Faithin him which is, the may the truth and the the Church, on that fundamentall Eath of the Trinitie Incaration, &c. building their hay and flubble of mil-worfbpp and merits of Workes: the one wholly excluding Christianitie, the other corrupoutlangther hay and thiodeof it is respinges and merits of worsest the one whosy excluding Unfillmatic, the cutter corrupting it, both in flexed of that great miffering feelingfle, our lathication by faith in Child, obtunding man mortalitie, and a righteon flexes of the confidence of cover, even therefore write; confidence is also, Official 3.1.0. Georgiants, Lad. 7(th.). Therefore, the States at the fifth were so farrefrom receding Philosophic and Arts, that within the sift of Sectify Fers his Secapio, Lo. The Structure 3.1. hundred yeeres after the Hegira, they there most flourished, and Abilquald Iacob Almansor (whose Captaines conquered Space) erected and endowed eightie two Colledges for Arts, as many Hospitals, and aboue fine hundred Melgouts: Humlefie best wed 60 euery Thursday in hearing disputations, and in his Libratie which contayined fine and fittle thousand Bookes. And after the Barbarian Delige Christians recoursed lost learning by helpe of Arabs.

Of the fundrie ted by Id la-

Boter re'at p.3.

Li.c.Lithania.

7.c.de Borne

Ethiap.c.30

r Les Afric I.I.

s.de virys Afror.

Now touching Idulaters, they possession in Europe, a Region as I before observed, about 900, miles in circuit (although the ordnary Geographicall Charts represent it (but falsly) more World inhabit then twice so large, containing Lappia, Corelia, Biarmia, Scriefinia, and the North part of Finumech. All which together, may by estimation make about one fixtieth part of Europe, or a little more, more I meane in magnitude rather then in multitude, for it is indeed a little greater then fo. Befide which Provinces, there are also to bee found in divers places of o Lituania, and Samagotia. rib gent. 1.3.c.7. fome feattered remnants of Idolaters.

But in Afrike their multitude is very great, for from Cape Blanco on the Coast of Libya, the most Westerly point of all Afrike (being about the North latitude of twenty degrees) even all to the Coast of Afrike Southward, to the Cape of Buena Esperanza: And thence turning by the backeof Africe, 25 farre as the Cape of Mozambique, being (ouer against the middest of Mada. gafcar) in the South latitude of fifteene degrees : all this Coast I fay, being not much leffe, then halfe the Circumference of Afrike, is inhabited by Idolaters. Onely, on the East side, from Mozambique to Cape de Corrientes (which is the South latitude of twentie foure degrees) they are mingled with Mahametans: And on the West side, in the Kingdome of Congo, and the North part of Angela, with Christians : But yet in both these places of their mixture, Idolaters are the

But now, if we consider the Inland Region of Afrike, all betweene the River Nilse, and the Well Sea of Ethiopia, from about the North parallel of ten degrees, to the South parallel of fix or feuen degrees, but from that parallel of fixe or feuen degrees, euen all Ætbiopia Southward on both the fides of Nilm, from the East Sea of Æthiopia, to the West, euen to the most Southerly point of all Africe, the Cape of Buona Speranza, is possessed by Idolaters : excepting onely fome part of Congo and Angola afore mentioned, toward the West Sea, inhabited by Christians, and the vemost shoare of the East Sea, from Mozambique Northward, which is replenished with Mabametans : And yet, beside all the Regions before mentioned, euen all the Kingdome of p Les Afitems, P Borne, and a great part a of Nubra is posselled by them; to speake nothing of the infinite multitudes of the ancient Africans, difperfed in fundry Tracts of Barbary, of Biled-elgerid, and of Libya Deferta, which still continue in their ancient Paganisme. So that (ouer and beside these lait) very neere about halfe Afrike, is postested by Idolaters. Aluarez. hift.

And yet in Asia Idolaters abound more then in Afrike, euen as Asia is larger then Afrike for 30 the Continent, and for the people, better inhabited; for of Asia also, very neere about the one halfe, or rather a little more is possessed by Idolaters. For first, if we consider the Maritime parts, all from the River of Fechora, Eastward to the Ocean, and then turning downward, to the most Southerly point of India (and of all Asia) the Cape of Cincapura, and from that point returning Wellward, by the South Coaft, to the Out-lets of the River Indu, all that Maritime Tract I fay, is entirely possessed by Idolaters. Sauing onely, that in the neerer part of India, betweene Indus and Ganges, there is among them some mixture both of Mabumetans and Christians: and in the further part, the Citie and Territorie of Malacca, is held by Portugals, and some part of the Sea Coast of the Kingdome of Siam, by Moores. So that by this account, a good deale more then halfe the circumterence of Asia, is possessed by Idelaters. And , although in the In-land parts their proportion be somewhat lesse, then in the Maritime, yet if we consider well, the whole dimention of Asia, we shall find by good estimation, as before I said, that the one halfe, or rather a little more, is replensified with Idolaters: for the better declaring of which point, you may Streb 1.2. Ptol. in vinder Hand, that as Strabo and Ptolomie, have observed, of the Mountaine Taurin, that beginning in the Well parts of Afia (in the Confines of Lycia and Pamphilia over against the Chelidonian Iles) it runneth Eastward even to the Ocean, keeping betweene the parallels of thirty and forty degrees, and so deciding the North part of Asia from the South. Even so must we observe of the Mountaine & Imass that beginning on the shoare of the North Ocean, it runneth along through the middeft of Afia to the South, keeping still about the lame Meridian, namely about the longitule of 130. degrees, and croffing (at right Angles in a manner) the Mountaine Taurus (a deuideth the East part of Afia from the Welt Imaus, therfore in this fort dividing Afia into two pares, not much vnequall, divideth also in a manner, betweene the Idolaters and Mahumetans of Asia, for although the hither part of Asia, West of Imaus, and possessed of Mahumetans, take vp f Vid. Ptol. in tab.gener.Afia.

> But, if withall we subtract those parts of the hither Afia, that are covered with the Persian and Caspian Seas, beside large parts of the Enzine and Mediterrane, the turther Asia (I thinke) will fully equallit. Now, although many Mahumetans be also found on the other fide of Imaus, toward the North-east of Afia, both feuerall in fundry Prouinces, and otherwise mingled with I- 60 dolaters or Christians, or with both, as before was partly observed : Yet many more whole Regions of Idolaters (to countervaile those Mahumeians) are found on this fide Imana, both toward the South, in the Kingdomes of the neerer India, and toward the North, betwixt Imam and the more in the longitude of the Earth, namely East and West : yet the further part East of Imams, spreadeth more in latitude, North and South, which may make some recompence toward that River Pechora, all which Coast of Affa is inhabited by Idolaters. And lastly, in the middest betwixt both, the Kirgess, and some other of their Neighbour Nations. And not onely in the firme land of Afia, is Idolatry thus foread : but in those many thousand Ilands that lie dispersed in the vait Ocean, on the East and South-east parts of Afia: t which over against China, are recorded tParen /3 c.8 von the report of Mariners, long prachised in those Seas, to be 7448. and about a India, to be a 1843,642. 27000. And which might for their largenelle, if they were all layed together, make a Continent as large as three foure parts of Europe. In those llands I fay, Idolatrie ouer-spreadeth all, excepting onely those few, which I before observed, to bee possessed by the Spaniards, and by the A-

Finally, of all other parts of the Earth yet discouered, Idolatry spreadeth furthest in America. to which being but little leffe, then the Eafterne Continent (that wee terme the old World) is at least fixe parts of feuen, inhabited with Heathenish and idolatrous people. For, except the Regions aboue mentioned, policifed namely by the Portugals, and Cafilians (and yet the inner, and wilder tracts euen of those, remaine still for a great part, in their ancient Paganisme) and many motwithitanding their Baptifme, withall worthip Idols, together with fome later Converts made The Tof de Con. in the Region about and aboue the Bay of California, of whom as yet, Histories make so little re- gentlicte. port, that of their number I can make no estimate : And lastly, two or three Fortreses, held by the Spaniard, on the Coaft of Florida, with the English Colonies in Virginia, and the French in Camade, thefe I vay being excepted, all the rest of America (being as I said about fix seventh parts) re-

20 maineth in their old Idolatry. And thus have I declared the three principall Sects as touching Religion, that are at this prefent found in the feueral parts of the World, with their particular Regions. But befide these obserued there are, two or three irregular Nations, being for their Religion mingled as it were of some of the former Sects. As firth, in Afra, the Curdi, inhabiting in the Mountainous Countrey aboue Curdi See 19. Mozal, betweene Armenia and Meseporamia. Secondly, the Druss, dwelling in Spria, about the 64.05. skirts of Libanu, the Religion of which Nations (fuch as it is) partaketh iomewhat . both of Mahumetarifme and Christianitie. And thirdly, the Mordances in Europe, possessing the middle Confines betwirt the Precepite Tarters, and the Musconites, that are in a manner as touching their Religion, mingled of all three Sects : for they are both baptifed like Christians, and circum-30 ciled like Mahametans, and withall worthin Idols.

Now will I intreat a little, of the Professor of the fourth fort and Sect of Religion, that is Of the Iews found in the World, namely of Indessines, for, although the Iews thus not for their Mandispered in section in the World, namely of Indessines, for, although the Iews fion, any peculiar Countrey, but are dispersed abroad among forreigne Nations, for their ancient usr ull parts of Lolarries, and their later vnthankfulnelle, in reiesting their Sauiour the Sonne of God : So that the World. euen in lernfalem, there be not to be found at this time, an hundred housholds of lewes (Onely Chap.13. of all the Townes of Palestina , Tiberias (which Amurath the great Turke gaue to Aluarez Boter.rias.p.s. Mendera lew) and Stafflette, ate somewhat peopled with them.) Neither haue they at this present, for any thing that is certainly knowne, any other Region in the World, severall to themfelurs: Yet because there bee some Prounces, wherein they are observed specially to about a service of the whence they are excluded as harden as the service of the ser bound, asothers also, whence they are excluded and banished, I will confider a little of their

The first Country of Christendome, whence the Iewes were expelled, without hope of returne, was our Countrey of England, whence they were banished, Anno 1290. by King Edward the first. Not long after they were likewise banished France , Anno 1307. by Philippus Pulcher: Onely of all the Countreyes of France, in the Iurisdiction of Angron (the Popes flate) some are remayning.

Out of Spaine, Anno 1492 by Ferdinand, and shortly after out of Portugal, Anno 1497. by Emannel. Out of the Kingdome of Naples and Sicilie, Anno 1539. by Charles the fitt. In other Regions of Europe they are found, and in some of them in great numbers, as in Germa-50 nie, Boheme, Polonia, Lituania, Russia, and part of Italie, specially Venice and Rome. In Greece alfo a great multitude, wherein two Cities (beside all them of other places) Conflantinople and The flatonica are efteemed to bee about fixteene hundred thousand Jewes. As alio they are to be found by plentifull numbers, in many parts of the Turkes Dominion, both in Afia and Afrike.

And for Afia , specially in Aleppo , in Tripole , in Damascou , in Rhodes , and almost in euerie Citie of great Trade and Traffique in the Tartifb Empire : As likewise in divers parts of the Persian government , in Arabia also , and lastly in India (namely about Cranganor ) and in some other more remote Regions. And, to come to Afrike, they are not only found in the Cities of Alexandria , and Carr in Agypt , but , as in many other Regions and places of Afrike, so principally, in the Cities of Fez, and Tremisen : and specially, in the Hilles of Sensaua, and Demen in the Kingdome of Maroccho, many of which last, are by LEO AFRICANYS; specially noted to bee of Les Africands, that Sect, which the Iewes name * Karraim, and by *For of the Iewes, as touching their Religion, there the other lewes of Afrique, are reputed no better be inthesetimes three fefts. The first which is the then Herectques. But yet, beful the legand fuch like differsions of the Lewis Xation, that may be eliewhere in the Lewis Xation, that may be eliewhere in the lewis Xation, that may be eliewhere in the legand that the legan world, there is a phantalie of many learned men, teceine onely the Striptures. And the thire not van verbeit fome diligent confideration, that the is, the Samtinenof that by the Verbeit for the Market of Stribus, who about the yeere 1200, which of all the holy Supplies admit on the Market of the Market of Bookston Waget of the and like on Market of the Confideration of the the world by that name, and hold at this day a gimage Lib.2.

resteft of them, is named משמים who belide

"Poffe". Defeript. * Leionilau in Pandell H ft. 77.87 S;I.

great part of Afia, in Subiection : That chose Tartars I fay, are of the ! Ifraelites progeny : Namely of the ten Tribes, which by Salmanazar, and some of his predecessours, were carried captine in-Gentradiction to Affgria, Which although it be as I faid no other then a vaine and cappricious phantalie, yet, hath it, not onely found acceptance and entertainment, with fundry learned and understanding perce desar for. men : but reason and authoritie are produced, or pretended to establish it for a truth. For first, it taria of pada is alleadged that the word Tatari, or Totari (for so indeede they are rightly called as ! learned men obserue and not Tartari) lignifieth in the Syriaque and Hebrew tongues, a Residue or Remainder. fuch as thele Tartars are supposed to be of the Ten Tribes. Secondly, because (as the Patrons of this phantafie fay) they have alwaies embraced (the ancient character of Iudaifme) Circumcifion. And thirdly, the authoritie of supposed Estras (the verie spring I take it, whence hath flowed 12 this itreame of opinion) is alleadged. Namely, that the Ten Tribes tooke this course to themselves. that they would leane the multitude of the beathen, and goe forth into a farther Countrie, where never manhinde dwelt. That they might there keepe their flaintes, which they never kept in their owne land. And that they entred in at the narrow passages of the River Euphrates. The most high shewing them signes, and staying the Springs of the floud, till they were paffed oner. And that their ioniney was great, e-non of a yeare and a halfe, and the region is called Arfareth.

Leuvelan. in Pand biflo. Ture: c. 6.2. * Boem de Mo-

But to the first of these arguments, I may answere, that the Tartars obtained that name, neither from Hebrew nor Syraque originall, and appellation, but from the River Tartar, faith Lennclauius, and bothers. Or elle from the Region, faith Henho, where the principall of them anciently dwelled. Secondly, that the name 777 or 7587 in the Hebrew or Syriague fignification, 30 importing a residue or remainder, can but full ill (as it seemes) be applied to the Tartors in relation of the Ifraelites, whom they exceedingly furpaffe in multitude, as overfpreading halfe the vaft rib gent Lac. to continent of Afia, or thereabout. For all the Nations of Afia, from the great Rivers of Wolgha Tartaris.ca).16, and Oby, Eastward, and from the Caspian Sea, the River Oxus, the Countries of India and China, Northward, are contained under the Appellation of Tartars: and yet without these bounds manie Tarrars there are, both toward the West and South. And what if the innumerable people of to manie Nations, as are knowne to inhabit and overspread the huge continent of America be alfo of the same of foring " Certainly, if I be not greatly deceived, they are no other. For first, that their original must be deriued from Asia is apparent, because (as he that readeth the relations and histories of those Countries of America may easily observe) they have no relish nor refer- 40 blance at all, of the Arts, or learning, or civilitie of Europe: And their colour testifieth, they are not of the Africans progenie (there being not found in all that large Continent, any blacke men. except a few about the River of Saint Martha, in a small Countrie called Quarequa, which by force and violence of some tempest, are supposed to have beene transported thither, from the parts of Guinie or Athiopia.) Therefore it feemeth, that they had their originall from Afa, Which yet will appeare more credible, if it be observed, which by the Spaniar de discoveries is well known to be true, namely, that the Welt fide of America respecting Afia, is exceeding much better peopled then the opposite or East side, that respectech toward Europe. And, as for these reasons it is verie likely, that America received her first inhabitants, from the East border of Afia: So is it altogether vnlike, that it received them from any other part of all that border, fave from Tartarie, 50 Because, in America there is not to be discerned, any token or indication at all, of the arts or indufire of China, or India, or Cataia, or anie other civill Region, along all that border of Afia: But in their grosse ignorance of letters, and of arts, in their Idolatrie, and the specialties of it, in their incivilitie, and many barbarous properties, they refemble the old and rude Tartars, about all the Nations of the Earth. Which opinion of mine, touching the Americans deternding from the Tartars, rather then from any other Nation in that border of Affa, after the neere vicinitie of Affa to America, this reason about all other, may best establish and perswade : Because it is certaine, that that North-east part of Asia possessed by the Tatars, is if not continent with the West side of America, which yet remaineth tomewhat doubtfuil : but certainly, and without all doubt, it is the least diff. yned by Sea, of all that coast of Asia, for that those parts of Asia and America, are 60 continent one with the other, or at most, disloyed but by some narrow channell of the Ocean. the rauenous and harmelesse beaits, wherewith America is stored, as Beares, Lions, Tigers, Wolues, Foxes, &c. (which men as is likely, would never to their owne transport out of the one continent to the other) may import. For from Noah: Agke, which refted after the deluge, in Afa, all those beafts must of necessitie fetch their beginning, feeing they could not proceede by the course of nature, as the ynperiect lort of living creatures doe, of Putrifaction: ot if they might have Putrifaction for their parentage, or receive their originall (by any other new fort of generation) of the earth without speciall procreation of their owne kinde, then I see no necessitie, why they should by Gods speciall appointment, be so carefully preferred in Noabr Arke (asthey were) in time of the deluge, Whatefore, feeing it is certaine, that thefe rauenous bealts of America, are the progenie of those of the fame kinde in Affa, and that men, as is likely, conurighed them not (to their owne presidice) from the one continent to the other, it carrieth a great likelihood and appearance of truth, that if they loyne not together, 10 yet are they neere neighbours, and but little diffoyned each from other, for even to this day, in the Isles of Cuba, lamaica, Hift aniola, Burichena, and all the rell, which are to farre removed from the firme Land , that thele bealls cannot fwimme from it to them , the Spaniards record, that none of thefe are found. Wherefore it feemeth (to digreffe no farther) that the Nation of the Tartarians, foreading to exceeding farre, as it doth, cannot certainly be the posterity of those

CHAP.13. Tartarians not Ifraelites. Saracens not of Sara. Their Circuncisson. 121

Neither (to answer the second obiection) doth their circumcifion in any fort inforce it : for, neither was circumcition, among the Tartars ancienter then Mahametarifme , but was received among them together with it, as Michonies hath temembred, lo that to this day, it is not in- Michonde Saftertained (for ought I can fiode in Hiltorie) among thois Tartarians, which have not received 20 Mabumetavilme but remaine in their ancient Idolatrie, as tor the most part, bodi the Tartars of Caraia, beyond the Mountaine Imans towards the East Ocean, and the Tarrars of Sarmatia, towards the North, on both fides the River of Oby, doe. Neither if it should be gran- Polo, Hair M. ted, that circumcilion had beene ancienter among them then Mabumetanifme, were that an tenen ec. argument of any importance, to proue them to be of the Ifraelites progenie. B. caule it is certainely knowne, that the ceremony and custome of circumcision bath beene and still is visual among many Nations, of whom there was neuer any fuspition, that they descended from the Ifractives, for Diedorus hath recorded of the Colchians, Philo Indan, and Strabo, of the Agyptians, Herodom niboth thoje Nations, and of the Linguan befides, that they red circumction, and that that cuftome among the Agyptans and Atheronaus, did feeme very ancient, enen as 40 it is alfoby both chole Nations retained till this day. And yet, behile thele Countries already. Strablis Hementioned, she like is allo seconded of the Troglodies by Strabe, and by sothers: Of the Phenici rocot la garam. mentioned, the user's abovectories of the transfer of the security of the secu Nation, is manifelt by Hieroma, and Secomen, and others, which being anciently termed Secure (as Amonionus hath observed) namely of the Greetans at 5 Tay ourses, because they dwelled in tents (for fuch to be the mannes of their habitation, is not onely prize dity. Hierome Comment, in 40 Ifai ca. 21. Sozomen Hifter 1. 66 38 American 1. 22 poll med but fignified, and not obscurely, by David Plat 120.5 wid. eliam terem 40 18 19. lamenting the dwelling in the temps of brem were of their dwelling maite defert, by the Arabians themselves named Sarraceds (for Sarra fignifieth a defeat, and Salar to inhabit, in the drabique tonque) predict, if not of their place, yet at least (as learned men dereninely thinke, Scaliger in Animadu Eufsh.pz. 17 an 86. Faller, Auftellan. Theology Lo.c. ra. of their deproperty shey might obtain, that name of Sarricens, namely, because they lived much by rapine for that the word Sarate in Arabique doth im-Coport) to which about all nations (they currenters and full families to whom alloun bloud they were alliare addicted. For the deduction of the name Sereatens, 50 from Sara, as of they claimed itelegration her being indeede Hageress (the progeny of Hager) is a mease fancy and fable; They claime it not.

the Ifcaelites) with the Ezyptians, Edomites, 13.63. For, that, the Mouthten and Sarguent are the fame Ammonites, Mochings, and the inhabitants of Agaibarthid. the delire, that is the ! Ifmaelnes ,or Sarracens (e Mar. hubr c. of Arabia: Of which Nations, Hierome alto 49 ap. Phot in (to whom those regions were well knowne (as Epiphenim allo of the most of them) hath cumcifier in left tellified, that they retained circumcifion, principio Nice h. even in his time. Touching some of which, al- 6214/1. LS. 6.35though it may be probably consectured, that trem. 9.26. the preceived it (in fome fort) from the Ifrae- ment loci jam liter of not as their progenie (which yet in enan fome fente may be laud of the inhabitants of Epipan, Panar, the defert, being the politeritie of Ismael the laber.30. Sonne of Abraham; and like wife of the Edamites, being the leede of Efen, the longs of I-(age) yet at leaft, by imitation of Ahrabams ed, as the Ammonites and Moabites, the pofteritie of Lat, Abrahami brothers lonne, and who had bure long in his familiaritie and familie, Although I my of these National may, be coniectured, that their ceremonie of circumcifion was taken vp, by imitation of the I fractices; yet that the same rite, or custome was also derived originally, from them to the whole Nation of the Arabiani (which was exceeding great) or to the Leppiani, or other neighbouring Pro- brigham Partiunices, I know not why any should conceive, or if they doe, yet appeareth it to be otherwise, archain because they circumcifed not in the eight day, which is the nuivable cuttome of the I fractites: xsafide king 60 hat the Lyppitass in the foureteenth years; as is recorded by Ambrofe, and the Arabians in the Sent Leng. thirteenth and fome of them both fexes as a learned men have recorded. Euen as the b Turkes x Belon Obfer. alfort this day, who recemed the rice of argumcifion from the Arabians, are knowne-to circuin- winds de kind cile in the eighbort welfth, or fifteenth yeere, or fooner or later, as opportunitie may ferue. Of Tur. ar cide these Nations I tay how circumcifion should proceede from the I fractives to them, I cannot con- Greamer ione.

Natura Nou. Orb.1.1.c.21.

Bibliotheca Cy. prian I de cir-

Diodot Sict.

a Pigafet. de Reguicong.1.1. let.c.Loange.

ceine : no more then I can of the great Nation of the a Anziehi, on the West fide of Nilus beyond Nubia, or of the inhabitants of Iucatan in America, whereof the first yet are, and the fecond (till they came under the government of the Spaniards) were meere Idolaters, for of these Beter Relat. pa. allo, the fecond had, and the first ftill haue circumcilion in vie.

And although these instances, veterly disolve the force of this reason, touching the Tartarians circumcifion (though it were admitted to Haue beene anciently in vie among them, as being vfuall with many other Nations, of whom ho fulpition at all can be conceived, to be of the Ifraelites progenic) yet this may furthermore declare them, not to be of that race, because namely. nothing elle wasto be found among them , that might fauour of Ifrael. For first, they were meere Idolaters, and without knowledge of the true God, as is recorded by Marcin Paulin, by 10 Hauthe, and others. Secondly, they had no remembrance of the Law at all. Thirdly, they neither observed the Sabboath, nor other rites and ceremonies of the Ifraelites: but touching their Matrimonies, married without impeachment the verie c wives, and fifters of their Fathers: d Vicent. Spec. and touching their feeding, abstained not at all from viceane Beasts, but fed on the flesh of Horles, Dogges, Cats, and dead Carrion, and drunke their bloud, all veterly forborne and forbidden among the Ifraelites. Fourthly, they have no records, nor regard of their ancestors and linege, from whom, or by whom, they are descended, whereof Ifraelites were ever curious. Guilel de Rubri. Fifthly, they have no affinite of language at all, with either the Hebrew or Chaldes tongues, nei-Hin. Tarter. c.9. ther had any vie of those Letters, nor of any other, till together with Mahametan Religion, the Arabique characters came in vie among some of them. Neither (in a word) doe I finde any 20 nor region. Guide Rubicis thing at all, wherein the Tartarians favored of Ifraelites; for touching their abilinence from Linerer Tarier. Swines fielh, which we finde recorded of them, neither is it generall among them, but peculiar to those that are Mahumetans : Nor if it were so, were that any good argument, because we know Beem de Merib. chat the ancient Seythans, and f Agyptians, and Arabians did, and almost all Mahametans at this day doe the same, which yet are well knowne to be in no fort descended from the gentum. 2.c.10 the this day t Herolat.l.4. at this day g Alian de Ani. Ifraelites.

maib, 1104.77. Now touching the authoritie of forged * Efdras, which hath ftirred vp as it seemeth this vapourous fantalie, in the braines of new fangled antiquaries : neither doen that which he writeth of the ten Tribes, agree at all with the Tarrari : nor, if it did, could yet the circumstances of that hiltorie agree with the truth. It agrees not with the Tartars I lay, for whereas they are noted 20 in that Revelation, to be 7 a peaceable people, and that they a left the multitude of the heathen , that they might keepe their flatutes, which they never kept in their owne land neither of both those properties nath any convenience or agreement at all with the Tartarians. For how are they a peaceable people, that with their warres have troubled and overturned almost all Afa, and fundry Countries of Europe, and hold's great part of the former in fubication to this day? Or how kept they the statutes of the Straelites, that were meere Idolaters, and veterly ignorant of all Iewish Lawes and Ceremonies. And tooching the Historie it selfe of the Ifraelites departure out of Affiria, as it is let downe in that Apocriphall Eftras (howfoeuer it might otherwife agree with the Tartars) there is no wife or confiderate man Itbinke, that can bring his vinderstanding to give credit to it: For first it contradicteth the vindoubsed canonicall histories of the Chronicles , and 40 fide of the Affrian Empire , which ftretched Northward, but to that I thume betweene the Euxine & the Caspian

Seas: Sother, the Ifraelites were by that meanes, feated farthest off from their owne Country, and placed in the parts of the Empire most wast & defolate of inhabitants,

Taurus, and feuering Affria, from Armonia, and Media) 50 of the Kings, in both which it is recorded of the Kings, in both which it is recorded of them, that they were carried away into a beated birthe mountainounseffeof it)& WW Gaurania four, and disposed in severall parts of the Empire namely * Calach , and Chaber, and Hara, and Gozar, vinto this day; which limitation of time (voto this day) must at least of necesfitie import, the time wherein that Hiftorie (of their remaining in After) recorded in the as the confines of warring Nations vivally are. But if Cabookes of the Kings, & of the Chronicles was lath be calaine, and chahor the hill Chahoras (being part of and Horse the other hilly parts in the North deed Alfy-K. Dan Kim. learned men he is reputed, and therefore could immin Tudelenft, for about those parts, hee found in his not (as it feemeth) be the Author of that A- transile, the greatest multitudes of the Maelires, then in fairman apad.

nos es referencipe the author of the Author, yet, that the Author (whofee blash Santiels not the Author, yet, that the Author (whofee blash Santiels not the Parts all lined and write that hiftoric of the uer he was) lived and writ that historic of the Chronicles, after the returne of the lewes from the captinitie, or in the end of it (that isin Efdent) time) is euident by the end of the Book: where Cyrus his benignitie, for refloring the Isses, and his Proclamation for their returne to Ierusalem is recorded, and that in the verie fame words, wherein Efdras in the beginning of his owne booke hath registred them. At that time therefore, 40 it is evident, that the Ifraelites were not departed out of the dominions of Africa. No nor long after that in Isfephus his time , who bath recorded that even then the ten Tribes remained bewond Euphrates, and were there growne into innumerable multitudes; neither met manie hundred verres after lofephin was dead; for R. Beniamin a lew, that lived but about 440. yerres agoc,

CHAP. 13 Lewish Fables of Inclosed Lews & of the Sea Behemoth & Limithan. 123

and tramiled diligently those parts of the world, and many other to vince his dispersed Countrimen, hath in his Itmerary left objerued, not onely, that he found exceeding the greater multitudes of the Itraclites, tobe then remaining in those Provinces of the ancient Dominion of no Albur, then he found in other places, possetting elarge Regions, and 8 many Cities, so that in the Cities of some one Region 2 300000. Temes were by him numbred, obseruing specially, that in the parts of Media, many thouland Ifraelices of the progeny of them that Salmanafer led into captinity, were then remaining, but withall, he fetteth downe particularly and precifely, the very places frag, 16 06. of those Regions, where certaine of the Tribes were feated, and there growne into great multi- grag. ead. or thoreteen, which continues the Tribes of Ruben, Gad, and Manaffe: And in another, the hP-277.

10 foure Tribes of Dan, After, Zebulon, and Nephtali. But yet if there were neither authoritie of holy Scripture, nor experience to refell this fable, and the fancies that have fprung of it : yet ordinary reason, at least of men that are not ignorant 2E/dr.12. of Geography and are meanly skilled in the affaires of the world, may easily differne the futilitie kard the most ofit, For hift, what neede was there of fuch a miracle, as to litay the course of Enphrates, for the high the flew-Ifraelites passage from Affrea, or Media toward Tartary, the River lying farre to the West, eatherninges If raelites passage from Assigna, or Media toward Tartary, the Kiner 1911g tarre to the Weit, and fluid the both of the one Region and of the other, and no way crossing or impeaching their iourney, which frings of the lay Northward betweene that River and the Caspian Sea? Or, how might those poore captive find (Euphra-Ifraelites, difarmed as they were, and difperfed in lundry Prounces of the Affrian Empire, and tes) illihes being under the ouerlight & gouernment of Affrian Prefidents, be able to leave the places, where were passed 20 by the Kings commandement they were to inhabite. Or, if the Ifraelites were ableby force to Guer. verf.44.

depart, and free themselues from the dominion of the King of Albar, yet were they so wise also, They tooke as to forfake the places where they were peaceably fetled, and venture their small remainders vp- this counselled as to for sake the places where they were peaceably letter, and vehicle that they on perils and vencertainties, namely, to finde out a place where neuer mankinde dwelt? Of, it their that they fomacke ferued them so well, and their wit so ill, as in such manner to forsake Affria, yet were would leave they also able to make themselues way (euen a way as hee laids, of eighteene moneths passage) the mul inude through the fier e and mighty Nations of Seythia, whom neither the conquerors of the Ifraelites, of the Healt is the Affrians I meane, nor the Perfians (and I might adde also the Grecians and the Romans) were verifineuer able to fubdue, but were in the aftertimes lubdued by them ! for that the parts of Septhia flould be without Inhabitants (and in Seythia it mult be where they would finde that Country into a Country 30 where neuer mankinde dwelt, or else it is not in Tartary) is scarse credible, as whereof we reade in whereneuer hiltories, to have contended with Agpe for antiquitie of habitation, and to have prevailed, and manhinde for the abundance of people, to be termed Hominum Officina. Infomuch that the greatest occasion dweller 41 of swarming abroad of those Nations of Seythia, and of their ouerwhelming of Asia and Europe, with their infinite multitudes and Colonies, is in histories recorded, to be lacke of roome for habitation in their owne Countries.

And laftly, to make an end of this tedious discourse, with the end of their imagined tedious iourney : what ancient Geographer or Historian is there (fet our Efdras afide) that euer remembred of such a Region as Arfareth, where they are faid to have seated themselves. True it is indeede that I finde the Citie of Arfaratha mentioned both in Berofus fragments, and in Ptolomie & in Tab.3. 40 placed neere the iffue of the River Araxes into the Capias Sea : and, it was pethaps one of the If- afa. raelitif Colonies, planted in the confines of the Empire of Affria: for it may well be that Arfarathe, is but שירית, or שיר, or אור שארית, that is the Citie, or the hill of the remainder, or perhaps THE YIN (the lait letter of the first word cut off in the Greeke pronunciation for founds fake) the Land of the remainder : but the tale of eighteene months journey, will no more agree with this Citie, then the Region of Arfareth doth, with Geography or History. So that me thinkes this forged storie of the Ifraelites vouge and habitation, in such remote regions where neuer mankinde dwelt, fauoureth of the fame phantasticall and Talmudicall spirit, that canother tale of the same author doth, touching the collection of all the waters, into a sea- m Edd.4.42. uenth part of the earth, the other fix being left vncouered : or a third, of (the Elephant and the n capted w. 56. 50 Whale) Bebemoth and Leniathan : namely, that God appointed the Sea to one of them, and the Land to the other, because they were so great that the Sea could not hold them both : for elle belike, if the Sea had beene large enough, we might have gone a fishing for Elephants. For how is the Sea gathered into a feauenth part of the earth, whose expansion is not onely by the most . Eliande Aniskilfull Philosophers esteemed, but found by experience of naugations hitherto made, to ouer_ maib.lia.c.& fpred as neerely as may be discerned, about halfe the compasse of the Earth? Or, being of that OVal Gillium breadth, and withall of the depth, that it is knowne to be, how should it not be spacious Elephanic.6. enough, to receive Elephants and Whales together ! The dimensions of the Elephant, even of the greatest fort of Indian Elephants, (and the earth breedeth none so large as those of In- Gross. 12. Orig. dia) are, faith Eliansu, nine cubits of height (the length in that beaft is equall to the height) Antur; un and are, taith Australia, nine cubits or neight (the length in this seaters equal to the larger political) and five of breadth, the greatest that have been seen seen in Europe, being observed to be farre leffe. The dimension of the Whale indeede is farre greater (fine times faith P Elizaus then the Rondelt, de Pilargest fort of Elephants.) But yet his ordinary dimension is but six and thirty cubits long, and febblishers. eight cubits high, as Rendeletius hath observed. But admit not withstanding some of them to be dirende Reb. fittie cubits, of which length, Newshine in Arrianuis faid to have merifured one in the East Ocean, newshines on processing the processing of the processing the processing of the processing of the processing the processing of th

And goe forth

1 1 c. 102 Cl. on.

C Aij.

Thien, in Comment. Magne

Cont allien.

Pin.l. .. c. 63.

Flutare's loc. fupra citato.

Ptolom.l.s.

nay, to be fix hundred foot long, and three hundred and fixtie foot thicke, as a Iuba in Plinie related to be found in the Bay of Arabia (where yet , as it is well knowne by the foundings of Nauigators, that Sea is not by a good deale three hundred and fixtie foote deepe.) Or, let them be more yet, euen foure Acres long (that is nine hundred and fixtie foot) as Plinie hath related of fome in the Sea of India. For, although the two last reports be in truth no better then fancies and fables, which the impudence of some, hath made the ignorance of others to beleeue, yet I will exclude none, but onely Bafil, as intollerably hyperbolicall, affirming namely that Whales are equall to the greatest mountaines, and their backs when they shew about the water, like to Islands. But admitting all the rest Isay, what proportion have those dimensions of the Whale and the Elephant, to the huge bredth and depth of the Ocean ? For if I may without offence in erfert a short Philosophicall speculation: the depth of the Sea (to speake nothing of the breadth, which every common Map doth represent) is determined by Fabian apud Pli. Fabianus in Plinie, & by Cleomedes, to be fifteene furlongs, that is, one mile and seuen eight pars : Or elfe, equall to the height of the greatest Mountaines, to whose height, and the deepenest of Platarchin Cua the Sea, the Geometricians (as Plutarch hath recorded) anciently affigned equall dimentions. Or

Anily Pauli. yet rather (if you will any thing respect my opinion) it is a great deale more. For, as for the shal-Se dig de Suini- low speculation of Scaliger, and b others, of the shallownesse of the Sea, determining the height litative core, 38. of Hils, farre to furpaffe the deepeneffe of the Sea : And that in very few places, it attaineth one hundred passes of depth, is indeede true in the narrow Channels and Straits of the Sea : But in the free and large Ocean, it is by the experience of Nauigators knowne to be as falle as the Goipell is true. Indeede touching the height of Mountaines, I finde it pronounced by the great Mathematician Eratofhenes in Theon, that the highest fort of them, passe not in perpendicular erectnesse ten furlongs (that is one mile and one fourth part) of which height alfo, it is observed in Fline, that Dicearchie by Dioptrical Instruments, found the Hill Peline in Theffalie to be, and in Plutarch, that Kenagoras (another Mathematician) obserued the height of Olympus, in the fame Region, fauing, that in this later, there is an addition of twenty palles, for the whole number of pafles, is 1270. Neither doe I finde any greater perpendicular height attributed to Mountaines, by any ancient writer, Cleameder excepted: who affigneth to the height of Hils, as he doth also to the depth of the Sea, fifteene furlongs. (For Albazen I omit, because he onely restraineth the height of hils, as namely, not to exceede eight miles, without determining what their height should be) 30 But yet, all thefe, are to be understood, I take it, with relation to the Mountanes in and about

Clcomed,i.1. Meset 4.10. Alhazen de Cre-Greece, with which themselves were acquainted, which may in no fore compare with the huge pufcul propof. 1. Mountaines of vast Continents, such as are the Alpes in Europe, Atlas in Afrique, Cancasus in Indiathe Andes in Peruand fuch other. 10

But, what soeuer the height of Hils may be aboue the common superficies of the Earth, it seemeth to me after good confideration, that the depth of the Sea is a great deale more. For declaration of which point, I require to be supposed, first, that the Earth at the first forming of it, was in the superficies, regular, and sphericall : which the Holy Scripture directs vs to beleeue, because the water coursed and compassed all the face of the Earth . And secondly, that the face of the Land Danislers Lade is in largeneffe and expansion, at least equall to that of the Sea: And thirdly, that the vneuennesse 40 fide Oribodoxa and irregularitie, which is now seene in the superficies of the Earth was caused (as is noted in Damascen) either, by taking some parts out of the vpper face of the Earth in fundry places, to make it more hollow, and laying them in other places, to make it more conuexe : Or elle (which in effeet is eq i solent to that) by raising up some, and depressing others to make roome and receit for the Sea : that mutation being wrought by the power of that word, Let the waters be gathered into one place, that the dry land may appeare. For, as for the fancy of Aquinas, Dionysus, Catharinus, and tome other Danines: namely, that that gathering of waters, and discourry of the Earth, was made, Aquin.m Sum. not by any mutation in the Earth, but by a violent accumulation of the waters, or heaping them up on high, it is too unreasonable. Because it is utterly against the nature of water, being a flexible & ponderous body, to to confift, and fray it felfe, & not fall to the lower parts about it, where 50 in nature there is nothing at all to hinder it. Or, if it be hindered and restrained supernaturally, by the hand and bridle of the almighty, left it should ouerwhelme and drowne the Land, it must follow thereof, that God in the very inflitution of nature, imposed a perpetuall violence vpon nature : And this withall, that at the Deluge, there had beene no necessity at all, to breake vo she fprings of the deepe, and to open the Cararatts of Heaven, and powre down water continually, fo many dayes and nights together upon the Earth, feeing, the onely withdrawing of that hand, or letting goe of that bridle, which restrained the water, would presently have ourswhel-

> But to come to the Point. It feemeth upon the former suppositions (of which, the holy Scripture establisheth the first, Experience of Trauellers, and Nauigators the second, and Reason 60 the third) that in making estimation of the depth of the Sea, are not to reckon and confider onely, the height of the Hils, aboue the common figo ficies of the Earth , vnro which the extraordinary depths or whirlpooles, that are found in the Sea, doe properly answere Gescening beneath the ordinary bottome of the Sea, as the Hils afcend about the ordinary face of the Land)

but, the advantage or height of al the dry land about the Superficies of the Sea. Because the whole Maffe of the Earth, that now appeareth about the waters, beeing taken asit were out of the place, which the waters now policile, must be equall to the place out of which it was taken, and confequently it feemeth, that the height or elevation of the one, should answere the depth or delicending of the other. And therefore as I faid, in estimating the deepnesse of the Sea, wee are not to confider onely the erection of the Hils, about the ordinary Land, but the advantage of all the dry Land about the Sea. Which later, I meane the height of the ordinary maine Land, (even excluding the Hils) is in my opinion more in large Continents above the Sea; then that of the Hils, is about the Land. to For first, that the plaine and common face of the dry Land, is not levell, or equally distant from the Centre, but hath great decliuitie and descent toward the Sea, and accliuitie or rifing toward the Mid-land parts, although it appeare not fo to the common view of the Eye, isto reafon notwithstanding manifest, Because as it is found in that part of the Earth, which the Sea conereth that it descendes hlower, and lower toward the middest of the Sea (for the Sea which touching the upper face of it, is knowne to be levell by nature, and evenly distant from the Centre, is withall oblerued to waxe deeper and deeper, the farther one Lyleth from the shoare toward the Maine) Buen fo, in that part which is vncouered, the courfings and Areamings of Rivers on all fides from the mid-land parts to-

* By which rule of the proceeding of the Rivers by the proclinitie of the earth, & euer fliding from the higher ground to the lower ,till 20 they come to the Sea, is cuident to be differred, that in Continents, those Regions are the higher Land from which Rivers ftreame, and those the lower ground, to which they proceed, and cosequently, that of all, those are the highest which receiving no forreine Rivers, to which they gue pallage through them, doe fend forth the longest Ri-uers on all fides to the Regions round about them. By which obsernation is to be discerned, that Heluetia and Rhetia, fending forth the longest Rivers of Europe, which on all fides descend from them and their Confines, Danubius toward the East, Rhene North, Khodanus Weft, befide Ticinus, Addua, and others, that fall into Padus South, are the highest Land of Europe, As the Region of Pamer, and Kirgof fi, with some other necre the crossing of the great Mountaines Taul 30 rus and Imais about India, whence are directed, the greatest and longeft Rivers of Asia, Indus and Ganges toward the South, Oxus and Iaxartus toward the West, Oechardes North, Can'an East, is prooued by the fame reason, to be the highest part of Africa and Africa, and in my opinion of all the Earth. And as the Region also about the Springs of Nilus, from which befide Nilus, that runneth towardes the North, are fent forth, the River of Magnice, towardes the South, of Zaire West, of Coaus and Zuama East, being (Niger excepted) the greatest more, then of the Hilles about the West, of Coasso and Zuama Last, being (Niger excepted) the greatest common face of the earth, for Pling Plin, 131.6.6

one cubit of declining, in two hundred and fortie foot of proceeding (for he taith, vaum cubitum 40 in binos Actus, and Actus as may be observed in Columella, and others is a dimension of one hun- Columell de Re dred and twentie foot long) Vitrausus and Palladius in their conduction of waters, require indeed Rofficall. S. c. 1. somewhat lette, namely, that in proceeding of two hundred foot forward there should be allowed Virnus Architeone foot of descending downward, which yet in the course of one thousand miles (as Danubius Hard. S.c.7. Palor Wolgha, or India, &c. haue to much or more) will make fine miles of descent in perpendicular lad de re kuffind account : And in the course of two thousand or more (as Nilm and Niger, and the River of Amazons haue) ten mile or more of like descent.

And although I know well enough, that water being (as it is) heavie and flexible, will flide a= way at any inequalitie, and therefore am altogether perswaded, that this rule of Vitrunius touching conveyance of waters, is not to be taken as a rule of necessitie, to bee observed in the deriso uing of them, as if water could not runne without that advantage (for in that respect the Connevors of waters of these times content themselves even with one inch in ixe hundred foot, as Philander also on Virrunian, hath observed) but is rather to be understood as a rule of commodity, run, 18611. namely with relation to the expedition and wholefomeneffe of the water to conveyed, left refting too long in the pipes it should contract from them some vnwholesome qualitie, or else through the flackneffe of motion, or long eletenesse, or banishment from the Aire, it might gather some aptnesse and displition to putrifie. Although I say, such excesse of advantage as in the artificiall conveyance of waters the forenamed Authors require, be not of necessitie exacted, in the naturall derivation of them : yet nevertheleffe certaine it is, that the defcent of Rivers, being as it is continual, and the course of some of them very long, and in many places swift, and here, and there 60 headlong and furious, the difference of height or advantage, cannot but bee great, betwixt the Springs of Rivers and their Out-lets, between their first riving out of the Earth, and their tal-

Vinto which declinitie of the Land, feeing the deepneffe of the Sea doth in proportion answer (as I before declared) and not onely to the height of Hils. It remayneth that we effecte and de-ward the Sea. * whole propertie we know is to flide from the higher to the lower, enidently declare fo

And although I am not able precifely to determine, what the ordinarie declinitie of the earth may be, yet, if that bee convenient in the workes of Nature, which is required in the workes of Art, that imitateth Nature, it will be found true that before I faid : Namely, that in great Continents, through which Rivers have long Courfes, forne of land, aboue the face of the Sea, is in the derivation of water, requireth

Cathar n. & A eap. v. Genes.

Greet 19.

p.1.q.69.a.1.

Strah L. 1. lovee poft mediume

termine that deepnesse to be a great deale more, then it hath beene hitherto by Philosophers Aril. Mel. 1201 commonly reputed. And although the deepneffe of the Sardinian Sea (which indeed Ariffolle acknowledgeth for the deepest part of the Mediterranean) be specially recorded by Posidenius in Strabo, to have beene found but one thousand fadomes (oppues) which is but a mile and one fife part : yet what may the depth in that narrow Sea be, compared to the hollow deepnesse of the with Ocean ! Or rather (to turne this Inflance to our advantage) if in fo narrow a Sea as the Meanterrane is (whose breadth attaineth not where it is largest, fixe hundred miles) the depth bee to great, what may we efteeme the deepnesse of the huge Ocean to be, that is in many places aboue fine times as broad : efpecially, feeing that the broader that Seas are, if they be withall entire, and free from Ilands, they are answerably observed to be the deeper.

But whether have I bin carried by these Elephants and Whales? to what heights and depths, of Mountaines, and Seas! I pray you pardon me, for I fee I have digreffed, that is, transgreffed, now I returne into the way agains.

Of the quantitic and proportion of the ied by the feuscall forts of the above mentioned religions.Ch.14. Gram. Ar bic. Lud. Rezins de

Now, if out of the former long discourse, I should collect a short summe, and estimate the proportion with respect to the whole Earth, that each one of the forementioned Religions, haue to the other. It being first supposed, which vpon exact consideration and calculation, will puts of the Lach, poffer be found to swerue very little from the truth, that the proportions of Europe, Afrike, Asia, and America, are as one, three, foure and feuen. And that the professors of the forementioned Religions, polleffe the feuerall portions and proportions, of each of them, which is before fet downe: 20 It will be found I fay vpon their supportions (which the best Geographic, and Histories doe perfwade me to be true) that Christians possesse, neere about a fixt part of the knowne inhabited Pofelin pref. Earth : Mahumetans, a fift part (not as 1 some haue exceedingly ouer-lashed, halfe the World or more) and Idolaters, two thirds, or but little leffe. So that if we divide the knowne Regions of the World, into thirtie equall parts. The Christians part is as fine, the Mahimetans as fixe, and the Idolaters as nineteene, for the poore difperted and diffressed Christians, which are found in Afra and Afrike, mingled among Mahumetans and Idolaters, I receive not into this account, both because they are but thinne dispersed, inrespect of the multitudes of Mahumetans and Idolaters in those Regions among whom they line (beeing withall under their dominion) and because also, many Mahumetans, are found mingled among Christians in Europe, to recompence and counter- 30 naile a great part of that number.

Such therefore may be the generall proportion of Christians to Mahumetans and Idolaters, in the Continents of the Earth hitherto discouered, namely, in this our neighbour Continent of the East comprehending Europe, Africe, and Asia, and in that other Continent of the West, called America, and in the Iland's belonging to them both. But if the South or Antarctique Continent, be so large, as I am verily perswaded it is (euen no lesse, then that of the East before mentioned, which contayneth Europe, Afrike and Afra together) then will the Idolaters be found to iurpaffe all the other Religions, in exceeding great proportion, for that the Inhabitants of that South Continent are Idolaters, there is no queltion at all (as Itake it) to be made, both because in the parts hitherto knowne, as namely in the Region of Beach, oner against Iana, they were found to 40 be fo : And also, because they are knowne to be no other then Idolaters , that inhabite all those parts of the other Continents, that neighbour most towards them, from whom it is likely, they should have received the change of their Religion, if any were : for first, in Asia, both India, and the Hands of the Indian Sea, whereof tome lie close on the South Continent. Secondly, in Afrike, the Regions about the Cape of Buona Speranza. And thirdly, in America, the Countries that border on Magaglians Strait, which are the neerest Neighbours to the foresaid Continent of the South, are knowne to be all ouer-fpread with Idolaters.

Now that the South Continent is no leffe then I before esteemed it, namely, then that of Asia, Afrike, and Europe altogether, although I might be probably induced to beleeve to, because it is well knowne, both (touching Latitude) to approach in some parts neere the Equator, and 40 (touching Longitude) to runne along ina continuall circuite about the Earth, fronting both the other Continents : Yet haue I also another reason of more certaine importance, to pertiwade me: Namely, because it is well knowne, that the land to the North fide of the Line, in the other Continents (the old and new world) yet altogether is at least foure times as large as that part of them which lieth to the South.

Propof.2.

ps V.tro.l.6.de ling.Lat.1fider. e Alq.

* For touching the fitst of these suppositions. It is the propertie of Now, for almuch as it is certaine, water, euer to fall that way, where it findeth decliuite. Wherefore, Archim de Inf. first by Archimides his rule, * that if thewater, in the upper face of it, were higher in one place then in another it would necessarily fall from the higher position to the d mib. Aquel, I. the face of the Sea, is in all parts naturally leuel, or equally diffant from the center of the water, for which and free Sea, to leter hinder it And confequently, would neuer reft 33 equalitie, it hath obtained the name ferled and ft ible, till the face of it were levelled, in an even diffance of Aguer and Ague, as Gramma- from the Centre. -And touching the fecond, if the Earthwere vne-qually poyfed on Origin 1,34.12. rians fay m And lecondly, by the Philosophers knowne rule, that the opposite fides of the centre, then must it follow, that the least and lighter maffe of the Earth should presse downe as forcibly, as the greater and weightier, because it attaineth the centre as well as it. But if it be granted, which reason doth inforce, that the weightier part of the Earth thould prefle downward, with greater force, and with mote right challenge the centre, then the lighter part; it must follow, that the lighter maile or fide of the Earth, must yeeld and give place to the weightier, fo farre, till the centre of that whole maffe of the Earth take possession of the centre of the world (for till then , one side will be full acquier then the other) and fo the opposite halfes of the Earth, in respect of nearineste, be brought on all fides, about the centre, vn-

10 to a perfect equilibration. And the third may be established, by manifest demonstration. Because, a clod of Earth, suffered to fall from any point of the Aire, wherefocuer on the face of the Sea (the fame doth water, falling on euen and plaine Land) when all is calme, and the Aire not troubled with winds, nor the Sea with wanes, will descend by a perpendicular line, on the face of the water. In such fort I say, that the line by which it falleth maketh exactly equall and right Angles on all fides, with the face of the water whereon it falleth. Therefore it is manifest, that the Earth fo falling, tendeth directly to the centre of the water. Because no ftraight line infifteth perpendicularly, on the face or circumterence of any special bodie (as the water is) except only those that proceed directly to the centre of the Sphere; But certaine it is, that 20 the Earth is withall directly carried toward it owne centre, therefore there is but one common centre of the Water and of the Earth,

Earth is equally poyled on both fides of her owne centre. And third ly, that the center of the Earth and of the water are al one (both of them being indeed no other then the centre of the World ) which though some phantastical heads have called into question, yet no found Philofopher euer doubted of : It followeth thereupon, that the earth should in answerable measure and proportion. life it selfe and appeare about the face of the Sea, on the South fide of the Line, as it doth on the North. And confequently, that what is wanting in the South parts of the two forelaid Continents towards the counternailing of the North parts (which is about three fine parts of both the other Continents laved together) must of neceffity be supplied in the continents of the South. And yet I omit all the Land that may bee about the Artique Pole, beyond the Seythan or Sarmatian Sez, which must be also counterpoysed in that Antarctike continent, for nothing comes within the compasse of my understanding, to be hereto replyed, except any would perhaps imagine, that either the Sea on the South fide of the Equator, is very shallow, or that the land of that continent may be much higher about the face of the Sea, then the land of the other two (and so equall in masse, though lesse in circuit) or that the Earth on the South side of the Equator, should be of a more ponderous disposition, then on the North, in which cases, some com-30 pensation of weightineffe, may be made for the want of extention. But of these three, the experience of Saylers enidently refelleth the first: who in equall distance from the Land, observe an equall deepneffe of the Sea, in both South and North Latitude. And neither is there any experience, nor good reason that can be alleadged to establish either of the later : which, but that I have alreadie too much offended by digreffions, I could prove I doubt not against all exception. But this for a conclusion to this discourse, I dare pronounce touching that South continent, that it will certaily befound (in the after-times, when it shell bee better discoursed) much larger then any Globe or Map hitherto extant, hath represented it.

CHAR.12. Centre of the Earth and Sea, the same. Divers forts of Christians.

Such therefore (as I have declared) is the generall state of Christianitie at this present in the World, and the proportion of it to other Religions. But because you require yet further to bee 40 specially informed of the divers forts and lects of Christians that are abroad in the World, and withall of their divers Regions and Religons, at least of those principall Characters of their Relision, wherein they specially differ each from other, I will here set downe my second period. touching the generall differences of Religions, and of the feuerall parts of the World where they are maintayned; and will now proceed to that particular confideration touching the Secks of Christianitie, and indeauour to give you the best satisfaction that my poore reading, and observation may inable me to performe.

THe Sechs therefore of Christians, that carrie name and report at this present in the World, Of the divers beside the Protestants and Romans in the West, of whom I will be filent, because you know forto or sets beside the Protestants and Komans in the Weit, or whom I will be file, occasion better then my selfe, are I the Grecians, 2 Melchites or Syrians, 3 Georinche World, So gians, 4 Moscomites and Ruffiaus, 5 Nesteriaus, 6 Indians tearmed the Christians of Saint and of their Thomas, 7 Iacobites, 8 Cophites, 9 Armenians, 10 Habaffines, and 11 Maronites. Of which feuerall Regieleven Sects, there be three Principall , namely the Grecians , lacobites and Neftorians , with ons. And first which the reft haue, for the most part, either some dependance and derivation, or neerer conve-

The Greenens acknowledg obedience to the Patriarch of Constantinople, under whose Iurisdi-Etion are in Afia, the Christians of Natolia (excepting Armenia the leffe, and Cilicia) of Circaf. Bellon, Objection sia, of Mengrelia, and of Russia : As in Europe alio, the Christians of Greece, Macedon, Epirus, 6:35-Thrace, Bulgaria, Rascia, Sernia, Bosina, Walashia, Moldania, Podolia, and Mosconia: together

60 with all the Hands of the Egean Sea, and others about Greece, as farre as Corfu, belide a good part or the large dominion of Polonia, and those parts of Dalmana, and of Croatia, that are sub-

Of which great extendment of the Greeke Patriarchs Iurisdiction, if you demand the reason-I have observed fundry occasions, from whence it hath proceeded. For first, his originall or Pri-

128 Patriarke of Constantinople why so great. Opinions of Greeke Church, LI B.L.

saint de Orfic. Palet.Contantinopiprage fine.

s.Concil.FlorEs.

quero Icrem.

ad Germans.c.1

2. Coult. Floret.

pr pe Initiam.

Keibonf. Grec.

ed cardin Gui-

3. Repead gre-

cor. D.s.lere.

A.Icrem. Kelb.

cal.c.10.22.11.

∢.PoTcuin. de

Tichas Meficauix pag.43. 6.Id.l.cita.p.40

7 Jerem Ref-

8. Tom.: nionis internouel.Ci-

Bantin Por phyrozen. in Tomo.

in Imp.Leon's

philosophi.

ad Guifan.

um.dereb.

parf.c.22.21.

fan Quet.9.

Sr 18 3 6-

mittue authoritie affigned, or rather confirmed to him (as Bilhop of the Imperiall Citie ) by the Contilibration Councell of Chalcedon; contained all the Provinces of Thrace, and Anatolia (Ifauria, and Cilicia and they were in all no leffe then twentie eight Romane Prounces. Secondly, the voluntary submission of the Grecians, vpon their fe paration from the Latine Church greatly increased it : for thereby not enely Greece, Macedon, Epirus, Cardie, and the Hes about Greece (in all feuen Profinces) came vnder his obedience; but also Sicile, and the East point of Italy, named Calabria, revolted from the Bishop of Rome, and for a long time pertained to the Patriarke of Conftantinople, as appeareth in the Nouell of Leo So-Described the phin, touching the order and precedence of Metropolitans, belonging to that Patriarchy. And by the like ordination let down e by Andronicus l'alcologus, in Curopalates, where wee find the remaile Curo- Metropolitans of Syracufa, and Catana in Swile, of Rhegium, Seneriana, Rofia, and Hydrantum in Calabria, registred among the Metropolitans of that Iurisdiction. Thirdly, it was inlarged by the convention of the North Regions to Christian Religion, performed by his Suffragans and Mitransport fact.

**Cover de** Cover de** Cover de** (the like whereof was the principall ferio Polon I.t. caule, that so farre i larged the Bishop of Rome his Iurisdiction in the West parts of Emope. ) And Hadouled Bil. fourthly, by the Turkes conquells made upon the Westerne Countries, subject before to the Bi-Molda. Gua- flipp of Rome : all which, while partly the former Bishops and Pastors fled, to avoid the Turkes oppression (like the hireling that forfaketh the flocke, when he feeth the wolfe comming) and partly, while the Patriarke of Constantineple, to supply that default, was faine to prouide them of new ministers, they have beene by little and little brought and trayned to the Greeke

Now as touching the proper Characters of their Religion, I must for the better defigning and remembring of them, fet before mee some instance or patterne to compare it, and other sects of Religion withall : And that is most fit to be the Romane Church, both because their differences with that Church specially, are in Writers most observed. So that, by that meanes my discourse Darring b. Con- may bee the thorter, and yet no leffe perspicuous to you, that know the opinions of the Romane floring Sept. Church fo well. The principall Characters then of the Grecian Religion (for none but the principall you require) and to mention every flender difference of Ceremonies, would be but tedious and fruitlesse (and is beside without my compasse) are these that follow.

1. That the Holy Ghoft proceedeth from the Father onely, not from the Sonne.

2. That there is no Purgagory fire.

3. That they celebrate the Sacrament of the Euchariff in both kinds.

4. And in leauened bread, and thinke it cannot bee effectually confectated in bread vn-Patr.Keip.i.c.i leauened.

5. That they reiect extreame Vnction. 6. And Confirmation.

7. That they deny the foules of holy men to enjoy the bliffefull vision of God, or the foules of wicked men to bee tormented in Hell, befire the Day of Iudgement. Th. a lef. de Conn.

8. That they admit Priests marriages, namely, so that they maykeepe their wives married before their Ordination, but must not marry after Ordination. 9. That they prohibite veterly the fourth marriage, as a thing intollerable. Infomuch, that (as 40 we find recorded) their Patriarkes have for that cause excommunicated some of their Emperors, although they had no iffee left of their three former marriages. 10. That they reiect the religious vie of mailie Images, or Statues, admitting yet Pictures or plaine Images in their Churches. T.Lar.Orienta-11. That they folemnize Saturday (the old Sabbath ) festivally, and eat therein flesh, forbid-Lis.lib.2. Zonar. ding as vnlawfull, to fast any Saturday in the yeere, exceept Easter Eue. Annal-Tom.3.

12. That they obserue foure Lents in the yeere.

13. That they eat not of any thing strangled, nor of bloud.

9. Ret Grecor 14. And lattly, that they deny the Bishop of Romes Primacy, and ( reputing him and his 50 Queft.8. Poffe-Church for Schismatikes) exclude them from their communion : And so have done, as I find in Lee the ninth his Epiftles, and in Sigebere, about these fine hundred yeeres. And if you defire to fee more differences of the Greeke and Romane Church, you may fee them (but they are of leffe tat. 0.41. 42. importance then those I hauerelated in Posseumes Booke of the matters of Moscouia.

Villamont en. Vorag, la.c. 21. & Alii. 12. Poscuin leitato p. 42. 13. Nilus Episco Tuesal de Primatu Pape Barlaam de primatu Pape & Alii. Leog. ep fi 1. d Epifop, Conflantinop & Acrilan & inplicibus alis. Sigebert in Chronico ad An. 1054. Poffea de Reb. Moftog. 38. & fequentib.

Char. 16. Boter Relat. p.1.3.1.2.c.1.de

diaming region

Of the Swines Stians are the same, that in some Histories are termed Melebites: being esteemed for their or Melebites. Snumber, the greatest seet of Christians in the Orien. The first, being properly the name of their Nation : And the second noting the propertie of their Religion. Surians they were named 60

(to let vaine fancies goe) of the Citie of Tyre, which in the ancient language of the lyvaine, and being neuer to named in the Heirow tengue, but a Poset in De- Phoenicians, was called any and certain- alwayes Day, by which name also it seemeth anciently

CHAP. 12. Tyrus gave name to the Syrians: Now Subject to the Pat. of Antiochia. 129

to have been knowne, even among the Grecians, for appear ly, that Tyre was anciently called Sarra. mentioned in Homer, are no other, as Posidonius in Strabo ex- is recorded by the Roman Writers : and pounds him, then the Syrians: Strabo himfelfe also recording in other places , that the Spring " were called a pape in his time : And that the " naturall Inhabitants of Syria, fo called themselues. Yet neuerthelesse they were vulgarly knowne by the name of Eu por among the Grecians', because the Citie of , being the maine Mart Towne of all those parts', was the place where they had their Trade and Commerce withthole Aramites. But when the Phanician tongue began to degenerate into Chaldee, then the name of 775 was converted into Tur, the later y being turned into to & in found made 10 3. As " they that observe the differences of the Hebrew and Chaldee, and the transitions of the first into the latter know to it is also acknowledged by * Vitriacus, *Gell'instract.6 Niger, Postell and others, that the place Festus in Dittaof Tyre, (for the Citie was veterly rui- oreferra. Strablicin ned three hundred yeeres ago ) is still called the Port of Sur, which name it fee. Vitris hiftor. meth to have obtained, either because it Grussal, c.41. was built on a Rocke, for fo Burchardun Niger in comthat viewed the place hath observed) merar. A. Ale. which T's in the Phanician tongue fig- Sprie pag. co. nifies : or elle as Hierom deriues it, of the "stral is non boordinary.

first ineffe and fear teneffe of roome, as being feated in a fmall lland (but nineteene miles in circuit, as Physinoteth) a fmall Territory for fucha City: or perhaps, because it was the flrongest fortress.

figure 1. The state of the st all those Regions, asbeing founded on a Rocke, environed with the Sea (for it was before b A- Santie. lexauders time e leuen hundred paces diffant from the firme land ) mightily firengthened by for- Hieron.in lib de tification of Art, populous as being the Metropolis of Phanicia, and exceeding rich, as formetime Naminib. Hethe citie of greatest traffike in the world. Of this Citie then, both the Region and Inhabitants of Saria obtained their names: but Mel- 1014 Scalier chite as I faid they were termed, meerely in respect of their Religion, wherein namely trey also- ad ich in dilligether followed the examples and decrees of the Emperours. For whereas after the Councell of enc S. rr. & Chalcedon, infinite perplexitie and trouble began to arife in the East parts, principally about the Gardon Salvie. Chalcedon, infinite perpiexitie and trouble began to affer in the East parts, principally about the in Grammain.

opinion of Euroches and Diofeorum, of one; onely nature in Christ, which that Councell children Co. opinion of Employed had condemned, but notwithstanding found many that maintained it, and reiected the Coun- b Ocurtis. cell in those Easterne Countries : And thereupon the Emperour Leo began to exact (as divers o c Pinite divather of his Successours afterward did ) the suffrages and subscriptions of the Easterne Bishops, for bo. the better establishment of the Councelle. Then began they that embraced and approved the authority of that Councell, because they followed the Emperours decrees made in behalfe of it, to be Niceph, Calift. 30 termed by their advertures Melchite, of Melchi, faith Nacephorus (rather N252) which in the Hills Ettlefoeech of Syria fignifieth a King: (as one would fay, Of the Kings Religion) whereas they that Lib.182.45. opposed themselues to the Councell, were distracted into no lesse then twelve severall Sects, and 1.2.3.45. last not long after into more, as the fame " Nicephorus hath recorded.

Now although the Syrians or Melchites, are for their Religion meerely of the Gracians opi- Grient engs.

1. That the Holy Ghoft proceedeth onely from the Father.

2. That they celebrate Dinine Service as felemr de on the Sabbath, as on the Lords day. 3. That they keepe that day festivall, eating therein fielh, and fast no Saturday in the yeere

4. That their Priests and Deacons contract not Marriage, being already in Orders, but yet retaine their wives before married.

5. That the fourth Matrimony is veterly vnlawfuil.

6. That they communicate the Eucharift in both kinds.

That they acknowledge not Purgatory. 8. That they observe foure Lents in the yeere, &c. And in a word, although they bee meere. i am citato Saly of the same Religion and communion with the Gracians : yet are they not of the jurisdicti- lignicia timer. on of the Patriarke of Constantinople, but of the Archbishop of Damafess, by the title of the Pa. Tom. 8.c. 1.84triarch of Antiochia. For Antiochia it selfe ( where yet the name of Christians was fifth heard in mu att. Perethe world, and was long knowne by the name of Desmons) lying at this present in a manner waft, or broken and dispersed into small Villages, of which onely one, of about fixtie Houses, with g Bellow observe. 50 a small Temple belonging to Christians, 8 the Patriarchall Seat was translated thence to Damaf- L. China de sia . su (where as is reported, are h'aboue one thouland Houles of Christians) and there remaineth. Ecclef. pages. cm (where, as is reported, ate about one thomans Housesor Continues ) and the remainer.

For although i the Patriarkes of the Maronites, and of the Jacobites, whereof the former keepeth Line de Maronites. residence in Libanus, and the later in Mesopotamia, intiffe themselves Patriarckes of Antiochia, mit cult Turo and by the Christians of their owne lec's beefo acknowledged : yet doe the Melchines, who re- grathe p.296. taine the ancient Religion of Syria, acknowledge none for Parriarke, but the Archbillion of Da- ex relatione majem, reputing both the other for Schiffmatickes, as having departed from the obedience and haster in communion of the true Patriarke. And yet besides all these, a fourth there is of the Popes defignation, that voorpeth the title of the Patriarke of Antioch. For & eierfince the Latine tupti - 1 Beter fulls 60 fed Conflantinople ( which was about the yeere 1 200.) and field the pollettion of the East Empire, p. 3.4 1. c. of about seventie yeeres, all which time the Patriarkes of Constantinople, were consecrated by the Patria in a Pope: As allo, fince the holy Land, and the Provinces about it, were in the hands of the Christian and Princes of the West, which began to be about Act 100 and so continued about eightic yetter, trought.

A.Villamont en voyag.l.z.c.zz. 6.7 S.Villamon. leco citate. · Vitriac loro

during which feefon the Patriarkes of Antiochia also and of lerufalem, were of the Pope, conte-

Of the Gengi-& Menzrellians ric Prateol. de ni. o alii. Mela-l.L.c.2. Pin.l.6.c. 13. * Paul Venet.

Lx.c.35. Sili-chou.de Sarma-

2.Boter.par.3.

1.2.6.

He Georgians inhabite the Countrey, that was anciently named Iberia, betwire the Eurine and the Cafrian Sea : inclosed with Shernan (Media) East : with Mengrelia (Colchis ) Weit : with Turcomania ( Armenia the Greater) South : And with Albania ( Zuria ) North. The vulgar * Volumerant opinion of Historians is, that they have obtained the name of Georgians, from their devotion to 11 cde fell. Sp. Saint George, whom they principally honour for their Patron: and whole Image they alwayes beare in their Military Enfignes. But yet (as I take it ) this vulgar opinion is but vulgar errour : Verbo Georgian because I find mention made of the Nation of the Georgians in those parts, both in Mela and Plany, afore Saint George was borne who focuer he was. Touching the properties of whose Religion. this may be sufficient to obserue for all : That = it is the same, both in substance and ceremonies with that of the Gracians, " who yet are in no fort fubiect ( neither euer were ) to the Patriarke of Constantinople : but all their Bishops (being eighteene) professe absolute obedience to their Chitre de fiatu. owne Metropolitan, without any other higher dependance or relation. Who yet keepeth refidence farre off, in the Monastry of Saint Katherine, in the Hill of Sinai. Prateo. de Haret. fell. verbo Georgiani, Bernard Lucemburg in Catalog Heret in Georgiani. Next thele, I muit speake a little of their next neighbours, the Mengrelians and Circoffians (Colebrand Zjebi they were anciently called) feated betweene the Georgians, and the River Ia- 20 nau, along the Coast of Meotic and the Euxine Sea, as being also Christians of the Greeke commuo Bellon.o feru. nion, and beside o of the Patriarke of Constantinople his obedience, and P converted by his Minifters Cyrillus and Methodius to the Christian Religion. Which Religion notwithstanding at this prefent is exercised among them, not without some depravation and mixture of strange tan-Interimo della tafies, for the Corcaffians baptife not their children till the eight yeere, and enter not into the vita de Zyebic. Church (the Gentlemen efpecially ) till the fixtieth (or as others fay, till the fortieth) yeere, Ann. Fabrica but heare Druine Service standing without the Temple, that is to fay, till through age, they grow vnable to continue their Rapines and Robberies , to which finne that Nation is exceedingly whatte to continue their life betwixt Sinne and Denotion, dedicating their youth to Rapine, addicted. So dividing their life betwixt Sinne and Denotion, dedicating their youth to Rapine, and their oldage to Repentance.

Of the Mufenuites & Ruffens Chap. 18. . Isan. Metropolitan Ruff in co. al Episcop.Rom. apud. Sigifmiid. de Rebus Muf-€014-p.31. Guagin deseri . Muscou,c.z.Sagran de errorib. 2.Sigifm.l.citat. p.41.Szeran.de Relig.Ruthenorlon.1.3.c.2.

c.z. Scarga.Podescript.Mofcou.c.z. 4 Inan. Metropol. Ruff. ubific pra p.32.Guagin. descr. Muscou.ca.z. 5 Sigifm.loc. citato pag. 40. 6. Sigifmiloc. citate p.40. Guaguin. loc-

THE Muscouites and Russians, as they were converted to Christianitie by the Grecians. Zonar. Avail. Tom. 3. Cromer. de reb. Polond. 3. so have they ever since continued of the Grecke Communion and Religion.

1. Denying the Holy Ghoft to proceed from the Sonne.

2. Receding Purgatory, but yet praying for the Dead. 3. Beleeuing that the holy men enioy not the prefence of God afore the Refurrection.

4. Celebrating the Sacrament of the Eucharift, with leavened bread, and requiring warme water to mingle with the wine.

5. And communicating in both kindes;

6. But mingling both together in the Chalice, and distributing it together with a spoone.

7. And receiving children after feven yeeres old to the Communion, faying, that at that age they begin to fin against God. 8. Omitting Confirmation by the Bishop.

9. Denying the speciall efficacie of extreame vnction.

10. Excluding the fourth marriage as veterly vnlawfull ; whereas they approue not the fe-13.2.2. Gusguin cond, as perfectly lawfull, but onely permit it, but tolerate not the third, except on very important confiderations.

11. Diffoluing marriage by disorcement, vpon every light occasion or displeasure.

12. Admitting neither Deacons nor Pricits to Orders, except they be married : but yet " prohibiting marriage to them being actually in Orders.

13. Rejecting carved or maffie Images, but admitting the painted.

14. Reputing it unlawfull to fall on Saturdaies. 15. Or, to eate of that which is itrangled, or of bloud.

16. Obseruing foure Lents in the yeere.

17. Refusing to communicate with the Roman Church.

And (to conclude) exceping the difference in distributing of the Eucharist, and exacting of nairiage to their Priests and Deacons, there is not any materiall difference in points of Religion, 7.Guaguin. Ibid. that I find betwixt them and the Grecians. With whom, they not onely maintaine Communi-

pol. Ruff. vbi fupra. apud. Sigifm. p.31. Guagin. loc. citato. Sacran. de errorib. Rutbenor. e. 2. 9. Sacran. loc. citato. 10. Sigifm. Ub. alles, pr. 47. Poscuis, de Rebu Moscou, paga, Guequin, Descript-Moscou.cap.a. 11. Sacrande errorio Rutheror.c.a. 12. Sigism. to cir 121 p. 18. Scargade: no pusto 1.3 c.a. Posscuinde Reb. Moscoup. 1. Gueguin locaistat. 13. Posscuinde Responsable (14. Landau Metropol. Res. win fupr.p.31. Guaguin locallegato. 15. Poffeu in Mofcoula. pag. 42. Sacrande error. Buthen cap 2. 16. Guaguin locatat. 37. Sigine lib citato pag. 33. Boter Relat par-3.1.1 c. de Mofconia.

on, but were also, and that not long tince (and of right still ought to bee) of the same suridiction x Possessian on, but were also, and that not long mice (and originate (who is the Archbilhop of Mofco) Rer. M. Son.
and Government, for * their chiefe Metropolitan or Primate (who is the Archbilhop of Mofco) Rer. M. Son.
Com. 1, 482.1. was wont tobe confirmed by the Patriarch of Constantinople, but is now, and hath beene about Guanumde. was wont core communated and appointed by the Prince (the Emperour of Russia) and vpon series from the Emperour of Russia) and vpon series from the Emperour of Russia). that nomination, confecrated by two or three of his owne Suffragans: Of whom even all torts cap: together, Bilhops and Archbilhops, there are but a eleuen, in al that large Dominion of the Empe- a Possuin less rour of Rufsta. Thus is it with those forts of Christians hitherto related touching their Religion, and Gouer- 145.28.

nours. All which (as you may eafily perceiue) are of the fame communion, and in effect of the To fame Religion with the Greeners And beliede thefe, fome large parts of the King of Polonie his Dominion, for Padolia, and for the most part b Ruffia Nigra, or Rubra as some call it (the larger b Boter Rei, sai Ruffia lubiect for the greatest part to the Duke of Mosconia, they tearme Ruffia alba) are of the 1.41.6 Ruffia ron. Tom. 7. Annal. in fine. & Poffenin. in Apparfect. in Rutbeni. have recorded, yet was it not without speciall referuation of the Greeke Religion and Rites, as is manifest by the Articles of condition extant. ap. Tha lef. de Conn. gent.1.6 pag. 3 cap. 1 pag. 328. of feg. tendered by them to the Church of Rome, and accepted, before they would accept of the vnion. So that it was not any revolting from the Greeke Religion, but onely (in effect) from the jurisdiction of the Greeke 20 Perrarch, to the Pope, and that also with fundrie limitations, And in & Wiles (the Cheropolis of Lanania.) Although the Archbishop professe obedience to the Pope, yet are there also in that Citie, as Sigismand hath observed, more Temples of the Greeke Religion ( there bee that te of Guignin less them) then of the Roman. & Epif. ad Chitra.de Relig Ruffer. So that if wee should collect and ismeinte. put together all the Christian regions hitherto intreated of : which are all of the Greeke commu nion: And compare them with the parts professing the Roman Religion, wee should finde the Greeke fatre to exceede, if wee except the Roman new and fortaine purchases, made in the West and East Indies. He Notionians, who have purchased that name by their ancient imitation, and maintayning Of the Notionia of Nestorius his heretie, inhabite (though every where mingled with Mahametans, or with ant. Chap. 19. Pagant) a great part of the Orient, for belides the Countreys of Babylon, and Affirma, and Mefa-pot amis and Parins, and Medus, wherein very many of them are found, that Seel is spread and featered farreand wide in the East, both Northerly to [essys, and Southerly to Issue. So that in Marcus Paulus his historie of the East Regions, and in & others, wee finde mention of them, & Gail de Rabra and of no fect of Christians but them, in very many parts and Prouinces of Tartarie: As namely lim. Tarte. in I Callar, 2 Samareban, 3 Carebam, 4 Chinebineales, 5 Tangueb, 6 Succhnir, 7 Ergimut, 8 Tenduch Liz, 32.1. end 9 Caraians, 10 Mangi, &c. Inlomuch, that beyond the River Tigrie Eastward, there is not any cap 39 3, 200, 40 wether Sect of Christians to be found, for ought I can reade, except onely the Portugels, and the 4 can seas. converts made by them in India, and the late migration of the Armenians into Perfia.

The reason of which large spreading and prenayling of that Sect so farre in the Orient , if you 40 enquire I finde to that purpole, recorded by Pauliu Discount of Cofthors the King of Perfia, that 61.064.06. hee for the mortall hatred hee bare the Emperour Heracline , by whom hee had beene tore affi-Eted with a grieuous warre, inforced all the Christians of the Persian Empire to Nestorianisme Histor. Mistal, permitting no Catholickes to remayne in all his Dominions. By whole preaching, the Christian . 164,18. Religion being farre there inlarged and propagated into the East (as it seemes both because those of the Perfian Dominion, were more Eastwardly then other Christians, and because it is certaine that all of them till this day acknowledge obedience to the Neftorian Patriarch in Me fopotamia, which Country was then part of the Person Dominion :) It is no wonder if fowing their owne Tares and Chrills wheat together, they propagated with the Gofpell allo their owne hereite. Shortly after which time, the Sarraces of Arabia (Mahametan) conquering Perfia, and bring-Snortly after which time, the Santaness of Cories into all that large Dominion, there remayned Sand de Vift. but little outward meanes and flender hope of their repayre and reformation from any found part Ormach. 17. of the Church (from which they were more now then afored uided) except what affliction and time, and the grave of God might worke and repayre in them. Now touching their Ecclebafticall gouernment: The Patriarch of the Neltonians, to whom all Ten. jang. chofe of the East parts, acknowledge obedience (a number of whole Suffragan Bilhops and wie- Leanland tropolitans, you have reckoned up in Sanders booke de Vifibili Monarchia, and whom they call Iacelich, faith Paules Veneius Brochardus, and others, but miftake it (or elfethey of the Eaft pronounce it amilie) for Catholick, as is observed by Leunclanius) bath his feat in the Citie of Mu- Notice Epilo. Too Ral, on the River Tygru in Mesopotamia, or in the Pateiarchall Monasterie of Saint Ermer fall by Ort pag. s Muzal. Th. a lef. L7. pag. 3.c.4. In which Citie, though fubiedt to Mahumetans, it is e re- Qualin Gentim Muscal, Th. a left. 1, p. 92, 3, 2, 4. In which Catte, though under to manumeram, it is effectively a consider, that the Neutorians retayneyer, fifteen temples, being ellement about fortie thouland being strong and the lacobits three. Which Citic of Chinal, I cither case publics; The left. 1, p. 92, 1, c. 4, and the lacobits three. Which Citic of Chinal, I cither case publics; with Mafins and Ortelins, to bee the fame, that anciently was called Selmin (and in Plinie Se- Streblis long

Sigifm, in Molto

Paul Venet.1 1.2.2.2.4.10d. t.

An.1556. Paul Venet 41.6.15. Brocard Def Pand. Hiftor. e AubretiMira bell fact 1 2. c.8 a Concil Nicen. Arab.l.3.5.33. Vitriac bift Ori ent cas. Tit.de bell ( c.l. 2: 4.8. Scal ad Chron. Euleb. A.M.D. CCX II. Ben in !tiettar. in Media. Bag.1.9.c.9 60. My Prigrimage three hundred furlongs (seven and 1.3.6.2.5.3. Strabol.16. Plial 6 c. 16.

par a lacde Nefteriani. Tho. à lef.de connerf. gent 1.7.par.1.6.

Prol. G:02 1.6.6

18. of 10 Dion .

b.ft.1.40. Pl.n.l.

6.1.26.

z Vtriac. hift. Orient.c.8. 2. Id.loco ci at. b Bot relat. par. 3.1.2.c. de Neft. Thom à lef de convern.Lpc.2 3 Bet,le:e preximo sisato. 4 Victies bif. Orienta 8.Vul-Limont en Vojages (. 3.6.23. . Vill.texitat. 6 Et.T.Swille Neft.profsff.tom. 4.Biblioth. Vet.

> 8 Gulie' de Rubric.ltiner.Tarof the Indians or christians of Saint Thomas. Chap. 10. c Sammar dipopoli Orient ap. Ramuf Vol.1 de d Barbefa endi Vol. 3.312. e Bot.rel.p.z./.2

Patrum p.1054.

Christianita d' India. f Bot.relip.z.l.i. e della vecebia Christ & India Tha le; de cone della nova

lentia Parthorum) both because Selentia was, as Strabo faith, the Metropolis of Affria, euen as Mufal is recorded to bee : And also, because I finde the Ecclesiasticall iuritdiction of those parts committed by the fathers a of the Nicene Councell, to the Bishop of Selencia, affigning him with all, the name of Catholicke, and the next place of Seffion in Councels after the Bilhop of lerufalem, which name and authoritie in those parts, the Bishop of Mofal now hath. Or if Selencia were some other Citie, now destroyed, as for certaine reasons I am induced rather to thinke, yet at leaft, the Patriarchall Seate was from Selemena translated to m Muse m Myzal, the Patriarchall feate of the Neftorians, is either a remainder of the ancient Novide, as Viriacus, and Tyrus (who therefore in zal, for the opinion of Scaliger, his Historie calleth the Inhabitants of that Citic Miniutes) hauere- 10 namely that Seleucia was the lame, that is now called Bagded, or new. Babilen, my observations in Geo.

corded : Or at least, built neere the Ruines of it : Namely, ouer against it, on the other side of the River Tieris, as by Beniamin, who diligently viewed the place, is observed, for Niniue (which hee noteth 19 Medius , my Ooternatron in German See more ex-safe relations of graphic and Hittibrie, will not futter a drelations of me to approoue. First, because See ... banks of Tigits, on Affrica Micros America America and continued to be disclosed into fearered Villages and Castles) shoot on the East banks of Tigits, on Affrica Micros Mercas America state of more thanks of Tigits, on Affrica Micros Micros and Castles) shoot on the East banks of Tigits, on Affrica Micros Micro Micros Micros Micros Micros Mi leucia is remembred by Strabo to be Bridge made ouer Tigris.

thirtie miles and one or two) / linie faith, a great deale more, diffant from Babylon, whereas Bagded is built close by the ruines of it. Secondly, because I find the position of Selencia in Ptolemis to be two third parts of a degree, more North then that of Babylon, whereas Bagded is more South. Thirdly, because in Dion, and others, Selencia is named for a Citie of Mesophamua, which Bag- 20 ded is not, but in the Progince of Babylon , as being beneath the confluence of Tigris and En-The Bishop of Muzal then, is Patriarch of the Nestorians. But yet at this present, if the a Beter. relat. . Relations of these times be true, there is a distraction of that Sect : which began about fixtie yeeres agoe, in the time of Pope Inline the Third : the Nestorians in the North part of Melopos tamia (about the Citie of Caramit) submitting themselves to another Patriarch of the Popes erecting (that revolting from the Bilhop of Muzal, taking also on him, the title of the Patriarch of Muzal, which the Pope bestowed on him) having first rendred and professed obedience to the See of Rome, in which obedience it is faid, that those Nefferians about Caramit doe Rill

Now touching the specialties of these Nestorians. Religion , in relation to the Roman: they

First, that there are two persons in our Sautour, as well as two natures, but yet confesse, that Christ from the first instant of his Conception, was perfect God and perfect man Tb. a lef. Ibid. Secondly, that the bleffed Virgin ought not to bee rearmed sinkly, which yet now in fome fort they b qualific, confeffing her en bothe Morther of God the Son, but yet refufing to cemme her the Mother of God.

Thirdly, that Nofterine condemned in the third and fourth generall Councels, and Dinderus Tarfenfis, and Theodorn Monfastlenfis, condemned for Nesterianifme in the fifth, were holy men: Rejecting for their fake, the third generall Councell held at Epholis, and all other Councels after 40 it, and specially detesting (the malt of Westerianisme) Cyrill of Alexandria, This les Ibade

Fourthly, they celebrate the Sacrament of the Eticharitt, with leauted bread.

Fiftly, they communicate in both kinds. Sixtly, they vie not auticular confession.

Seventhly, nor confirmation.

Eightly, they contract Marriage in the fecond degree of confanguinitie. Th. a lef. Ibid. Ninthly, their Priefts after the death of their first wines, have the libertie of the lecond or third or oftner Marriage. Th. a lef. Ibid.

Tenthly, they have not the Image of the Crucifixe on their Croffes.

He Christians of India, vulgarly named the Christians of Saint Thomas, because By his prea-A ching they are supposed to have beene converted to Christian Religion (and his bodie as is thought, remayneth among them, buried in the Citie of Maliapar on the Coalt of Chipomerdel) inhabit in the neerer part of India : namely , in that great Promontory , whose bale lying betweene the Our lets of the Rivers India and Ganger, ftretcheth out the fides farce toward the South (well nigh 1000, miles) till meeting in the point of Comori, they make, together with the base line forementioned (betwixt Cambaya and Bergala) the figure almost of an Equilaterall Triangle. In the more Southerly part of this great Promontory, I fay neerer to Cape Comeri, about the Cities of Conlan and Cranganor on the Wefffide, and about Maliapar and Negapatan, on the Baft fide, doe thefe Christians of Saint Thomas dwell, being efteemed afore the Portugals 60 frequented those parts, about $ 15000. or $ 16000. Families, or after anothers account e 70000. persons: but on the West Coast, the farre greater number of them is found, and especially their habitation is thickest, about Angamale, f 15. miles from the Citie Coches Northward, where their Archbishop keepeth residence.

CHAP. 12. Patriarcke of Mozal, or Seleucia. Nestorian opinions and rites. Now as touching their government: Their Archbishop till twentie yeeres since or little more, acknowledged obscience to the Patriarch of Mozal, by the name of the Patriarch of Babylon as * For Mozal as I faid before, is either Seleucia, or succeeded into the dignitic of it. And Seleucia is recorded to have bin inhabited by the Citizens of Babylon, whereof it was a Colony: And fuch a Colony, as in thort time it * exhausted Babyton it selfe, of all the Inhabitants, passing, by reason of the more commodious situation, to dwell at Sepaining, or reason of the more commonious trustion, to dwell as Seleuta. So that Seleuta being inhabited by the Bablyanias, and obcomming in fead of Bablyan, the principall Citie of the Proxinces of Bablyana, and A Tyris, the Citie obtaying the name of Bablyan of the Proxinces of Eably and Cities obtaying the name of Eably and Cities obtaying the Cities obtaying the Cities of the Proxinces of Eably and Cities o her Inhabitants (as well as Scleucia, of her Founder) as Plinie hathre-10 corded: And the Patriarch of it, the title of the Patriarch of Babylon. And although * Barbofa note, that fubordination of the Christians of India, to be to the Patriarah of Armenia (which no doubt he received from the Indians: elation, among whom he was) yet certaine it is, that he meaneth no other, then this Patriarch of Mozal: because those Armenians which he meaneth, are by himselfe observed to have for their vulgar Language the Arabik tongue, and to celebrate their diwine Seru ce in the Chaldee, both which agree with Christians of Me-34, but neither of both with those of Armenia, whose Language both in the yulgar and facted vie is knowne to be no other then the Armenian Tongue. As also, because the Indians are knowne to haue beene 20 Neftorians, to which Herefie the Armenians were most opposite, as be-by those Christians of India he is stil tearmed:& certainly that the Patriarch of Mozal, & challengeth their g Plin.16 e.16. obedience, as being of his Iurifdicti- care gent Ly. on, appeareth by the protession of parties.4. Abil-164 a Patriarch of Mozal, of Pope Pin the Fourth his Investing Anne 1563.) as is to bee feene in narchia, But then, the Archbishop Monarcha 7.p. of thefe Indians, revolting from his 642. former Patriarch, fubmittedhim- ximocitato. felfe by the Pertugals perfivation, to . Apud Kamul. the Bishop of Rome, retayning not- vol. I de Viajet. withstanding, the ancient Religion $313. of his Countrey, which was also permitted by the Pope.In fo much, that in a Synod held in Gos , for that purpose, hee would not suffer ing in a manner Iacobites. But as it feemeth, that Patriarch is faid to haue beene of Armenia, for the neerneife of Mozal to the Confines of any alteration to bee made of their ancient Rites or Religion, as one that lived in those parts at that time hath recorded. But that Bishop being dead, his successor in another Synod, held by the Archbelhop of Goa, at Diamper, not fatte from Maliapur, Anno i Poffeiin in 1599, made profettion, together with his Suffragans, and Priefts, both of the Roman obedience Apparatfacrois 1599, mae proteinen, together in the direct fort, the Patriario of Mazad, and Naturiasiment, that they Disputed and Religion, renouncing in the direct fort, the Patriario of Mazad, and Naturiasiment, that they Disputed and Religion of Gas, and fuffered their Lytur-Gazilians. gie, in the points that rellished of Nestorianifine to bee altered, euen in such fort as now it is to be feene in the laft Edition of Bibliotbeca veterum Patrum.

But before this alteration of their Religion was procured by the Partugals, those Christians of India were Neftorians, as having the dependance that I related, on the Patriarch of the Neftoria 1 Office detel. ans, they could not well be any other, Some specialties of whose Religion I find thus recorded. Emmanuell 2.

1. That they distributed the Sacrament of the Eucharist in both kinds. 2. That they celebrated it with bread fealoned with Salt, (pane falate, faith my Historian) della Feebia and in stead of Wine (because India affordeth none) in the juyceof Raisons, fostened one night India. in water and so presed forth.

water and to prefied forth.

3. That they baptized not their Infants till they were fortie dayes olde, except in danger bef. p. Ramef.
Vol. 1.0.313.

4. That they vied not Extreame vnetion. 5. That then Priefts were married, but excluded from the fecond Matrimony. Oforde Reb E-

6. That they had no Images of Saints in their Churches, but onely the Croffe.

That detelling (the Mall of Nestorsanisme) Cyril of Alexandria, they honoured Nestorius silato c. 134. 7. That detetting (the mail of recommission) by the and Dieferrie as Saints, which yet mee thinkes were strange, beeing of so contrary opinions, citate Posseries and Disjection as Salits, restaining the persons in Christ, as well as two natures : the fecond, for one na- Appara, Jacro is ture, as well as one Person; but it may be that Dioscorus is by the Relater mistaken for Diodorus, Diameriuse who was indeed a great Nestorian, and for it condemned in the fift generall Councell.

8. That they denyed the Primacie of the Pope.

9. That their New Testament which in their Churches they formerly read (and still doe) in 50 the Sprink tonge, was by the Nestorians in fundry places, which are now altered by the Romanes, 7 Poffee leoci. corrupted to the aduantage of that Herefie, wherein yet, I thinke the Reporter is deceined : be- 1410. caule the fame corruptions objected to them (whereof fome are no corruptions at all, but agree 8 Poffee, lace rightly with the original Text, much better then doth the vulgar Latine, by comparing where- itate. rightly with the original Text, much better then doth the vulgar Laime, by wimparing where of he examines them, and centures them for corruptions) the fame I (ay, are found in the Syriaque parat. face Edition that we have, being to tarre from being corrupted by the Nestoriansthat it was brought in Nestoriani. out of Mesopotamia into Europe (to bee printed by Moses Mardensu, from the Patriarch of the uidmanslad, is contrary Sect, namely, of the acoustes. But yet notwithstanding, I am indeed certainly perswa- profite. Spice ded that the Syriaque a Translatin The Imperfections of the Syriake Edition , confift partly in fun- on of the New Tettament (whole-60 dry defects; namely, 1. of all the Reselation: 2. of the Epiffle of Saint Inde; 3. of the fecond Epiffle of Saint Peter: 4. of the fecond and third Ep fliss of Saint Iolin : 5. of the Hiftory of the Woman taken in adulte y, in the eight Chapter of Saint Iohns Golpel, contayning the first cleven Verses : and 6. of the 7. Verse of the 5. Chapter

Sanders Booke de visibili Mo- h Sand visib.

Biblioth.vet.Patrum Auttor. Bet.rel p.z.l.2 ca Odeard Bar.

3 Naviget.left phi Indi, inter relationes usui orbu.c.: 34. 4 Idesb.Ind.E.

Concil. Thet.cof 4.10.ca.15 6 lo ind thi thing neer of that Antiquitie, which the Syrians (as Bellarmine and o- Bellar at verte thers report of them) pretend it to Deilase a.

ener was the Author of it) is no-

Tie Confessio

Baumear . Itiner . 1.2.6.9.

be, namely to have beene the work of the first Epistle of Saint John. Of which, the two wants are no lesse of Saint Marke. Firth, becaule Saint Marke dyed in the eighth yeere of of which with the eighth yeere of

of which will be a straight with the defects, in some (very

of which will be a straight with the defects, in some (very

of which was observed in the straight with the will be a straight with the will b

Hieron de Scrip. Ecclesiaft. in Marc Etalmus. Bezasi unius.in Annet ad loc. pradict.

Nero, as Hierome with others hath certainly recorded, after which time many parts of the New Testament, were written : as namely Saint Johns Golpel, the Acts of the Apoilles (for all the History from the 24. Chapter to the end, relateth occurrents after Saint Markes death) the Epiftles of Saint Paul to the Galathians, Epholians, Philippians, Colojlians, to Philemon, and the fecond to Timothy. Secondly, because that Syriaque Translation is not to be found once mentioned, in any of all those ancient and learned Writers, that lived in those East parts, and diligently fought out and observed the severall Edi- 10 tions and Translations of the holy Scripture. And thirdly, because the Dialect discovereth it to be of a forre later Age, then that of the Apoliles : which they will foone find to bee fo (to omit fome other Euidences) that shall compare the Syriagne words recorded in the New Testament by the Euangelists (which all are noted by Hierome and by others) with the Syriague Booke: as for Hierm. de no. example, pappiora, Mat. 6.25. Mamouno. vaccaba Ioan. 19.13. Gephiphto. vonyoda. Mat. 27, 33. Gogonlibo. Axendana, Act. 1.19. Chakaldemo, Barada. 1.Cor. 16.22. Moraneto. And to be thort, there is not almost any Syriague word recorded in the New Testament, which varieth not from that ancient pronouncing that was viual in the Apostles time, either in consonants, or vowels, or both; which could not be the alteration of any short course of time.

Chap.21. Damasit.debe

resto. post med.

Niccob bill Es-clehalt ... 18.6.52

a Chitra de flat.

Eccleiar .p.25.

b Namely 15.

1.2.c.de Gracobi.

d Breitenbach.

cobilis.Vittiac.

e Paul Diacon.

bift.Mifcel.1.18.

Zonar. Annal.

€ M fa. in noti.

plem.bif. 1.18.

Clons. &c.

-i Notitia pro-

S. STIM. COB.1:

1 Mire, notit.

Adimit.

Orient c.76 Pile

lamont | .z.c : 2.

2 Bucebing tal.

liner. To.S.c.1.

4 Bucebing loco citato.

Thalefiz.a.

winciar.

1.4.0 207.

He lacobites obtained that appellation, as Damascene and Nicephorus have recorded, of one Othe lacebites lacobus lurnamed Zanzalus, of Syria, who living about Anno 530. was in his time a mightie inlarger of Eutiches Sect, and maintayner of his opinion, touching the unitie of nature in our Sautour : And his followers are at this day in great numbers, knowne by the name of Jacobites, in Syria, in Cyprus, in Mesopotamia, in Babylon, and in Palestine, For, the Patriarch of Ierusalem who keepeth his residence itill in lerufalem, (in which City, there yet remaine aten, or more, Churches of Christians) is also a lacobite. But although in all these forementioned Regions, these Incobites are found (where they be esteemed to make about $ 160000. Families) or rather e 50000. Cruf. in Turcoz. as Leonard the Bishop of Sidon, the Popes Visiter in those parts hath recorded, ap. Th. a Ief. 1.7. p. 1. cap. 14. yet chiefly they inhabit in Aleppo of Syria, and in Caramit, and the Mountaine Tur of 14 c Bot relat.pa.3 Mesopotamia: But yet their Religion under other Titles, is extended much farther, in so much that it is recorded to bee spread abroad in some d forty Kingdomes. All which lacobites of the places before specified, have, and long have had, a Patriarch of their owne Religion (for I find the e Patriarch of the Iacobites Spoken of in the Emperous Heraclius bift.Orient.c.76 his time) to whom they render obedience. The Patriarchall Church of which Sect, is in the ' Monafterie of Saphran, neere to the Citic of Merdin in the North part of Melopotamia : But the Patriarch himfelte, keepeth ordinary residence in the Citie of Caramit, the ancient Metropolis of To.3.in Heraclio Meloporamia, and which at this day, confideth for the greatest part of Christians, for that Caramit * is the same Citie, which the ancient Writers cal- * Caramit, is Rara Amida, that is (in the 1ia. Enifeon orb. P35. Bot relat p. led Amida, Sabellicus, and others have left observed, and Tu hifb Tongue) blacke Amida, because it 40 2.1.2.c.de Giaco. Amida to have beene anciently the Metropolis of Mefo- was walled with blackt flone. g Sabellic, Suppotamia, I find in the fubicriptions of the ancient Councels plainly recorded.

But till Eutichiani [me fo mightily preuailed in those parts, as to worke in them a detestation In Conc. Chal. Aof the Councell of Chalcedon, and a departure withall, from their ancient obedience: They belonged till then I fay to the Iurifdiction of the Patriarch of Antiochia, as beeing i Provinces of the Diocesse of the Orient, which we find in the & second generall Councell, to be the circuit and k Conc.Conflan limitation of that Patriarchs authoritie, which is the reason that the Patriarch of the Iacobites. keeping euer the name of Ignation, intitleth himselfe Patriarch of Antiochia: And that the 1 Patriarch of Ierusalem, who is also as I said a Iacobite acknowledgeth him (as some record) for Epif.orbis p. 36. Superiour : Having therein (if it be so) but in some fort returned to the ancient obedience, where-1511 in the Bishops of lerufalem flood to the Patriarchs of Antiochia, even till the time of the Councell of Chalcedon : for then began Ierusalem, to be erected into a Patriarchship : And (as we reade m conc.chalced. in the a actions of that Councell) with the confent and allowance of the Patriarch of Antiochia, the three Provinces of Palestina, which till then (Anno 451.) belonged to Antiochia, were 1.2.314 Jacob. withdrawne from it, and affigned to the Bishop of Ierufalem for his Patriarchall Iurifdiction. a Vitriaco. Hif.

Now as touching the Characters of their Religion.

1. They acknowledge but one nature, and but one will and one operation, ex catechilm, lacobitar. ap. Th.a Ief.1.7.p. 1.c. 15. in Christ (as there is but one person) and in token of that, they Ecclef variate, make the figne of the Crofle, with one finger onely, which the other Christians of the East doe 331 Salignias. with two.

2. They figne their Children before Baptisme, many in the Face, some in the Arme, with the figne of the Croffe, i nprinted with a burning Iron.

3. They vie Circumcifion. Saligniac. Itin. Tom. 8.c. 1. even of both Sexes. Vitriac. vt ibi.

4. They confesse their sinnes to God onely, not to the Priest, and as others record, but very seldome, so that many communicate without Auricular Confession. Leonard Sidon, ap. à lef.l.

5. They admit nottof Purgatorie, nor of Prayers for the dead. Th. alef d.7. p. 1.c. 23. 7. p.t.c.14. . 6. They conferrate the Baumaritt in valenmened Bread. Salign. Itim. Hierof Tom. 8.c. 1.

They minister the Sadrament of the Eucharist in both kinds,

3. They beleeve all the toules of just men to remayne in the Earth till the Day of Iudgement, expecting Circuts fecond comming, ex Caterbifm lacabit.

9. Three affirme the Angels to confut of two fubitances, fire and light. ex Catechifm. Iacobit. 10. They honour Drofeorus and lacobus Syrus as Samus but yet condemne Empeles as an Heretike. Patriarch. Iacobit. av. Th.a left. 7. p. 14-14.

Thele are the Properties (that I find regitted) of the Iacobnes Religion, namely of them, that are properly to called, and thill retay no the ancient opinion of lacobus Syrus. But it feemeth, that their principall errors, and which occasioned their first. Schilme and Separation from the Church, Namely, the Herefie of Eutobes touching one nature in Christ, is for the most part, long fince abolished: tot as Virtue with the long agor recorded, they denied to him (then the Popes Le- Virine high gate in those parts, and demanding the queltion) that they believed one onely nature in Christ: Oiteate 76. And being further asked, why then making the Croffe, they figned themselves onely with one finger, their answere was that they did it in acknowledgement of one divine Nature, as also they

20 did it in three feuerall places, in acknowledgement of three perions in that one nature. And befides of late time, Leonardamother Legate of Pope Gregories the Thirteenth in those parts, hath n Tome, Rib. recorded of the Patriarchs profession made to himselte, that although they held indeed but one tramp 1050. personated nature to be in in Christ, resulting of the voton of two natures not personated, yet o A; ad Baron. they acknowledged those two natures to be vnited in his perion, without any mixtion or con- in fine Tomi 6. fution, and that they themselves differed not in understanding, but onely in tearmes from the La- Annal. fulion, and that they themiciaes differed not in vincertranoning, our consty in Church, Thia left, 7,9-1,6-14. And although (asit is florted by lome Writers of these times) Religion Moris, fine Church Lova reparty to the fill retaine that errour, yet certainly, that it is no generall and receiued opinion among them, is most manifest, for we have extant the confessions of the a Iaco Damin, a Gest. bites of Mesopotamia, and of those of & Agypt , and P of Athopia , and of a Armenia, q Config Ac

30 that is to Tay, all forts of Incomes, out of which it is suident, that that enrour of Entiches, is cleer-menter, Numas that is to lay, all forts of Incohites, out of which it is emount, that that the content of Christ was taken of the: 38.20 cm.

I y renounced, as articularly acknowledging that the humane nature of Christ was taken of the: 10 id. cm. il. by remounted, and of the Lime substance with ours, and remayned, after the adunation with the Deitre Challed. Allion. without any mutation of properties) diffinet from the digine nature ! All which the Herefie of 1.6 Thead de Entiches denied.

He Sect of Christians named Cophii, are no other, the Christians of Agypt: And, it is the Of the coshii. I name of their Nation, rather, then of their Religion (in respect whereof they are meerely or chiffinniot lacebites) for as Masim hath obierued, the Agyptums in some ancient Monuments are tearmed Egypt. Chapata Agophi, whom vulgarly we name Cophii, or Copti, and so they also name themselves, as may Maj in Syron. Agophi, whom vulgarly we name Cophi, or Copii, and to they also name enemicutes, as may 40 be feene, in the Contessions of these Agphians recorded in Baronius, And certainly, that the Agont in Legal, grains themselves, name their Country (bibth, Orselius after Thomes hath recorded: A sallot Earth Ask and Sperman sollerued by Sealiger, that in the Talmud it is called TANA. And, by Drussum, out of R.D anid, sea aposto. Tom. and R. Shelomo, that Agpt is by them named "Self" but not without some transition of let- 6. Annal in fine. ters 72 no for 7000 R. David in praf.l. Radic. R. Shelom in Exod. 13.

the Iacobites. Infomuch that (as Damafeen hath observed) the same Sectaries, that first were Chron ad An. tearmed Agypii, becaule among the Agypiians, that Herelie of one onely nature in Christ, ADCCXXXIV found the mightieft patronage, were after of Iacom Syrm about mentioned, named in Syrm, Ia- Druf de Trib. cobiter. And till this day Seuerus, Diescorns and Jacobus, the principall parents and patrons of sell-ladeor. L. 50 that Scot, are by the Egyptians honoured in the memorials of their Lyturgies. Th. a lef. lib. 7. Philathery. Da-

pag. 1. cap. 5.

I Ving Circumcifion: Yet I am not very certaine whether for Religion, or (which I observed 1801.ml it before to have beene) as an ancient cuftome of that Nation , which cultome yet is reported 1 Bot. rel. p 3.1. Th. à Ief.1.7.p. 1.c.6. Boter.p. 3.l. 3.de Chrift de Egitto, to be now absogated among them, by the performance the property of the English to be now among them, by the services of the Bilhops of Romes Legates in a Synod held at Carre about thirtie yeeres agoe, de Egillo.

2. They conferre the inferiour facred orders (vinder Priesthood) even to Infants presently after Baptilme, altogether, their Parents promiting for them and performing in their iteads (till they be fixteene yeeres old or the reabout) what they promife in their bei alfes, namely chaftitie, 60 and falling enery Wednelday and Friday, and in the foure Lents of the yeere. The a lef. 1.7.9.1.c.5 They repute not Baptilme of any efficacie, except ministred by the Priest and in the Church in what necessitie loeuer. Th. à lef.l.7.p.1.c.5.

3. Neither baptize their children afore the fortieth day, though they should die without Baptilme. Tb. à lef, Ibid. N 2 barefilain En-

4. Mi-

Rites and opinions of the Cophy or Egyptian Christians, Brerewood, LIB.I.

2 Then ! in Co'm de Leuant. 4. Ministring the Sacrament of the Eucharift in both kinds.

5. They minister the Sacrament of the Eucharitt in leavened bread. The lefabid, 6. Gine the Sacrament of the Eucharift to Infants presently after their Baptismer Id. Ibid.

7. To ficke persons they neither minuter Extreame Vnetion, norithe Eucharift. Id. Ibid.

8. Although they acknowledge the Holy Ghoft to proceed from the Father and the Sonne, yet in relating of the Nicene Creed, they leave out those words (and from the Sonne) as the Grecians doe Id. Ibid.

9. They admit not of Purgatorie por of Prayer for the dead. Tha left 7.p. 1. 23.

10. They contract Marriages even in the fecond degree of conlanguinitie without any difpenfation. Tecla. Abiffin.ap.Th. a lef l.7.p.1.c.13.

11. They oblerue not the Lordsdayes, nor other Feafts, except in the Cities. Tecla. A. biffin. Ibid.

12. In celebrating of the Eucharift, they elevate not the Sacrament. Tecla. Abiffin. Ibid. 13. Reject all the general Councels after that of Epbefss, exprelly condemning the Councell of Chalcedon, Id. Ibia.

14. Reade the Gofpel of Nicodemus in their Lyturgies. Prateol, de Herefib in Cophii.

re. Repute the Roman Church hereticall, and avoid the communion and conversation of the Latines, no lesse then of lewes. And although Baron, in fin. Tom. 6, Annal, have registred an Ambaffage from Marcus the Patriarch of Alexandria to Pope Clement the Eighth , wherein hee is faid to have submitted and reconciled himselfe and the Provinces of Egypt to the Pope, yet the & matter being after examined was found to bee but a tricke of Importuse, as Th.a lof 1.7.p. 1.c.6.

Thom.à Tef. de conu.gent.l.7. 3 Thom alef.

E412.1.3.c.5.6.

22.30 33.06.

Leont de Sell.

4.0 5.0 1.18.

Allien.s. Niceph 1 16.c.2.

o fegnent.

m S)ned.97.

101.103.108.

6.45.109.00.

Cancil. Biny.

16. Maintayning the opinion of one nature in Christ : yet in such fort, that although in the generall polition touching one nature in our Sauiour, they follow Entyches, yet in the speciall declaration, at this day they differ very much from him. For they acknowledge him to bee truly, and perfectly both God and man : And, that the Diuine and humane natures, are become in him one Nature, not by any confusion or commixtion of them , as Eutyches taught : but onely by coadundation. Wherein although they Catholikely confesse, that there is no mutation of properties in either nature, being vnited in Christ, from what the divine and humane natures severally obtaine in fenerall Perfons: Yet beeing not well able (as it feemes) to distinguish betweene the nature and the Person, they dare not say there be in Christ two Natures, for feare they should flip into Nestorius Herefie of two Perform. Which Herefie of one onely Nature in our Saujour, beginning with Eurycher, although after ditperfing it felfe into many branches, batheuer fince the time of the Councell of Chalcedon, by which Eutychianisme was condemned and forit, the 1 cone chalcen : Patriarch of Alexandria 1 Dioscorus deposed, beene nourished and maintayned, as by other Christians of the East, fo specially by the Egyptians. Insomuch, that not onely fundry Patriarchs of Alexandria, and Antiochia (but Specially of Alexandria) together with many other Bishops of the East parts, their Suffragans, and adherents, are recorded to have maintayned and advanced, that Herefie of Empehes, but we find moreover, many Synods of those parts, registred or remembred in Enagrins, Leantins, Nicepherus, and the Booke called " Enidinos , brought to 40 light by Pappus, &c. wherein (in the behalfe of that Herefie) the Decrees of the Councell of Chalcedon were condemned. In which Councell, although we reade of the greatest Confluence of Bilhops, that ever met about the Establishment of any point in Christian Religion (& yet beside the fix hundred and thirty Bishops present in that Councell, there are extant in the " Booke of Councels, the Soffrages of about thirtie Provinciall Synods, that by their Ep files to the Empercur Lee, confirmed it, together with all the Bishops of the West, by whom it was likewise received) yet notwithitanding all this, that Herefie to prevailed in the East parts, and specially in n Ad fin. Concil. Egypt, whereof we now entreate, that from that time to this it was neuer cleered of it. But as there was never Herefie that fo grieuously wounded the Church of God, as that of Euryches (except perhaps Arrians me) so was no part of the Church so deeply and deadly wounded by it, as that of Egypt. So that, even at this day, although the wound be in some fort healed, yet the wemme or skatre still remayneth. For it is not many yeeres, fince by certaine Islantes, Agents for the Bishop of Rome, some conferences were had with the Patriarch of Alexandria and his Synod, wherein, although they confessed (if true relation he made of that confesence) that Christ is true God and true Man : yet did they purposely refraine from mentioning two natures in Chrift, left they should by little and little il p into the Herefie of two perfons. Now as touching their Ecclefiafticall government they are fubicet to the Patriarch of Alex-

La e de Chriftiani de Egitto.

o Chitre de la: Ecc'efir p.: 1. " at Alex. an Baron, Tom. 5

andria, o whose Patriarchall Seat is at this present translated (and so long hath beene) to the Citie of Caire, in P either of which Cities, (Caire and Alexandria) there remaine at this day, but three Christian Temples api ce. Whereas Burchardus recor eth of his time (about three 62 hundred and twentie yeeres agor) that in one of them (Carre) there were about fortie, Burch. defer.ter.fanct.par. 2.c.3. But yet, to the Iurild ction of this Patriarch belong, not onely the netine Christians of Egypt, who are but very few, considering the exceeding populousnelle of that Nation (for they are efteemed as I faid before, not to paffe fiftie thousan 1.) which in Burebardus

CHAP. 13. Aluarez taxed. Patt. & BB. of the East. Monks of SS. Antony & Basil. 137

his time, areby him recorded to hauebeene about 300000. Id. p.2.c. 3. together with the small remainder of Christians, that are found about the Biy of Arabia, and in Mount Simi Eastward, or in Afric 25 farre as the greater Syrus Westward : but the Christians likewise of Ethiopia acknowledge obedience to him. For although Alnmez in his Storie of Ethiopia have related (as he doth also tome office matthes touching the ancienter condition of the Church, too groffely and holdly) that the Christians of Wabratill their defection from Christianitie, were of the Popes dependance and Iurildiction, and received their Bishops by his confectation (and fay nothing of the Patriarchof Alexandria) yet certainly, that they were not fo, is manifelt, for besides that Saligniaces (himselfe the Popes Protonotary, and whose travell had taught him fome knowlegge of the East parts, directly denieth the Nubions profelling of obedience to the Buhop of To leage of the East parts, that they were governed by a Prelate of their owne, whome they termed the Prieit of the Law. Itiner. Tom. B.c. 2. Bende that direct tellmony of his I fay, there bee other Euidences. First, Because there cannot be produced any Instance, our of any Ecclesia freall the florie, either ancient or moderne (as I airketerainly persyated) to that rifed. Secondly, because the Fathers of the Norma Conneclinative find in a Gradous Gentembry, see knowne Yolmutes. In Niem Contil. figned Ethiopia, whereof Nubia is a part, to the Patriarch of Alexandria his Iurifiliction: Thirdly, becaule the Patriarchinip of Alexandria, lyeth directly betweene Nubiwand Rame, debeeing immediatly at the backe of Egypt. Fourthly, because the Nubians were me Religion Lucobnes, as Variating or a Roman Cardinall Virracus Becardus, and others have recorded, and as their baptiffite with fire 20 remembred by Burchardus and Saligniacus did manifeltly import Burch defer sers fantipe to 3.5. 7. Saligniac, Fron. Tom. S.c. 2. of which Sect the Patriarch of Alexandria is known et o be which, had the Pope the affignement or confirmation of their Prelates, it is veterly valide they should have bin Firtly, because in time of their necessity, being left destitute of Bishops and Ministers, if they had pertained to the Bishop of Rome his Jurisdiction, they would rather have had recourie to him, for repaire of the decayed and ruinous state of their Church who both plentifully could, and no doubt readily would have released them, rather, then furfered them to depart as they have done, from the Christian Faith : To him Liay, they would sather haue reforted for supply, then tothe King of Habaffa o (as they did) beeing of another Patriarchall Iuridiction. Certaine o Alastet les therefore it feemeth, that Nubia while it was Christian, belonged not to Rome but to Alexan-30 dries By whom, if the Nubisses in their diffress were not relected, no man can wonder, that Now touching the Habefiner, or mid-land Cthispines, whether they have obtained that Of the Habefiname, by reason of their habitations (in houses) which the Expression willed Angles, as fine, they are Strabe inth observed (for the ancient Bookes have and my not and in difference from them, which dwelling neerer the Bay of Arabia, were called Troglodus ( am # reagur) because they pin 14.1.8.50welled in Caues, not in Houses, as Plinie and others have recorded : whether Ffay, for that rea- lin. Pophilia. 34 fon they have obtained the name of Abafins, or no, let more curious men inquite. But as couching their Religion, they are in manner meere lacobites : And their King(whom by error we call Profile Ichar) is fundry times in Histories termed the Prince of the Incohere, And their leaning Liber, Ribby, On the Liber removable. On the Liber Ribby, the Consult of Christian Consultation of the Libert Ribby, and their leaning and the Consultation of the Consul out of their memorialls (in their Liturgy) the Councell of Chalcedon, by which the herefie tom. 6.8 in the maintained after by Iacobus Syrus was condemned, whereas the Councells of Nice; of Constantimaintained after by lacobus dyrus was concerning, whereas the confinence of rows, of constants so the solling of Ephessa are remembred, doth import to much. And in very deed confidering the 24g Zab. de dependance, that the Church of Haba fits hath of the Patriarke of Alexandria; it is almost vo- Relig & Merit. poffible but they should be so for as Zaga, Zabo, an Habasime Bishop hath left recorded, although Ribones Dami they have a Patriarke of their owne, whom they call in their owne language Abana, ( our Fa- and Gasther ) and hee cholen by the Habassine Monkes of Saint Antonies Order temaining in Terufalem. yet are they limited to chule one of the Iurifdiction of Alexandria, and a * Monke of Saint Ansome he must be. And beside that, the confirmation

You may obserue, which I in my reading have and confectation of him belongeth to the Patri-50 done, that all the Patriarkes and other Eithops of the Eaft, are Monkes, of the Orders, either of Saint Bafil, or Saint Authory, for the Patriarkes of Conflaninople, of antiochia, and of Armenia, are Monkes of Saint Bafils Order : the Patriarkes of Alexandria, of knoweth the great want and milery of the Church of Egipt.

arke of Alexandria, and by him he is fent with Ecclesiasticall charge into Habassia. And ( to be short) their prayer in their * present Liturgie, for the Pa- * Liturg Ethitriarke of Alexandria, terming him the Prince of op. Tom. 6. Biblio Employacità de l'actinizació de Arganiza e chiefa de la facilità del la facilità de la facilità dependance and subjection to that Sea. Which supreme Ecclefiafticall power touchin . Libiopia, to have belonged very antiently to the Patriarke * concil Nices. of Alexandria, may appeare by the Arabite Booke of the Nicene Councell, translated by Pifa- 13:can. 36. 60 am, where that authoritie is found alligned to the Patriarke of Alexandria, touching that Abuna of Athiopia (by the name of Catholike) and withall, to that Catholike of chiefe Bishop of &thiopia, the fewenth place in the Sessions of generall Councells , namely , next after the Bishop of Selencia ( whole Seat was next the Patriarkes of Iernfalem ) by the Decree of the tame Nicene Fathers was allotted.

N =

But

de Relig. 🜣

morib.Ethiap.

Ethiop c.11.

1.2.3.4 5.6.9. 10.11.Z.z.Z.b.

But if you defire a register of some speciall points of their Religion;

1. They circumcife their children the eight day, after the manner of the lewes : Euen Females allo as well as Males, wherein they differ from the leves.

2. They reuerence the Sabbath ( Saturday ) keeping it folemne equally with the Lords day. 3. They eat not of those beafts, which in the old Law are cenfured for vncleane.

ap.Damianum. 4. They confecrate the Sacrament of the Eucharift in volcauened bread : contrary to the cu-4. Aluarez Hift. Rome of all the East, the Armenians excepted, Neuerthelesse Tecla an Habafine Monke and Priest, faith that they celebrate ordinarily in leavened bread, but on the day of the institution of 5.Aluarezábi. the Lords Supper (the Thuriday before Eafter) they do it in bread volcauened ouer al Habafita.an. Tb, a lef. 1.7. p. 1.6.1.2.

Tecla Abiffin. ap.Tb.a1ef. loc.

5. And communicate in both kinds, which they receive flanding. And all of them, as well of the Laity as Clergy at leaftwife every weeke, the Prieft miniftring the bread, and the Deacon the wine with a spoone, Teela. Abisin. loel. Zag. Zab. de rel. But yet onely in the Temple ; it being nor lawfull for any (not the King or Patriarke) elsewhere to communicate. After the receiving whereof, it is not lawfull for them to fpit that day till the fetting of the Sunne. Zag.

* Tecla Abifin.

7. And that even to their yong Infants, presently after they are baptiled." which in their Males and the alefude is fortie dayes after their birth, and in Females eightie (except in perill of death, for then they are presently baptised. Tecla. Abisinab. ); ill which time be complete, their women also enter not into the Temple Zag . Zab shid.

8. They profeste but one Nature and one Will in Christ, yet without any mixtion or confuse on of the Dinine and Humane lubitances, Tecla.ap. The lefait.1.7 pa. 1.c. 13.

9. Beleeue the reasonable soules of men, to bee traduced from parents by seminal propagation. Zag. Zab. de Relig. Ethiop in fine. Th.a Jef.l.7.p. 1.c.&

10. Byletue the foules of the Infants departing afore Baptisme to bee faued, because they are forung from faithfull parents, and namely the vertue of the Eucharift, received by the mother after conception to fandifie the child in her wombe Zag Zab.ibid. Th. a left.7.p. 1.c.8. Almar bift. Ethiop.ca.22.

11. They prefently upon commission of sinne refort to the Confesiour, and at every confession (though is were every day) receive the Sacrament of the Eucharift. Zaga Zaba ibidem.

12. They have onely painted, not massie Images in their Churches. Totla, vbi supra

13. They accept onely the three first generall Councells, reiecting that of Chalcedon, for desermining two Natures to be in Christ, and for condemning Dieferra the Patriarke of Alexandria. Teela. Abif. ib.

14. Elepate nor the Sacrament in celebrating of the Eucharift , but keepe it covered : neither referue it after the Communion. 1 .. To exemmunicate obstinate finners, is peculiar to their Patriarke, which yet is not viu-

all among them, except in cafe of Murther, Zag. Zababid. 16. Their Priefts, and other inferiour Eccletiafticall Ministers (as also Monkes) line by their labour, having no tithes for their maintenance, nor being fuffered to craue Almes. Zag. 40

17. But the conferring of Bishoprickes, and other Ecclesiasticall Benefices (except the Patriarchinip) belongeth onely to the King. Zag. Zab. shid.

18. Vie neither confirmation, nor extreame vnction.

19. Admit the first marriage in their Bishops and Priests, but not the second, except their Patriarch dispense.

20. Eat fiesh euery Friday ( 25 on other dayes) betwixt Easter and Whitsunday : as on euery

Saturday also through the yeere, except in Lent. 21. Baptife themselves every yeere on the day of the Epiphany, in Lakes or Ponds.

Lib.citato.c.s. Aluar.c.13. Zaga Zabo, ubi fiipra.

Zaga.Zabo.loco.

citato. Aluareza

Concerning which first and last points, namely, of their Circumcifion and annuall Baptismes, 50 I have somewhat to observe : Namely, first, touching their Circuncision, that they observe it, not fo much perhaps of Religion, as of an ancient custome of their Nation. For although their circumcifing on the eight day, semeth to imply that they received it from the lewes, yet their circumciting of both texes, as certainly agueth that they did not fo. And if the Habafines bee of the race of the ancient Libiopians, the doubt may bee the leffe : because Herodossu and others have recorded it, for an ancient Ceremony of that Nation. Or, if they bee not of the Libiopian race, but of the progeny of the Arabians, as by Uranius in Stephanus Byzantins it should appeare, recording them for a Nation of the Arabians, neere . Which feemeth to bee true, both because in the to the " Sabeans : euen in this case also, the occasi- Ethiopian " Liturgie, they terme their owne Kingon and original of circumcifing among the Abas. dome the Kingdome of Shebs, and also because the fines will bee discerned well enough: namely, be- Kings of Habasija deduce lineally their descent, cause it is specially storied to have been a very ancient Ceremony among the Arabians : among bein Arabia: and either the fame that wee call Awhom it might have beginning, by reason of the rabia falix, or some parts of it. And certainly it is from the Queen of Sheba that came to fee Salaman: which Sheba is to the skilfull certainely knowne to CHAP. 13. Abasime Circumcifion and annual Baptisme. Armenian Church.

observed by learned men, that Arabia fatix in the descent of many of the Arabians, from I [mael, and Eafterne congue, is named NAW, as Arabia de fonnes of Abraham, by Keturah, planted in Araferra 777 and Arabia Petrea, DDA, or 500.

bis, of which Shebs by name recorded for one. But vet if the Abafriers observe circumcilion, not, as an ancient National Custome, but in any fort for Gen. 15.3. Religion fake, then it may be excuted in tuch manner, as b one of their owne Bishops hath pro- 5 Shindler, in feffed, namely, that it is done onely in remembrance and love, and imitation of our Sautour, becaule he, was circumcifed, and not for any other opinion of holine fle at all. And fecondly, touching their annual baptifings in the Feaft of the Epiphany, which they a Zaa Zabo (with many Ancients of the Church ) Suppose to be the day of our Sauiours Baptilme, it is decla . thispra. 30 red by the . Athiopian Bishop about mentioned to bee practifed among them, not as any Sacra- De Religion red by the * Athiopian Difficultion and the mentioned to dee practice among time, increasing action in the ment, or any conceit of fundification to be obtained by it, but onely as a memorial of Christs aut.med. baptifme, because as on that day he was baptifed in lordon, Euen as the Moscouses also do the like # Posseninde on the fame day in Ricers, and for the same reason, which appeareth the more enidently to bee Ref. Moston, 5.6 so, because this yeerely baptising is no ancient Ceremony of the Habasius, but a fashion of late taken vp among them his diseres that fixed long in those parts hath related, as being namely the advance, hish institution of e his grandfather , that then reigned in Habafia, being about one handred things of.

yeeres agoe.

He Armenians, for Trafike to which they are exceedingly addicted, are to be found in multudes, in most Cities of great Trade, specially in those of the Turkib Empire, obtaining niam. Chap. 24. more favour and printledge among the Turkes, and other Mahammann, by a patent graunted + Pid. Politikis, that Nation under Mabunes owne hand, then any other fect of Christians. Infomuch that no de to Lunguis. Nation feemeth more given to Merchandize, nor is for that cause more dispersed abroad, then the Titale Lingua Armenians, except the lewer. But yet the native Regions of the Armenians, and where they are ftill found in the greatest multitude , and their Religion is most supported , are Armenia the Greater ( named fince the Turkes first possession of it Tuscomonia ) beyond Euphrates, and Armemia the Lelle on this fide Enphrates, and Cilicia, now termed Carmania. Now the Armenians touching their Ecclefiafticall gouernment, were anciently of the Iurifdiction coulie Patriarke of Conflantuople, as being & Provinces of the Dioceffe called Pontica, g Notitia pro-30 which together with the Prounces of the Dioceffes Aflama, and of Thrace (three of the thirteen sinciar. Orient.

Dioceles, into which the whole Empire was divided) were by the Councel of Chalcedon, affigned don. Can, 8. or elle confirmed to the Patriarke of Confirmeinople, for his jurisdiction. But at this day, & very long fince, euen before Photius his time (as is euident by his circular Epiffle) the Armenians are departed, both from the gouernment of that Patriarke, & from the communion of the Grecians (whom at this present, they have in those detestation then any other S. et of Christians) and that principal photic evillenly, for the very fame occasion, for which the lacobines of Syria withdrew their obedience from cyclica and Bathe Patriarch of Antischie, namely, the Herefie of one onely nature in Christ. And euer tince ron Tomico that departure, they asknowledge obedience, without any further or higher dependance, Annal An. 863. to two Patriarckes of their owne : whom they terme Catholices. Namely one of the 40 greater Armenia, the families under whose intridiction exceede the number of 1 50000 befile verefidence, in the Monalterie of Ermeazin, by the Citie, occ. Leonard. Staon, epic. ap. 1 no. a 16]. Epic. Orb. p. 36. lec. citate. by the Citie of Erman in Perfia, being translated thirteer by occasion of the lace warres Boter. Relation. betwirt the Persians and the Turker: but his arcient seate was Sebuftia, the Metropolis of Ar- p.3.1.2.c.de menis the greater: And the other Patriarch of Armenia the leffe, the Families of whole in Dioferiani. risdiction are esteemed about 20000. Leonard, Sidon, vbi. Supra, who anciently kept at & Meli- & Concil. tene, the Metropolis of that Prouince, but now is resident in the Citie of Sis, not farre from Tar- Challed A Tion.

ry manie Monasteries. Leonard. Sidon opifc.ap. Th.a lef. 1.7.p. 1.c. 19. who at this prefent keepeth fus in Cilicia, the middle limit on Interflutions, of those two Patriarchs Iurishickions, being the River Emphrates. 50 Such at this present is the state of the Arminian Church, and the jurisdiction of their Patriarchs,

But it should feeme, by that I finde recorded, by Otho Phrisingensis, vpon the report of the Legates of Armenia, fent from the Catholique, to the Bishop of Rome in his time, that the inrif- 1.7.6.32. diction of the Catholique of Armenia was then farre larger, as namely, that he had aboue a thoufand Bishops under his obedience: Except Otho perha; s mistooke, as I verily beleeue he did, obedience for communion , for as touching the communion, which the Arminians maintained with other lacobites, it extended indeede very farre : But the iuridiction of Armenia, for ought I can finde in any record of antiquitie, contained onely foure Provinces, namely, the two Armewises before mentioned, the greater and leffe, and the two Provinces of Calicia. In which small circuit, that fuch a multitude of Bishops should be found, is veterly vncredible, especially because we finde registers extant, both of the Bilhops of the two Armeniaes, in the Nouell of Leo. So. Oriental.12. phus the Emperour, touching the precedence of Metropolitans; and likewife the Bishops of Ciheis, in c Guilielmus Tyrius : and all of them put together, exceede not the number of thirtie. C De Bel. faces And although I finde that Institute divided the two Armeniaes into foure Provinces (which 1.14.612. yet to have beene after reduced againe into two, the Novell of Leecuen now mentioned affereth Novella Late.

residence, in the Monasterie of Ecmeazin, by the Citie, &c. Leonard. Sidon, epifc. ap. Tho. a lef. h Mira Notis.

par a Medio-Stepbanas Bygant, wepl mad in dictione ABaileon. op.inTom.6. Bibliothece Vet.Pat.p.59. * Zag. Zabo de Morib.Ethiob. apud Damian.

Herodor.L.z.

. Nicepb. h ft. E de 1.18 c. 53 Confej Armenio. 2 Alfrafataftro LS. cont. Heref.

1.27.10. 2 Nacephordee. fup.citato Littegia, Armen.mpa Callanarum de tat.Li ur Arme: mior . voi apra. Concil Con-Rant. 3. Can. 3 2. r:b gent l 2 c.10

Tio bereft 1.

Boem lac.citate.

7 Be Zon. Obfer. 1.3.c.: 2. Pofel. Orient.L4.c.:9. p:phanie. 2.c.D. of coriani. 10 Vurisc. bift. Orient c.79. 11 Vitriac.lec. 12 Beter Jeco. Tacit hifteriar .-

Planter. 1.9.6.5.

vs) yet were not for that cause, the number of Bishops encreased any whit the more. Now, touching the properties of their Religion.

1. They are charged with the opinion of one nature in Christ: yet not as Eutycher Thiatined Attacas it one, namely, by a permixtion and confusion of the divine and humane natures; but yet by such a conjunction and coalition of them, that they both together, make but one compounded nature in our Sautour, as the body and foule, but one compound nature in man. But neuertheleffe, it feemeth by the confession of the Armenians, which we have extant touching the Truntie, sent by Heefi 1. Been, the mandate of the Catholique of Armenia, to the Patriarch of Constantinople, not liftie yeeres ade viorib gent: goe, that at this prefent, they have veterly renounced that phantalie.

2. They believe the Holy Ghoft proceedeth onely from the Father.

3. They celebrate the Sacrament of the Eucharift with valeauened bread (as the Romans doe.) 4. They denie the true body of Christ to be really in the Sacrament of the Eucharist under the Species of Bread and Wine, Guido Sum. de heresib. They mingle not water with wine in the Eucharift. An ancient opinion and propertie of theirs, for I finde it e recorded of them (and condem-A Nicephiles to ned) in the fixt generall councell. But they retaine it notwithflanding ftill.

5. They receive Infants prefently after baptilme to the communion of the Euchariffaffirming that baptiline cannot be conferred without the Eucharift Guid. Sum, de berefib, They denie the vertue of conferring Grace, to belong to the Sacraments. Guide loc. alleg. They 5 Boem. de Mo reject Purgatorie, and pray not for the dead. Th. a lefd. 7.p. 1.c. 17. 7 They beleeve that the foules of holy men obtaine not bleffedneffe till the vniverfall judge- 11 ment. Tha left.7.p. 1.c. 17. They admit married Priests, and as Burchardus hath recorded, defer. Allouf a coffr. l. terr. fanct. pa. 2.c. 2 5.9. admit none to be fecular Priefts, except they be married. They rebaptife 12,cont, Heref. thuje that come to their communion from the Latine Church. Guid. Sum. de herefib. but exclude Tit.de Purgate- their fecond marriage.

8. They abitaine from eating vncleane Beafts.

9. They eate flesh on tridaies betweene Easter and Ascension day

10: They fast Lent most strictly, without Egges, Milke-meats, Flesh, Oyle, Wine, &c, onely in Lingua Teer- with Fruits, Herbs Roots, and Pulle.

11. They celebrate not Christmaffe day when other Christians doe (Decemb.25.) but fast on 8. Bommbe citat. it : and initead of it, celebrate the feaft of our Saulours Baptifme, namely, on the day of the E- 30

12. They folemnife the feast of the Annunciation, the fixt day of Aprill. The purification the foureteenth of February,&c.

He Maronites who were so named, not of an heretique called Maron, as many falsely write, Prateol. de fett. Heretie in verb. Maronite. But of a holy man of that name, for wee finde mentioned in the Booke of Councels the Monasterie of Saint Maran. Concil. Constantinop. fub. Mon.act. 5. the Monkes onely whereof at first were termed Maronites : they are found in small Or the Maro numbers, in Aloppo, Damaseu, Tripolic of Syria, and in Cyprus: But their maine habitation, is in mies. Chap. 23.

a Poffeiin, 4p. the Mountaine Libanus. Which although it contains in circuit about a feuen hundred miles, and 40 par Sair in Ma. is policifed onely in a manner by the Maronnes, who for that priviledge, namely to keepe themfelues from the mixture of Mahumetans, pay the Turke . Namely, for every one about 12. yeeres b Boter Re'at. P. . large tribute : yet of all lects of Christians, they are the old 17. Sultanines by the yeere (the Sultanine 3.43 e de Ma-rasii. Poffain. Biolitain. (all in featered Villages) befide a few Monasteries, by Gullings six pence of our mone) and for eu-bicitain. locicitato. (all infeatered villages) belief a few modulateries, by fpace of ground fixeteene spans square, Broard in Dest. reation of the indisposition of Libanus in most places, for one Sultanine yearely, as is recorded by frequent habitation. For befide the craggedneffe or fleep. Poffeuine. neffe of tha: Mountaine, which maketh many parts of it Lorina.

Courtes. hig. in a manner inaccessible, the higher Ridges of it (which by Brocardus his relation are so eminene, Orient 6.84.Po. that they may be discerned fortie leagues off are also couered in a manner continually with snow, 50 field descript. Sy- which it retaineth, as Tacitus with y others, hath left recorded, notwithstanding the heate of that climate, even in the neerest approach of the Sunne. And is scarcely, as hath beene oblerued suar commare, even in the neerest approach of the Sunne. And is tearcely, as bath beene observed Grandon/Lt. by Possell, in one Summer of thirtie to be found cleare of it. for which very cause and no other, Paralipin. His Faraigon, 111- that mountaine seemeth to have gotten the name of Lebanon. For 137 in the ancient language Resciton Festin of those parts (the Phanician of Hebrew tongue) fignifieth Wbie, and 1335 Whitenesse: Euen as. Dillion. Albam. for the like whitenesse of Snow, Gerundensis hath remembred Canus (the highest part of the Py-Ijidor. Origin. rene hills) to have obtained that name. And as Festus supposeth the Alpes, for the same cause, to 1.44.8. stukin com.ad haue gayned theirs, that in the Sabine dialect being termed (faith hee) Alpum, which the Romans Arrian Perpis, in theirs named Album. For so touching the original of the name Libanus, had I much rather Mar. Erithia. p. thinke, then bee led by the phantalie of Ifidorsu and fome z others, namely, that Libanus, thould 60 purchafe that name of Franckincense which the Grecians call xica, @ and the Iewes Fund For, if it bee not true, which yet Theophrassus and Plane write, that Franckincense is gotten onely in junt in Neps Arabia falix , (according with that of Virgil, Solie est Thursa virga Sabesi ) by reason of which Thompsoft ... propertie of place, to burne invente is termed in Termilian, aliquid Arabic incendere : if that I lay bee not true, for indeede, I finde in Dioscorides, record of Franckincente gotten in India, and in Pedro Ciesa of the like infome part of America, yet is there no mention or remembrance in any Pin. 12.6.14. Pears Creeze of the Case of the Case it, that Franckincenie was ever gotten in the Hill of Libann. Franckincenie was ever gotten in the Hill of Libann. Ternal decourse. The Patriarch of the Maronites (to come neerer to our purpole) who is noted to bee a Monke Milli.circa.Medof Sune Anonie, and to have under his invitilition a eight or nine Bilhops, keepeth relidence Distorted Me-for the most pirt in Libanus, in a Monasterie of Sunt Anibonie, and now and then in Tripole : du marelice, And is one b of them, that challenge the title of the Patriarch of Antiochia, keeping euer the a Pajiam, Aida. And is one b of them, that challenge the title of the rattriation animote, account, account, fer assumed hame of Peter as the Patriarch of the Isobites, the other challenger of the fame dignitie, doth beato Rel ps. of Lanatime. But touching Religion, the Patriarch of the Maronites professeth obedience at this 1.2 c.de Maronites 10 prejent, to the Bilh p of Rome, yet but lately, in Clement the eight his time : And both hee, and ti.Peffeun.loc. all the 'Miron tes, are become of the Roman Religion (being the onely Nation of the Eath, ex- titale. cep: the Indian, larely brought also to the Roman Communion, that acknowledgeth that obedia *Poffen. locaing ence) and have a Seminary in Rome of Gregorie the thirteenth his foundation, for the tray ning wp of the youth of their Nation in that Religion. But before that alteration, these were the Cha- Epicop. Orbit, &

CHAP.12. Patriarch, rites and opinions of the Maronite Christians, Brerewood, 141

racters of sheir Religion. 1. That the Holy Ghost proceedeth onely from the Father. Th. a left.1.7.p. 2.e. 6.

2. That the foules of men were all created together from the beginning. Id. loc, errate.

3. Not to baptife male children together, Interrog, Patriarch. Maronit, ap. Th. a Ief. lib. 7. pa. 2. ca. 5.

4. That Heretiques returning to the Church are to be rebaptifed. Th. a lef. 1.7.p. 1.c.6. 5. That the childe is made vincleane by the touch of the mother till she be purified, which after a male childe is 40 daies, and 80 after a female, for which reason they baptile not their Infants afore those termes. Tha lef.loc.citat. 6. That they celebrated the Sacrament of the Eucharistin both kindes, Poffeuin, Appar. fac.in Maronita, Patriarch, Maronit Interrog 3. ap. Tho. a lef. 1.7.p.2 c.5.

7. And in leauened bread. Th. a left.7.p.c.6. 8. Diffributing to all the Communicants each one a peece of the fame Bread (which they' confecrate in great Malles) together with these words of the Gospell, be bleffed, and brake, and game to bie Disciples, saying, take, cate, & c. Mat. 26, 26. 'd. Patriarch, Interrog. 3. ap. Th. a lef, loc. citat. 9. To diffribute the Sacrament of the Eucharitt to chil iren before the vie of reason, and first prefently after baptifme. Th.a. lef.l.7 p. 2.c. 5.0.9.6 cap.6. 10. Not to referue the Sacrament of the Eucharitt. Patriarc. Maron. vbi Supra.

11. Nor to carry it to any ficke person in danger of death. Th.a lef. 1.7.p.2.c.5.

12. To omit confirmation by the Bishop. Patr. Maron, Int. 2. vbi supr. 13. To exclude the fourth Matrimonie, in every person as veterly vnlawfull. Id. Ibid. Interrog. 5. 14. That marrisge is not inferiour to fingle life. Th.a left.7.p.2.e.6.

15. Vtterly to diffolue Matrimonie in case of adultery and marry another. Patr. Maronit.

Inter. q. vbi fupra. 40 16. That the Father may diffolue the matrimonie of his Sonne or Daughter if hee mislike it.

17. Not to ordaine yong men Priests or D-acons except they were married. Patriarch. Maronites Inter 5. vbr fupra. Poffenm. in Appar. fact, in Maronita, But yet to restraine their second marriage.Th.a Ief.lbid.

18. To create children five or fix yeares old Subdeacons. Patriarch. Maronit. Inter. 5. whi supra. 19. That no man entreth the Kingdome of heaven before the generall ludgement, This left. 7.

p. z.c. 6.

20. Not to fast on the Lords day, not on the Sibbath. Th. a lef, loc. citat. 21. In the daies of fasting not to celebrate Masse till the Euening, Pair, Maron, ap, Th.a Ief. 1.7.

50 22. Not to eate of any thing ftrangled or of bloud. Id. 1.7.p.2.e.6,

23. To exclude women during their monthly issues both from the Eucharist, and from the Church, Patriar, Maronit Interr. 8.261 Jupre. 24. Their maine Errour was, the herche of the Manathelites, touching one onely will and 6. ent.c.78. action in Christ. Which errour although they renounced about 400, yeeres agoe, and reconciled Timade Bella themselves then to the Roman Church, at what time thole parts of Palestine and Syria, were in facto Lizaces. the Christians hands, as " Jacobis a Viriaco, and Guillelmin Tyrin , the one Bishop of Acon, and Saligniac timer. the Christians hands, as "Jacobis a Outriaco, and Sometimes and the other of Tyre, have recorded : yet shorely after, when those parts were by Saladin, the King Tome can the other of Tyre, have recorded : yet shorely after, when those parts were by Saladin, the King Tome can the other of Tyre, and Tyre the other of Tyre and Tyre the other other of Tyre and Tyre the other othe of Egypt and Syria recoursed from the Christians, those Maronies relapted, and fortcoke again e "Vir.ac. Tit. 60 the Roman communion, till the late times of Pope Gregorie the XIII, and Clement the VIII.

with whom they against renewed it. And this heretie of the M nothelites, fpringing out of that bitter roote of the lacobites, touching one onely nature in Christ, was the last of that long and wicked traine of herefies, which upon the contemps of the councellet Chalcedon, exceedingly wasted and ruined the East Church, for after that the detellation of Neltorius hereile, touching two persons in our Saulour (condemned in the third generall Councell) had to immoderately diffempered the phantafies of Entiches in Confiantmople, and the Parriarch of Alexandria, Diofeorus, with other their adherents, that they thought not hemfelues fare enough from the herefic of two persons, till they were fallen into the other & appointe extremitie of one nature in Christ; the Divine and humane natures in Christ (in their concerts) by permixtion and confution of substances, and of properties growing into one, vpon their adunation : and withall, that the humane nature of Christ, was not confubitantrall to ours, but of another kinde, and condition; which phantafies the fourth general! Councell condemned, Aiter I fay, this herefie of Eutiches and Dioscorus, had growne to that head in &- to gyp: and Syrsa, that like a violent and furious streame, whose course would not be staied, it bare downe before it all oppositions, and among the rest, that great and reuerend Councell of Chaiceden, that had condemned it, and was contemned by it, it gave occasion for an infinite traine of herefies to follow at the breach, which it had made.

34.Tho.a : sf.de Conu.Geni.l.3.

Vid Nice bor. Hifter Eickf. 1.18 €-45. € 6ownt. Lione, de Stella. Adions.coc.

Annal in fine.

c De Relig. &

ap Demian a

Boter Rel.p. :.

1 2 c. Maroniti.

Michaul.z.de

P:4 5.7.00.

celegrared. Chap.26.

For first (to omit infinite extrauggant branches that sprang from it, and infinitely deformed the Courch, renting with many schillmes the vnitie, and with as many herelies wounding the faith of it.) It drew atter it the herelie of the paffibleneffe of the Deitie , because the Deitie of Christ, was become (in their conceits) the fame nature with the Humanities that was passible. Secondly, (the abfurditie of that being differred ) it occasioned another extremelie opposite, namely of the Impatibilitie of the Humanitie of our Saujour (but on the lame ground ) because namely, it was become one nature with the Dettie, which now weeknow to bee vnpallible. Thirdly, when the fondnesse of both were discouered, it bred a great deuice, touching one nature in our Saujour ( as the wit of Heretikes will better ferue them to deuife a thouland shifts to delude the truth, then their pride will fuffer them once to yeeld and acknowledge it ) Icbred I fay a new deuice namely, to be one, not by permixtion or contuition of substances, as Eutyches first taught, but onely by composition, the Deitie and Humanitie, by coalition becomming one nature in Christ, as the Bodie and Soule grow into one nature in Man. And fourthly, when this fantalie began also somewhat to abate and relent in many : yet itill a fraction, as it were, or rather a confequent of it was retained (for indeed it implieth by necessarie consequence the vnitie of nature) namely, that there was but one Will, and one Action of both natures in the perion of our Saujour. And God knowes what a traine and fuccession of hereics might have followed these, if that Lord, whom they had a infinitely wronged, by their wonton and wandring conceits of him, had not, to stop the course and streame of their wickednesse and follie, brought on them the Sarracens of Arabia. For even while the Church, speciallie that of the Eastene parts, was in a great perplexitie and trauell with the herefie of the Monethelites (which I last mentioned) the Mahumetans of Arabia, like a mightie inundation brake forth, and ouerwhelmed all, and them first, that first and most had wronged the Sonne of God, by fostering the forenamed herefies, and the infinite brood that sprung of them, I meane Egypt and Syria, and to this day both they and the neighbouring Nations, that had beene infected by them, remaine in thraldome. But yet, as in the difeases and diffemper of our bodies, contraries are viually healed by contraries, fo feemeth it to have fallen out in the diffempers of * Biblioth. Pet. these mens religions: for as worldly prosperitie and wantonnelle of wit (ordinarie companions) 40 Patr.Tom.4. pa, wherewith their Nations in those times abounded, bred in them their ordinarie children, namely, prosperitie of the world, pride, wantonnesse of wit, error, which couple in matter of Faith and Religion, is wont to produce no better issue then herefie. So on the other fide, having now at length their hearts humbled, and their wits tamed by that pouertie and affl. Ction, wherein the 26.27.18.29.30 tyrannie and oppreision of the Arabians and Turkes hath long holden them, it feemeth the Lord d Bar B. Tom. 6. hath taken pittie on them (as it is his propertie not to dispise humble and broken spirits, and to remember mercie in the middeft of judgement ) and reduced them, or most of them, to the right acknowledgement of his Sonne againe. For certainly, that they and other Chtiftiads of the East. Morib. £thiop. have (at least in these later times) disclaimed and abandoned, those heretical fancies touching our Sautour, wherein by their milleaders they had beene anciently plunged (and which many 50 f Poffcuin. Appa. Christians of these West parts still charge them withall) doth manifestly appeare: First, of the Iafac in Neftoriani. cobites. & secondly of Nestorians, by their severall confessions, translated out of the Spriacke tongue g Poffeuin. lib. by Massur, Sextant in Bibliotheca Veterum patrum. Thirdly of thea Armenians, by their owne concitat.in Maron. teffion allo, translated by Fretorius. Fourthly, of the b Cophii, by the profession of their faith extant in Baronius Fifthly, of the e Habaffines, by the relation of Zaga Zabo, a Bilhop of their own, Sixtly, of the 4 Indians, by their reconcilement to the Church of Rome, mentioned by Poffenine. And Cruf Turcon 1.7. fewenthly, of the Maronites, by their like reconcilement, recorded by him and by others.

O the leutral Nd thus have I related the feuerall fects of Christians that are abroad in the World, with the A places of their habitations, or the special characters (that are recorded or their Religions One 60 whereinth Lipoint not with standing of their difference, haue I left purposely as yet vntouched, both for the turgers of Chrifinant in the fee ampleneile or the matter, and because I conceiue you would have it declared senerally. Namely, touching the different languages, in which all these severall fores of Christians celebrate their Liu rall nires of the Woll, are surgies or Diame Service.

CHAP.13. Christian, Iewish, and Mahumetan, in what Languages Armenians. 143

But firsto speake a word or two, of the publiq se Service of the Iewes, and of the Mahumetaus, in their Synagogues, and Mesteds (leeing I intreated before of those Religions.) The lewes where they obtained libertie for their Synagogues, celebrate theirs in the ancient Hebrew tongue, as Michonius, with many others hath related, and as is manifelt by their owns editions of their Michon Lade publique Praiers, princed both at Venice and in Polonia, in that language.

But the Mahametans have theirs in the Arabique tongue (the native language of their Prophet) as Georgenitz, Richerius, and fundry others have recorded : So that not onely in A bis and A. Georgenitz gypt, and Barbarie, and Palestine, and Syria, and Meloporamia (in which parts the Arabique tongue gill Tweet. is become the vulgar language) the Alcorar is read, and their publique denotions exercised, in A. bis cont. 10 ratique : but also in Greece, and Natolia, and other parts of the Turbilb Dominion, where the Riberta de Greeke, and Tuckilb, and Slauonique congues are vulgar, as also in Perfia, in Tarrarie, in India, where Tarrarie, they have other native, and peculiar languages, the Mahumetans reade the Alchoren" (which they Turco. 1.7, p. 487 Suppose were profuned if it were translated into vulgar tongues) and performe their publique de-notions in that language. But Christians in celebrating of their divine Liturgies, differ touching the language very much, Indeede I finde it recorded in Durandu ( but vpon what warrant and authoritie I cannot finde) that till the time of Hadrian the Emperour (that is about an hundred and twentie yeeres after Chrish) their Liturgies were all celebrated in the Hebrew tongue: And then, the Orientall Church began, first to celebrate them in Greeke. Indeede mee thinkes it is possible, that the Christians of 20 the Gentiles might in honour of the Apollles, retaine the Apollles Liturgies, in the verie tongue wherein by the Apottles themselues, they had beene first ordayned, for it is not to bee doubted, but " many yeares passing (about tenne) after our Sauiouts assention, before the Apostles left Syris, and tunired themselves to preach the Golpell abroad in the world among the Gentile and Tom 1. for raine Nations. It is not to bee doubted If ay, but the Apostles, while they remay ned in Iurie, Chr. 48 14ordayned Liturgies in the Iewish tongue, for the vie of those lewes, whom they had concerted to Christianitie: which Liturgies by the Christian D. Ciples of the Iewish Nation, dispersed in many Provinces of the Gentiles, might together with Christian Religion, bee carried abroad, and gladly entertayned among the Gentiles. This is possible I say, but if it bee also true (as I have not observed any thing in antiquitie shat may certainly impeach the truth of it) yet that which is . Edian O'fir. 30 Spoken by Durands of those Liturgies in the Hebrew tongue, must be eviders food (I doubt not) 1.3.4.12. Virial of the Hebrew, then vulgar and vivall, that is to lay the Syriacke tongue: not onely, because in Historica that language wee finde them in these times, celebrated by the Christians of the East : but alio Bread descrip. because I can conceiue no reason, either, why the Liturgies should becardayned by the Apostles terre fault. in that language which the lemes themselves (the learned excepted) vnderflood not, if it were his acres to done for the leves : or elfe why the Gentiles should translate them (or vie them so translated)out greiterbach of the Hebrew into the Syriacke, feeing both were to them alike, vulgarly knowne, and not vnderftood. But howioeuer it was in that most ancient and primitive state of the Church , in and Arm immediatly following the Apostles times, the disterence certainly among Christians in these prefent times, in that behalfe is very great, some of them celebrating their Liturgies in their owne Bellan.loca

40 natine and vulgar, and fome other in learned and forraine tongues. The Christians then (to speake first of the first fort) that celebrate them in their owne vulgar Peregin. Grient, languages, are the Armenians, Habaffines, Moscouites with Russians, Scianonians, and Prote. Ibaccapia.

Stantes . For that the Armenians (how focuer otherwise in their ceremonies belonging to Diuine service Boter. Relat. p. 3. they approach neeter as * Bellonius and others report, to the Rites of the Latine Church, then La & Aii any other feet of Christians) that they I say exercise their common divine service in the Armenian planes. tongue, lacobus a Vitriaco, Brocardus, Muchouius, Breitenbachius, and many others, fome of their a Siri Senenf. owne experience, and others of certaine Relation, have left recorded. And namely, as touching fantinionness the translation of the Holy Scrip ure, into the Armenian tongue, which at this present, is in 10- conflamino. lemne vie among them, the Armenians themselues as a Sixius Senensis hath recorded, attribute politanus. 50 it to no other Author then to Chryfosome: wino alio, out of the hillorie of George Patriarch of b Sagonia. Alexandria, written of the life of Chrifostome, remembreth it specially to have beene Chrifostoms Hill. 8.6.22. worke after his banishment from Constantinople, while he lived in those parts of Armenia, to which d. Cu and. as we reade in b Sozomen, he was by the Enperors decree confined, and there dyed. And cer- Green, Aff. a. tainly, that the holy Scriptures were translated into the Armenian tongue before Theodorets time, pat med Kaicha who lived foone after Christotteme, for he flourished about the yeere 440. Theodoret himselfe (al- in artistical though he name not the Author of the Translation) hash left recorded: as I finde also acknow- Valicana p 1 7. ledged by Angelus Roccha, in his difcomfe of the Vatican Librarie, not onely that Chryscitome is faid to have translated of the Scriptures into the Armenian tongue, but, that hee is also celebra-60 ted among the monuments of the same Vatican, as the c Inventor of the Armenian Characters de tributh,

And touching the Habaffines, Aluarez a Portugall, that hued many yeeres among them, hath dif creas And touching the Habaffines, Aluarez a Portugal, that times many yeeres among them, that it diseases, not onely left recorded, that they reade Scriptures in the Tigian tongue, with his a dialect of the Ethiopoopies. Habeffin, (for Tigia hee noteth to bee that part of Habeffin, which first received Christianicis)m-

Sarmatia,c.i. Rits.Turcay. 1.2.c.de Sacerd. Durand Returns d.u.nor.l.4.4.1.

citate Nichal Unioces.La c 22

plement. n 10%I de Lugalidade. The .. Cof. 1.2.c. 24. "t'.masat. 1. 2. (4).24 Roble to Fet. P .: .: 10 n 6.p. 5 5 Michael. de Sarmara cat-Sizifn.Id. Red. Moleus.p.46. Pofenial. de Rebes Meft. p.4. Then. Cof-1.192.12 p Bajt.Palit. de Rat ferioed. Lines Vatican. p.162. q Auentin l.4. And. En. Silu. in HAR beneficac.13. Aucutin.

Loc. cit.st. Rocch

Inchierta. r Epift. 247. Inch. Page.3. n Tom. 2. Concil. p.: r. 2. ap. Bin.p. 990.Roccha.lib. citate p.163. Concil. Lateran f to Gre de Sacro eus Illyrica.Erafin:Declarat. 37 ad cenfar. theolog Parif. Sixt.Senen [.1.4

Linguis Europ.e. & alii plures. t Sixt.Senen |. loco citato. H'eran.in Epist.od l.4 Avral. Pasfa de Biblioth. Vaticar. par. 4 Differ. 22. u Martwolez-Kom. Mertii. q. Michou. de Sarmatial t.c.7. Poft: 2 de Ling.

to which language Sabelieus Supplem. Histor lib. 8, recordeth both the Olde and New Testament to have beene translated out of the Chaldee. But " he, with many others, that they celebrate their Liturgie in their owne language, though the Chaldse bee escemed among them. as their learneu tongue, which alto the Liturgie it selfe (you may finde it in the new Edition of Bibliothica veterum Patrum) if you marke the long answers of the People to the Priest, in their prayers doth

And no leffe certeine is it also, of the Muscounter and Ruffians, that their Liturgies are likewise ministred in their vulgar tongue (being a kind of Slanonian) though formetimes intermingling Greeke Hymnes, as Gnaguirms hath observed : Descript. Moscon. ca. 2. as is testified by Mathia Michou, by Sigtsmund, by Posseune, by Thenes, and lundry others.

And as endent is it of the Illyreans, whom we commonly call Slanonians that they also exercife their publike Dinine Seruice in their owne language: which to baue beene allowed them by the Pope, at the fuit of Cyrill their Bishop, or as ? others fay, of Methodius (but the difference is of no importance, for they both lived in the fame time, and were companions in preaching the Gospelito barbarous Nations ) Enew Silning and others have recorded. And in particular of the Liburnians ( the more Westerly part of the Slauenians) it is affirmed by Anentmerand of the Dalmatiani (the more Eafterly part of them) by Angelus Roccha, that they celebrate their Liturgies in their owne language: Which Roccha laith the Dalmarians are most certainly perswaded to have Racelas in Bib- beene of Hieromes dettiling, But yet in determining the Antiquitie of that Cuftome, Roccha that referreth it to Pope Paul the second is greatly mistaken: Because wee find it to have beene 1) much more anciently granted them by Pope John the eighth, that they might both read the Scriptures, and celeorate Masse in their owne tongue, as appeareth by the same q Popes Epifile extant to Sfeutopulcher. And euen Roccha himselfe (forgetting himselfe) confesseth it in another place, to have beene obtayned of the Pope by Cyril, who was about fix hundred yeeres ancienter then Paul the second. And certainly (now I am speaking of Popes) of no other Judgement touching Dinne Scruice in vulgar Tongues, feemeth Pope Innecent the third to have beene (and perhaps it was also the Decree of the Councell of Lateran ) charging that in Cities, where there was concourse of divers Nations, that differed in Languages and Ceremonies, Divine Seruice and the Sacraments should be celebrated according to that difference.

But to speake a little in particular of the vulgar translation of the holy Scriptures vsed among 34 the Dalmatians: It is not onely affirmed by fundry Writers to be the worke of Hierome, but Hisrome himicife in his Epistle to Sopbronius, feemeth to f some learned men to intimate so much: Concil Literain.

1.3 decretif. But yet there is another translation also of the Scriptures into the Slauonicke Tongue, later then that of Hieromes, as & Scaliger hath observed, being written in the Sersian Character (as the former is in the Dalmasian) vied in Rafeia, Bofina, Bulgaria, Meldania, Reffia, Mofesnia, and o-Vernatulligen ther Nations of the Slawonies language in the Eafterne parts, that celebrate their Liturgies after the Greeke Ceremonie and professe obedience to the Patriarch of Constantinople : Of which later translation . Methodius the companion of Cyrill, in preaching the Gospel to Gentile Nations. is certainly reported to have beene the Author. Which Cytill (if you question what he was) was neither hee of Alexandria, nor hee of lerufalem , as Mutinu Paufa hath vainely imagined , but 40 another farre later then either of them, whom in the Slauonicke tongue they call Chiuril, one that lived about the yeere 860. namely, hee that in the time of the Emperour Michael the Third, and Pope Nicholus the First, together with Methodius, first brought the Mangrelans, Circassians, and Stridonelis Sca-Gazaraus, and after that " many of the Slauonians) to the faith of Christ, as Michonius hath recorlig.Distrib de ded. N. ither need wee any other testimony to refell the fantasse of Passa, touching Cyrill of Ierusalem, then Pansa himselfe, as namely acknowledging that Cyrill was the Inventer of another fort of Illyrian Characters, then by Hierome had beene formerly deuised ( for of the Dalmatian Characters, that are vied in Dalmagia, Laburnia, Iftria, Morania, Silofia, Bohemia, Polonia, Co. Hierauni Epinad.
Septom Jon., rome is acknowledged to bee the Author.) It could not be therefore Cyrile of engalem, as being Scaliz, les. ion. ancienter then Hurome, and by him registred in his Catalogue of Writers. And indeede (to 9 for the Illerians !

But to intreat a little more (on this occasion) of translations of the holy Scripture, made by the ancient Fathers into vulgar languages : Besides those alreadie mentioned, of Hierome and Chryfostome, by the one into the Delimation, and by the other into the Armenian tongue; It is alfo recorded by Socrates and Nicephorus , and fundry a others of Vulpbilas , Bishop of the Gothes one more ancient then either of the former, for hee flourished in the time of Couffantius the Emperour, and was successour to Theophilus, whose subscription wee find in the first Nicene Councell (being the same man, to whom the Invention of the Gothicke Alphabet is likewise attributed by the fame Authors) that hee translated the holy Scriptures into the Gothicke tongue. A Copie of 60 Bicoas Biolioth. which translation is remembred by Bonauentura Vulcanius, to be yet remaining in fome Librarie Vicion p. 161. of Germany: And it may bee that the Gothike translation of the foure Euangelists, mentioned by

Er A. a partum X Sovert.Hift.Ecclef.Lac.27. Niceph.Hift.Ecclef.L11.c.48.Trip2rt.hift.L8.s.13.Paul.Diacon.Hift.MifeMd.12.Sozomen.la.s.37.Socrat.La. e.32 Vulcan in pref de Littur. Lingua, Getarum, Inferip. Vet.p.146.

CH AP.12 Scripture-translations. Greeke, Latine, Chaldee, Syriage Liturgies. 145

Gruter in the Booke of ancient Inscriptions, to bee of a thousand yeeres antiquitie, and remaining in the Abbey of Werden, might bee part of that translation of Vulphilas : But yet, that beides these translations into vulgar Lauguages, hitherto mentioned of Valphilas , Chrysostome , and Hierome , the holy Scriptures were likewise anciently translated into the languages of many Nations, is affirmed by Hierame : And in particular (although the translators names bee not recorded ) into the Egiptian, Persian, Indian, Scythough the translators names bee not recorded ) though the transaction Tongues, nay into all the Languages of other Nations, as Theodoret, Theodoret, and Sarmatian Tongues, nay into all the Languages of other Nations, as Theodoret, Theodoret, and that flourished in the time of the Ephefine and Chalcedon Councels (almost 1200, yeeres agoe) hath carand. Green. left teftified: As alto in the following times (yet ancient) wee tead of the like translations of the Affeilion put To Scriptures, to haue beene made by b John Archbihop of Smill into the Arabite, about Arm. 717. med. which then was the vulgar speech of that part of Spaine, and some part of it into the Saxon or English by Beda about the same time: Into the Slavomke by c Methodius, about An 360. &c. Into c loan. Truis the Italian by & Iacobus de Voragine, about An. 1 290, &c. And now, to intreate of those tects of Christians that celebrate their Liturgies in learned and d Ausnim L4. forraine tongues; which the vulgar people doe not vnderstand : I finde onely three languages Annal wherein they are all performed. Namely, the Greeke, the Laune, and the Chaldee, or Syriacke Bibl. SanG.14.

And first, touching the Chaldee or Syriacke, in it are celebrated the Liturgies of the Nestorians, chiesiscome Tongues. 25 Ultriacus, Barbofa, Villamont, Botero, and others have recorded : for Genebrard, that pronoun- Gonesin. 20 ceth peremptonly the Hebrew tongue, and not the Syracke to be the vivall language, wherein all Vitrae. Highthe Orientall Nations minister their Divine Service, bewrayes but too much, both his boldnesse bost in Vol.1. de and his ignorance, as being not able, lam certainly perfivaded, to produce any History or other Pinggiand Nalawfull testimony that recordeth the Liturgies of any Christians in all the East, to be performed miles 313. Vilin the Hebrew tongue. But yet it may be observed, that where in fundry Writers we find it men- lam. 1 2 (2.2. Box tioned, that the Neftorians exercife their Dinne Offices in the Chaldee, we are not to understand territe produc them of the pure and ancient, but of the degenerate or lewish Childee, which beside the Chaldee Gerthard. and Hebren, whereof it is principally tempered and compounded, hath much mixture also both Chrones 1,3.44 of Greeke and Arabicke, fuch as the lewer language was , after our Saujour and his Apostles time, As. Ctr. 31. that is (in a word) the Syriate, for the level Chaldee (to declare this point a little better) is of two 30 forts: One of those that returned not againe after the captinitie to lerufalem , but fetled them-felues to inhabite about Babylon, whole language (although fomewhat degenerating also from the right Chaldee ) is termed the Babylonian tongue, of which fort the lewer Dialect of Neardes in Meloperamia (the compilers of the Babylanian Talmid) was: The other of those that returned from the captinitie, whose language is properly termed the Syrian or lerusalem Chaldee, varying somewhat farther from the native Chaldee then the former, by reason of the mixture of forraine words Arabicke, Greeke, Roman, and others, which in course of time it contracted : In which Dialed, the Talmud and Targum, both named of Ierufalem, and the bookes of their later Raba lect, the Latinua and Lagarn, och fort of Chaldee, is the holy Scripture by the East Christians Ofer de Reb. translated, and their Liturgies at this day celebrated.

40 . Secondly of the Indians, that they in like fort performe their Liturgie (not in the Hebrew as is Possium in Asconfidently affirmed by Genebrard, but) in the Chaldee or Syracke, is tell field by Oforime, Poffeume, par far in Di Linfebot, &c. and confirmed by their Liturgie extant in Bibliotheca Veterum Patrum, which is amerien elonthere remembred to be translated out of the Syriacke.

And so doe thirdly the Incodites: Namely, they of Mesopotamia, of Babylon, of Palestine, of St- Bible Ratein ria, and of Cyprus, which are peculiarly knowne by that appellation. Or whom Ustriacus long Audi-rio. Tom. fince observed, that they read the Divine Scriptures in a language voknowne to the Lay people: 2.in fine. And that the language by the New Testament & brought fro them by Mofes Mardenes in Europe Virtue Hift O. And that the language by the New Tenament Brought for their by Marie France, of to be printed (for the more commodious differing of it abroad into their Churches) we new cer- { Videwidtainely know to bee the Springle tongue, even asit is also knowne and f recorded rouching the manflad in prerest of their Diuine Seruice, that it is performed in the same Syriacke language, which they terme for Fest menti. 30 the Chaldee. And it is thought, that the Liturgie commonly termed Anaphora Bafili, which we Spile. haue by Mafine translated out of the Sprince into Latine ( and is found in Bibliotheca Vetrum Pa- g Pal de hitea. trum) is the Iacobites Liturgie: which language, although it be now vinknown among them (their Relaction Clerkes or learned men excepted) yet that it was vulgarly vnderitood, when that Liturgie was de Gueshiti.

out of the Heb em, but out of the Greeke of Origens E mendation. 60 . And fourthly, of the Cophes or Cariffians of Egipt, it is likewise h observed, that race Posterin they celebrate their Liturgies in the fame language: (reading yet the Gofpell afterit is done Lingua chalthey celebrate their Liturgies in the same language: (reading yet the Golffel arcticles age of history and long hath beenethe volgar language of history salue. Egipt.) And it may further appeare, beiide the testimony of Histories, by the Liturgie of Se- 3.13 edech s. weres Patriarch of Alexandria in vie among them, translated out of Syriake into Latine, by fitanticalEgitte.

Hieron in pra-

e Sixt SevenG in lacebus Ar-

first ordained, the long answeres of the people to the Priest in their prayers, which wee finde in it Bibiath Det. may bee demonstrations. But touching the Old Testament, which they have also (as Arriss Pair To 6.9.27. may be demonstrations. But touching the Order transfers, which we had been a dear to see a writes he had beard from their owne Relations, and Posted, that he had been plant in all tools and the see a see Guido Fabritino.

Maronite.Po-Adde Ing. Chal-

Barro de Aliz del. Mende. Trat.3.p.291.

Crui./ Turco. €F cc# 9.43 1.

k Vitriac Hift. O ient 6.75. Haisbo, l. de Tartaris,c.14. Breitenbach Peregrin,e de Surianis. Baumgart. Peregr. 12. c.9 Villamont. 1.2.6.: 2. Bater. Rel 0.3 l.s.c.de

1 Vitriac.lib. citat c 80. giana, & in gre gart loc.c:tat

And fitthly, the Maronites in their Liturgies (which Possine observeth to be the Liturgies of Poffenin in Ap- Peter, of Iames, and of Sixtus) vie the fame Sprincke language (the Arabicke being also their valgar) as befide Poffenine, Poftell alio, and Villamont, and others have recorded.

And to doe fixtly and lattly ( to make an end of this reckoning) the poore Christians of the Isla of Zocotora (and Iland after Barros his dimension of fixtie miles in length, and twenty seuen in breadth) without the Bay of Arabia, for although I find it questioned touching the Religion, whether they be lacobites or Nestorians; Inan Barros affirming the first ( and it may feeme to for their neerenesse to the Dominions of Habassia) and Ananias, prouing the latter because they are vncircumcifed, which Iacobites are not, & professe obedience to the Patriarch of Mozal, who is known to be Patriarch of the Nestorians : yet in this they both agree, that their Dinine Service (fuch as it is) is performed in the Chaldee tongue. And although Botero relate it to be done in the Hebrew, vet he meaneth (out of doub!) not the ancient and pure Hebrew, but the latter or degenerate language of the Hebrew, that is to fay the Syriache. As the other also that affirme the publike and folemne 3.1.3 de Chrigi. denotions , either of thefe Zocosorini, or any other Christians in all the East, or South parts of the ani di Secoteza, world, to be read in the Chaldee, require also the like interpretation : Namely to bee vinderitood. not of the right, and Babyloman, but of the Jewish and corrupted Chaldee.

But now to speake of those Christians, that celebrate their Liturgies in the Greeke tongue: I objerue them to be thefe.

1. The Grecians themselves : Namely, all they whose vulgar speech the Greeke tongue is, in-Itrem Reft. t. ad habiting in Greece, and a great part of Natolia, of Macedon, and of Thrace, together with all the Germanos c. 13. Hands of the Agean Sea, and the other many scattered Hands, about the Coast of Greece. But yet 2 they doe it, not in the prefent vulgar, but in the pure and ancient Greeke tongue, whereof as Ibefore observed, the common people vaderstand but little: vsing namely, on festivall daies the ancien: Liturgie of Bafil, and on common dayes that of Chryfostome, as Ieremy a late Patriarch of Constantinople hath recorded. And namely, astouching the holy Scriptures, ving the Septuagints Greeke translation, and specially that of Lucians Emendation. At least it was so with them in Hieroms time (and I find no mention at all recorded of any alteration) who observeth the Edition of the feuentie Interpreters by Lucianus, to have been received in vie from Conflantinople, as farre as Antiochia : As alio that of Origens Emendation, from Antiochia to Egypt, and in Egypt that of Hesselmin. But (how soeuer it may bee touching the Edition viual among them) yet certainly, 30 that the Grecians have not the Scriptures translated into the vulgar Greeke, the i Grecians them.

2. The Syrians, namely those, that for diffinction of Religion from the Iacobites (who likewise inhabite Syria) are termed fo, that is to fay the Melobites, for they having the Arabiche for their vulgar language) as they agree in other points of their Religion and Ceremony, and order of Divine Service with the Grecians, so doe they as touching their Liturgie in language also, as is observed by & Vitriacus, Haitho, Breitenbachius, and many others.

2. The Georgians, who having for their vulgar fpeech, a peculiar language of a middle temper (which well agreeth with the polition of their Countrey ) betwixt Tartarian and Armenian , 25 Gefner, and Postell, and Roccha, in their bookes of languages have observed, exercise not with stan-Gener. Mibrid ding their Liturgies in the Greeke tongue, as 1 Iacobus a Viriaco, Gefner, Pofiel, Roccha, and diners 4 in Lingue Geor others have certainly recorded.

4. The Circaffians: who yet in fuch fort celebrate their Divine Service in the Greeke, that their Geo e Roccha de Priefts themselves, by reason of their groffe ignorance, vinderstand not what they read a sa Inti-Dialet in Gent. reano (that lived among them) hath remembred.

5. And lastly, in the Greeke tongue are celebrated the Liturgies of all the Monasteries, that are of the Greeke Religion, wherefoeuer dispersed within the Turkift Dominions, in Africke or Afias As in Mount Smai, the Cities of Petra and Eltor in Arabia : In Iernfalem, Alexandria, Damafere, and in fundry other places as Bellonius with others hath left recorded.

And to come at last to the Nations that celebrate their Liturgies in the Latine tongue : To so speake of them, even this little will bee enough : Namely, that all the Christians, that are found of the Roman Communion in America and in Africa, celebrate their Lituroies in the Roman tongue. As all l'kewise in Europe (except the Slauonians aboue mentioned.) And in Afia, except the two new Roman purchases of the Maronites in Syria, and of the Christians of Saint Thomas in India, who retaine full the old accustomed language, which as I observed before, is in the Liturgies of both those Nations, the Sprincke tongue.

I have the ught good to adde this note in the conclusion, that Christian Religion may seeme infly to be dissided into foure parts, in regard of ber professors thorow the World; of which the Grecian Faith possesset one reckoning to them the Russian; the Romanists or Papists another; the Protestants ( by their adversaries, and b) the intemperate zeale of some Luther ans, and other fastions persons, made more to 63 disagree then indeed they doe, as by the Harmonie of Confessions appeareth, and by their uniforms acknowledgement of all the maine points of Religion, their differences being about circumstances, rites, manner of presence, and some more abstruce points then whereof the vulgar is capable) these by a generall name salled Protestants, may be reckoned for a third part, perhaps not all so great in mulistudes as either of the former , but more flowershing then the first in plender of power and learning , onely by an luquisition inferior to the second; and in numbers as many as all other professions of Christianitie, here recored a fearth part.

CHAP. $4 S.1 Christians divided into foure parts, Greeks, Romists, Prosestants, 556. 1.7

CHAP. XIIII.

Relations of divers Travellers, touching the diversities of Christian Rises and Tenents in divers parts of the World.

TECLA MARIA an Abaffine, bu answeres to questions touching the Religion of the Abaffines and Cophti.

Ou have read in Alwares, Bermudez, and the Iesuites Relations, large Relations Life & 7.00 of the Abasime Faith, and of the Portugalls remaining in Habasisa, as also of 8. three Patriarchs fent thither from the Pope, but refused by the Abasime. Their Pertugalis dwelling there fent one Tecla Maria, an Abasine Prett Takenout of in their behalfe to Rome, who before the Cardinalls made answere as follow-

The Reutrend Brother Teela Maria, Sonne of Teela Nebiat, of the Citie Henza Mariam, of Xinton San the Prounce of Xena, of the Kingdome of Ethiopia Priest and Monke , of the Order of Saint Anronie, and of the Monastery Libanus of the same Pronince, aged fortie fine yeeres, at the command of the most Illustrious, and most Reuerend Lord Cardinall of Saint Senerine Protector of the Ethiopian Nation, to certaine interrogatories made in the Arabice to him, thus answered.

Being asked what the Ethiopians beleeve of God and the holy Trinitie, he answered; Wee be- Of God & tha lette in one God and three persons, the Father, Sonne, and Holy Ghott. The Father is vnbegot. ten, the Sonne begotten onely of the Father, the Holy Ghoft proceeding from the Pather and the Sonne. Being asked, whether the Holy Gnoit proceeds from the Father and the Sonne, as from two beginnings, and two spirations, or as from one beginning and one spiration, he answered, As from one beginning, and one onely ipiration. Being asked of the Incarnation, hee answer red, That the Person of the Sonne, the Word of God the Father was incarnate by the Holy Ghost Being asked how many Natures, Wills, and Operations the Ethiopians professet to be in Christ Abusines are of the Virgin Mary.

our Lord, he aniwered, That the Eibsopians beleeue after the vnion one Nature, one Wil, & one O. Monoshelites. peration, yet without mixtion and without confusion : in which opinion he confesseth, that the Ethiopians and Cophis, and other Easterne Nations erre from the truth. Being asked whether they 40 hold one Nature in Christ resulting from two, hee answered, The Erbispians say not so, but simply professe one Nature without mixtion and without confusion, and affirme that to bee

Being questioned of Images, he answered, That amongst the Ethiopians they are onely pain- Picturesincented and not carued or grauen, which the Estiopians have in great veneration, in respect of repre- fed. fentation and relation, and incense them. Being asked of the Canonicall Bookes of both Testaments, hee answered, That both the Testaments are divided amongst them into eightie one Canonicall Bookes, all which are had in Egypt, but without booke he could not remember their names.

Being asked how many Generall Councells they hold, he faid, That they hold onely three, the Gen. Councells Nicene, Constantinopolitan, and Ephesine, which he had read, but could not now recite. Touching 50 the Chalcedon Councel, he faid, They condemned it, because it determined two Natures in Christ, and condemned Dioscorus the Patriarke of Alexandria. How many univerfall Councells were held after, he answered, He knew not. He acknowledged feuen Sacraments "inflituted by Christ, Baptisme, Confirmation, the Eucha-Sacraments." rift, Penance, Vnc. son, Order, and Matrimony. Being asked in what formall words the Echopians cometh necree Biptiled, he answered, That after many prayers they fay, I baptife thee in the name of the Father, the Rome, and of the Sonne, and of the Holy Ghoft: The matter, hee faid, was naturall water; the Minister, a baith in divers Prieft, or in his abience a Descon, befilies whom hee never faw any to baptife: their Males after things then fortie dayes, and Females atter eightie dayes, except in danger of death, and then they baptile as the fide as the control of the control of the fide as the control of the fide as the control of the fide as the control of 60 prefently. Being asked, whether the Ethiopians circumcule their children thee answered, That pethops or from anciented time to this day in all Eibiopia, they circumcife their children in their owne hou- feary perhap fes without any Ceremony, but for a certaine ancient Cultome, cutting away the Prepare from otherwy.

the Miles, the Nympha from the Females : being asked, whether they believe Circumction ne- Baptime. ceffary to faluation, he answered, They know that it is now cealed, and that it is no longer necel- Chemicitox fary. Being asked, why the Ethiopians are faid to be baptiled with fire, and to figne in the fore. head : hee answered, That there is none in Ethiopia which is baptifed with fire, but in some Prouinces onely they marke themselves with a razor in the forehead, either for the health of their eyes and fight; or, as some say, by the command of a certaine King of Ethiopia, to differ from the Mahumetans. Being asked why they baptife themselves every yeere, he answered That the E. thiopians every yeere for the folemnitie of the Epiphanie goe forth to a River, and there many prayers are faid by the Priefts, and all are washed in the River; and many stay there all night with great festivitie for denotion of the Baptisme of our Lord Iefus Christ; but no man baptiíeth himfelfe as they fav. Being demanded of Confirmation, the Matter, the Forme, the Minister, he answered, Confirma- 14

See fup. 4luares 1.7.c.5.5.14. tion with vs is conferred by a Priest, together with Baptisme, and the Infant is anointed with whom i rather Chrisme in the forehead, in the name of the Father, Sonne and Holy Ghoft : asked of the effect beleeue; but this man and thereof, he faid he knew not, but hee beleeueth that it is given, that a Christian may be confirmed Zaga Zabo in the faith, Being asked, whether Chrisme bee made among it them every yeere, hee answered : whom Dam. Chrisme is sent them from the Patriarch of Alexandris, by whom alone it is made and not by the ■ Goes publi-Bishop, and is fent every fewenth yeere and feldomer, with the Pilgrimes which returne from the thed, and L. pilgrimage of the Holy Land, and the old Chrisme is preserved in all Churches. Being asked Priveta, daub ouer as well as whereof it was made, hee faid, Of Balfam and Oyle, and of many Flowers and odorifethey can, diuers of the Fthiopian super-Mitions,& yet this is more credible then Vrreta (a very dunghill of lies)and then Zaga Zaho (too thicke strewed therewith;) for which cause I have omitted them: whereas this In most things of moment faith the truth,but excufeth as farre as hee may fome of their

Rites in Bap-

Communion

municated.

Soule-fleepe.

Purgatory.

in both kinds.

cifion,&c.

Being interrogated of the Sacrament of the Enchariet, and the matter thereof, hee answered, 22 That the Matter is Bread of Bread-corne, and Wine of the Grape ; but in many Provinces of Ethiopia, in Wine pressed out of Raisins washed with water, and steeped in the same water the space of certains hours. Being asked what are the words, whereby the Bread is transubstantiated into the Body, and the Wine into the Bloud, he answered. They are those words when the Priest faith, And he tooke Bread in his bands, and lifting up his eyes to Heanen unto God his Father, be bleffed, Jaying, Take yee and sate yee, this is my Body. And lakewle taking the Chalice, he bleffed and famili-fied Jaying, Take yee and drinke yee. This is the Chalice of my Blood, which fhall be fined for you for the remission of finnes. The Minister, he faid, is the Priest onely, and the effect remission of finnes. Being asked whether all the Ethiopians are communicated in both kindes : he answered. That all the E. thispiers, both Clerkes and Laymen are communicated under both kinds : the Priest ministers the 30 body and the Deacon the bloud in a fooone. Being asked whether Infants are communicated hee answered. That Infants on the day of their baptisme are communicated in this manner: The Priest puts his tore-finger in the Chalice, and being dipped in the bloud, he puts it in the Infants mouth.'

And after baptifme, tilk they be ten yeeres old, the Priefts little finger is put in the childs mouth without the bloud for denotios fake. Being asked, whether they celebrate in bread leauened or ynleavened, and what they thinke of him, which celebrates in volcauened, he answered. The Ethiopians celebrate in leanened bread, & they which celebrate in vuleauened make the Sacrament alfo. tifme,Circum-And we thoraw all Ethiopea, on Mandie Thursday cuerie yeere, in the Supper of the Lord, in memoriall hereof celebrate in vnleauened. Confectation.

Being asked what the Ethiopians thinks of Purgacory, her answered, The Ethiopians beleene 40 that the foules after death are detained in a certaine place, called in the Ethiopian tongue Mecan Children comauraft, that is, the Place of lightning, in which the foules of the penitent are kept, which have departed out of the world, not having finished the satisfaction of their sinnes. Being asked whether the foules of the good presently after death enion happinesse, and those of euill Locus alleuiatiomen bee punished in Hell, Hee answered, There are some in Ethiopia, which thinke that the foules of the good rest in Paradise terrestriall in which Adam was created, vntill the Day of Indgement. There are others which believe that the foules of the inft, prefently after death enjoy their Creator in Paradife.

Being asked whether any man can be faued without the faith of Iesus Christ, the Mediator of God and men; he answered. None can be faued. Being asked of them which are now in the law of nature, to whom no knowledge of the Gospell hath comne; he answered, I beleeue that God also hath provided for them, that by some meanes they may be faued, when they shall have kept the precepts of Nature. Being asked what the Ethiopians thinke of Indulgences, hee answeto viderstand the vie of them. Being asked of Inuocation of Saints, hee answered, that the In-red, I believe they are acceptable amongst all, and they call them Benedictions, but I defire Mortall finne. Also being asked what sinnes, and how many are mortall, he answered. Those are mortall sinnes which are done against the Lords commandements, which are so many that I cannot number. Be- 50 ing asked whether the finnes of the Will, which paffe not into outward act, bee mortall. Hee anfwered, they are mortall, when a man hath given confert to the defire and concupifcence.

Vniuerfall grace. Indulgences.

Inuocation of Saints.

Simony. Difference twixt Abaffines and Copies.

cellion with God.

uocation of Saints is very well approved among it the Eibiopians, and all doe professe their inter- 60 Being asked of Simony, and of those which by fauour or compact are ordained Priests Bishops, or Patriarch; he answered, that it is forbidden by the holy Canons. Being asked what difference there is betwixt the Erbiopians and the Copbri, in matters of faith;

CHAP. 14 S .. Difference between the Cophiles Ethiopians, Their Orders bow given. 149

he answered, that there is no difference betwire them, and they agree in all things; for they are under the obedience of the same Patriarch. But in some things I have seene them to differ; nam:ly, the Eibiopians contract not in degrees prohibited; But the Copbi contract in the second, nam:19, the degrees after it every where with license and without the license of their Bishop and Pa- Note, and the degrees after it every where with license and without the license of their Bishop and Paand the Spatian the Country and Villages keepeno Lords dates, nor holy dates, but onely in Cities, which the Eibsopians doe euery where. Allo the Eibsopians keepe the Sabbath (or Saturday holy) which the Cophis doe not. Allothe Ethiopians enery where thereow all Ethiopracticumcife their Sonnes and Daughters; but some Cophie, onely at Carro within theie tew yeeres circumcife not. Allo in the ceremonies of the Miffe the Cophis differ much from the Eto thispians, For the Pricits of the Cophia celebrate without the Veilments called Planete, and the Deacons without the Dalmarik Veitments, & with their head covered with a wollen Tobalea, and neuer elevate the Lords body and the Chalice in their Maller, which ceremonies are not among the the Ethopians, Being demanded if he knew in what things the Ethopians and Cophis differ from the faith of the holy Catholike Roman Church; hee antwered, they differ principally in these things. They inuocate Disserus of Alexandrie, and lames the first his Disciple, and Senerus Antisechemus in the Churches with the holy Fathers. They receive not the Chalcedon Councell, and Saint Lee Pope. They proiest: in Christ our Lord one onely Nature, will, and operation. They recite the thrice holy Hymne with addition of thole words, which was crucified for vi; yet with this expolition that the three fanctifications be applied to the most holy Truntie, & those words, Holy, holy, 20 which was eracified for vs, onely to our Lord Christ. The Cophiana Ethiopians vie circumcition, buly.

and there also obserue the Sabbath. Being askei when, where, of whom and what orders he had taken; hee answered, when I Holy Orders. was fifteene yeeres old, in the Church of Saint Mary in the Monatterie of Denob of the Prounce Xena in Ethoppea, I was entered in orders by Iofeph a C. phine, Archbishop of Ethoppea, in this man- Iofephus Cophine ner: The Archbishop before the celebration of Maile shaued my head in five places, in forme of a croffe, and announted me with Chrisme in the forehead, reciting praiers in the Egyptian tongue, and breathed in my face; and the same houre, in time of the celebration, made me an Ostiarie, and Lector or Plaimitt, 2 and Acolyte, and Nefcadeacon or SubJeacon, and Deacon of the Golpell, and gave me the holy Communion: and a long time after, when I was thirty yeeres old, in the Ci-30 tie Bed in Dembia of Eibiopus, in the Church of Saint George, I was ordered Prieft by Archbilhop

Marke, the lucacifour of the faid lofeph. Being asked whether hee heard the Archbisnop vtter in Popish ties of colleting orders, the formall words of each order; he answered, The Archbishop vttered them, guangOrders bu: I heard not, not vinderstood, because he celebrated in the Egyptian tongue, whereof I was vtterly ignorant. Being asked whether any materiall was deliucted by the Archbishop in collation of each order, and whether he touched the same with his hands; namely, whether in making him Oftiary the Keyes of the Church, and opened the doore, and founded the Bell; in the Le-Gorsup, the Booke of Lellons, or touched the Pfalmith, in exorciffship the booke of exorcisme or Miffall; in Acolyth hip the Candlellicke, with the candle put out and an emptie pot; in Subdeaconship, the empty Chalice with an empty patene our it, and pots with wine and water, and 40 the balen with a towell, and the Booke of the Epiftles, and whether the Amice was by the Archbishop put on his head, and the maniple on his lestatme, and whether hee was vested with the Tunicle: and in his Deaconship, whether he touched the Booke of the Gospels, and the stole was put on his shoulder, and he vested with the Dalmatike: and in being orderest Priest whether he couched the Chalice with wine and water, and the parene with the hofte, and whether the hands touched with the Oyle of the Catechumeni : He answered, I certainly know, that I in all the faid orders had no materiall or in firument delivered me by the Arcibishop in collation of the Orders, nor did I touch any fuch, nor was I rested with any restiment pecuhar to any order, nor 50 did the Archbishop impose hands on me, nor were my hands annointed with holy Oyle. He said also, our Archbithop in Ethiopia giveth orders to 2000, and more at one time, and to each gives fixe orders together, without examination before, and without enquirie, examination, choife, a; probation, writing, or regitter, and in regard of the multitude, cannot give to each and every of them any materiall to be touched and in the fame manner it is observed in all ordinations by our Archbishops successively; airhough it be otherwise observed in Egypt, where so great a multitrude is not ordered at once together, and some competent matter is deliurred to be touched of the ordained. Be ng asked whether he knew the faid Joseph and Marke, Bishops aforefaid, to have beene Schitmatickes, and without the communion of the holy Roman Church : he answered, that hee knew not so much. Yea, he rather certainly beleeved at that time, that they were Catholikes, Archbishop and Priests imposed hands on his head, and whether the stole was applied to his breaft in manner of a croffe, and whether he put on the casule without the planet, and had his

60 as alticall the Ethiopians and Cophie, and that they obeyed the Apostolike See in all things, and held communion with the holy Roman Church; and beleeved that all Chriftians did agree in matters of Faith; but he learned the those before fand, when afterwards hee was at lerufalem and in Egypt.

0 3

Relations of the Iacobites and Armenians, written by LEONARD Bishop of Sidon, Pope GREGORIEthe 13. his Nuncio to the Easterne parts.

Jacobites num-

He lacobite Nation is dispersed thorow the Cities, Lands, and Townes of Syria, Mespa-tamia and Babylonia, obtaining the number of 50000. houses, most of them poore, and hung on daily labour. In Aleppo and Caramit are many rich families which live on Mer- 10 chandile. Their Patriarchall Church is in Mesopotamia without the Citie of Moradon, in the Monastery Zafram; but the Patriarch resideth for his greater commoditie and quiet in the Citie Caramit . This Nation is subject to the Patriarch David, but is governed of the Bishop Thomas , Viear G nerall and brother to the faid Patriarch. Vnder whole obedience live at this time Iohn the Metropolitan of Ierufalem, by the Iacobites Riled the fifth Patriarch : Michael Archbishop of rusalem, Aleppo, Orfa, Orbis, Mar Abibai, Gargar, amongst the Churches of which parts I found thole of lerafalem and Aleppe well furnished, but the rest without Images and ill gouerned. For the Sacrament was kept in wodden pyxes without light or lampe; and the baptifmall Funts wapted water, for at every baptisme they blesse the Funts anew: the ornaments of the Altars also were most vile, and the office of the Malie was performed verie basely and carefully. Of the Boly Oyles. onely Chrisme was kept in Churches: this is called Maonand is bleffed of the Patriarch every 30 feuenth yeere with many flowers and odoriferous things. They have not the Oile of the Catachumeni, and for the Oile of extreame vnction, the Priest blesseth it in lights set on foure parts in manner of a crosse, and therewith anoints the ficke, after many Gospels and Praiers recited, The Sacrament of Confession is rarely frequented, and many communicate without auricular confesfion. The Patriarch professed that they held the same in substance with the Roman Church, but the Greekes and Latines could not attemper fuch words and tearmes as the lacobites in those things

Damasco. James Archbishop of Edessacalled Orfa, or Raha. Minas Archbishop of Saur, Effrem Archbishop in the same Prouince, lames Archbishop of Bisharia, Abraham Bishop of Antajra, Melchez Bilhop of Saint Melcht in Tur, lefu Bilhop of the Monasterie Deviloemor, Abelmedich in the Province of Tur, Elias Bilhop in Salach, Elias Bilhop of the Monasterie Saint Croffe in Zaz, Gazel Bishop in Tarach, Danid Bishop in Maaden, Pilas Metropolitan in Musal and the East Gazel Archbilhop of Miaferichin, the Archbilhop of the Monatterie of Mar Abihai, Ananias Bishop of Saint Bertonias, John Bishop of Hartbert, I Jaac Archbishop of Cyprus, Sumeon Archbishop of Caramit, Habib. There are many Monasteries of the same Nation, Churches, Religions, and Deacons, and Clergie men innumerable, which I could not visit, being reiected by the laid Vicar Generall Thomas : Yet I vilited the Temple of the Iacobites in Tripoli, Asmauin, Damafco, Neph, 1e-

Monasteries

Rires.

Of the Armenians the faid Bishop of Sidon testifieth , that they are subject to two principall

Armenians. Their Patri-

Pattiarkes, one of Armenia the Greater, the other of Armenia the leffe. The former refideth in 40 the Monaftery and Church of Ecmeazin, neere the Citie Ernan in Persia: the other in the Citie Cis of Cilicia, now called Caramania. Other Patriarkes are cometimes by the fauour of the Turks created among ft them, and are exacters of Tributes which the Armenian Families are bound to pay the Turkes. Others also are elected Coadiutors of the same Patriarkes with consent of the Bithops and; cople. Further there are others, Primates or rather Patriarkes of the fame Nation in the remotest parts of Persia & in Constantinople, which although legally they are subject to the Patriarke of Armenia maior, yet sometimes doe not acknowledge him. The Families subiecto the Patriarke of the Greater Armenia exceed the number of 1,0000. befides very many Mona-Preachers or steries, Bishops, Religious persons and Deacons. Their Preachers are called Mortabiti, and are obeied by the people, as the Patriarke himfelfe. In the Province Neusam, in Persia also, in two Cities there line Catholike Armenians fubiect to an Archbishop of the Dominican Order, and 50 other Friers of that profession, which observe the Latine Rites, and live vnder the obedience of the Roman Sea.

Mafters. Rom: fb Arme -

The Patriarke of Armenia Miner hath under his Iurisdiction foure and twentie Prelates, Archbishops and Bishops, and the Election of the Patriarke belongs to 12. Bishops neerer the Patriarchall Church. Yet sometimes the Armenian people by fauour and command of the Turkill Officers create their Patriarks, and after obtaine the confent of the Bifhops and Archbifhops, and by the fauour of the principall people, a Coadiutor with future futerfilm is deputed to him, who of a Master and Preacher, after the death of the said predecessor, is received and confirmed by the people for Patriarke. To this Patriarke are fubiect about 2000. Families; and they live in the Villages, Castles and Cities of Cilicia and Spria: there are twentie Monasteries each contayning 100. Religious, 300. Priests, Deacons and Clarkes many, which live of Almes, and of their owne industry.

CHAP.14.S.3.4. Titular Patriarks obeying Rome. Synods of the Cophti.

ò. III.

Of SIMON SVIAKA a Papall Easterne Patriarke amongst the Chaldwans : and of divers others thither fent. Of A i DESV, AATALLA, DONHA his Successours.

Mong it the Afan Nefforians, there have beene some Roman Catholikes which have exlife are the Poisson of those which protested Sumon Saiaks, a Monke to the Saiak Order to be their Superious, calling themselves (Phaldans and Affaing acknowledged Pone Island the Tituri, and resolved the same of National Affaing acknowledged Pone Island the Tituri, and resolved the same of National Affaing acknowledged Pone Island the Tituri, and resolved the same of National Affaing acknowledged Pone Island. rions, acknowledged Pope Iulius the Third, and rejected the name of Nestorians. Su- of hille corne: lake was by the Pope confirmed Patriarke of that Nation with the Title of Mozal, which yet here resit lake was by the Pope confirmed Patriarke of that Patriot, with the Fried of Charles, which is adjectary possessed. He returned to Caramit, and there ordained certaine Archibiand wish that fhops and Bishops, and rejected the Nestorian Innocation, which at that time was vivally made at Nestorian by the Deacon in the Church. He fought to spread the Roman faith, but by the policy of the would aban-Animatriarke Dry he was taken and flaine by the Tarkes. The confession of faith by the fame don those he-Sulaka madeat Rome is extant in Bibliotheca Patrum. The Bilhop Arienfis a Dominican was fent by the Pope to vifit and confirme this Church, who Komed and Confirmed the Church was fent by the Pope to vifit and confirme this Church, who having reformed fome things, was driven with fome Affrians to flee to Ormus and Gas, where tholks. 20 hee dyed. His companion Frier Anthonie, with the Archbilhop Ermetes Elias Disciple of Sulaka, visited arch, many Christians in Coebin and India of Saint Thomas, and after his returne was made a Bishop by the Pope. To Sulaka succeeded Abdesa of the same order of Saint Basil, which was at the Councel of Trest under Pope Piss the Fourth, &from him carried with him the Title of Mazal, and returning to Caramirand Seers, ordained many Priests, Bulhops and Archbishops, and many Ithinke hee Cities of the Chaldeer yeelled him obedience, but foone after hee died in the Monastery of the meanth Saint City Seert: and Astalls a brother of the fame Order fucceeded, and after him Donha Simon fiam in India. the Archbilhop of Gelu and Salamas renounced the Anipatriarke, and was elected Patriarke by Abdefu or Abilthe Predates of that Nation, and confirmed by Gregorie the Thirteenth, to whom he fent at the 1st billop Ermet Euch in his name to exhibit obedience. Who returned with his Patriarchall Pall from Rome 1 582, But hitherto they have nothing of Mozal but the Title, the other Patriarke possessing the See, and they are glad to seeke a place of residence where they can, as at Caramit, bruque, Pelo, and this last at Zemalbach. The richest and mightiest of that Nation are at Mozal and Gefire, General and Control. and acknowledge the other Patriarke, lately called Elias, refident in the Patriarchall Monaltery 11.0 Breeof Saint Ermes neere Moz.al. He hath under him two and twentie Bishops, aboue fixe hundred madd Enquiria Territories, of which two and twentie are flourishing Cities, each contaying flue hundred Neforian Families, and in Maful 1000. each having about fortiespersons: the other Territories haue two or three hundred Nefforian Families. They have thirtie Monasteries of Saint Anibo-

Drytne Patri-

Of thele Nefte-

nies Order in which fifteene or twentie Monkes liue: and in that of the Patriarke feuentie.

The Patriarke and Bishops must bee Monkes They extend to Baldach and the East Indies.

Of the Cophii, their Synod at Cairo, the Iesuites being the Popes Agents, and of STEPHEN COLINZAS meffage to the Georgians, and two lefuites fent to the Maronites.

Ope Gregorie the Thirteenth fent divers messages to the Cophti, whereby a Synod was smed at Cant. procured at Cairo, in December 1582. which had three Seffions to reconcile them to the Roman Church. At the first were present Bishops and principal men. At the third, the firme men, with the Jesuites, especially John Baptista Romaniu. In the fift were opened the causes of their decession in the Conventicle of Epbesus allembled by Dioscoria, whereby Eutyches his Herefie which denied two natures in Christ was begun, condemned after in the Chalcedon Councell. They defired to fearch their Writings which were few and eaten with Age. And in the second Session was much alteration, and the matter put off to the third. In that third the Law of Circumcifion was abrogated first; and after that Anathema was denonfeed against such as should spoile Christ of either. Yet for all this the Vicar of the Patriarke then being, 60 relifted the subscribing, and a quarrell was picked by the Tinker against the Popes Agents, as it they fought to fubiect the Exit, to the Pope, or the King of Spame. They were thereforecast into Prilon, and their redemption coft 5000. Crownes.

At Caire is a Librarie in which are kept many Bookes of the ancient Doctors in Arabile, as of Saint lerome, Gregorie Nazianzene, Saint Bafil, &c. and the men haue good wits, and fome thereby prooue learned. In the time of Pope Clement the Eighth, Marke the Patrinke fent a Submission to the Pope, as was pretended; but it prooued to be the Imposture of one Barton.

Paul the Third alio tent to the Georgians, Anno 1545. Stephen Colynza elect of Nemuan in King of Georgia Armenis, his Nuncio to the Kings of Georgia and Armenia. The Georgian King writ backe to h slettertothe the Pope, his Letter beginning. Miferatione Dei Symeon Rex Cardely totiu Iberia & Orientu. Excelfe & flendiffine, & Cantiffime, & beatiffime Domine nofter, Pater noster & Papa, Paster Paforum, Princeps Principum, & decime tertie Apostolorum, Pater noster & Papa Magna Roma, aurea tuba, organum Deinftatum, Petre index & clauicularie Regni calestis, Paule Dottor gentium, qui ascendit vig, ad tertium calum, co. Hee proceedeth in Iwelling Titles of vanitie alcribed to the lo Pope, and taith to much that all his zeale and profession was ipent, as it seemeth, in that Epittle; for little eff of hath fince appeared, Pope Clement the Eighth fent two lefuites with a Bishop to the Maronites in Mount Libanus, Hierom Dandin a Dimne being principall. The cause of sending was, that it might by the eyes be discerned, whether the costs bestowed at Rome on the Seminary of Maronites were well beflowed. The Pope fent the Patt arch a whole Vestiment of Silke wrought with Gold for a Patriarchall Moffe, and many Chiffs of Bookes in the Chaldaan Tongue printed in the Citie, contayning the Lyturgies of Spint lames, Saint Peter, and Saint Sixtue, they having no Bookes but written, and thole torne or erroneous : with Seruice-bookes to God and the Bleffed Virgin. For they vie the Chaldee Tongue as wee doe the Latine. Out of the Seminary was fent one to bee 2 Coadiutor to the Patriarch and made Bishop, and another Coadiutor to him in his Bishopricke. 20 Their common Language is Arabite. The Pope fent alfotiluer Chalices, and Iron Instruments to make the Hofts and facred Vefts for other Priests by the faid Dandin. He staid two monethes with his companion a Prieft, in the Monasterie of the Patriarke, in which time the old Patriarke died, and the other was substituted by a Synod according to the custome. The Patriarkes performed all kind Offices to the Isluites, as did also the Monkes which live sparingly seating little but Rice, Herbs and Broth. The Priefts live fingle, but are addicted to no Studies of Learning. and spend the rest of their time in tilling the ground, or stirring vp others thereto, that they may have to live on, and to pay their Tributes. Their women are very modelf and chaft, neither have they any mercenary Harlots. They have a place at the entrance of the Courch by themselves

Their old rites, and when Service is done they depart first, no man stirring till hey be all gone. Dandin altered, 20 divers things amongst them, as to referae some cales to the Bishop or Patriarke, not to constraine Priests to marrie before they tooke Orders, that some of the Seruiarians should be appointed on fome Holy dayes to preach, and write cases for others to learne, where as before they had no Sermons, but sometimes a Homily; to vie no other Miffals then such as had beene tent from Rome; that other Bookes should bee examined; not (as before) to admit Children to the Eu-

L.8c.61.9.c.9.

He which will read more of these Maronites, may read out of themselves and others in this Worke, as also touching them and all other Christians in the East in Master Brerewoods Enquire hereto annexed : also Thomas à less our Author is farre more ample in these things, then agree th with our fcope, I thought good yet to addcout of a Manuscript about a doczen yeeres fince som- 40 municated to me by the Right Reuerend Father in God Docter Viber , Lord Bilhop of Menth, copied out of a lesuites written Catalogue of Hereties, these Errours as they are there recited by the lefunte, and gathered out of the Maronites Bookes

Errores ex libris Maronitarum excerpti 1580. funt autem buiusmodi.

— Hristus caput oft dininitatis. In Christo una tantum est natura. 3 In Christo una tanta est operatio, una voluntas. 4 Natura inusfibilu in Christo est passa.

Trinitas eft paffa. Trifacium recitandum est cum illa additione Qui crucifixus elt pro nobis.

Christus non est mortuus or ally bomines. 8 Christus descendens ad inferos omnes filios Ade liberautt.

9 Christus postresurreltionem unam babet na-

10 Anima sanctorum patrum deducta sunt à Christo ad Paradisum terrestrem : anima vero corum qui nunc meriuntur, aut illuc traSount, aut in propries corporibus detinentur, vel 50 circa sepulchrum vel descendunt ad locum tenebrosum,pro meritorum vel demeritorum diser fitate.

II In die indicy nona corpora animabus creabuntur.

12 Spiritus fanctus à patre procedit.

13 Baptismus non debet ministrari nisi à Sacer-14 Apostata, vi baretici, sunt rebaptizandi.

15 Energument non funt baptifandi, nift murtu 69 Masculus in baptismo non debet suscipere fæminam, nec è contra. Baptifmus non achet dari in quadrageffima.

patitur fluxum fanguinis ne cum polluat. 29 Mater non potest lattare funm infantem ratione chrifmatis cum eft baptizatiu. 20 Angelus cuitos tribustur in baptifme bemini. 21 Chryfma debet confici ex varys rebia, & coqui ig ne ex que libit facto. 22 Forma confirmation is bac est. Vago to boc chryf. mate in vitam eternam, vi fis beres regm culefis in nomine P.F. G S.S. 10 23 Sanguis Christi poteft confecrari ex aqua, ex v nu ficcis expressa.

24 Summus Episcopus potest confecture sanguines fi me corpore.

25 Forma consecrationic bac eft. Bonedinit & dinist vnicuig, discipulorum partem, & fecit vt effent, corpus Dominicum, qued datur in vitam mundi in remissionem peccatorum. Item benedixit & fanitificanit, & dinifit aqualiter ad bibendum. illum Apoftolus [miselectus, & fecit poffidere illum finguinem VIZ. wovam Testamentum Disci-

pulas [nos. 26 Sub peciebus panis & vini eft corpue & fangmis fed son anima Christi.

Eucharistia consecranda feria quinta in Cana Domini, debet confectari per totum annum. 28 Sacerdos qui nunquam celebrat, non peccat.

29 Licet facrum facere super librum Enangely. 30 Qui nou est difi ofices ad communicandems, non de-bes facro interesse.

31 Dignius fumit Euchariftiam infant quam adul

22 Infantes Christi fanginem fumere debent. 3 3 Impedie communicaem digitum eri infuife ant os ab

34 Absolnere pænstentes eft super ouns caput recita re orationem Dominicam. 35 Impositio manuum Apostolorum super baptizates

erat abfolutio à peccatie. 36 Peccata minima funt aperienda in confessione. 37 Peccata firitualia ne in mortie articulo dimitti possunt. 28 Mali Sacerdotes non babent vsum clausium. 39 Poft mortem redditur ratio commifforum peccate.

rum ab anno 12. 40 Olenm extrema unitionis debet benedici à 7. Sa cerdotibus. 41 Matrimonium in lege veteri erat inflitutum tan.

43 Matrimonium non oft validam fine Sacerdotu
50 benedictione

18 Partulus bapticatus non debittangi à matre que | 43 44 Non potest pater & silius contrabere duabus foreribus.

Quarta nupua & deinceps sunt illicita. 46 Ob multas canfas licet vxorem demittere, & alsam ducere.

47 V sin Matrimonij in Quadragesima est peccatum irremifibile. 48 Paradifus terrestrie fuit creamu ante omnia.

49 Adam fust formatiu ex terra Paradifi. 50 Adam & Ena ante peccatum erant eirenn. dati pelle, ur non poffet eognofci Etrum mai vel famma effet.

Sacerdar erat Abel & non Cain, & ideo Dee placuis illius Sestificiam, non buiss.

Nos tempore diluni; : Area facrificanit. Fily Ifrael qui adordrunt vitulum, & biberunt eine pulnerens, mugichant vi bones. Indai in deserto ferebant lapidem secum in quo 12. fontes manabant. Chrifim fallom oft Sacerdos à lebanne Bap-

56 Maria apparuit Christus in forma hortulani.

57 Apostols vfq, ad Pontecostere fuerant in ftatu 52 Christus fecit Apostolos Diaconos cum infuffavnigs lob. 20. Sacerdotes vero cum afemda u Calam Anima Beata Virginis fuit primum cuminos maa.

Omnes credentes,criam baretici funt in flatti falutis. 61 Non licet occidere hominem etiam publica amboritate. 6a Dens promisit Most visionem dininitatie coniunttam cum anima Chrifts,quo mede fointe of visibiles diminitas. 63 Sanct's patres in limbo carebant fe excundi. 64 Dammati non torquentur die Dominica.

65 Dammatorum perna menuuntur per facrificia. 66 loseph spensus Bease Virginis babust qua tuer filies. 67 Urrginitas non est praponenda matrimonio.

68 Mendacium officiosum licitum est. 69 Indei coegerunt Beatam Virginem potare a. quane amaram propter suspicionem adulterij. 70 Dies Veneris eft celebrandus et Dominicus.

71 Pharao non meretur panam, qued Deus cor eius ındıaranerit.

73 Veftes Sacerdotales fi lacorentur & id genus alia,amitunt confectationem.

I have hither also translated some observations of Christopher Angeles a Greeke Monke and Priest, which hath lued many yeeres in England, and some fine yeeres fince gave mee a Greeke * Booke printed by him in London, touching their prefent Rites, both in their Churches and Mo- * It was prinnasteries. Many things I could have added touching the Greeker, and their moderne Language, ted also in Lad State and Religion, out of (rufus, leremen the Patriarke and others. But this man being a Trait time ut can utler, I choic rather to let you heare him in that wherein be hath beene bred. As for dogmatic wilder. call differences you have had them before, and the prefent Greeker are not ordinarily to learned as 60 to giue you a perfect account thereof.

ા સ્થેલ

Of the condition of life in which the Greekes now line, and of their rites of Falts, Feasts, and other observations, gathered out of the Booke of CHAPSTOPHEROS ANGELOS.4 Greekish Monke and Pricst.

 Simple filli-neffe ither of this Monke or of this Nation! fions among & themselves & from the Latines: and not aflifted from Princes abroad were not able robold out An obscure Prophelie ought not to hold mens hands,, except they will be treatheir fate, for Gods will reucaled is the rule of our a-Gions: vailed propliciies can fie ruents, be ing notte-rible till then, and therefore not eligible, as

Deut.19.

Turke.

Diuers tri-

Titlung of Another fa-

The ancient Oracions heard labor the Europelist speaking in the thirteenth of the Apre. and first verie. And I fow a boast rife out of the Sea, and power was granted him to make 10 warre with the Saints, and to onercome them, and power was ginen him oner enery Kindred and Tonque, and Nation, and all that dwelt upon the Earth worshipped him, whose names are Or rather base not written in the Booke of Life of the Lambe , who was flaure from the beginning of the World : if any courages palleman bane an eare let him beare. If any leade into captimity, be foull goe into captimitie : if any kill with Scripture mif- a fword hee must be killed with the fwerd, and that which followeth. The Greekes having this proapplied. The phefic and many others of this kind of holy men, when they faw the Turkes come, faid, This is true cante is, the Beaft, that Saint John Speaketh of, and would not fight with the Turke. They fought a little in the beginning, but afterward yeelded; and for this were not carried away captines. Inlike manner they carried all their goods with them, and bought all of the King of the Tinkes. This thing also did the Monkes, and redeemed their Monasteries, and fields, and houses, and whatto- 20 euer they possessed before. Therefore to this day, they recaine all their old Bookes, and observe their Countrey Lawes, and line as the Christians and Monkes in former ages, if the Christians shall at any time get the superioritie. But let vs returne to our purpole,

Each of the Males pay Tribute to the Tankih King, as likewife the women : that is to fay, that the mendwelling in one house from twentie yeeres, and vpwards pay yeerely fix shillings. But if they be striplings, that is to fay, fifteene yeeres old they pay three only, if they are passed fifteene, pay foure or five, till they come to the age of twentie yeeres. They will give this taxe. because the Lord faith, bewise as Serpents. They are mindfull alto that lobn faith, Apoc.7.14. Roose are those which came out of great tribulation, and washed their garments, and made them white in the bloud of the Lambe. Moreover, they pay another custome. That is to say, when the Army 30 goeth to warre; they are wont to contribute certaine pieces of monie, to buy bread and flesh, to fuffaine the Armie, they doe not yet all equally pay this : but sometimes twentie, sometimes ten shillings in every house, sometimes more having respect to the Armie. But all the houses doe not contribute alike in this as in the former. In that the rich and poore pay the fame fumme, in this no man gives beyond his abilitie. There is also another dutie : to wit, when the Kings fpies are fentto exact Tribute of the Christians, in the journey the Christians which dwel there, allow them victuals. And thus much concerning their Tributes.

The tiching of their children is in this manner. When as first the Tarke exercised authoritie ouer the Greeks, in every Citie & Province he took an account of the houses, and every fourth years, of ten houses took one of their children. There was at that time in one Citie a hundred housholds of 40 ten times ten houshold he chuseth one. Afterwards after that foure yeeres were expired, he took Gods rule, not ten other children of the fecond, that is to fay, of the next house, not of that former whereof he tooke before. And so they doe every foure veeres vntill all the houses bee finished. And then againe they beginne to take children at the first house, vntill they returne againe to the first. Afwils, and not what we ought ter forty veeres are past they returne agains to the first house, and after this manner they doe with the other Houses, Cities and Provinces. They have another visual custome of gathering children, that is to fay, when the lanizaries goe from the King to gather Boyes through the butes to the Province, that is subject to them, where they ought to gather them : Pasing through the Prouince as many Boyes as they find in the way, they take without tithing, faying, those Boyes are our preys. Bet if it happen, that any children among them that are valually taken, bee of those their children houses, which are to give a Boy, then they will take no other Boy of those houses, whereof that Boy was, because they may not take two Boyes out of one house in the same yeere; therefore when the Boyes fathers heare that the Innizaries come to gather Boyes, they hide their Boyes before they come, some in Mountaines, some in the houses of the great men that are Turkes, be-" cause those Rulers are Citizens, and the Greekes friends, and therefore defire to keepe the Greekes fonnes fafe, and after they reftore agains their sonnes, fometimes the Boyes flie into the Mountaines, and the Imizaries take the Boyes Father or Mother, and punish them with death. And when the children heare that their parents are punished, they come of their owne accord, and are delinered; formetimes the childrens parents die of the punishment for their formes, and thus much concerning their children.

The Geeckes obterue foure Lents every yeere. The first is called the great and boly Leut : this continues eight and forty dayes together before Eafler. They faft in that holy Lent eating dry things for the sithing of their foule. On Annuntiation day they cate fifth, and fealt for joy of the Annuatiation, therefore there remaine only fine and thirtie daies for the tithing of the years, which are five times feuen, which make five and thirtie daies. Because that for feuen weekes together they fall before Eafter, fine daires in curry weeke, that is to lay, Monday, Tuelday, Wed. nelday, Thursdiay, and Friday : they fait not on Saturday and Sunday, because they eate Oile Saturday and nettary, a minory, and a may therefore they are not called fatting dates, but only after a lort. Sanday and and drinke Wine twice in a day, therefore they are not called fatting dates, but only after a lort. Sanday not fa-Some of the Laicks in those five daies of the weeke cate Oile, and drinke Wine, because they fing respect not the tithing of foules The Falls of the Monkes differ from the Laicks falls; for the Laicks may sometimes eate Oile, and drinke Wine in those fine daies, and have absolution of the spiritual (Priest) when they confesse to him their particular sinnes. But the Monkes may not eate Oile, nor drinke Wine those 10 fine daies : for when they confesse, they are punished according to the Canons, valetie they have fome difeale, or fome other necessitie. Their fecond Lent, is called the Lent of dayes, because they falt fortie daies together before Second or Ad-

CAAP. 14 S.5. Greeke Rites observed in their foure Lents. Their manner of fasting. 155

Christmaffe. They faft in those daies, first, in the honour of Christ: Secondly , because Mafes went Lent. fafted forty dayes, and then merited (or obtained) to converse with God: and receive the stonie Tables of the Decalogue. To our example. Mofes fafted there forty daies, that he might speake with God and receive the Tables. But we fast so many daies, that wee may meete Christ borne for our finnes, as the Wifemen did with gifts, and as the shepheards spake with the Angels, and were thought worthy to fee an Armie of Angels, and to worthip Christ. Wee also confesting our finnes, and fasting and keeping under our bodie, worthip Christ.

20 The third Lent is called the Lent of the holy Apostlet Peter and Paul. It beginnes one weeke Third Lent. after Whitfontide; and continues to the nine and twentiethday of the month of lune, that is to fay, to the Fealt of Peter and Paul.

Their fourth Lent beginnes from the first day of August, and continues to the fourteenth day Fourth Lent. of the same month, because on the 15. day they celebrate a great Feast to the Virgin Mary, who Assurption. on that day ascend d from Earth to Heaven, from corruptible things to incorruptible, and went to her Sonne, and to her God and our Lord Iefus Chrift and our God, Amen: in her honour they

But thele fafts differ from the great Lent, for in the Lent of Christmasse, and of Peter and Difference of Paul, they eate fish twice in a day : but in our Ladies Lenethey eate no fish, yet they eate

They beginne to fast after this manner: the tenth Sunday before Easter Sunday, to wit, the fasting. 30 twice a day. ninth weeke before Easter; that Weeke is called, the calling weeke, and the Sunday of the Publican and the Pharifie, for on the tenth Sunday they reade the Gofpel of the Publican and the Phariffe, that they may learne humilitie, and abase themselves, and not judge and condemne others, rife, that they may terme unmittee, and more unements, and not not not great the right as the Pairfie usinged the Pairfie using and the day following before day (that is, the tenth Sunday before Eafter) their Songs, with a great and die lowing before day (that is, the tenth Sunday before Eafter) voice, and very often melodisully, so that all may heare: Let us anoid the Pharifies boatting, let us learne the Publicans lowlinesse, and others of this kind : and they confesse their sinnes, and pardon the wrongs of their Enemies, that they may be pure in heart when they begin to fast. The 40 following Sunday (which is the ninth Sunday before Easter, and the eighth weeke, that Sunday is called the Sanday of the second comming, and the independent of our Lord lesses Christ) wherefore on this day they read the Gospell, then they shall fee the Sonne of man comming in the clouds; and the rest that followes. And the Prophetie of Daniel the Prophet, viz. Behold the thrones were fet, Church thiefe words of Christ, and of the Prophetie of Daniel finging with a drie and great voice, fo that all may heare and many tremble, for all heare, that judgement and vengeance is at hand. O Vinem. They fealt verie much this Sunday, and give manie almes, and procure friendship with their enemies, and will neueriudge nor backbite them after they are made friends, nor remember the iniurie fo long as they line, because Paul faith, neither thiefe, nor enill fpenter, Ge. shall inherit the 50 Kingdome of God. This is called Shroneftinday, because on this day is an inhibition from flesh, for in the day following (that is) Monday, they begin to falt onely from fleth, and eace Egges, Milke, Cheele, Butter, and luch kinde of meares ; that come from flesh all the weeke, but on Saturday and Sunday, which is called the eighth Sunday before Eafter, and the feuenth weeke

The eighth Sunday before Easter is called Cheefe fanday, because they eate Cheese and Egges, and all kindes of white meates : and the Greeker dor greatly reiect this day , becaute the day following (that is to fay) Monday, they begin to fall. The day is called the fall of Adam, because on that day is read the fall of Adam; that is, how Adam and Ene are of the Tree of knowledge, and for that vnbridled luft of eating, were cast out of Paradite; bese cause they neglected the olinance of God, therefore they were banished, and because after the fall of Adam then went out of Paradife, and mourned because her was deceived, by his curfed defire to eate, and was so made the servant of the Duell, therefore they give large almes, and commiterate their enemies (as we faid before) and now they doe their things that they may be pare in heart, when they begin to fall : But they begin to fait on Munday, to wit, and the ancient of daies fat downe, and the Bookes were opened to indgement. And they read in the

First Lent.

the first day of the feuenth weeke before Easter, and they fast fine daies, viz. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, but they fast eating dry things, that is to say, they eate Beanes, Peale, with Vinegar they boile Herbes in water, and eate them with Vinegar, Raisons, Figges, dried Apples, dried Peares, dried Cherries, and Honie. Thefe they boile altogether in water: they eate the Fruit, but drinke the broth as wine, &c. On Saturday and Sunday (which is called the Lords day, they eate Oile, and drinke Wine : and after this manner they line enerie

Two weekely .

They fast also two daies enerie weeke throughout the whole yeere, viz. Wednesday and Friday. They fast on Wedneiday, because on that day Indas tooke monie to betray Christ, and they day & Friday, are afflicted with Christ by fasting. But on Friday they fast because Christ was crucified, and lo they are in heavinelle with Christ, because he faith, when the Bridegroome shall be taken from them, then Shall my Disciples fast.

Saturdaier, o:he:holy

On every Saturday, and other feasts throughout the yeere, the Greekes are wont at evening to goe to the Temple. All the Greeian women and children rife very timely, that is to fay, the fecond houre after midnight on every Sunday, and Feast day, to goe to the Temple; and leave at home one boy or one girle, to keepe the house, and they continue there singing all the night till morning; when the Sunne rifeth, they goe out, and returne home: they no idlely, and eate not nor drinke, till the ninth houre after midnight. But at the ninth houre the Priest runnes to the Temple, and prepares those things that belong to the liturgie, and takes one loafe which a woman or pure man made the day before (that is, fome man which knew not his wife the day to before, or a woman which knew not her husband, that is, on Saturday night, or otherwise from the evening of Friday till the morning light of Saturday, lay not together.) That man or that woman, baketh and kneadeth meale, and makes that loafe on Saturday, or another day. Hee must needes be pure which shall make this bread: before they put this Bread into the Quen, they signe it with a certaine peece of wood engraven with letters, viz. Iefu Chrift ouercomes: and then they put it into the Quen marked with these letters, viz. lefu Christ onercomes. This Bread fignifies the Virgin; as the Virgin was pure, so a pure man must bake that bread; this Bread the Priest takes in his hands, and bleffeth, laying, In the memory of our boly emforted Lady Mother of God, coc. and other praiers, and confecrates that Bread to the Virgin, and after this the Priest hath a little speare, in forme of the speare wherewith the Souldiers pierced Christ, and the Priest taketh 2 the little speare, and cuts off some foures quare peece of the outside of the loase, which containeth those letters, lefu Christ ouercomes, typifying Christ, who was borne of the Virgin Mary; and of this Bread they make their Eucharitt : the Eucharift being administred, the Priest or Deacon deuides that greater part of bread which was left into verie imall peeces, of which bread wee fay, that it is the body of the Virgin : and of this bread hee distributes to them which tooke Christs bodie, and to as manie as fasted all that day, who neither eate nor dranke any thing. They call this kinde of bread the reward, because they give it to all those which are, and which are not partakers of the Lords supper as a certaine dinine gift. Those things being finished they goe out of the Temple, and again gather themselves to evening Praiers, which custome is observed throughout the whole world.

Croffe Fat.

Twelfth day monies on that day in their

Moreover, they falt the foureteenth day of September, in honour of the crosse, which was found on that day, and they celebrate the feast of the croffe, abitaining from white meates, because on that day they kille the croffe of Christ, and they defire to kille it fasting. They fast also the fift of Ianuarie from all white meates, because the fixt day of that moneth Christ was baptifed, according to the Greekil custome. Moreover the Priests that day hallow water, whereof the Laickes drinke, and that they may be pure drinking of that holy water, they fast the day before, that is to fay, the fift of Ianuarie.

They observe no fasting the fourth and fixth day of the weeke: for they eate fiesh on Wednesdaies and Fridaies, and all white meates which come from fl. sh , as Egges, Butter, Milke, Cheefe, &c. from the day of Christs nativitie to the foureteenth day of Ianuarie, that is, from the 50 25. of December to the foureteenth of Ianuarie, they fast not; yet they fast the fift of Ianuarie that they may drinke holy water the fixt day, whereof we spake before. If the natinitie of Christ happen on a Wednefday, or a Friday, the common people eate fielh, and all white meate: but the Monkes onely whitemeates without flesh, in honour of Christs Nativitie. Also on the fixt day of Ianuarie, whereon Christ was baptised, the Laicks eate fielh and all kinde of white meates, as we faid before : but the Monkes cate onely white meates.

Notwithstanding in the eleuenth weeke before Easter, they eate flish on Wednesday and Frie day : thereason whereof is this. In times patt there were certaine Heretickes , which had an excellent good Dogge, who were accustomed to tye Letters about his necke, and fend him to their friends two or three daiesiournie from them, who when they had read the Letters, fent 62 backe others to them by the same Dogge, and this they did divers times; At the length the Dog died and returned not, then those Heretickes for griefe fasted Wednesday and Friday, that they might deride the Orthodox Christians, who fatted those daies in honour of Christ: but when the Christians understood this, they decreed in the eleventh weeke not at all to fast with them, but to eate fielh on Wednesday and Friday. They call this weeke Arebburch.

Moreover, throughout Eafter wecke, that is, from the refurrection of Christ vntill the Sunday following they cate fieth and white meates. The Fathers call it the weeke of renountion. After the same manner, on the day of Penticost they eate flesh, and make merrie, but on the Munday next following that fealt, they abstaine from flesh and all white meates, because the Pricits on that day after Noone gather the people into the Temple, and all the people kneele in the fame place, and the Priests pray, that the holy Ghost would descend upon them, as it did formerly on the Apoliles on the day of Penticolt. And therefore they fast on that Monday, that is the day following, but on Wedneiday and Friday of that weeke, they eate flesh for ioy of the holy Ghoft: but the Monkes eate onely white meates.

10 The Greeky Bilhops have a cultome, that at three fet times they give the Priests spirituall Times for Orgifts, as Christ at three times especially gaue to his Apostles spirituall gifts, and when they had dees. received this favour thrice, then they were perfit; that is to lay, the Apostles received the first gift when he gaue them authoritie and power over all divels, and to heale disales, Line 9.1. hee gaue them the lecond on the day of his refurrection, when he faid to them, lobn 20.22. Reseme the holy Ghoft : whole finnes you remut, they are remated to them, or . The third gift he gaue them in the feath of Penticoft, when he fent his holy fpirit vpon them : which being finished, the Apoftles were perfect. After the fame manner the Grecian Bishops make other Bishops; first the Bithop makes this or that man a Priest, but no confession, onely to facrifice and sanctifie. But after that the Bishop understands that that Priest is a Scholler and learned, then on the day fol-20 lowing hee gives him power to be a Confessor, and if hee bee volearned hee onely Sacrifie ceth. And if hee deserue to bee a Bishop, on the third day two or three Bishops make him a compleate Bishop, and by reason hereof euery Priest hath not power to heare Confessi ons, but hee onely who hath authoritie from the Bishop : the Prietts desire for the most part that the people confesse their sinnes to them in the Temple, sometimes also in other places, either Confessoa. in a private houle, or in the fields, but no man is present besides themselues, whether it be in the Church or out of the Church. The Greekes pray in the Temple standing upright. But they have some high seates in the Rices of praies Temple, such as are in many Colledges, and they may sometimes sit in them, and sometimes &c. in their stand. When the Priests Preach, then the lay people sit in those seates, yet they stand when they Churches. 30 fing. But when they come into the Temple, every one takes his proper place, and then standing with his Hatoff, bendeth downe the three former fingers of his right hand; which being done, he intimates that there are three persons in one deitie. And these fingers thus bended downe he first laies on the forepart of his head stignifying thereby that the holy trainitie is in heaven. Then he remoues them to his belly, fignifying, that the Sonne and the Word of God descended to the earth, and tooke flesh, and was crucified, and buried for our sinnes. Then hee placeth them on his right shoulder, fignifying that Christ is rifen from the dead, and fits at the right hand of the Father, as Danid (aid, Sit at my right band, till I put thine enemies under thy feete. Then hee laies them on his left shoulder, intimating that Christ should not fet vs at his left hand at the last day, but deliuer vs from that, as he hath taught vs, deliner vs from enill: and againe when he faith, Then 40 will bee place the Sheepe at his right hand, and the Goates at his left: and every one in these severall spaces of time, that is from the first period of time, wherein hee puts those three fingers on his head, vntill the laying them on his left shoulder, faith these words; Lard lefau Christ, Sonne, and Word of God, be mercifull to me a sinner; and he bends his body, and so this figure signifies the signe of the Croffe, that is, putting his fingers first on his head, after on his belly, then on his right shoulder, and lattly on his left : these actions make a Crosse, and signifie the Crosse whereon Christ was crucified for our finnes. And thus every one makes this figure three or foure times, and then fits downe on his feate. The Greeker have a custome that the better fort of them receive the Sacrament of the precious body and bloud of Christ, once, twice, thrice, or four times in the yeere, yet confession of their finnes must goe before to some spirituall Priest (they call those spirituall Priests, who have authoninnes mun goe betore to toute partier hee bee which will confesse himselfe to such a kinde of fettion for ritie from the Bishop) And whosoeuer hee bee which will confesse himselfe to such a kinde of fettion Prieft, ought to come to him. And the Prieft asketh him, what he defires? hee aniwereth, faying, I defire to confesse my finnes. Then the Priest goeth with him to the Temple, and there in some private place he begins to teach him, faying : See, the Angell of God stands before thee to receive thy contession. Take heede therefore, that thou concealest no sinne, neither for shame, nor for any other caufe, for I am a finner like thy felfe. Then the Greeke begins to confesse his finnes parci-cularly : which being done, the Prieft faith againe, take heede that you overslip no finne through forgetfulnesse. Then more seriously then before hee lookes into himselfe, and whatfoeuer finnes he can remember hee ingenioully confessen to the Prieft. But if hee can remem-60 ber no more, he tels him, he hath confeit all that hee remembers. Then the Prieftimpoteth him penance, that he fast to many daies, and give so many almes : which being finished, hee bleffeth him in thele words; According to the power which Christ game his Apostles, laying, whatformer you Shall binds on earth, Shall be bound in beauen; and what somer yee shall loose on earth, Shall be loosed in beauen : Againe, according to the power which the Apostles game the Biftoppes, and the Biftoppes gave mee, be bliffed of the Father, of the Sonne, and of the boly Ghoft, and let thy portion be with the milt. Which thort benediction being ended, he makes a longer prayer ouer his head: who arifeth and leaveth some money in the place for the Priest to pray for him afterward. And so hee goes forth and performes whatloeuer the Priest enjoynes him. And when the time comes that he must receive the Lords Supper, he must goe to that Priest or some other, who must pray over his head. he in the meane time kneeling. All the Greekift Temples have a certaine place, diftinct from the rest of the Temple, wherein Priefts, Deacons, and Subdeacons onely enter, and wherein they performe their holies, and when

Their Temples

Priefts, Deacons, and Suppersons ones, contest, and the Prieft will give the holy Sacrament to them that will receive it, hee stands at the doore of that place, and they that defire to receive it come neere the doore, and fland right before it. They come after this manner: when the time drawes neere to receive it, they come before the doore where the Priest celebrates his holies, and bend their knees to the East, and worship God. Then they turne to the Weit, and kneeling, fay to the people, Bleffe vs brethren, wee base finned in word and deede. And the people aniwere, faying, God pardon you brethren: then they turne to the South fide of the Church, and fay the fame words to them as before, and they answere in the fame manner. In like fashion they turne themselues and kneele to the North side of the Church, faying as before, and receiving the fame answere. After this they all come neere to doore of the place where the Priest performes his holies, and the Priest comes forth holding the Sacrament in his hands, and stands in the middle of the doore, and gives to every one the body and bloud of our Lord, the Bread and Wine mingled together, faying, N. N. fernant of God, receiveth in the name of the Father, and of the Sonne, and of the holy Gooft. And 20 in the very particle of time, wherein they receive the Sacrament every one with a lowe voyce faith to himfelte. Lord I will not kiffe thee as Iudas, but as the Theefe I confessebee, remember mee O Lord when thou commest in thy Kingdome . And after these words hee takes the Sacrament. And after that hely receiving, prefently hee receives of the fame Prieft, a small portion of the Bread, called the dinine guift, whereof we spake before, when we mentioned the Greekilb praiers of the whole yeere.

Holy bread.

Fonts and

The Greekes have certaine small Vessells in the Church called Fonts, wherein they baptile Infants in this manner; when the time comes to baptife an Infant, the kindred of the childe heat water with sweet imelling hearbs, and put the water into the foresaid vessell, but whiles the water warmes, the Priest prayes and puts Oyle into the water. After the prayers, the Priest taketh the childe in his armes, and puts the whole Infant thrice quite under the water, faying N.N. the fernant of God is baptifed in the name of the Father, then hee ducks the Infant, and drawes him out and then addes, and of the Sonne, and then againe ducks him, and drawes him out, and lastly addes in the name of the holy Ghoft, and then againe ducks the Infant and pluckes him out, that is three times diving him the water, and pulling him out of the water, as Christ faid to his Disciples, goe forth baptifing in the name of the Father and of the Sonne and of the holy Ghost. All which being finithed, hee reades certaine prayers, as heere in Great Brittaine, and rettores the childe to his

Excommu-

It is a custome among it the Greekes to excommunicate those that are grieuous offenders (be-caute Saint Faul saith, when you are assembled together, and my spirit also deliner that man oner to Satan; and againe reprone him (suerely) for example (ake. A certaine wicked man hath borne falle witnesse, or dealt injuriously with some man, the man wronged, cites this false witnesse before tome Prieft, or Bilhop, and the Bilhop asketh the falle witnesse whether his testimonie bee true or not : the witnesse affirmes his testimonie to be true; then the Bishop or Priest puts on his Pontificall attire ( whether hee be in the Church, or elfewhere) which garments fignifie the feamleffe and purple coat of Christ and other things. And at that time the Bishop or Priest is a tipe of Christ, because of those holy Garments, and the grace which he received of the Bishops. Then he commands the false witnesse to stand before him, and begins that Psalme, wherein it is said, O God bo not filent of my praise, because the mouth of the sinner and decestful was opened against mee, and the test 50 which followes in that Plalme; then hee addes certaine prayers; and after laith . br the authoritie which Christ game his Apostles, viz. What soener you shall loofe in earth shall bee loofed in heaven, and whee focuer you shall binde in earth, shall bee bound also in beanen: And by the authoritie which the Apostles gane to the Bilhops, and the Bishops gane mee, by this authoritie I excommunicate thee; thou shalt not converse with Christians, and shalt be separated from the Father and the Sonne, and the holy Gost; and from the three hundred and eighteene Fathers, Diumes of the Nicene Councell, and from all Saints: and thy portion shall bee with the Dinell, and Indas and thou Shalt bee indiffeluble for ever as flones and Iron for a testimonie, unleffe thou repenteft. These things being done, hee dismiffeth him. And it the falle witnesse doe not afterward repent, but die in l. is opinion; after a yeere (for the Greekes are wont to digge vp the Sepulchres of those, which died in the former yeere, and also the f. pui- 60 chre of that falle witneffe) and they finde him entire, his bodie blacke, his havre yet remayning and his nayles white, and they cast him out of the Sepulchre, and set him bolt veright against a wall and hee stands firmely of himselfe, as a solid piece of timber; and if you strike his belly it will found like a drumme, and therefore he is called Timpamain. See also Confrance in blad .

CHAP. 14.S. 5. Patriarch of Alexandria drinketh poison Inhurt; Iew poisoned by it. 159

rian in his histories calls an excommunicate perion Timpaniaum. If you doubt, you may speake to your Merchants to enquire in Palea-patia, Thefalonica, Alexandria, Conflantinople or any where elle, you may also enquire of the Greeks that are in England, who will certifie you of

About threefcore yeeres fince or somewhat more, the Iewes which inhabited about Cairo, bitterly enuied the Christians; for they faw that the Gouernour was very courteous, and therefore they consulted together to give him a double tribute for the Christians, so that he would destroy christopher Futhem becaule Christ spake fallely, laying, Whosoener bath Faith as a graine of Mustard scede , Shall remenuoneth Cay to this Mountaine, poffe hither or thither, and it finall goe, Math. 17.20. and if they drinke any this Partiarch to deadly thing is liballust burt them, Mar. 16.19. Then the furious Gouernour called the Patriarch, and in polodeadly thing it had use that them, Mar. 10.19. I nen the turious vouernour canes the ratharth, and Cop. pag. and laid, your Religions is falle, because Chini faid whose current leaves the metal through he drink and laid, your Religions is falle, because Chini. And Control of the Control of the was a state of the control and laid, your reaging in that he thim : And prefently commanded the Patriarch, that he should alice 35, yeers drinke posion before him, without making the figne of the crosse, because the lewer had enfor- after ARASES. med him, that the Christians wrought magically by it, for when they make the figne of the being then 103 med him, that the Chriftiani wrought magicany by it, for when they made the figure of the yeer old. That croffe, then the poison loofeth his efficacie, and therefore the Gouernour commanded the Patri- of removing arch, that he should not make the figne of the crosse, when he drunke the position. Then the Path the Mountain triarch calling the people, praied and fasted with them three daies, and the third day tooke the I doubt Green Communion with them, and they went all to the Gouernour. Then the Gouernour being pte- fat to have feat and all the lewes, one of the lewes brought a cup full of strong posson, and gaue it the Patri-beene hither tent and all the lewer, one or the server prought a cup time or trong portion, and gauer time Partiversit bodrinke: Then the Gouernour faid to the Partiarch, holding the copy in his hand, take deded from

20 arch to drinke: Then the Gouernour faid to the Partiarch, holding the copy in his hand, take he deded from 21 bod bod bod bod begins to the copy of the copy of the copy in the name of the fail to the copy in the hand. heede you make not the figne of the croffe on the cup; then the Patriarch bleffing the cup mi- Patriclarch, ffically, asked the Gouernour, faying, where will you that I drinke, on this fide, or on this, or on To a.p.a.70. For this, or on this? and by this meanes he laid his fingers on the foure fides of the fuperficies of the Fure should as this, or on this? and by this meanes ne taid his miggers on the tout most of the toperands of the weihauchead cup, sanctifying the cup miffically. Then the Gouernour fail to the Patriarch, drinke where this as that, this as that, you will, not knowing that the Patriarch had bleffed the cup with the figne of the croffe: after hauing letters this the Patriarch dranke off the whole cup. And after hee had drunke, he bad them bring him of commendafome water, and they brought some : then he put a littlewater into the cup, and washed it. Then tion from hims he faid to the Gouernour, I have drunke all the poison, let a lew drinke onely this water that is in but he menithe laid to the Governour, a nave or once an one portion, see a tem or once overly this water that is in one into Ad-the cup, that we may see his faith; then the Patriarch offered the cup to the lem that first brought dirion & mul-30 thim, that he might drinke it: but the Iss would not. Then the Gouernour thezared him, tiplication is mailting a little the users feed to be Policion and Coulomb the Assessment of the Coulomb the faying, drinke, that we may fee also thy Religion. And so the Ism dranke the water in the cup, no new thing and presently burft in funder. Then the lewer gaue great quantitie of monie to the Gouernour, with Miraclefaying that the Patriarch had wrought witchcraft; but Christ faith wholoeuer hath faith as a mongers, graine of multard feede, shall fay to this Mountaine, remoue thither, and it shall remoue. Now let the Patriarch call that Mountaine which is ouer against vs, and if it come to vs, then let the Christians flay vs. Then againe the Prince said to the Patriarch, that hee should call the Mountaine, or otherwise the Christians must die. Then the Patriarch besought the Gouernour to grant him three daies, that the Greekes might take counsell together: but the Patriarch and people praied with teares daie and night, and on the third day, according to their custome they receito de the Lords Supper; and after they haldone, they all affembled together both Greeker, Turker, and the strength of the partiarch first and fears, and came to the appointed place, and then the Patriarch first hing out his hand to-let them cause that the water which runs beneath Carro, may come into Cairo, that all men in the 50 Citie may drinke of it at the lewer coit, which to this day is done. The Greeker also have Monkes, but onely of the order of Basil the great. But this order is di- Greek BMonks uided into three orders, the first is called Monasticall, the second is Anachoreticall (which line apart) the third Afceticall, or if you will Exerciticall.

The first Order which is called Monasticallis in this manner: there are Monasteries amongst the Greekes, both great and little; some of them have fiftie Monkes, others a hundred, fome one Order Mohundred and fittie, some two hundred, others three hundred, others foure hundred, and others nashcall. more. But the Monkes of this first Order line a common life; for they all dine and sup together with their Governor at the same table : And neither the Governors meate nor drinke differs from 60 the rest of the Monks, whether they be illiterate or wife. And when source the Governor cates or Their life in wards the Mountaine, faid, In the name of the Father, and of the Sonne, and of the bol; Ghoft, Mountaine, come hither; and iodainely it cloue in peeces, and came to them. But all feared least it should couer them. Then the Gouernour faid to the Patriarch, command that the Mountaine stand still.

then againe firetching out his hands, the Patriarch bleffed the Mountaine, faying, fland Moun-taine, and the Mountaine flood there: and from that time the Mountaine was called Stand-

Mountaine voto this day : but in Turkish it is called Dourdag, that is, Stand-Mountaine. Then the Gouernour faid to the Patriarch, that the Gracians thould kill the lewes: but the Patriarch anfwered the Governour, wee Christians are not accustomed to kill men; but for their punishment

drinkes, they all eate the same bread and the same meate, and drinke the same drinke. But for common, decencie, the Governour, Seniors, and Prieft, differ in their garments. Most of the Monkes of this first Order labour with their hands : but the Priests and Deacons labour not, but attend to reading and ecclefiatheali functions: but the rest line by the labour of their hands, some make the Monkes shoces, some spin Sheepes wooll, and Goates haire, some are Brasiers, and make Hatchete Hand lavours. of Braffe, others betakethemielues to keepe flockes of Sheepe, and hire mercenarie Shepheards to ferue them : and are conversant with them a yeere, and when a yeere is past, they goe to the Monasterie and tarrie there, others goe to keepe Horses, and remaine out a yeere, and then o. there are ient out by the Ancients of the Monasteries, and according to this manner the ancients fend out Monkes yeerely to keepe Horfes, Oxen, Bees, Sheepe, and other buineffes, and after a yeere they returne to the Monasterie, and in this manner line the Monkes in the Monasteries: many Priests also are lent by the ancients into Walachia, Mosconia, and Iberia, that what sour the Kings give them, they may carrie to the Monasterie, and they abide in the Monasterie, and others are tent forth, and thus live the Monkes of the first Order in their Monasteries,

Their habit.

They weare a hat on their head, which hides their eares, fignifying that they heare nothing, neither learne mensvices, but are accounted as deafe men : as Paul faith, bee children in malicionfnesse. They were also another Hat vpon that which represents the figure of a Sepulcher, and hides the head, and hangs downe almost to the girdle, intimating that hee which weares this figure is dead from worldly things, neither ought hee which is cloathed in this habit to be carefull about worldly affaires, that is, about honours, riches, kindred, friends, fauour with men, nor cherifting the body, but account himfelfe to be dead, not as if hee were really dead, but with a kinde of preoccupated opinion of death, as the Lord faith; Whofeener will come after mee, let him deny bimselfe, and take up his crosse and follow mee : And David, Wee are killed all the day long for

Monkes Ere-

The second Order of Monkes is called Anachoreticall, or Heremeticall, that is, when there is any rich man, that cannot live in the Monasterie, then hee gives as much monie to the Monasterie as will buy a house, and the Monks living in the Monasterie give him some great house, which is diflant two or three miles from the Monasterie, wherein hee lives with two or three poore Monks, as the Monasticall do in Monasteries: but that house hath a Church, Vine-yard, Olive-yard, Nuts, Cherries, Almonds, and other things necessarie to live on abundantly. And this is the second Order of Monkes of Bafil the great. The third Order of Monkes is called Afceticall, or Exerciticall, that is, the Order given to Monkes Afceticall, or vacant exercise, for these are exceedingly exercised in vertue: these line a strict and rigid life, they are content onely with little houses or Caues, and have neither Vineyards nor Fields; yet some of them have great Vines, but make no Wine of them, but noursh them to eate the Graves: they have also Figge trees, and such like things, wherewith they live, namely Beanes, Cherries, Apples, Chesnuts boild on therfire with water. They gather also in the Spring time Apples, Parfeley, Figges, Cherries, and cut them in peeces, and dry them in the Sunne : and their thus prepared they eate with bread the rest of the yeere, once in a day, and twice on Feast daies: fome eate once onely on Feast daies: these get their living by their sweate and labour: For the Greekil Church doth not fuffer Monkes or Hermites to begge; because they remember that Paul faith, Hee which will not worke, let him not eate. But sometimes some rich Grecians fend almes to the Monasteries, and to the Hermites, and these exercised men receive them : but the course of their life is such; some make upper Garments of Goates and Sneepes wooll, which the Monks 4 weare vpon their Garments: fome make Hats of straw, fome make wodden Spoones, and fome of them write Bookes; and all thefe hand-wrought things they give to the Monkes dwelling in Monatteries, and they supply the Hermits with all necessaries; and this is the third Order of Hermit Monkes. I write these things, because I am an eye-witnesse, and speake certainely, truely, and boldly. This is the third Order of the Monkes of Basil the great.

Monkes fafts.

ging Friers.

The fasting of the first and second Order, that is of the Monasticall, and of those who are Gouernours of two or three Monkes is on this manner: They fast through the whole yeere, euerie weeke thrice, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday: they fast on Monday, because on Saturday and Sunday they eate twice in a day, and they eate Fish, and Butter, and Egges, and Milke, and Cheefe, and Oyle, and Wine : but that their concupilcence may not be encreased, they fait on Monday : on Tuesday and Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, they eate twice those things which I mentioned before. The fall of the three daies is in this manner: the fecond houre after noone they pray in the Temple, and going out they goe to the Table, and eate Beanes with broth, without Oyle and Butter, and some Hearbes with Vinegar, or Peafe, or other pulse boiled without Oyle of Butter, & .. at evening they goe to the Temple, and after praiers going out, they fit neere the Temple, and the Butler is wont to goe round about carrying a Cup full of fragments of Bread, and glues to every one of the Monkesa peece of Bread, and a cop of water: the yonger fort take them , but the elders receive nothing; but after they have fit a while, they goe againe into the Temple, and pray, and sometimes the space of an houre, sometimes halfe an 62 houre; and when they goe forth, the Gouernour flands in the Church Porch, euerie Monke when hee goeth out at the doore proftrates him felie before him, faying, bleffe Lord; but the Gotiernour antwers, faying, God grant thee this my Sonne, and to againe they returne to their houfes, and it is not lawfull for any, any longer to speake together, and so they begin to pray in their houses, and performe their private deuotions, and kneeling before God, every one to aske pardon for himselfe, and for others a whole houre, and then they goe to sleepe till the clocke founds midnight, and then they all rife, and goe all to praiers, vntill morning, and then going out of the Temple, they goe about their private arts, and worke almost till dinner; and then they goe to the Temple before dinner, and when they are come from thence, they goe to denner as the day before, and when they rife from dinner the Gouernour flands in the doore of the dining roome, and euerie Monke going forth proftrates himfelfe before the Gouernour, faying, bleffe Lord, and the Gouernour answereth, laying, God parden thee my sonne. But in the time of their great Lent, they bow themselves before the Gouernour, both in dinner Io time, and after tupper in the Temple answering in the same manner; and thus doe they throughout the whole yeere. Moreouer, if any of the Monkes chance to fleepe, and not rifing at the beginning when they beginne to pray but the first houre of praier, which is called midnight; is palt, and hee rifeth after midnight; hee on that day dineth not with the other Monkes, but whiles the reft are eating, hee stands at the entrance to the Table before them all, and bowes himselfe before all that are eating , saying, Haue mercy on mee O God, according to thy great metcie, &c. vntill all of them rile from dinner; and when they rife, all would goe forth together, but heefals on the ground and faith, O holy Fathers, bleffe mee an idle per son, because I have sinned;

CHAP. 14.S. 5 Life of Greek-Monks, penance, fasts, night-prayers, probation.

20 this willingly, that all may have a good example to rife always at the time of the

it Prayer. The third order of Monkes is called the exercifed Order, these exercised eate all the yeere once Their Lenia in a day, except on folemne daies, and feast daies, and often then also they eate but once; if they falls. dine they sup not; as we declared before of the fasting of the first and second order of Monkes. The Monkes also have foure Lents in the yeere as the Laickes. The first Lent is called the and every one of his brethren faith, God pardon thee brother: and when all are gone out, then hee eates : and they doe after this manner both the elder and yonger Monkes : they doe great and holy Lent, as is faid before, because it is the tithing of their soules for the yeere, because in the eighth weeke the Laickes pardon their enemies, and confesse and prepare themselves, that when the holy Lent comes they may be pure in heart, and supplicate God for their finnes. After the same manner also the Monkes vntill the seuenth weeke before Easter, forgiue one another 30 their trespasses, and prepare themselves that they also may be pure in heart : they beginne to fast from Munday, that is the feuenth weeke before Easter : they fast Munday and Tuelday : but one . Wednesday they eate : but on the two former daies they eate nothing. But some on Tuesday about the Eueneate a morfell of bread with water; and after Wednesday they begin daily to eate once vittill Saturday. On Saturday and Sunday, on these two daies vittill Easter they eate Oile, and drinke Wine; but on the fine other daies of the weeke they eate once, and eat dried Apples, and fuch like things (whereof we faid the exercised cate) they cate, and the Monkes in the great Lent. But lome of the Monkes of the two Orders , and of the Exercifers and Heremits, in the great Lent often in three daies eate once. But in the great Euen wherein Christ was crucified, all the Monkes fast all the daies, and neither dine nor sup, but only eate a little bread on Satur- Good Friday, day, and drinke Wine moderately, that they may abide in the Church , for they watch all night tinging for toy of the Refurrection of Christ, The Greekel Monkes have an order to rife to pray every night an houre and an halfe after midnight : but on Sundaies one houre after throughout the whole yeere. They watch from the Euening till Morning on Dominicall Feasts, and on the Feasts of great Saints, that is; in the night of the Returrection of Christ, and of the Ascention : Pentecolt and John the Baptist, and the foure and twentieth of the month of Iune, on the Fealt of Peter and Paul; on the fixt day of August : because on that day they celebrate a great Feast for the Transfiguration of Christ on Mount Thaber: And it is called to this day, the day of the transfiguration of Christ. Moreoouer, rich and poore celebrate a great Feaft, and watch all the night the fifteenth day of August: because on that day Mary a Mother and a Virgin was translated from Earth to Heaven : and so

50 on other Feast daies as on Christs Natiuitie. The Greeten Monkes have a custome, that when a Laicke will be made a Monke, he first goeth Monkes how to the Monasterie; and there the Governour asketh him what he would have; to whom hee anfweres that he would be made a Monke. The Gouernour replies : it is necessary that you remaine three yeeres in the Monasterie, in which time you may prove and examine your felfe. After the three Three veetes veeres finished, if he like not to be a Monke, he may goe away and marrie a wife; but if hee like, probation then the Gouernour taketh him, and leading him to the Temple thus speaketh to him: Beheld, the Angell of the Lord expecteth that he may receive the confession: take beed therefore that thou desi-rest not to be a Monke because of any affiction (that is lest thou shoulds have killed any, and therefore for 60 feare of death commest buther ; or hast griened thy parents, or hast defired to have carnall pleasures with Some and couldst not, and for easing thy greefecomes to be made a Monke, and not for love to God &c.) Then he which is to be a Monke aniwereth, not fo honorable father, but I defire to luce a quiet and peacable life, and to abstaine from worldly troubles and turnules, to fast watch, and in peace to pray cuto God. Then the Gouernour replies againe : therefore doest thou de fre to renounce the world, and worldly pleasures for the lone of God? hee that is to be a Monke answereth, yea truly bonourable Father, Godwilling: Will you for fake Father and Mother, Brethren, Marriage, the toyet and delights of this world? (as Christ faith, Whoseener leaueth Father and Mother, &c. for the lone of Christ) he answeres, yea truly, bonomrable Father, God willing, and after this manner answeres to euerie Interrogatorie. Then the Gouernour after Praiers attires him in a Monkish Habitjand with a paire of Ciffers cuts from his head a few haires, and fastens them mingled with Bees Waxe in some corner neere the Sacring place, fignifying that hee is confecrated to God, nor henceforth hath power ouer his owne bodie, to marrie a wife : because Christ falth, No man putting bis band to the plough, and looking backs is fit for the Kingdome of God.

Forgiuing one

The Greekes obey the divine Law verie itricaly : when as the Lord faith Forgine and it fhall bee 10 forginen you, they forgine their enemies their offences : every one faith particularly their words, I beartily forgine mine enemies that God may forgine me. Also they obey the lawes of the holy Apo-Ales for example, where Paul faith, Let enery foule bee Subject to the higher powers; for there no power but of God. They obey diligently also the precepts of the Fathers which are according to the Lawes of God.

Eafter why different from the Latines.

See of this

Sandys sup-1.6.p.

See Fulcherius sup.l.8.c.2.p. 1206.

The weapons of our warfare are not carnall but spirituall. 2.607.10.4. Chaift crucified apprehencrucifying our mortifying our All the spirituall worthip of God would be turned to and almost all the differing

Parriatke of Conftantineple. His G ergie.

His mainte-

Moreouer, the Greekes celebrate the Feast of Easter according to the ancient custome for these reasonsh; first, that they may neither keepe it before the lewes, nor with the lewes, as it sometimes happens that this new Pallcouer is observed by the Latines, before the lewes, and somtimes with the lewer. Secondly, because the holy Nicene Councell that first and vinuerfall one faith, if any celebrate Eafter before the lewes, or with the lewes let him bee accurfed. Thirdly, because neere the River Nile, and the Citie Caire, is a great wonder the earth casting forth dead carkasses (that Countrie begins to cast them forth on the great day of Thursday before the Feast in which day Christ made his mysticall Supper) but it casts forth dead bodies daily till the day of Ascension, that is, the day on which Christ ascended into Heauen, vie. till the fortieth day after Easter, and after that day it ceafeth to caft forth any. This wonder both Gracian and Turkilb Merchants mention, as many as come from those places into Greece : as also others testifie, who goe to Isrusalem to worship Christs Sepulchre, and after they goe to that place, where the bodies are cast out of the Earth, to fee the Mitacle : but his Miracle is according to the number of the old Feaft. The Greeks did decree twentie yeers since to celebrate the feast according to the new number, but the bodies were neither cast forth according to that time; neither did the holy light shine, as it was wont yearely to shine in the holy Sepulchte of Christ about the ancient time of Easter; then the Greekes staied til the ancient time of Easter, about which time the holy light shined in Christs, Sepulchre, as it was wont yeerely, and the earth neere Nile cast forth dead bodies: and then the Greekes kept the Feast, saying : behold, God sheweth vs the true time of Easter, and wee care not for humane wisdome.

The Greekes fay, that the Croffe is Christs Scepter, and his two edged Sword; and as a Souldier fights with his Sword, and ouercomes his enemies, fo Christ also because hee was crucified, ouercame the Deuill, he could without the Crosse have faued man, and vanquished the Deuill; but he would not, because it seemed good to him to doe so : but as when a great King goeth to warre, he lends his Scepter before him, and armeth his Souldiers with strong weapons, that they 46 may fight with their enemies, and that the people may know the King comes: whence it comes to paffe, that the glorie of the King is spread all abroad, before he comes to that place, whither he fent his Scepter before him ; after the same manner alto our Lord Iesus Christ doth, he defends vs Christians, armed with his Crosse, which Crosse ignifies the Passion of Christ, and wheresoever the Croffe appeares, having this Title written on it, Iefus Christ overcomes, Christ is preached and prayled: but not every Croffe, or thing like a Croffe is called the Croffe of Christ, but that which is inscribed with this Title, lefus Christ onercomes; that is called the Crosse of Christ, whether it be of filuer or of metall, or of wood, these Letters consecrate that Crosse to Christ: for that Crosse signifies that Christ was crucified for our sinnes, and ouercame our enemies: therefore Danid faith, Lord, in thy light we fhall fee light: the light of the Father is the Sonne, the 50 light of the Sonne is the Croffe, &c.

The Patriarke of Constantinople hath now under him seuentie and soure Metropolitans; but there are more then thirtie of thefe, that have not Bishops under them, of those which have, this hath one, this two, this three, &c. all the Bishops are seventie two or seventie and three. But all the Bishops and Metropolitans are almost a hundred and fiftie. The Patriarke of Constantinople hath his proper Seate only at Constantinople. Hee hath for his maintenance from that Citica piece of Gold at every Marriage. And he hath twelve pence of every house once in three yeeres throughout his whole Prouince; 182, of every Province of the Metropolitanes that have their Seates subject to him : he hath alto a certaine small gift of the Deacons and Priest when he gives them their Orders. Also cuery Priest in that Civile yeerely gives him a piece of Gold, When rich 60 Christians die, they leave to the Patriarkes of that Church; houses, fields, sheepe, wealth, &c. And every Metropolitane and Archbishop when they are consecrated by the Patriarke give him some small gratuitie. And euerie Metropolitane yeerely giues the Patriarke, this man twentie pound, that thirtie, another fine and twentie pounds for the Kings Tribute. Of which wealth

CHAP. 15. Maintenance of the Greeke Clergie. Elias Patriarke of Babylon.

the Patriarke gives annually 6080. pieces of Gold in name of all the chiefe Priests : that the Tay. Tribure. hif King may let the Patriarke remaine in Conflantinople, and the Greekib Metropolitanes, Archbishops and Bishops in his whole Kingdome; and observe the Christian Religion. The Pa-Arenomope and Annie Anni Ministers eate of the Patriarkes bread. Hee hath two Chaplaines, two Deacons, a Sreward, Chappell Clearke, two Singers, a Porter, a Horfe-keeper, and a Keeper of his great Seale, and and another of his Prinie Seale.

In like manner euery Metropolitane and Archbishop hath a proper Citie: these also receive a Other Bishops; fmall reward for the election of Bilhops. Allo they receive yearely of every Bilhop, twentie, to fifteene, or ten pounds. Moreouer, of the Deacons and Priefts a small gratuitie for their imposition of hands. Moreouer, enery Priest yeerely gives to the Metropolitane or Archbishop a piece of Gold: they take allo at enerie Wedding a piece of Gold; and Almes for burying the dead, as is faid of the Patriarke. Moreouer, yeerely of euerie Family in the Citie a bulhell of Corne, and Wine, and Oile, and Silke, and of these things the Metropolitans line.

After the fame manner the Bishops take a small reward of the Deacons and Priests for Imposition of hands: they alto receive yeerely of cuerie Priest a piece of Gold, and as much for eurie Marriage, allo as much of euerie Family yeerly in his Prouince, besides a bushell of Corne, rine, One, and Suse.

The Priet's live of the superfluite of the Church, that is cofay, some Churches have fields, priests livings. Wine, Oile, and Silke. 20 vineyards, houses and fuch like: but if the Church hath not plentic of those, eueric householder gives the Prieft yeerely a bushell of Corne (a Bushell rignifies here the third part of a horse load.) Moreouer the Greeter have yeerely fixe and thirtie fealt dairs, twelve of them are called Dominicall, that is, pertaining to Christ and the blessed Virgin, the other foure and twentie are of Saint lobs the Baptift, of the holy Apoffles and famous Martyrs : on all these Feaft daies the Priest must administer the Communion : and euerie Family gives to the Priest two pence, hee prayes particularly for cuerie donor, before he begins to facre. Moreover, on these Feast daies, the Greekes entertaine many strangers; and sometimes make five or fixe Feasts in a Village, and the Priest must be prefent at euerie Fast, and bleffe the viands, and they give the Priest bread, fiesh, wine, monie and other things which will be furnient for his Family the whole weeke, and thus Moreover, if any living in the Cities or Provinces of the Oreckes will be made Deacons, they Deacons 30 doe the Priefts live. mult first marrie : and then the Bilhops make them Deacons. But if they will not marrie, they must first be made Monkes, and then the Bishops with their Suffrages make them Monkish Deacons, and they may not after marrie, because the Bishops haue separated them.

Alfo, the Monkes sleepe al waies with their Coats girt about them: 10 also the Laicks sleepe with their wines with their clothes on: because Pant laith; I would have those that have wines to be as if they had none, and those that have none, as if they had.

CHAP. XV.

Collections out of PETER STROZA, Secretary to Pope PAVL the Fifth, his Treatife of the Opinions of the Chaldwans, touching the Patriarke of Babylon , and the Nestorrians in Alia.

T happened that amongst those poore men, whose feet were on Maundie Thursday, according to the wonted Solemnitie, walked by Pope Pant the Fifth, in the first yeere of his Papacie, there were two Chaldens, one a Monke, the other a day, according to the wontex of the water two Chaldesni, one a Monke, the water fifth yeere of his Papacie, there were two Chaldesni, one a Monke, the water fifth yeere of his Papacie, the water had been from the Pope, and gaue him ried fome prefents to Elsa the Patriarke of Babsim from the Pope, and gaue him a Booke of the profelion of faith, propounded to the men of the East which a Booke of the profelion of faith, propounded to the men of the East which a Booke of the profelion of faith proposed to the men of the faith Rattack Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and the laid Patriarke Elsa and by their extelling the Popes gentle vige, the laid Patriarke Elsa and the laid Patriark came to Rome; whereby, and by their extolling the Popes gentle visge, the laid Patriarke Elias fent Legates to the Pope to give him thankes and to acknowledge him for their common Father and Lord, with acknowledgement of his lubication & protession of the same faith, indecouring to make it appear that the difference betwixt Rome & them was only in words & not in fenfe. Thele Legates fell amongst Theeues; and others were tent, which with much difficultie came to Rome, 60 where hearing how odious the name of Nestorius was, to decline the suspicion of Nestorius Herefie, they tooke tome pages out of the Bookes of their profession and rites, being perswaded thereto by a lew lately converted. They returning in this manner, and little being done, Eliza confulteth with his Bishops, and sends e Adam the Archdeacon of the Patriarchall Chamber, Abbos of the Chaldan Monkes, to render account of their faith, and humbly to defire correction, if ought therein were erronious. Hee brought a Letter and profession the third yeere after the departure of the former. The Letter is this.

From the Patriarchall Chamber, Prayers and Bleffings beginnen to you.

The Letter of Effer Patriarch of Baladan to M.1610.

See what the fence can doe

with a poore

Remove from me vanity and ties-leaft I be poore and steale,

name of my God and take the *Yea what they, and this makes him tell ener dreamed.

of Romes great-nes in the Eaft,

as others have

* This is the Easterne fashi-

the Letters &

on their heads

Mandates of their Princes too, which more then

Rome it felfe

Patriarch.

Popes pre-

T. Rom humble Elias of the East, who by the grace of God ferueth the holy See of Babylon , continual Church of Paul & Peter. Who vegeth us to do this but the Christian faith, and your love to our lowline feet in our Annalls that our Archbishop, which was in Cyptus, and those of our profession which inhabite all mine, and all the Easterne part? Wee are listing before your Holinesse, but as obedient serneftly defire health to your Holmesse and sice to your praiers and the praiers of your fellow servants Peter

Tadorations, and perpetual inclinations & enerlasting kneelings before your holy feet: O bleffed Father. and head of Fathers, Sunne of Christianitie, and Name on which is situated the adisce of the Church of Churches ; my Lord, and my Father the Pope, Lord (and) Father of all the Patria ches which are in the Universe. Your Charitietowards us may be pleased to take notice, that your Letters have come to us, and your firme Faith, and the bleffing which you fent my lowlineffe; and I received a bleffing together with my 10 people, and have given thankes to Christ, for that I am made worthy of the bleffings of your Holineffe, and of your illustrious memorie, and you have numbred me among the sounces of your Father-bood belides my merits. I presently sent a thankigining and letters, and my Faith. But wicked men met my Legates, and tooke all things from them, and they returned to me emptie : againe I fent others, which came not to your Holineffe, which greened mee with my Bulhops and Archbifhops , and I faid , What finall I doe? I cannot goe, because the Princes our Oppressors permit mee not; neither can I goe to Icrusalem : they hold us as Slaves, and permit us not to doe our will. At last I fent thy Faith and letters of thy puritie, with my faith. full Sonne and Counsellour Father Adam, to show them in all our Regions, that we might fee what was fitting to bee done of us Orientalls, and he remained in these Regions a whole yeere: and wee all consulted together, and have fent to your Holinesse the same Father Adam; and I have sent with him my Faith and letters, and faid that bee bould treat with your Holineffe of thefe things further then is written , because hee is the Head of Fathers and Abbat of the Orientall Monkes, and wee have none of more note, as all the East confession. And now, O Father, with bowed bead wee adore before thy Seat without fraud and guile, & thy Pracept is received of me according to his Precept, which delivered thee the Keyes. Nor will I deny that voyce poken to Peter, I have given thee the keyes, and what thou shall bind on Earth shall be bound in Heanen , and what thou halt lofe on Earth hall be lofed in Heanen. And I will not refist as die others, Heretickes against the precept of the holy Apostles , and orthodoxe Fathers, which affirmed that the See of Great Rome Should hold the principalitie, and he is the Head of all Sees : farre be it from me, but I confesse that the Roman Church is the Mother of Churches , and he which doth not confesse it, let bim be Attachema. And our Babylonian See is not elected of it felfe, as of other Heretikes, which 30 have multiplied Patriarches in the world without Law, but by the Precept of the Pope, and counfell of the Roman Church, was the See of B by lon chosen, and so it is found written amongst us in the Chronicles. namely that the Orientall Fathers were ordained at Rome. But afterwards it came to passe, that when they fent men for Confirmation they were flaine in their iourney, and when they did fo a long time, all perifhed. This being told to the Church and Pope, the Pope decreed in a Councell and faid, Les us ordaine them a Patriarch, and let us permit them to chuse their Patriarches, that they die not in the way for Confirmation, nor any entils happen to them, and fo we should sinne, and they remaine without the Roman fold. And thus wee have received power till this time, and we have done nothing of our selnes, as the rest, which bane traden under fact the Canons of the Apostles, and Lawes of the Fathers, and have filled the Earth with Patriarches without " nead. For this canfe the See of Babylon was called the Fifth, for the 40 need, and very foure Sees of the foure Euangelifts; and because the Patriarch was elected with the Roman Confirmaneedy onesare tion, and he hath ginen us power to make Paffors, then was the See of Babylon called, which doth accompany the foure Sees, and is numbred the fifth, as one of them. For, O Father, behold my Fatth bath come to your Holinesse with letters, and you may see if there be fraud in our profession, or error, or receiling from our Mother the Roman Church. Admonib, and we will doe, teach, and we will obey. And if in all things we be true before your See, and there be no fraud in our faith, we defire of your benignitie, that you forget not the powerty of your fernants, because many of our profession have undergone dangers when they have come to you. For some have dyed, others were flaine by enemies, and few have returned. And let this suffice your Holine [s from our lowline fe, that from the furtheft parts of the Eaft, we beare * your Precepts on our heads and eyes, and we come against all Nations with our bloud, and sustaine calamities that we 50 may adore before your Excellency, and we lowly and subject may receive blessing from the Great Mother And let this suffice that we have showed to your Wisdome. But this whole labour we suffaine for the Roman Church ; and your Ministers at Icrusalem hold all that are of my profe flom, at forrainers and rebells from the Church of Rome, and doe not gratifie us as before, because their Interpreters are of professions which bate ve , and those your Ministers enquire not the truth. Wee defire your Holinesse to admonish them , and to bold those of our profession , as of yours , and to bee gentle to them. I have fent Letters to your Teachers, to command those of our profession in Ierusalem, became it was written letufalem, and the Clergie in the Monastery of Saint lames in Nifibis, are numbred amongst the 60 fonnes of the Church of Rome for your Fatherhoods love to our lowline fe. And now who am I, and nants, are subject to your Lordship, and with a mind farre from schiffne kiffe your holy feet, and earand Paul, that wee may be made wo thy of the remission of stance in the terrible subjement Day of God the Word, to whom, and bis Either and the Holy Ghott, bee honour and glove for e-

His profesion of the Faith followeth, part whereof wee have translated: Wee beleene in Br Amen. God the Father, who is the Maker of Heanen and Earth, and all things therein visible and inwithite. And in the Sonne which is of him, and which is equal with him in Effence, and is not life then his Father and Maker of all things. And the Spirit of Santture, which proceedeth from she Father, and is not b getter nor begotten, and bee is a glorious Julftance, and equall in fistfince with the Father and the Sonne. The Father is Begetter, and not begotten; and the Sonne is 10 begotten , not begetter , and the Spirit of Sanititie proceeding , not begetter nor begotten, &c. God the Word deteended into the Virgin and was joined with Man, which was compall in her in the power of the Spirit of Sanctitie, and was made one with man, as the comunition of fire with Iron. And wee beleene that hee receined a body and foule, and understanding, oc. And though they fay against vs , that wee confesse not that the Vingin is the Mother of God but the Mother of Christ, that "Nidolin himis , the Mother of Christ God oner all : yet this is nothing, for this is fet for the confirmuts- felicin an Epion and reprobation of the false opinion of Apollinaris , which faud that the Deitie was without Hu feto Pape mantie, and to the confusion of the wickednesse of Semythus, which faid, That Christ un meere manitie, and to the conjugate without Districts, &c. Wee in the denomination of Christ comprehend the bled direction the two Natures, of the Desicof the Humanitie, and confesse not a simplicitie in Christ as they tra- cm:

20 duce vs, &c. In another Epiftle written by the faid Elias to the Pope, hee confesseth that the differences Go nail quest acknowledged are brought to these heads. First, The Lord Pope, with all the Fathers of the Great Church of Rome, call the Virgin Saint Mary the Mother of God : but wee of the Edit call The defic ces het the Mother of Christ. Secondly, They contesse two Natures of Christ, two Powers, and two between the Wills : but wee confeste one Power and one Well. Thirdly, They confeste one Person in Christ, and then Is, collect wee confede two Perfons. Fourthly, And they fay that the Spirit proceedeth of the Father and the Nothernance Sonne, and wee contelle that the Spirit proceedeth of the Father, Fifthly, Alio the Fathers of Rome fay, that that which comes out of our Lords Sepulcher * is not true light, and wee with all ours . See Fallier receive it as true light. Hee faith, hee confulted with Adam aforefaid, and with Gabriel the risid 7.4.2.

30 ancientest Archinshop and chiefe Grammarian in his lunidiction : which Gabriel answered, That they had received of their Ancestors that there is no division twist vs and the Church of Rome. but in Ceremonies, and they in all their Regions observe their owne Ceremonies: and as farre, faith bee, as I can understand, there is none other dissifion but that one understandeth not the other. Fut touching thy request, behold Father Adam is before thee, which bath beene proued in the defert from his youth. And I faid to our Father Adam, What fagest thou of thefe things ? Hee arfivered, give me three dayes space, and the third day, I will answere as much as my infimitie is able, and as much as may suffice, and the third day hee brought his writing; and it pleased mee and all mine. And I gave bim Letters with my Faith and Thy Epifles and Faith, and fent bim to the Countries and our Flocke, writing that if they had any thing to answere, bee should bring it. A yeare after hee returned 40 with Letters, that all of our profession submitted themselves. And now I have sent birn, oc.

The Treatile of the faid Adm in feuen Chapiters, is published by the faid Stroza the Popes Secretary, in which kee laboureth to reconcile the Roman and Orientall Churches in the differences aforefaid; which by the faid Stroza is learnedly discussed, and the truth enucleated and cleared from Neitorian shuffling, which the learned Reader may peruse in Stroza himfelfe; the volearned could hardly doe it, though wee had troubled our felies to trouble him with the Translation. The effect was, Adam was reclaimed in those points aforelaid to the Orthodoxe Faith, and fent with the Popes Breue ( published also in the Booke aforefaid) dated on the fine and twentieth of March, 1614. And Adam wrote another Treatile in meintenance of his corrected faith learned at Rome, by him dated, Ann. 1974. Regis Gracorum, Roma. Diebus beatissimi Patris & Petri nostri temporis, Domini Papa Pauli Quinti, cuisu oratio nobiscum

50 fit; all published together by the faid Stroza. Godignius and Myraus lay, that John Antonie Maarierius, and Peter Metoscita two Iefuites, were fent backe with this Adam by the Pope, to make a more full reducing of the

Снар,

CHAP. XVI.

A briefe survey of the Ecclesiasticall Politic Ancient and Moderne, or of the fenerall Patriarchs, Archbishops and Bishops Sees thorow the ChristianWorld: also of the lesuites Colledges and numbers, and of other Monasticall Orders.

Vbertus Myraus hath written a Treatife, called Notitia Episcopatuum Orbis Christi. ani ; and another of Ecclesiasticall Politie , or the State of Christian Religion in to Europe, Afia, Africa, and the New World divided into foure Bookes; and as many more of Monasticall originals; out of whom principally, and out of some others I thought he to collect fuch things as might ferue for our present Historicall purpole; for the Readers knowledge as well of the extension of Christian Religion in these times, as the opinions and differing rices before deliuered. Our Author begins with Italy, as being himfelt more then enough Italionated. The Princes now potent in Italy, are the Pope, the Spaniard (which is King of Naples, Sicil and Sardinia, and Duke of Millaine ) the Prince of Piemont (which now is the Duke of Sauoy) the Great Duke of Tuscaine, the Dukes of Mantus, Mutina & Parms; the Republikes or free States of Venice, Genus, and Luca. Rome is the Seat of our Authors Religion, and by him honoured with that blafphemous title of 21 Vrbs Lierna ( as for Terrarum domina, orbium Regina, Orbis compendium, they are given too, but too compendious ) and was indeed of principall respect in the Church of Chrift, euer fince the Apostolicall preaching of the Gospell, and the Apostle of the Gentiles testified that their faith was then renowmed thorow the whole world; which was fo fattened with the bloud of their Primitiue Bishops and Martyrs, that no where was a more fertill haruest then there, during the Raigne of the Ethnike Emperours. Constantine subjecting his Imperiall Scepter to the Croffe, her Bishops also receiued greater splendor of power and pompe, and being the Imperiall Citie, was therefore reputed the first See or Seat of the Patriarches, which then were three, the Roman, Alexandrian, and Antiochian: which divided the Ecclefiastical Iurisdiction of the Roman World (10 . they called their Empire) betwixt the : the Constantinopolitan being after both added touthe num- 30 ber, & preferred aboue the Alexandrian and Antiochian; and equalled also with the Roman, sauing his meere primacie of Order (for the same cause that now it was also become New Rome, and the Imperiall Citie) by decree of the Councell of Conftantinople, A.381. and more plainely expressed by the Chalcedon Councell, A.451. As for reasons drawne from Scripture, I have prayed for thee , I will give thee the Keyes, feed my

Sheepe, &c. now adayes alledged as proper causes of Papall preeminence, the ancient Councells knew them not, but alledged meere civill respects of the Imperiall residence and power : which yet fo puffed up the Imperious spirits of their fuccessors, that in Gregories dayes the Constantino-politan would needs be itiled Vniuerfall Bishop, which Gregory then withstood as Antichristian;

then the Roman Empire extended, nor was euer acknowledged in the remoter parts of the world, till in thefe laft times pouertie hath made some of the poore Patriarchs (I had almost faid

Parrats, whom their belly and externall respects have taught their augh which was neuer with reall fubiection acknowledged ) yea the others Patriarches of the Empire to this day and yet in few dayes after his death, his fucceffor Bomface obtained of Phocas the murtherer, that 40 Roomandall fivelling and exorbitant Primacie and Paparie, in Ecclefiafticalls, to the Roman See, by Phocas (to Born. and all i fwelling and exorbitant Primacie and Paparie, in Ecclefiaticalis, to the Koman See, by Phocas (to the Writers of make line of the Koman; , in that flippery state of his new gotten Empire by blond and treason) the Popes lives made the Head of al Churches, Which power could yet, neither by Phocas bee graunted any further Rem.1.8.

See Plat. Onap.

Three Patri-arches in the

Reman Empire

gainfay it, and by long vie, the Conflantinopolitan is stiled Occumenicall or Vniuerfall Patriarch, the Roman vniuerfall Pope (which title of Pope, was in ancient times commonly given to other Bilhops, as in Saint Angustimes and others Epittles is seene, and the name of Archbilhop 50 and Patriarch given as preeminent Titles to the Roman Bishop, yet extant in the Roman Councells) who now having gotten a Spirituall Papacie, Gregory the feuenth aboue 1070. yeeres after Chrift, began to turne the same into a Papall Monarchie, which his successours have more fully effected, not onely in the absolute Principalitie of the Churches Patrimonie, but in a widemouthed challenge of Supremacie to depose Kings, and dispose Kingdomes in that hypocriticall pretended ordine ad Deums. But this you shall finde in other Authors, and I but touch it and now returne to our Myreus. The Ierofolimitan Bishop, in honour of that holy Citie was dignified with that Patriarchall honor, but later: for the Councell of Nice left to the Bishop of Cafaria his Metropolitantight entire: the Councell of Chalcedon gaue him the Title, which fome fay Leo the Bishop opposed so much in pretence of the Nicene authoritie, that it was not fully ratified till 60 Instimans time, in the fith Councell, A.553. Now for a fifth See at Babylon you have heard Elias (alye as I conceine) not to be found I thinke ratified by any good Hiftory: nor were the most of the Well or parts of his Iurifdiction euer subiect to the Roman Empire.

Fiue Patriarches.

Patriarkship

The Roman or Westerne Patriarch had fixe Diocesses, Italy, Illyricum, Africa, The Gallie, Spaines, and Britaine, which were tubdinided into feuerall Prominces, of which Italy is faid to have feuerall and armane, which man frea ixe, Galla feventeene, Hiffania fixe, and Britaine five, Britaine fiv ma, Br. Sceunda, Maxima Cefiriensis, Flanca Cesariensis and Valentia: by Gregory the Great reduced to the two Archinthoprickes of Contentry and Torke, and long after Saint Andrews and Glafes, two other in Scotland, and foure in Ireland, by authoritie of Pope Engenius, An. 1151. Amach, Dublin, Cassilisms and Thamensis. Thus much generally and briefly for the Weit Now for the Enterne World, it was divided into feuen Diocelles or Regions, Oriens, Egiptus, Mana, Pon- Fafterne dissi tica, Thracia, Maccdonia and Dacia. Of the Orientall part (more properly called ) Anticeb was from chiefe Citie, of Egypt Alexandria, of the Afran Epbefus, of the Pontike Cafarca, of Thracia Confianto imple of Macconia and Dacia Tieffalonia, all Juff man made Juffinian a Prima the Metropolitan of Dacia. The Constantinopolitan had three Diocesses acknowledged by the Chalcedon Councell, Asiana, Pontica, Thracia. Asiana had cleven Prounces, Pontica as many, Thracia fixe, Macedonia has anciently live Provinces, Daciative. In the time of Leo Emperour, which began to reigne Patiof confer-An 1386, the Conflant mappalitan had eightie one Metropolitans subject to him ( and before the plante. Norman Conquest many more, when Sicilia, Calabria, and many Cities of the Kingdome of Naples were lubicet to the Greeke Empire ) and eightie three Archbilhoprickes in the same

To the Patriarch of Alexandria the Councell of Nice ascribeth Egypt, Lybia, and Pentapolis: Pat. of Auxen-Leos time. After that there were numbred fixe Prouinces, Egypt, Thibau, Lybia Superior, Lybia Inferior, or disa. 20 Pentapolis, Arcadia and Augustamnica, and atter ten. The Patriarch of Animeb had the East Diocelle, in which were fitteene Prouinces. Spria prima and fecunda; Palestina prima, secunda, Saluta- eta. ru; Phonice prima and secunda, Cilicia prima and secunda, Cyprus, Euphratensis, Mesopolumia, Offbana, Arabia, Ifamia. When the Frankes had conquered the Holy Land, the Antiochian had fixe Archidhops onely libiect to him, Tarfus, Edeffa, Apamia, Heliopis, Conzensum and Manufleensem: Tyrine reckonsthirteene Metropolitans in the first times, besides nine Cities Metropo- w.Tyr.bi?, S. licans not Suffragans, and twelve Archbishoprickes, which it feemeth were also autocephali, as the former. But afterwards Ierusalem was decked with Antiochian Spoiles, the three Palestinas being added to the Ierofolimitan Patriarch. Tyrius addes two other taken from the Alexandrian Patriarch, Rubensis and Berysensis, in later times stilled Petracensis and Bostrensis; and vnder the 30 Frankes, Tyre, Cafarea, Nazareth and Petracenfis. Other Patriarchs there are of leife note, as of Selencia, whom File facus suspected to have remoued his See to Armenia; of Ethiopia ( who is neuerthelese subject to the Patriarch of Alexandria ) of these the Seleucian was to have the fixt place; the Ethispian the seventh in Councels, and Catholici they both with the Armenian were stilled Catholici. The Patriarch of Aguileta is mentioned by Paulus Diaconus, and it is propable that when Aquileia was taken by the Lumberds, the Patri- Aquileia. arch remoued to Gradus, and was called the Patriarch of New Aquileia or Gradenfis, Friuli alfo hath had that title, and Venice hath succeeded in that Aquileian and Gradensian Patriarchate, A. 1450. by grant of Pope Engenius. The Pifan Prelate hath beene also stilled Patriarch, and the Toletare in Spaine, as also the Valentian, and the Archbishop of Goa, and the Archbishop of Can-

40 turbury , Ments, Lions, and Bisuricenfis, but not fo commonly and constantly. The lacobites, Ne. * See Mir. floriant, Maronites, Cophis, and other Easterne Sects with their Patriarchs wee have alreadie con- Notice File c. fidered. There are also Franc-Armeniass voider the Archbishop of Nevinanam, in whose Junidiction are the Townes Abbaran, Abbragon, Carna, Saltach, Hafeaffen, Meafcen, Carfan, Xbabun, pifcora. Giubne, Caragus, Chenfug, and Artach; in which are Monasteries of Dominicans. Azarias Fri- Azarias Fride. donius an Armenian, A.1604. Was made Arclibishop of Mexican, in Armenia Maior, fixe daies mus atrauciler iourney from Tanrie. Hee was a Dominican, and came from Armenia in Rome, and out of his writing this is related. The Georgians were wont to be fubieet to the Patriarch of Constantinople, but now are divided. (The Rufsians also have procured their Metropolitan the title of Parriarch, as wee shall see in D. Fletchers Relations. They tell also of a Patriatch at Damasem, at 50 Moful, Carro, and other places which proteffe the former titles. ) But let vs looke backe to Rome, where Myraus next to the Pope the Prince, as he cals him, of all Patriarchs and Bishops placeth

The Priests and Deacons of Rome have growne with the Papacie to a strange Prelacie vn- Cardinalls. the Cardinalls. The Priests and Deacons of Kome have growne with the Fapacie to arriving a Color of Mariconsec. knowne in the first thouland yeeres after Christ, to be not only aboue Bishops and Archbishops, Crisis. and other names of Ecclefiathicall greatnesse, but to be Peeres to Kings and Emperours and Con- Of these read indices terrarum orbis, (as Pope Pins the Second cals them.) Of thete fixe are Cardinall Ballops, Ozufor with Offia, Porto, Sauma, Paleilma, Frascati, Alba the Cardinall Prietts and Deacons have their acknowledge. names of the Parish Churches in Rome, (all which Cardinals were wont to bee but twelve, and, Decressive when a Prelate from any place was cholen, as appeareth in our English Eccleiatticall Storie, by 60 Wendoner, Paris and others, he left his tormer Prelacie and Residence, and attended the Pope, 25

one of his Privile Countell, and another facceeded to his former place : fince which time, within thefethree hundred yeeres, they have not only increased the numbers at plus fure, and cholen the principali Prelates of other Nations; to make themselves strong in each Nation, permitting them there still to reside; but have procured the noblest persons for bloud, and most comment for Beides, this preferring of Priests and Deacons to Patriarkes, in Rome it selfe (as representing the whole Church) they have inftituted five Patriarchall Churches, viz. S. Iohn Lateranes, S. Peters, S. Pauls S. Maries the greater, S. Lawrences. The Church of Laterane hath an Arch pref. chai Churches byter who is a Cardinall. S. Peters beareth the Title of the Church of Canstantinople, and hath an Arch-prieft Cardinall. S. Pauls represents the Church of Alexandria, hath an Abbot and Monkes. S Maries defignes the Church of Antioch, hath an Arch-prieft, Cardinall and Canons as Lateren and S. Peters. S. Lawrence represents the Church of Ierufalem; it once had an Abbot to and Monkes, now is in Commends, and hath Canons Regulars.

Where two are ioyned with this - ftroke,it betokeneth an ows to neiny R (hoorickes Rauenna fometimes competitor with Kome Ferma.

numerable flockes.)

The Bilhoprickes of the Romane Province are Sutre-Nepi, Cinita. Castellana-Horti, Viterbe. Tuscanella, Bagnarea, Ornieto, Perugia (an Vniuersitie) Città di Castello, Cmità de Plebe, Castro, Arezzo, Spoleto, Terni, Narny, Amelia, Todi, Riets, Foligno, Affifi (the Countrey of S. Francis) Tiuoli, Anagna, Verulo, Terracina, Sezza, Segni, Alatro, Fiorentino, Ancona-Humana, Loretto. Ricanati, Afcoli, Iefi, Ofmo, Fano, Camerino, Luca hath the Pall,

The Archbiftop of Rauenna hath thefe Suffraganes, Adri, Comachio, Faenza, Brentinore, Forli Cesena, Sarsina, (Countrey of Plantus) Rimini, Imola, Ceruia, Fanestria, Ferrara (an Vinuersitie) The Archbithop of Bologna inftituted 1 5 8 3. hath Bologna (an Vniverfitie) Parma (an Vniuerfitie) Placenza, Reggio, Modema, Crema, Borgo di S. Domino. The Archbishopof Fermo erected 1: by Sixtus the Fitth, hath Suffraganes, Macerata (an Vniuetlitie) Tolentino, San Senerino, Montalio, Ripa, Beneuent and Animon tollow in their places.

Naples. Salerno.

In the Kingdome of Naples, the Archbithop of Napoli (an Vniuerfitie) Pozzuolo, Nola, Cerra, Ifchia, Azerla (an exempt) to which are united Cuma and Atella. The Archbishop of Capua hath Amalf.

Suffraganes, Teano, Calmi, Caferta, Garazzo, Carinola, Sergna, Seffa, Venafro, Monte Caffino and Saint Germano, Aquino, Pondi, Gaseta, Sora. The Archbishop of Salerno hath Salerno (an Vniuersitie) Capaccio, Pulicastro, Sarno, Acierno, Marsico, Campagna, Nocera delli Pagani, Nusco, Cana. Vnder the Archbishop of Amalfi are the Bishops of Capri, Scala-Ranello, Minori, Lettre, Vinder the Archbishop of Sorrento are Vico, Massa, Stabia. The Archbishop of Conza hath Muro, Satriano Cagiano, Lacedogna, S. Angelo di Lombardi-Bifaccia, Monte Verde. The Archbishop, of Cirenza and Matera hath the Bishop of Venofa, Tricarico, Potenza, Granina-Anglona, Monte Pelofo. The Archbishop of Tarento his Suffraganes are Motula, Castellaneta, Oria. Vinder the Archbishop of Brindiss are Hostuni, Nardo, Monopoli, Vinder Otranto, Leece, Capo di Leuco, Cafire, Gallipoli , Vgento. Voder the Archbishop of Bari and Canela, Bitome, Gionenazzo, Ruve, Connersano, Monermino, Pulignano, Lamiello, Bitetto, Catzeri, Molfetta an exempt. The Archbiflop of Transi and Salpe hath Bifiglia, Audri. To the Archbilhop of Manfredonia and Citta di S. Angelo are fubicat, Veits, Melphi-Rappollo. The Theatine Archbishop erected in Cinita di Chieti, Anno 1 e 26 . hath Suffraganes, Ortona, Citta di Penna-Airi, Valua-Sulmona, Aquila, Marli, Teramo, Cousta di Cali. The Archbilhop Laucianenfis hath no Suffragane Bilhop. Pine the Fourth aduanced it. The Bilhop of Trineme is an exempt. The Archbilhop of Reggio is over the Bilhops # of Catanzaro, Crotone, Tropea, Oppedo, Bone, Nicastro, Nicotera, Gieraci, Squillaci, Mileto. The Archbishop of Cofenza and Monte also bath Marter and, S. Marco, Bisignano, Cassano. The Archbishop of Roffano hath no Suffragane. The Archbishop of San Severina hath Vimbriato, Belcastro. Ifola, Cariati, Strongoli. The Archbishop of Benenento in the Popes Iurifdiction, hath Afcoli, Telefe, S. Agatha delli Goti, Alife, Monte Marano, Anellino-Fergiente, Vico della Baroma, Ariano, Borino Bonino, Vulturara and Monte Cornino, Lavino, Termoli, San Senero, Troia, Guardia Alfang. So that in the Kingdome of Naples, befides the Popes Benesento, there are nineteene Archhishoprick es.

Number of Icfaires & their

The Issuites have in the Continent of Italy (besides the Provinces of Sicilia and Sardinia) source Prouinces, the Roman, Neapolitan, of Millaine, and of Venice. The Romane Province hathat & Rome, Domus professa, Collegium Romanum, Domus probationis, the Colledge of the Panitentiaru, the German Colledge, the Englift Colledge, the Roman Seminarie, the Colledge of Maronites. the Scots Colledge. The Refidence at Frafcati, the Colledges of Tinols, Loreto, Perugia, Fiorenza, Siena, Macerata, Ricanati, Sezza, Ancona, Monte Santo, Monte Pulciano, Fermo, Cuta di Castello, Alcoli, Sora, In this Province are feuen hundred fortie feuen of the focietie. The Province of Naples hat h in Naples Domiss professa, the Colledge, the House of Probation, the New House protes ied. The Colledges of Catanzaro, Nola, Lecce, Bari, Salerno, Confenza, Barletta, Chieti, Aquila, Benenento, House of Probation at Atri, Colledges of Bonino, Trepia, Massa, Castell a Mare, Capna, Molfetta, the Relidences of Monopolis, Taranto, Paula. In this Province are five hundred ninety foure of the focietie. In the Province of Millaine, areat Millaine the House professed, and the Colledge 63 Breiden; at Genus the House professed, the Colledge, and the House of probation; the Colledges of Turino, Como, Vercelli, Mondeni, Cremona, Bastia, Nizza, Alexandria, the House of probational Arona, and the Refidence of Pania. In this Province are foure hundred and eleven of the Compa-. my. The Venetian Province hath the professed House at Fenice, the Celledges of Padoua, Ferral to CHAP.16. Catalogue of Bishoprickes and Iesuites in Italy and Sicilia.

Balogna, Brefeia, Forli, Parma, with another there for the Nobilitie Piacenza, Verona, Mantona, Mirandola Reggio, Faenza, Castiglione, the houses of probation at Nonellara, Imola, Busseto, the Retidences of Candra and Ficenza. In this Prounce are three hundred feuenty three of the So-

Sicilis hath three Archbilhoprickes, first the Panormitan, to whom are subject the Bishops of Siciliathe Bis Mazara, Girgenti. Malta is gouerned by their great Mafter and Knights Holpitulars. The fhops Archbishop of Meffana hath under him the Bishops of Lipari, Patts, Cifalu. The Archbishop of Mons Regults nath Catania and Siracofa. In it alfo are Jeintes Colledges, Houfes and Refidences Jefuites. one and twentie. Fellowes fixe hundred thirtie eight,

10 Thelle and King Jome of Sardinia hath had fourteene Episcopall Cities, and now hath accor- Sardinia. ding to Ferrarus, three Archbithoprickes, Calaris, Saffaris, Arbirea, and Bithops, Villa Ecclefie, Bofa, Aigarium, Caftrum Aragonenfe, and Lafa.

Tire Aschbithop of Calaris or Caglari is Primate of Sardinia and Corfica. His Suffraganes are Doli, Tglefin-Soles, Suel is vaited to the Archbishop. The Archbishop of Saffaris or Torte Saffari hatu Algar, Boff, Emparias, Terra Nous. The Archbishop of Arbores hath Uffella, Terra Alba, S. lusta. In Sardmia are Houles, Colledges and Seminaries of Tefutes eight , and in them one hundred and ninetie of that Societie and Prouince.

Millaine is the Seat of the Spanish Viceroy and Counfell, and allo of an Archbifhon, to whom Millaine are subject the Bishops of Cremona, Lodi, Nouarra, (Birth-place of Peter Lumbard) Meffan-20 dria della Paglia, Tortona, Viglenano, Bergamo, Brescia, Vercelli, Aste, Casale di Monferrato, Alba, Acqui, Saucea, Vintimigita, Pania hath the Pall and is an Vinterlitie.

Errura is for the most part subject to the Great Duke of the Family of Medices, in which Tofcatne. Florentia, Pifa and Siena haue beene Free States. Charles the fifth, Anno 1530. created Alexander de Medices his Sonne in Law Duke of Florence, whole Sonne Cofinus by Pope Pius the lifth was created Great Duke of Toscaine, Anno 1569. This Cosmu instituted the Knight Order of Saint Stephen against the Turkes. The Archbishop of Florence or Fiorenza hath Suffragans , Fiezola, Piffoia, Volcerra, Colle, Burgo S. Sepulchro, Serzana, Monte Pulciano, where Cardinall Bellarmine was borne, and Cortena are Exempts. The Arclibishop of Siena (which is also an Academie) hith Soana, Chiufi, Groffeto, Maffa-Populonia, Pientia, Monte Alcino. The Archbishop of 30 Pifa (an Vniurriitie alto) hath zuffragans Ciuitella, Aiazzo, Sagona, Aleria. Mantus famous for Virgils birth hath a Duke of the Family Conzaga; Duke Vincent, A. 1608. Matial inflicuted the Military Order of The Redeemer lefus Chrift, in honour of his bloud supposed there kept. Musina and Rhegium have a Duke of the Este Family, revolved to the Papacie, An. no 1598. Vrbinum of the Family Robores and Parma, and Placentis of the Farnesian. Vrbine hath an Archbithop and fixe Bithoprickes fubited, the Leopolitan, Pifaurian, Callienfis, Eugubinus, Foro-Sempronienfis, and Senogallienfis. Parma and Placentia with Burgo in that Principalitie are Suffragans to the A cubi hop of Bologna.

Venice, Genna, Luca, and Ragust are Italian Free States; the chiefe is Venice, and faid to incline Foure Italian to the French, as Genna the next, to the Spaniard : Ragnif supports it felte by fauour of the Turke, Free States, 40 paying a yeerely pention to him. Luca hath a Bishop subject to the Pope only, and whing a Pall. Raguff (in times pall Epidaurus) is in Dalmatia, Italionated in language and conditions: it hath Raguff. an Archbishop, to whom are fubicet the Bilhops Stagnenfis, Tribuningis, Marcatenfis, Rodonenfis, Garzalensis, Stephinensis and Curzolensis. In the State of Lance are two Parriarkes, one of Venice, which succeeded to Gradus , the o- Venice. ther of Aguilein: and foure Archbishops, Spalatensis, Laderensis, Corcyrensis, and Candiensis. The Patriarke of Venuce hath Suffragan Bilhops, Chioza, Torzello, both Hands. The Patriarke of Aquilcia refideth in Vdene, and to him are fubiect the Bishops of Como (Countrey of both Plinies) Verona, Padona, I scenza, Treoizi, Concordia, Zeneda, Felire, Ciuida di Bellun, Pola, Parenzo, Trieffi, Petin, Capo d' Istria, Cuta Nova, Trento and Mantona are Exempts. The Archbishop of Spalatro and Salona, Primate of Dalmatia and Croatia, hath Sulfragans, Scona, Nona, Faro-Lefina, 50 Tran, Sanadria, Svardona (fubicet to the Turke) Tina, Almiza. The Archbehop laderenfis, or of Zara a Venetian Hand, hath Suffraganes, Arbe, Viglia, Offaro. The Archbishop of Coreyra, or Corfu, hath the Bifl ops of the Hands Cefalonia and Zante. The Archbilhop of Crete or Candie hath under him the Bilhaps of Canea, Rettimo, Sittia-Hierapetra, Cheroneffo, Mellipteamo, Arenadia, Sicchimo, Budoa tometimes fubiect to the Serman Archbishop. Some adde Catharenfem. and Curzulen (em.

Gonna hath in times past extended their Empire to Caffa in Taurica, Cyprus, Chio and Leftos, Genie and to Pers. It now commandeth almost all Liguria and Confica. To the Archbishop of Genus are Su Tragans, Albenga, Bobi, Brignale, Noli, Mariana-Accia, Nebio. To the Gennois are thirteene 60 Dioceles lubiect, but fome of the Bulhopsacknowledge the Archbilhops of Millaine and Florenca. Sixe Bilhoprices are in the Hand and Kingdome of Corfica, lubiset to that State, Mariana, Aleria, Nebum, Sagonia, Aciensum and Adiacium, Malia hath a Colledge of Iesuits.

* The Manu-

feript was fometimes

presented to

O Fuzaheth:

my hand from

M. Barrough

Controller of the Nauy, not fo perfect as I rancing the authoritie, I

Myraus. By

fault of the transcriber,

many names

are fo fally was loth to giue thead-

present the Readers corkers to the ledo, and Archbishop.

ued. This Manuscript reci-seth the Dukes,

Merqueffes & Earles of Stain with their feuerall Reue-

the Bifhops, the Dukes from 10000. to 70000. which only Bragansa

exceedeth, and likewife the Marqueiles.

The Earles

nues, which are farrefarre leffe then thefe of nenture to written, that and cameto

Paine first attempted, and one of the last of the Roman Provinces pacified in the declining of The Empire, was possessed by the Wandals, Sneues, and Alans, whom the Gothes had expelled Ganle. The Gothes expelled thence by the Frankes, chafed the Wandals and Alans out of Spaine, and deftroyed the Snenes. The Saraceus Anno 720, expelled the Gothes, and could not by the Gothicke remnants be quite exterminated till Anno 1492, at which time the New World also was added to the Spanish Fortunes by Colons Discouerie, and by the Match of the Heire of the Houses of Burgundie and Austria, with the Heire of Arragon and Castile, and fince by Conquests &c. The Castilan hath in few yeeres from an estate in comparison of some other Kingdomes. poore and almost contemptible growne to the present pussance and almost terrible great nesses. In Spaine and Portugall are thefe Archbishoprickes, whole names and revenues out of a Manufcript to are thus delivered.

Toledo, his Reuenues are said to bee 320000. Duckets, more then of divers Kingdomes. Simill, 113000. Duckets. Granado, 80000. Duckets. Lisbone, 130000. Duckets. Saragosa, 70000. Duckets, Valentia, 90000. Duck ts. Tarragena, 80000. Duckets. Barges, 90000. Duckets. Santiago, 100000. Duckets. Brago, 90000. Duckets. He omits Euora, which he reckons among it is, not war- the Bilhops, being latelier exalted to the Pall. Myram reckons them thus, Toledo, Burgis, Compostella, Simill, Granado, Cafarangusta, Tarragona, Valentia, Brararensis, Lisbone and Ebora. To the Arci bi hop of Toledo, Primate of Spaine are Suffragans, the Bishops of Cordona, Segonia Cuenca. Sequenza (an Universitie) Iden, Cartagena or Murcia, Ofma, Valladolid instituted by Clement the thence, and Eighth, Anno 1595. made an Universitiealfo. To the Archbishop of Brugis in olde Castile are 20 Subject Pamplona chiefe Citie of Nanarre, Calagorra, Palencia. To the Archbishop of Compointerted with Stella or Santiago in Galecia, the Bishops of Salamanca an Vniversitie erected, Anno 1240. Anila, Placenzia, Lugo, Astorga, Zamora, Orense, Tuy, Badaios, Mondonedo, Coria, Cinita Rodrigo, Leon exempt, and Oniedo exempt. To the Archbishop of Smill in Betica are fubret Guadix , Cadiz, and the Bishop of the Canaries. To the Archbishop of Granada, erected by Alexander the fixth, Malaga and America. To the Archbishop of Cafauraugusta, or Caragosa in Aragon, Huesca an old Vainerficie, Iaca, Barbastro, Tarazona, Teroel, Albarazin. To the Arch. of Tarragona in Catalomia, Tortofa, Lerida an Vniuerfitie, Barcelona an Vniuerfitie, Viez, Girona, Vrgel, Elna, Solfona, Perpimian, by Paulus quintus. To the Arch. of Valencia, Segorne, Orihuela, Mallorca. To the Arch. of Braga in Portugall, Porto, Vifeo, Guardia, Lamego, Miranda, Legra. To the Arch. of Lifbone, 30. rection.Bertius Combrajan Vniuerlitie; Portalegre, Centa in Africa, Funchal in Madera, Angra in Tercera, Con-200000, Duc- go in Africa, Cabo Verde, or Sant Yago, San Thome, both in the Ilands so called, (the Bishop of Brafil) at San Saluador, or the Bay of all Saints (lately taken by the Dutch.) To the Archbishop Church of To- of Enora, erected 1540. The Bilhops of Silves in Faro, Elma, Tanger in Africa united with Centa. Pope Adrian the fixth, Anno 1523. gaue the Kings of Spaine power to elect and prefent 80000, to the their Bishops, as Mariana reporteth.

My Manuscript reckoneth not so many, nor goeth to Africa and the Ilands, and perhaps some Dam. a Goet & Mar. Siculus of the Bishops in that time might be vacant or holden by Commenda, and so the Title drowned. have their va- The names differ fomewhat, perhaps by falle writing, which may be helped by the former Catalogue. For the valuations I thought them not vnworthy recitall together as they are in the 49 but more ancient, & much faid Booke expressed, although I must intreate the Readers patience for misse-writing the names fince impro- by some vnlearned transcriber, which yet I present as I found.

| Duckets   Duckets   Duckets   Duckets   Corona 50000.   Adding 46000.   Adding 47000.   Addi |           |                 |           |          |           |          |            |                |    |
|--|-----------|-----------------|-----------|----------|-----------|----------|------------|----------------|----|
| Torrolla   50000.   Cordona   56000.   Radrigo   65000.   Arda   48000.  |           | Duckets.        | i         | Duckets. | I         | Duckets. | ſ          | Duckets.       |    |
| Try 4500. Cartagena 5000. Quadripp 64000. Placentia 53000. Oise 58000. Cadona 6600. Quembra 75000. Flatinia 54000. eAlueria 55000. Propincia 85000. Quembra 47000. Solomona 65000. Vifie 5000. Crria 58000. Queffarie 47000. Segenia 69000. Martinia 65000. Oise 65000. Ane 48000. Segenia 69000. Dader 5000. Lomega 53000. Seginia 53000. Badaiet 5000. Quembra 74000. Lomega 53000. Sedia 5000. Barcelona 75000. Emora 74000. Levida 64000. Maltarca 57000. Emora 57000. Levida 64000. Operia 69000. Operia 69000.   | Sobrack   | 50000.          | Camaria   | 50000.   |           | 50000.   | Osina      | 46000.         |    |
| Ulgue         58000.         Cadena         6500.         Quembra         75000.         Falentia         54000.           Aflaria         5000.         Criria         5800.         Quelfarie         47000.         Segenua         65000.         October           Antla         65000.         Dadies         50000.         Anne         480000.         Segenua         65000.         Segenua         65000.         Segenua         65000.         Segenua         65000.         Malca         Segenua         5000.         Lomge         53000.         Maltrea         37000.         Opera         69000.         Opera         69000.         Opera         69000.         Maltrea         97000.         Maltrea         97000.         Opera         69000.         Opera  | Torroffs  | 50000.          | Cordona   | 56000.   | Rodrigo   | 65000.   | Ayda       | 48000.         |    |
| Afteria 55000. Pamplona 85000. Curria 47000. Selamana 65000. 10 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1  | Twy "     | 45000.          | Cartagena | 50000.   |           | 64000.   | Placentia  | 53000.         |    |
| Visio 50000. Crria 58000. Questario 47000. Segerma 69000. 10 Astropa 65000. Dadiet 50000. Anne 480000. Segerma 69000. 10 Anela 60000. Sequenta 60000. Lomego 53000. Sedia 53000. Badaiet 5000. Quembra 57000. Lome 53000. Malorea 57000. Barcelma 75000. Emma 75000. Levida 64000. Campra 57000. Emma 58000. Luga 50000. Operta 69000.   | Vigne     | -8000.          | Cadona    |          |           | 75000.   | Valentia . | 54000.         |    |
| Afterga         65000.         Dadies         50000.         Apre 48000.         Segunia 65000.         Apre 48000.         Segunia 65000.         Lemega 53000.         Segunia 65000.         Lem 75000.         Lem 7  | Alueria   | ¢ 5000.         | Pamplona  |          |           | 47000.   | Solomonea  | 65000.         |    |
| Aucla 60008 Sequenfa 60000. Lonnego 53000. Selhia 53000.  Badaist 5600. Quembra 57000. Leon 57000. Malorca 57000.  Barcelona 75000. Eunora 74000. Levida 64000. Mandancho 63000.  Campra 57000. Eunus 58000. Lugo 50000. Operta 69000.   | Visio     | 50000.          | Cirria    | 58000.   | Questarie | 47000.   | Segeruia   | 69000.         | 50 |
| Badaies 5000. Quembra 57000. Leon 57000. Madorca 57000. Barcelona 75000. Emora 74000. Lerida 64000. Manchaneta 65000. Camora 57000. Emus 58000. Luge 50000. Operia 65000.  | Astorga   | 65000           | Dadies    | 50000.   | Ayne      | 480000.  | Segonia    | 65000.         |    |
| Barcelona 75000. Eunora 74000. Lerida 64000. Mandanedo 63000. Camora 57000. Enus 58000. Lugo 50000. Oporta 69000.  | Anela     | 6 0000.  | Sequensa  | 60000.   | Lomego    | 53000.   |            | 53000.         |    |
| Camora 57000. Enus 58000. Lugo 50000. Oporta 69000.  | Badaies   | 5600.           | Quembra   | 57000.   |           | 57000.   |            |                |    |
| (40001 10001   | Barcelona | 7,000.          | Eunora    | 74000.   | Lerida    | 64000.   | Mandanea   | 6 3000. |    |
| Callabora 65000.   Maliga 64000.   Onensa 58000.   | Camora    | 5700 0 . | Енил      | 58000.   |           | 50000.   | Oporta     | 690co.         |    |
|  | Callabora | 65000.          | ł         |          | Maliga    | 64000.   | Onensa     | 58000.         |    |

Damianm à Goes addeth that the Clergie of Spaine have twice as much Revenues as the Bithops, befides Impropriations of Tithes they granted by the Pope to the King and Grandes: trom 8000. 10 and that befides all this, the Monasteries and Abbeyes Reuenues, exceed those of the Clergic. faith, the Duke There are also in Spaine certaine Militarie Orders instituted to free the Country from the 60 of Infantalgi Moores. Such were the Orders of Saint lames, with a long red Croffe, of Alcantara with a fquare red Croffe of Calairana with a square greene Croffe: which were by Pope Adrian appropriated to Medina Sidonia the King : besides the Orders of Christ and others.

130000. Duc, reuenuc. The rest not vnder 40000, Marquesses from 10000 Duc, to 60000, Earles from 10000 to 40000.

There are also Islants disided into fine Spanish Provinces : the Province of Toledo hath Colledges, Houses and Refidences one and twentie, in them five hundred and few nite lefurtes. The Spaine. Prounce of Cafile eight and twentie, in them fixe hundred and thirteene. The Prounce of Aragon fourteene, and lefuites three hundred and ninetie. The Beithe Province foure and twentie, and fixe hundred lefuites. The Prounce of Portugall eighteene, and fixe hundred and eightie of the Societie. The Ile Maiorica hath a Bishop and Vinuersitie. The Canaries have a Bishop al fo, So have the llands of Cape Verd with a Colledge of Icluites. Fercer, likewife : and in it and Saint Michaels are Ieinites Colledges. Madera hath a Bishop and Ieiniticali Colledges.

10 IN France are numbred one hundred and feuenteene Diocesses, fourteene of which have A character is histoprickes, which are these, with their one hundred and three Suffragans. The Primate Archbishop of Lions hath Austin, Langres, Mascon, Chailon Sur Saone. The Archbishop of Rone in Normandie, Baienx, Aurenches Eurenx, Sais, Lizuenx, Conflances. The Archbiftop of Tours, hath Mans, Renes, Angers an Vinuerlitie, Nantes an Vinuerlitie, Cornonaille, Vannes, Leon, Triquer, Saint Bren, Saint Malo, Dol which weareth a Pall, and is exempt. The Archbishop of Sens, Charires, Auxerre, Trois, Orleans an Vniuerfitie and Dutchie of the Kings fecond Sonne, Paris an Vniuersitie and seace Royall, Meaux, Neuers. The Archbishop of Rhemes, Duke and Chiefe Peere of France, hath Soifons, Challon, Laon, Senlis, Beaumais, Aniens, Neyon, Bouloigne Surmer. The Archbishop Bituricenfit, or of Bourges Primate of Aquitaine an Vniueritie, hath 20 Suffragans Clermon, Rodes, Alby, Caors, Limoges, Mende, Le Tuy, Caffres, Vabres, Tude, Saint Flour. The Archbishop of Bourdeaux hath Agen, Engoulefine, Santonge, Potters an Vinueritie, Perigenx, Condom, Maillezais, Luzon, Sarlas. The Archbulhop of Anchhath Aq., Letoure, Saint Bertrand de Comenge, S. Legier de Conserans, Aire, Basas, Tarbe de Bigorre, Oleron on Bearn Lefcar, Baionne. The Archaifhap of Narbonne, Beziers , Agde, Carcaffone , Nifmes au Vanuetfille, Lodens, S. Pont de Tomiers, Alec, Mompelier an Vniuerlitie, Vzes. The Archieflop Aquenfis, oc of Aix in Prouence, hath Suffragans the Bilhops of Ries, Apt, Frein, Gap, Cifteron, The Archbishop of Usenne, Genene (now reliding at Aneffy in Sanoy) Grenoble, Viniers, Die valence, both Universities, S. Sean de Maurienne vnder the Duke of Sanoy. The Archbishop of Embrun hath Digne, Graffe, Vence, Senez. Clandenez, Nice in Saury. The Archbishop of Arles, Marfeille, S.

20 Paul de Tricastin, Tolon, Orange, the Principalitie of the Prince of Orange, an Vniuersitie and leat of a Perliament. The Archbi hop of Tolofe (in Vniversitie) hath Pasmires, Montauthan, Mirepoix, La V.ur, Rieux. Lombes, S. Papoul. Poure of the former Bishops, Maurianensis, Geneuensis Niceenfis and Aranhonenfis are not subject to the French King : in whose roome you may adde Metemfem, Tollenfem, Verdumenfem and Bellicenfem to make up the former number.

In France also are the Chiefes or Originals of many Orders, as the Chimiake Order in the Dio. Religious and ceie of Matifcon founded Anno 910, by Abbat Berno; Grandemont founded by Stephen , Anno Militarie Ot-1126. Cariufia Maior by Bruno 1084. Ciftercium 1098. Pramonstratum 1120. In the Diocesse of Landun. Cerus Frigidi by John Matha 1136. Valles Scholarum in Champaine by William an Erg-Lidiman 1218, Fons Ebrald in the Dioceje of Portiers by Robert Blefels 1117. The Hospitulars of 40 Saint Anthonie in the Diocele of Vienna, by Gafto 1121. Our Ladies Charitie 1300. S. Bernard de panitentia, or the Reformed Ciftercians by John Barrerius 1600. The Willelmites by Saint Wilham Dake of Aguitaine. The Militarie Orders of the Holy Ghoft by Henry the Third , and of Saint Michael, and of Saint Mary of Mount Carmel, and of Saint Lazarus appropued by Paul

The Issuites have five Provinces in France, the Province called of France, hath fourteene Issuits in Houses, Colledges and Retidences; the Province of Aquitaine ten , in which Province are two France. hundred and eightie Lesuites. The Prouince of Lions tourteene, in them foure hundred and seuentie. The Province of Tolofe eleven, in them three hundred and ten. The Province of Champaine ten, and two hundred twentie fixe lefuites.

In France, though not in the French Subjection is the Country of Aninion, in which Citie the Aninion the Popes refided feuentie verres together. The Archbishop haththree Suffragans, Carpentra, Cabal- Po, es Counlon, Taifon. In Sanoy is the Archbilhop Tarentaftenfis, to whom the Bilhops Augustanus and Sedu- 19. nenfis are Suffragans. Piemont is lubiect to the fame Duke, the Metropolitan Cise Whereor is Santy. Taurinnen, Seatof the Dukes and an Vniversitie, to which are subject the Bishops Eporedien fir, Montis Regalis and Follmentis ; Saluzois an exempt.

The Duke of Sanoy is Chiefe of two Military Orders, Of the Virgins Annuntiation, and of Two Military SS. Mourice and Lazaris. Loraigne. fometimes a Kingdome, now a Dutchie, hath Nancie the Orders. Metropolican Citie, Pontamouffon an Vniuerlitie ruled by Ichites, S. Nicolais of next note. Lo- Lorger raine is subject to divers Billiops, among it others, Metenfis, Tullenfis and Virdunenfis Impe is li Cities wonne by Heary the fecond.

The Principalitie of Orange nath the B. of Orange as is fold, and an Univerficies it is fubised to Orange the house of Nasjan , Henry of Nasjan marrying the Sister and Heire of Philibertus Cabillonins Vierr v of Naples, flaintat the firge of Florence, A.1530. Renates fon of Henry was flait e 1544. 1. ellium his brothers fonne fracecded and was traiteroully marthered at Delje 1584. His fonne

Philip-Gulielmus after long detention in Spaine, died at Bruffels An. 1618, and left his Brother Prince Maurice his Heire by Testament : whose Arts, experience and exploits Militarie haue attracted into a flupendious gaze the Eyes of all Europe,

The Low Countries.

His Name admits vs into Gallis Belgica, or the Low Countreyes, or feuenteene Lands, of which foure are Dukedomes, Brabant, Limburg, Lutzenburg and Gelderland: feuen Counties or Earledomes, Flanders, Artois, Hanalt, Holland, Zeland, Namur and Zutphen: the Marquifate of the Holy Empire, and five Lordships of East Friftand, Mechlin, Virecht, Onerifel, and Groningen. In these are two hundred and ten Cities walled and ditched about, Villages fixe thousand three hundred, besides Monasteries, Forts, Palaces and Mannor-houses almost innumerable. That port which obeyeth the Archdutcheffe is Romish, that which acknowledgeth the States to government is of the Protestants faith, not without Arminian and other fancies among ft many

In times past there were but foure Belgian Bishoprickes, of Cambray, Arras, Tournay and V. trick. But King Philip the second (seeking to alter the government, which occasioned the Wars and this Diuision, whereby about one halfe of the Countrey have not only defended their Libere ties, maugre the Anstrian Greatnesse, American Treasures, Sp. nish Ambition and Italian Souldioury, to the Worlds amazement, many hundred thousands o. Christians beeing flaine to purchafe the Spaniard this loffe; but have acquired a Free Estate, with wealth and honour, and by them have beene so acknowledged, whom they would willingly with consequation of their Liberties haue obeyed) Philip the second (his losse made me almost lose my felfe) Anne 1 559. 31 procured the Pope to constitute three Archbishoprickes, and fifteene Bishoprickes (his Inquistion shall escape our inquisition) the Archbishop of Mechelen, to whose Iurisdiction are subiect the Bilhops of Antwerpe, of Bruges, Gant, Iperen, Rurmund, Hertogenbofeb : the Archbishop of Cambray, whose Suffraganes are Arras, Tourney, Saint Omer, Namur. The Archbishop of Utrecht hath Denenter , Graeninghen, Harlem, Leenwarden , Middlebereb.

lefuices.

The lefuites have there two Prouinces , Flandre-Belgica which hath eighteene Houses. Colledges and Residences, in which there are of that crue sixe hundred and senenteene. And Gallo-Belgica which hath twentie Houses, Colledges, and Residences, and sixe hundred fiftie two Fellowes of that Order, beside Augustinians, Dominicans, and I know not what Ermanie hath seuen Archbishoppes Mentz , Collen, Trier , all three Electors ; Mendburg Salifburg, Breme, Bessanzon. To the Archbishop of Menez (an Vniversitie) are subject Bithops Wormes, Wirtzburg an Vniverlitie , Speir Auchfeet, Strafeme, Worden, Chur, Heildesbeims Paderborne, Costruiz, Halberstad, Ausburg. Bamberg is exempt. To Coleigne, are Suffizganes Liege, Muniter, Minden, Ofenbrug. To Trior, Metz, Tonl, Verdum, all in Loraine and now French. To Mojdburg, Mossen, Merseburg, Brandoburg, Hauelburg. To Salisburg (an Vniuerstie) Frezingen, Regenspurg, Passan, Brucen, Goritz, Lauenmutz, Secham Vienna in Anstria, is an Vniuerlitie and exempt ; Newfat and Lesbach are also ex-

Icfuires.

To Breme are fubica Lubeck, Rathenburg, Swerin. To the Archbishop of Velentionensis or shops Princes. Befanzon (an Universitie) are subiect Basel an Universitie, Losanne, Bellay en Breffe. All thefe, as also the Bishop of Trent are Princes of the Empire, and Lords in Temperalibus. except Lauenmuch, Seckaw, Chiemfe, and Goritz. Meydburg and Breme, and eight Bishopriekes are Protestants.

The late Warres have fince our Authors writing so altered the face of things in Germanie that just account cannot bee given of their Religion and State so vnsetled. And how can things be well fetled where the Foxes have fo many Burrowes. The lefuites have (as fome fay) three score Colledges in Germanie, deuided into three Prouinces.

The Prouince of Higher Germanie hath thirteene Colledges, two Houses, three Residen-50 ces, fine hundred fortiefixe Iefuites. The Province of Rhene hath three and twentie, and in them fixe hundred and one. The Province of Auftria five and twentie, and five hundred fiftie three of the Societie.

The Switzers, Cantons are thirteene, Episcopall Cities fixe, Lucerna, Vrs, Suite, Vinderwalden Zugh, Friburg : lefuites Colledges two, at Lucerne and Friburg. They are also in great part subject in Spirituals to the Bishops of Constance, and of Basel, whose Seat is now at Bruntutum. Laufanna hath a Bishop Subiect to the Archbishop Bezanzon.

The Grifons are divided into three leagues, in which Chur is a Bishop subject to Menta. The Valefins haue feuen Communalties, one of which Sedurum hath a Bilhop. Pomerland is a Dukedome and hath foure Cities, Stetin, Caminum fometimes a Bilhops See, Griphfwald an Vniuer- 60

In Bohemia, Prage is an Archbishopricke, to which are Suffraganes, the Bishops of Olauntez in Morama, and Littomsfensis in Bobemia. In Silesia, Vratislania or Preslaw is a Bi-

In Hungaria, Strigonium hath bin the Seat of the Archbishop & Primat, which being taken by the Turks, is removed to Tiranna, and hath its Suffragans, Nirrels, Rank, Agria valer the Turks, the target production water the Tarke, as is allo Vefrin. Colocia is an Archbilhop in Pannonia inferior, vinder which are the Bilhops of Agram, Fairwar in Translumia, Varadin, Stronifch, Connd, Boffina, Transiluania hath an V niversity at Claudiopolis and a Seminary . In Austria Vienna is also an Vouterlitie before mentioned : There and at Oenipont in Triol and at Prage in Bobemis Ferduand the Emperour founded lefuites Colledges. Brixma is Suffigan to Salisburg. Grath bath an Vm erfity and Colledge of Jeintes, and is a Metropolitan Citie; the Billion Secouienfis there, and Gurcenfis & Lauentinenfis in Carintbia are Libiect to the Archibithop of Saluburg.

GHAP.16. Catalogue of Bishoprickes and Issuites in Europe and India.

The Kingdome of Pelend contained the Produces of Litrania, Majonia, Samoguta, Chiania, Linonia, Varmia, Prafita Rezalu, Rafita Nigra, Volbims, Podolia, and others. There are two Archa bult ups of the Latin Church, Guefuenfis the Primat, and Leopolienfis. To the former are Subiech van spoot and Kratow, Poznan, Plock, Mednike, Preflaw in Sileits, Lebne, Uladiflaw, Chemnica, Lucke Vilenate or Wilde, Wenden, Warmerlant an exempt, Lappolis or Lunow is in Ruftin Migra, and hath Suffragans Preamys, Comielaick, Kinn, Camienach. All their together with the Bi-Thop Culmissis are Senators or Councellors of the State, except Proflas and Lebin. There are alto eight Russian or Greeke Bishops in Poland, Kion the Metropolitan, Vlodomir, Luceoreniis, Poloceniis, Pramisieniis or Przemyst, Leopolieniis, Chelmensis and Pinscensis, which were receited into Communion by Pope Clement the eighth. Rufita Nigra is subject to the Pole and 20 Rufine Alba to the Officenite. There line also in Peland many Armerian which have a Bi-Thop of their owne, Refident at Leopolis. The Russian Bulhops have no Patliment voyce. The Iefuites have two Provinces in thele parts, that of Poland containing fifteene Colledges, Houles, and Refidences, and 459. Iclinites, that of Lithuania as many, and letinites 3 36. Prufita is divided Prufits. into Regulis and Ducalis. The former hath two Bishops, Varmienis which reside that Bruesberg, and Cumeniss: the Ducal had two, but extinct with the Order of the Dutch Knights, the one of Kinningsberg , the other at Mariamerda. The Marquelle of Brandenburg possessiteth the Countrey.

The Archbishop of Canterbury and Yorke. The Archbishop of Canterbury is Prise England. 30 L'mate of all England, and Metropolitan, the other Primate of England and Metropolitan. To the formet are lubiect the Bilhops of London, Winchester, Comentree and Liebfield, Salubury, Bathe and Welles, Lincolne, Excesser, Hereford, Norwich, Etta, Racbeften, Chiebefter, Worcester, Saint Danids, Bangor, Landaff, Saint Affe, Peterburrow, Glofter, Oxford and Briftol. To the Archbifhop of Torke. Durbam, Chester, Carlile, to which is added Sodorenfis, or the Bishop of Man. Scotland also bath two Archbilhops, one of Saint Andrewes, and the other at Glafco. Suffragans to Saint Andrewes the Primate of Scotland, Myraus reckoneth the Bishopa of Dunckeld, Aberdin (an Vinueritie) Moramens: resident in Elgin, Dumblain, Breebin, Roffe, Cathnes, Orchnay: to Glasco, Galloway, Lifmor, Colmbel. His Marellie hath beene fuch a reflorer, as he may in some fort bee reckoned the Founder of the prefent Epifcopal, both Sees and Gouernment in that Kingdome, At the diffcluti- Booke of Dif. 40 on of the Bilhops they erected Superintendents, changing a good Greet word for a bad Land, but referring to to hole Superintendents the greatest part of Epiticopall power : and after fome Change referring to those Superintendents the greatest part of Episcopall power; and after some Chanof the Proceeges, his Maieftie hath reduced it to the preient fate.

Ireland hath foure Archbishops. To the Archbishop and Primate of Armah are subject, Dn. Ireland. nensis, Conner, Derry, Meeth, Clocher, Ardache, Kilmore, Rapho, Dromore, Kiloom, Dondalck. To the Archbilhop of Dublin (an V muerlitie ) Kilkenny or Offerrienfis, Kildare, Ferm, Leghin, Glendelagb. To the Archbilhop of Cafbel, Limricke, Lifmor, Roffe, Waterford, Emmelen, Corcke, Lymbricke, Clon. To the Archbishop Tnamenin, Galuben, Ashade, Alache, Olfin, Roscoman, Clonfert, Denmarke hath the Archbishop of Lunden erected 1092. Primate of the Kingdome, Suffra- Denmarke. Kill doe. Thus Myram. gans, Roschilt, Odensee, Slezwick , Rype, Wiburg, Arhusen. Norway hath Nidrossa the Metropoli-Se can See, and Sulfra ans, Bergen, Staffanger, Hammar, Groenlandt, Scalbelt, Hola. In Success the Suctor.

Archbilhap Vofallea fis hathubiect to him the B B. of Scar, Lincopen, Stengenes, Abo, Aroefen, Villmen. Thus Mrzu, who addes a little of Ruffi and Greece, which you hall find more toll in the Discourles of those parts, both precedent and following : as likewise touching the Chri-Stians of Afia, Maronites, Incobites, Nestorians, &c. handled by Afrem in his koond Booke. The Archaelhop of Goa hath tubiect to him the Bilhops of Cochin, Malaca. Mucao, Iapon, Malaban, Meliaxor or San Thome. The Archbilhop of Cranganor (erected by Paul the Fifth, 1608.) is called also the Archbiftop of the Christians of San Thone : hee hath no Suffragans. Myrame reckons Islaites Houtes, Colledges and Refidences in the East Indian Province of Gas 15, and 280.

60 of the Societie. In the Prouince of Malabar 14. in them 150. For China and I apon you shall leatne better in our Relations then in Myram. In the Philippma he reckons nine Relidences & one hundred Isfaites. Neithershall wee need his instructions of Africa in his third Booke, our Relations being farre more full and certaine : as also of the New World handled in his touren Booke, Heenumbers therein fine Archbilhops, the first of Mexico, whose Suffragans are the B B. of dings at Perth.

10/9.

And thus have we audited Myrans his accounts of Bishops and Iesuites, names not otherwise futable but by Papall Arts. For what concord hath Antiquitie and Noueltie, Isfus and Isluites, Gatholike and Romith, Apostolicall Institutions with Apostaticall ? Neither hath the Church .. wanted Bishops in all ages and places Christian since the Apostles, or knowne Iesuites in any age but this lait, or in any Church (except as busie bodies ) but the Romish : fo that what they obiect to vs, is truely their owne with aduantage, to be both Nonatores ( Loiola being farre later then Luther) and Veteratores too; like the Gibeonites, which fained themselues Ambassadors, and tooke old Sackes upon their Affes, and old Bottells for Wine both rent and bound up : and old Shooes and clouted upon their feet; also the raiment upon them was old, and all their promision of bread was dried and mouled : Thus pretended they remotenesse being neere neighbours, to delude the Ifraelites; as these neerer vs in time, then those others to loftua in place and habitation) chant nothing so much as Catholike and Old, when Time knew them not till yesterday, nor doth any Place yet know them but fuch as are Romish, except in Travells and Treasons : their old, old, old, being but the g old Serpent, the old Man, and old refined rubbish to build their new Babel. Nibil mibi antiquina, faid one in another cafe, quantum ignore anniquents iften. The ancient government of the Church by Bilhops, by Papall Monopoly vilarped, was fet on foot by weakning Bpifcopall power in exempted Monasteries; that so all Monasteries might become Papall Forts, and in manner all the learned and leafurely pennes might plead for the Patron of their exemption; furthered by both the one and the others inuestitures first, and dependance after, with subjection denied to Kings; and when the Waldenfes began to shake downe the Lateran, the Pope dreamed that Dominike, or as the Franciscans will have it, that Francis supported the Lateran, which proved not a dreame in their new deuised Orders of Friers, which maintained the Papacy with no leffe reputation of learning and fulnesse of commission in those dangerous daies, then the Iesuites have done since Lu. 4 ther; which all the Deuills could not have kept from falling both then and fince, if they had not found such old-shooed Ambassadours to travell over the World for their Mother Babylon, and their Father the Pope, palliated with the name of the Catholike Church. I wil not trouble you with recitation of their other orders particularly , but out of Myrans wil tel you that the Benedictine Order can glory beyond the lefuiticall in 52000. Monasteries, 15000. Writers, 44000. Saints, 4000. Bishops, 1600. Archbishops, 200. Cardinalls, and 25. Popes, which in succession of times they have had. And if the Isluite pretend his Tammarie quammercurio, his multering of Armies against the Heretickes, and fetting Europe in the present combustion; the Benedictine can produce Martiall Orders, affixes to his profession, instituted for better purposes against Mahumetans, the Templaries (fometimes as proud as the proudeft of lefinites ) the Knights of Calatrana, of Al-50 cantara, Montesia, and Mercedie in Spaine, of Christ, of Ausse, of Alain Portugall, of Saint Manrice in Sauoy, of Saint Stewen in Tofcanie, and others elfewhere. The Angustinians have 555. Monasteries in Italy, and in Europe, as Volutteranus writeth 4000. and besides other subdivided Orders , haue alfo their Military Knights of Rhodes or Malta, the Dutch Knights of our Lady in Germany and Pruffia, the Knights of Saint Lago in Spaine; of Saint Lazarm of lerufalen, of Icius Christ instituted by Dominike against the Albigenses, of Saint Mary of Mount Carmel and Saint Lazarus (the former Lazarues being vnited to the Maltafes) inflituted by Paul the Fifth. But

Monastike Religions , notwithstanding their vow of chastitie haue so multiplied in the West,

(for in the East tow Orders are found to this day ) that Benedicts Order hath procreated 23. Anguitines, 28 and that later of Prancis 15. And for the Individualls they are like the Grashoppers 60 of Egypt, Pauperis est numerare peeus, The Pope is not so poore as to bee able to number his Creatures. Of the Franciscans alone Sabellican numbers in his time at once living 90000 and addes that the Generall to that Order offered to Pope Pins against the Turke, 30000, able warriers of this

* Thus Mare. m Hofbinian hath Abbates cruditione & (criptis celebres 15700.Caneni

CHAP.16. Numbers, kinds, and beginnings of Papall-religious Orders.

being dissided into fortie Prounces, each Prounce into Casfraire, Wards or Wardenships, & these Subdivinded into Countests and Places. These mortified Minors had in that time found the way, Sabel, Eng. 1.6 five of them to the Papacy, 26. to the Red Hat; as for instriour Prelacies who can number them. The Dominicans in the tame time (about fix four yeares finte 21. Provinces , Conuents 4143. in them listing 26460. Friers, and of them shout 1 500, Matters (or Doctors) of Disnity, befides mamy of them in Armenia and Athiopia, on Abuffia, Constantinophianticipating the lefuites glory an this kind, the Augustinion also were then aumowed 30000, the Cormelies more, not to speake of the reft. This course of life first begainby decouter perions to avoid perfecution, Asseny and others which made wie of Deletts, and wiolitary life to efcape the Sword, and the Worldes infection by vice together : was after imitated by good men, both for their owne denotions, freed 10 by this meanes from fecular interruptions, and fitted for the feruice of the Church both in Faith by Doctrinall studies, and exercises in their Monasticke Schooles, and also in charity by beneficence therein to the poore, with the doporto their hands; and lattly, degenerated into Imoakie fuperitition and ambition, of getting the glory of the World; with wealth and eafe by feeming denialls thereof; and became a refuge, and finke-fanctuary to Malocontents, Bankrupts, men in danger of Law, and weary of the croffes which attends each vocation (God hauing fet downe this rule to all men, to eat their bread in the sweat of their britier, which thele feeme to illude) that they which cannot bee In negoto fine pericule (to vie the Orators words) may bee In otio cum dignitate. A mafter-piece of hypocrifie, which in another sence, and by another course can say with the A-politic, we having nothing, and yet (even carnally) possessing all things.

20 But who will home to number the nothing of But who will hope to number the perfons of each Order termed Religious, when the Orders themiclues cannot bee reduced to due order or number & All Historians in manner mention them, but none can name them all, much leffe marshall them. Isannes Welphius in his Centenaries of Memorable Readings, thus expresseth many of them with the times of their Originall. A. D. 341. Thabenefiotarum. 365. Ordo Publie, 384. Order of Saint Bafil. 399. Of Saint Auguftine. 422. Of Paula Remana. 495. Canonifarum Regularium : also Ordo Canonicorum. A. 530. Apostolicorum : allo Benediltinorum : allo Scholesticanarum Benediltinarum. 595. Gregorianorum. 610. Gerundinenfum. In the fewenth and eighth Centenary hone. In the ninth A. 912. Ordo Cluniacenfis. 950. Camalaulensum. 977. Canonicerum Secularium. A. 1012, Hospitalary. 1017. Hunnlitati. 1030. Orac leiunantimm. 1046. Lazaritarum. 1050. Luccelanierum, 1076. Grandmontenfium. 1080. Carthufien-30 finm. 10x9.S. Autoni de Vienna. 1098. Ordo Ciftercienfis A.D. 11 10. Templary . 1113. Bernhardini .

1119.Pramonstratenses. 1121. Militia Calatrana. 1137. Ordo Robertinorum. 1148. Gibertinorum. 1160. Carmelitarum. 1170. Ordo Militum D. lacobi de fratha. 1190. Ordo Tentonicorum Marianorum. 1190. Franciscanorum. 1200. Crucifererum. 1201. Ordo S. Spiritus Hospitalierum. 1202. Gladiferorum. 1205. Dominicavorum. 1211. Ordo S. Trinitatio, fine Equitum de Redempsione Captivorum. 1214. Ordo Militia Montesia. 1215. Ordo Eremitatum S. Pauls. 1217. O. Vallis Scholarum. 1228.O.S. Clare. 1232.Or. Milnie S. Marie. 1250. Ordo de Observantia Minorum & Pradicatorum. 1252. Ordo Fratricellorum Beghardorum, Beghinarum, seu Beguttarum. 1257. O. Betblebemitarum 1258. O. Bonorum hommum. 1273. O. Augustinen fum Eremitarum & Guilbelmitarum. 1282.O. Sernorum S. Maria. 1297. Caleftinorum, 1300. Militum Sepulchri Domini. 1303.

40 Sarabitarum. 1323. Militum lefu Chrifti. 1326. Alcanthare militum. 1349. Flagellamium. 1350. Charteriorum Equitum. 1360. Equitum Stella. 1365. O. le suatorum. 1366. Ordo Saluatoris sine Scopetinorum. 1370. S. Brigitta. 1371. Turlupinorum. 1399. Albatorum. 1400. Vallis V mbrofe. 1405. Hieronymitarum. 1 407. Cannicorum. S. Georgy in Alga. Alto Mendicantium D. Hieronimi. Alto S. Spiritus. Alio Montoliuiten sum. 1 408. Canonicerum Lateranensium Congregationie Frisonaria. 1 409. S. Iufine, Also Mauritianorum Equitum. 1420. O. Equeftris Annuntiationis B. Marie. 1429.O. Eq. AureiVelleris. 1433. S. Ambrofy ad Nemus 1453. O. Equitum S. Spiritus. 1455. S. Catherine Senenfis. 1464. Equitum Lune. 1469. Equitum S. Michnelis. 1499. Orde paniteutum mulierum fem meretricum, 1500. Ordo peregrinorum pauperum. 1506. Ordo Indianorum, 1529.O. Sodalitatis dinint amoris fine Theatinorum. 1537. O. Paulinorum fine Gastalianorum. 1540.O. lesustarum, fine Societatis 50 lefa.1549. Capucmorum.1561.O.militum S. Stephani.1571. Ordo minorum lesa Marie fen Terisariorum.1579.O.Eq. S.Spiritiu. Vinto these Orders whereof some time is set, may be eadded many others of whose Originall no certaine time is deliuered. Wolphius hath in Alphabeticall order named these of that kinde. Ord. Ambrosianorum, Antonianorum, Fratrum de Armenia, Ordo Equestris de Auss. Batutinorum. Bone voluntatie. Bursfeldensum. Canonicorum Regularium, differing from the tormer. Capellinoтит, Challomerianorum, Cellavorum, Clausgerorum, Const.intinopolitanorum militum, Стися стоян another kind. O. Fratrum Crucis, O. Stellatorum Crucis, O. Forficerorum. O. Genetta Equestris O.S. Gertrudis Montalium, O. Fratrum Helena, O Fratrum de Hift inia, Or. Histricis Equestris. O. Hospa-60 tilariorum, O. Frairum D. Iacobi, O. Ignorantic, O. Ioannitarum de cinitate Ordo Vallis Iesuphati. O. Iosephi. Or, militum de Labanda, Lazari seu Magdalena, Linoneblenierum, Monialium S. Maia. O.S. Marie nousu. Conceptionis Marie. O. ex Fratrib, martyrum. Maturinorum. Merfe Orbicularie

(Knights of the Round Table ) O. Pangerum Voluntariorum. O. de Corbullo S. Petri. O. S. Petri in Schunbach, O. Purgatorialium. Rebaguorum, Recluforum fine Incluforum, O. S. Ruffi, Ordo Monacha

Scraphicall Family without detriment to their Holies. They have (faith bee) filled the wold, vel Sacerd, libera, Scala dei. Sclauonianorum. Fratrum ex Scotia, S. Sophia sine Gratia, Speculariorum, Stellatorum. Militum S. Thoma. Vefpillonum. Fratrum de viridi vallo, O. Valetudinario-fernientium. Ungarici eq.O.Wencestaitarum. Zambonitarum. Zupfnonnarum.

But it istime to haue done, lest fuch vincouth names make some Reader feare liee shall thereby coniure up some Deuills, ordered to disorders. I could alicout of History adde others, but these are more then enough, Papail. Orden enough to breake all Christian orders and rules of simplicitie and functivitie, with their fuperfittion and hypocrifie. Otcheir rules, habits, and other fuperfittioms ( vnderstand this of the later, for the ancient were both without vow , and fit Schooles and Seminaries for the Church, asour Valuerfities now ) the fame Wolfin, Hoffmian and other to Authors have written at large.

CHAP. XVII.

A Discourse of the diversity of Letters vsed by the divers Nations in the World; the antiquity, manifold vie and variety thereof, with exemplary descriptions of about threescore senerall Alphabets, with other ftrange Writings.

brought in, and the Internall, the Common fense, Phantafie, and Memory, as Reasons handmaids Rationis & orationis prinilegia.

O D the giver of every good gift, hath endowed Man (created after his owne Image) with divers priviledges about other fentitive Creatures, not onely with dominion over them, but with Realon and Speech, both about their Naturall capacities I By the one he composeth naturall lyllogismes in himlesse, proposing to his Vnderft anding, disposing in it, and by his Will electing what feemes best of those things, which the external Senfes, as the Cinque-Port-Intelligencers have have prepared to Discourse. By the other, as a Sociable creature, hee imparteth those Mind-conceptions voto other men, and those which are many persons, are made as it were one body reafonable. God hath added herein afurther grace, that as Men by the former exceed Beafts, fo 30 hereby one man may excell another; and among ft Men; fome are accounted Civill, and more both Sociable and Religious, by the Vie of letters and Writing, which others wanting are effecmed Brutish, Sauage, Barbarous. And indeed much is the litterall aduantage; by speech we veter our minds once, at the prefent, to the prefent, as prefent occasions moue (and perhaps vnaduitedly transport) vs: but by writing Man seemes immortall, conferreth and consulteth with the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apostles, Fathers, Philotophers, Historians, and learnes the wisdome of the Sages which have beene in all times before him ; yearby translations or learning the Languages, in all places and Regions of the World: and lastly, by his owne writings formineth himselfe, remaines (litera scripta manet ) thorow all ages a Teacher and Counseller to the last of men : yea hereby God holds conference with men, and in his facred Scriptures, as at first in the Tables of Stone, speakes to all. And whereas speech pierceth the Eare (pierceth indeede and paffeth often, in at the one, and out at the other ) Writing also entertaineth the Eyes; and so long, by our owne or others reading, speakes to either of thote nobler Senses, as wee will, and whereof wee will our felues; husht and silent at our pleasure; alway free from feare, flattery, and other humane passions. Therefore the dead were efteemed the best companions and faithfullest Counsellors, in Alfor su his opinion, namely, in their Writings still living to performe those Offices : and want of Letters hath made some to feely as to thinke the Letter it selfe could speake, so much did the Americans herein admire the Spaniards, seeming in comparison of the other as speaking Apes. Thus excellent is the wfe of letters : how ancient, vncertaine. Iofephin mentions Writing anci-

Manifold and

Who first inuented Letters

Plin 1.7.c.56. Otho Heurny

Ful.Mifel.4.c.4 ued Letters in the Two Tables of the Law written by the finger of God. Mafter Fuller is of opinion that the Phanicians themselves learned them of Abraham, who seemeth to him, as likely in his long flay with the Canaanites to have taught them Letters, as to have inflructed the Egyptians in fo shorea space, in Astronomie and Arithmetike, which Tofephus affrmeth. And most 60 probable it feemeth that in bleffed Shoms potteritie by Heber, Noah had lett the best Arts of the 106 13. 16.019 former VVorld. Iob is by fome, vpon good reasons, holden ancienter then Mofes, who vet often speakes of Bookes and writing, as a thing then familiarly vied.

Another no leffe controverted question is of the ancienceft kind of Letters , which Postellas, enter then the Floud, by which, knowledge of Aftronomy was commended to posteritie in two 50

Pillers, the one of Stone, the other of Bricke, to outline thole two difmall destructions which Adam had prophecied should befall the World, by Fire and VV ster: that of Stone remaining to his time. Plane conceiteth an eternity of Letters, as of the VVorld and Mankind; and supposeth that the Affrian were luch : elsewhere attributing their invention to the Phanicians, as of Astronomie alfo, and the Arts of VVarr and Nauigation, and after others opinion to the Egyptians, after others to the Syrians. It is, I fee not how probably by some affirmed, that Moles nell recei-

CHAP.17. Samaritan Letters whether ancienter then the present Hebrew.

Scaliger & others thinke to be the Phoemeran, or as now they are called, the Samarstan, at first vied by all the Canaanstes (of which the Phanicians were a part) and Hebrenes; but after the depor- What Letters tation to Babylon, the Cuiheans or Samaritans still continued them (being taught by the Ifraels- most ancient. sub Prieft) but the lewes grew into vie of others, which Scaliger faith , are nupera ac nouitsa ex 2.Reg. 7.17. sup Friedu deprauata; illa antem ex Samaritanis; quad cum luce clarins sis tamen quidam semdotti, semi-Euteb, bron. sheologi. & ve fignantus loquar femihomines, ludaicas lucras vere Hebraicas effe prifcas audent dete- See those rare, Oc. And attet; Vi suntur bodie Sicli qui quotide lerosolymie effodiuntur, & sub regibus luda in Coines and Sin fuerunt. In illis nummis cadem litera incufa funt, que in feriptis Samaritanorum leguntur; and Letters at the thinkes it extreme infania & imperitie to thinke that the elder Hebrewes had any other.

Saint Ierome alio affirmeth, that Efdras was Inventer of the prefent Hebrew Letters after the let prafin Ireg. 10 Captinitie. His words are, wiginis & duas literas effa apud Hebraos, Syrorum quog, lingua testaine, que Hebrae magna ex parte confinis est. Nam & ipfi 22 elementa babent, codem sono, sed diucrfis characteribm. Samarnani etiam pentatesschum Moystotidem literie scriptitant, figurie tantum & apicibus di screpantes. Certumq, est Esdram, post captaun Hierosolyman, & instaurationeun templi sub Zerubabel, alias literas reperisse, quibus nunc viemur, quim ad illud vo, tempus, indem Samaritanorum. & Hebraerum characteres fuerint.

Postellus attributeth the reason of this new Invention to the difference of Religion, which be- G. Postell ling. gan in Ieroboam, but became worfe in those Cuthaans & other strangers which were placed by the Affrians in the Cities of Samaria, whose irreconciliable hatred I have elsewhere shewed in my Pilgrimage. He alledgeth alio such Coines, said to be as old as since Salomons dayes, seene by him, P. Pilelia, c. g. (two of which shall follow with their Letters.) Hee addeth that the lemes affirmed the same, which still hate the Samaritans, but highly prize those Coines as their owne Antiquities; the Inscription whereof being Ierusalem the boly, could not proceed from the Cushean Samaritans, 10h.4. which wor hopped in their Mountaine, (as the Samaritan woman faid to our Sautour) and not in lerusalem. Postellus faw a Grammar in their Letters, but the Language Hebrem, the Exposition Arabite; the Characters their owne, which now also want the points which in Saint Ieromes dayes they had.

Scaliger sheweth further how the ancient Greeke or Jonike Letters (like in forme to the pre- lof. Scal. vbifag. fent Latine, which feeme thence derived) were by Cadmus carried from Thanicia, and communicated to the Greekes, of him called by Herodotsu Kasufia Mauuam, which both hee and Panfanias affirme that they had feene; and of which Plinie testifieth, Gentium confensus tacitus primus omnium confirant, vt Imum literis vterentur. Or thefe anon you shall fee an example. Sca-liger addeth that the Chaldees fathioned theirs from the Phanisian , now vied by the Neftorians and Maronites. These have both Capitall Letters and lesser: from which Chaldee Letters the moderne Iewish and Arabike are derived, the Chaldes being in a meane betwixt the Phar-Our Learned Countreyman Master Fuller, as hee will not yeeld that the ancient Hebrew Ful. Miscellati.

was the Phanician Language; fo neither will subscribe to this opinion, which maketh the moderne Hebren Letter to be of later deuile. But as the Egyptians had two forts of Letters, one facred and hieroglyphicall, the other vulgar; and as with vs the writing proper to the publike 40 Courts in Court and Chancerie hands differ from the common writing : so the Hebrewes also might have a two fold writing, the one in civill and common affaires, still read in the Samaritans Bookes and Coines; the other Ecclesiastike or facred, vied by the Priests and Leuites, and in which the holy Scriptures are preferred; which then became Secular and Vulgar, when their emulation against the Samaritans admitted nothing common betwire them, especially in Letters, which it appeareth they learned of one of the Samaritan Priefts of Bethel, of Ieroboams inftitution, and not of Leuiticall race. For it is probable that Ierobams bafer Priefts either could 1888,12.13. & not, or would not write in that Leuiticall and Priestly Character, but retained voto all purpofes that which before had beene admitted only to civill affaires. He conceiveth them to bee both of Ifraeluicall originall; and if either be ancienter, the facred (still stiled Hebrew) to have the 50 preheminence, Ecclefiasticall things being of more Antiquitie then civill; in which fenfe Irenaus calleth the ancient Hebrew Letters, Sacerdotales; these being also more simple and vnitorme then the Samaritan, as is feene in the lod, which our Saujour citethas the left of Letters, which yet Mat. 5.18. in the Samaritan is multiforme and large. However the cafe flands herein, it is evident they are both very ancient, and as it were Mother-letters to the rest of the World : which as wee have noted alreadie of the Chaldee, lonike and Latine, so may it be observed in the principall of those others which we shall anon present to your view. Plinie reporteth that Cadmie brought fixteene Letters into Greece, to which in the Troian Plin.l.q.c.56.

Warre Palamedes added foure others @ E O X , and after him Simonides other Z H Ψ Ω. Ari-60 Rotle faith there were eighteene ancient ABTAEZIKAMNOHPETTO, to which Epi-sarmu added @ x, or rather Palamedes : veteres Gracas fuiffe eafdem pene que nunc funt latine, he auerreth out of a Brazen Table in the Palace inscribed NAVSIKRATES TISA-MENO ATHEN AIOS (fo Scaliger expressethit) inlater Letters Naumzpanse Treadow Adware. Scaliger also out of an old Scholy vpon Emipedes his Orestes, affirmeth that the old Greekes had seventeene Letters, fixteene of Cadmu his Invention, and Vadded thereto, and thinkes this to be Ariflules affertion, who would never have reckoned o for one, being of later muention. Thele tenenteene are ABFAEHIKAMNOFPETT. Before ⊕ & x were invented by Simonides, faith Marine Villorinns, they vied to place after T, T, K, the alpirate H, as THEOE, HHIAOE, KHPONOE for sele, ende, gerie. Butlet the studious herein read Scaligers whole Discourse or Digression in his Notes vpon Easebins his Chronicle, who also given the examples mentioned by Herodotus: AMTHITPVON. M. ANETHEKEN. EON. AHO. TEAEBAON. in the moderne Letters, Αμειτεύων μ' ανέθηκει δών από Τηλεζούων, The like he doth in divers others. But an old Infcription Io in lonke Letters I could not but transcribe from nim. It was ingrauen in a Piller in Via Appia, thence removed to the Farne fian Gardens; whereby it appeares that their Inite Letters continued in Italylong after they had ceasied in Greece.

> ODENI. DE MITON MET AKINES AL EK. TO. TRIORIO. HO. ESTIN. Eri. TO TRITO, EN. TEL HODOL TEL APPIAL ENTOL HERODO: ANDOL O NAP. LOION. TOL KINESANTI. MAPTUS. DAIMON. ENHODIA, KAI, HOI KIONES. DEMETROS. KAI. KORES ANA DEMA. KAI A DONION. DEON. KAI.

> > The same Inscription in later Greeke Letters.

- χώλος τω πινώσωτι. Μάρτυς

ideri deputis pelaxision en võ Teronis, ő égre öni võ reirou de Tê o fo Tê Amaia έν τω Ηρώ ν άχο. ε χάρ

Adum Crosta, x oi

Plinie faith that the Petafei first brought Letters into Italy : Heurnius cites thefe Verles out of an old Booke touching the Inventers of Letters.

> Moses primus Hebraicas exaranit literas : • Mente Phanices Sagaci condiderunt Atticas : Quas Latini feriptitamus edidit Nicostrata: Abraham Syras & idem reperit Chaldaicas Ifis arte non minore protulit Ægyptias: Gulfila prompfit Getarum quas videmus vltimas.

But who is so literate as to reduce the Letters of each Nation to their first founder? it feeming probable, that as Nations became more civill, fo some more Heroike Spirit in each Nation deuited new of himfelie, or derived the old from fome other Nation, or made a mixture of both : besides that the conquered Nations vsually have received in some part both Language, 50 and Letters, with their Lawes from the Conquerors:

We fee still that those which teach short writing, can and doe deuise new Characters daily for that purpose; that others ordaine Cyphres or Characters only knowne to those whom the Authour shall impart the skill vnto; and these diversified ad libitum, as any intends to impound or pale in his fecrets or mytheries of State, or Art; fome of which perhaps in procede of time haue beene made vulgar and ordinary Letters. These mysticall Writers have also denised other Arts of concealement, as writing with Allume water, not to be read after it is once dried, but laid in water; with an Onyon, to be read at the fire, &c.

Differing figures of Letters and diuerfitie of Infruments and

Now for the varietie and differing formes, Art hath superabounded : both in the subject and instrument, some writing with Pencils as the lapentes and Chinois, others with Pens, others 63 with Instruments of Iron as the Malabars, of Gemmes, Brassealte, or other metall, in Tablebookes, Leaues, Barkes, Wood, Stone, Aire, Sand, Duft, Metall, Paper, Cloth, Parchment, and innumerable other materials : in the forme also and manner, with Quippos in Stones or Threads, as in Pern; with P. Ctures as in Mexico, and the Egyptian Hieroglyphikes; with Characters, Diversity of Letters, and of the posture or reading of them. CHAP.17.

each expressing a worder thing, not a letter, as the Chinois, laponites, and our Arithmeticians and Attronomers in the figures of their Arts; some with nevy Torches, as you may read in Captaine Cap. Smith, Smiths following Relations; the most have vied letters, which by Art are disposed to frame all words, and hath beene the most complete kind of writing which ever was. But Babel never had more confusion of languages then Letters have sustained alteration, differenced both by place and time, yea and by the humours of mon. Thus not onely divers languages have divers letters, but the lame language, as it changeth with time, so the letters also are diverlified, as in the lowite and later Greeke harn beene observed, from both which the Moderne Greekes write much differingly. In this our Countrey wee have had manifold successions of letters in succeeding ages, as Why Suzza is most easie to be seene in well furnished Libraries, and that especially of the Miracle of industry letters seased. in this kind, Sir Robert Cotton, both in Bookes, Chartells, and Letters. The Conquerour (as Ingulfus, Edmerus and others then living observe) would not indure the English Language or Letters, whereby the Savon Letters are now commonly extinct. And both all Records of old, and ters vied with ters, whereby the Savon Letters are now commonly extinct. the divers Courts of this Kingdome, yea every Copy-booke and each writing Mafters Matterpiece hanged forth to publike view, easily manifest the passed and present varietie of Letters in common vie at the same time. It is impossible therefore to give an example of all, either Letters or Languages. Yet in this fo Generall a History, I thought it would minister some delight to the Reader, to have a taste of that immense varietie, which here out of Thefins Ambrofins, Postellins, Duretus, Scaliger, Gramaye, Lazius, &c. we exhibite.

Let the Reader take notice allo of the varying in lines, some reading (as the Latines, Greekes, Divers wayes and most of the Europeans ) from the left hand to the Right sidewayes; the Hebrewes , Ara- of Reading. bites, and most of the Indians (except the Malabars and Siamites ) from the right to the left : the lugres, Cathagans, Tartars, that is the most of the Easterne and Northeasterne Asians Ispenin Char write their lines downeward, and multiply them from the left hand to the right, as you may ter light. S. fee in the Iaponian charters following. And in Patane they, vie three, both languages and forts of writing: the Malayan, which I have feene in Arabic characters written from the right hand; that of Siam from the left , and that of China downewardes. The people of Tangut (Northneighbours to China) are faid to write from the right hand to the left, and to multiply their lines vpwards. The Mexicans had writings in forme of a wheele, which were read from the America books. Center vpwards to the Circumference. In Hendaras they had Bookes of Paper made of Cot- Sec a whole ton-Wooll, or the inner Barke of Trees, or of Metleleanes, folded like Broad-cloathes, the History in Picwriting whereof was partly painting (where fuch things as had forme or figure were therein tures. To.a.l.s. represented) partly in Hieroglyphical characters, as Fishhookes, Starres, Snares, Files, &cc. In Heraldry.

these they kept their Records. And our Heralds Art keepeth records of pedegrees in a kinde of Magicallicha-Hieroglyphikes, not much vnlike. To let passe Magicall characters, Thesian Ambrosius hath pub- racters an i lished a confused kind of scroll, the Copie oftone (hee faith) written by the Deuill. I had ra- diabolicall. ther mention that which Eufebiss in the life of Constantine recordeth written by Diuine hand, which some say was the Crosse, but by his description appeareth rather to have beene the two firt letters of Christs name, , and , combined , with promise of victory to the prous Emperour, not in that fignt (of the Crosle) but in Christ himselfe, to whom be glory for euer, Amen. The Phonician or Samaritan Letters , which some fay were the Mosaicall and first Hebrew, with the Names of the elder and later Syrians, and the Ionike and later Greeke Letters answering them, and answered by the Latine, we have transcribed out of Iofeph Scaliger in this forme and order.

Apellationes

foreitus lenis, as in that hexametre [ auus d' Feich verto Beb. & l'aucon Feich ] it is neither Confonant nor Vowell, there being a Synalephe for ei and no Pontion in Fair. H with the old lones was as H with the Latines, as in that HO DO I in the former Inscription is feenenthey allo vied E onely, both long and thort tyllable, as in the same Inscription KINES ANTI (heweth, and TEI for 73. Beds lib.de Indigetatione hath touching those Emenua these words; Grace omnions suis literis exprimunt numeros. Verum toto Alphabeti sui charactere in numerorum figuras extenso, tres, qui plus sant, numeros, notus propriys que ex Alphabeto non sunt depingant. Prima est & que dictiur Episimm, & est nota rumeri VI. Secunda eft G, que vocatur Kophe, & valet in numero XC. Tertia est a que dicitur Enneacosta quia valent DCCCC. But let the learned read Scaliger himfelfe.

| AppellationesSyrorumofterioru. | AppellatioSyrorumveterum. | nes  | Phæ |   | era recentiorumun veterum.                          | & Latina. |
|--|-----------------------------------|------|-----|---|---|-----------|
| Olaph,                                 | Alpha.                            | ĸ    | И   | AAA.                                    | Adaça.  | Á.        |
| Beth.                                  | Betha.                            | 7    | 2   | В.                                      | Sita.   | В.        |
| Gomal.                                 | Gamla.                            | z    | T   |   | Fayne.  | C.        |
| Dolath.                                | Delta.                            | 3    | 1   | D 🛦.                                    | NATA.   | D.        |
| He.                                    | He.                               | ħ    | E   | £ €.                                    | ä.  | E.        |
| Wau.                                   | Wau.                              | ٦ "  | Y   | ς F C.                                  | inoques fail  | F.        |
| Zoc.                                   | Zetha.                            | 40   | H   | 7.                                      | ζīτα.   | G.        |
| Heth.                                  | Hetha.                            | ħ    | 4   | н.                                      | ที่ชน   | н.        |
| Teth.                                  | Tethr.                            | υ    | 6   | o⊕ ⋕ .                           | Jira.   |           |
| - Iul.                                 | Iota.                             | •    | न   | 1                                       | ί ũτ α.  | ī.        |
| Chuph.                                 | Kappa,                            | 31   | ᆲ   | к.                                      | Krávya,   | ĸ.        |
| Lonad.                                 | Lambda                            | 5    | Ž   | ۸ L . ٔ                                 | AduCda.   | L.        |
| Mim.                                   | Me.                               | מ    | 9   |   |   | M.        |
| Nun.                                   | Nun.                              | 1    | ๒ไ  | ν <sub>N</sub> .                        | μυ,   | N.        |
| Semchath.                              | Simcha.                           | 5    | 3   | 3 4 M 2                                 | yű.   | 14.       |
| Ε.                                     | Or.                               | יי   | o l | 7                                       | 7.  | 0.        |
| Phe.                                   | Phe.                              | D    | 2   | 1 - (W) 1.                              | rî.   | 0.        |
| Tzode.                                 | Tzode.                            | - i- | 50  |   |   | .::       |
| Kugh.                                  | Kophe.                            | Þ    | Y   |   | Morper ourse.   | Ρ.        |
| Reich.                                 | Roe.                              | · .  | 9   | P.D.                                    | של מוננסי צו אדתם יים ביים ביים ביים ביים ביים ביים ביי | Q.        |
| Schin,                                 | Schin.                            |      | w   | . 7                                     | ä.  | R.        |
| Thau.                                  | Thau.                             | n    | N   | $ ≥ ∑ C {.                             | ξάν. σίζμα.   | S.        |
|  | mani ,                            |      |     |   | ้สข้.   | T.        |
|  |                                   |      |     | YVY.                                    | to the second   | • • •     |
|  |                                   |      |     | Φ mir Φ 4. 61                           |   | • • •     |
|  |                                   |      |     | x1. χ                                   |   | • • •     |
|  |                                   |      |     | Ψ. ↓7.                                  |   | • • •     |
|  |                                   |      |     | Ω • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • • |   | Κ.        |

BY the figure of chefe Characters it is easie to bee gathered that the Letters (which Herodotus Calletth Καθμίδα χάμματα, seene by him in the Temple of Apollo Ismenius at the Baotism Thebes oussa corra reiss lurississ) were deuifed by Cadmus, with no great alteration in the most from the Pharmeian, except in the turning them from the right had posture to the left, and adding sometimes, sometimes cutting off some particks. The Latine no lesse seemeth derived from the Ionian, and are in the most the very same. Your eyes may easily discerne and judge; and Scaligers Commentary is well worth your confultation herein, too long to transcribe or translate hither. Of the twenty two all had not the vie of Letters and Elements of writing among the Ioniani, but fixteene onely : the reft were called Storages, that is notes, to wir, of Spirit or Numbers : and 62 therefore the first note & stands for the numerall Vi. F is Stignuer & Sad in Reed of Way, where of the Lolians had frequent vie, which called Exirn Ferien, & the effore was not reputed a Letter, because it might be taken away without change to the word; it stands also for a note of the

The Hebrew Letters and Names thereof now in vse are thefe.

I have also added two Coines of the old Samaritan letters, the higher described from Pestellus his Introduction of twelve languages, the lower from Bezas larger Annotations, Matth. 17. His words are Huius vero numi id est dimidij Stateris argentei, qui quatuor Drachmarum erat quales off Judai olim signarant veram imazinem hic exprimendam curaui, expressam ex vero & puri puis argenti numo, mili a sido illo Christi serus D. Ambrosio Blaurero, donato. Habet autem hic numus Samaritanis liLI B.IO teris insignes, una ex parte ornamillam sacram, in qua recondita fuit Manna, superposita litera Aleph. qua declaratur simplex bic fusse siclus, duarum videlicet drachmarum, cum duplex esset drachmarum quatur, cum inscriptione [SCHEKEL IISRAEL] id est, Siclus Ifrael: ex alteravere. Vergam ella Aaronis florentem, cum inscriptione [IERVSCHALAIM KODSCHAH] saeft lerufalem Santta. That of Postellus ( of Silver also ) differeth somewhat in the figure and the superfeription S.B. which (I conceive ) fignifieth that it was a double Shekel.

I haue added an Obelisk or Columne inscribed with Egyptian Hieroglyphikes, copied out of Granage; and in the basis thereof haue added another described out of Laurentius Pignerius his Menfe Isace expositio, where the Reader may feast himselfe with Characters of that kind. I also 111,pag.910. haue elsewhere guen some of those Egyptian figures. These I thought good to adde for illustration of that mention of the Croffe in the Ecclefiastical History against the Egyption figures in the Temple of Sarapis, which occasioned the conversion of many Ethnikes to Christianity.

> The Alphabets following wee have distinguished by figures, for the Readers better understanding of the exposition added. Wherein we have most followed Gramaves.

?9**U1)^GNILLM7\\\ 9&ZM Q&*L*^$ZXZY3VVV7v m f ~ ~ U b ~ a ( o 3 o 3 o a a a

I. He first is that of the Alans or Lumbards, set forth by Patricius : other haue beene published by Bonaneutura Vulcanius in his Specimen Variarum linguarum, and others. 2. The old Aleman Alphabet of Trithemins, much different from those of de Bry, Hermannus Hugo, and lames Benamentura. 3. An olde Magicke Alphabet of Honorius Thebanus, of which there are other kinds too many. 4. An Alchymicke of Cid Abdalla, of which the Africans have other forts. 5. Gramay faith, it is an old English Alphabet fometimes published by Sir Thomas Moore. 6. The ABC. vied by the Priefts of Inpiter Ammon, detailed by Mercurius Lepotius. 7. The Abassive attributed to Salomon; many others by many others are so inscribed. 8 The Affyrian, afcribed to Abrabam. 9. The old Apulian, which inverted and read from the bottome is one kind of the Armenian fathered on Saint lohn Chryfoftome.

10 ALSERYZY&T8A39XHV PORTS ℧℈℞Åⅆℋℙ℣ℙⅅⅆℴ⅋℄⅋℄⅋℄ⅅℿℴ℩ℍKℋℍK℁℀℈℄ℒⅆ THE WANTER THE WALLE THE WALL THE WALL THE WALL THE WALL THE WALLE THE WALL THE WALL

The 10. is an old Asian Alphabet ascribed to Peter the Hermit. 11. The old Attite of Iamael Megapolius. 12. The old Norman A. B. C. of Rollo. Duret and others have other kindes. 13. The old Alphabet of the Baleares to described by Ced Tabia. 14. The Suemian or old Frifian. 15. The old Cantabrian of Charles the Great, 16. The Bohni-Seruian or Slavonian of Saint Cyrill, that also diversified. 17. The Burgundan or Aitrologian of Ismael. 18. 19. running or sait hand with Ciceros and Crorians notes.

NZ4TTITIUA>$N>U Y 9Z1\UT

20. 21. 22. are Cabalistical! Alphabets attributed, one to the Angell Raphael, the next to Enoch, the third to Abraham: of which forts Duret, Postellas and others have delivered, with like credit to thefe. 23. The old Celtike of Doratus 24. The Carnike or Finnike of Viphila. 25. The old Saxon of Official Monachus. Lazius, Munster, Thefens Ambrofius, Ge. have described others. 26. The Punke. 27. The Cretan or Phrygian of Hercules. 28. The Chaldean of Abrakam, that also varied by others.

ΔΒΓΛΓ 7 LI Ω I V X M N ☐ O O D T T V Å V ¾ Λ ϒϒϪϪͰϪϴͶϘͰϒϪϒϤͺϹΕΉΕΨΙΡΟΥ Υ 1 V D C D C L Q LIV T W N N L K Y Y V X X X

> 29. The old Conficus Alphabet, 30. The old Combrian of Hichus. 31. The old Danes 32. The old Dician. 33. The old Dalmatike of Methodius, 34. Lumbard notes of Ciceroes Tiro. 35. The East Frances of Hanibald. 36. The old Galles of Wastnaldus. 37. Gallogrecian of Rotila. 38. Old German of Faramund.

USULT TO THE TENENT OF THE SULT OF THE SUL ℀ℍKℎℍΩ℡ℴℿℙℹℂℒℯ℧ⅆ℀⅌ℴℷ℀℮

> 39. The Georgian of Saint James. 40. Old Gotike. 41. Getike or Maffagetike. 42. Old Spanith Gotthe of Rodericus, 43. Old Scythian-Hunnike of Attila. 44. Two old Hetrurian. 45. Old Helnetian-Saxon, of Charles the Great. 46. Illyrian of Saint Ierome. 47. An African Alphabet in the last page of Gramayes Specimen linguarum & literarum minersi orbis : which hee thus nameth in their rder, the first Aips , A. the word fignifieth an Eare. The second Ecb, E. and both representeth and fignifieth an Eye. The third Ifr. a Nofe. I. The fourth Ombr O. The Tongue. 5. Vald, a Hand. V. 6. Lambd. L. the Earth. 7. Mab, the Sea. M. The S. Nift, the Aire. N. S. Rafeb, Fire. R. 10. Bap. the Sunne. It is a B. and with a dash P. 11. Cek. The Moone. C. and with a dash K.12. Dagt, the Sword of Mars D. and T.1: Greq. G. Mercuris. 60 14. Vaf. Venus, V. and with a dash F. 15. Stach. Saturne. S. and with a dash X. 16. There.

It fignifies h nothing but is added to the beginnings and ends of periods. They read, as the Hebrewes, from the right hand to the left, and the line should have beene fet the other way.

phabet , with the Letter 2 Б В E u  $\Sigma$ Œ æ Þ lui 6 Ŭ ф C Ü h ٥ ŏ λγι е 7

CHAP.17. Diners kinds of Easterne Alphabets. Malabar writing.

A. added thorowout. 49. Syriak. 50. Arabike. They haue divers other forts of Letters, as in Erpennius Postellus , Megiserus and others which have written of them is feene. The Turkes also vie the same Letters and Points, or notes of vowels, howforuer their Language differeth much, being neerer the Perfian and Tartarian. 51. Armenian. 52. Dalo matian, 93. Russian. 54. The Incobites, 55. Egyptian. 56. Indian. 57. Perfian. 58. The old Syriake. In these wee have followed Gramaye, but could haue giuen more complete and exact Alphabets, if the cutting had not beene fo exceeding chargeable; This for a tafte may ferue, and we all know, that in our own & other Tongues and Nations (as hath been faid)the Letters and kinds of writingare exceedingly diversified : so that for any man to expect all the Leta

ters of all Countries must needs bee impossible, each varying fo much in it felfe.

48. The Ethiopike Al-

I have added also this Copie of Malabar Writing, read as the Latine from the right hand, written with a needle in a Palme leafe folded up, of 50 which I have two of great length and many folds.

*മുവയുമൂട്ട ഖ നയ്*പ്പെട്ട*ന്*ത്വട്ട @wxv@serenwn@@sas てかしのりいいかのであるがよの m 600 52 5 5 6 00 €

The China Characters are seene in our Map of China, the Iaponian in the Charter of that Emperour to our Merchants in Capraine Saris his Journall, as also the Indeftan and Arabike; the Tomat Lacit. Mexican Hieroglyphikes in a whole Historie therein written. Wee have ended with our owne 2007.13.6.13 ancient Savon Characters. But first will give you another fort of Viphilas Gotike Characters fet forth by De Bry.

See of these Gatile Letters, Tom. 2,13 6,23.

Vlphilas Gotike, and the Saxon Alphabet.

|     | •             |            |     |           | , · • |   |
|-----|---------------|------------|-----|-----------|-------|---|
| ļ   |               | A          | 4   | ] p       | r     | [ |
|     |               | ь          | Ь   | δ         | s     |   |
|     | B             | С          | С   | r         | ş     |   |
| •   | 4             | , b | , d | 7         | t .   |   |
|     | VBN 4445X15VV | € 1        | E   | u         | 14    | 1 |
|     | ધું           | · c        | e   | p         | 129   |   |
|     | XI        | F          | f   | $\propto$ | X     |   |
|     | h             | 3          | g   | x         | x     | İ |
|     | Ψ             | b          | ь   | Ӱ́        | 7     |   |
|     |               | i 1        | i   | Æ         | Æ     |   |
| · : | Ķ             | 1          | 1   | Æ         | a ·   | - |
|     | AKRAYUAP      | m          | m   | Ð.        | Th    |   |
|     | ÜJ        | n          |     | 8         | t b   |   |
|     | Ϋ́            | o          | 0   | þ         | tb    |   |
|     | •             | P          | P   | 1         | and   |   |
| 1   |               | g,         | 9   | - j       | that  | 1 |

The end of the first Booke

301

AN ALPHABETICALL TABLE OF THE PRIN-

CIPALL THINGS CONTAINED IN THE FIRST BOOKE

of the first Part of PVRCHAS his Pilgrims.

A Atalla, a Papall Eafterne Patriarke;
151 Abassines their habitation, Religion, Rites and opinions, 137,138, 147,148,149.

Abdetu an Easterne Patriarke, 151.
Ægypt, Christiantic there sometime exceedingly shourshed, 112.
What Christians there now, 113.

Encas bis Navigation,

Echiopian Church tier rites and opinions, 138. There faith declared at large by Tecla Maria an Ethopian, 147-148. & ffq.

Aftica hash be richeft Mues in the World, 28. Her religion, 112.113 & fog.

Aftican segue, 101. Almost all

Africke Mahametan or Gen-

siden, 112.11 G.11 S. lewes there, 129. The terride parts of Afrike Fent. 129. The terride parts of Afrike Fent. 129. The terride parts of Afrike Fent. 129. The terride to the territory of the

His ambition fruitfrate, danger, efcape, view of the Ocean, 85, His marrage, fealts, gand, source ning, rage, death, 86
Alexanders Port, 87
Alexandria builded by Alexander, 83
Algum trees mentioned, 2. Chronicles, 38
Almog trees, 38
Alphabets diners kinds old and new,

181,182.183.184. & feq.
Alpres why fo termed, Aluarez taxed for his report of the Nubians their dependance on the Pope, 137 Amazonian tale, 84

America shash and newly inhabited, 30. Whisher nem-peopled, and when the word three first preached, 38. The multiplying of pagle and cattle there, 60. What Christians among them., and there poore Christiansie, 115.
Ferre large Regions thereof, as large as Europe poligida by the Sponstard, 115. The whole Conv.

trey stored with Beares, Lions, Tigres, Wolues, Foxes, &c. 120 Ammons Oracles Anabaptists deay their Baptisme, 7 They wickedly remoone the Land

marke, 16
Anacharlis the Philosopher his tra-

His ambusion frustrate, danger, escapes, view of the Ocean, & His morrise, feeling, view of the Ocean, & His Monkes, 160 Monkes the Applituder to present the place where the Antiochia, the place where the Name of Christians was first beard in the World, 129. The Patriarch there of, Ants casting up be aps full of golden Sands,

Ants as great as a mans span, 89
Anzichi an Idolatrons and maneasing nation, 113 Apes, 39-436
Apochrypha Bookes fast, attribu-

Apochrypha Bookes fast attributed to the Apostles & o bers, 56 Apollonius Tyanxus bie Pilgrimage, 76

Apotlles their mission and preheminence, 50. Their preaching through all the World, 51. Their tenques & miracles, 53. Their preaching in the old knowne World, 57 Apotlolicall Alls & Conquests, 61 Aquitaine speech, 106 Arabian Gusse.

Arabicke Language which, & where floken, 110 Arabic the neft that bred and fostered Mahumett free, 116

Archbishops of the Romane Pronince, 168 Archbishops of Spame and their re-uenues, 170 Argyre, stored with gold & filmer, 33 ArgoAritippus by flattery a Trencher-Worme to Dyonifius the tyrant, 75 Ariftotle, bie birth, life, tranels, Oc. A menians their religion, opinions, andrites, 139. Their Lyturgie or publike fernice, 143. Their Patriarkes, numbers, Preachers, ar Armezia, non Ormus a fertile Re-Attareth a supposed Region, 123 Arfaratha a Citie mentioned by the ancient, Art, but she supply of Natures defects, Alceticall Monks, Afia, the fenerall Religions therein : many Mabumetans & Pagans, 112. In what parts thereof, Christianitie bath taken roote.

114. neere one halfe thereof corrupted by Mahumetans, 116.117 Another halfe by Idolaters, 118. What lewes found among st them.

Augustinians bane 555. Monasteries in Italy in Europe 4000. 174 Autoion in France the Popes Conn-Authours exemfe for bis European promife. Author of the World, Man, Peregrinations, all things, Babilon, the Metropolis of the Baboones oreater then women, and little differing from their [hape,79 Bacchus bis fenerall names , his Priests. 22. His tranels; with dimers bis famous exploits, 68.69 Bagilara a Harbour in India, 87 Ballas, Baptilme enery yeere vfed by the Ethiopians, & the reason there-Baptilme in the Greeke Church,

Barbarians vananished by Alexan-Barna a Towne where are Gardens | Bucephalia a Citie built by Alexof Murrhe, flowres, culture of Bartnolomew the Apolle, bus preaching, life, death, &c. 55 Bay salled Hesperus bis borne; wherein a great Hand; in the Iland a Lake, and in it another !land full of Woods , when in the night are kindled fires, and beard the noise of Cimbals, Drums, and infinite (bonts.

Beatts fed with fifb, 87. A beaft fo bigge that her denomest a whole Beda translated some part of the Scriptures into the Saxon or Engtab conque. Benemath and Leniathan a level Belgian Bifboprickes, 123

Benedictine Order berond the Iefuiticall, Benomotapa a great Kingdome in Africk;

Beffus hu marthering of Darius, his torture. Bion the Philosopher. Bishops bow differing from the A. pofiles, 52. Religion reomforted Bishopricks of the Roman Proninge 168. & fequitur , Bifbopricks in India, 173. Bisboprickes in Spaine, France, Low-countries, Germany, Switzer, Hungaria, Poland, Prassia, England, Scot. land, Denmarke, Sweden, 170.

.171.172.173

Books of frange kinds of paper, 179 Brachmans, their manner of limme, they have no inftrument to worke no beasts, tillage, vie of Iron: they alwayes worft in God: alwayes pray looking to Heanen; they eate what they finde on the ground; the men line of on fide Ganges, the women on the o. ther , to whom their bufbands bane recourse certaine monether.

Beerewood bis Enquiries of Languages,95. of Religious professed in the World.

Bread made of the meale of rofted fi-Bread for the Greekes Eucharist.

salled pure bread, made by a pure Britaine in Cæfars time. Buharta, a (mall /land, Bucephalus Alexanders fierce ander where bis Horfe Bucephalus died.

Byfcaines among the Spaniards boast that they are the right Hidalgos or Gentlemen,

Abots Voyage. Calabria revolted from the Bifton of Rome, and for a long time pertain ned to the Patriarke of Conftantin Calaminhan Empire contagning thirteene Kingdomes, bath great Calanus the Philosopher his trauels, and burning of himselfe, 76 Hu Epiftle to Alexander,

Cambyius, the foune of Cyrus bie Expeditions, Carus the highest part of the Priene Hils; whence fo salled; Carbuncies Cardandan an Iland plentifull for gold, lying about the bead of Gan-

Cardinals in the Romane Empire, Carneades. Carthage Queene of the Cities of Afrike, Carthaginians called their Cities Lybipbænician, Cattile. Cat za an Ile facred to Mercury, &

Venus, whither dedicated Geats and Sheepe are yeerely fent, which there grow wild. Celtz inhabiting the middle part of France, their language, Cerne an Iland in Africa,

Chaldee language and Paraphrafe, Chansan, Characters Magicall and Diabelia

Cheele-funday. Chiama lake , neere it many rich Mynes. Chingis first founder of the Tarta-rian Empire. Christ the Sunne of Righteoufneffe, 8. His Kingdome not of this World, 14. Hu Peregrimations.

hristians, 8. Their grace and glory, 9. Compared with Philosophers. 10. Their hold, 1 5. They are rich, free, and Kings, 11.12 the diners forts of Christians, 127. S.Thomas Christians. 5 5.132. Chri-Stians much fewer fince the Tartars. 58. almost all Europe Chriftian. 1 1 2. Christians poffeffe neere about a fixt part of the knowne inhabited Earth, 126. Christian liberty,

THE TABLE

Christian Religion entred the Inner -India in Constantines dayes. 92 Christian Churches under the Turks Dominson, Christians in America, Christians their Liturgie, or publike Sermice, 143.744. & feq. Christian religion amided into foure parts in regard of ber professors through the World, 146 Christopheros Angelos bis Borke, Chimiake Order.

Church declining and recomfor-Chryse plentifull for Gold and Sil Chryfoltome the Translator of boly Scripture into the Armenian tongne Cingianfigu a City in China, many Christians dwelling there, 114 Circaffians their abode , vites , and opinions, 130. They celebrate their diume Sernice in Grecke, which their Priests themfelnes underfland not, Circumcifion among the Tartars, 121. Amongst what others Nasions it hath beene v fed, and from whom received. Circumnauigations of Afrike Circumnauigation of the Indian and Euxine Sea, Cleo bis freech, Clitomachus the Philosopher, Clitus flaine by Alexander.

Clouen tongues, Coines as olde as fince Salomons dayes, 177. Ifrael-Samaritan Cames, Colonies in England, Columbus Voyage,

Comala, Communion in the Greek Church.

Compaffe: the ancients bad is not, 27 Cofeffion in the Greek Church, 157 Confirmation in what manner v-

Conquerours the Conquest of Reli-Conquest Apostolicall, Contrantinople the feat of the Turkish Empire bath abone twenty Churches of Christians, Constantinopolican would be fi led Vniner (all Bilboo, 166. Hee had three Dioceffes acknowledged by the Chalcedon Councell, 167 Convertion of the World praved

Conversion of Indians and Iberi Dendroboia, 87. Denmarke, 173

Cophti or Christians of Agypt, their religion, opinions , & rues, 135.136. Their Liturgie, 145. The deference between the Copbn and the Ethiopians, 149 sheir Synod at Catro, Coruina an Iland, where are sheepe mbole flesh taftes like Sea-fawles, spey being fed was fiftes, and hawing no graffe there, Jouncell of Chalcedon caufed perplexitie and traubles in Eafterne Counterfeits fathered on the Apefiles. Countries are to relieve and inrich one another. Countrey (melling of Spices, Countrey full of flames, in the midft phereof an exceeding high fire reaching unto the starres, Creation of Man.

Creatures very france and fabri-Ci cefus, Crocala an Ile. 78.79 Crocodiles, Croffe, bowefteemed in the Greeke Church. Croffe Faft, Croffing of a porfened Cup, Ciclias the Philosopher atraneller. but ben often trancis from the truth. Curai certaine people in Affa their babitation.

Cyrill, Preacher of the Gospell to Gentile Nations, and Innenter of Illyrian Characteri, Cyrus bis Conquests.

Almatians the valgar translation of boly Scriptmes vied amonost them , which (ome thinke to bee the worke of I erome

Darius his expedition, 73. His bastels with Alexander, 82. Hee is flaine by reafon of bis owne, 84 David bis talents, 26. His bufbandry 37. Whither bee fent Ships to Day at Wardbonfe, and the North Cape reckened two monethes and Cenen houres. D' acons in the Greek Church, 162

Declinity of the chanels of Riners, 64.65 Dædalus flight, co | Deuill a Traneller. Dia an Ile where Birds frot quils which killed mer, &c. Diamants where the most & best 37 Diogenes comparing bimfelfe with Alexander, Dirtiotis a Village of the Babilonias, a Mart for the Spices of Arabia,88 Dodon a Towne in the Ile Pilora, which hath nothing but filb and water, Dug-tale of a Dogfaft, Dolphins.

> Doma an Ile, Donha Simon a Papall Eafterne Patriarke. Dragons fewenty cubits long, Drufi , a pe-ple dwelling in Syria about the skirts of Libarne, 119

Datchmen iben Sea- greatneffe, 20 EArth, her deficulties, 17. The of N ans. The earth at the fir f forming of 11 was in the Superficies, regular and Sphericall, 124 The cause of the unemenelle and irregularityebercof now, ibid. The quantity and proportion of the parts of the earth , poffeffed by Christians, Mabumetans & Getiles, 126. The earth is equally poyfed on both fides of ber owne center, 127. The ceter of the earth and of the water are all one, shid, Eafter bow celebrated in the Gracks Church.

Ecclefiafficall Polity ancient and moderne. Egypts multiplying by the Ifrae-

Elana, 22. Eloth, ibid. Elath, 23 Elephants could not come into Peru, 27. Their nature, Elias Patriarke of Babylon, bis letter to the Pope, bis belief, 164.165 Emeralds, England the Archbifhoppes and Bi-Thops thereof, Englishmen, their Sea greatnes, 20 English Alphabet very old published by Sir Thomas Moore, 182 Epirotike Beech and Natson, 107 Epittle of Calanus, Eldras his allegation concerning the Tartars dif uffed, E hiopians their rites and faith declared by Tecla Maria an Ethio-Ethnikes bold in Villenage, not in flate of first wall Inbertance, 15 Their Summes & computation, 36

frange letters, which ignorant people fay were built by De-

Adira or Cadiz . a Citie built J by the Phanicians, Gadrofi, a people of India, 87 Golatians bad a peculiar Language befide the Greeke tongue, Gallicke tongu. 101 Gryphans.

Gulfe salled Notneeras jor the Son. 169 | Gallia Belgica, or the Low Coun-Ganges the breadth and depth there-Gemmes, where the most and Gentiles , their calling figured, 37 Georgians their babitation, rites, and opinious, 1 20. Their order of dinine Sernice. Gitting of Spiritmall Gifts, God ruleth over all, and gineth all dominion and rule 15. The Anther of all things, Gold, the excellence and superexee! lence thereof abone Silver, Gems, Golden Regions, 32.33. Gold Ants, 32. Gold Bels, 33. Gold in fome of the East parts little prehensiwence about filmer. Golden Fleece. Gorgones, Sauage men, their bodies all oner bairie, Gothes their true Natine Conn-Gothicke Translation of the foure Enangelists, remayning in the Abbey of Werdin. 14e Gotike Alphabet. Gotland and Thule difconered by Himilco , within 24. degrees of the Pole, where the day in Inne is 22. boures. Grandemont Order. Greece, the bounds thereof. Grecians obedient to the Patriarch of Conftantinople, Grecian Shippes muster againft Greeke tonguethe extent thereof in ancient time, 95. The extent thereof in vulgar vie, 96. The decay of the old Greeke where, & whence, and bow corrupted, 97 The difference of the old and mederne Greeke, Greeke Church the opinions and Characters thereof. 128. Their Liturgie, Greekes their condition of life, their rites of Fasts, Feasts, and other Obsernations, gat bered ont of the Booke of Christopher Angelos, a Greekish Monke and Priest 154.155. fcq. Greeke letters. 177. Greeke In. feriptions in Ionike letters, 178

Greeke Alobabet.

T Acobaan tree,

Lacobites whence fo called, their

Grizons,

Street and  $H_{\rm current}$ HAbastia, the bounds and com-Religion, not all Christiani, but a great part Gentiles, 113 Habaffines, or midland Ethiopeans their Religion, opinions, & rates, 127. In what Language they read the Scriptures, and celebrate their Litargie, 143.144 Halitinea, an /le, Hanno and Himilco their Difcone. ry of the South and North parts, Hanno bis Voyage, Acts, and Difconeries on the Atrican-Atlantine Coaff. Hauila. Hawkins, how long in bis Voyage ere be arrived to the Indies, 42 Hebrew tongue, 29. Diners lewes ignorant thereof, 51. 111. Net unigarly underflood after the Captinitie, Hebrew letters be Innenter there-Hebrew Alphabet, 180.181 Heraclites a tranelling Philofo-Hercules bis trauels, twelne labours, Pillars, belging Atlas, with other Wonders. Herefies their spreading, 141. The succession of Easterne Here-Hesperides, Hieroglyphicall Obeliske. 181 Hils their beight, 124 Histafpis bis trauels into India, where bee learned Magicke and Philosophy, Historians, their tranels, Houses made of Whales boxes, 87 Hungaria, the Vninerfities, Bifhoprickes, and lefuits therein, 173 Hubandry a remarkable Pillar of Royall magnificence, Hydafpes a Riner which runneth into Indu. Hyrcania subdued, Iles of Maledinia above four thouopinious and rites, 134.134.Their Lauren, \$45. Their numbers, Bifrops, Monafteres, and Charlappous de Voragine translated the Serginger sure the Italian lambulus bis Navig stion to Arehim and Ethiopia and thence to 24 ftrange Hand, &c. 79.80.81 lames the brother of lobe bu death, preaching, orc. James called Alphai , and the brother of our Lord, &c. \$3.54 Saint James Order in Spaine, 170 Japonian Characters, 185 Iberians conserted. Ichthyophagi, or Fifth-eaters; they make bread of the meale of rosted filhes. Africa, and America, 118,119 How great a part of the Earth w poffeffed by Idolaters, 126 dem, In the Low Countries, 172 In Carmany, 172. In Hungaria, Poland, and Pruffia, 172 fu In-173-174 37-38 121. Dispersed in Senerall parts of the World, 119. Some ignorant of the Hebrew, \$1.0 111. Some v. fing the Greeke, Syriake, & Chaldee tongne, 111. Their tranels & difter fions . 67.119. Their publike red. 64. Hope of the lewes Conmerfion. the Acts of the Apostles BANKUIout of England, France, Spaine, Portugal, Naples & Sicily.119 of the Sea. Tewish Chaldes is of two forts. 145 Ilands not vet inhabited, \$8.1 17. A goodly lland found out by the Phoeniciant. Iland of lambalus, the people, rites, creatures, Iland facred to Neptune, macceffi-Hand where Pearles are found. 88

Sand of them in all 117
Iles lying differs federathe Ocean on the Fast and South-cast parts of Afid are in number swo or three and thirty thou fand, ..... 11 18 Images meanfeit by the activist Image of Ged, \ 1 Image a mienatoire more then halfe the lange b of Afra, $17.218 India received the name from the Riner, dudan, 28.46. le proble flore of the things brought from O-Indian Voyage examined, 42 Do. Dees caloulation and others. 43 Indian Embeffie fene se Conftanie tne. Infidels, what proprietie they have or their lands and goods, Inferior on the Greekes Eucha. lobion his travell up the River Gambra, Iocktans posteritie in India. Ichm bin banfbment , preaching, Iohn Archbifbop of Smill bis tranflation of the Scripture into the Arabike Tonque. The valear feech of that part of Spaine, 145 Ionathan Ben Vziel bie translating the Prophets and Pentatuch into the Chaldee tongue ; as also bis Paraphrase upon the Pro-Ionike letters. 177-178 Ionike Alphabet, Ireland the Bishopricks therein, 173 Ishmaelites & Midianites the first Spice-merchants. Ifmaelites and Saracens the fame Nation. Ifraelices their multiplication in . Egypt, 60 Israels peregrination in the De-Italy the Princes potent there, 166 Italian free States. 169 Italian language the beginning therof, 102. The diversitie there-Iudaisme in what Regions profes-Iupiter, Sacrifices to bim by Alexander. Iuft men, their wfe of this is orld, 14

fixteerie thou and, and another of. one Kow the increase of eight bunded, they grew wild and were killed onely for their bides. 60. Kings their right, 10. Heroicall Kings, 12. how pood a good and red up in the declining age of the Church . King I A M E S his mifedome, learmine comment &c. 13.14.48 Kante of Georgia by Laster to the -Pape. King Red who game name to the red Sea, w Knighthood Orders, Knivet bis Iournall and Frier-like super of Same Thomas presching in Brafill, Acides the Philosopher, Land not levell, where the highet. Languages, a difcourfe of the confusion thereof, ag. The Langua. ges of severall Nations, 95, 960

Bt leg . Fouveteene Languages or Mather tongues in Europe, befides Latine, which remaine not onely not abolifhed, but little or nothing altered by the Ro-Latine tongue, the Antiquitie, dignuie and extent thereof. 98.00 Latine abolifhed not the valear languages in the forreine Prouinces of the Roman Empire, Laine not unigarly spoken in all places of the Roman Empire, 102 Latine degenerating into other languages, 103. Threefold corrape tion thereof 104. Obsections concerning the extent of the Latine tonque with their folutions, 105 Latine Alphabet, Learning received by Printing, 62 Lebanon a cragged and steeps Mountaine conered continually with Snow. Legends burtherfome to the Church. Lents observed among ft the Greekes 154. Foure Lenis enery yeere, 155. Eticq. Leonard Bishop of Sidon his Relations of the lacobites.

Letters the dimerfitie thereof vied by the diverse Nations in the world, the Antiquitie, manifold vie and varietie there f, with Ex-

TT Inc fo multiplying in Ameri-A ca, that one man bad abone

Idanthryfus, Idolatrous Nation in Europe, Afia, Liomara. Terufalem. Issuites their number and Colledges · in Italy, Lehrica in Spaine, 171. In Francoibis Icwels. Lewes dinided into three forts, 31. Service or Lyingse. 143. Iewish Church and Romish compa-Iewes destructions. Lewes for what canfe often termed in lewes when expelled and banished Iewish Fables of inclosed lewes, and emplary descriptions of abone three fenerall Alphabets, with other strange writings, Etleq. Letters 28.vfed by the Inhabitants of the Hand of I ambulus, but fenen Characters, Librarie at Caire very famous, 1 ft Lice leave men and die when they arrune at the Indies. Liturgies of Christians in the finerall pares of the world, in what language celebrated, 142,143. Loadstone, 26.38. whither Salemen know the vie thereof. Loraine. Lord of all God, 7. The pooreft Slame Lord. Low-Countries.

M

MAceta a Rocke, whence Cinamen and Spices are carried to the Assirians, Magicke Alphabet, Mahumetan professours in the world 116. Their multiplying in A. fricke, and Afia, and the caufe thereof, 117. How great a part of the Earth they possesse, 126. Their Liturgie or publike ser-Malabar writing, 185 Malana the etmost border of the O-Mans threefold tenure, Microcofunicall, Cosmopoliticall, Spirituall,6. His Creation, Fall, Recoverie by innalnable price, 49. His Pilgrimage, Mantua, #### Mappes.

Map of the Defarts, Map of Saint Paules peregrinati-Man of the Christian world, 65.115 Map of the Nanigation of Ene-Map of the Roman Empire, Mappe of Alexanders Expediti-Maronites, their Religion, Patriarch, Opinions, and Rites, 140, 141. Their Laurgie, 146 their errours collected out of their owne Bookes by a lesnite, 152,153 Maffilians fake three Languages,

Mafterdome our foldet the greatest possession; ` Mathew the Apostlo bu Preaching, Oc. Maurice Prince of Orange admired of all Europe, Megasthenes his refimeny of alde Expeditions, Melchites, whence fo called, 129. They are subject to the Imifdiction of the Patriarch of Antiochia. ibid. They are for Religion meer. ly of the Gracians opinion; 129 Menelaus Tranels. Mengrelians their rites and opini-Manippus the Philosopher, Men dwelling in Canes, and raming fafter then Horfes, Merchants, the first mention of them and the diners Marts for Spi-Merchandifing, proned by Gods law, Nature, Nations, ... Meroe an ile inhabited by Mahumetaus, Meropius a Philosopher bis fayling to Îndia, Melambria a Peninfula very fertile, Mesha. Metals their excellence, 25 Methodius his translating of the Scriptures into the Stanonike : 145 tongue, Meum & Turm Mexicalis writings in forme of a wheele, readfrom the Center vowards to the Circumference, 179 Microcolmicall flate of Man, Militarie Orders au Spaine, 171 Mlitarie Orders m France, 171 Millaine the number of Bifoops there. Miracles ceafing, Mithridates pake twentie two languages without an Interpreter. Moenhemage a great Kingdome in Africke, Monkes Eremeticall, and Afcets-Monkes of the Exercised Or-Monkes of Saint Anthonies Or-Monke fafts, 155. Greekish Monks 159. Their life , hand-labour , babit, dinerfitie, fasts, penacne, night-prayers, probation, forgiusneffe, Eafter , concents of the Croffe, &c. 160,161,162.163 Monochelites their berefie, 141

Morduites a people in Europe, poffoffing the middle Confines beswitt the Precopile Tartars, and the Musconites, Morontobaris, Mountaines their beitht, 124. The highest passe not in perpendientar erectneffe ten furlongs, ibid. Mountaine full of Trees, the wood! whereof is odoriferom, and of diners colours, Mountaine called the Chariot of the Gods, Multiplication by dinine promisdenire. Muscourtes their Religion, Rites. and opinions, 130. Their Litur-Mutaus Bilhop of Dolens bis Indian Mixuall Necessitie , the Mother of mutuall Commerce. Muzal Patriarchall See of the Ne-Storsans, TAbuchodonofor, Nations now could, which formerly were very barbarous, 59 Natures inberstance greaterriches then the greatest Kings beneficeuce, Nauigation, the lawfulne [e thereof proved from Salomon, 4. The neceffitie commoditie dionitie there-17,18,19.62.62 Nearchus his Voyage, and Fleet fet foortb by Alexander the Great. from the River Indus to the bottome of the Perfian Gulfe, 86, 87. Et leq. His Voyage from Indus to Tygris, honoured by Alexander, Negroes Countrey, 78. Merry Negroes, 79 Nettorians scattered farre and wide m the East, their Patriarch, Religion, and berefie, 121. Their opinions and rites, 122, 122. They celebrate their Liturgio in the Chaldee or Syriake tongue, 145. Difference betwixt them and the Greekes, Niniue builded by Ninus ; the ftatelineffe of the building &c. 72 Ninus bis Marches, Tranels, and

Conquefts,

Whiongue,

No new thing vader the Sunne.

Normans feeking to deffroy the Eng-

Note

bow to bee underflood.

North parts difconcred,

Nota an Ile (acred to the Sun, of which | Patriarch of Ethiopias it was reported that if any went on Shore, be (bould never be feen after but Nearchus found it falle by experiment 88. Another tale was that a Nomah dwelt there which lay with Men and after turned them into Fiftes, 88 Nubia a large Region in Africk hauing from the Apofles time profes ed the Christian Faith, it bath agains abone an 100. yeeres fince forfaken it, 112. Want of Ministers the cause thereof; the Nubianitheir petition for Supply. 112 The Nubians that are vet Chriflian their Religion, and obedience to the Patriarch of Alexandria, 137.

O Aracta an Iland abounding with Vines, Palmes, and Fruites, 88

Ophir, where fituate, 25. Et feg. Her derinatines, 31. The bounds therof,45

Coniectures of the courfe taken in the Ophirian voyage, 39.40. Et leq.

forts, and originals thereof.

Orders tearmed religions, the Cenerall

Obryzum the purest Gold.

Olympia ber Dreame,

Orange,

Óritæ,

Ottaman Sultans their fenerall Seates. Oyle a fountaine thereof found, 84 DAleftina, the Citie thereby figu-Palladius bis fwiftne fe & tranels, 90 Palm-tree the enfigne of Phancia, 108 Panonian tongue, Papall-religious Orders, the numbers, kindes, and beginnings thereof, 175 Parrote, 39. Paruaim, the name of the Ophirian gold. Patriarch tranels. Patriarchs in the Roman Empire, 166 Patriarch of Constantinople bis Iurifdiction, 167.127.162. The reason why bu Anthority fo great, 128. Hu tribute, familie. Patriarch of Antiochia his Iurifdicti-Patriarchs titular obezing Rome, 151 Patriarch of the Nestorians, 131 Patriarch of Mozall or Seleucia, 133 Patriarch of lernfalem a Iacobne, 134 Pilgrimages, or Peregrinations, 49,50 Pillar of Stone inscribed, I Alexander Patriarch of Alexandria his Inrifd & Pillar in the Capital at Rome, dedicated Patriarch of the Marontes, Patriarch of Babilon, 162. The begin. ning and alteration of the number and power of (briftian Patriarchs, 166 Patriarchilip of the is eft, 266. Of the East, Patriarch of Selencia. 167 | Poyton dranke by a Patriarch of A.

Patriarch of Aquileia. Paul the Apostle bis Preaching, life death oc. 56. The Mappe of bu Peregrination, 57. Peacockes, 39 Pegu, infested with wilde Beasts, 33. Famous for viches and lewels, 33.34 Pelaigi first brought letters into lta-People, the world peopled by degrees, 30. People freaking at one time perfectly with two men, bith answering and discoursing ; and baning clouds tengues, Percernations of Christ, 20, co. A world of Peregrinations bane baphed in the world. Peru, why and whence fo named, 2 Peru a not Ophir. Perfians discomfitted by Alexand. 8: 84. Perlian Gulfe, Pernan Kings Palaces, Peter his Preaching peregrination, &c. SI. Not Bilbop of Rome. Peter Stroza, Secretarie to Pope Paul the & bis Treatife of the Opinions of the Chaldeans, touching the Patriarch of Babylon, and the Nestorians in A-Philosophy two kinds, 74. It formerly floursshed in Afia, but now suppressed, 117. Phylatophers beld them felnes of them felues compleat. 7. Their estate 8. Compared to Horfes. Philosophers & Chiftians copared, 10 Philosophers Tranels, Pilotas flame by the command of Alexander. Philip bis Preaching, coc. Philip the Father of Alexander his dreame, and Aristander the Dininer his exposition thereof, Piulippinas, certaine Ilet in Afia called by that name, the number wherest is elemen thousand. Phineus blinded by Iupicer for renealing the Gods fecress. Phænician Voyages, 77. A goodly I land found out by them neers the Labyan Shore. Phænician Antiquities, 48. Phænician Alphabet, 180. Phanicians the Same with the Cananites, Phanix,true in Mifterie,not in Hiftocame hicherunto.

Latine inscription,

Poeticall filtions,

a rocke of Diamonds.

to the memory of Duilius with the Pinator Lake, neere it much Gold, and Plato bu tranels, 75. His disciples, ib.

lexandria without burt. Poland the Proninces, Vninerfirms, Bi-Shoprickes, and lefuites therein, 173 Polanders of the Orbeke Religion, 121 Pomerland a Dukedome, the Cities, wand Byhopricees therein, Pope deutes bis Baptifmall name, 7. Hu ofirparren, 12, 166. No fach power as he pretends 16. He is defited by the Greeke Churchet 28. The title of Pope was anciently given to other Pope Innocent the 3. charged that in Cours where was contourfe of diners Nations that differed in language, di-Wine Seruice frontd bee celebrated acaccording to that difference Popifirmes in griffly Orders, 149 Pope Clement the 8.bu Meffengers and rifts to the Maronites. Port of Sor, the place of the Citie of Tyreso called. Portugals their Sea-greatnelle, Porus King of a great part of India, 84 Praying flanding, Preaching of old to the Americans, 59 Presbyter John, King of Tenduc, bis sule in the North-east parts of Afia, his Religion , Scaligers errour rom. ching him, Priests linings in the Greeke Church.

Princes, no impeachment to them but true advancement of bonour to vic all fingall bufbandry and meanes of ibri .. . uing at bome, Printing, the Art of Arts, 62. Learning thereby renined. Proprietie ibe Subielts flate. Pruilia Regalu & Ducalis, the Bifhop. rickes and gonernment thereof, 173 Prolomeis degr. falfe or uncertaine, 79 Punicke Tongue, little differing from the Hebrew, 109. 29. The Chananitifh or old Hebrew language, 168 Purgatorie Pyrrho the Philosopher his travels, 76 Pythagoras the Philosopher moft famous both for Trauels & Science, 76

Veda plentifull for Gold, 33 Queene Elizabeth, her wifdome vertue, gouernment, &c. 12,13.48 Quintay, the greatest City in the world in it but one Christian Church, 114 Quite in the Greeks Temples, 158

D Abbi Beniamin a Iew, bis Tra-N nels. Redemption of Man, Red-Sea, whence fo named. Reedes, bread made ibercof. Reedes merealing and decreasing according to the Moore, Religion

THE TABLE

Riches, their contempt, o. Greater sithes in Natures inheritance, then in the greatest Kings beneficence, 10 River of S. Mary and Reo Grande, 79 River Herfes, 78,79 Rivers fierse. Rivers Sude from the higher ground to the lower till they come so the fea. 125 Rome the feate of the Ramifo Religion, 166. Fine Passarchall Churches Roman Bebops, Roman Nanigations to the Indies, 40 Romila & Jewilb Church conared, 60 Rome Cuse, 98. The compasse and number of Inhabitants when it was first founded, Roman-Empergurs tranels, Roman Empires bounds. Roman Empire, when and by whom it Roman tongue, The antiquitie, dignitie, and extent thereof, 98, 99. Threefold corruption thereof. 104 Rubies, where the most and best, 38 Riffia, fome part thereof Idolatrons, 113. They were connerted to Chri-Bianitie by the Gracians; and remain of their Religion, Salomons Naugent from Enion-Geberto Ophir, 1. The hifteric thereof borrowed from Scripture, z. The Allegoricall and Anagogical fenfe or application thereof,3. Salomon figmiffing Christ, 3. His right to Spoyle the Egyptians and Ophirians,4. The combination of wifdome and royaltie in his person, 10. His Excellencie, fame, and renomne, 18,19. The end of his Nauization, 18. His revenue andited. 36. His fernants who, 42. Our Salomon, Salonichi or The Jalonica, a Citic in the Turhis Empire bath above thirty Christian Samaritan Letters, whether ancienter then the prefent Hebrem, Sapphires, where the moll and best, Saracens, whence they had their name, of all o-ther Nations most addicted to rapine, 121 Saracens of Arabia their feotinge amended the posteritie of the Easterne Church, Saranga a Region, Sauage people clothed in beaftsshint, Saucy the Duke thercofchiefe of two Mi itary Orders 171. Sixon Alphabet, Scorpions a cubic long. Scotland the Bifbopricks therein, Scriptures in vulger tongues, 143-144 Scripture-translate Seripture mifaphed by the Greeker, Scythia termed Hominum Officina; it con tended with Egypt for antiquity of babitation Schrich ans chafed by Alexander Seas man foil erniceab'eneffe, 17.11 addes true great officto grettell Kings , 19. Liteacheib | fame with Ophir , Lemperante, 20. It wa Temple of Theological | Tarteflus not Tharshish,

Religion renning, 62
Religions professed in the World; by Christians, Mahametans, Iemes, and Idoluters, 112.113. Et kq.

Renouation weekes,

vertues, 20. It is deeper then the bigbeft Hills, 124. The face thereof is in all garts naturally buell, or equally diftant from the center of the water, whence called Æquor 126. Saylors in equall diffarce from the land observe an equall deepneffe of the Sea , in both South and North Selfe-knowledge, Seleucia, the Metropolis of Affria,132. Diwers opinions of that City, ibid. It was inhabitedby the Citizens of Balylon, Semiramis ber explaits, ber building Babylon, inuading India, &c. Seminary of Marenites Senscherib inuaded Indab. Senies external the Cinque-port-Intelligencers Internalizeafons Hand-mail. Senfuall tiberty among ti the Turkes, Series, a Region where are Trees which bring foorth very fine wooll, of which they make garments called Serica, Sefoftris, his Army, and Pillars, Sheba, 31.73 Ship of Noah a figure of Baptisme, 21. Euery Chrimian man is a Ship, Shipwracke of Faith. Sicilia the Biffiops and number of Jesuites Simon called Cananite, and Zelotes, his preaching peregrinations, Simon Sulasa a Papall Eafterne Patriarch amongst the Chaldeans, Sinnes mertall, Slauonians, they exercife their publike dinine Service in their owne Language, Slauonith Tongue, Socrates, 75. Softda is not Offir, Soloente a Promontornaf Africa, 78,79 Solon, 75, Somatrafamous for Golds, 33 South Continent, South parts discovered, 77. Spaine, South parts diffoured, 77. Spaine, 107
Spaink figure Titles, 97. Spainih Antiquities, 48. Spaine fitted warmed Rome, 64
Spaink Tompel, 101. The beginning thereof, 102. The Composition thereof,
Spaink Begins idea of their revenues, 170
Spices, when of fitted d, the sewall Ports, 43 Succession of Ports and Staples for the Spicetrade,44. Spinel a precious Stone, Stand-Mountaine, Stars which appeare to us not feene to fome, 81
Stura a great River, 86 Subjects trucky obedient to their King, Suesa Defariplace where no Herhe groweth, the Armada for India made there. gumatra fored with Gold. Sufians, 88. Switzers, 172. Sueden, 173 Synods in Egypt, 112. Synod held in Goa, 133 Syriake Language, Syriake Testament. 133,134 Sytians or Melchites, for number the greatest felt of Christians in the Orient, 128. Their Order of dinine Service, TAbesnacle, what, 62 Talent how much it contagneth, 35. Salomon and Davids Talents.

tho: fand Ilands, another world.40. Gouerned by foure Princes one of which is chiefe, to him are subject a Tartars subdued Afia, and banished thence Christienitie, 114.18 hence their name and fignification thereof ,1:0. They are not ffraclites, 120.121.122. Are Idoloters, violaters

Thales his Epiftle to Pherecides a Syrian, 74

Tharlis, or Tharthith, 44. 46. if bither the of the Law, Sabbath-breakers, &c. Thais a Strumpet, she fired Xerxes palace, 83

Thebaus bis Judian voyage Thefeus his Traucis, and Acits, 69 Thomas the Apostle, called Dydimus, bis preathing, life, death, &c. Thomeros, a River, 87. Ships there anoueltie; the Inhabitants have long and sharpe nailes wheremith they kill Fish, or cut wood; their garments, Beafts or Fifbes skinnes, 87 Tecla Maria an Abyffine, his Anfwers to que. Rious touching the Religion of the Abiffines and Cophti, 147.148. Etfeq. Temple and mysteries thereof unuailed, 4. A figure of Heauen, 21. Paralel of Tabernacle Testament in the Spriake tongue, corrupted by the Neferians, the imperfections thereof, 133 Tholor on plentifull for Gold, Thymisterium a Citie without Hercules pil-In s built by Hanno, Ticliuiracocha, Tiglah Pilefer K.of Affriahis Expedition,73 Timber much graning and brought to Mion-Geber, 23. Timpaniaus, 158. Lirhamin, 13 Tithing of Children, Topaz, where found, Trauell commended for witiguitie, God bimbimselse was a mysticall Traveller in the Ta-bernacle, &c. 66. Christian Church atwayes trauelling, 68. Traucis Nationall. 68. Trauele traveling, 68. Travels Nationall, 68. Travels fabulous, 68,69. Et feq.
frees from ging forth very fine wooll, Sp.
Trees for Salomons building,
Trees producing at the fame time bloffomes and fruites, 89 Tribute which the Christians in Europe pay the Turke, 112. Greckes Tributes diners, 154 Truth occasion of Fables, Turkes Dominion in Europe. Turkith Language, 110. Their Letters, and name to the Syrians, foure Arch-bishops, ing conquered, points, 185. Tygres, 33. Tyruntreasure, 9 Tyrus a Citie anciently called Sarra, it gane Venice 169. In it two Patriarchs, and Vexores the Egyptian bis Conquests, and be-Vitriacus Bifhop of Acon, and the Popes Legal in the East, 113. Vliffes Trauels, Vniucefull possessions of the Universe, 8 Voyages. The first Doyage of Mankind, 66 Vulphilas Bifhop of the Gothes, Innenter of the Gothicke Alphabet, and translator of the Scriptures into the Gothicke tongue, 144 WAlsh Language of the Celta, Water the nature thereof, Whales, 87, 123. All hale fiftie cubites long.

with Oysters growing on his skin,88. Other ftrange hyperb oficall Whales. 114 Wifeman most free, Walues, how England was eleered there of ,27 Women common, 80. Womans Port, 87 World how peopled, 30. Worlds Center, 137 Writing the Excellency and Antiquitie thereof, 176. Writing ftrange kindes, Taprobane an Iland judged by the Ancients

X Enophon, both in Arts and Armes, and Trauels famous, 75 Xerxes his inuafion, 73- His Pallace fixed by Thais the Strumpet, ZEngitana a Pronince wherein Carthage flood, in it were 164. Bifogs under ere Metrotolitan,112. Zeno his Trauc's, 76 Zerah the Ethiopian with a million of menewerthrowne by King Afa, 73 Zocotora an Hand of 60 miles in length, and 27 in trediti, 146. The Religion of the files

DESCRIPTION OF ALL THE CIRCVM-NAVIGATIONS OF THE GLOBE.

THE SECOND BOOKE.

CHAP. I.

Of the improvement of Nauigation in later Times, and the meanes whereby the World in her old Age hath beene more then ener disconered.

Of Magnetical and Attronomical Instruments, first applyed to Nanigation.

O D, the giver of every good Gift, having first made the World, made Man, as it were a visible God of this visible World; infusing in his super-admirable Creation, the knowledge of it, of himselfe, of Go D. This Trinitie of Knowledge was defaced by Mans voluntarie Rebellion, which enforced against him the Sentence of Curle from the euerbleffed TRINITIE: Which yet in Iudgement remembring Mercie, did not at once diffolue the World, or Man. but altered his Tenure, fuffering him as a Cuftomarie Tenant for terme of life (to be holden at the Will of the Lord) to occupy and husband it for the necessitie of his Body; leauing allo some sparkes of that Heauenly Fire in his Soule

(maugre those darkest stames of Hell) whereby he might by laborious Art (being robbed of his white and pure Robes, wherewith Nature had adorned him) patch together Leaues or Skins for a time, to couer some part of his nakednesse. Neyther is "it any more, or of "nathe sneet more worth, that here we labour for, and get as Seruants, then some light Plumes and bro. of the some ken Feathers of that goodly Fowle, which wholly without labour God had first given vs as thou fact est,

Thus in regard of this temporall flate; which yet he (out of a Curle producing Bleffing) made the Seed-time of a better Haruest, a richer Possession (raysed out of this Rubbish of our Ruine) by farre then that which we had loft: for Time, which we had forfeited, giving 20 vs Eternitie, which cannot die ; for Paradife, Heauen ; and Go D himtelfe for the World ; an earnest whereof wee have alreadie, his SONNE given for vs. his SPIRIT to vs. and the promise of HIMSELFE in ineffable fruition.

Os bomini fubl me dedit,

* Fai b is the evidence of things unfeens. Heb.11.1. Desc. 34.

Pf. 104. --- Nil nisî

Yea, meane-while, to folace this our wearie Pilgrimage, he hath given an erelied ' Countenance to the Body, still to be viewing the vtter Court of our promised Palace, the faire Walls of our fairer Inheritance; and to the Soule the Eye of Art, whereby not leaving the greater, or her little, Earth, it can in a moment mount and furmount Heauen, and compaffe all this spacious extension ( that I speake not of that spirituall Eye of * Faith , which fees things vincene, the priviledge of his Saints.) Yea, she hath found out meanes, by the Givers bountie, to carry her beloued Body (not from some high Mountaine to ouer-looke the lowly Plaines, or as Mofes into Mount Nebo, in Vision, to fee that, which to fee with joyfull enioying, was denyed; but) really and actually to possesse and viethe remotest Seas and Lands. She emboldeneth the Body to forlake her Earthly Nest, and (like young Eaglets on the 10 Eagles Wings) carryeth her to take a Naturall and Universall Possession of the Vniverse, where the Heavens alone * are spread about her as a Curtaine, where the Beames of her Chambers are (in propereft fense) layd in the Waters; where the Clouds are her Chariot (the - Culumundia, Wheeles at least) whereby thee walkesh on the wines of the Wind, and those swelling Spiovadia panius. rits are made her Drivers; the angriest Element being tamed by industrious Art, which vieth all their Natures to her best purposes. !

To compafie this in former times, was impossible, and how many Seas to our fore-fathers impassable, for want of the Compasse : The Starres and Coasts were then the Guides, and without those Stilts, and Stayes, Nauigation durst not addenture, in that her impotencie and infancie, to goe into the Maine. And if any difastrous Stormes had made sudden surprize of 20 Ship and Men, the Master found himselfe and his Art at a losse in the midst of his Ship and Mariners; and if the frowning Heauens long refuted with wonted Eyes to looke on him, and the absented Earth forgot to extend her Lap and Armes, lost hee must bee for ever. No great Discourrie was otherwise by the Art of the Ancients performed; nor durst any repeat that Lesson by Art, which Tempest had occasionally taught him, farre from the Coast, against his will. Chance is a forgetfull Miltreffe, vnleffe Art be the Viher of her Schoole, teaching and emboldening to repetition of her cafuall Lectures.

GOD Almightie pittying this Frailtie, intending better things to the last and worst Ages of the World (as in this fulnesse of time be sent his Sonne and the Spirit of his Sonne to prepare Men for Heauen, fo fince, I hope to further the former) hath given the Science of 30 the Loadstone and Aftronomicall Rules and Instruments, applyed by Art to Nauigation, that hee might give more ample Possession of the Sea and the Earth to the sonnes of Men. Let others applaud, admire, adore, the Stones called Precious: this shall bee to mee Pearle and Ruby, and Saphire, and Diamant, and more then all those multiplyed Names of Gemmes, which all are also made ours by helpe of the Loadstone. This Magneticall vertue was hidden to the Golden and Silver Ages, her Iron sympathic hath long beene knowne to the Iron World; but her constant Polar ranishments, and her no lesse constant inconstancie by Variation, were Mysteries referred to later Posterities. The former of these Qualities yields the Compasse, the Needle by Magneticall touch directing the way in waylesse Wildernesses by Land, and thorow the vaileft Waterie Plaines.

This vertue of the Loadstone, to be the Lead-stone and Way-directing Mercurie thorow the World, Plato, Aristotle, Theophrastus, Dioscorides, Galen, Lucretim, Plinie his Solinus, and Prolomee, Scholers of the highest Formes in Natures Schoole, knew not, though the Magneticall attraction of Iron be mentioned in their Workes. Some have also added some Physicall Vertues, and some the Fables of the Adamant and Garlike preventing that attraction, which later Authors have received by authoritie, without due examination. But if any lift to see Armies of Authors mustered, and their Writings also of this Subject examined. De Gilbert in his learned Worke of the Magnete, hath done it in fixe whole Bookes; the causes also enquired both of that attraction, and this (whereof we now speake) Polar motion. This invention some ascribe to Salomon: which I would believe, if he had written of Stones, so as he did of Plants; or if the Tyrians, which were almost the engrossers of * Nauigation in that Age, and were the Sea-men which Salomon vied in his Ophyrian Discoueries (which we have laboured in fitter place to discouer) had left any Tradition or Monument thereof to Posteritie: which could no more have been lost then sayling it selfe; which the Greekes. Carthaginians, and other Nations successively derived from them. Others therefore looke further into the East, whence the Light of the Sunne and Arts have seemed first to arise to our World; and will have Marco Polo the Venetian above three hundred yeeres fince to have brought it out of Mangi (which wee now eall China) into Italy. True it is, that the most magnified Arts have there first beene borne, Printing, Gunnes, and perhaps this also of the Compasse, which the Portugals at their first entry of the Indian Seas (whereof you shall pre- 60 fently heare) found among it the Mores, together with Cards and Quadrants to observe both 1503. Vertests the Heavens and the Earth. And Vertomanna about the fame time travelled with them

Gitbertus de Magnet.

Two later

ventis credere docks Tyrus.

Vid. 5.7.

there also observed that Tale of Mahamers Body hanging in the Roofe of the Temple by the the Kingdome attractive power of Loaditones (which Chinecrates is reported to have intended to himfelte of Naples: of attractine power or Lozantones (which is the repeted of Arlines, making the Roote of thele Stones, to to attract his which is this at Alexandria, in the Temple of Arlines, making the Roote of thele Stones, to to attract his very limit of the results of the resu Iron Image, preuented by death) to be but a Tale and Fable. But as neyther Printing nor dedit name Ordnince were brought from thence to vs, but (casuall Acts opening a pallage to industri- of un Magnetia ous Arts) were inuented by European heads, and brought to riper perfections then in the Ama'tha. East, which had knowne them before, to I alto conceine of these Marine Instruments. Nor b Longe Gowill I enuie to Iohn Goia of . Malfi, that whatfoeuer glery of the first Invention, which Bellom G. fiz. 10 Blondus and others (some b naming him Flauing) have ascribed to him. Italy indeed hath 6.16. belt deserved in Discoveries, for her Polo and Goja, and Vertoman, now mentioned, and for c America.

her Colombo and Cabora, of which is question, whether first found out the Variation of the Vide Episted. Needle, or whether discouered more of the New World; though another Italian, Americas Vestutius, carried the . Name away from them both.

This Variation is, when the Magneticall Needle points not out the true Pole, but is thing is Man? diffracted fomewhat eyther with an Easterly or Westerly deflexion. This Variation of the who can by distracted somewhat eyther with an Easterly or Westerly denexion. This variation of the reason manicompasse is the best remedie yet found out against the Mariners Variation from their Comfost the numpalle, and Deniation from their scope and intended course. And although the Variation can-ber of the not without Starre or Sunne be observed, as the direction of the Compasse may (which gives Sph. restorthe 20 Light in the darkest Night, pointing still toward the Pole) neyther can hereby the true lon- ilements; or gitude of Places be discouered (this Light shines most out of Darkenesle, and from Ecclipses, which I have therefore in this Hiftorie taken all occasions to observe, is most illustrious and further open plaine) yet for ordinarie and generall vie in Discoueries and Nauigations in vinknowne ration, metion? Seas, this yeelds best supply of that knowledge of Longitudes, by reason of the constant yes, whether meenstancie (as I faid) of this Variation. For how seemer it varies from the true Pole, yet it the Earth or neuer varies from it felfe, but in the same place eternally holds the same Variation, if it be exactly observed; which sometimes, by want in the Instrument or Workman, and almost alway is yet vadeciby Sea, through the unsteadinesse thereof, falls out, and therefore is better farre, being taken ded Howmany in calme Weather, and best, if opportunitie serue, on Land.

Now for the Causes 4 eyther of Direction or Variation, Philosophers have rather builed Ancients are their owne, then established others Conceits from variation by their Directions, and pointing falle by experiout the causes hereof in nature : some, telling vs of Hyperboreall Magneticall Mountaines; ence? And had forme, deriving the caule from the Pole of the Heaven; forme from a Starre in the tayle of the not God given greater Beare; some, from the Heauens neere to the Pole; some goe also beyond the Poles vshis Word for and Heauens, to I know not what Magneticall Power, placed out of place; fome lead vs into the ground of a Magneticall Hand (Ly-land) enery man will fay formewhat, and fo doe they that flye to the Deutll enhidden Miracles in Nature. But that iomewhat is nothing: And we indeed are leffe then uying, high Nothing and Vanitie; which, whiles we call all our Arguments Demonstrations, and all our here also ob-Arts Sciences, neyther know God, nor the World, or Nature, nor our felues, how ever vainly traded Tradicional Sciences, neyther know God, nor the World, or Nature, nor our felues, how ever vainly 40 puffed vp with the Conceits and Deceits of Knowledge. Ego vero quid? (layth e Scaliger trinite had reof this Subtletie, who yet hath a Reason too, though as reasonselse (perhaps) as those or o- mained, bur thers: fo fortunately doth our Wit find it felfe unfortunate, and knowes but one thing, that knowledge of it knowes nothing) quid alind nisi vnum verum? nos in luce rerum tenni caligare, in mediocri cuill vnto his it knowes nothing) quid altua niji vinun verum. nos in tuce commission suggest, in mesori cacos effe, in maxima infanire. Quid altud quam me nescire? Solus omnium for knowledge ego nibil afferendo veritatem attuli. Most laborious haue beene the paines, most probable (perhaps) the reasons of our e Scalig. Exerc. Countreyman Doctor Gilbert, by many yeeres experiments in this fubiect, who hath 131. observed the whole Earth to bee as a great Loadstone, the Loadstone and the Iron By helpe of (which naturally allo with exact tryall hee hath observed, even without f touch, to hold the Loanstone, 50 like Direction and Variation, in respect of the Pole) to containe the principall Qualities of Iron and other the Earth; that the Direction and Variation are both, not from Contraction or Coition, Mauls are difor other hidden cause, but from the disposing power of the Earth, and the convertible covered in nature of the Magnete, the Earth it selfe being Mother and originall Fountaine of the Magneticall vertues and operations. Hee deriueth the Direction from the Polar conformitie of Mining, leucle the Earth; the Variation, from the inequalitie of the same, in the Superficies thereof; partly ling of Peeces by Seas, partly by Mountaines, which have difformed though not deformed the Globolitic of in the darke, this Globe, in paying to other places by excessive height whatsoever was taken from the allo in Bul-Deepes, to make Channels for the Waters. Hence the greater Continents of Earth have incomes in the Waters. greater force and power, and where the Earth is most depressed or weakened, there hath it works, and a 60 leffer; yet fo, as thefe Magneticall Motions being from the conftant Magneticall nature of theulandother the whole Earth, a small lland cannot prejudice or prejent the clayme of the greater Con- Desice, is of tinent. Thus in the Azores the Needle hath no apparant Variation, which on the Coaft of of the Dad-ouer the Arabian Desarts to Mecca and Medina, directing their course by the Compalle, and a A Towns in d How vaine pinions of he

Huingdon-Guinnee inclines Eastward to the African & Continent, and neere the American bends Westward; in these Ilands as indifferent betwixt two equall Continents, aimes at the Pole or Good Hope, of the Earth, and therefore Magneticall. His many h Rules, Experiments, and Observation ons are worthy a learned and leyfurely Reader: My felfe having hafte to travell over the World, and that with fo many Trauellers, cannot stand in this Muze, or Maze rather of Phi-Wift from the losophers. Let vs now consider not the naturall Causes, which are hard, but take easier view of the fensible effects thereof in the furtherance of Nauigation, wherein the touched Needle is the Soule as it were of the Compasse, by which every skilfull Mariner is emboldened to compaile the whole Body of the Vniuerfe. Let the Italians have their prayfe for Invention: fivor all Navi- the grayfe of Application thereof to thele remote Discoueries is due to the Portugals, who 10 first began to open the Windowes of the World, to let it see it selfe. These first also of all Europeans, applyed by the direction of King lohn (as followeth in this storie) Astronomicall Inftruments to this Magneticall, and occasioned those Spanish Discourries in the New World, by Colombo's Industry.

The Load-stone was the Lead-stone, the very Seed and ingendring Stone of Disconerie. whose soener louis Braire first conceived that Minerua. But the Inno Lucina, that helped Nature in this happy Conception and educated Discoverie to that strength, that it durft orvery great, &c. dinarily aduenture beyond the knowne World, and made way to that Maturitie, whereby it opened foone after another World, was Prince Henry of Portugall.

Thus doth the Great GoD rayle vp the least things to Greatnesse: and this, one of the 20 last and least of European Kingdomes, was dignified with the first search and Science of Discoueries. Spaine and Portugall, after a long servitude, fattened their Soyle with the bloud of the Moores, and thence have growne by Divine Bleffing not onely to free themselves of that Yoke, but with farre-spreading Boughes to ouer-looke and ouer-awe the remotest East and furthest West; paying themselves with the Drugges and Gemmes of Asia, the Gold and Slaues of Africa, the Siluer and Possessions of America, as Wages for that European slauery under the Mahumetans, many Ages continued, which now shall follow to be declared.

Of HENRY, third some to IOHN the first King of Portugall by an English Woman, the Prince of later Discoucries: and of the helpes both against the Mores, and in their Discoueries which the Portugals have received of our Nation.

a P.Pilg. 13. 6.2. §. 2. Some fay

He Saracens (as we haue related a elfewhere) about the yeere 712. brought by lidinnus Earle of Cepta (to reuenge the deflowring of his Daughter Caba by Re-Iulianus Earle of Cepta (to revenge the deflowing of his Daughter Caba by Rodericus, the last of the Gottish Kings) into Spaine, under the conduct of Mules, conquered and subjected the same to Vlit the Chalipha. Pelagius b began first 40 Hist Turquet. to make head against these Barbarians, whose successors had succeeded in the same Quarrell

En. Bar Dec. 1. with prosperous successe about three hundred yeeres space, when Alphonsus the fixt tooke Teledo from the Meres. He, in recompence of good feruices in the Warres, gaue vnto Henry of Lorraine, whom some call Earle of Limbourg, his Daughter Teresa, with the Countrey of Percugall in Dowrie, and whatfoeuer he could further conquer from the Mores, by Title of an Earle: whose some Don Alphonso was the first King of that Realme, newly erected on the bloud and desolation of the Mores in those parts, whom by degrees they chased quite out of that Kingdome, from that time till that of John the first. He pursuing that Hereditarie Quarrell, passed ouer Sea into Africa, and there tooke Cepta, and brake the Ice to his Pofteritie, which made valiant and successefull progresse in those Designes of Africa, till their 50 Nauigations into Afia with greater hopes and happineffe, made them neglect that neerer and dearer Purchase.

This Conquest of Cepta, or Seut, is mentioned by Thomas c Walfingham, which then Ang. An. 1415. " lived, in thele words : This yeere the King of Portugall relying on the helpe of the Mer-" chants of England most of all, and of the Almans, ouercame the Agarens in the Land of " the King of the Betinarines, many thousands of them being sent to Hell; and tooke their "Citie, feated on the Sea, called Sunt, very large, compaffed with a Wall, as they fav, of "twentie miles. Some reason the English had to this Affistance : for the Wife of Don Iohn was Philip, Daughter of Iohn of Gaunt, Duke of Lancaster, and Sister to Henry the fourth, whose some Heary the fifth then reigned in England. They did imitate also their 60 English Ancestors, who long before, in the time of Henry the second, had joyned themselves with other Northerne & Pilgrimes for the Expedition to the Holy-Land, and fayling to-

CHAP.I.S. 2. Of the Circum-Nauigations of the Globe. gether from Dartmouth, about 37, ships well manned touched at Lisbone, where the Pertugall King befought their aid against the Mores in the Citie Syluia, or Syluis, profering to them the poyle in recompence. Which they attempted, and on the third day of the Siege, brake into the Suburbs, and forced Alchad the Prince to yeeld the Citie, wherein were or all forts aboue 60000. Mores, whereof 47000. were flaine, and the Mahumetan Temple con-fecrated to the Mother of God. Thus both at home and abroad were the Portugals indebted to the English; as also in the example of some Englishmen, and namely one Macham, which had beene by tempest driven on shore in Madera: but in nothing more, then that English Lady before mentioned, whose 10 third some Don Henry was the true foundation of the Greatnesse, not of Portugall alone, but of the whole Christian World, in Marine Affaires, and especially of these Heroike endeuours of the English (whose fielh and bloud hee was) which this ensuing Historie shall pre-

This illustrious Henry having given proofe of his valour against the Infidels at Cepta, deuifed with himselfe, how he (being Gouernor of the Militarie Order of IESVS CHRIST, c See Dam. a formerly instituted, and endowed to maintaine Warres against the Mores, alreadie expelled Goes de Acthiop. out of Portugall) might advance the honor of his Name and Order, in Conquests which others had not yet attempted, and therefore in Dilcoueries of Countries yet vnknowne. To this end he fpent his life in fingle effate, and in the studies of the Mathematikes: for which ofor de Reb. 20 purpose, he chose the clearer Ayre of Cape S. Vincent, that there he might better intend his Eman. It. Mathematicall Theorie, the practike thereof in Instruments, and the vie, in fending out Maffeus Hill. Ships at his owne charge to discouer remoter parts, whereof he had both heard by enquire lad, L. 1. of Captines taken at Cepta, and conceined by his owne studie and reason (for besides that of Machan, ancient Histories give some light to the studious, in the f reports of Menelaus, & Vide P. Pilg.

Hanno, Eudowus, and others) that the Atlantike and Indian Seas had concourie, the one yeel- 17.612. $1. ding passage to the other, or rather being one continued Ocean. He also from Maiorca caused one Master lames, a man skilfull in Nauigation, and in Cards and Sea Instruments, to be brought into Portugall, there at his charge, as it were, to erect a Schoole of Marinership, and to instruct his Countreymen in that Mysterie.

The first Ships which he sent, discourred no further then Cape Bogiador, 180. miles bewond Cape & Non (the Non vitra before, of the Spanish Nauigations) beyond which they g Of which durst not passe, because of the loftie breaking of the Surge, caused by the Capes extension their Prouerbe farre into the Sea : not daring (fuch was then the infancie of Nauigation) to auoid the fame, was He which to put further off into the Sea, left they might hap to lofe themselves, if they lost the sight of Cape of Non, Land. That which Art durit not, Tempelt compelled in the next Barke fent for Discoue- shall turne a rie, which with diffress of Weather driven into Seas out of the Mariners knowledge, happily game, or elfe encountred that Hand, which they hereupon named Porto & Santo, and without further coafting the shore of Afrike, returned home with the newes, and defire of licence to people it; h Pario, for to well did they like of the Ayre, Soyle, and gentle Condition of the Natiues. The Prince their Hauen 40 accordingly tent three Ships, two of which hee committed to lohn Confalno Zarco, and and Santo for Tristan Vaz, the former Discouerers; the third to Bartholomen Perestrello, who with Seeds that it was and Plants carried thither a i Conie great with young; which lighting her burthen by found on the the way, and together with them put forth, so multiplyed in two yeeres, that they grew Saints. wearie of all their Labours, destroyed by those Conies. Whereupon Perestrello returning, i Conies the other two, Confaluo and Vaz would needs discouer whether it were Land or no, which strangely mulappeared vnto them like Clouds or Vapours, and found it indeed the Iland & Madera, or tiplic

So Funciale, to Confalso and his heires; the other, called * Machico, to Vaz. This was fo na- Machiman med of an Englishman, called Macham, which had before arrived 1 there by Tempest, and Englishman. buried therein a Woman, whom he loued, with a memoriall thereof ingrauen on the Stone 4". Do. 1344. of her Tombe; after which, with a Boat made of one Tree, he passed to the Coast of Barbary without Sayle or Oare, and being prefented to the King for a Wonder, was by him fent to the King of Castile.

In the yeere 1420, began that " Plantation, and the thicke Trees being by Confalso fet m Est. Dec. 1. on fire, continued burning feuen yeeres: which destruction of Wood hath caused since as 1.1.63. great want. The Prince caused Sugar Canes to be carried from Sicilia thither, and men skilfull of that " Art, whereof the increase hath beene such, that in some yeeres the sitth n Midera

60 part (which the Prince referred to his Militarie Order) hath amounted to aboue threescore Sugar. thouland Arrobes (euery Arrobe is fine and twentie pounds) growing onely in one place, little more then nine miles compaffe. To Perefirello . hee gane Porto Santo, on condition to o Posto Sante people propled appeared vnto them like Clouds or Vapours, and round it indeed the Hand - Madera, of Wood, so called of the abundance of Wood which then ouer-shadowed it, and with the moilt Midera or Vapours had feemed to bury it in a Cloud. They returning with this newes to the Prince, Wood difcoreceived by the Kings confent the fame Iland, divided betwixt them; the one part, called uered.

from diffoue-ring turther.

e Baiadore

centine to the vulgar,according to the conceit of thoic times, x Sanage and y Canaries.

Ant.Galuano.

Machain firft discourrer of Madera and the Canaries.

: 1447.

people it, which hardly hee could doe for the Conies, whereof in one little lilet at one time were killed three thousand,

Twelue yeeres had passed, since the Prince had begun this Enterprise, before Cape Baiadore could be paffed; fuch was the P conceit of tempeffuous Seas, itrong Currents, Whirlepret rided, to pooles which would iwallow Ships, beyond that Cape: yea they added, that the Land was Haythe Prince not fit for habitation, but like the fandie Defarts of Libya. Much did they murmure, that the Natives of the Land were exhauft in Difcoueries, which before, wife and provident Kings would have undertaken, had there beene likelyhood of successe, who yet contented themselves with the knowne World, and sought not a torrid Zone, vnfit for humane dwel-> the Kingdome at home, without Sea-perils. These murmurings I recite, as alwayes attending and preoccupating great Actions, and to shew the poore Trentilip which Nauigation then ferued, that it might attaine that Freedome which the next Age brought forth. The patient Prince endured these Exceptions, with quarrellings at the Victualls, Money, and Men spent in a Service so vinferuiceable and needleffe, to dangerous, to hurtfull, and to! what every barking Tongue could alledge; nor could the apparant profits of Madera and Porto Santo ftop their mouthes. His men alfo, which he ling. These costs might with lesse danger haue beene bestowed in the barrenner parts of 10

fent forth, preyed on the Coasts of Barbary, and tooke Slaues, which helpe bare charges. But one of his feruants, named 9 Gilianes, feeing the Prince discontent that they went no further, aduentured that Herculean Labour (as it then feemed) and paffed that Turne- 20 againe or Baiadore Cape, with some proofe of the Plants, report of the Seas passable, and commendations of the Ayre and Soyle in those parts. This happened An. 1433.

The next yeere Anton, Confaluo pierced fortie miles further, and found the Countrey inhabited. Nor could much more be effected, till the yeere 1441. when Nugno Triffan difco-Cape Blanco, uered . Cape Blanco, and tooke fome Prifoners. After which, Prince Henry obtained i of Popes Don - Pope Martin the fifth a perpetual Donation to the Crowne of Portugall, of whatforever tion, as fecurity should be discourred from Cape Baiadore to the East Indies inclusively, and Indulgence pleagainst rora-ners ind-nin-narie for the Soules of all fach as should perish in that Conquest: which the succeeding Popes, Eugenius, Nicholas, and Sixtus confirmed, at the instance of King Alphonsus and his

> At the next t returns they traded with the Negros for exchange of their Men, for which they had Gold and other Slaues, whereupon they called the place the Golden River, and passed further to the Isles of Argin and Garze. Gold made a recantation of former Murmurings, and now the Prince was extolled; yea, " now the inhabitants of Lagos capitulated with the Prince to let forth Carueiles at their owne charges, which tooke many Captiues.

> The yeere 1445. Denis Fernandez passed the River & Sanaga, which divideth the Azenegui from those of Guinea, called Gialof, and discouered also Cape Verde. Other Discoueries fuccessively followed; in which, some having made slaves of friends, the Prince made the Authors apparrell and fend them backe at their owne charges, to the Canaries, whence they had stolne them.

These y Canaries, by relations of Macham the Englishman aforesaid, became knowne to the French and Spaniards; and Betaneor, which held three of them in policifion, compounded for them with Prince Henry: but the Spaniard challenged them, as conquered by that Frenchman through the aid of Cashle; under which Crowne they now are, after many choppings and changings. But the Prince neuer gaue ouer his endeatours of Difcouerie, till he discourred the Celetical Ierafalem, which z happened the thirteenth of November, 1463. z Prince Heary three and fortie yeeres after Madera had beene descryed: in all which time, his Trauell succeeded no further then from Baiadore to Sierra Liona, one thousand one hundred and tenne miles space, in neere fiftie yeeres continued Cares and Costs. So hard a thing is it to discouer. An argument of patience to our Moderne Discouerers, which are readie to murmure, and 10 almost to mutin:e, if new Worlds drop not into their mouthes at the first Voyage.

A little before his death, the Ilands of . Cape Verde were diffeouered by Autonio di Nolle, a Genuois, licenfed by the Prince. On May Euen was Maio found, and on the next day two others, called also of the Time, one Philip, and the other Incob, or Iago, which was first peopled. In his time * also were discouered the Terceras, by certaine Flemmings tayling to Lisbone; which first began to be peopled An. 1449.

King Alphonfus having little leviure for further Discouries, farmed the same to Fernand Gomez, a Citizen of Lisbone, for fue yeeres space, with condition every yeere to discover three hundred miles, to begin from Sierra Liona, and to to proceed along the Coast. He difcovered . Mina by Santaren and Sconare his Captaines; and after that, to Cape S. Catarine, 60 on the South fide of the Line. In that time was also discourred the Hand of Fernand Posthe Harids also of S. Thomas , S. Matthew, Annobon, & del Principe ; the Names of the Difcouerers are vnknowne.

of King IOHN the second his Discourries, and advancement of the Art of Nauigation.

Ing John the second having some experiment of the Profits of Guinea, which King Alphonfo had bestowed on him for his Princely maintenance, could not now by the Objections of the length of the Way, wholesomenesse of the Countrey, expence of Victuali, and the like, be detained by his Counfellors; but in the yeere 1481. he fent a Fleet of ten * Carauels, under the command of Diego Dazambuia, to build the Cattle of S. George della Mina, which in the year 1486, he dignified with the Priviled Captions and Residence ges of a Citie. In the Church thereof was ordayned a perpetuall Soule-Prieft for Prince called Tiego or Henry aforesaid: and three yeeres after that Cattle was builded, he added to his Regall Title, lames Rux. Lord of Guinea. Caramanía the Lord of the Countrey would have hindered that Building, and the people (which worthipped the Stones and Rockes) mutined; but the Popes Gift, with their Strength, Gifts, Cunning, and some Reuenge, preuayled: The King commanded, that Stone Croffes or Pillars, with the Portugall Armes, should be set up in convenient places, expressing the time and Authors of such Discourries. So did Diego Can 1484. on the or Pillars cre-20 Bankes of the Riuer Zaire, in the first Discourrie of the Kingdome of a Congo (the King discourred. whereof, as also the King of Benin, defired Priests, and Baptisme) and in his next returne a Zaire & two others, having discouered fixe hundred miles, and in both his Voyages 1125, miles from Congo.

Cape Catarine, further on the Coaft. By the Embassador of the King of Benin (which is not farre from Mina) the King of Portugall understood of the b Abaffine, commonly called Prester John, by them Ogane, b Newes from whole Valiall the King of Benin then was, none being a acknowledged lawfull Prince, till bening for the lad fent his Embaliadour to the faid Ogane, and had received from him a Croffe to weare the lad fent his Embaliadour to the faid Ogane, and had received from him a Croffe to weare about his necke, in token of his admission. Hereupon King John sent both 4 by Sea and Land nintributation to inquire both of the Indies, and of this great Negus, or Ogaze: by Sea, two Pinnaces, of to him. 30 fiftie Tunnes apiece, vnder the conduct of Baribolo new Disco, with a little Victualling Barke, d Enquirie for in August, 1486. Hee set certaine Negros on shore in divers places, which had beene before him by Sea carried into Portugall, and well vied, that among those Sauages they might relate the Portugall Civilitie and Greatnesse; carrying also with them some shewes thereof in Appartell, and other things given them; and to make knowne, if it were possible, his desire, to find by his Discoueries meanes of acquaintance with Prester Iohn. He gaue Names to places discouered, and erected Pillars or Crosses of Stone (as is faid) the last in the He called hereof, the Crosses where his people with much disquiet veged his returne, alledging their Victuals spent, and the loffe of their Victualling Barke. Yet after confultation, hee proceeded fo farre, that hee first discourred the famous Cape, which for his manifold troubles he termed Cabo Tormentoso, 40 or the tempeftuous Cape: but King Iohn hoping thence to discouer the Indies, named it at his returne the . Cape of Good Hope ; where hee placed another Pillar of Stone, called . Cabo Tormen-S. Philip; as the other were termed S. George in the River of Zaire, S. Anguffine in the Cape 100, or of good thereof fo termed, and likewise the rest. He returned in December, 1487, fixteene moneths Hope, fift die and seventeene dayes after his setting out, having discovered a thousand and fiftie miles of codered. Coast. He found by the way his Victualler, wherein he had left nine men, of which, three nine moneths after the loffe of each other. By Land, the King had fent some by the way of Ierusalem to passe with the Abassine Pilgrims; which yet, for want of the Arabick Tongue, returned. Whereupon he fent Peter ned to sn En-Pilgrims; which yet, for want of the Arabick Longue, returned. Whereupon he left *Fift gliffman, left 50 & Couilian, well skilled therein, and with him Alphon Paina, in May, 1487, which went to 14, moneths in Alexandria, thence to Cairo, and thence with certaine Mores to Aden: from whence Paina S. He'na. went to feeke a passage to Prester John, but died at Cairo. Couilian from Aden, neere the g Peter Couilian ftraits of the red Sea, imbarked himfelfe for Cananor, and thence to Calicut and Goa in the fift discouerer triaits of the red Sea, imparked himselfe for Cananor, and thence to Canada and doe in the of Freshe leba, East Indies: from whence he returned vnto Africa, neere the Mines of Sofala, and after that and of the Into Caro, with purpose of returne into Portugall. But the King had sent by two Spanish dies, & Sofalalewes, Rabbi Abrahamand R. Ioseph, the later of which had beene at Bagdad, and had acquainted the King with the Trade at Ormus, and from thence had pared to Aleppo and Damasco, and was now sent backe to Couilian, that by the one an answere might be brought what he had done, with charge not to defift, till he had beene with the Abaffine, to whom he 60 implayed him in Embassage: the other, to goe to Ormus, and informe himselfe of the Aftures of those parts. By tofeph, Coulian wrote to the King, and to encourage his Nauigatiens, sent him a Mappe of his Discoueries in India, and on the African Coast. Hee pierced onely were left aline; f one of which, Fernand Colazzo, died with fudden ioy of this fight f Death couled

Cape Verde di.ou red. Botero d. 16'c. * Terestas difemutred, or A ores, or Flemmifh

* Ilands of

Ilands. * Mina. CHAP.I. S.4.

30

after this, to the Court of Alexander the Abaffine, who kindly entertained him, but foone after died; neyther would his successors permit that Vlyffes to returne, a man of many Lan-Francis Alwares, guages, and much viefull for his experience in the World: but to Francis Alwares, which accompanied Roderike de Lims in an Embaffage thither almost thirtie yeeres after, hee related the fumme of his Trauels.

Many other worthy Acts were performed by King John, in feeking to reduce some of these wild people both in Guinea and Congo, to holy Baptisme and Christian Religion, not so pertinent to this our purpose: but this was the furthest of his Discourries. He had omitted an oportunitie offered by Columbus, whom in his first returne from the Indies with his new Indians, he saw in March, 1493. But Occasions Head in the hinder parts was bald, the 10 Spaniard having before fastned on her fore-lockes. Yet doth Navigation owe as much to this ftronomie first Prince as to any, who had imployed Roderigo and loseph, his Iewish Physicians, cunning Mathematicians of that time, with Martin Bohemus the Scholler of John Monte Regius, to deuife what helpes they could for the Mariners in their faylings thorow vnknowne Seas, where neyther Starres (as vnknowne) nor Land (being out of kenne) could guide them. Thele first, Aftrolibe, and after long study, applyed the Astrolabe, before vied onely by Astronomers, to Marine vie, and Tables of Do deuised the Tables of Declinations, to find out the Latitude of Places, and how to direct their course (which was afterwards by the knowledge of the Variation, exceedingly furthered) whereby the Mariners Art first began to free it selfe from the rudenesse of former times, and in these Nauigations of Canus and Dias, as those also of Columbius, to prepare a Way to 20 open our Eyes in these parts, to see a new World, and there in those, to see a new Heaven by

Rules of Aapplyed to Nauigation,

d. IIII.

Euangelicali Light, whereof a little milled glimpse they have alreadie; an Earnest (as wee hope) of more, and more perfect, by Gods grace in due time to be reuealed.

Of the Coniectures touching a New World by CHRISTOPHER COLON or COLVMBVS, and bis manifold Difficulties therein.

Nd vnto Portugall was Spaine beholden for Columbia, and Columbia also for his skill, whereby the Columbian (so fitlier named, then American) World was discouered. This Columbus or Colombo (by the Spaniards for easier pronunciation termed Colon) was borne, some lay, at Sarona, some at Nerui, others in Cicurco, in the territorie of Genua, of an ancient House, of great reputation in the Empire of Otho the fecond (whose Charters to the Family of the Columbi are yet extant) but now almost antiquated, rotten and ruined with antiquitie. He began to embrace the Sea, and vse Nauigation

l.1. c.7. Gomara Hift. Gex. c. 14. face to Pet.

in his Childhood, and traded many yeeres into Syria and other parts of the East; and became 40 also a maker of Cards for the Sea. The fame of the Portugall Nauigations brought him this ther, to learne the Coasts of Africa, and with their skill to amend his Cards, and withall his fortunes. There he married a Wife, Philippa Mumiz de Perestrello (by whom he had his fonne lames) and traded the Coast of Guinea. Some skill, it is manifest, hee had in the Latine Tongue, and was very studious of the Mathematikes, being also in his Religion (according Botero Rel. vm. to that knowledge he had) very deuout, frequent in Prayer, observant of Fasts, temperate in Diet, modest in Attyre, gravely courteous in Behavior, abstinent of Oathes, and abhominating Blatphemies. Such an one did God make him, before he would make him a Discouerer, And as the Plalmilt fingeth of Heavenly, it is true also in Earthly Mysteries, The secret of the Lord is with them that feare him, and the meeke he will guide in indgement: Which eafily shew- 50 eth the cause why no better successe hath followed some mens endeuours, who going forth with high-twolne Sayles, filled with puffes of Pride, and blafts of Arrogance, addicting themselues to Swearing, Curting, and other resolute Dissolutenesse (as if they sought Discoueries in the infernall Regions, and acquaintance with those Legions of Hell, rather then to discouer Lands, and recouer Infidels to internall peace by the eternall Gospell) eyther perish at Sea, or returns with the gaine of loffe, and shame, in stead of glory. Our Christopher Columbia was fuch in Deed as in Name, carrying Christ in his heart, and Doue-like louely carriage in conversation.

He is reported by Gomara, Mariana, and others, to have beene first moved to this Disconerie by a Pilot, which had beene before by diffresse of Weather driven upon the Hands of 60 Herera Dec.1. America, which the most judicious Spaniards either omit or deny; Benzo and Ransesto thinke Li. Ouiedo Lis. it a tricke of Spanish enuy, derogating from the worth of an Italian. But the reasons more

C H A P. I. S.4. probable, are his piercing Wit, judicious observation of Occurrents, learning in the Mathematikes, and the speciall instinct of Dinine Providence, without which no humane patience could have furtained such magnanimous Indeuours, to long contemned, fo much, fo variously condemned. Experience of the Portugals, amongst whom he dwelt, had taught him the va- Columbo's nitie of Antiquitie touching the Antipodes, the Torrid Zone not habitable, and that the Sea grounds for must of Antoquine cooking the Antopoles, the Ferral Zone has have been fine the Set of was curry way Nauigable. Art infructed him of the roundnesse of this inferior Globe(which in the Moones Ecclipse is visible) and the proportionable nesses of the Earth to the Water, that as much dry Land might be as well on that, as on this fide the Line: neyther was it likely, that so huge a quantitie of the Globe should be couered with Waters, which was made princi-10 pally for the vie and habitation of Man; or that this Globe was not equally poyzed on both fides that Centre, which is one to it and the Water; or that there should be such huge Lands (if they were Lands) in this old Age of the World, nor inhabited by Man, whose Bleffing from Genus. of the the Creator was to fill or replenifo the Earth, renewed againe after the Floud; or that the Indies in the East might not in the Earths Globositie be as readily found out by the West, following the Sunne in his dayly Iourney, which with all his Night-watch of Starres was as vnlike to be there appointed a continuall course and circular Race for the Seas or Delart Lands. Experiments had also taught him, both by relation of the Portugals in their longer Voyages, and in his owne on the West of Spaine, that the Westerne Winds holding a constant course yeerely, and that also farre off at Sea, could not but arise from some Lands further Westward, then any yet 20 knowne: And Martin Vincent, a Mariner which vsed the Azores or Terceras, had told him, that he was once carried foure hundred and fiftie leagues to the West of Cape S. Vincent, and Hir. Dec. 1.1.16 there tooke vp a piece of Wood or Timber, wrought by mans hand, and that, as farre as he could c.s. judge, without Iron, which he imagined had come from some Westerne Hand. Pedro Corres, which had married his Wives fifter, had likewife fignified to him, that at Puerto Santo he had feene the like Peece driven thither by the Westerne Winds, wrought in the same fashion: and besides, he had seene great Canes, which in each knot might containe aboue two gallons of Water, which he also sent to him to see; which being vnlikely to grow in the knowne parts of the West, and having read of such growing in India, he supposed, that some long and violent Westerne Winds had brought them thither from thence. The inhabitants also of the Azeres 30 had told him, that strong West and Northwest Winds had brought by Sea vpon Graciosa and Fayal certaine Pine trees, two dead men also on the Coast of Flores, with larger faces then are viuall in these parts, and of other fauor, and two Canoas another time driven also by the Wind. Antonio Leme of Madera had related, that being carried in his Caruile farre Westward, he had feemed to fee three Ilands: And another of that Iland had fued to the King of Portugall in the yeere 1484. for licence to discouer certaine Land which he sware he had seene euery yeere ouer-against the Azores. Diego Velaz ques had fortie yeeres before beene carried farre into the West, and there observed the Seas and Winds such, as if the Land were not farre off, as he affirmed to Columbus: and another Mariner teld him of Land hee had feene farre Welt from Irea land, which is supposed to be New-found-Land. Petro de Velasco had signified the like, in his 40 going for Ireland; and Vincent Diaz, a Portugall Pilot, had feemed to himselfe, in his returne from Guinea, to see an Iland in the height of Madera, for which also search was after made, but

These things argue his laborious industrie and diligent enquirie: his readings of Marco Polo and other Iournals (that I mention not the Ancients) did not a little animate him, as may appeare in his enquirie for Zipango, mentioned by Polo, supposed now to be Iapan; and naming Hispaniola Ophir, thinking, or feeming to thinke, that he had found out the East Indies. And Why America for that cause was this New World called the Indies also, with distinction of West: and this called India. was his maine argument to such Princes as he sought to patronize this his discouerie, the riches of the East Indies, promifed by a Westerne Nauigation. And herein his resolution was admi-50 rable, that howloeuer some derided as folly, others rejected as impossible, his suit, yet he neuer

Hee first propounded it to his Countreymen the Genuois, and found, that a Prophet found no profit at home; he seconded it in Portugall where he dwelt, and was married at Lisbone, and had learned most of his Art and Intelligence, confirmed therein also by Martin Bohemus I. di Barros in the Mathematician; but Iohn the second did not second his desires, as adjudged vaine by Rode. his Dec. 1. 18.3. the Mathematician; but 10hn the second and not second in defines, as admosf evalue by Route cap.11. faith, rigo and lofeph the Iewes, before mentioned, with other Committees; which yet moved with that he was his reasons, countelled the King secretly to fend a Caruell, under colour of a Voyage, to Cape not beleveed Verde, to make this Discouerie; wherein croffed with foule Weather, they effected nothing. at all, and li-This made him out of low with Portugall, and to find his brother Bartholomer to King Ham, king to get the fewenth of England with the fame fuit: who falling into the hands of Pyrats, was forced for no fulfilling into fill the property of the fewenth of England with the fame fuit: who falling into the hands of Pyrats, was forced for Caffic. to suitaine himselfe with making Sea-Cards, and so long deferred for want of suitable suites, to But we have make his fuit and petition to the King, that when it was granted, and his brother fent for, hee followed Hehad sped before in Spaine. Thicher had hee himselfe repaired in the yeere 1484, secretly, and rera in the by Sea, for feare of the Portugals, which had before deluded him: Ferdinand and I fabel the most part of the second secon

Catholike Princes being then busied in Warre against the Mores of Granada. But having spent fine yeeres in purlising his fuit, his answer from the Court was, That the Kings Treasure was so exhauft in the Conquest of Granada, that they could not entertaine new expences : but those being ended, they would better examine his intent, and give him dispatch.

Much was Columbus aggrieved at this answer, yet failed not his constancie. Hee catifed his defires to be made knowne to the Dukes of Medina Coeli, and of Medina Sidonia, but with effeet like the former. Twice hee purposed (as his sonne Fernand Columbus writeth) to leave Spaine, and goe himselfe into France or England, whence hee had not heard of his brother Bartholomen: but Divine Providence otherwise disposed. And hee which hitherto had not found credit to advance (nay, scarcely meanes, but in great part, by the bountie of Alphonso di Quin- 10 taniglia the Kings chiefe Auditor, to fultaine) him, obtained the Letters of Frier Ivan Perez, de Marchena to Frier Ferndado di Talouera the Queenes Confessor, and at last, by the mediation of the Cardinall Mendoza, Archbishop of Toledo, procured audience and graunt of the Catholike Kings, Queene Isabel taking order with Lewis of S. Angelo to empayme some of her Iewels, to the value of two thousand Duckats for his Expedition, which yet he lent out of his purse : so low was the Treasure of Spaine, when God offered them the Westerne Treasurie.

Magnanimous Columbus, not broken with Pouertie at home, with Affronts and Discountenances abroad, with imputations of impotent, almost impudent, at least as imprudent as importunate fancies of impossible, impassable Nauigations by vinknowne Seas to vinknowne Lands! not amated to farre, as to abate his Conditions of no small nature to him and his heires, as if he 20 had alreadie effected his defignes: not defiring any reward, except he found somewhat answerable to his promife, nor leffe then, than the Office and Title of Admirall by Sea, and Vice-Roy on Land, with the Tenth of the Profits thorowall the Seas, Ilands, or firme Lands (to himfelie during his life, and after, to his heires and fucceffors) what foeuer he should discouer; which faith Ouied,Hift,del Ouiedo) he enioyed whiles he lived, his forme Admirall, James or Don Diego Colombo, after him. and his nephew Don Lewis Colombo the Admirall at this day. This composition was made betwixt him and the Catholike Kings in the Field before Granada, then befreged, in the middeft of the Armie, the feuenteenth of April, 1492. as if God would reward their endeuours and expences, in rooting out the Mores, which had possessed those parts of Spaine about seven hundred yeeres, with this New Discouerie, so profitable to the Spanish Crowne.

COLVMBVS his first Voyage, and improvement therein of the Mariners Art.

* Oxiedo hath Gallega.

N Friday, the third of August, the same yeere, hee set forth with his three Carauels from Palos; himfelfe in the Admirall, called . Santa Maria; the fecond Pinta, in which, was Captaine Martin Alonfo Pinçon, and his brother Francisco Martine 40 Pincon, Mafter; the third Ninna, whole Captaine and Mafter was Vincent Tannez.

Fincon, which found halfe that eighth part of the expence which Colombo had couenanted to contribute. There were in all (fome fay) an hundred and twenty men; Herera hath but ninety. On the fourth of August, the Rudder of the Pinta proued loose, which they fastened as well as they could with Cords, but foone after with force of Wind brake, and they were all compelled to strike fayle; which, in such a Voyage as this (they knew not whither) could not but be troublefome, and feeme also ominous. On the eleuenth of August they had fight of the Canaries; where having refreshed themselves in the He Gomera, they hasted thence the fixt of Septem-When he had ber, for feare of the Portugals, who had fet forth three Caruels to take them. The feuenth they loft fight of Land, with fighes and teares, many of them fearing neuer to fee it againe; whom Don Christopher comforted as well as he could, with promifes of rich Discoueries; and fayling that day *eighteene leagues, he reckoned no more then fifteene, diminishing his accompt, to make them seeme neerer home. On the foureteenth of September he first observed the Variation of the Compas, which no man till then had confidered, which every day appeared more evident. On Sunday, the fixteenth, they faw pieces of * Graffe, or Herbes, on the Water, of a pale greene colour, and on one of them a Graffe-hopper aline, and fome fignes of Land appropriate, made some beleeue they had seene it. On the nineteenth they saw an Alcatraz (a kind of Sea-Fowle) and the next day two, which with other Graffe every day encreasing, encreased their hopes of Land, faue that the Graffe fometimes hindered their fayling.

All this while he had the Wind in poupe, which on the two and twentieth of September ( way, which as came croffe at Southwest; and the Spaniards murmured, that the former Winds, which had been first terrified large to bring them hither, would never permit their returne to Spaine, and now began to blam them, as if they the King and Queene, which had liftned to that bold Italian, refoluting to perfect the Voyage n. funken Linds. further (the Admirall vling all his Wits to the contrarie in vaine, mixing with Promites and

Of the Circum-Nauigations of the Globe. CHAP.I.S. 5.

Prayers, Threats and Menaces) alledging, That he thought to make himselfe a great Lord with the price of their lines; and that they had alreadie done their dutie, fayling further from Land then ever any had: nor ought they to be guiltie of their owne deaths, proceeding they knew not whither, till Victuals fayled them, which alreadie would fearcely hold out their returne, nor yet the Caruels, being alreadie spent, and faultie, with other like quarrels : threatning to throw him into the Sea, if he would not returne; and if hee were so desperate to perish, they would faue themselues. Colombo iweetly calmed those tempests with gentle words and rich promifes, tod (as is thought, before agreed upon) talking with Vincent Pinçon, fuddenly cryed, Land, Land, on the fine and twentieth of September, which filled them with cheare and hope, 10, which yet proued but Clouds: and therefore howforeer the mutinous tempest was for a time stilled, yet on the second of October that storme revived with such force, that hee having prolonged as farre as hee might, with likelier fignes dayly of Land, at last he indented with them for three dayes. This they promifed to trie, but not one houre longer; faying, all were Lyes which he had promised. The first of these dayes he perceived by the Sunne-set, that Land was neere, and commanded, that they should abate their Sayles in the Night; in which Night hee ipyed Light.

Two houres after Midnight, Rodriga de Triana descryed Land on the eleventh of October, Rod de Triana 1492. Which when it was day, they faw to be an Iland of fifteene leagues compaffe, plaine and fift faw Land. woodie, with a great Poole of fresh Water, the naked people wondring on the shore, thinking 20 their Shippes were living Creatures. They went on Land, and termed it San Salnador, by the Guanabani, or Inhabitants called Guanahani, one of the Iles Lucayos, nine hundred and fiftie leagues from the San Saludor. Canaries, and having faid a Te Deum on his knees, with teares in his eyes, Colombo tooke poffession in name of the Catholike Kings, Ferdinand and Isabella, in presence of Rodrigo de Escomedo, Notarie; the Spaniards also acknowledging him for Vice-Roy. The people wondred at the Beards, Whitenesse, Clothing of the Spaniards, who gaze them coloured Caps, Glasse-beads, and other Toyes. And when they departed, the naked Natiues followed, some in Canoas, A Conoa is a others swimming after them. They were all naked, their haire bound vp, their stature meane, bodies well formed, colour like those of the Canaries, Oliue, painted some blacke, others of other they wrought colours, in part, or all ouer the body, as each best fancied. They knew not the vie of Iron, or into that forme Weapons, but layd their hands on the edge of the Sword. They faw no living Creatures but with tharpe Parrats among them. They trucked for Cotton Yarne, and had Rings of Gold in their Nok-flones, & helpe Parrats among them. They trucked for Cotton Yarne, and nad Kings or Gold in their Roles of first fome thrils, which they faid that it came from the South, where they had a King rich therein. They cared but one, tooke the Spaniards to be men come from Heauen. On the fifteenth of October he went feuen leagues thence to another Hand (which he cal- 40.07 50.men led Santa Maria de la Concecion) the seuenteenth, to Fernandina, where the Women, with in them. Cotton short Coates, from the Nauell to the mid Thigh, couered their nakednesse. The fourth S. Maria de la Cotton short Coates, from the Namil to the mid I nigh, courted their nakeulistic. I he bound of contention. He would formation. He would formation. He would formation. not suffer any of his companie to take ought from the Natines in any place. Thence he passed 1/abella. to Cuba, and went on Land, thinking it to be Zipango; and some Indians which he carried Cuba. with him, fignified, that there was Gold and Pearles. He fent two Spaniards with two Indians to fearch the Countrey, which found a Towne of fiftie houses of about a thousand persons (for a whole Kindred or Linage dwelt together in one house) where the people killed their hands and feet, thinking them heauenly Wights, gaue them Bread of a Root, and perfumed them with certaine Herbes burned. They faw store of Cotton growing of it selfe, and strange kinds of Eirds and Trees. The Spaniards had most mind to the Gold which they saw in their Noies, of which they questioned these Indians, who answered Cubanacan, that is in the midst of Cuba, which the Spaniards understood of the Can of Cathay, mentioned by Marco Polo.

In hope of fingular successe, Martin Alonfo Pincon left the Admirall, who also left Cuba, which he called Iuana, in honour of the Prince of Castile, to seeke that Iland which he named Hispa-50 niola, before Hayti. For having demanded of Zipango in Cuba, the Indians thinking hee had meant Cibao, which is one of the richest Mines of Hispaniola, directed him thither. Here giuing a Woman which they tooke, Meat, Drinke, and Clothes, he fent with her some of his Indians, which reported much good of the Spaniards, whence grew much acquaintance betwixt them, and after, with their King Guacanagari, which entreated Colombo to come aland. Here he lost his principall Ship, and erected a Fort called the Nativitie, and understood of the Gol- A Fort den Provinces of this Iland: and having good remonstrance of his Golden Hopes and Haps alfo, in exchange for Trifles, with fome Indians taken with him, leauing eight and thirtie Spaniards in his new Fort, after reconciliation with Pinçon (the Indians, which carried the Admirals Letter to him, attributed their mutuall understanding to some Deitie therein) he pre-

Before this, he charged them to behave themselves with all due respects to Guntanagari, and to his Indians, without wrong to any: and on Friday, the fourth of Ianuary, in the yeere 1493. (after their account) fayled from the Port of Natimitie. He faw three Mermaids leaping a good Three Merheight out of the Sea, Creatures (as hee affirmed) not so faire as they are painted, somewhat mads

11

& tome aboue

Mart. Dec. &

runne about 700. he reckoned leffe then 600. nor their Pilots much more deceived by the wind alway large. * This Graffe they call Salgazzior Saracalle, floring in diucre places this and hat

CHAP.I. S.6.

CHAP.I. S. 5. resembling Men in the face, of which at other times he said he had stene on the Coast of Guinea. In his returne, he discouered a great part of the Coast of Hispaniola, and gaue Names to Capes and Harbours. In this Voyage, Colombo is faid first to have taught the Spaniards, in their fayling, to observe the Sunne and Pole in their Navigations, which they before knew not, Observing by his skill in Astronomie, that the Moone being in conjunction with Mercury, and opposition with Impiter, and the Sunne also in like opposition, to produce great Windes, hee made some stay, and had new commerce with other Indians, where accidentally happened the first quarrell and skirmish betwixt the Spaniards and Natives. But soone after they, King sent them his Crowne of Gold, and much Victuall, and gaue them further intelligence. From this Gulfe de las Flechas, or of Arrowes, on Wednesday the seuenteenth of Ianuarie, hee departed, Io and made homewards: in which it is observed, that as in their way to the Indies, having the Wind large, they reckoned farre fewer leagues then they fayled, to in their returne they accounted more, the Admirals reckoning being a hundred and fiftie leffe then theirs.

Pilgrimages

12

A tedious Tempest befell them in Februarie: wherein other remedies seeming to fayle, they vowed Pilgrimages to our Lady by Lot; the first fell on the Admirall himselfe, to Guadalupe; the second to Loretto, on Pedro de Villa; and a third Vow was common to all, that they should at the first Church of our Lady they came to, make Procession in their shirts, with other like denoted Denotions

P(.107.14,15.

How value was this to that of the Pfalmift, in like flormes happening to them that fee the Wonders of the Lord in the Deepe. For the Lord commandeth and rayfeth the stormie Wind, which 20 lifteth up the Waves thereof. They mount up to the Heaven, they goe downe agains to the Depths, their Soule is melted because of trouble. They reele too and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits end. Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses. He maketh the Storme a Calme, so that the Wanes thereof are fill. Then are they glad, because they be quiet. So he bringeth them unto their desired Hauen. O that men would prayle the Lord (not goe on Pilgrimage to our Lady) for his goodnesse and for his wonderfull workes to the children of men, or c.

The Plalmist in like case is to distressed Mariners a better Admirall then Colombo, whose denotion herein fayled in the Obiect. Yet his diligence and wisedome in this is to be commended, lest the Voyage that fearing shipwracke, lest this famous Discouerie might also be lost, he writ the whole Dis- 30 courle in Parchment, and folding it in a Seare-cloth, he put it in a Barrell or Hogs-head, which he threw into the Sea.

Enuy.

But on the fifteenth of February they faw Land, being S. Maries Iland, one of the Azores; where going on shore to fulfill their vowed Pilgrimage, the Gouernour came vpon them, and after many words told them, that hee had order from the King of Portugall to take them. But making an escape, another Storme tooke them, and caused another Pilgrimage to be vowed to our Lady of Cinta, the Lot falling on the Admirall: And thus was he forced to Lifbone; where, after much contesting with the Portugals, the King sent for him, being now much grieued for omitting fuch an opportunitie; yet vsed him kindly, although there were that offered to kill Colombo, before hee should carry newes of this Discourre to Spaine; the rather, for 40 his boldnesse, obiecting to the King his neglect. But the gentle King reproced these cruell Gentlemen, and after kind viage, licenced him to depart.

True it is, that the Portugall Nation haue in their Bookes and Writings fought to obscure this Exploit of Columbus, attributing it rather to a Dreame of Zipango out of Marco Pole, and his confident glorious nature, seconded by successe vnlooked for (for which, as idle imaginations, their King had refused his offer) then any such excellencie as the Castilian Writers ascribe to him. But Enuy is the darke shadow, that alwayes followes him at the heeles, which walkes in the bright Sunne-light of Vertue and high Attempts. Even the Spaniards themselves, not only by the tale of the Pilot before mentioned, but by light esteeme of his worth have shewed a contemptible contempt of him; some of whom objecting to himselfe the easinesse of this Disco- 50 uerie, as he fate at Table, he prayed to make an Egge, which then he gaue them, to stand on end; which when they could not, hee bruifing the shell, and making the end flat, made it to stand thereon: thereby infinuating, how easie it was for them to doe that which they had seene and learned of him. Yea, the Pincons, his chiefe Affociates, by like spirit of proud Enuy, maligned him; one of which had, after the Islands discourred, for saken him, as yee haue heard: which hee was forced to diffemble, and be reconciled, the most of his companie being of kinne to the Pincons, or at lest inhabitants of Palos with them. They also entred suit with Colombo, and arrogated to their owne valour this Discouerie, which Columbus would (after so many dayes not finding Land) haue forfaken, but was proceeded in by their refolution. And in his third Voyage 1949. Rolda- 60 nus Ximenius rayled a Rebellion in those parts, and effected, that Bonadilla was sent Gouernour into Hilpaniola, who fent the Admirall, with his Brother, Prifoners all the way, of his long Discouerie into Spaine, for which he had to aduentured. These Iron Chaynes could cold Enuy, for to much Gold, for fuch a World, render vnto that Worthy of Men. But the Catholike Kings of higher Spirits (for Enuy, the first sinne we read of in the Deuill, and which made him a De- Impatientia zawill, as Tirtullian and Cyprian in their Tractates of Patience have observed, the first also in the take ab info first-borne Man, which made him an incarnate Deuill and Murtherer, is but the fink, and settled Dregs of Bafeneffe, which wanting proper worth, malignes it to others) these much honoured in tum care Columbus, as well they might, and confirmed his Printledges anew, befides many speciall graces Dons voncerit Columbus, as well they might, and confirmed his I muneges at their ingenuous Writers, Ouiedo, eva him i done him him, as did alfo the Cardinall of Spaine, and thill is done by their ingenuous Writers, Ouiedo, fabraciffe, we Herera, and others.

This Storie at large I have fet downe, that Difcoverers may by this example learne to digeft New coundolugreater Stormes at home, then the boyfterous Elements in their temperatures Confpiracie yield after fraiment them; and to know, that Pufillanimitie and Impatience are the vinitter Attempters in the 1921, are insi-World. The Spaniards other Difcoueries in the American parts ( for to were they called cf differ fi men do-World. The Spaniards other Discournes in the American parts (for to were they cance a langer.

American Desputius, a Fl. rentine, who accompanied Colombo in his first Voyage, and after diff.

Test de patients. couered a greater part of the Continent then the Admirall had, as Cabota in that did more then tia. they both) Hith not to purfie; easie it is to know, that Gold bartered for Glasse, Beads, Nee- cyp. de beno pat. dles, and other Toyes, would be strongly active, and strangely attractive to new Discoveries. Diabotus homidies, and other Toyes, would be irrongly actue, and triangery actuacitie to new Jermelum facti qui bene capit, habet. Cortes his Conquest of Mexico, and Pizarro his Penn nem ad imagiwere not comparable to their Maiters Maiter-Perce, who found the New World, to find them impatienter inworke. Before Colombo went his fecond Voyage, he left a Card, contaying the description lit, inde to se se of the whole Nauigation and Difecturie, in Spaine with the Kings, and his fennes, Pages to referre defit. the Prince.

ð. V I.

Of the Popes Bull made to Castile, touching the New World.

THE Catholike Kings, prefently after that first Discouerie, gaue accompt thereof to the Pope, which then was Alexarder the fixt (before named Borgia, a Spaniard of Valentia) by his Embafiadour, and defined his fauour for the Crowne of Caffile and Lions, in the Grant of these New Difeoceries, made or to be made: For long since had the Pope challenged Christs right over the Christian World. Adrian the fourth, in his Letters of Ireland to King Henry the found affirmeth, That all Hands under the Sunne, of righteoufneffe belong to Papall disposition. This second Alexander, in Gods right, claymes all the World : or in ordine ad Deum, for the conversion (for footh) to the Faith, the temporall Estates of the whole World are by his Parantes vitally put vnder that triple Diademe. So they thought, or fo would feeme to thinke, in regard of Papall Grants before to the Crowne of Portugall (whence was like to arile fome grietance and impediment to their Affaires, as pretending a Monopoly, by former Dispensation in Indian D. scoueries) and therefore fought this fauour 40 of that Monter of Men, then fitting in that Chayre. This Bull, because it is not common, I haue here transcribed.

EXEMPLAR BULLE SEV DONATIONIS,

Autoritate cuius, Episcopus Romanus ALEXANDER eius nominis fextus, concessit & donauit Castellæ Regibus & fuis fuccefforibus, Regiones & Infulas Noui Orbis.

LEXANDER Episcopus, seruus seruorum Dei, Charisimo in Christo filio Hanc Bullans FERDINANDO Regi, & Charissime in Christo filie ELIZABETH Re- batet Lover de Gomera, in bift. The Ruin And O Ares, O Commission of Granata, illustribus, falutem & gospites.c.19. Apostolicam Benedictionem.

later extera Dinina Ataiestati beneplacita opera & cordis nostri desiderabilia, illud profecto potifimum existit ve fides Catholica & Christiana Religio nostris prafersum temporibus exaltetur ac vbilibet amplietur ac dilatetur, animarumg, salus procuretur, ac barbara Nationes deprimantur & ad fidem ipfam reducantur. Vnde cum ad hanc faco eram P E T R I Sedem Dinina fauente elementia (meritis licet imparibus) enocati fuerimus, cognoscentes vos tanquam veros Catholicos Reges & Principes : quales semper fuisse nouimus, & à vobis praclare gesta, toti pene Orbi notissima demonstrant, nedum id exoptare, sed omni conatu, studio, & diligentia, pullis laboribus, nullis impensis, nullisque parcendo periculis, etiam proprium sanguinem effundendo efficere, ac omnem

CHAP. 1. S. 6.

nea diffet à qualibet Infularum, que vulgariter nuncupantur de los Azores, & Cabo

Verde centum leucis, versus Occidentem & Meridiem. Itaque omnes Insule & Terra possesse vique ad diem Nativitatis Domini nostri Iesu Christi proxime prateritum, à quo incipit Annus prasens Millesimus quadringentesimus nonogesimus tertius, quando firma reperta & reperienda , detecta & detegenda à prafata linea versus Occidentem 60 & Meridiem, que per alium Regem aut Principem Christianum non fuerint actualiter fuerant per Nuncios & Capitaneos vestros inuenta alique pradictarum Insularum, Autoritate Omnipotentis Dei nobis in beato PETRO concessa, ac Vicariatus lesu Christi, qua fungimur in Terris, cum omnibus illarum Dominys, Cinitatibus, Castris, Locis, & villis, iuribusque & iurifdictionibus ac pertinentigs valuersis vobis, haredibusque, & incessoribus vestris (Castelle & Legionis Regibus) in perpetuam tenore prasintium donamus, concedimus, & assignamus : Vosque, & heredes, ac successores prefatos illarum Dominos, cum plena, libera, & omnimoda potestate, autoritate, & iurisdictione, facimus, constituimus, & deputamus. Decernentes nibilo minus, per huiusmodi donationem, c.n. cefionem, & asignationem nostram, nulli Christiano Principi, qui actualiter prafatas Infulas & Terras firmas possederit v sque ad pradictum diem Nativitatis Domini nostrà lesu Christi ius quasitum, sublatum intelligi posse, aut auferri debere.

Et insuper mandamus vobis in virtute sancta obedientia (vt sicut pollicemini & non dubitamus pro vestra maxima deuotione & Regia magnanimitate vos esse facturos) ad Terras firmas & Insulas pradictas, viros probos & Deum timentes, doctos, peritos, & expertes ad instruendum Incolas & habitatores prefatos in fide Catholica, & bonis moribus imbuendum, destinare debeatis, omnem debitam diligentiam in pramisis adhiben-20 tes. Ac quibuscunque personis, cuiuscunque dignitatis, etiam Imperialis & Regalis status, gradus, ordinis vel conditionis, sub excommunicationis late sententie pena quam co ipso, l contra fecerint incurrant, districtius inhibemus ne ad Insulas & Terras firmas inuentas d'inueniendas, detectas & detegendas versus Occidentem & Meridiem, fabricando & construendo lineam à Polo Arctico ad Polum Antarcticum, siue Terre firme & Insule inuente & inueniende sint versus Indiam aut versus aliam quameunque partem, que linea distet à qualibet Infularum, que vulgariter nuncupantur de los Azores, & Cabo Verde centum leucis versus Occidentem & Meridiem vt pr.cfertur, pro mercibus habendis, vel quanis alia sausa accedere prasumat, absque vestra as heredum & successo-30 rum vestrorum pradictorum licentia (peciali : Non obstantibus constitutionibus & ordinationibus Apostolicis, caterisque quibuscunque: in ille in quo Imperia & Dominationes & bona cuneta procedunt, Confidentes qued dirigente Domino actus vestres, fi huiusmodi sanctum ac laudabile propositum prosequamini, breut tempore cum fælicitate & gloria totius populi Christiani, vestri labores & conatus exitum falicisimum confequentur. Verum quia difficile foret prasentes literas ad singula quaque loca in quibus expediens fuerit deferri, volumus ac motu & scientia similibus decernimus, quod illarum transsumptis manu publici Notarii inde rogati subscriptis, & sigillo alicuius persona in Ecclesiastica dignitate constitute, seu Curia Ecclesiastica munitis, ea prorsus sides in iudicio 40 & extra, ac alias vibilibet adhibeatur, que presentibus adhiberetur si essent adhibite vel

Nulli ergo omnino hominum liceat hanc Paginam nostra commendationis, hortationis, requisitionis, donationis, concessionis, assignationis, constitutionis, deputationis, decreti, mandati, inhibitionis, & voluntatis, infringere, vel ei ausu temerario contraire. Si quis autem hoc attentare presumpserit, indignationem Omnipotentis Dei, ac beatorum PE-TRI & PAVLI Apostolorum eius, fe nouerit incur furum.

> Datum Romæ apud Sanctum Petkwm, Anno Incarnationis Dominicæ 1493. quarto nonas Maij, Pontificatus nostri, anno primo.

THE SAME ENGLISHED.

LEXANDER Bishop, the Servant of the Servants of God, to our most This was Eng. deare beloued Sonne in CHRIST, King Ferdinande, and to our deare be- lined and publoued Daughter in CHRIST, Elizabeth, Queene of Castile, Legion, Ar- Eden, 1777 ragon, Sicilie, and Granata, most Noble Princes, greeting, and Apostolicall Bene-

Among other Workes acceptable to the Dinine Maiestie, and according to our hearts desire, this certainely is the chiefe, that the Catholike Faith and Christian Religion, specially in this our time, may in all places be exalted, amplified, and enlarged, whereby the health of Soules may bee procured, and the barbarous Nations hibdued and brought to the Faith. And therefore, whereas by the fauour of Gods Clemencie (although not without equal) deferts) we are called to this holy Sear of PETER, and understanding you to be true Catholike Princes, as wee haue ever knowne you, and as your noble and worthy Facts have declared in manner to the whole World, in that with all your studie, diligence, and industry, you have spared no Trauailes, Charges, or Perils, aduenturing euen the thedding of your owne Bloud, with applying your whole Mindes and Endenours hereunto, as your Noble 19 Expeditions atchieued in recouering the Kingdome of Granata from the Tyrannie of the Sarracens in these our dayes, doe plainely declare your Fasts, with so great Glory of the Dinine Name. For the which, as wee thinke you worthy, so ought wee of our owne free will fauourably to graunt you all things, whereby you may dayly, with more feruent mindes, to the honour of God, and enlarging the Christian Empire, prosecute your devout and laudable Purpose, most acceptable to the Immortall God. Wee are credibly informed, that whereas of late you were determined to feeke and finde certaine Ilands and firme Lands, farre remote and vnknowne (and not heretofore found by any other) to the intent to bring the Inha. 20 bitants of the same to honour our Redeemer, and to professe the Catholike Faith, you have hitherto beene much occupied in the expugnation and recoverie of the Kingdome of Granata, by reason whereof you could not bring your said laudable Purpose to the end desired. Neuerthelesse, as it hath pleased Almightie God, the forefaid Kingdome being recourred, willing to accomplish your faid Defire, you haue, not without great Labour, Perils, and Charges, appointed our welbeloued Sonne Christopher Colonus (a man certes well commended, as most worthy and apt for so great a Matter) well furnished with Men and Ships, and other Necessaries, to feeke (by the Sea, where hitherto no man hath fayled) fuch firme Lands and Ilands farre remote, and hitherto vnknowne, who (by Gods helpe) making diligent fearch in the Ocean Sea, haue found certaine remote Ilands and firme Lands, which were not heretofore found by any other: in the which (as is faid) many Nations inhabite, living peaceably, and going naked, not accustomed to eate Flesh; and as farre as your Messengers can conjecture, the Nations inhabiting the foresaid Lands and Ilands, beleeve that there is one God, Creator in Heaven, and seeme apt to bee brought to the imbracing of the Catholike Faith, and to be endued with good Manners: by reason whereof, wee may hope, that if they be well instructed, they may 40 easily be induced to receive the Name of our Sautour IESVS CHRIST. Wee are further advertised, that the fore-named Christopher hath now builded and erested a Fortrelle, with good Munition, in one of the forefaid principall Ilands, in the which he hath placed a Garrison of certaine of the Christian menthat went this ther with him, as well to the intent to defend the same, as also to fearch other Hands and firme Lands farre remote, and yet viknowne. Wee also understand, that in these Lands and Hands lately found, is great plentie of Gold and Spices, with divers and many other precious things, of fundry kinds and qualities. Therefore all things diligently confidered (especially the amplifying and enlarging of the Catholike 50 Faith, as it behoueth Catholike Princes, following the examples of your Noble Progenitors, of famous Memorie) you have determined, by the favour of Almightie God, to fubic t vnto you the firme Lands and Ilands aforefaid, and the Dwellers and Inhabitants thereof, and to bring them to the Catholike Faith. Wee greatly commending this your godly and laudable purpose in our Lord, and desirous to have the same brought to a due end, and the Name of our Saujour to be knowne in those parts, doe exhort you in our Lord, and by the receiving of your holy Baptisme, whereby you are bound to Apostolicall Obedience, and earneitly require you by the Bowels of Mercie of our Lord IESVS CHRIST, that 60 when you intend, for the zeale of the Catholike Faith, to profecute the faid Expedition, to reduce the People of the forefaid Lands and Ilands to the Christian Religion, you shall spare no Labours at any time, or be deterred with any Perils, con-

CHAP.I. S. 6. ceiuing firme hope and confidence, that the Omnipotent God will giue good fucceffe to your godly Attempts. And that being authorifed by the Priviledge of the Apostolicall Grace, you may the more freely and boldly take vpon you the Enterprise of so great a Matter, wee of our owne motion, and not either at your request, or at the instant petition of any other person, but of our owne meere liberaline and certaine science, and by the fulnesse of Apostolicall power, doe giue, grant, and affigne to you, your heires and successors, all the firme Lands and Ilands found or to be found, discouered or to be discouered, toward the West and South, drawing a Line from the Pole Artike to the Pole Antartike (that is) from the North to the South: Contayning in this Donation, whatfoeuer firme Lands or Ilands are found, or to be found toward India, or toward any other part what soeuer it be, being distant from, or without the foresaid Line, drawne a hundred Leagues toward the West, and South, from any of the Ilands which are commonly called De los Azores and Capo Verde. All the Ilands therefore, and firme Lands, found and to be found, discouered and to be discouered, from the said Line toward the West and South, such as haue not a fually beene heretofore possessed by any other Chriftian King or Prince, vntill the day of the Natiuitie of our Lord IESV CHRIST last past, from the which beginneth this present yeere, being the yeere of our Lord a thousand foure hundred ninetie three, when soeuer any such shall bee found by your Messengers and Captaines, wee by the Authoritie of Almightie G O D. graunted vnto vs in Saint Peren, and by the Vicarship of Iesvs CHRIST which wee beare on the Earth, doe for euer, by the tenour of these presents, giue, grant, affigne, vnto you, your heires and successors (the Kings of Castile and Legrant, amgreying you, you have a man lands, with their Dominions, Territories, Cities, Caffles, gion) all those Lands and Hands, with their Dominions, Territories, Cities, Caffles, Towers, Places, and Villages, with all the Rights and Iurisdictions thereunto pertaining; constituting, affigning, and deputing you, your heires and successors, the Lords thereof, with full and free Power, Authoritie, and Iurifdiction: Decreeing neuerthelesse by this our Donation, Grant, and Assignation, that from no Christian Prince, which actually hath possessed the foresaid Ilands and firme Lands, vnto the day of the Natiuitie of our Lord beforesaid, their Right obtained, to be vnderstood hereby to be taken away, or that it ought to be taken away. Furthermore, wee command you in thevertue of holy Obedience: (as you have promifed, and as wee doubt not you will doe, vpon meere Denotion and Princely Magnimitie ) to fend to the faid firme Lands and Hands, honest, vertuous, and learned men, fuch 40 as feare God, and are able to instruct the Inhabitants in the Catholike Faith and good Manners, applying all their possible diligence in the premisses. Wee furthermore straitly inhibite all manner of persons, of what state, degree, order, or condition soeuer they be, although of Imperiall and Regall Dignitie, vnder the paine of the Sentence of Excommunication, which they shall incurre, if they doe to the contrary, That they in no case presume, without speciall Licence of you, your heires, and successors, to trauaile for Marchandizes, or for any other cause, to the faid Lands or Ilands, found or to be found, discouered or to be discouered, toward the West and South, drawing a Line from the Pole Artike to the Pole Antartike, whether the firme Lands and Ilands, found and to be found, be fituate toward India, or toward any other part, being distant from the Line drawne a hundred Leagues toward the West, from any of the Ilands commonly called De los Azores and Capo Verde: Notwithstanding Constitutions, Decrees, and Apostolicall Ordinances whatfocuer they are to the contrary. In him from whom Empires, Dominions, and all good things doe proceede: Trusting, that Almightie GoD, directing your Enterprises, if you follow your godly and laudable Attempts, your Labours and Trauailes herein, shall in short time obtaine a happie end, with felicitie and glorie of all Christian People. But forasmuch as it should be a thing 60 of great difficultie, these Letters to be carried to all such places as should be expedient; wee will, and of like motion and knowledge doe decree, That whither foeues the same shall be sent, or wheresoeuer they shall be received, with the subscription of a common Notarie thereunto required, with the Seale of any person constitute

2 Seneca.

b Cice o. c He was bea Spiniard of Gi em terra-rum? sed quia

id ego eviguo

facio navigio,

latro vocor quie

tumogna classe,

f B.n. Card. Bal.

co c. vid. feriet.

vit. Poniif. de flumonies of their owne

Authors: fee

aga: A Baron.

In q. rag 323.

tic Clergies committed a-

Murthers, as (tifierh) from im nanitie ( which had in Fo!

bic & feg. PP.

Val.,n-12.

d Lucan. e A.g. d: C:u, D: , 1 c.4. Du: t:bi vt in Ecclefiasticall Dignitie, or such as are authorized by the Ecclefiasticall Court, the fame faith and credite to be given thereunto in Judgement, or elfewhere, as should be exhibited to these Presents.

Let no man therefore whatfoeuer infringe or dare rashly to contrary this Letter of our Commendation, Exhortation, Request, Donation, Grant, Affignation, Constitution, Deputation, Decree, Commandement, Inhibition, and Determination. And if any shall presume to attempt the same, let him know, that hee shall thereby incurre the Indignation of Almightie G o D, and his holy Apostles, Peter

Given at Rome at Saint PETERS, In the yeere of the Incarnation of our Lord 1493. The fourth day of the Nones of May, the first yeere of our Popedome.

ANIMADVERSIONS ON THE SAID Bull of Pope ALEXANDER.

Lthough some deny libertie of Examination and Censure to Historians, but will have them leave all to the Judgement of the Readers, to conclude what their owne Judgements shall gather out of Historicall Premisses : Yet because wee write a vite non to e c . led Ro-Schole, and Historie is not b onely vita Memoria, but Magistra vita, is the Schoole der cus Borgia, of Divine Providence, wherein by Example is alway read that Rule, Difeite institiam moniti; let me haue like leaue as almost all Historians, Diuine, Ecclesiasticall, and Humane, haue with thankes also obtained: And let the feuerer Criticke call it a Digreffion, or Parenthefis, or what he pleafeth, fo it may profit the feebler feet of fuch as may flumble hereat, and confirme the firmer and more refolued : Difficile est Satyram non feribere. It is almost necessarie in this 30 Treatife of Naugations (mott of which are, or feeme thereby inhibited) not to fuffer this Bull (as Butcherly in lequele, as those the Statute includeth) to paffe vibaited.

It was now the time that the Antichriftian Kingdome was growne to the height, and began to finke under the weight of it felfe, and the Prophecies of the Churches Restauration and Reformation began to ripen and haiten to the Birth, when this . Borgia afcended the Papall Throne, itiling himselfe Alexander, a Name ominous to the World, to the Church, and to themselues; in some, to some of them; in this (the totall summe of Mischiefe) to all. This appeared in that Great Macedonian, who was called & Falix terrarum prado; and to whom a e Pyrate, charged with Sea-rouings, obiected his greater World-rouings and robbings, this on by differing, that the one did little with his little Ship, and therefore was called a Theefe, B This History on My differing, that the one did little with his little Ship, and therefore was called a Theete, had many Ict the other doing great harme with his great Army, was furnamed Great: who after his great C. nquests, and greater ambition of Deitie, with a little Poyson was confined to his little Earth, a few Feet, a few handfuls of Duft; leaving the Ptolemeys and Seleucide, which succeeded in fide'es Christi muitoties excreçiaverit nunquam tamen tam letbaliter faucianit, & 6. Mat. Par. 1255.

part of his State, to exceed in crueltie to the Church. it main ained To the Christian Church, such have beene the Popes that have named themselves Alexby Mon. Myl. anders. Thus Alexander the second (the first that assumed that Name rejecting Anselmus, which in his Baptisme hee had received) brought forth a Schisme with his Papacie, proceeded like an Alexander in Warres, and died in Prison (as some thinke of Poyson) to give place to V dosim-Schard f Heldebrand, the true Scanderbeg of the Papacie. The next Alexander was procreated in extra Gem. 5 Schifme, betraved Frederike the Emperour to the Soldan, fending him his Picture to that 50 h He mintri- end, and after degenerating from the Macedonian Alexanders Humanitie, trode on his Necke in the Temple of S. Marke at Venice, and prophaned Scripture, Super aspidem &c. to that Dianed the Copes powe againft bolicall Deligne; first made the Law of Canonization, and then with demout Bernard canonized ti Kag and T. Becket h (an Angell of Light, and of Darkenelle yoaked together, this being murthered or martyred in the Deurls Quarrell) had at once (beyond all Alexanders Pompe) the Kings of England i and France attending on foot, and holding his Bridle. The next Alexander began with Excommunications, Perfecutions, Warres against Manfrede King of Sicilia, which to bouea hun ired maintaine, hee vied Extertions and Exactions, fuch as had neuer beene heard of; k the Cry Numbrig. 1.. who reof ascended to God, the Lord of Renenge, that the Billop of London protested he would ra-then hangs to ther loofe his head, the Bishop of Torke writ to him, to feede, not to shere, to flay, to enscerate, to 60 denoure the Sheepe like a hungry Wolfe, as Matthew Paris, who then lived, recordeth. The Tenth infly therefore by Dinine Providence (though with humane Iniuflice) was murthered himfelfei King Henry the fecond held the Bridle to the Popes Legate twice, and fuffered many ftripes on his naked flesh with Rodden.

which was granted for the Holy Land, and the prizes of Abfolution for Homicide, Treafon, 1 See Theod. de Sodomie, Witchcraft, Periurie, and all Crimes, he thus imployed; and after that publike Pefti- Nim, which lilence of the Decretales published, he died of Thought, Euent not seconding his Alexander-like his three last Designes. The fifth Alexander 1 was produced in the greatest Schisme that ever befell the Chapters of Papacie; he deposed Ladislans King of Naples, and gaue that Scepter to Lewis the Duke of the third book Aniou; as also the Kingdome of the Romans, from Rupertus to Wenceslaus; guided in all m Whence Aniou; as also the Kingdome of the Komans, from kuperius to renegium; 3 guineu in an things by Baltbasar, full of fiercenesse and secularitie; hee died of Poylon, guen him by his those verses, who will be the verses, which is those verses, and the verses when the verses were the verses which in the verses when the verses were the verses when the verse were the verses when the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse which were the verse which we will also were the verse when the verse were the verse were the verse were the verse which we w Phylician, at the procurement of Balthafar his fuccessor, leaving a yeere of Pestilence and Fa- der Cincis, Altamine to infest the World.

Of the Circum-Nauigations of the Globe.

CHAP. 1. S.6.

10 But this fixt Alexander was Heire of all their Vices: who having procreated many Baftards, Vendere in e But this fix Alexander was refer to an investor that the contracts to advance them putificeness procured the Papacie — by Simonie (fome adde, Diaholicall — Contracts) to advance them putific measured in the procured the Papacie — by Simonie (fome adde, Diaholicall — Contracts) to advance them putific measured in the procured the procured that the procured in the procured that the procure Price and Promise had exalted this Plague-fore into that Chayre of Pestilence, where hee Mar. Euseb. acted the Monster of Men, or was indeed rather an incarrate Deuill. Bellarmine o himselfe cap. (a man not of the tendereit Forhead) Husheth at his Name, though ashamed of that shame, hee a See Onuph. returnes with greater impudence, and from the immanitie of this and some other Popes, would in vit. Al. 6. returnes with greater impudence, and from the immantite of this and fome trief Popes, would be the R. have vs more admire the fledfaltneff: of that Romith Rocke, which hath fultained fuch portentuous Bearts, as an argument of Dinine Providence, that the Gates of Hell (ball never prevaile p Onub invit. (and what elfe but Vices, are the Gates of Hell!) against it. In vaine doe we Heretikes labour Al.6. Pontifex 20 to let forth the Vices of some Popes, which themselves confesse, but so, that the glory of that im can some some See is thereby exceedingly amplified. Egregiam vero landom! An exceeding amplification of ingente filters. Bellarmine his Wit! P Onuphrius, Jouins, Quicciardine, Volaterrane, and others of their owne vil fumma cum natio ones, one 9 fayth, that he is accounted a good Pope (not whole Vertues equall his Vices, pract. And, langue, mitura-and hold fome counterpoyle, as Commineus of a Prince, but) whose Wickednesse doth not ex-ceed that of other men. To omit the Deluges of Waters, of Famine, Plague, Warres, which immost stous overflowed the Citie and all Italy in his times, Rome was by the impunitie of Affailinates opulantiff quing made a very * Butchere; within it, no going by Night; nor without, by Day. And for his * mada Sarethere from the Vertues, Theological and Cardinall, his Lone was winacurall Lut, to his Daughters, to and for his Sonnes: his Faith, perfidie to all which trusted him: Generate Turkish * Gold hee betrayed, and with a white liweet linging Poylon, mixed or stress to leave the Turkish * Gold hee betrayed, and with a white liweet linging Poylon, mixed or stress to leave the stress the stress to leave the stres with his Wine, murthered; his reconciled Enemies he fraudulently betrayed to massacre; to lendos constituit. his Guests innited to his Table, hee gane poytoned Potions, in exchange of their great Riches —Home ad Ita-(in one of which Banquets, himselve at vnawares, by a mistaken Cup, was payd in his owne Coyne, the Sonne also pledging the Father; but to the Worlds greater scourge, by the benefit Guic, Li, non of Youth and Physicke, recouring.) His Hope was to make his Sonne Cafar Borgia (which incerta, non had flaine his Brother, and is faid to communicate with his Father in his * Sifters Bed ) the fede, non roligi-

Prudence, he was not wife as a Serpent, to preuent, but a wife Serpent to insent Euill. With his faitable ecrudella 40 Temperance I will not further difference your patience; but a write Serpent to intent Euril. With his pinche barbara

40 Temperance I will not further difference your patience; but confider his Instice in this Dona- or ardentiff. ex-

tion, of he knew not whom, to he knew not what Milerie.

done it to shew, that here was Dignum olla operculum, Lips sutable to the Lettuce, and amongst mode et figliagle done it to shew, that here was Dignum our operation, Lap state to the Lettines, and antological the Popes of latertimes, the Deuill (which is a Martherer from the beginning) could not mali, villou, haue found a fitter Vicar, whether wee regard the bloudie Executions and Depopulations that Volat &c. enfued, wherein both Alexander the Macedon, and Alexanders Popes, and if there be any A- 9 Guic. 1.16. lexander Deuils, are by the event of this Bull furmounted all; or whether that the Deuill, fore- Ne no fri corfeeing by the Prophecies of Babylons Fall (confirmed also with the f Fall of the Angell in this Ludate la bonta Popes time from the top of S. Angelo) that his Kingdome would foone decline, rayled up this del Pontefice 50 Alexander to be another Alexander, a Conquerer of another World, by his Spiritual Weapons, quando non travinder a feeming Conversion to Christianitie, to make a t Conversion (of another Ciceronian passa la malig-Etimologie) a Iweeping of a World of Men out of the World together, and wiping a them as mid de gli altri sman wifeth a Diff, wifting it and turning it upfide downe; this first, and in the remainders a Con * Voist. Roma uersion to such a Christianitie, as should make them * two-fold more the Children of Hell, which Noville tam care is by themselves y testified of the Indians: Or whether the Pope, his Vicar, as honest as that nife na field. 2 Steward in the Gofpell, fearing to be cast out of this Europæan Stewardship, bethought him, 2 2000:0 Duby giving so great a part of the World, whereof his Matter is called the God, to procure entertainment formewhere else, and the reupon was so liberall of the Deuils peculiar, this Ethnike Coat. Jos. 4.3. World: Or that in the decay of the Spiritual Power, that Genius of the Papacie fought to 1.22 60 supply it with Temporall (whereof the Christian Kings are more iealous) and therefore hath * Pontanus of Popes daughter, Hoc incet in tumulo Lucretia nomine, sed re Thais, Alexandri filia, fomfa, nuns. f Volater. & Bal. t Conner to à conucrrendo. Cic. in Ver. ac. 4. O verren preclira. Etenim quem tu Domum, quem Orbem adyli, quad finum denig, quad non curfue atg, exterfum reliquerie? u a.Reg. 21.13. x Mas. 23. y See the last Chapter of my Pilgrimage, lib.9. Z Lu. 16. a 2.

feeme amazed at this mans Monstrositie, though Vices be no varities in Popes, and of the ordi- omnium injuria Cafar of the Churches State or Patrimonic. His Foritude was daring to any Mischiefe; in one autrina in tidita di ellal-And if it feeme impertinent to have faid fo much of the Person, let such know, that I have tare in qualing new forged the Keyes into gword, that what his Keyes could not vnlocke (nay, had nothing to doe with, as being no part of the House, like the first Alexander in the Gordian Knot) his Sword might chep in funder, and give the one halfe to one, and the other halfe to another. Once, the Sword hath made way to the Keyes in those parts, and made the Farme of the Popes Pardons a good Reuenue. I question not the Right of the Spanish Crowne in those parts : Quis me constituit indicem?

CHAP.I. S.6.

It is the fault I find in this great Ardelio. The Castilian Industry I honour (as appeares in the former Relations) their Right may, for that which is actually in their Possession, without this Bull, plead Discouerie euen before this was written, the Sword, Preseription, subjection of the Inhabitants, long and quiet Poffession; which, howsoeuer the b Case was at first (wherewith 10 I meddle not) must now, after so long Succession, be acknowledged Iust. I quarrell the Pope onely, and the Clayme of that See, herein truly Catholike, or Vniuerfall, challenging euen in sessio male fidei the Deuils e stile, Omnia Regna Orbis Terra, and, Potestatem hanc uninersam & gloriam illorum, quiamibi tradita funt, & cui volo, do illa. Hee as the Deuils Vicar (cui tradita funt, who by Tradition challengeth a Right to them, and by Tradition, that is, Treason, disturbes Right and Rites in them ) doth Tradere, betray the Rights of them, by Sentences, Censures, and I know not what Bulls. True it is, that the Catholike Kings had other reasons to aske this furtherance from the Pope, in regard of the Portugall, which had obtained former Bulls (as is before related; as a Neptune with the Ethnikes, fo Naugation with thefe, is propitiated with Bulls) and challenged a Monopoly of Difcouerie; in regard of other Princes, to whom the Popes 20 Centures (as Thunder in a darke Night) were in those times terrible, especially in a Case otherwife iuft, where they had made Difcouerie, and taken and continued Polletion before all others; and in regard of the People and (those blind Leaders of the blind) the Friers and Priests, who (fi dolosi fees refulferit nummi) could with this Bull, as a Bagge full of Wind, make Musike to the s. bos ille titulo Vulgar, and cause them dance over the Seas in this Attempt, as no lesse holy (approved by that Holy Father ) then . DAVID's dancing before the Arke. The Bulls bellowing, Authoritate Omnipotentis Dei nobis in beato PETRO concessa, ac Vicariatus IESV CHRISTI, qua tion taxium this fungimur in terris, where Gold and Glory were really proposed, with Conceits of Heauen and Merit annexed, could not but to Minds credulous, couetous, and therefore willing, adde Wind in Poupe, and become another generall Wind, to carry them to this New World. Befides, in 30 Mindes fcrupulous touching the lawfulnesse of that Designe, but acknowledging that fulnesse of Apostolical power without examination or scruple, it was almost necessarie to obtaine that; which had it beene necessary to themselves, and in their owne Consciences had begun the lawfulnesse of that Action, they would not first have discovered and possessed (as the Bull it selfe intimates ) and afterwards have demanded the Popes Grant; they would not have denoured that was fantified and fet apart from their vie, and after the Vowes have enquired.

Reason of State is euident (abundans cantela non nocet) Religion of Episcopall power to be reason of gining init Title of Inheritance, and that to a World, to an Ethnike World, f Religio eft dicere, is not onely (as the Mysteries of Religion are) beyond and aboue, but vtterly against and contrary to reason. But from these Reasons of State, have the Romists (whose Religion at 40 Rome is little elie but Reason of State, as appeared in their late erected Pillar and ground of Truth, which pilled and cast the Truth to the ground, their & Councel of Trent ) gathered a Soueraigntic ouer Kings and Kingdomes; and therefore whatfocuer was done in this kind, discours the Sourraigntie ouer Kings and Kingdomes; and therefore Whathout whiles their Houre and the Power of Darkeneffe laited, is fet vone the Left, and firetched, to make it a fit Slipper for the Popes pride-iwolne Foot to tread vpon the Neckes of Kings and Emperors, as Super Aspidem & Bastlicum, with conculcabis Leonem & Draconem. Thus Alex-Hen, da. 1-45. ander terued Frederike, and thus of the second Frederike, faid h Innocentius, then angry with * To Michael the Kings of England and France, Expedit vi componants cum Principe F. vt hos Regulos conteramus recalcitrantes : Contrito enim vel * pacificato Dracone cito Serpentuli conculcabuntur. These things he spake voce susurra, oculos obliquando o nares corrugando. Yea, now Bellarmine 50 is much i amused and amazed, that his Maiestie should presume to compare himselfe with the Pope, being a King of two Ilands in a Corner of the North, forgetting that Great Constantine, carfed spectures the Sunne of the Empire, arole from this Northerne Corner, which first filled the Hornes of the Popes Miter with fecular Light, and by remouing the Imperiall Seat, made way for that Starre to become a full Moone : which though a long time (as the Moone whiles the Sunne shineth). made no great flew, the Imperiall Greatneffe continuing; yet in the Ecclipse of the Empire, trions dan in- or that irrecoverable Night rather by Barbarian Deluges (these also God rayled out of the contemned North, to tread under foot the Roman Pride) feemed to become, in that Night of Darkeneffe, Lady of the Light, indeed a light Lady; which dazzled with felfe-reflecting her prejamni, or as borrowed Beames, challenged to be the Samme, and glories to have procreated this later Moone, 60 cas, makes as to me Postifice in translating and erecting the Westerne Empire; which, and all other Christian Kingdomes mult no longer shine, then they admit the light of the Papall Sunne: otherwise their Opposition must be a Contunction, and thence Thunder-striken, like young Phaetons, they must loose their Light, and Life, and Empire together, becomming as opacous Earth (to some concert the Moone)

vea, as darke Hells of Herefies, for not acknowledging the Pope. Let this contemner of the Adaptass. vea, as darier erten. Northerne Corner was once k their Paradise and Garden of Plea. k Matth. Peris. North remember, that this Northerne Corner was once k their Paradise and Garden of Plea. k Matth. Peris. Northerne Corner was once k their Paradise and Garden of Plea. k Matth. Peris. (where the Pope himselfie I would have personally for a time resided, and was rejected, for distinct, and the perison of the p enen m his Sonnes dayes, who (Bellarmine fayth untruly) de m confersu Barbrum, religned his ell engla vere Crowne to the Pope. And let him remember, that of the ten Hornes which Hall hate the Whore, sweets inchbuand make her desolate and caked, and eat her flesh, and burne her with fire, some may come out of fuel, o this and more ner adjusted and including the following the following the following control of the North. The ancient Almes of n Peter-fence he calls Tribute, and alledgeth matta following following the Popes Gift. Sure we are, that the Popes have done their best and worst a startography of the following following the following the following following the following the following following the following following the followin gainst the English Right in Ireland, Paul . the fourth stomacking the Title of King, without multis. 10 Papall Licence, Pins the fifth impiculty deposing Queene Elizabeth by his Bull, and Gregorie 1 Iden A.1245. the thirteenth intending it also to his Sonne, fending Forces with Sinkley to that purpole, m Vid. Kep. ad which (the Popes Bleffing notwithflanding) perified before they came there. Neyther need 20d. R.P. Ep.P. we here or there feare Balac or "Balaam (their Curfes are Bleffings, though Sanders also play the Tint. T. 200 Shemei. But for that of Ireland, one of his owne Religion hath answered the Cardinall (whom 1:7. hee applauds in Diumitie, but in forensibus aut rebus faculi esteemes haud mediceriter perirum) n constat ab hee applauds in Duinitte, but in frentfibus our retus Jesus etterense nasa measerster parteem).

That it the Pope or his predections cure had right, vey by his Ball, Polified in taken by the Eng. and Advard definition of the Ball of the Preference of the Ball of the Bal uers Ages, that the Roman Court knowes well enough, that a Ins focialis Belli, and that vo- pig. 29. luntarie fubmiffion, yea supplication of the Irish to King Henry for that purpose, which hee ac- o Hift. con. 20 cepted and performed, their Letters (as hee faith) ftill remayning in the Vatican. Baronius Trent. halt teitified, Hibernium fo onte dedition foi conferfic omnium vendicasit, and mentions the tran-fiript of those Letters to Pope Alexander. Advian indeed writ to King Himy, who had be even first idea. fere confulted with him, being an Englishman, about these Irish Affaires, asking his aduice and tross Pricts affiltance (Confilium exiges & fauorem Sedis Apoit, are Adrians words, and the whole Epifle are more to is of aduce) but by that Epitile nothing was attempted. Fifteen yeeres after, King Herry of: be feried alone fered and to King Dermitius at his humble follicitation, and by his Sword, not the Popes Keyes (as the f mott learned Biften har hardwered the Cardinall) together with the fubmiffion of his constant of the sword hardward in the first learned by the first le the Irish, obtayned that Soueraigntie.

The same challenge may they make to France, for consultation with Pope Zacharie, when 9 rimus timbes The time Challenge may trey make to traine, for contact your a type contact, your 30 Hilderike or Children's was depoiled by the French. Yea, what Kingdome doe they not find bell of, f. in time Window or Posterne to creepe into, and though their weight Stewards cannot a diage, and warpful or war of the contact of the co to begge are a hamed; yet herein, where they have begged for " Peter-pence (as Adrian in that Germans el Letter of King Henry Jeuen of fuch Begging will make an Instrument to digge thorow and feale; in take ordias fome Rogues, which by Begging obtayning an Almes, haue feized on the whole Purfe, and nam regular robbed their Benefactor.

Thus he, which at first was a holy Bishop, after, by beneficence of Princes, became a Princely with Sec. Prelate in the Church : next, by a Murtherer and Traytor was made Head and Prince of the r Baron to Alexander Church, in Church-Affaires * Occumenical Pope: after which, by Princes bouncie made a Assist. Prince, but tributarie; by Treaton against his Prince, made himselfe his Princes Peere, and ex. 10th Exel. at 40 alting himselfe about all these codies God, from the time of Gregorie the learnth hash bedirest Cod strongle him to make himselfe and provide himselfe and provide his Alexander Cod strongle. him to make himselfe the Prince of all Princes . Christian, and now in this Alexander, a God t Luis. of the World, the Stile (as is faid) of the Deuill. For whereas Advian had challenged I omnes a Mail Plant Infulas quibus Sol sestetia Christus illuxit & que documenta fides Christiane susceptement, ad sus ad Antess. B. Petri & SS. Rom. Ecclefia pertinere, he doth it but of Christians, and for his * Peter-pence, wound for some some perturbation of the second perturbation as an argument to receive Almes, not to give Scepters: but this Bu'll hath a lowder bellow, and * Nonze Kee opens his mouth wider, Omnes Infulus & Terras firmas, inventas & inveniendas, detestas & de-Aigler moofer tegeralis - verlus Indiam au aliam quameung, partem - and that with an imagined Line from el vafallus o the Article to the Antarticle Pole, by the imaginarie authoritie of Almightie God; with all their at our desam Cities, Castles, Dominions, Rights, I swefdictions: inhibiting all others, under paine of Excommunity the Pope, an-50 tien, to trefume thither for Merchandise, or any other cause, Ge. Doe they not challenge the gred with a King lomes of Hungarie, of Arragon, of Spaine it felfe, of Denmarke, of Dalmatia and Croatia, of Letter o. Rob. Portugall, of Naples, Smilia, Ierufalem, Sardinia, Bohemia, Swethen, N. rway, Poland, Scotland, Groved A. 1253. Perrugall, cf. Narles, Swita, Ierufatem, Sarcinna, Denemia, Sweiteri, st. 1994; ettera, Sectionis, and all the Kingdomes of Europe; as "Sinferon, 2 Steuchus, Mirita, and others have written, teres afficile & Weet add of a mad man at Athens, which elecemed every Ship that came into the Hauen his fine by etc. evene, and therefore tooke Inventories of the Goods. Such is the febrietie of Rome, as if the y Mat. Paris World had beene created for the Papacie; whatfocuer Promifes are made to the Charch in Acutss. Spripture, is their Inheritance: the Pepe is the Church, and Tever, and Biffry, and Aportle, wood boars and Prince: yea, Christ, and God, and Cofer, and all, and more then all; his Centre at Rome, are of the same his Circumference enery where and no where. Accordingly he gines, as if he he hall things, he desired in his Chrom terms onerty where and nowners. Accordingly as guessas in the state single Ar. It folds the takes, frapes, takes, as if he had nothing. Wittily did a Souther, Brather of the King of Ar. It folds the rigging their himself or grateful to his H-linelle for like bountie, whom when the Popelly forms 2.8. France of the southern forms. * Stonda Mag. R. E. L. Co. coi ill. R. E. poteliss in orbit Principes given organdos, and having named very many, has conclude: El gravitaris S.Sein comir en flu ne Pravagne Co chambás en bertats Reges influences en expanencia de la ESE de Conga op Steadh Licemi V. Illian pro Din. Cong.), Endonás Regúl Licen, ad Escal Toro, partir de Exella (free de Arthur primo poffessore nic in beride proximo aut necefario, sed legitime in policris & valide &c. licite (uff. ad cont. uct. dom:choationem. Basinelas Tis circuing Lucie O :u'c Occumenicus Papa. pulcher Apollo. Uirg. c 2.Sam.6.

nor procedit >

berele non in

f Ter, beaut. g Se. the Hift. or that Councell published in English, transfitted out of Icalian by 14. Brest, which kings of that Myit:ric.

when he firene againft the Deuid auft not Iude 9. 1 Mirum eft quot is qui in fulas fibicitas babet, ita de fe effe inferiore a b Mattharis, AH.1254. Inche Lach air dictel period zel do tibi la. Nass, aftende 🕏 a wheede exm. c Phi R Hisb. Caib. Edidium cont. traclat. C. Bar. de sion. d Beb. t. c Col.I. f 103. g Fb. 2. h Luna. i Lac.z. k Matt. 32. 1 10.18. m 6.15. n Luc.12. o Em. 3. vram (.nc. P Mat. 20. Luc.22.

are produ ed be vill via in his Reledt. de . 1ndis. 2.27. 0 de pet.Ecciefia. r 2.Cer.10. f 2.Tim. s.vid. Amb, ad iftum t Mat. Par. An.1196. u 10.18.36. x Bern. ce conidate. y Can. Ap. So. ♂ S=. z See my Pilg. 1.5.c.11. a D.D. Erif. E'. Tert. T. & Kob.

C. D. Morion O de Pontal 140 d Sec my of Trumpet had proclaymed King of Ægypt, he requited him with like bountie by his Trumpetters, proclayming the Pope Chaliph of Baldach, that is, Mahomets Vicar (10 Chaliph fignifies) and toppome Head of the Saracens. No leffe wifely did Earle Richard, Brother to King Hemy the third, acknowledge b the Popes bountifull Gift of the Kingdomes of Naples and Sicil, taken from King, Conradus, demanding Hoftages, Money, and some Forts in the Popes hand, to be delinered him : otherwise (faith he) it is all one as if he should give me the Moone, and bid me combe up and fetch it. And well had it beene, if King Henry himselfe had to answered him. Yea, the Catholike King & himfelfe, in this inheritance of Sicill, was fentible of the Popes clayme, and prohibited that part of Baroniss which maintained it.

But whence this Power fo boundleffe ? Is hee the Vicar of Chrift? This is hee, that being IG Heire d of all things, e by whom and for whom all things were created, yea, f the beginning of the new Creation of God, did & exinanire fe, tooke on him the forme of a Sernant, that is, not the shew, but the substance, as is his forme of God, and h came not to be ferned, but to ferue : Hee in his Birth would be i taxed or enrolled a Servant to a forraine Prince; in his Life payd Tribute Money, yea for Peter as well as himfelfe ; did it, & and taught fo to doe ; in his Death payd that he never tooke (vile & feruile supplicium) openly witnessed a good confession to Pilate, That his I Kingdome was not of this World; yea, that this power over him was given from above to Pilate: and when they would have " made him a King, he refused; nor would a divide the Hernage betwine the Brethren, rejecting it with Que me constituit? Whereas his pretended · Vicar hath made a Constitution of purpose to arrogate both Swords, and this Alexander hath 20 excluded all others, and divided almost all the World to two Brethren.

But the Pope is Successor of Peter and Paul the Apostles, yea, the Heire of all Apostleship! And why not then of that P Reges gentium dominantur corum, ves autem non fic ? And why doth he not liften to Peters, 9 Non dominantes in clerum, much leffe in mundum! And why doth he not with Peter, put up his Sword into his sheath, not drawing in such an Exigent for his Maiters Life, such a Weapon with approbation ? Malchus his right Eare, the Kings servants faithfull Eare, by this High Priest is cut off, and they made Reculants to Gods Service and the Kings Allegeance by his Sword, and Bellarmine his Armour-bearer. Yet if hee loues so well Armour, why doth hee not follow Paul in his . Arma Militia nostra carnalia non funt? and if he will needs be a Souldior, why breakes he Pauls Rule, I Nemo militans implicat fe Ne- 30 goigs facularibus? If yet he will change Peters Keyes into Pauls Sword, let him know Mucro furor Sauli, that Sword makes him the Successor of Saul a Persecutor, not Paul an Apostle. King Richard the first + being requested by the Pope to free his Sonne the Bishop Beluacensis, taken in the field, fent the Pope his Armour wherein he was taken, with this Message, Vide wiram tunica filiy tui fit, annon : which caused the Pope modestly to disclayme him, Non filius meus est vel Ecclesta, quia potius Martis quam Christi Miles indicatur. Mutato nomine de te Fabula narratur: The realon is strong against the Popes challenging temporall Power and Kingdome, for which the " fernants must fight in the judgement of Truth it lelfe, with Weapons correspondent. Se verumg, habere voles, faith . Bernard (ant dominans Apostolatum, ant Apostoliciu dominatum) perdes vtrumg. The & Canons are strict herein; but the Pope is like the late Pro- 40 photicall King of 2 Barbary, which could cause (as they report) the Bullets to remaine in the dif harged Peeces, and therefore adventured himfelfe and his on the Ordinance, without

But what should I multiply words in this Argument, wherein not only our a men haue taken this weightie Crowne from the Head of this Man (who worse then that Ammonite, serues not Embassacers, but Kings themselves in that homely fashion, cutting off their garments by the Bussockes, not leaving to cover their nakednesse, or his owne shame) and set it on Davids Head; 1.5,610. D.Sut. but even b their owne, alfoboth Schoolemen and Lawyers, and Vniversities and States, have written, decreed, by Penne and Pike fought to maintaine (as at Venice lately) the right of the 6.14. D. Whitak. Crowne free from the Triple Diademe. And Melchior Goldastus hath published a large Li- 50 brarie of this kind. But this Argument hath found a Kingly Writer, a King a Writer, a King b Bareligue P. of Writers, as patterne and patron of other Learning, to herein also a Defender of the Faith. CF. G. 22011. And foolihly doe I further powre Water into this Sea, into which Pope Alexanders Bull hath Loar, Parif. inc. brought me: But their Romith Shop and Mint of Doctrines prouoke me, which having clately A'man, Serbons hammered a new Creed, annexed to their Tridentine Anathema's, and made a Bull to proclayme in imperiors them, like 4 Mahomets Bull, which in the Turkes Legend brings the Alcaron in his Hornes, feeke haply to adde this as a Thirteenth, of the Popes Monarchie ouer Monarchs, to ftrangely rather then strongly defended by Istuiticall . Spirits, no lesse Iebusticall, in denying Danids right, then lezabelicall, in painting the face of their Idelatrous Mother, whole Wicherafts and Whoredomes remaining in too many, will not fuffer even Children to hold their Peace. And in- 60 deed to recite, is to refute the Arguments of their Popes and Cardinals, as thole of Boniface f the e See twentie eight: In principie: ecce due clady: piritualis home indicat omnia, and other of like light moment.

men statutes. grant the state of Kings, drawne out of zellowine by the B. of W. in his learned Answer to the Apologie. Pag. 61. f. Zon, Ex-

So that of Cardinall Bellarmine, Pasce Oucs, and of Baronius, Occide & manduca, and before them, of our Countreyman Cardinall & Poole, for the Popes Temporall Power, Hacomnia & Reg. Fol. de adiscientur vobis, Mat.6. & Filly corum qui te humilianerunt curui ad te venient ve adorent veiti- fun. P.c.47. eia pedam tuorum, El. 60. for Princes submitting their Scepters to the Pope; and the Daine Prouidence, in giuing some Temporall peculiar for S. Peters Patrimonie, In qua administranda exemplo suo imperatores & Reges proprium corum hoc est Regiam aitem & veram regendi poculos rationem docerent. And yet how many of them lived in France, and never faw S. Peters Patrimonie? And well had it beene, if this Alexander had lived in this new World, or quite out of the World : yea, in the rest, their owne Historians shew no man more transported either by

10 faction or affection to their kindred, whom they feeke with publike I offe to aduance : fuch examples they have beene at home. And what good examples they have beene abroad, appeares in that h King, which denyed his owne and his progenitors Grants, pretending the example h Mat. Par. in of the Pope his playing faft and locie with his Non obstante; and the Popes practice of dispenof the Pope his playing fait and locie with his Non objects, and the Popes practice of dispersion of the Popes practice of dispersion of the Princes and Subjects, can testine; y.a, most Certificians, which Himmolytical Subjects and Subjects of the Popes practice of dispersion of the Popes practice o thories observe in secular Government, thence may derine easie Originals. Hence did that Iusti- furm remonts patterned to the secular Government, thence may derine easie Originals. ces complaint arife, Heu, hen, hos en quid dies expectauinus? Ece iam cinilis Curia exemplo Ec- Nonne opposito clesiastica coinquinatur & a sulfureo sonte riunsus intoxicatur. The same Historian tels of Oathes hor resagno that mulistics in an erat observare idem Rew constaire non formidanit, credens pro manere obsoluis. Non Obsacle Which is nound and the standard of the production costs. which is now devolved to the people, both prohibited and al folded from Oathes by the Pope, promoefact

20 now that Kings begin to discouer and to hate the Whore, and are not as hee then faith, PP. 6 Se o to oc. Rex in granamen Ecclesia confaderati. And much lette needs it, that the Pope should gun that which is out of the Church, and none of Christs Flocke : For what power have the Keres of the i Kingdome of Heaven to that the Doores of Earthly, of meere Earthly Kingdomes! Or to i Idea d. 1251. flut out such as were neuer let into the Church? Yea, when Christ fayth, & Let him be as an 1354.0 1356. that out tuen as were neuer let into the Church. Tea, when Child Lay in, - Let make the expressing the vimest extent of the Keyes, how can Ethnikes be included, k Mails. who are not ficut, but mere & vere Etonici, alreadie? S. Paul fayth, 1 Quid milit de is qui 1 1. cor. 1.13. foris sunt indicare? Nonne de ijs qui intus sunt, vos indicatis? Nam eos qui foris sunt Deus indicabit. This is cited by " Victoria, a Spanish Dinine, to proue, that the Pope con habet do- m Fr. a Vis. minium in Terris Infidelium quia non habes posestatem nist intra Ecclesium; adding that Infidels Relec de Pos. 30 are vere Domini, seeing the Apostle commands " Tribute to be pend them, and that the contrarie is merum commentum in adulationem & affen: attonem Pontificum : largely prouing thefe

Propositions, That the Pope is not Lord of the World, That the Temporall Power depends not of him, That it is not fubiect to his Tempora'l Power, and that he hath nothing to doe ordinarily to indge of Princes Cafes, Titles, Inridictions, nor hath any Power meerely Temporall; That the Temporall Power doth not at all depend of the Spirituall. And in his R. lections of the o Indians he fayth, That it doth not appeare to him, that the Christian Faith hath fo o Relat. de beene preached to them, that they are bound fub nono peccato to believe it, having had no pro- Ind. n.; 8. bable perfivation, as Miracles and examples of Religious life, but the contrarie: yea, had the Faith beene never so probably propounded, and they rejected it, yet might they not therefore 40 be spoyled of their Goods, or purpled by Warre. And what right then had the Pope to propound that Method in his Bull, Dobis subserve & ad siden Carbolic ins reducere? Is any thing more free, then to believe ? Elle if P Ethnikes had beene to be compelled to enter into the p Cartad fam. Church (ferit is otherwise with the Children of the Kingdome) hee would have sent Captaines, Conquerors, Accordance (as the Saracens did, and this Alexander mintates) not Fulter than the Captainess of the Capta men, Tent-makers, Publicans, as Sheepe amongft Wolues, not Wolues amongft Sheepe. On mit point just, whom did Danid, or Mifes, or any of the ancient Kings make Warre onely for Infidelitie! nec fon voyer Unde graussime peccaremus (layth Cardinall 9 Casetan) si sidem Christi lesu per hanc viam i side D della mus, & teneremur ad restitutionem, vipote iniusti debellatores aut occupatores. Good men (fayth maximus or 50 he) should be fent, by their Preaching and living to convert them to God; and not such as fall trace of the appresse, sporte, scandalize, subject, and make them twice more the Children of Hell, like the twee Dano

And this may be the cause of all those Misorders which happened in the Indies: the most by a blind zeale, thinking they did God feruice in punishing the Idelatries, Man-eating, and Sodomies, and other Vices of the Ethnikes, with Inuation and Warre, especially where Terr r might bring them, or, they being flaine, others by their example, to admit the Goffeell; that had not the pietie and pittie of some eye-witnesses excited the Royall Prouision of the Catholike Kings in this case (which over so wide Seas and spacious Lands they could not discerne) even Hell it felfe had beene loofed on Earth, under the pretext of Heaven, and the Prince of 60 Darkezesse had effected his blackest and cracillest Designes, in habite of an Argell of Light Tantum Religio poterat suadere malorum, may we say of this Religious irreligious Bull. Thus Numbo di F Gusman, a Spanish Commander, relates in an Epittle to the Emperour, his manner F A . Ta . et meading : fielt, after his Martiall Prologue, preaching to the Indians, Go n, the Pope, and Post the King of Spaine, Minister of Go D on Earth, whom all men in the World ought to obey;

ampliare contenderemus; nec essemus legitimi Domini illorum, sed magna latrocinia committere- sanun

5 Ben 3 Extrade aufwered this, b Vnum caput, non duo capita quasi monstrum, Christins & opsi Vicarius. This alto fauours Alexander, which would needs be a God, the fonne of Inpiter, and was fo by his

the (lly Indians for feare acknowledging themselves ready to worship the King, till his better instruction. He also perswades the Emperour not to give libertie to the Christian Indians, and to allow nothing but necessaries, that by much subjection they might be made good Christians. Hee quarrels those Quarrellers, that hold this Warre vniust, and seeke to disturbe it, being the most hely and meritorious Worke that can be done in the service of God, for which himselfe he ped the diminution of his finnes. And if I should shew out of Cafas, a Spanish Bishop in thole parts, the executions of this Bull, you would fay, that the Brazen Bull of Phalaris, the Montter-Bull of Minos, the fire-breathing Bull fubdued by Hercules, the Iewes * Behemoth, and thole of Egypt, were but Calues to this of Pope Alexander : Hinc illa lachryma. They of Egyptheir had beene Heretikes, if they had not obeyed the Pope, Subyciendo & ad fidem Catholicam re- 10 ducendo. All that wee have talked of Kings all this while, fee effected in . Mutezuma (no meane, though an Ethnike Prince) out of Correx his owne Relations to the Emperour, and in Attabaliba or Atabualpa, the mightie Inga, related by " Benzo, the Dominican Vincentius de valle virids preaching the Popes Gift, to which if he did not willingly yeeld, he should be u Benzo 1.3.c.3. forced; which that Heathen disclaymed as vniust, saying, That the Pope was foolish and impudent, to give to liberally another mans goods. Whereupon the Frier cruelly cryed to the Spaniards, to execute that which was in that manner case to effect, saying, agite Christiani, trucidate sites cones &c. What should I speake of Millions perishing without the Faith by nun, me cope the cope this new Article of Faith, Subjecte & ad fidem Catholicam reducere? Of Shambles of Mans flesh, and other Cruckies! I delight not in such Tragadies, I onely shew the Charagus, the 20 Westerne Alexander his Bull, or Bucephalus, the very Cerberus which produced those Dogges which hunted and denoured the Indians, and yet as Cafas hath, were more milde then their Mafters, Mafters indeed of * immanitie and inhumanitie, but proceeding in this Schoole, and writing Comments and a world of Gloffes on this Bull-Text with the bloud of a world of men in that New World. How doth Acosta and others deplore these bloudie and therefore slipperie foundations of the Faith ? That from these forced beginnings, Nihil pium & (alutare nis) fer vim agent? That they have received but a flew of Christianitie, closely embracing their old Superflitions? As a Plant (fayth hee) growing crooked at first, must eyther be broken, or still suffered to to grow, Ita prorsus cum indorum natio belliei apparatus potius authoritate quam germana predicatione magna ex parte Christum acceperit &c. So amongst these Indians, as the 30 feare of Warre, not true Preaching, made way to Christianitie, so doe they still retaine feare and a seruile condition, not freely translated to be the Children of God by Regeneration. For nothing 3.41.6,7,13.14, is so contrarie to Faith, as is all force and violence. But of their Christianitie I have spoken elfewhere out of their owne Authors; I here flew the root of it, this Apoftolike Bull. The Poets tell of Europa deflowed by lapiter, having conveyed her thorow the Sea in forme of 2 He also thewes Bull. The Roman Impiter of the Vatican Capitoll, or S. Angelo Veiouis, hach conneyed over this greater part of the World, this New World, America, to be both deflowred and denoured by Catholike Souldiers, ly his Catholike Bull, in faire flew of reducing to Faith, but first mentioning Fores, and Subjection. That Bull by the Poets was exalted to a Constellation in Heauen : This Bull having made fuch hauocke on Earth, rather deferues Hell, except fome Poets 40 which can make their Gods (as the Pope in Canonization, the Prioft in Confectation) can deuse also to make new Antartike Heanens to place this Bull in : Our Artike is now too full of Constellations, to admit any such Monsters, left hee should make terrible Tragedies there also, being tince growne to huge, that he incompaffeth the two Hemispheres with his hornie Hemicircles. And for his prohibition of all Christians else to attempt those parts for Merchandise or other cause; what is it, but with his two Hornes to push at, and out, both Nature and Grace? That in to large a Tract of the World it may neyther be lawfull to carrie Spirituall, nor recarrie Temporall Commodities, without leave obtained, under paine of Excommunication? And is it not Bulla, a bubble and froth, the babbling or babelling of Babel, That a Biliop should countermand Merchandise, and the Servant of Gods Servants should make himselfe a Lord of Heathen Lords, to give the Crownes of Kings by Apostelicall Salutem & benedictionem? What more Apostaticall or Apotacticall ? What could Alexanders Malediction have done more, or worle? Is fubicere the way to bring to the Catholike Faith! Prob fidem istam Catholicam! Prob Denm atg. bominum fidem! Rara fides pietafg, viris qui castra sequentur.

And yet one clause of Baptilme is more Bullish or Hellish then the rest (ser faces launers sufceptionem qua Mandatis Apostolicis obligati estis) That Christians, that Kings are obliged, by their very Baptisme obliged to the Apostolicall, that is, in their tense, the Popes Commandements. . Dinisus est Christus? Nunquid PAVLVS crucifixus est pro vobis, aut in nomine PAVLI baptifati eitis? faid that glorious Apollle of the Gentiles: but this gentle glorying 69 Apollle will needs in a new Catholike Faith be eyther crucified for vs with Christ, or make a fourth Person in the Trinitie, vnto whose Mandates alone wee are baptized. But Bonsface had Paralless anknowledged. And right to the Pope by his flatterers, who offirme, * Reges cum had c peller, in his conditione admitti ad Ecolesiam vs Christo Scentra subjetant, and consequently, to his Vicar the Mat. Tot. vid. Pope. We poore men had thought, that in the Sacraments God had vouchlafed vs a great dig- Totaram T. nitie, that we are therein equall with Kings; that in 4 one Spirit me had been all baptized into one 245-3-Body, whether lewes or Genteles, whether bond or free; that e who focuer were bastized in Christ, d 1.Co. 12.11. had put on Christ, and that there was neither lew nor Greeke, neither bond nor free, neither male ner female: omnes enim vos viene estis in Christo leja. But fee how this horned Beaft, with his Scepter-pushing Bull bleffeth and makes vs more happy then baptized Kings: for we may enicy our Polleffions, our Professions as more free, at least not impaired by Baptisme ; but Kings 10 are admitted into the Church, with librection of their Perfons and Crownes to the Pope; their fubicots also may disclayme, not sweare, forsweare Allegeance; yea, it shall be tolerable, nay lawfull, nay commendable, yea, and meritorious for Heaten, to kill the Kings of the Earth, which shall be immorigerous to his Holinesse. Protestants are generally beholden to his Catholike Keyes, which open Rome, the Catholike Mother Citie, to Strumpets, to Iewes, but locke out our Generation to the confirming flames : but Protestant, yea, Catholike Kings, are leffe in fauour then other Catholikes, and in condition like the Iewes: for as they must, in conuerting to Christianitie, renounce their former Wealth (as & Vittor de Carben, a Christened Lew, & vitt. de carb. complaynes) together with the World and the Deudl, embracing beggerie with their Christia- later, 50 nitie, which makes to few Converts; to Kings (which even among); Heathens knew no Supe-

CHAP.1: S.6. Of the Circum-Nauigations of the Globe.

20 riour but God ) must in their Baptisme make a tacite renuntiation of their Kingdomes, when their hely Lord the Pope (in ordine ad Denn) shall so admige. And if he obey not, he leseth his Baptisme, becomes now an Heretike, and his subjects, by vertue of that his Baptisme alio, which obliged him to the Pope, are at the Popes Bulls first lowing to depose him. Inm summer ergo pares, Kings and Iewes may fay: it is better (in fecular respects) not to profest Christ, not to be baptized. The reason out of Torius his new Kabala (as that learned & Buhop calls it) a Tori. Tori, orius enig, duplex, in our naturall birth we are borne fubicots to our Prince, in our supernatural peg. 201. (by Baptificall Regeneration) congenitum alind & tacitum incamentum ad obediendum Principi Spirituali, Christi Vicario, Papa, we are therein Iworne for both to the Pope. It is no marcell fpirituali, Christi Vicario, Fape, we are energent made and America, as the h Islaites complayine; h Angl. A international that this Bull hath begotten fuch brutish Christians in America, as the h Islaites complayine; h Angl. A international things and the degree Lad. 30 I hope in the East they teach otherwise.

That the Pope renounceth his Baptifmall Name, I never knew the reason before, nor doe I  $f^{\pm L}$ now maruell; for then our Roderigo Borgia was I worne in Baptilme to Christ, and tacitely to the Pope: but now he is made Pope himfelfe, a Name in opposition to all obedience, free from both, i à deque, exlex ille; no mere Roderigo the Christian, subject (it is a terme of all others i 2.7b.2.vid. most odious to Popes) to Christ and the Pope, but Alexander the Great, the very Pope, emu- Danade dalous to Chrift; his Vicar, which doth and receiveth all things, as one and the fame Head with Christ (giuing a World, receiuing Kings in Baptisme, as here) and therefore very Antichrist, both as denumber, opposing, and as Assaciates in the Name of Christs Vicar, with his two Hornes like the Lambe, exteding himselfe k above all that is called God, or that is wershipped, k = That vid, 40 ita vt in Templo Dei fedest oftendens fe tanquam fit Dem. And to I leane him, and his Apis, his Down 14.c.s. Ægyptian Babylonicall Bull: In bayting whereof, if I have playd the fierce English Mathife, no man that hath read the storie of the Spanish Dogges in the West Indies (which came out of this Kennell) can be justly offended. And (belides that the place where I writ this, bath beene Ch. Col. a place of argument to moue me to enter these Lists) the argument of this great Worke, Natrigations, English Indian Naugations exacted some Apologie, to shrowd themselves from this Bulls pulling and lowd bellowing Thunders, Nulls omnino hominum liceat hane Paginam infringere, vel ei ausu temerario contruire : si quis autem hoc attentare prasumpserit, indignationem Ominpotentis DEL as beatorum PETRI & PAVLI Apostolorum eius se nouerit incursurum. The Curse that is canselesse, shall not come: Gon will doe good to Danid for Shimeis cursing. 50 The Catholike Princes of those dayes did not belowe him, nor have they fince. The Pertugals (as you shall presently heare) regarded it not; and not the Bull, but other compromise, stayed them from open Hothlitie. The peaceable and wife King of England, Henry the feventh, fent prefently after, Cabora to difcouer: The French, in their France Antarctike, and new France, and other East and West Nauigations, have contradicted. These believed not, that the Sunne fhined onely in one Kingdome, whatfoeuer Combustions this pertentuous Comet diffused. And long, long may his Maiestie of Great Brittaine spread his long and but Armes to the fortheir East and remotest West, in the gainefull Traffiques, in the painefull Discoueries, in the Glorious and Christian Plantations of his Subjects (maugre such Bug-beare, Bull-beare bellowings) Salonon and Hiram, Ifraclites and Tyrians, all Arts and Religions concurring into one 60 Art of Arts, the Truth of Religion, and advancing of the Faith, together with the glery of his Name, the iplendour of his State, the lone of his People, the hopes of his Royall Posteritie to the last of Ages, Amen. Amen.

25

He King of Pertugall was much difcontent, and fent his Embassadour to the King and Queene, who also fent vnto him in Embassage Garcia de Herera; and after that, feeing that the Portugall intended by force to detend his supposed Right to the Ocean, and by a strong Fleet to dispossesse the Castilians of their late Discouerie, fent Don Pedro de Ajala, and Lopez de Carnaial; the fubftance of whose Embaffage, was to con- 10 gratulate with King John his delire of Peace to be conferred betwint them, which was also the care of their Catholike Maiesties: And as for that difference touching Discourries, which the King by Apostelicall Grant and by Possession and Prescription challenged, they would yeeld vnto any honest course, which might maintaine brotherly loue and amitie; themselues being parlwaded, that their late Discouerie no way concerned him, nor disturbed their mutuall League, as not neere Guinea, or any of the Portugall Discoueries: That they were content to name fit persons, by way of Iustice to determine the Controuersie, or to put it to his Holinesse, to be Bar in que fup. heard in the Court at Rome. But fecretly they gave order, that the Businesse should at least be protracted, and continued on foot, till they might heare how their fecond Fleet succeeded: which the Embassadours performed cunningly, but not unperceived of King lohn; who sayd, 20

M.ff.bift.nd. Hertra, Dec.t. 1.2.6.8,9,10.

that Embassage of the Castilians had neyther Head nor Feet : smartly intimuating the lame Leg of the one, and the light and vain-glorious Braine of the other Embaffidor. The Portugall Embaffadour had made ouerture of all the North Difeoueries thorow the World, to belong to Castile, from the Canaries, and thence Southward to the Portugall. But this was not accepted. Atterwards, three Counfellors of State, on the behalfe of each Kingdome, were impleyed in this Discouerie of the right and iust Titles and Bounds of the Discouerers : which on the fe-The Pores au- venth of Iune, 1493, agreed, That the Line of Partition, contained in the Bull of the Pope, thorace infine flould be extended 270. Leagues further to the West, all from thence Westward to remayne ged by a latter to the Cashilian, and Eastward to the Portugall Nauigation and Conquest: That there should be free fayling on both parts, but neyther should fend to trade without these Limits. This was 30 put in Writing, and confirmed on the second of July by the Castilian, on the seuen and twentieth of February by the Portugall, Kings; and Cosmographers also imployed, which should defigne the faid Limitation. And now each partie intended to profecute new Discoueries, King lobn preparing a Fleet for fearch beyond the Cape of Good Hope, on the Coast of Africa, whereof Conilian had given him intelligence. But amids thefe preparations, God calls him to the fatall and finall peregrination of all Flesh. Don Emanuel succeeded him in that Crowne the twentieth of October, 1495. And the Emanuel King e: Portugali.

Ofer. de reb. Rman, Li. Bay of Saint greatest Ex-

yeere 1497. imployed Vasco di Gama with three * Ships, one Victualler with 160. men. This Bander, 1,4. Voyage had beene the rather thus long deferred, because the Portugals in the former Discouerie hauing met with such stormes and tempests neere the Cape which therefore they called 40 Tormento fo, a new Conceit possessed most of the Mariners, as had done before touching Cape Bogiadore, that there was no fayling any further. But Gama feared no fuch phantalies, and receining Couilians Map and Instruction, with Letters to the Indian Kings, hoyled sayle on the ninth of July (a leafon vnfitting, as Experience after shewed) and passing by the Ile of Saint lanes, directed his course Eastwards. The first Land he saw, was that which he tearmed the Bay of S. Helena (for this was their Customes, to name Lands at their first discouerie, of that Saint on whose day they discouered the same) where, after three moneths ill weather, they went on Land. They tooke fome Negros of curled haire, whose Language none of theirs could understand; which receiving Glasse-Beads, and Bells, with other triffing kindnesses, procured their Countreymens familiaritie and traffique by fignes for fuch Victuals as they had. But one 50 Portugall defiring to goe with them to their houses, not liking their diet, and returning with much companie, when he came in fight of his owne, more for feare then any just cause, cryed The folly of a out for their helpe. This caused the Portugals to come in to succour, and the Negros to flye, which with their Poles sharpened at the end with Hornes, as with sharpe Darts, wounded the Christians, and amongst many others, Gama himselfe. By this fooles occasion they hastened thence, towards the Cape of Good Hope, and encountred fuch Winterly flormes in the way (the time of the yeare being then unfeatonable) that they were forced to flrike fayle, and commit themselues to the Windes boysterous tuition; and the companie importuned Gama not to permit them to so terrible a death, but to hast his returne. Which when he constantly refused, they confpired his death : but by his brother Pauls relation fore-warned, he fore-armed him- 60 selfe with vigilant circumspection, and laying the Masters in the Bolts, became Master

On the twentieth of Nouember hee doubled the Cape, and fayled continually necre the Land, which they faw full of Cattell, and People like those at S. Helena, naked, inclosing their printeres in a receptacle of Wood, ettering their speech out of the Throat, as it were subbing. Having refreshed themselves not farre from the Cape, they proceeded, and the eight of December a storme draue them out of fight of Land, whereto with faire Weather they presently returned : and having passed two hundred and thirtie miles from their last Watering place, seeing a pleasant Countrey, and the Sea deepe hard by the shore, and much people, on the tenth of Ianuarie he fent one on thore with a Prefent, who was kindly vied, and with their Countrey Presents returned. Here Gams set two condemned persons on shore (ten of which he had with Benefit of him, having pardon of their lives, with condition to be fet on shore where the Gouernour faw condemned meet) there to observe the Countrey and People. And proceeding, he came to a goodly Coun- Petions. 10 trey, where the people coloured as the former, were more bold and familiar; and one with ill

Of the Circum-Nauigations of the Globe. CHAP.I.S.7.

Arabike fignified, that in a Countrey not farre thence, Ships like theirs vied to come: whence he termed that the River of good signes, hoping thence to find out India quickly; erecting also a Stone-Croffe, and naming the Countrey S. Raphael, leaving there likewise two other condemned persons. After refreshing his sicke companie, he departed, and on the first of March they espyed seven small Sayles, which made toward the Admirall, and comming neere, with a lowd crie faluted them in Arabike, and made them much Musike. The men had Garments of Silke, with Linnen Turbants wrought with Gold, and Falchions girded to their fides. They came abord, were well entertained, and tell, that the name of the Iland was Mozambique, the people Ethnike, but Mozambique 20 a great part inhabited by Mores or Mahumetans. For fome knowledge of Diuine Scripture discourt d a great part innatined by adulting a first part in figure and sea Cards hath in vitall appellation caused a distinction of these from others which have no knowledge and Sea Cards of God but meerely naturall, whom therefore Authors viually call Idolaters, or Gentiles and and Quadrants Ethnikes. It was libited to the King of Quiloa, and thence was ordinarie Trade into Arabia, in view India, and other parts of the World. They learned, that they had passed Zophala, where is

It is remarkable, that these Mores vied both "Compasse, and Sea-Cards or Plats; Quadrants tugals discouallo, wherewith they observed the height of places, the Sunnes declinations and distance from red themthe Line; and were furnished with divers Maritime Mysteries, not much short of the Portu- " Mores, who the Line; and were furnished with quers Maritime Mystelles, not much most of which most of galls. They mistooke the Christians for Mahumetans of Barbary, and therefore yield them for acceptable with the second se 30 kindly. Zacocia, the Gouernour of the place, to whom they had fent Prefents, visited them in that they were great pompe, and was featted on shipboord (the ficke being removed out of fight, and the rest first to called well armed, for feare of Trecherie) neyther did their superfittion forbid them to drinke Wine, because out of if it were not ignorance rather of that Liquor. He inquired of them (not doubting of their Mauritima, if it were not ignorance rather of that Liquor. He inquired of them (not doubting of the hey pasted in Mahumetisme) whether they were * Mores or Turkes (vitally all Mahumetans of Africa, A into Spinnand rabia, and the Indian Coasts are called Mores, from which name, the Greatnesse of the Turke, therefore shot Tartars, Perlian, and Mogull, with I know not what differences of Sect, have in ordinary appel- that Religion, lation exempted them) he asked also of their Weapons and Mahumetan Bookes. Gama an- which the Spitfwered, That they came out of the remotest West; that they yied such Armour as he saw, with nith Nanon fwered, That they came out of the remotest West; that they vied such Armour as he saw, with found in their fuch Ordinance able to ruine Castles; and for his Bookes, he would shew them when he had Discourries of 40 finished his Journey: for hee was now in his way to India, and defired his helpe for Pilots to Africa and In-Calicut. This Zacoeia promifed; and the next day brought him two, with whom hee agreed dia, they called how much Gold he should give to conduct him thither. But in the midst of all this kindnesse it Mores But the being perceived that they were Christians, they deuised all mischiefe against them, which was Mahumeran. by one of those Pilots reutaled to Gama. They set upon the Christians also as they were filling of which the Hereupon Gams with his three ships (for the fourth was set on fire before) went to a Qui- hath come to loa, but eyther by necessitie, or their Pilots trecherie, were hindered from shore: This Pilot per- vs ouer land, & loa, but eyther by necessitie, or their Phots treeners, were mindered from more; This Phot per-fiwaded them to goe to b Mombaza, dissembling, that a great part of that Citie were Christi- fidian or Porans, and that it was a fit place to refresh his sicke men, many of his companie being dead, and tugill receive 50 the rest feeble. The Land is there fertile, the Ayre wholesome, the People hee found treche- their own titles, rous. For the King fent a ship with a hundred men, armed Turk-fashion, which would all haue as Turk, &c. rons. For the King fent a flip with a hundred men, armed of Turk-failing, which would all flate this entred; but Gama onely fuffered foure of the principall, who related their Kings defire of his whicher they acquaintance, and proffered all kindnesse, if hee would bring his ships neerer the Citie. The came out of King alto by two condemned persons whom he put on thore, fent him Spices, and to wrought, Barbary, which that Games intended to fulfill his mind : but in the way fearing a shelfe, suddenly commanded before called that Game intended to fulfill his mind: but in the way rearing a new partial to the Sea, to cast anchor. Whereupon his More-Pilots, by selfe-guiltinesse accused, leaped into the Sea, gaue them this fulfpecting that their trecherie was reuealed, having before covenanted with the King of Mombaza, to let the ships eyther on ground, or in easie possibilitie of taking. The trecherous Pilots or out or iurescaped in Boats: and in the Night the King sent others closely to cut their Cables, which by kie? 60 vigilant care they avoided.

They departed thence for 4 Melinde, and there arrived on Easter day. The Houses he found of hewen Stone, stately and viefully built, the Countrey fruitfull, the People Idolaters, blacke, cherie. with curled haire, from the Nauell vpwards naked, thence clothed with Silkes to the middle d Melinde. Legge. Here he found . Christians of India, which much reioyced at the fight of the Portugals, . Christians and admonihed them of many things fitting to their Voyage. Hee was kindly vied of the Prince (the King himselfe was decrepit) who gaue him a Master, an Indian for his Nauigation. lience they departed the two and twentieth of Aprill, and having paffed the Line, with 10y rs. counted light of the Starres, which to long they had not feene.

è. VIII.

of GAMAS Acts at Calicut, and his returne. ....

He nineteenth of May they had fight of Land, being the high Mountaines neere to Calicut, and came within two miles of the Citie the fame day. He gaue thankes to God, and fet one of his condemned persons on shore, who was almost oppressed with multitudes preffing to fee a man of so vincouth habite, till at last two Merchants of Tunis early knew him to be a Spaniard : and Monzaida, one of them, asked him in Spanish of what parts of Spaine he was; and being answered, of Portugall, inuited him home: and hauing made him est and drinke, went on boord with him to Gama, and profered him all kindnelle; telling him, that the King of Calecut ( whole Customes were his chiefe Reuenues) would be glad of their comming. To him Gama lent two of his companie with Monzaida, which declared to him, that their King moued by his worthy fame, had fent one of his Cap- 20 taines thither, to establish mutuall love and amitie. The King gladly heard them, and willed them to bring their Fleet to Pandarane (where hee then was) because the road of Calecut was dangerous in that featon of the yeere, and fent a Pilot to effect it. Soone after, the King fent an Officer or Magistrate, called Cainal, honourably to conduct Gama vnto him : who appointing Paul Games his brother over the Fleet, bad him, if ought amiffe happened to him, that hee should returne home, without further care of him. For neyther could hee effect his Kings defignes otherwife, nor they refift that Kings power to relieue him.

Waires are the Guard and Souldiors. Images at the first dans, is in all kinds o. Idolitiy? e worthis se know not what. o the worthip himfe.fe ? Of their Denot:of the Virgin,

28

They were no fooner landed, then a Litter received each of them (many Nairos attending on foot) and after that another, and were brought into a sumptuous Temple, esteemed of great fanctitie, which Gama supposed by the structure, and other isgnes, and because he had heard of many Christians in those parts, to be Christian. At the Temple doore foure men met them naked to the nauill, thence clothed with filke to the knees, having three threds from the right shoulder crossed to the left side (the habit of Bramenes) which sprinkled holy water on them, and gaue them fweet poulders. The walls of the Temples had many Images painted on them. In the midft was a round high Chappell, with a brazen narrow doore, having many fleps to it, and within, an Image which the darkenesse would not fuffer them to discerne, neyther might any enter but the Priests, who approaching to the Image with their finger pointing to it, twice * How neere a called * Maria, whereat the Cathal and his companie falling flat on the Earth, prefently arole contanguint is and tayd their prayers. The Portugals thinking it to be fome Seruice of the Bleffed Virgin, worthipped her after their wonted manner. Thence they passed to another Temple of like 40 magnificence, and after that, to the Kings Palace, Trumpets and Pipes founding all the while: pailags from and the people to thronged, that had not the Nairos made way with their Swords, they could not have passed. At the Gate they were met by certaine Nobles, called Caimaes, and approaching to the roome where the King was, an aged man clothed in filke from the shoulders to the anckles, comming forth, embraced Gama. This was the chiefe of the Bramenes. The others being first permitted entrance, he last of all holding Gama by the hand, followed. It was a large Hall, with many Benches artificially wrought one aboue another, in forme of a Theatre. The Floore was courted with Silke, the Walls hanged with Curtaines of Silke, emtranspoles broydered with Gold. The King lay in a rich Bed, with a Tyre on his head let with Stones The like hap-and wrought with Gold, clothed with Silke, having many golden Claspes on the Brest. On Tipon Christi- his Eares hung Iewels of great value: his Toes and Fingers, with Rings and Gemmes made a ans which ice- glorious iplendour: His perionage was comely, tall, maiefticall. Gama faluted him as the ing the Primite of the here is to the King, and was then placed in a Seat next him; the other Portugals also sate downe. Water was brought to wash and coole their hands, and divers Fruits to refresh them. Admit is Cap.

After this, he questioned Gama of his Embassage: who answered, that it was not the Portu-Saigworthip- gall cuitome to declare Embaffages in promifcuous and publike Affemblies, but to communicate peditherame, the fame onely with the King and his Councell, or Committees. Hereupon the King remoomilt king it ueth into a fairer Roome, and there heard Gama relating the worth of his Matter King Emamuel; who in a magnanimous spirit, having heard of the renowned greatnesse of the King of Calicut, and of the rarities of India, had in defire of league and friendship, fent him thither, to 60 begin it in his Name, whence might both Honor also and Profit arife to both parts; and fignified, that he had Letters of Credence vnto him. The King courteously received his words, and promifed to asknowledge the Ki g of Portugall as his Brother: giving order to the Casual to conduct him to the House appointed for his Lodging, The Citie was large, the Houses not being continued, but with Orchyards and Gardens diftinguished, meanely built, the Law fo prouiding, onely the Kings House of Stone. This King at that time was chiefe of all the Ofer. La. Princes adioyning both in wealth and power.

After three dayes, Gama conducted by the Catual, delivered the King his Letter, and withail a Preient, which the King feemed to contemne, but was excused by the vicercaintie of the Nauigation: neyther was any Present so good, as the friendship of such a Prince; from whom also if he expected profit, it should be effected by ships of Merchandize yerely trading thither. He defired, that his Kings Letters might not be interpreted by Saracens, forafrouch as he perceiued by Monzaida, that they fought him a milhefe. Monzaida interpreted the Letter,

10 and the King admonished him to be vigilant against Saracenicall fraudes: for which hee thanked him, and departed. These Mores consulted their ruine, and bribed the Courtiers to that Malice of end, traducing Gama also for a Pyrate and a Spie in shew of a Merchant, a sparke (if not timely Mores. quenched) likely soone to bring that whole state in combustion. This they did partly in hatred of the Christian Name, and partly in feare of decaying their Trade, communicated thus to Portugalls. The King wearied with their importunities, fearing to lofe their Customes, and feared by the examples of the Mores and Negros in Africa, with some exploits in the way. whose beggerie also he saw in their Kings contemptible Present, and their poore Merchand ze, as if he had fent to some wilde Negro Prince; threatned with their departure to some other Prince, and to remoue their Staple thither with his manifest losse, perhaps their wine gayne; 20 yeelded to them, and fent the Casual to perswade Gama, with promise of all kindnesse, if hee would bring his ships neerer, and for securitie deliuer vp his sayles. But he writ to his brother, That if he faw him long detayned, to fet fayle homewards: and after much contention, agrees to fend on shore his Merchandize, with men to fell them, whereupon he is dismissed to his thip. He complayeed to the King of the Carnal, who gave him faire promifes, but caused his Merchandize to be carryed to Calicut, where he faid was better fale.

Gama was content, and enery day fent two or three together, to observe the Citie, which yet received no offence. He defired of the King to leave a Factor there: whereto the King making angry answere, made no reply, which caused further anger, and two of his men on shore to be committed to custodie, with their Wares. Which when he could not re-obtayne by in-30 treatie, hee fet vpon the next ship which came thither, and tooke thence fix principall nen, and then put off further into the Sea. The King fent to him, faying, hee wondered much hee would apprehend his feruants, feeing hee detayned the two Portugals only, till hee had written to King Emanuel, whom also the next day hee fent with Letters : but with-held the Wares for their Factor, if hee would fend any, to dispose thereof. But Gama sayd hee would now leave none, and would keepe the men till hee had his goods. The day after, Monzaids came to them, and told them, that hee had beene in danger of his life for their fakes, which having very hardly escaped, hee prayed to carry him with them to Portugall; which they did, and there hee became Christian. The King fent his Wares in fenen Boats; but Gama refused, and sayd hee would carry those Malabars into Portugall, to testifie how injuriously the 40 King of Calicut had vsed him : and prefently discharging his Ordenance, chased them away. The King was enraged, but his Nauie was at that feafon vnrigged, and in harbour. Yet he fent out threefcore Merchants against them, which were by sudden tempest dispersed. Gama from the next Port where hee could arrive, fent a Letter with good words to the King, by one of his Captines fernants. There hee was affaulted by Timoia, a Pyrat, with eight Timoia a Pythips, whereof hee tooke one well fernished, the rest fled. Hee went to Anchediva, to amend rate. his ships, and there was saluted by a feruant of Zabaim, Lord of Goa, an Italian, who in the Anchedist, name of his Master offered him all kindnesse, if hee would goe thither. This man professed trechere. himselfe an Italian, captized by Pyrates, and so brought to serue a Mahumetan in these parts.

Gama perceining him wittie, but curious and bufie, futpected and apprehended him, who be-50 ing tortured, confessed himselfe a Tartarian Iew, sent by Zabaius for a Spie, whom he carryed with him into Portugall, where hee was baptized, and proued feruiceable in many things to Thence hee now hasted his departure, and the time being unseasonable, came slowly to Magadoxo, on the African shore: and because they were Mahumetans, sunke and spoyled Magadoxo. their thips, and mined a great part of their Walls. At Melinde hee was kindly entertained, Melinde. and his men well refreshed: and within fine dayes, for feare of Winter at the Cape, set sayle, with an Embassadour from Melinde to Portugall. Hee burnt, as vnfit for the Voyage, the ship of Taul Gama, having need of the Mariners to supply the other two.

On the seuen and twentieth of February hee came to an Island called Zanzibar, foure Zanzibar. 60 and twentie miles from the Continent, where hee was well entertayned and refreshed of the Prince, though a More. Hee refreshed himselfe agains at Saint Blases watering, and Watering of on the fine and twentieth of Aprill doubled the Cape. Thence to Saint Iago, where by S. Blage. tempest they were parted; Calius the other Captaine next way to Lisbone, Gama to the Tercera, where his brother Paul died; and soone after, to Lisbone, in the yeere 1499.

where Calum had related all to the King before. Of an hundred fortie eight, or as others report, an hundred and threefcore, there returned onely fine and fiftie, and those very #### ð. IX.

The second Fleet sent to the East Indies : Their discouerie of Brasill, and other Acts.

Ing Emanuel fet forth a second Fleet of thirteene ships, well furnished, with fifteene hundred fouldiors and munition, vinder Peter Alwarez Capralis, whom he commanded to hold peace and confirme amitie, it might be, with the King of Calecut, and if it were possible, to get leave of him to build a Fort neere the Citie, where they might be secure from Saracenicall Hostilitie. Hee sent also fine Franciscans for holy Offices, both to the Portugals, and if meanes were offered, for conversion of the Infidels. Hee departed from Lisbone the eight of March, in the fecular yeere : and holding his course to S. lago,

The rest of the Fleet having two dayes after the Tempest stayed in vaine for it, set sayle there met with a florme which feattered the Fleet, and forced one ship to returne home.

Land of Brasil Westward, and on the three and twentieth of Aprill had fight of Land, with no lesse maruell 20

furt discoursed then ioy. Capralis commanded the Master to goe neere, and take view of the shore, which returned newes of a fertile and well watered Soyle, the Natiues naked, with long hayre, and Bowes and Arrowes. But that night a fforme tooke them, which much tormented them, till Puerto Seguro at last he light into a safe Harbour, which thereupon he called Puerto Seguro. They tooke two Fishermen, which by no fignes could or would understand them, whom with Bells, Bracelets, and Glasses they restored on shore; which brought the rest with store of Meale and Fruits for like Traffique. Hee named this Land of the holy Croffe, fince of ftore of that Wood, called Brafill; and having erected a Stone Pillar, fent one of his ships backe to Portugall with that newes. Hee had Maffe and a Sermon on shore, to the great assonishment of the Sauages.

funke foure of their thips, not one man escaping; and soone after, the remayning seven with another tempest were seuered: and on the fine and twentieth of July fix of them held their course together, one being separated, which pierced into the Arabian Gulfe, or Red Sea; and thence returned home with onely fix men, the rest perishing by famine and diseases. The other fix having doubled the Cape of good Hope, found Land pleasant and fertile, but the people would not trade with them, then destitute of prouision. At last they espyed two ships at anchor, which having fight of the Portugals, fled, but were purfued and taken: but learning that they belonged to Foreima, a Prince in amitie with the King of Melinde, he let them paffe with great flore of Gold which they had brought from Zofala, with other rich commodities. At

loa. The King of Quiloa's Dominion extended nine hundred miles in length, his fubiects be-

Mozambique he watered without impediment, and bought Victuals, and hired a Pilot to Qui- 40

On the fift of May hee departed, and on the three and twentieth a fudden violent storme '30

Difficulties in all great At-

Zofala.

ing some blacke, some coloured, speake Arabike, besides other Languages, Merchants of divers Countries trading amongst them. It is separate from Land with a narrow Sea, soure hundred miles from Mozambique, full of Springs, Trees, Cattell wilde and tame, rich in Soyle and Fishing. The Citie great and populous, with magnificent Houses, with store of furniture: Their ships, for want of Pitch, trimmed with a battard Frankincense. Capralis fent to Abrahem the King, who kindly entertayned the Meffengers, and promifed next day to come aboord: which hee did in Barges gallantly decked, his companie attyred in Gold, Purple, or Silke, with Swords and Daggers, having in the Hilts gemmes of great fplendour; the Ayre filled with Trumpets and Pipes, confuted with the Trumpets and Ordinance of the Portugals, who in their best attyre went into their Boats to meet him. The King heard his Letters and Embasfage with ioy, and promifed to hold his Mafter for his brother, and the next day was defigned for confirmation of the League. The Mores with wily arts interuert this amitie, upbrayding to the King his simplicatie, that would give such credit to Pyrats.

Mclinde.

Capralis hearing this, holdeth on his way to Melinde, where with incredible gladnesse hee was welcommed, and the Embaffador now returned to his Mafter with the King of Portugals Prefents, namely, a faire Horie fumptuously trapped, with other gifts. Here Capralis would not stay, but left two exiles or condemned persons there, to enquire if any way were open to Prester Iohn, and to learne the Customes of the Countrey. On the two and twentieth of August he came to Anchediya, and there a while refreshed his companie; which having done, 60 he fayled to Calicut. The King fent two Nairos with a Guzarate Merchant to falute Capralis, who lent with them backe his Christened Iew, and foure of those Nairos, or Courtiers, which Gama had taken the yeere before (two hee detayned as Pledges) with Iohn Sa'a a Portugall, all in Portugall habite, whereat the King reioyced. In a Palace neere the shore, the King en-

Anchediya. Calicut.

tertayned Capralis, who had left Sancius Thoare with command of the Fleet, and after much complement, promited him more then he asked: Gaue them free libertie of Trade, and Houles fitting thereto, the Patent or Charter being a Table of Gold, with Letters engraved, for perpetuall memorie. He gaue them leave to creet the Banner of King Emanuel on their House top, as a Monument of his love to their Master. Hearing of a strong and well manned ship comming from Cochin to Cambaia, with a mightie and warly Elephant therein, he fent to entreat Capralus to take it, whereto he employed one of his smallest Vessels: whereat the King marwelled, having before fet certaine Saracens or Mores of purpose to observe their behavior in that Enterprise, especially seeing the great ship chased to Cananor, about fortie miles North from Cananor, To Calicut, into which they compelled her the next day as Captiue to returne.

This did but kindle the enuy of the Mores, who to their wonted Arts added the fore-stalling the Market, and giving greater prices: fo, that whereas they had beene promifed lading in twentie dayes, they had expected three moneths, when meane time the Saracenicall ships were laden and gone, contrarie to their late League, which concluded them the first to be ferued. He fent notice to the King, who feemed to be offended with the Mores, giving them leave to lade themselves out of their ships, paying them their money layd out. Capralis fearing to execute this, by Correa the Cape Merchant was importuned; and one ship now setting sayle, Warre began was brought backe by them into the Hauen, whereupon grew great broyles, the King feeming and Porugals, contented they should try it out betwixt them. They therefore with a companie of Nairos, 20 on the seventeenth of December rush into the Portugall House, which Correa by a signe erected fignifieth to the Fleet. He had with him feuentie men against foure thousand, so that he with fitte others were flaine: the rest were by the assistance of their fellowes in Boats conueyed aboord. Capralis then fick of a Quartane, and more of this difafter, perceiuing the King confeious (a Fautor, if not Author) of this defigne, affayled the next day ten great ships of the Mores, and flew fix hundred of them, distributed the rest as slaves in their ships, and laded thems lues with the goods, being forced for want of prouision to kill three Elephants, and falt them for food. Which done, hee let the ships on fire, and that in the night, for greater terror. The morrow next he affaulted the Towne with Ordenance from his ships, and slew many, one of which

After this, Capralis went to Cochin, a hundred and seuentie miles Southward, being a fure Cochine Hauen. The King was then poore, and tributarie to Calecut. To him he fent an Indian logue, a begging Frier of that Bramene Religion, which by the Portugall Friers had beene converted and baptized by the Name of Michael. The King promiled all that they requested, and entertained them in a House fit for Trade. The Kings of Cananor and Coulam fent thither to them Coulam. offer of League and Traffique. But Capralis fixed here his Staple: where two Christians of Staple creded Cranganor, twentie miles distant, defired and obtayned of him to carry them into Portugall, at Cochia.

that they might have a fight of Rome and Ierusalem.

a Courtier, at the Kings feet.

Not long after, hee had newes of the King of Calicuts Fleet, of twentie great ships, and many small, with fifteene hundred men therein, sent to be reuenged of the Portugals, which he went forth to affayle, but was scanted of Winde which they had, and willingly wanted, for feare of the Ordenance. So leaving two Factors at Cochin, and having taken in the rest of his fraight at Cananor, he departed the fixteenth of Ianuary, and neere to Melinde tooke a ship, which perceiuing it belonged to a More of Cambaia, hee dismissed, professing no quarrell in India, but to Calecut alone, and the Mores of Mecca. One of their thips was here wracked, the remainders whereof he burned, to preuent the enemies spoyle. He employed one of his ships in the fearch of Zophala, and returned with the rest to Lisbone, where he arrived the last of July, and was welcommed of the King, who had before fent three other ships on the same Voyage. The third, and And in the yeere fellowing, 1502. hee fent Vafeus Gama againe with ten ships, and Soderius fourth, and fire with another Fleet, giving him commission to make himselfe * Lord of the Sea, and to doe his India. 50 vtmoft against the Mores. This consisted of fifteene ships. Five others he sent under Stephen . Commission

Gama, and so proceeded in his fortunes, that in a few yeeres he made himselfe Lord of the In- to make them. dian Trade and Nauigation, and fubdued the Kingdomes of Ormus, Go2, and Malacca, with felues LL, of other parts of the East, to the Portugall Scepter, to the great enriching of that State, and the Indian partakers; whereof Cochin hath from a poore citate arisen to greatnesse, and Calicut beene eclipfed. But as those Spanish Westerne Discoueries and Acts, so these Easterne of the Portugals I leaue to their owne Authors : fuch as for the former, are P. Martyr, Cieça, Viega, Oniedo, Herera, Gomera, Benzo, and the rest; and for the later, Barrius, Oforius, Massaus, Castaneds, and others. I intend in this place onely to flew the beginning of Trade, and Naui-60 gation in both parts : and the occasion hence arising, of the first savling round about the

ALBV QVER QVES Exploits, and the first knowledge of Molusca's.

E haue heard of the Quarrell twixt Siuill and Lisbone, or the Castilian and Portugall compounded, each sharing a moitie of the World. Some question grew of the Molucca's, after the discourrie of them by the Portugals, whether they apportagned to the Castilian or Lusitanian share. It is to be considered, that ten yeeres after Gama's discouerie, and ill viage at Calecut, the Portugalls sought all this time reuenge, and in great 10 part effected it, notwithstanding the Indian Potentates, the Ægyptian Sultans affistance (as long after the Turkes succeeding in that State and Quarrell) maintaining their Trade, and propagating their Sea and Land-Soueraigntie in those parts, although with some vicistitude of fortune, and with loffe even this Summer of some of their principall Commanders : Almeida the late Viceroy baiely perifling neere the Cape of Good Hope, by the hands of wilde Negros; Cotinius, whiles hee enuyed any partner in the glory of taking the Kings Palace at Calecut. whiles Albuquerque fet the Citie on fire, and permitting his fouldiors to ouer-haitie pillage, lofing his late-gotten purchase, and himselfe; and Albuquerque himselfe carryed away neere dead, with divers wounds.

Maff. 1.46 Malacca.

Whiles thele things were done at Calecut, Didacus Lupius Sequeria was fent out of Portu- 20 gall, to begin amitie with Malacca: who was the first that having passed the Promontorie Cory, and fayling thorow the Bengalan or Gangetike Bay, touched on Sumatra, divided by a narrow and dangerous Strait from the Continent of Malacca, eyther being or supposed to bee in old times a Cherloneflus or Pen-Infula (euery where encompafied with Waves, but by one Neck of Land fastned to the Maine) and called as some will have (though others ascribe it to Malacchyle, or Aurea ca and the Siam Kingdome) Aurea, or the Golden, being indeed rich in Gold, and other Metals, as this enfuing Historie will shew.

Sequeria having here made League with the Kings of Pedir and Achen, and erected fuch Stone Pillars as before are mentioned, in both places, as Monuments thereof, passed to Malacca, where hee received great kindnesse of Mamadau a Mahumetan, which had viurped that State 30 by force from the Siamite, who yet as the Samorin, or King of Calecut, by the Mores was altered, and fought by Treason to murther the Portugals, and seize on their ships. For pretending, after League confirmed, to entertayne him in a Feast, Sequeria having intelligence, excused himselfe by sicknesse: whereupon hee offered extraordinarie fauour to lade his ships (contrarie to Mores treche- the custome of that Port) before all those which had beene there before them, which must bee ricat Malacca carryed closely, for feare of difguit and mutinie of other Merchants, which Sequeria accepted thankfully, and fent his men to divers places assigned. Patiacus, the sonne of Viimniis, the next man in Malacca after the King, was fent aboord to complement with him, till a figne given by imoake from a certaine place, should at once arme the rest in other places, and him on shipboord to fudden and vnexpected flaughter. It happened, that Sequeria, at Patiacus his com- 40 Cheffe-play in ming, was at Cheffe; which he diffemblingly willed him to continue, that he might observe our difference from them in that Play. But whiles hee waited the smoake, others of Malacca had not that patience, but misorderly began their furie, which was espyed from the ship tops by a Mariner, who cryed Treafon: whereupon they running to their Armes, the Malaccans leaped ouer boord, and they fent fome to helpe their fellowes, whiles the rest cut their Cables, to have Sea-roome for their Ship-fights, and by terror of their Ordenance easily chaled the Nauie, set purpofely to affayle them. But of those on shore, fortie were slaine, and more captized, which ministred just cause of quarrell to their Countreymen, whom Sequeria had sent notice hereof.

Ormuz tribus raric to Portu-

Ber. Dec 2. Line Sce Bar Dec. 2. 1.5,6 0 7. Ofor, de reb. Em.7,8,9,10.

Gos wonne

himselfe passing directly to the Cape, and so to Lisbone. Albuquerque had now recoursed of his wounds, and minded to recour Ormuz, the King 50 whereof had before acknowledged Vasiallage to King Emanuel, with fifteene thousand Serafines of Gold yeerely tribute, and leave to the Portugal's to erect there a Fort; which the flacknesse first, and after that, open mutinie of his owne men, had frustrated; Zeifadin the King ha-Magila mase. uing intelligence thereof, and thereby taking occasion to shake off the Portugall yoake. Hee pretended feare of Ismael the Persian Xa, or Sophi, whose tributarie he was, but was regayned afterwards (it was the last Act of Albuquerques Life) and the Persian also not discontented, yea, sending an Embassadour to treat of Peace, as having their Actions in admiration. But at this time having collected a Fleet of one and twentie fayle, in his way thither was intercepted by the opportunitie of Goa, whose Prince Zabaiss, in the midst of his preparations against the Portugals, was lately dead, leaving his young fonne Idalean as full of troubles, as emptie of ex- 60 perience. Timoia, a famous Pyrate, and Lord of an lland not farre off, gaue this intelligence, with proffer of his best assistance therein: Whereupon a suddaine Siege, and surprize thereof, was made, vpon Conditions; the Portugals wondering to fee themselnes fo easily Lords of fuch Wealth. But Idalcan with force and famine foone expelled them;

Of the Circum-Nauigations of the Globe. CHAP. 2.

which yet, not long after, they recovered, to the great honour of that Nation in thefe

Intending next to enter the Red Sea, the Northwest Windes repelled this victorious Gene- Red Sea rall or Vice-ray from that attempt, but offered faire oportunitie for Malacca, which he readily apprehended: and first demanded his Prisoners of Manualius, which hee sayd were fled; but feeing his Towne on fire, was forced to prefent vnto him. And when his Conditions demanded feemed great, namely, the charges of both Fleets, and reflicution of things loft; M.mudius was animated by some, rather to defend himselfe by Warre: the effect whereof, was the losse of that pettie Kingdome, and of himfelfe with griefe.

In the way thither, Albuquerque had met with fome thips lately come from thence, which he affaulted and tooke : in which prelude of a greater Warre, this happened remarkable, That Niodabegues, one of those which had before conspired against Sequeria, received divers wounds, by which at last hee fell, but neyther Bloud nor Soule issued, which both, as from a broken Vessell, suddenly fled, after a gold Chayne was taken from his arme. The cause, they A Chayne of learned to be a Bone of a Beaft called Cabis, in the Countrey of Siam, which being included in ftrange vertue. learned to be a Bone of a Deatt caused Cabis, in the Country of Diam, which owing included the bloud allo, those open passages notwithstanding. This sewell was Bean that Chayne, included the bloud allo, those open passages notwithstanding. This sewell was fent into Portugall for a raritie, but perished by shipwracke in the way.

The victorie at Malacca spread the Portugall same, caused Leagues and Legates of divers Nations; and occasioned their fearch and diffeourie of the Ilands of Amboino, Banda, and the Amboino, Bon-20 Molucca's. Yea, the Samorin of Calecut, and Idalean himselfe sought their amitte, and the Negus of Abassia or Prester John sent an Embassador into Portugall. The King of Maldiva became Maldiva. Vassall to King Emanuel. Antoniu Abrem was employed for the Molucca's : which first came to Iava, then to Amboino, fetting his Stone Pillars in both places : next to Banda, the name of diuers Hands, where Nutmegs and Mace onely, for ought then knowne, in all the World, did grow. The fame of Malacca had pierced hither, and prepared ea e Conditions to a League; as also to the Molucca's: where the two emulous Kings of Ternate and Tidore were ambitious which should first winne them to their side; their mutuall Quarrels opening a ready aduantage to the Portugals, by taking part with one to make his best of both.

These Quarrels they have transmitted to their Posteritie; and even at this day the Hol-30 lander taking part with the one, and the Spaniard (who hath here fucceeded the Portugall) with the other, out of their euils gather benefit to themselues. So foolish, and not improus alone, is Strife, that belides mutuall mischiefes to and by each other, they expose themselves to forraine both scorne and gayne.

CHAP. II.

Of FERNANDY'S MAGALIANES: The occasion of his Voyage, and the particulars of the same, with the compassing of the World by the Ship called San Victoria; gathered out of * ANTONIO PIGA-FETTA, an Italian of Vicenza, who was one in the faid Circum-Nauigation, as also from diners other Authors.

NE which served under Albuquerque in these victorious Warres, was Fernandus Magalianes, a Portugall, a Gentleman of great spirit: who having thereof, out of made good and manyfold proofe of his valour and value both in Africa and In- Kambis Copy. dia, and being rejected in a fuit to the King, for augmenting his stipend halfe a Duckat a moneth; conceining deepe indignation hereat, he rencunced his alle-geance to his Mafter King Emanuel, and betooke himselfe to the Court of Ca- 0/07.1. 11. file, with Ray Falero, a professed Aftrologer (the Portugals fay, a Conjurer) and acquainted the May. Le. tine, with Ray Falero, a proteiled Attrologer (the Portugais 127), a Commercy and acquainted the Maga Voyage Emperour, that the Ilands of Banda 2.14 of the Molucca's (the one the onely Store-houle of translated out Nature for Nutmegs and Mace, the other for Cloues ) appertained to him, by that Diudion of Portug. which King Iohn the second and King Ferdinand and Isabel of Castile had agreed on, that is, Martiansiano to the Westerne moitie of the World, from the prescribed Limits before mentioned. And E. G. ad Kamuf. with a bold and admirable attempt, offered also by the West to discouer these rich Hands of Locate.

The Portugall Authors speake here nothing but Treason, and cry out vpon him as a Traitor, for lowing Seeds likely to produce Warre twixt Castile and Portugall : Nor dee I, in those things, undertake to infifie him. But out of his whatforuer cuill, God produced this good to the World, that it was first by his meanes sayled round: Nor was his neglect of his Countrey taur in Kamufo's first Tome; and a great Englished by which here is

Malacca won

CHAP.2.

C H A P.2.

neglected, or revengefull mind vnrevenged, as the sequele manifesteth, by his vntimely and

Fine thips were furnished at the Emperors command: the Trinitie Admirall, Stephen Gomes a Portugall, Pilot; of San Victoria, was Luys de Mendoza Captaine; John de Cartagena of the flip S. Antonio; John Serran of the flip S. Lago; and Gaspar de Quexada of the ship Conception: Magalianes himselfe being made Generall. The whole companie was two hundred thirtie fenen, cr (as some say) two hundred and fiftie; of which, thirtie were Portugals. On the tenth of August, 1919, they departed from Smill; the fix and twentieth of September they arrived at Tenarife; the third of October they fayled betwixt the Ilands and Cape Verde, They fayled many dayes in the fight of the Coast of Guinea, and had a great calme seuentie 10 dayes, which they fpent in attaining the Line.

They loft the North flarre The Hand of Brafile. The South

Canibals.

When they had fayled past the Equinoctiall Line, they lost the fight of the North starre, and fayled by the South-west, vntill they came to a Land named Brasilia, being two and twentie degrees and a halfe toward the South Pole or Pole Antartike. This Land is continuate, and one firme Land with the Cape of Saint Augustine, which is eight degrees from the Equinoctiall. In this Land they were refreshed with many good Fruits of innumerable kindes, and found here also very good Sugar Canes, and divers kindes of Beasts and other things, which I emit for breuitie.

They departed from this Land, and fayled to the foure and twentieth degree and a halfe, toward the Pole Antartike, where they found a great River of fresh Water, and certaine Ca- 20 nibals. Of thefe, they faw one out of their ships, of stature as big as a Giant, having a voyce like a Bull. Our men purfied them, but they were fo fwift of foot, that they could not ouertake them. About the mouth of this River are feven Hands, in the biggest whereof they found Infule Gemmacertaine precious Stones, and called it the Cape of Saint Mary. The Spaniards thought, that by this River they might have passed into the South Sea: But they were deceived in their opinion; for there was none other passage then by the River, which is seventeene Leagues large in

The Pole Antartika. Pengwins and

Cap. S. Maric.

Thus following this Coast by the tract of the Land toward the Pole Antartike, they came to a place where were two Ilands replenished with Pengwins and Seales. These were in such number, that in an houre all the fine ships might have beene laden with Pengwins, being all 30 of blacke colour, and such as cannot flye. They live of Fish, and are so fat, that they could scarcely flay them. They have no Feathers, but a certaine Downe, and their bylls like Rauens bylls. Here were they in great danger by Tempest: But as soone as the three Fires, called Saint Helen, Saint Nicholas, and Saint Clare, appeared upon the Cables of the ships, suddenly the tempest and furie of the Windes ceased.

The 49 degree Giants.

Departing from hence, they tayled to the nine and fortieth degree and a halfe, vnder the Pole Antartike: where being Wintered, they were inforced to remayne there for the space of two moneths, all which time they faw no man, except that one day by chance they efpyed a man of the stature of a Grant, who came to the Hauen dancing and singing, and shortly after feemed to cast dust over his head. The Captaine fent one of his men to the shore with the 40 thip Boat, who made the like tigne of peace. The which thing the Giant feeing, was out of feare, and came with the Captaines feruant to his prefence into a little Iland. When hee faw the Captaine with certaine of his companie about him, hee was greatly amazed, and made fignes, helding up his hand to Heauen , fignifying thereby, that our men came from thence.

The bign fe This Giant was fo big, that the head of one of our men, of a meane stature, came but to his of the Giants. Walte. He was of good corporature, and well made in all parts of his body, with a large Vifage, painted with diners colours, but for the most part yellow. Vpon his Cheekes were painted two Harts, and red Circles about his Eves. The Hayre of his Head was coloured white, and his Apparrell was the Skinne of a Beaft fowed together. This Beaft (as feemed vnto vs) had a large head, and great eares like vnto a Mule, with the body of a Cammell, and tayle of a so Horse. The feet of the Giant were foulded in the faid Skinne, after the manner of shooes. He had in his hand a big and fhort Bowe, the String whereof was made of a finew of that Beaft. He had also a Bundell of long Arrowes, made of Reedes, feathered after the manner of ours, typt with sharpe stones in the stead of Iron heads. The Captaine caused him to eat and drinke, and gaue him many things, and among other, a great Looking-Glasse: In the which, as soone as he saw his owne likenesse, hee was suddenly afraid, and started backe with such violence, that he overthrew two that flood neerest about him. When the Captaine had thus given him certaine Hawkes Bells, and other great Bells, with a Looking-Glasse, a Combe, and a payre of Beads of Glasse, he sent him to land with foure of his owne men well armed.

Another Gi-

Shortly after, they faw another Giant, of somewhat greater stature, with his Bowe and Ar- 60 rowes in his hand. As hee drew neere vnto our men, he layd his hand on his head, and pointed up toward Heauen, and our men did the like. The Captaine fent his thip Boat, to bring him to a little Iland, being in the Hauen. This Giant was very tractable, and pleasant. Hee sung and danced, and in his dancing, left the print of his feet on the ground. Hee remayned long with our men, who named him Iohn. Hee could well speake, and plainely pronounce these words, Iefu, Au: Maria, Iohannes, euen as wee doe, but with a bigger voyce. The Captaine gaue him a Shirt of Linnen Cloth, and a Coat of white Woollen Cloth; also a Cap, a Combe, a Looking-Glasse, with divers such other things, and so fent him to his companie. The day fellowing hee referted againe to the shippes, and brought with him one of these great Beatls, which hee gaue the Captaine. But after that day they neuer faw him more, supposing him to be flaine of his owne company, for the convertation he had with our men.

After other fifteene dayes were past, there came foure other Giants without any Weapons, Foure other but had hid their Bowes and Arrowes in certaine Bushes. The Captaine retayned two of Gians. 10 thefe, which were youngest and best made. Hee tooke them by a deceit; giving them Knyues, Two Giants Sheeres, Looking-Glaffes, Bells, Beades of Crystall, and such other Tritles hee to filled their are taken by a hands, that they could hold no more: then caused two payre of shackles of Iron to bee put on policie.

their legges, making fignes, that hee would also give them those Chaynes; which they liked very well, because they were made of bright and shining metall. And whereas they could not carry them, because their hands were full, the other Giants would have carryed them: but the Captaine would not fuffer them. When they felt the shackles fast about their legges, they began to doubt : but the Captaine did put them in comfort, and bad them stand full. In fine, when they faw how they were deceived, they roared like Bulls, and cryed upon their great Deuill Serebos, to helpe them. Being thus taken, they were immediately reperate and put in fun- The Dewill 20 dry shippes. They could never hinde the hands of the other two: yet was one of them with Satebal. much difficultie ouerthrowne by nine of our men, and his hands bound; but he fuddenly locted himselfe, and sled, as did also the other that came with them. In their slying, they shot cif their Arrowes, and flew one of our men. They fay, that when any of them die, there appeare Deuisappeare ten or twelve Deuils, leaping and dancing about the bodie of the dead, and feeme to have their to the colanis bodies painted with divers colours, and that among other, there is one feene bigger then the refidue, who maketh great mirth and rejoycing. This great Deuill they call Serebos, and call the leffe Chelenle. One of thefe Giants which they tooke, declared by fignes, that hee had feene Deuils with two hornes about their heads, with long hayre downe to their feet; and that they call forth fire at their throats both before and behind. The Captaine named their people Para- Patagoni.

30 goni. The most part of them weare the Skinnes of fuch Beats whereof I have spoken before : and have no Houses of continuance, but make certaine Cottages, which they court with the faid Skinnes, and carry them from place to place. They live of raw Flesh, and a certaine sweet Root, which they call Capar. They are very jealous of their Women. When they are ficke at the stomacke, they put an Arrow halfe a yard or more downe the Throat, which makes them vomit greene choler and floud. For head-ach, they make a cut ouer the for-head, and let themfelues bloud. The like they doe on the arme, or legge, in any Aches. They cut their hayre like Friers, but a little longer, and binde it with a Cotton hayre-lace. By reason of Cold in those parts, they truffe up themfelues fo, as the genitall member is hidden within the body. One of The Giants these which they had in their shippes, did cate at one meale a Basket of Bisket, and drunke a seeding. 40 Bowle of Water at a draught.

They remayned fine moneths in this Port of Saint Inlian; where certaine of the under Cap- They confire taines confpiring the death of their Generall, were hanged and quartered: among whom, the against their Treasurer Luigo of Mendozza was one. Certaine of the other Conspirators he left in the faid Captaine. Land of Patagoni; namely, Iohn de Cartagena, and a Priest. They erected there a Crosse, in token of possession.

Departing from hence to the two and fiftieth degree, toward the Pole Antartike, lacking a third part, they found a River of fresh Water and good Fish. Their shippes were here in great danger. They remayned two moneths in this Port, where they made new prouision of fresh Water, Fuell, and Fifth. Here the Captaine caused all his men to be confessed. Appropriate to Confession, 50 the two and fiftie degrees, they found the Strait now called the Strait of Mugellanus, being The Strait of in some place a hundred and ten Leagues in length, and in bredth somewhere very large, and in Magellanus. other places little more then halfe a League in bredth. On both the fides of this Strait, are great and high Mountaines couered with Snow, beyond the which, is the entrance into the The South Sea of Sur. This entrance the Captaine named Mare Pacificum. Here one of the ships, Saint Sea. Antonio, stole away princily, and returned into Spaine: In this was one of the Giants, who Mare Pacifidied as foone as he felt the heat that is about the Equinoctiall Line.

When the Captaine Mandianes was past the Strait, and faw the way open to the other died for heat. maine Sea, hec was to glad thereof, that for toy the teares fell from his eyes, and named the point of the Land from whence hee first faw that Sea, Capo Defiderate. Supporting that the Camp Defiderate, 60 thip which stole away, had beene lost, they erected a Crosse vpon the top of a high Hill, to direct their course in the Strait, if it were their chance to come that way.

They found, that in this Strait, in the moneth of October, the Night was not past Short nights foure houres long. They found in this Strait, at every three miles, a fate Hauen, and excel- in the moneth lent Water to drinke; Wood alio, and Fish, and great plentie of good Heroes. They of October.

CHAP.2

inke, that there is not a fairer Strait in the World. Here also they saw certaine flying

The ctl or Glant which remayned with them in the ship, named Bread, Capar; Water, Oli; red Cloch, Chorecait; red Colour, Cheiche; Hacke colour, Smel : And spoke all his words in the threat. On a time, as one made a Croffe before him, and killed it, shewing it vnto him, hee is cry of Serebor, and declared ly ignes, that if they made any more Croffes, Serebos at rists his body, and make him burth. But when in fine hee faw no hurt come theredefine to be the Credle, and embraced and killed it oftentimes, defiring, that hee might bee a Christian, ofore his death. Hee was therefore baptized, and named Paul. The Glant is a Departing out of this Strait into the Sea called Mare Pacificem, the eight and twentieth Iq The serior dis Payer Normanber, in the year 1520, they fayled three moneths and twentie dayes before they

Land: and having in this time confirmed all their Bisket and other Victuals, they fell fight gwish the serve Linux and hadring in this time certained at the powder that remayined thereof, being contable fight of 1, 20 fish horeefitie, that they were inferced to cate the powder that remayined thereof, being new fill of Wormes, and flinking like Piffe, by reafon of the falt Water. Their fresh Water was also pearified, and become yellow. They did eate Skinnes and pieces of Leather, which were fielded about certaine great Ropes of the thippes : but thele Skinnes being made very hard, I y read in of the Sunne, Rame, and Winde, they hung them by a Cord in the Sea, for the frace of four er fine dayes, to mellife them, and fod them, and ate them. By reason of this Familie, and victorie feeding, tome of their gummes grew to over their teeth, that they died missially for hunger. And by this occasion died nineteene men, and also the Giant, with an 20 Indian of the Land of Brafile, otherwise called Terra de Papagalli, that is, the Land of Popingives. Befile thefe that died, fire and twentie or thirtie were fo fick, that they were not able to doe any fertice with their hands or armes for feebleneile: fo that there was in manner none without lame Diffeafe. In these three meneths and twentie dayes, they sayled foure thousand Leagues in one Gulfe,

Ly the faid Sca called Pacificum, that is peaceable : which may well be to called, for a finuch as in all this time having no light of any Land, they had no misfortune of Winde, or any other Tempell. During this time alto, they discusred encly two little Ilands vnhabited, where Van runne they faw nothing but Birds and Trees, and therefore named them infortunate Hands, being one from the other about two hundred Leagues diffant. The first of these Hands, is from the 30 Equinc Giall toward the Pole Antartike fifteene degrees, and the other five. Their fayling was What they by- in flich fort, that they fayled dayly between fiftie, threefcore, to feuentie Leagues. So that in fine, if God or his mercie had not given them good Weather, it was necessarie, that in this fo great a Sea they frould all have died for hunger. They confidered in this Natigation, that the Pole Antartike hath no notable flarre, after the fire of the Pole Artike. But they law many flarres gathered together, which are like two The flures at Clouds, one fagurate a little from another, and fomewhat darke in the middeft. Betweene bour the Soan there, are two hours, not very big, nor much thining, which move a little: and these two are the Pole Antartike. The Medical The Needle of their Compas varied fomewhat, and turned sucr toward the Pole Artike; 40 the Comp s. neuerthelale, had no fuch force, as when it is in these parts of the Pole Artike: Infomuch, that it was necessarie to helpe the Needle with the Lead-stone, before they could sayle therewith, because it mound not, as it doth when it is in these our parts. When they were in the mi Ceft of the Gulfe, they faw a Croffe of fine cleare starres, directly toward the West, and of equall distance the one from the other. In these dayes they sayled betweene the West and South so farre, that they approached to

The Tanings- the EquinoCtivil Line, and were in longitude from the place from whence they find departed, a honored and twentie degrees. In this courle they fayled by two llands of exceeding height, The Lan's of whareof the one named Cipangha, is twentic degrees from the Pole Antartike; and the other Cipan the and named Sumbdit, fifteens degrees. When they were part the Equinoctial Line, they fayled be- 50 tweene the West and Southwest, at the quarter of the West, toward the Southwest more then a humbred Leagues, changing their fayles to the quarter of the Southwell, vintil they came to the thirteens degrees also as the EquinoCriall, toward the Pole Artike, intending as much as wire profile, to approach to the Cape called or the old Writers Canigara: the which is not found as the All Colmographers have described it, but it is toward the North about twelve degrees, as they afterward violenthood.

When they had thus layled federatie Leagues of this Voyage, in the twelfth degree about the Equia, chall, and a hundred forthe fix degrees of Longitude (as I have faid) the fixt day of March they differend a little Hand toward the Northwest, and two other toward the Southwelt; but the one was higher and bigger then the other. In the biggeft of these, the Generall 60 would have railed himfeire a while, but he could not, by reason the people of these Hands reforced continually to the thips with their Canoas, and Itole now one thing, and now another, in fuch tort, that our men could take no reit; and therefore demanded of the Captaine, that they might firske their fayles, to bring the shippes to Land. But the Generall being promoked to anger, went aland with fortie armed men, and burnt about fiftie of their Houses, with many of their Canoas, and flew also about seuen men, and recoursed a shippe-boat which the Barbarians had folne; and so departed, following his Voyage. Hee named these Ilands, Infale Infale Larra

Latronum, that is, the Hands of Theenes. When our men had so wounded some of them with num. Arrowes, that they were stricken through both sides, they pulled forth the Arrowes, not ceafing to maruell at them, till they fell downe dead : And yet could not the other to depart, but fill followed the shippes with more then two hundred of their Boats, approaching as neere to the shippes as they could, and proffering our men certaine Fishes. As the shippes pasted with full fayle in the middest of their Boats, they faw in some of them certaine Women, lamenting

10 and tearing their hayre, which our men thought they did for the death of their Husbands. As farre as they could perceine, these people line at their owne libertie, without any Ruler or Gouernour. They goe naked, and some of them have blacke Beards, and blacke hayre on their People with heads, which they weare long, downe to their Wastes. They are of the same stature that wee long nayre, are, and well made, of colour like vnto an Oliue. Their Women are well-fauoured, with black and thicke hayre on their heads, reaching to the ground. They weare also, for a courring before their prinities, the inner barke of the Palme-tree; are whiter then the men, and seldome goe out of doores, but at home make Mats and Nets of the Palme-tree, and other House-hold neceffaries. Some of the men weare Bonnets on their heads of Palme-tree. They colour their teeth red and blacke, which they eiteeme a comely thing. Their food, is Coces and Bartaras,

20 Birds, Figges a handfull long, Sugar-Canes, flying Fishes, and other things. They anount their bodies and head with the Oyle of Cocus. Their Boats are some all blacke, some white, and some red, and have Sayles made of the broad Leaues of Date-trees, sowed together. In the flead of a Rudder, they yee a certaine broad Boord, with a staffe in the top, and may when they will, make the Sterne the Fore-Caftle, or the Fore-Caftle the Sterne. They fayle so iwittly, that they feeme a farre off like Dolphins fivimming about the Water. Their Houles are made of Timber, couered with Boords, and Leaues of Figge-tree, 2 yard long : They have a Hall, Windowes, and Chambers. They have Palme-Mats for Bed-furniture, and fleepe on Palme Leaves, which are foft. Their Weapons are Clubs or Poles, with a Horne head.

The tenth day of March, in the yeere 1521. they went aland vpon a little Iland, named The Iland of 30 Zamal, thirtie Leagues distant from the Hand of Theeues. The next day hee went on shore Zamal. on another Hand, not inhabited : they rested here a while, where the Captaine caused a Pauillion to be pitched for the licke and crazed men, and a Hogge to be killed. The Iland was called Humann, and hath two cleare Springs, and Gold and white Corall, and many Fruit-trees. They gaue it the name of Good Signes.

The eighteenth day of March, they faw a Boat with nine men comming toward them, shewing themselves toyfull, and retoycing of their comming. They brought many presents with them, and feemed to be people of much humanitie. They gave the Captaine a great Fish, and a great Veffell of the Wine of those Date-trees, which beare the Fruit Cocus. They made Wine of Datealso fignes, that within the space of foure dayes they would bring Rice, and divers Fowles and wees.

40 Beafts, as they did indeed. This Coess is a Fruit of certaine Date-trees, whereof they make Bread, Wine, Oyle, and The maruelous

Vineger. They make Wine in this manner: They cut a bigge branch of the Tree, and hang Fruit Com. thereat a Rende as bigge as a mans Legge, into the which droppeth a tweet Liquor from the Tree, like vnto white Wine, somewhat tart, and let the Reed continue there from Morning till Euening, and from Euening to Morning. The fruit of this Tree, called Cocus, is as bigge as the head of a man, or more. The first Rynde of this, is greene, and of the thicknesse of two fingers, having in it certaine Threds, whereof they make Cords, with the which they tye their Boats. Vader this Rynde there is a thicke shell, which they burne and make powder thereof, and vie it as a remedie for certaine Difeales. Vinder this shell, is a white substance, like the 50 kernell of a Nut, being a finger in thickneffe, which they eate with Flesh and Fish, as wee doe Bread. It hath the talte of an Almond, and is vied in the stead of Bread, when it is dryed. In the middest of this kernell, is a cleare and sweet Water, being very holesome and cordiall. This Water fometime congealeth, and lyeth within the shell like an Egge. When they intend to make Oyle hereof, they lay it to putrifie in Water, and boyle it vntill it be like Oyle or liquid Butter. When they intend to make Vineger, they fuffer onely the Water to putrifie, and then let it to the Sunne, where it becommeth Vineger, like vnto that which is made of white Wine. And when they mingle the kernell with the Water which is in the middelt of the Fruit, and strayne it through a Cloth, they make a Milke thereof, like vnto Goates Milke. These Date-trees are like vnto them that beare Dates, but are not so full of knots.

60 With the juice of two of these Date-trees, a whole family of tenne persons may be maintayned with Wine, ving one eight dayes, and the other, other eight dayes; for they should elie be dryed and wythered. These Trees continue for the space of an hundred yeeres. This lland, where they found this humane and gentle people, is called Zuluan, and is not The Iland of very bigge.

CHAP.2.

They inuited the Generall to their Boats, in which were their Merchandize, viz. Cloues, Cinnamon, Ginger, Pepper, Nutmegs, Mace, Gold made in divers things, which they carry to and fro with their Barkes. Hee had them also aboord the ship, and caused a peece of Ordenance to be flot off; which terrified them so, that they were ready to leape ouer-boord: but he appealed them, and gaue them gifts. The two and twentieth of March they brought Oranges, and a Cocke, and Cocos, with Palme-Wine, in two Barkes. The men were naked, had two Gold Rings at their eares, and many Iewels fastened with Gold to their armes. With these Cocos they refreshed their sicke men. They told of people in neere llands, with eares downe to their armes. They had Daggers, Kniues, and Lances garnished with Gold.

About this Hand they found many other Hands, and therefore named this Sea Archipelage 10 di San Lazaro, that is, the great Sea of Saint Lazarm, being tenne degrees aboue the Equideparted. The people of this Iland are Gentiles. They goe naked, fauing that they couer their privile parts with a Cloth made of the rynde of a certaine Tree. The chiefest men have about their heads a filken Cloth of Needle-worke. They are groffe and broad fet, and of the colour of an Olive. They annoynt their bodies with the Oyle of Coem, to defend them against the heat of the Sunne, and drynesse of the Winde. The five and twentieth day of March they departed from hence, and directed their course betweene the West and Southwest, and sayled betweene soure Ilands, named Cenalo, Huinanghan, Hibusson, and Aba-name drehipela. noctiall toward our Pole, and a hundred threefcore and one from the place from whence they ge, is given to Seas full of Gentiles.

The Iland of

The eight and twentieth day of March they came to the Iland of Buthuan, where they were honourably entertayned of the King and the Prince his fonne, who gaue them much Gold and Spices. The Captaine gaue the King a Vesture of red Cloth, and another of yellow, made after the Turkish fasnion, and also a red Cap: and gaue likewise to other that came with him, certaine Knyues, Glasses, and Beades of Crystall. After that the Captaine had shewed the King the fecrets of his ship, and such Merchandize as hee had therein, hee caused a piece of Ordenance fuddenly to be fnot off, whereat the King was greatly amazed, vntill the Captaine comforted him. Then the Captaine commanded one of his men to be armed from the head to the foot, and caused three other to strike him with their Swords : whereat the King maruelled greatly, and faid to the Interpretor (who was a flaue borne in Malacca) that one of those 30 armed men was able to encounter with a hundred of his men. But hee maruelled much more, when the Captaine told him by the Interpretor, how he found the Strait by the Compas and Load-stone, and how many dayes they were without fight of any Land. Then asking licence to depart, the Captaine sent two of his men with him, of the which, Antonie Pigafetta was one. When they came on Land, the King lifted his hands to the Skie, and after that, towards the two Christians: these did the like, and all the companie after them. The like ceremonie they vied in drinking one to another. The Kings Pallace was like a Hay-house, concred with Palme and Fig-leaues, built on high Timbers aloft, that they mounted thereunto on Ladders. They fit at meat croffe-legged, like Taylors. They make Light in the Night with a gumme of a Tree, wrapped in leaues of Palme-tree. When the King law Antonie Pigafetta write the 40 names of many things, and afterward rehearled them againe, he maruelled yet more, making fignes, that such men descended from Heauen. The King brought them first to his Pallace,

The Hand of Caleghan. Plentic of

where he entertayned them honorably, and gaue them many gifts, as did also the Prince in his Pallace, being in another Hand named Caleghan. As they fifted a certaine Myne of Earth in the Kings Hand, they found pieces of Gold, some as bigge as Nuts, and other as bigge as Egges. All the Kings Vessels were of Gold, and his House well furnished. In all the whole Nation there was no man of comelyer perfonage then the King : Hee had his hayre long, downe to his shoulders, and very blacke, with a vaile of Silke rouled about his head, and two great Rings of Gold hanging at his eares. He had about his middle a Cloth wrought of Cotton and Silke, impaled with Gold, and reaching downe to his knees. On his one fide, hee had a long Dagger with a Haft of Gold, and the sheathe of a faire kinde of carried Wood. Hee had on every finger three Rings of Gold, and had his body anounted with Oyle of Storax and Beniamin. The naturall colour of his face was like vnto the colour of an Olive; and all his body beside painted with divers colours. The Kings name was Raia Colambu, and the Prince was called Raia Siagu. They eafily understood each other, by meanes of a flaue which they carryed with them, taken before at Sumatra. One man offesed for fix threds of Crystall Beades a Crowne of massie Gold, with a Collar : but the Generall would not permit such bartering, that they should not perceive more account to be made of their Gold by the one, then by the other of the Spanish Wares. The people are nimble, naked, painted. The Women goe clothed from the Waste downewards, with their long blacke hayre 60 hanging to the ground. They weare eare-rings of Gold in divers formes. They alway are chewing Arecca, a certaine Fruit like a Peare, out in quarters, and rolled up in leaves of a Tree called Bettre (or Vetele) like Bay leaves; which having chewed, they ipit forth. It makes the mouth red. They fay they doe it to comfort the heart, nor could line without it,

The Captaine or Generall caufed a Croffe to be brought forth, with Nayles, and a Crowne of Thornes, giving commandement to all his men to give reverence thereinto, and fignifying to the Kings, by the Interpreter, that that Banner was given him by the Emperour, his Lord and Mafter, with commandement to leave the fame in all places where hee came, to the great commoditie and profit of all fuch as would reverendly receive it, as an affored token of friendthip: and that hee would therefore leave at there, as well to accomplish his Lords commandement, as also, that if at any time any ships of Christians should chance to come that way, they might, by feeing that Croile, perceine that our men had beene well entertayned there, and would therefore not onely abitayne from doing them any hurt or displeature, but also helpe to 10 ayde them against their enemies: And that therefore it should be requisite to erect that Crosse vpon the top of the highest Mountaine that might be feene from the Sea on enery file; also to pray vnto it reuerently: and that in fo doing, they should not be hurt with Thunder, Lightning, and Tempelts. When the Kings heard these words, they gave the Captaine great thankes, promiting gladly to observe and fulfill all fuch things as he required. Then the Captaine demanded, whether they were Mores or Gentiles ! They answered, that they had none Mores and other kind of Religion, but that lifting up their hands joyned together, and their faces toward Genules. Heauen, they called upon their God Abba. Which answere liked the Captaine very well, because the Gentiles are sooner perswaded to our Faith then the Mores.

Departing from hence, they came to the Ilands of Zeilon, Zubut, Messana, and Calaghan, Many Ilands 20 by the conduct of certaine Pilots of the faid Kings. Of thefe, Zubut is the best, and hath the Trade of belt Traffique. In the Hand of Medana they found Dogges, Cats, Hogges, Hennes, The Hand of Goates, Ryle, Gynger, Cocia, Myll, Panicke, Barly, Figges, Oranges, Waxe, and Gold, in Messana. great quantitie. This Iland is about the Equinoctiall toward our Pole nine degrees, and two third parts, and a hundred threefcore and two degrees from the place from whence they departed. They remayned in this Hand for the space of eight dayes, and then directed their Voyage toward the Northwelt, and palled betweene their fine Hands, Zeilon, Bohol, Canghu, Barbai, and Catighan. In this Hand of Catighan are certaine great Bats, as bigge as Eagles, of the Bats as biggs which they tooke one: they are good to be eaten, and of taite much like a Henne. There are Eagles. also Stock-doues, Turtle-doues, Popingayes, and certaine Fowles as bigge as Hennes: thele 30 Fowles have little hornes, and lay great egges, which they court a cubit depth in the Sand, by Fowles with the heat whereof, and vertue of the Sunne, they are hatched, and the young Birds creepe out hornes. of the Sand by themselves. From the Hand of Messana to Catighan, are twentie Leagues, say- Egges hatched ling toward the Weit. And because the King of Messana could not follow the ships, they tar- in Sand. ryed for him about the Hands of Polo, Ticobon, and Fozon, where the Captaine tooke him into his ship, with certaine of his principall men, and so followed their Voyage toward the Hand of Zubut, which is about fiftie Leagues diftant from Catighan.

The leaenth day of Aprill, about Noone, they entred into the Port of Zubut: and paffing The Hand of by many Villages and Habitations in Trees, they came to the Citie, where the Captaine gaue Zubut. commandement to the Mariners to strike their tayles, and to fet themselves in order, in 40 manner of Battell-ray, cauting all the Ordenance to be shot off, wherewith all the people were put in great feare. After this, the Captaine fent an Embassadour with the Interpreter to

When they approched neere to the Citie, they found the King with a great companie of men fore aftonyed at the noyfe of the Gannes. But the Interpreter advertised them, that it was the custome of our men, in all such places where they come, to discharge their Ordenance in taken of friendship, and to honour the Lord of the Citie. With which words the King and his companie were well quieted. After this, the Interpreter declared, that his Mafter was the Captaine of the shippes of the greatest Prince in the World, and that they went to discouer the Hands of Molacca: And further, that hearing of his good name and fame, by the report

50 of the King of Meffana, they determined to visite him, and to have Victuals for exchange of their Merchandize. The King antiwered, that he was well content therewith, and that they were heartily welcome: Neuertheleffe, that it was a custome in that place, that all such ships as entred into that Hauen, should pay tribute: And that there were not many dayes past, since a ship laden with Gold and Slaues, did to pay. In token whereof, hee caused to come before Ashipps lader him certaine Merchants of that companie, which yet remayned with him. To this the Inter- with Gold and preter answered, That for as much as his Lord was the Captaine of so mightie a Prince, he no- Slaues. uer payd tribute to any King in the World, and would not now begin: Willing him to take this for a refolute answere, That if hee would accept the Peace that was proffered him, hee should emoy it; and if hee rather defired Warre, hee should have his hands full. When the 60 Interpreter had faid these words, one of the faid Merchants (who was a More) spake to the King in this manner, Catacaia Chita; that is, Take heede Sir: For thele men are they that have conquered Calecut, Malacha, and all the greater India, and are of theh power, that if you Calecut, entreat them otherwise then well, you may too late know what they are able to doe, more then Milache they have done at Calcout and Malacca. When the Interpreter heard their words, her faid,

That the King his Lord was of much greater pursuance, and more Dominions, and Lord of more shippes then was the King of Portugall: declaring further, that hee was King of Spaine, and Emperour of all Christendome. Adding hereunto, that if hee would not be his friend, hee would hereafter fend thither fuch a power of armed men as should destroy his Countrey. The More conferred all these words with the King, who said, That hee would further deliberate with his Councell, and give them a full answere the day following. In the meane time he sent them certaine Victuals and Wine.

When all thefe things were declared to the King of Messana, who was the chiefest thereabout next vnto him, and Lord of many Ilands, hee went a Land, and repayred to the King of Zubut, and declared vnto him the great humanitie and courtefie of the generall Captaine. 10 Shortly after, the Captaine fent certaine of his men with the Interpreter, to the King of Zubut, to know his pleafure, and what answere hee would make them. As they went toward the Court, they met the King comming in the street, accompanyed with many of his chiefe men. Hee caused our men to sit downe by him, and demanded of them, if there were any more then one Captaine in their companie; and whether it were their request, that hee should pay tribute to the Emperour. They answered, that they defired none other thing, but that they might exercise Merchandize with them, and to barter Ware for Ware. The King made anfwere, that he was well content therewith: willing the Captaine, in token of friendship, to blood is a to- fend him a little bloud of his right arme; affirming, that he would doe the like.

After this, the King of Messana, with the King of Zubut his Nephew (who was the Prince) 20 and certaine other of his Gentlemen, came to the ships, and brought the Captaine many goodly presents. They entred into great amitie, and had large communication of many things. The Captaine perswaded them to the Christian Faith: which they gladly embraced, and tooke fuch pleasure in hearing the Articles of our Beleefe, that the teares fell from their eyes for ioy. They were baptized: and shortly after, all the people of the Iland. They esteeme nothing more precious, then drinking Glasses of Venice worke.

The King of tised.

parrell.

When they came to the Citie, they found the King in his Pallace, fitting upon a Floore or Storie made of the Leaues of Date trees, wrought after a curious Deuice, like a certaine kinde of Mats. Hee had vpon his body none other Apparrell, but onely a Cloth of Bombafine Cotton, hanging before his prinie parts. On his head hee had a Veyle of Needle-worke, and a- 30 bout his necke a Chayne of great price. At his eares hung two Rings of Gold, wherein were inclosed many precious Stones. Hee was but of small stature, but somewhat grosse, and had the refidue of his body painted with divers colours, whereof fome were like vnto flaming fire. Before him, hee had two Veffels made of the fine Earth called Porcellana, with fodden Egges. Also foure Vessels of Porcellana, full of Wine made of Date trees, and couered with many odo-Well fanoured riferous Herbes. The Prince brought them to his House, where hee had foure Daughters, very well fauoured and white, like ours. Hee caused them to dance all naked, and therewith to sing, and play on certaine Tymbrels made of Metall. At this time it so chanced, that one of the Spaniards died in one of the shippes: and when certaine of their companie defired the King to give them leave to burie him on the Land; hee answered, That for as much as hee and all 40 his were at the commandement of their King and Master, how much more ought the ground fo to bee ? They greatly manuelled at the Ceremonies pertayning to the manner of our Funerals, and honoured the Croffes which were fet at both the ends of the Graue. They live with Inflice, and vie Weights and Measures. Their Houses are made of Timber and sawne Boords, and are io builded aboue the ground vpon Props and Pyles, that they afcend to the same by certaine stayres. Vnder their Houses, they keepe their Hogges, and Goats, and Hennes. They told of certaine goodly Water-Fowle as bigge as Crowes, called Laghan, which the Whales of those parts sometimes swallow downe, but so are themselves deuoured, the Fowle gnawing the heart of the Whale, and killing him; by the people found in the dead body, floting to Land, still living in the same. The flesh of this Fowle is delicate, but the skin 50 is blacke. When they came to hartering, they gaue Gold, Ryce, Hogges, Hennes, and divers other things, for some of our trifles of small value. They gave tenne Pefor of Gold for foureteene their Idols, and erece the Pefus whatitis, pounds weight of Iron. One Pefus is in value a Duckat and a halfe. The Sunday following, the King was baptized with great folemnitie: at which time, the Captaine admonished him before, not to be afraid at the shooting off of the Ordenance, because it was their custome so to doe at such solemne Featls. After this, the Captaine caused them to breake all their Idols, and to fet up the Croffe in diners places, praying to the same both Morning and Euening, kneeling on their knees, and holding vp their hands iowned together. The King in his Baptisme was named Charles, after the Emperours name, and the 60 Prince Ferdinando, after the name of his Maiesties Brother. The King of Messana was named men baptized. Masse was finished, the Captaine muted the King to dyne with him in his shippe, and at his Iohn, and the More Christopher. To all other they gaue such names as are commonly vsed in Fine hundred Christendome. And thus before Masse was begun, were fine hundred men baptized. When comming, caused the Ordenance to be discharged. The Queene was also baptized, with sortie of her Gentlewomen, and her Daughter the Princes Wife. The Queene was very young and The Queene faire, having her body couered with a white Cloth. Her Lippes were red, and flee had on her of Zubat. head a Hat, on the top whereof was a triple Crowne, much like the Popes: this Crowne and the Hat were made of the Leaues of Date trees.

Within the space of eight dayes, the Inhabitants of the Iland were baptized, except one Village of Idolaters, who would not herein obey the Kings commandement. Whereupon the Captaine fent certaine of his men thither, who burnt the Towne, and erected a Croile in that place, because the people of the Village were Gentiles (that is) Idolaters. But if they had been 10 Mores (that is, Machumetists) they would have erected a Pillar of Stone, because the Mores are more flubborne and harder to be converted then are the Gentiles.

CHAP.2.

When the Queene came to the place where shee should heare Masse, shee came forth with The Queenes great pompe and folemnitie, having going before her three young Damofels, and three men Appartell. with their Cappes in their hands, whom shee followed apparrelled in white and blacke, with a great Veyle of Silke vpon her head, fringed about with Gold, which couered her Hat, and hung downe to her shoulders: shee had also a great trayne of Women following her, being all barefooted and naked, except that vpon their heads and prinie parts, they wore certaine Veyles of Silke, and had their havre spred. Before the King of Zubut was baptized, hee was named Raia Humabuon. When the Cap-

20 taine demanded of him, Why all the Idols in the Hand were not burnt, according to his promife : hee answered, That they effected them no more as Gods, but onely made facrifice to them for the Princes Brother, who was very ficke, and as noble and wittie a man as was in the Iland. The Captaine answered, That if hee would burne all his Idols, and beleeue faithfully in Christ, and be baptized, hee should be immediately restored to health, and that he would else giue them leaue to strike off his head. By these words and perswations of the Captaine, he conceived fuch hope of health, that after he was baptized, he felt no more griefe of his dileale. And this was a manifelt Miracle wrought in our time, whereby divers Infidels were converted to our Faith, and their Idols defiroyed, and also their Altars overthrowne, on the which they were accustomed to eate the sacrificed slesh. The people of the Hand pay the King a portion of Vic-

30 tuals for their tribute, by all their Cities and Villages.

Not farre from this Hand of Zubut, is the Hand of Mathan, whose Inhabitants vie marue- The Hand of lous Ceremonies in their facrifices to the Sunne, and in burying the dead. Before their Swine- Mathan. facrifice, they ring certaine Bells: then bring three Platters; in two of which, are Vyands of Rice and Honey boyled, rouled up in Leaues, and rosted Fishes; in the other, is a Linnen Cloth, with two Fillets or ftrings, which is fpred on the Earth. Then come two old Women, each with a Reed-Trumpet in hand. These mount vpon the Cloth, and having worshipped the Sunne, couer themselves with the Cloth. One of them applyes one of the strings or Fillets with two hornes, to her for-head, holding the other in her hand, and thus founding and dancing, calleth on the Sunne. The other followeth: both praying, founding, and dancing round

40 about the Hogge, tyed in the midit. The horned Beldame inumbleth to the Sunne, the other answering: Then a Cup of Wine is brought, and making semblance to drinke, after divers mutuall mumblings, flice powreth it on the Hogge. After which, this horned Mother hath a Lance brought her: with which, after a deale of masking and mumming Ceremonie, shee kills him. All this while a Light is burning, and now is put into the mouth of the Swine. The other Beldam washeth the Head of the Trumpe in the bloud, and with her finger imbrued with bloud, first figneth her Husbands for-head, and after, other mens. Which done, they both difrobe themselves, and cate the Vyands in the other Dishes, onely Women communicating with them. They findge the Hogge: the flesh they may not eate, till it be thus confecrated by those Witches. They goe naked, except a little Cloth before their prinities. The Males, great and 50 small, make a hole thorow the skin, neere the head of the Yard, and therein a Gold Ring is put,

as bigge as a Goole-quill. They take as many Wines as they will, but one is principall. When a man of firt dyes, the principall Women goe to his House, and set Bouglies in Cords, fathred about the Corps, in every Bough a piece of Cotton, fo that the place is like a Tent. Herein they fit, arrayed in white Cotton, each having a Girdle, with a Fanne of Palme tree, to cause winde. One comes after with a Knife, which cuts off by little and little the hayre of the deceated. After which, his principall Wife lyeth vpon him, applying her Lippes to his, her Hands to his Hands, and her Feet to his. When the one cutteth, this other laments; when shee ceaseth to cut, this fings. About the Chamber, are Porcellane Dishes with fire, on which they burne Myrrhe, Storax, and other Sweets. This Ceremonie lasts fine dayes. All which time, at Mid-60 night (they fay) there comes as it were a Rauen, which lights on the House, and cryes; the Dogs with howling, holding with the Ranens crying, all lacke Sanitus for his houres each Night. After all this, they enclose the Corps in a House closed round with Wood. The Iland is governed by two Princes, whereof the one is named Zula, and the other Cilipulapu. And whereas this Cilapulapu refuled to pay tribute to the King of Spaine, the Magellanus is

Bohol

They burne

one of their

Black men.

of Mayle and Helmets. Cilapulapu duided his Army into three Battels, having in every Battell two thousand and fiftie men, with armed Bowes, Arrowes, Darts, and Iauelins, hardened at the points with fire. This continued long, and tharpe. But the Captaine being avaliant man, and preasing himselse in the brunt of the Battell, was fore wounded with a venomed Arrow, and after, with a Lance of Cane thrust in his face, slaine, for as much as the most of the The Captaine Barbarians directed all their force against him. Beside the Captaine, were slaine of our men about eight or nine : Of the Barbarians, were fifteene flaine, and many fore wounded. After the death of the Captaine, they chose two other in his place; of the which, one was Odoardo Barbofa, a Portugall, and the other, John Serrano, who was shortly after betrayed by the In- Io terpreter, and taken prisoner with divers other. The Enemies would not permit Magalianes

> Certaine dayes before the Captaines death, they had knowledge of the Hands of Molucca, which they chiefely fought. Departing therefore from the Hand of Mathan, they fayled farre, and came to the Cape of another Iland, named Bohol. In the midft of this maine Sea (which they named Archipelagus) they consulted to burne the ship named Conception, because they were now few in number, and to furnish the other two ships with the Artillerie thereof. Thus directing their course toward Southwest, they came to another Iland named Paulloghon, where they found blacke men.

Shorely after, they arrived at another great Hand, whose King, named Rain Calauar, en- 20 treated them very friendly in all things, as did the King of Mellana. This Iland is rich in Gold, and hath plentie of Rice, Ginger, Hogges, Goats, Hennes, and divers other things. It is named Chippit, and is eight degrees about the Equinoctiall Line toward our Pole, and in Iongitude from the place from whence they first departed, an hundred and seventie degrees, and Chippit. about fiftie Leagues from Zubut.

Body to be rantomed at any price.

The King, in token of peace, drew bloud of his left hand, and therewith anounted his body, face, and the top of his tongue. The like was done by the Spaniards. Proafetta was entertayned by the King and his two Wives with deepe Carowies; which hee refused to pledge, excusing, that hee had supped. Here hee saw much Gold, but small prouision of Victimil.

The Iland of Caghaian.

Departing from hence, they came to another Iland, named Caghaian, being fortie Leagues from Chippit, as they fayled betweene the West and Southwest. This Iland is very great, and in manner vnhabited. The people are Mores, and were banished out of the Iland of Burnei, which fome call Porne. They vie poyloned Arrowes, and haue flore of Gold.

The Iland of

From this Hand, about five and twentie Leagues betweene the Weil and Northwest, they found a maruellous fruitfull Iland, named Pulacan, being toward our Pole aboue the Equinoctiall nine degrees, and a third part, and an hundred feuentic and nine degrees, and a third part, in longitude from the place of their departing. In it is store of Rice, Ginger, Hogges and Goats, Hennes, Figges halfe a yard long, as bigge as a mans arme, very good, and others of leffer kindes; Cocos, Battatos, Sugar Canes, and a kind of pleafant Rootes. The King in token 40 of friendship wounded his Brest with a Knife, touching with the bloud his Tongue and Forhead; and the Spaniards did likewife. The people goe naked, vfe poyloned Arrowes, hane great Cocks, which they vie in Cock-fightings, but not for food, by reason of a reasonlesse superfittion. They have Wine of Rice, better then that of the Palme-tree, eafily causing Drunkennesse.

From this Iland, ten Leagues toward the Southwest, they saw another Iland, which seemed to them cometimes to mount, as they fayled by the Coalts thereof. As they were entring

The Hand of Burnei, or Perne.

Elephants.

into the Port, there arofe a boyftrous and darke Tempest, which ceased as soone as the Fires of the three Saints (whereof we have spoken before) appeared upon the Cables. From the beginning of this Hand to the Port, are fine Leagues. This Hand is great and rich, and the chiefe 50 A great Citie. Citie thereof contayneth fine and twentie thousand Houses. The King entertayned our men very friendly, and fent them, belide many other prefents, two Elephants, trapped with Silke, to bring them to his Pallace, that brought the prefents which the Captaines fent him. Hee hath a magnificent Court, and a great Guard, allo, a multitude of Concubines. Hee is a More, and is named Raia Siripada. Her is a King of great power, and hath voller him many other Kings, Hands, and Cities. This Hand of Burner is about the Equincoliall, toward our Pole, fine degrees and a quarter, and in longitude from the place of their departing, an hundred feuentie fix degrees, and two third parts. They vie here Betele and Arecoa, and Rice-Wine, called Arach. Their reuerence to the King, is three times to held the bands closed over the head, then to lift up the feet one after the other, and laftly, to kills their hands. The King hath ten 60 Scribes, or Secretaries, which write his affaires in Barkes of Trees. His household was all erdered by Women, and the chiefe mens Daughters.

On the nine and twentieth of July they were affaulted by an hundred Prawes and Junkes, of which, they tooke foure; in one of which, was the fonne of the King of Lozon, Captains generall to the King of Borneo, who now was returned from the facke of Lao, a great Citie in the Hand towards Iava : For the Ethnikes, or Natiues, and the Mores of this Hand are in fierce Warres against each other. And had not the Pilot for a bribe let this man escape closely, hee had beene worth much to them in ranfome. This King of Borneo had two Pearles, as it were Henne Egges, and fo round, that on a plaine Table they would not stand firmely. In this Iland growes Camphir, which is the gumme of the Tree Capar, and Cinnamon, Ginger, Mirabolans, Oranges, Limons, Sugar, Cucumers, Mclons, Swine, Goates, Hennes, Deere, Elephants,

Departing from Burnel, they came to an Iland called Cimbubon, being eight degrees feuen. The Iland of 10 minutes about the Equinoctial Line. Here they remayned fortie dayes, to calke their shippes, Cimbubon. and furnish them with fresh Water and Fuell, which was to them great paine and traueil, because they were in manner all bare-footed, their shooes (and in manner their other Apparrell) being worne, by reason of the long Voyage. In the Woods of this lland they found a Tree, whose Leaues as foone as they fall on the ground, doe stirre and remoue from place to place, as Leaues of trees though they were aliue: they are much like the Leaues of a Mulberry Tree, and have on every which feeme to fide as it were two fhort and blunt feet. When they are cut or broken, there is no bloud feene liut. come forth of them : Yet when any of them are touched, they fuddenly moue, and start away, Antone Pigafetta kept one of them in a Platter for the space of eight dayes, and euer when he touched it, it ranne round about the Platter. Hee supposeth, that they live onely by 20 ayre. Here were Crocodiles, and wild Hogges, and Offriches. They tooke also a Fish, headed like a Swine, with two hornes, the reft of the body all of one bone, and as it were a faddle on Departing from hence, they directed their course by the West quarter toward the Southeast, to find the Hands of Molucca, and sayled not farre from certaine Mountaines, where they found the Sea full of great Weedes and Herbes. From hence, they came to the Hands of Zolo and Taghima, in the which are found Pearles Pearles.

of exceeding bigneffe. The King of Borneo had his two Pearles from hence, captining the King his father in Law, and making him pay them for ransome.

Following their course toward the North-east, they came to a great Citie named Mangdan-30 do, lying about the Ilands of Buthuan and Calaghan, where they tooke a Canoa of certaine of the Inhabitants: by whom being informed of the Ilands of Molucca, they left their course coward the North-east, and followed the South-east, neere vnto a Cape of the Iland of Buthuan. They were aduertifed for certaintie, that on the bankes of a certaine River, there dwelt men, called Benaian, ouer-growne with hayre, which killed men, and did eat their hearts. Men onerraw, with the juice of Oranges and Limons. They are tall and firong, vie Bowes and Swords growne with of Wood. In these Ilands growes the best Cinnamon, whereof they had seven and twentie hayre, pound in exchange for two Kniues. Here is the great Citie Mangdando. Being in fix degrees, fenen minutes, they made their way South-east, and encountred foure Hands, Ciboco, Biramboia, Sarangani, Candingar

C H A P.2.

A great Tempest here assayled them the foure and twentieth of October: but after their prayers, the three Lights appeared on their shrowds, whereupon the darknesse ceased, if a worse did not remayne. For they hereupon vowed to fet free a flaue in honour of the three Saints, S. Helena, S. Nicholas, and S. Clare. How much more tolerable is that Ethnike adoration of the Sume and Starres, then this of inferior Meteors, if it may any way be tolerable to give the glory of God to a Creature ? After the Tempeth, they came to harbour in the Ile Sarangani, where they heard was Gold and Pearles. Here they tooke by force two Pilots for the Molucca's. They paffed eight Hands, fome inhabited, fome not; their names were Ceana, Canida, Cabiaio, Camuca, Cabalu, Chiai, Lipan, Nuzza; and then came to a faire Iland, called Sanghir, in three degrees and a halfe, 50 where were foure Gentile Kings. They passed fine other Ilands, and then elpyed foure others, which their Pilot faid were the Molucca's. This was the fixt day of November, and the feuen and twentieth moneth after their departure out of Spaine. Being therefore joyfull, and giving thankes vinto God, they discharged all their Ordenance. In the Coast of all these llands, eucn vnto the llands of Mclacca, founding with their Plummet, they found the depth of the Sea to The Ilands of be no leffe then a hundred and two wards, which is centrary to the faying of the Portugals; Molucca. who affirme, That no thip can patte that way without great danger, by reason of the shallow- The Portuga's neile, and Rockes or Shelues, and for the darkeneffe which the Clouds caule in the Heauen. are reproued, All which things they favned, to the intent that none other should have knowledge of their

The eight day of Neuember, in the yeere 1521, before the rifing of the Sunne, they entred into the Port of the Hand of Tidore, being one of the chiefe Hands of Molucca, where they the Hands of were honourably entertayned of the King : who declared, that hee had long before dreamed, Molucca, that certaine thips thould come from a faire Countrey, to the Ilands of Molucca: And that whereas, for the cetter certificate thereof, hee confidered the flations of the Moone, hee faw History therein the comming of our fhips, and that wee were the men whom hee feemed to fee in the fame. Whereupon hee proffered himfelfe to enter into league of friendship with the King of Spaine, and to accept our men as his Brethren and Children, willing them to come aland, as into their owne Houles. Allo, that for their comming, that Iland should no more be called Tidore, but Castile, for the great love which he bore to their King, whom he reputed as his Lord and Matter. This King is a More, and is named Raia Sultan Mauzor. He Iware upon the Alcoran (laying it three or foure times on his head, and faying certaine words) to be friend to the The llands of Molucca are fine in number, and are thus named: Tarenate, Tidore, Mutir, King of Spaine.

A Vision in the

Macchian, and Bacchian. Of these, Tarenate is the chiefest; and the King thereof, was some- 16 time Lord of them all. Mutir and Macchian were now governed of the people. Bacchian had a King. The Cloue-trees are as bigge as a man about, tall; the Boughes large in the midit, and pointed at the top; the Leaues, as of Bay-trees; the Barke, of Oliue colour. The Cloues grow ten and twentie together, in the tops of the Boughes; first white, red at ripenesse, black by the drying. They gather them twice a yeere, in Iune and December. The Leate, Barke, and Wood being greene, is as firing as the Cloue. If they take them not in their time, they grow great and hard. Euery man hath his owne Trees, and bestowes little Husbandry on them. The Women are brutish, and goe naked, faue that before their primities they have a covering made of a Tree, which being steeped in water, is beaten into as large a forme as they will, even to the thinnesse

The Iland of Gilelo. Mores and Genules.

Directly against the Hand of Tidore, there is another great Hand, named Gilolo, inhabited of Mores and Gentiles. The Mores have two Kings; of the which, one hath fix hundred children, and the other fix hundred and fiftie. The Gentiles keepe not so many Women as doe the Mores, nor yet liue in fuch superstitions. They pray to the first thing that they meete in the Morning, when they goe forth of their Houses, and honour that as their God for that day. The King of the Gentiles is very rich in Gold. In the faid Hand of Gilcle are Reedes as bigge as a mans legge, and full of cleare water, holelome to be drunke. The twelfth day of November, the King of Tidore appointed our men a Ware-house in the Gold. Water in Reedes. Their manner

Citie, where they might fell their Marchandise. Their manner of exchange was in this fort: For ten yards of good red Cloth, they had one Babar of Cloues, which amounteth to foure 30 Cantari, and fix pound weight; and one Cantar is a hundred pound weight. For fireeene yards of Cloth, somewhat worse then the other, they received in Cambie, one Babar. For five and thirtie drinking Cuppes of Glasse, they had one Bahar. For seventeene Cathyls of Quick-filluer, one Bahar. They came dayly to the shippes, with many of their Barkes full of Goats, Hennes, Figges of a span long, also the Fruit called Cocus, with divers other kindes of Victuals, in such quantitie, that it was a maruellous thing to behold. They furnished also their ships with fresh Water, which is not as it iffueth out of the Spring, but is very cold when it hath flood a while in another place. It ipringeth from the Mountaines, on the which the Cloue-trees grow. They faw a Cloud rife in manner daily, which compaffeth about the faid Mountaines of Clouetrees. There were fome Nutmeg-trees also.

Water of a ftrange quahuc. Birds of a

The King of the Iland of Bacchian fent the King of Spaine two dead Birds, of strange forme: They were of the bigneffe of Turtle-Doues, with little heads and long bylls; alio long and imall legges, and no wings, but in the flead thereof, certaine long feathers of divers colours, and tayles like Turtle-Doues; all the other feathers are of one colour, much like vnto Tawny, except those of the wings: they slye not, but when the winde bloweth. These Mores are of opinion, that these Birds come from the heavenly Paradite, and therefore call them Manuccodiata, that is, the Birds of God.

When they were determined to depart from the Ilands of Molucca, certaine Kings of the Hands accompanied them with their Canoas, and conducted them to an Iland called Mare, where they refreshed their shippes with fresh Water and Fuell. The Kings sent the Emperors 50 Maiestie many presents; and embracing our men, departed with the teares in their eyes: and our men, for their last farewell, shot off all their Ordenance.

They leave shippes behind

In the Hand of Mare they perceived, that one of their shippes leaked and tooke water very fore, whereby they were enforced to tarry there three dayes: but feeing that they could finde no remedie for the fame, but in long time, they determined to leaue it; giving order, that if afterward it could bee repayred, they should returne into Spaine as well as they

The Ilands of Popingayes.

In all the Hands of Molucca, is found Cloues, Ginger, Bread of the branches or inner parts of Sagu, Rice, Guats, Sheepe, Hennes, Figges, Almonds, tweet Pomegranars and fowre, Oranges, Hony of Flyes Limons, and Honey, which is made of certaine Flyes leffe then Ants: Alto Canes of Sugar, 60 Oyle of Coem, Melons, Gourds, and a maruellous cold Fruit, which they name Camulicai, and divers other Fruits. Furthermore, white and red Popingayes, and other of variable colours. It is not pail fiftie yeeres fince the Mores first inhabited any of these llands, which were before inhabited onely with Gentiles.

The Hand of Tidore is about the Equinoctiall Line toward our Pole, about feuen and twen- The Hand of tie minutes, and in longitude from the place from whence they departed, a hundred feuentie Tidore. one degrees, and from the Archipelagus, in the which is the Hand of Zamal, which our men named the lland of Theeues, nine degrees and a halfe, and runneth to the quarter of South South-west, and North North-east. Terenate is under the Equinoctiall Line foure minutes, Terenate: vnder the Pole Antartike. Mutir is directly under the Equinoctiall Line. Macchian is fifteene Motor.

minutes toward the Pole Antartike: and Bacchian, one degree. These Ilands are like foure Macchian. sharpe Mountaines, except Macchian, which is not sharpe. The biggest of all these, is Bac-

C H A P.2.

Departing from the Hand of Mare, and directing their course toward the South-west, with onely fix and fortie men in their ship, and thirteene Indians, they passed by the Hands of Cha- Many Hands. couan, Lagoma, Sico, Gioghi, Caphi, Sulacho, Lumatola, Tenetum, Buru, Ambon, Budia, Celaruri, Benaia, Ambalao, Bandon, Zorobua, Zolot, Noceuamor, Galian, and Mallua, with di- The lland of uers other Hands both great and small, of Mores, Gentiles, and Canibals. Our men remayned Mallua. fifteene dayes in the Iland of Mallua, to repayre their shippe in certaine places where it tooke water. All the fields of this Iland are full of long and round Pepper, and is fituate toward the Pepper. Pole Antartike, under the Equino Ciall Line, eight degrees and a halfe, and is in the longitude of a hundred fixtienine degrees, and fortie minutes. The people are Men-eaters. The Women vie Bowes and Arrowes. The Men weare their Havre and Beards in Canes. There 20 growes much Pepper, both long and round, with Leaues like Mulberry, and climbing, like

The Pilot which our men brought out of the Ilands of Molucca, told them, That not farre Little men from thence was an Iland named Arucetto, in the which are Men and Women not pair a with long Cubit in height, having eares of fuch bigneffe, that they lye vpon one, and couer them with eares; a tathe other. But our men would not fayle thither, both because the Winde and course of the Sea Such hath bin was against them, and also for that they gave no credit to his report. The five and twentieth day of Ianuary, in the yeere 1522, they departed from Mallua, and fabulous Monthe day following arrived at a great Iland named Timor, being five Leagues distant from Mal- fiers in Piry, lua, betweene the South and South-west. In this Iland is found the Wood of white Saun- The Iland of 30 ders, and Ginger, and divers kindes of Fruits. Also fundry kindes of Beafts, and plentie of Timor. Victuall and Gold. They of the Ilands of Giana, Molucca, and Lozon, refort to this Iland for White Saun-Saunders. The Inhabitants are Gentiles. They tay, that when they goe to cut the Wood of ders and Gin-Saunders, the Deuill appeareth to them in divers formes, and asketh them what they have ger. neede of : And that after this Vision, many of them are long sicke. In all the Ilands of this pearch. Archipelagus, reigneth the Difeafe of Saint lob (which we call the French Poxe) more then Saint lob his in any other place in the World. This Hand stands in ten degrees Antartike, and a hundred discase. feuentie foure in longitude.

Farre from this Iland, betweene the West and North-west, they came to an Iland named Eude, in the which growth great plentie of Cinnamome. In this Tract are found many Cinnamome. 40 Hands, lying in order (as it were) one directly behinde another, even vinto the Hand of the The Hands of greater Giaua, named Giana maior, and vinto the Cape of Malacha, being in East India. Giaua. Giava the leffe is as bigge as the Iland of Madera, and is but halfe a League diffant from Malacha.

The eleventh day of February, in the yeere 1522, they departed from the Iland of Timor, The Sea of and were ingulfed by chance in the great Sea called Lantehidol, and tooke their course betweene Lantehidol.

the West and South-west, leaving the North Coasts on their right hand, fearing lest if they should fayle toward the firme Land, they might be seene of the Portugals, who are of great power in Malacha : and therefore directed their course without the Iland of Sumatra, called Malacha in old time Taprobana. And more fafely to passe the Cape of Buona Speranza, being about A. The Iland of 50 frike, they fayled about two and fortie degrees toward the Pole Antartike, and remayned feuen Sumarra. weekes about that Cape, with many fetches compating the Winde, with their fayles continually aloft, because they had a West and North-west Winde in the prow of their shippe, which would not suffer them to passe. The Cape of Buona Speranza is toward the Pole Antartike, beneath the Equinoctiall Line, foure and thirtie degrees and a halfe, and a thouland fix hundred Leagues from the Cape of Malacha, and is the greatest and most dangerous Cape that is found at this day in all the World.

When they had by these perils ouer-passed this Cape, certaine of them, as well for lacke of Victuals, as also by reason of Sicknesse, were minded to sayle to a Hauen of the Portugals, named Mczambique, aboue Afrike : But the other answered, That they would rather die, then The Port of 60 goe to any other place then directly to Spaine. They followed their course therefore, fayling Mozambique, toward the South-west two moneths continually, without touching at any Port, in which time there died about one and twentie of their companie, whom they cast into the Sea. And furely, if God of his infinite mercie had not preferred the refidue in time, they had all

CHAP.3.

The Port of S. Lucar, necre

What became of the other fhippe.

Dariena.

In fine, being enforced of necessitie, and halfe of their companie dead, they fayled to one of the Hands of Capo Verde, called Infula Sancti Iacobi, that is, Saint Iames Hand, pertayning to the King of Portugall. Where, as foone as they arrived, they fent certaine a-land in the thip-boat for Victuals, declaring to the Portugals with all love and favour, what necessitie they were driven to, and what miteries and travalles they had fuftayned : informing them furthermore of their maruellous Voyage, and such things as they had seene in both the East and West India, with such other gentle words, whereby they obtayined certaine Measures of Rice. But when afterward thirteene of them returned for more Rice, they were detayned. Whereupon the rest which remayned in the shippe, searing the like chance, departed with full sayles, and the fewenth day of September, with the helpe of God, entred into the Hauen of San Lucar, 10 neere vnto Siuile: where discharging all their Ordenance for icy, they went immediately to the great Church, in their fhirts, and bare-footed, with a Torch before them, to give thankes to Almightie God, who had brought them fafe to their owne Countrey, and restored them to their Wines and Children.

Of this shippe San Victoria, which returned, and had first discouered the Straits, they were called the Straits of Victoria, which name passed after to Magalianes himselfe.

The other shippe, which they left behind them to be repayred, returned afterward by the Archipelagus aforesaid, and by the great Sea, to the Coasts of the firme of the West India, and arrived at a Region of the same, being against Dariena, where the South Sea of Sur is separate but by a little space of Land from the West Ocean, in the which are the llands of Hispaniola 20 and Cuba, and other Hands of the Spaniards.

The Pertugals tooke the Trimite, and the Castilians in Tidore, and overthrew their Factorie. They built also, by leane, a Fort in Ternate, and established a Factorie for themselves, indenting, that they alone should have the Cloues sold to them. Ichn Schaitian Cano, which brought home the shippe Victoria into Spaine, was well rewarded by the Emperor. But much ftrite hereby grew betwirt Spaine and Pertugall, each challenging the Molucca's to his owne dimfion. Colmographers were in fine appointed to define the Controversie, with Pilots and Judges on both fides deputed: and after much menaces, and Frabbles, and delayes, the Portugals Trade being great, and loth to lote such a merfell, tooke the aduantage of the Emperours marriage to the Lady Isabel, filter to King lohn of Portugall; which having vie of money, 30 empawned the Hands and Trade of Spicerie (going then into Italy to be crowned, Anno 1529.) to the faid King for three hundred and fiftie thousand Duckats, without terme limitted. In the yeere 1548. Cortes offered to repay that money for fix yeeres profits of that Trade, and to leave the same after that to the Crowne: But, the Experour would, not admit it. And so it continued, till the Crowne of Porcugall it felie was annexed to the Cashlian.

Before allo, some had attempted this discoverie cut of New Spaine by the South Sea: but * This Voyage voluckily, as by the relation of Ivan Gaetan, a Cafulian Pilot, * appeareth: Who fet fayle is in Romaio from the Port of Natiuitie, in twentie degrees, 1542. and came to the Molucca's, where she King of Tidore gaue them kinde entertainment, but their weake shippe forced them to agree with the Spaniards. This Sca is yearely naugated by the Spaniards to the Philippina's, which 49 now also concurre with the Mclacca's.

CHAP. III.

The second Circum-Nauization of the Earth: Or the renowmed Voyage of Sir FRANCIS DRAKE, the first Generall which ever fayled about the whole Globe, begun in the yeere of our Lord, 1577. beretofore published by M. R. HACKLVYT, and now reviewed and corrected.

Drake with a Fleet of fine Ships and Barkes, and to the number of a lumified fixtie four men, Gentlemen and Saylers, departed from Plinmouth, guing out his pretended Voyage fix Alexandria: but the Wind falling contrary, hee was forced the next morning to put into Falmouth Hauen in Cornewall, where further the state of the first pretended to the state of the first pretended to the state of the first pretended to the first pretended t and so terrible a Tempest tooke vs, as few men have seene the like, and was indeed so vehement, that all our ships were like to have gone to wracke : but it pleased God to preserve vs from that extremitie, and to athlet vs onely for that present with these two particulars; The Mast of our Admirall, which was the Pellican, was cut ouer-boord, for the safegard of the ship, 60 and the Marigold was driven ashore, and somewhat brussed. For the repayring of which dammages, wee returned agains to Plimmouth: and having recovered these harmes, and brought the thips againe to good state, wee set forth the second time from Plimmonth , and set sayle the thirteenth day of December following.

The fine and twentieth day of the same moneth, wee fell with the Cape Cantin, upon the Coast of Barbarie: and coasting along, the feuen and twentieth day wee found an Iland called Mogador, lying one mile diftant from the maine; betweene which Iland and the maine, wee The Isle of found a very good and fafe harbour for our shippes to ride in, as also very good entrance, and void the Coast of the Coast of of any danger. On this fland our Generall erected a Pinnace, whereof he brought out of Ergland with him foure ready framed.

While these things were in doing, there came to the Waters side some of the inhabitants of the Countrey, shewing forth their Flags of Truce: which being seene of our Generall, hee sent his shippe-boat to the shore, to know what they would. They being willing to come aboord, 10 our men left there one man of our companie for a pledge, and brought two of theirs aboord our shippe, which by fignes shewed our Generall, that the next day they would bring some prouision, as Sheepe, Capons, and Hennes, and fuch like: whereupon our Generall bettowed amongst them fome Linnen Cloth, and Shooes, and a Jauelin, which they very joyfully received, and departed for that time. The next morning they fayled not to come againe to the Waters fide, and our Generall againe fetting out our Boat, one of our men leaping ouer-rashly ashore, and offering friendly to embrace them, they layd violent hands on him, offering a Dagger to his Throat, if he had made any resistance, and so laying him on a Horse, carryed him away : So that a man cannot be too circumspect and warie of himselfe, amongst such Miscreants.

Our Pinnace being finished, wee departed from this place the thirtieth and last day of De- Ianuarie. 20 cember : and coasting along the shore, wee did descrie, not contrary to our expectation, certaine

Canters, which were Spanish Fisher-men; to whom wee gaue chase, and tooke three of them: and proceeding further, we met with three Caranels, and tooke them also.

The feuenteenth day of Ianuary we arrived at Cape Blanco, where we found a shippe riding at anchor, within the Cape, and but two timple Mariners in her: which thippe we tooke, and carryed her further into the Harbour, where we remay ned fouredayes; and in that space our Generall mustered, and trayned his men on Land, in warlike manner, to make them fit for all occasions. In this place we tooke of the Fisher-men such necessaries as we wanted, and they could yeeld vs; and leaving here one of our little Barkes, called the Benedict, wee tooke with vs one of theirs, which they called Canters, being of the Burthen of fortie Tunnes, or there-

All these things being finished, wee departed this Harbour the two and twentieth of Ianuary, carrying along with vs one of the Portugall Carauels, which was bound to the llands of Cape Verde for Salt, whereof good ftore is made in one of those llands.

The Master or Pilot of that Carauell did aduertise our Generall, That vpon one of those Hands, called Mayo, there was great store of dryed Cabricos, which a few Inhabitants, there The Isle of dwelling, did yeerely make ready for fuch of the Kings ships as did there touch, being bound for Myo. his Countrey of Brafile, or elsewhere. Wee fell with this Iland the seuen and twentieth of Ianuary: but the Inhabitants would in no cafe traffique with vs, being thereof forbidden by the Kings Edict. Yet the next day our Generall fent to view the Iland, and the likelyhoods 40 that might be there of prouision of Victuals, about threescore and two men, vinder the conduct and government of Mafter Winter and Mafter Doughtie: and marching towards the chiefe place of habitation in this Iland (as by the Portugall wee were informed) having travelled to the Mountaines the space of three miles, and arriving there somewhat before the day breake, we reflection felues, to fee day before vs; which appearing, wee found the Inhabitants to be fied: but the place, by reason that it was manured, we found to be more fruitfull then the other part,

Here we gaue our felies a little refreshing, as by very ripe and sweet Grapes, which the fruit- Ripe Grapes fulnefic of the Earth at that feafon of the veere yeelded vs : and that feafon being with vs the in Winter. depth of Winter, it may feeme flrange that those Fruits were then there growing : but the 50 reason thereof is this, because they being betweene the Tropique and the Equinoctiall, the especially the Valleyes among the Hills.

Sunne paffeth twice in the years through their Zenith, ouer their heads, by meanes whereof, they have two Summers; and being so neere the heat of the Line, they never lose the heat of the Sunne to much, but the Fruits have their encrease and continuance in the midit of Winter. The lland is wonderfully flored with Goats and wild Hennes, and it hath Salt also without labour, faue onely that the people gather it into heapes, which continually in great quantitie is encreafed upon the Sands, by the flowing of the Sea, and the heat of the Sunne kerning the same; so that of the encrease thereof, they keepe a continual Traffique with their

Amongst other things, we found here a kind of Fruit called Cocos; which, because it is not The descripti-60 commonly knowne with vs in England, I thought good to make fome description of it. The on of the Tree Tree beareth no Leaues nor Branches, but at the very top the Fruit groweth in clusters, hard that beareth at the top of the stemme of the Tree, as big enery severall Fruit as a mans head : but having com. taken off the vttermost Barke, which you shall find to be very full of strings or sinewes, as I may terme them, you shall come to a hard shell, which may hold of quantitie in Liquor a Pint commonly, or some a Quart, and some lesse: within that shell, of the thicknesse of halfe an ynch good, you shall have a kind of hard substance, and very white, no lesse good and sweet then Almonds; within that againe a certaine cleare Liquor, which being drunke, you shall not onely find it very delicate and fweet, but most comfortable and cordiall.

CHAP.3.

CHAP.3.

After wee had fatisfied our felues with fome of thefe Fruits, wee marched further into the Itland, and faw great store of " Cabritos aline, which were so chased by the inhabitants, that wee could doe no good towards our prouision: but they had layd out (as it were) to stop our mouthes withall, certaine old dryed Cabritos, which being but ill, and small, and few, wee made

The lile of S. lago.

Being returned to our shippes, our Generall departed hence the one and thirtieth of this 10 moneth, and fayled by the Hand of Saint Iago, but farre enough from the danger of the inhabitants, who shot and discharged at vs three Peeces, but they all fell short of vs, and did vs no harme. The lland is faire and large, and as it seemeth, rich and fruitfull, and inhabited by the Portugals: but the Mountaines and high places of the lland are faid to bee possessed by the Mores; who having beene flaues to the Portugals, to ease themselues, made eleape to the desart places of the Hand, where they abide with great frength.

Being before this lland, wee efpyed two shippes under fayle, to the one of which wee gaue chase, and in the end boorded her with a ship-boat without resistance, which we found to be a good Prize, and she yeelded vnto vs good store of Wine: which Prize our Generall committed to the cultodie of Master Doughtie; and retayning the Pilot, sent the rest away with his Pin- 20 nace, giving them a But of Wine, and fome Victuals, and their wearing Clothes, and to they

a Portugali Pilot,taken. The Iff: of

A Price, and

Nace da Sina,

The fame Night wee came with the Hand called by the Portugals, Ilha del fogo, that is, the burning Hand: in the North fide whereof is a confuming fire, the matter is faid to be of Sulphure, but notwithstanding it is like to be a commodious Iland, because the Portugals haue built, and doe inhabite there. Vpon the South fide thereof lyeth a most pleasant and sweet Hand, the Trees whereof are alwayes greene and faire to looke vpon, in respect whereof, they call it Ilba Braua, that is, the braue Hand. From the bankes thereof, into the Sea, doe runne in many places reasonable streames of fresh Waters, easie to be come by, but there was no convenient Roade for our shippes : for such was the depth , that no ground could bee 30 had for anchoring; and it is reported, that Ground was never found in that place: fo that the tops of Fogo burne not to high in the Ayre, but the rootes of Brana are drenched as low in the Sea.

Being departed from these Ilands, wee drew towards the Line, where wee were becalmed the space of three weekes, but yet subject to divers great Stormes, terrible Lightnings, and much Thunder: but with this milerie, wee had the commeditie of great store of Fish, as Dolphins, Bonitos, and flying Fishes, where tome fell into our thippes, where-hence they could not rile againe, for want of moye as ; for when their Wings are drie, they can-

Aprilla 34. Degrees.

From the first day of our departure from the blands of Cape Verde, wee sayled four and 40 fiftie dayes without light of Land, and the street hat wee fell with, was the Coast of Brafil, which wee faw the fit of April, a the basis of three and thirtie degrees towards the Pole Antartike : and being discouered at you my ine inhabitants of the Country, they made upon the Coast great fires for a Sacrifice ( ee learned) to the Deuis : about which, they vie Conjurations, making heapes of Sand, and other Ceremonies, that when any shippe thall goe about to flay upon their Coast, not onely Sands may be gathered together in Shoalds in every place, but also that Stormes and Tempel's may arise, to the casting away of shippes and men, whereof (as it is reported) there have beene divers experiments. The fewenth day, in a mightie great Storme both of Lightning, Raine, and Thunder, wee

Loft the Canter, which wee called the Christopher : but the cleventh day after, by our Generals 50 great care in dilperfing his shippes, wee found her againe; and the place where wee met, our Generall called the Cape of log, where every shippe tooke in some Water. Here wee found a good Temperature, and sweet Ayre, a very faire and pleasant Countrey, with an exceeding fruitfull Soyle, where were great store of large and mightie Deere, but wee came not to the fight of any people: but tranelling further into the Countrey, wee perceived the footing of people in the Clay-ground, thewing that they were men of great flature. Being returned to our thippes, wee weighed anchor, and ranne fomewhat further, and harboured our felues betweene a Rocke and the Maine, where, by meanes of the Rocke that brake the force of the Sea, wee rid very fafe : and vpon this Rocke wee killed, for our prouision, certaine Sea-Wokees, commonly called with vs Seales.

Theirentrance, : From hence wee went our course to fix and thirtie degrees, and entred the great River of into the Ruces Place, and ranne into foure and fiftie and three and fiftie fadomes and a halfe of fresh Water, where wee filled our Water by the shippes side : but our Generall finding here no good Harborough, as hee thought hee should, bare out agains to Sea the seuen and twentieth of Aprill, and in bearing out, wee lost fight of our Flie-boat wherein Master Doughtie was : but wee fayling along, found a faire and reasonable good Bay, wherein were many, and the same profitable llands, one whereof had fo many Seales, as would at the least haue laden all our shippes; and the rest of the Ilands are as it were laden with Fowles, which is wonderfull to see, and they of Abundance divers forts. It is a place very plentifull of Victuals, and hath in it no want of fresh Water. of Scales-Our Generall after certaine dayes of his abode in this place, being on shore in an Iland, the people of the Countrey shewed themselues vnto him, leaping and dancing, and entred into traffique with him, but they would not receive any thing at any mans hands, but the fame must be call upon the ground. They are of cleane, comely, and itrong bodies, swift on foot, and seeme

10 to be very active. The eighteenth day of May our Generall thought it needfull to have a care of fuch thips as May. were absent, and therefore indeuouring to seeke the Flie-boat wherein Master Donabrie was, wee efpyed her agains the next day : and whereas certains of our ships were sent to discour the Coast, and to learth an Harbour, the Margold and the Canter being imployed in that bufinesse, came vnto vs, and gaue vs understanding of a safe Harbour that they had found, wherewith all our thips bare, and entred it, where wee watred, and made new promition of Victuals, as by Seales, whereof wee flew to the number of two hundred or three hundred in the space of an houre.

Here our Generall in the Admirall rid close aboord the Flie-boat, and tooke out of her all the The Flie-boat 20 prouision of Victuals and what else was in her, and haling her to the Land, set fire to her, and cast off and fo burnt her, to faue the Iron worke : Which being a doing, there came downe of the Countrey burns. certains of the people naked, fauing onely about their Waste the Skinne of some Beast, with The people of the furre or hayre on, and something also wreathed on their heads : their faces were painted the Countrey. with divers colours, and some of them had on their heads the similitude of hornes, every man his Bow, which was an Ell in length, and a couple of Arrowes. They were very agill people, and quicke to deliver, and seemed not to be ignorant in the feates of Warres, as by their order of ranging a few men, might appeare. Their people would not of a long time receive any thing at our hands : yet at length our Generall being ashore, and they dancing after their accuftomed manner about him, and hee once turning his backe towards them, one leapt fuddenly 30 to him, and tooke his Cap with his Gold Band off his head, and ranne a little diffance from him, and fhared it with his fellow, the Cap to the one, and the Band to the other. Having dispatched all our businesse in this place, wee departed and set sayle, and immediately upon our fetting forth, wee loft our Canter, which was absent three or foure dayes: but when our Generall had her againe, hee tooke out the necessaries, and so gaue her ouer, neere to the Cape of The Cape of

The next day after, being the twentieth of Iune, wee harboured our felues againe in a very Iune. good Harborough, called by Magellan, Port S. Iulian, where wee found a Gibbet standing vp- port S. Iulian. on the Maine, which wee fupposed to be the place where Magellan did execution upon some of his disobedient and rebellious company. And here M. Thomas Doughty was tried, and re- M. Thomas 40 ceiued sentence of death, which was also here executed. Here also some of our men going a- Doughite exefhore, were by the Sauages forced to retire.

The seuenteenth day of August wee departed the Port of S. Inlian, and the twentieth August, day wee fell with the Strait or Freat of Magellan, going into the South Sea, at the Cape The Strait of or Head-land whereof, wee found the bodie of a dead Man, whole fielh was cleane con-

The one and twentieth day wee entred the Strait, which wee found to have many turnings, and as it were shuttings up, as if there were no passage at all, by meanes whereof, wee had the Winde often against vs, so that some of the Fleet recouring a Cape or Point of Land, others should be forced to turne backe againe, and to come to an Anchor where they could, 50 In this Strait there be many faire Harbours, with store of fresh Water, but yet they lacke their best commoditie: for the Water is there of such depth, that no man shall find ground to anchor in, except it be in some narrow River or Corner, or betweene some Rockes; so that if any extreme Blafts or contrary Winds doe come (whereunto the place is much subject) it carrieth with it no fmall danger. The Land on both fides is very huge and mountainous; the lower Mountaines whereof, although they be monstrous and wonderfull to looke upon, for their height, yet there are others which in height exceede them in a strange manner, reaching themselues about their fellowes to high, that betweene them did appeare three Regions of Clouds. These Mountaines are couered with Snow: At both the Southerly and Easterly parts of the Strait 60 there are Ilands, among which the Sea hath his indraught into the Straits, even as it hath in the maine entrance of the Freat. This Strait is extreme cold, with Frost and Snow continually: The Trees feeme to stoope with the burthen of the Weather, and yet are greene continually; and many good and fweet Herbes doe very plentifully grow and increase vn-

CHAP.3.

50

The bredth of the Straits of Magellan. Abundance of Pengwins in the Strait. September.

57. Degrees

and a terce of Southerly la-

that another

M. Winter Separated and re-hath found this place all

Ilands.

turned.

The bredth of the Strait is in some place a League, in some other places two Leagues, and three Leagues, and in some other, foure Leagues: but the narrowest place hath a League

The foure and twentieth of August wee arrived at an Iland in the Straits, where wee found great store of Fowle which could not siye, of the bignesse of Geese, whereof wee killed in lesse then one day three thouland, and victualled our felues throughly therewith.

The fixt day of September wee entred the South Sea at the Cape or Head shore.

The seventh day wee were driven by a great storme from the entring into the South Sea, two hundred Leagues and odde in longitude, and one degree to the Southward of the Strait: in which height, and so many Leagues to the Westward, the fifteenth day of September fell out the Eclipse of the Moone, at the houre of fixe of the Clocke at Night: but neyther did the Eclipticall conflict of the Moone impayre our state, nor her clearing againe amend vs a whit, but the accustomed Eclipse of the Sea continued in his force, wee being darkened more then the Moone seuen-fold.

From the Bay (which wee called, The Bay of feuering of Friends) wee were driven backe to the Southward of the Straits, in feuen and fiftie degrees and a terce : in which height, wee came to an anchor among the Ilands, having there fresh and very good Water, with Herbes of fingular vertue. Not farre from hence, wee entred another Bay, where wee found people, both Men and Women, in their Canoas, naked, and ranging from one Iland to another, to feeke Botere writeth, their Meat; who entred traffique with vs, for fuch things as they had.

Wee returning hence Northward againe, found the third of October three Ilands, in one of which was fuch plentie of Birds, as is feant credible to report.

The eight day of October wee lost fight of one of our Consorts, wherein M. Winter was, who, as then wee supposed, was put by a storme into the Straits againe : which, at our returne home, wee found to be true, and he not perished, as some of our companie feared.

[He still (I think) is aliue. I conferred with him of this Voyage at Baibe, in Septemb. 1618. He told me, and defired that it should be published, That formall Possession was then and there taken of the faid Straits and Territories, with Turte and Twigge, after the English manner; Captaine Drake delivering him the faid Poffession, in the name and to the vie of Queene Elizabeth, and her Successors.] Thus being come into the height of the Straits againe, wee ranne, supposing the Coast of

Chili to lye as the generall Maps have described it, namely, North-west, which wee found to lye and trend to the North-east, and Eastwards: whereby it appeareth, that this part of Chili hath not beene truely hitherto discouered, or at the least not truely reported, for the space of twelue degrees at the leaft, being let downe eyther of purpose to deceiue, or of ignorant

The He la Macha, in 38. degrees and 30. minutes.

of the Coaft

Wee continuing our course, fell the nine and twentieth of November with an Iland called la Moche, where wee cast anchor, and our Generall hoysing out our Boat, went with tenne of our companie to shore, where wee found people, whom the cruell and extreme dealings of the Spaniards have forced, for their owne faretie and libertie, to flye from the Maine, and to for- 40 time themselves in this lland. Wee being on land, the people came downe to vs to the Water fide, with shew of great courtese, bringing to vs Potatoes, Rootes, and two very fat Sheepe, which our Generall received, and gave them other things for them, and had promife to have Water there: But the next day repayring againe to the shore, and sending two men aland with Barrels to fill Water, the people taking them for Spaniards (to whom they vie to fhew no fauour, if they take them) layd violent hands on them, and as we thinke, flew them.

Our Generall feeing this, stayed here no longer, but weighed anchor, and fet sayle towards the Coast of Chili, and drawing towards it, wee met neere to the shore an Indian in a Canoa, who thinking vs to have beene Spaniards, came to vs and told vs, That at a place called S. Iago, there was a great Spanish shippe laden from the Kingdome of Pers : for which good newes, 50 our Generall gaue him divers Trifles, whereof he was glad, and went along with vs, and brought vs to the place, which is called the Port of Valparizo.

The Port of Valtarizo, in 93. degrees,

When wee came thither, wee found indeede the shippe riding at anchor, having in her eight Spaniards and three Negros, who thinking vs to have beene Spaniards, and their friends, welcommed vs with a Drumme, and made ready a Bottija, of Wine of Chili, to drinke to vs : but as foone as wee were entred, one of our company, called Thomas Moone, began to lay about him, and strucke one of the Spaniards, and said vnto him, Abaxo Perro, that is in English, Goo downe Dogge. One of these Spaniards seeing persons of that qualitie in those Seas, all to croffed and bleffed himfelfe : but to be fhort, wee flowed them vnder Hatches, all faue one Spamard, who fuddenly and desperately leapt ouer-boord into the Sea, and swam ashore to the 60 The Towne of Towne of S. lago, to give them warning of our arrivall. They of the Towne being not about S. Iste taken. nine Households, presently fled away, and abandoned the Towne. Our Generall manned his Boat, and the Spanish shippes Boat, and went to the Towne: and being come to it, wee risled it, and came to a small Chappell, which wee entred, and found therein a Siluer Challice, two

Cruets, and one Altar-Cloth, the spoyle whereof our Generall gaue to M. Fletcher, his Minifter. Wee found also in this Towne a Ware-house, stored with Wine of Chile, and many boords Wine of Chile. of Cedar-Wood; all which Wine wee brought away with vs, and certaine of the boords, to burne for fire-wood: and to being come aboord, wee departed the Hauen, having first fet all the Spaniards on land, fauing one lohn Griego, a Greeke borne, whom our Generall carryed with Islan Gricgo, a him for his Pilot, to bring him into the Hauen of Lima. When wee were at Sea, our Generall rifled the shippe, and found in her good store of the Wine of Chili, and fine and twentie thousand Pezoes of very pure and fine Gold of Beldinia, Gold of Edamounting in value to feuen and thirtie thousand Duckats of Spanish Money, and aboue. So dia a 10 going on our courle, wee arrived next at a place called Coquimbo, where our Generall fent foure- coquimbo in teene of his men on land to fetch Water: but they were espeed by the Spaniards, who came 29 degrees, with three hundred horsemen and two hundred footmen, and slew one of our men with a 30 minutes. Peece; the rest came abourd in safetie, and the Spaniards departed: wee went on shere againe, and buried our man, and the Spaniards came downe againe with a Flag of Truce; but wee fet favle, and would not trust them. From hence wee went to a certaine Port, called Tarapaça: where being landed, wee found Tarapaxa, by the Sea fide a Spaniard lying afleepe, who had lying by him thirteene Barres of Siluer, which weighed foure thousand Duckats Spanish ; wee tooke the Silver, and left the man. Not farre from hence, going on land for fresh Water, wee met with a Spaniard and an Indian 20 Boy driving eight Llamas or Sheepe of Peru, which are as bigge as Affes; every of which Sheepe had on his backe two Bagges of Leather, each Bagge containing fiftie pound weight of fine Silver: fo that bringing both the Sheepe and their Burthen to the shippes, wee found in all the Bagges eight hundred weight of Silver. Hence wee fayled to a place called Arica: and being entred the Port, wee found there Arica in 18.

three small Barkes, which wee rifled, and found in one of them seuen and sittle Wedges of Sil- degrees 30 min uer, each of them weighing about twentie pound weight, and euery of these Wedges were of nuces. the fashion and bignesse of a Brick-bat. In all these three Barkes wee found not one person : for they miltrufting no strangers, were all gone aland to the Towne, which consisteth of about twentie Houses, which we would have ranfacked, if our companie had beene better, and more 30 in number. But our Generall contented with the spoyle of the shippes, left the Towne, and put off agains to Sea, and set fayle for Lima, and by the way met with a small Barke, which hee boorded, and found in her good store of Linnen Cloth, whereof taking some quantitie,

To Linea wee came the thirteenth day of February: and being entred the Hauen, wee found Linea in 11.dethere about twelue layle of thippes, lying fail moored at an anchor, having all their fayles car- grees, 50 miryed on shore : for the Masters and Marchants were here most secure, having neuer beene asfaulted by enemies, and at this time feared the approach of none fuch as wee were. Our Generall rified these shippes, and found in one of them a Chest full of Ryals of Plate, and good ftore of Silkes and Linnen Cloth, and tooke the Cheft into his owne thippe, and good ftore of 40 the Silkes and Linnen. In which shippe hee had news of another shippe, called the Cacafuego, which was gone towards Paira, and that the same shippe was laden with Treasure: whereupon wee flayed no longer here, but cutting all the Cables of the shippes in the Hauen, wee let them drive whither they would, eyther to Sea, or to the shore, and with all speede wee followed the Cacafuego toward Paira, thinking there to have found her; but before wee arriued there, thee was gone from thence towards Panama: whom our Generall still pursued, and by the way met with a Barke laden with Ropes and Tackle for this pes, which hee boorded and fearched, and found in her fourescore pound weight of Gold, and a Crucifixe of Gold, with g solly great Emeraulds fet in it, which hee tooke, and some of the Cordage also for his owner

Shippe. From hence wee departed, still following the Cacafuego, and our Generall promifed our From hence wee departed, still following the Cacafuego, and our Generall promifed our from hence wee departed, still following the Cacafuego, and our Generall promifed our companie, that wholeeuer could first descry her, should have his Chayne of Gold for his good newes. It fortuned, that Iohn Drake going up into the top, deferved her about three of the clocke, and about fixe of the clocke wee came to her and boorded her, and fhot at her three Therich ship Peeces of Ordenance, and strucke downe her Milne: and being entred, wee found in her great called the Ca-Riches, as Iewels and precious Stones, thirteene Chelts full of Ryals of Plate, fourescore cafaego, taken. pound weight of Gold, and fix and twentie Tunne of Siluer. The place where wee tooke this Prize, was called Cape de San Francisco, about an hundred and fiftie Leagues from Cape de San

The Pilots name of this shippe, was Francisco: and amongst other Plate that our Generall 60 found in this shippe, hee found two very faire gilt Bolles of Silver, which were the Pilots : to whom our Generall faid : Senior Pilot, you have here two Silver Cups, but I must needes have one of them; which the Pilot, because hee could not otherwise chuse, yeelded vnto, and gaue the other to the Steward of our Generals shippes. When this Pilot departed from vs, his Boy faid thus vnto our Generall : Captaine, our thippe shall be called no more the Cacafuego, but the Cacaplata, and your shippe shall be called the Cacafuego: Which prettie speech of the Pilots Boy ministred matter of Laughter to vs, both then and long atter.

Francifio, in 1.

and Porcellan.

When our Generall had done what hee would with this Cacafuego, hee cast her off, and wee went on our courle still towards the West: and not long after, met with a shippe laden with Linnen Cloth, and fine China Diffies, of white Earth, and great store of China Silkes; of all which things, wee tooke as wee lifted. The Owner himfelfe of this shippe was in her, who was a Spanish Gentleman: from whom, our General tooke a Fawlcon of Gold, with a great Emerauld in the breft thereof; and the Pilot of the shippe hee tooke also with him, and so Guainke.

This Pilot brought vs to the Hauen of Guatulco: the Towne whereof, as hee told vs, had but seventeene Spaniards in it. As soone as wee were entred this Hauen, wee landed, and went presently to the Towne, and to the Towne-house, where wee found a Judge sitting in Judgement, being affociate with three other Officers, vpon three Negros that had conspired the curning of the Towne: both which Judges and Prisoners wee tooke, and brought them a shipboard, and caused the chiefe Judge to write his Letter to the Towne, to command all the Townef-men to awoid, that wee might fafely water there. Which being done, and they departed, wee ranfacked the Towne, and in one house wee found a Pot, of the quantitie of a Bushell, full of Ryals of Plate, which wee brought to our shippe. And here one Thomas Moone, one of our companie, tocke a Spanish Gentleman, as hee was flying out of the Towne; and 20 fearthing him, hee found a Chayne of Gold about him, and other Iewels, which hee tooke, and

The Portugall land: his name was Nucoda The Hand of

At this place our Generall, among other Spaniards, fet ashere his Portugall Pilot, which hee Pilot fet on tooke at the Islands of Cape Verde, out of a shippe of S. Mary Port of Portugall: And having fet them ashere, wee departed hence, and layled to the Iland of Canno; where our Generall landed, and brought to shore his owne shippe, and discharged her, mended, and graued her, and furnished our shippe with Water and Wood fasticiently. And while were were here, wee espyed a shippe, and set layle after her, and tooke her, and found in her two Pilots and a Spanish Gouernour, going for the llands of the Philippina's: Wee fearched the shippe, and tooke some of her Merchandizes, and to let her goe. Our Generall at this place and time, thinking himfelfe, both in respect of his private iniuries received from the Spaniards, as also of their contempts and indignities offered to our Countrey and Prince in generall, fufficiently fatisfied, and revenged : and supposing, that her Maiestie at his returne would rest contented with this service, purposed to continue no longer vpon the Spanish Coasts, but began to consider and to consult of the best way for his Countrey. Hee thought it not good to returne by the Straits, for two speciall causes: The one, lest the Spaniards should there wait and attend for him in great number and strength; whose hands, he being left but one shippe, could not possibly escape: The other cause, was the dangerous situation of the Mouth of the Straits in the South Sea, where continuall stormes reigning and blustering, at his being as hee found by experience, befides the Shoalds and Sands vpon the Coaft, hee thought it not a 40 there, because there, because it was then the good course to adventure that way. Hee refolued therefore, to avoid these hazards, to goe for-Winter ica on ward to the Hands of the Molucca's; and thence, to fayle the course of the Portugals, by the Cape of Buena Efterança.

A thip with a Gouernour for the Hands of Philippina's.

Vpon this refolution, hee began to thinke of his best way to the Molneca's; and finding himfelfe where hee now was becalmed, hee faw that of necessitie hee must be forced to take a Spanish course, namely, to sayle somewhat Northerly, to get a Winde. Wee therefore set sayle, and fayled fix hundred Leagues at the leaft for a good Winde; and thus much wee fayled from the fixteenth of Aprill, till the third of June. The fift day of lune, being in three and fortie degrees towards the Pole Artike, wee found the Ayre fo cold, that our men being grieuously pinched with the same, complayined of the ex- 50 tremitie thereof; and the further wee went, the more the Cold encreased upon vs. Where-

Iunc. Sir Francis Drake fayled fide of America upon wee thought it best for that time to feeke the Land, and did fo, finding it not Mountayto 43. degrees nous, but lowe plaine Land, till wee came within eight and thirtie degrees towards the Line. of Northerly latitude, 38. degrees.

In which height, it pleased God to send vs into a faire and good Bay, with a good Winde to A description

In this Bay wee anchored, and the people of the Countrey having their Houses close by the Waters side, shewed themselves vnto vs, and sent a present to our Generall When they came and Countrey vinto vs, they greatly wondered at the things that wee brought : but our Generall (according of Noua Albion. to his naturall and accustomed humanitie) courteously intreated them, and liberally bestowed on them necessarie things to couer their nakednesse; whereupon they supposed vs to be G xls, 60 and would not be perswaded to the contrarie. The Presents which they sent to our Generall, were Feathers, and Kawles of Net-worke. Their Houles are digged round about with Earth, and have from the vttermost brimmes of the Circle, Clifts of Wood fet vpon them, ioyning close together at the top like a Spire-Steeple, which by reason of that closenesse, are very warme. Their Bed is the Ground, with Rushes strowed on it: and lying about the House, have the fire in the midft. The Men goe naked: the Women take Bull-rushes, and kembe them after the manner of Hempe, and thereof make their loofe Garments, which being kint about their middles, hang downe about their hippes, having also about their shoulders a Sainne of Deere, with the hayre vpon it. These Women are very obedient and seruiceable to their Husbands. After they were departed from vs, they came and visited vs the second time, and brought with them Feathers and Bagges of Tabacco for Presents: And when they came to the top of the Hill (at the bottome whereof wee had pitched our Tents) they stayed themselnes; where 10 one appointed for Speaker, wearyed himselfe with making a long Oration: which done, they A long Oraleft their Bowes upon the Hill, and came downe with their Prefents. In the meane time, the tion. Women remayning on the Hill, tormented themselves lamental ly, tearing their slesh from their cheekes; whereby wee perceiued, that they were about a Sacrifice. In the meane time, our Generall, with his companie, went to Prayer, and to reading of the Scriptures; at which Exercise they were attentiue, and seemed greatly to be affected with it : but when they were come vnto vs, they reftored againe vnto vs those things which before wee bestowed vpon

The newes of our being there, being spred through the Countrev, the people that inhabited round about came downe, and among it them, the King himielfe, a man of a goodly stature, and 20 comely personage, with many other tall and warlike men: before whose comming, were tent two Embaffadors to our Generall, to fignifie that their King was comming; in doing of which meffage, their speech was continued about halfe an houre. This ended, they by signes requested our Generall to fend fome thing by their hand to their King, as a token, that his comming might be in pcace: Wherein our Generall having fatisfied them, they returned with glad tidings to their King; who marched to vs with a Princely Maiestie, the people crying continually after their manner: and as they drew neere vnto vs, to did they ftrine to behaue themselnes in their actions with comelinefle. In the fore-front was a man of a goodly perfonage, who bare the Scepter or Mace before the King, whereupon hanged two Crownes, a leffe and a bigger, with three Chaynes of a maruellous length: the Crownes were made of knit worke, wrought arti-30 ficially, with Feathers of divers colours; the Chaynes were made of a bonie substance, and Chaynes like few be the perions among them that are admitted to weare them; and of that number also, those of constant the persons are stinted, as some tenne, some twelve, &c. Next vnto him which bare the Scepthing or another for a Prefent; not to much as their children, but they also brought their In the meane time our Generall gathered his men together, and marched within his fenced place, making against their approching, a very Warlike shew. They being trouped together 40 in their order, and a generall falutation being made, there was prefently a generall filence. Then he that bare the Scepter before the King, being informed by another . (whom they assigned to that Office, with a manly and loftie voyce proclaymed that which the other spake to him in fecret, continuing halfe an houre and a generall Amen as it were given, the King with the whole number of men and women (the Children excepted) came downe without any Weapon, who descending to the foot of the Hill, let themselves in order. In comming towards our Bulwarkes and Tents, the Scepter-bearer began a Song, obseruing his Measures in a Dance, and that with a stately countenance, whom the King with his Guard, and every degree of persons following, did in like manner fing and dance, fauing onely the women, which danced and kept filence. The Generall permitted them to enter within our Bulwarke , where they continued 50 their Song and Dance a reasonable time. When they had fatisfied themselves, they made signes to our Generall to fit downe, to whom the King, and divers others made feuerall Orations, or ter, was the King himfelfe, with his Guard about his person, clad with Cony-skins, and ether

Skins: after them, followed the naked common fort of people, enery one having his face painted, some with white, some with blacke, and other colours, and having in their hands one rather Supplications, that he would take their Prouince and Kingdome into his hand, and become their King, making fignes that they would refigne vnto him their right and title of the whole Land, and become his Subjects. In which, to perswade vs the better, the King and the rest, with one consent, and with great reverence, novfully singing a Song, did set the Crowne The King revpon his head, inriched his necke with all their Chames, and offered vnto him many other figures his things, honouring him by the name of Hiob, adding thereunto as it feemed, a figne of Tri-Kingdome to umph : which thing our Generall thought not meete to reject, because hee knew not what he - Sir Iracos nour and profit it might be to oure Countrey. Wherefore in the name, and to the vice of her Drake. Maiestie, he tooke the Scepter, Crowne, and Dignitie of the said Countrey into his hands, withing that the Riches and Treature thereof might to conceniently be transported, to the inriching of her Kingdome at home, as it abounded in the fame. The common fort of people leaving the King and his Guard with our Generall, scattered themselves together with their Sacrifices among our people, taking a diligent view of everie

CHAP. 3.

The like they offered their Sacrifices vnto them with lamentable weeping, feratching, and tearing the flesh from their faces with their nayles, whereof issued abundance of bloud. But wee vied signes to them of diffiking this, and flayed their hands from force, and directed them vpwards to the liuing God, whom onely they ought to worthip. They flewed viito vs their wounds, and craued helpe of them at our hands, whereupon we gaue them Lotions, Playsters, and Oyntments. agreeing to the state of their griefes, befeeching God to cure their Diseases. Euery third day they brought their Sacrifices vnto vs, vntill they vnderstood our meaning, that we had no pleafure in them : yet they could not being absent from vs , but daily frequented our Companie to the houre of our departure, which departure seemed so grieuous vnto them, that their ioy was 10 turned into forrow. They intreated vs, that Being ablent we would remember them, andby flealth prouided a Sacrifice, which we misliked.

Our necessarie businesse being ended, our Generall with his Companie travailed vp into the Countrey to their Villages, where wee found Herdes of Deere by a thousand in a companie, eyther fide a bag, into the which shee gathereth her meate, when shee hath filled her belly abroad. The people eate their bodies, and make great account of their Skinnes, for their Kings caules: the one in respect of the white Bankes and Cliffes, which lye towards the Sea: and the other, because it might have some affinitie with our Countrey in name, which sometime was so called. There is no part of Earth here to be taken vp, wherein there is not some probable shew Coat was made of them. Our Generall called this Countrey Noua Albion, and that for two 20 being most large, and fat of bodie. Wee found the whole Countrey to be a Warren of a strange

Abundance of kind of Conies, their bodies in bigneffe as be the Barbary Conies, their heads as the heads of strange Coaics. ours, the feet of a Want, and the tayle of a Ratbeing of great length: under her chinne is on

Gold and Sil-

Earth of Noua

At our departure hence, our Generall set up a Monument of our being there, as also of her Maiesties Right and Title to the same, namely, a Plate, nayled vpon a faire great Poste, wherevpon was engraven her Maiesties Name, the day and yeere of our arrivall there, with the free giuing vp of the Prouince and People into her Maiefties hands, together with her Highnoffe Picture and Armes, in a piece of fix pence of currant English Money, vnder the Plate, wherevnder was allo written the Name of our Generall. It seemeth, that the Spaniards hitherto 30 had neuer beene in this part of the Countrey; neyther did euer discouer the Land, by many degrees, to the Southwards of this place.

Their depar-October. Certaine Ilands in eight degrees. Strange Caof Iqua.

After wee had fet fayle from hence, wee continued without fight of Land till the thirteenth day of October following; which day in the morning wee fell with certaine Ilands, eight degrees to the Northward of the Line : from which, came a great number of Canoas, having in some of them foure, in some fix, and in some also foureteene men, bringing with them Cocos, and other Fruits. Their Canoas were hellow within, and cut with great art and cunning, being very smooth within and without, and bearing a glosse, as if it were a Horne daintily burnoasilise those milhed, having a Prowe and a Sterne of one fort, yeelding inward Circle-wise, being of a great height, and full of certaine white shells, for a brauerie, and on each side of them lye out two 40 pieces of Timber, about a yard and a halfe long, more or leffe, according to the smalneffe or bignesse of the Boat. This people haue the nether part of their Eares cut into a round Circle, hanging downe very lowe upon their cheekes, whereon they hang things of a reasonable weight. The Nayles of their Hands are an ynch long, their Teeth are as blacke as Pitch, and they renew them often, by eating of an Herbe with a kind of powder, which they alwayes carry about them in a Cane for the same purpose. Leaning this Hand the Night after wee fell with it, the eighteenth of October wee lighted Hands.

Nouember.

The Ile of

whereof hath growing in it great flore of Cinnamome. The foureteenth of November wee fell with the Ilands of Molneca: Which day at night (having directed our course to runne with Tydore) in coasting along the Iland of Mutrr, belonging to the King of Ternate, his Deputie or Vice-King feeing vs at Sea, came with his Canoa to vs, without all feare, and came aboord, and after some conference with our Generall, willed him in any wife to runne in with Ternate, and not with Tydore, affuring him, that the King would be glad of his comming, and would be readie to doe what hee would require; for which purpose, he himselfe would that night be with the King, and tell him the newes : with whom if hee once dealt, hee should find, that as hee was a King, so his word should stand. Adding further, that if hee went to Tydore before hee came to Terrate, the King would have nothing to doe with vs, because hee held the Portugall as his enemie. Whereupon our Generall 60 resoluted to runne with Ternate, where the next morning early wee came to anchor; at which time our Generall tent a Messenger to the King with a Veluet Cloke for a present, and token of vpon diuers others, some wherecf made a great shew of Inhabitants. Wee continued our course by the llands of Tagulada, Zelon, and Zewarra, being friends to the Portugals, the first his comming to be in peace, and that hee required nothing but Traffique and exchange of Marchandize, whereof hee had good store, in such things as hee wanted, fying vnto him what good things hee might receive from vs by Traffique: Whereby the King was mooned with great liking towards vs, and fent to our Generall with speciall mediage, that hee should have what things hee needed, and would require with peace and friendship: and moreouer, that hee would yeeld himfelte, and the right of his Hand, to be at the pleafare and The King of commandement of fo famous a Prince as wee ferued. In token whereof, hee fent to our Gene Tenare core h commandement of 10 tamous a renne as were tenued. In coord whereogneeten to do do denote the real a Signet, and within floor time after, came in his sowne perfon, with Beats and Canoat, to have keeped out hippe, to bring her into a better and lafer Road then flee was in at that prefent. Our Geouth hippe, to bring her into a better and lafer Road then flee was in at that prefent. Our Geouth hippe, to bring her into a better and lafer Road then flee was in at that prefent. nerals Meflenger being come to the Court, was met by certaine Norle Perfonages with great of the Queene 10 folemnitie, and brought to the King, at whole hands hee was most friendly and graciously en- of England.

The King purpoling to come to our shippe, sent before foure great and large Canoas, in every The great and one whereof, were certaine of his greatest States that were about him, attyred in white Lawne, strange Canons of Cloth of Calicut, having over their heads, from the one end of the Canoa to the other, a of the King of Ternate. Couring of thinne perfumed Mats, borne vp with a Frame made of Reedes for the same vie, under which, every one did fit in his order, according to his dignitie, to keepe him from the heat of the Sunne, divers of whom being of good age and gravitie, did make an ancient and fatherly shew. There were also divers young and comely men, attyred in white, as were the others: the rest were Souldiers, which stood in comely order, round about on both sides; without 20 whom, fate the Rowers in certaine Galleries, which being three on a fide, all along the Canoas, did lye off from the fide thereof three or foure yards, one being orderly builded lower then another, in every of which Galleries were the number of fourefcore Rowers. These Canoas were furnished with warlike Munition, enery man for the most part having his Sword and Targuet, with his Dagger, befide other Weapons, as Launces, Caliuers, Darts, Bowes and Arrowes: alto, every Canoa had a fmall cast Base, mounted at the least one full Yard upon a stocke set upright. Thus comming neere our ship, in order they rowed about vs, one after another, and passing by, did their homage with great sclemnitie, the great Personages beginning with great grauntie and fatherly countenances, figuifying, that the King had fent them to conduct our shippe into a better Roade.

Soone after, the King himselfe repayred, accompanied with fix graue and ancient persons, The King of who did their obeyfance with maruellous humilitie. The King was a man of tall stature, and Tonate come who did their obeyfance with maruellous humilitie. The King was a night or tall tractice, and to white St feemed to be much delighted with the found of our Musike; to whom, as allo to his Nobilitie, to white St Francii Diale. our Generall gaue prefents, wherewith they were passing well contented. At length, the King craued leave of our Generall to depart, promiting the next day to come aboord, and in the meane time to fend vs fuch Victuals as were necessarie for our prouision : So that the same Night wee received of them Meale, which they call Sagu, made of the tops of Sagu, a kind of certaine Trees, talting in the mouth like fowre Curds, but melteth like Sugar, whereof they Meale. make certaine Cakes, which may be kept the space of tenne yeeres, and yet then good to be eaten. Wee had of them store of Rice, Hennes, unperfect and liquid Sugar, Sugar Canes, and a 40 Fruit which they call Figo, with flore of Cloues.

The King having promifed to come aboord, brake his promife, but fent his brother to make his excuse, and to entreat our Generall to come on shore, offering himselfe pawne abourd for his fare returne. Whereunto our Generall confented not, vpon millike conceived of the breach of his promife, the whole company also vtterly refusing it. But to satisfie him, our Generall fent certaine of his Gentlemen to the Court, to accompany the Kings brother, referung the Vice-King for their fafe returne. They were received of another brother of the Kings, and other States, and were conducted with great honour to the Cafile. The place that they were A Cafile in brought vnto, was a large and faire House, where were at the least a thousand persons as- Ternate. fembled.

50 The King being yet absent, there sace in their places threescore grave Personages, all which were faid to be of the Kings Councell. There were befides foure grave perfons, apparrelled all in Red, downe to the ground, and attyred on their heads like the Turkes, and these were faid to be Remans, and Liegers there, to keepe continuall Traffique with the people of Ternare. * The Turkes There were also two Turkes Liegers in this place, and one Italian.

The King at last came in, guarded with twelve Launces, covered over with a rich Canopie, flattinople, emboffed with Gold. Our men, accompanied with one of their Captaines, called Moro, riting Nim Rome. to meet him, hee graciously did welcome, and entertaine them. Hee was attyred after the manner of the Countrey, but more fumptuously then the rest. From his Waste downe to the The Mainstie ground, was all Cloth of Gold, and the fame very rich : his legges were bare, but on his feet of the King-60 were a payre of shooes, made of Cordonant skinne. In the attyre of his head were finely wreathed hooped Rings of Gold, and about his necke hee had a Chayne of perfect Gold, the Links whereof were great, and one-fold double. On his fingers hee had fix very faire lewels and fitting in his Chayre of Estate, at his right hand stood a Page with a Fanne in his hand, breathing and gathering the ayre to the King. The Fanne was in length two foot, and in bredth one and received order accordingly, were licenced to depart, being fafely conducted backe agains by one of the Kings Councell. This Iland is the chiefest of all the Ilands of Molucca, and the King hereof is King of fechiefest of the nentie Ilands besides. The King with his people are Mores in Religion, observing certaine the which the Page did held, and mooue it. Our Gentlemen having delivered their Message, new Moones, with faftings; during which Fafts, they neyther eat nor drinke in the day, but in After that our Gentlemen were returned, and that wee had here, by the fauour of the King, received all necessarie things that the place could yeeld vs : our Generall considering the great 10 diffance, and how farre hee was yet off from his Countrey, thought it not best here to linger the time any longer; but weighing his anchors, fet cut of the Iland, and fayled to a certaine little Iland, to the Southwards of Celebes, where wee graued our shippe, and continued there, in that and other businesses, six and twentie dayes. This Iland is throughly growne with Wood, of a large and high growth, very straight, and without Boughes, faue onely in the head or top, to the Southward of Celebes. whose Leaues are not much differing from our Broome in England. Amongst these Trees, night Fierie Worms. by night, through the whole Land, did flew themselues an infinite swarme of fierie Wormes flying in the Ayre, whose bodies being no bigger then our common English Flyes, make such a flew and light, as if every Twigge or Tree had beene a burning Candle. In this place breedeth also wonderfull store of Bats, as bigge as large Hennes. Of Cray-fishes also here wanted no 20 plentie, and they of exceeding bigneffe, one whereof was fufficient for four hungry ftomackes Cray-fishes.

CHAP.3.

at a Dinner, being allo very good, and restoring meat, whereof wee had experience: and they digge themselues holes in the Earth like Conies. When wee had ended our businesse here, wee weighed, and set sayle to runne for the Moluc $c_{a'i}$ : but having at that time a bad Winde, and being among it the llands, with much difficulte wee recovered to the Northward of the lland of Celebes; where, by reason of contrarie Windes, not able to continue our course, to runne Westwards, wee were inferced to alter the fame to the Southward againe, finding that course also to be very hard and dangerous for vs,by reason of infinite shoalds, which lye off and among the Ilands: whereof wee had too much tryall, to the hazard and danger of our shippe and lives: For vpon the ninth of lanuary, in the 30 veere 1579, wee ranne fuddenly vpon a Rocke, where wee stucke fast from eight of the clocke at night, till foure of the clocke in the afternoone the next day, being indeed out of all hope

Their danger to cleape the danger. But our Generall, as hee had alwayes hitherto fhewed himfelfe couragiyou a Rocke, ous, and of a good confidence in the mercie and protection of God; fo now hee continued in the fame: and lest hee should seeme to perish wilfully, both hee and wee did our best endeuour to faue our felues, which it pleased God so to blesse, that in the end wee cleared our selues most happily of the danger. We lighted our hippe vpon the Rockes, of three Tunne of Cloues, eight Peeces of Ordenance, and certaine Meale and Beanes: And then the Winde (as The helpe of a it were in a moment, by the speciall grace of God) changing from the Starboord to the Lar-Current in the boord of the shippe, wee hoyled our sayles, and the happie gale droue our shippe off the Rocke 40 into the Sea againe, to the no little comfort of all our hearts : for which wee gaue God fuch prayle and thankes, as to great a benefit required.

The eight of February following, wee fell with the fruitfull Hand of Barateue, having in PERSTANCE Hand, the meane time fuffered many dangers by Windes and Shoalds. The people of this Iland are comely in body and flature, and of a civill behaviour, just in dealing, and courteous to strangers, whereof wee had the experience fundry wayes; they being most glad of our presence, and very ready to reliene our wants, in those things which their Countrey did yeeld. The Men goe naked, fauing their heads and prinities, every man having fomething or other hanging at their eares. Their Women are concred from the middle downe to the foot, wearing a great number of Bracelets vpon their armes, for some had eight vpon each arme, being made some of Bone, 50 some of Horne, and some of Brasse, the lightest whereof, by our estimation, weighed two ounces With this people, Linnen Cloth is good Marchandize, and of good request, whereof they make Rolls for their heads, and Girdles to weare about them. Their Iland is both rich, and Linnen Cloth fruitfull: rich in Gold, Siluer, Copper, and Sulphur; wherein they feeme skiltull and expert, gond Marchandize. not onely to trie the same, but in working it also artificially into any forme and fashion that pleaseth them. Their Fruits be divers, and plentifull, as Nutmegs, Ginger, long Pepper, Limons, Cucumbers, Cocos, Figu, Sagu, with divers other forts: and among all the reft, wee had Nurmeys and one Fruit, in bignesse, forme, and huske, like a Bay-berry, hard of substance, and pleasant of taste, long Pepp.r gro ving in which being fodden, becommeth foft, and is a most good and holesome Victuall, whereof wee 60 tooke real mable store, as wee did also of the other Fruits and Spices. So that to confesse a truth, on o'chelland fince the time that wee first fet out of our owne Countrey of England, wee happened vpon no place (Ternate onely excepted) wherein wee found more comforts and better meanes of reof Baresene.

At our departure from Barateue, we fet our course for lang major, where arriving, wee found lang Major. great courtefie, and honourable entertainment. This Illand is gouerned by fue Kings, whom they call Raiab : as Raiah Donam, and Raiah Mano Bange, and Raiah Cabuccapollo, which live as having one Spirit, and one Minde. Of these sine we had for a ship-board at once, and two or three often. They are wonderfully delighted in coloured clothes, as Red and Greene: the Red & Greene vpper parts of their bodies are naked, faue their heads, whereupon they weare a Turkish roll, as clothes much dorthe Maluccians: from the middle downeward they weare a Pintado of filke, trailing vp_ effectived. on the ground, in colour as they best like. The Maluccians hate that their Women should bee feene of Strangers : but these offer them of high courtefie, yea the Kings themselves. The Themanners 10 people are of goodly stature, and warlike, well prouided of Swords and Targets, with Dag- of the people gers, all being of their owne worke, and most artificially done, both in tempering their metall, of land as also in the forme, whereof we bought reasonable store. They have an house in every Village for their common affembly : enery day they meete twife, Men, Women, and Children, bringing with them fach victuals as they thinke good, some Fruits, some Rice boiled, some Hens rosted, fome Sagu, having a Table made three foote from the ground, whereon they let their meate, that every person fitting at the Table may eate, one reioycing in the company of another. They boile their Rice in an earthen pot, made in forme of a Sugar loafe, being full of holes, as our pots Astringe fawhich we water our gardens withall, and it is open at the great end, wherein they put their fhon o boy-

Rice drie, without any moisture. In the meane time they have readie another great earthen pot, 20 fet fast in a furnace, boiling full of water, whereinto they put their pot with Rice, by such meafure, that they swelling become foft at the first, and by their swelling stopping the holes of the pot, admit no more water to enter, but the more they are boiled, the harder and more firme substance they become, so that in the end they are a firme and good bread, of the which with Oyle, Buttet, Sugar, and other Spices, they make divers forts of meates very pleasant of taite, and nourthing to nature. The French pocks is here very common to all, and they helpe themselves, The French fitting naked from ten to two in the Sunne, whereby the venemous humour is drawne out. Not pocks.

long before our departure, they told vs, that not farre off there were fuch great Ships as ours. wishing vs to beware: vpon this our Captaine would stay no longer. From Isna Maior we failed for the Cape of Good Hope , which was the first Land wee fell 30 withall: neither did we touch with it, or any other Land, vntill we came to Sierra Leona, vpon the coast of Guinea: notwithstanding wee ran hard abound the Cape, finding the report of This rather is the Portugals to be most false, who affirme, that it is the most dangerous Cape of the World, tobe inputed neuer without intolerable formes and prefere danger to Trauailers, which come neere the same. weather. This Cape is a most stately thing, and the fairest Cape wee saw in the whole Circumference of the Earth, and we passed by it the 18. of lune. From thence we continued our course to Sierra Sierra Lens. Leona, on the coast of Guenea, where we arrived the 22. of July, and found necessarie provisions, greatstore of Elephants, Oisters upon trees of one kinde, spawning and increasing infinite- Oister-trees. ly, the Oifter fuffering no bud to grow. We departed thence the 24. day.

Wee arrived in England the third of November 1 5 8 0. being the third yeere of our de-

CHAP. IIII.

The third Circum-Nauigation of the Globe : Or the admirable and proferous voyage of Master THOMAS CANDISH of Trimley in the Countie of Suffolke Elauire. into the South Sea , and from thence round about the circumference of the whole Earth, begun in the yeere of our Lord 1586. and finished 1588. Written by Master FRANCIS PRETTY lately of Ey in Suffolke, a Gentleman employed in the same action, published by Master HAKLVYT, and now corrected and abbreviated.

Edeparted out of Plimmouth on Thursday the 21. of July 1586. with three faile, to wit, The Defire, a thip of one hundred and twentie Tunnes, The Content of threefcore Tunnes, and the Hugh Gallant , a Barke of fortie Tunnes : in which fmall Fleete were one hundred and twenter times present with all kinde of furniture and victuals sufficient, for the space of two yeeres, at with all kinde of the state 60 the charges of the worshipfull Master Thomas Candilh of Trimley in the Countie of Suffolke

Esquire, being our Generall. The three and twentieth of August, we put roome for Sierra Leona, and the fine and twen- Sierra Leona tieth day we fell with the Point on the South fide of Sierra Leona, which Mafter Brener knew very well, and went in before with the Content, which was Vice-admirall: and we had no leffe

Two Buffes.

TA Leona.

The Hes of Madrabumba inhabited by

A Towne.

October.

Nouember.

S. Sebaflians

December.

48. Degrees.

Port Defre.

Scales and

They grace

A! kinde of Ships.

BrafiL

Iland.

Negros.

CHAP.4.

then fine fathoms water when wee had leaft, and had for forteene leagues in Southwest all the way running into the Harbour of Sierra Leona, fixteene, fourteene, twelue, ten, and eight fathoms of water. We spoiled here a Towne of the Negro's, which killed one of our men with a

The fecond Booke.

The third day of September, divers of our Fleete went vp foure miles within the Harbour with our Boate, and caught great store of fish, and went on shore and tooke Limmons from the Trees, and comming aboord againe, faw two Buffes. The fixt day wee departed from Sierra Leona, and went out of the Harbour, and stayed one Tyde three leagues from the Point of the Their departure from Suf-mouth of the Harbour in fixe fathoms, and it floweth South Southwell. On Wednesday, being the feventh of the same moneth, we departed from one of the lles of Cape Verde, alias, the lles 19 of Madrabumba, which is ten leagues distant from the Point of Sierra Leona: and about five of the clocke the same night we anchored two miles off the lland in sixe fathoms water, and landed the same night, and found Plantans onely vpon the lland. The eight day one of our Boats went out and founded round about the Hand, and they passed through a found at the West end of the lland, where they found five fathoms round about the Iland, vntill they came vnto the very gut of the found, and then for a cast or two they had but two fathoms, and presently after fixe fathoms, and so deeper and deeper. And at the East end of the lland there was a Towne, where Negro's doe vie at iometimes, as we perceived by their There is no fresh water on all the South side, as we could perceive, but on the North side three 20

Fresh water. or foure very good places of fresh water: and all the whole Iland is a Wood, saue certaine little places where their houses stand, which are invironed round about with Plantan-trees, whereof the fruit is excellent meate. This place is subject mariailous much to Thunder, Raine, and Lightning in this moneth. I thinke the reason is, because the Sunne is so necre the line Equinochiall. On Saterday the tenth, we departed from the faid Hand about three of the clocke in the afternoone, the winde being at the Southwest. The last of October running West Southwest about foure and twentie leagues from Cape Frio in Brafile, wee fell with a great Mountayne Cape Frie in which had an high round knop on the top of it, standing from it like a Towne, with two little

The first of November we went in betweene the Hand of Saint Sebastian and the mayne 10 Land, and had our things on shore, and fet vp 2 Forge, and had our Caske on shore : our Coopers made Hoopes, and so wee remayned there untill the three and twentieth day of the same mo-neth: in which time we fitted our things, built our Pinnace, and filled our fresh water. The fixteenth day of December we fell with the Coast of America in 47. degrees 1. the Land bearing West from vs about fixe leagues off: from which place wee ranne along the shore, vntill we came into fortie and eight degrees. It is a steepe beach all along. The seuenteenth in the afternoone we entred into an Harbour, where our Admirall went in first: wherefore our Generall named the faid Harbour, Port Defire: in which Harbour is an Iland or two, where there is wonderfull great store of Seales, and another Iland of Birds which are gray Guls. This Harbour is a very good place to trim ships in, and to bring them on ground, and graue them in : for 40 there ebbeth and floweth much water: therefore wee graued and trimmed all our ships there. Here a Man and a Boy in wathing their clothes at a Pit, were hurt by the Sauages arrowes, and trim their which are made of Canes, headed with flints. They are very wilde. We tooke the measure of one of their feete, and it was eighteene inches long. Their vie is when any of them die, to bring him or them to the Cliffes by the Sea-fide, and upon the top of them they burie them, and in their graues are buried with them their Bowes and Arrowes, and all their Iewels which they have in their life time, which are fine shells which they finde by the Sea side, which they cut and square after an artificial I manner; and all is laid under their heads. The graue is made all with great stones of great length and bignesse, being set all along full of the dead mans Darts which he vied when he was living. And they colour both their Darts and their Graues with a 10 red colour which they vie in colouring of themselves. The eight and twentieth of December we departed out of the Port of Defire, and went to an Hand which lyeth three leagues to the Their depor-Southward of it; vvhere we trimmed our faued Pengwins with falt for victuall all that and the next day, and departed along the Coast Southwest and by South.

The thirtieth day wee fell vvith a Rocke which lyeth about fine leagues from the Land, much like vnto Edieft one, which lyeth off the found of Plimmouth, and we founded, and had eight fathoms rockie ground, within a mile thereof: the Rocke bearing West Southwest. Wee event coasting along South Southwest, and found great store of Seales all along the Coast. This Rocke flandeth in 48. degrees 1. to the Southward of the Line. The fecond day of Ianuarie we fell with a very faire white Cape, which standeth in 52. degrees, and had seuen fathoms wa- 60 ter a league of the Land. The third day of the foresaid moneth wee fell with another great white Cape, which standeth in 52. degrees and 45. minutes: from which Cape there runneth a low beach about a league to the Southward, and this beach reacheth to the opening of the dangerous Streight of Magellan, which is in divers places five or fixe leagues wide, and in two feuerall places more narrow. Vnder this Cape wee anchored, and loft an anchor, for it was a great florme of foule Weather, and lasted three dayes very dangerous. The fixt day wee put in for the Straits. The fewenth day, betweene the mouth of the Straits They enter the The fixt day wee put in for the Straits. The recently day, see the fixt day wee put in for the Straits the 6, and the narrowest place thereof, wee tooke a Spaniard whose name was Hernando, who was of Innuary. and the national place of lanuary.

there with three and twentie Spaniards more, which were all that remained of foure hundred, A Spaniard tawhich were left there three yeeres before in these Straits of Magellan, all the rest being dead ken in the with famine. And the same day wee passed through the narrowest of the Straits, where the Straits of aforefaid Spaniard shewed vs the Hull of a small Barke, which wee judged to be a Barke called Magellan.

The John Thomas. It is from the mouth of the Straits vnto the narrowest of the Straits, The Barke John 10 foureteene leagues, and the course lyeth West and by North. The mouth of the Straits stand- Thomas, one of eth in two and fiftie degrees. From the narrowest of the Straits vnto Pengwin Iland, is tenne Sir Francis leagues, and lyeth West Southwest somewhat to the Southward, where wee anchored the eight Drake Con-day, and killed and falted great store of Pengwins for Victuals. The ninth day wee departed from Pengwin Hand, and ranne South Southwest to King Phi- King Philips lips Citie, which the Spaniards had built : which Towne or Citie had foure Forts, and every Citie kirdeiofor thad in it one cast Peece, which Peeces were buryed in the ground; the Carriages were Straits of Ma-straits of Manding in their places vnburyed: wee digged for them, and had them all. They had contriued their Citie very well, and feated it in the best place of the Straits for Wood and Water: our Generall They had builded up their Churches by themselves: They had Lawes very seuere among them- called, Port Fa-20 selues, for they had erected a Gibbet, whereon they had done execution upon some of their mine. companie. It seemed vnto vs, that their whole living for a great space was altogether voon Muskles and Lympits; for there was not any thing elie to be had, except fome Deere which came out of the Mountaines downe to the fresh Rivers to drinke. These Spaniards which were there, were onely come to fortifie the Straits, to the end that no other Nation should have pasfage through into the South Sea, fauing onely their owne : but as it appeared, it was not Gods God enemy to will fo to haue it. For during the time that they were there, which was two yeeres at the the Spaniards least, they could never have any thing to growe, or in any write prosper. And on the other Auarice, which fide, the Indians oftentimes preyed vpon them, vntill their Victuals grew fo thort, (their flore the wide world being spent which they had brought with them out of Spaine, and having no meanes to renew in the East and 30 the fame) that they died like Dogges in their Houses, and in their Clothes, wherein we found West, to Spain. them still at our comming, vntill that in the end the Towne being wonderfully taynted wish the fmell and the sauour of the dead people, the rest which remayned aliue were driven to burie fuch things as they had there in their Towne either for prouision or for furniture, and io to forsake the Towne, and to goe along the Sea-side, and seeke their Victuals, to preserve them from steruing, taking nothing with them, but every man his Harquebuze and his furniture that was able to carry it (for some were not able to carry them for weakenesse) and so lived for the space of a yeere and more, with Rootes, Leaues, and sometimes a Fowle, which they might kill with their Peece. To conclude, they were determined to have travelled towards the River of Plate, onely three and twentie persons being left aliue, whereof two were Women, which 40 were the remainder of foure hundred. In this place wee watred and wooded well and quietly. Our Generall named this Towne, Port Famine : It standeth in 53. degrees by observation to Port Famine in

The foureteenth day wee departed from this place, and ranne South Southwest, and from thence Southwest vnto Cape Froward, fine Leagues West Southwest: Which Cape is the Cape Froward Southermost part of all the Straits, and standeth in the latitude of 54 degrees. From which in 54 degrees, Cape wee ranne West and by North fine Leagues, and put into a Bay or Cone on the South fide, which wee called Mukle-Cone, because there were great flore of them: wee ridde therein Mukle-Cone.

fixe dayes, the Wind being still Westerly. The one and twentieth day wee departed from Mukle-Cone, and went Northwest and by 50 West tenne Leagues, to a very faire sandie Bay on the North side, which our Generall called

The two and twentieth wee departed from Elizabeth Bay in the afternoone, and went about two Leagues from that place, where there was a fresh Water River, where our Generall went vp with the shippe-boat about three miles: Which River hath very good and pleasant ground about it, and it is lowe and champion Soyle, and fo wee faw none other ground elle in all the Straits, but that was craggie Rockes and monftrous high Hills and Mountaines. In this River are great store of Sauages, which wee law, and had conference with them : They The most bruwere Men-eaters, and fedde altogether wpon rawe flesh, and other filthie foode: Which people sish Sauages had preyed upon some of the Spaniards before spoken of; for they had gotten Kniues and pie- that ever were 60 ces of Rapiers to make Darts of. They yied all the meanes they could possibly to have allured feene.

vs vp farther into the Riuer, of purpote to have betrayed vs: Which being efpyed by our Generall, hee caused vs to shoote at them with our Harquebuzes, whereby wee killed many of them. So wee fayled from this River to the Channell of Saint Ierome, which is two The Channell Leagues off.

Elizabeth Bay.

of Saint Levene

From

February, 1587.

Cape which is on the North fide: and from that Cape vnto the mouth of the Straits the course lyeth Northwest and by West, and Northwest. Betweene which place and the mouth of the Straits to the Southward, wee lay in Harborough vntill the three and twentieth of February, by reason of contrary Windes and most vile and filthie foule Weather, with such Raine and vehement Rermie Windes which came downe from the Mountaines and high Hills, that they hazarded the best Cables and Anchors that wee had for to hold, which if they had fayled, wee had beene in great danger to have beene cast away, or at the least famished. For during this time, which was a full moneth, wee fedde almost altogether vpon Muskles, and Limpits, and Birds, or such as wee could get on shore, seeking every day for them, as the Fowles of the ayre 10 doe, where they can finde foode, in continuall raynie Weather. There is at every mile or two miles end an Harbcrough on both fides of the Land. And there are betweene the River of The Straits of Saint Ierome and the mouth of the Straits, going into the South Sea, about foure and thirtie Magellan area- Leagues by estimation. So that the length of the whole Straits is about ninetie Leagues. And the faid mouth of the Straits standeth in the same height that the entrance standeth in when long.

The Westerne wee passe out of the North Sea, which is about two and fiftie degrees and two terces to the mouth of the Southward of the Line. Straits is in 52. degrees and 2.

Ilands in the South Sea, cal-richest place in the South Sea for Gold, and is not fubdued by the Spaniards as yet.

S. May Iland in 37. degrees and s. terce, which is fubdued to the Spaniards.

A Church, with Croffes and Altars.

The foure and twentieth day of February wee entred into the South Sea: and on the South fide of the going out of the Straits, is a faire high Cape, with a lowe Point adioyterces.

Theirentrance ming vinto it. And on the North fide are foure or fue llands, which lye fixe Leagues 26 into the South off the Mayne, and much broken and funken ground about them : by Noone the same Sea the 24. of day, wee had brought these llands East of vs, fine Leagues off; the Winde being then Southerly. The first of March a storme tooke vs at North : which Night the shippes lost the com-

led Lu Antga- panie of the Hugh Gallant, being in nine and fortie degrees, and one second, and five and fortie Leagues from the Land. This iterme continued three or foure dayes : and for that time wee in the Hugh Gallant being separated from the other two shippes, looked every houre to sinke, Extreme aunger of the Hugh our Barke was so leake, and our selves so diluered and weakened with freeing it of Water, that wee flept not in three Dayes and three Nights.

The fifteenth day, in the Morning, the Hugh Gallant came in betweene the Hand of Saint 30 Mary and the Mayne, where shee met with the Admirall and the Coment, which had rid at The He of Ma. the Hand called La Micha two dayes, which standeth in the Southerly latitude of eight and chr in 38, de- thirtie degrees: At which place, some of our men went on shore with the Vice-Admirals grees, not lib. Boat, where the Indians fought with them with their Bowes and Arrowes, and were marueiiect to the Spalous warie of their Caliuers. Their Indians were enemies to the Spaniards, and belonged to a marcs.

A auco is the great place called Aranco, and tooke vs for Spaniards, as afterward wee learned. This place which is called Arauco, is wonderfull rich, and full of Gold Mynes: and yet could it not be fibdued at any time by the Spaniards, but they alwayes returned with the greatest loss of men. For these Indians are desperate and carelesse of their lives, to live at their owne libertie

> In the after-noone wee weighed anchor, and ranne under the Welt fide of Saint Mary Iland, where wee ridde very well in fixe fathomes Water, and very faire ground all that

The fixteenth day our Generall went on shore himselfe with seventie or eightie men, every one with his furniture: There came downe to vs certaine Indians, with two which were the Principals of the Iland, to welcome vs on shore, thinking wee had beene Spaniards, for it is lubdued by them; who brought vs vp to a place where the Spaniards had erected a Church, with Croffes and Altars in it. And there were about this Church two or three Store-houses, which were full of Wheat and Barley, ready threshed and made up in Cades of Strawe, to the quantitie of a Bushell of Corne in enery Cade. The Wheat and Barley was as faire, as cleane, 50 and every way as good as any wee have in England. There were also the like Cades full of Potato Rootes, which were very good to eate, ready made up in the Store-houses for the Spaniards, against they should come for their tribute. This Hand also yeeldeth many forts of Fruits, Hogges, and Hennes. These Indians are held in such slauerie by them, that they dare not eate a Henne or an Hogge themselves. But the Spaniards have made them all in that Iland The Indians of Christians. Thus wee fitted our selves here with Corne as much as wee would have, and as S. May Iland many Hogges as wee had Salt to powder them withall, and great flore of Hennes, with a nummade all Chris ber of Bagges of Potato Rootes, and about five hundred dryed Dogge-fishes, and Guinic Wheat, which is called Maiz. And having taken as much as wee would have, yet wee left great store behind vs. Our Generall had the two Principals of the Iland aboord our shippe, 60 and prouided great cheare for them, and made them merry with Wine : and they in the end perceiuing vs to be no Spaniards, made fignes, as neere as our Generall could perceiue, that if Masso rich in wee would goe ouer vnto the maine Land, vnto Aranco, that there was much Gold, making vs fignes, that wee should have great store of Riches. But because wee could not

CHAP. 4. winderstand them, our Generall made some haste, and within two or three days, wee furnished

The eighteenth day in the morning we departed from this place, and ran all that day Northnortheaft, about tenne leagues, and at night lay with a short sayle off and on the coast. The nineteenth we ranne in East Northeast with the land, and bare in with a place called The Conception, The Conception.

where we anchored voider an Hand, and departed the next morning without going on land. The ewentieth, wee departed from The Conception, and went into a little Baye which was fandie, where we faw fresh water and cattell, but we stayed not there. The thirtieth day, we came into Quintero stanthe Baye of Quintero, which standeth in thirty three degrees, and fiftie minutes. Here Fernan- deth in 33.de-

10 do the Spaniard, contrary to his oath, forfooke vs. The last of March, Captaine Hauers went vp into the Country, with fiftie or fixtie men with Our men their fhot and furniture with them, and we travelled seven or eight miles into the land : and as marche 7. or 8, we were marching along, we efpied a number of herds of cattell, of kine and bullockes, which miles into were wonderfull wilde: we faw great store of horses, mares, and coltes which were very wilde their enemies and vnhandled: there is also great flore of hares and conies, and plenty of partriges and other wild-fowles. The countrey is very fruitfull with faire fresh rivers, all along full of wild-fowle of all forts. Having travailed fo farre that we could go no further for the monthrous high mountaines, we rested our selves at a very faire fresh River, running in and along & faire low medowes at the foote of the mountaines, where every man drunke of the River, and refreshed themselves. Having so done, we returned to our Ships the likest way that we thought their Towne should be: fo we transiled all the day long, not feeing any man, but we mette with many wilde dogges: yet there were two hundred horsemen abroad that same day, by meanes of the Spaniard which they had taken the day before from vs, who had told them that our force was but small, and that we'were wonderfull weake: who though they did espie vs that day, yet dunt they not give the on-fet vpon vs. For we marched along in array, and observed good order, whereby we seemed a great number more then we were, vntill we came vnto our thips that night againe. The next day being the first of Aprill, 1,87. our men went on shoare to fill water at a pit which was a quarter of a mile from the water fide : and being early hard at their businesse, were in no readinesse. In which meane while, there came powring downe from the billes almost two hundred horsemen, and before our people could returne to the rockes from the watering place, twelve of them were cut off, part killed, and part taken prisoners, the rest were releved by our fouldiers which came from the rockes to meete with them, who being but fifteen of ve that had any weapons on shoare, yet we made the enemieretire in the ende with losse of some foure and twentie 24. Spaniards of their men, after we had skirmished with them an houre. After the lose of these men, we rid in the roade, and watered in despight of them, with good watch and ward, vntill the fift of the

The fift day we departed out of this bay of Quintero: and off from the bay there lieth a little Alittle Island Iland about a league distant, whereon there are great store of Penguins, and other fowles; where-full of Penguins of we tooke to ferue our turnes, and fayled away North, and North and by West: for so lieth the coast along in this place.

The fifteenth we came thwart of a place which is called Morro moreno, which standeth in Moro moreno in 23. degrees 1, and is an excellent good harborough: and there is an Iland which maketh it an 23. degrees and harborough: and a ship may goe in at either end of the Hand: here we went with our Generall abalic. on shore to the number of thirty men: and at our going on shore vpon our landing, the Indians of the place came downe from the rockes to meete with vs, with fresh water and wood on their backes. They are in maruellous awe of the Spaniards, and very simple people, and live savagely; For they brought vs to their bidings about two miles from the harborough, where we faw their women and lodging, which is nothing but the skinne of some beaft laid upon the ground: and ouer them in stead of houses, is nothing but fine or fixe sticks laid acrosse, which stand upon two forkes with flickes on the ground, and a fewe boughes laid on it. Their diet is raw fish, which flinketh most vilely. And when any of them die, they burie their bowes and arrowes with them, with their Canes, and all that they have: for we opened one of their graves, and faw the order of them. Their Canous or boates are maruellous artificially made of two skinnes like vnto bladders, Mott arcificially and are blowne full at one ende with quilles; they have two of these bladders blowne full, which boates. are fowen together, and made fast with the finew of some wild beast; which when they are in the water, swell, so that they are as tight as may be. They goe to sea in these boates, and catch Tribute payd very much fish with them, and pay much of it for tribute vnto the Spaniards: but they vie it in fish.

The three and twentieth in the morning we tooke a small barke which came out of Aries Abarketaken, road, which we kept and called The George: the men for fooke it, and went away with their which they caboate. Our Admirals pinnesse followed the boate, and the Hugh Gallants boate tooke the barke: led The G.a ge. our Admirals pinneffecould not recouer the boat before it got on shoare, but went along into the arias fundeth road of Aries, and laid aboord a great ship of an hundred tunnes riding in the road right afore the towne, but all the men and goods were gone out of it, onely the bare shippe was left alone. A ship taken

The twentie fixth day, after two other Barkes taken, wee departed. The twentie sequenth The first barke day wee tooke a small Barke, which came from Saint Iago, neere vnto Quintero, where of admiteration we lost our men first. In this Barke-was one George a Greeke, a reasonable pilot for all the coast

The bay of Pif-

An Island of

A thip of 300.

zunnes taken after halfe an houres fight.

Seuen degrees of Southerly

Seales:

way her forefaile and certaine victualls.

Izritude. They met their fleet againe. Two rich thips One thippe warth 20000 pounds.

The bay of Paite in 5. degrees 4. min.

A new fort in building.

The towne of and burnt.

25. pounds weight in filuer

Paire bad soo. houfes in it. A barke fet on

The Island of Puna within I. degree the Equinoctiall to A great Ship

Great fore of eables made in

A little I fland neere voto

his pleasant habitation, and great wealth. The twentie minth day of May, our Generall went in the ship-boate into a little Iland thereby, whereas the faid Casique which was the Lord of Puna, had caused all the hangings of his chambers, which were of Cordonan leather all guilded ouer, and painted very faire and rich,

The third of May we came into a bay where are three little townes, which are called Paracca. Chincha, and Pifca, where some of vs landed and tooke certain houses, wherein was bread, wine. figs, and hennes: but the fea went fo high, that we could not land at the best of the townes without finking of our boats, and great hazard of vs all. This place standeth in thirteene degrees and 2, to the Southward of the line. The fift of May we departed from this harbour, leaving the Content our Vice-admirall with- 10 in at an Iland of Seales, by which meanes at that time we loft her companie.

The fixteenth we tooke with the Hugh Gallans, beeing but fixteene men of vs in it, a great shippe which came from Gnaiand, which was called The Lewis, and was of the burthen of three hundred tunnes, having fowre and twentie men in it, wherein was pilot one Gonfaluo de Ribas, whom we carried along with vs, and a Negro called Emmanuel. The shippe was laden with nothing but timber and victualls: wherefore we left her seauen leagues from the land, very leake, and ready to finke in feuen degrees to the Southward of the line: we funke her boate and tooke a-

The seventeenth, we met with our Admirall againe, and all the rest of our fleete. They had taken two ships, the one laden with sugar, Molosses, Maiz, Cordonan-skinnes, Montego de Porco, 20 many packes of Pintados, many Indian coates, and some marmalade, and a thousand hennes: and the other shippe was laden with wheat-meale, and boxes of marmalade. One of these shippes which had the cheife marchandize in it, was worth twenty thousand pounds, if it had beene in England, or in any other place of Christendame, where we might have fold it. We filled all our ships with as much as we could bestow of these goods: the rest we burnt, and the ships also; and let the men and women that were not killed on thoure.

The twentieth day in the morning, we came into the road of Paita, and beeing at an anchor, our Generall landed with fixtie or leuentie men, skirmished with them of the towne, and draue them all to flight to the top of the hill which is ouer the towne, except a few flaues and some other which were of the meaner fort, who were commanded by the gouernours to stay belowe in to the towne, at a place which is in building for a fort, having with them a bloody enligne, beging in number about one hundred men. Now as we were rouing betweene the ships and the shore, our gunner shot off a great peice out of one of the barkes, and the shot fell among them, and draue them to flie from the fort as fall as they might runne, who got them vp vpon an hill, and from thence shot among vs with their small shot. After we were landed, and had taken the towne, vve ran vpon them, and chafed them fo fiercely vp the hilles for the space of an houre, that vve draue them in the ende avvay perforce, and beeing got vp the hilles, we found where they had laid all their stuffe which they had brought out of the towne, and had hidden it there woon the mountaines. We also found the quantitie of fine and twenty pounds weight in filter, in peices of eight ryals, and abundance of houshold-stuffe, and store-houses full of all kind of wares: but 40 our Generall would not suffer any man to carry much cloth or apparell avvay, because they should not cloy themselves with burthens: for he knew not whether our enemies were prouided with furniture according to the number of their men: for they were fue men to one of vs: and we had an English mile and an halfe to our ships. Thus we came downe in safetie to the towne, which was very well builded, and maruellous cleane kept in euery streete, with a towne-house or Guild-hall in the middest, and had to the number of two hundred houses at the leaft in it. We fet it on fire to the ground, and goods to the value of fine or fixe thousand pounds: there was also a Barke riding in the roade, which we set on fire, and departed, directing our course

The twentie fine day of May, we arrived at the Hand of Puna, where is a very good harbour, so where we found a great ship of the burthen of two hundred and fifty tunnes, riding at an anchor with all her furniture, which was readie to bee haled on ground: for there is a speciall good place for that purpose. We sunke it, and went on shore where the Lord of the Iland dwelt, which was by the waters fide, who had a sumptuous house wel contriued, with many very singular good roomes and chambers in it: and out of every chamber was framed a gallerie, with a stately prospect into the sea on the one side, and into the lland on the other side, with a great hall belowe, and a very great storehouse at the one ende of the hal, which was filled with Boings of pitch and bash to make cables withall: for the most part of the cables in the South-lea, are made vpon that Iland. This great Casique doth make all the Indians upon the Iland to worke and to drudge for him: and he himfelfe is an Indian borne, but is married to a faire woman a Spaniard, by reafon of 60 with all his houshold-stuffe, and all the ships tackling which was riding in the road at our comming in, with great flore of nailes, spikes of yron, and very many other things to be conveyed: all which wee found, and brought away what our Generall thought requilite for the shippes

Master THOMAS CANDISH. CHAP.4.

This land is very pleasant for all things requisite, and fruitfull: but there are no mines of gold nor filter in it. There are at the least two hundred houses in the towne about the Casiques pallace, and as many in one or two townes more upon the lland, which is almost as bigge as the ile The ide of Puof Wight in England. There is planted on the one fide of the Casiques house, a faire garden, with mais almost as all herbes growing in it, and at the lower ende a Well of fresh water, and round about it are trees big as the Ise all herbes growing init, and at the lower choica well of them water, and foliate from the first of the first of the trees growe full of Cotton trees. cods, out of which the cotton groweth, and in the cotton is a feede of the bignede of a peafe, and in every codde there are feven or eight of these seedes; and if the cotton be not gathered when it is ripe, then these seedes fall from it, and spring againe. There are also in this garden fig-trees which beare continually, also pompions, melons, cucumbers, radifies, rosemarie and thyme, with An excellent many other herbes and fruits. At the other end of the house there is also another Orchyard, Orchyard, where grow orenges sweete and sower, limmons, pomegranates and lymes, with dinerse other; fruits. There is very good pasture ground in this Iland; and withall many horses, exen, bullocks, sheepe very fat and faire, great store of goates which be very tame, and are vsed continually to be milked. They have moreover abundance of pigeons, turkeys, and ducks of a maruellous bigneffe.

There was alfoa very large and great Church hard by the Casiques house, whither hee caused all the Indians in the Iland to come and heare masse: for he himselfe was made a Christian when he was married to the Spanish woman before spoken of, and vpon his conversion, hee caused the rest of his subjects to be Christened. In this Church was an high Altar with a Crucifixe, and fue belles hanging in the nether ende thereof. We burnt the Church, and brought the bells away. By this time we had haled on ground our Admirall, and had made her cleane, burnt her keele, The fecond By this time we had nated on ground our Admiran, and had have net cream, built net access pitched and tarred her, and had haled her on flote againe. And in the meane while continually graning of their flups.

kept watch and ward in the great house both night and day.

The feecond of Iune, an hundred Spaniards alfailed vs, whereby of our men were flaine, drow-the feecond and taken twelue, of theirs wee flewe fortie fixe. The felfe fame day we went on flore attention and taken twelue, of their week flewe fortie fixe. againe with seventie men, and had a fresh skirmish with the enemies, and draue them to retyre, the Spaniards. being an hundred Spaniards feruing with muskets, and two hundred Indians with bowes, ar- The chiefe rowes, and darts. This done, we let fire on the Towne, and burnt it to the ground, having in it towne in Puna to the number of three hundred houses: and shortly after made hauocke of their fields, or chyards, burns. and gardens, and burnt four egreat shipps more which were in building on the stocks. The third, the Content which was our Vice-admirall was haled on ground, to graue at the same place in defpight of the Spaniards: and alto our Pinnesse which the Spaniards had burned, was newe

The fift day of June we departed out of the roade of Puna, where wee had remained eleuen They arrived dayes, and turned up for a place which is called Rio dolco, where we watered : at which place al-40 so we funke our Rere-admirall, called The Hugh Gallant for want of men, being a barke of fortie of May. tunnes. The tenth day of the fame moneth, we set the Indians on shore, which wee had taken The Hugh Calbefore in a Balla, as we were comming into the road of Puna. The eleventh day we departed from the faid Rio dolce. The twelft we doubled the Equinottiall line, and continued our course Rio dolce. Northward all that moneth.

The first of July we had fight of the coast of Nuena Espanna, being foure leagues distant from land, in the latitude of tenne degrees to the Northward of the line. The ninth, we tooke a new thip of the burthen of an hundred and twentie tunnes, wherin was one Michael Sancius, whom our Generall tooke to ferue his turne to vvater along the coast: for he vvas one of the best coasters in the South Sea. This Michael Sancius was a Prouenfall, borne in Marfeils, and was the first Michael Sancius 50 man that told vs newes of the great shippe called The Santa Anna, which we afterward tooke a Marsillian.

comming from the Philippinas. There were fix men more in this nevy shippe: vve tooke her failes, her ropes, and fire-vvood shippe burnt. to ferue our turnes, fet her on fire and kept the men.

The tenth vve tooke another barke vvhich was going with adulfe of vs, and our thips all a- Barke of adulfe long the coast, as Michael Sancius told vs:but all the company that evere in the barke everefled taken. on thore. The fixe and twentieth day of July, we came to an anchor at tenne fathomes in the Thermer of river of Copalita, where we made account to water. And the same night weed eparted with Copolita. thirty men in the Pinnelle, and rovved to Agnatules, which is but two leagues from the aforefaid river; and standeth in fifteene degrees fortie minutes to the Northward of the Equinoctiall and 40 minutes

60 line. The fenen and twentieth in the morning by the breake of day, we came into the roade of Northward. Agnatuleo, where we found a barke of fiftie tunnes, which was come from Sonfonate, laden Abark burnt. with Cacaos and Anile, which they had there landed and the men evere all field on shoare. Wee landed there, and burnt their towne, with the Church and Custome-house, which was very towned too. faire and large in which house were fixe hundred bags of Anile to die cloth; euery bagge where- houses wards of was worth fortie Crownes, and foure hundred bagges of Cacaos; euery bag whereof is worth Cataos goe for ten Crownes. These Cacaos goe among them for meate and money. For an hundred and fiftie of money in Nuc- them are in value one Ryal of plate in readie payment. They are very like vnto an Almond, but are nothing to pleasant in taste: they eate them, and make drinke of them.

The eight and twentieth day, we fet fayle from Copalita, because the sea was so great there. that we could not fill water, and ranne the same night into the roade of Aquatuleo. The nine and twentieth, our Generall landed and went on shore with thirtie men, two miles into the woods, where we tooke a Mestizo, whose name was Michael de Truzillo, who was customer of that towne, and we found with him two chambers full of his stuffe: wee brought him and his with 30, men, stuffe aboord. And whereas I say he was a Mestize, it is to be vinderstood, that a Mestize, is one to which hath a Spaniard to his father, and an Indian to his mother.

The foure and twentieth day of August, our Generall with thirty of vs went with the Pinnidad in 19 de- nelle vnto an haven called Puerto de Natividad, where we had intelligence by Michael Sancins. that there should be a Pinnesse, but before we could get thither, the laid Pinnesse was gone to filli for pearles twelue leagues farther, as we were informed by certaine Indians which we found The third polic there. We tooke a Mullato in this place in his bed, which was fent with letters of aduise concerning vs along the coast of Nueva Galicia, whose horse we killed, tooke his letters, left him be-Puerto de Natihind, fet fire on the houses, and burnt two new shippes of two hundred tunnes the piece, which Two new thips were in building there on the stockes, and came aboord of our thippes againe. The fixe and twentieth day, we came into the bay of S. lago, where we watered at a fresh River, along which 20 The river of river many plantans are growing : here is great abundance of fresh fish. Here also certaine of our Sant Iago. Pearles taken, company dragged for pearles, and caught some quantitie. The second of September, we departed from Sant lago. This bay of Sant lago standeth in nineteene degrees and eighteene minutes to the Northward of the line. The third of September, we arrived in a little Bay a league to the Westward off Port de Nanidad, called Malacca,

The towne of

The read of which is a very good place to ride in: and the fame day about twelue of the clocke, our Generall landed with thirty men or there about, and went up to a towne of Indians, which was two leagues from the road, which towne is called Acatlan: there were init about twentie or thirty houses and a Church, which we defaced and came aboord agains the same night. All the people were fled out of the towne at the fight of vs. The fourth, we departed from the road of Malac- 10 ca, and fayled along the coaft. The eight, wee came to the roade of Chaecalla, in which Bay there are two little houses by the waters side. This Bay is eighteene leagues from the Cape de los Corrientes. The ninth in the morning our Generall fent up Captaine Hauers, with forty men of vs before day, and Michael Sancius being our guide, we event vnto a place about two leagues vp into the countrey, in a defert path through the vvoods and vvildernesse; and in the ende vvee came to a place where we tooke three housholders with their wives and children, and some Indians, one Carpenter which was a Spaniard, and a Portugall, we bound them all, and made them to come to the fea fide with vs. Our Generall made their vviues to fetch vs Plantans, Lymmons, and Oranges, Pine-aples, and other fruits whereof they had abundance, and so let their husbands depart, except Sembrano the Spanish Carpenter, and Diego the Portugal; and the 40 tenth day yve departed the roade.

The Ific of S.

Massatlan in 13. an halfe.

wards of Maf-The escape of one Deminge, 2 Spaniard.

The foure and twentieth day weiarrised in the road of Massalan, which standeth in twenty three degrees ; init under the Tropicke of Cancer: It is a very great river within, but is barred at the mouth: & vpon the North fide of the barre without, is good fresh water: but there is very euil 10 filling of it : because at a low water it is should halfe a mile off the shoare. There is great store of fresh fish in that bay: and good fruites vp into the countrey, whereof wee had some, though not without danger. The seuen and twentieth day of September, we departed from the roade of Massatlan, and

The twelfth day we arrived at a little Island called the Isle of Sant Andrew, on which there is great store of fovvle and vvood: where vve dryed and salted as many of the fovvles as vvee thought good : we also killed there abundance of Seales, and Iquanos which area kind of Serpents, with foure feete, and a long sharpe tayle, strange to them which have not seene them; but they are very good meate. We ridde here vntill the feuenteenth day, at which time wee de-lesgue North ran to an Island which is a league to the Northward of the faid Massatlan; where wee trimmed our ships, and new built our Pinnesse: and there is a little Island a quarter of a league from it, on which are Seales; where a Spanish prisoner, whose name was Domingo, beeing sent to wash shirts with one of our men to keep him, made a scape, and swam to the maine, which was an English mile distant: at which place we had feene thirty or fortie Spaniards and Indians, which were horlemen, and kept watch there, which came from a towne called Chiametla, which was eleuen 60 leagues up into the countrey, as Michael Sancin told vs. We found upon the Island where we trimmed our Pinnesse, fresh water by the affistance of God in that our great neede by digging two or three foote deepe in the fand, where no water, nor figne of water was before to bee perceiued. Otherwise we had gone backe twenty or thirty leagues to water: which might have beene occasion that vve might have missed our prey vve had long vvayted for. But God rayled one Flores a Spaniard, which was also a prisoner with vs, to make a motion to digge in the fands. Nov our Generall having had experience once before of the like, commanded to put his motion Fresh waterat in practife, and in digging three foot deepe eve found very good and fresh water. So we wate- two or three red our shippes, and might have filled a thousand tunnes more, if we had would.

Mafter THOMAS CANDISH. CHAP.4.

We flayed in this I land vntill the ninth day of October, at which time we departed at the fand. night for the Cape of S. Lucar, which is on the West side of the point of California: with The Cape of which we fell on the foureteenth of October, it is very like the Needles at the lile of Wiebs and S. Luce on the within the faid Cape is a great Bay, called by the Spaniards Aguada Segura: into which falleth forma To a faire freshriuer, about which many Indians vie to keepe: vve vvatered in the river, and lay off Aquaid Separa. and on from the faid Cape of S. Lucar untill the fourth of November, and had the wyinds hanging still Westerly.

The fourth of November, the Defire and the Content, beating up and downe upon the headland of California, which standed in twenty three degrees, and to the Northward, betweene feuen and eight of the clocke in the morning, one of the company of our Admirall which was two thirds. the trumpeter of the ship going vp into the toppe, espied a sayle, bearing in from the sea with the Cape; whereupon he cryed out with no small ioy to himselfe and the whole companie, fayle, A fayle: with which cheercfull word the mafter of the ship, and divers others of the company went also vp into the maine top, who perceiuing the speech to be very true, gaue informa-20 tion vnto our Generall of their happy newes, who was no leffe glad then the cause required: whereupon he gaue in charge prefently vnto the whole companie to put all things in readinesse, which beeing performed we gaue them chase some three or foure houres, standing with our best aduantage, and working for the winde.

In the afternoone we gat up unto them, giving them the broad fide with our great ordnance, The fight beand a volce of small shot, and presently laid the ship aboord, whereof the King of Spaine was tweene the owner, which was Admirall of the South-fea, called the S. Anna, and thought to be feuen hun-great S. Anna dred tunnes in burthen. Now as we were readie on their ships side to enter her, beeing not past fiftie or fixty men at the vttermost in our ship, we perceived that the Captain of the laid ship had made fights fore and after, and laid their failes close on their poope, their mid-ship, with their 30 fore-caille, and having not one man to be seene, stood close wider their fights, with Lances, Jauelings, Rapiers and Targets, and an innumerable fort of great stones, which they threw ouer boord vpon our heads, and into our ship so fast, and beeing so many of them, that they put vs off the The second inor fine. But for all this we new trimmed our failes, and fitted enery man his furniture, and game counter. them a fresh incounter with our great Ordnance, and also with our small shot, raking them thorough and thorough, to the killing and maining of many of their men. Their Captaine still like a valiant man with his companie, stood very stoutely vnto his close fights, not yeelding as yet. Our Generall incouraging his men afresh with the whole noyse of trumpets, gaue them the The third enthird encounter with our great Ordnance, and all our small shot to the great discomforting of our counter. 40 enemies, raking them through in diverte places, killing and spoyling many. They beeing thus discomforted, and their shippe beeing in hazard of finking by reason of the great shot which The great S. were made, whereof some were vnder water, within fine or fixe houres fight, fet out a flagge of Anna yeeldethe truce, and parled for mercie, defiring our Generall to faue their liues, and to take their goods, and that they would prefently yeeld. Our Generall promited them mercy, and willed them to ftrike their fayles, and to hoyle out their boat, & to come abourd: which newes they were full glad to heare, and presently stroke their failes, hoysed their boat out, and one of their chiefe marchants came aboord vnto our Generall : and falling downe vpon his knees, offered to have kiffed his feete, and craued mercie: the Captaine and their Pilote, at their comming wied the like duetie and reuerence as the former did. The Generall promifed their lives and good viage. They de- One hundred 50 clared what goods they had within boord, to wit, an hundreth and two and twenty thousand and two and pezos of gold: and the reft of the riches that the ship was laden with, was in Silkes, Sattens, Da- twenty thoumasks, with Muske and divers other marchandize, and great store of all manner of victualls, Gold with the choife of many conferues of all forts for to eate, and of fundry forts of very good wines. A pezois $. These things beeing made knowne, they were commanded to stay aboord the Defire, and on the shillings.

Aguada Segura, or Puerto Seguro. great segura, or Puerto Seguro.

Here the whole company of the Spaniards, both of men and women to the number of an The Spaniards hundred and ninetie perions were fet on shore; where they had a fayre river of fresh water, with secon shore to great store of fresh-fish, fowle, and wood, and also many Hares and Conies upon the maine land. the number of Our Generall also gave them great store of victualls, of Garnanias, Peason, and some Wine. Also they had all the failes of their shippe to make them tents on shore, with licence to take such store of plankes as should be sufficient to make them a barke. Then we fell to hoysing in of our goods, Mutinicasharing of the treasure, and alotting to every man his portion. In division whereof, the eight of gainst the Gethis moneth, many of the company fell into a mutinie against our Generall, especially those nerall, fixt day of November following, we went into an harbour, which is called by the Spaniards, diffin the which were in the Content, which nenerthelesse were after a fort pacified for the time. On the feuenteenth day of Nouember , which is the day of the happy Coronation of her Maiestie, our Generall commanded all his Ordnance to be shot off, with the small shot both in his owne shippe where himselfe went, and also in the Content, which was our Vice-admirall. This being done, the same night we had many fire-workes, and more Ordnance discharged, to the great admiration of all the Spaniards which were there: for the most part of them had never feene the like before. This ended, our Generall discharged the Captaine, gaue him a royall reward, with promison for his defence against the Indians and his companie, both of Swords, Targets, Pieces, Shot and Powder to his great contentment: but before his departure, hee sooke our Two boyes of of this great shippe two yong lads borne in Iapon, which could both write and reade their owne 10

Three boves

€f<sub>a</sub>Manilla.

Nicholas Rede-

A Spinish Pi-

Aca, ulco is the hagen whence to :he Philippi-

Good water ring at the La-The winde at fter, left behind in the road.

The Island of 13. degrees & two thirds.

starure of the people of the Ifles of La-Their images. A tifficialica-Caneas fayling right again? the winde. The nimbleneffe of the people of the Cubo del Spirito Santly one of language, the eldeft being about twenty yeeres olde, was named Christopher, the other was called Comus, about seventeene yeeres of age, both of very good capacitie. He tooke also with him out of their shippe, three boyes borne in the Itles of Manilla, the one about fifteene, the other about therteene, and the yongest about nine yeeres old. The name of the eldest was Alphanio, the fecond Anthony de Dafi, the third remaineth with the right Honourable the Counteffe of Effex. He alio took e from them one Nicholas Roderico, a Portugall, who hath been in Canton, and other parts of China, in the Islands of Iapon, being a countrey most rich in filter mines, and in the Phi-Hee tooke also from them a Spaniard, whose name was Thomas de Erfola, which was a very good Pilote from Acapulco, and the coast of Nueva Espanna vnto the Islands of Ladrones, where 20 the Spaniards doe put in to water, fayling betweene "Acapulco and the Phillippinas : in which Hies of Ladrones, they finde fresh water, Plantans, and Potato-rootes : howbeit the people bee they fet forth verie rude and heathens. The nineteenth day of November aforefaid, about three of the clocke in the afternoone, our Generall caused the Kings Shippe to be set on fire, which having to the quantitie of five hundred turnes of goods in her, we law burnt vnto the water, and then gaue them a piece of Ordnance, and fet fayle toyfully homewards towards England with a faire wind, which by this time was come about to East Northeast: and night growing neere, we left the Content a sterne of vs, East northeast. Which was not as yet come out of the roade. And here thinking she would have overtaken vs, we whereof Steum lost her companie, and neuer faw her after. We were fayling from this hauen of Agueda Segu- 30 Hare was ma- rain California, vnto the Hes of Ladrones the reft of November, and all December, and so forth vntill the third of Ianuarie, 1 588, with a faire winde for the space of fine and fortie dayes; and we esteemed it to be betweene seuenteene and eighteene hundred leagues.

The third day of Ianuary by fixe of the clocke in the morning, we had fight of one of the Itlands of Ladrones, called the Itland of Guana, standing in thirteene degrees + toward the North, and fayling with a gentle gale before the winde, by one or two of the clocke in the afternoone, we were come up within two leagues of the Island, where weemet with fixtie or feuentie fayles of Canous full of Sauages, who came off to fea vnto vs, and brought with them in their Boates, Plantans, Cocos, Potato-rootes, and fresh-fish, which they had caught at Sea, and held them vo vnto vs for to trucke or exchange with vs; which when we perceived, we made fast lit- 40 the pieces of old yron vpon small cords, and fishing lines, and to vered the yron vnto their Cano-4, and they caught hold of them, and tooke off the yron, and in exchange of it, they would make fast vnto the same line, either a Potato-roote, or a bundle of Plantans, which we haled in: and thus our companie exchanged with them with they had fatisfied themselves with as much as did content them; yet we could not be ridde of them. For afterward they were fo thicke about the thip, that it flemmed, and brake one or two of their Canoas; but the men faued themfeliues, being in enery Canon, foure, fixe, or eight persons, all naked and excellent swimmers and divers. They are of a tawny colour, and marvellous fat, and bigger ordinarily of stature then the The colour & most part of our men in England, wearing their haire manuellous long: yet some of them haue it made vp, and tyed with a knot on the Crowne, and some with two knots, much like vnto their so Images which we faw carried in wood, and flanding in the head of their boats, like vnto the Images of the deuill. Their Canous were as artificially made, as any that euer we had feene : confidering they were made and contribed without any edge-toole. They are not obout halfe a vard in breadth, and in length fome feuen or eight yardes, and their Heads and Sternes are both alike: they are made out with raftes of Canes and Reeds on the Starre-bord-fide, with Maste and Saile: their Sayle is made of matters of Sedges, square or trianglewise: and they faile as well right against the winde, as before the winde. These Sauages followed vs so long, that we could not be ridde of them: vntill in the ende our Generall commanded some halte dozen Harquebuzes to bee made ready; and himfelfe throoke one of them, and the rest shot at them : but they were so yare and nimble, that we could not differne whether they were killed or no, because they could fall 60 backeward into the fea, and preuent vs by diving. The fouteteenth day of Ianuary lying at hull with our Ship all the middle watch, from twelve at night, vntill foure in the morning, by the breake of day, we fell with an head-land of the Itles of the Phelippinas, which is called Cabo del Spirito Santo, which is of very great bigneffe and length, high land in the middeft of it, and very low land as the Cape lieth East and Well, trending farre into the Sea to the Westward. This Cape or Island is distant from the He of Guana, From Guana one of the Ladrones, three hundred and ten leagues. We verein fayling of this course eleuen an ille of the dayes, with fant winds, and some foule weather, bearing no fayle two or three nights. This latones to Cadayes, with least vinias, and tome rouse eventure; occaming to tay to the attention to the halfs given lifted than detail in thirteen edgrees, and is a place much peopled with heathen people, and all be dals given woode through the whole Land: and it is thort of the chiefth Illand of the Philippinas called seen as 10.

CHAP. 4.

Mafter THOMAS CANDISH.

Marilla, about fixtie leagues. Marilla is well planted and inhabited with Spaniards, to the number of fixe or feuen hundred perfons: which devell in a towne vnevalled, which hath three The defection or foure Block-houses, part made of wood, and part of stone, being indeed of no great strength: on other own they have one or two small Gallies belong to the Towne. It is a very rich place of Gold, and of Manilla. many other commodities; and they have yeerely traffique from Acapulco in Nuena Espanna, and Trade from also twenty or thirtie shippes from China, and from the Sanguelos, which bring them many Manilla, Marforts of marchandize. They bring great flore of gold with them, which they traffique and exchants of chichange for filuer, and give vveight for vveight. These Sanguelos are men of maruellous capacity, *A Marchants in dentifying and making all manner of things, especially in all handie crafts and sciences; and eue- called sanguein detuning and making all mainer of chings, especially in all maintenance and the source of the state of the yond them in that which they take in hand. For drawing and imbroidering upon Satten, Silke, waight for or Lavvne, either beaft, fovvle, fish, or vvoime, for livelinesse and perfectnesse, both in Silke, Sil- waight for uer, Gold, and Pearle, they excell Alfo the fourteenth day at night we entred the Straits be- Gold. tween the Island of Lucon, and the Iland of Camlaia.

The fifteenth of Ianuary we fell with an Island called Capul, and had betwirt the faid Island The Island of and another Island but a narrowe passage, and a rippling of a very great tide, with a ledge of Capul at which Rockes lying off the point of the Island of Capul: and no danger, but water enough a faire our men staybreadth off: and within the point a faire Bay, and a very good harborough in foure fathomes water hard aboord the shore within a Cables length. About tenne of the clocke in the morning we came to an anchor. Our Shippe was no fooner come to an anchor, but prefently there came One of the a Caze rowing abourd vs; wherein was one of the cheife Casiques of the Island, whereof there chiefe Gouerbeefeuen, who supposing that we were Spaniards, brought vs Potato-rootes, which they Island came call Comotas, and greene Cocos, in exchange whereof we gave his companie pieces of linnen, to about vs. the quantitie of a yard for foure Cocos, and as much linnen for a basket of Potato-rootes of a quart in quantitie; which rootes are very good meate, and excellent sweete, either rosted or boyled. This Casiques skinne was carried and cut with fundry and many strakes and denises all ouer his bodie. We kept him still aboord, and caused him to send those men which brought him aboord backe to the Island, to cause the rest of the Principals to come aboord : who were no sooner gone on shore, but presently the people of the Island came downe with their Cocos, and Potato-rootes, and the rest of the Principals likewise came aboord, and brought with them hennes, Hennes and and hogges: and they yied the same order with vs which they doe with the Spaniards. For they hogges. tooke for every hogge ( which they call Balbore ) eight Ryals of plate, and for every henne or cocke one ryall of plate. Thus we rode at anchor all that day, doing nothing but buying rootes, 40 Cocos, hennes, hogges, and fuch things as they brought, refreshing our selves. Here Thomas Erfola, the Spanish Pilot, feeking to betray vs to the Spaniards, was hanged.

We roade for the space of nine dayes, about this Island of Capel, where we had diverse kinds of fresh victualls, with excellent fresh water in enery bay, and great store of wood. The people The minner of this Island go almost all naked, and are tawny of colour. The men weare onely a stroope a- of the people bout their wastes, of some kind of linnen of their owne weating, which is made of Plantan- of capul. leaues, and another stroope comming from their backe under their twistes, which couereth their priny parts, and is made fast to their girdles at their nauels; which is this. Euery man and man- Astrange naile child among them, hath a nayle of Tynne thrust quite through the head of his prinie part, being in the yards of fplit in the lower ende, and rivetted, and on the head of the nayle is as it were a Crowne: which 30 is driven through their privities when they be yong, and the place groweth vp agtine, without for which pur-truth thereof, we our selues haue taken one of these nayles from a Sonne of one of the Kings, they we are in which was of the age of tenne yeeres, who did weare the fame in his priny member. This cuballs. stome was granted at the request of the women of the Countrey, who finding their men to be giuen to the fovvle finne of Sodomie, desired some remedie against that mischiefe, and obtained this before named of the Magistrates. Moreouer, all the males are circumcifed, having the Circumcifion foreskinne of their flesh cut avvay. These people vvholly vvorshippe the Deuill, and oftentimes have conference with him, which appeareth vnto them in most vgly and monstrous

On the three and twentieth, our Generall M. Thomas Candifb caused all the Principals of this Island, and of an hundred Islands more, which hee had made to pay Tribute vnto him (which Tribute was in Hogges, Hennes, Potatoes, and Cocos) to appeare before him, and made himfelfe and his Company knowne vnto them, that they were Englithmen, and enemies to the Spaniards; and thereupon fpred his Enfigne, and founded vp the Drummes, which they much maruel any great paine to the child: and they take this nayle out and in as occasion ferueth; and for the po ein Pegu

CH & P. 4.

The inhabitants of Capal, with all the Islands adioyning, promife to ayde the the Spaniards. Our departure from the Ifland of Capel. The lile of Malbat.

68

The Island of Mines of very

the Island of fine Gold, in

The Island of Negros, in nine degrees. Their departure from the Philippina's.

Ratechina.

11.0: 12. fmall Ilands, in 3.degrees, 10, minutes to the Southward. March, 1588. Our arrivall at Iana maier.

The Morifco or Arabian Tongue common in lawa.

Nine or ten of the Kings Ca-, with Victuals as they could swimme, with two great line Oxen, halfe a score of wonderfull led at. To conclude, they promifed both themselues and all the Islands thereabout, to ayde him, when soeuer hee should come againe to ouercome the Spaniards. Also our Generall gaue them, in token that wee were enemies to the Spaniards, Money back againe for all their Tribute which they had payed: which they tooke maruellous friendly, and rowed about our shippe, to shew vs pleasure, maruellous swiftly. At the last, our Generall caused a Saker to be shot off; whereat they English against wondered, and with great contentment tooke their leaves of vs.

Raia Bolambo-

The next day, being the foure and twentieth of Ianuary, wee fet fayle about fix of the clocke in the morning, and ran along the Coast of the Island of Manilla, shaping our course Northwest, betweene the lile of Manilla, and the lile of Masbat.

The eight and twentieth day, in the morning about feuen of the clocke, riding at an anchor 10 betwixt two Islands, wee espyed a Frigat vnder her two Coarles, comming out betweene two other Illands, which (as wee imagined) came from Manilla, fayling close abourd the shore, along the maine Illand of Panama. Here wee rode at anchor all that night, and perceived that certaine Spaniards (which came from Manilla to Ragaun, to fetch a new shippe of the Kings, there builded) had dispersed their Band into two or three parts, and kept great Watch in severall steedes, with Fires, and shooting off their Pieces. This Island hath much plaine Ground in it, in many places, and many faire and itraight Trees doe grow upon it, fit for to make excellent good Mafts for all forts of shippes. There are also Mynes of very fine Gold in it, which are in the custodie of the Indians. And to the South-ward of this place, there is another very great Island, which is not filbdued by the Spaniards, nor any other Nation. The people which inhabite it, are all 20 Negros, and the Island is called the Island of Negros; and is almost as bigge as England, standing in nine degrees: The most part of it seemeth to be very lowe Land, and by all likelyhood is

The nine and twentieth day of Ianuary, about fix of the clocke in the morning wee fet fayle, fending our Boat before, vntill it was two of the clocke in the afternoone, passing all this time as it were through a Strait, betwixt the faid two Islands of Panama, and the Island of Negros; and about fixteene Leagues off, wee espyed a faire opening, trending South-west and by South: at which time our Boat came aboord, and our Generall ient commendations to the Spanish Captaine, which wee came from the Euening before, by a Spaniard which wee had taken, and willed him to prouide good store of Gold; for hee meant for to fee him with his company at Ma- 30 within few yeeres; and that hee did but want a bigger Boat to have landed his men, or elfe hee would have feene him then; and so caused him to be set on shore.

The eight day of February, by eight of the clocke in the morning, wee efpyed an Island neere Gilolo, called Batochina, which standeth in one degree from the Equinoctiall Line, The foureteenth day of February, wee fell with eleuen or twelve very small Islands, lying very low and flat, full of Trees, and passed by some Islands which bee sunke, and have the drie Sands lying in the maine Sea. These Islands neere the Malucco's, stand in three degrees and ten minutes, to the Southward of the Line The first day of March having passed through the Straits of lana minor and lana major, wee 40 came to an anchor under the Southwest parts of Iaua maior; where wee espyed certaine of the people, which were fifting by the Sea fide, in a Bay which was under the Island. Then our Generall taking into the ship-hoat certaine of his company, and a Negro which could speake the Morifee Tongue, which hee had taken out of the great S. Anna, made toward those Fishers; which having elpyed our Beat, ranne on shore into the Wood, for feare of our men: But our Generall caused his Negro to call vnto them; who no sooner heard him call, but presently one of them came out to the shore side, and made answere. Our Generall by the Negro enquired of him for fresh Water, which they found, and caused the Fisher to goe to the King, and to certifie him of a shippe that was come, to haue Traffique for Victuals, and for Diamants, Pearles, or any other rich lewels that hee had. And on the twelfth of March, there came nine or ten of the Kings Canoas so deepely laden great and fat Hogges, a number of Hennes, Drakes, Geefe, Egges, Plantans, Sugar Canes, Sugar in Plates, Cocos, fiveet Oranges and fowre, Lymes, great store of Wine and Aqua-vita, Salt to featon Victuals withall, and almost all manner of Victuals else, with divers of the Kings Officers,

There came two Portugals to vs, which enquired of Don Antonio their King, then in England, and told vs of the lauanes, as followeth. The name of the King of that part of the Island was Raia Bolamboam, who was a man had in great maiestie and seare among them. The common people may not bargaine, fell, or exchange any thing with any other Nation, without spe- 60 ciall heence from their King; and if any fo doe, it is present death for him. The King himfelfe is a man of great yeeres, and hath an hundred Wives, his sonne hath fiftie. The custome of the Countrey is, that whenfoeuer the King doth die, they take the body so dead, and burne it, and preserve the asses of him, and within five dayes next after, the Wives of the said King fo dead, according to the custome and vie of their Countrey, every one of them goe together to The wines kill a place appointed, and the chiefe of the Women, which was neerest vnto him in accompt, hath themselves asa Ball in her hand, and throweth it from her, and to the place where the Ball refleth, thither ter their hafthey goe all, and turne their faces to the East-ward, and every one with a Dagger in their hand,

(which Dagger they call a (rife, and is as sharpe as a Rasor) stab themselves to the heart, and A strange orwith their hands all to be-bath themselues in their owne blood, and falling groueling on their der. faces, fo ende their dayes. This thing is as true as it seemeth to any hearer to be strange. The men of themselues be very politique and subtile, and singularly valiant, being naked men, in asperate, they dare not refuse it, though they die euery man in the execution of the same. For he ny action they undertake, and wonderfully at commandement and feare of their King. For ex-10 ample: If their King command them to vndertake any exploit, be it neuer fo dangerous or dewill cut off the heads of every one of them which return alive without bringing of their purpole to passe: which is such a thing among them, as it maketh them the most valiant people in all the Southeast-parts of the world: for they neuer feare any death. For beeing in fight with any Nation, if any of them feeleth himselfe hurt with Launce or sword, he will willingly runne himfelfe vpon the weapon quite through his body, to procure his death the more speedily, and in this desperate fort ende his dayes, or ouercome his enemie. Moreouer, although the men bee tawnie of colour, and goe continually naked, yet their women be faire of complexion, and goe more Faire women apparelled. They told vs further, that if their King Don Antonio, would come vnto them, they in land. 20 would warrant him to haue all the Malucos at commandement, befides China, Sangles, and the Don Aniesis

Illes of the Philippinds, and that he might be affured to have all the Indians on his fide that are in might be recei-Illes of the Philippinas, and that he might be address to have an the indians on the chick and which the country. After we had fully contented these Portugals, and the people of Iana which the East Indian. brought vs victualls in their Canous, they tooke their leaues of vs, with promise of all good entertainement at our returnes, and our Generall gaue them three great pieces of Ordnance at their

Thus the next day, being the fixteenth of March, we fet fayle towards the Cape of good Hope, They depart called by the Portugals, Cabe debuena Efperancea, on the Southermost coast of Africa. The from Isua the reft of March, and all the moneth of Aprill, we ipent in traverling that mightie and vaile Sea, 1588. betweene the Isle of lana, and the maine of Africa, observing the heavens, the Crofiers or South-30 pole, the other starres, the fowles, which are markes vnto the Sea-men of faire weather, foule weather, approching of Lands, or Islands, the winds, the tempests, the raines and thunders, with the alterations of tides and currents. The eleuenth of May in the morning one of the company went into the toppe, and espyed

Land bearing North, and North and by West off vs, and about noone we espeed land to beare West off vs, which as we did imagine was the Cape of Buena Esperança, whereof indeede wee were short some fortie or fiftie leagues: and by reason of the skantnesse of the winde, we stood along to the Southeast vntill midnight; at which time the winde came faire, and we haled along Westward. The twelfth and thirteenth dayes we were becalmed, and the skie was very hazie, and thicke, vntill the foureteenth day at three of the clocke in the afternoone, at which time 40 the skie cleared, and we espied the Land againe, which was the Cape called Cabo Falso, which cabo Falso, is short of the Cape de buena Esperança forty or fittie leagues. This Cape is very easie to be known. For there are right ouer it three very high hills, standing but a small way one off another, and the highest standeth in the middest, and the ground is much lower by the Sea side. The Cape of Good Hope, beareth West and by South from the faid Cabo Falfo. The fixteenth day of May, about foure of the clocke in the afternoone the Wind came vp at East a very stiffe gale, which held untill it was Saturday with as much wind as ever the Shippe could goe before at which time by fixe of the clocke in the morning we espied the Promontorie or Head-land, called the Cape de Buena Esperança, which is a reasonable high land, and at the They double Westermost point a little off the maine do shew two Hammocks, the one vpon the other, and the Cape de 50 three other Hammocks lying further off into the Sea, yet low land betweene and adioyning vn- Bona Sprance. to the Sea. This cape of Buena Esperança is set downe and accompted for two thousand leagues From Isuato from the Island of lana in the Portugall Sea-carts: but it is not so much almost by an hundred and the Cape of hundred and fiftie leagues, ruft nine weekes. indred and little leagues, nult nine weekes.

The eight day of lune, by breake of day we fell in light of the Island of S. Helena, seauen or lune 1588. eight leagues short of it, having but a small gale of winde, or almost none at all: insomuch as wee could not get vnto it that day, but flood off and on all that night. The next day having a prety They anchor easie gale of winde, we flood in with the shore, our Boat beeing sent away before to make the arthe II nd of harborough; and about one of the clocke in the afternoone, we came to an anchor in twelve fa- 5. Heleusthe

60 thomes water, two or three Cables length from the shore, in a very faire and smooth Bay, vinder 9. of lune. the Northwest-side of the Island. This Island is very high land, and lieth in the maine Sea, stan- S. Helme is in ding as it were in the middeft of the Sea, betweene the maine land of Africa, and the maine of the laritude of Brafilia, and the coast of Guinea: and is in fifteene degrees and fortie eight minutes to the South min. to the ward of the Equinottial line, and is distant from the Cape of Buena Efterança betweene five and Southward.

fiftie leagues, as we found by the running of our Ship. We were in running of these eighteene Bona Sperange

LIB. II.

fixe hundred leagues. Here we went on shore, and entred the Church, which was hanged with painted clothes, having an Altar with a picture of the Crucifixe and Bleffed Virgine in a Table. There is a causey to the Church, two houses also adioyning, a frame with two Bells, and a Crosse of free-stone. The valley where it stands is pleasant, and planted in every place either with fruit there of diuerle trees, or with herbes. There are fig-trees, which beare fruit continually, and matuellous plentiexcellentituits full: for, on every tree you shall have blossomes, greene figs, and ripe figs, all at once : and it is so all the yeere long: the reason is, that the Island standeth to neere the Sunne. There be also great ftore of Lymmon-trees, Orange-trees, Pomegranate-trees, Pomecitron-trees, Date-trees, which beare fruit as the Figge-trees doe, and are planted carefully and very artificially, with very pleafant walkes under and betweene them, and the faid walkes bee ouer-shadowed with the leaues 10 of the trees: and in every voide place is planted Parily, Sorell, Balil, Fenell, Annif-feed, Mustard-feed, Raddishes, and many speciall good herbes: and the fresh water brooke runneth thorough diverse places of this Orchyard, and may with very small paines be made to water any one bigge as a henne, and are of an ash-colour, and line in Couies twelue, sixteene, and twenty together, you cannot got tenne or twelve fcore, but you shall fet or spring one or two Coules at the Great store of Feafants. Torkresin great quantity.

Abundance of partridges in S. Helena.

Plentie of

of the Azores.

There is also vpon this Island great store of Partridges, which are very tame, not making any great hafte to flie away though one come very neere them, but onely to runne away, and get vp into the steepe cliffes; we killed some of them with a fowling Piece. They be within a little as least. There are likewise no lesse store of Fesants in the Island, which are surpassing those which 20 are in our Countrey in bigneffe, and in numbers of a companie. We found moreouer in this place great store of Guinie-cocks, which we call Turkies, of colour blacke and white, with red heads: they are much about the same bignesse which ours be of in England: their egges be white, and as bigge as a Turkies egge. There are in this Island thousands of Goates, which the Spaniards call Cabritos, which are very wild: you shall see one or two hundred of them together, and sometimes you may behold them going in a flocke almost a mile long. Some of them are as big as an Affe, with a mayne like an Horse, and a beard hanging downe to the very ground. We tooke and killed many of them for all their swiftnes: for there be thousands of them vpon the mountaines. Here are in like manner great store of swine which be very wilde, fat, and large; they keepe altogether upon the 30 mountaines, and will very fieldome abide any man to come neere them, except it bee by meere chance when they are found afleepe, or otherwise according to their kind, bee taken laid in the We found in the houses at our comming three slaves, which were Negros, and one which was borne in the Island of lana: For the Portugals vie to touch and refresh here at their returne from the Indies, and leane their ficke persons to be taken in by the next Fleet.

The twentieth day of Iune having taken in wood and water, and refreshed our felues with Our departure from S. Heleza. fuch things as we found there, and made cleane our flip, we fet fayle about eight of the clocke in the night toward England. At our fetting faile, we had the windeat Southeast, and wee haled away Northwest and by West. The winde is commonly off the shore at this Island of S. Helena. 40 On Friday in the morning beeing the three and twentieth day of August, at foure of the res two Mands clocke we haled East, and East and by South for the Northermost Islands of the Agores. On Saturday the foure and twentieth day of the faid moneth, by flue of the clocke in the morning we fell in fight of the two Islands of Flores and Corno, standing in thirtie nine degrees and 3. and failed away Northeaft.

The third of September we met with a Flemish hulke which came from Listone, and declared vnto vs the ouerthrowing of the Spanish Fleete, to the singular reioycing and comfort of

The ninth of September, after a terrible tempelt which carried away most part of our failes, by the mercifull favour of the Almightie, we recovered our long withed Port of Plimmonth in 50 England, from whence we fet forth at the beginning of our Voyage.

ALetter of Master THOMAS CANDISH to the Right Honourable the Lord HV NS DON, Lord Chamberlaine, one of her Maiefties most Honourable Pring Counsell, touching the successe of his Voyage about the World.

Ight Honourable, as your fauour heretofore hath beene most greatly extended towards me, fo I humbly defire a continuance thereof: and though there bee no meanes in me to deserve the same, yet the vttermost of my services shall not be wanting, when sever it 60 shall please your Honour to dispose thereof. I am humbly to desire your Honour to make knowne unto her Maiestie, the desire I haue had to doe her Maiestie seruice in the performance of this Voyage. And as it hath pleased God to give her the victory over part of her enemies, so I trust yer long to see her overthrow them all. For the places of their wealth, whereby they have maintained and made their warres, are now perfectly discouered; and if it please her Maintie, maintained and made their variety, at 100 periods; all the present in a present in resistance, with a very small power she may take the spoyle of themall. It hath pleased the Almightie to suffer me to circompasse the whole Globe of the World, entring in at the Streight of Magellan, and returning by the Cape de Buena Efterança. In which Voyage I have either discoursed, or brought certaine intelligence of all the rich places of the world that ever were knowne or disconered by any Christian. I nauigated alongst the Coast of Chili, Perm, and Nucua Espanna, where I made great spoyles: I burnt and sunke nineteene sayles of Ships small and great. All the Villages and Townes that euer I landed at, I burnt and spoyled and had I not beene discovered upon. the Coart, I had taken great quantitie of Treasure. The matter of most profit vnto me, was a 10 great ship of the Kings which I tooke at California, which ship came from the Philippinas, beeing one of the richest of merchandize that ever passed those Seas, as the Kings Register and mar-chants accounts did sheve: for it did amount in value to in Mexico to be fold. Which goods (for that my Ships were not able to containe the leaft part of them) I was inforced to fee, on fire. From the Cape of California, being the vetermost part of all Nueva Espanna, I nauigated to the Islands of the Philippinas, hard vyon the Coast of China; of which Country I have brought such intelligence as both not been heard of in these parts. The statelinesse and riches of which Country I feare to make report of, least I should not be credited for if I had not known fufficiently the incomparable wealth of that Countrey, I should have beene as incredulous thereof, as others will be rhat haue not had the like experience. I fayled along the Itlands of the 20 Maluces, where among some of the Heathen people I was well intreated, where our Countrey-men may haue trade as freely as the Portugals, if they will themselues. From thence I passed by the Cape of Buena Esperança, and found out by the way homeward the Island of S. Helena, where the Portugals vie to relieue themselues; and from that Island God hath suffered me to returne into England. All which services with my selfe, I humbly prostrate at her Maieflies feete, defiring the Almightie long to continue her Reigne among vs: for at this day shee is the most famous and victorious Prince that liueth in the World.

Master OLIVER NOORT. CHAP. 5.

Thus humbly defiring pardon of your Honour for my tediousnesse, I leave your Lordship to the tuition of the Almightie. Plimmonth this ninth of September , 1588.

Tom Honours most humble to command,

THOMAS CANDISM

The Voyage of OLIVER NOORT round about the Globe, beeing the fourth Circum-Nauigation of the same, extracted out of the Latine Diarie.

N the yeere 1598. on the second day of July, the Maurice and the Concord set * Captaine Av the yeare 1598, on the tecond day of 1017, the Anarice and the Concra let Capetine forth from Reterdam: and on the thirteenth of September, the Hung Fredering, Metan English and the Hope came vp to them, where they flayed for them on the Coalt of English man in the Hung Cantille Flow which had encompaled the Circumference with M. Themse Cantille. On the nineteenth of the next when they came before Planmouth, where the Vice-admiralls boat with fixe men forther when the Coalt of the Cantille they came before rummours, where the vice-dammals out with a differ fome view Hollanders in 10 fooke them. On the feuen and twentieth they tooke two ships of Bifeay, and after some view Hollanders in of them let them depart.

October the fourth, they met foure shippes, one of Amsterdam, another of England, and autisations; 25 two French comming out of Barbarie, which related of the terrible pethlence in that countrey, M. Dauier, and of which two hundred and fiftie thousand men in short space had died in Morocco. On the fixt, others afterthey were betwixt the Great Canarie and Teneriffe. On the eight, the Vice-admirall loft her wards in their they were betwirt the Great Canarie and Teneriffe. On the eight, the vice-admiran for the Boat, with one man, the night and winde feuering them. On the ninth, they had almost runne Voyages. Their Voyages. Their on shore on the Coast of Barbary, by mil-vnderstanding the English Pilot, who had bidden them exploses are fleere Southwest, and they held their course South, till they were within halfe a mile of Land. honours to On the third of November, they had fight of the Coast of Guines. On December the fourth, the English. 60 they were hard by Cape Palma, in 3. 2. On the tenth, they had fight of the Princes Ile, and Ilade! Principe. made to it with no little comfort, after they had beene fo long weather-beaten at fea. It flandeth in one degree, . They fent their Boats first for Discouerie, and having entred with a flagge of truce, a Negro comming with a like flagge to know what they would have. They deman- Treachery of ding prouision were kindly vsed, and Gerriss which knew the place, and could speake the Portu-gall tongue, with Captaine Melie, and one Iohn Breme, were suddenly and treacherously slaine; Captaine Peter Elias escaped by flight to the Boats, which were furnously affayled by the Portugalls, and the Generalls brother flaine, the rest hardly returning aboord. The Generalicalling a Councell of warre, they agreed to affault the Cattle, which having attempted with loffe, they burned all their Sugar houses, and with force prouided themselves with fresh water. On the seuenteenth they departed, but the South wind hindred them. On the fine and twentieth they reached Cape Confalso, where the wind vitally in the night bloweth from Land, in the day from Sea. Heere they went on thore and found two Dutch Ships , and learned that Peter Verbasens had flayed a moneth in this place, and buried eight and thirtie of his companie, many other being ficke. He entred the River of Congo, and was forced to retire hither, and a fortnight to before was departed for Anobon. He learned also that Captaine Cleerhagen, with a great part of his company were flaine in the Princes Island, the rest hardly escaping to and in their Ships. On the fixe and twentieth, they fet fayle from the Cape towards Brafil, Cape Saint Faire Cape. Cape Frie.

On the first day of Ianuarie, 1599, they passed the Isle Anabon, and found two degrees Southerly. On the eight and twentieth they had the Sunne in their Zenith. On the third of Februarie, they espied by night certaine low ground, on which the Concord had like to have made a satall discord. On the fift, they reached the Land of Brasil, at Cape Saint Thomas in two and twentie. On the fixt, they passed the Faire Cape, and in the Euening Cape Frie. On the ninth, they came to Rio I anero. After some losse of time, and their company by Portugal-wiles they departed to Saint Sebastian, where they had Fresh-water, Wood, and safe Har- 26 bour, but found no fruits. On the fourteenth of March, a cruell Storme affailed them, and feuered the Vice-Admirall and the Hope, which yet on the feuenteenth were restored agains to the Fleet. The Concord also leaked so much, that they agreed to emptie the goods, and for looke her, But the Scorbute increasing, and the Winter approaching, made them refolue to seeke the Isle of Saint Helena, which they did, but missed it, and therefore thought to releeue themselues in the Ascension, or some other Island. In 20%, they came to the Island, but barren and in-hospitall, faue that with Clubbes they knocked downe many Fowles called Malle Momen. But the Rockes without, and barrenneffe within forced their departure, and when on the first of Iune, they had thought to have encountred the Ille Ascension, they found it the Continent of Brasil: which they imagined to have beene fourescore miles distant. The Portugalls prohibiting their 30 landing, they came at last to the Isle of Saint Clara, and there erected Tents for their ficke people, some of which presently died. Heere they found little but Herbes, and two Trees of sower

Plumbes, which cured the ficke in fifteene dayes. The Island is a ' Mile in Compasse, and as farre derstand Dutch from the Continent. Here they burned the Concord, having before taken out what they pleafed : they also exposed two Malefactors to their forlorne fortunes. This Itle is in one and twentie degrees, fifteene minutes Southwards from the Line. On the fixteenth of July they determined to feeke Port Defire, which after many tempests they came to, on the twentieth of Septema ber in fortie feuen degrees fortie minutes. In an Island three miles from thence Southwards, they furnished themselves with store of Penguins & fishes. Of those Fowles they took fifty thousand, being as bigge as Geefe, with Egges innumerable, which prooued very refreshing to the diseased. 40 Here they careened their Ships and fet up a Smiths Forge. They went up the Rivers the fift of October, and going on Land, found Beafts like Stagges and Buffals, and multitudes of Oftreches: in one Nest they tooke nineteene Egges, which the Damme had forsaken. The Captaine of the Hope dying of the Scorbute, the Captaine of the Concord was chefen his successour, and the Ship also was termed the Concord. On the twentieth day, the Generall went on Land, to descrie the Country, giving strait charge to looke well to the Boats, and not to stirre from them, which they transgressing, were out of ambushes set on by thirtie Sauages, and three slaine, besides the fourth wounded. These Sauages were of admirable flature, painted vnto terrour, their Bowes short, their Arrowes headed with Stone. On the nine and twentieth they prepared to depart. On the fourth of Nouember, they 50 were neere Cape Virgines; the Land is low and plaine, by the whitenesse resembling England. Often they hence attempted to enter the Straights, but often entred straights with that attempt, repelled by tempestuous Windes, Raine, Hailes, Snowes, Sicknesse and Contention adding their subfidiarie affiftance. These sensible crosses were accompanied with losses of Anchors. Cables, and (that which is most irrecoverable) time, little leffe then fifteene moneths being spent before they could fasten any good entrance into the Straights; although they untily feemed engulphed in the straights all this time, and all their way hither, having paid the hues of almost a hundred of their company for Sea-custome. From the faid Cape the Land trends South-Westward: the Straights mouth is hence fourteene miles, and halfe a mile in breadth. On the South fide thereof they espied a man, with a kind of cloke, supposed therefore but fallly, to 60 be a Christian, his face painted, and stature ordinarie, whom in vaine they inuited to their company. They faw many others, and on the fine & twentieth they espied many men, in two Itlands neere the Cape, which they called Naffan, who forbad the Hollanders landing, with their Darts and other weapons, but were chased to an obscure Caue, where they were all staine, before the Dutch could winne entrance. There they found the amazed and affrighted mothers, lying prostrate on their Infants to protect them from that fatall Thunder, from whom they tooke foure Boyes and two Girles, and with them returned aboord. Of one of these haning learned to speake Dutch, they received this intelligence; the Lands name was Castemme, this People or Tribe cal- castemme led Enos. The name of the leffer Island Talete, both stored with Penguins, whose Flesh veelded Tacte. them food, their Skinnes clothing. They dwelt in Caues under the Earth. In the Continent Manners of are many Offriches whereon they feed : thefe they call Talcke, and another kind of wild beatls tants. Caffoni. They dwell in feuerall Tribes or Families apart, whereof one is called Kemenetes dwelling in Karay, another Kennekas in Karamay, a third Karaike in Morine, all of flature like ours,

10 except their broader and higher breats, painted, the men tying their printe member with a ftring, the women hiding theirs with a Penguins skinne. The men weare long haire, the women are shauen. They goe naked, onely weare a cloke of Penguin skinnes to the wast. The like couering they make of other birds called Oripegore; the Pengwins they call Conprogre. Thele skinnes they compact together with no leffe industrie and Art then Skinners doe with vs. There is a fourth Family or Tribe, named Tirimenen, and the place of their habitation Coin, of giantly Giantsfee the is a fourth Family or Tribe, named 2 friments, and the place of their habitation costs, or guidely next floric an-flature senne or twelue foote high, which have often warres with the other Lords or Tribes, next floric anwhom they call Pengwine-easers, whereby it feemes they vie other meat, haply Mans-fielh. On the fixe and twentieth, they tooke three hundred Pengwines on the Isles bearing that name. Before they come at these Pengwine Illes twixt two straits are shoalds, and an Island cal-20 lep Pantagoms. On the eight and twentieth day they passed to the Continent, and saw Whales. They encountered a pleasant River, but saw not the mouth of it; there were many Parrots and faire Trees, whereupon they called it Summer-bay. On the nine and twentieth, they fet layle for Summer Bay wood and water to Port Famine. Heere the Land trends fo farre to the South, that Pantagoms, Port Favine. and Terra Fuego leame afarre off to loyne. Here they found no foot prints of the late Philip P. ntogoms. Citie, now liker a heape of stones. The Magellane strait is distant thence about four Dutch is the Land on miles. The hills on both fides are freep and high all the yeere-long courred with flore of Snow. the South of Here they cut downe wood to make them another Boat. The Barkes of the Trees in these the Saraglas, parts bite like Pepper. But finding no good watering, and doubting also whether it were Philip-fince found Parts bite like Pepper, but finding no good watering, and doubting and whether tweeter minded to bee at Citie, or Port Famine indeed, they departed, and after two miles found a good Ruker, whence iffends. 30 they had easie prouision, on the first of December. The next day they passed to Cape Froward, Pictus Citie which having doubled with great danger, by reason of vnlate anchorage and contrary wind, C petronard. they anchored at eighteene fadomes, foure miles from thence in a great Bay. Heere was good watering, and an Herb like Neefwort, profitable against the Scorbute. Some Scoldiers talting of another Herb there growing, were well-nigh distracted for a time. A mile off they found a fit place to build their Boat , in which they spent twelve dayes. Here they had sight of Sebalt de Weert his Ship, one of Peter " Verhagens company, which with another of the same Fleet, had " Sir Jagnes beene driven backe out of the South lea. Hee reported that he had spent above sine moneths in Milu(or as the Strait, and loft by difeases, and otherwise, so many of his men, that of an hundred and ten, him, Man. 1) there were left but eight and thirtie, whence hee was not able to indure the stormes which al- went out Ge-40 faulted him in the South fea , but was forced hither , when the relt of the Fleet better man- nerallof this ned held on their course. Thus hard newes, stormes, and mutinies finished this moneth Haccambo

On the second of Ianuarie they made search of Maurice Bay, which they observed to extend Sings de Coprfarre to the East, and to receive store of Rivers flowing into it, at the mouthes whereof they consucceded. found great flore of Ice in their judgement neuer melted. For founding ten fathomes they could his here calnot reach the bottome ther of, this their Mid-fummer leafon not withhlanding. They contechned the Land allo to be broken I flands, which the height of the mountaines made to been continued and firms. They induced continual I raises, nor could set not be there but Mustles which tinued and firme. They indured continuall raines, nor could get ought there but Muskles, which was then chief on the eighth they going to gather, the leffer Boat out-failing her fellowes, two of her men were of the Indi-50 flaine and wounded by the Sauages. Their weapons were heave Clubbes, with Ropes tied to an company them, and long Darts of Wood. At the landing of the greater Boat they all fled. Having in-them, and long Darts of Wood. At the landing of the greater Boat they all fied. Having injoith, dured divers fromes, which indangered them on the Rocks in Mentile Bay, and some encounter of the Sauages which had left three Canoas under a high hill, and with itones defended them Maurice Bay. from the Hollanders, they departed on the feuenteenth day, and by a storme were driven into Ice all the Goofe Bay , three miles diffant , to called of the store of that Fowle their found fit for swim- year long in ming and long during, but vinable to file. Here the Vice-Admirall for duers mildemeanours, was by a Council of Warre adunded to be fet on land, which was accordingly executed, where Families or while beath. mine, or wilde beatts, or wilder men must need smake an end of his mutinous visquiet life. On  $\frac{10^{1000}}{d_0 H_{10} G}$ . the first of Februarie they entred a new Bay, which they called Popilb Bay, where the Admirall Menin Bay.

60 was like to have perithed on a funken Rocke. Heere they had store of stormes, thunders, light- 6 letty. nings; and Mufcles in a bread River which runnes intoit. On the feuen and twentieth they had view of a huge mountain of Ice in Goofe Bay. On the last of February they pasted Cape Defire in- Cap. Defire to the South lea, with thanks to the Almighty for that happy successe. This iea was not to peaceable, but that it entertained them with divers daies fformes, in which they loft their Boat. Their died in the Iffe

CH & P.5.

gall tongue, with Captaine Melic, and one John Breme, were fuddenly and treacherously flaine: Captaine Peter Efias escaped by flight to the Boats, which were furroully assayled by the Portugalls, and the Generalls brother flaine, the rest hardly returning aboord. The General calling a Councell of warre, they agreed to affault the Caitle, which having attempted with loffe, they burned all their Sugar houses, and with force prouided themselves with fresh water. On the seuenteenth they departed, but the South wind hindred them. On the fine and twentieth they reached Cape Confalso, where the wind vivally in the night bloweth from Land, in the day from Sea. Heere they went on thore and found two Dutch Ships, and learned that Peter Verbagens had flayed a moneth in this place, and buried eight and thirtie of his companie, many other being ficke. He entred the River of Congo, and was forced to retire hither, and a fortnight to before was departed for Anobon. He learned also that Captaine Cleerhagen, with a great part of his company were flaine in the Princes Island, the rest hardly escaping to and in their Ships. On the fixe and twentieth, they fet fayle from the Cape towards Brafil.

1599.

Cape Saint Faire Cape. Cape Frie. Rio lauero. S. Sebaftian.

On the first day of Ianuarie, 1599, they passed the Isle Anobon, and found two degrees Southerly. On the eight and twentieth they had the Sunne in their Zenith. On the third of Februarie, they espied by night certaine low ground, on which the Concord had like to have made a fatall discord. On the fift, they reached the Land of Brasil, at Cape Saint Thomas in two and twentie. On the fixt, they passed the Faire Cape, and in the Euening Cape Frie. On the ninth, they came to Rio Ianero. After some losse of time, and their company by Portugal-wiles they departed to Saint Sebastian, where they had Fresh-water, Wood, and lafe Har- 20 bour, but found no fruits. On the fourteenth of March, a cruell Storme affailed them, and feuered the Vice-Admirall and the Hope, which yet on the seuenteenth were restored agains to the Fleet. The Concord also leaked so much, that they agreed to emptie the goods, and forlooke her, But the Scorbute increasing, and the Winter approaching, made them resolute to seeke the Isle of Saint Helena, which they did, but miffed it, and therefore thought to releeue themselues in the Ascension, or some other Island. In 201, they came to the Island, but barren and in-hospitall, faue that with Clubbes they knocked downe many Fowles called Malle Memen. But the Rockes without, and barrenneffe within forced their departure, and when on the first of Iune, they had thought to have encountred the Ille Ascension, they found it the Continent of Brasil: which they imagined to have beene fourescore miles distant. The Portugalls prohibiting their 30 landing, they came at last to the Isle of Saint Clara, and there erected Tents for their sicke people, some of which presently died. Heere they found little but Herbes, and two Trees of sower *By Miles vn. Plumbes, which cured the ficke in fifteenedayes. The Island is a * Mile in Compasse, and as farre deritand Dutch from the Continent. Here they burned the Concord, having before taken out what they pleafed : they also exposed two Malefactors to their forlorne fortunes. This lile is in one and twentie degrees, fifteene minutes Southwards from the Line. On the fixteenth of July they determined to feeke Port Defire, which after many tempests they came to, on the twentieth of Septema ber in fortie feuen degrees fortie minutes. In an Island three miles from thence Southwards, they furnished themselves with store of Penguins & fishes. Of those Fowles they took fifty thousand, being as bigge as Geefe, with Egges innumerable, which prooued very refreshing to the diseased. 40 Here they careened their Ships and fet vp a Smiths Forge. They went vp the Rivers the fift of October, and going on Land, found Beafts like Stagges and Buffals, and multitudes of Offreches; in one Nest they tooke nineteene Egges, which the Damme had forfaken. The Captaine of the Hope dying of the Scorbute, the Captaine of the Concord was chefen his successour, and the Ship allo was termed the Concord.

Part Defire.

On the twentieth day, the Generall went on Land, to descrie the Country, giving strait charge to looke well to the Boats, and not to ftirre from them, which they transgreffing, were out of ambushes set on by thirtie Sauges, and three slaine, besides the fourth wounded. These Sauges were of admirable flature, painted vnto terrour, their Bowes short, their Arrowes headed with Stone. On the nine and twentieth they prepared to depart. On the fourth of November, they 50 were neere Cape Virgines; the Land is low and plaine, by the whitenesse resembling England. Often they hence attempted to enter the Straights, but often entred straights with that attempt, repelled by tempestuous Windes, Raine, Hailes, Snowes, Sicknesse and Contention adding their subfidiarie affistance. These sensible crosses were accompanied with losses of Anchors, Cables, and (that which is most irrecoverable) time, little lesse then sitteene moneths being front before they could fasten any good entrance into the Straights; although they justly feemed engulphed in the straights all this time, and all their way hither, having paid the lives of almost a hundred of their company for Sea-custome. From the said Cape the Land trends South-Westward: the Straights mouth is hence fourteene miles, and halfe a mile in breadth. On the South fide thereof they espied a man, with a kind of cloke, supposed therefore but fallly, to 60 be a Christian, his face painted, and stature ordinarie, whom in vaine they inuited to their company. They faw many others, and on the fine & twentieth they espied many men, in two Itlands neere the Cape, which they called Naffan, who forbad the Hollanders landing, with their Darts and other weapons, but were chased to an obscure Caue, where they were all slaine, before the Dutch could winne entrance. There they found the amazed and affrighted mothers, lying proftrate on their Infants to protect them from that fatall Thunder, from whom they tooke foure Boyes and two Girles, and with them returned aboord. Of one of these having learned to speake Dutch, they received this intelligence; the Lands name was Castemme, this People or Tribe cal- castemme. led Enoo. The name of the leffer Itland Taleke, both stored with Penguins, whose Flesh veelded Tacke. them food, their Skinnes clothing. They dwelt in Caues under the Earth. In the Continent Manners of them food, their Skinnes crothing. I ney dwelf in Caues vines the Latti. In the Continent the Latti. The Latti. The Continent the Latti. The Latti. The Latti. The Continen Cassoni. They dwell in severall Tribes or Families apart, whereof one is called Kemeneses dwelling in Karay, another Kennehas in Karamay, a third Karaike in Morine, all of flature like ours, 10 except their broader and higher breafts, painted, the men tying their prime member with a ftring, the women hiding theirs with a Penguins skinne. The men weare long haire, the women are shauen. They goe naked, onely weare a cloke of Penguin skinnes to the wast. The like copering they make of other birds called Origegore; the Pengwins they call Conprogre. Their skinnes they compact together with no lesse industrie and Art then Skinners doe with vs. There is a fourth Family or Tribe, named Tirimenen, and the place of their habitation Coin, of giantly Giantisfee the flature senne or twelve foote high, which have often warres with the other Lords or Tribes, whom they call Pengwine-enters, whereby it feemes they vie other meat, haply Mans-fielh.

On the fixe and twentieth, they tooke three hundred Pengwines on the Ifles bearing that name. Before they come at these Pengwine Illes twixt two straits are shoulds, and an Island cal-20 lep Pantagoms. On the eight and twentieth day they passed to the Continent, and saw Whales. They encountered a pleafant River, but faw not the mouth of it; there were many Parrots and faire Trees, whereupon they called it Summer-bay. On the nine and twentieth, they fet fayle for Summer Bay wood and water to Port Famine. Heere the Land trends fo farre to the South, that Pantagoms, Port Favine. and Terra Fuego iceme afarre off to loyne. Heere they found no foot prints of the late Philip- P. ntagems. Citie, now liker a heape of stones. The Magellane strait is distant thence about four Dutch is the Landon miles. The hills on both fides are steep and high all the yeere-long covered with store of Snow. the South of Here they cut downe wood to make them another Boat. The Barkes of the Trees in these the Strights, parts bite like Pepper. But finding no good watering, and doubting also whether it were Philip- fince found Citie, or Port Famine indeed, they departed, and after two miles found a good River, whence if indeed. 30 they had easie promition, on the first of December. The next day they pasted to Cape Froward, Politic Citie. which having doubled with great danger, by reason of vnlafe anchorage and contrary wind, CpcFremard.

they anchored at eighteene fadomes, foure miles from thence in a great Bay. Heere was good watering, and an Herb like Neefwort, profitable against the Scorbute. Some Scoldners tasting of another Herb there growing, were well-nigh diffracted for a time. A mile off they found a fit place to build their Boat, in which they frent twelve dayes. Here they had fight of Sebalt de Weert his Ship, one of Peter " Verhagens company, which with another of the same Fleet, had " Sir Jaques beene driven backe out of the South fea. Hee reported that he had spent above size moneths in Mark (or as the Strait, and loft by difeases, and otherwise, so many of his men, that of an hundred and ten, him, Manny there were left but eight and thirtie, whence hee was not able to indure the stormes which al- went out Ge-40 faulted him in the South fea, but was forced hither, when the rest of the Fleet better man- nerallof this ned held on their course. Thus hard newes, stormes, and mutinies finished this moneth Flict; who and yeare. On the fecond of Ianuarie they made fearch of Maurice Bay, which they observed to extend Simon de Coor-farre to the East, and to receive store of Rivers flowing into it, at the mouthes whereof they restricteded. found great flore of Ice in their judgement neuer melted. For founding ten fathomes they could has been calnot reach the bottome thereof, this their Mid-fummer leaton notwithstanding. They coniectus led Paery ared the Land also to be broken Islands, which the height of the mountaines made to seeme continued and firme. They indured continuall raines, nor could get ought there but Muskles, which was then chief on the eighth they going to gather, the leffer Boat out-failing her fellowes, two of her men were of the Indi-50 flaincand wounded by the Sauages. Their weapons were hear's Clubbes, with Ropes tied to an company them, and long Darts of Wood. At the landing of the greater Boat they all field. Having indicated duers ftormes, which indangered them on the Rocks in Mentile Bay, and fome encounter 1600.

of the Sauages which had left three Canoas under a high hill, and with itones defended them Maurice Bay. from the Hollanders, they departed on the feuenteenth day, and by a storme were driven into Ice all the Goofe Bay, three miles diffant, fo called of the flore of that Fowle their found fit for fwim- years long in ming and long during, but vinable to frie. Here the Vice-Admirall for divers middemeanours, was the Straights by a Councell of Warre adjudged to be fet on land, which was accordingly executed, where Fa- forthard Sch. mine, or wilde beafts, or wilder men must needs make an end of his mutinous vinquiet life. On de wilder the first of Februarie they entred a new Bay, which they called Popish Bay, where the Admirall Monte Bay, 60 was like to have perithed on a funken Rocke. Heere they had store of stormes, thunders higher 6 le Bry. nings; and Mufeles in a bread River which runnes intoit. On the feuen and twentieth they had 10 1/10 Bay. view of a huge mountain of Ice in Goofe Bay. On the last of February they pasted Cape Defire in- Cap. Defire to the South lea, with thanks to the Almighty for that happy facceffe. This fea was not fo peaceable, but that it entertained them with divers daies ftormes, in which they loft their Boat. Their died in the Ifle company was now an hundred fortie feuen. On the twelfth of March they loft fight of the fed and tooke. This ship they said was the Kings, fent with Lard and Meale to Aranco and 20

Conception, where they have warre with the Indians. The Pilot certified them, that it was impossible for them to recouer S. Maries, from whence they had chased this shippe to thirtie fine degrees, by reason of the Southerly winds. They told them of two shippes of warre waiting for intelligence of their comming in Arica. They hereupon presently determined for Val Paraile, and to loft their Vice-admiral altogether: whom they supposed to have loft that Isle of S. Maries, by the wrong placing thereof in Planeius his Mappe, in thirty eight degrees, whereas it is in thirty feuen degrees and fiftene minutes. They themselves had also beene deceived, but for notes of Captaine Melis, the Englishman which they had and followed. They heard also of Simon de Cordes his arrivall there, who by a Spaniard diffembling amity, was invited to land, and their heads fet vpon poles, and in a glorious oftentation shewed to the Spaniards in Conception.

The Spaniards made faire femblance of kindnesse, so to have possessed themselves of their two shippes, of which they fent notice to Lima, but the Hollanders mistrusting departed they knew not whither. The Spaniards in Lyma had received intelligence a yeere before their comming

In Val Paraifo or S. Iago they tooke two shippes, and flew many Indians, but the Spaniards were fled. This Val Paraifo is in three and thirtie degrees of the South latitude, and S. lago is from it eighteene miles within land, a Towne fertile of Wine much like Claret in tail and co-fo betrayed to the Indians butchery, with twenty three men, beeing miltaken for Spaniards, 30

Cici drinke.

Vice admirall, whom having in vaine expected, they went to the Iland La Mocha, in thirtie eight degrees, in the midit whereof is an high mountaine, cleaning it felfe in the toppe to yeeld waters to the lubiect valley. Here they bartered Hatchets and Kniues for Sheep, Hennes, Maiz. Battalas, and other fruits. They went to the towne which hath some fiftie houses of strawe, long, with one doore, into which they might not be admitted. They gave them drinke called Ciei, somewhat towerish, made of Mays, which the toothlesse old women chew (supposing that the elder the Women are, the better shall their drinke be) and steepe it in water, referring it for necessary vie, and for their drunken feasts, drinking in a misordered order at the found which one makes with his mouth, according to their Bacchanall mysteries, measuring to each his proportio- 10 ned measure with vnmeasurable disproportion. They have many vviues which they buy of their Parents, so that the Father of many daughters is the richest man. Their life is loose, scarcely fubiect to any law. If any kill another, the kinred of the flain reuenge it, vnleffe fome interceffore prevaile to procure a yeerely Cici-festivall in recompence. The Inhabitants of Chili observe like customes. They are clothed about and belowe with garments made of the wooll of large Sheepe with long necks, which they vie also to burthens, of which kind they would fell none to the Dutch, but of another fat kind not much vnlike ours. This Island is about fixe miles from the Continent. From it eighteene miles lieth another, called S. Maries, in thirty feuen degrees, and fifteene minutes of Southerly latitude. Here they had fight of a Spanish shippe, which they cha-

S. Maries an

Val Paraifo.

Note the helps which the Englishmens notes. W. Adams

Durch had by makes mention of this fight, who in the fame thip came of the Hollanders, and of the names of their chiefe men, and prouided themselves accorto lapes.

lour. There are plenty of Sheepe which they kill onely for their fewet, wherewith they lade 40

Warres betwixt the Spaniards & Chili. Bald, uia. Imperial.

Fertility of

whole shippes. The whole Countrey is fruitfull. Here they received letters from Derick Gerritz, Captaine of the Flying Hart, one of Verhagens companie, who thinking to trade with the Spaniards there, having but nine found men in his shippe, was suddenly assaulted, wounded, and impriloned, where he wrote these miserable lines. His famine proceeded from the missing of S. Maries Iland, voon that wrong placing in the Mappe aforefaid, so that meere famine brought him to these Straits. In S. lago they had intercepted Letters, which related the occurrents of the warres of Chili. the Inuians rebelling against the Spaniards, and forcing Baldinia, the foure and twentieth of November, 1599. Ilaying and carrying away captive the Inhabitants. Two hundred Spaniards fent from Lyma did againe there fortifie. The Indians likewise besieged the Citie Imperial, and 50 had now almost familhed the Spaniards. These Indians are good and expert souldiers, of which fine thousand were in this expedition: three thousand of them Horsemen, skilfull at their Launces, and an hundred Shot, seventie Costlets. All which furniture they had taken from the Spaniards in many victories. They to hate the Spaniards, that of whomfoeuer they kil, they plucke out his heart and bite it, and make drinking veffels of their skuls. They vie Orations to incourage them to the maintenance of their priftine libertie against the Spanish tyrannie. They have one chiefe Captaine onely in time of Warre. The first choise of him in their first Spanish warre was in this fort: A heavy piece of timber was by all the Competitors carried on their shoulders, which while it wearied the most to beare fiue or fixe houres, one was found strong enough to endure it foure and twenty together, and thereby attained this Ducall honour. The Region of 60 Chili, from S. Iago to Baldinia, is the most fertile in the world, and of most wholesome ayre, infomuch that few are there ficke; yea, a fword put vp into the scabbard all wet with the dewe, doth not therewith ruft. Fruits, Mays, Hogges, Horles, Kine, Sheepe, Gcats, are plentifull and wander in great herds, befides Gold-mines. In the facke of Baldinia they burned Houfes, Tem-

OLIVER NOORT. CHAP. 5.

ples, Monasteries, and striking off the heads of their Images, cried, Downe goe the gods of the Spaneards. They thrust Gold into their mouthes, and bid them satiate themselves with that for which they had raifed fuch perfecutions, and of which they made fuch unfatiable profecu-

On the first of Aprill they entred the Bay La Guasco, and thence on the seuenth departed, 1a Guasco, On the eleuenth they came into a great nooke called Morre Gorch, tenne miles from which is Mone Gorch & Morre Morrene, from which the flore is extended to Aricca, all which tract to S. Francis hill M. Marren. is viually subject to Southwinds, and farre in the Sea the Winde variable. On the twentieth, the aire was darke, that a man could not fee aboue a stones cast. The cause was a cloud of dust Cloud of dust, 10 like meale, which whited their clothes in like manner. The Spanish Pilot told them it was vitall in those parts, by them called Arenales. It lafted all day, and caused the Generall to loose his two other conforts till two dayes after. On the fine and twentieth, they favve Lyma bea_ Lyma ring East from them. Here the Negroes confessed, that in one of the shippes which they had taken, the Captaine enuying the Hollanders such wealth, when he save hee could not escape, Intelligence of had throwne into the Sea three Boats loading of Gold. The Pilot being examined, confeiled Gold in Saint that there were two and fiftie Chefts of Gold, whereof each had foure Aroben, and five hundred Maries. Pots, in each of which, was eight, tenne, or twelve pounds of Gold. He caused also everie man to bring foorth whatfoeuer hee had and throw it into the Sea. This Gold came from Saint Maries Island, which three or foure Spaniards possessed imploying two thousand 20 Indians in the Mine.

On the nine and twentie, they espied two sayles, and gaue them chase in vaine, those Ships built for that Sea(where from Panama to Lyma they fayle most-what against the wind which is vitally constant) out stripping the Hollanders exceedingly. The twentieth of May, after that they had laboured in vaine to attaine the Itle of Coques in fine degrees of Notherly latitude, they . 1. Coques. purposed to aucid the danger of the Spanish men of warre, whereof they had intelligence to fet sayle to the Ladicues, and thence to the Philippinas. Much raine they had in the way, not without this benefit to supply their want of water. The thirtieth of June, the Spanish Pilot was for ill demeanures, by publike sentence cast ouer-boord. A prosperous wind happily

On the fifteenth of September, they had fight of the Ladrbires. On the fixteenth, the Indians Guard, an came in their Canons, with Fish, Coques, Bonnasas, Rootes, Sugar-canes, to barter for eld pieces of Hando's yron: sometimes they might number two hundred of these Canons, with two, three, or hie men in each, all crying, Hiero, Hiero, that is, Tron, Tron, with greedinesse overturning their Canons against the shippes side, which they regarded not, beeing expertswimmers, and could easily recouer their Boats, goods, and selues. They were subtile decemers, couering a Basket of Cogno shels, with a little Rice in the toppe, as if they had been full of Rice; and vpon fit opportunitie fnatching a Sword out of the scal-bard, and leaping into the Sea, where with deepe and long diuing, they secured themselves from shot. The Women are herein equall to the men. They will fetch a piece of yron from the bottome of the Sea. Their Boats are neatly compact, of fifteene 40 or twenty foot long, and 1 . broad, wherewith they faile against the wind, and if they must turne, they neuer alter their fayle, but with the Poope cut the waves. Their Women couer their primitie with a leafe, otherwise naked both men and women, like the pictures of Adam and Eue. They are libidinous, and haue thereof many pockie testimonies. This Iland was called Guana, neither faw they any other. It was twentie miles large. These fruits were very comfortable to their ficke men of the Scorbute.

On the feuenteenth, they fet fayle for the Philippina. On the twentieth, they had Ice, being Philippina. then in three degrees. Sixe weekes together they dranke only raine water. On the fourteen: of October, they espied land, and thought, but fally, that it had beene the Cape of the Holy Cape San Clo Ghost. On the fixteenth day, there came a Bally or Canon, and in the same a Spaniard, which Spirite. 50 fearing to come aboord, they displayed a Spanish slagge, and attired one like a Friar to allure him. Which taking effect, the Generall faluted him, and told him they were Frenchmen, with the Kings commission bound for Manila, but wanting necessaries, and not knowing where they now were, having loft their Pilot. The Spaniard answered, this place was called Bay la Bay, espaby, tenen or eight miles to the North, from the straight of Manilla. The Land was fertile, and hee commanded the Indians to bring Rice, Hogges, and Hennes: which was prefently effected, and fold for readie money. His name was Henry Nunes. The next day Francisco Rodrigo, the Gouernour came to the Ship and did likewife. The Indians go most naked, their skinnes drawne out with indelible lines and figures. They pay for their heads to the Spaniard, tenne single Ryalls for every one about twentie yeeres old. There are few Spaniards, and but one Priest which is 60 of great effeeme: and had they Priests enough, all the neighbour Nations would bee thin ect to the Spaniard. Being furnished with necessarie prouision, and now also discoucred, they departed for the Straight of Manilla, and were in no small danger of a Rocke the same night. This Straight of whele Tract is wast, barren, and full of Rockes. A storme of wind had almost robbed them Marie.

CHAP. 5.

* Caldwer 2 Londoner. more terrible. On the three and twentieth, some went on Land, and eat Palmitos, and dranke water, after which followed the bloudie Fluxe, whether of this cause, or the landing after to long a being at Sea, vncertaine. The foure and twentieth, they entred the ftraight and fayled by the Island in the midst, and in the Euening passed by the Isle Capul, seuen miles within the straight, neere which they found many Whirle-Pooles, which at first seemed Shoalds but they could find no bottome. The people were all fled. Heere they loft a Londoner. Iohn * Caldwey, an excellent Musician surprized, as was suspected, by some insidiarie Indians ; whereupon they burned their Villages. Manilla is eightic miles from Capal, which now 10 they left to attaine the other, but in a calme winde, with violent working of the wanes, were much toffed without much danger, by reason of the depth. They wanted a Pilot, and their Maps were vncertaine. The leventh of November, they tooke a China lunke, laden with provision for Manilla.

the South-East, that in their stormie and tedious voyage, they had not encountered a

Mexicantrade ycerely at

The owner was of Canton, the Master and Mariners of Chincheo. This Master was expert in the Portugall tongue, and their Indian affaires, which happened verieluckily to the Hollanders ignorant of their course. These told them that in Manilla were two great Shippes, which from new Spaine yeerely sayle thither; that there was also a Dutch Shippe bought at Malaua: These ride before Manilla, and there are two Castles or Forts to secure them; the Citie also walled about, and without it aboue fifteene thousand Chinois Inhabitants, occu- 28 pied in marchandize and handy-crafts: And that foure hundred China Shippes come this ther yeerely from Chincheo, with Silke and other precious marchandife, betwixt December and Easter. They added that two were shortly expected from Iapon with Iron, other mettalls and victualls. On the fifteenth, they tooke two Barkes laden with Hennes and Hogges, Which were to bee paid for tribute to the Spaniards, for which they gaue them some linnen bolts in recompence. They passed by the like Bankingle, and another called Mindore, right against which is the Isle Lon-bon, two miles distant, and betwixt them both, is another lester Island, neere which is fafe passage for Ships. They agreed upon confultation to stay in expectation of the Iaponian Ships, at an Anchor

(for the East wind hath the Monarchy of that season in those parts) in fifteene degrees of North

The riches arile more out of trafficke, then fertilitie. On the third of December they tooke one of the Iapon Ships of fiftie tunnes, which had fpent five and twentie dayes in the voyage.

The forme was strange, the forepart like a Chimney , the sayles of Reed , or Matt twisted , the Anchors of Wood, the Cables of Straw. The Iapanders make themselues bald, except a tuft left in the hinder part of the head. The Iefuites have the managing of the Portugall trafficke in Iapon, having made way thereto by their preaching, and are in reputation with their con-uerts, as Demi-gods: neither admit they any other order of Religion to helpe them. The Generall obtained at easie rate one of these woodden Anchors for his vie, and some quantitie of prowifion. On the ninth, they tooke a Barke laden with Coquo Wine, like Aqua-vice, the people 40

Latitude. The Itle Lufon is bigger then England and Scotland, to which many Islands adiovne. 30

Bankingle. Mindere. Lm-bou.

Luffen

Isponian ships and men.

There are fome Francis-

Fight with and Indians.

all fled; and another with Rice and Hennes. On the fourteenth, the Ships came from Manilla, and there passed betwirt them a Seafight. The Spanish Admirall came so neere, and was stored with men, that they entred the Dutch Admirall, and thought themselues Masters thereof, fixe or seven still laying at one Hollander: the Vice-Admirall also set vpon the smaller Ship. All day the two Admiralls were fast together, and the Dutch over-wearied with multitudes, were now vpon point to yeeld, when the Admirall rated their cowardife, and threatned to blow them vp with Gun-powder prefently. This feare expelled the other, and the dread of fire, added reall fire to their courages, infomuch that they renued the fight, and cleared the Ship of her new Masters, which had no leffe labour to cleare their owne Shippe from the Dutch, which was no fooner done, but the Sea challenged Durch victory, her for his owne, and deucured her in one fatall morfell, into his vinatiable paunch. The people of swamme about, crying, Misericerdia, Misericordia, which a little before had cried in another dialect, Maina peros, Maina peros. Of these miserable wretches were two hundred, befides fuch as were before drowned or flaine. But the fire was almost as dangerous to the Dutch, as the water to the Spanish; by often shooting, the Timbers being ouer-heat, threatned by light flames to make the Dutch accompanie the Spaniards into Neptunes entrailes. But feare awaked diligence, and diligence cast this feare also into a dead sleep, the bleffed Trinitie in almost an vnitie of time, dinerting a trinitie of deaths, by yeelding, finking, firing. But in this divine mercie, they forgate not their inhumane feritie to the fwimming remainders of the enemie, entertaining them with Pikes, Shot, yea (especially a Priest in his ha- 62 bite) with derifion. In the Shippe were fiue Spaniards found dead with filuer Boxes about them, containing little confecrated Schedules, teltimonies of great and bootleffe superfittion, in which they exceed the European Papifts in the midft of Spaine and Rome, Fine

Hollanders were slame and twentie six wounded in the fight, the whole company in the Ship being but fine and thirtie. The Pinnasse had but fine and twentie, and could not withstand Dutch Pinthe violence of five hundred armed men in the enemies Vice-Admirall, some Spaniards, some natie taken, Indians, which after long fight tooke her. These two were the Mexican Shippes, which veerely trade in the Philippinas for Silke, Gold, and Muske, with other commodities of

Hence they departed for Bornes, to repaire the torne Ship, distant from Manilla one humdred and eightie miles, this being in fine degrees, Manilla in fourteene degrees forty fine minutes, (Miles you must in all this storie understand in the Dutch account. ) They sayled by Bolutan, a Boutan 10 great Island, one hundred and eightie miles long. On the fixe and twentieth they arrived at Bornes in a great Bay, containing some three miles in compasse, the water still, the ground good Bornes. for ancorage, the neighbour River well stored with Fish, which the Fisher-men there dwelling changed plentifully for linnen clothes. The Generall fent to the King for license to trade. The people were very defirous of China peeces of linnen, which they had taken before Marilla, but little respected that which they brought out of Holland. On the eight and twentieth, the Pflot which hee had fent to the King returned, and a Praw of the Kings with him, in which were two braffe Peeces, and the Kings Banner. The Gunner was of Patana, in much repute with the King. He mildoubted that they were Spaniards, untill his officers had fearched. and found the contrary. Here they traded for Pepper, with the Patanees, which feeme to bee of Chinese originall and observe their customes, inhabiting in a Region of their owne. Meane while they had learned that the Borneans intended treason toward them, and to begin the new yeare, Ianuarie first, 1601. faw an hundred Prawes affembled, and under colour of presents from the King, they fought to enter the Ship, till the Dutch vigilance and threats made them give ouer their deligne, with colourable excuses. A Patane was the author of this treacherie, which had staine the Portugalls not long before, and taken their shippe, with like wile in vnlike

This Island Borneo, is one of the greatest in East India. The Citie of the same name, is scituate in a mirie foyle, and in their Praw they may paffe from one house to another. It containeth three thousand houses, besides many further vp-land. It is very populous, the Inhabitants tall, subtle; goe armed all of them be they poore Husband-men, or Fisher-men. Their armes are Bowes, lauelins pointed with Iron, Forkes, Quiuers with venomed Darts, which poylon to death where they draw bloud. They are all Mahumetans, and will die sooner then tafte of lard. neither keepe they any swine. They have many wives, those wittie, warie in trading, bold and couragious : one of them rudelier handled by a Hollander, with a Jauelin had dispatched him, if her force had not beene intercepted. They are clothed with linnen, from the wast downswards : the baser fort goe all naked : they weare on their heads a cotten Turbant. The King a child, was under a Protector. The Nobles are proud, graue, and much observed. In the midst of their Prawes flood a table with filuer veffels, for their Bettele and Arecea, which they viually are chewing. Seeing little hope of trade, they determined to fet fayle for Bantam. The third of I anuarie, in the darke night foure Borneans came to the Ship, with purpose to cut the Cable, so to bring the Ship on ground : neither had they any more anchors but one left them on boord, and that one by which they road. But being perceived and shot at, they left their Praw, which the Hollanders tooke with them, having lost their Boat at Manilla. The next morning they fet faile, and espying a Junke of Iapan, learned of them that they were bound for Manilla, and forced for succour to Bornee, had spent foure moneths waiting for their voyage. The Captaine was Emanuel Powie a Portugall, then dwelling at Languafacke in Iapan, the Pilot a Chinefe, the company Iapanders. These told them of a great Holland Ship by tempests shaken, to have put William Adams in at lapan, the company by famine and sickenesse all but fourteene dead. They came first to an Englishin at 14900, the company by tamine and incaction as the Kings direction removed to Atonia, man, went chief Pilot in in 36 7. They road there in safe harbour, with foure anchors, and had freedome of their persons this Ship, and 50 and trade, and to make a new Ship to goe whether they would. They coniectured hereby that lived above it was Verbagens his Admirall Ship of two hundred and fiftie Tunnes : being as this Captaine twentie yeeres sold them, well furnished with Ordnance, Ryalls of eight, and commodities. The Generall in Iapan. Of defired this Captaine at his returne, to remember his kindest greeting to his Countrey-men, and him you may after other kindnesses departed, having given him a Passe at his request, in the name of Grane hereafter. Marrice. On the thirteenth they passed the line the third time. They fayled at this time in He lately died, much feare and danger for want of a Pilot, and good Cards. On the fixteenth they tooke a 31 heare, at Junke of lor, and furnished themselves with a skilfull Pilot out of hers, without whom he had France al pofmall likelihood in those dangerous Seas to haue escaped shipwracke. The Islands were many, min Island.

808 Banta, Crimati (which yeelds Diamonds, which they sell at Malacca) and others, besides Crimati. sholds. They had now but one Anchor left, and the Cable thereof worne and weake. On the twentie eight they came to Iortan, and heard of Holland Ships at Bantam. Heere they bought Intan. Mace and prouision. Isrtan hath a thousand houses all of Timber. The King was absent at Passavan, the yeres before he had besieged Balambea, & destroyed the King with all his kindred.

very rigid in that I winish superstition. The Pagodes and Idols argue permission of Estimike, & ancienter Indian Pates, Therbiefe Priest relides in a place without the Citie of Ierzen, a man of an hundred and twentic yeres which hath many wines to keepe him warme, & with their milke to mourish him, eating no other meat, Departing hence; they faw a great Portugali Ship of fixe hundred Tunnes fet fail on the shoalds, which was going to Amboyna, to fortifie there against the Inhabitants; and to prohibite all other Nations trade.; The fift of Februarie; they passed the fireight between Balambea and Raly. And leaving land North East from them, on the eleventh foure degrees, fortie fine minutes, and on the foure and twentieth, twentie eight degrees, tenne minutes; On the first of April; thirtie degrees, fiftid minutes. On the mineteenth, the calmes and croftle winders caused a fer allowance of wester to be proportioned. On the twentie fourth at night they faw a lightlike fire about fourse ander to the North-West, whereby they were by Gods grace preferred from hazard. For by their reckoning they held theinfelues two hundred miles dutant from the Cape, whereas this fire gaue notice of land neered. The next day their height was thirtie foure degrees, and thirtie five minutes. The calmes gaid them license tomend their Sayles. At night they faw another fire, and the next morning land, bearing North Eafter-

ly. On the twentie feuen they were in thirtie foure degrees and fortie minutes, within fixe or 20

May the second they were in thirtie fine deg. & fifteen minutes, & the next morning betwixt

East and North, had fight of a low land like the end of some Hand about fixe miles off meightie fathome, whereby they thought themselves neere the Cape. The Winde being at East they made

Westward, and shaped their course for Saint Helena in fitteeri degrees fiftie eight minutes, where on the fixe and twentieth they arrived and refreshed themselves with fresh water, store of fish, and some flesh, for the Goates and Fowles are wilde and hardly taken. They found no Oranges.

On the thirtieth day they departed, and Iune the fourteenth, they paffed the Line the fourth time. On the fixteene day they encountred fixe Dutch ships, the Generall whereof was James their Vice-Admirall and Pinnace, having fought with thirteene Spanish Ships neere the Salt I-lands. The Pinnace was taken, the other (they hoped) escaped. July the eight, they twere in were in thirtie two degrees, thirtie minutes, and then had fifteene dayes calme, and the Sea all full of Weed. On the twentie two they were driven to allowance of their Worme-taten

August the first they were in fortie degrees, and left Flores and Cornes to the West some forty fine miles. On the eleventh they faw a Ship, and making toward it in vaine, they shot off a Heemeskerk, bound for the East Indies. They had spent two monethes on the way, and lost 30

Complete to being

On the eighteenth , the Same was right ouer them to noone , in the eleventh degree, twentie 10

CHAP.S.

Sunne in their day they fourfd themselves in thirteene degrees, & directed their course to Cape Bona Efteranta. minutes, and a calme continued terme dayes. The nineteenth of March, the height was twenty Weedle Sea twentie feuen degrees, and had ftore of Weedes in the Sea called Saragoffa. On the thirteenth

Flores and

Peece, and ftrooke their maine faile : whereupon the Ship stayed, and fignified the fame by a shot, which when these would answere, the Peece broke and cut off the Guns foote, killed his 40 Boy and brake the maine Maft in three pieces, whereupon they were forced to make a new. The other Ship passed from them. Three Ships of Embden encountred them on the eighteenth, and gaue them bread and flesh for Pepper and Rice : and told them they were not yet attayned fo neere England as their Maiter supposed, which had promised the Ly/are the day before. On the nineteenth they had fight of the Sorlings. On the twentie fine they had like to runne on ground feuen miles of the faid land.

*Ofw. Addams his comming to later followeth after in the next Book.

by the Brill, and the next day anchored at Amfterdam. Of SEBALD DE WERT his Voyage to the South Sea, and miserie in the Straights nine Moneths, wherein WILLIAM * ADAMS Englishman was chiefe Pilot.

BEcause mention is made of Verhagens Fleete, which passed the Straights a little before Noors I have thought good to adde somewhat touching that Voyage, Anno 1598, sive Ships of Amft erdam The Hope Admirall of two hundred and fiftie Tunnes with one hundred & thirtie persons. The Charitie Vice-Admirall of one hundred and sixtie Tunne, with an hundred and ten men. The Faith, of one hundred and fixtie Tun, with one hundred and nine men. The Fidelitie, of one hundred Tun with fourescore and fixe men. The Good News, of threescore and fifteeene Tun with fiftie fix men furnished with all necessarie prouision, (Sir lagues Mahu being Generall, Simon de Cordes Vice-Admirall, Benninghen, Bockholt and Sebalt de Wert, the three Captains of the three other Ships fet faile Iune the feuen and twentieth. And after much a-do & 66 little helpe at the Islands of Cape Verd where they lost their Generall to whom Corder succeeded and received Oath a-new of his Companie (as did each other Captaine of his owne Ships being remoued in successive order) they were forced by their owne wants and the Paringall wiles, the Scorbute or Scurule also infecting and infelting enery Ship, to depart with intent to refresh the ir men and make better prouision of water and other necessaries at the Isle Anno Bueno, or Anobon. But elpying land vnexpected a hundred and twentie miles or more fooner then their This land was reckoning about three degrees of South Latitude, they determined to goe to Cape Lopo Confal- in Conto. wes. The people of Guinner as they passed along the Coast yeelded a pedling Trade. The ficke men were set on shore the tenth of November. On the three twentieth a French Sayler came abord, which promised to doe them all famour with the Negro King. To him was fent Captaine Wert, who found him on a Throne fearfly one foot high with a Lambes skinne under his feet, his Garment of violet coloured cloth with guilded lace, attyred like a Rower, without thirt, thooes, or flockings, having a particoloured cloth on his head and many staffe Beades about his neckerat-10 tended with his Courtiers adorned with Cockes Feathers. The Palace was not comparable to a Stable. His prouision was brought him by women, a few rosted Plantans, and smoke dryed Fish in Wooden Vessels, with Wine of Palme in such sparing measure, that Master Wand therenowmed Examples of Temperance might hane beene this Negro's Disciples. Once the Dutch Captaine was faine (vinder colour of courtefie to shew the King his manner of Dyer) to call for fome of his Holland promision to fatisfie his barking, and thus more promoked entrailes But in the Spanish Wire the Guinean forgot his Temperance and was carryed to his rest. Little refreshing was here to be had. A Bore and two Buffals they killed in the Woods : a little they bought , a few Birds they tooke, and (which worse was) as the Scorbuto for looke the ficke , Feuers possesfed the stronger. On the eight of December they departed, and on the fixteenth arrived at An-20 nobon. Some promition they got thereby force, and that fournie exchange of the Sournie and F. ner, and loft by fickneffe thirtiemen, amongst which Thomas Spring an English yong man of great towardnesse. In the beginning of the yeare 1599, they departed for the Magellane straits, this Voyage, In the tenth of March in fortie two degrees, the Sea was all red as if it had beene mixed with bloud, being full of red Wormes, which taken vp leaped like Fleas. On Aprill the fixt they entred the straights. At Pinguine Islands they stored themselves with thirteene or fourteene hundred. On the eighteenth they anchored in the Greene Bay in fiftie four e degrees, where they had fresh Water and large Muscles. Here they stayed till the three and twentieth of August in a perpetual flormie Winter, and lost a hundred of their Companie. Alway the storme found them worke, and miserable was their toyle without any furtherance to their intended Voyage Raine, 30 Winde, Snow, Hayle, Hunger, loffes of Anchors, spoyles of Ship and Tackling, Sicknesse, Death, Sanages; want of store, and store of wants, conspired a fulnesse of mileries. But specie ally colde increased their appetite; and this decreased their Provision and made them seeke out for apply: On the feuenth of May, they went to take Gudgeons towards the South outra-gainst the Greene Bay, and their defenyed seven Canoss of wilde men, of ten or sleven foot as Giants. they coniectured in stature with red bodies and long haire, which amazed the Dutch, and terrified them with stones and cryes, and after got into their Boates agains to assaile them, but seeing foure or fine fall downe dead with Dutch Thunder, they fledde to Land and plucking vp bigge Trees, barricadoed themselues, and threw stones at the Hollanders, which their left them in their fudden erected Fort. But afterwards three of their Companie were flaine, who in feeking food for 40 life, found death at the hand of naked Sauages, whose weapons were Saw-toothed Darts, which if they entred, must be cut out of the flesh. This Greene Bay they called the Bay of Cordes, for their long flay. In another Bay called the Horse Bay, they erected a new Guild or Fraternitie, which Societie bound themselues by Oath to certaine Articles, which was done with more solemnitie of Ceremonie then profperous effect. They thiled it the Fraternitie of the freed Lion. The Generall added fixe choice men to himselfe in this Societie and caused their names to bee carued in a Table fastened on high Pillers, to be seene of all Passengers, which was defaced, neuerthelesse by the Sanages who also plucked out the Corpses from the Graues and dismembred them, and carried one away. On the third of September, they passed out of the straight and continued till the seventh, when Captaine Weert was forced by a storme to stay, and the Faith and Fidelitie 50 were left behind in much Miferie, Tempest, Hunger Leaks, &c. the death of their Master also attending the losse of their Company, & thus in the end of the Moneth entred the straights againe. Straights againe, indeed, for in two Moneths they had not one faire day to dry their Sayles.

yeare old, yet able to goe readily and having all the teeth. Their lothsome feeding with the bloud running out of their mouthes, I loath to rehearse. Here they met with Generall Noort, his men luftie, but not able to spare them any reliefe. After a world of straights in the Straights too 60 long to recite, they depart thence the two & twentieth of Ianuary 1600. & arrived in the Maes, . Schulding 3. the fourteenth of July, without the straights homeward in fiftie degrees and fortie minutes, Hands not they saw three Ilands threescore miles from land stored with Penguins, called . Sebaldine of mentioned in

The Faith loft the four eteenth of October two Anchors. Their troubles left Name of Perillous

Bay, to one place of their miserie, and to another, Vnfortunate, which yet followed them to euerie place not without Divine affiftance and deliverance. The Devill added also Mutinie in this miserable Companie, and Theeuerie. They tooke a Sauage woman with two children one halfe CHAP.G.

CHAP. VI.

The Voyage of GRORGE SPILLERGEN, Generall of a Dutch Fleet of fixe Shippes, which paffed by the Magellane firaits, and South Sea, unto the East Indies, and thence (having encompassed the whole Circumference of the Earth ) home : gathered out of the Latine Iournall, beeing the fift Circum-Nauigation.

gerous fands.

N the eight of August, 1614, they fet forth from the Teffell. After much tempestuous weather, on the third of Octobes they attained the height of Madera. On the tenth they loft fight of the Couries. On the twentie third, they had fight of the Islands Brane and Fogo. From the thirtieth of October, to the feuenteenth of Nouember, was a continuall calme, with many showres. And they were forced to stint every man his Water. December the ninth, they gave thankes to the Almightie, because they had passed the dangerous sands of Abrolbos. On the thirteenth, we faw Brafil, and by reason of sholds the Great Same shot off, to give warning to the rest not to come very neere the shore. On the twentieth, they came to the Islands Grander, where they anchored, and went on shore. They tooke much fish, and amongst them small Cro. 20 codiles, of the bignesse of a man. On the thirtieth, whilest they stayed to refresh their sicke men on shore, hearing the Huntsman ( one of their ships ) to discharge so often, they fent to see, and found that five Barkes of Portugals and Indians had fet upon three boats, and slaine the men; whereupon they affailed them, but others came in to their fuccour, and frustrated the attempt.

Anno 1615. Ianuary the first, a conspiracie of certaine mutinous persons was found out, for which two were executed, beeing hanged vp at yard arme, shotte through with sixe Muskets, and buried on shore, the Preacher having all the night before laboured to fit them for a more happy life: others were put in irons, and distributed to diverse shippes. Before their departure, they called a Councell, and ordained, that if any thip loft the reft, they should fet up a marke in Cordes 30 Hauen, or some other vivall landing place, and how long they should stay for each other, and afger should hasten to La Mocha. They agreed to remooue thence for want of meet prousson for their ficke, to the Isle of S. Vincent. There the Portugals delayed, and dallied with them trifling away time. On the twenty fixth, they tooke a Barke with eighteene Portugals, whom they denied to exchange for fewer Hollanders, although they offered also many fayre Manuscripts, Pictures, Plate, and other things taken in the prize, pertaining to the Isluites. They found also that intelligence of them had been given by some traitors of their owne Country-men out of Holland. And thus in the beginning of February they departed, freeing foure of their Captiue Portugals, detaining the rest, for one of which also, another Portugall had offered himselfe, with divers petty prefents, pretending himfelfea Batchelour, and the other his kinfman to have 40 wife and children; but was not accepted. They burned the Prize, and fome buildings pertaining to the Portugals, and had well furnished themselves with Oranges and Pome-citrons. March the feuenth, a cruell storme encountred them, in 52. degrees, and fixe minutes, which continued diversedayes, and separated them. And on the one and twentieth , a worse storme to the Sea, by the better part getting the better. It was the eight and twentieth before they en-tred the strait, whence the winde and tide forced vs out. Some by contrariety of windes, defired to winter in Port Defire, others to hold their course to the Cape of Good Hope.

Mageline firait. happened amongst some mutunous persons, and some of them (to still that tempest) were cast in-

A Giant.

May.

Aprill the second, they reentred and anchored, because of sholds, one of which they founded next day a quarter of a league ouer, and found but fine Cubits water. They faw here a man'of Gi- 50 antly stature, climbing the hils to take view of them. This was in the land of Fogo, or Fire, which is the South of the strait. On the seventh, they went on shore, found no men, but two Ostriges, and a great River of fresh water, with store of shrubs with sweet blacke berries. On the Southfide they found pleasant woods full of Parrots, in fiftie foure degrees, the mountaines full of fnow. They called one place Pepper-banen, of the barke of a tree there, biting like Pepper-On the fixteenth, they conferred with the Sauages, and gaue them Sacke, and certaine Kniues, for Pearles ioyned together in fashion of hornes. But some of the company going on May day on shore, to take certaine goodly Birds, were surprized by some of the Sauages, and two slaine. On the fixt, they passed into the South sea, not without terror both from the depth in the way the day before, icorning the law of anchorage, and after that the dangerous sholds and Islands, be- 60 twixt the Northern and Southern lawes of the not straight Mouth of the Straits, opening into the wide Sea. They were welcomed into this Peaceable Sea, with a terrible fforme, which they feared would have fplit them on the Sorlings ( fo for likenesse to ours they called the Islands in that sea a little without the straits.) These straits are dangerous for high Ilands, sholds, and want of ancorage. Also redious stormes attended their ingresse and egresse. On the one and twentieth, they had light of Chili and La Mocha. This Island is low and broad to the North, full of rockes to the South. On the twentie fixth they ient out boats to traffique with the people; the Goueryour and his sonne dined with the Admirall, and seemed glad to see such munition against the Spaniards, as likewife did all the Chilestancat light of their training and mustering their Souldiers. They exchanged Hatchets, Corall, and the lake, for great plenty of Sheep, of which they had two for one Hatchet, with great curtefie. But they brought all to the Boat, nor would fuffer any to goe to their Houses, icalous, it feemes, of their wines. One of these sheep was of less; and necke very long, hare-mouthed, and bunch-backed, which they vie for carriage and culture 10 as affes. They had many Hennes and other Fowles. On the twenty feuenth we fet fayle, and twentie eighth came neere the shore, hard by the Island of S. Mary, broken and rockie. On the twenty ninth, we came to harbour therein. A Spaniard came aboord them, having a pledge left for him. But inuiting them to a dinner on shore, one of the boats espied a conuoy of Souldiers, tending to that place where they should dine: wherupon they returned aboord, with the Spaniard prisoner. The next morning they went on shore with three Ensignes. The Spaniards set their Church on fire, and fled. In the skirmish two Hollanders were wounded, and foure Spaniards flaine. Their houses built of Reed, yeelded a goodly flame. They found store of Hennes, tooke five hundred theepe, with other spoile. Here they vinderstood of three Ships which had departed thence in Aprill to feeke these Dutch Ships, furnished with a thousand Spaniards, the Admirall 20 hauing fortie Braffe Pieces, the reft proportionable. Hereupon the Dutch determined now to feeke them, in the Ille of Conception, and after that in Valparifa, and then on the shore of Arica. The Spaniard also reported of the like preparation in Lima, having Dutch Gunners. They enacted certaine orders of Militarie discipline, how each Ship, and each person should carry himselfein the fight, if they encountred the enemie, and to die rather then yeeld.

Iune the first, they let layle, and passed not farre from Auroca, a Towne with fine hundred Iune. Spaniards in Garrison, continually affaulted by the Chilefians. On the third, they approached the Ille Quiriqueynam, neere the Continent, and behind it came up to the Towne of Conception, conception Iwherein besides many Indians, were two hundred Spaniards. On the twelfth, they entred the fland in 16, delafe rode of Valparifa. There was a Spanish ship, on which the Mariners set fire, and fled. On the grees, 40 min.

30 thirteenth, they had at none thirty two degrees, fifteene minutes, and in the afternoone came to the faire and secure Harbour of Quinters. They went on shore, and sawe many wilde Horses which fled. Here they watered, and tooke many fifth, and for wood and other things found the place very commodious. Euery where Fame had beene their ouer-hasty Harbenger, which caufed Spanish preparation for an vnwelcome intertainment, so that no matter of weight was

Iuly the second, they came to Arrices, in twelue degrees, and fortie minutes. Whether the Iuly. filter is brought from Potofi, and carried thence to Panama. But finding no ships there, they departed. On the tenth, they had a calme and raine, not without wonder, because the Prisoner had reported a perpetual ferenitie or fairenesse of weather in those parts. On the sixteenth, they 40 tooke a small shippe, with some store of Treasure, most of which was embezelled by the Mariners. They tooke out the commodities, and funke her. They had fight of eight faile, which the Spanish Master of the former Shippe said, was the Fleet-Royall, come forth to seeke the Hollanders, against the minde of the Counsell of Pers, which would rather have had them stay. But Roderigode Mendoza, the Vice-Royes kinfman and Admirall, conceited of himfelfe, fayd that two of his shippes would take all England, how much more those Hennes of Holland, after so long a journey which had spent and wasted them : yea, he was fure they would yeeld to him at the very first. Whereupon the Vice-Roy bid him, Goe and bring them bound vnto him, and Mendoza sware he would never returne till they were taken or slaine. Thus he departed out of the road of Callion, on the eleventh of July. The left Maria Admirall, had twentie foure braffe 50 Pieces, foure hundred and fixtie men of all forts, and had coft the King, 158000. Ducats. The Vice-admirall S. Anne, had three hundred men, the Captaine Aluares de Piger, which had ta- Sir Richard ken an English ship in the South sea before; this ship had stood the King in 150000. Ducats, and Hamkin, in was the fairest that ever was seene in the Indies. The Carmer had eight brasse Pieces, two hundred Souldiers and Mariners, besides the Commanders and their retinew. To it was the next taine but not not next but equall, the S. James. The Rofary had one hundred and fiftie men , and foure braffe Generall. Ordnance. The S. Francis had no Ordnance, but feuentie Musketiers, and twentie Mariners. Saint Andrew had eightie Musketiers, and twentie fine Mariners. The eight was fent after the rest, vncertaine with what furniture.

July the feuenteenth they came neere each other in the Euening, and the Dutch Admirall fent A Sea fightly 60 word to the Spanish, if he pleased to forbeare fight that night. But Roderigo could not be so pa- night tient, but about ten of the clocke fet vpon the great Sunne, in which the Admirall himfelfe was, and exchanged mutuall Thunders on both fides. The Saint Francis being next raked thorow by the Sunne, by the Hunter ( another Holland thip ) was fent into a waterie Mantion and perpetuall Night. She was prefently affaulted by the Spanish Admirall, and had soone followed to tri-her with a Boate ful of then, and caused the Vice-Admirall to do the like. The Admirals Boat mitaken was to a Peece from the Hunt man drowned, one man alone eleaping. The next morning fine thips fene word to the Allmirall, that they would do their best to escape but the Dutch Ad. miralFanerVige-Admiralter wpon the Spanish Admiralfand Vice-Admirall, and entred a bloudie fight; the Folia another Hollandthip came in alto. The two Spanish ships were fastened together and gave greater advantage. At last they forfooke the Vice-Admirall, and leapt into the Admirals, not finding therein about fiftie perfonsaline; as by their Confessions after appeared. Meane while they hung out a white slag of Peace, which was divers times plucked in by the Gentlemen, chuling rather to dye then yeeld. The Dutch preffing them, the Vice-Admi- 10 rals men returned againe and renewed the fight, and the Dutch Vice-Admirall was in great petill, the Spaniards leaping hito her out of their Admirall, but repelled or flame. And the Sparith Admirallmer further enduring fied; and by benefit of night escaped the pursuit of the Dutch Admirally if out of the fire into the water be an escape. For fuch was the fame that she went to vilitathe Saint Francis, as allo was laid of another of them called the Saint Mary. The Vice-Admirall and Lolis beffired them fo with herie Rhetorikes and yron Duputes, that the Spanish Vice-Admirall past hope of escaping set up a flag of Truce. The Dutch Vice-Admirall first two Boats to bring the Commander abord. But he refuled, faying, he would flay that night except the Aige-Admirall himfelfe would fetch him ; or fend fome Captaine to remaine in pledge, and rather defired theath then difgrace. One of the Lolus men in this while had taken 20 away their flag, and the Boats departed, ten or twelve flaying aboord contrarie to command that they might bee first in the spoile. They did together with the Dutch what they could doe in the night to preserve the ship from finking, but seeing their labour vaine, they lighted many lights and with horrible damours for helpe, were of the relentlesse Sea swallowed up in the Hollanders fight. The next morning they fent out foure Boates which found thirtie fwimming on the bords, crying for mercie, which to some of the chiefe they shewed leaving the rest to the Seas crueltie, or preuenting it by humane inhumanitie, some of the Dutch against command, flaying fome Spaniards. The Commander, or Vice-Admirall had perished before of his wounds. Some fortie Dutchmen were wounded and fixteene flaine in those three ships. In the rest eighteene wounded, and foure and twentie flaine. The fame day they went for Caliou de Lima, but 30 The Admirall the Calme fuffered them not. The twentieth they passed by thelland and saw in the Hauen fourteene ships going to and fro neere the shore, but could not come neere for the sheld; and therefore went to the Road of Calien de Lima to feeke for the Spanish Admirall, whom afterwards they learned in Guarme and Peysa to have beene funke. From the shore the Spaniards shot off their great Ordnance, one of which carried a Bullet of thirtie fixe pound, and had almost funke the Huntsman. They faw also on shore a great Armie in which the Vice-roy himselfe was present with eight Troupes of Horfe, and foure thouland foot: they agreed to goe backe out of the reach of their that and cail anchor at the mouth of the Hanen, where they stayed to the fine and twentieth with intent to take fome of their thips, but in vaine, they being lighter of faile. On the fixe and twentieth they tooke a little Barke laden with Salt, and eightie Vessels of Sirrup, the 40 men all fled. They ordered that if they met with the fleet of Panama, in regard they were in the enemies Countrey, where they could not repayre their losses, & were also bound to the Manillas, that they would not give audacious on-lets, and should take heed of being separated, which had much endangered them in the last fight : and if any hostile ship should yeeld, the Masters & chiefe Officers should not fortake their owne ships, but cause the enemie to come in Boats aboord them, left confusion, as lately through greedinesse of spoyle, should happen. The seuen and twentieth they let fayle: the eight and twentieth, they came to the Roade of Guarme, in ten degrees, beyond the Line, a pleasant place with a large Hauen. Neere vnto it is a Lake of standing water. They went on thore but found the people all fled who had left little pillage. Some Hennes, Oranges, Hogges and Meale they tooke.

Снар. б.

82

and Vice-Ad-

mirall of the Spaniards both funke.

It confifted of many Timbers fiftened Latine Booke

August the third they dismissed some of their Spanish Prisoners. They passed betwixt the Ile Loubes (so called of certaine fishes) and the continent. The eight they cast Anchor neere to Peyta. The ninth they fet three hundred men on shore, which after a few skirmishes returned aboord, the Citie being too strongly defended. They tooke an Indian ship of strange sayles, with fixe luftie Indians which had beene two moneths a fifting, and had many delicate fifthes dryed which they distributed thorow the Fleet. The tenth the Lolus, Lucifer, and Huntfran battered the Towne with their Ordnance, and fent a greater number of men on shore, which found the Citie forfaken and the people with their goods fled to the Mountaines. They fent flue of their Indians on fhore to get fruits and to learne more certaintie of the Spanish Admirall, which brought word of her buriall in the waves, only fixe elcaping. The Indians also brought the Let- 60 ters of Captaine Gaff ar Caldron to Paula the Commendators Wife of Perta, who had fled to the Towns of Saint Michael twelue leagues from shore. Shee ient the Hollanders in commiteration of the Captiues, many Citrons and Oranges with other promision. This Woman both for Beautie, Wisdome, and Vertue, is of lingular reputation in all those parts.

Perta to the Sea-ward is strong and impregnable. There were in it two Churches, one Mo. Perta. nafterie and many goodly Buildings, an excellent Hauen to which all the flips of Panama reforted, and then they passed by Land to Calion de Lima, because of the perpetual rage of both Elements, the Windes and Waters in that place. They tooke in the Itle Loubes, two foules of admirable greatnesse, in the beake, wings and talons not vnlike the Eagle, necked somewhat like a Sheepe, their heads combed as a Cocke: they were two elles in height, and three in breadth when their wings were displayed.

They learned of Pedro de Madriga of Lima, that Peru, Chili, and Terra firms, are comman- Relations of ded by Iohn de Mendoza Marquesse Des Montes Claros, the Vice-Roy : which Office the King the Gourn-10 conferreth for fixe or eight yeares with yeerely allowance of fortie thousand Duckets, adding ment of Peru, further a thousand Pelos for extraordinary expenses in the Feast of Christman, Epiphanie, S. Spi and of the city of the contraction of the contract of the con rito and Easter, each of twelue Rials and halfe, because at those times he is to entertaine all the Lima. Counfellers of the Audience: two thousand Pelos also yeerely when hee furnisheth the Silver Fleete. The Vice-Roy is serued with great Pompe in his Palace, goeth not forth without his Guard or Pensioners, and if he goeth into the Countrey, hath a hundred Lances, (which have eight hundred Pefos (tipend) and fiftie Muskets (which have foure hundred Pefos yeerely) attending. There are foure Courts or Audiences, in Panama, Quito, Charlas, Lima: one also in Chili. In them are the Kings Counsellers, to whom both Civill & Criminall Causes are committed; but with appellation in Civill Cases to the Oydors, (certaine Commissioners) and in Criminall to the Alcalds. These all goe in one Habit, and are allowed three thousand Peios annual Pension. The Vice-Roy resideth in the Citie of Kings or Los Reyes, called also Lima, situate in a plea- See M. Ellis fant Valley, extended a mile and halfe in length, in breadth three quarters, having aboue a hun-Narration dred thouland Inhabitants, belides Merchants of other places. It hath foure Market places. There Tracksteproare two thousand Indian Artificers dwelling in the Cercado. Here refides the Archbishop Bar-per to America thelmew Lobo Guorero, which hath fixtie thousand Pelos of Reuenue. The chiefe Temple hath foure and twentie Prebends, one Archdeacon, besides Schoolemasters and other Priests. There are foure principall Pattors, to each of which are affigned fifteene thousand Pelos. Besides this Temple of Saint Iohn Euangelist are foure other, one of Saint Marcellus, with two Pastors and a thousand Pefos revenue : the second of Saint Sebastian, the third of Saint Anne, with like sti-30 pend; the fourth is an Hospitall of Orphans, with fine hundred Pesos. Monasteries here are of Fourt Mona-of bare-foot Friers of our Ladie of Guadalupe. They have there two Colledges of Iesuites which the Spaniards call Teatines, both there and in Europe. In each chiefe Monasterie are two hundred and fiftie Religious. There are fine Monasteries of Nuns, called of the Incarnation , Conception Trinitie , Saint lofeph, his Hibit reaching but fhort, and his Motto according, Tonote and Saint Clare. Our Ladie also hath her Temple by atims, the lessite laying fast hold on it, saying, To te atims, the

They have foure Hospitals for the poore of Saint An- to mee by a Spaniard. drew, in which are foure hundred ficke, of Saint Anna for the Indians, of Saint Peter for the Ecclefiafticks, of Charitie for women : another of Saint Spirito for Saylers, and one of Saint Lazaro for inueterate diseases. There are fixe hundred Priests, and a thousand Students, Allowance is given to twentie foure in the Kings Colledge by the King, to as many in Saint Torines by the Archbishop. There are further reported to be two hundred Doctors in the Vniuerlitie of all faculties. The professors receive of the King a thousand Pelos pension. The ME /// faith two professors of Civill Law, have each fixe hundred Pesos. There are four hundred Masters they are Neof Art. Euerie yeare they chule a new Rector or Chancellor. In this Citie and the Suburbes are god. about twentie thouland flaues. There are feene more women then men. The Indians are free fooken of Gias well as the Spaniards, fauing that they pay everie fixe moneths, two Pefos, a Henne, a Fenega izens of eight Royalls, and a piece of cloth of cotten or wollen. They are bound to ferue the King . Thefe the Ca-* yearely in the Mines or Husbandrie diuers dayes, beginning in May, and continuing their times ciauss bring in and couries til Nouember. Thole of Arrica bring to Potof, Bealts, Wheat, Meale, Mays, Axicoca, by courie, an hearb which they perpetually chew; they vie for carriages a certaine Camel-fashioned-sheep. time, and some By this Citie the River runneth close to the walls, which by showers sometimes so swells, that ar another, it hath carried away the stone Bridge, of nine Arches. Here is the Kings Contractation house, and Ellis. his Treasurie; the Court also of Inquisition, with two Inquisitors ( each of which hath three Lineborn faith, thousand Peros pension) and a prison peculiar. The two Notaries haue foure thousand Peros this publication of the Court of a piece. Here is the Court, or office of the Crusada, or the Popes Bulls, with officers and like iti- Popes Indulpends. This Citie is two leagues from the Sea, hath eight bands of foot, and as many of horse gences is in Garrifon. The next Port is called Callao, in which are some eight hundred Inhabitants. worthto the From the Citie to Potoffi are all Spanish merchandise conveyed. Potoffi is called La Valla Im- King of Spaine perial, comprehending a great mountaine in which are Siluer Mines. Into them is an horrible descent of foure hundred steps, nor may the Sunne be admitted spectator of those Acts in perpetu- pounds.

Saint Francis, of Saint Deminicke, and of Saint Augustine, and of our Ladie de las Meriedes, firies. each of which hath two Cloysters of their owne Order, that of Saint Francis three, to wit, one "Icluites called Teatines : of which name a merry Wit in Spaine, earnest'y iested in an Embleme or Picture, in which was pain-ted a Purse full of Money, and one of every Order pictured in and Saint Clare. Our Ladie also hath her Temple by the title of Monferrat, & del Prado & de Loretto. words bearing a double feele, I am a Tealine, or, I attayne thee the Conceir almost lost in the Translation. This was related tuall night, which exercife about twenty thousand Indians in digging, and an hundred more in carrying, grinding, and other their mettall workes.

CHAP. 6.

This place is to cold that nothing growes in four leagues space, but an herbe called Tehe. Their prouition is all brought from Aricea: a pound of bread is there worth two Ryals. The haven of Aricca is an hundred and eighty Spanish leagues from thence; but many Villages are well inhabited by the way. Not farre hence is Chiquifaca, the Bishop whereof hath 30000. Ducats revenew : there are the like Monasteries to those at Lima, but not so full of Monkes. At Potoffi line fifteen hundred flufting Card-players, and nimming companions which line by their wits. Seuentie miles from thence is another Siluer Mine, called Erneo. Neerer Pima is Chocola Choca another Mine, cold as Fotoffi, where dwell five thousand Spaniards. Cusco is like to Li- 10 ma, hath fixe thousand Spanish inhabitants, a Bishop, and Monkes, and two Colledges, with fome fixe hundred Students. Arequipa hath also a Bishop, two thousand Spaniards, and a Corigidour. But it were tedious to relate the full Story.

Of Chili the Mother-City is S. Iago, where is a Gold Mine. Coquimbo hath store of braffe. Baldinia is rich in Gold. In the yeare 1599, the Inabitants or Natives of the Countrey killed the Spanyards, and captimed their Wines, eight hundred in number, which they offered to exchange. giuing fir each, a paire of Shooes, a Bridle, a Sword, and a paire of Stirrops. But the King forbad Armour to be carried to them. They powred molten Gold into the Gouernours mouth made 2 Cup of his skull, and made Pipes of his shank-bones, in memory of their victory. Auroea hath neere it a Fert with a Spanish garrison, but very poore. Of Conception is spoken before. It hath 20 fowre hundred fouldiers to keepe it, with fome Ordnance. But you have liftened too long to this Dutch Intelligence from the Spanish Captine. Let vs now with our Hollanders to Sea : fo did they the one and twentieth of August, but easily perceived the next day, the strength of the Current to be fuch, that without a faire and ftiffe gale, they prevailed nothing. On the twentie third, they anchored before Rio de Tumba, for the barre and tide forbad them entrance. They agreed to turne backe to the life Coques in fine degrees Southerly, to refresh themselves. But fformes, raines, thunders, fo haunted them to the thirteenth of September, that they could not September. Oftober.

A Current

finde the Island, and manifold difeases easily found them. On the twentieth they had fight of land in Nona Hilpania: they had thirteene degrees, and thirty minutes. And the weather became againe very tempethous. October the first, after much fea-trouble, they had fight of plea- 14 fant land, but the fea wrought fo, that they could not have fafe landing, and so beat off and on. till the eleventh, that they entred the haven of Aquapolque, within shot of the Castle. And hanging out a flagge of peace, two Spaniards came abourd, and they agreed to exchange Prifoners for sheep, Fruits, and Proution, which was accordingly performed. On the fifteenth, Melchior Hernardo came aboord, to take view of the fleete, which had vanquished the Kings. He was Nephew to the Vice-Rey of New Spaine, and was kinely entertained of the Admirall, his men well appointed in their Armes. The Catile had feuentie Braffe Pieces, hauing intelligence eight moneths before of their comming. On the eighteenth they departed. The Calme kept them from doing any thing of moment, laue that they tooke a shippe which was bound for Pearle-fishing, and in her cleuet, men, two of them Friars, twelue others escaping before by flight. They 40 manned it with two and twenty Dutch to followe the Fleet. November the tenth, they caft anchor before the Port Selagues in nineteene degrees. Vnder-standing by the Prisoners of a River neere this place full of fish, and set with Citrons, and other Fruits, and Meadowes not farre off full of Cattell, they fent out their Boates, which elpying shoo-prints, were afraid of Spaniards, and returned. After a hot skirmish, on the eleuenth they departed, and came to Port Natinidad, where they watered and furnished themselves with other necessaries. On the twentieth they departed. On the twentie fixth, they had twenty degrees and twentie fixe minutes. They determined the next way to the Ladrones. On December the third, not without great maruell, they beheld two Islands farre in the Sea. On the fourth, they faw a Rocke, and had thought it a Shippe which they expected. It was in nineteene degrees, 50 fiftue three leagues from the Continent. In the fixt, they had fight of a newe Island with fue hills feeming as fo many Islands.

Nouember.

December. New Mands. A dangerous

Anno 16:6. in Ianuary many died of difeafes. On the three and twentieth the Ladroner Ianuary, 1616. appeared. The Land was low, and therefore keptaloofe that night. The next day the Sauages came about them with their Boates, and they went on land. On the flue and twentieth, Sibrand Cornels son, a Marchant, was taken with a fudden giddinesse at dinner, and presently died : at his buriall the Ordnance and Shot to dismayed the Indians which brought them provision, that they durit come no more. They fet fayle the twenty fixth for the Maniles. They perceived thefe Ladrones to be witty, strong, and to observe some kind of Idolatrie. There is store of Fowle and

February.

On February the ninth, they had fight of Cape Spirito Santo, and the same night anchored at the Maules. In the tenth they had speech with the Indians, which refused all trade, because (they faid) they ame to warre with the Spaniard. They did not fo in Capel, whither they came on the eleventh, but brought them Hogges and Hennes with other things for tritles. They flav-

ed till the nineteenth, and then by the helpe of two Indian Pilots, passed the Straights to the Manilian Port or Bay. The fruits much releeued and recourred the ficke. The people weare long garments like shirts, have Friars in such reverence, that to one of our Prisoners they profirated themselues, and kiffed his hands with incredible honour. On the nineteenth, they anchored before the Itle Lucon, the greatest of them in which is the City Manilla. Here they law an house artificially framed on the tops of divers trees, and seemed farre off as a Palace Finding no people, they proceeded. On the eight and twentieth, they faw as they passed an exceeding high hill vomiting flames, named Albaca. On the foure and twentieth they had fight of the other strait in the egresse, and sent their Boats to found the way. The calme kept them prisoners 10 that they could not paffe. On the twenty eighth, they anchored before the Isle Mirabelles, whose two Rockes seeme to threaten the skie, beltind which is the city Manilla. Here they perpetually watch the comming of Ships, from China, to Pilote them to the City, the way beeing dangerous. Neither could the Hollanders make this strait, to passe through it all the time of their flaying with all their labour, hindred by Calmes.

On March the first, they saw two sayles, and sent out their Boats to take them, but they were March. too swift. On the the third they tooke one laden with prouision of Rice, Oyle, Hens, Fruits, and on the fifth two more, with a Spaniard in them with like prouision, and after that three others. These were going to gather in the Tribute, which the places adiopning pay to the City Montla. Here they had it telligence of a Fleet of tenne great Ships, built here, and fent forth under the Command of Iohnde Silves to the Moluccas, to fight with the Hollanders; together with foure Gallies, and two other Ships; in them two thouland Spaniards, betides Chinetes, Japanders, and Indians. Their purpose was to reduce all the Moluccas under the Spaniard. Whereupon they freed all their Priloners, except one Spaniard and an Indian, and haited after them. On the eleventh, they encountred to many Islands that they doubted of egresse, and by the Spanith Marriners aduife, anchored all night; and by his helpe next day recoursed the wide Sea. On the foureteenth, they rode at Ancher all night before the Ille Paney by reason of sholds. On the Paner eighteenth, they fayled close by Mendango, but hearing of dangerous shelues , they in the Eue- Mendango ning let further off into the Sea. On the nineteenth, they layled againe close to the shore, and had prouision of the Islanders very cheape. On the twentieth, they reached Cape de Cadera, where the Spaniards as they passe to the Moluceas, vie to take in water. Till the three and twentieth, the calme permitted no further faile then the tide forced ; betwixt Mendanao and Tagimo, a contrary tidestayed them. These Islanders shewed themselves enemies to the Spanyards, and offered fiftie of their fhips in aide. On the twenty feuenth, they passed the Isle Sanguin, and many others. On the twentie ninth, they came to Ternata, in which is Maleia 2 Towne subject to the Hollanders, where of their Countrey-menthey were gladly entertained. These at Maleia reckoned this the eight and twentieth of March, which we reckoned the nine and twentieth, to that with following the Sunne in his courfe, they had one day leffe.

The Straight of Bonton is full of sholds: without them is deepe water. On the East is fresh water. To the West two leagues is a rockie shold.

Aprill the eighth, Cornelius de Vianen went for Banda. The Gouernour shewed his Charter Aprill. for the Moluccas, Banda, and Amboina, without prejudice to the Admiralls authoritie. And the fouldiers went on land after follong a Nauigation.

May the fecund, they fent fixe thips for Mician, that the enemie should not have any Cloues, May. and there anchored before Maurice Fort. The English here told them of the taking of Coreway by the Dutch on the tenth of Aprill, rich in Nutmegs. And the Indians mooned with this fucceffe, made a new league with the Hollanders. On the eighteenth, they exchanged Prifoners, Spaniards for Dutch. The rest of this moneth, and Iune and Iuly following, they ipent the time in these parts as occasion was offered, not so necessary to our purpose.

September the fifteenth, they came to locatra, and repaired there their Ships, not without September feare of Iohn de Silves with his Spanish Fleete. But on the thirtieth, wee heard of his sudden death at Malacca as was thought by poilon, and the returns of the Armida to the Miniles,

, ith great shame to the Spaniard after foure yeares preparation, doing little or nothing. Whiles they were at Iacatra foure ships of huge burthen came out of Holland, with exceeding store of Spanish Ryalis, and an other out of Iapon laden with Spanish Ryals, and Silver vnwrought, with Braffe, Yron, and other Commodities, the most of which they had taken from a Portugall shippe bound for Marico.

October the twentieth, the Concord a shippe of Horne which had departed out of Holland, October Iune, 1615. came to lacatra ( of which you shall have a peculiar Relation) and because it was not of the Companie of the Indies, it was by the Generall amexed to the Fleet, the men beeing di-60 fiributed into other Ships.

November the tenth came the Naffan to Bancam from Mocha in the red Sea, well provided November. thence of Spanish Ryals, and Turkish Ducats. December the twelfth came thicker the Amferdam, and the Middleborough from the straits of Mallacca; the one of seven hundred, the other of fixe hundred tunnes, in which the Admirall Spilberg prepared for returne. On the feven-

CHAP. 6.

January 1617. teenth of January, 1617. they came to the Isle Mauritins. The thirtieth of March to Saint Helega, where they found the Middleburgh , which they had not feene in three moneths. Hence they departed the feuenth of Aprill, and came into Zeland in Iuly following.

A discourse of the present state of the Meluccos, annexed to the former Iournall, extracted out of Arollonivs Schot of Middleborough.

The Portugalls having, to the griefe of the Venetians, and their owne inriching, made them-felues Matters of almost all the trade of Spicerie, by their possession of the Moluccas: their grew fome diffasts, first, betwixt them and the Spaniards (as in Magellanes voyage is expref. 10 fed.) After the English, by the conduct of Sir Francis Drake, and since in their East Indian trade have had traffique there. Lastly, the Hollanders have dispossessed the Portugalls: and the Spaniards or Caitilians, by meanes of the Tidorians have their fortified. The King of Ternate being taken with some chiefe men, the rest sted, and by Mateliefe his ayd were reduced, and there erected Grange in Ter- the Fort Orange, and entred league with the Hollanders, and so wrought that Motir, Machian and Bachian yeelded to the Dutch, the Spaniards holding Tidor, and the chiefe Citie of Ternate. and some places in Gilolo, as shall after follow more particularly.

In the lile of Ternate, the Dutch haue three Forts, Maleia otherwise Grania, the feat of the Ma'eia or Gra-. King and Nobilitie, taken by Matelief: Molneco, which they call Holland distant from Maleia halfe a mile North-wards, feated on a Hill , and built with lime and stone for the fafetie of the 24 Hauen of Maleia: Tacome, called also Willemflat, in the North-west Coast of Ternate, commodious for the places betwixt Malacca and Tacome.

Mach an with three Fores.

Cayoe. Bachian.

Molucce of Hollandia.

Tarame or Willemfat.

Metir.

Labous.

Guammeauarre in Gilolo which If ind before of the Moluc-

Spaniards in Moluccas. Nuefr: Seño d del Roja io.

S.S. Pedro & Paulo.

Tidore. Taroula,

The Isle Motir, was by the warres of Ternate and Tidore for a time defolate, till Admirall Wistert, by intreatic of the Ternateis erected a Fort in the North part thereof, and brought thither a Colonie of the Inhabitants out of Gilolo, whither they had fled. The Spaniards had thought to have brought those Motirians thither, which had fled to Tidore. The Inhabitants are aboue two thousand. Admirall Van Caerden tooke Machian, and raised therein three Forts, Tafason to the West, Noffagnia to the North, and Tabelole East-ward, all which places are populous. This Island numbreth about nine thousand. From Caroe a neighbour Island, for feare they removed to Tabelole. It is the most fertile of all the Moluccas, and nourisheth with her fruits Ternate and Tidore, which are so addicted to warre, that they neglect culture of their grounds. Bachian is a great Kingdome and fruitfull, but not populous. The Inhabitants are idle and voluptuous, and have brought upon themselves the present miserie. In Laboua the Spaniards had a Fort, and there are yet some seuenteene Portugalls, and eightie Families of the Natiues become Christians. The Vice-Admirall 1600. tooke and fortified it with a strong Garrison. In the Continent they have Guammequorre, to whom the Sabougians have added themselves, forsaking the Spaniard. In it is a Garrison of thirtie Souldiers. The Natiues calling the Dutch to their ayd were franke in promises, as the Dutch also to them, further then either partie doth, or well can performe, being too grieuous; as that the Dutch should have all the customes of the Natives and Forwhich lye the fmaller islands reiners, should be free from all paiments : yea they now deny such composition, & are alienated 40 from the Dutch for not keeping word with them. The people are perfidious, ambitious, inconstant, hardned in the infolencies and mischiefes which alwayes attend warres. The Kings in time past had absolute rule, now are contemned, vpon occasion the people seeking new patronage. The Spaniards by bountie and liberalitie wonne their hearts, and made them auerfe to the Hollander. These have the chiefe Citie in Ternate, and call it now Our Lady of the Rosarie, ftrong, and fortified with all munition from the Moluccas. Heere are two hundred Spaniards, ninetie Papoos (Inhabitants of the Philippinas ) besides thirtie Portugall housholders, eightie Chineses, lixtie Moluccans, with their Families. Betwixt this and Maleia, they have a Fort called Saint Peter and Saint Paul, strongly seated on a Hill, with fixe and twentie Spaniards. twentie Papoos and some Manilians. Tidore they have wholly, and therein three Forts, one in the chiefe Citie where the King 50 resides, called Taroula, in which are ordinarily sittle Spaniards, tenne Papoos, eight Natiues, with five braffe Pieces very large. The second hath thirteene Spaniards , besides the Natiues, and two Pieces. The third called Maries, within fight of Our Lady Citie, is a Towne well inhabited, walled, and hath a Garrison like the former. The Island scarcely veelds a thousand armed men.

In Gilolo ( which comparatively to those Moluccas seemes a Continent, as our Britaine to the Hebrides ) the Spaniards have, first Sabongo, which lobn de Silna tooke from the Dutch, 1611. against the truce (as they say) and fortified strongly, imposing a Garrison of sixtie Spaniards, and fortie Papoos : secondly, Pilolo craftily taken from the Dutch also , and well 60 prouided with fixtie Spaniards, and some Manilians. The third, at the West side of Gilolo over against Machian, called Aguilamo, with few Spaniards, and fortie Tidorians. To the Moren or Easterne Coast of Gilolo they have three other Iolo, Isan and laffongo, with them fortie five Spaniards, with the Natiues. They have a Gally or two at Sea beades, some Lari ( a kind of maller Gally ) and are alwayes well prouided of Armes, often destitute of victualls, which caufeth divers of them to the away. Halfe the Cloues belong to the King, and the marchandile of them is in the Portugalls hands. The Kings costs for fixe yeeres were very great, with little profit, leronimo de Sylva, is now Commander in those parts, an old warie Souldier, with other officers under him.

A briefe description of the Forts, Souldiers, and Militarie provision, as also of their Trade and Shipping in the East Indies, under the service of the Generall States of the united Provinces, and his Excellencie, as it was in July 1616. extracted out of the Author of the Iournall.

IN the Ille of Ternate, at Maleia are these Captaines; Captaine Fridericke Hamel, William Ertnelt, Peter Barker, Rowland Philips, Gospune a Mammerent, with their seuerall bands, each of ninetie, or a hundred men, the Citie walled and strongly fortified. Tabucke is a Fort neerekept by the Inhabitants, as Tacome and Tabou, two others in Gilolo. In Tidore is the Fort Marico, vnder Captaine William ab Amfing, very strong. In Motir, Captaine Henry Maier hath an able Garrison and Fortresse. Macian is gouerned by Gilbert Vianen, and hath three Forts as before. Bartholmen Spilbergen is chiefe in Bacian, where is the Fort Barne-velt built of ftone. and well furnished with armes and men.

In Ambaina is a royall Fort or Castle, commanded by Henry Steur, with one hundred and fiftie Souldiers : besides other Fortresles, as Conbellam, Hitton, and Low; This last is kept by the Ternatois. Adrian Block boufen is Gouernour of the Island. In Banda are two Forts, Naffan, Banda with a Garrison of an hundred and twentie Hollanders besides a very great number of Japanders, Chineses and others; and the Belgike, furnished as well. Captaine Henry Benerlineke commands both. In the Island Polemay, they have the Renenge, with an hundred fixtie Souldiers vn. Polemay. der two Captaines, Duffen, and Verhoeren.

In the Coast of Coromandel, in Palataque, is a strong and goodly Castle, with a Garrison of Palataque, an hundred and twentie Souldiers : the Cities Negapatan, and Maffepatan, thew them great fauour. John de Hafe a Counsellor of the Indies, is Commander in these parts. In land the great land. 30 ter, at lacatra a dayes journey from Bantam, is built a Magnificent store-house or Arsenale, for Artificers, and promision for the warre, and for the Nauie, furnished therefore with braffe Ordnance, In all these are Souldiers three thousand; Brasse Peeces, an hundred ninetie three, of Iron

Ordnance three hundred and twentie, of Stone three hundred. Places forfaken voon better confideration, are Gemmalanor, a Fort in the Isle of Boutton: an- Fortseiuen other in Salor and Timor; a Magazine, or Store-house in Grefei and Achin, and Micastar in Se ouer. libes. The King of Isr is their great friend, but admits no Fort. They have their most profitable trade at lambi, in one of the Islands of Sumarra, at the straight of Malacca. In Fieos, Priaman, Places of trade and Silbe, on the West of Sumatra they have trading. In Bornes they trade for Diamants, and and factories. Bezoar stones. In lapon, lames Spex hath erected a great store-house. At Bantam is their chiefe 40 Factorie, where all Shippes are laden under the command of Sir Iohn Peters Coenen Generall prefident of the Indies, which heere keepes an exact register and accounts of all the Indian

Their shipping in Iuly, 1616. was as followeth; In the Moluceas, The Old Sun, the Old Moone. the New Sun, the New Moone, the Flushing, the Angel of Delph, the Hope, the Lucifer, and the Larns. In lapatra, the Holland. At Bantam, the Faith, the Naffan, the Horne, the Larns of lapon, the Blacke Lion. In Timor and Salor, the Eagle, and the Starre. In Achin, the Falcon and the Huntsman. In Coromandel, the Neptune, the Golden Lion. At Lambi, the Bargen Boat, the Halfe Moone. The Concord, and Little Holland, were lent to the Ille Ingane, to receive those which had beene shipwracked in the Lolus. At lacatra, the Enchusen. At Bantam were 50 also the New Horne, the Amsterdam, the Middleborough. The Tergoes expected from Coromandel. The Blacke Beare lately departed, and the Amsterdam, and the New Zeland. Then at Sea towards the Indies , the Concord of Amsterdam , and the Aoliu of Zeland. They have moreouer in Banda two small Gallies, and in Iacatra, and Bantans many smaller Sayle.

CHAP.

CHAP. VII.

The Sixth Circum-Nauigation, by WILLIAM CORNELISON SCHOVTEN of Horne : Who South-wards from the Straights of Magelan in Terra-Del-fuogo. found and discourred a new passage through the great South-Sea, and that way (ayled round about the World : Describing what Islands, Countries, People, and strange Aduentures hee found in his said Passage.

Ecause the Generall States of the vnited Nether-land Provinces, had granted Pattents of trade to the East Indian Company, with prohibition to all others to passe the Cape of Good Hope East-ward, or thorough the Magelen straights pane the Carle Matter a Marchant of Amplerdam, and William Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Cornelison

Corneli

and consulted of some new way, without impeachment of the said Pattents, which they confidently supposed might bee done by some passage South-wards from the Magelan straights. And to that end agreed, betweene them to enterprise such a Voyage, taking order that Isaac le Maire should proude the one halfe of the money, and William Cornelison Schouten the other 20 halfe to furnish the said Voyage, by the helpe and furtherance of their friends, the care thereof, and to make prouision for the faid Voyage, being referred to William Cornelison Schonten.

And to finish the said Voyage, the Marchants aforesaid prepared and rigged a great and a small Ship of Horne, the great Ship called the Unitie, of three hundred fixtie Tunnes, whereof William Cornelison Schonten was Matter and chiefe Pilot, and Iacob le Maire Marchant and principall Factor, in it having fixtie five men, and nineteene great Pieces, and twelve Slings, with Muskets and other munition for warre proportionably, with a Pinasse to layle, another to row, a Boat, and a Scute, Anckors, Cabels, Ropes, Sayles, and all other necessaries belonging thereunto. The leffer Ship called the Horne, of an hundred and tenne Tunnes, whereof lohn Cornelifor Schonten was Mafter, and Aris Clamfon Marchant, in it twentie two men, eight great 30 Pieces, foure Slings, and other furniture, as need required, and was necessarie for such a Voyage. And for that they would not make knowne to any man, as I faid before whether they meant to goe, they hyred all their men, both common Saylers and Officers, to fayle vnto euery place whether the Masters and the Marchants would go, which made the common Saylers and people to speake and ghesse of that Voyage diversly, and at the last gave them the name of the Gold-Finders, but the Marchants named them the South Company. The Ships being readie, vpon the fixteenth of May 1615. the men were mustred by the Scout and Schepen of Horne, and the twentie fine of the same moneth the Unitie set sayle, and arrived at the Toffell vpon the twentie

Ann. 1615.

The third of Iune the leffer departted from Horne, and the next day came to the Teffell. Vpon the fourteenth of Iune 1614. we fayled out of the Teffell, and the fixteenth of the fame moneth, being in the fight of Dunkerke, past betweene Douer and Callis : the seventeenth ankoring in the Downs, Welliam Cornelison Schouten went on sheare at Douer, to get men to bring vs Fresh-water, and the same day set sayle from thence.

The fourth of July, it was ordered that every man should have a Can of Beere a day, foure pound of Bisket, and halfe a pound of Butter (befides fweet Suet) a weeke, and fue Cheefes for the whole Voyage.

The thirteenth in the morning wee faw the Islands of Tenerifa, and great Canaria, and the same day about noone we sayled betweene them both, with a stiffe North North-east wind, and a fwift itreame.

Betweene the fourteenth and the fifteenth, with the same wind and streams we passed Tropi-

The twentieth on the morning, we fell on the North fide of Cape Verde, and had eight fathome deepe when we first saw the Land, sayling along by the Coast, and at Sunne-rising the Cape lay West and by South from vs, so that with a North North-east wind wee could not get beyond it, and were forced to Ankor at thirtie two fathome deepe : that night it blew hard, with a great storme of raine and thunder. We had ill weather divers dayes.

The fine and twentieth the Alkaide, or governour came aboord our ship, with whom wee a-greed for eight States of Iron; that we should peaceably setch Fresh-water from the shoare. The first of August wee let layle from the Cape.

The one and twentieth of August in the morning, by Sunne rising we set sayle, and saw the high Land of Sierra Liona, about fixe Leagues from vs North-east and by North: wee likewise faw the Islands of Madrabomba, which lye on the South point, or corner of the high land of Sierra Liona, North from the Baixos, or shallows of Saint Annas Island, Sierra Liona is a very high land, there is no land fo high as it, betweene Capo Verde, and the Coast of Guinea, whereby the point is most easie to be knowne : that day we laboured as wee could to get to land, for the most part having stormie weather, running to the point, and over the Baixos, or shallowes of Saint Anna, at tenne, nine, eight, feuen and fine fathome water, and as wee fayled North-ward, the water waxed deeper, but East-ward shallower, so that about evening wee anchored with a high water, at foure fathome and ahalfe foft ground, and in the night time wee had but three fathome and a halfe, but it was fine cleare weather.

The two and twentieth in the morning at Sun-rifing, William Schonten went abourd the Horne, and layled in it before vs, the great thip following, holding our course North North-east, 10 with a North-west wind, and an ebbe under the bough, and so got off from the Baixos, to eigh- Baixos or shalteene fathome water, and from thence to the Itlands of Mabrabomba, which are very high, and low sor Saint lye all three on a row, South-west and North-east, halfe a league from Sierra Liona to sea-ward, Anna Mairathere wee had shallow water, at fine and foure fathome, soft muddie ground, we anchored about a bomba. league from the land, and going on shoare found no man dwelling therein, but perceived the footsteps of many great beafts, but all the land lay wast like a wildernesse, with low marshes or bogges, and high hils.

The three and twentieth in the morning, Iacob le Maire went abourd the Horne, and from it with both the boates on shoare, where hee found a Riuer, at the mouth thereof hauing many Cliffes, Sands, and Rockes, whereby no Shippe could goe into it, but within it was very deepe and broad enough for thips to turne and wind, there they could perceive no people to dwell but faw three wild Oxen, and a great many Monkies, and some Birds that barked like Does. They rowed at least three leagues up into it with the floud. After long search they found eight or nine Limon trees which they shook, and got about seven hundred and fifty Limons, most r pe, ready to dry. There also they faw great store of Tortoyfes & some Crocodiles, but no people. We determined to trie if we could get into the fresh river with both our ships, therein to make poursion of fresh water and Limonds, and to that end set sayle, but found the water so shallow, that we were forced to anchor at fixe fathome. The Horne anchored before the river, on the lower land, but there found shallow water. They found up the river no fignes of men, onely 2 Buffe and a Calfe, and here and there got fome Limons.

The nine and twentieth, perceiuing that we were not in the river of Sierra Liona, wee determined early in the morning to fet layle, and to goe North-ward of the high land, and about noone weee got about the Islands of Mabrabomba, West-ward, along towards the North part of the high land, till wee had twelve and fiftteene fathome vvater, and in the evening got about the point, where we anchored at fifteene fathome deepe.

The thirtie in the morning, were hoysed Ancher, and draue with the streame, and a South wind before the Village, in the right roade of Sierra Liona, where we anchoised at eight fa- *The road of thome, fandie ground, about a Musket shot from the land, there wee fave eight or nine houses S.erra Liona. couered with Stravv. The Moores called vnto vs in their language, to fetch them abourd our thip, and because they had no Canoes wee fent our boat on land, which presently came backe againe with five Moores in it whereof one was their Interpreter : but before they came, they defined that we would leave some of our men, to stay with them as pledges, for that not long before there had beene a French ship there, which had taken and carryed avvay two of their Moores. Aris Clarifon the Marchant, that went a shoare with the boat, slayed there with them, and having certaine Beades, he there bartered them for Limons, and Bananas. The Interpreter spake all kind of languages, one with another. In the meane time, our men having faire weather, laded fresh water, which is there easie to bee had, by reason it fals downe out of the hill into the road, so that wee held the Barrels under the shoare, or fall of the water, and filling them, put them flraight into the Scute, the water was very good. For a few Beades, and fome flight Norremburgh Kniues, wee might have had an hundred thousand Limons there at the least, if we would, for there they grew by vvhole * Woods full: the same night we bartered * Store of 50 with the Negroes for a shoale of Fish.

The first of September we hoyfed Anchor, and draue before the streame, and that Euening anchored at the mouth of the Sea, before a Small River. The second, vve set the Horne vpon the Strand to make her cleane, having a good place to doe it, for there the vvater fals feuen foote vp and dovvne: in the cuening our men came on board againe, and brought a little beaft named an Antelop, which they found in a Wood, in a net or frare let there by the Negroes, and fome Limons, and after that the Boat event out to fish, and got a great number, and some Palmitas which they had not cut downe in the yood.

The third in the afternoone, the Horne being made cleane was lancht into the water againe, 60 and our Matter event out to fifh, in the evening bringing a great shole of fish with him in tashion like to a Shoomakers cutting knife, and every man an hundred and fiftie Limons for his part.

The fourth early in the morning we hoyfed anchor, and fet fayle out of Sierra Liona. The fift of October, we were under foure degrees, seuen and twentie minutes, the same day about noone, there was such a noyfe in the Bough of our Shippe, that the Matter being behind in the Gallerie, thought that one of the men had fallen out of the Fore-ship, or from the Boe-sprit into the Sea, but as hee looked out ouer the fide of the Ship, hee faw the Sea all red, as if great flore of bloud had beene powred into it, whereat hee wondred, knowing not what it meant, but afterward hee found, that a great Fish, or a Sea monster having a horne, had therewith * Strange acci- ftricken against the Ship, with most great strength. For when wee were in Porto Defire, where dent of a Fish we set the Ship on the Strand to make it cleane, about seven foot under water before in the Ship, Briking against wee found a Horne sticking in the Ship, much like for thicknesse and fashion to a common Elephants tooth, not hellow, but full, very strong hard Bone, which had entred into three Plankes of the Ship, that is two thicke Plankes of greene, and one of Oken wood, and so into a Rib, where it turned vpward, to our great good fortune : for if it had entred betweene the Ribbes in- 10 to the Ship, it would happily haue made a greater hole, and haue brought both Ship and men in danger to be loft, it stucke at least halfe a foote deepe into the Ship, and about halfe a foote without, where with great force it was broken off, by reason whereof the great monster bled so much.

CHAP.7.

The fine and twentieth, the wind continuing, we held on the same course. Vntill that time we had fayled, and no man in our Ship, ( vnleffe it were the Mafter , William Cornelifon Schouten, and Jacob le Maire our Marchant) knew whether we should goe, and then they told vs what voyage they intended, which was, to feeke by another way then the straights of Magelan, to enter into the South Sea, there to discouer new countries in the South parts, where they thought to find great riches, and that if it fell not as they defired and pretended, then that they would faile along through the great South Sea, South-ward to the East Indies. This being knowne, our men 20 were very glad and reioyced, hoping every man for his part, to benefit by that voyage, to their

The fixe and twentieth, we were under fixe degrees, five and twentieth Minutes, with faire weather, and a good gale, and all the rest of that moneth for the most part fayling South-ward, with an East, and a North-East wind, we were under tenne degrees, and thirtie minutes.

The first of November we past the Sunne, whereby at noone time, it was North from vs. The third we were vnder nineteene degrees, twentie minutes, then we saw some Black-birds, and two or three fowles called Sea-mewes, and after noone, wee had a fight of Martin vads Islands called Ascension, which lay South-East, and by East from vs, under twentie degrees, there wee found our Compasse to varie North-East-ward twelve degrees: The wind being 30 North North-East, as the day before, and held our course South : That day our men had dou-

Abrolog fands, ble allowance of Wine, because we had patt the dangerous Sands, called Abrolhos. The one and twentieth, wee were under eight and thirtie degrees, fiue and twentie minutes, and had alteration of water, there wee cast our Lead, but found no ground, the Compasse then varied seuenteene degrees North-East-ward, that morning wee saw the new Moone, being one

The fixt of December, we faw Land not very high, but white and somewhat flat, we fell (according to our defire) on the North fide of Porto Defire, and at night anchored at tenne fathom deepe, about a league and a halfe from the shoare, with an ebbe that ran South-ward, as strongly as the Sea runnes betweene Finiting heads.

The feuenth in the morning wee hoyfed Anchor, and fayled South vntill noone, then wee were before the Hauen of Porto Defire, lying under leuen and fortie degrees, fortie minutes, and made towards the entrie thereof, where we had very high water, so that the Cliffes (whereof Oliver van Noors writeth, which failing into that Hauen must be left North-ward from vs) were cleane under water, but on the South point there lay certaine Cliffes open, which we tooke to be those, and therefore went South-ward on , but fayled South-ward of the right channell into a crooked Bay, and there at high water anchored at foure fathom and a halfe, and when the water was low, we had but foureteene foot-water, whereby the Unitie lay with her Sterne fast on ground, it being full of Cliffes, the wind was West from the Land, and smooth water to our great fortune, for if we had had an East wind, with any gale, for certaine, we had lost our Ship: 50 vpon the Cliffes we found many Egges, and tooke great Muscles and other Fish, and among the rell, Smelts of fixteene inches long, and for that cause we called that place the Smelt Bay. Our Shallop went to the Penguins Island, lying East South-East two leagues from Porto Defire, and came aboord againe late in the euening, bringing two Sea Lyons, and an hundred and fiftie Penguins, which we eate the next day.

Penguins. Scales.

The eight in the morning, with the Land-wind we fayled out of the Smelt Bay, and anchored right before the Hauen of Porto Defire, and fent our Shallop out to found the depth of the channell, and found twelve and thirteene fathom, entering in after noone, with a high water, and a North-East wind, we let fayle, the Horne first, and so entred into the Hauen. When wee had tayled about a league and a halfe into the river, the wind turned, and we anchored at twentie 60 fathoms : there the ground was flippery stones, for about halfe an houre after, the winde blowing hard North-West, both our Ships lying with two Anchors a Peece out : presently draue vpon the South shoare, for there five and twentie anchors could not have holden them, so that wee verily thought both our Ships would there bee cast away. The great Ship sate with her side vpon the Cliffes, and shoke with the falling vvater somewhat lovver, and still kept stanch. b ut the Horne fell vpon the Cliffes, fo that the vvater vvent cleane from it, whereby at a lovy vvater a man might haue gone dry foote vnder the Keele, right against the maine Mast: the Keele vvas aboue a fathome out of vvater, fearefull to behold, but as the vvinde blevve hard Northwest it kept it from falling ouer, which appeared to be io, for that when the winde ceased, it fell from the land against the vvinde vpon the side, at least three foote lower then the Keele, whereat vve vvere all abasht, thinking vve had furely lost her, but vvhen the Flood came vvith still weather, it rose vp againe, whereat we all rejoyced. In the morning with calme weather we yound off from the wall, and the same night the Horne came to vs.

10 The ninth in the morning, we fet faile againe, and went further into the River, and came to Kines Island Kings Island, so called by Oliver van Noort, the Horne went behind it, and there anchored, but almost covewe could not get in with the Unitie, because the wind was contrary. Our men went on shore into the Island, which was almost couered ouer with egges; for a man standing still on his feete, with his hands might reach to fiftie foure neafts, each having three cr foure egges a piece, much like (but somewhat greater) then Sea-Mues egges, the birds were blackish Sea-Mues, we carried thoulands of them aboord, and eate them.

The eleventh, the boat went lower into the River on the South fide, to feeke for men and water, and found nothing but brackish water: there they saw some Estriges, and beasts like Harts, Estriges.

with very long neckes, which were afraid of vs. Vpon the highest part of the hilles wee found 20 some burying places, which were heapes of stones, and we not knowing what that meant, pul- Grants see led the stones off from one of them, and vnder them found mens bones of tenne and eleuen foot the Voyage of long: they buried the dead upon the top of the hils, flat on the ground, and couer them also with Mage an. stones, which keepes them from beeing deuoured by beasts or birds.

The twelfth, thirteenth, foureteenth, fifteenth, and fixteenth, our men went continually on land to feeke for water, but found none, every day bringing good store of birds and fishes on

The feuenteenth, we laid our shippe within Kings Island on the wall, with an high water, to make it deane, where it was drie, that we might goe round about it dry foot.

The eighteenth, the Horne was also laid on shore about two Musket shot from our Shippe to 30 make it cleane. The nineteenth, as we were buile about both the ships to make them cleane, and burnt reeds vnder the Horne, the flame of the fire fodainly got into the Ship, and prefently tooke fuch hold thereof, that in the twinckling of an eye it was so great, that we could by no meanes quench it, by reason it lay fiftie foote drie from the water fide, and by that meanes wee were constrained to stand still, and see it burne before our eyes, not able to doe any thing to saue it.

The twentieth, at a high water we lancht the Unitie into the water againe, and went to the Horne and quencht the fire, but the ship was burnt cleane downe to the water. The next day when we had cast the water out of that part of it that was left, we saued all the wood, Ironworke, Anchors, Ordnance, and what else that was to be gotten, and put it into our shippe.

The twenty fifth our men found certaine holes full of fresh water, which was white and very 40 thicke, from whence some of them daily fetch water in little rondlets on their shoulders : some went armed with Muskets to defend them, others fetcht birds, and egges, and yong fea Lyons Seales. which we eate, and are of a reasonable good tast.

The thirteench about noone, we failed out of Porto Defire, but the fea beeing calme, wee anchored before the hauen, and when the winde began to rife, hoyfed anchor and put to Sea.

The eighteenth we faw Sebaldes Islands South-east from vs about three leagues, they lie, as Se- Sebalds Islands. bald Dewert writes, diftant from the Strait, East Northeast, and West Southwest, about fiftie leagues, then we were vnder fiftie one degrees.

The twentieth, we faw Steeneroffe drive, and perceived that we had a great streame that went Southwest, then we were under fiftie three degrees, and ghest that we were about twentie 50 leagues Southward from the Straits of Magelan. The eleventh we were under three and fiftie

The three and twentieth in the morning, we had a South winde, and about noone it waxt calme, then the wind blew West, and we had ground at fittie fathome blacke sandy, with small stones, after that the winde turned North, with smooth water and faire weather. The water shewed as white, as if we had beene within the land, we held our course South and by West, about three of the clocke afternoone we faw land West, and West Southwest from vs. and not long after that we faw it also in the South, then having a North winde, we went East Southeast, to get aboue the land, it blew so hard in the hollow water, that we were forced to take in our Toppe-fayles.

The foure and twentieth in the morning, wee fawe land on starre-boord, not aboue a great league diffant from vs, there wee had ground at fortie fathome, and a West-winde, the land ftretcht East and South, with very high hills, that were all couered ouer with Ice. We sayled along by that land, and about noone past it, and saw other land East from it, which also was very high and ragged.

Smelt Bay.

There lands as we gheft lay about eight leagues one from the other, and feemed as if there were a good paffage betweene them, which we were the better perswaded vnto, for that there ranne a hard itreame Southward betweene both those lands.

Storenf

Then about noone we were under fiftie foure degrees and fortie fixe minutes, and after noone wee had a North wind, and made towards this opening, but about evening it calmed, and that night wee draue forwards with a hard streame, and little wind. There we saw an innumerable number of Pengwins, and thoulands of Whales, fo that we were forced to looke well about vs. and to winde and turne to shunne the Whales, least we should sayle vpon them. The fine and twentieth in the morning, we were close by the East land, which was very high

Set: fland and

The New

S.r soof

trairs called and craggie, which on the North fide reacheth East South-east, as farre as we could fee, that land 10 we called Statefland, but the land that lay West from vs, we named Maurice-land. We perceiued that on both fides thereof, there were good roades, and fandy Bayes, for on either fide it had fandy frands, and very faire fandie ground. There are great store of fish, Pengwins and Porpoffes, as also birdes and water enough, but we could fee no Trees: we had a North-wind in the entrie, and went South South-west, with a stiffe course, at noone we were vnder fiftie fine degrees, thirty fixe minutes, and then held our course South-west, with a good sharpe wind and raine, and a stiffe gale: we saw the land on the South side of the passage vpon the West ende of Murice van Nassawes land, reach West South-west and South-west, as farre as we could see it. all very high and craggie-land. In the Euening the wind was South-west, and that night wee went South with great wages or billowes out of the South-well, and very blew water, whereby 20 we judged and held for cottaine that we had great deepe water to loefward from vs , nothing doubting but that it was the great South-fea, whereat we were exceeding glad, to think that we had difcouered a way, which vntill that time was vnknowne to men, as afterward we found it There we faw extreame great Sea-mewes, bigger of body then Swannes, their wings beeing fpread abroad, each of them aboue a fatheme long. These birds being vnaccultomed to see men, came to our ship, and fat thereon, and let our men take and kill them.

Great fowles

The fixe and twentieth, we were vnder feuen and fiftie degrees, with a flying florme out of the West and South-west, the whole quarter, with very high and blevy vvater, vve held our course South-ward, and in the North-west favv very high land, in the night wee turned North- 30

The feuen and twventieth, we were under fixe and fiftie degrees, and one and fiftie minutes, the vveather very cold, with haile, and raine, the wind West and West and by South, and vve went South-ward, and then croft North-ward with our maine Sailes.

The eight and twentieth we hoysed our top-sayles, then we had great billowes out of the West, with a West wind and then a North-east, and therewith held our course South, and then West and West and by South, and were under fiftie fixe degrees and fortie eight minutes.

The nine and twentieth, we had a Northeast wind, and held our course South-west, and saw two Islands before vs. lying West Southwest from vs: about noone we got to them, but could not faile about them, fo that we held our course North : about them they had dry gray Cliffes, and 40 fome low Cliffes about them, they lay vnder fiftie feuen degrees, South-ward of the Equinoctiall line, we named them Barnenels Islands. From them we fayled West North-west :about Euening we faw land againe, lying North West and North North-west from vs, which was the land that lay South from the firaits of Magellan which reacheth South-ward, all high hilly land, conered over with frow, ending with a sharpe point, which we called Cape Horne, it lieth voder firtie feuen degrees and fortie eight minutes.

rarneus's I-

Cape Enne.

Then wee had faire weather, and a North wind, with great Billowes out of the Weft, we held on course West, and found a strong streame that ranne West-ward.

The thirtieth, we still had great Billowes out of the West, with hollow water and a strong ftreame that wentWest-ward, which assured vs that we had an open way into the South sea, then 50 we were under fiftie feuen degrees, thirty foure minutes.

The one and thirtieth, wee had a North wind, and sayled West, and were vnder fiftie eight degrees: then the wind turning West, and West South-west, somewhat variable, wee passed by Cape Van Horne, and could fee no more land, and had great billowes out of the West, and verie blew water, which then fully affured vs that we had the broad South fea before vs, and no land: the wind was very variable, with great store of haile and raine, which forced vs oftentimes to winde to and fro.

The first of February, we had cold weather, with a storme out of the South-west, and sayled with our maine fayles, lying North-west, and West North-west. The second, the wind West, we fayled South-ward, and were vider fiftie feuen degrees, fiftie eight minutes, and found twelue 60 degrees North-ward variation of the Compasse. That day we saw many great Sea-mewes and

The third, we were under fiftie nine degrees twentie five minutes, with indifferent weather, and a hard West wind, and guessed that wee were that day under fiftie nine degrees and a halte, but faw no land, nor any figne thereof in the South. The fourth, we were vnder fiftie fixe degrees fortie three minutes, with variable windes, most Southwest, and wound to and fro as the wind blew, with eleuen degrees Northeastward variation of Compasse.

The fift wee had a strong streame out of the West, with hollow water, whereby we could beare no fayle, but were forced to drive with the winde.

The twelfth, our men had each of them three cups of vvine in figne of ioy for our good hap, for then the Straits of Magellan lay East from vs: the same day by aduice of all our Counsell, at the request of our chiefe Marchant, the nevy passage ( by vs discourred betweene Mauritim land, and the Statelland,) was named the Straights of le Maire, although by good right it to should rather have been ealled William Schontens Straight after our Masters Name, by whose vvise conduction and skill in sayling, the same vvas found.

During the time that we paffed through that Nevy Strait, and fayling Southward about that New-found land, till we got to the West side of the Straits of Magellan, for the most part we had a very strong streame, hollow vvater, continuall raine, mists, most and thicke vveather, with much haile and fnovy: vyhereby vyee endured much trouble, milerie and difeate. But in regard that we had so luckily discovered that Passage, and hoping that the places which we were yet to discouer, would likewise fall out well, we were encouraged; and not once thinking you our former hard passage, with assured mindes determined to goe forward on our Voyage.

The foureand twentieth, we hoyfed our upper Ordnance out of the hold, and placed it about 20 vponour Decke. The fine and twentieth of Ianuary, we hoyfed all our fayles, because we entered into a peaceable Sea, and had past all stormes and hard vveather.

The feuen and twentieth, we hoyled up our fecond tyre of Ordnance, and placed it in our fecond Orlope, for in Torto Defire vve had laid it downe in the hold, and all things that might hinder the wind, and then were under fortie degrees with faire weather, a South, and South Southeast wind, and a good gale, as the day before, and held our course Northward,

The eight and twentieth, our Counfell, and the foure Mafters determined to fayle to the Isles of John Fernando, there to refresh vs, because some of our men by meanes of the great paines and labour taken by them were extreame weary, and fome had the fluxe: that day we were under thirtie fine degrees, fiftie three minutes. In the evening we bare but small sayle, fearing to fall 30 vpon the land by night, and because vve would not passe beyond it in the night, wee sayled them, under thirtie three degrees and fortie eight minutes. These are two Islands, both of them very high and : the smallest lying most West-ward, is a very dry bare Island with nothing in it, but bare Hils and Cliffes, the greatest (lying Eastward) is also full of very high Hils, but hath many Trees, and very fruitfull. Therein are many Beafts, as Hogs, and Goates, upon the Coast admirable numbers of good fish; which makes the Spaniards oftentimes come thither to fish, and in short time fill their ships and carrie them 40 to Peru. Wee went on the West side of those Islands , which was not well for vs , for there wee must have gone about East-ward to get into the Road, which lyeth on the East point of the greatest Island, for going about on the West side behind the land, wee should have gotten under the land in the calme water, because the land there is high and calme, to that wee could not get to the land to anchor with our ship, and therefore sent our Boat out to found the depth, which came aboord agains in the Euening, and told vs, that close by the land we had fortie and thirtie fathome fandy ground which still lesseneth till it come to three fathome good to anchor in, besides a faire greene Valley, full of greene Trees, pleasant to behold. but because of the shortnesse of the time they went not on shore, and in divers places saw fresh water in great streames run downe off the Hils, they likewife faw many Goats and other Beasts. 50 vpon the Hils, which they could not well know, being fo farre off: they had also in short time taken a great number of good fish, for the Hooke was no sooner in the water, but presently they tooke fish, so that continually without ceasing, they did nothing but draw up fish, most of them being Corcobados, and Steen-braffes, and faw many Sea-Wolues: these newes cheared yo our men, specially those that were troubled with loosenesse hoping there to refresh themselves: that night it was calme weather, so that the streame draue vs somewhat back-ward. The fecond day we were with our fhip close under the land againe, but could not get so neere

The first of March in the morning wee faw the Islands of Iohn Fernando, right before vs. Islands of Iohn North North-east, with a South wind, faire weather, and a good gale. About noone wee got to Iernande.

(what meanes focuer wee vied) to finde ground, wee once againe fent our men on land, fome to fish, and some to seeke for Cattell, they saw many Hogs, Goats, and other Beasts, but by reason that the Woods were thicke they could not get them : and the while that some of them fetch 60 water, they that were in the Boat had taken almost two Tunnes of fish, all with Hookes, and so we were forced to leave that faire Island, and could get nothing else there.

The third day wee draue at least foure leagues beneath the Islands, notwithstanding that all that quarter we did the best we could to sayle neere to it, whereof at last being wearie, (leeing it was vnpossible to bee done) wee determined to leave them, and to hold on our course, to per-forme our Voyage, every day having a good fore-wind, to the great griefe of our ficke men, who thereby were cleaneout of comfort, but God holpe them.

94

These Islands are under thirtie three degrees, fortie minutes: this resolution taken, we set our course North-west and by West, with a good South gale of wind and faire weather.

The eleventh day wee past Tropicus Capricorni the second time, with a South-east wind, our courie North-west, there we had the generall East and East South-east wind, and held our course North North-west to the fifteenth, till we were under eighteene degrees, then we changed our courie, and went West, and made our rowing Shallop readie, to vie it when we came neere any

The third of April being Easter day, we were under fifteene degrees twelue minutes, at which 10 time we had no variation of Compasse, for the Needle stood right North and South, then the flux began much to trouble our men, for at times, halfe of them at the leafthad it.

Dags !fluid in 15.degrees 11. minutes, 924, leagues

The tenth day we saw three leagues from vs a low Iland, not very great, with great numbers of Sea-mewes and fish, and set our course to the Island thinking to have some refreshing, whereof in regard of the flux we had great need, About noone we got to the Island, and cast out our Lead, but found no ground, and therefore put out our Shalop. About Euening they came aboord againe, and could get nothing, but onely some greene Herbs, which tasted like vnto Holland Tuinkars, they faid, that there they had seene three Dogs, that neither barkt, nor made any noyse, and in it found some places full of raine water, that had fallen that day.

The Island as we perceived, feemed at high water for the most part to be over-slowne, it had 20 nothing about it but a kind of wall like a Ditch, full of greene Trees, pleasant to behold, and in the middle of them and elfe-where, much Salt-water. It is vnder fifteene degrees twelue minutes, distant from the Coast of Pern, by our estimation nine hundred twentie and fine leagues. That quarter the wind was North, and we held our course West, towards the Islands of Salomon, and called that Island Dogs Island.

In the night it blew hard, with a great showre of raine. The fourteenth the winde East and East South-east, we sayled West, and West and by North, with wind and weather aforesaid, and saw much fish, and many Birds: after noone we saw another low Island North-west from vs being very great, and reached North-east and South-west, whereat we reioyced, hoping to get water and some refreshing there, and made to it, holding 30 our course North-west.

About Euening, being with our ship about, a league from the Land, there came a Canee to meet vs, with foure Indians in it, all naked, of a reddish colour, very blacke long haire: they kepta good way from our ship, first calling to vs, making signes to have vs come on Land, but we vnderitood them not, nor they vs, notwithstanding that we answered and called to them in Spanish, Molucus, Iauan, and our owne Netherland speech.

About Euening at Sunne-fetting, we got to the land, but found no ground, nor no changing of water, although we were so neere to the shore, that with a Musket we might shoot into it, and therefore put to Sea againe, and the Canee to land, where a great many Indians flood vpon the shore to watch for them : not long after agains there came another Cance from the land to our 40 Thip, but would not (as the first) come aboord, they called to vs, and we to them, but vnderstood not one the other, at last their Cance overthrew in the water, but they soone turned it vp againe, and leapt quickly into it, they shewed and pointed towards the land, and wee the like to them towards the ship, but they would not come, wher with we held on our course and left the Illand, fayling South and South-west to get about the land : the Island was not broad, but somewhat long, and full of Trees, which as we gheffed were Palmitas and Cocus Trees, it lyes under fifteene degrees fifteene minutes, lauing white fand ground : that night we faw fire vpon the land in diuers places.

The fifteene day in the Morning, having in the night fayled about ten leagues South Southwest, we sayled close along by the land, where we saw many naked men standing on shore, cal- 50 ling and crying (as it feemed) to bid vs come on land, and then agains there came another Canoe, from the land towards our ship, with three Indians in it, which also called to vs, and would not come abord, but rowed to the Shalop, and went close to it, our men shewing them all the friendthip they could, giving them some Beads and Knives, but they understood not one another lating beene a little while by the Shalop, they left it, and came so neere to our ship, that we cast out a small Rope to them, which they tooke, but would not enter into the ship, but went into the Shalop, which came backe from the land without doing any thing, and having beene a good while in it, at the last one of them came into the Gallerie, and drew out the nayles of the windowes in the Marchants and Masters Cabines, and taking them away, hid them in his haire, they were defirous of Iron; for they ventured to pull out the bolts with their hands, and to 60 carrie them away, we fought to keepe one of them in the ship, and to fend one of our men with the other two in their Cance to land, to make friendship with them but they would not. They were very thesuish people, all naked, only a piece of a Mat hanging before their prince Members. Their skinne was marked with divers figures, as Snakes, Dragons, and fuch like things which shewed very blew, as if they had beene burnt thereon with Gun-powder, we gaue them wine, as they fat in the Canoe, but they would not give vs the Cup againe. Wee fent our Shalop once againe to the land, with eight Musketiers, and fixe men with Swords. Claus Iohnfon our vnder Marchant, and Arice Clauson the Marchant of the Horne, went with them, to see what was to be gotten in the Itland, and to make friendship with them. But as soone as they were by the strand and the men went on shore, there came at least thirtie Indians out of the Wood, with great Clubs or Cudgels and would have taken our mens armes from them and thought to draw the Shalop vpon the land, ventred to take two of our men out of the Shalop, thinking to carrie them into the Wood, but our Musketiers, having their Muskets readie, discharged three of them 10 amongst them, and verily thought that they either killed or fore wounded some of them. They likewife had long staues, with very long sharpe things at the ends thereof, which (as we thought) were finnes of blacke fishes, they also call stones with Slings, but (God bee thanked) hurt none of our men. Bowes they had not, as farre as we could fee. Our men faw fome of their women, that cryed and claspt their men about the neckes, but knew not what they meant, and thought they did it to get them from thence. That Iland (by reason we could there find no ground to anchor) we 11and without called the lland without ground. On the out fide it was low plaine ground, full of Palme Trees, ground. but within full of falt water. At last when we saw that there was nothing to be gotten, we determined to leaue it, and with an East wind held our course West to Sea-ward. There wee had flight water and no billowes as the day before wee had out of the South, and therefore wee gheft 20 that South-ward there was more land: it is under fifteene degrees, about a hundred leagues diffant

Louers of Iron, as in the La-

CH A P.7.

The fixteenth day in the morning betimes, we faw another Hand, North-ward from vs, which Another Hand we made to, but found it as the other, without anchor ground, within also being all drowned land, yet on the fides it was full of Trees, but no Palme nor Cocos Trees. Wee put our our Shalop to found the depth, but, going to the shore, found no ground, and therefore came abord againe, without doing any thing, or feeing any men. We fent our Shalop once againe to fee if we could get any refreshing or water vpon the land, who returning againe told vs that they had found fresh water not farre from the shore, in a Pit or Keele, which they might bring with Buckets to the strand, but hard to get into the ship, for the Shalop, by reason of the billowes, lay fast at a dreg, by which 30 meanes the men were forced, to draw one another with a Rope on land, and in like fort on boord againe, so that it was very troublesome and dangerous to goe on the land, and therefore fetcht but foure small fats of water. There also we found such herbes as we had in the Dogs Iland, whereof we brought a fackfull aboord, and fome Crabs, as also fome Shels and Hornes, that had fish in them of very good tafte. That euening we held on our course West-ward, with an East-wind, and an indifferent gale, rainie weather and smooth water. The same day wee were vnder fourteene de- Water Hand, grees, fortie fixe minutes. That Iland was fifteene leagues distant from the other, wee called it the water Iland, because there we got some water.

The feuenteenth day we gaue our men fix cups of water, and fold a great Kettle with Pottage, made of the greene herbes that we had in water Iland, which did our men fome good, and ealed 40 them of their loofeneffe.

The eighteene day in the morning, we faw another low Iland South-west from vs, lying West Flyelland. North-west, and East South-East, as farre as we could see, at the least twentie leagues, distant from the other. We made to it, and being hard by it, fent out our Boate to found the depth, they told vs they found ground by a point of land, from whence there came a streame at twentie, fiue, and fortie fathome, running foftly downe, about a Musket shot from the land, whereupon we fent the Boat with our emptie Caske thither, hoping to find water, when it came to the land, they let the Schut lye fast at a Dreg in the water and drew one another with a Rope through the water, to land as they did before, therethey fought a good way within a Wood for fresh water, but because they had no Armes with them, and saw a wild man, who as they thought had a Bow 50 in his hand, they turned prefently backe to the Shalop, and came abourd againe without doing any thing, and lying a good way from the shore, there came fine or sixe wilde men to the strand, who feeing that our men were gone, went backe againe into the Wood. Vpon that Iland there were great store of greene wilde trees, being also full of salt-water within. When our men came into the ship they were covered all over with Flyes, in such abundance that wee could not know them, their faces, hands, and Scute, all full, and the Ozers also as farre as they were out of the water, were covered over with blacke Flyes, wonderfull to behold: those Flyes came with them aboord our ship, and flue so thicke voon our bodie, and in our faces, that wee knew not how to flunne them, for we could hardly eate or drinke, but all was full of them: wee full wip't our faces and hands, and made flaps to kill as many as we could, this continued two or three dayes 60 with great trouble vnto vs all : at last we had a good gale of winde, whereby, and with continuall killing them, in the end when three or foure dayes were past we were rid of them: wee called that Iland, the Flye Iland, and therewith let forward from it, and had some raine, as also the next day, whereby we gathered to much water, with Clothes and Sailes, that it holpe vs well. In the night we made no great way, but often times let the shippedriue, that wee might not by night fall upon fuch low Itlands, and spoyle our shippe.

oб

The three and twentieth, we were under hiteene degrees, foure minutes, and then againe had great hollow billowes out of the South, which the next day also continued; the wind was Northeast, and most part East, and East and by South. There they said, that Terra Australis which we fought for, lay yet two hundred and fiftie leagues further.

The fine and twentieth, we filled fome veffels full of raine water, and ftill had hollow billowes out of the South, as we commonly haue in the Spanish Seas out of the North-west.

May.

The third of May the wind was still East South-east, and we sayled West, and at noone were under fifteene degrees, three minutes. That day we faw many great Dorados which were the first to that we had feene in the South Sea.

A ftrange

The ninth, we were under fifteene degrees, twenty minutes, and at that time as we thought vvere 1 5 to. leagues distant from the coast of Pers and Chili. About noone vvee favve a fayle, which as we gueffed was a Barke, comming out of the South, and event North-ward towards vs, vve prefently made tovvards it, and as it came neere to vs, vve fhot at it with one of our Pieces right ouer her, to make them firike, but they would not; then we shot againe, but yet they would not firike, with that we put out our Shalop with tenne Musketiers in it, to take her, which calling to them we shot another Piece, yet without any intent to reach or to hant them, but they would not ftrike, but fought as well as they could to get away from vs, and got to loofe-ward of vs, but our Shalop beeing too craftie for them rowed to them, and bee. 20 ing about halfe a musket shot from them, shot foure Muskets one after another, as they drevve neere to her, and before they could reach her, some of her men in great feare leapt over-boord. whereof one of them had a little child, and another was hurt, and had three holes in his backe. but not very deepe, for it was haileflot, those we fetcht out of the water againe: they also threw much of their goods ouer-boord, and amongst the rest three Hennes, our men leapt into their ship and carried them into our fhip, they not once refifting; for in truth they had no armes, when they were in our ship, we fetcht two men more that were left in theirs, which presently fell downe before vs, and kift our feet and hands, one of them was a very old man, the other a young man, we could not understand them, but used them kindly, and presently the Shalop rowed to fetch those that leapt ouer-boord, to saue their lives, but they got but two of them, that drove upon 30 one of their cares, and pointed to our men with their hands to the ground, as much to fay, that the rest were drowned; one of those two that was hurt, whom we drest, had long yeallowish haire. In that shippe there was at least eight women, three young sucking children, and some of nine or tenne yeeres old, so that we made account they were three and twentie in all, cleane naked people, both men and women, onely fomething hanging before their priny members. About eneming we fet the men on board their ship againe, that were welcome to their wines, which claint them about the necks, and killed them. We gave them beades, (which they hung about their necks, ) and fome knines, and shewed them all the friendship we could, and they the like to vs, giving vs two fine Matiens, and two Cocos nuts, for they had not many that was all they had to eate and drinke, and they had drunke out all the water out of the Nutres, fo that they had 40 no more drinke. Wee faw them drinke falt water out of the Sea, and gaue it also to their young children to drinke, which we thought to be against Nature. They had certaine cloathes which they ware before their priny members, and therewith couered themselves against the heate of the Sunne, of a yeallowish colour. They were reddish people, that anounted themselves with Oyle: the Women had fhort haire, like our men in Holland: Mens haire was long, curled, and very blacke: their thip was of affrange fathion. It was made of two long faire Canoas with a good the Nigrous. Space betweene them, in each Canca about the middle thereof, there lay two wholebroad planckes of faire red wood, to keepe out the water, and divers planckes laid croffe over, from the one Canoa to the other, which were made fast together, and hung a good way ouer on both endes, without the Canoas, very close aboue to keepe out the water, before at the ende of one of the Ca- 50 noas, on flarre-boord, there stood a Maft, at the ende thereof having a Forke, whereon the yard lay. The Sayle was made of Mats, and as the wind blew they fayled, without Compaffe, or any Infruments for the Sea, but hookes to fish withall, whereof the vpper part was stone, the other blacke bone, or Tortoyles shells, and some of them were mother of Pearle. Their ropes were very faire, and almost as thicke as a Cable, made of such stuffe as the figge-frayles in Spaine are. When they fayled from vs, they held their coruse South-east.

The manners

Sea-water.

The tenth wee had the wind South South-east, and South-east and by South, and held our course West and South-west. In the morning after breake-fast, wee faw very high land on Larboord, lying South-east and by South, about eight leagues from vs : wee made to it, and sayled all that day with a good gale, but could not reach it.

The eleuenth in the morning, wee were neere a high Island, and about two leagues South-ward from thence, another long low Island, that day wee fayled ouer a Banke of fourteene fathome deepe, flony ground, lying about two leagues from the land, and as foone as wee were ouer it, wee could find no more ground. One of the shippes aforesaid came to vs : they also carrie a Canoe in their shippe, which what time focuer, they can put out : and are very good Sea-men; Their ships were of the fashion aforesaid, with good sayles, and are so swift of sayle, that few ships in Holland can out fayle them. They Reere behind with two Oares, on each Canoe a man, and formetimes row with their Oares before, when they will wind, the ship also windes of it selfe when they pull the Oares out of the water and let it goe, or alone with the wind, wee put out our Shalop to found, which came and told vs that they had found ground at fifteene, fourteene, and twelue fathomes, sheluie ground, about a Canon shot from the land, wee presently made to it to Anchor, and tooke in our fayles. The Negroes feeing that , made fignes to vs to goe to the 10 other Island, and sayled thither before vs, but wee anchored at the end of the Island, at five and twentie fathome fandie ground, a great Canon shot from the land. That Island is a high hill, almost like one of the Moluccos Island, full of trees, most Cocos trees, therefore wee called it Cocos Cocos Mand. Iffand. The other Island is much longer, but lower, lying East and West. As soone as wee were at an Anchor, there came three small ships, that sayled vp and downe about our shippe, and at least nine or tenne Canoes boorded vs, some from the land, and some out of the little shippes, among the which two of them put out little white Flags in figne of peace, and weedlid the like. Their Canoes, which had three and foure men a peece in them, were flat before, and sharpe beland, hewed out of a whole peece of reed wood. Wherewith they could row exceeding fwift, and when they came neere the ship, they leapt into the water, and swamme to our ship, with their hands 20 full of Cocos nuts, and Vbes rootes, which they bartred with vs for nayles and beades, whereof they were verie detirous, they gave foure or five Cocos nuts, for one nayle, or a small string of beades, so that the same day we bartered for an hundred eightic Cocos nuts, and at last there came so many on board, that we scarce knew how to bestirre our selues. Wee sent our Shalop towards the other Island, to see it there we could not lie better, for there we lay in the open Sea, but the Shalop was no fooner off from the ship, rowing along by the land, but it was inclosed round about by twelve or thirteene Canoes of the other Island, and still more came to them, the people within them shewing as if they were mad, having certaine states of hard wood in their hands like clubbes, sharpe at the point, and a little burnt. They boorded our Shalop, and thought to haue taken it from vs, but our men being thereby constrained to defend themselues, let see three Muskets among them, whereat first they laught and mockt, thinking it but a sport, but the third time one of them was shot into the breast cleane through his bodie, which his fellowes seeing went prefently to helpe him, & finding him to be so fore hurt, all of them kept off from the Shalop, and went to one of their small ships with sayles, and call ng to it, would have had them to ouer row the Shalop, as we gheft, but they would not, for their Canoes had been aboord our ship, where they had beene well vied, and friendly dealt withall. Those people were very theeuish. Theeuish They were lustie men, well proportioned, and of great stature, and went all naked and vnarmed people. onely their prime members couered. Their haire was dreft after divers fashions, some short, and fome finely curled, fome had long haire bound up in pleits in feuerall manner, they were notable fwimmers. That Cocos Island lies vnder sixteene degrees, tenne minutes. The twelfth in the morning after breake-fast-time, there came more Canoes abourd our shippe, with Cocos nuttes, Bananas, Vbas rootes, and some little Hogges, and some vessels full of fresh water; that day wee bartered with them for one thousand two hundred Cocos nuts, wee were eightie fine men aboord, and every one had twelve nuts. They strove who should get first aboord, and those that could not get to the ship, leapt out of their Canoes, and dived vinder the other Canoes, to get to the shippe to fell their ware, holding Vbas rootes, and bunches of Cocos nuts in their mouthes, and climed so many, and so fast up to the shippe, that wee were forced to keepe them downe with staues. When they had fold their wares, they leapt out of the ship and swamme to their Canoes againe. They wondered at the greatnesse and strength of the shippe, and some of them crept downe behind at the rother, under the ship, and knockt with stones upon the bottome thereof, to proous how from it was. There came a Canoe from the other Island, that brought vs a young blacke wilde hogge, which the King fent vs for a prefent, wee would have given the meffenger fomewhat for it, but he would not take it, making fignes that the King had charged him not to take any thing. At noone the King himselfe came in a great shippe with a layle, of the fashion aforefaid, like an Ice Slead, with at least thirtie fine Canoes to accompany him. This King was by his men called Laton, wee received him with Drummes and Trumpets, whereat they wondred, because they neuer had seene nor heard the like before. They shewed vs great honour and much friendship outwardly, with bowing their heads, clapping their fifts together ouer their heads, and other strange Ceremonies. When he was a little way from vs , hee began to call and to crie out 60 aloud, as it hee had prayed after his manner, all the rest of his men did the like, wee not know, ing what it meant, but gheft that it was in itead of a welcome. Presently thereupon the King sent vs a Matien by three of his men, so whom wee gaue an old hatchet, a few beades, some old nayles, and a peece of linnen cloth, which hee willingly receited, laying it three times upon his head, and bowing it, in token of reuerence or thankes and curtefie. Those that came into our ship, fell on their knees, and kist our feet, and wondred much at our shippe. We could not know the King from the other Indians, for he was likewise clean maked, but onely that they shewed him resternce, and he commanded our his men. We made signes that the King should come aboord of our Shippe: his sonne came aboord, and we entertained him well, but he himselfe durit not or would not come, but they altogether made signes to have vs come to the firither Island, with our Shippe, where there was enough of all things to be liad. Among other things, we battered with them for angles of haire, that were made of rede, say in Holland, but somewhat thicker, with hooks of mother of Pearle. The Kings some went to land againe, and the Canoa wherein he went had a great piece of wood on lar-boord, wherewith it kept ypinght, ypon that piece of wood their angle lay recast te to tick-fish.

The thirteenth in the morning, there came at least fortie fine Canoas aboord, to traffique with vs, with an Armado of three and twenty small shippes, made like Ice-sleads, each of them one with an other, having five and twentie men a piece in them, and every small Canoa foure or five. we not knowing what their intent was. The Canoas dealt with vs, bartering Cocos nuttes for nayles, and made show, as if they were our great friends, but afterward we found it otherwise: all of them made fignes to vs to fayle to the other Island: the King who the day before had been at our Shippe, came likewise in his ship with a faile to our shippe, and all of them made a great noyse. We would gladly have had him aboord, but he would not; wherewith wee suspected treason, fearing some mischiefe, and the rather, because all the Shippes and Canoas kept close round about our thip, and that the King went out of his thip into a Canoa, and his fenne into an 20 other, and prefently they stroke upon a kind of drumme that was in his shippe, whereat all the Indians began to crie out alowd, which we effeemed to be a warning given vnto them, altogether to fall yoon vs. to take our shippe from vs, and then the ship wherein the King sayled before he went out of it, boorded vs, comming fo hard vpon vs, as if it would have funke vs: but it ftrucke against our shippe with such a force, that the two heads of the Canoas before brake in pieces, wherewith the men that were in it, (among them having fome women) leapt into the water, and fwam to windward; the rest beganne to fling great number of stones at vs, thinking therewith to feare vs , but we shot at them with Muskets , and three great pieces ( laden with Musicet shot, and old nayles) wherewith all they that were in the shippe and Canoas that lay about our ship, leapt into the water. We made reckening that some of them had forgotten the 30 way to goe home againe, and that divers of them also were fore wounded, and therewith they went backe: they knew not what fuch manner of shooting meant, but yet when they saw how we had handled them with our shot, they kept aloofe out of the reach of our Pieces, and we hoyfing anchor, fet forward againe on our Voyage, holding our courie West, and West and by South. We were of opinion, that the King at that time had affembled all his forces, for he had at the least a thousand men, or rather more: among them we saw one that was cleane white. When we were about four leagues off from the Islands, many of our men would have had vs

When we were about four leagues of from the filmos, many of our men would have had we goe backe against to the Illands, by force, to goe on land, to refresh our fel bees, in regard that we had but little water, but the Mailer and the Marchant would not. The first Island that was fo high, we named Coop Island; and the other that lay a league diffact from it, we called Trainer Island, 40 to Cook and the second the Line but white the beautiful second from the Island.

because the most part of the Indians that fought to betray vs, came from that Illand.

More Iland.

98

The four-teenth in the morning, we faw another Island right before vs, about feuen leagues diftant from vs, which feemed to be round, and as we gheft was thirty leagues diftant from the Iflands aforefaid. That Illand we called the Hope, and made towards it, hoping there to get water, and better refreshing; but comming to it, could find no ground, and therefore put out our Shalop to found a long the shere, which about a Musket shot from the land, found ground at forty fathome, finall blacke and fort flony ground, sometimes also they had twenty and thirty fathomes, but as foone as they were a Shalops length or two from it, they had no ground againe Then tenne or twelve Canoas came to our Shippe, but we would not let them come aboord, but shewed them friendly countenance, and bartered with them for foure flying fishes, for the which 50 we gaue them fome beades, which we let downe by a rope at the flerne of the Shippe, and they taking them, tyed the files to the rope, and we puld them vp : in the meane time our Shelop founded along by the Land, which they in the Canoas feeing, prefently made towards it, and beeing close by it, at first spake vnto the men, but withall compassed them about with sourceene Canoas; and therewith some of them leapt ouer-board, thinking to fall upon the Shalop, or to draw it away with them; which our men perceiuing, that with their muskets among them (there beeing fixe Muskets, and other armes, Courtelaffes and Pikes in the Shalop) and therewith killed two of the Indians as they fate in their Canoas, where of one prefently fell dead ouer-board, the other fate still with his hand wiping off the blood vpon his breast, but at List fell likewise ouer-boord: the reft in the Canoas, were thereat in fo great feare, that in all hafte they made away, 60 at which time we faw many men flanding upon the shore, that cryed and made a great noyle. But for that we there could finde no fit anchoring ground, we tooke our Shalop in againe, and went forward on our Voyage, holding our course South-west, the better to get to the South, hoping there to finde firme land. And it was to rough neere to the Island, that it was a very badde place for a Boat to goe on shore. The Iland was all full of blacke Cliffes, greene on the top, and Ilacke earth, and was full of Gocos Trees, and greene herbes. Wee also say many house along by the Sea-side, and close by the strand there was a great Village, the land was hilly, but not very high.

SCHOVTENS Straights and Discoueries.

The eighteenth, being under fixteene degrees, fine minutes, wee had variable West windes, that day we cald our Councell together, to whom William Cornels fon Schouten our Matter shewed, that then we were at the least one thousand fix hundred leagues East-ward from the Coast of Peru, and Chili, and had not discovered any part of Terra Australia, as our intent was; that there was not any appearance to discouer any thing to our contentments; that we also had savled fur-10 ther West-ward, then we intended; that fayling forward in that manner, without all doubt we should fall South-ward vpon Nova Guinea; and that it there we should find no passage or way to get through (it being very dangerous, vncertaine and not knowne) that then both ship and goods would be loft, and we our telues likewife should perifh, it being vnpoffible to come Eastward backe agains from thence, by reason of the stedfast East-winds, that in the West parts continually blow, that we also had but small store of victuals, and saw no meanes as yet to increase them; and therefore asked their countell, whether it was not their best way to alter their course, and to saile North-ward, thereby to get North-ward to Nona Guinea, and so to the Moluccees, which they confidering of, and well weighing, found his reasons to be true, and thought it necessarie to be done, and therefore all with one confent agreed to faile North-ward, not to 20 fall South-ward vpon Noua Guinea, being an uncertaine way, but rather North-ward, to hold a certaine courie: which was prefently put in effect, and we let our courie North North-west, a certaine courie: which was prefently put in effect, and we let our courie North North-welt.

The nineteenth, the wind South, and our courie North, at noone wee law two llands, NorthEaft and by East, about eight leagues from vs. which feemed to lye about a Canon fhor diffant one from the other. Then we went North-East, to faile about the land, with faire weather, but no

The twentieth, the wind was North-East, and wee did the best by sabouring to get to

The one and twentieth, the wind was Eaft, with a finall gale: and when weever about a league from the land, there came twentic Canner to our flipp, to whom wee the wed all ngines of friendflipp, but one of them with a wooden Alfager (harpe at the point) in his hand, threatned to floot at one of our m.n., and cryed aloud, as they did in the other Iland, which we thought was a figne among them, to fall vpon vs, wherevour we dicharged two of our great Peeces, and therewith all iome of our Muskets, whereby two of them were hurt, and the reft prefently made away, as they fled abrowing a flurt ouer-boord, which they had fleine out of our Gallerie.

The two and twentieth day there came diuers Camee to our finit, bringing fome Cocos Nuts, and Vbas Roots, others brought a line Hog, and two rotted Hogs, for the which we bartered, and gaut them High Kniues, Beakes, and Naies. Thoir people also were thereifh, and would twim, and due excee ling well, as shole in the other llands could doe, their houfes Hood along the firand, which were round and made of leaves finarpe on the top and cloic like a paint-houle; to let the water full downe, about fine and twentie foot in Compaffe, and ten or twelue foot high, with a low hole to go in flooping: in them there was nothing to be feein, but fome dryed heris, like hay, to fleepe yon, and an Angling Rod or two, and in tome a wood en club or flaffe, that was all their houle-hold fluffe, the both belt and worder fort, for the King himselfe had no more. Here wee found a commenious twenting place.

The foure and twentieth day, Aris Clauson, Reymie Simonson Snocke, and Cornelison Schouten went on land to be Hostages, to make friendship with the Indians, and for them wee had fixe of their principall men in our flip, whom wee vied friendly, giving them meate and drinke, and fome prefents, as they did to our men, giving them Cocos, and Vbas Rootes to eate, and water to 50 drinke. The King shewed our men great reuerence, an I gaue them foure little Hogs: that ay our men fetcht fine fats full of water reaseal ly without quarrelling, for when any of the Indians came neere our Boat, the King himfelfe came thither and draue them thence, or fent one of his men to doe it. His men were very obedient vnto him : for as it chanced that one of our Courtelasses was stolne away from vs, and we told one of the Kings Gentlemen thereof, hee gaue some of the Indians charge to fetch it againe, and prefently hee that had taken it, was fought for, and although he was gone a good way of, they brought him backe; who being come, the Courtelaffe was laid downe at our feet, and hee was beaten with states, they making signes vinto vs with their fingers upon their throats, that if the Herico (that is the King) knew of it, his head should be cut off: and after that, we had nothing foline from vs, neither on the shore, nor in the ship, 60 nor elie-where : neither durft they take a fifth that we angled for. Those people were very fearefull of our shooting, for when we shot off a Musket, they all ranne quaking and shivering away, and we put them in more feare, when we shewed them that we could shoot with the great Pecces, which the King defired vs once to do; which being done, they were all to tearefull and abotht thereat, that all of them, as also the King, (fitting vnder his Belay, or Canopie, notwithstanding all that we could fay or doe to perswade thew,) fore amazed ranne into the Woods, and left on men fitting there alone. But not long after they came againe, scarce halfe well assured.

Снар. 7.

The fine and twentieth day, Aris Clamson, Claus Solmson, and Daniel le Maire, went on land againe, to barter for hogs, but they would not barter. But after the King had faid his Prayers, (which he vied to doe every time that we went en shore,) shewed vs great friendship, and we the like to him.

The fix and twentieth day, Iacob le Maire our Marchant and Aris Clamfon went on shore but could get no Hogs of the Indians, because they themselves had great need of them, having little else to eate but Vhas Roots, Cocos Nuts, a few Hogs, and some Bananas : our men were very welcome vnto them, and had great reuerence shewed them, for they trod vpon Mats, and the Io King and his Lieutenant gaue them their Crownes, which they tooke off from their owne heads, and let them on their heads, in recompence whereof, lacob le Maire gaue them some presents of little worth, wherewith they were very well pleafed.

100

The Crownes were made of long small white Feathers and underneath and about mixt with of Feathers. Some red, and greene Feathers, for they have many Parrots, and some Doues, whereof they make great account: for every one of the Kings Councell had a Doue by him fitting vpon a flicke, those Doues are white on their backes, and all the rest blacke saving their brests, which are reddish : all that day we fetche water, and bartered for good store of Cocos Nuts, and Vbas Roots.

The feuen and twentieth, and eight and twentieth dayes, we got all our water into the ship, then William Cornelison Schouten oure Master, and Aris Clamson went on land with the Trumpets, 20 which the Kings tooke great pleafure to heare, and with much adoe got two Hogs.

The Kings Lieutenant putting a string about his feet, or his hands, climed quickly vp a smooth high Tree, and in a trice fetched down ten Cocos Nuts, which at one crush with a stick or a piece of wood, he so some opened, that our men wondred to see it. They told vs that they alwayes had warre with the men of the other Iland, and shewed vs many Holes and Caues in the Hill, and Bushes and Groues in the way, from whence they issued out, and spoiled and killed each other : and would gladly have had vs goe with our ship, to the other sland to helpe them there, to fight against those Indians with our Peeces, but it being no profit vnto vs, we refused it.

They were in great feare of vs, (although we shewed them all the friendship we could,) and doubted that wee would take their Countrey from them. The King promiled vs that if wee 30 would goe thence in two dayes, he would give vs ten Hogs, and a great number of Cocos Nuts, which they called Ali.

When he entred into the ship, he fell downe vpon his face, and prayed, then we led him into the hold, and there againe he prayed, he wondred much at that hee faw, as wee also did at his behauiour: his men kift our feet, and tooke them in their hands, and laid them on their heads and their neckes, in figne of fubmission.

In the Euening by Moone-shine, Aris Claufon went out to fish, and having taken a great shole of fish, went to the King; there he found a number of yong Wenches dancing before him, one played on a hollow piece of wood like a Pumpe, which made a noyle, whereat the yong Wenches danced after their manner, very finely, and with a good grace, according to the measure of 40 the novie of the Instrument.

The thirtieth day in the morning, the King fent vs two little Hogs for a Present: the same day, the King of the other Iland came to fee the King of that Iland, and with him brought fixteene Hogs, and three hundred men in his Companie, all of them having certaine greene herbes hanging about their midles, whereof they make their drinke. When the King was neere vnto the other King, he began afarre off with thrange Ceremonies and Reuerence to bow downe his bodie, falling with his face vpon the ground, and praying with a great noyfe, and much zeale, as we thought. The other King went to meet him, and likewife with a great noyfe and strange geftures, vied him very reuerently, and after much adoe, they both role vp on their feete, and went and fate together under the Kings Belay, and there were affembled together at least nine hundred so men. When they went to fit downe they prayed againe, according to their manner, hanging downe their heads, and bowing downe to the ground, holding their hands one in another, which we admired. After noone, Aris Clamfon being on thore, Iacob le Maire, Claus Iobn fon Ban, were fent for, who went a shore, with foure Trumpets and a Drumme, to the two Kings, there the Trumpets blue, and the Drumme played before them, wherein they tooke great pleafure: after that came a companie of Pefants, bringing with them a quantitie of greene herbes, Momely drink. which they called Caua, fuch as the three hundred men aforefaid had about their middles, and all together at once began to chaw the herbes in their mouthes, which being chawd they tooke it out of their mouthes, and laid it all in a wooden veffell, like a Tray, or Trough, and when they had chawd a great deale, they powred water into it, and so stirred and prest it together, and gaue 60 the liquor thereof to the Kings to drinke, who dranke thereof with their Gentlemen : they also presented that notable Drinke (as a speciall and a goodly Present) to our men, but they had enough, and more then enough of the fight thereof. They also brought a great number of Vbas Rootes, which they had rolted, and fixteene Hogs that were onely ript, and the guts taken out, but all blody, and not washt, and having certaine hot stones put into their bellies, and outwardly their haire finged off by the fire, were wel rosted after their manner, and they eat them as sauourly and with as good an appetite, as we could do when they are well fodden or rolled after our manner. Those people yeeld great reuerence and respect vnto their Kings, for all the meate which they brought before their King, (who in their Language they call Herico) they laid it vpon their heads, and kneeling on their knees, fet it downe before the King. Of those fixteene Hogs aforefaid, each King gaue vs one, presenting vs therewith in this fort, first they laid them vpon their heads, and kneeling laid them with great humilitie at our feet, and with them gaue vs eleuen little liue Hogs, and some indifferent great. And wee gaue them three Copper Beakers, toure 10 Kniues, twelue old Nayles and some Beades, wherewith they were well pleased.

Those people were men of good understanding, and of great stature, for the least man of them was as big as the tallest of vs, and the tallest of them was farre higher then any of vs, they were ftrong men, and well proportioned of bodie and limbes, they went very fast, and Iwamme and dined under the water excellent well, their colour was altogether browne yellow, they were very curious in the dreffing and trimming of their haire, some had it curled, some frizled, some wore it bound vp in long folds, foure, fiue, or fix, together, as our women doe in Haire-laces, and fome(which was ftrange to ice) had their haire ftanding vpright vpon their heads, about a quarter of an elle long like Hogs brifles. The King had a long Locke of haire on the lett fide of his head, that hung downe beneath his hips, bound vp with a knot or two. His Gentlemen had two such Lockes, on each fide of their heads one, they went naked all alike both men and women, onely fome little thing handiomely tyed before their prinie members. The women were very vnfightly both in face and bodie, of small stature, Their haire cut close to their heads, as our mens in Holland, their brefts long hanging downe to their bellies like lether Satchels. They are very lecherous, for they fuffer themselues to be vied by their men openly in all mens fight, and in the Kings owne presence, only vnder a Mat. We could not perceive that they worthipped God, Itis likely ther or any Gods, or vied any denotion, neither the one nor the other, but lined without care, like have lome Re-Birds in the Wood. They had no skill of buying or felling, but with flags they deliuered vs. hgion by the Ifome-what, and we in like fort to them againe. They neither fowe, nor reape, nor doe any mages, which fome-what, and we in like fortto them againe. They better lower, nor reaper, not one any measuring the worke, There the Earth of it fifty eyelds all that they need to infinite their likes: as Cocos, when they worke, There the Earth of it fifty eyelds all that they need to infinite their likes: as Cocos, when they worked they worked they are the second of the Library of the Library and the Library of the Libr the Sea fide for fishes, and when they will, they take them with their Hookes, and eate them net, and by the raw, so that there men may plainly behold and see the golden World, whereof the Poets write. prayers before When we left that Island, we called it Horne Iland, after the name of the Towne from whence mentioned we came, and the Bay wherein we anchored, the Unities Bay, after our ships name : that day for Hotel Lind. the most part, we were busie to get out, and to hoyse vp our Anchors, one of our Cables was fretted in peeces with the sharpnesse of the ground where it lay, so we lost that Anchor, and the Cable fretting upon a Cliffe, brake as we wound it up and loft that Anchor allo. This Bay lyes on the South inde of the land, in a Docke under fourteene degrees fifthe fix minutes. We departed time. the first of June; the one and twentieth we made towards land which we saw very low and go-

40 ing necre vnto it, found many fands which stretcht North-west of from the land, there were three or foure Hands, all very small but full of Trees. There a Canoe boorded vs , being of the fame fashion as afore, but somewhat greater, able to hold fine or fixe men. The men in all respects as the former, and spake the same Language, but somewhat blacker having some thing before their prime members. Their armes were Bowes and Arrowes, which were the first Bowes that we faw among the Indians in the South Sea, we gaue them some Beades and Nayles, but they pointed towards the West to tell vs that there was more land, where their King dwelt, and many things to be had. Therefore we held our course West-ward againe, finding no fit place to anchor in. This Hand lay South South-west, and West from vs, vinder foure degrees, fortie

The two and twentieth the wind East South-East, we sayled West, and West and by North, vnder foure degrees, fortie fiue minutes, that quarter we had a good gale of wind, and faire weather, and that day faw at least twelve or thirteene Ilands, one close by another, West South West from vs, reaching South-East, and North-west about halfe a league, but sayled along by them, leaving them on Lar-boord.

The foure and twentieth the wind South, at noone we faw land on Lar-boord, being three low llands, that lay South-west from vs, very greene and full of Trees, two of them were two miles long a piece, the third very little : the shore was hard cliffie ground, there likewise wee could find no anchoring we called them the Greene Hands. We also faw a high Hand that had feuen er eight houels forth right, lying West and by North from vs, in the night wee held off and on, staying till day.

The five and twentieth in the morning, as we were all failing by the aforefaid Iland, we faw other land before vs, in the South-welt, which was exceeding high, which wee thought to bee the point of Nona Guinea, we made towards it, leaving the other high lland that lay Weltward, which we called Saint Iohns Hand, because it was Saint Iohn Bapsifts day. About noone S. Iches Iland

we got to it, and failed along by it with an East South-East wind, but could find no anchor ground, we fent out our Shalop to found the depth, and went along by the shore betweene the Ship and it, and being fomewhat neere the shoare, there came two or three Canoas to it, with blacke Indians in them all naked, without any thing before their members, which fiercely cast Rones at our men with flings, but as foone as our men began to shoote at them they fled away. The Shalop came on boord againe, without finding any ground, telling vs that the peoples language was cleane contrary to the former. Wee fayled along by the coast, which was verie high and greene, pleafant to behold where vve favv much land as it had beene houses; at evening vve got about the point into a Bay, there vvee anchored at fine and fortie fathome, vufit and vneuen ground. The fame euening there came two Canoas to the Ship, and spake to vs, but vvee 10 vnderstood them not all that night they held vvatch against vs, with fire all along their coast: vve lay about a Cannon-shot distant from the shoare, against a running river : that night it was very still calme moone-shine vveather, the vvind on the land, there came some Canoes close vnder the Gallery of our Ship, from vvhence vve threvv them some beades, shewing them all the friendship wee could, withall making signes vnto them, to bring vs some Cocos nuttes, hogges, oxen or goates, if they had any, but they stayed still most part of the night by vs, crying and hollowing after their manner. They were wild, blacke, and rude men. This land as we gheft, lay distant from the coast of Perm, one thousand eight hundred fortie leagues.

The fixe and twentieth in the morning, there came eight Canoas about our Spippe, whereof one had eleuen men in it, the others foure, fine, tixe and feuen men. They rowed close about our 20 shippe, and were well furnished with armes after their manner, as Affagayes or Clubs, woodden Swords and Slings, we shewed them what friendship wee could, and gaue them Beades and other trash, making fignes to them to goe on shoare to fetch vs Hogges, Hennes, Cocos nuttes, and other fruit, such as they had, but they had another meaning, and altogether began fercely to Sling with their Slings and other weapons, thinking to mailter vs, but wee standing vpen our guard, that with our Muskets and great that amongst them, and slew at least tenne or twelve of them. They left the great Canoa, and three other, and leaping into the Sea swamme to land: we put out our Shalop, and rowed it among those that swamme away, and slaying some of them, brought three of them prisoners into our shippe, that were fore wounded, and foure of their Canoas, which we hewed in peeces, to make fire for the Cooke. The hurt men were cured, but one of them died, about noone our men rowed with the two wounded men to the land, along the shore: thre the prisoners cryed to their fellowes to bring vs Hogs, Bananas and Cocos nuttes, wherewith one Canoa came abourd, that brought a little Hog, and a bunch of Bananas, wee let one of the men at tenne Hogs ransome, the other that was fore hurt, wee let goe in the Canoa, because we doubted he would not live, those men had two holes bored in their noses, on either side one, wherein they ware rings, ilrange to behold. There wee faw another Island lying North from that great Island.

The feuen and twentieth, wee fild our emptie veffels full of water, and that day wee got a Hog from the land, and there faw divers red Birds.

The eight and twentieth, there came certaine Canoas aboord our Shippe, but brought nothing 40 with them, neither would they raniome their man, therefore wee let him goe on shore againe. We thought those people to bee Papoos, for all their haire was short, and they eate Betell and Chalke mingled with it, that night wee hoyled Anchor, and fet fayle, with a small gale of

The nine and twentieth, the wind was variable, and our course was North-west, and Northwest and by North, with faire weather till noone, then it calm'd. At euening wee were still in the fight of the Point of the Island, and yet we tayled along by the land, which reached Northwest, and North and by West, with many Bayes and Crookes. The same day we saw three high Islands more, that lay North-ward from the great Island, about fine or fixe miles. Then we were under three degrees, twentie minutes.

The thirtieth in the morning, driving in a calme, divers Canoas, with blacke Indians came a 50 boord our Ship, who in figne of peace, as they entred, brake their Assayes ouer their heads: they brought vs nothing, but defired fomething of vs. They feemed to be better and friendlier people then the other, for they couered their prinic members with leanes, and had better kind of Canoas, fet out before and behind with some carried workes; they are very proud of their beades, which they paint with chalke, and the haire of their heads also. Vpon the three or toure Islands, from whence those Canoas came, there was great store of Cocos trees.

The first of July in the morning, we anchored betweene an Island of two miles long, and the firme land of Guinea: about noone there came twentie five Canoas toward our Ship, with many men wellarmed : being the same people, who the day before brake their Affagayes over their 60 heads, and made a friendly shew vnto vs, but with intent to abuse vs, as after it appeared, who feeing vs to lie in a calme, thought to take our Ship from vs. We had two Anchors hanging out before at the bough, a little puld vp, whereon they fate, on each Anchor a man, with a Pingay or Girdle in their hands, wherewith they vie to hold or draw forth their Canoas , and fo thought to draw the Ship to shore : the rest hung fast upon the ship, wee still standing upon our guard : at last, they began fiercely to throw at vs with stones and other weapons, and thereby hurt one of our men, being the first that was hurt in all our voyage, but wee shot among them with our Muskets, and with our vpper tyre of Ordnance, and kild at least twelue or thirteene of them, and hurt many more: and while they fled away, our men rowed with the Shalop, (well armed) after them, and tooke one prisoner, being a young man about eighteene yeeres old, whom we named Moses, after our mans name that was hurt. Those people eate bread made of rootes of trees. After this fight we tayled all along by the land, with a good gale, Weit Northwest, and North-west and by West.

The second, wee were under three degrees, twelve minutes, and that day faw low-land on Lar-boord, and also a great high hill, and right before vs a low Island, wee fayled foftly West

North-west, with slight water East North-east.

The third, we saw high land againe, West from vs, about fourteene leagues from the other Island, under two degrees and fortie minutes.

The fourth, as we were builed to passe by the aforesaid foure Islands, we saw at least twentie two or twentie three others, great and fmall, high and low, which we left on Star-brood, onely Many Islands, two or three on Lar-boord. They lay close one by the other, some a league, or a league and a balfe, and some more then a Cannon shot, distant one from another, under two degrees twentie five or thirtie minutes little more or leffe.

The fixth, fometimes we had a hard wind, and fometimes calme with raine, lightening and thunder, and before noone law a very high hill, being South-west from vs which we layled vnto: our Malter was of opinion that it was Banda, by reason it was very like to the hill called Geomenapi in Banda, and very like for height, but going neere vnto it, wee might fee two or three hills more I ke vnto it, that I y on the North fide of the first hill, about fixe or feuen leagues distant, whereby we knew that it was not so. Behind that hill, we saw very much land, east and Weilward, which was fo long, that on either fide wee could not fee an end thereof, fometimes high, and then low, reaching East South-east, whereby wee ghest it to bee Noua Guinea, and for that night came vpon vs wee held off from it.

The leventh in the morning, before day we wound againe towards the high hils, which was a 30 burning Island, casting fire and flame from the top thereof, and therefore we called it Uulcans Vul. ans Island. Island, the wind then was South-west with faire weather. This Island was well inhabited, and had many Cocos trees in it, the people came with some Canoas to our Ship, but were very fearefull of vs: they called vnto vs, but wee vnderstood them not, neither could our blacke Moores tell what they faid: they were all naked, onely their prinie members conered, their haire some thert, some long. There we found no ground, and so could not anchor. In the North and Northwelt we faw more Islands, at which time wee went North-west and by West to a low Island that we faw before vs, which in the evening we got vnto. Then we took jin our fayles, and let the Ship driue. There we found divers colours of water, greene, white and yellow, which wee gheft to be water comming out of rivers, for it was sweeter then the Sea-water. There many trees,

40 leaves, and boughs drave in the water, whereon some Birds and Crabs sate. The eighth, the wind beeing variable, we held our course West South-west, and West Northwell, with faire weather, and a reasonable gale of wind, having on Starre-boord a high, and on Lar-board a low Island, reasonable high, we made toward the land, which about Euening we got vnto, and found good landy ground at feuentie fathome deepe, about a Cannon shot from the land. There certaine Canoas came to vs, with a kind of ill-fauoured people, all Papoos, their haire short, and curled, having Rings in their nofes & eares, and strings about their heads or armes, and Hogs teeth hanging about their neckes, for an ornament. They also eate Betel, and were all defective persons, some great legs, others swolne armes, and so forth; whereby it is to bee thought, that thereabout it is vnholesome land, and the rather, because their houses stood vpon 50 stakes, about eight or nine foote from the ground, there wee had three degrees fortie three minutes, and found a little flew of Ginger.

The ninth in the Morning, lying at Anchor, our Shalop rowed to looke for a fit place to anchor the shippe in, and returning told vs, that they had found a fit Bay , where vnto wee went, and anchored at twentie fixe fathome good landy ground mixt with clay. There about flood two small Villages, from whence there came many Canoas about deur Ship, that brought a few Cocos nuts, but they effected them very deare, for four nuts asking a fathome of linnen cloth, whereof they were very defirous. They also had some Hogges, which they held at a deerer rate, and what neede focuer we faid we had thereof and made fignes to them to bring vs fome, they would not doe it. That day every man in our Ship had allowance of five pound of bread, and 60 a measure and a halfe of cyle a weeke, a cup and a halfe of Sacke a day, and a Niperkin of Aquauna, all our Pottage, as Peale, Beanes, Gurts, and our Flesh, Bacon, and Fish beeing spent, and we knew not where we were, beeing vincertaine whether we were far or necre to the Indian Iflands, as also what place we were in, though we sayled continually by the land, not knowing whether it was Nona Guinea or no : we onely ghaft at it, for all the Cardes that we had did not agree, nor were like to the land that we faw. That land for the most part reacheth North-west and by Welt, fometimes fome what more Westerly, and sometimes againe more Northerly. The twelith, we fayled full West North-west, along by the Coast with faire weather, and without Sunne-shine, at noone beeing under two degrees fiftie eight minutes, with helpe of the streame. that fet vs about the West, as it did all along the Coast of Nona Guinea.

Iuly.

102

CHAP.7.

The thirteenth and foureteenth, we fayled along by the afore-faid Coaft, sometime by high and then by low land. The fifteenth, we had the wind, and held our course as afore-faid, along by the Coalt, with good weather, after noone we came to two low inhabited Islands, about halfe a league from the maine land, which stood full of Cocos trees. We made towards them . and there found good anchor ground, at forty, thirty, twentie fine, and twenty, to fixe and fine fa- Io thome deepe, and there anchored at thirteene fathome good ground. The Mafter rowed with the Boate and the Shalop well armed, to the land, thinking to get some Cocos nuts, which there were youn the land in great abundance: but going on thore, the Indians lay in ambush right apainft the place where we came to land, and watching for vs, thot fo fiercely at vs with their Bowes, that they hurt at least fixteene of our men, some in the arme, others in the legge, necke. and hands, and other places. And we shot at them with Muskets and Slings, but at last by reafon that the Indians shot so thicke, we were forced to retire, there we were under two degrees fiftie foure minutes.

The fixteenth in the morning, we failed in with our Ship betweene both the Islands, and anchored at nine fathome, where we had good lying after noone our Boat and Shalop rowed to the 20 leffer Island, to fetch some Cocos, and burnt two or three of the Indians houses: about Euening our men came aboord againe, and brought fo many Cocos nuts, that every one of vs had three nuts for his part. Those people are cleane naked, their prime members and all.

The feuenteenth in the morning, there scame two or three Canoas towards our shippe, and threw Cocos nuts into the water, making fignes to vs to fetch them, whereby they fought to be friends with vs. We made fignes to them to come aboord, at last taking better courage, they came close to the Shippe, and brought vs as many Cocos nuts, and Bananas as we defired, which we drew up by ropes into the gallery, giving them old nayles, rustie knives, and beads in barter; they also brought vs a little greene Ginger, and yellow Rootes, which are vsed in stead of Saffron, bartered also with vs some of their Bowes and Arrowes, so that at last wee were great 39 friends with them.

The eighteenth, weebartered still for Cocos nuts and Bananas, and some Cassauie and Papede, which is also to be had in East India. There we saw some larres or earthen pots, which as we thought came from the Spaniards. Those people were not so inquisitive to looke into our ship as others were; for they knew what shooting with great Pieces meant, and called the Island wherein they dwelt # 04, which lay most Easterly, the other ouer against it they called Infon. and the ottermost (beeing a very high Island) lying about five or fixe leagues from Nona Guinea, they named A imoa. We bought as many Cocos nuts and Bananas as we defired, fo that every man had fiftie nuts, and two bunches of Bananas. Those people vie Cassauie for their bread, but it is nothing like to that of the West Indies, they bake it also in round cakes.

The twentieth in the morning we let fayle, after we had againe bartered for more victualls. they made figures to vs to lie still, and they would bring vs more.

The one and twentieth, we fayled along by the land West North-west, and at noone were vnder one degree thirteene minutes. Then we faw a number of Islands, whereunto the ftreame draue vs, and about noone we got to them, and anchored at thirteen fathome. That evening we had much raine, thunder, and lightning.

The three and twentieth in the morning we fet fayle, with good weather and a good gale, and beeing a little from the land, fixe great Canoas followed vs, (and yet wee faw no men on land) bringing dried fish, (which wee tooke to be Steenbrasses,) Cocos nuts, Bananas, Tabacco, and fome small fruits like Prunes. There also came some Indians from an other Island that brought vs 50 fonce Victualls, that also had some China porceline, for we bartered for two dishes, whereby we were periwaded that many Christian shippes had been there, for they wondered not, as others did, at our shippe. They were another kind of people then the former, of a yellower colour, and greater of body; some of them had long haire, some short, and also vsed Bowes and Arrowes, whereof wee had fome in barter. They were very defirous of heads, and iron-worke, and had greene, blewe, and white glaffe rings, flicking in their cares : which we gheft they had from the Spaniards.

The foure and twentieth we were under halfe a degree, with a little gale, and fayled Northwell, Welt and South-well, along by a faire great Island, very greene and pleasant to behold, which we called William Schontens Illand, after our Malters name, and the Welt point thereof, the 60

The five and twentieth, we faw much land on Larboard lying South South-west from vs, some very high, and some very low. The seuen and twentieth we saw three Islands more, the Coast reacht North-weit and by Weit,

The feuen and twentieth, we were under nine and twentie minutes South-ward of the line. and faw much land South-ward from vs, fome high, and some very low, and past West North-

The eight and twentieth and nine and twentieth the weather was variable, that night wee An Earthhad an Earthquake, which made our men for feare to runne out of their cabbins, our Shippe fee- quake. ming as if it stroke against the ground, but we cast out our lead, and found no ground.

The thirtieth, we fayled in a great Bay or hollow place, so that we seemed to be round about inclosed with the land; wee did our best to find an opening, but could not, and therefore sayled North-ward againe: that day it thundred and lightened fo fore, that our Shippe shooke there-10 with, and sometime seemed to be on a light fire, wherewith we were in no small feare, and after it enfued to great a shower of raine that we never had feene the like before.

The one and thirtieth we perceived that we were entred into a place where wee had the land round about vs, therefore we held our course North, and that Eneming past the Equinoctiall line the fecond time, and beeing elofed by the land, anchored at twelve fathome good ground, about a Cannon shot from an Island, that lay close by the firme land, but there we saw no men nor any

The first of August, wee howsel anchor with great labour, for it lay vnder a Cliffe, but at last August. we got it up, we were then fifteene minutes North-ward of the line, in the Evening with the hard ffreame, we went close to the land, and by reason it was calme, anchored in vneuen ground, and not deepe.

The fecond it was very calme, and we draue with the streame West and West and by North, with rainy weather.

The third, wee held our course as before, with a calme, and found a Banke, so farre in the Sea that wee could scarce see the Land, in some places being fortie, in an other twentie, fifteene, and tyvelue fathom fandie ground, were anchored at tyvelue fathom, because it waxt night, and the Mafter defired to fee how the fireame went, it was West South-west. The same day vvee vvere vnder fine and thirtie minutes North-vvard of the line, and savv many Whales, and Tortices. Wee ghelt by the height, that wee were at the end of the land of Nona Guinea, having fayled along by the Coast two hundred and eightie leagues, that day we 30 fawe two Islands more West-ward from vs. Raynes and Calmes troubled vs.

The fift, in the morning, as our Shalop rowed to land, wee faw first two, and then three Canoas more come off from the land, and made towards our Shalop, and being hard by it, put out a Flagge of Peace, and our men the like, and then went aboord : the Canoas followed them and also came aboord, they brought vs nothing but a muster, or shew Beanest of Indian Bounties and Erties , with some Rice, Tabacco , and two Paradice Birds : wee barte- Peafe, red for one of them that was white and yellow. Wee could understand them reasonable well, for they spake Tarnata words, and one of them spake good Malaian, which language Aris Clamfon our Marchant could speake well, some of them spake some Spanish, and among them they had a Spanish Felt. They wore faire clothes, about their middles, and some had Silke Breeches on of divers colours, some also had Wreathes about their heads, which they say were Turkes or Moores in Religion. They ware Gold and Silver Rings vpon their fingers, their haire was all coale blacke. They bartered their ware with vs for Beades, but rather defired Linnen: They were very warie and fearefull of vs. Wee askt them what the name of this Countrie was, but they would not tell vs, but by many circumflances wee judged and verily believed, that were were at the East end of Gilolo, on the middle-most Point of the Land. (for Gilolo Gildo. reacheth out with three Points to the Fast ) and that they were men of Tidore, friends to the Spaniards, as we also found it so to be, which made vs all rejoyce, that after so many windings and turnings, and troubles endured, we were come to the place which week news, and hoped in fhort time to come among our Country-men, a thing which wee fo long, and fo much had hoped for and defired.

The fixth day in the Morning we having a good gale, South South-east, and had lying there, hoyfed Anchor to goe on our Voyage to the Moluccos, and held our course North, with a good gale to goe North, about the North point of Gilolo. The leventh it rained, and we saw the North. Morata, east point of Gilolo, called Moratay, which lay South-east from vs.

The eighth about noone, we were vider foure degrees three minutes North-ward of the line. that night it rained hard with thunder and lightening, there we found the streame to go Northward. The ninth and tenth the Wind was variable, with rainie weather, and we were vnder the height of three degrees fiftie minutes. The eleventh in the Morning, we fawe the land of Gilolo called Moratay againe, on the North-east point of Gilolo, we did the best wee could The Current, 60 to reach it, but the itreame put vs off from the land towards the North, and could not reach it

The twelfth and thirteenth, we were under two degrees fiftie eight minutes, with variable winds, and much raine; and the like the foureteenth, fifteenth, and fixteenth. The feuenteenth

Saboutans I-

104

The

with great labour and much trouble we got under the land, late in the Euening, and draue along by the Coast with faire weather: that night we saw many tires upon the land.

The eighteenth it was ftill weather, and we craue along by the Land: about noone two Canoes came to vs with a flag of Peace, from the Village called Soppy; they were Tarnataens . with whom we could freake well, and fome of them were of Gammacanor: they showed vs, that a Pinnace of Amsterdam had laine there three moneths to lade Rice, and that about a moneth or two before, alto an English ship had beene there. How glad we were then when we were so well affure!, that wee were come to to good and long defired a place, after so much paine and trouble that we had endured, with eightic flue found men, when we had spent all our victuals, every man may in lige that hath proued the like aduenture. There we were vider two degrees, fortie feuen minutes, and anchored at light and twentie fathome: some of those men stayed that night with vs, the next day to bring vs to the Road of Soppy.

The nineteenth we tayled into the Bay, and there anchored at ten fathome fandie ground, about a Canon that from the thore. That day we bartered for tome Sagow, tome Hennes, two or three Torroyles, and a little Rice.

September.

The feuenteenth of September we had a good gale, and did our best to get to Tarnata: that morning befiles we faw a fayle to looleward from vs, which also made towards Tarnata, being the Morning Starre of Roterdam, of three hundred Tunnes burthen, having in her fixe and twentie great Peeces. At moone our Shalop came from that shep, where she had lyen three nights, they being in the Creeke of Sabou, found there the Admirall Verbagoon there, in one of the Admirall 20 Speilberg his thips, by whole men we understool of Speilbergh his Acts and Voyage.

They dio told vs, that there were ten thips well furnished at the Manilles, their Generall being John Drickefon Lam of Horne, to fet vpon the Spanish fleet, that were comming to Tarnata. We also vinleritood, that Peter Bot layling home with foure ships, was cast away, vpon Mauricuu Iland, with three ships, by meanes of a storme that cast him vpon the Cliffes, where many of his men and himfelte also was drowned, the fourth ship scapt.

October.

The three and twentieth of October we fet fayle, and the eight and twentie went by lacatra. where we anchored without the Iland: there we found three thips of Holland; the Horne, the Esqle, and the Tron, and three English ships. The next night one of our men dyed, which was the first man that dyed that voyage, in the Unitie, befides two more that dyed in the Horne: the one Iohn Cornelison Schouten, our Matters brother, in the South Sea, by the Dogs Island, and one about 30 the Coaft of Portugall: fo that vntill then, there dyed but three men in both the ships, and then we had left eightie foure men living, all indifferently well.

The one and thirtieth , the flip called Bantam, with Iohn Peterson Koeuen of Horne, Prefident of Bantam, for the East India Company, came before lacatra.

The first of Nouember, the Prefident John Peterfon Koenen fent for William Cornelifon Schouten our Malter, and the Marchants, to come on land, where being come (in the presence of his Councell there affembled) he told them in the name of the East Indian Companie, that they must leave their ship and goods there, and deliver it up into his handstand although our Master shewed him many reasons, to perswade the contrarie, saying, that they did them great wrong, they were forced to doe as the Prefident appointed them, who told them, that it they thought they did 49 them wrong, that they should right themsclues in Holland: and so our ship and goods was stayed and att ched there. To receive the ship and all her furniture, the President appointed two Mafters of flips, and two Marchanes, which was delivered by Inventory vinto them, by our Mafter & the Marchant. This was done upon Munday the first day of November, after our reckoning; but upon a Tueflay the fecond of Nouember, by our Countrimens reckening there. The reason of the difference of the time fell out thus: as we tayled Weltward from our owne Countrey, and had with the Sunne compated the Globe of the World, wee had one night, or Sun-fetting, leffe then they : and they that come out of the West, and sayle to the East, thereby had one day or Sun-letting more then wee, which make a quarter diff rence, and to as we made our reckoning of the time then with our felues, and did the like with our Countrimen, that weeke wee lost the 10 Tuefilay, leaping from Munday to Wedneiday, and fo had one weeke of fix dayes.

Our sh p being in this manner taken from vs , some of our men put themselves into service with the East Indian Company. The rest were put into two ships, (that were to goe home into Holland) called the Amsterdam, and the Zeland: their Generall, being George van Speilberghen. The Master William Cornelison Schouten, Iacob le Mure, and ten of our men, went with the Generall in the Amsterdam, the Matters name Iohn Cornelison Mar, alias Meuscheater : and Aris Clawfon, and the Pilot Claus Peterfon, with ten others, in the Zeland, the Masters name Cornelis Riemlande of Midleburgh, which fet fayle from Bantam the fourteenth of December.

The two and thirtieth our Marchant Tacoble Maire dyed.

The first of Ianuary, 1617. we lost the fight of the Zeland.

The foure and twentieth, we were under the Hand Mauricius at anchor, where wee refresht our felues; and the thirtieth fet fayle from thence.

CHAP. 7.

The fixt of March, as we gheft, we past the Cape, but faw it not. The one and thirtieth, we were under the Iland of Saint Helena. Where we found the Zeland which arrived there certaine dayes before vs.

The fixt of Aprill after we had retresht our selues, and taken in fresh water, both our ships see fayle, and the fourteenth of Aprill faw the Iland of Ascention.

The three and twentieth we faw two ships to loofe-ward from vs vnder one degree Southward of the Line, but because we could not reach them, wee held on our course. The foure and twentieth in the morning, we were the fift time under the Equinoctiali Line, and the eight and twentieth we saw the North-starre, which wee had not seene in twentie moneths before. The first of July we came with the Amsterdam into

Zeland, where the day before the Zeland likewise was arriued: And fo performed our Voyage in two yeares, and eighteene

FIN 1S.

A day diff -

NAVIGATIONS AND VOYAGES OF ENGLISHMEN, ALONGST THE COASTS OF

AFRICA, to the Cape of GOOD HOPE, and from thence to the RED SEA, the ABASSINE, ARABIAN, PERSIAN, INDIAN, Shoares, Continents, and ILANDS.

THE THIRD BOOKE.

Снар. І. 🗚

Of the first English Voyages to the East-Indies, before the establishment of the East-Indian Societie.

Of SIGHELMVS, MAMDEVILE, STEVENS, FIT CH, and divers other English-men, their Indian Voyages.

Auing now taken Sea-view of the Vniuerse, and incompassed the whole Circumference of the Globe, in the former fixe Voyages: the first of Portugalls and Spaniards, the second and Yoyages, the inition Fotugains and spanners, the recond and third of English, the three laft of Hollanders, therein not a The English little furthered by English Pilots, and their Notes, as is before observed of Melin, Adams and others: Wee are in the next also first Come of the conditions of the co place, to take more exact furuey of the world in the principall patters of the Nauigations, to the most famous and remote Regions thereof, world, and the Glorious and happy were those fixe Worthies, which produced themselues true Somies of the Sunne and Tethys, a farre nor himselfe more Germane and Genuine iffue, then that daring Phaeton, effected amore who asked and attempted his Fathers Chariot, but ex- renowned changed it and himtelfe for this miferable Epitaph.

Quem fi non cecidit, magnis tamen excidit aufis. But these have attained what they fought, and what hee in his Vulcanian Chariot lost, these dedby English in Neptunian Chariots gained, and followed the Sunne round about the world; at once fee- infeructions, ming to imitate the heatienly Orbes (as so many Terrestriall Planets) and to rule the Elements, and Marriners fpurring the Ayre, bricking the Ocean contemning the narrow limits of known Earth, & filling not their ferthe world with their Fame. But Others alio, for their Marine aduentures are worthy honour. if not compating that honour of those First Worthies ( worthy to bee reputed First , and Worthier) yet in another kind, attempting as great a deligne, of as dangerous hazard, long Perignnation, costly expence, and profitable advantage, as the former. Such yvere those which have nation, conty experies, and promaine admantage, and promoned the blacke Guineans, and doubled the "Hopefull Promonetory, from thence piercing into "Capt Hopefull Promonetory, from thence piercing into "Capt Hopefull Promonetory, from the promoned in the promonetory of the promon

CHAP.I. $.2.

110

Fraise of

Que ne Eli-

Sighelm we his

W.M.Im. de

geftis Regum

trauc'ls to the Erythraan and Indian Seas, Lands, Islands, enriching our World, with a world of rarities for contemplation and vie.

To leave to other Nations Suapramia laudi, the English exploits in this kind are the subject of this Booke, especially theirs, which fince the establishing of the East Indian Company, or Societie of Marchants, have traded those parts; which was begun in the happy and flourishing Reigne of that Glorious ELIZABETH, vvhole Name could not end with her life, but as then it filled the Christian, Turkish, Persian, American, Indian, worlds of Place; so still it seemes to begin, renue, and flourish in glorious verdure, and to promise a perpetuall Spring thorowall Worlds and Ages of Time. Before Her times I confesse divers of our Nation have merited honour in this attempt, as Sighelmus, Bishop of Shire-borne, feat by that famous and religious King to Alfred, to Saint Thomas his Sepulchre in India, whence hee brought precious Spices and Iewels, Anno 883, twice recorded by William of Malmesbury : as likewife a certaine English-man mentioned by Matthew Paris, Anno 1243. Which travelled the East-part of the world with the Tartars in their famous expeditions: That I fay nothing of Sir lohn Mandenill his many yeeres Auflorin & de trauell through all the East, written by himselfe ; and by that famous Geographer Orteline, geji Epfi A.g. commended for his Geography ( I feare, corrupted by some leaden Legendary spirit in other pasfages ) and many Others, which Hifteries dignifie in the time of the Holy-land warres, for their Easterne trauells, and many more, no doubt, buried in the ruines of Time, by Oblinion and Ob-In her time wee haue record of divers Indian Voyages by English-men, before that Societie 20

Thomas Stenens.

First, the Voyage of Thomas Steuens, from Lisbone to Goa, by the Cape of Good Hope, was wtitten by himselte from Goa, the tenth of Nouember, 1579. and is extant in Master Hakluits fecond Tome of Voyages. Likewise the Voyage of Master Ralpe Fitz, by Syria and Babylonia, to Ormiu, and thence into, and through many Countries of the East Indies, begunne 1,83, and continued till 1591. is to be read in the faid fecond Tome of Master Hakluit, and in Linfchoten. Alioa Voyage, 1591. with three tall Ships, the Penelope, Admirall; the Marchant Royall, George Raymond and lanes Las- Vice-Admirall; and the Edward Bonauenture, Rere-Admirall; to divers Islands and Regions of the East Indies, by Master George Raymond ; of which the Marchant Royall, was fent to backe from Soldanhangerere the Care Bona Efferanza, which both the other Ships doubled, and necre the Cape Dos Corientes were seuered by a storme, and the said Voyage was onely accomplished by Matter lames Lancaster in the Rere-Admirall. For these I referre the desirous Reader to Master Hakluits Printed Booke. This last Voyage I have by mee, written by Henrie May, Purser of the said Ship; but because his relations are principally touching the accidents in their returne, wherein he was caft away in a French Ship on the Bermudat, I have refer'd that discourse to a ficter place.

Ralib Titz.

English-men

In the fourth place, wee may reckon those English-men in divers of those Dutch voyages about the Globe, Timothy Shotten, Thomas Spring, John Cald-well, and others. Yea the name of English-men were to famous in the East, that the Hollanders in their first trade thither, varnished 40 their obscuritie with English lustre, and gaue out themselves English.

Ison Newbury.

Moreouer, Master Ishn Newbury, was not onely companion with Master Ralph Fitch in his faid Voyage, and prisoner with him at Goa : but before that, in the yeere 1,80. had trauelled to Ormus, and thence into the Continent (as by his Journall, which I have, in fitter place may appeare ) passing through the Countries of Persia, Media, Armenia, Georgia, Natolia, to Constantinople, and thence into Danubius, Valachia, Polonia, Prussia, Denmarke, and fo into England.

ð. I I.

The Voyage of Master BENIAMIN WOOD, into the East Indies, and the miserable disastrous successe thereof.

N the yeere 1596 by the charges principally of Sir Robert Dudly, was fet forth mitted vnto the command and conduct of Master Beniamin Wood. The Marchants impleved in this Voyage, were, Master Richard Allot, and Master Thomas Bromfield, of the Citie of London. These men for their better furtherance, intending to pierce as farre as China, obtained the gracious Letters of Queene Elizabeth of famous memory, to the King of 60

See the whole

China in their behalfe, which begin in this manner. ELIZABETHA, Dei gratia, Anglia, Francia, & Hibernia Regina, vera & Christiana fidei contra omnes falso Christi nomen profitentes inuittiffima Propugnatrix, &c. Altiffimo, Serenifimog, Principi, Potentissimo Magni Regni China Dominatori , Summo in illis Asia Partibus, Infulify, adiacentibus Imperatori, & Magno in Orientalibus Mundi Regionibus Monarche, salu-1 tem, multo (g, cum omni optimarum rerum copia & affluentia letos & falices annos. Cum honesti & fideles subditi nostri, qui bas literas nostras ad Serenitatem vestram perferent, RICARD vs ALLOT & THOMAS BROMFIELD, Oc. Date in Palatio noftro Grenouici XI. Menf. Iuliy Anno Christi 1596. annog, nostri Regni XXXVIII.

This their honourable expedition, and gracious commendation by her Maiestie to the King of China in their marchandizing affaires, had not answerable succeife; but hath suffered a double dilafter; first, in the miserable perishing of the Fleet, and next in the losse of the Historie and Relation of that Tragedie. Some broken Plankes, as after a shipwracke, haue yet beene 10 encountered from the Well Indies, which give vs some notice of this East Indian disadventure. Que Regio in terris nostre non plena laboris? This intelligence were have by the intercepted Letters of Licentiate Alcasar de Villa Senor , Auditor of the Royall Audience of Saint Domingo, and Iudge of Commission in Puerto Rico, and Captaine Generall of the Provinces of New Andalusia, written to the King and his Royall Councell of the Indies. An extract whereof, so much as concerneth this bufinelle, here followeth. Wherein, let not the imputation of Robbery or Piracie trouble the Reader, being the words of a Spaniard, and the deeds of English in the time of warre twixt vs and Spaine.

AN other Commission your Royall Audience committed vnto mee, to punish offenders Anexted 20 A that did vsurpe a great quantitie of goods of your Maiesties, in the Island of Vriss. Of the Aspanh Letters and better that the committee of the commi flate that I had in the end of the last yeere, I fent relation to your Maie Rie, inferting a decla- found among it ration of one Thomas an English man, of the goods that in the faid Island hee and his compa- Master Hatnions had, and for this onely I will make a summarie relation of the Case, and the state of the luits papers, Suite, by the which will appeare, that out of England went three Shippes for the India crientall of Portugall, which tooke three Portugall Shippes, subiects to your Maiestie, whereof one of Three Portugal them came from the Citie of Gos, and from the Captaine they tooke a great rich flone, which he faid hee carried for your Maiellie, the proportion whereof went in the Gil Palaties. Them by the English he faid hee carried for your Maiestie, the proportion whereof went in the said Relation. They had in them also many bagges of Royalls of eight and foure, for the pay of the Souldiers, which your Maiestie hath in Garrison, in a Castle Frontire of the said India; and the said Eng-30 lish-men rob'd them of it, and much more goods appertaining to your Maiesties subjects : and by ficknes of the English-men, remained only foure, which in a boat put all the goods they could, which they had robbed from your Maiestie and your subjects, and with it chanced to a River in the Island of Viin, three leagues from this Island : where they tooke out their goods on land, where their Boat was funke and lost : so they remained on th'Island, with only one small Boat made of boords, which they had taken from certaine Fisher-men, at the head of Saint lohn of this Island : with the which they came for water hither , and left one George an English-man, one of the foure that arrived in the faid Island of Vtias. Who being found by Don Redrigo de Fuentes, Inan Lopez de Aliçeda, Inan Morales, Inan Martinis, Inan Ruiz, Pedro Chamacho; He gave them notice of the things about faid, and of the Stone, Stones, Gold, Plate, Teitones, 40 and other goods that was in the faid Island, and the parts and place where the three English-men and their goods they might find. Whereupon they confulted and agreed, to passe to the said Itland of "Otias to possesse and benefit themselves with the goods that they should there find, and so they past ouer, and carried with them a Letter of George the English-man, that his companions should deliuer themselues to them, with their weapons and goods. And being come neere to the place where the English-men were, they fet vp a white Flagge of Peace, and the English-men seeing this, set up another, and so came peaceably to speake together, where they promiled them their Faith and Friendship : whereupon the English-men yeelded themselues, with their armes and goods to the faid Don Rodrigo, and his conforts : who tooke peffession of all, and parted among themselues the money, and hid and kept secret the Stone, and Stones, Gold, 30 Plate and other goods, leaving a small quantitie of Plate in barres, and Silkes to make this small part manifest, that the truth might not be knowne what quantitie of Stones, Gold, Plate, and the rest of the goods they vsurped. They consulted and agreed to murther the English-men, with whom they had eaten, drunke, and flept in company of peace: who having kil'd Richard and Daniel, and would have kil'd Thomas, hee elcaped into the mountaine from them, and the faid Don Rodrigo and his conforts came backe againe to this Island, with intent to kill, as they did kil George the English-man with poylon, & Ient backe again to the faid Island of Vitas, to feeke Tomas for to kill him also; who with a piece of Timber passed ouer to this Island with great admiration. They having knowledge thereof, fought all the meanes they could to kill him. Here the faid Don Rodrigo, and Inan Lopez, de Aliceda, came to this Citie and before the 60 Gouernour manifested and made denuntiation of a small quantitie of goods that they found in Viias, and the rest of their complices presented themselves for witnesse, fallly proping that they had found no more goods, then that little that they there manifested, and that they had kil'd three English-men in fight to get it. And thus they plotted many falle in crmations, betore Christo vall de Marcado, a chiefe Officer, which was fent with Commission of your Go112

CH A P. I.S.2.

uernour, to fetch the Plate and goods to manifested, and by their perswasion many false witnesses have depoted, who have vied many tricks, in sentions, cauills & falle deufes to couer the truth; and they fent by three passages to the Island of Viias, to approve the so killing of the three Englishmen, and that their manifestation was true, intending to remaine with the rest, which they v. furped, who ynderstanding that there were diligences done to approve their delict, some of them haue broken the Prifons and Goales, and fled out of them, especially the fayd Don Rodrigo de Fuentes. Who being in prison with a chaine and bolts, and two Souldiers for guard, hee tyled off his Irons, broke the prifons, and fledde away by night, and carried with him two Blacke-Moores of his that were attached for your Maiestie, and went to the River of Ton two leagues from the Citie, where hee remained a long time in fight of this Citie, with a Horse, Lance, Pi- 10 ftoll and Sword, whom being fauoured of many kinstolkes and friends of his wife, I cannot apprehend, although I did many diligences, in the meane while I tooke the examination of his complices who have confest the deed, and that the faid Don Rodrigo is Actor of all ; by whole counfell and direction they were all gouerned. But they have not declared all the Stones, Gold, Plate, and Amber, faying that they were in the Illand separated and deuided, that the one might hide his things without the prinitie of the other. The proouances and likelihoods doe much charge the faid Don Rodrige, and therefore I have proceeded against him, for Absence and Rebellion, and they discovered in their confessions all their Complices; whom I have examined for witnesses one against another, being a case wherein Complices may serue for witnesses. This cause being concluded by an extraordinarie diligence, I have apprehended him, and for that the 20 fute is of two thousand leaves, I have made a memoriall to take his confession of more then two hundred questions, and he hath confessed almost as much as his Complices, and denieth to have the great stone and the rest; the said Don Redrige having taken from Daniel the Englishman two chaines of Gold, the one hanged with an Agnus Dei, and the other with a Crucifixe of Gold, and with it a collar of Gold, which Thomas the English-man declareth to have fiftie pieces Ameled, to bee worne for a womans chaine, with certaine Brailets and Rings of Gold with many small Stones: which declareth the said Inan Martines, one of his Complices, and the faid Don Rodrigo onely confesseth two Chaines and three Rings, which he faith were stolne from him, and his faid Complices, having declared that three bags of Testones, of eight and foure Royalls which fell to the part of him and lohn Ruiz, they had past to this Island, which 10 the faid Iohn Ruiz hath confest, and as witnesse hath declared that hee brought them, and carried them by the order of the faid Don Roarigo vnto his house, which hee will not deliver, faying, That they were stolne from him in the mountaine where hee did hide them : and his Complices having declared that he tooke in the faid Illand, a great maile of broken Silver, which Thomas the English-man declareth to be fiftie pound weight, the faid Don Rodrigo denieth the fame. And having taken more two fackes of Plate in barres, which by witnesse I did prooue to weigh more then two hundred pound weight each of them; hee hath deliuered of all this onely tenne pound and a halfe, and faith that he spent and fold twelve pound, and a pound and a halfe was stolne out of his house, and that hee gaue to Christopher de Mercado twentie and fix pound, when he went with Commission from your Gouernour to fetch the Plate manifested : he denieth all the 40 rest, affirming that he brought from the Island of Visa a Pot full of Plate, which hee faith fell from him into a River. And having prooued that he carried tokens from George the English-man where he should find the great Stone in a Presse, made up betweene two Boords, hee denieth the tame: and having prooued that the first time that hee went to the Island , hee brought thence a Purie of Veluet, without telling or shewing to his companions what was in it at the mouth thereof, did appeare certaine Boords of the Volume of two hands together, and it is prefumed it was that whereinto Thomas the English-man declareth the Stone was put, and hee will not deliver the faid Purse, faying, that it was stolne from him : he declareth and manifesteth some little pieces of wood that he brought in it, and two witnesses his Complices declare that those small pieces that he manifesteth he brought out of the same Island many dayes after, being sent thither 50 by order of the faid Christopher de Mercado. Many other tokens and prefumptions concurre that hee hath the faid Stone and the rest, and the rest of the Stones. It is likewise prooued, presently after they returned from the faid Island, the first time that they passed thither, it was publikely faid and famed, that the faid Don Rodrigo had found a Stone of great value, and to couer the truth hee was furnished with many Informations, which I have prooued to bee false, which were past before Christopher de Mercado, when hee went with the faid Commission to bring the goods manifested : for the which the faid Don Rodrigo gave him the faid twentie fixe pound of Plate, and hee and his Complices one hundred two and twentie Crownes of Gold. an I foure hundred and fiftie Royalls of Foure, and other things of the goods that they viurped in the faid Island. The faid Don Rodrigo directed his Complices what they should fay and do, and 60 therefore they told not the truth in many examinations that I tooke of them, till such time that the faid Don Rodrigo was fled out of the prison : to fayling of his counsel, they presently declared and confessed the fact, will serue for witnesses, and it doth appeare by many other witnesses that they before denyed the truth, and after his efeat the lared the lame, and concealed the fame before at the request and persuasion of the said Don Rodrigo also appeareth, that hee sent three fmall Caruels to the Iland, to the place where they faid they had killed three English men in fight, and he confesseth he did the same, to the end that his first Declaration might seeme to bee true, that he fent them by order of the laid Iohn Lopez de Alyceda, Constable of the vale of Coa, me; which hath no Iuridiction Civill nor Criminall.So I apprehended him and committed himand having brought the faid Thomas English man, to this Citie who declaring before your Gouernour by Interpreter the fact of this Sute, the faid DonRodrigo procured to kill him, and for the fame he requested of the Licentiate Antonio de Robles Physician, a proportion of Pcyson, which both he and the faid Iohn Martine have declared : and appearing that the faid Iohn Lopez did not 10 paffe to the faid Iland as Constable, nor carryed with him any Scriuener of two that were prefent when they imbarked themselves, and having confest, and as a witnesse declared that he past to the Iland, not as an Officer, but as a companion, and therefore tooke his share of the Testones, the faid Don Rodrigo holdeth for his principall defence, to have passed to the Hand with a Constable, and that all was done by his order, and that the faid Informations were false. I have charged the faid Don Rodrigo, of these and other offences that by the Processes appeare, and commanded that he might have a Copie of them that with in the space of fifteene dayes, hee might alleage and proue what was convenient in his right, with all charge of publication, conclusion and scitation for all the acts and sentences, leaving the Processes in Rebellion made ag anst him in his force and vigor. He let passe the said Terme, and I granted him other three Termes of fifteene dayes, which likewise he let passe, and in the end of them hee resuled me, and generally all the Inhabitants in this Citie, and thirtie leagues about it, excepting only fixe friends of his, and your Royall Officers they refused. So I accompanied my felfe only with one Bailiffe for the time of tryall, referuing to haue power to accompanie my felfe for the fentence with your Auditor which is looked for heere, and commeth to this Port for your Royall Audience of Santto Domingo, and I granted him the fourefecre dayes of the Law, and hee hath made no procte nor can make none. For all that were in the faid Hand of Utias have declared the delicts of the which the faid Don Rodrigo is charged, and there will bee found no other by whom to make proofe of any thing to the contrary : and the cause being concluded, the said Audites past without entring into this Port. And the faid Bailiffe and other persons that I pretended to accompany mee refu-30 fed me, faying, that if they did Iustice, the Kindred of the Wife of the fail Don Rodrigo, which have taken his part would doe them harme, and in not doing the fame, they did charge their consciences: and notwithstanding any person with whom I might be accompanied, that might not be without suspect, and the refusall was so generall and availeable, I accompanied my selfe at the last with Batcheler Ioseph Derebolledone, Naturall of the Island of the Canaries, which chanced to come to this Port. Likewise the said Inan Ruiz being Prisoner, brake his Prison and Gaole, and withdrew himselfe into the Cathedrall Church of this Citie, and made himselfe strong in the Tower from whence I gate him and a Sute was followed before the Indge Ecclesiasticall, where I defended your Maiesties right, and made an Information in the which I alleaged all the said goods to belong to your Maiettie, hee having committed Robbery in the viurpation of it, and oother grieuous Delices, that they ought not to enjoy the Immunitie Ecclehafticall which hee pretended: and with many judgements and opinions of Theologie, the ludge Ecclefiafticall gaue fentence that he ought not to be releeved of the faid Immunitie Ecclefiasticall, for that by the faid Information may be better understood. This Sute and Justice of your Maiestie, which I have thought good to fend; and if to the contrary the faid Don Rodrigo doe write, may be viderflood the credit that may be given to one that hath done such Delicts; and made so many Inuentions and falle Informations : to obscure and remayne without punishment with your Rov-

A conclusion of the Sure was made with them all, and I gaue and pronounced fentence, in the which I comdemned the faid Isam Lopez, exaliced Isam Rus, Isan Menrines, Pedro Camacho to death, and Isafe of halfe then goods applyed for your Maiefities Chamber; and more I condemned the afore-Isid in foldown, and that within fine dayes of the notification of this my fentence, they give and deliner the goods that they fared, all that yet remayneth vindelurered to the accomplishment of that which Thomas the English hath declared, therefore faid, and his comparisons to have taken in the Island of Fisia, of which they afore-faid, and Complices were posser of, hid and kept secret, that it might be put into your Maiestres Chefts, whose it is and to whom it dots belong.

The fame fentence I gaue with my Companion against the fail Don Rodrigo affunter, and remaynes pronounced in licret chaining others to fentence that they may come rorth together in the pronuntration. I command that writhin the faue dayes they deliver the fail goods: which not accomplishing did dornmand a Mandate to be disprached, that they may be executed with the which, I hope, to discour these goods, and they shall be restored to your Maietie, for the which I will doe all the dilegence possible for my intention is not to execute them. And thus God keep the Catholike person of your Marethe, From Parseive the second of Ochber, 1601.

d. III.

The Trauailes of IOHN MILDENHALL into the Indies, and in the Countryes of Persia, and of the Great Mogor or Mogull (where he is reported after-wards to bane died of * Poyson) written by himselfe in two Letters following.

Aprill 27.

" See my Pilgrimage, lib.5.

C47.7.5.4.

Aleppo. Iuly 7. 1600.

Va,

Nachian. Sultania. Casbin,

> Tefd. Sigiftam. Candabar.

He twelfth of February, in the yeere of our Lord God 1599. I, lohn Mildenhall of Lon. don, Merchant, tooke vpon me a Voyage from London towards the East-Indies, in the good Ship called the Hellor of London, Richard Parfons being Mafter, which carried a Prefent to the Grand Seignenr in the fame Voyage. The feuen and twentieth of April, 1 599. We arrived at Zante, where I frighted a Sates, and went into the Island of Cio, from thence to Sourna, and from thence to Conftantinople, where I arrived the nine and twentieth of October, 1599. and there I staied about my Merchandize till the first of May, 1600. Sir Hemy Lille beeing then Embassader: vpon which day I passed from Conflantinople to Scanderone in Asia, where in company of a Cham, and some fixe other Turkes, I tooke my Voyage for Aleppo ouer land, and arrived in Aleppo the foure and twentieth day of the faid May in lafetie, without any trouble or molestation by the way, and there abode two and fortie dayes, finding there Mafter Richard Coulthruit for Confull. And the tenenth of July, 1600. I departed from Aleppo, in 20 companie with many other Nations, as Armenians, Perlians, Turkes, and divers others, to the number of fixe hundred people in our Carranan, and onely of English M. Iohn Cartwright, Preacher: from whence we went to Bir, which is within three dayes journey, and stands vpon the edge of the river Euphrates. From thence we went to Urfa, which is five dayes journey, which we found very hot. From thence we went to Caracmit, which is foure dayes journey. From thence to Bitelis, a City under the government of a Nation called the Courdes, yet under the Subjection of Conftantinople, which is seven dayes journy; and from thence to Van, which is three dayes journy from Bitelu, a City of great strength, and by the side of the Castle is a great Lake of falt water, nauigable, and is in compalle nine dayes journey about, which I my felfe haue rowed round about. And once a yeere, at the comming down of the inow waters from the Mountaines, there is abundance of Fish, which come of themselves to one end of the Lake, which I may compare to our Herring-time at Termonth, where the Countrey-people doe relort from divers places, and catch the faid Fish in great abundance, which they falt, and dry, and keepe them all the yeare for their food: the Fish are as big as Pilcherds. From thence we went to Nachian, which is fixe dayes journey; and from Nachian to Chiulfal, which is halfe a dayes journey, and there we stayed eighteene dayes. From thence we went to Suliania, and from thence to Calbin in Persia, which is fifteene dayes journey, and there we abode thirty dayes. From thence to Com, which is three dayes journey: from thence we went to Calban, which was feuen dayes journey. From thence M. Cartwright departed from vs, and went to Spauhoan, the chiefe Citie in Perfa: from Calban to Test, which is tenne dayes sourney. From thence I went to Carman, which is tenne dayes sourney; and from thence to Signifam, which is foureteene daies sourney; and from thence to Gandabar, which is also foureteene dayes journey.

The fecond Letter of IOHN MILDENHALL to M. RICHARD STAPER, written from Casbin in Persia, the third day of October , 1606.

VV Orthipfull Sir, my duty remembred: Not having any other of more auncient love then <sup>16</sup> your felie, I have thought good to remember the manifold curtefies received, and partly to requite them with the first newes of the successe of this my Voyage, vnto the Court of the Great King of Mogor and Cambaia. At my arrivall in Labora the I dispatched a Poste for the Kings Court with my Letters to his Maiestie, that I might have his free leave to come vnto him, and treat of fuch businesse as I had to doe with him from my Prince. Who foorthwith answered my Letters, and wrote to the Governour of Labora, to vie mee with all honour and curtefie, and to fend a guarde of horse and soote with me to accompanie me to Agra, where his Court was, beeing one and twentie dayes iourney from Labora; and beeing neere the King: where reposing my selfetwo dayes, the third day I had audience, and presented his Maiestie with nine and twentie great Hories, very faire and good, such as were hardly found better in those parts: some of them cost me fiftie or threescore pounds an horse, with diverse Iewels, Rings, and Earerings, to his great liking. And fo I was difmiffed with his great fauour

He arriveth at arrived, I was very well met; and an house with all things necessarie was appointed for meeby

IOHN MILDENHALS Treatie with the Mogull. CHAP.I.S.3.

The third day after, having made before a great man my friend, he called me into his Councell: and comming into his presence, He demanded of me, what I would have, and what my businesse was. I made him answere, That his greatnesse and renowmed kindnesse vnto Christians was so much blafed through the World, that it was come into the furthermost parts of the Westerne Ocean, and arrived in the Court of our Queene of Englands most excellent Maiestie; who desi- This Voyage red to have friendship with him, and as the Portugals and other Christians had trade with his was madein Maiestie, so her Subiects also might have the same, with the like favours; and farther, because Reigne, there have beene long Warres betweene her Maiestie and the King of Portugall, that if any of Reigne, their ships or Portes were taken by our Nation, that he would not take it in cuill part, but suffer 10 vs to enjoy them to the vie of our Queenes Maiestie. All this the King commanded to be written downe by his Secretarie; and faid, that in short space he would give me answere. With that I withdrew my felfe with leave and went to my house. Within eight or ten dayes after hee sent me home in money to the value of fine hundred pound fterling, the first time with very comfortable speeches. Shortly after, as I was informed, heefent to certaine Iesuites, which lued there in great honour and credit, two in Agra, and two others in Labora, and shewed them my demands : whereat the Issuites were in an exceeding great rage. And whereas before wee were friends, now we grew to be exceeding great Enemies. And the King asking their opinion in The leuites this matter, They flatly answered him, That our Nation were all Theeues, and that I was a Spye calumniation fent thither for no other purpole to have friendship with his Maiestie, but that afterward our 20 men might come thither, and get some of his Ports, and to put his Maiestie to much trouble : faying withall, that they had eleven yeares ferued his Maiertie, and were bound by their Bread and Salt that they had eaten to speake the truth, although it were against Christians. With these and many more fuch speeches, The King and his Councell were all flat against mee, and my demands; but made no fnew thereof to me in any respect: but I knew it by friends, which I had in his Court. Afterward they caused fine Commandements to bee drawne and sent them mee, withall things that I had written : fauing, they had left out the taking of the fhips, and the Ports of the Portugals. Which when I had read, I prefently went to the Court, and made demand of the other Articles. The King answered, that hee would againe speake with his Councell, and make antwere. In this manner rested my businesse, and every day I went to the Court, 30 and in every eighteene or twentie dayes I put up Art or Petitions : and still he put mee off with good words, and promifed that this day and to morrow I should have them. In this manner, feeing my felfe delayed, and being at exceeding great expenses of eighteene or twentie Seruants, Horsemen and Foot, I withdrew my selfe from going to the Court, in so much that in thirtie dayes I went not. At length the King remembring me, fent to call for me : At my comming he asked the cause why I came not, as I was wont ! I answered, that I had come into his Countrey only vpon the great renowme of his Excellencie, and had wasted fine yeares in tranaile, and could not obtaine so much as a Commandement at his hands, which was whelly for his profit, and nothing for his loffe : adding, that if I had asked fome greater reward of him, hee would much more have denyed me. With that he presently called for Garments for me of the Christis-40 an fashion very rich and good, and willed me not to be sad, because every thing that I would have the grand Meshould be accomplished to mine owne content. So with these sweet words I passed sixe monethes garpon Mamore: and then feeing nothing accomplished I was exceeding wearie of my lingring, and could fter lobs Mildo nothing; and the rather for that I was out of money.

I should have declared before how the Jefutes day and night fought how to work my displea. The fundry fure. First, they had given to the two chiefest Counsellors that the King had, at the least five Practices of hundred pounds sterling a piece, that they should not in any wife confent to these demands of the lesures. mine : fo that, when I came to prefent them, they would not accept of any thing at my hands, although I offered them very largely : and where I had any friendship, they would by all meanes feeke to difgrace me. But God euer kept me in good reputation with all men. 50 Moreouer, whereas I had hired in Aleppo an Armenian named Seffur, to whom I gaue twentie Duckets the moneth, which ferued me very well for mine Interpreter four eyeares; now comming neere to the point of my speciall businesse, the Iesuites had soone wrought with him also in ferued him fuch fort, that he quarrelled with me and went his way : whereby I was destitute of a Drug- four yeares man, and my selfe could speake little or nothing. Now in what case I was in these remote Coun- for Interpreter. tries without Friends, Money, and an Interpeter, wisemen may judge. Yet afterward I got a Schoolemaster, and in my houseday and night I so studied the Persian Tongue, that in sixe He studied fixe Schoolematter, and in my houleday and night 110 studied the Fernan Tongue, that in the monethes the monethes space I could speake it something reasonably. Then I went in great discontentment to Persian tongue the King, and gaue him to vinderstand how the Iesuites had dealt with me in all points, and de- in Agre. fired his Maiesties Licence to depart for mine owne Countrey, where I might have redresse for 60 mine iniuries receiued; and withall told him, how small it would stand with so great a Princes Many yeares honour, as his Maiestie had report to be, to delay me so many yeares only vpon the reports of delay. two lefutes, who, I would proue were not his friends, nor cared not for his profit, nor honour; and defired a day of hearing, that now I my felfe might make plaine vnto his Maiestie (which for want of a Drugman before I could not doe , ) the great abuses of these Iesuites in this his iourney from His prefent to the King of Motor.

116

Leiger at Con-

The great Mogor gran-ted large pri-uiledges to

Mafter lein

Mildenball. He departeth ball returned

The Italians

mies forfeeking trade in

are our ene-

Court : beseeching you againe to grant mee licence to depart, and that I might not bee kept any longer with delayes. At these words, the King was mooued against the lesuites; and promised that vpon the Sunday following, I should bee heard, and that the Iesuites should be present. This speech I had with the King vpon the Wednelday. Comming before the place of Councell the Sunday following, there were met all the great States of the Court to heare the controuerfie be-

At the first the King called me, and demanded what injuries I had received of the Iesuites : I answered, That they had abused my Prince and Countrey, most falsily, calling vs all Theenes: and if they had beene of another fort and calling, I would have made them eate their words, or I would have loft my life in the quarrell. Secondly in faying, That vnder colour of marchan- Io dise wee would inuade your Countrey, and take some of your Forts, and put your Maiestie to great trouble. Now that your Maiestie may understand, the untruth of these mens false suggeftions; know you'all, that her Maiestie hath her Ambassadour Leiger in Corstantinople, and euerie three yeeres most commonly doth send a new, and call home the old, and at the first comming of every Ambassadoor shee sendeth not them emptie, but with a great and princely prefent : according whereunto her Highnesse intent is to deale with your Maiestie. This profit of rich prefents and honour, like to redound to your Maiestie by having league of amitie, and entercourle with Christian Princes, and to have their Ambassadours Leigers in your Court, thele men by their craftie practices would deprive you of. And our Ambassadours being resident, as pledges in your Court, what dare any of our Nation doe against your Highnesse, or any of your 20 lubiects. Vpon these and other such like speeches of mine. The King turned to his Nobles and faid, That all that I faid was reason; and so they all answered. After this I demanded of the Iefuites before the King; In these twelue yeeres space that you have served the King, how many Ambassadours, and how many presents have you procured to the benefit of his Maiestie : With that the Kings eldest sonne stood out, and said vnto them, naming them, That it was most true, that in a eleuen or twelue yeares, not one came either vpon Ambassage, or vpon any other profit vnto his Maiestie. Hereupon the King was very merrie, and laughed at the Ieluites, not hauing one word to answer. Then I said, It it please your Maiestie, I will not enely procure an Amballadour, but also a present at my safe returne againe into your Countrie. Divers other demands and questions were at that time propounded by the King and his Nobles vnto me : and 30 I answered them all in such fort, as the King called his Vice-Roy, (which before was by the Iefuites bribes made my great enemy ) and commanding him, that whatfoeuer priviledges or commandements I would have, hee should presently write them, seale them, and give them me without any more delay or question. And so within thirtie dayes after I had them figned to my owne contentment, and, as I hope, to the profit of my Nation. Afterwards I went and presented them vnto the Prince his eldeft ionne, and demanded of him the like commandements : which he most willingly granted, and shortly after were deliuered vito me. And so departing from the Court, I brought them with me into Persia: which are here in Cashin with my selfe, readie to doe you any seruice : and I would have come my selfe when I wrote this Letter, save that there were two Italian Marchants in Agra, that knew of all my proceedings : whom I doubted, as I had good 40 cause, least they would doe mee some harme in Bagdet, or some other places; they alwayes being enemies to our Nation, that they should find any new trade this way, as to you it is well knowne : And within foure moneths I meane to depart by the way of Mofconia; where arriuing I will not faile but fatisfie you at large of all matters.

Your Worships to command, IONN MILDENHALL.

J. IIII.

The Voyage of Captaine IOHN DAVIS, to the Easterne India, Pilot in a Dutch Ship; Written by himselfe.

TO THE RIGHT HONOVRABLE, MY EXCEEDING good Lord and Master, ROBERT Earle of Effex, &c.

Ight henourable, and mine exceeding good Lord, my dutie must adulie mee, to pre-ient this Iournall of mine East Indian Voyage, to your Lordships most indiciall view. 60 Wherein I have vsed my best diligence to discharge my duty, as neere as my slender ca-pacitie could effect the same, according to those directions which your Lordship gaue mee in charge at my departure; when it pleased you to imploy mee in this Voyage, for the discouering of these Easterne parts of the world, to the service of her Maiestie, & the good of our

Countrey. What I have feene, I doe fignifie in this Iournall to your Lordship: and that which I have learned by the report of other Nations (when it shall please God to make me happie by your Lordships fauourable presence) I will make farther knowne to your Lordship, aswell of the King of Portugall his places of Trade and strength, as of the enterchangeable trading of those Easterne Nations among themselves: beginning at Cefala, which is his first footing beyond the Cape of Buena Esperanza, and so proceeding to Mosambique, Ormu, Diu, Goa, Coulam, Onor, Mangator, Cochin, Columbo, Negapatan, Porto Grande in Bengalis, and Malacca: As alfo to the Cine of Macao, in the Province of Canton in the famous Kingdome of China. and to the Ilands of the Moluccos, and Amboyno. Which places are all in the Portugals possession ferting for his securitie 10 and refuge. Moreover he hath trade in Monomotapa, Melinde, Adin, Arabia, Cambaia, on the Coast of Coromandel, Balagnate, and Orixa. Of all which Nations there bee some dwelling in Achen in the Ile of Sumarra, trailing in marchandize, where I have met with Arabians, and a Nation called Rumos, who have traded many hundred yeares to Achen. These Rumos * come from * Configurational the Red Sea. There are in Achen many Chineses that vie trade, of whom I have beene kindly is called New vied, and can well informe your Lordship of that worthy Kingdome of China. The trades of Rome, and Vied, and can well informe your Loranipot in the worldy halpsonle of Lorania Interest and the Configuration of Configuration and the Configuration of the Co fent your Lorship the Alphabet of the Achens Language, with some words of the same; which me, of that they write after the manner of the Hebrewes. I have also fent by Mafter Tomkins of their Coine, there chiefe 20 which is in vitall payment. That of Gold is named a Mas, and is nine pence halfe penience. Citie. rest. Those of Lead are called Caras : whereof a thousand fixe hundred make one Mas. Good my Lord, remember the poore Widowes Mite. For furely, if I could doe more in this ferunce; or otherwise, it should not be omitted. From Middleborough this first of August, 1600.

Your Loraships most dutifull Seruant,

IOHN DAVIS.

A briefe Relation of Master IOHN DAVIS, chiefe Pilot to the Zelanders in their East-India Voyage, departing from Middleborough the fifteenth of March . Anno 1 5 9 8.

THe fifteenth hereof we departed from Fluthing with two ships in Consort, the Lion, and Lionesse: the Lion being source hundred tuns, had in hera hundred three and twentie persons: the Lioneffe two hundred and fiftie tuns, had a hundred persons. Mulbrom, Clarke, and Monef of Middleborough Owners and only Adventurers thereof. Cornelius Howteman chiefe Com-40 mander of both ships, having a Commission from Grave Maurice, by the name Generall. The two and twentieth we anchored in Tor Bay with bad win.ls.

The fewenth we fet faile, the twentieth we had fight of Porto Santo, the three and twentieth Aprille we fell with Palma: the last hereof we came with the Islands of Cape Verde.

The first we anchored at Saint Nicholas, one of the faid Hands in latitude fixteene degrees, May, fixteene minutes. Here wee watered the feuenth, wee departed the ninth, wee fell with Saint

The ninth we fell with the Coast of Brafill, in seven degrees of South latitude, not being able fune. to double Cape Saint Augustine: for being about the Line we had very vinconstant weather, and bad windes, being in this desperate case we shaped our course for a small He named Fernando Lo- Fernando Lis-50 ronba, in foure degrees of South latitude, the fifteenth we anchored upon the North-fide there- rasba. of in eighteene fathomes. We found in this Hand twelue Negroes, eight men, foure women.

It is a very fruitfull lile, and hath exceeding good water, it aboundeth with Goates, it hath alfo Beefes, Hogs, Hens, Mellons, and Ginnie Corne : with plentie of fish and Sea-birds. These Negroes were placed here by the Portugals to manure the Ile. Three yeeres past in which there hath no ships beene with them.

The fix and twentieth we departed from this Ile, the wind at East North-East, the last hereof we doubled Cape Saint Augustine.

The tenth we passed the Abrollos, which was the greatest of our feare (the sholds lye from September the Coast of Brasil, farre off into the Sea, in one and twentie degrees and are dangerous. Where- Abrolles. 60 vpon our Baafe, (for so a Dutch Captaine is called) chose a Matter of Mistrule by the name Kefar. Now the authoritie of Riot lay in this difordered Officer, who after Dinner could neither falute his friends, nor understand the Lawes of Reason. And those that ought to have beene most respective, were both lawlesse and wislesse. In this distribute manner we wasted three dayes, which being ended, and having againe recovered our former discretion, wee shaped our course for Cape

CHAP. I.S.4.

Bay of Solda-

118

Bona Esperanza, fayling towards the Court of Bacchus, vinto whom this Idolatrous Sacrifice was made, as by the end appeareth.

The eleventh we anchored in the Bay of Saldania, in thirtie foure degrees of the South Pole. ten leagues fhort of Cape Bona Esperanza, where there are three fielh Rivers. The people came to vs with Oxen and Sheep in great plentie, which they fold for pieces of old Iron, and spike Nailes. The best of that we bought, cost not more then the value of one penie in old Iron. Their Cattell are large, and under feuerall markes, having upon the backe by the fore shoulders a great lumpe of flesh like a Camels backe. Their Sheepe haue exceeding great tailes only of fat, weighing twelue or fourteene pounds : they have no wooll but a long thing haire. The people are not circumcifed. their colour is Oline blacke, blacker then the Brafilians, their haire curled and blacke as the Ne- 10 groes of Angola, their words are for the most part in-articulate, and in speaking they clocke with the Tongue like a brood Hen, which clocking and the word are both pronouced together, verie They goe all naked, having only a fliort Cloke of Skinnes and Sandals tyed to their feet, they paint their faces with divers colours, they are a strong active people, and runne exceedingly, and are fubicet to the King of Monomotapa, who is reported to be a mightie King, their weapons are only hard Darts. The Flemmings offering them fome rude wrong, they abtented chemielues three dayes, in which time they made great fires upon the Mountaines in the Countrey. The nineteenth hereof there came great troups of them to vs, bringing very much cartell with them, and in the time of bartering fuldenly, taking their advantage they fet vpon vs, and flue thirteene 20 of our people with hand Darts, which at foure Pikes length could not offend. Notwithstanding the Flemmings fled before them like Mice before Cats, throwing away their weapons most basely. And our Basse, to saue himselfe, stayed abourd, and sent vs Corslets, Two-hand-swords. Pikes, Muskets, and Targets, fo we were armed and laden with weapons, but there was neither courage nor diferetion. For we stayed by our Tents being belegred with Canibals and Cowes, we were in Muster, Giants, with great armed bodies, but in action Babes, with Wrens hearts. Hereupon Master Tombins and my selfe undertooke to order thele Fellowes, from that excellent methode, which we had feene in your Lordships most honourable Actions. Some consented to vs. but the most part vnwilling, and divers ranne to the Pottage Pot, for they swore it was dinner time, This night we went all aboord, only leauing our great Mastine Dogge behind vs, who by ,, no meanes would come to vs. For I thinke he was ashamed of our Companie.

This land is a good foile, and an wholfome Aire, full of good herbes, as Mints, Calamint, Plantine, Ribwort, Trifolium, Scabious, and fuch like. The feuen and twentieth wee fet fayle, the last hereof we doubled Cape Bona Esperanza.

December.

The fixt we doubled Cape das Agulies which is the most Southerly Promontorie of Africa, where the Compalle hath no variation. This Cape lyeth in thirtie fine degrees of the South 1 5 9 9.

January. Madazaftar. February. Bay of Saint Augustine.

He fixt we feil with the He Madagascar, short of Cape Romano : we spent this moneth to double that Cape, not being able wee boreroome with the Bay Saint Augustine, which lyeth upon the South Welt part of Madagascar in three and twentie degrees fiftie minutes. The third wee anchored in the fame Bay, where wee faw many people vpon the shore, but when we landed they fled from vs : for the other Voyage our Baafe was in this Bay, where hee greatly abused the people, and tooke one of them, bound him to a Post, and shot him to death, with other shamefull diforders. After seuen dayes by much meanes that we made, some of them came to vs, and brought vs Milke and one Cow which wee bought, and after would no more abide vs. They are a strong, well-shaped people, and cole blacke, their Language sweete and pleafing : their weapons halfe-Pikes, headed with Iron as a Harpon, which they keepe very bright, they goe wholy naked.

The Countrey seemeth to be very fruitfull, and hath great store of Tamaryn trees: we found 10 Bean's growing upon a high tree, the Cods being two foot long, with answerable bignelle, and are very good meate, here are many Camelions. It was no finall miferie that wee English indured especially in this Bay. But God the euer-liuing Commander was our only succour.

March. Hungry Pay.

The eight wee came aboord Dog hungry and meatleffe, the fourteenth wee fet faile from this place, which we named Hungry Bay, shaping our course vpon the North side of the He. The nine and twentieth we came with the Ilands Comoro , lying betweene twelve and thirteene degrees , and are fine Hands , Mayotta , Aufuame, Magliaglie, Saint Christophero, Spirito Santo. The thirtieth we anchored at Mayoua close by a Towne, where we found many people that feemed to rejoyce at our comming, they came aboord our shippes with presents of Victu- 60 alls. The King fent to have our Chiefe come after promiting him kindnelle. So our Baafe went, the King met him with many people, haufing three Drummes beating before him. He was richly apparelled fo were his followers, with long filke Garments imbrodred, after the Turkish manner. The King having vied vs with fuch kindnesse as we required, wrote a Letter in our behalfe to the Queene of Ausuame, for there is no King.

The feuenteenth we departed : the nineteenth we anchored at Anguarie, before a City named Aprill. Demos: which hath beene a ftrong place, as by the ruines appeare. Their houses are built with Answare. free hewed stone and lime, the walls of the Citie are most runnated, that which remaineth is as bigge as P immoth. This Queene vied vs exceeding friendly; but the would not be feene. In these Islands we had Rice, Oxen, Goats, Cocos, Bonanas, Oranges, Limons, and Citrons. The Inhabitants are Negroes, but smooth haired, in Religion Mahometists, their weapons are Swords. Targets, Bowes and Arrowes. These Itlands are pleating in fight, and fruitfull in nature. Here we found Merchants of Arabia and India, but what Commodities the Itlanes yeeld, I could not learne. They defire Weapons and Yron; they greatly regard Paper. The eight and twentieth, wee depar-10 ted, passing through the Islands Mascarenhas, by the sholds do Almerante.

The three and twentieth, we fell with the Islands of Maldinia, which are very low close by the May. water, wholly courred with Cocos trees, so that we saw the trees but not the shore. Here we anchored, and refreshed our selues: Many of the Countrey Boats passing by vs.but none would come to vs : whereupon our Baafe fent out the ships boats to take one of them. The foure and twentieth, they brought a Boat aboord vs couered with Mats, I ke a close Barge. In this Boat was a Gentleman and his Wife, he was appar lied in very fine white Linnen, after the Turkish manner. In his rings were rich stones, his benaujour was to tweete and attable, his countenance so modelt. and his speech so gracefull, as that it made apparant shewe he could not be lesse then a Noble-man. He was vinwilling to haue his Wife feene: notwithstanding our Baafe went with him into his Boat, to fee her: he also opened her Casket, wherein were some Iewels and Ambergreese. He reported that the fate with mournefull modeftie, not ving one word : what was taken from them I knowe not; but in departing this Gentleman shewed a Princely iprit. His colour was blacke. with smooth haire, a man of middle stature. In these Islands there is great trade by reason of the Cocos: for they make Ropes, Cables, Sayles, Wine, Ovle, and a kin i of bread of that tree, and his fruit. They report that there be 11000, of their Illands. The fe ien and twentieth wee let fayle: this morning there came an old man aboord vs that spake a little Forengall, he was our Pilot through the Chanell, for by chance we fell with the true passible Chanel, named Maldinia, in latitude foure degrees, fifteene minutes of the North-pole, where the Compane is varied feuenteene degrees Westerly. In missing this Chanel it is a dangerous place. The trade of shipping through this Chanell is very great of diners Nations, from most places of India, as I hope in your Lordships presence at large to enforme your Honour.

The third we fell with the Coast of India, in eight degrees and forty minutes of Northerly 1a- lune; titude, neere about Cochin, and coasting this shore, we shaped our coarse East for Cameran, and from thence to the Island Sumatra. The thirteenth, we law the coast of Sumatra, in fine degrees forcy minutes of Northerly latitude. The fixeteenth, w: spake with the people, staying at an Island by the shore to take in water. The one and twentietth we anchored in the Bay of Achin, in twelve disist. fathome. Being here, the King fent his Officers to measure the length and breadth of our ships, to take the number of our Men and Ordnance, which they did. With those Officers, our Baale fent two of his people with Prefents to the King, a Looking-glade, a Drinking-glade, and a Bracelet of Corall. The one and twentieth, our men came aboord, whome the King had apparelled after his Countrey manner, in white Calicut cloth: they brought newes of Peace, Welcome, and plenty of Spicery. We found foure Barks riding in the Bay, three of Arabia, and one of Pegu. that came to lade Pepper. Here was also a Portugail, named Don Alfonfo Vincent, that came with foure Barkes from Malacca, to preuent our trade, as the fequell doth shew. The three and twentieth at mid-night, the King fent for our Baase, and sent a Noble man for his Hostage : hee went prefendy on shore, whom the King vied very kindly, promising him free trade. He apparelled him after the Country manner, and gaue him a Cryfe of Honour: This Cryfe is a kind of Dagger, whole haft and handle (for it hath no croffe nor hilt) is made of a kind of mettall, which the King effeemeth farre beyond Gold, and is fet with Rubies. This mettall hath a fine luftrent 50 take Victualls without money, and to command the rest as slaues. The fixe and twentieth, our Basse came about with a Boat-load of Pepper; reporting words aboue credit, how the King had vied him, of his mightie fortune, and of the wonderfull trade that he had procured, with no final Gaudeamus in superbia nostra: he further said, that the King did often demand of him, if he were not of England, which he did ftrongly denie, ving some vifit speeches of our Nation. Further, "Englishmen faid he, beeing aboord, I wish I had given a thousand pound that we had no English among vs: abused by thus we, poore foules, were thrust into the Corner. The seuen and twentieth, our Merchants Hollanders, went on thore with their Merchandize, having an house by the Kings appointment.

is death to we are this Cryfe, but from the Kings gift : and having it, there is absolute freedome to

The twentieth, our Banfe beeing with the King was exceeding well entertained, the King July. 60 very importunate to know if he were English: Tell me truely, (laid the King) for I love fouldiers; and I must further tell you, Alfon to hath been earnest with me to betray you, but it shall not be; for I am your friend: and therewith gaue him a Purfe of Gold. He gi ing thankes, answered that he was not of England, but of Flanders, and at the Kings feruice. I have heard of * Eng. * England land, faid the King, but not of Flunders: What Land is that . He further enquired of their King, famous.

liftmen in this

State, and Gouernment; whereof our Basse made large report, refusing the Authoritie of a King. relating the government of Aristocratie. He further made fute to the King, to give commandement that his tiblects should not call him English : for it was a bitternes vnto him : which the King granted. Againe, he required to know if there were no Englishmen in the ships: he answer Diuerfe Eng- red, there be some English in the ships, but they have been bred vp in Flanders. I vndersand, faid the King, that there be some that differ both in apparell, language, and fathion: what are those he answered, English; of which my cheife Pilot is one. Well, faid the King, I must see those men. As touching your Merchandize it shall be thus : I have warres with the King of Ior (this Kingdome of Ior is the South-point of Malacca) you shall serue me against him with your ships: your recompence shall be your lading of Pepper; this was agreed. The twenty eighth, our Baafe 10 came abourd, accompanied with one of the Sabandars, the Secretary, Merchants of Mecka, Turks, Arabians, and Dan Alfonfo, with some Portugalls; all which departed passing drunke. The King began to shew an altered countenance the twentieth hereof, saying to our Basic, tins to goe on shore) I thinke when you have your Pepper, you will runne away without doing me seruice, as you have promised : whereupon I was presently sent for. The one and twentieth I came on fhore. The two and twentieth, I went to the King early in the morning, who did vie me very friendly. I stayed with him foure houres or better, banqueting and drinking. After an houre, he caused the Sabandar to stand vp, and bad me likewise stand vp. The Sabandar tooke off my Hat, and put a Roll of white linnen about my head; then he put about my middle a white 25 linnen cloth that came twice about me, hanging downe halfe my legge, imbroydered with Gold: then againe he tooke the Roll from my Head, laying it before the King, and put on a white garment vpon me, and vpon that againe one of red. Then putting on the Rell vpon my Head, I fate downe in the Kings prefence, who dranke to me in Aquanite, and made me eate of many strange meates. All his seruice is in Gold, and some in fine Percellane. Hee eateth upon the ground, without Table, Napkins, and other linnen. Hee enquired much of England, of the Wherefore doth not that English Pilot come to me ! (for he would not fuffer me nor M. Tom-to his great good liking. The three and twentieth, the Prince sent for me; I rid to his Court voon an Elephant : hee 30 vied me exceeding well. Excessive eating and drinking was our entertainment. During the small time of my beeing on shore, I met with a very sensible Merchant of China, that spake Spanish, of whom I learned tome things, which I hope will give your Lordship good contentment. Here are many of China that vie trade, and have their particular Towne: so have the Portugals, the Gusarates, the Arabians, and those of Benoale and Pegu. Our Baase dilliking that I so much frequen-

* Davis his enwith the King of Achin.

Queene, of her Balba's, and how she could hold warres with so great a King as the Spaniard : (for he thinketh that Europe is all Spanish.) In these his demands he was fully satisfied, as it seemed ted the Chinaes company, commanded me aboord. The next day having some sowre lookes of the King, he came abourd with a dull spirit.

September.

treachery.

The first hereof, the King made shew that we should receive in Ordnance for the battery of Ior. and take in fouldiers to depart for that feruice. There were many Gallies manned, and brought out of the River, riding halfe a mile from our thips; the Sea full of Prawes and Boats all manned: 40 there came abourd vs the Secretary, named Corconn, & the cheife Sabandar named Abdala, with many for Idiers weaponed with Courtefalles, Hand-darts, Cryfes and Targets. They brought with the many kinds of meat, & a great lar of Aquanita: herewith they made shew of friendship with banq acting. We mistrusting some treachery, filled our tops with stones, made tast our gratings, and prepared our weapons: whereat our Baafe was exceeding angry, commanding all to be dif-A fleange ford folued, but we would not. There is in this Countrey a kind of Seed, whereof a little beeing eaten, maketh a man to turne foole, all things feeming to him to be Met:morphofed; but aboue a certaine rate it is deadly poylon: with this all the meate and drinke which they brought was infected. In banqueting, the Sabandar and Secretarie fent for me, M. Tomkins keeping me company, and vied fome words to one of his company, but what I knowe not; in fhort time we were 50 foole-frelicke, gaping one vpon an other like Antiques, our Baale beeing prisoner, and knewe it not. Suddenly when a token was given from the other Ship (for there the like treachery was vfed by the Secretary, who went from our flip thither to act the fame) they fet vpon vs, murthered our Basse, and slew divers others, N. Tomkins, my selfe, and a French-man defended the Poope, which if they had recouered, our ship had been lost: for they had the Cabin, and some were belowe among the Ordnance, by creeping in at the Ports. The Master of our ship which they call Captaine, Laps into the Sea, so did divers others; but recovered the ship againe, and came aboord when all was done. In the end we put them to flight, (for our tops plagued them fore ) which when I faw, I leapt from the Poope to purfie them, M. Tomkins leaping after me, there came a Turke out of the Cabin, and wounded him grieuously, they lay together tombling 60 each for his life: which feeing, I ranne the Turke in with my Rapier; and our shipper presently with a halfe Pike thrust him downe the throat into the body. In the other ship all the cheifest were murdered, and the shippe taken: we cut our Cat les, and draue to her, and with our shot made the Indians flie: fo we recoursed the ship: the Gallies durst not come neere vs. In this great miserie it was some pleasure, to see how the base Indians did flye, how they were killed, and hew well they were drowned. The Sea was coursed with Indian heads: for they swamme away by hundreds, The Sabandare Abdala, and one of the Kings neere Kinimen were flaine, with many others; and the Secretarie hurt. The King being by the Sea-fide with many people, when the newes came of the Sabandars death and their great ouerthrow, the furious Infidels murdred all our men a shore, only eight excepted, whom the King settered for Slaves. We loft in this misfortune threefcore and eight persons, of which we are not certaine how many are captined : only of eight wee haue knowledge. Wee loft two fine Pinnasses of twentie tunnes a piece, and our ship Boate. This day we departed and anchored before the Citie Pider, where we had fent a Pinnasse for Rice, hoping to have newes of her, but had not. The second there came cleuen Gallies with Portugals (as we thought) to take our ships. Wee sunke one and beate the rest : so they fledde. This after-noone came abourd vs the fonne of Lafort a French Marchant dwelling in Seething-Lane, who was one of the eight Prisoners, with this Message from the King. Shame you not to be fuch drunken beafts, as in drunkennesse to murder my people, whom I sent to you in kindnesse. Therefore he required our best ship for fatisfaction, and for the reliefe of our men. Doe'this faid he to Lafort, and I will make you a great Nobleman , but wee would not, and being diffrested of water, departed to the llands Pulo Botum upon the Coast of Quedia in fix degrees lifty minutes, where we refreshed and watered.

CHAP. I.S.5. Treason of the K. of Achen rewarded. Of Sumatra, &c.

During the time of our abode in Achien, we received into both our ships a hundred and fortie tuns of Pepper, what stones or other Marchandize I know not. But at the day of Treason our Marchants loft all the Money and Marchandize a-shore, which they report to bee of great value, and many young Aduenturers were etterly ruinated : among which I doe most gricue at the loile of poore John Danis, who did not only lose my friendly Factor, but also all my Europe Commodities, with those things which I had prouided to shew my dutie and loue to my best

So I may conclude, that although India did not receive mee very rich, yet she hath sent mee away reasonable poore.

The Ile Sumatra is a pleafing and fertile Soyle, abounding with many rare and excellent Fruites, of Graine they have only Rice which is their Bread. They plowe the ground with Buffs, of which there are great plentie, but with finall skill and leffe diligence. The Rice groweth in all Rice.

Of Pepper they have exceeding plentie, Gardens of a mile square, it groweth like Hops from Pepper. a planted Root, and windeth about a flake fet by it vntill it grow to a great bushie Tree. The Pepper hangeth in small clusters, three inches long, and an inch about, each cluster having fortie Pepper Cornes, it yeeldeth increase equall with Mustard Seed. They bee able to lade twentie thips yearly; and more might, if the reople were industrious and labouriome. The whole Countrey feemeth to be a Garden of pleasure. The Ayre is temperate and wholfome, having euerie morning a fruitfull dew, or small raine. The Hauen that goeth to the Citie of Achien is small, having but fix foot at the barre. And there standeth a Fort made of stone, round without couering, battlements, or flankers, low walled like a Pownd, a worfecannot bee conceived. Before this Fort is a very pleafant Road for ships, the wind still comming from the shore, a shippe may ride a mile off in eighteene fathomes close by, in four and sixe sathomes. Of Beasts, heere are Elephants, Horses, Buffes, Oxen and Goates, with many wild Hogs. The Land hath plentie of Gold and Copper Mines, divers kinds of Gummes, Balmes, and Mines of Gold many kinds of Drugges, and much Indico. Of Stones there are Rubies, Saphires, and and other Garnets : but I know not that they grow there. They have passing good Timber for commodities.

The Citie of Achien, if it may be so called, is very spacious, built in a Wood, so that wee Achien Cities could not see a house till we were upon it. Neither could wee goe into any place, but wee found houses, and great concourse of people: so that I thinke the Towne spreadeth ouer the whole land, Their houles are built eight foote or better from the ground vpon posts of wood, with free palfage under, the wals and covering of Mats, the poorest and weakest things in the World. I saw three great Market places, which are enery day frequented as Faires with all kindes of Marchandize to fell.

The King is called Sulian Aladin, and is an hundred yeares old, as they fay, yet hee is a luftie Sultan Aladin. man, but exceeding grolle and fat. In the beginning of his life he was a fisher-man: (of which this place hath very many; for they live most upon fish.) and going to the Warres with the former King shewed himselfe so valiant and discreet in ordering the Kings Gallies, that gaining 60 the Kings fauour, he was made Admirall of his Sea-forces and by his valour and discretion the King to imbraced him that he gaue him to Wife one of his neerest Kinswomen. The King having one only Daughter, married her to the King of Ior, by whom shee had a sonne: this Childe was fent to Achien to bee nourished under his Grand-father, being Heire to the Kingdome :

122

CHAP.I. $.5.

the King that now is, was now chiefe Commander both by Land and Sea. The olde King fuddenly dyed, this King tooke the protection of the Childe, against which the Nobilitie relisted but he having the Kings force and taking oportunitie, ended the lives of more then a thoufand Noblemen and Gentlemen : and of the rateall people made new Lords and new Lawes. In fine, the Childe was murthered, and then he proclaymed himselfe King by the right of his Wife. Hereupon arose great Warre betweene him and the King of Ior, which continueth to ths day. Their twentie yeares he hath by force held the Kingdome, and now feemeth to bee fecure in the same.

His Court is from the Citie halfe a mile vpon the River, having three Guards before any can come to him, and a great Greene betweene each Guard, his house is built as the restare. Io but much higher, hee fitteth where hee can fee all that come to any of his Guards, but none can fee him. The wals and covering of his house are Mats, which sometime is hanged with cloth of Gold, fometime with Veluet, and fometime with Damaske. Hee fitteth vpon the ground crosse-legged like a Taylor, and so must all those doe that be in his presence. He alwayes weareth foure Cress, two before and two behind, exceeding rich with Diamonds and Rubies; and hath a Sword lying vpon his lap. He hath attending vpon him fortie women at the leaft, fome with Fannes to coole him, fome with Clothes to dry his sweat, some give him Aquavita, others water : the rest sing pleasant Songs. He doth nothing all the day but eate and drinke, from morning to night there is no end of banquetting: and when his belly is readie to breake, then hee eateth Arecca Betula, which is a fruit like a Nutmeg, wrapped in a kind of leafe like Tabacco, with 20 sharpe chalke made of Pearle Oyster-shels: chawing this it maketh the spittle very red, draweth the Rhume exceedingly, and procureth a mightie stomacke : this maketh the teeth very blacke. and they be the braueit that have the blackeit teeth. By this meanes getting againe his ftomacke, he goeth with a fresh courage to eating. And for a Change with a Cracking Gorge, hee goeth into the River, where he hath a place made of purpole, there getting a stomacke by being in the water. Hee, his great men and women doe nothing but eate, drinke, and talke of Venerie. If the Poets Fables have any shew of truth, then vindoubtedly this King is the great Bacchu. For he holdeth all the Ceremonies of Gluttonie.

As in all places of Europe, the Custome is by vncouering the head to shew reverence, in this place it is wholly contrary. For before any man can come to the Kings presence, he must put of 30 his hofe and shooes, and come before him bare-legged, and bare-footed, holding the palmes of the hands together, and heaving them vp aboue his head, bowing with the bodie must say, Dou-Let : which done dutie is discharged. And so hee seteth downe crosse-legged in the Kings presence. Hee doth onely spend the time in eating with women, and Cock-fighting. And fuch as is the King, fuch are his Subjects; for the whole Land is given to no other

His State is governed by five principall men, with their inferiour Officers, his Secretarie, and four called Sabandars, with these resteth all authoritie. The Kings will is their Law. For it feemeth there is no Free-man in the Land: for the life and goods of all is at the Kings pleasure. Hee will make no Offenders happie by death, but cutteth off their hands and feete, and ba- 40 nisheth them to an He named Polo-wey. If he put any to death, the Elephants teare him to pieces, or they drive a stake into his fundament, and so he dyeth. There are Gaoles and many fettered Prisoners that goe about the Towne.

His women are his chiefest Counsellers, hee hath three Wiues, and very many Concubines, which are very closely kept. Hee hath very many Gallies, I thinke an hundred, some that will carrie foure hundred men, made like a Wherrie, very long and open, without Decke, Fore-castell, Chase, or any upper building. Their Oares are like Shouels of foure foote long, which they vie only with the hand not resting them upon the Galley. They beare no Ordnance, with these hee keepeth his Neighbours in obedience. A woman is his Admirall, for hee will truft no men. Their Weapons 50 are Bowes, Arrowes, Iauelings, Swords, Targets, they have no defensive Armes, but fight naked. Hee hath great store of Brasse Ordnance, which they vie without Carriages, shooting them as they lye upon the ground. They be the greatest that I have ever seene, and the Mettall is reported to be rich of Gold. The trust of his land force standeth upon his Elephants.

These people boast themselves to come of Ismael and Hagar, and can reckon the Genealogie of the Bible perfectly. In Religion they are Mahometifts, and pray with Beades as the Papifts doe. They bring vp their Children in Learning, and have many Schooles. They have an Archbishop and Spiritual Dignities. Here is a Prophet in Achien, whom they greatly honour, they fay that hee hath the spirit of Prophesie, as the Ancients have had. He is disguised from the rest 60 in his Apparell, and greatly imbraced of the King.

The people are generally very cunning Merchants, and wholy dedicated thereunto. Of Mechanicall Artesmen, they have Gold-smithes, Gun-founders, Ship-wrights, Taylors, Wevers, Hatters, Pot-makers, and Aquanita Stillers, which is made of Rice (for they muft drinke no Wine) Cutlers, and Smithes.

IOHN DAVIS his Relations of Achen and Ophir.

As touching their Burials , every Generation or Kinred have their particular place to burie their dead; which is in the Fields. They lay the Corps with the head towards Mecha, hauing a free Stone at the head, and another at the feete curroully wrought, thereby fign: fying the worthinesse of the person.

But in the place of the Kings Burials every grave hath a piece of Gold at the head, and another at the foot, weighing at the least fine hundredpour weight, cunningly imboffed and wrought, This King hath two fuch Peeces in making and almost finished, which weefaw, that are a thou-10 fand pound weight a piece, and shall bee richly fet with stones. I did greatly defire to see the Kings Burialls, because of the great wealth therein; but could not. I doe almost believe it to be true, because this King hath made two such costly monuments.

The people that trade in this place are of China, Bengala, Pegu, Iaua, Coromandel, Gufarate, The Turkes are Arabia, and Rumos. Rumos is in the Red Sea, and is the place from whence Salomon tent his ships the Indies. The to Ophir for Gold, which is now called Achien, as by tradition they doe affirme. And the Rumos reason of that people from Salomons time to this day have followed the same trade.

They have divers termes of payment, as Calbes, Mas, Compan, Pardam, Tayell; I only faw Metropolitan two pieces of Coine, the one of Gold, the other of Lead, that Gold is of the hignesse of a penny, it is as common as pence in England And is named Mas, the other is like a little leaden Token : 20 fuch as the Vintners of London vie called Caxas. A thouland fixe hundred Calles make one Mas. New Rome: of Foure hundred Cashes make a Compan. Foure Compans are one Mas. Five Masses make foure shil- which Rome lings sterling. Foure Masses makes a Perdam. Foure Perdames makes a Tayel, foa Mas is nine they call them pence 3. of aPennie. They fell their Pepper by the Bhar, which is three hundred and threefcore of our pounds, for phir is rather. three pound foure shillings their pound they call a Cast, which is one and twentie of our ounces. to be marked Their ounce is bigger then ours by fo much as fixteene is bigger then ten.

heir ounce is bigger then ours by no much as naccene is bigger than our thereof make an mologicand.

The weight by which they fell Precious Stones is called; Maffe, 10-2, whereof make an mologicand conceit of Re-

Once every yeare they have a custome that the King with all his Noblemen and whole pompe Sea. 30 of his land muit goe to the Church to looke if the Meffias bee come, which happened at our being here. There were many Elephants, I thinke force, very richly couered with Silke, Vellet, and cloth of Gold: divers Noblemen riding upon each Elephant, but one Flephant about the rest was exceeding richly coursed, having a golden little Castle vpon his backe, this was led spare for the Messias to ride in. The King riding alone likewise in a little Castle, so they proceede with a very folemne procession, some had Targets of pure massie Gold, others great halfe Moones of Gold, with Stremers, Banners, Entignes, Drummes, and Trumpets with other Mulicke, very pleafing to fee. Comming to the Church with great Solemnitie, they at length * The promilooked in, and not finding the Meffias, vied fome Ceremonies. Then the King comming from his fed returne of owne Elephant, roade home vpon the Elephant prepared for the Meffias: where they end the Mabonet ex-40 day with feafting and all pleasing sports.

The Ile is divided into foure Kingdomes, Achien, Pider, Manancabo, and Aru. Achien is the chiefest, the rest are tributarie to him. Are holdeth with the King of lor, and refuseth subjection. I haue only hard of fine principall Cities to be in this Ile. Achien, Pider, Pacem, Daia, Manan-

Returning to our proceedings after the flaughter of Achien, feeking reliefe, the tenth hereof September. we anchored at the lands Pulo Lotum, in fixe degrees fiftie minutes, by the Kindome of Queda: where we watred and refreshed. There were in our ship three Letters close sealed, superscribed, A.B. C. Which vpon the death of our B aase were to be opened. By A. one Thomas Quimans was appointed our Chiefe, who was flaine at Achien. Then B. was opened, whereby Guyan Lo-50 fort who escaped Captiuitie by being the Kings Messenger, was appointed our Chiefe, whom we fo received. The letter C. was not opened. The last hereof wee fet sayle our course againe for Achien, with hope by fome meanes to recouer our men.

The fixth we came in fight of Achien, the twelfth wee came into the Bay, where wee found Octobers cen Gallies fet out against vs. Wee came vp with one of them, and gaue her divers shot, but in a calme under the land the escaped. The rest durst not come neere us: for they are very Cowards, proud and base.

The eighteene hereof wee shaped our course for the Citie Tanassarin, for it is a place of great trade, the fine and twentieth we anchored among the Ilands in the Bay in eleuen degrees, twentie minutes, of the Pole Articke. Being here we were very much crossed with bad winds, so that 60 wee could not recouer the Citie, for it standeth twentie leagues within the Bay, being in verie great diffresse of victuals we departed hence, shaping our course for the Ilands Nicobar, hoping

The twelfth we anchored at the Ilands Nicobar in eight degrees of North latitude where the November. people brought vs great store of Hens. Oranges, Limons, and other Fruit, and some Amber- Nicober, and Istepriall

tradition of O-

CHAP. I.S.5. W. ADAMS bis Voyage by the South fea to Iapon.

WILLIAM ADAMS his Voyage by the Magellan Straights to *Iapon, written in two Letters by himselfe, as followeth.

though not by the Cape of Good Hope, yet

Auing fo good occasson, by hearing that certaine English Marchants Iye in the Island because the form of Island, although by name vinknowne, I presumed to write these few lines, defiring defines, the Worthinstall Companie being vinknowne to me, to pardon my boldines. The reason before, pag-19, the control of the control the Worthipfull Companie being vinknowne to me, to pardon my boldnes. The reation that I write, is first, for that conscience bindeth me to loue my Country, & my Country. trymen. Your Worships therefore shall understand, to whom these presents shall come, that I ama Kentish-man, borne in a Towne called Gillingam, two English miles from Rochester, one mile from Chattam, where the Kings ships lye: and that from the age of twelue yeares, I was brought vp in Lime-house neere London, being Prentise twelue yeares to one Malter Nicholas Diggines, and have ferued in the place of Mafter and Pilot in her Maielties ships, and about eleuen or twelue yeares ferued the Worthipfull Company of the Barbarie Marchants, vntill the Indian Trafficke from Holland began, in which Indian Trafficke I was defirous to make a little experience of the small knowledge which God had given me. So, in the yeare of our Lord God, 1598. I was hired for chiefe Pilot of a Fleete of fine fayle, which was made readie by the chiefe . Ademschiefe of the Indian Company Peter Vanderhag, and Hance Vanderneke: the Generall of this Fleet, Pilot of a fleete 20 was a Marchatt called laques Mayhay, in which ship, being Admirall, I was Pilot. So, it being of fue layles. the three and twentieth or foure and twentieth of June before we fet layle, " it was somewhat for the Coast of Brasil, determining to passe the Straights of Magellan, and by the way came to an Island called Illha da Nobon, at which Illand we landed, and tooke the Towne, which contaiuers other fruits. But the vnwholfomeneffe of the Aire was fuch, that as one bettered, another fell ficke: we ipent upon the Coast of the Cape Gonfalues, and of Annobon about two moneths time till the twelfth or thirteenth of Nouember. At which time, wee let fayle from Annohon, finding the winds still at the South by East, and South South-East, till wee got foure degrees by South the Line : at which time the windes fauoured vs comming to the South-East, and East

South-East, and East, so that we were vp betweene the Iland of Annobon, and the Straights of Magellan, about fine monethes. One of our fine fayle fpent her maine Maft, by which we were much hindred; for with much trauell we fet a new Mast in the Sea. Then, the nine and twentieth of March, we faw the Land in the latitude of fiftie degrees, having the wind two or three daies contrary : 10, in the end, having the winds good, we came into the Straights of Magellan, the men, through cold on the one fide, and hunger on the other, grew weake: wee had the wind at North-East, some fine or fix dayes, in which time wee might have palled through the Straights.

But, for refreshing of our men, we waited, watering and taking in of wood, and setting vp of a

Pinnace of fifteene or fixteene tunnes in bigneffe, At length, wee would have paffed through but could not by reason of the Southerly winds, with wet, and also very cold, with abundance

Now, having passed through the Straights, and comming into the South Sea, wee found many age towards the Coast of Peru: but in long trauels we lost our whole Fleet, being separated the one from the other. Yet before the difperling of our Fleet, wee had appointed, if wee lost one 10 hard streames, being driven to the South-wards in liftie foure degrees, being then very cold. At length we found reasonable winds and weather, with which wee followed our pretended Voy-

too late ere we came to the Line, to passe it without contrarie winds : for it was about the midst of September, at which time we found much Southerly winds, and many of our men were fick, fo that we were forced to goe to the Coaft of Gynny to Cape de Lopo Gonfalnes, where wee fet Cape de Lopo our ficke men a land, whereof many dyed : and of the ficknesse, few bettered, having little or no Ganfalues. refreshing, and the place being vnhealthy. Therefore, to fulfill our Voyage, wee set our course ned about eightie houses, in which Iland we refreshed our felues, having Oxen, Oranges, and di-

fixt of Aprill, 1599. at which time, the Winter came, to that there was much Snow : and our April 6.1599 of Snow and Ice. Wherefore, we were forced to winter and stay in the Straights from the fixt They wintered of Aprill, vntill the foureand twentieth of September, in which time the most part of our pro- in the Staights uision was spent, in so much that for lacke of victuals many of our men dyed through hunger. of Mazellan.

another with ftormes and foule weather, that in Chili in the latitude of fortie fixe degrees, wee Many of their anounce with normes and route weather, that in Count in the tatuate of notice and the seconding to agree ment, I went in fixe and fortic degrees, and stayed eight and twentie dayes where we refreshed the third the seconding to agree ment, I went in fixe and fortic degrees, and stayed eight and twentie dayes where we refreshed the stayed of the seconding to agree ment and the seconding to agree ment agree to the seconding to the secondi our felues, finding the people of the Countrey good of nature : but by reason of the Spaniards, fortie fixe dethey would not have dealt with vs at the first. They brought vs Sheepe and Potatocs, for which grees, and rethey would not naue deart with vs at the first. They brought vs sheepe and I obtator, to what fresh themvp from their houses into the Countrey, and came no more vnto vs. Weestayed there eight and The mount of twentie dayes, and fet up a Pinnaffe which we had in our flip, in four parts, and in the end de- Baldina. parted and came to the mouth of Baldinia, yet by reason it blew much wind we entred not, but The lacof directed our course out of the Bay, for the lland of Mocha, vnto the which wee came the next Mocha.

greece, which we bought for pieces of linen-cloth, and Table Napkins. There lles are pleafant and fruitfull, low land, and have good road for thips. The people are most bale, only living vpon fruites, and fish, not manuring the ground, and therefore have no Rice. The inxteenth wee departed shaping our course for the lle Zeilon: for wee were in great distresse, especially of Rice. The fixt by Gods great goodnesle we tooke a ship of Negapatan, which is a Citie in the Ceast of Coromandell, shee was laden with Rise bound to Achien. There were in her threescore perfons, of Achien, of Iaua, of Zeilon, of Pegu, Narsinga, and Coromindel. By these people wee learned that in Zeilan there is a Citie named Maccalon, a place of great Trade, and that there Matreaux in Zilas a Citie wee might load our thips with Sinamon, Pepper and Cloues. They also faid that in Zeilas were 19 of great trade. great flore of precious flones and Pearles : that the Country doth abound with all kind of Victuals, and that the King is an exceeding Enemie to the Portugals; they also told vs of a Citie named Tringuanamale, where was the like Trade. So they promifed to lade our ships, and royally to victuall vs, for little money. Hereupon we laboured by all possible meanes to recour the faid places, but could not, for the wind was exceeding contrary. Then thele Indians told vs that if we would flay untill I anuary, we should have more then a hundred ships come close by that shore laden with Spicerie, Linnen-cloth, and China Commodities; belides stones and other wealth. To stay there as a man of Warre our Gouernour would not agree : but to stay and in taking any thing to pay for the same he was content, for so was his Commission. to this the Company would not agree. Whereupon the eight and twentieth hereof we shaped our course home- 20 ward, hauing beaten fixteene dayes vpon this Coast to recouer Marecalon. We discharged our Pri'e difchar-Prife the eighteenth hereof, having taken the best part of her Rice , for which our Chiefe payed them to their content. But the Companie tooke away the Money and Merchandize from the Indians with much diforder : we tooke with vs twelve of the Indians of feuerall places: who after we could a little understand them, told us that the Marchants had great store of precious stones in the ship, which they had hid under the Timbers. Of what truth that report is I know not.

December.

They would not fuffer Mafter Tomkins nor me to goe aboord the Prile: for what reasons I know 1600.

March.

not.

He fift hereof our meate was poy foned, but God preserved vs, for one tasting the same by 1 chance or greedinesse (for it was fresh fish) was presently infected: before the meate came to vs it was strongly poyloned, for our Surgeon tooke almost as poonfull of Peylon out of one fish, but this is not the first time, if the grieued would complaine. The tenth wee fell with Cape Bona Esperaza, where wee had a great storme : the fixe and twentieth wee dou-

Inly.

The thirteenth we anchored at the Ile Saint' Helena, which is rockie and mountanous, lying in fixteene degrees of Souch latitude, here wee found good water, figs, and fish in plentie : there be Goats, but hard to get. The fifteenth at Sun-fet there came a Carauell into the Road, who an- 40 chored a large Musket-shot to wind-ward of vs. She was vtterly unprouided, not having one Peece mounted : we fought with her all this night, and gaue her, as I thinke, better then two hundred shot. In eight houres thee neuer made shot nor shew of regard, by midnight shee had placed fixe Peeces which she vied very well, shot vs often through, and slew two of our men. So the fixteenth in the morning we departed, having many fick men shaping our course for the lle * Ascention, where we hope to have reliefe. This three and twentieth we had fight of Ascention, in eight degrees of South latitude, this He hath neither wood, water, ner any greene thing vpon it, but is a fruitlesse greene Rocke of fine leagues broad. The foure and twentieth at midnight wee agreed to goe for the Ile Fernando Loronio, where wee are acquainted and know that there is reliefe sufficient. For at this Ile wee stayed ten weekes outward bound, when we could 50 not double Cape Saint Augustine. The fixt we arrived at the He Fernando Loronio, where wee stayed fixe dayes to water and refr. sh our schees. The thirieenth we departed, shaping our course for England.

The nine and twentieth of July we arrived at Middleborough.

a. V. 60

126

We went with our boats hard by the water fide, to parlee with the people of the land, but they would not fuffer vs to come a land, shooting great store of Arrowes at our men. Neuerthelesse, having no victualls in our Ship, and hoping to find refreshing, wee forcibly landed some seven and twentie or thirtie of our men, and droue the wild people from the water fide, having most of our men hurt with their Arrowes. They being on land, we made fignes of friendfhip, and in wee made fignes, that our defire was to have victualls for Iron, Silver and Cloth, which we shewed them. Wherefore they gaue our folke Wine, with Batatas to eate, and other fruits, and bid our men by fignes and tokens to goe aboord, and the next day to come againe, and then they would bring vs victualls : fo, being late our men came aboord, the most part of them being hurt more or lefte, and yet we were very glad that we had come to a parlee with them, hoping that we sho H get refreihing. The next day, being the ninth of November, 1599. our Captaine, with all our Officers prepared to goe a land, having taken counfell to goe to the water fide, but not to land more then two or three men : for there were people in abundance, and were also vnknowne; our men therefore were willed not to truft them. This counfell being concluded, the our Captaine well. In the end the people comming not neere vnto our Boats , our Captaine. with the rest resoluted to land, against that which was concluded in our Ship, before the going on land. At length three and twentie men landed with Muskets, and marched up towards foure or fine houses, and when they were about a Musket-thot from the Boates, more then a thousand Indians who lay intrenched, immediately fell upon our men with fuch weapons as they had, and killed them all to our knowledge. So our Boats waited long to fee if any of them would come againe; but feeing no hope to recouer them, our Boates returned with this forrowfull newes, that all our men that landed were flaine, which was a lamentable thing to heare : for we the Generall, Mafter, and all his Officers wounded on land; and God had so plagued vs. that all Timethy Shotten We were come together, my good friend Timothy Shotten was Pilot in that Ship. Being at the Island of Santta Maria. which lieth in the Latitude of thirtie feuen degrees, twelue minutes by South the Line on the Coast of Chile, wee tooke counsell to take all things out of one Ship, and to burne the other: but the new Captaines could not agree, which of the Ships they should barne, and to could not conclude it. Having much cloth in our Ships, it was agreed that wee Should I saue the Coast of Pern, and direct our course for lapan, understanding that cloth was good marchan life there: and also vpon that Coast of Pers, the Kings Ships having knowledge of our being there, fought for vs, understanding that wee were weake by reason of the losse of our men, which was all too true : for one of our Fleet, as wee vnderstood afterward, was forced to yeeld them leiues into the enemies hand in Saint Iago. For which reason, having refreshed our I.lu.s in the Illand S willa Maria, more by policie then by force, we departed the twentie feuen of November, from the Read, or Illand of Santha Maria, with our two Ships, and for the reft of our Fleete we head no newes of them. So we tooke our course directly for lapan, and pasfed the Line Equinoctiall together, vntill we came in twentie eight degrees to the North-ward of the Line: in which Latitude, the twentie second & twentie third of February 1600. we had a wonderfull fforme of wind, as euer I was in, with much raine, in which fforme wee loft fight of our greatest ship, whereof we were very forry being left alone; yet wee hoped in Iapan to find one another. Then according to wind and weather, we followed our former intention for lapan, and in the height of thirtie degrees, fought the North Cape of the forenamed Island, but found it not, by reason that it lieth talte in all Chartes, and Globes, and Maps: for the Cape lyeth in thirtie fine degrees 4. which is a great difference. In the end wee came in thirtie two degrees 4. and then liad fight of the Land, being the nineteenth of Aprill, fo that betweene the Cape of Sanita Maria and Iapan, we were foure moneths, and twentie two dayes: at which time there were no more then fixe befides my felfe, that could fland upon their feet. Now being in fafetie, we let our Anchor fall about a league from a place, called Bungo. At which time many Boats daves space, a Ichite came vnto vs from a place called Langafacke, to which place the Carake of Macgo is yeerely wont to come, which with other Iaponers, that were Christians, were our Interpreters; which was ill for vs, they being our mortal enemies. Neuertheleffe the King of Bunge, the and came to parke with fignes and tokens of friendship, which the people understood. So, 16 The ninth of Captain himfelfe went in one of our Boats, with all the force that we had; and being by the shore 20 fide, the people of the countrie made fignes that they should come a land; but that did not like ha: fearce fo many men left as could winde vp our Anchor. The next day wee waited, and went ouer to the Island Sarela Mario, where we found our Admiral, who had arrived there foure Sancia Maria. daies before vs, and departed to the life from Mucha the day before we came from thence, having our Officers were flaine, fo that the one of vs bemoned the other. Neuerthelese being glad that mirall. Cloth good murch indife in later. One of their Fleete yeelded to the Spaniard, at Saint Jagoin chirtie three degrees. See before in the Voyage of Q Het Neo t. Theytake their courf. fromlafan, from the Road of the In o Salls Maria, Nouember 27. The North part of lapan, limb in 35.

men flaine.

The Iffe of

of Lander Pilot of the Ad-

They were foure months, & wenter two came vnto vs, and we let them come abcord, being not able to refift them : yet the people did vs dayes between no harme, we not understanding each other, but by signes and tokens. After two or three the lile of Sa cla Maria and later.

degrees,

W. AD AM's bis passing the South-fea to Iapan. CHAP.I.$.5.

the place where we arrived, did vs great friendship. For he gaue vs an house on shore for our sicke men, having all refreshing that was needfull. We had when we came to anchor in Bangs foure and twentie men, ficke and whole, of which number the next day three dyed, the reft for the Sixe of their most part recoursed, fauing three which lay long time sicke, and in the end also died. The Em-men died. perour hearing of vs, fent prefently fine Gallies or Frigots vnto vs, to bring mee to the Court, This was at the where his Marettie was, which was diffant from Bungo, about eightie English leagues. Now, citie of O/aca. when I came before him, he demanded of me, of what Countrey we were; fo I answered him in which is cache all points: for there was nothing that he demanded not, both concerning warre, and peace be- leagues from tweene Countrey and Countrey; the particulars whereof were too long to write, After this Bango. to conference, I was commanded to prison being well yied, with one of our Mariners, that came

Some two dayes after, the Emperour called me againe, demanding the reason of our comming He was called To farre : I answered, We were a People that fought all friendship with all Nations, and to have time. trade of Merchandize in all Countries, bringing such Merchandizes as our Country had, and buying fich Merchandizes in strange Countryes, as our Countrey delired; through which our Countryes on both fide were inriched. He asked much concerning the warres betweene the Spaniards and Portugals, and vs, and the reasons: the particulars of all which I gaue him to understand, who feemed to be very glad to heare it. After this, I was commanded to prison againe, but my lodging was bettered in an other place. So, I continued nine and thirty dayes in prilon, hearing no Thusfarre go more newes, neither of our fhip, nor Captaine, whether he were recoursed of his fickentile, nor of eith his first lerthe rest of the company: in which time, llooked every day to be Crossed, as the custome of Iu- ter to his wife. the rest of the company: in which think, 1250 act they day to be [13] and the Lesintes frice is in Japan, as hanging is in our Land. Now in this long time of imprisonment, the Iesuites viall punishand the Portugals gaue many euidences to the Emperour against vs, alleadging that weewere well punishment of Maletheeues and robbers of all Nations, and if we were fuffered to live, it should be against the profit factors in Lapan of his Maiestie, and the Land: for then no Nation could come there without robbing : but if Iu- The le uiter & flicewere executed on vs, it would terrifie the reft of our Nation from comming there any more. Portugals ac-And to this intent they fued to his Maieltie daily to cut vs off, making all the Friends they could culations. to this purpose. But God was mercifull vnto vs, and would not suffer them to have their wills of vs. At length, the Emperour gaue them this answer, That as yet wee had done no hurt or da- The Emperors mage to him, nor to any of his Land; and therefore that it was against reason and Justice to put vs answer. to death: and if our Countreys and theirs had warres one with the other, that was no came that he should put vs to death. The Emperour answering them in this manner, they were quite out of heart, that their cruell pretence failed: for the which, God be praifed for euer and euer. Now in this time that I was in prison, the ship was commanded to bee brought so neere to the Citie where the Emperour was, as the might, the which was done. So the one and fortieth day of my imprisonment, the Emperour called me before him againe, demanding of mee many questions the third time more, which were too long to write. In conclusion, he asked me whether I were denrous to goe before the Emto the ship to see my Countrey-men: I answered, that I would very gladly do it: so he bade me perour. goe. Then I departed, and was freed from imprisonment. And this was the first newes that I 40 had, that the ship and company were come to the Citie. Wherefore, with a reloying heart I The ship was tooke a Boat, and went to our thip, where I found the Captaine and the rest, recoursed of their brought to be fickeneffe, But at our meeting aboord, we faluted one another with mourning and theadding of Gity of Sacay. teares: for they were informed that I was executed, and long fince dead. Thus, God be praifed, all we that were left aliue, came together againe. All things were taken out of the ship, together with all my instruments, &c. and I had nothing left me, the my clothes on my backe : likewise whatfoeuer the rest of the company had, was also taken away, vnknowne to the Emperour: which when he understood, he gave order that they should be restored to vs againe. But being so dispersed abroad, they could not be had: yet fiftie thousand Rials in ready money, were comman- Fiftie thousand ded to be given vs, the Emperour himselfe seeing the delivery thereof to the hands of one that Ryals in ready 50 was made our Gouernour, who kept them in his hands to distribute them vnto vs as wee had money were neede, for the buying of Victualls for our men, with other particular charges, &c. So in the end given voto commandement we were carried, the diffance beeing about an hundred and twenty leagues. Our passage thither was long by reason of contrary windes, so that the Emperour was there long be-

60 given vs. Alfo, in this time, three or foure of our men rebelled against the Captaine, and me, and made a mutinie with the rest of our men, so that we had much trouble with them. For they would not abide meany longer in the flup, but every one would be a Commander : and they would every one have their parts of the money that was given by the Emperour. It would bee too tedious to write the particulars of all that paffed herein. Therefore for quietnesse sake, wee of thirtie dayes, our ship lying before the City called Sakay, three leagues, or two leagues from The Citie Ozaca, where the Emperour at that time lay, commandement came from the Emperour, that sales.

our ship should be carried to the Easter part of the land, called Quanto, whither according to his Quanto.

fore vs. Comming to the land of Quanto, and neere to the Citie Eddo, where the Emperour was: Eddo about beeing arrived, we fought all meanes by supplications to get our ship cleare, and to seeke our best 120 leagues profit, to come where the Hollanders have their trade: in which fuit we fpent much of the mony from Sacai.

Rice a day.

He obtained

captaine.

libertie for the

The Captaine

CHAP. 1.5.5.

divided the money to every one as his place was: and this was after we had beene two yeeres in Iapan. After which time, when we had received a deniall, that we should not have our ship, but must abide in Inpan, our companie having their parts of the money, dispersed themselves everie one where he thought best. In the end, the Emperour gaue enery man (to line vpon) two pounds Rice a day, and yeerely fo much as was worth eleuen or twelue Ducats a yeare: my felie, the Captaine, and Mariners all alike. So in processe of foure or fine yeeres the Emperour called me. and as he had done divers times before, fo one time he would have me to make him a small ship: I answered that I was no Carpenter, and had no knowledge thereof : Well, doe it so well as you can, faith he, if it be not good, it is no matter. Wherefore at his command I built him athip of thip of 80 tuns the burthen of eightie tunnes, or there abouts: which thip being made in all proportions as our 10 manner is, he comming aboord to fee it, liked it very well; by which meanes I came in more fauour wich him, fo that I came often in his presence, who from time to time gaue me presents, and The Emperour at length a yeerely reuenew to line vpon, much about feuentie Ducats by the yeere, with two pounds of Ricea day also. Now beeing in such grace and fauour, by reason I searned him some points of Geometry, and the Mathematickes, with other things: I pleased him so, that what I faid yecrely reue-70.Ducats, and could not be contradicted. At which my former enemies, Iesuites and Portugals, did greatly wonder, and intreated me to befriend them to the Emperour in their bufinesse: and so by my meanes, both Spaniards and Portugals have received friendship from the Emperour; I recompencing their euill vnto me with good. So, to passe my time to get my liuing, it hath cost mee great labour and trauell at the first; but God hath blessed my labours.

In the ende of fine yeeres, I made supplication to the King to goe out of this Land, defiring to fee my poore Wife and children according to confcience and nature. With the which request, the Emperour was not well pleased, and would not let me goe any more for my Countrey, but that Imust continue in his Land, &c. Yet in processe of time, beeing in great fauour with the Emperour, I made supplication againe by reason we had newes that the Hollanders were in Achen and Pstania; which rejoyced vs much, with hope, that God should bring vs to our Countrey againe, by one meanes or other. Then I made supplication againe, and boldly spake my selfe with him, at which he gaue me no answer. I told him, if he would permit me to depart, I would bee a meanes, that both the English, and Hollanders should come and traffique there in his Land. He answered, that he was desirous of both those Nations company for traffique, but would 36 not part with me by any meanes: but bade me write to that purpose. Seeing therefore I could not preuaile for my selfe, I sued that my Captaine might depart, which suit hee presently graunted me. So having gotten his libertie, he imbarqued in a lapans lunck, and layled to Pasane: but he tarried there a yeers space, waiting for Holland ships. And seeing none came, he went from Patane to Ior, where he found a Fleet of nine faile: of which Fleet Matleef was General, and in this Fleet he was made Master againe, which Fleet failed to Malacca, and fought with an Armado of Portugals: in which battel he was shot, and presently died: so that as yet, I think, no certain newes is knowne, whether I beliuing or dead. Therefore my defire is, that my wife and two children may heare, that I am here in lapan: fo that my wife is in a manner a widdow, and my children fatherlesse: which thing only is my greatest griefe of heart, and conscience, &c. I am a man not 40 vnknown in Rateliffe and Lime-house: to my good Malter M. Nicholas Diggines, and M. Thomas Beft, and M. Nicholas Isaac, and William Isaac, brothers, with many others; alio to M, William Iones, and M. Becket. Therefore may this Letter come to any of their hands, or the copy of this Letter: I know that Companies mercy is fuch, that my friends and kinred shall have newes, that I doe as yet liue in this vale of my find pilgrimage: the which thing againe and againe I do de-

He builded an other thip for the King of $20. tunnes. 1509.

The S. Francisco a Spanish thip caft away on tan in as-de-Erces so.min.

A new and greater penfion gruen vnto fire for lefus fake. You shall understand, that the first shippe that I did make, made a Voyage or two, and then the King commanded me to make an other, the which I did, beeing of the burthen of an hundred and twentie tunnes. In this ship I have made a Voyage from Meaco to Eddo, beeing about the length as from London to the Lizarde or Lands end of England. In the yeere of our Lord 1609. 50 the King lent this ship to the Gouernour of Manilla, to goe with eightie of his men, to saile to Acapulco. In the yeere of our Lord 1609. a great ship called the S. Francisco, beeing about a thousand tunnes, was cast away vpon the coast of Iapan, in the latitude of thirty fine degrees and of 1000 tunnes fiftie minutes: by diffresse of weather she cut ouer-boord her maine Mast, and bore vp for Iapan, and in the night before they were aware, they ranne the flip vpon the shore, which was cast athe coaft of is- way, in the which one hundred thirtie and fixe men were drowned, and three hundred fortie, or three hundred fiftie faued; in which ship the Gouernour of Manilla as a Passenger, was to returne to Nova Spania. But this Governour was fent in the bigger ship of my building, in Ann. 1610. to Acapulco. And in Am. 1611. this Gouernour returned another thip in her roome, with a great present, and with an Embassadour to the Emperour, giving him thankes for his great 60 friendship: and also sent the price of the Emperours ship in goods and money: which shippe the Spaniards have now in the Philippinas. Now for my feruice which I have done and daily doe, being employed in the Emperours service, he hach given me a living, like vnto a Lordship in England, with eightie or ninetie husbandmen, who are as my fernants and flaues: the like Prefident was never done to any stranger before. Thus God hath provided for mee after my great miterie, his name hath and haue the prayle for euer, Amen.

Now, whether I shall come out of this Land I know not. Vntill this present there hath been no meanes, but now, through the Trade of the Hollanders there is meanes. In the yeere of Two Shins of no meanes, cost of the Holland Ships came to Iapan. Their Intention was to take the Caracke, Holland came that yeerely came from Macao, and being fome fine or fix dayes too late, neuerthelelle, they came to tajas, in the to Firando, and came to the Court to the Emperour : where they were in great friendship recei- yeare 1609. ued, conditioning with the Emperour yearely, to lend a Ship or two: and so they departed with the Emperours Paffe. Now, this yeare 1611. there is a small Ship arrived, with Cloth, Another small with the Emperous Paffe. Now, this years 1611. there is a mail simp arrived, with close, some of the Lead, Elephants teeth, Dammaske, and blacke Taffictes, raw Siles, Pepper, and other commissions and modities; and they have flewed cause, why they milled the former years 1610. according to design and representations to the control of promite yearely to come. This Ship is well received, and with great kindnelle intertained. You shall understand that the Hollanders haue, here, an Indies of money : for, they need not to There is much bring Siluer out of Holland in to the East Indies. For in Iapan, there is much Siluer and Gold to Silver & Gold ferue their turnes in other places where need requireth in the East Indies. But the merchandife, in Iapan which is here vendible for readie money, is, raw Silke, Damaske, blacke Taffities, blacke and red Commodities which is here vendible for readie money, is, raw since, Damasse, classed a microsocial and a vendible for Cloth of the belt, Lead, and fuch like goods. So, now understanding by this Holland Ship lately readie money. arriued here, that there is a fettled Trade driven by my Countrey-men in the East Indies : 1 prefume that amongst them, some, either Merchants, Masters, or Mariners, must needs know mee.

20 Therefore I hausemboldned my felfe to write thefe few lines, in thort, being defirous, not to be ouer-tedious to the Reader. This Iland of Inpan is a great Land, and lyeth to the Northwards The length in the Latitude of eight and forth edgrees, and the Souther-most part of it, in first and thrite and deadth edgrees, and the length of it East by North, and Welt & by South(for foit lyeth) is two hum. degrees, and the length of it Late of the breadth South and North of it thirteene degrees twenty. The diposition leagues to the degree, is two hundred fixty leagues, & is almost sq are. The people of this Hand of or people. Inpan are good of nature, curteous aboue measure, and valiant in warre: their Iuftice is feuerely executed without any partialitie vpon transgressors of the Law. They are gouerned in great ciuilitie, I thinke, no Land better gouerned in the world by Civill Policie. The people are verie fuperflitious in their Religion, and are of divers opinions. There are many lefutes and Franciiin fuperfittions in their Religion, and are of divers opinions. I neve are many fetures and transical and fransical can Friars in this Land, and they have converted many to be Christians, and have many Churches Friats in Liptas, in the Iland. Thus, in short I am constrained to write, hoping that by one meanes or other, in processe of time I shall heare of my wife and children; and to with patience I wait the good will and pleasure of God Al nightie, de ring all those to whom this my Letter shall come, to wie the meanes to acquaint my good friends with it, that so my wife and children may heare of me : by which meanes there may be hope, that I may heare of my wife and children before my death: The which the Lord grant to his glorie, and my comfort, Amen.

Dated in Iapan the two and twentieth of October, 1611.

By your vnworthy friend and feruant, to command in what I can, WILLIAM ADAMS.

Endorfed,

To my unknowne Friends and Countrey-men, desiring this Letter, by your good meanes, or the Newes or Copie of this Letter, may come to the hands of one, or many of my acquaintance in Lime-house, or elsewhere, or in Kent in Gillingham by Rochester.

A Letter of WILLIAM ADAMS to his Wife from Iapan.

50 Long Wife, you shall vnderstand how all things have passed with mee from the time of mine absence from you. We set stale with five things from the Texel in Holland, the source and twentieth of June, 1598. And departed from the Chaft of England, the fift of July. And the one and twentieth of August, we came to one of the Itles of Cap Verde, called Sant lago, where The Ites et we abode foure and twentie dayes. In which time many of our min fell ficke through the vn. care Forde. wholsomenesse of the Aire, and our Generall among the rest. Now the reason that we abode so long at these llands was, That one of the Captaines of our Fleet made our Generall beleeve, that at thefe Hands we should find great store of refreshing, as Goats and other things which was Here I and all the Pilots of the fleet were called to a Councell: in which wee all shewed our 60 indgements of difliking the place: which were by all the Captaines taken foill, that afterward it was agreed by them all, that the Pilots should be no more in the Councell, the which was executed. The fifteenth day of September we departed from the Ille of Sant lago, and pailed the Equinostall Line. And in the latitule of three degrees to the South our Generall dyed: Their General Wherewith many contrarie windes and raine, the featon of the yeare being very much part, wee dyeth, of Magellan.

A good Har-

O ftober.

They trade with the people of the countrey in 46 Th I. of 22 Men flaine Thomas Adams gaine.

The life of S. Mara. They meete with their Ad-The Generall and 17. men

Cabo de Spiritu were forced upon the Coast of Guiney, falling upon an head-land called Cabo de Spiritu Sancte. The new Generall commanded to beare up with Cape de Lopo Confalues, there to feeke refreshing for our men, the which we did. In which place we landed all our ticke men, where they did not much better, for wee could find no store of victuals. The nine and twentieth of December wee fet falle to goe on our Voyage; and in our way we fell with an Island called Illha da Nobon, where we landed all our ficke men, taking the Island in by force. Their Towne contayned some eightie houses. Hauing refreshed our men, we set saile againe. At which time our Generall commanded, that a man for foure dayes should have but one pound of bread, that was a quarter of a pound a day; with the like proportion of Wine and Water. Which scarcitie of Victuals brought fuch feebleneffe, that our men fell into fo great weaknoffe and fickneffe for hunger, that 10 they did eate the Calues skinnes, wherewith our Ropes were conered. The third of Aprill 1599. we tell with the Port of aint lulian : And the fixt of Aprill we came into the Straight of Magellan to the first narrow. And the eighth day we passed the second narrow with a good wind, where we came to an Anchor, and landed on Penguin Island : where we laded our Boate ful of Penguins, which are fowles greater than a Dacke : wherewith we were greatly refreshed. The tenth we weighed anchor having much wind, which was good for vs to goe thorow. But our Generall would water, and take in promition of wood tor all our fleet. In which Straight there is enough in every place, with anchor ground in al. places three or foure leagues one from another. In the meane time, the wind changed, and came Southerly, fo we fought a good harbour for our thip on the North-fide, foure leagues off Elizabeths Bay. Al. Aprill being out wee had won- 20 derfull much Snow and Lie, with great winds. For in April, May, June, July, and August is the Win ter there, being in fiftie two degrees $. by South the Equinc chiall, Many times in the Winter we had the wind good to goe through the Straights, but our Generall would not. We abode in the Straight till the foure and twentieth of August, 1599. On the which day wee came into the guft, 1599, they South Sea : where fixe or feuen dayes after in a greater iterme we loft the whole fleet one from came into the another. That ftorme being long we were driven into the latitude of fiftie foure degrees. 1. by South the Equin Stiall. The weather breaking up and haung good wind againe, the ninth of October we law the Admirall, of which we were glad, eight or ten dayes after in the night hauing very much wind, our fore-tayle flew way, and weel it, companie of the Admirall. Then according to wind and weather, we directe four couns for the Coast of Chile: where the nine 10 They affile on and twentieth of October, we came to the place appointed of our Generall in fortie fixe dethe coate or grees, where weefet vp a pinneffe and flayed eight and twentie dayes: In this place wee found people, with whom wee had frien thip fine or fixe ayes : who brought vs theep; for which we gave them Bels and Kniues, and it fee ned to vs they were concented. But shortly after they went all away from the place where our thip was and we faw them no more. Eight and twentie dayes being expired, we fet fayle minding to goe for Baldinia. So wee came to the mouth of the Bay of Baldinia. And being very much wind our Captaines minde changed, so that we directed our course for the Itle of Mocha.

The first of Nou mber we came to the He of Mocha, lying in the Latitude of eight and thirtie degrees. Haning much wind we durit not anchor, but directed our course for Cape Santa Maria, 40 two leagues by Sou h the Hand of Santla Maria: where having no knowledge of the people, The fecond of November our men went on land, and the people of the Land fought with our men, and hurt eight or nine; but in the end, they made a falle composition of friendhip, which

The next day our Captaine, a tree and twentie of our chiefe men went on land, meaning for marchandize to g-t victualls, having wonderfull hunger. Two or three of the people came ilraight to our Boat in friendly manner, with a kind of Wine and Rootes, with making tokens to come on land, making fignes that there were sheep and Oxen. Our Captaine with our men, having great defire to get refreshing for our men, went on land. The people of the Countrey lay intrenched a thousand and aboue, and straight-way fell vpon our men, and slew them all; among which was my brother Thomas Adams. By this I fle we had fearle so many men whole, as could weigh our Anchor. So the third day in great diffresse, we set our course for the Island of Santa Maria, where we found our Admirall: whom when we faw, our hearts were fome-what comforted : we went abourd them, and found them in as great diffresse as we; having lost their Generall with feuen and twentie of their men flaine at the Island of Mocha: from whence they departed the day before we came by. Here we tooke countell what we should doe to get Victualls. To goe on land by force we had no men: for the most part were sicke. There came a Spaniard by flaine at Macha composition to see our Shippe. And so the next day he came againe, and we let him depart quietly. The third day came two Spaniards aboord vs without pawne, to fee if they could betray vs. When they had feene our Shippe, they would have gone on land againe; but we would not 60 let them, shewing that they came without leaue, and we would not let them goe on land againe without our leave; whereat they we e greatly offended. We shewed them that we had extreame neede of Victualls, and that if they would give vs fo many Sheepe, and fo many Beeves, they should goe on land. So against their wils they made composition with vs, which within the time appointed they did accomplish. Having so much refreshing as we could get, we made all things well againe, our men beeing for the moit parc recoursed of their fickenesse. There was a young man, one Hudcopee, which knew nothing, but had ferued the Admirall, who was made Generall: and the Malter of our Shippe was made Vice-Admirall, whose name was lacob Quaternak of Roterdam. So the Generall and Vice-Admirall called me and the other Pilote, beeing an Englishman, called Timothy Shotten, (which had been with M. Thomas Candillo in his Voyage about the Timothy Shotten World) to take countell what we should doe to make our Voyage for the best profit of our Mar- an Engishman chants. At last it was resolved to goe for lapan. For by report of one Dirrick Gerritson, which Pilor in the had been there with the Portugals, woollen cloth was in great estimation in that Iland. And we Admirall,

10 gathered by reacon that the Malucos, and the most part of the East Indies were hot Countreyes D rick Geriawhere woolen cloth would not be much accepted: wherefore we all agreed to goe for Iapan. So for. leaving the Coast of Chili from thirtie fixe degrees of South-Latitude, the seven and twentieth of November, 1599, we tooke our courle directly for Iapan, and passed the line Equinoctiall with a They leave the faire wind, which continued good for diverle moneths. In our way we fell with certain Islands coast of costs infixeteene degrees of North-latitude, the Inhabitants whereof are men-eaters. Comming neere and aile direthese Islands, and having a great Pinnesse with vs, eight of our men beeing in the Pinnesse, ranne They croide from vs with the Pinneffe, and (as we suppose) were eaten of the wild men, of which people we the Equinocititooke one: which afterward the Generall fent for to come into his Shippe. When wee came all Inc. into the latitude of feuen and twentie and eight and twentie degrees, we found very variable Thefelles

20 winds and flormy weather. The foure and twentieth of February we lost fight of our Admitall, feeme to bee which atterward we faw no more: Neuertheleffe we ftill did our best, directing our course for In8, of their nen pan. The foure and twentieth of March, we faw an Island called Una Colonna: at which time ran away with many of our men were ficke againe, and divers dead. Great was the miferie we vvere in, having their pion fic. no more but nine or tenne able men to goe or creepe vpon their knees: our Captaine, and all the They loft their rest, looking every houre to die. The eleventh of Aprill, 1600, eve save the land of Lapun neere Admir lithe vnto Bungo: at which time there were no more but flue men of vs able to goe. The twelfth of ary, 1600. Aprill, we came hard to Bungo, where may Barkes came about lvs, the people whereof wee Anticcall d willingly let come, having no force to relift them: at which place we came to an Anchor. The vna colonna. people offered vs no hure, but stole all things that they could steale: for wwhich some paid deare The 14.0: A-

30 afterward. The next day, the King of that land fent foul liers abourd to fee that none of the Marchants goods were stolne. Two or three dayes after, our Shippe was brought into a good Harbour, there to abide till the principall King of the vyhole Ifland had nevves of vs, and vntill it vnto Burgo. was knowne what his will was to doe with vs. In the meane time we got fauour of the King They cameto of that place, to get our Captaine and ficke men on land, which was granted. And wee had an an Anchor, house appointed vs, in which all our men were laid, and had refreshing given them. After wee had beene there fiue or fixe dayes, came a Portugall Iefuite with other Portugals, who reported The Portugals of vs, that we were Pirats, and were not in the way of Marchandizing. Which report caused accuse them the Gouernours and common-people to thinke eudl of vs: In such manner, that vve looked al-

waves when we should be set upon Crosses; which is the execution in this land for theesery and 40 some other crimes. Thus daily more and more the Portugalls incented the Instices and people against ws. And two of our men, as traytors, gaue themselves in service to the King, beeing all in all with the Portugals, having by them their lives warranted. The one was called Gilbert de Conning, whose mother dwelleth at Middleboroneh, who gave himselfe out to be Marchant of all the goods in the Shippe. The other was called John Abelfon Van Owater. These traitours fought all manner of wayes to get the goods into their hands and made knowne unto them all things that had passed in our Voyage. Nine dayes after out that he great King of the land He war ent fent for me to come vnto him. So taking one man with me, I went to him, taking my leaue of for to the great our Captaine, and all the others that were ticke, commending my felfe into his hands, that had King preferred me from fo many perils on the fea. I was carried in one of the Kings gallies to the Court 50 at Ofaca, where the King lay, about eightic leagues from the place where the Shippe was. The twelfth of May, 1600. I came to the great Kings citie: who caused me to be brought into the He commeth Court, beeing a wonderfull coffly houle guilded with gold in abundance. Comming before the to the Court, King, he viewed me well, and feemed to be wonderfull fauouraile, He made many fignes vnto me, tome of which I viderstood, and some I did not. In the end there came one that could speake Portuges. By him the King demanded of me, of what Land I was, and what mooned vs to come The Kings to his Landbeering to farre off. I shewed vinto him the name of our Countrey, and that our land questions, had long fought out the East-Indies, and defired friendship with all Kings and Potentates in way of marchandize, having in our Land diverte commodities, which these Lands had not : and allo to buy theh marchandizes in this Land, which our Countrey had not. Then he asked whe-

60 ther our Countrey had warres ! I answered him yea, with the Spaniards and Portugals, beeing in peace with all other Nations. Further, he asked me, in what I did beleeue? I faid, in God that made Heauen aild Earth. He asked me dine ife other questions of things of Religion, and many other things: As what way we came to the Country. Having a Chart of the whole world, I thewed him, through the Straight of Magellan. At which he wondred, and thought me to lie.

131

pri on the fecond time. The lames rethis yeare,

Thus from one thing to another I abode with him till mid-night. And having asked mee, what marchandize we had in our shippe, I shewed him all. In the end, he beeing ready to depart, I defired that we might have trade of marchandize, as the Portugals and the Spanyards had. To He was seneto which he made me an answer: but what it was I did not understand. So he commanded me to be carried to prilon. But two dayes after he fent for me againe, and enquired of the qualities and He was fentior conditions of our Countreys, of Warres and Peace, of Bealts and Cattell of all forts, of the Heaagaine. He was fentto uens. It feemed that he was well content with all mine answers vnto his demands. Neuertheleffe I was commanded to prilon againe: but my lodging was bettered in another place.

The rest of this letter (by the malice of the bearers was suppressed; but seemeth to bee in subflance the same with the former. I have added this also, as containing divers things not mention ned in the former. This william Adams lately died at Firando, in Iapan, 25 by the last Ship we 10 received intelligence.

). VI.

The fecond Voyage of IOHN DAVIS with Sir EDWARD MICHELBORNE Knight, into the East-Indies, in the Tigre a ship of two hundred and fortieTuns, with a Pinnasse called the Tigres Whelpe : which though in time it be later then the first of the East-Indian Societie, yet because it was not (et forth by them, I have heere

He fit of December, 1604, we fet faile from the Cowes in the Ile of Wight. The three and we carried at Teneriffe, in the road of Arateurs. The Company of th night we were troubled with extreme heate, lightnings, thunder and raine all the night.

The fixteenth we passed under the Equinoctials Line, shaping our course for the lie Loronnah, the wind being at South South-east, our course South South-west, &iome three degrees South-ward of the Line, we met with fuch multitudes of fish, as it is incredible to report, so that with our Hookes, Lines and Harping Irons, wee tooke fo many Dolphines, Bonitos, and other fishes, that our men were so wearie with eating of fish, that we could not tell what to doe with it. Moreoner there were fowles called Pasharabones and Alcatrarzes. We tooke many of those Pa- 30 Sharabones, for it is a fowle that delighteth to come to a ship in the night; and if you doe but hold up your hand, they will light upon it. The other foule called Alcatrarza is a kind of Hawlke that liueth by fishing. For when the Bonitos or Dolphines doe chase the flying fish under the water, fo that he is glad to flee from them out of the water to faue his life, this Alcatrarzi flyeth after them like a Hawke afer a Partridge. Of these flying fishes I haue seene so many flee together, that you would have thought them to be a great flocke of Birds afaire off. They are but little fithes, fcartly to big as an Hering.

The Ile of Fernando de Lo-

The two and twentieth we came to an anker at the Ile of Loronnah, being foure degrees to the South-ward of the Line, where, in going on shore, our Skiffe was ouer-fet, by reason of the violent breach that the Sea made, at which time was drowned a Kinsman of our Generall called 40 Mafter Richard Michelburne, and all the rest were saued.

The fine and twentieth, our long Boat going to fill some emptie Caske with water, cameagaine within the danger of that vnfortunate Sea, and was ouer-fet, and two more of our men drowned. Here wee were very ministroubled in getting wood and water aboord, because the landing was so dangerous, that with were forced to pull our Caske on shore with Ropes, and so backe againe when it was filled. Not fixe dayes before we came hither, there was an Hollander here, which fent his Boat for water, which was broken all into pieces against the Rockes, and his mens braines beaten out, and their armes and legs cut from their bodies.

The fixe and twentieth, our Generall went on thore to fee the Iland, and marching up and downe in the same, wee found nothing but a wild Countrey, inhabited onely by fixe Negros, 18 which live like flaves. In this Iland have beene great store of Goates, and some wild Oxen; but by reason the Portugall Carakes sometime vie to water here when they go into the East-Indies, and that these poore slaves are left there as their servants, to kill and drie Goates against their comming thither, they have destroyed both Goats and Oxen, so that wee could find but sew-In this Iland are great store of Turtle-Doues, Alcatrarzes, and other Fowle, which wee killed with our Pieces, and found them to be very daintie meate. Also heere is good store of Maiz or Guynie Wheat. Here are likewise plentie of rotten Trees, whereon groweth the fine Bombast and abundance of wild Goards, and Water-melons. When we were furnished with wood and water we came aboord.

The twelfth of February, wee found our felues to bee in feuen degrees, fine minutes to the 69 South-ward : in which place at night, I thinke I saw the strangest Sea , that ever was seene : which was, That the burning or glittering light of the Sea did shew to vs, as though all the Sea ouer had beene burning flames of fire, and all the night long, the Moone being downe, you might fee to read in any booke by the light thereof.

CHAP.I.S.5. Saluage Saldanians: the Cape & Corpo Sancto.

The thirteenth day in the morning, wee deferred an Iland, or rather indeed a Rocke. The name is Ascention, the height eight degrees thirtie minutes to the South-ward. The first of Aprill, toward night, wee descried Land from the maine top, which have off vs. April. South South-East, when according to our reckoning and accounts, wee were not neere by fortie leagues, but yet the variation of the Compasse, did tell vs that wee were on Land thirtie leagues before we faw Land.

The fecond day in the morning we were hard by the shore, which was ten or twelve leagues to the North-ward of the Bay of Saldannah.

The third day we fayled by a little Hand, which Captain Iohn Danis tooke to be an Hand, that 10 Standeth some fine or fix leagues from Saldannah. Whereupon our Generall, Sir Edward Michelburne, defirous to fee the Hand, took his Skiffe, accompanied with no more then the Mafters Mate, the Purler, and my selfe, and foure men that did row the Boat, and so putting off from the Ship wee came on land : while wee we re on shore, they in the Ship had a storme, which draue them out of fight of the Iland : and wee were two dayes, and two nights before wee could recouer our Ship. Vpon the faid Iland is abundance of great * Conies, and Seales : whereupon we cal- Conie Iland. led it Cony Iland.

The eighth day, we came to an Anchor, in the Road of Saldannah .

The ninth wee went on fhore, finding a goodly Country, inhabited by a most fauge and Theyland in beaftly people, as ever I thinke God created. In this place wee had excellent good refreshing : the Road of 20 in so much that I thinke the like place is not to be found among sauage people. For wee neither Saldannab. wanted Beefe, Mutton, nor Wild-Fowle all the time we lay there. Thus Countrey is very full of Oxen and Sheepe, which they keepe in great Heards and Flocks, as we do our Cattle in England. Moreover, it doth abound with store of wild Beasts, and Fowles, as wild Decre in great abundance, Antelops, Babious, Foxes and Hares, Offriches, Cranes, Pelicans, Herons, Geele, Duckes, Phefanes, Partridges, and diners other forts of excellent Fowles. Or which Fowles wee killed great store with our Pieces. It is also most pleasantly watered with wholesome springs, which have their beginning from the tops of exceeding high Mountaines, which falling into the Exceeding Vallies, make them very fruitfull. Also there is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, migh much valike to Bay Trees, but there is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, but there is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, and the trees is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, but the trees is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, and the trees is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, and the trees is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, and the trees is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, and the trees is a kind of Trees, not much valike to Bay Trees, and the trees is a kind of T but of a farre harder substance, that grow close by the Sea side. The people of the Countrey 30 brought vs more Bullockes and Sheepe, then wee could fpend all the time wee flaved there. So that we carryed fresh Beefe and Mutton to Sea with vs. For a piece of an old yron Hoope, not worth two pence, you might buy a great Bullocke; and for a piece of yron, not worth two or three good Horse Navles, you might buy a Sheepe. They goe naked, faue onely they weare vpon their shoulders a Sheepe skin, and before their prinities a little slap of a skin, which concrete. Their women as much, as though they had none at all before them. In the time of our being there, they lined featured, some vpon the guts and filth of the meate, which we did cast away, feeding in most beastly manner: of their men for they would neither wash nor make cleane the guts, but take them and couer them ouer with have but one hote ashes, and before they were through hote, they pulled them out, shaking them a little in slone. Copper their hands, and to eate both the guts, the excrements, and the affices. They like upon raw flesh, is now in 40 and a certaine kind of roote which they have, which groweth there in great abundance. In this greatest replace we lay on shore, from the ninth of April vntill the third of May. By which good recreati-

The feuenth of May, wee were South off the Cape of Bena Efterança, by estimation tenne May.

The cagues. This night we passed ouer the shoulds of Cape Day is that.

The ninth day, rose a mightie storme, at which time we lost right of our Pinnasse, being drices and the cape Day.

uen by violence of weather from her. This storme continued for the space of two dayes, and two Aga Bu. nights most fearefull and dangerous, with raine, lightning, and thunder, and often shipping of much water. The Portugals call this place, The Lion of the Sea, by reason of the extreame tury The Lion of 50 and danger, which they find in doubling of this Cape. In the extremitie of our storme appeared the Sea. to vs in the night, vpon our maine Top-mast head, a stame about the bignesse of a great Candle; which the Portugals call Corpo Santto, holding it a most divine token, that when it appeared the corposanto. worst is past. As, thanked be God, we had better weather after it. Some thinke it to be a spirit: other write that it is an exhalation of movil vapours, that are ingendred by foule and tempertuous weather. Some affirme that the Ship is fortunate where it lighteth, and that thee shall not

The twenty fourth, the He De Diego Roiz, standing in the Latitude of nineteen degrees & fortie The He de minutes to the South-ward, and in the Longitude of minetie eight degrees, and thertie minutes, Die Roig in 60 bare North off vsabout fine of the clocke eight leagues off. Wee bare roome to have landed, but the wind grew fo stiffe in the night, that we altered our determination. About this Iland we saw great flore of white Birds, having in their tayles but two long feathers. These Birds, and diners others accompanied vs with fuch contrary winds and gufts, that wee often iplit our fayles, and perish. It appeared vnto vs two nights together, after which time we had a faire wind and good on and refreshing, wee found our selues in as good health, as when wee put to Sea at the ve- A certaine kind of root.

M m

weather.

The Iles Dos

ftiffe at the East South East. The third day of Iune, standing our course for the He De Cirne, we descried the He De Diego Roiz againe, and bare roome with it, thinking to have stayed there to attend a good wind : but The fle of Die finding it to be a very dangerous place, wee durst not come to an anchor there, for feare of the rockes and sholds that lye about it; and vpon better consideration wee altred our purpose, and

> The fifteenth of Iune, we had fight of Land, which was the Ile Dos Banhos, in fixe degrees, and thirtie seuen minutes to the South-ward, and in one hundred and nine degrees of Longitude. Their llands are falfely laid in most Charts, lying too much to the West. Here we sent our Boats In to fee, if they could find any good ground to anchor in. But fearthing both the South and Well shore, they could find none. There are fine of these Ilands : they abound with Fowle, Fish, and Coco Nuts. Our Boats went on thore, and brought great store of them aboord vs , which wee found to be excellent meate. Seeing wee could find no good anchoring, by reason that in some places close under the shore it was so deepe, that wee could find no ground, and in other places were fuch sharpe rockes, and sholds, that wee durst not anchor, having but bad and contrary go Graciofa.

Equinoctiall

winds, we left thefe Hands, and stood our course, as neere as we could lye for India. The ninteenth of Iune, we had fight of Land, which was the Ile of Diego Graciofa, standing in and modes. the Latitude of feuen degrees, thirtie minutes South-wards, and in Longitude one hundred and Thelleof Dietendegrees, fortie minutes by our accounts. This feemeth to be a very pleafant Hand, and of good 20 refreshing, if there be any place to come to an anchor. Wee sought but little for anchoring there, because the wind was bad, and the tide forced vs to the shore : so that we durst not stay to search there any further. This Iland fremeth to bee some ten or twelve leagues long, abounding with Birds and Fish; and all the Hand ouer seemeth to be a mightie Wood, of nothing else but Cocetrees. What elfe this Iland yeeldeth we know not.

The eleventh of July, wee paffed againe the Equino tiall Line, where wee were becalmed with extreame heate, lightning, and thunder.

They passe the The ninteenth we deferred Land, which was many Hands, as we thought locked in one, which An Hand or 1- lay under the high Land, of the great Hand of Sumaira. Here wee fent off our Boat to get fome fresh water : but the Sea went with such a violent breach vpon the shore, that they durit not to land: The people of this Iland made great fiers also along the shore, with intent, as wee Northerly La- thought, to have had vs come on Land. This lland or llands, is in two degrees of Northerly ning to Suma- Latitude. The fine and twentieth we came to an anchor, by a little Hand, where we fent our Boat on shore for water; but finding none, they returned with some Coco Nuts, affirming, that the Hand was very full of Coco Trees, which had very few Nuts vpon them. We saw three or foure people vpon this Iland: but they went away and would not come neere vs. Those people we imagined to be left there to gather the Cocos, and to make them readie against others should come and fetch them.

The He of

The fixe and twentieth, we came to an anchor, within a league of a great Iland, called Base, 49 lying in twentie minutes of South Latitude. Here we builded up our Shalop, and named her the Batte. In this lland are none Inhabitants : it doth exceedingly abound with wood, and fresh water Rivers, as also with Fish, Munkies, and a kind of Fowle, which they affirme to bee that Countrey Batte, whereof in our time of being there I killed one, which was greater then an Agrentifying Hare, and in shape very like a Somernil, saue onely from each of his sides, did hang downetwo Squire, or great flaps of skin, which when free did leape from tree to tree, her would spread forth like a paire of wings, as though hee did feeme to the with them. They are very nimble, and will leap from bough to bough oftentimes, taking hold with nothing but their tayles. Because our Shalop was builded in the kingdome of these beatts, the was called after their name, The Bat.

The nine and twentieth day, trauailing along the shore, in this Hand I discourred a Roader, 50 riding vnder a little Iland about foure leagues from mee : which made mee very glad, hoping it had beene our Pinnalle which wee loft in the great storme, neere vnder the Cape of Bona Effe ratea : with which newes by night I gate aboord our Generall ; who in the morning fent mee, Three Barkes. with Captaine Iohn Danis, to fee if wee could find her. But when wee came to the place, wee found three Barkes riding under the Iland. They made fignes unto us to come abourd them, and told vs they had Hennes; we answered them that we would goe fetch some money, and would come agains the next morning, and buy. Some of them vnderstood Portuguse. Wee durstnot goe aboord them, because were but euill prouided. The next morning being better furnifred, wee went, thinking to have fome better commodities of them : but they had waighed anchor, and were all gone. It seemed they were afraid of vs by their hasting away.

The fourth of August, we weighed anchor and stood for Priaman. The ninth of August, our Generall manned the Shalop, and fent vs along the Coast, to fee if wee could find any Roaders, and espying a Sayle, we gaue her chase, which when shee perceived fhee could not goe from vs, shee came to an anchor, and fortooke their Barke, and rowed all on shore to an Hand in a small Boat, where wee could not come at them. Wee laid there Barke aboord, not finding any one man in it : the chiefe lading was Cocos Oyle, Nuts, and fine Mats. But feeing it was but fuch meane stuffe, and knowing that if we should have taken it, our General would not have liked of it; weeleft her, not taking any thing from her worth the speaking of.

The tenthand eleuenth dayes we stood close along the maine land, whereas we espied eight Prawes, riding ouer against a place called Tico. Which whe we first espied, we were in good hope, Tico a Towne that we might find our Pinnasse among them. When we came up with them she was not there: in Samana. but they put vs in comfort, telling vs there was an English Ship at Priaman, which was not past 10 fixe leagues from this Towne of Tieo. Then standing out to Sea we saw our Admiral, and in short timegot aboord, telling our Generall the newes. Wee had not fayled a league further, but our Their Ship Ship came on ground vpon a Rocke of white Corrall : but God be thanked, hauing a great gale, commeth on in very short time we got her off againe without any hurt at all : And comming neere vnto the ground. Road of Priaman, we descried our Pinnasse tobe there, which wee had lost so long before in the Thy meet greatstorme, in doubling the Cape of Bona Esperança. The Captaine and Master of the Pinnasse, with their met vs halfe a league from the Road in their Skiffe, and at our comming aboord of vs, our Ge-Pinnaffe, which nerall did welcome them with a peale of great Ordnane: And after many diffcouries paffed of they had loft what had happened, in the time of each others ablitude. We also to the peak of t what had happened, in the time of each others absence, were came to an anchor in fine teathoms what had happened, in the time of each others absence, were came to an anchor in fine teathoms. water, very good ground in the Road of Priaman, which standeth in fortie minutes of Souther-

The fourteenth, our General fent mee on shore with a Present to the Gouernor, and to others, Latitude. to see what price Pepper was at, and to buy fresh victualls, and to know whether our men might came lafely on shore. But when we came on shore, the Gouernour durst not speake with vs prinately, by realon of certaine warres that were among them: by which meanes they were growne icalous one of another. These warres grew upon this occasion. The King of Achen hauing two fonnes, hee kept the eldest at home with him, to succeed him after his death, and the youngest he made King of Pedir : whereupon the eldest sonne tooke his father prisoner, affirming that he was too old to gouerne any longer, and afterward made warre vpon his younger brother. Thus leeing little good to be done in this place, having refreshed our selves with fresh victuals, we 30 refolued to depart from thence.

The one and twentieth, we weighed anchor, and stood for Bantam; on which day we tooke two Prawes, hauing nothing in them but a little Rice. The one of these Prawes hurt two of our men very fore after they had entred her. For our men thought, because they save some leap ouerboord, they had all leaped over-boord; but they were deceived. For the first two men that entred were fore hurt by two which lay close hidden behind their Sayle who affoone as they had voounded them, most desperately leaped over-board, swimming away like water Spaniells. So taking such things as best fitted vs , twee left their Prayves, doing them no further

The three and twentieth, wee tooke a Fisher-boat, having nothing of value in him, letting 40 him goe without any hurt, fauing onely one of them was shot through the thigh at the first meeting, when they relifted vs.

The fine and twentieth, wee descried a Sayle, and sent our Shalop, Long-boat, and Skiffe to see what shee was : for our Ship and Pinnasse could not fetch her vp, because they were becalmed. These Boats comming vp with her, bid him strike faue, but shee would not. So wee fell in hight with her, from three of the clocke in the afternoon with ten of the clocke at night, by which time our Pinnaffe had gotten up to vs : then shee strooke her sayles and yeelded. So wee made her failt to our Pinnaile, and towed her along with vs all night. In the morning, our Generall fent for them to see what they were : and sent three of vs to see what she was laden with all.

When hee had talked with them, they told him they were of Bantam: wherefore, knowing not A Ship of Esta-50 what injurie he might doe to the English Merchants, that had a Factoric in Bantam at that pre-tamaken and fent; and understanding by vs, that their loading was Salt, Rice, and China dishes, bee fent them freely dimit aboord their owne Barke againe, not fuffering the worth of a penny to bee taken from them. fed. They standing toward Priaman, and we toward Bantam, left each other. This Barke was of the burthen of some fortie Tuns.

The second of September, we met with a small Ship of Guzarate, or Cambaya, being about They take a eightie Tuns: which Ship wee tooke and carried into the Road of Sillibar, flanding in foure de- Ship of Gazagrees of Southerly Latitude; into which Road many Prawes continually come to refresh themielues. For here you may haue Wood, Water, Rice, Buffles-fielh, Goates, Hens, Plants, and Freshfish, but all very deere.

The eight and twentieth day, having dispatched all our businesse, wee weighed anchor, and titude.

The three and twentieth of October, wee came to an anchor in the Read of Marrah, being October. in the straight of Sunda: here we tooke in Fresh-water. In this place are great store of Bussles, The Roadoi

135

Goates,

Goates, Hens, Duckes, and many other good things for refreshing of men. They esteeme not so much of money as of Calicut clothes, Pintados, and fuch like fluffes. The people being well vied. will vie you well; but you must locke to them for stealing: for they thinke any thing well gotten, that they can iteale from a stranger.

The twentie eight. Bantam.

The eight and twentieth, we weighted anchor, and flood for Bantam, which flandeth in fixe degrees and fortie minutes of Southerly Latitude. This day we came within three leagues of the Towne, where wee came to an anchor all night. Here wee thought to have feene the English Fleet; but it was gone for England three weekes before we came. Neuertheleffe, those that remained in the Countrie, as Factors of our Nation, came abourd vs, being very glad to see any of their Country-men in fo forraine a place, and withall told our Generall, that the company of the Hollanders Ships that were in the Road, had vied very flanderous reports of vs to the King of 10 . Bantam: The effect whereof was, That wee were theeues, and difordinate liners, and fuch as did come for nothing but to deceive them, or vie fuch violence, as time would give vs leave to ex-" coute; and that we durit not come into the Road among them, but kept two or three leagues from thence for feare of them. After our Generall had heard this report; it so mooned him, that hee weighed anchor, fending the Hellanders word, that hee would come and ride close by their fides, and had the prowdell of them all that durft to put out a Piece of Ordnance vpon him; and withall fent them word, if they did goe about, either to braue, or to diffrace him, or his Country-men, hee would either finke them, or finke by their fides. There were of thefe Hollanders fine Ships, the one of them of fouen or eight hundred Tuns, the rest of a farre smaller burthen. But of this message (notwithstanding we came and anchored close by them) we never had an. 20 fwer. But whereas the Hollanders, were wont to swagger and keepe great sturre on shore, all the time before our being there, they were to quiet, that wee could fearcely fee one of them on The second of Nouember, having seene our Country-men, wee tooke our leave, and stood our course for Patane. And in our way, as wee sayled betweene the Cherfone sw of Malacca and Pedra Branca, wee met with three Prawes, which being afraid of vs , anchored fo neere vnto the shore, that we could not come neere them, either with our Ship or Pinnasse. Wherefore our Generall manned his Shalop with eighteene men, and fent vs to them, to request them, that Three Prawes. for his money hee might have a Pilot to carrie his Ship to Pulo Timaon, which is about some five dayes fayling from the place where wee met with them. But they feeing our Ship and Pinnasse 30 at anchor, about a mile from them, and that they were not able to come any neerer them, told vs plainely, that none of them would goe with vs, and being at anchor weighed, and were going away: Seeing that, we began a fight with them all three: one of them we tooke in leffe then halfe an houre, whose men, which were scuentie three in all gate out of her, and ranne on shore. The other fought with vsall night, and in the morning about the breake of day, shee yeelded vnto vs. Our Generall came to vs in his Skitfe a little before she yeelded. They were laden with Beniamin, Storax, Pepper, China Diffies, and Pitch. The third Praw got from vs , while wee were fighting with the other. Our Generall would not fuffer vs to take any thing from them, but only two of their men to Pilote vs to Pulo Timaon, because they were of lana. These people of lana, are very resolute in a desperate case. Their chiefe Weapons are lauelings, Darts, Daggers, and 40 Porfored At- a kind of poyloned Arrowes, which they floot in Trunkes. They have some Harcubushes, but they are nothing expert in ving them. They also have Targets. The most part of them be Mabumetars. They had beene at Palimbam, and were going backe againe to Greece, a Port Townson the North-East part of Iaua where they dwelled. The twelfth of Nouember, we difmitted them, flanding our course toward Patane.

Thesecond of Nouember. they depart from Edalam.

Trunkes. Palimbam. Grece,2 Towne

neither we, nor our new Pilots knew. But having a very contrary wind to stand our course for Patane, we thought it very necessary to search those Ilands for wood and water, hoping by that time we had watered, to have a better wind.

The seven and twentieth, we came to an Anchor within a mile of the shore, in sixteeness 50 thomes good ground, on the South-fide of their llands. Heere fending our Boat on shore, wee found some of them to bee Sunken Hands, nothing about the water but the Trees or Rootes of them. In one of them we found a reasonable good watering place, and all the Ilands a Wilderneffe of Woods. It is a very vncomfortable place, having neither Fruites, Fowle, nor any kind of Beast wherewithall to refresh men. These llands we tooke to bee some of the broken Lands, lying South-east from the Ile of Bintam.

The fix and twentieth of Nouember, we faw certaine Hands bearing off vs North-west, which

The broken Lands neere December.

Pulo Last.

The fecond of December, having taken in wood and water, we weighed Anchor, standing our courie for Patane, as necreas a bad wind would give vs leave. For wee found the wind in thele monethes to be very contrarie, keeping still at North, North-west, or North-East.

The twelfth day, neere vnto Palo Laor, wee descryed three sayles, and sending our Pinnaste and Shalop after one of them, being the neerest vnto vs, we stayed with our ship, thinking to have met with the other two : but in the night they stood away another course, so that we saw them no more. In the morning, we descryed our Pinnasse and Shalop, about four e leagues to Leeward, CHAP.I.S.6. Sir EDWARD MICHELBORNE and IO. DAVIS.

with the other ship which they had taken, The wind and current being against them, they were Another ship not able to come vp to vs: we leeing that went to the n. When wee came, wee found her to be taken. a Juncke of Pan-Hange, being in burden aboue an hundred Tunnes, laden with Rice, Pepper and Pan Hange. Tinne, going to Bantam in lana. Our Genera'l not effeeming any fuch meane luggage, tooke as much Rice as ferued for his prouision, and two little brasse Gunnes, and payd them royally for all: not taking any thing elie from them, faue only one man to be our Pilot to Parane : who was willing to come along with vs, when he faw our Generall vie them to well. The other two Pilots, which wee tooke before out of one of the three Prawes, were vnskilfull men. Wherefore our Generall rewarding them, for the time that they had beene with him, fent them backe a-10 gaine into their owne Countrey, by the Luncke which wee tooke, that was going to lana.

The threeenth day we left her, flanding our course for Pulo Timaon, toyning on the King of Pa's Timaon Pan-Hange his Countrey. Here we were troubled very much with contrarie winds and currents. Ouer ag- nie For the Sea runnethalwayes from the beginning of Nouember, to the beginning of Aprill, to the South-ward: and from Aprill to November backe againe to the North-ward. The wind also The Monthless in the aforesaid first fine monethes is most commonly Northerly, and in the other seven moneths in these parts. Southerly. All the flips of China, Patane, Ior, Pan-Hange, and other places which are to the North-ward, come to Bantam or Palimban, when the Northerly Monfoin is come: and returne backe againe when the Southerly Montoin commeth : Which Montoins come in the monethes before mentioned. This being observed you shall have both wind and tyde with you. In three weeks 20 Here, as I faid before, I found fuch contrary violent winds and currents, that I could not in three hee could not weekes get a league a head. This Countrey of Pan-Hange is a very plentiful Countrey, and full gerone league of Gentry, after the fathion of those Countries, flore of thipping, and victuals very cheape. This a head. Country !yethbetweene lor and Parane, and reacheth on the sea-coast to Cape Tingeron, beeing Cape Tingeron or any other parts to the South-ward.

a very high Cape, and the first Land-fall that the Caracks of Mzeao or Iuncks of China, or Camboin Prawes doe make as they come for Malacca, Iana, Sumaira, Iumbe, Ior, Palimbam, Grece,

Here as I stood for Patane: about the twentie seuen of December, I met with a luncke of the Iapons, which had been pyrating along the coast of China and Camboia. Their Pilote being dead, with ignorance and foule weather, they had cast away their ship on the sholds of the great Hand 30 Borneo; and to enter into the Countrey of Borneo, they durft not: for the lapons are not fuffered to land in any Port in India with weapons: beeing accounted a people fo desperate and daring, that they are feared in all places where they come. These people, their thip being fplitted, with their Shalops entred this Juncke, wherein I met them, which was of Parane, and killed all the people ia ie one old Pilot. This luncke was laden with Rice, which when they had post-fled and turnished with such turniture, necessaries and armes as they saued out of their funken shippe, they shaped their course for lapan : b it the badnesse of their luncke, contrarie winds, and unfeafonableneife of the yeare forced them to Leeward: which was the cause of mine valuckie meeting them. After I had haled them, and made them come to Lee-ward, tending my Boat abourd them, I found them by their men and furniture very unproportionable for such a 40 ship as they were in; which was a Juncke not about feuentie tunnes in burthen, and they were ninetie men, and most of them in too gallant a habit for Saylers, and such an equalitie of belianiour among them, that they feemed all fellowes: yet one among them there was that they called Capitaine, but gaue him little respect. I ca sled them to come to an Anchor, and vpon turther examination I found their lading to be only Rice; and for the most part falt with wet : for their ship was leake both under and aboue water. Upon questioning with them I understood them to be men of Warre, that had pillaged on the Coast of China and Camboia, and, as I faid before, had cast away their ship on the sholds of Borneo. Here wee road at Anchor under a small Hand, neere to the fleot Bintam, two dayes entertayning them with good viage not taking any thing from them : thinking to have gathered by their knowledge, the place and passage of certaine 50 ships, on the Coast of China to have made my Voyage. But these Rogues being desperate in winds and fortunes, being hopeleffe in that paltrie luncke euer to returne to their Countrey, refol aed with themselves either to game my shippe, or to lose their lines. And upon mutuall courtelies with gifts and feathings betweene vs, lometimes hie and twentie or fixe and twentie of their chiefest came aboord : whereof I would not suffer about fixe to have weapons. Their was never the like number of our men abourd their luncke. I willed Captaine lobn Danis in the merning to possessible himielse of their weapons, and to put the Companie before Mast, and to leave some Guard on their weapons, while they fearched in the Rice, doubting that by fearthing and finding that which would dislike them, they might fieldenly let upon my men, and put them to the Sword : as the fequell prooued. Captaine Danis being begailed with their hamble femblance, 60 would not possesse himselfe of their weapons, though I fent twice of purpose from my shippe to will him to doe it. They passed all the day, my men fearthing in the Rice, and they looking on: at the Sunne-fetting, after long fearch and nothing found, faue a little Storax and Beniamin they feeing oportunitie, and talking to the rest of their Companie which were in my ship, being neere ships. This being concluded, they suddenly killed and draue over-boord, all my men that were in their thip; and those which were abound my ship fallied out of my Cabbin, where they were put.

with fuch weapons as they had, finding certaine Targets in my Cabbin, and other things that they vied as weapons. My felfebeing aloft on the Decke, knowing what was likely to follow.

leapt into the waste, where, with the Boate Swaines, Carpenter and some few more, wee kept

